The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Library of the Public
Archives of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

La bibliothèque des Archives
publiques du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

THE TORONTO PUBLIC LIBRARY,

In March, 1882, the royal assent was given to the statute, passed by the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, known as the Free Libraries Act, and in January of the following year the ballots of the electors were given in favour of its adoption in the City of Toronto.

Early in 1883 the Board of Management was constituted by the appointment of three members each by the City Council and School Board, and two by the Separate School Board, in addition to the Mayor who was a member ex officio. The members were to remain in office three years. In June, 1883, the officials were appointed. The generous offer of the members of the Mechanics' Institute to transfer their building and books was accepted with thanks, and the Chairman and Chief Librarian despatched to England to complete the purchase of books. Meanwhile the alterations to the building were proceeded with.

The aim of the Board has been, in all respects, to make the new Library worthy of the city. The first chairman, Mr. Alderman Hallam, in his opening address said: "A comprehensive, permanent foundation for the encouragement of learning and the free diffusion of knowledge by reading may be established for the real advancement of all classes in the community. Toronto is pre-eminently a city of educational institutions. I feel sure that the benefit to the people of a reference and lending library of carefully selected books is undisputed by all who are interested in the mental, moral and social advancement of our city.

"Free libraries have a special claim on every ratepayer who desires to see our country advance to the front, and keep pace with the world in art, science and commerce, and augment the sum of human happiness. The advantages are many. They help on the cause of education. They tend to promote public virtue. Their influence is on the side of order, self-respect, and general enlightenment. There are few associations so pleasant as those excited by them. They are a literary park where all can enjoy themselves during their leisure hours. To all lovers of books and students, to the rich and poor alike, the doors of these institutions are open without money and without price."

On March 6, 1884, the Library was formally opened by His Honor, the Lieut.-Governor in the presence of a large and distinguished audience, and on April 2nd books were issued for the first time. The success which attended the early days of the Library has never ceased, each successive year showing a marked increase over its predecessor. During the year of 1883 the daily average issue of books was 783; in 1885 it was 933; while in 1894 it reached 353,337, an average of 1,157 per day.

At the close of the first year, 1883, the number of books on the shelves of the Circulating Library was 13,560, and in 1894 the number had risen to 35,926, while the Reference Library during the same period had increased from 8043 to 33,062.

The total number of ticket holders entitled to take books home amounted to 42,788 in 1894.

Four branches have been established in the remoter districts of the city, of which the Northern contains 5,501 volumes, the Western 5,275, and the Eastern and Dundas Street about 1,000 each. Further information relative to them will be found on the back of the cover.

The combined issue of books from the central and branch libraries amounted in 1894 to 535,727.

In connection both with the Central Library and the various branches, reading rooms have been established which daily draw large numbers and have done much to popularize the institution. The rooms are large and well lighted, are supplied with all the leading periodicals and are open from 8.30 a.m. to 9.30 p.m. during the winter, and 9 p.m. during the summer.

English, American, French, German and Canadian periodicals are on file.

From the outset the Board has watched with great interest the growth of the Reference Library as the most valuable portion of the institution under their direction, and feel a reasonable pride in the valuable collection of books which has been gathered together during the past ten years. In the department of Canadian history and exploration it is unequalled in the Dominion, while in arts, manufactures, patents, history and genealogy and many other subjects it occupies a high position.

A complete list of the members of the Board of Management from the beginning, will be found on page 6.

PREFACE.

During the six years which have elapsed since the publication of the first volume of the Catalogue for the Circulating Library a number of supplements have been issued, as new books were added to the shelves. These, with the written lists of more recent new books, have been consolidated into what forms this second volume.

The total number of books in the Central Circulating Library is about 37,000, of which 15,000 are represented in this catalogue by nearly 35,000 entries.

The Author's Catalogue, occupying the first section, pages 1-171, consists of an alphabetical arrangement of the Authors, and a further alphabetical list of their works under the name of each author.

Works of Fiction are further catalogued under the title of the book.

Anonymous books appear under their respective titles.

In the case of books published under a pseudonym, cross-references are given, as far as possible, to the correct name of the author.

Authors' names printed between brackets, thus [Preston], indicate that the book was published anonymously.

In the second section, pages 173-316, the titles are arranged under subjects, a key to the arrangement of which will be found on page 173.

All biographies appear under the name of the subject. Thus, "Boswell's Life of Johnson" will be found under Johnson.

December 1st, 1895.
