"Yesterday I was over to Windsor Castle with some of our Canadian and Australian boys from Vimy Ridge. The King and Queen had just left when we arrived there but the King's Sister-in-law, the Princess Alexandra of Teck, welcomed us. She is a very pretty, sweet little woman. The Princess May, aged 10 years, was there also and sat at the end of the table. She told us all about her dog over-eating itself. She is a sweet little child. She said she was trying to help her mother entertain the soldiers. The castle is a beautiful place. We were shown the magnificent horses, 70 in all, and the King's charger. After leaving the castle we wandered around Windsor Village and viewed the Frogmore mausoleum where the late Queen Victoria is laid.

Refreshments will be served from a Japanese tea room where a heavily-laden orange tree will be growing from which oranges can be plucked for a mere insignificant dime. An attractive program will be rendered Friday afternoon and evening.

On June 15th and 16th Lambton's 149 I. O. D. E. will hold a patriotic bazaar in the Armory to which everyone is cordially invited. One of the chief features of the bazaar will be a fancy-work booth containing a choice collection of children's hand-made dresses and underwear, men's night shirts, kitchen aprons, hand-embroidered towels, rag rugs and many other dainty articles. There will also be a garden-craft booth including hanging baskets and plants for the garden, a homemade cooking and candy booth, and a "White Elephant" booth, at which anything from a stuffed owl to a glass cruet stand can be purchased at reasonable rates. ## WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 183 pounds.

I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy." — Mrs. Wm. Green, 332 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.

If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

NOTE AND COMMENT

In the opinion of the New York World, "one reason for the slowness of American recruiting is that absurdly high standards of physical perfection are still set up by the military authorities."

People of the United States have been warned by a Chicago pork packer that meatless days will soon arrive unless adequate measures are taken to conserve and increase the live stock throughout the country.

One of the noticeable changes from 25 years ago is the disappearance of the wayside blacksmith shops. One reason is said to be the increase of farm machinery, and the keeping of parts of these at convenient places, so that repairs can be made in short order. With light conveyance, or motors the question of driving an additional 5 or 10 miles does not come into account, hence the mission of the local blacksmith is no longer a pressing necessity. It is said shops have reduced from 4,000 to 2,500 in the past five years in Ontario.

One true hearted soldier who stands in his place and heroically fights for King and Country is worth 10,000 slackers who can tell you how smashing blows should be dealt to the enemy while Mr. Wiseacre sits in an arm chair at home. It takes more than talk to put a dent in the Hendenburg line.

The Dominion Agricultural Department has issued the following advice: "The enthusiasm displayed generally in the matter of planting potatoes is only equalled by the enthusiasm with which potato prices are climbing up. It now costs from $45 to $50 for seed to plant an acre of potatoes. It is obvious that at these prices potatoes do not give a sufficient food value. Housekeepers could well eliminate the potato and turn to more economic foods, and, by such elimination, leave that much more seed to be planted for the much-needed crop this year. In the scarcity of potatoes it would be well for planters to turn to the question of beans. The same money that will plant an acre of potatoes, if invested in beans, will provide seed for more than ten acres. They are not only an excellent and nutritious form of food, but it looks as if they will continue to be in strong demand for army supplies, and companies, with army contracts, are offering as high as $5 a bushel for this year's crop. Soil that is suitable for potatoes is generally also suitable for beans."

Some of the church societies will banish refreshments from their evening's program until the world is on its feet again. Why something to eat should be one of the factors to bring a party of old and young people to seek spiritual refreshments is a soul-lifting problem which I never could understand. Probably because I was not there to experience what a good cup of tea or a layer of cake might have in influencing my mortal body towards reaching out for heavenly food for my immortal soul. Fasting and praying are enjoined by the good book in getting of a body in shape for life everlasting. The doctors also enjoin the fasting end of the saving clause as good for a man's health. I have never heard it prescribed by scriptural scribes, that prayer, tea and a layer of cake are a few of the chief incidents of salvation. Beyond the economic side of dispensing with refreshments at the meetings of church organizations, which appears to be the object of good church people, there is satisfaction in knowing that in keeping a cup of tea and a layer of cake out of the peoples' manifestations unto the Most High, they are helping both the spiritual and worldly ends of our creation.—The Crank,

Lo, Here the Gentle Hen

There is no more irresponsible trespasser than the hen, unless it be perhaps the owner of the hen. You rise with sun and joy and gladness are in your heart, but as you peep out of your back window to gaze fondly upon the garden that claimed your labors so late the night before, and lo, your neighbor's hens are there before you. If you shoot the hens there is a family feud that will last till the crack of doom. The women folk of the two houses connected with the tragedy will never borrow anything from each other again. If you take less stern measures and go over to reason with the gentleman whose hens have cost you ten dollars in as many minutes, he will tell you his time is too valuable to be taken up by such trifles. If you hesitate but a moment he will be insulted and tell you not to be standing on his grass. So it is hard for one to know what to do. The only hope seems to be to improve the morals of the people who own hens, and, frankly, that is the purpose of this article. You hen men, cut it out. Have a heart. Maybe the neighbor with a garden will throw you over a fine bunch of radishes one of these days.

Cheap Food
I know not what this uproar means, about the cost of living; I'm eating dandelion greens, and much delight they're giving. The dandelions around, in yellow-blooming splendor, wherever they can find the ground, and they are nice and tender. You'll find them growing on your lot, as on your lawn you potter; you put the blamed things in a pot, together with some water. You boil them with a piece of meat, then at the table rally, and dine, and what you cannot eat, you throw out in the alley. Such diet at this season means the cure of ailments chronic, for all physicians hold that greens are quite a helpful tonic. They heal the nerves, all torn to shreds, your blood and bones they nourish, they bring new hair to old bald heads, and make the whiskers flourish. But dandelions grow at large, and do not cost a penny; we want the things for which they charge, or else we won't have any. If peaches grew on every shrub, if every weed bore honey, we'd say: "They aren't fit for grub, or they would cost us money."—Walt. Mason.

Pills That Have Benefited Thousands.—Known far and near as a sure remedy in the treatment of indigestion and all derangements of the stomach, liver and kidneys, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills have brought relief to thousands when other specifics have failed. Innumerable testimonial can be produced to establish the truth of this assertion. Once tried they will be found superior to all other pills in treatment of the ailments for which they are prescribed.

Shortage of Swede Turnip Seed
Swede turnip growers are urged this spring to endeavour to secure and transplant a few sound roots to produce seed for themselves and their neighbours. Owing to the abnormal conditions now prevailing there will likely be very little swede seed for planting in the spring of 1918 unless our Canadian swede turnip growers make provisions for their own supplies by growing the seed themselves. Canadian supplies of swede and most other field root and garden seed formerly came from Europe but this source is now practically cut off. The prospects for home grown seed have been reduced by the present price of swede turnips for food purposes, as it would now take nearly two hundred dollars' worth of full grown swede turnips to transplant an acre for seed purposes. This factor has had the unfortunate effect of reducing the area in the eastern provinces that would otherwise have been planted for the production of swede seeds.—Seed Branch, Ottawa.

This new Overland Country Club Light Four is a distinctive and smart car in the low-priced car class. The rich, gray body, with black fenders and trimmings is set off to pleasing advantage by red wire wheels that give just the right flash of brilliant color. The two comfortable front seats move forward or back independently, and a spacious aisle between gives free passage to a roomy seat for two passengers in the rear. For riding comfort, the Overland Country Club is a revelation. Long, cantilever rear springs give it the riding ease of a much heavier, bigger car. It has ample power—and it is economical of gasoline. An easy car to handle, and completely equipped. ## THE FARMER'S ATTITUDE TO "WAR PRODUCTION"

From The Teller

Behind the agitation for increased food production on farms and vacant lots there is undeniably a good intention. It is far from everyone's mind to evoke hostility among the farming community. Yet there have been phases of the "War Production" campaign that have not been entirely just and fair to the farmer.

In legal phraseology he is beginning to give "tu quoque" to the city folk. In his own parlance he is turning round and saying "You're another!" In biblical language, he says in effect: "Take out the bean in your own eye."

And isn't he right? Can't he see the city folk better than we ourselves can judge them?

His plaint runs in this way:—"Look at the great fleets of automobiles that line every street in the city! Are they for business, for speeding production? Or are they for pleasure? Study them closer—Monster cars that are gluttons for gasoline, tires, and oil. Winter and summer, in use or not, they must cost from $15 to $20 a week for upkeep. We on the farms count ourselves lucky if we own a Ford."

And then the farmer feels that in other ways city folk are not doing all they might to economize.

"You city folk," he says, "complain of the high cost of living. Yet you do nothing to keep down prices. Your table is still luxury-laden. Your appetite for good things is unabated. You still crowd your shows, you still enthuse over ball games, you still haunt the golfing greens."

"Surely before urging the farmers to put in many extra hours in seeding and other toil, you ought to set a better example in your own conduct. I agree, that greater production is necessary on the farms. But in urging it, in helping it along, you should set an inspiring example by economizing in the city."

"I turn to your city papers. I see page after page of liquor advertising. How many millions of bushels of grain are consumed in manufacture of this liquor each year? Is it fair that we should be asked to turn in more ground to enable you city folks to get liquor?"

To be sure, the farmer has a justifiable complaint. Let us get down and do some REAL economizing. Let us save until it hurts to save, until we really feel our sacrifice.

BACKACHE, LUMBAGO AND RHEUMATIC TROUBLES.

Dear Mr. Editor—I wish to state that I suffered greatly from backache, lumbago and rheumatic troubles. I used "Anuric," the latest discovery of Doctor Pierce for backache and kidney troubles, and I can cheerfully recommend the "Anuric Tablets" to anyone suffering from any of these maladies.

Yours truly,
J. F. GARDNER

NOTE: It is now asserted with confidence that those painful effects due to uric acid in the system are entirely eradicated. A new remedy, called "Anuric," has been discovered by Dr. Pierce, and is the cause of drainage outward of the uric acid with which it comes in contact within the body. It will ward off backache, headache, and the darting pain and aches of articular or muscular rheumatism—of those diseases which are caused by too much uric acid, such as gout, asthma, sciatica, renal calculus. "Anuric" prolongs life because old people usually suffer from hardening and thickening of the walls of the arteries, due to the excess of uric acid in the blood and tissues.

Dr. Pierce, who is director and chief physician at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has been testing this wonderful medicine for the relief of over-worked and weakened kidneys. The relief obtained by sufferers has been so satisfactory that he determined to place "Anuric" with the principal druggists in town where people could get this ready-to-use medicine. "Anuric" is not harmful or poisonous, but aids nature in throwing off those poisons within the body which cause so much suffering, pain and misery. Scientists assert this remedy is 87 times more potent than lithia. Send 10 cents for large trial package.

"Anuric" is building up a reputation as good as Dr. Pierce's other well-known medicines which have been proved reliable during nearly fifty years, such as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the ills of women, Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the liver regulator, and Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for red blood.

HARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS.

WATFORD, JUNE 1, 1917

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Philadelphia Ledger reports that the reason the kaiser summoned his American dentist was that he bit off more than he could chew.

Cannibalism exists in Germany to-day says the Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Express, of London, Eng., in more direct forms than the eating by human beings of corpse-fed pigs. I will say no more, except this: "I will guarantee that none of the present generation in Holland who personally know of these things will ever again purchase German-made sweetmeats, honey, jam, pates, margarine, or anything of that sort—not if they live a hundred years."

The Telegraph, of Quebec, says:—All good Canadians are united at this time, in the single purpose of winning the war. If conscription is practicable, if it is necessary to win the war, then no patriot of the Dominion will oppose it. The measure is one of grave importance, and for the peace and prosperity of the land is one that must not be rushed into headlong and blindly. There is no doubt that the feeling in this country is asserting itself, more and more strongly in favor of a vigorous war policy.

At least once a year from now on England will call a meeting of the imperial cabinet—the British cabinet, prime ministers of all England's dominions, and a representative of India—according to announcement in the British house of commons by Premier Lloyd George. Such meetings, the prime minister said, would be for the purpose of discussing all matters affecting the empire as well as its foreign policies. The imperial cabinet he said, would meet "oftener if required" than the yearly session specified.

Essex Free Press:—A short time ago our merchants met together with the good intention of fighting the high cost of living by having a half holiday on Thursdays, and going out to give the farmer a helping hand, or cultivating spuds at home. They got the holiday all right; but when Thursday afternoon comes there is a steady stream of automobiles leave the town just after dinner, and those who have not got a Tin Lizzie, can be found on the bowling green; and others take a trip to the races at Windsor, while the farmer still plugs along preparing their next year's food for them. All resolutions were made to be broken.

Parkhill Gazette:—If there is anything that makes us believe in conscription, it is to see the name of a 1st Contingent man in the list of those killed in action. If all men are equally responsible for the defense of their country, why should these men, after two years of playing with death, be kept on the firing line? Why should not these men be granted a leave of absence long enough to come home and see their kin? Why can they not take the place of some one who has occupied a "safety first" job in the army during the last two years. After a man has gone through St. Julien and Ypres and Gtvench and Vimy Ridge and is still alive, he has earned his life and he should run no more chances of losing it.

Rules in Germany

- Boil your potatoes with the jackets on. To peel them first is very wasteful.
- Eat less meat and more fresh fruit; the meat we can save, while the fruit will not keep.
- Do not cut a fresh loaf of bread till every scrap and crust of the other is used up.
- Do not fry your food. It uses up lard, which is scarce, and fried food is not healthful.
- Eat more soups: in soups nothing is wasted.
- Preserve all the fruit you can in summer while it is cheap; you will need it later.

Men Who Have "Bached" Make Poor Husbands

"Good husbands are made or married by their mothers and sisters. If a man is waited on and spoiled in his mother's home, he will expect his wife to follow up the same course of treatment, but to a greater degree.

Again, "baching," particularly in Western Canada, is the ruin of large numbers of young men, from the "good husband" point of view. The very independence of the life compared with a life of interdependence, is a snare. Many a bachelor degenerates into a mere physical force, a bundle of fixed habits, some savouring of good, but more of evil. The higher things of life are forgotten or wilfully set aside. The man who has had much experience at "baching" seldom makes a "good husband."

The good husband does not think that he has outgrown religion, but goes to church with his family. He makes ample provision for the future of himself and family, mentally, morally, spiritually, physically and economically. He strives to own a place of his own, with his wife as joint partner, with equal rights. He holds up only the highest ideals to his children and does not teach them that money is the only thing in life worth striving after. He is kind and considerate of the rights and welfare of others, takes a right interest in politics and all the great questions of the day, is an open-minded, public-spirited, ahead-of-the-times man, who can see and do beyond his own four walls, but in the various walks of life exemplifies the teaching that for the Good Husband, charity begins at home.—Miss M. MacT., Winnipeg, Man.

Disastrous Air Raid

One of the most disastrous air raids over Britain yet reported occurred last week. Sixteen enemy aircraft took part. The first squadron was so high up as to be out of sight of ordinary observers and the first warning people in the town of Folkestone received was when bombs began dropping among promenaders. All told, 76 were killed and 174 injured. Of the killed 27 were women and 23 were children, while 43 women and 19 children were injured. Three of the enemy planes were shot down.

The Fourteen Errors Of Life

- The fourteen mistakes of life Judge Rentoul told the Bartholomew Club are:
- To expect to set up our own standard of right and wrong and expect everybody to conform to it.
  - To try to measure the enjoyment of others by our own.
  - To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.
  - To look for judgment and experience in youth.
  - To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.
  - Not to yield to unimportant trifles.
  - To look for perfections in our own actions.
  - To worry ourselves and others about what cannot be remedied.
  - Not to alleviate if we can all that needs alleviation.
  - Not to make allowances for the weakness of others.
  - To consider anything impossible that we cannot perform. To believe only what our finite minds can grasp. To live as if the moment, the time, the day, were so important that it would live forever. To estimate people by some outside quality, for it is that within which makes the man.—London Standard

Corn Growing in Lambton

Increased production in corn is being looked for in Lambton County this year. At a full board meeting of the Officers and Directors of the Lambton County Corn Growers' Association held in the Agricultural Office, Petrolia, on Saturday, May 26th, the directors from their respective townships reported an increased area being devoted to corn growing. Planting was considered to be about one-third completed. Choice seed was in good demand, with few local enquiries at present. Ways and means of enlarging and making yet more attractive the Annual Corn Show, to be held in Petrolia during the month of January, were discussed. A resolution was passed whereby a new department is to be added to the Corn Show for grain and clover seeds. Other broader and wider moves were considered but are being laid over until larger and more suitable buildings can be secured.
The Hanna Trophy Contest for the best four acres of corn in the county grows more popular each year. The number of entries at this season this year is the largest in the history of the Association.
Several of the directors informed the Board that their respective township Councils were willing to very materially increase their grant to the Association, ample evidence of the popularity of the Association and its influence on the corn industry of the County.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

A Well Known Resident of Port-Hawkesbury is Restored to Health and Strength

One of the best known men in the town of Hawkesbury, N. S., is Mr. William Duff. He has been a member of the municipal council for 16 years, chairman of the school board, and held other responsible positions. Mr. Duff's words can therefore, be taken as coming from a man who has the esteem and respect of his fellow townsmen. He makes no secret of the fact that he believes Dr. Williams Pink Pills saved his life, and that they restored him to good health after several medical men had failed to cure him. Mr. Duff tells of his illness and cure as follows: "About four years ago I was attacked by a gripe which left me in a condition hard to describe. I was attacked with general weakness, and a constant dull pain in the stomach. I became so weak that I could not walk a hundred yards without sitting down to rest. The food I ate continually soured on my stomach. My nerves were all gone, and palpitation of the heart and a fluttering sensation all through my chest, especially at night was almost unbearable. I was finally compelled to go to bed, and called in a doctor, who said my heart was affected, and treated me for that trouble. After three months attendance, and feeling no better I called in another doctor. His treatment also failed to help me, and I tried a third doctor. This one said there was nothing wrong with my heart, that the trouble was due to my stomach. After trying him for some time he advised that I go to the hospital at Halifax. On a previous occasion when I had an attack of rheumatism I had been cured by Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and I decided that rather than go to a hospital I would again try this medicine. I got a supply of the pills and began taking them. In a few weeks I could feel my strength returning, my stomach was giving me less trouble, the palpitation of the heart disappeared, and after a further use of the pills I felt as well as ever I did in my life. I can truly say that I feel more thankful than words can express for what Dr. Williams Pink Pills have done for me." You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

During the electric storm last Friday morning the residences of John Hart, London Road, and Frank Vance, 6th line were struck and both damaged but the occupants escaped unharmed. When the storm came Mr. and Mrs. Hart arose and dressed and a few minutes later the brass bedstead which they had occupied was struck, the electric fluid turning the metal black. Had they not arisen both would no doubt have been killed.

Mr. Balfour on Democracy

The Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, secretary of the state for foreign affairs, and head of the British embassy, who visited the House of Commons at Ottawa on Monday, made a telling speech in reply to the address of welcome from Speaker Rhodes. The speech was a model of classic diction—simple, thoughtful and impressive, especially that portion of it which dealt with the problems and perils of democracy. Some of the points he made were briefly these:—
The entente allies have staked their last dollar on democracy, and if democracy fails will be bankrupt, indeed.
Democracy can beat all the anarochies in the world, but only if it is prepared to forego those divisions which, in a sense, are the very life-blood of a free, vigorous and rapidly developing community.
You cannot have a democracy without parties, and the difficulty is how this normal habit is to be got over in a great national crisis.
Strength derived from having behind the consent of a free people is greater than all the strength that may be given by the most elaborate and tyrannical system of military despotism.
Free nations will come out of this struggle with the lesson fully learned that patriotism will always overcome the dangers and difficulties inherent to a democratic constitution.
When war burst unexpectedly a political miracle occurred within the British Empire. No greater event has ever happened in the history of civilization than the way in which the co-ordinate democracies have worked together.

To the Potato

Twinkle, twinkle, little spud,
As up among the clouds you scud,
You are doubtless feeling gay
Chasing around the milky way,
You have reached to such a height
You are surely out of sight.
Like a diamond now you seem
In your price, and that's no dream.
Twinkle on another twink,
And you'll drive us all to drink,
As we chase for needful chink.
You are sailing rather high,
As you wink your shrivelled eye,
Up there somewhere in the sky,
Tuber, since the coop you flew,
We have only longed for you;
That our freside you forsook,
Broke our heart and pocketbook,
Never felt how we could love
Tid you left and went above;
Never felt how dear you were
Till we paid four dollars per.
Small potato, please come back,
In our lives there's such a lack;
For your presence so we pine,
That our stomach hits our spine.
We are tired of eating greens,
Stewed prunes, sauer kraut and beans,
'Tis for you alone we yearn;
Darling 'tater, please return.

The Late Mrs. Wilcox

We are sorry to chronicle the sudden death of Eliza Anne Ironside, widow of the late Hiram Wilcox, who predeceased her a number of years ago. Deceased was born in Plympton township 59 years ago and has been residing in Brooke township lot 11, con. 13, for about 27 years. Deceased was well known here and also in the C. E. E. Hospital, Petrolia, where she was an inmate for 2 years, about 5 years ago, and has been in declining health since that time. She leaves to mourn her loss two sons, John and Alexander Wilcox, at home, besides two brothers and two sisters. William of Plympton, John, of Midland, and Adam in Enniskillen, one sister, Mrs. Wm. Seymour, of Petrolia, and Mrs. Jas.

Lantic Sugar
Has Nothing to Hide
Now that the Government has absolutely prohibited the use of any artificial coloring matter in sugar, we tell you again that we have —never used Beets
—never used Ultramarine Blue
—never used Aniline Dyes
—never used Vegetable Dyes
in refining any of our sugars.
This means that every pound in the hands of your grocer is pure and uncolored.
So—why take chances? Why not insist on having Lantic—the Sugars that have always been pure, and cost no more than any other?
Look for the Red Ball Trade-mark on every Carton and Sack.

Ferguson, of Enniskillen, besides a number of other relatives. Interment took place at Wyoming cemetery on the 16th inst. and was largely attended. The bearers were John O'Hara, Wm. Morris, A. Sawyer, A. Whitehead, R. Sawyer and H. Brain. Those who are left to mourn her loss have the sympathy of the community.

Declared Fraudulent
A number of citizens have received communications asking for donations for the purchase of chloroform. The communication is in the form of a chain letter, asking each one who receives the letter to send 25 cents and forward the letter in turn to four friends, who in turn would send it on to more friends. The money, it is expected, would be sent to an address in New York. One of those who received the letter has since had the money returned by the Dominion government, with the information that it was considered to be fraudulent. Considerable caution should be exercised in donating to schemes of this kind, unless the subscribers are positive the cause is a worthy one and that reliable persons are at the back of it.

THE NEWEST.

Topcoat For the Small Girl
Who Shades Her Old One.

DELIGHTED WITH IT.

Serviceable navy blue gaberdine affords daughter this smart spring coat, cut with a kilt skirt and double breasted front. Navy white and blue buttons add almost as much trimming as does the white cloth collar all picoted around the edge.

A FESTIVE IDEA.

This Fetching Way of Arranging Your Dining Table.

It is a new idea now among observing housewives to have, instead of the round or square luncheon cloth, one long runner for the square or oblong table, with enough large and small dollies matching it to fill in along the sides. Of course both ends of the table are covered by the runner, an excellent idea when part of the meal is served from the table instead of from the "side."

While this arrangement is especially appropriate for the oblong table, it can be used for the square, oval or round table with some modification. In the square table the symmetry is often better preserved by two runners crossing in the middle. In the oval or round table the ugly line where the runner falls over the rounded edge is done away with by cutting the runner, rounding the edge to fit the table and setting on the end to fit with a fine seam or a bit of beading. This arrangement means that the runner could be used only for the one size of table, but it is worth the trouble.

Square hemstitched dollies with a simple corner motif are used with the plain hemstitched runner. It is a good plan to make plate dollies and napkins of the same size and decoration, so that if one gives out the other may come to the rescue. A large dolly for the plate will do away with an extra tumbler or teacup dolly.

ABOUT CAKE BAKING.

How to Prepare and Bake All Kinds of Good Sweetmeats.

Where do you set your loaf cakes and what place in your own oven do you give to muffins and small cakes? From your answer your success would be gauged by a scientific baker.

Thin layer cakes, cookies, biscuits, macaroons and other small cakes should always be baked in shallow pans set at the top of the oven. This gives the heat a chance to circulate around the cookies rather than concentrate under them.

Loaf cakes bake more evenly in sheet tin or aluminum pans than in iron pans. The shelf in the center of the oven is right for loaf cakes, and no cake should ever be set on the bottom of the oven.

It is a good idea to start sponge cake and loaf cake in a very slow oven and then increase the heat as the cake starts to rise. About ten minutes before the cake should be done the gas can be turned off entirely as there is sufficient heat left in the oven to finish the baking. Whenever it seems desirable to reduce the heat it is better to turn down both burners halfway rather than to turn one out completely.

Keeping Attractive.

An important step in keeping attractive is to see that your neckwear and accessories are fresh. Always put your hat and veil on with care. Choose the most becoming colors for your gowns and suits. The well-groomed woman has the advantage over her sister who is untidy. The knowledge gives her self-confidence, and with self-confidence rightly gained one can accomplish anything.

A Statue That Never Was Built.
Mount Athos, in Turkey, was the spot contemplated by a sculptor for the most imposing monument that man had ever had. The sculptor Diocrates offered to cut the huge mountain mass into the form of a statue of Alexander which should hold a city in the left hand and in the right a basin to receive all the waters that flowed from the mountain.

Alexander was much taken by the plan, but rejected it for the practical reason that there was not food enough in the district to feed the inhabitants of the proposed town. So the canal cut by Xerxes to enable the ships to escape sailing round the mountain remained the greatest enterprise ever achieved there.

Equity and Economy.

Two men, strangers to each other, were seated together on the outside of a tramcar, and both filled their pipes simultaneously. One, however, struck his match first, and the other requested that he might share the light. Having done so, he took from his pocket a box of matches and handed one to his obliging neighbor. "It is foolish," he said, "to strike two when one will do, but I can't very well expect you to provide that one when I have some also. Let me pay!" A mind of nice balance in equity as well as economy!—London Chronicle.

Vain Quests.

A little girl who was trying to tell a friend how absentminded her grandpa was said, "He walks around, thinking about nothing, and when he remembers it he then forgets that what he thought of was something entirely different from what he wanted to remember."

Caught Both Ways.

Mrs. Eric—My servant girl has left me. She said I had so much company there was too much work to do. Mr. Wye—That's singular. Mine has left me too. She said I had so little company it showed I had no social position.—Boston Transcript.

Not Yet.

Mrs. Bacon—Don't you think I'm entitled to a pension, John? Mr. Bacon—Why, no. A pension is something you get after you are through fighting.—Yonkers Statesman.

One reason we are not successful is that we sidestep Opportunity and shake hands with Temptation.

The Paisley Vogue.

Negligees have taken up the Paisley vogue, and one can now find Paisley printed chifon borders or silk medallions in the popular Indian designs. Challis in printed Paisley patterns is being largely used for negligees and rest robes. Soutache braid in frocks and suits is being applied in Paisley patterns, if not in the accepted Paisley colorings. Some suits have stencil designs outlined with soutache braid, recalling the familiar patterns of the orient.

For Mrs. Newlywed.

Is there a friend who is just starting housekeeping? An addition to the kitchen outfit which would amuse and still find a helpful place is called "a kitchen doll." The foundation is a wooden mixing spoon on the bowl of which eyes, nose and mouth are marked. A dish mop just back of the spoon makes "the mop of hair," a floor cloth the skirt, a wash cloth the apron and a dish cloth the shawl. The price of the "doll" is 65 cents.

Hush! A Garter Purse.

If you are addicted to the bad habit of carrying your valuables and money with you wherever you go you should provide yourself with one of the new garter purses. They are made of two pockets, one large for jewels the other small for money, and both attached to straps to buckle tightly around the leg below the knee. They come in all shades of satin.

A Delightful Combination.

Speaking of satin slip over blouses, what do you think of this costume? It is a slip over blouse of dark blue satin smocked in the shoulders with white silk and showing a novel collar and ruffs of white satin. It is worn with a sox pleated white fannel skirt. Sounds stunning, doesn't it?

TAKING A HOLIDAY?

Then don't forget you will need some Zam-Buk. Nothing stops the pain of sunburn and draws out the soreness so quickly. Zam-Buk also ends the irritation of mosquito bites and is equally good for heat rashes, tender blistered feet, stiffness and aching muscles. As a "first aid," Zam-Buk is invaluable. If applied immediately an injury is sustained there is no danger of festering. All druggists and stores 50c. box.

Just For To-night

By CORP. FRED EDWARDS, Dresden.

Backward, turn backward, O Time in thy flight,

Take me to Canada, Just for To-night.

Far, far away from the noise of this war,

Where machine guns rattle and big guns roar.

Back where it's peaceful, quiet and serene,

Away from these trenches and all that they mean.

Back where, instead of the shriek of a shell,

We hear peaceful noises and know all is well.

The memory of Home is in my mind now,

As I sit dreaming, I oft think of how

My Mother caressed me and called me her boy—

What would she think now of her own pride and joy?

He's fighting for Freedom, for Home and for Right,

And the Kaiser is fighting against him for Right.

That's why I wish, while through trenches I climb,

That I could but reverse the great hand of Time,

And while I'm writing these lines, that I might

Return to thee, O Canada, Just for To-night.

Just to be home, just for one peaceful night,

Away from the worries and trials of this fight,

Away from kulture, away from crime,

Away from the trenches, shell-holes and slime.

Must I keep dreaming and longing in vain

To stroll down the path with my Sweet-heart again,

And once more to love and be loved as of yore—

Oh, God! Isn't that what you gave us life for?

No honor that's gained on the battlefield here,

Can compare with the love of the ones we hold dear;

Their true love embodying all that is best.

Take me back, Father Time, to my Home in the West,

Away from this land that is barren and cursed,

Where the bold lust brings out in man all that is worst.

Oh, just for One Night to be back Home again,

Wake me peace on earth and goodwill to all men.

Oh, God, who is watching dear Canada's best

Fighting, dying and lying at rest,

Instill in us courage to fight the good fight,

And at length know the triumph of Right over Might.

And as I sit penning this very poor theme

I wonder if Time, like an e'er flowing stream,

Will ever turn back in its merciful flight

And take me to Canada, Just for To-night.

Sir Sam Hughes on Military Training

One of the outstanding questions of the day—whether or not children in the schools should be given military training, has been recently occupying the attention of all women's organizations throughout the country. Opinions of various statesmen and military authorities have been solicited. Of the latter, the views of Lieut.-General Sir Sam Hughes, former Minister of Militia, will have great weight.

In the May issue of "Everywoman's World," Sir Sam expresses his conviction that military training in the schools is essential. He says in part: "The correct age to begin training boys in simple military movements is between ten and sixteen years of age, because between these periods of time the boy has surplus energy which can be utilized in the open in learning those things about which he has read, and which will employ his attention when otherwise his time might be wasted in something which would be of no use whatever.

The best place for implanting these lessons is in the Public and High Schools, where boys in sufficient numbers can be gotten together for company drills and limited field movements. Of course, previous to this time, light physical drill work with primary movements should be taken up with younger children of from six to ten years of age."

It moulds them into excellent physical condition, it teaches them the value of discipline, it shows them what can be accomplished by system, it strengthens their memory and powers of observation, it teaches them one of the first and greatest principles of economics—that the whole is only as great as the part, and the part as great as the whole—and it enables them more efficiently to play the part which they are destined to take in the service of their country, whatever form that service may take.

"By advocating Military Training in all the schools in Canada, I make the statement, with great emphasis, that I do not desire the importation of the Prussian system into Canada. The training I have in mind is modelled after the Swiss system of improving the physical, mental, and moral citizenship of coming generations. This system is not intended to teach hatred of nations, but rather teaches the value of individual responsibility to one's country. One thing is certain: It will most decidedly improve the physical preparedness of children to play a man's part in a nation's service should they ever be called on to do so."

When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure no better remedy than Miller's Worm Powders, which are guaranteed to totally expel worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can exist where these Powders are used.

THE SAGA OF THE DRADERS

Brothers Four Who Went Forth to Battle—How One of Them Fell After a Gallant Charge, Giving His Life for Another—How Two Were Wounded and the Fourth Battles On.

Ottawa, April 26.—List to the saga of the Draders, the valient sons of Canada, brothers who went forth to fight the foe of liberty. List how one of them has gone to join the long line of heroes and how his brothers bravely fight on "Somewhere in France."

The fallen Drader was Lieut. Robert Eugene, the beau ideal, the very perfect gentle knight, beloved of men and boys, strong and clean and manly. He was born in London, Ontario, in 1891, but was taken west as an infant by his parents and received his education at Lacombe and Edmonton, Alberta. He taught in Edmonton as assistant principal for two or three years, and in Gull Lake, Saskatchewan, as principal of the Public and High Schools for two years.

He was singularly successful especially with the boys. Scarcely more than a boy himself, he used the cadet training with splendid effect in inspiring and controlling them.

He was a lover of clean sport, excelling particularly in basket-ball and hockey. He won several medals for running. Always strong and vigorous, he developed into a splendid young Canadian—physically, mentally and morally—the special pride and hope of all his friends. W. G. Carpenter, superintendent of the Edmonton schools, wrote of his work there: "We considered him one of our very best men in Edmonton. His success with us was remarkable, and it was with keen regret, although with much pride, that we saw him don the khaki. From the first he spoke of his never returning. I remember very distinctly his saying that he would never come back. I have heard from more sources than one that he was one of the most competent officers in his battalion, and conducted himself with a most superior soldierly bearing. We sincerely regretted his sudden taking away, but can assure you that memory associates him with the best in the teaching profession."

Robert Eugene joined the Fifty-first Edmonton Battalion in May, 1915, and was later chosen instructor for an officers' training school in Calgary. He did such good work there that the officials wished him to remain at that post, but he wished to remain with his battalion and left with them for overseas about April 1st last year. He specialized in musketry and physical training. He took a special course for officers at Chelsea barracks in London and was transferred to the Fortyninth in France early in June.

It was on September 15, the first day of the big drive on the Somme, that he was fatally struck. I quote from a letter from his bosom friend, Lieut. Harry E. Balfour, (who was wounded and taken prisoner October 8) to his parents: "Within five minutes of the beginning of the action Eugene was left in command of the company, through Lieut. Macdonald being wounded. Eugene led the company over the shell-swept ground in the most gallant way imaginable; shells bursting all around him but he led us on with the most uncanny sense of direction. We reached our first objective, and Eugene excited the admiration of every one in the way he went ahead, getting his bearings and getting connections—doing everything exactly right. Then when we went over the top, made an assault, went on and started to dig in, he proved himself the soldier that I always knew he was. Another of our officers had been hit. Then at 9:30 p.m. September 15th, a sergeant came to me and told me I was in command—Mr. Drader had been hit. It seemed to me an age before I could get to him! Some Germans on our left were causing trouble. The when I traced him up I was told he had been taken out all right. Accordingly I did not see him again alive. Next morning I received the sad news that he had not been taken out, but had died about 2 a.m. Lieut. Robert Ferres was with him. Eugene was shot through the spine and his legs were paralyzed. He each other. Wilbert returned to his battalion early in October (before he heard of Eugene's death) and has since been promoted to lance corporal. Will is still in England (last news) at the Canadian Casualty Assembly Camp, wishing he could get back to the front. Earl, who left a wife and two little children behind, went overseas with the 138th Edmonton Battalion in August last year and was transferred to the Forty-seventh in December. He is still fighting somewhere. Eugene was the youngest of the four boys. The latest news received said Will was equipped and ready for France again. Earl has distinguished himself as a bomb-thrower and was taking a few days training in bomb-throwing. Wilbert was in England getting a field commission. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Drader, now live in Victoria, B.C., and will be remembered by many in and around Watford. Mrs. Drader was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. Francis Kearney, 12th line, Brooke.

"THE STORE THAT SATISFIES"

The Ford is Economical

THE average man can easily afford a Ford car. It is the most inexpensive car to drive.

20 to 25 miles on a gallon of gasoline is an every-day occurrence. 33 miles is frequently reported by Ford owners. Yearly repair expenses of less than one dollar are not unusual. The car is light in weight, and tires give more mileage on a Ford than on any other car.

You can buy a Ford for yourself and one for your wife for the price of one car.

at $1000. You can run both Fords at about the same expense as for one larger, heavier car.

You can always sell a "used" Ford at a good price. You have to accept a big reduction for a "used" larger car.

Go and take a ride in the 1917 model. See how comfortable it is. And stylish, too—stream line effect, tapered hood, crown fenders, beautiful finish. You need one for business. Your wife and children need one for pleasure and health.
