GERMAN CORPS DECIMATED BY VERDUN DRIVE. Fee Had Insufficient Recruits to Fill Gaps in Ranks Completely.

COMPANIES WEAKENED. Losses of Huns Greatly Exceeded Those of French During Month.

PARIS, March 24.—"The Germans would have it believed that their losses before Verdun were not greater than those of the French army," says a semi-official note issued this afternoon.

On the forenoon of March 9 the first battalion of the 19th regiment reserve of the fifth German corps attacked the village of Vaux in columns of four.

The second and third battalions of the same regiment passed east of the village, at the same time, going forward in squads to the first French trenches on the northern slope of the summit dominating Fort Vaux.

The fate of Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton and the party with him, which set out to cross the South Pole, is not known.

Apparently an attempt had been made to send the wireless for several months, but it had only just been received at the New Zealand station, which forwarded it to England.

Members of Marooned Party May Not Have Sufficient Food.

LONDON, Saturday, March 25.—A wireless message from the auxiliary ship Aurora of the Shackleton Antarctic expedition was received in London yesterday.

The message was sent in the far south Pacific. The wireless said the steamer had been damaged and was proceeding to New Zealand for repairs.

Apparently an attempt had been made to send the wireless for several months, but it had only just been received at the New Zealand station, which forwarded it to England.

The message was sent by a member of the staff of the Aurora, which went from Australia to Ross Sea at the end of 1914 for the purpose of bringing back Shackleton's party when they had crossed the south polar continent.

It was not known that the Aurora had wireless on board and the despatch (Continued on Page 4, Column 2)

NEW AMERICAN LEGION WILL BE RECRUITED

Overflow From First in Toronto Will Be Nucleus of Second.

By a Staff Reporter. OTTAWA, March 24.—Capt. Asa Minard of the 97th American Battalion of Toronto is in Ottawa today and states that the regiment is now over strength.

The men are anxious to get away, and it is understood that every facility possible will be extended. The overflow will form the nucleus of a new American Battalion in Toronto, which will begin at once.

Recruiting for the 21st and 21st Western American Battalions is stated to be going on very satisfactorily. It is expected, therefore, that by the end of the summer there will be four battalions at the front composed exclusively of American-born who are now residents of Canada.

Twenty-one recruits signed up with the Irish Fusiliers Battalion at the midnight show in the Star Theatre.

Austrians Surprised by Swift Advance in Fog—Much Artillery Firing.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, March 24.—Taking advantage of a blizzard, the Italian forces advanced and seized Valiaz and Stuz, in the Cordevole Valley, and they also seized a spur northward of Sasoni Masconi.

An Austrian detachment clad in white uniforms attacked the Italian positions on the left bank of the Rio Dianza, in the upper Chiasso, but it was promptly repulsed. Italian artillery shelled Austrian columns moving in the Alto Adige zone; it bombarded a train loaded with war stores while standing at the Culpanazzo station, and the station of Sanata Lucia and Modreje Village, on the Isanzo front.

EXPLOSION ON CHANNEL BOAT

Sussex, With Nearly Four Hundred Passengers, Towed to French Port.

VICTIM OF TORPEDO?

Cause of Mishap on Trip to Dieppe Not Known.

LONDON, Saturday, March 25, 3.55 a.m.—The cross channel steamer Sussex which was damaged by an explosion in the English Channel last evening while on a trip from Folkestone to Dieppe has been towed into a French port, the name of which is undisclosed, says a despatch to the Central News from Folkestone.

"I think it possible that there were a number of Americans among the passengers of the Sussex," said Robert F. Siskner, the American consul-general, in reply to a question by the Associated Press, "because in the last few days my office has viewed passports for many Americans going to France."

At both the American embassy and the consulate-general there were rumors that the Sussex had been torpedoed, but neither had received any details.

The Brighton Railroad tonight issued the following account of the accident to the Sussex: "The Sussex, sailing under a French flag in the Folkestone-Dieppe service, met with a mishap somewhere off Dieppe on her passage today. There were 388 passengers aboard and a crew of about fifty, but it is impossible at present to give further particulars. It is assumed that the vessel was still afloat in charge of a tug. It is assumed that all the passengers were saved."

Flew French Flag. The Sussex left Folkestone at 1.20 o'clock this afternoon flying the French flag and met with mishap somewhere off Dieppe at 7 o'clock tonight. When the alarm signal was sent out a number of vessels in the vicinity hurried to her assistance. There were others rushed under full steam from Dieppe harbor.

The Sussex is owned by the French state railways but is managed by the Brighton Railroad. Before the war she was employed in the night service between New Haven and Dieppe, but following the outbreak of hostilities her run was changed from Folkestone to Dieppe.

ALL FOE'S LINES ON OLIPA FRONT TAKEN BY CZAR

Russian Attacks Forced the Trenches and Barricades of Sector.

GAINS ELSEWHERE TOO

Strong German Counter-Attacks Repulsed Near Jacobstadt.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, March 24.—The Russians are still advancing in the battle which they are forcing on the Germans on the western Muscovite front from the lake region below Dvinsk to Riga, and according to the latest news they are making considerable progress in a big battle which is raging south of Dvinsk, but which is still in its inconclusive stage.

At many points the Russians have destroyed the defences of the Germans and in the sector of Olipa they have forced all the German lines and barricades.

It is reported unofficially that the Russians are bringing up a fresh army to attack Vilna, which is the centre of several railway lines and the loss of which would be a heavy blow to Von Hindenburg.

According to official details given out by Russian general headquarters, the Russians have crossed the Dvina in the district of Friedrichstadt, which the Germans had retained in their possession after the fighting of last autumn. After reaching the western bank the Russians captured a machine gun.

PLAINTS OF NEUTRALS TO RECEIVE ATTENTION

British Government Appoints Committee to Consider Blockade Grievances.

TO CUT OUT RED TAPE

Viscount Peel's Board Will Be Given Broad Powers in Investigation.

LONDON, March 24.—As a result of complaints from the U.S. and other neutrals over the delays in which shipping suffers from the operation of the blockade, the government has appointed a committee of inquiry, headed by Viscount Peel, with authority to make all necessary recommendations for reforms, if any are found to be necessary.

The official announcement follows: "His majesty's government has appointed a committee under Viscount Peel to see if there is any avoidable delay caused by the restrictive operations against German commerce, and to make such general recommendations as it may think fit for improving such methods."

The members of the committee are Viscount Peel, chairman; Sir Kenneth S. Anderson, Benjamin A. Cohen and K. Wallace Emslie.

Discussing the formation of the committee, Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, stated that no red tape would be permitted to stand in the committee's way. The committee will have full power and facilities to make all requisite investigations and its recommendations are expected to result in immediate action tending to meet the reasonable complaints of neutrals.

DR. LOCHEAD ADMITS HE RECEIVED MONEY

REGINA, March 24.—This afternoon the royal commission inquiring into the liquor charges, devoted attention to a charge against Dr. C. E. Lochead, M.L.A., for Gull Lake, of accepting $100 from John E. Washburn, a Gull Lake hotel man, to stifle complaints against his hotel.

Lochead admitted receiving money and going to Regina, but said that he made the trip at Washburn's request to see what the complaints were. He had not tried in any way to stifle proceedings against Washburn, he said, and did not know that any were being taken.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

LATEST word from the northwestern front of Russia shows that the Russians still retain the upper hand in the big engagements which they have forced on the Germans at many points in general, and in front of Jacobstadt and below Dvinsk in particular. At Jacobstadt, where they pierced the German lines on the preceding day, they were met and counter-attacked by large hostile forces, which were broken by them, and in the region below Dvinsk, where they have been making considerable progress in the lake region, they have just carried all of the German lines and barricades on the preceding day, and have repulsed a German counter-attack. Desperate fighting is raging northward of Widsy, and northward of Lake Sekly. The Dwina River has been crossed in front of Friedrichstadt, and an action is bound to develop there. Russia's detachments are still advancing in the Dvinsk region.

The Russians are attempting to converge on Mitau junction from Jacobstadt. It is for the protection of this important strategic point that the Germans have kept large forces on hand in this region, and it was strong bodies of these which counter-attacked the Russians after they had pierced the German front. These have been broken by the stout Russian defence. It is to be presumed that the Germans will continue to feed the Russian cannon here with fresh troops as fast as they arrive, for the capture of Mitau junction would be disastrous for Von Hindenburg. The Russians are apparently gaining the initiative on this front, as they have gained it in the south. From the mention that is made of the work of their artillery in shelling destroyed positions of the Germans, so that they cannot dig themselves in again, it is to be presumed that the main object of the Russians at the present stage of the combat is to drive the Germans out of their trenches, and to force them to stand up to the fire of their guns and rifles in the open. It is to be noted that the Germans are far more prodigal of life than the French, for when the Russians pierced their lines near Jacobstadt and their trenches in the lake region, instead of retiring to their main defensive positions, if they have any, the Germans made fierce counter-attacks, always a dangerous and wasteful move if for the losses are then terrific. On the whole, it is probable that the Russians are following the same strategy as Grant followed when he pounded the Southerners' lines so hard in the last campaign. Attrition has already worked great losses to the Germans, and the allies are now on the home-stretch of this phase of the war. The test of whether attrition has been already sufficient to wear down the German lines to breaking point is probably (Continued on Page 4, Columns 6 and 7).

IMPERIAL BANK TAKING OVER NORTHERN CROWN?

Negotiations Reported Under Way for Absorption of Latter Institution.

NOT FULLY CONFIRMED

Montreal Paper Says, However, That New Merger is Contemplated.

Negotiations for the absorption by the Imperial Bank of the Northern Crown Bank are in progress, according to an article published yesterday in The Financial Times of Montreal.

President Peleg Howland of the Imperial Bank is out of the city and official confirmation could not be secured in that quarter, but it is understood that for some time the merger has been under consideration, and that several months ago arrangements were nearing completion, when opposition raised by business interests of Winnipeg caused temporary suspension of negotiations.

The Imperial Bank, which has its head office in Toronto, has an authorized capital of $10,000,000, of which $7,000,000 has been subscribed and fully paid up, while the reserve equals the amount of the last fiscal year ended April 30 last were $1,081,859, equal to 14.7 per cent. on the capital stock issued. ## BRITAIN ADDS MATERIALLY TO LIST OF GOODS BARRED

Many More Articles Classed As Luxuries Will Be Rigidly Excluded From Country After March Thirtieth.

LONDON, March 24.—A lengthy extension of the list of articles, the importation of which is prohibited, which was forecasted by Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, in an interview with the Associated Press last week, was announced tonight by the board of trade. The board gave notice that a proclamation would be issued shortly prohibiting after March 30 the importation of the following goods: Baskets and basketware, except of bamboo, cement, chinaware and pottery, not including cloisonne ware; cotton yarn, cotton piece goods and cotton manufactures of all kinds, except hosiery and lace; cutlery, fatty acids, furniture, manufactured joinery and other wood manufactures except lacquered wares; hardware and hollowware, oilcloth, soap, toys, games and playing cards; wood and timber of beech, birch, elm and oak; woolen and worsted manufactures of all kinds except yarns. The importation of the prohibited goods will be admitted only under a license, but the board of trade states such licenses will be granted only for goods on the way to the United Kingdom or goods actually purchased when the notice is issued.

GERMANY EMBARRASSED THRU NEED OF FUNDS

Financial Exhaustion Upsets Plans of the Kaiser's Staff, 'Tis Said.

CANNOT WAIT LONGER

Teutons Must of Necessity Reach Decisive Moment in Near Future.

ROME, March 25.—The German general staff is now faced with a most embarrassing and critical situation, writes the military critic of the Corriere della Sera. On no front, he explains, is there any probability of a successful offensive. But the gravest question for Germany, says the Italian critic, is the necessity for obtaining a decision as speedily as possible, the rapid financial and economic exhaustion of the central empire rendering it dangerous, if not impossible, for them to play a waiting game. Every month Germany is spending many millions of marks, and her financial resources are by no means limitless.

Dreams are vain. Germany's dreams of solving her financial and economic difficulties in Asia and Africa are vain, because, even if expeditions in this direction proved to be military successes, they would yield nothing, these territories being already ravaged by war. Everywhere she has gone so far Germany has carried misery, whilst she herself has reaped little, but added economic difficulties. Germany is absolutely compelled to continue on the offensive unless she is prepared to relinquish the illusion of coming out of the war victoriously.

To organize and execute an expedition against Egypt or India, Germany would have to expend scores of millions of marks, and where can Germany find the money? One is forced to the conclusion, says the critic, that all talk of such expeditions is the outcome of idle dreams, and it is also becoming more and more plain that the German general staff is beginning to despair of forcing a decision in favor of the central powers on either of the principal fronts.

MIGHTY MILITARY HOSTS PARADE THRU HAMILTON

HAMILTON, March 25.—The immense parade of last Saturday, when over eight thousand stalwart Canadian troops for overseas service marched thru the streets of this city, will be reproduced in a series of photographic pictures, which will appear in this week's Art Section of the Toronto Sunday World. There are views of the troops at various points in the parade, showing the thousands of spectators who lined the route. One view which will bring the war home to our citizens was the section of the parade picturing those who have done their bit—the returned heroes. Another shows his honor the lieutenant-governor, Col. Hendrie, taking the salute. The scene showing the 178th Hamilton Highlanders at James and Main streets is an inspiring one, as is also the artillery passing Gore Park. Remember, The Sunday World is for sale by all newsdealers and newsboys at 5 cents the copy. These are supplied at The World branch office, 40 South McNab street, where all orders should be sent.

MONTENEGRO'S CAPITAL HAS REMARKABLE PRISON

No Walls Enclose It and Inmate Therein Provide Their Own Cells.

COPENHAGEN, March 25.—Cottings, the capital of Montenegro, which is now in the hands of the Austrians, has the most remarkable prison in the world. No walls enclose it, and the inmates, who furnish their own cells as they please, seem to stay there only because they find their quarters comfortable. The diet is liberal, with wine on occasions, and cigars toasts. There is no work to do, no distinctive garb is worn, and comparatively free intercourse is allowed with the outside world. Indeed, on certain fast days the prisoners are permitted to entertain their friends.

BAITER OF JEWS GIVEN NO HEARING IN DUMA

M. Lamysloosky Forced to Abandon Floor and His Faction Quit Chamber.

PETROGRAD, March 24.—(Via London).—The first day's discussion in the duma on the interpellation brought by opposition members, urging a cessation of alleged illegal acts against the Jews, and an extension of their privileges, caused a tumult in the chamber. A speech by M. Zamyatov, Conservative, against the adoption of the interpellation, was continually interrupted by shouts from the opposition and he finally was forced to abandon the floor. Thereupon the entire Conservative faction marched out of the house. Favorable action on the interpellation, said M. Zamyatov, would be interpreted as an act favoring Hebrewism, and the conduct of the Jews was not such as to deserve a favorable declaration from the duma. As the speaker proceeded to bring a series of indictments against the Jews, he was interrupted by cries of "It's a lie," and requests were made to the president that the speaker be forced to retract his unparliamentary language.

Armed Transport Workers Challenged Officers in Workers' Republic Hall.

DUBLIN, March 25, 2:05 a.m.—The military and police yesterday visited publishing offices and seized copies of five Irish publications and in some cases dismantled the printing machinery. This step was taken on the ground of disloyalty. When the authorities entered the hall where the Workers Republic is published they were challenged by a number of armed members of the Transport Workers Union, who demanded that they show a search warrant. The authorities immediately withdrew. Later members of the "Citizens Army" formed in connection with the recent dock strikes, in uniform and armed with rifles and bayonets, occupied the hall and remained there through the night.

PENITENTIARY ABUSES BLAMED UPON DOHERTY

Dr. Edwards Accuses Him of Bias Against Protestant Employes.

"DRYS" ARE CLAMOROUS

Prohibition Issue Will Come Before House Again on Monday.

By a Staff Reporter.
OTTAWA, March 24.—There was a touch of spring in the air today, and the house of commons began to hurry thru business to bring about an early prorogation. All the supply for the department of justice was voted to-night and considerable progress made with the estimates of the state and inland revenue departments. There was a long discussion of the Kingston penitentiary by Dr. Edwards of Frontenac. Hon. Chas. Marcell asked the government to set apart a day for a debate and vote upon the Stevens resolution, calling for nation-wide prohibition but received no definite assurance from the prime minister. The Stevens resolution, however, may come up on Monday in which event a substitute resolution will be proposed by R. B. Bennett of Calgary along the lines of the Doherty bill.

There was some discussion at the opening of the house respecting the date of prorogation. After some discussion the Libera's agreed that house should be prorogued before Easter and the prime minister did not press his motion for morning session. He said, however, that government orders would take precedence on every day after next Monday.

Hon. Charles Marcell protested that the prohibition debate had not been finished.

Sir Robert Borden: "Hon. members can express their views on the subject of prohibition when the bill of the minister of justice comes up for the second reading."

Mr. Marcell protested that the country would like to have the sense of the house upon the Stevens resolution which calls for nation wide prohibition.

Release of Convicts.
The house went into supply on the estimates of the justice department. Hon. Frank Oliver complained that convicts were liberated from the penitentiaries on the condition that they went to the war. This Hon. C. J. Doherty denied. He said there had been less than 100 men all told released from the penitentiary for enlistment and five of these had been re-incarcerated. In nearly every case where a convict had been released to go to the war there was some special reason such as previous military service.

Edwards' Onslaught.
Dr. Edwards (Frontenac) delivered a savage attack upon the management of the Kingston penitentiary. He denounced Dr. Phelan who was recently given a superannuation allowance of $1,500 as a petty grafter. He also paid his respects to Inspector W. S. Hughes. Hughes, he said, had incited the attack upon the penitentiary management which had led to the famous investigations several years ago.

Meanwhile Hughes was promoted from the position of accountant to that of inspector and laid down the member of Frontenac by refusing to tell what he knew on the witness stand. Dr. Edwards also charged cruelty to convicts, and favoritism. He said that W. W. Travers had enjoyed unusual privileges while a convict. He had fine meals served to him, smoked good cigars and had liquor shipped to him from Toronto.

Protestant officials, the doctor said, were discriminated against by the minister of justice. He cited the case of two protestant guards who were discharged for accepting money from the relatives of convicts, yet two Roman Catholic chaplains, who committed similar offences went unpunished. He called upon Judge Doherty to purge himself of the charge of discriminating in favor of his own creed against Protestants.

Doherty's Reply.
Judge Doherty replied at length to Dr. Edwards, denying all charges of religious favoritism. As to the two Catholic chaplains he said that the charge against one was not sustained

The 170th Battalion had a large attendance and big card of bouts at their stag social, held last night in the Labor Temple. Major W. O. The bouts were arranged by Sgt. Major Bykes, who produced such a grand selection of athletic stars that the Sportsman's Battalion will have to "go five weeks' time. Ptas. If you wear an aged, discolored or weather-beaten complexion, the most sensible thing to do is to remove it—rather than patch it over or "doctor" it with cosmetics. The only way to really remove the complexion—aside from resorting to an expensive and painful surgical operation—is by means of ordinary mercuric wash. Spread the wash over the face at night, as you would cold cream; wash it off in the morning. This gradually peels off the lifeless and half-dead outer skin, in minute particles—gradually the fresh young skin beneath peeps forth. Then you have a clear, healthy, healthy complexion such as you want. Freckles, blotches, pimples—all due to the discarded skin, disappear of their own accord, as they are washed away. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercuric wash. If you wear wrinkles or crow's feet, the best thing to do is to bathe your face in a harmless lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered naxoline in a half pint of water. Nothing else will so surely erase the unwelcome lines.

WAR SUMMARY

Proof that the man power of Germany is beginning to fall has been given by a semi-official statement of the French general staff concerning the bankruptcy on the front at the north of Verdun.

The only feature that marked the situation around the defences of Verdun yesterday was the continuance of the bombardment by both sides.

The British yesterday bombarded the German trenches lying south of the north of La Bassée Canal, doing no damage.

General Jan Christian Smuts, commander of the British East African expeditionary force, has won another success in the sole remaining colony of Germany by dislodging the German force from a second strong defensive position along the Ruwu River and has occupied Arusha.

An ambiguous statement of British war office announces that, as a result of the military position in Egypt being satisfactory owing to the failure of the Turks to do damage on the west frontier, a reorganization of the British forces in that country has been effected.

The Italian, who have been spending the past few days in repelling of Austrian counter-attacks, have again resumed the offensive and captured trenches on a spur and occupied Vallar and Russ, in the bed of Cordevole Valley.

The motions were made following the address of Thomas Adams of the Dominion Commission on Conservation, in which he advocated the immediate need of civic authorities being accorded powers to plan and regulate the use of land and the improvement of housing conditions...

Once again the representatives of the various battalions in the city which are desirous of obtaining grants for recruiting purposes were disappointed when yesterday morning they attended the city hall for a meeting of the board of control. STREET IMPROVEMENT COSTS RESIDENTS LESS

Assessment for Straightening Brunswick Avenue Will Likely Be Reduced.

WATER FOR TOWNSHIP

Agreement Between Toronto and York Ratified by Civic Works Committee.

A deputation representing the residents of Brunswick avenue wanted on the civic works committee again yesterday to protest against being assessed for 75 per cent. of the cost of what was intended to be the straightening of Brunswick avenue north from College street. J. Montgomery, the spokesman, declared that the street was practically the same as before the improvement was made, as the job had not been taken out of the street as per the intention of the original recommendation. He asked that the apportionment of the cost be reversed, and that the city assume 75 per cent. and the ratepayers 25 per cent. in reporting on the matter Assessment Commissioner Porman expressed the opinion that the city should assume 50 per cent. of the cost and the ratepayers 50 per cent. of the $19,950.

Reduced to Half. Ald. McBride, in moving that the commissioner's report be adopted, explained that the original bylaw was for the straightening of the street, but that this had not been done and there was still a jog. The bylaw was amended to straighten the street, but that this had not been done and there was still a jog. The wish of the ratepayers in order to prevent the erection of an apartment house, which was made at the end of the northern portion of the blind street.

Resolution Carried. Ald. Wainwright immediately took issue with Sir John's plan to look after things of this kind and not leave them to the legislature. He stated that the people desiring a certain question knew more about it than others not directly interested, and as far as was concerned the resolution would not carry them very far.

The resolution finally carried on the speaker pointing out that all he wanted the meeting to do was to uphold the principles of the town planning idea.

Another resolution adopted was that the meeting should constitute itself into a conference on the town planning idea.

OTTAWA KEEPS TAB ON REQUESTS FOR GRANTS

Militia Department Thinks Toronto Battalions Overstep Their Limits.

REPRESENTED YESTERDAY Official Will Report Proceedings Before the Board of Control.

Military officers, requesting money grants from the municipalities in which their battalions are recruiting have come under the eye of the board of control yesterday morning.

The militia department at Ottawa has taken the matter in hand in order that the municipalities and the public generally shall not be asked to purchase necessities that are supplied by the federal government.

Arrangements had been made for a number of Toronto officers to meet the board of control yesterday morning to explain why they required money grants from the city.

On the Quiet. Later in the day it was discovered that the militia department at Ottawa was represented at the meeting, although no one was aware of the fact, the officers asking for grants for the information of headquarters at the capital.

It is said that the Ottawa authorities have been informed by someone in this city that units are basing their applications for grants on the ground that they don't get sufficient money for their needs from the government.

In regard to appeals to municipal bodies and to the militia department at Ottawa, issued last year, a copy of which has been forwarded to Controller O'Neill, is interesting. It is headed "Solicitation of Subscriptions by Units of the C. E. F."

MAYOR L. CHURCH HAS RETURNED TO THE FOLD

Presided Yesterday at the Staging of Lively Recruiting League Meeting.

REMAINS AS PRESIDENT Call for Nominations Was Cue for Trouble—Sunday Rallies Continue.

Mayor Church remains president of the Toronto Citizens' Recruiting League, and the burlesque that has been the main feature of the meetings of the league was continued yesterday at the city hall as many forces occurred. The mayor persisted in crooning to Col. Francis Brown certain notions he wished to get thru, despite the fact that the worthy colonel had not opened his mouth. After several times, Col. Brown became real angry and quietly requested his worship not to mention his name again.

At the opening of the meeting the secretary, Col. Galloway, announced the mayor's resignation, stating that the executive had refused to accept it, and it was immediately decided to send Mrs. Dingman and T. O. Anderson to the mayor with a request that he take the chair, to which request he complied, leaving the interior to Dr. Norman Allen occupied the chair.

The large attendance was pleasing to Dr. Allen, who stated that the executive committee was of the unanimous opinion that the mayor should remain in the view of the fact that the police commissioner had granted a tag day, and as the soldiers needed the money, it was the duty of everyman here to try and make the day a success.

Every fourth person you meet has catarrh. It begins with running at the nose, the result of catching cold.

If neglected it soon becomes chronic. Then it passes to the throat, the stomach, the bowels. It causes asthma, deafness, huskiness, hoarseness; it sets up dyspepsia and bowel troubles—there is no end to the dangers of catarrh.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 25

Engineer Harry Overend

While the heroes of the battlefield are receiving their due recognition the no less heroic souls who do their simple duty to the noble end have no less claim upon public attention. The accident on the Grand Trunk line on Thursday is one of those unspectacular things that occur, only too frequently in our complex civilization, and unfortunately rarely enough. It is about fourteen years since the Grand Trunk had a series of disasters with which the present might be compared. A thorough investigation is to be made, and no doubt the responsibility will be properly placed. With all our system it is impossible apparently to eliminate the human and erring factor. Whatever the cause, three lives are the penalty paid.

The course which distinguished the closing months of one of these is something which we cannot afford to overlook, even amid all the bravery of the battlefield. It is the quiet, cool facing of the inevitable while doing the one grand dutiful thing that was to be done. He saw the obstruction only a hundred yards away, and the train was going at fifty miles an hour. Three or four seconds were left him to think, to act, to dedicate himself. But it was enough.
"You'd better jump, Eddie," he said to the fireman. At the same time he reversed his engine and put on the air-brakes. He was found under his engine in the morning, still at his post with his hand on the throttle. There is a mystery and a power about men like this which is greater than any outward show. They come of a race divine, whatever they may appear to be.

Neglected Children.

Charges have been laid by Mr. J. J. Kelso, superintendent of neglected children, against the management of the Children's Aid Society. It is a delicate matter to come between two parties in such a matter, and we do not propose to do so, but we think now that the matter has come up, that a great deal more attention should be paid to the whole question of the treatment of neglected children in Toronto than has been given it for some time past. It is true the war has monopolized almost the entire attention of the community. But the world must go on, war or no war, and it would be yielding a plea of guilty to the charges made by the Germans of our incompetence in such matters if we say that we cannot do justice to the children that need public attention in some of them is satisfactory to the standard eyes, it is not up to the standard of which a civilized community has a right to be proud.
There is no room in a community like Toronto for the old and outworn sentiment that anything is good enough for outcast children. The outcasts have immortal souls like the rest of us and have as good a right to the best as any of us. Six Henry Stanley was a work-house child and there have been outcast children with even higher records, and will be again. It is not for organized society to say that the children of the nation shall be handicapped in any way or for any reason.
No doubt the best is done with the means at the disposal of the managers of these institutions, but if anything is needed then the means should be supplemented by some public or official action. We trust the attention which Mr. Kelso has called to the case in question will stir up interest in the whole situation and bring about a complete reform. Hon. Mr. Hanna has a deep sympathy in all such affairs, and his department might well take up the case of the little ones who have no one to succor them.

A Nuisance of Names

An appeal has been made by the postmaster to the city authorities to assist the department by changing the names of a large number of streets in the city limits so that identical names will be eliminated, and similarities which lead to confusion removed. He has supplied a convincing list of these anomalies. But it does not appear to convince the people responsible for such blunders.
There is, of course, excuse for the names that have been attached to streets outside the city limits, which are now brought within the boundaries. But there is no excuse at all for names that have been perpetuated for years inside the old limits to the despair and misery of numberless errand boys, postmen, delivery men, visitors and all sorts of people.
One would think that the stupid householders who suffer from such things would demand the change. But the excuse of the committee in charge of these nuisances is that the people prefer to have the nuisance. "There is only one way to deal with people who prefer to have nuisances, and that is to abolish the nuisance.
If there is to be any similarity in names, at least the streets, roads and crescents with the same name should be in the same locality, if not contiguous. There is no excuse for having a street of a certain name at one end of the city and an avenue of the same name at the other end, miles away.
These are the things that make the Germans declare our civilization to be a failure, and there is no answer to such cases as the postmaster has submitted to the commissioner of works.

SUNDAY RECRUITING MEETINGS.

Editor World: His worship the mayor is making one grand display of his ingenuity and sublimity when he discusses Sunday recruiting meetings, that is if he is correctly reported in the daily papers. Last night's program said that "talented and enterprising" have been sought after and coaxed to give their time and talents without a cent of remuneration to every church, club, battalion or other organization interested in recruiting for the army, and have, at great loss to themselves, been at the beck and call of these organizations almost nightly since the war began, and these services have been given freely and cheerfully without a murmur—and what is now their reward? One clergyman with the German-sounding name of Greul, a Parkdale Baptist, refers to our leading professional ladies and gentlemen as "mopgers in amusement," etc. This stop-thrower poses as a Christian and is quite apparent, and that is that his worship does not know anything about the law which he says is "being winked at."
The ordinary reader of his hot air would naturally suppose that there was some law somewhere of some kind, which forbids theatres from giving shows on Sunday. This is far from being the case. There is absolutely no law in Canada to such effect. The only law touching the subject is found in section 7 of the Lord's Day Act, the material part of which reads as follows:
"It shall not be lawful for any person, on the Lord's Day, to provide, engage in, or be present at any performance in public meeting elsewhere than in a church, at which any fee is charged, directly or indirectly, either for admission to such performance or meeting, or to any place within which the same is provided, or for any service or privilege thereat."
You will notice from the above that it is only an offence to run a show on Sunday when a fee is charged for admission. Now his worship knows very well that his worship is in charge of any of these Sunday recruiting meetings, therefore all his talk about there is simply a play to the law. I might mention in passing that the theatre owners may go further and pass a collection plate at these meetings in order to provide for their cost. This was so decided by the Supreme Court of Alberta in the case of The King against Thompson, Hammond, Churchill and Ahrens. The case is reported in 25 W.L.R. 576; 5 W.W.R. 157; 14 D.L.R. 175; 7 Alta. L.R. 40 and 25 Can. Cr. Cas. 78. The defendants in this case conducted moving picture shows on Sunday, but charged no admission fee. A collection plate in charge of an employee of the theatre, was placed near the entrance for the reception of voluntary contributions, and in fact most of those who attended did contribute. The court decided that the defendants had been wrongfully convicted by the police magistrate and their convictions were set aside.
You can see from the above that his worship no admires anyone else if they do not admit to anyone else that they are in violation of the law. No court will allow a man to be punished for doing a perfectly legal act, and it is no offence to run a theatre on Sunday provided no admission fee is charged.
If his worship has the cause of the allies at heart, he shows very poor judgment in raising his voice against a method of recruiting which has been so successful in obtaining volunteers. If another man were our mayor and he acted as his worship has, Mr. Church would be one of the first to call him a German, and shout from the house top to let the Sunday shows run on.
I believe that the majority of the clergy of the city are not opposed to Sunday recruiting meetings, but if they are they should be pushed aside. Surely the churches can better afford to lose a few collection nickels than the allies can afford to lose this war.

A Line o' Cheer Each Day o' the Year

By John Kendrick Bangs.
ANCESTRAL.
YES, your lineage is fine, And you boast a longy line, Back to some Panjandrum high In the ages long gone by. Yet you know that in the end All you've really got my friend, In the line of spirit still, Are the stores you've won yourself— And the same thing may be said Of the poor chap, unordred, Of whose ancestry I fear Nothing's known but that he's here. Yet if he have Soul and Wit One reads Sir Robertson Nicoll's statement that it was the best piece of military writing since Napier's "Peninsular War," one's incredulity was inclined to be stirred, but a perusal of these graphic and heart-felt pages, gloriously simple in their unadorned narrative, is of the highest order of literature. We have heard of men who "spoke as they were moved." It is the style of Deafos, of Bunyan, of Goldsmith in their respective ages. Atkinson writes in his own vernacular, a little more sophisticated, perhaps than the classics alluded to, but naturally and without labor and toil for effect. Take the paragraph that closes the chapter on "Givemebly" for example: "But the shouting baseball teams and minstrel shows, with their outrageous personal allusions, the skirt of the pipes and the choruses of the well-known ragtime, moved men to the depths of their souls. For this was the first Dominion Day that Canada had spent with the red sword in her hand." There is the note of national self-consciousness on every page, a new note to many, but one which must be sounded on every bill and valley of the land. Millions of people must read this book, and it is one that may well be adopted as a senior reader in the schools. The ten chapters are each practically complete in themselves: "Mobilization," "Warfare," "Neuve Chapelle," "Trenin," "Wave of Battle," "Festubert," "Givemebly," "Princess Patricia's Light Infantry," "The Prime Minister," "The Canadian Corps." There are six useful and important appendices and a dozen maps and plans illustrate the text. There is a great record of individual acts of valor and heroism, and in this respect the volume will be found to be a satisfactory record. The democratic spirit of the Canadian army is truly transcribed and the private are accorded their full share in all that is chronicled.
From the Upper Canada Tract Society comes also the third reprint of Kipling's excellent naval review: "The Princess of the Fleet." This account of the auxiliaries, the submariners and the patrols retains the vivid interest in view of the early clash that is expected and hoped for in the North Sea.

Indomitable Courage and Faith Wrested Badly Needed Victory From Germans.

PARIS, March 24.—General Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French forces, some days ago issued the following address: "The battle of Verdun was badly overplayed, but explained that on April 1 they were getting possession of two five-roomed buildings on the other side of the street, which would help to solve some of the problems."
He pointed out that the officials of the Shelter were really trying to do too much. A grant of $4000 was given to the Shelter by the city last year, but apart from this a place exists on private donations. The aim of the officials is to keep the boys out of jail and they are taken from the juvenile court for that reason.
The mayor will bring the matter to the attention of the board of control at the first opportunity.
Charges Well Founded.
Speaking to The World last night, Controller Foster, who is the representative of the city on the Children's Aid Society, said that in the main Mr. Kelso's charges were well founded. He said that during one of his visits to the Shelter he saw the basement detention room, which is one of the places complained of by the provincial official, and he did not think it was a desirable place to confine children. It had a small window and he referred to it as a "sub-dungeon."
The controller also complained that weak-minded children as well as those

CANADA IN FLANDERS

By Sir Max Aitken, M.P., Hodder & Stoughton, Limited.
This wonderful book, which has just been published in Canada and reaches us from the Upper Canada Tract Society in its fourth edition, is fully worthy of all the splendid things that have been said of it in England. When one reads Sir Robertson Nicoll's statement that it was the best piece of military writing since Napier's "Peninsular War," one's incredulity was inclined to be stirred, but a perusal of these graphic and heart-felt pages, gloriously simple in their unadorned narrative, is of the highest order of literature. ## CHARGES ARE MADE AGAINST SHELTER

J. J. Kelso Makes Statements Concerning Conditions Which Surround Children There.

IN MAIN WELL FOUNDED STIFLED COMPETITION

Controller Foster, City Representative on Board, Partly Supports Claims Made.
J. J. Kelso of the department for the care of neglected and dependent children makes some charges regarding the Children's Shelter on Simcoe street in a letter received by Mayor Church yesterday morning. Mr. Kelso is a provincial official and charges that the Shelter authorities ill-treat the children committed to their care and he declares conditions are worse than in jail.
Sixth, that owing to the large number of children unduly detained in the Shelter it has practically developed into an institution, and the necessity has almost arisen for another shelter to do the work originally contemplated.
Third, that it is not in accordance with modern ideas of child welfare that sixty children should be kept in close confinement in the heart of the city.
Fourth, that within the shelter is supposed to be the official home-building organization of the city, it only placed out 81 children during the past year.
Fifth, that the society does not adequately assist other organizations of the city in finding homes for dependent children, with the result that children who ought to be in sister homes are being maintained in public institutions.
Sixth, that the society is not efficiently organized for home-finding and has declined to improve its facilities for doing this important work.
Seventh, that the society has, and does now, maintain an utterly inadequate and disgraceful system of caring for boys sent to the society's care on remand from the juvenile court.
Scandalous Condition.
In his letter Mr. Kelso says that friendly mediators have failed, and as he has not the authority to bring about improvement, he felt bound to write to the mayor to call attention to the scandalous conditions prevailing at the Shelter.
William Duncan, the official in charge of the Shelter, in denying the charges, enquired why it was Mr. Kelso relied entirely upon reports submitted to him and did not visit the place at all. He admitted the building was badly overcrowded, but explained that on April 1 they were getting possession of two five-roomed buildings on the other side of the street, which would help to solve some of the problems.
He pointed out that the officials of the Shelter were really trying to do too much. A grant of $4000 was given to the Shelter by the city last year, but apart from this a place exists on private donations. The aim of the officials is to keep the boys out of jail and they are taken from the juvenile court for that reason.

MOORE DID NOT GET MONEY FOR LICENSE

Member for Pinto Creek Contends His Transactions Were Legitimate.

STIFLED COMPETITION

Kennedy Agreed to Pay Prospective Rival to Keep Out of Field.
REGINA, Sask., March 24.—Peter Hoban was the first witness before the royal commission this morning, giving evidence as to the conditions at Shaunavon when he and others started to build an hotel there.
The charge under consideration was that against S. R. Moore, M.L.A. for Pinto Creek, of accepting $500 from Joseph Kennedy, applicant for a liquor license at Shaunavon, for the purpose of securing a license.
Hoban was on the stand only a few minutes and S. R. Moore was called by the defence. Moore said Kennedy came to him with a letter of introduction from Job Shaw, M.L.A. for Stettin, Alberta. Kennedy was looking for an hotel project. The witness and Kennedy discussed several hotel propositions. The second time Kennedy came it was in connection with a contract with the Frontier Hotel Company to build an hotel for Kennedy, who wanted the first license in Shaunavon.
Offered $500.
An agreement to this effect was drawn up but never signed, as negotiations to this end were broken off.
Finally, after negotiations, Kennedy offered the Frontier Company $5000 to keep out of the Shaunavon hotel, and the company agreed to accept the same. The company therefore did not build, while Kennedy went ahead.
Kennedy paid $500 on account of this agreement some months later.
Moore stated that at no time was the matter of a license for Kennedy discussed, and he was assured there would be no difficulty in two hotels securing licenses.
RECRUITING AT OSHAWA—THE 116th AND OTHER BATTALIONS
OSHAWA, March 24.—Three battalions for overseas service are being recruited and drilled here, and the company for the 116th Battalion, under Lt.-Colonel Sam Sharpe, M.P., are shown in the Art Section of this week's Toronto Sunday World, as they appear lined up opposite the armories. There are many other views of the troops stationed here, including units from the 122nd, which is being recruited by Lt. S. E. Kent and Lt. W. W. Tennant, and a line-up of the 84th prior to beginning a sham fight. Thus the courtesy of the officers of the Toronto Sunday World photographer was enabled to obtain some fine pictures, which are reproduced in this week's issue. Copies may be obtained from any newsdealer as the Sunday World is for sale everywhere at five cents per copy.

affected with physical diseases were allowed to mix with the others. In this connection he thought that a separate home should be reserved where these children could be given the required attention.
In connection with the charges that only 81 children were found homes during the past year Mr. Foster was of the opinion that some new method by which boys and girls could be placed in good homes should be devised.
He thought that if the officials had worked a little more energetically better results could have been obtained.

BRAVES ARE THE CLASS OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

Stallings Has Great Array of Pitchers, Brilliant Fielders, But Shy on Catchers.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Boston Braves are the class team of the Tenor circuit. They promise to get away from the April barrier with more speed and power than ever before, and if they jump into a commanding lead thru April and May, it will require some desperate spurring to head them.

The 2 tallings crew this year seems to have more reserve force and a busier wallop than ever before. It is strong in every department and especially so in the pitcher's box, where it was so weak in 1915.

Here is the array of pitchers that the Braves are to choose from in deciding upon their hurling corps: Bill James, the big right-hander, who performed so brilliantly in 1914. His arm, which failed last year, is said to be back in old-time form.

Rudolph, the slow ball pitcher and the Boston mainstay, who has made two seasons. Lefty Tyler, the other portion of that Tireless Trio of 1915.

Art Nehf, the brilliant southpaw, whose hurling feats have kept the Bostonians in the 1915 battle for so long a time.

Pat Ragan, who began the 1915 season with Brooklyn, but ended it with Boston in a blaze of glory by winning 15 out of 27 games.

George Davis, a great prospect—the same youth who came out of the Phillies in 1914 and didn't allow them a bit.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

Jim Thorpe is not hitting with the Giants and is slated for the Newark International League Club. A Harrisburg dispatch says: For the first time in its existence, Harrisburg is to become the training camp for a baseball club.

Reports from Hot Springs, where Boston Red Sox are training, say that Marty McKeale, who made a sorry showing with the Royals last season, is going well. So is Lore Bader, who "went up" from Buffalo.

Larry Schlichter, former manager of the Buffalo Feds, will lead the Bradford team of the Interstate League this season. He is also slated to play second-base.

Hollis Anderson, a Red recruit, almost came to blows with Manager Herzog last Sunday. Bue called the regular daily practice, but Anderson refused to go to the field. It wasn't until the storm words were passed that he informed Herzog that he had promised his mother not to touch a baseball on the Sabbath.

Wade Killifer claims the mile championship of the big league. He made it in 4 minutes and 25 seconds the other day, in the Red's camp. Tom Clark and Caporal have the medal and ton honors. They made two miles in 25 minutes.

RECRUITING GOES WELL DOWN BELLEVILLE WAY

Satisfactory Reports Concerning Hundred and Fifty-fifth, Now Mobilizing There. BELLEVILLE, March 24.—Recruiting for the 155th Battalion, being mobilized in this city, is going on in most satisfactory manner. The number enlisted in the battalion at present being over 800. Today twenty-two recruits were attested and passed. Capt. O'Leary, A.A.G. of the third division of Kingston, was in the city today inspecting the quarters of the 80th and 155th Battalions.

HE WANTED TO DIE. A few minutes after he had enlisted in the 199th Regiment, Private John McLean, 187 Sherbourne street, stopped policeman 459 on West Queen street and asked him to shoot him. The policeman took McLean to Court Street Police Station, where he will be charged with vagrancy.

LEGISLATURE CONSIDERS AMUSEMENT TAX BILLS

Theatre Patron Who Refuses Levy Imposed by Government Will Be Fined.

REFUND FOR EXPENSES

Race Tracks to Receive Donation as Solatium for the Heavy Impost.

Hon. T. W. McGarry, provincial treasurer, introduced in the legislature yesterday afternoon two bills, providing for taxes on patrons of amusements and a levy of $1,250 per day on all race tracks.

The amusement tax bill authorizes the government to collect one cent from every patron of an amusement and to remit to every amusement ten per cent of the amount collected by way of partly defraying the cost of making the collection.

The amusement tax bill provides for the sale of special tickets by the government to theatre and other amusement proprietors.

Notes for Women. An amendment to the Succession Duties Act and a discussion on J. C. Elliott's bill to give the franchise to married women having property qualifications, featured yesterday's session.

"I entreat the government at this time of unly common sacrifice that they extend this recognition and opportunity to women," said Nelson Parliament (Prince Edward). "The work that women were doing in connection with the war proved that they were capable of using their ballot just as intelligently as any man and he referred to the prohibition issue on which there had been union. The sacred institution of the home should be regarded as a political unit."

opinion, irrespective of party. Premier Hearst moved that the debate be adjourned.

Change Estate Laws.

An act respecting the Loan and Trust Corporation Act was introduced by E. W. J. Owens (Southeast Toronto) and with the consent of the attorney-general was sent to the legal committee. It is practically a re-enactment of the law as it stood prior to the revision of 1914, allowing companies to pay over the amount of bonds and debentures to an estate without having to secure letters of probate, etc.

Gives Wider Power.

An amendment to the Succession Duties Act was introduced by Hon. T. W. McGarry, and its chief point is that it widens the provincial treasurer's powers in dealing with estates and tracing their true values. The section provides that where the treasurer is of the opinion that any person or corporation has property belonging to the estate of a deceased person, he may direct the surrogate judge of the county to cause the responsible officials of the corporation suspected of having the information, to appear for the purpose of examination.

Provision is Made in the New Measure for Appeal from the Judgment of the Commissioner, Appointed to Investigate Estates.

Provision is also made in the new measure for appeal from the judgment of the commissioner, appointed to investigate estates, is filed with the supreme court if it becomes a judgment and can be so enforced.

By an Act Introduced by the Hon. J. S. Duff, Minister of Agriculture, the "pooling system" is done away with, in buying milk from farmers by cheese factories.

The present system makes a flat rate per hundred of milk, regardless of quality, and the result is that the man whose cows give milk with a great percentage of butter fat gets no more for his milk than the man whose cows give inferior milk. The new act prohibits the pooling system and makes provision for the purchase of milk according to the fat content, etc.

C. M. Bowman's bill, amending the Audit Act so as to give the provincial auditor charge of the promotion of the public accounts, was taken from the government's charge, was introduced. A bill brought in by I. Dillard of Dundas will allow executors of estates to appoint attorneys in their stead while they are at war.

Hon. W. J. Hanna opposed J. H. Han's (South Front) bill to abolish the property qualifications for candidates for municipal councils. He pointed out that all the act would be abolished by the bill and consequently would be running for offices who are not ratepayers and were not even entitled to vote. The bill was lost on division.

Allan Studholme (Labor, East Hamilton), also added his argument in favor of the bill. He told the members that he would like to see the house divided on the question just to prove that they had a right to their own

One hundred and three of the 152 volunteers who offered their services in Toronto yesterday were accepted at the recruiting depot. Lieut. Col. J. S. Campbell inspected the 92nd Highlanders on the Don Flats yesterday.

Lieut. Hugh Heaton, son of Ernest Heaton, 153 Balmoral avenue, Toronto, has been awarded the military cross. Lt. Heaton is an officer in the King's Own Royal Lancasters, and at present lies in a hospital at Le Touquet, slowly recovering from wounds in the left hip, right arm and abdomen, received at Ypres on March 3.

Camp orders issued at the Exhibition camp by Brig-General Logie clearly state the new regulations governing the procedure of qualifying officers attending the school of instruction. All applications must be in by April 3, and the camp application will have preference. The following are the orders posted:

Applications for probationers to attend for qualifications as lieutenant will be limited as follows: For each overseas battalion, C.P.R., three from each militia regiment, two.

CAN BE SAVED AND CURED OF DRINK

Good News to Mothers, Wives, Sisters. To have seen one you love, going down this road to ruin, and to have heard him try to laugh and joke away your fears, while you watched the drink habit fasten on him, is to have known suffering and to have borne a sorrow to which physical pain is nothing. And when at last he comes to that turn in the road that sooner or later must come, and wakes to the fact that he is a slave to the drink, you think everything will come right. He will fight the habit and you will help him escape it; but he can not do it. Drink has undermined his constitution, inflamed his stomach and nerves until the craving must be satisfied. And after you have hoped and then despaired more times than you can count you realize that he must be helped. The diseased condition of the stomach and nerves must be cured by something that will soothe the inflamed stomach and quiet the shaking nerves, removing all taint for liquor.

My marvelous remedy—Samaria Prescription—has done this for hundreds of cases in Canada. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge, as it is tasteless and odorless and quickly dissolves in liquid or food. Read what it did for Mrs. G. of Vancouver: "I was so anxious to get my husband cured that I went up to my remedy there. I had no trouble giving it without his knowledge. I greatly thank you for all the peace and happiness that it has brought already into my home. The cost was nothing according to what he would spend in drinking the cursed drink. Now I feel happy. May the Lord be with you and help you in curing the evil. I don't want my name published."

FREE—SEND NO MONEY. I will send free trial packages and booklets giving full particulars, testimonials, etc., to any sufferer. Write to: Samaria Remedy Co., 1425 Mutual Street, Toronto, Can. Also for sale by G. Tamblin, Licitee—at all stores, Toronto.

first received will be selected, unless the commanding officer specifies otherwise." Ready for inspection.

The 51st Battalion will be formed up on their parade ground ready for inspection by the general officer commanding at 10 a.m. Dress—Drill order with rotted coats.

For the first time camp orders contain the names of supernumerary officers appointed provisionally. This is the beginning of the cleaning up of the supernumeraries and carrying out the new regulations.

Authority is granted for the attaching, with pay, of Lieut. W. L. Matthews, 3th Battery, C.F.E., to the 5th Depot Battery, C.F.E., for duty and instruction, but this does not authorize him to proceed overseas with the 5th Battery as a supernumerary officer.

The appointment of the undermentioned officers to the 75th Overseas Battalion, C.F.E., is approved provisionally: To be lieutenants—Supernumerary Lieut. Lionel Hyman Elliot, 5th M.H.; Supernumerary Lieut. Leonard Ernest Porter, 24th Regiment; Supernumerary Lieut. John Cecil Snigrove, 23rd Regiment; Supernumerary Lieut. Thomas Keaso Crockett, C.O.T.C.; Lieut. Wm. E. Pomroy, 9th M.H.

Authority Granted. With reference to camp order No. 10, of March 15, authority is granted to substitute the name of Lieut. Walter Bruce Wilkerson, 51st Regt., for that of Lieut. J. H. Thompson.

The appointment of the undermentioned officers to the 216th Overseas Battalion, C.F.E., is approved provisionally: To be assistant adjutants—Lieut. Malcolm Roberts, 2nd Regiment; Lieut. William B. Struthers, A.M.C., from March 15, 1916.

The following officers will constitute a standing medical board at Barris: President, Capt. W. A. Lewis, A.M.C.; Member, Capt. R. A. Ingham, A.M.C.; Capt. J. F. Polking, A.M.C. Men in Barris of its vicinity requiring examination by a medical board, will be referred to this board and the proceedings will be forwarded in duplicate to the A.D.M.S., 2nd division.

As considerable damage to railway equipment has been caused by soldiers wearing spurs whilst on troop trains, instructions are given that troops are not to wear spurs on trains.

Hospital Equipment. The following officers will compose the board for the purpose of enquiring into the condition of hospital outfitting and equipment: President, Major C. A. Warren; Members, Capt. R. H. McGinnish, Capt. H. H. Harney.

Lieut.-Col. E. W. Hagarly has nominated the following officers to headquarters for the 24th Battalion Light Infantry: Paymaster, Capt. J. Henfrey Irvine, secretary of the Dominion Bank; medical officer, Dr. R. H. A. Barnett, late house surgeon of the Toronto General Hospital.

The late Mr. West was a brakeman and received the injuries in the course of his duties. He was rushed to Grace Hospital, where he died on March 18. ### CANADIAN LOAN GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor Pays Tribute to Finance Minister.

CREDIT TO CANADA

That No Other Foreign Country Could Have Got Such Terms.

MONTREAL, March 24.—Special.—No financing that the Dominion of Canada has ever effected has attracted such attention in banking circles as the new loan of $75,000,000, which has been placed with the leading New York banking houses. In order to obtain particulars regarding the main features of the new loan, Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, general manager of Bank of Montreal, was asked to make a statement dealing with the arrangements that have been carried out and the terms on which the loan had been placed. Sir Frederick said in part: "Without hesitation or reservation, I express the opinion that the terms of the Canadian Government loan now before the American public reflect the greatest possible credit upon Canada. It is indeed an achievement to have floated this loan at a price that in view of its magnitude, cannot properly be criticized by the most captious."

"No other foreign country in the world could borrow on such favorable terms in the U. S. As it is only one man in thousands who follows market conditions, but as every citizen of the Dominion is concerned it may be of public interest to give my reasons for this emphatic statement. "In the opening negotiations in New York for a loan of this nature, the Government was obviously faced with two outstanding influences, each with a most important bearing not only upon the amount procurable in Wall street but upon the price of the loan. Basis Attractive. "When the terms of the Canada loan were first under discussion, the Anglo-French loan was selling on a 6 1/2 per cent interest basis yield to the purchaser. Notwithstanding this fact, Sir Thomas White has been able to float that portion of his loan, viz.: $25,000,000, five years five per cent—corresponding thus closely with the Anglo-French loan—on a 5.10 per cent. basis, or 1.40 per cent. better terms to the borrower than the market price of the Anglo-French loan. "Second, in comparing the New York loan with our recent domestic loan, we find that the former, the New York loan, has been floated, as I say, at an average of 5.86 per cent. interest to the investor in the case of the United States. While this is compared with 5.48 per cent. interest basis yield to the investor in the case of the domestic loan. In other words, the Dominion of Canada floated in a foreign country in time of war a loan three times as large as the largest floated in this country, at a price better terms than our recent $50,000,000 patriotic loan."

Nicholas Bakulis Charged With Falsely Stating Residence in Canada.

Nicholas D. Bakulis appeared in the police court yesterday to answer a charge of obtaining naturalization papers by false pretences. He came to Canada from Greece in 1915, then went to the United States. While there he was charged by the Indiana police with stealing a gold watch and $250 and was sent to jail for five months. At the end of that period he was deported to Greece as an undesirable. He returned to Canada in 1914 and applied for naturalization papers, stating that he had resided in Canada for five years. Immigration Officer Mitchell informed the court that he had searched the records, but had failed to find the name of the prisoner. There was a "Christopher George," apparently written by the hand of Bakulis. Bakulis will be held pending the arrival of United States police officials.

MISUNDERSTANDING WAS CAUSE OF TRAIN WRECK

So Declares Conductor L. F. Ward, Who Was in Charge of Freight Cars.

BODIES ARE RECOVERED
Victims of the Smash Taken From the Wreckage—Railway Officials Investigate.

Freight train conductor, L.F. Ward, who was reported as missing after the Grand Trunk train wreck occurred about 10 o'clock Thursday night outside Port Credit at the Long Branch ridge, when the east-bound No. 16 Detroit passenger train hit a freight train, reported at the Grand Trunk offices yesterday. In giving his version of the wreck, he said that his crew was waiting on the siding at Port Credit for the east-bound passenger train, No. 168 from Buffalo and the No. 16 from Detroit, to pass. On receiving instructions from the dispatcher to proceed, he declared he sent instructions with the head brakeman to the engineer to proceed after No. 16 had passed. Thru some apparent misunderstanding the instructions had been interpreted by the engineer, he supposed, to mean that he was to go ahead after No. 168 had passed and not No. 16. As a result of this the freight was pulled onto the main track after No. 168 had passed, and when the engine and one car was on the main line the passenger struck it. Conductor Ward was not injured in any way, as he was in the caboose when the passenger hit his train. All three bodies of the dead men have been recovered from the wreck. The body of L. S. Martin, brakeman on the freight, was the first to be recovered. It was found on the embankment soon after the wreck. W. O. Anderson's body was located in a ditch south of the tracks at an early hour yesterday morning. The last body, that of Engineer Overend was pulled from under the debris of the wreck at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Edward Heenan, fireman on the passenger train, who was injured and taken to Grace Hospital, is still in a very serious condition.

Baby Afflicted With Eczema Dr. Chase's Ointment Cured. The Family Doctor Tried in Vain To Heal the Sores—Another Tribute to the Great Healing Ointment. It may be interesting to note that Dr. Chase's Ointment was originally compounded to cure a case of eczema on a child. The disease had spread all the regular treatments and defied the skill of the family doctor. Dr. Chase's Ointment, however, "it worked like a charm," healing the nasty sores and leaving the skin soft and smooth. That was a good many years ago, and since then many thousands of cases of eczema, both in children and adults, have been cured, until today Dr. Chase's Ointment is recognized as the standard cure for itching skin.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS. Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You. Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, and slugs, slugs, slugs, and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation, close up and cause all the moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

GERMAN CORPS CUT UP SEVERELY AT VERDUN. French Inflicted Enormous Losses on Enemy in Big Battle. Foe Lacks Recruits. Unable to Replace All Losses in One Corps After Engagement. (Continued From Page 1.) placed, to the north of Vaux, the decimated 19th regiment, the 64th sustained such loss by the fire of artillery that the attack which began was countermanded. The battle of Verdun, which has continued a month, has been made up of similar episodes. Moreover, the German sacrifices were absolutely out of proportion to their successes during the first days. It is known that the third and 18th army corps had to be sent to the rear after March 2 to be reconstituted. The third corps had to have two-thirds of its officers replaced and its gaps filled up with young recruits of the class of 1916, who were in a proportion of two-fifths in each company. Even then, these reinforcements sent from the interior were insufficient to bring the strength of the corps to what it was before March 2. Companies Weakened. "During their last attacks the third corps companies only counted about 120 rifles instead of 200. "These facts are a sufficient reply to the German allegations. Moreover, it must be admitted by anyone that resolute, well-armed troops, installed in defensive works with numerous machine guns and supported by an extraordinary quantity of artillery, are able to inflict the greater losses upon an assailant who constantly attacks in compact masses and whose chiefs are not dismayed by the bloodiest sacrifices."

NEW GERMAN WAR LOAN SUCCESSFULLY FLOATED. Subscriptions Reach Over Ten Billion Marks, Says Dr. Helfferich. BERLIN, March 24.—Dr. Carl Helfferich, secretary of the Imperial treasury, told the Reichstag today that the fourth German war loan had been a brilliant success, the subscriptions having reached more than 10,000,000,000 marks ($2,650,000,000), not including subscriptions abroad and at the colonies. It was pointed out that the German war loans have now reached a total of $6,000,000,000 marks ($1,500,000,000), while the British loans have only totaled 15,000,000,000 marks ($4,750,000,000) and those of France 11,244,000,000 marks ($2,811,000,000).

ENEMY ROUTED FROM RUWU RIVER BY SMUTS. British Win Another Big Success in East African Campaign. Foe's Losses Severe. Flanking Operations by Mounted Troops Forced Germans to Flee. (Continued From Page 1.) of bush fighting in the vicinity of Kabo, the enemy maintaining a stubborn resistance. Mounted Force Scores. "On March 20 a mounted force occupied Arusha, dislodging an enemy detachment. The night of March 20-21, strong bodies of infantry bivouacked in the Ruwu forest, in close contact with the German entrenchments. The enemy made a strong night attack but was driven off with severe losses. "Meantime a large force of South African mounted troops marched by night from Moshi and, traversing the thick bush country, reached a point on the Pangani, five miles south of the Kabo railway station by daybreak. The railway station was seized and many stores captured. The railway bridge over the Pangani river had been partially destroyed. "The mounted troops then established themselves on the hill southeast of Kabo, in contact with the enemy. This allowed their line of retreat to be cut and the enemy to hold on through the night of the 21st with a view to effecting for their retirement under cover of darkness. "Germans Lost Heavily. "Reinforcements detached from the south by railway during the operations. Thus we were enabled to inflict heavy losses, which would not have been possible had the Germans been free to abandon their positions an obstinate resistance. "The night of March 21-22 the entire Ruwu line was evacuated and the enemy retired south along the Tanganyika railway, leaving a 4.1-inch gun, a portion of the armament of Koenigsburg, and their hands. The operations continue."

Secrets of Health and Happiness

YOUR BABY
How and When the New-Comer Should Eat and Sleep

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSBERG
A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins University)

A BABY that is fondled too much usually cries a great deal, and is generally ill and peevish much of the time. The beauty and tenderness of a mother cuddling her baby to her breast, smothering it with words of love and sprinkling it with kisses, is a true demonstration of pride and love, but it is not a benefit to the baby. On the contrary, the little one, fragile and delicate during the first few months of its life, often is made irritable and nervous by these caresses. A baby must receive extreme care, which means that it should be handled as little as possible. No matter how intelligent the baby may seem, its little mind is a blank, and it gets no joy out of the affections being shown upon it. To a baby, the mother appears merely as a source of food, when its brain begins to work, satisfying a desire is probably the first definite idea or thought that formulates in a baby's mind. It naturally wants its mother to feed it, and before long, instead of merely crying for food, it cries for her.

The Routine Hours. Eighteen hours of a baby's chief need is sleep, when it is not hungry. The twenty-four are required for sleep by the healthy baby. Rocking, swaying cradles should be a thing of the past along with soothing songs. A solid, comfortable crib is the sensible home for the baby. Several days pass after the baby's birth before the mother's milk is fully nourishing and meets the needs of the child. On the first day the baby should be nursed but once, then given a drink of boiled water every two hours, and so on, because of the absence of air-bubbles. However, a baby seldom notices this. Morning, afternoon and night of the second day, the baby must be nursed, and given the same amount of boiled water as on the first day. On the third day, the amount of boiled water as on the first day. It will be found that the second day's routine should be repeated, at which time it will be found that the child has lost a quarter or half a pound. Thereafter a steady gain in weight should gradually follow.

Both mother and baby are ready for regular feedings at shorter intervals on the fourth day. From this time on, until the end of the second month the baby must be nursed nine times each day, with a slightly longer interval after the daily bath, and an interval of seven hours in the night. The nine feedings required during the 24 hours are as follows: 6, 8 and 10 a.m., and 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11 p.m. Between 11 p.m. and 6 a.m. the baby should be nursed. Keep the schedule regular, even if the baby must be awakened for feeding.

Need of Water. The volume of milk and the baby's own idiosyncrasies will determine the length of time the child should be kept at the breast for each feeding. The mother should bear in mind that the stomach of the new-born baby is not safe to keep a child at the breast for more than from 10 to 15 minutes, as the baby should be given no more milk than it can digest. The food passes into the bowels very quickly, where the more important part of the process is completed. A baby needs water as regularly as it needs food. It must get water at least three times a day. The water that comes from the average city mains or country day, fresh and sparkling. To eliminate these minute organisms, which are harmless to the adult, the water must be boiled 20 minutes, cooled and stored in well-corked and clean bottles which have been previously sterilized in boiling water for five minutes.

A thoroughly clean nursing bottle is best for the baby to use. Water should be offered to the infant every hour until its thirst is quenched. The supply of water for the baby should be boiled each morning, and under circumstances should it be kept more than a day.

Money In Turkeys

OR those who are favorably situated for raising turkeys a more profitable side line can hardly be found. Given plenty of range where the turkeys can find grass, and a few weeds and grasses, waste grain, acorns and nuts of various kinds, and the results are very small but profitable.

Brain and stock farms are particularly adapted to turkey raising. In such cases a few acres of land can be used for raising turkeys. In the way of raising turkeys in confinement, and where the results have been discouraging, a few acres of land is essential to success in turkey raising.

In selecting turkeys for breeding, the most important factors to be considered are vigor, size, shape, bone, early maturity and color of plumage. The body should be deep and wide, the neck should be straight and the breast round and full. The head should be of good size and of a clean, healthy appearance.

A straight, sturdy skeleton is shown by thick, sturdy shanks and straight, strong toes. It should be the aim of every turkey raiser to have as many pure-bred turkeys, even though they are sold at market prices, as possible at the head of the flock. The male is one-half the entire weight of a similar type and mating these with a pure-bred male, the male can soon have a flock of uniform, large, early-maturing, strong-boned, and deep-bodied turkeys of the same color.

Fifteen turkey hens can safely be mated to a vigorous tom. If twenty-five or thirty hens are kept, two toms should not be allowed to run with them at the same time, but one should be confined one day and the other the next. When two toms are allowed to run together during the mating season, they fight badly and the stronger does practically all of the mating.

Turkey hens are wont to "steal" their nests in hidden places, such as a patch of weeds, tall grass or thick brush and often wander a half-mile or more from home before they find a location that suits them.

To find those stolen nests often proves to be a long and tedious task. The usual method being to follow each turkey hen as she separates from the flock and starts toward her nest. Care being taken that she does not know she is being followed. A much easier and quicker method than this is to confine the hen early in the morning, soon after they have come down from roost and let them out late in the afternoon. Those that are laying will then head for their nests in order to lay the eggs they have been holding.

If many turkeys are kept the use of a sufficient area to allow the turkey to exercise, an acre for fifteen birds being none too large. A hog-tight wire fence three feet high will hold most turkeys, and if they persist in trying out the flight feathers of one wing should be clipped. Nests should be scattered about the pen, those with turkey hens take to them, really being barrels turned on their sides and nests shaped in them with straw.

Turkey hens, chicken hens and incubators are commonly used to incubate turkey eggs. During the early part of the laying season it often happens that one has on hand a number of eggs that should be incubated before any of the turkey hens are thru laying their first litter and become incubators.

In such cases and also when it is desired that the turkey hens lay more than one litter some of the eggs have to be incubated under chicken hens or in an incubator.

Easy Cornstarch Desserts
Household Helps - - - By Isobel Brands

OF COURSE, we all get tired of the inevitable "chocolate" or "vanilla" pudding, no matter how much we are impressed with the wholesomeness of cornstarch, a really nutritious, even if simple dessert basis. But one of the good points about cornstarch is that it lends itself to an infinite variety of preparations, and is one of the easiest foods to disguise into most appetizing dishes.

Here are some easy cornstarch desserts that will tempt even the little boy who has insisted that he doesn't like and doesn't want cornstarch pudding even with a whipped cream dressing as base:

- Orange Cream. Line dessert cups with lady fingers and fill with this mixture: 2 cupfuls of sugar creamed with one-half cupful of butter, 2 table-spoonfuls of cornstarch, 3 eggs, well beaten. Juice of two oranges. Grated rind of one orange. 3 cupfuls of water. This is cooked in a double boiler, and must be stirred constantly until it turns thick and smooth, and it is then poured into dessert glasses or custard cups.
- Pineapple Pudding. 1 cupful of pineapple juice (from can of sliced pineapples), 1 cupful of water, 3 table-spoonfuls (level) of cornstarch mixed with one-half tea-spoonful of salt and cold water to make a paste. 3 eggs. Slices of pineapple. The pineapple juice and water are cooked to a boil, then the cornstarch paste is added, and the mixture stirred until thick and smooth, when it is allowed to keep boiling over a slow fire for 10 minutes. The whites of eggs are then beaten to "snow" and folded into the boiling mixture and cooked for three minutes more, when it is taken from the fire and poured into a wet mold. It is served topped with slices of pineapple.

Another humble, but very tasty and wholesome cornstarch dessert is made as follows by combining with stoned prunes: 1 cupful of stoned prunes, 2 cupfuls of milk, 1 tea-spoonful (heaping) of cornstarch, 1/2 cupful of sugar, 2 well-beaten eggs. To the two cupfuls of heated milk the moistened cornstarch is added and stirred in until smooth. Then it is taken from the fire, and sugar, salt and eggs are stirred in thoroughly, and the prunes are added. The whole is then put in a buttered mold and baked about 15 minutes.

It can be served with a chocolate or fruit sauce or topped with whipped cream and a few prunes stuffed with walnuts to garnish.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT
Homeless Babies and Babyless Homes

Copyrighted, 1916, by News paper Feature Service, Inc.

BLESS the babies! They're adopting them everywhere. Two hundred childless homes opened in a middle-sized western city on New Year's Day, and every other city in the United States is showing or beginning to show the same marvelous record.

Hurray for the babyless homes and the homeless babies! That's just the kind of combination that means health and happiness and the joy of living nine times out of ten.

I have three different friends who have adopted babies in the last year. One of the friends is a woman of thirty-five. Her husband is well-to-do, they are both devotedly fond of children and they couldn't wait another day to have one in the family.

The other is an elderly woman, the wife of a very rich man. She's never had a child of her own in her life, and on her fiftieth birthday she and her husband went to a foundlings' home and adopted the cutest little red-headed boy ever saw.

My third friend is a spinster. She's always said she was going to adopt a baby when she was thirty years old, and on the day she was thirty she gave up all the surprise of her own lives by keeping her word. A little girl with something that is going to develop into a roguish dimple in her olive cheek the minute she gets a chance to develop anything besides tears.

The rich elderly couple adopted their baby because they wanted some one to inherit their money. "I Wish I Dared." The middle-aged couple adopted theirs because the husband was away a great deal and the wife wanted some one to keep her company. Besides, the man in that couple believes that it is the duty of every well-to-do family to take care of at least one child. He would have preferred a son of his own, of course, but he didn't have one, so he did the next best thing and adopted one.

The bachelor maid says she's adopting her little daughter from a sense of duty and a sense of pity. She's alone in the world, she's never going to marry and she earns a very good living. Why shouldn't she share it with some one? And then she has theories she wants to try. Besides, she saw the little girl one day at an orphan asylum where she was working as a charity, and the little girl held out her arms to her and she's been there ever since, and the bachelor maid caught her close to her heart. What if it should be the son of a drunkard or of a wicked woman? Wouldn't it be dreadful after I had spent all my hopes to find that it was bringing up a hopelessly hampered child?

No Babyless Homes Some Day. "That's just it. How can you tell what they'd turn out to be? I don't see how any one has the courage to do it. "Oh!" shuddered the gayest woman in the room. "I'm going to do it myself—no, I mean it. I have my own apartment and a lot of friends and all that, but I want something personal, something dearer. I want a little son fattened against the pane when I come up the steps with my latchkey at sunset. I want a little pair of feet patter to my room at sunrise. Yes, I want footprints on the clean floor. I want a cap on the hall floor. I want somebody whistling when the house ought to be still—and I'm going to have it, too."

"I'm tired of being clever and efficient and successful. I'm tired of being smart and modish and up to date. I want to be happy—just plain, old-fashioned happy—with some little child. I'm loving me and believing in me and trusting me, and I'm going to adopt a baby. I came to this tea today to tell you about it, and to get some of you to go with me somewhere and find the right child."

The two women who were afraid looked at her in amazement. But the woman who wants to be happy smiled and her eyes twinkled. I knew what she was thinking—the one who said how glad she and her husband would be to have children of their own. She is married to a low-minded, cruel, grasping scoundrel, a man known to be dishonest and untrustworthy in every relation of life. What kind of children would they be with him for a father? What worse inheritance could she pick up in any gutter?

The other woman who was "afraid" has three children of her own. Her oldest boy has run away from home and nobody knows where he is. Her second boy has been arrested twice for speeding, once for fighting, and he has just been expelled from high school. The girl is fifteen years old, a pretty little thing with big blue eyes like her handsome father, and a smile like her dissipated uncle and a taste in dress like her lively mother. I saw her at a matinee the other day, dressed like a chorus girl, and every man in the theatre stared at her when she pranced down the aisle. I wonder where the mother of these children got her idea about the power of heredity?

Bless the babies, and bless the generous-hearted men and women who are adopting them! Some day, when we get more civilized, there won't be any such thing as a homeless baby in all the world. Hasten the hour, say I, both for the sake of the babies and for the sake of the people who have the good sense to adopt them.

It is just as well not to spray for locusts. It is just as well not to spray for locusts. It is just as well not to spray for locusts. It is just as well not to spray for locusts. It is just as well not to spray for locusts.

Controlling the Pea Aphid. The most serious pest that attacks peas is the pea aphid. It seems to appear periodically, fortunately not being in evidence every year. Nevertheless, in some seasons when a pestification is very severe the insect may do considerable damage, not only by shortening the crop but by making the peas unwholesome. When the plants are severely infested it is a nasty job to pick the peas. Last year we had such an infestation and the peas were silny and wet, due to crushing great numbers of the insects in the fingers.

These lice attack principally the young, tender shoots of the plants. The grower should be constantly on the lookout for them and as soon as the first signs of them are noticed get busy with a spray; they spread rapidly, and once the whole patch is infested it will be found delicious.

The Children's Pudding. Pare, core and slice about six apples, and stew them till tender with the rind of a lemon, chopped finely, and about a quarter of a pound of brown sugar. When done add a little grated nutmeg. Previously prepare a nice rich suet crust; roll out thinly; spread the apples over it; sprinkle over them a tea-spoonful of white pepper, or a few grains of cayenne. Pour gradually on these a good half-teaspoonful of vinegar, and mix well. Boil some beetroots until tender, then remove the skins, and cut up in thin slices, and put in glass bottles. Boil the mixture, pour it hot over the beetroots, and keep it for a week, when it will be ready for use.

Arrowroot Blancmange. Two ounces of arrowroot should be beaten up with as much cold milk as will make it the consistency of a thick cream. Have ready a pint and a half of boiling water, pour this over the arrowroot, stirring the whole time. Sweeten with sugar, and flavor with essence of lemon. Then stir into this the beaten yolks of two eggs, put all into a saucepan, set it over a slow clear fire, and simmer for 10 minutes. Stir the whole time. Pour into a well-soaked mold, and set aside until next day. Served with stewed apples or jam it will be found delicious.

Rice Cakes. Heat a pound of butter or margarine, 10 ounces of sugar, five eggs, five ounces of ground rice, half a pound of
