STARVING INDIANS.

Whisky Peddlers Add to the Horrors of Nome. PORT TOWNSEND, Wn., Sept. 25.—According to reports from Nome, brought by the steamer Oregon, the Indians in that section are threatened with starvation.

The Indians have again camped on the beach, generally in a drunken stupor, allowing the season to pass in which they could lay in supplies of fish for use during the winter period. Unless they are assisted by the government it is said suffering and starvation will surely follow.

Destitute miners from outlying districts are arriving at Nome. The United States steamer Bear on August 31 landed 13 men at Nome.

SHOT TO DEATH.

Particulars of the Death of Claude Law at Canterbury Station.

CANTERBURY STATION, Sept. 24.—One of the saddest and most pathetic incidents in the history of this village occurred on the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 22, about a mile from the station, near what is known as Eatey Lake.

About one o'clock p. m., a resident of the place, Mansfield Grant, by name, taking a Snider-Enfield rifle, started down the C. P. R. track toward the lake, for an afternoon's hunt.

Shortly after Mr. Grant left the station another hunting party, consisting of John London, Chas. London, his little nephew and Claude Law, the thirteen-year-old son of James S. Law, all residents of the village, started toward the same lake, along the old road, which was Mr. Grant.

Monday forenoon an inquest was held, the above statements being chiefly based on evidence then brought forth. The jury brought in a verdict which, so far as the writer's knowledge goes, merely condemns the above narrative, adding that Mr. Grant should not have shot until he saw what he was aiming at.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BROTHER.

Two brothers residing at Mount Stewart went duck shooting a few days ago with the determination to exterminate all aquatic birds over the aboiteau. By mutual agreement each was to proceed along respective sides of the river. Finally the elder beholdingly based on evidence then brought forth. The jury brought in a verdict which, so far as the writer's knowledge goes, merely condemns the above narrative, adding that Mr. Grant should not have shot until he saw what he was aiming at.

A DARING ESCAPE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Two women prisoners at the Raymond street jail in this city, have escaped. The mere fact might not be remarkable, but the manner of the escape was daring, for many obstacles stood in the way of the plan.

A STREET FIGHT.

Between twelve and one o'clock today David Hennessey, who some time ago made a name for himself by using a razor on his brother, and Jeremiah Daly had a difference of opinion on Mill street. Unable to agree amicably, they attempted to settle it with their fists, but were disagreeably interrupted by the thoughtless police, who arrested both. Sergt. Watson of the north end took charge of Hennessey, who sought hold of a fence, and kicking backwards, attempted to do serious injury to the officer's shins.

SHOT HIMSELF

Rather Than Be Lynched for the Murder of His Sweetheart.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 25.—A special to the Times from Rome, Mo., says: Surrounded in a barn, but a few blocks from the scene of his crime, Prof. J. S. Crowell, who Monday night murdered his sweetheart, Miss Mollie Powell, a prominent young woman of this city, last night sent a bullet through his own heart, to prevent being lynched by a mob.

Crowell was located last night in a barn near the centre of the town where he had been hiding probably since his flight from the Powell home. When discovered he ran to another barn near by and here stood at bay. Just as the pistol was heard inside the building, and when the paraders broke in they found the murderer prone upon the floor. A bullet had pierced his heart.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS.

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 24.—A special from Bristol, Va., says: "Considerable excitement was created at Stonegap, Wise County, Va., yesterday when a dozen officers arrived in that town with 13 prisoners, whom they were taking to Pineville, Ky., to be placed in jail for safe-keeping until they can be brought to trial.

SEABOARD'S WAGES

United States Law Applies to Foreign Seamen

Admiralty Decision in Delaware Holds That no Wages of Sailors Who Ship in American Ports Shall Be Paid to Them or Any One Else Before Earned.

In the admiralty case of William Chambers against the British steamship Keator, tried in the United States court for the district of Delaware, a decision has been rendered in favor of the libellant, which gives to all foreign seamen shipping at United States ports on either foreign or United States ships the protection of the law against the preparation of a seaman's wages in himself or to anybody else before he has earned them.

The basis on which the captain arrived at the amount admitted by him to be due to the libellant was that the latter was entitled to receive only $10 during the first month, $30 during the second month and $17 for the remaining seven months amounting to the aggregate of $37, which after deducting the credit of $0.52, leaves a balance of $36.48.

The court's decision that the law is for the protection of foreign as well as American seamen is in part as follows: "It was necessary to the most effectual, or, indeed, to any substantial accomplishment of the purpose of the section, that a uniform rule should be applied alike to all seamen of whatever nationality shipping in American ports on vessels whether American or foreign."

"American seamen would thus be deprived of the protection which it is the purpose of the statute, as indicated by its title, to accord them. Further, such a narrow construction of the section would, on the prosecution of any master, owner, consignee or agent of any foreign vessel who has violated its provisions, necessitate proof on the part of the government of the scienter as to the nationality of the seaman, and such proof frequently would be difficult, if not impossible, to furnish. But if the section be held to apply uniformly to all seamen of whatever nationality shipping in American ports on merchant vessels, whether American or foreign, the difficulties, evasions, and frauds, induced by or resulting from the narrower construction, are removed, and the law will serve as a much more efficient instrument for the accomplishment of the broad purposes for which it was intended."

REMEDY FOR YELLOWISHM

Don't Buy Its Neighbors, Don't Advertise in Them, Pastor Says.

The Rev. Dr. Carstensen, who occupied the pulpit at All Souls' Church, sixty-sixth street and Madison avenue New York, last Sunday morning, denounced "yellow journalism."

"I will add nothing to-day to the righteous indignation of the nation toward that traitor to man and God who assassinated President McKinley. I will add nothing, because nothing is necessary. I will add nothing to the condemnation toward an unbridled press which, by misrepresentation and messages of hatred, has done more than its share in bringing on this calamity. Still it is, perhaps, partly our fault for supporting such newspapers. When I spend a single copper cent for one I feel that I have encouraged anarchy."

"The cause of journalism is the cause of base desires, and it is encouraged by our purchases, our advertisements and perhaps our contributions to its columns. The remedy is simple. Withdraw your support. Let the circulation diminish at the rate of 100 a day. Let the advertisements of several large firms be taken away and the paper is sure to suffer. It is a remedy more efficient than the passing of laws."

RECOVERED FROM RIVER

Mr. Pierce's wallet went to the bottom at Hoboken, but was reclaimed.

A wallet containing $5,000 worth of diamonds and $300 in money was recovered the other day from the bottom of the Hudson River at the Lackawanna pier in Hoboken, by a diver employed by the Merritt-Chapman Wrecking Company. The diamonds and money are the property of John Pierce of Mountain avenue, Montclair, N. J. Mr. Pierce and his wife were out on the river on the steam yacht Seneca on Saturday afternoon and put in on the Lackawanna pier. They were walking down the gangway when the yacht lurched, and Mr. Pierce in recovering himself dropped the wallet, which he carried in his hand, into the river.

He notified the Hoboken police, and a patrolman was stationed at the pier to see that no attempt was made to recover the wallet until the arrival of the diver from the wrecking company.

MORNING'S NEWS

LOCAL

A letter from an insurance man at St. John's, Nfld., says the loss by the recent fire will amount to fully $500,000.

Last evening a surprise party was held at the home of John Jenkins, Long wharf, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Jenkins' mother, Mrs. Margaret Kilien. About forty guests were present. The large number of useful and ornamental presents bestowed attested to the popularity of the surprised and delighted Mrs. Kilien among her friends.

The congregation of the Carleton Presbyterian church gave a reception last evening to their pastor, Rev. James Burgess, and his bride, who have recently returned from their wedding trip. The basement of the church was filled and a very pleasant evening was spent. There was a short programme and refreshments were served by an efficient committee.

The Carleton Cornet band opened their annual bazaar in the City Hall last evening. As usual, the room was tastefully decorated and plenty of games were provided, which found ready patronage. The band offered handsome silver services as the prize for the winning admission ticket. It is their intention to have leading features for each night of the bazaar. The high class dancing will be given by the terpsichorean art.

The Pacific express last evening had a carload of oysters for Montreal. The car was taken on at Sackville and came over the New Brunswick and P. E. Island railway from the Straits.

Contractor Thomas Gilliland has finished the building of the new Jenkins' wharf at the Belleisle. The new structure is 200 feet long and 40 feet wide, and had been so built that it will serve the steamers at freshet time as well as at low water. Mr. Gilliland has now commenced work building a new wharf at Gondola Point, on the Kennebec River.

Dr. Wilnot, formerly of the General Hospital staff, left yesterday afternoon for Montreal, where he will take passage for England. He has accepted the post of physician on one of the Elder-Desjardis steamers plying between Great Britain and West Africa. His successor in the hospital will not yet be appointed, although it is generally rumored that Dr. Bayfield, of P. E. Island, will be chosen.

A party consisting of Messrs. James Hume of Belleisle, L. C. Sutherland of New York and Oram Mabee of St. John have been hunting at Belleisle. Mr. Mabee bagged 25 partridges and two coons, while the others have almost as good a record.

Mr. Barrett of New York reached the city last night, bringing with him a deer and a dozen partridges, caught at Bonny River. He is a friend of Sir Thomas Lipton, to whom he intends presenting the result of his gunning in the province.

MONTREAL, Sept. 24.—The story was that the Government recommended that the nightclubs be conferred on the mayor of Quebec and Montreal and Senator Drummond Ayer Frothingham was asked to tell what he knew this morning and replied: "It is quite correct. The government recommended the three names in question, but the governor general, without consulting his prime minister, undertook to change the recommendation. Such a thing was unheard of before."
