Conference Hears of Anti-Tuberculosis Battle in Province

New Official Tells of Work-Care of Feeble-minded and Other Questions.

The New Brunswick Health Conference continued this forenoon with Chief Medical Officer Dr. G. G. Melvin presiding. Dr. Loggie of Chatham, of the staff of medical school inspectors, submitted two resolutions one dealing with the filling out of educational data on the reverse side of the medical report card, so that some idea may be gained of the child's progress as perhaps affected by its ailment. A second resolution suggested that before sites and plans for school buildings they should first be visited by the medical school inspector of the district.

FEEBLE-MINDEDNESS.
Dr. Mabel Hanington, medical school inspector for Saint John, told of a $500 grant available from the National Committee on Mental Hygiene for educational propaganda. She suggested a committee to discuss and draw up a propaganda programme for next year. Dr. Hanington briefly sketched the position of the feeble-minded issue in New Brunswick, and felt assured that in another two years a proper institution might be the outcome.

ANTI-T. B. DIAGNOSTICIAN.
Dr. Wherrett, the new provincial diagnostician in anti-tuberculosis work, read a paper covering his tour of the province to the last three months. He referred to the valuable educational work that could be done by patients returning home after treatment. Of the 470 doctors in New Brunswick he had interviewed 130 and has investigated 250 cases, 80 per cent of which were in some stage of tuberculosis requiring observation and 16 per cent were cases for institutional care.

DEATH RATE HIGH.
Dr. Wherrett said that the death rate from tuberculosis in New Brunswick was 110 per 100,000 of population, whilst in other parts of the Dominion, notably in Hamilton, the rate had been reduced to 43 per 100,000. This suggests that much more work was to be done in New Brunswick.

Sanatoria appealed more to the popular idea than hospital treatment and his opinion was that hospital treatment should be reserved for the more serious cases. Dr. Wm. Warwick of Saint John held that much good could be done along anti-tuberculosis lines by the average intelligent person in ordinary walks of life if he and she would take enough interest.

DR. ABRAMSON.
Dr. H. L. Abramson spoke with much spirit of public health as a purchasable commodity, and a very good investment. The immediate proposition of New Brunswick health officials was to "sell" this idea to the public. He said the people should be frankly stated to the people the concluding talk of the morning session was that Dr. G. G. Melvin on various headings, including scientific prevention, examining and licensing of plumbers, typhoid carriers, the enforcing of sanitary regulations, mortuary rates in 1924, food inspection, fatality rates in 1924, food inspection, closing of insanitary houses, vaccination, the definition of the word "still-born," etc.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JUNE 5, 1925.

HON. MR. MEIGHEN'S "CONCESSION"

Hon. Mr. Meighen's protection resolution, which the Liberals and Progressives combined to defeat in the House of Commons on June 2, contained no surprise so far as it related to the tariff—and most of it did deal with the tariff—but it broke new ground in proposing a form of national concession to the Maritimes and to the Prairie Provinces in the matter of transportation.

SHORTER SPEECHES AT OTTAWA

A committee of the House of Commons which has been considering amendments to the rules in order to reduce the time occupied in debate has completed its work, and its report will be taken up in Parliament in a few days.

Several members of the committee favored thirty-minute speeches, but a majority decided that forty minutes would be more reasonable.

that in addition to being industrious and ambitious these newcomers not only work longer hours but establish a scale of living which is in no sense desirable for native Canadians or Americans.

The Council appeals to Ottawa extension of the breakwater. How much is actually going to be done to equip this port for the handling of more business—and when? The need for action has long been clear.

Owing to the Nova Scotia election it has been necessary to defer the Maritime Conference at Moncton until July 15. By that time the sister province will have been released from the grip of local politics, and the way will be clear for united Maritime action in preparation for a Dominion conference to be held later on.

Ottawa heard that the Saskatchewan result has made a federal election in the coming autumn more likely, and that if the Armstrong government carries Nova Scotia Hon. Mackenzie King may well decide to go to the country.

been shaken. They decided that the best course was to save what was left of the original business.

These individuals were off on the wrong track for a test of honesty. There is a chance for a renewal of their confidence in humanity.

Modern business is built on honesty, and the entire social order proceeds on the assumption, usually justified, that most persons can be trusted.

DRIVER FREED OF BLAME FOR DEATH OF BOY

Inquest Held Into Prince Edward Street Fatality of Thursday

W. J. DEVLIN WAS AT AUTOMOBILE WHEEL

Witnesses Tell of Accident in Which Joseph F. Tobin Lost Life.

The enquiry into the circumstances surrounding the accident which resulted in the death of Joseph F. Tobin, a 12-year-old boy, was held in the Police Court last night before Coroner H. A. Porter...

MRS. ANNIE BONNELL

Mrs. Annie Bonnell, 238 Germain street, wife of Ralph Bonnell, owner of automobile No. 5171, testified that she was driving down Prince Edward street in the front seat of the car with the chauffeur, when suddenly she noticed a child right in front of the car...

DR. EVERETT BERESFORD.

Dr. Everett Beresford, of the General Public Hospital, testified that the boy was admitted to hospital at 2.50 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was unconscious. There were bruises on the back left hip and left leg. The boy was almost pulseless and stimulants were used without effect and the patient died at 8.10 o'clock from a probable fracture at the base of the skull.

MRS. MARGARET TURNER.

Mrs. Margaret Turner, 76 Sydney street, gave evidence that she was riding in the rear of the automobile with her mother and a child. She heard Mrs. Bonnell cry out a warning and about the same time car was on top of the little boy. A team just passed the automobile before the boy was struck. When witness first saw the boy he was about 10 feet in front of the car. The car was going slowly at the time and stopped about a length of itself after running over the child.

WILLIAM JOSEPH DEVLIN.

William Joseph Devlin, aged 19 years, residing at 10 Sydney street, testified that he was chauffeur for Ralph Bonnell and was driving the car yesterday afternoon when the boy was killed. He had been driving automobiles for two years and while he had a license last year he did not have one this year, as he had been out of work all last winter and this was the first position he received this year. He said that before receiving his license he was examined by Inspector J. B. Laney, who went with him in an automobile, told him to stop in front of a fire hydrant and he kept going and stopped about 12 feet further on. They then had a drive around a few blocks in the city and he was then granted a license.

In answer to the Coroner witness said that this was all the examination that he had. He said that he was hired by Mr. Bonnell last Friday. Yesterday afternoon while driving eastward on Prince Edward street, a team passed him in the opposite direction and then another wagon was driving on the opposite side of the street. Witness just got past the teams when a little boy ran out from the side of the street in front of the automobile and was right in front when witness saw him. The right side of the bumper struck the child, knocked him down and then the front and rear wheels passed over the body. Witness said that he immediately put on the foot brakes and at the time was going about 10 miles an hour, after passing over the boy witness said he applied the emergency brakes. Some men picked up the injured child placed it in the car and witness drove to the hospital. Witness said that he waited at the hospital until the child died and after driving Mrs. Bonnell home and putting the car in the garage he reported the matter to the Coroner.

Theodore Edward Morrison, 319 Prince Edward street, said he was standing on the side of the street, saw the boy leave the opposite side of the street and run across. Witness saw the automobile approach and he shouted out. The car bumper struck the child and knocked him about five feet ahead, the child tried to get up but about this time the front wheel passed over his stomach, he was rolled over and the rear wheel passed over his back. Witness said that the street was clear of traffic at the time and he could see the car clearly about 125 feet away before the boy was struck. The car was not going fast and if the driver had applied the brakes witness said he did not think that after the boy was knocked down the wheels would have passed over him.

A wedding of much interest to many friends was solemnized on June 4 at the home of the bride's niece, Mrs. M. T. Gibbon, 227 Pitt street, when Rev. H. A. Coyle, rector of St. James' church, united in marriage, Mrs. M. Adelaide Pearson of Fitzburg, Mass., and Andrew Bell of Apohaqui, a retired general. The bride's dress was a becoming midnight blue tulle with white lace and corage bouquet. She entered the drawing room with her nephew, Mr. Gibbon, who gave her away. The room was tastefully decorated with cut and pot-pourri flowers. A buffet luncheon was served following the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Bell left by automobile for their future home in Apohaqui, followed with best wishes for much happiness in their wedded life.

Hale-MacDougall.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Helen MacDougall, daughter of the late Alan MacDougall and Mrs. MacDougall, all of Kirkland, to William Ernest Hale of Saint John, took place at the home of her brother, Major Wm. A. MacDougall, M. C., Hartland, N. B., at 1.30 p.m. on June 3. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Ross, D. D., of Halifax, in the presence of immediate friends of the bride and groom. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, was gowned in white embroidered georgette over white satin and wore a Spanish veil caught with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a showy bouquet of Opelia roses and maiden hair fern. The house was tastefully decorated with apple blossoms and pink roses and the ceremony was performed under an arch of ferns and apple blossoms. After the wedding luncheon was served Mr. and Mrs. Hale left for a motor trip through New Brunswick, Quebec and Maine. The bride traveled in a navy blue hair-line stripe suit with imported black hat. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Hale will reside in Saint John city.

DETECTIVE BIDDISCOMBE

Detective Patrick Biddiscombe gave evidence that he examined Mr. Bonnell's car in the garage and found the brakes all working well and when he applied the foot brakes the wheels were locked. He examined the street where the accident happened and could see no marks on the tar pavement where the wheels had skidded which they should have done had the wheels been locked at the time of the accident. Peter Costello, George A. Lawlor, Morris M. Lambert and Joseph Tobin also gave evidence. After a short address from the Coroner the jury retired and later brought in the verdict as stated above.

Results of Provincial Elections in N. B. and Saskatchewan Also Likely Factor.

OTTAWA, June 4.—Results in the coming provincial elections in Nova Scotia, announced for June 25, are likely to have an important bearing on whether there will or will not be a general federal election this year. While there has been much talk of dissolving the Federal Parliament, the general impression has been that the Dominion Government would await the provincial elections before reaching a final decision. Should Nova Scotia, like

Our letters announcing the events crossed each other in the post."

He married Miss Cockerill in the name of George Arthur Booth.

POLICE CHIEFS PLAN WAR ON ANARCHY

Red Doctrines Taught Children in Communist Sunday Schools, is Claim.

WINNIPEG, June 4.—Plans to strike at the very foot of communistic propaganda and its dissemination throughout Canada, particularly by means of Sunday schools for children, were laid at this morning's session of the 21st annual convention of the Chief Constables Association of Canada. The action followed a discussion arising from a paper on "Industrial Police and Some of Their Problems," prepared by Captain D. A. Noble, chief of the British Empire Steel Corporation Police, Sydney, N. S.

The greatest difficulty which the industrial police of the company had to struggle against was the Communist party, said Captain Noble. The organization worked openly and in secret, but spent most of its energy in getting after the minds of the working men's children by means of Sunday schools. The children were taught blasphemy, anarchy and love of revolution, while the fundamentals of Christianity and patriotism were held up to ridicule. At present, it was said in the discussion of the paper, there was little chance or stopping the teaching of the possession of red literature.

UP TO DOMINION CABINET

It was suggested that the matter be placed before the federal government with a view to revising the present statutes so that eradication of the propaganda might be effected. It was determined to leave the matter with the executive, which was instructed to report its recommendations on the matter at Friday's session of the convention.

$15,000 Damage Done By Digby Night Fire

DIGBY, June 4.—Fire early this morning completely destroyed the store and warehouse of Funeral Services, Ltd. At 2.45 Harold Robinson noticed smoke coming out of the windows of the large warehouse and at once rang in an alarm. The fire department were quickly on the scene and three streams were turned on the burning building. The fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save very much of the furniture and other contents of the building. The stock, including a large number of caskets, was completely ruined by fire and water. The damage is estimated at $15,000, partly covered by insurance.

LAUGH WHILE YOU'RE EATING

SEASON your eating with good cheer. This is the advice for a reputable Chicago physician and dietitian. Conversation and laughter have a good effect upon the digestive system, he says. Although it is true that while laughing one may swallow a bit of unassimilated food, the harm is much overbalanced by the good effect the laughter has on the stomach. Every time one laughs the diaphragm gives the stomach an extra squeeze, and shakes it up and down. This is a part of the movement of the stomach in digestion. Laughter also stimulates the blood vessels, causing the blood to flow quickly, sending a warm glow to the feet and limbs, and spurring the stomach and liver into increased activity. To stimulate a pleasant atmosphere at the dining table, the

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON. MISTER AND MRS. MAGPIE.

A saucy bird came to Doctor Bill's house and looked about him. "You don't look sick," said Nick. "I'm not," said the bird brightly. "Then what do you want and what is your name?" asked Nancy. "My, you sound like the piece in Mother Goose," said the bird. "What's your name? Pudding, Old Dame. What's your number? Little Cucumber." "You must have left your manners at home," said Nick. "Haven't any, and never had," laughed the bird. "Nobody had anything to say to this so he went on. 'I just came because I thought I would be safe here.' 'Ah, ha!' exclaimed Doctor Bill with a wise look. 'So that's it. I rather thought I smelled a mouse.' 'It wasn't a mouse. It was something else,' chuckled the little bird. 'What's Mister Magpie here?' asked a timid little voice just then. 'My goodness, is that you, Magpie?' exclaimed Mister Magpie crossly. 'Must you follow me every place I go?' 'Yes,' answered his wife, for that is who it was. 'And if I didn't you wouldn't like it. You know you like to dressing table, and steals things. The other day he stole a ring and took it to our nest. Now it's a pearl earring. No wonder he ran away. Don't you think that is wicked?" "It is bad enough, but not as bad as I thought," said Doctor Bill. "Some magpies steal other birds' eggs and eat them. They even steal baby birds out of their nests. An earring doesn't matter so much, but it is wicked to steal anything." "Come on home then," Mrs. Magpie said to her husband. "I forgot where I put the earring." "You took it to the kitchen and dropped it into the bread dough. Cook found it," said Mrs. Magpie. "That's what I came to tell you." "Good!" cried the thief. "Then I'm sorry I scolded you for following me. Good-bye folks," and he was off. And, mind you, he never as much as said "thank you" to his wife. To Be Continued.

SOCIETY THRILLED.

Local society thrilled pleasantly two weeks ago when it was announced that Mildred Collins would marry young Campbell, son of a peeress.

When the betrothal was severed this week Campbell dropped from sight. And today Mrs. Collins told how she admired the young man whose lack of material wealth caused all the trouble.

"He was a splendid young man of undeniable character but very, very reticent," said Mrs. Collins. "We have never seen nor heard from him since Tuesday when he and Mildred agreed they could not go ahead with plans for a wedding."

"Campbell had been out of employment for two months but we knew nothing about that until Tuesday. It appears he was employed as a paint inspector in the Packard factory and when he lost that job he seemed unable to obtain another."

"THOUGHT HE WORKED." "When the engagement was announced two weeks ago we, of course, took it for granted he had some occupation. He himself intimated it would be silly to continue plans for the wedding until he had better prospects."

"It was obvious Campbell had been born in the best of surroundings. He was excellently educated and his culture could not have been procured except through a long background of refinement. But he was very uncommunicative. When one asked him questions about his home or family or about anything, in fact, except current matters, he would shut up like a clam."

"SAID FATHER WAS DEAD." "The only member of his family he ever mentioned to any extent, was his father who, I gathered, had died several years ago. He seemed to have been greatly attached to the father."

"He was a born gentleman, there is no question of that, and probably had struck a spell of material misfortune."

Mrs. Alice A. Brown, 337 East Grand boulevard, at whose home Campbell roomed, said he vanished last Saturday after coming in for fresh linen. He did not say where he was going. He had been out of work for a month, she said. He had been an automobile factory worker, Mrs. Brown understood.

"I knew he was keeping company with Miss Collins," said Mrs. Brown. "So I sent a note over there telling him to claim his effects. His clothing and other property are still here."

He lived at her home a year and a half, Mrs. Brown said. Campbell never explained to her why he worked in automobile factories, Mrs. Brown said. He went home about a year ago for a short time, explaining to Mrs. Brown that his mother had died.

Silk Ensemble Suits

By HEDDA HOYT Women's Editor of the United Press. NEW YORK, June 5.—Each warm day brings out a new line of spring gowns and wraps. Today women on Fifth avenue are wearing silk ensemble suits with coats extending within an inch of the hem of the frock. Coat and frock match in color, whereas the lining of the coat is brilliantly figured in contrasting colors.

Many wear frocks without coats. Some of these have little elbowlength capes attached to the frock. Where the short cape is used the sleeve of the frock is long and slender. One attractive gown was made of navy rep with a slight circular flare at the hem. The elbow length cape was made in three semi-circular tiers. A wide red belt was worn rather low on the hips. Completing the costume was a small untrimmed navy felt hat.

It seems that felt hats refuse to go out of style. Fully half of the women in New York are still wearing them. Instead of bright colors, they are choosing hats to match the costume or hats to correspond with shoes and hosiery.

Navy blue is one of the leading colors this season, although it has not been considered as smart as other staple colors, such as black or brown for some years. Many summer sports costumes combine white and navy and there is a freshness about the two colors which can not be equalled. For resort wear the combination is cool and beautiful.

The wearing of large or small hats becomes a question of time and place. For street wear, the small hat of felt, silk or straw combination is certainly more chic than the large hat. For afternoon occasions, where a dressy frock is worn, a large horse-hair hat is more appropriate. For evening wear, both the large and small hat may be worn. It is one here that the small hat of silk is more comfortable than a large hat. On the verandas of country clubs the large hat for some indescribable reason seems more attractive.

WILL BE GUESTS OF NOTED GUIDE

Railway and Publicity Men to Woods With Harry Allen

Saint John Men Leave Tonight to Join Party at Spendic Lake.

Beginning tomorrow a party of transportation officials representing the leading American railroads, coastwise international steamship lines and publicity men from United States tourist bureaus will be the guests of W. Harry Allen, well-known hunting and fishing guide and tourist missionary.

BETWEEN 20 AND 30

From this city J. M. Woodman, general superintendent of the Atlantic division of the C. P. R., G. Bruce Burpee, district passenger agent, F. MacLure Scandlers, secretary of the Board of Trade, A. J. West, managing editor of The Telegraph-Journal and The Times-Star, and W. H. Golding have been invited by Mr. Allen and will leave for McAdam tonight.

CAMP STYLE COOKING

Host Allen will have a corps of guides and a flotilla of canoes with extra paddlers for his guests. Lodgings will be provided in a well established camp for the occasion. The food to be served will be regular camp fashion out of doors—fish and meats on hanging cranes, the biscuits, Johnny cakes, etc., in open fire ovens. Beans will be baked in the ground.

FAMOUS WRITERS

This is another of Harry Allen's generous schemes of introducing New Brunswick's fishing and camping allurements to people connected with traffic and publicity work. He believes in practical demonstrations rather than theoretical arguments. On previous occasions he has entertained groups of famous writers, including Maximilian Foster, Grantland Rice, Ring Lardner, Irvin Cobb and also had Jack Dempsey, Cecil B. DeMille and other notables under his woodland chaperonage.

The Boston & Maine Railway official moving picture photographer will "shoot" the doings for his lecture tour.

FARM-DRAY HEARSE

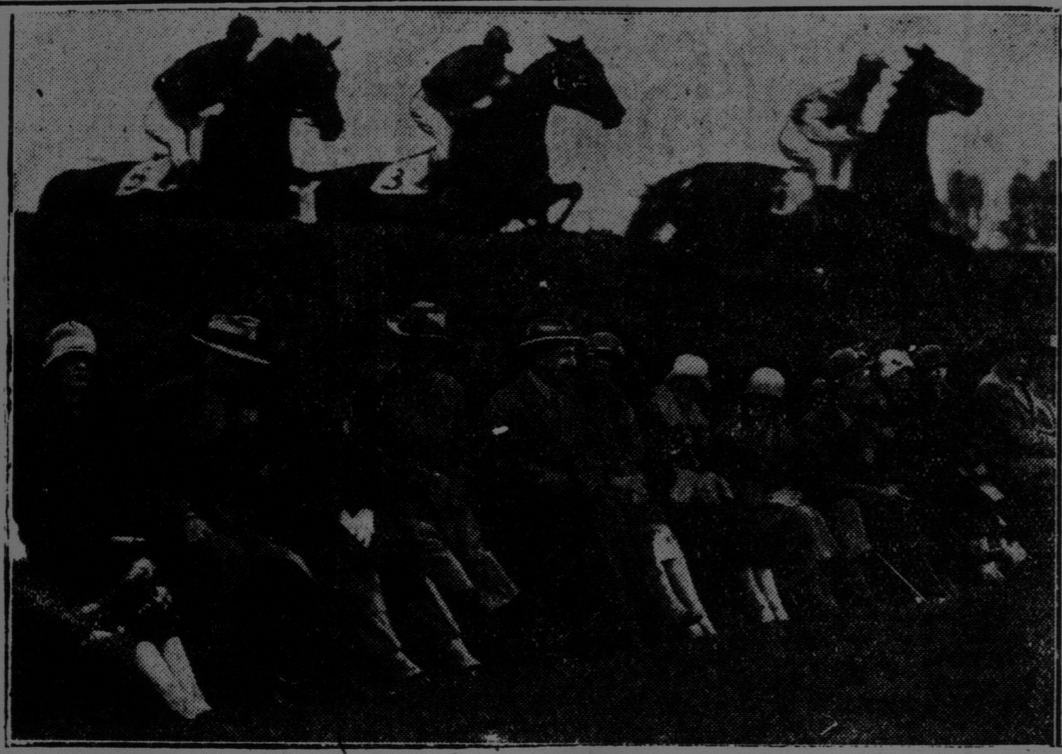

LONDON, June 5.—A farm-dray hearse drawn by four grey horses lent an air of rural impressiveness to the recent funeral of the late Duke of Rutland at Belvoir, Leicestershire. The coffin was covered with the Duke's own flag as Lord Lieutenant of the County with his cocked hat and sword.

DID YOU SEE THIS THRILLER?

The answer is, you didn't. All the actors pictured above were there, it is true—both the long line of bench warmers and the flying equines. But the camera had a bad attack of static; or perhaps it was Einstein bent rays on a rampage. In any case you have a scrambled picture that will rouse the envy of the group of Seven.

Remembering the Nancy

(Toronto Globe.) A cairn on the shore at Wasaga Beach will shortly remind visitors to this specious summer resort near Cillingswood of certain incidents of the War of 1812. They are incidents not considered important enough for mention in the ordinary short history, but when read in some detail they stir the pride and warm the blood of the race of the sturdy-defenders of Canada in that struggle.

The victory of Perry and the American fleet in Lake Erie in the fall of 1813 was followed naturally by a search for more worlds to conquer. In the following summer a small fleet of ships, some of them veterans of the Lake Erie victory, set out for Michillimackinac, which had been in British hands since the opening victory of the War of 1812. They aimed at recapture of the fort at the outlet of Lake Michigan and at destroying the rich fur trade of the Northwest. First they captured the Mink at St. Joseph's Island, and then destroyed the Perseverance in the St. Mary's River. Only the Nancy remained, and she was not found until a landing party crossed the sandy beach near the mouth of the Notewasaga River and unexpectedly sighted the spars among the pines along the river bank.

There was nothing left for the Americans now but to bring reinforcements and attack the Nancy, and the new blockhouse near by. The four hundred and fifty men on the Niagara and smaller forces from the schooners Tigress and Scorpion lent an overwhelming force for the venture. Guns of the enemy and the defenders blazed at each other until finally superior numbers won, the blockhouse was blown up and the Nancy burned and sunk. The crew retreated and the Americans thought it was all over. They felled trees to block the river mouth, and drew away in confidence. A few days later a score of the Nancy's crew set out in a canoe for Michillimackinac, and after hard paddling day and night for a week, threading the maze of islands and following the north channel, covered the distance of 800 miles. Revenge came speedily. The men from the Nancy, with reinforcements from the fort, set out next day in four large rowboats, with a convoy of Indian craft, for the redeavour of two American ships in Detroit Passage.

The attackers stole upon the Tigress in the darkness of midnight and stormed the sentries and sleeping marines. The deck was soon a shambles in hand-to-hand fighting. A big negro loaded a swivel gun with a bag of slugs, but before he could fire it big Alexander McInosh, the Nancy's old sailing master, swung his cutlass, plunged at the gunner, and sent his head into the like. "Follow your head, moon!" he shouted to the dismembered body, according to the narrative of C. H. J. Snider, in his book, "In the Wake of the Eighteen Twelves." The battle was soon over, and the Tigress and the Scorpion formed the nucleus of a British fleet on the upper lakes, where none had existed for some weeks. Today the shore of Wasaga Beach is a scene of peace and beauty, with countless summer cottages facing the shallow waters of the bay where the enemy fleet lay at anchor. Many of the visitors in the season live under the flag which came there an enemy ensign, but both nations may share the pride in the valor which the new cairn will commemorate.

BIG EXPEDITION TO STUDY WHALES

Capt. Scott's Vessel, "Discovery" Will be Used on The Voyage.

LONDON, June 5.—What has been described as "The Whale-Labeling" expedition is likely to leave Portsmouth for the Falkland Islands about the end of this month. The expedition, which is under the auspices of the Colonial Office, will investigate the question of the preservation of whales and of the whaling industry, which has been subject to Government regulations since its inception over 20 years ago.

Captain Scott's old vessel, the "Discovery" will be used by the expedition. To determine whether whales breeding in African waters migrate to Southern seas to feed, small darts bearing metal labels will be fired from a specially designed crossbow into the thick layer of blubber of the back.

If any such labels are subsequently taken from whales killed in African waters during the breeding season, the theory of migration will be established.

CANADA'S ARCTIC LAND CLAIM DISPUTED

N.Y. TIMES ASKS FOR BASIS OF PRETENSIONS

Declares United States or Norway Might Challenge Stewart Assertion

DOUBTS SERIOUSNESS OF OTTAWA DEBATE

Points Out Value of Territory From Standpoint of Air Transportation.

Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Discussing editorially the claim made by Canada, through Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, in the House of Commons on Monday, that all lands to the north of the Dominion, already discovered or yet to be discovered, will be claimed by Canada, the New York Times this morning asks if the claim is arbitrary and what is the basis for it.

The Times declares that Canada claims the mass of islands north of her organized territory, by right mainly of British discovery, and points out the long line of British polar explorers whose names survive in the lands which they were the first to penetrate. The Times says:

"MIGHT BE CHALLENGED" "Canada's claims to these islands could be challenged by the United States and Norway. They have not been mapped out, as in the Franklin district. It may be doubted whether the Dominion government believes that its pretensions to them would be taken seriously. But the day is near, when title to lands in the north polar region, will have to be established. The value for communications between the east and west is now recognized."

LOSES MEMORY ON MONTREAL VISIT

C. P. R. Employee, Wandering Streets, Restored to Daughter by Police—Comes Here.

MONTREAL, June 4.—Suffering from temporary loss of memory, J. Hasking, 75, ex-employee of the Canadian Pacific Railway, on a trip to this city with his daughter, spent all Wednesday night riding in a hack around the city searching for a daughter who resides in Toronto.

Mr. Hasking gave the hackman the address of Brook street, which is a Toronto thoroughfare, and after driving him all over this city making enquiries everywhere, the hack driver obtained from Mr. Hasking an envelope on which he said that Brook street was a Toronto address. He drew his fare's attention to this, but not getting a satisfactory reply and noticing the latter's advanced age, he decided to take him to No. 6 police station.

In the meantime Mr. Hasking's daughter and granddaughter were getting very alarmed at his lengthy absence. They applied to officials at the Windsor station here for assistance and enquiries were broadcast throughout the city, to hospitals, the police and the morgue. Anxiety was allayed when police brought Mr. Hasking back to the station upon the worse for his adventures.

Mr. Hasking and his family left for Saint John, N. B., this morning.

Day of Jazz Is Over, Says Music Leader

LONDON, June 5.—"Jazz is over-spiced sauce to an old bore. The day of jazz is over."

None other than Bruno Walter, noted conductor of symphony orchestras in Berlin and New York, laid the above wreath on arriving here to conduct a German season at the Covent Garden Opera House.

"The length of the life of jazz," he added, "has been due to the fact that an astonishing number of real musical brains were interested in these syncopated rhythms. It is real native music in America apart from the negro spirituals, and with these I have fallen in love."

Wives In Western Provinces Get Equality In Divorce Grounds

White Horses Get Scarcer

LONDON, June 4.—Manufacturers of violins, violas and cellos are viewing with considerable concern the increasing scarcity of white horses.—Extract from musical periodical.

The problem of the disappearing white horse, the hair of whose tail is used for making bows for violins, was recently discussed by a Daily Chronicle representative by W. E. Hills & Sons, the famous violin makers.

"White horse hair, on account of the shortage, is more expensive than it used to be," Mr. Jackson said. "But the shortage is not likely to become acute within the lifetime of this generation. Moreover some actually prefer black horse hair."

WOMEN WILL BE FUTURE BOSSES

Day Coming When They Are to Dictate and Men to Obey Says Feminist.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Women are to be the future heads of the family, according to Emily Lloyd of Chicago, a feminist of note in the central west. "Many of the things advanced women are striving for are straws," said Miss Lloyd. "But they show the way in the wind blows. Getting the vote in itself means little—so also mean little the wearing of neckties, the entrance into the professions and business, or the capture of any of the superficial privileges traditionally enjoyed by men only. But as indications of the gradual feminization of the race, these things mean much. Man is the weaker vessel. Only in imperfectly developed races is the stronger man master. As culture and intellectual growth advance, the reins of control pass into the woman's hands."

"That women now look up to men and are usually clinging vines and leaning, dependent creatures, idle dolls or indolent playthings, is simply due to the lingering influence of centuries of artificial control by the universal presence of war."

"The farther we approach to man and are usually clinging vines and leaning, dependent creatures, idle dolls or indolent playthings, is simply due to the lingering influence of centuries of artificial control by the universal presence of war."

Overwhelmed by His Impressions of Civilization at Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, June 3.—Panchan Lama, one of Tibet's living Buddhas, received his first impression of bustling civilization when he arrived here from Peking on his way to Hangchow and the sacred Buddhist island of Pootoo, in the Yangtze River. A big crowd gave him a tumultuous welcome, but the lama, after his life-long seclusion in a Tibetan monastery, was overcome and walked away dreamily.

Wear Wedding Rings To Draw the Men?

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—A poll of Columbus jewelry stores and managers of jewelry counters in an even ten stores reveals that wedding rings are losing their significance. That is to say, a wedding ring on the finger of a girl is coming to be a sure sign that she is married. Hundreds of girls are buying cheap wedding rings, according to the poll, some because they believe this adornment will make them more attractive to men and others because they believe wedding rings offer girls protection against "invaders."

HOME-MADE METEOR

PARIS, June 5.—Pilot-Sergeant Jean, of Le Bourget, lost the propeller of his biplane while flying 6,500 feet above Paris. This mechanical accident broke no head and damaged no roof. It is believed that the dropped propeller landed in some suburban garden, and that its finder is keeping it as a souvenir.

LORD LYVEDEN WEDS IN LONDON

Actor-Peer Played in Saint John With Percy Hutchinson

Weds Miss Lynda Martell, Music Hall Artist—He Proposed by Letter.

A chance meeting of Lord Lyveden, actor-peer, with Miss Lynda Martell, a well known music hall artist, had its sequel a few days ago in their wedding at the Peckham Register Office, London. Lord Lyveden is 67, and his bride is in her thirties. Lord Lyveden was in Saint John a short time ago with Percy Hutchinson's company at the Imperial Theatre.

Telling the story of their meeting the bride said: "We were total strangers 16 months ago. At that time we were on tour in South Africa, and on New Year's eve there was a party, at which we met."

"Lord Lyveden went with his company to Canada, and I returned to England. Ten months later I received a letter from Lord Lyveden, proposing marriage. I accepted him, and it was not until three weeks ago that we met in person. He had been engaged more than six months. Lady Lyveden said she thought she would continue on the stage. She still had contracts to fulfill, and after they were done with she expected they would go back to South Africa. If they settled down to private life, she thought it would be in that country."

TOKYO SUBWAY DELAYS

TOKIO, June 5.—Subway plans for Tokio, long discussed, brought out a new angle recently when the engineers stated that the ground here is so soft that tunneling under it for the subways will cause the pavement above to sink. The experts are advising the city government to postpone paving certain city streets until after the subway is laid, therefore.

QUEBEC TREMOR 13TH SINCE JULY

Boston Economic Foundation Checks Up With Dominion Observatory.

Three-fourths of Earthquake Losses Can be Prevented, Says Statement.

BOSTON, June 2.—The Engineering-Economics Foundation, which is engaged in organizing knowledge of earthquake hazards, when asked for a statement on the earthquake shock reported recently from Quebec, said:

"The news of the quake tremor is of particular interest to the foundation at this time as it has only this week been checking its figures with figures obtained by the Dominion Observatory at Ottawa."

The statement issued to the foundation says, "The series began on February 28 when quakes rocked the eastern section of the continent. The fact is that the tremor of May 30 is the thirteenth tremor of a known series, which began July 14, 1924, and has continued up to the present time. Four tremors felt by men in the northeastern section of the United States and Canada occurred in seven and one-half months from February 28, the date of the first tremor. Nine tremors felt by men have occurred in the three months since February 28."

STRANGE TALE OF WAR RELIC IS TOLD

Soldier Disc, Lost in Glasgow, Travels Far Before Owner Found.

LONDON, June 3.—The story of how a small bronze disc, inscribed with the name of a man who fell in the war, was lost by its owner, found its way to Colombia, and was eventually returned to the owner, is the subject of a story told in the sequel to a newspaper paragraph.

The disc was apparently dropped at a Glasgow brick works, and became moulded in with a consignment which was shipped to Colombia. It was discovered embedded in a boiler erected with these bricks, by a man employed there. Returning to London, he took it to a newspaper office, and a paragraph, mentioning the name on the disc, Wilfred Harry Baker, was published.

Miss Baker, of Hall road, Cheltenham, wrote that she believed the disc was one made to commemorate the loss of her brother. The discoverer was communicated with and this proved correct.

His Lordship and The Funnel Joke

LONDON, June 5.—David Kenworthy, the ten-year-old grandson and heir of Baron Lord Strabolgi, wants to be a pilot when he grows up and has already begun his apprenticeship.

If Master David sticks to his life's ambition, there will be some day a Lord Strabolgi swinging up over the sides of great freighters and piloting them to the great docks at Hull. Recently he spent a busy week on the pilot cutter W. A. Massey. He said:

"They persuaded me to try and win a prize by dropping a coin off my head into a funnel at the back of my trousers. While I was busy balancing the coin on my head, I received the contents of a tin of water through the funnel into the back of my pants. "Afterwards I enjoyed the joke on three more victims."

HOUSE GIVES J. T. SHAW'S BILL THIRD READING

Commons Votes 112 to 61 on Measure Presented by Independent

AMENDMENT AFTER AMENDMENT BEATEN

Dr. MacLaren Fails to Delay Measure on Grounds of Lack of Information.

Canadian Press.

OTTAWA, June 5.—By a majority of 51 votes, the House of Commons passed third reading of a bill sponsored by J. T. Shaw, Independent, West Calgary, placing women in the four Western Provinces on an equality with men in so far as the grounds for divorce are concerned. The vote was 112 to 61.

Division after division, throughout the afternoon and evening, marked the progress of the bill.

REARRIAGE BAR BEATEN

When the bill came up for third reading, Thomas Viero, Liberal-Librenere, moved an amendment denying the right of remarriage to divorced parties domiciled in Canada. A division on the amendment resulted in its defeat by 73 to 60, the vote cutting across party lines and dividing the members of the government. No sooner had the amendment been declared lost than Sir Henry Drayton moved another, the effect of which was to deny the guilty party in a divorce the right to remarry during the lifetime of the other spouse.

DR. MACLAREN ASKS DELAY

Discussion was proceeding on the second amendment when Dr. Murray MacLaren, Conservative, Saint John, taking the ground that insufficient time had been given for consideration of Sir Henry Drayton's proposal, moved the adjournment of the debate. A vote on this resulted in its defeat by 83 to 74. The House then divided on Sir Henry Drayton's amendment, which was defeated, the vote standing 106 to 63.

PORTLAND CIRCLE LEADS IN INCREASE

Reports Presented at Annual Meeting of Methodist W.M.S. at Capital.

FREDERICTON, N. B., June 4.—The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island continued the session this afternoon. An Auxiliary conference was held followed by a Band and Circle conference. At this the objective of 1925-26 was outlined.

Mrs. George M. Young, also was heard, on the slogan "full speed ahead."

Annual reports were presented. Mrs. George Sample, Circle and Band treasurer, reporting receipts were $4,610.02, with expenditures of $2,934.10, leaving a balance of $1,675.92. During the year there was a Circle decrease, but a Band increase. Portland Circle, Saint John, led with Fredericton Circle second, followed by the Portland Circle. The Earnest Mission Band of Nashua took the prize for the greatest increase in membership.

Radiograms from missionaries were received. They came from Miss Ruth Harper, Miss Tweedie, Miss Colbeck, Miss Mead, Miss Strothard and Miss Robertson in the Japanese field and Miss Hocking and Miss Peters in China.

School Is Run For Single Youngster

CANSAAS CITY, Mo., June 5.—There is a "one class" to Ray Ward, aged 9, in the Fletcher school district, Macco county, Mo. The fact, Ray is in a class all by himself, and Miss Virginia Morrow gets $50 a month for teaching it. More than that—Ray constitutes a school for which taxes, building and a school exist.

That has been the condition since early last December, when the removal of a family from Fletcher to another district reduced attendance from five to one. But regular routine of the Fletcher school prevails; the bell rings at 9 o'clock; then comes study hour, class recitation, blackboard exercise and races—when Ray is teacher's pet, star pupil and King of Boyville, three-in-one.

UNKNOWN SOLDIERS WILL BE HONORED IN 5 WORLD CAPITALS AT SAME MOMENT, JUNE 22

United Press.

OMAHA, Neb., June 4.—At the tap of the gavel opening the fifth annual convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War here on June 22, five World War Veterans will step reverently up to the tombs of the unknown soldiers in Arlington, London, Paris, Brussels and Rome and place wreaths upon their catafalques.

The simultaneous ceremonies across the world have been arranged as an appointed moment, their memories turned to the battlefields abroad where they suffered their wounds and where their unknown comrades, so signally honored, fell.

When Mme. Schumann Heink starts to sing "Taps," the period silence will end and the national anthem be played. This will be radio broadcast throughout the land to the bedside of the disabled men still in hospitals.

The mutilated delegates will stand silently in their convention hall at the heads of the rehabilitation of disabled veterans, compensation, insurance and hospitalization. The society hopes for favorable action next winter at the long session of Congress that was not obtainable at the crowded short session, which ended in March.

Among major aims of the organization are the elimination of fire hazards at government hospitals, creation of permanent medical corps within the veterans' bureau, a permanent system for the appointment and accounting of the guardians of insane veterans, blocking the projected incorporation of the Veterans' Bureau into a Department of Education and Relief, and provision by law for the conscription of capital and labor as well as man power in time of war.

TALLEST FISH STORY OF YEAR

Whale, Sharks and Captain All Mixed up in This Yarn.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 5.—The tallest fish story that was ever dragged out of the huge Pacific was told here by Captain H. Matteson of the whaler Columbus. Tossed from his ship by the upheaval of a harpooned whale dragged through a school of sharks, Matteson drifted only because the whale died just after the terrific experience.

The ship harpooned a monster "blumback" whale larger than the ship. The first harpoon failed to stop the monster and it churned through the water, dragging the ship with it. In desperation the crew shot a second harpoon, but that, too, failed to halt the whale's speed.

ANTI-GAMBLING MOVE IS ASKED BY ASSEMBLY

Presbyterian Meeting Hears Strong Condemnation of Race Tracks

SALE OF INTOXICANTS FOR DRINK OPPOSED

Ontario Law Amendments Are Branded As Dangerous Experiment

TORONTO, June 4.—Strong expression of the belief that something should be done by the church to discourage gambling in Canada was voiced in the Presbyterian General Assembly this afternoon. The board on social service had recommended that the federal government be asked to reconsider proposed amendments to the criminal code which, they said, would permit of the operation of wheels of fortune and other games of chance at exhibitions and agricultural society fairs.

Rev. J. H. Henderson, of Vancouver, objected to the proposal as lacking in "teeth and claws." "In Canada," he said, "we are developing very rapidly a race of gamblers whoever is responsible."

NEW TRACK AT WINNIPEG

Rev. Dr. J. W. Gordon, of Winnipeg, told the Assembly a new race track was being built in Winnipeg to "take a few more millions from the people." He moved, and the Assembly adopted the suggestion that the resolution go back to the committee for a clause to be added expressing more adequately their condemnation of gambling.

The Assembly declared itself against manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquor as a beverage; urged increased instruction on the harmful effects of alcohol as an "imperative necessity" and expressed the belief that recent amendments to the Ontario Temperance Act introduced a "dangerous experiment certain to aggravate rather than diminish the evils of intemperance."

MISSION REPORT ADOPTED

The Assembly adopted the report of the board on Home Missions and Social Service, heard from the board on church publications and at adjournment was ahead of schedule. This evening there were addresses on the Home Mission work of the church. There was only casual mention of Church Union during the day, but there were cheers for incidental mention of the pending consummation in addresses by Rev. J. W. Pedley and Rev. A. L. Richards, fraternal delegates from the Congregational Union of Canada.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT AT 33; STARTED WITHOUT GOAL IN VIEW

Glenn Frank, Wisconsin College Head, Has Had Interesting Career.

By GEORGE BRITT.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Young fellows starting out in life without much idea where they are going may find encouragement in the career of Glenn Frank. He began in that troubled and uncertain fashion, he declares, and now at 33, only 13 years out of college, he has been chosen president of the University of Wisconsin.

"This will be my fourth job, and each came without planning on my part and was accepted on only a few days' notice," he says. Frank will be one of the most boyish college presidents in the land. He is slender and his face is exceedingly free from lines. He is a trim dresser, letting his fancy stray to gray spots and a cane. But at the same time he has an informal tilt to his black cigar and a quiet good fellowship in his bearing.

The writings of Frank during the last four years as editor of the Century Magazine attracted the Wisconsin University regents to him.

Frank recently wrote: "American democracy needs mental freedom even more than it needs mental furniture. The primary task of the university is to make men free; to make men scholarly is secondary to this."

From his boyhood in a small Missouri town Frank showed unusual facility in speech. So he was directed toward the ministry and preached for two or three years before going to college. In those days the boy evangelist found in his congregation a girl named Miffy Smith. They fell in love, and in 1917 he came back and they were married. They now have a six-year-old son.

Such is the romance which brought Glenn Frank to Wisconsin and his family: Glenn Frank and Glenn Frank, Jr. Mary Smith to be mistress of the big house overlooking the lake with all the social and academic prestige which comes from being wife of the university president.

The public speaking talent persisted. For a time he was on the staff of Billy Sunday, and at another period he traveled the Chautauqua circuit with William Jennings Bryan, the commoner speaking in afternoons and Frank at Northwestern University. Frank was editor of the magazine, but his nearest approach to athletic glory was the treasurership of the athletic association. At graduation the university offered him the position of assistant to the president, and as he says, because he did not know what else to do he accepted.

After three getting an insight into university direction, Frank went to be assistant to Edward A. Pillemer, head of a department store in Boston. After this experience Frank went to the Century Magazine. "I have come to realize that what interested me most was the teaching side of editorship," says Frank. "It has seemed to me that poets and publicists and philosophers and writers of all sorts constituted a sort of university, in fact, the American university, which is shaping the thought and informing the minds of the mass of the people."

FOX IS DONE

Demand For Furs by Women of England Depleting The Supply.

LONDON, June 4.—For 700 years or more, hundreds of British sportsmen tried to hunt and hunt the kingdom's foxes to extinction. In scores of clubs the huntsmen ganged together. Down vale and over hill the cream of hunter horseflesh was thrown into the chase. Baying ahead were dog packs unsurpassed throughout the world. They failed. Bred Fox was too elusive, too cunning, too profane. But then, a dog came Ruth and Bess and Madge. All their sisters and their motto was "they hunt." They wanted furs. In one of seasons, woman's whim of fashion had depleted the fox population of old England.

COMMITTEE ON UNION IS NAMED

Meeting is Held in St. Columba Presbyterian Church in Fairville

Rev. J. S. Bonnell, Rev. H. Miller and Prof. J. W. Falconer Speakers.

A committee to further the work for Church Union in Fairville was named at a meeting in St. Columba church there last evening under the auspices of the Union committee of the Presbytery of Saint John. Addresses were given by Rev. Professor J. W. Falconer of Pine Hill College, Halifax; Rev. J. S. Bonnell and Rev. Hugh Miller.

Rev. Mr. Bonnell, the first speaker, told of visiting a Union congregation in Charlottetown recently. There were 1,600 people present at the service, he said. He spoke of the great many Protestant denominations in the United States. In 1916 there were 201 separate branches, but since then the number had been decreased by a few unions.

FAVORS UNION

Rev. Mr. Miller spoke in favor of union. There had already been decisions by all the factions in the church to co-operate with the Methodist and Congregational churches in sparsely populated regions and he thought that anyone who would advise such co-operation must favor union. He would not ask another Presbyterian, just because he happened to be one of a few families where there was another kind of a church, to join with a different denomination when he was unprepared to do so himself.

There would be a shortage of ministers for the anti-union churches, he declared, and already Baptists were being called in to preach in some of them.

PROFESSOR FALCONER

Professor Falconer gave an eloquent address in favor of the proposed merger of the denominations. He declared the move to be a sign of God's presence on earth, and said that Canada was showing the way to the rest of the world in joining hands for the furtherance of Christian work. He regarded the chance to unite as an opportunity and combine forces to give a comprehensive view of a common ideal.

CLOSES ACCOUNTS

A meeting of the executive of the Saint John Art Club was held yesterday afternoon to close the accounts for the season which ended June 1 and to make arrangements for the annual exhibition of the work of the art class. Reports of the successful lecture course were received. A committee was appointed to formulate plans for the season 1925 to 1926.

Man Posing As Harry K. Thaw Is Arrested

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 4.—A man who is alleged to have been annoying Harry K. Thaw for more than a month was arrested here as he alighted from a railroad train.

The man said he was "Harry K. Thaw, Jr." and bore papers which were signed with that name. At the police station where he was lodged he is entered on the docket as C. T. James, 33. The man said that he had been in the Muttewan Hospital with Thaw and that he had escaped with him into Canada. He is being held for observation.

NEW SECRETARY

Court Frederick, No. 368, I. O. F., at a largely attended meeting last night considered the prospects for the coming season to be very bright. In the absence of the chief ranger, E. J. New, the chair was taken by J. Starr. William Emerson, who has been the financial secretary of the court for the last five years, tendered his resignation, which was regretfully accepted. Harry Smith was appointed to fill the vacancy.

ANTI-TOXIN IS GIVEN PRAISE

Dr. H. L. Abramson Reports on Scarlet Fever Serum

Health Matters of Genuine Interest at Afternoon Session of Bureau Here.

The new Dick anti-toxin for scarlet fever is positively accepted by the medical profession as a means of controlling scarlet fever infections and detecting susceptibility for the disease. It was stated at the quarterly meeting of the Provincial Bureau of Health yesterday by Dr. H. L. Abramson, provincial pathologist.

Dr. Abramson has just returned from attending the conference at Washington where this anti-toxin was demonstrated. Dr. Abramson spoke of the anti-toxin as being prepared from germs present in the throat secured through the usual laboratory methods by obtaining a filtrate.

It has been found efficacious in controlling cases of the disease when recognized before the onset of sequelae, he said. For diagnostic purposes it could be used exactly like the Schick test in diphtheria in discriminating the susceptible from the non-susceptible. In any community this new serum was of great value for every phase of community protection.

TO BE PRINTED.

The serum has been used in Saint John for the nurses of the General Public Hospital and all those who have been found to be susceptible to scarlet fever have been inoculated. The provision of the serum for treatment and its immunizing anti-toxin for prevention Dr. Abramson declared marked one of the most important advances in medical knowledge since the discovery of insulin.

At the request of Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, Minister of Public Health, Dr. Abramson's report on the scarlet fever

75 Planes Start 9-Day Air Race; 19 Down, 1 Wrecked, 4 Lost

BERLIN, June 4.—The most extensive endurance flying contest ever arranged in Germany is now on. It is a nine-day airplane match. In the course of this flight all Germany, except eastern Prussia and the occupied western area will be traversed.

With twenty-four hours' intermission between each start, groups of airplanes will be sent away on five consecutive days on a different loop from Berlin over a distance of 650 miles daily. There are 75 contestants. Prizes aggregating 400,000 marks have been offered by newspapers and business men.

The planes are divided into three classes, up to 40, 80 and 120 horsepower respectively. The chief purpose is to awaken German interest in aeroplanes and test the endurance and reliability of German motors.

By 1 o'clock the first afternoon 48 airplanes had flown over the airfield near Schwerin, about 150 miles from Berlin. There had been nineteen forced landings and one airplane was wrecked. As a violent tempest was raging at an elevation of about 3,000 feet, many abandoned the contest. Four airplanes have not yet been heard from.

anti-toxin will be printed in pamphlet form.

SLAUGHTER HOUSES.
Dr. William Warwic, medical health officer for the southern district, said there had been only 50 cases of diphtheria last year in Saint John and none during the last month. He spoke of the lack of notification of minor infectious diseases being largely responsible for the spread of these diseases.

He said there was grave need for adequate supervision of small rural slaughter houses and said that out of 52 carcasses subjected to a special test at one time there were 12 that were ordered buried. These carcasses were from a rural slaughter house. Where farmers did their own killing, the difficulty did not arise.

DR. DESMOND REPORTS.

Dr. Desmond, medical health officer in the western section, rejoiced there was no smallpox in his district and so a former departmental bugbear was laid due to the tremendous protective work accomplished through vaccination. Typhoid and para-typhoid occurred in sporadic cases but serum had prevented any serious outbreaks as in an institution in Westmorland where only prompt measures prevented a certain outbreak. His annual estimates went through in every county of the five of his district, showing the policy of the department had been proved worth while from the viewpoint of the taxpayer.

DR. MELVIN.

Dr. G. G. Melvin referred to a recently published pamphlet on water supplies, wells, etc., and recommended that this should be widely advertised as available on request to the Department of Health.

Dr. Wade, medical health officer in the eastern section, stated there was a great improvement along all lines of public health work in his district and a marked increase of co-operation from leading doctors. Smallpox, formerly a chief worry, was now negligible and diphtheria very rare. Scarlet fever and typhoid, he felt, could be more controlled if convalescents were prevented from going everywhere as was frequently found.

The various medical inspectors reported improvements and developments along all lines.

Dr. Loggie, medical school inspector, urged that the filling in of educational data on a child's health record card be made compulsory. He said that there was a distinct relationship between retardation in school and physical defects and the normal and healthy child was rarely retarded.

HEALTH REGULATIONS.

Dr. C. L. Emerson, chief of the social hygiene department for the province, outlined suggestions for improved follow-up work for patients leaving the province and similar problems.

Dr. Desmond urged strongly that county almshouses should have provision for caring for special cases of illness which it was advisable to send to the almshouses rather than to any other institution.

Miss H. Dykeman, acting director of public health nursing services, said there were now four public health nurses, all reporting progress. She said that it was hoped traveling clinics might be held at St. Andrews and Waterford this summer. She referred appreciatively to the fact that the V. O. nurses have undertaken school work wherever they are stationed, referred to the successful fair being held at Norton where the public health booth is attracting much attention and said the traveling clinics during the past summer had attended 429 children.

FINANCES.

In reference to the possible means of financing public health nurses for the communities, several suggestions were made. The co-operation afforded by the Women's Institutes was spoken of appreciatively as well as the assistance given by Miss S. Barrington who as organizer of home nursing classes for the Red Cross Society has emphasized the need of a permanent nursing service in all the communities she has visited.

SCHOOL REPORTS.

Dr. King, medical school inspector, speaking on some questions regarding powers of exclusion from school under the public health act, evoked much interesting discussion.

Dr. Bailey, medical school inspector, gave an interesting report of problems and progress in his district. He made reference to urgent special problems in some cases of feeble-minded parents and children. It was felt that if some of these cases were known, the community at large would demand that suitable provision be made for their care.

Dr. Bailey deplored the great amount of absenteeism in rural districts but this could only be dealt with by the Department of Education strengthening its policy.

SCOTCH PASTOR ACCEPTS.

HALIFAX, June 4.—Rev. James Campbell, of Glencadrin, Scotland, has accepted the pastorate of the continuing Presbyterian church of Halifax, according to a cable received here today from Rev. Robert Johnstone, of New Glasgow, who is now in Scotland.

RECEIVES DEGREE.

Miss Harriet Alward, formerly of Hampton, N. B., received a B.S. degree and Teachers' College diploma from Columbia University, New York, at the commencement exercises, June 3. Miss Alward entered Columbia in September, 1923, and during the last half year has been teaching household arts in Elizabeth, New Jersey.

She graduated from Acadia University, Wolfville, N. S., in 1917, after which she taught in the domestic science department of the Hampton and Sussex schools, where she did excellent work. Miss Alward has always been keenly interested and an energetic worker in the home economics work of New Brunswick.

"IN THE WINTER of 1917 the majority of our regiment (165th, 42nd Div.) contracted a severe dysentery. I carried the after effects back into civil life. Almost constant constipation and indigestion, heart palpitation, and an insupportable run-down condition. My wife heard of the use of Fleischmann's Yeast. I took two cakes a day. Now my heart no longer bothers me, constipation and indigestion have disappeared, and I enjoy my meals."
—(Harold I. Betty, Evanston, Ill.)

"SOME FEW YEARS AGO I ate Yeast for bacterial infections, boils and carbuncles. Within three weeks my infections disappeared and I have never been troubled since. But I have an especial message to mothers. Four children were born to me and they are perfect babies and I am a good specimen of a healthy mother—thanks to Fleischmann's Yeast. Not only did it settle my stomach, when other things failed, but also toned up my system, and gave me an appetite, which is most essential in motherhood."
—(Mrs. Theodosia Hession, R. N., Brooklyn, N. Y.)

"ON MY RETURN to civilian life, after service in the Army, I noticed a tendency towards constipation. During the next four years it grew progressively worse in spite of the use of every known laxative and cathartic. Nothing was of any avail. I was suffering from auto-intoxication and digestive and liver sluggishness. Then I began to use Fleischmann's Yeast daily, half a cake spread on a cracker morning and evening. The toxic symptoms disappeared. At the present writing I enjoy excellent health and want to go on record as unqualifiedly endorsing the use of Fleischmann's Yeast in such obstinate cases as mine."
—(Frank A. Mack, M. D., Boston, Mass.)

THIS REMARKABLE FOOD tones up the entire system—banishes constipation, skin troubles, stomach disorders. There are many delicious ways of eating yeast—dissolved in water, fruit juices or milk, spread on crackers, or eaten plain.

FLAISCHMANN'S YEAST IS MADE IN CANADA

Read their tributes to this famous food

NOT a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense—Fleischmann's Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food.

The millions of tiny active yeast plants in every cake invigorate the whole system. They aid digestion—clear the skin—banish the poisons of constipation. Where cathartics give only temporary relief, yeast strengthens the intestinal muscles and makes them healthy and active. And day by day it releases new stores of energy.

Eat two or three cakes regularly every day before meals: on crackers—in fruit juices or milk—or just plain. For constipation especially, dissolve one cake in hot water (not scalding) night and morning. Buy several cakes at a time—they will keep fresh in a cool dry place for two or three days. All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast. Start eating it today!

Let us send you free copy of our latest booklet on Yeast for Health, Health Research Dept. 431, The Fleischmann Co., 208 Simcoe St., Toronto, Ont.

"WITH BIG UGLY BLOTCHES on my face, lusterless eyes, I was indeed a sorry sight. Disregarding my skepticism, I began to take Fleischmann's Yeast. . . . Not until three weeks did I notice a perceptible change. My sluggish bowels manifested activity and my skin became clear and pink. In six months, having taken yeast three times a day, I was firm of step, clear of eye—my former dynamic self."
—(Miss Minnie Edith Dawson, Baltimore, Md.)

Canada's Affairs Discussed at Railway Meeting

A glimpse at a corner of the big room in which Canadian Pacific Shareholders gather to hear the annual address of Chairman and President E. W. Beatty on national business conditions and the Company's affairs.

The annual shareholders' meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway is one of the important financial events of the year as naturally follows from the position held by that company as a great national institution...

would be reasonably satisfactory. He pointed out, however, that neither rail nor ocean traffic had reached normal proportions and that until they did so the company's expenditures for capital, maintenance and general operation must be curtailed...

displayed by Canadians towards transportation matters. Mr. Beatty drew attention to the statement often heard that the present railway situation in the Dominion was due to the failure in former years of private undertakings...

Attention was drawn to the need of an aggressive immigration policy and the unsatisfactory results so far this year when 10,729 immigrants came to Canada against 23,880 during the same period of the previous year.

In consequence of the existing conditions, there was, said Mr. Beatty, a general and deep-rooted feeling of railway uneasiness, for the elimination of duplicate services and the utilization where feasible of joint facilities...

IS COOLER WITH MERCURY AT 75 IN CITY TODAY

Yesterday's Conditions Unlikely to Obtain Again For Some Time

CITY RECORD WAS ALMOST REACHED

Thermometer Here on Thursday Afternoon Showed 88.7

The heat wave was broken so far as Saint John was concerned, D. L. Hutchinson, director of the local observatory, said at noon today, and it was not likely that we would have a recurrence of the intense heat for some time.

EXTREME YESTERDAY

The majority of Saint John people made up their minds yesterday afternoon that the equator had suddenly shifted and had decided to locate in this vicinity for all at once the mercury shot up to 88.7, within touching distance of the highest temperature ever recorded here.

SHAD FLIES COME

The arrival of those unpleasantly crawling things, commonly called shad flies, was another of the indications of unusually hot weather.

trial parts being less afflicted with their presence.

A noticeable feature of the weather was the marked contrast between indoors and outdoors. In passing from stores into the street one experienced a distinct sensation of going from a relatively cool into a decidedly hot environment.

CAME SUDDENLY ON CITY.

D. L. Hutchinson, director of the Meteorological Observatory, said last night that heat waves always came suddenly, and that the wave which swept over New Brunswick had been moving in this direction from the western sections of Canada.

UP 40 DEGREES IN FEW HOURS.

The heat wave was felt throughout the west and along the Eastern coast of Canada and the United States. While the highest temperature reported from New Brunswick was 92 degrees in St. Stephen, in Boston the official report was 98.4 degrees.

HEAT EVERYWHERE INTENSE.

Motorists who came into Saint John from surrounding districts reported that the heat was everywhere intense. While there were whitecaps on the Kennebecasis River, the wind off the water had no cooling effect on it.

The Chicago Way.

(New York Times.) About all of the absurdities, all of the evils and all of the impediments to the course of justice that have accumulated around the method of selecting juries for the trial of criminal cases are in course of illustration out in Chicago.

Only on two occasions since records of weather have been kept in Saint John has that figure been exceeded.

In July 1881 and again in July of 1887, the thermometer registered 89.9 degrees. The heat abated very little after the setting of the sun and at 10 o'clock the Observatory thermometer registered 76 degrees.

BOXERS ALL SET FOR BOUT TONIGHT

Opinion Equally Divided as to Outcome of Gibbons-Tunney Fight.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Two of the leaders in the heavyweight ranks, who have been tugging at the mantle of Jack Dempsey, will square off tonight at the Polo Grounds in a fifteen round bout to a decision. They are Gene Tunney, of New York, and Tom Gibbons, of St. Paul. It will be a meeting of two veterans of the great war, two exponents of the same fighting style, and two clean cut warriors whose records place them on a footing so even that opinion is equally divided as to the outcome.

Two weeks from tonight, a second pair of heavyweight contenders will be seen by a metropolitan audience. They will be Harry Wills, negro challenger, accepted as an outstanding opponent for Dempsey by the boxing board, and Charlie Weinert, of Newark, N. J., conqueror of Luis Firpo.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Disqualification of principals for fouling terminated two main bouts at the Dexter Stadium last night. Danny Kramer, of Philadelphia, receiving a decision over Joe Leopold, of Denver, Colo., and Joe Glick, of Brooklyn, winning from Bobby Garcia, of the army. All four fighters are featherweight. Kramer fell to the canvas groaning in the fourth round after having led his opponent on points in the first three rounds, while Glick, who had been struck low, the referee upheld the complaining boxers in both cases.

38 HURLERS GET ROUGH HANDLING FROM BATSMEN

15 Home Runs Made, Hornsby Ties With Meusel, of Yankees

NEW YORK, June 5.—New batting laurels out the major leagues today. Rogers Hornsby, Cardinal manager, is tied for the season's total home runs with Bob Meusel of the Yankees at 15.

Five pitchers were used by the Browns in a fruitless effort to stave off an 11 to 10 defeat at Cleveland. Hendrick smashed a triple with three men on the socks and two out in the ninth, giving the Indians a victory.

In spite of Hornsby's homers the Giants turned out an 11 to 10 victory in a game replete with loose pitching and heavy slugging at St. Louis. New York used four pitchers and the Cards three. Four Phillie boxmen were victims, as Pittsburgh won, 16 to 8.

"Buckey" Harris Has Laugh On Critics Who Twitted Him About His "Old Men's Home"

NEW YORK, June 5.—Major league managers had a lot of fun kidding young Buckey Harris last winter about the old men's home that he was making out of the Washington Senators. They maintained that if a player lived long enough and played 15 or 20 years, he would qualify for a place with the world's champions.

Harris needed some reserve material and some experienced pitchers and he couldn't find them that he wanted in the minor leagues, so he did the best he could and grabbed up the players that no one else wanted in the majors. He got Stan Coveleski, the veteran siphoned from Cleveland after he had been waived on by all the other clubs, and he picked Mike McNally up from the Boston Red Sox.

These cast-offs, through the habits that cast-offs seem to have in getting new life with a change of scenery, may be the means of winning another pennant for Washington. Harris may have some of the best of the best in the league now had with venerable players on the Brooklyn Robins. It has become a legend that a player isn't eligible for the Robins unless he has been voted at least ten or fifteen times.

SAINTS SCORE FIRST WIN OF SEASON

Defeated The Alerts on East End by a 9 to 7 Count.

For the first time since the local professional league has been underway, the Alerts were romped home with the laurel wreath last night and sent the Alerts homeward bound with the smallest end of a 9-7 score. The North End boys brought in five runs in the third inning and kept the lead for the remainder of the game.

In the eighth act the Alerts adopted the hit-and-run policy on a larger scale than in the preceding battles of the war, two angles and O'Regan's error choking the route. A base on balls, a two-base hit by Lawlor, Garnett's error and O'Connor's misjudgment accounted for five runs.

Beatty burned them in for the Saints and confined the Alerts to nine safe ones. Davis and Parlee started for the East End aggregation, but Lawlor was put in in the Saints and pitched for the remainder of the game.

AMERICAN BOYS TURNING AWAY FROM BASEBALL

So Says Noted Sport Writer in Arresting Article Recently

By HENRY FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, June 5.—Some time ago the major league club owners were asked for funds to buy equipment for the corner lots and the sand diamonds that the youthful interest in baseball might be maintained.

Miller Huggins traded Urban Shocker to the St. Louis Browns and he had to give up three players and a nice bunch of cash to get him back with the club at a time when Shocker was passing his prime.

Sherry Smith got away from the Brooklyn Robins and he is now pitching winning ball for the Cleveland Indians. Rip Collins left the Yankees and became one of Ty Cobb's best pitchers in Detroit. Jack Scott was turned loose by the Boston Braves and was released from the Cincinnati Reds when doctors said his arm was so bad he never could pitch again.

Roger Peckinpaugh, Lefty Mordridge and Muddy Ruel were released to the Washington Senators by the New York Yankees and the Yanks would give anything to get Peck and Ruel back with the club. Everett Scott, who took Peck's place, is all through and the Senators are looking for a replacement in such bad shape that Miller Huggins had to enlist Steve O'Neill when the Cleveland and Boston clubs had passed him up as being too old and too slow.

When this discussion arose we suggested that means are available for the magnets to keep the kids interested in baseball. We know that the kids do not provide space large enough to lay out a diamond. The magnets could keep the kids talking baseball—even if they didn't play it—by cutting the prices of admission so that the youngsters could see more games.

Most of the club owners probably thought the idea of letting the kids might be a dangerous precedent because if young Johnny could get in at a reduced rate, John, Sr., also might want some bargains.

Bobby Quinn, the popular and enterprising president of the Boston Red Sox, was game enough to try the experiment. He let the larger cities do not provide space large enough to lay out a diamond. The magnets could keep the kids talking baseball—even if they didn't play it—by cutting the prices of admission so that the youngsters could see more games.

"Eddie" Sterling Gives St. John The Baptists a Set Back, 8 to 7.

There is a little story to be told in connection with last night's verdict on the South End grounds in favor of the Saint Johns over the St. John Baptists, 8 to 7. Much interest had been caused by the announcement that "Eddie" Sterling would try a comeback stunt and that he finally accomplished it successfully.

For a time, however, it looked as though the Baptists would walk off with the game. Going into the fifth, they led 7 to 2, but the Saint Johns managed to wipe that out by scoring six more runs.

PROS PLAY SATURDAY

With last night's professional fixture apparently getting the pro league finally started, the Alerts and Alerts are scheduled for a double-header on Saturday evening, when some good afternoon game commencing at 2:45 o'clock and the twilight meeting at 6:45 sharp. King will probably take charge of the pitching burden for the Alerts in the afternoon, with either Davis or Lawlor looking after the night's performance. Either Boyne or Johnston may show their pitching wares for the North End lads tomorrow afternoon, with Beatty in reserve for the second game.

HUGE BUILDING IS WANTED FOR THE NEW LOOP

Organizers of Proposed International League In Real Earnest

TORONTO, June 5.—If anything were needed to indicate that the proposed new international professional hockey league is a matter of real earnest with the promoters, a recent conference of the Toronto moguls with the Toronto Board of Control seems enough.

At a special meeting of the board, called for the purpose, Messrs. Livingstone, Quinn and Cameron, original sponsors of the new league here, applied for the use of the civic coliseum in the Canadian National Exhibition Park. This great building, covering eight and one-half acres, is larger than Madison Square Garden and admirably adapted in its huge amphitheatre to the purposes of hockey. The Livingstone-Quinn-Cameron combination are to have another conference with the board next week, when the matter will be finally disposed of.

The lessees are to have the premises from December 1, each year, to April 15 of the following year, for a period of 10 years. The city is to receive in return 20 per cent. of the gross receipts for the first two years, or $12,000 per annum, whichever is the greater; in each of the next four years, 25 per cent., or $15,000 per year, whichever is the greater; in each of the last four years, 25 per cent., or $20,000 per year, whichever is the greater. The books and accounts of the lessees shall at all times be open to the inspection of the city. Passes and complimentary tickets cannot be issued without the consent of the city.

The city must provide suitable dressing room accommodation, additional ice plant capacity and a hockey cushion at an estimated cost of $18,000. The lessees covenant to pay rent and to pay a business tax of $1,500 in each of the first years, and also to pay all taxes and charges.

The lessees are to forthwith install in the premises a complete and sufficient ice plant, and a hockey cushion at an estimated cost of $50,000, promptly paying the cost thereof and keeping it free from any claims or liens. Cost of installation and removal each year and restoration of the Coliseum premises to their present condition is to be paid by the lessees.

GOOD SALMON CATCH

Salmon fishing has begun at Lorneville with a splendid catch for the time of year, the men report. It is a week earlier than usual, they say, and for that reason they consider the quantity of salmon caught to be very satisfactory. Every fisherman in Lorneville is hard at it to catch salmon while season lasts, and to get them in the early part of the season to get the good prices.

NAME OMITTED

In the report of the track and field meet held at Sussex on June 3, the name of A. J. Sollows, Hampton, was unintentionally omitted among the officials. Mr. Sollows, who is secretary for the Kings county school athletic association, held the position of inspector and clerk of the course at the Sussex meet.

BEATTY SAYS C.P.R. TO UPHOLD CONFEDERATION

Road President Sounds Note of Optimism at Manufacturers' Banquet

SAYS TARIFF VITAL QUESTION TO CANADA

Cites Example of United States as to Importance of Proper Measures.

HAMILTON, June 4.—"So long as the Canadian Pacific Railway has a dollar left in its treasury it will fight for the ideals, uphold the faith and maintain the precious heritage of Confederation," declared E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the company here tonight at the conclusion of an address to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, at the banquet which terminated its annual convention.

Mr. Beatty spoke on national affairs, paying particular attention to the railway situation and he took occasion to sound a note of optimism regarding the outlook for the future that brought forth a hearty response from the several hundred manufacturers present at the dinner.

TOUCHES ON TARIFF.

In his opening remarks Mr. Beatty touched upon the problems of the manufacturers and made special reference to that presented by the tariff. "Without dealing with that question, complicated and difficult of accurate appreciation as it is, and too political to be discussed by me," he said, "I may say that anyone who has lived in this eastern portion of Canada who does not recognize its significance, is woefully uninformed of the history of countries similarly situated, and I should say uncomprehensive of the history of the great republic to the south of us who have the unenviable instinct of adopting policies which add to their own prosperity and whose progress are impressive evidence of the accuracy of their commercial reasoning."

CONSEQUENCES OF TARIFF.

"The tariff," he said, "should not be the subject of academic debate to be determined by one political economist or another. It is a question which must be determined by its consequences on the commercial and industrial life of the whole country and while there are many men in Canada who honestly believe that a policy of little or no protection at all in the one which will benefit the greatest number of people. I am disposed to think that not one of them would adhere to that view if they were convinced that national prosperity followed in its wake. A tariff, necessary and not abused, would be accepted by most Canadians if they found resultant prosperity to the country the inevitable consequence and the duty and perhaps the right duty of the Canadian manufacturers is to analyze and expose the extent of the burden created by it and the benefits secured therefrom."

GOLD STANDARD OPPOSED

In a speech which aimed to present in simple form several of the questions of the day of mutual interest to bankers and manufacturers Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bankers Association, came out quite frankly in opposition to adoption by Canada of the gold standard at the present time. It would necessitate the establishment in New York of a large credit, he declared, which would cost the country a substantial sum so long as the credit had to be maintained. Great Britain, since the declaration for a gold basis, was steadily buying gold and this was costly. Canada could well afford to wait the outcome of Great Britain's venture. Sir John Aird also voiced an earnest protest against any repeal of the finance act, which came into operation within 48 hours of the beginning of the war, and which between 1914 and 1924, had brought in over $15,000,000 to the treasury without one dollar's cost to the country.

The Tariff Report

The tariff committee's report was, in part, as follows:

Canada is the only country in the world that has consistently pursued a policy of reducing her customs tariff since the war period.

Official announcements recently issued from London and Washington state the reasons given by other countries for increasing customs imports tariffs as follows:

(1) To protect domestic industries against the importation of foreign competitive products.

(2) To encourage the strong nationalistic sentiment engendered by the war, which aimed to make each nation economically self-dependent to the fullest extent possible.

(3) To increase the national income without extra cost, because custom houses have to be maintained whether the tariff is for revenue or for protection.

(4) To meet the increased need for funds to pay the heavy burden of governmental debts incurred during the war.

(5) To provide additional freight for national transportation systems.

(6) To provide a safe basis for making reductions in bargaining with other countries for preferred markets for exportable commodities without permitting such preferential tariff reductions to cripple domestic industries.

(7) In brief, to give maximum employment and prosperity at home.

MANY INCREASES.

Since the last annual general meeting 23 countries have increased the rates in their customs tariffs. Since the war 30 countries have increased their tariff rates. These increases are not small percentages. In many cases the tariff rates have been increased two, three and four hundred per cent, and in a few cases over 1,000 per cent. Some countries still prohibit by embargo various importations that would injure their producers. While tariffs have been rising throughout the world, regulations governing their administration have become more strict. Practically all countries have greatly increased the protection for their home markets. They have been shutting out more and more the products of other countries, and have been encouraging their people to use their own products.

UNITED KINGDOM.

During the after the war the United Kingdom adopted certain definite protective measures. These were partially removed by the abolition of the McKenna duties, effective August 2, 1924; but the present Government of the United Kingdom has introduced a new Safeguarding of Industries Act, under which it is proposed to provide protection for home industries suffering from exceptional competition from abroad arising from such things as depreciated exchanges, bounties or subsidies, lower wages or longer hours.

UNITED STATES.

In May, 1921, the Fordney Emergency Tariff relating to agricultural products went into effect in the United States and the Fordney-McCumber Tariff, covering a complete revision upward of the United States tariff, went into force on September 22, 1922. In 1920, the first year of the old United States tariff, the Democratic or low tariff, the dutiable imports into the United States were valued at $1,985,000,000, and the amount of customs duty collected was $825,645,865; in 1923 the first full year under the present United States tariff, the value of the dutiable imports into the United States was $1,656,110,659, and the amount of duty collected was $892,764,105. The value of dutiable imports in 1923 was reduced more than $300,000,000 below the value of the dutiable imports in 1920, but the customs duty collected in 1923 was $267,900,000 greater than in 1920. In other words, the increased tariff resulted in a large increase in revenue to the country. In the same time there was a decrease in the quantity of dutiable goods imported.

CANADA POLICY.

Contrast the policy followed by Canada with that followed by the United States.

In the spring of 1919 the Canadian Customs tariff was reduced, and in every year since, except 1921, there have been important tariff reductions.

In the fiscal year 1919-20, the value

When Pola Negri got to Paris she found her short American bob wasn't quite the latest thing. So Pola promptly got three jumps ahead of everybody else by introducing this silver band turban, which not only concealed her bob but put her right in fashion's front rank.

was $689,655,165, and the duty collected on the dutiable imports into Canada was $187,324,181. In the fiscal year 1922-24, the value of the dutiable imports was $911,426,607, but the duty collected amounted only to $134,114,834. In the twelve months ending March 31st, 1925, the value of the dutiable imports into Canada was $815,984,729, and the duties collected amounted to $120,215,655.

The reductions in the tariff of Canada have resulted in a greatly reduced customs revenue.

1925 BUDGET.

During this session, Parliament reduced the customs duties on marine engines, well-drilling machinery, and farm and logging sleighs. There were also reductions in duty on imported materials used in making articles on which the tariff has recently been reduced or removed. Reports received from the Canadian industries concerned indicate that the capital invested, and the employes engaged will suffer as the result of these tariff reductions.

The duty on bituminous slack coal was increased from 18 cents to 50 cents per ton. When this matter was discussed, the Association took the position that the coal mining industry would have necessary protection. While the Association favors the protection for the coal industry as well as other industries, it is regretted that the Government did not see fit to provide compensating protection to those manufacturing concerns which must continue to import bituminous coal, and which will have their costs of production increased by the extent of the additional duty imposed, and also that the Government has not provided drawback arrangements for duty paid on bituminous coal imported to manufacture goods for export.

VALUATION.

Customs appraisers in the customs houses of Canada are required by law to appraise goods at the fair market value thereof, as sold in the open market to purchasers for home consumption in the country of export. In practice, however, these customs appraisers have to depend very largely on the evidence as to what this fair market value really is. They are put in this position because the Department maintains inspectors for the purpose of investigating and reporting on the fair market value of such goods only in the United States and in Great Britain. There is only one officer in Great Britain, and it is obviously impossible for him to investigate the fair market value of goods sold in European countries or even extensively in the United Kingdom. In the United States there are six investigating officers representing the Canadian Customs, but it is physically impossible for them to report on more than a fraction of the goods imported from the United States to Canada. In Europe it is almost impossible for Canadian Customs officers to gain access to the books of exporters; and, consequently, even if additional officers were appointed, it is doubtful if their efforts would be effective. As the result of these conditions, goods have been coming into Canada in large quantities from all countries at valuations lower than would prevail if the law were capable of enforcement. As a matter of fact, the Canadian law has been entirely inadequate to provide against the undervaluation of imported goods in conditions arising out of and following the war. Other countries have taken necessary steps to safeguard themselves. The United States, for example, has the power to value imported goods at the value of like goods made and sold in the United States.

DEPRECIATED CURRENCIES.

Many Canadian industries are still suffering from the competition of goods imported from other countries where the currencies are greatly depreciated. The Canadian law against depreciated currencies only applies to imports from Czechoslovakia, Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, and Russia. It ceased to apply to Germany after Germany adopted a gold standard. It has never been applied against Belgium, France, Italy or Spain; and yet the currencies of all these countries are considerably depreciated, and, consequently, Canadian producers are experiencing unfair competition from many kinds of goods exported to Canada from these countries.

SMUGGLING.

Another important matter which has been receiving the attention of your committee during recent years is that of smuggling.

It has been estimated by the Minister of Customs that $50,000,000 worth of goods are smuggled into Canada annually. What does this mean to Canada?

To the Government it means a loss of revenue of millions annually.

To Canadian manufacturers it means a loss of business, because the greater part of smuggled goods could have been made in Canada.

To Canadian workmen and their families it means unemployment.

Smuggling has driven legitimate concerns out of business, and is threatening the existence of certain industries.

The association, in co-operation with other organizations, is doing everything in its power to put a stop to this menace. It has been urging the Government to put forth greater efforts to suppress smuggling, and to deal drastically with offenders against our revenue laws.

During the past few months the association has made further representations to the Government, asking for the employment of additional capable investigators whose time shall be entirely devoted to the prevention of smuggling, and to the detection of other frauds on the revenue, and the association has further recommended that such appointments should be made upon the recommendation of the Minister of Customs and Excise, instead of through the Civil Service Commission. If the appointments were made by the Civil Service Commission, they would be public property, and the identity of the officers employed would become known to the smugglers, whereas, if appointed by the Minister, there would be no such publicity.

CUSTOMS ACT.

The Association also recommended that the Customs Act should be strengthened. As the Government recently announced its intention of introducing legislation to amend the Act, the association drafted amendments. To do this it was necessary to make a most careful study of the Act and of certain portions of the Criminal Code. The recommendations put forward by the association have been placed in the hands of the Government, and it is hoped that the Government, before the close of the present session, will enact legislation along the lines suggested. Among other things it was recommended that smuggling carried on for profit on a commercial scale, and that deliberate attempt to defraud the revenue by other means be made indictable offences punishable with imprisonment without the option of a fine.

SALES TAX.

Evidence accumulates to show that the Sales Tax is an unsound method of taxation, and should be abolished in the national interests. It is still an experiment. Few countries have tried it. Leading industrial countries, such as the United Kingdom and the United States, investigated its possibilities and refused to adopt it. It is not a sufficient answer to ask how the revenue will be raised if the Sales Tax is abolished. The United States and other countries secure their necessary revenues without it. Faced with the necessity of raising more revenue, and at the same time protecting their own producers, the United States increased their tariff and refused to adopt the Sales Tax.

TWO CHECKS OF WINNIPEG IN COURT HERE

Hearing in Rabinovitch Matter Is Adjourned Until Tuesday

SETTLEMENT TALK IS MENTIONED

Counsel for Men Object to Adjournment of Hearing in Case.

Myer and Leon Chechik, business men of Winnipeg and natives of Russia, arrived in the city this morning for hearing in charge of Sergeant-Detective John Power and were taken before Police Magistrate Henderson on a charge of conspiring to defraud Harry Rabinovitch at the present time residing in Montreal. F. R. Taylor, K. C. and C. H. Locke, K. C., the latter the prisoners' Winnipeg legal representative appeared for the accused and Arthur N. Carter, of Baxter, Lewin, Carter and Hutton, appeared for Mr. Rabinovitch. Adjournment was taken to Tuesday morning at 10.30 o'clock.

HEARING BEGUN

Mr. Carter opened the case this morning and asked for adjournment because his firm's client, Mr. Rabinovitch, is in Montreal. An adjournment would give him time to collect the evidence and procure witnesses, Mr. Carter said. Mr. Taylor, counsel for the defence, remarked that, as Rabinovitch was speaking with Sergeant-Detective Power, as the latter was passing through Montreal yesterday, on his way here, he would be well aware that he (Rabinovitch) should have been in Saint John this morning. Mr. Taylor said the case was one of blackmail directed against his clients. As Messrs. Chechik had their Winnipeg business interests in jeopardy after, and as they were losing valuable time while being held here, Mr. Taylor said that he thought it unfair to ask for an adjournment.

Mr. Locke said that since the accused had left Winnipeg for this city he had been spoken to by a solicitor engaged by Rabinovitch, but had taken no part whatever in discussions regarding settlement. Yesterday at Montreal Mr. Rabinovitch and his lawyers there, consulted with Mr. Locke and Sergeant-Detective Power was asked to hold the Chechiks over in Montreal in order to give Mr. Rabinovitch an opportunity to discuss possible settlement of the case with them. This the official refused to do.

In the early months of 1924, Mr. Locke said, Mr. Rabinovitch expressed the release of Leon Chechik from all charges that the former had against him as regards the sale of certain goods, Rabinovitch and Chechik being partners in the transaction. Mr. Locke appealed to Magistrate Henderson, if there was to be an adjournment to set the case for tomorrow or Monday at the latest. Mr. Carter said, in answer to a question put by Magistrate Henderson, that he had received no instructions from Hon. Mr. Baxter regarding the case, and that Mr. Baxter was now in Ottawa. Mr. Carter asked for a week's grace in which to collect his witnesses and evidence.

His Honor postponed the hearing until Tuesday morning at 10.30 o'clock on Mr. Locke's guarantee to produce his clients in court. At this Mr. Carter agreed to waive request for bail.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I gave thanks last evening to the Loyalists." "We all orto do that," said Hiram. "I thanked them," said the reporter, "for King Square. I sat for a long time in a bench in that lovely square, enjoying the delightful air after the heat of the day. I thanked the Com. Frink, too, for making the square so attractive in appearance. But most I thanked the Loyalists, who decreed that there should be an open square for the joy of the generations after them. Beside me sat a citizen, the body of whose great-great-grandfather was the first ever laid to rest in a long time in an adjoining burial ground. The Loyalists landed on these shores. My companion thus linked up the present with the storied past. Do we cherish that past?" "No, sir," said Hiram, "we don't. But I'm hopin' folks that hes old papers an' records'll send 'em in when Doc Doughty gets that there archives place fixed up good—so's they kin be kep' for all time—yes, sir."

Letter to Sister Tells of Attendance at Canonization in Rome on May 17.

A letter from Rev. W. M. Duke, rector of the Cathedral, written in Rome, came to his sister here in the mail this morning and was the first received from the Eternal City written by one of the party accompanying His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc on the Holy Year pilgrimage. Father Duke's letter was descriptive of places visited on the way to Rome, including a stop at Algiers. It told of the end of the voyage of their ship, the Patria, at Naples, and of the pleasure the sea journey had given all. But after 17 days at sea it was pleasant to change to rail transportation at Naples and travel thence to Rome. They left Naples at 9 o'clock on the morning of Saturday, May 16, and arrived in Rome at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

AT CANONIZATION

Next day, Sunday, they attended the canonization of Blessed Theresa, "The Little Flower." The ceremony began at 8 o'clock in the morning and was concluded at 1.45 p. m., nearly six hours. Father Duke speaks of it as wonderfully impressive.

His letter gives much detail of daily events of the journey to Rome and the incidents of their life there up to the time of writing. The requirements of the pilgrimage were yet to be met before they would leave on visits to other places before starting for home. It had been arranged, however, that the party from Saint John would sail for home from Belfast on the S. S. Regina on June 19 and would reach here near the end of this month.

START PAVING NEXT MONDAY MORNING

Street Car Service Will be Changed on St. James Street.

Commissioner Frink announced this morning that work on the paving of St. James street would be begun on Monday morning. The track section will be paved first and after that has been completed one side of the street will be paved at a time so that traffic will not be tied up altogether.

The New Brunswick Power Company said this morning that while the paving was being carried on in the track section they would run the green cars down Britain street, from Wentworth to Prince William, putting in a cross over at the foot of Prince William street to run them back on the other track on that street.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on the new Fair Vale diamond, Fair Vale residents will have an opportunity of seeing the community's baseball representatives in action against the M. R. A. Ltd., team of the local Commercial League.
