CAMP BONAVENTURE AT NEW MILLS AUSPICIOUSLY OPENED LAST SATURDAY MORNING

Forty Youthful Vacationists In Camp—Several Older Guests To Spend Summer at New Mills—
J. D. Littlefield of Cleveland Heads Camp Council Associated With Several Other Notables—A Great Program And Every Facility For An Enjoyable Holiday Provided For.

In Camp Bonaventure at New Mills which was opened to its summer guests on Saturday morning last, Restigouche now has a Summer Camp for boys which will compare favorably with the best institutions of this kind anywhere and, incidentally, one that the people of this part of the country may well be proud of.

Although the officials of the new camp did not at first expect more than 25 or 30 guests this season, 40 boys were on hand for the opening. In addition to this large number of youthful vacationists, several older guests who will summer at New Mills were also present.

Having been tendered a special invitation, a Graphic representative arrived at New Mills on the morning train and had breakfast in the camp where he was extended every courtesy by the officials.

A Success
Even a brief visit to Camp Bonaventure assures one that this worthy undertaking will be a success. With such a thoroughly up-to-date and splendidly equipped camp so admirably located and operated under the supervision of such capable men as its present promoters there is every reason to believe that Camp Bonaventure will, before long, out-grow even its present proportions and enjoy a very wide popularity among both American and Canadian parents who wish to have their boys enjoy a summer outing under the best possible conditions.

The Guests
Of the forty youthful guests at Camp Bonaventure this year, thirty-two are Cleveland boys. One of the remaining eight is a local lad while the others belong to Quebec River, Fredericton and other points within the province. The campers range in age from 9 to 19 years.

In addition to the camp there are three fine cottages near the camp site, all exceptionally fitted up for an enjoyable vacation. Two of these are already occupied. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ellis of Cleveland, who accompanied their son here have taken one of these. Mr. Ellis is manager of the Chemical Supply Co. in his home city. The other is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Zangerle of the same city who also accompanied their boys to Camp Bonaventure. Mr. Zangerle is County Auditor at Cleveland.

Competent Staff
One of the notable things of staff of Camp Bonaventure is its staff of officials. Mr. H. J. Gilman of the D. W. Hoegg Co., New Mills, is the business manager and in a locality where Mr. Gilman is so well known, further comment is unnecessary. Mr. J. D. Littlefield of Cleveland is Camp Director. Mr. Littlefield has had many years experience in boys work and under his direction the success of this new venture is practically assured.

With Mr. Littlefield is associated a council of executives of proven ability. These include Messrs. Raymond Hill, Jerry Ensign, William Segar, Ralph Confield, Jack Kennedy, Charlie Scott of Rothesay College and Sam Willman, noted athlete of Ames College, Ames, Iowa, who will be in charge of athletics at Camp Bonaventure. Dr. McKimlin of Charlottetown, N. S. and now connected with the Harvard Medical School, is spending the summer at New Mills and will be First Aid Instructor.

A Great Program
A great summer holiday program has been arranged for the guests of Camp Bonaventure. Every facility has been provided for a memorable vacation. Sport of every kind will have a place on the program and various motor boat excursions and expeditions to the haunts of wild life are also being provided for.

CARD OF THANKS
Mrs. Allen Adams and family wish to thank their neighbors and friends for their kindness, and also Mr. Gordon for his kindness and care, during their recent sad bereavement.

REGULATION NEEDED
On Water Street today at about 1.30 there were twenty-five cars parked between the Subway and Cedar Street, some of them having been there for over an hour. Surely Campbellton's business street should be kept free of these parked cars.

HENRY DIOTTE OPPOSED CO. BILL

Statement By County Solicitor
Says Local M. P. P. Did Not Favor Protection.

At the Semi-Annual session of the Restigouche Municipal Council held at Dalhousie on Tuesday the statement was made by the County Solicitor, in answer to a question by Coun. Firth, that Henry Diotte, M. P. P., a member of the Corporations Committee, strongly opposed the county's bill asking that a tax be placed upon transient laborers who come into this county.

This bill was favored by the Municipal Council, and was asked for so that local ratepayers might have some protection from the large floating population which comes into this county during the summer months. These laborers come in after the assessment lists are prepared, and consequently escape without contributing anything towards the up-keep of our county.

No doubt Mr. Diotte will be called to task by the laborers of this county when he appears upon the hustings, for his stand in this matter.

SAVED CASH JOHN D. HANDED OUT

tate of $23,000.

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 3.—John D. Rockefeller used to give many of his shiny new dimes to Byran O'Loughlin, the old Irishman who tended the crossing at Pocantico. And at Christmas because the old man lived in a box car and seemed in need, Rockefeller would send him $10.00.

O'Loughlin who had lived in the box car for fourteen years, died this week and it was discovered he had saved the Rockefeller dimes and other dollars and had $23,000 in savings bank here and in New York.

PASSED EXAMINATIONS
An Ottawa despatch gives the results of the examinations held in various cities for the Canadian register, showing that the following New Brunswick doctors have passed with the qualification of L. M. C. A. Clark, Newcastle; J. Cruikshank, Saint John West; J. W. Dobson, Hillsboro; L. Fitzmaurice, Campbellton; L. Fitzpatrick, Warral; J. Sullivan, Saint John, and Dr. Thurber, Millerton.

HEAVY LOSS
On Sunday morning, June 14th, the house, mill and lumber owned by Wm. Arsenault at St. Francis, St. Alexs, Que., was entirely destroyed by fire. His loss is about $6,000 without insurance. Mr. Arsenault is endeavoring to rebuild and get back into business.

otherwise, and grade and clean up the court house lot.

Coun. Murchie complained that many patients at the Provincial Hospital were being paid for by the different parishes whereas they had property, or their keep had been provided for out of estates. He moved that the Legal adviser be instructed to search the records and endeavor to find out these cases. Carried.

Coun. Firth said that it had cost the county and towns of Restigouche $21,000 to keep the poor last year. He thought it was time something was done regarding a poor farm. He moved that the Warden appoint a committee to confer with other committees from Dalhousie and Campbellton, re poor farm—Motion Lost.

On motion the Sec-Treas. was instructed to transfer the accounts to the Royal Bank of Canada.

The Secretary-Treas. was authorized to insure the new court house for $40,000.

The Public Lands and Building Committee together with the Sec. Treas. were given authority to purchase the necessary furniture and equipment for the various departments of the New Court House.

The council then adjourned.

MAY ARRANGE TO PLAY HERE

Bathurst Tennis Club Asks For Tournament With Different Clubs In Campbellton.

Local tennis enthusiasts will learn with interest that officials of the Bathurst Tennis Club are anxious to arrange a tournament in Campbellton this season. July 25th has been suggested by them as a possible satisfactory date, for the event. It is understood that from 12 to 15 players from the paper town would participate in the matches here and it is hoped that the several local clubs may get together and co-operate in making the necessary arrangements. With this in view a meeting of all those interested in Tennis is being called for Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Town Hall to discuss the matter and formulate plans for the proposed tournament.

CHAUTAUQUA ENTERTAINMENTS MORE POPULAR THAN EVER

Program This Season Is Well Up To High Standard of Former Years—Performances Well Attended —Several Feature Events To Come.

With its third annual run in Campbellton, Summer Chautauqua is this year proving more popular than ever. And that this increasing popularity is well-merited is evident from attendance at the various entertainments enjoyed by local audiences this week.

Chautauqua opened here on Monday afternoon and the big tent, ideally located in a field near the Grammar School Building, has been the scene of a large attendance at every performance since. The evening entertainments have, of course, been the more largely attended and on several occasions the spacious tent has been too small to accommodate all Chautauqua patrons.

Of A High Order
The Chautauqua program this year has been of a high order. The various lectures, this year, as in the past, possess a distinct intellectual and educational value. The various musical numbers were all greatly enjoyed and the play, "Smilin' Thru" presented by a capable cast on Tuesday evening was one of the most popular items on the program.

The Opening Day
Those who attended Chautauqua on opening day were not likely to miss much of the remainder of the program. A musical concert of pleasing variety by "The Versatile Ladies Quintet" was much enjoyed at the afternoon entertainment while in the evening new pieces by this competent company were followed by a highly entertaining lecture by Arthur Wainwright Evans, whose gift as speaker won much favorable comment. Mr. Evans is a natural born entertainer and his extensive travel has evidently contrived to fit him most admirably for platform work. His lecture "Our Unconquered Kings" will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to be present on Monday evening.

The Second Day
The Chautauqua performances were even more largely attended on Tuesday the second day of their run in Campbellton. In the afternoon Mr. Carleton Chamberlayne was heard in a splendid lecture on "The Tyranny of Shams." Mr. Chamberlayne, who is a former editor and writer is a man of wide experience and enviable oratorical ability. His lecture here was a very thoughtful one and its more sober moments were well-balanced with much ready humor which evoked rounds of hearty laughter and applause.

"Smilin' Thru," the famous costume drama which made up the bill for Tuesday evening was a feature of the Chautauqua program here this season. Led by Grace Halsey Mills, an actress of notable histrionic ability the capable cast gave a most satisfactory interpretation of this charming play. The costumes were also exceptionally good.

Wednesday's Program
Wednesday's program was well up to the standard set by the preceding performances. The readings given by Miss Margaret McEllen, Chautauqua Superintendent, on Wednesday afternoon were very much enjoyed by those attending. Miss McEllen who has a charming personality has been most successful in Chautauqua work and her experience gained while with the Chautauqua Association have doubtless added much to her natural gifts as an entertainer and leader in activities of this kind. A concert of a highly entertaining quality by the Durieux-Carley Company was the second item on yesterday afternoon's program. These talented musicians won much well-merited applause.

Three Days More
Chautauqua continues in Campbellton for three more days and judging from the outline program some of the best things are yet to come. Petrie's Singing Band makes its appearance here this afternoon and again tonight in a short concert preceeding a lecture by Judge Marcus Kavanagh. These are two events that the Chautauqua patrons should not miss.

Another Play
The second play on the Chautauqua program will be presented tomorrow night. This is a sparkling comedy-drama entitled "The Next Best Man." Without a doubt this will be one of the best numbers on the program so far for it is entertainment that will appeal most strongly to all and please alike.

Another feature event of Chautauqua week in Campbellton will be Viera's Hawaiians in a full concert on Saturday night. This number has been claimed in many Canadian towns as the best thing on the whole Chautauqua program.

The program for Sunday has not yet been announced but entertainment of a suitable nature is being arranged for.

ENTERS CLAIM FOR DAMAGES

Claim Time Lost by Injunction
Proceedings Carried Heavy Loss.

At the meeting of the Restigouche Municipal Council held Tuesday, the contractors of the New Court House, Parsons Ed. Co., rendered an account $5,428.17 to have been sustained because of the injunction proceedings taken last fall. The account was made up of a number of items, in all amounting to the above amount.

The account was thrown out by the council.

S. S. PICNIC

The annual United Sunday School picnic, of all the protestant denominations will be held at New Mills next Thursday, July 16th. The special train will leave about 9 o'clock. All interested are invited.

GASPE CROPS PROMISE WELL

Farmers In Some Sections Declare Outlook Is The Best In Years.

In common with those of other parts of the dominion the crops on the Gaspé Coast promise unusually well this season. While in many districts in Gaspé County the outlook is not above the average, farmers along the Bonaventure Coast in many sections declare that bumper crops hay, grain and potatoes are assured this season.

In some localities the crop outlook is considered the best in years.

NEARING COMPLETION

The new courthouse at Dalhousie, is nearing completion, and is a fine looking building. It is expected that the building will be completed in about a month.

Interpretation of this charming play. The costumes were also exceptionally good.

HAD NARROW-ESCAPE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mr. W. S. Richards of the Richards Mfg. Co. here had a narrow escape from a slow and painful death on Friday night of last week when the car in which he was driving ran over the embankment about a mile below Dalhousie and turned over, pinning him beneath it. Mr. Richards was returning from a lumbermen's meeting in Chatham when the accident occurred. It was in the vicinity of 12 Dalhousie hill district and at that time a heavy fog was being blown up from the bay. This, it is thought, was largely responsible for the accident.

The unfortunate man was pinned beneath the car for nearly two hours. A car passed shortly after the accident but Mr. Richards was unable to attract the attention of the driver. About 1.30 Duval Stewart of Dalhousie, who was motoring home, noticed the lights of the overturned car and hurried to the rescue. He lost no time in getting Mr. Richards to the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital where it was learned that the injured man had no bones broken and that while painful, his injuries were not serious.

WILL MAKE CUT IN STUMPAGE RATES

Requests-Made by New Brunswick Lumbermen's Association Dealt With.

Fredericton, July 3.—The provincial government have dealt with the requests of the New Brunswick Lumber Men's Association for a reduction in stumpage rates and the introduction of the Quebec scale for logging operations upon the crown lands of the province as well as for a refund on stumpage due on logging operations upon the crown lands during last winter.

The government's action was summarized in a statement given out last night as follows:

1.—The request for a refund on last year's cut was not granted.

2.—Regarding the request for the introduction of the Quebec scale the lumbermen have been notified that no changes can be made except by legislative enactment; therefore the government could not deal with that matter.

3.—In response to the request for reduction in stumpage rates, reductions were made to go into effect on August 1, next which would make the rates per thousand feet as follows: Spruce, pine, hemlock, cedar, $3.00; hemlock, $3.25; fir, $2.50; poplar, $2.50; hard wood, $1.50; ties, each 12 cents; Spruce, fir and all pines affected by fire or budworm one half regular stumpage.

BABY LOBSTERS ARE BEING SOLD

Said to Come From New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Montreal, July 4.—Serious complaint is being made by nature lovers and by persons connected with the fisheries about the huge quantities of baby lobsters from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia which are being sold illegally in Montreal. Although no lobster under six inches in length is supposed to be sent to the market, some of those arriving here are much smaller, no larger than crayfish.

They are in great demand at the fashionable hotels, which are willing to pay as high as seventy cents a pound for them to satisfy the insatiable palates of the American tourists.

A prominent Montreal medical man who hails from the Maine coast and is acquainted with the regulations concerning the trapping of lobsters, has written to the Quebec Ministry of Fisheries, protesting against the continued sale of baby lobsters, and also against a report that the St. Lawrence River lobster market is proceeding on the Ottawa and St. Lawrence River lobster market.

In an interview with a local newspaper, he declared that the lobster market of the importance. There was a great secrecy of lobsters and a great number of them, and the small lobsters were what were being received here.

"By the time they reach the market," he declared, "the fault lies with the Nova Scotia and New Brunswick fishermen."

The doctor, whose interest in the question is likely to result in the cessation of this traffic, told now on the Maine coast the inspector, pointing on cages containing several hundred or thousand lobsters, which had a few babies amongst them, confiscated the entire catch, which might represent a week's work. The severity of the lesson was salutary and he recommends its repetition amongst Canadian fishermen at fault.

THE MAN WHO HURRIED

He believed that he was going to Smith's Corner to see a man about trade for town property. He really believed it. The fact is, he did take the right road, over the hill and down the river, and past the red barn to the left. The road was not as he remembered it from earlier years, when he had driven a plodding horse through quagmires. It was now a black ribbon of pavement built by the State for the convenience of its citizens and for all who might fare that way. There were apple blossoms along the road, and green fields, and white houses. It was such a nice day, and the motor purred so perfectly that the man hurried. He "stepped on it" as they say.

Indeed, this was curious conduct, for French Smith's Corners, talk with his prospect and be back long before noon. Let's see, it used to take all of the day and far into the night. Just why a pleasant day on the road should cause him to hurry, and to put that wish into action, is one of the riddles of the road. But hurry he did. He hurried until the wind droned over the bushes and rustled in the grass. He hurried until the apple trees were white blurred streaks at either hand. He hurried until the beauty of the day itself was quite forgotten, obliterated by speed, and the law against hurrying was wholly obliterated. He gave him, this hurrying did, a sense of power, a feeling of co-ordination

The Disaster Of 1910

A Brief Historical Sketch of Campbellton and the fire which blotted out thriving town from the map on Monday, July 11th, 1910.

(From the report of the Campbellton Relief Committee, published one year after the fire.)

Below appears a brief historical sketch of the Town of Campbellton which was almost destroyed by fire, and a short account of the disaster, only a few buildings escaping. The fire which laid the town in ashes people bravely set to work to rebuild on July 11th, 1910. Because of its their homes and life rolled on in ruthless destruction of property and much the same quiet way until the wrecking of many promising coming of the railway. With the commercial enterprises, the Camp advent of the Intercolonial Railway, bellton disaster is an unpleasant a new epoch opens in the history of memory but with Saturday the four-Campbellton. In 1876 the line was tenth anniversary of that calamity completed and Campbellton made a town event, a retrospective glance as historical point. The history of the cross the years should be productive I. C. R. was a great event for Campbell of a greater civic pride in a town bellton, opening up the country for which has made such remarkable settlers and giving spirit and life for progress in so short a time. Starting as a small village, grown was incorporated in 1880, it had a thriving town of six thousand; seven first mayor was John McAllister, in out in a night ad rebuilt in a year. This, in a sentence, is the history of Campbellton.

On the south bank of the Restigouche river at the head of deep water, a first rate water system, later an electric light plant was established and northerly town in New Brunswick is in 1902 an up to date sewerage system. It would be hard to find town.

A prettier location in the whole of the Dominion. To the south of the town is a range of low wooded mountains; one of these, the Sugarloaf mountain rises to a height of nearly a thousand feet. To the north at the foot of the town flows the river Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and the which forms the boundary line between the two provinces. Five churches and a Salvation Army Barracks, two schools, public and Roman Catholic and a large general store, al Hospital and one of the finest Postoffice and Customs buildings in the Maritime Provinces. Besides fourteen mills there was a large wood working factory and two foundries and machine shops. A large amount of business was transacted. It was a busy, prosperous town, rapidly becoming a city.

Such was Campbellton on Monday morning, July eleven, 1910, when Tuesday morning dawned it was a mass of smoking ruins. Now occurred the fire which swept them from existence, rendering it almost impossible to find the site of the town. The descendants of these first settlers are still living in the town. In the early years of its history Campbellton was called Martin's Pt., after Captain Martin who had a ship building yard on the point. Afterwards it came to be called Campbellton in honor of Lord Campbell, Governor of New Brunswick. These pioneer settlers gained their livelihood by fishing, for the Restigouche is noted all over America for its splendid salmon fishing. They were also farmers in a small way.

In the vicinity of Campbellton were large timber forests, and although the earliest settlers gained their livelihood by farming and fishing, it was not long before the lumber industry began to be developed. This business was originally carried principally in square lumber which was shipped to England. When mills second alarm blew. A clatter had fired Richard's mill further developed and deals were cut and the trucks falling in the lumber and sent to the English market. The yard set fire to the shingles, which first mill was owned by Pollock and the wind whirled far and wide over Gilmour who afterwards sold out to the doomed town. By that time there was no way of stopping the flames, for fanned by the high wind increased. In 1890 less than twenty million feet of lumber were floated on every side, the fire soon reached nearly one hundred million feet. At Besides the main fire which was the time of the fire, in Campbellton thundering and roaring through the centre of the town, five distinct fires mills, of which the Shives Lumber had started in other sections ignited Company mill at Athol and the two by flying cinders. These fires rapid at Richardsville were the largest by spread and made paths for them—employing between them about 1200

This Lizzie Has Her Colds "Rubbed Away"

The mother of this attractive little girl, Mrs. E. E. Emma, of 517 Seventh Ave., N. Vicks is just "rubbed on" for sore throat, tonsillitis, bronchitis, croup or deep chest colds. When so applied, Vicks has a double direct action: internally medicated vapors are inhaled while, at the same time, externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin.

The Disaster of 1910

selves. In every part of the town red flames were bursting. Dense clouds of smoke rolled towards the sky and settled like a pall over the town. The roaring of the flames sounded like a low rumbling thunder accented every now and then by the sharp crack of some explosion. The heat was intense. As the fire spread it gained momentum, smaller fires merged into the larger, until Campbellton was an immense seething furnace. During the night the fire burned itself out leaving waste and desolation in its track.

Although the fire brigade fought valiantly they soon realized that they were totally unable to cope with the situation. The town was constructed almost entirely of wood and was consequently highly inflammable. So, when aided by a gale it can readily be conceived how doubly easy was the work of destruction. To add to the difficulties the water pressure was low on account of the quantities of water being used all over the town. Fifteen minutes after the second alarm blew it was apparent that the whole town was threatened. Men on horse back galloped through the streets, warning people of the danger and calling out every available man to the assistance of the fire brigade.

In half an hour the fire fighters were forced to abandon the fight, driven back by the immense walls of flame, blinding smoke and scorching heat. An attempt to stop the advance of the flames by dynamiting failed. By four thirty in the afternoon assistance had arrived from Dalhousie and by that time the fire was beyond human control.

As soon as the people realized that their town was destined to complete destruction, and that all efforts to save their homes were useless, they bent all their energies in saving what little of their possessions it was possible to carry. The sick and feeble were taken to places of safety. People living near the water front were rescued by boats and steamers in the harbor. A train carried some of them as far as Dalhousie Junction. Others fled to the hills beyond the town. From the boats and steamers in the harbour and the hills beyond the town, all through the long night thousands of weary watchers witnessed the destruction of their town. Families were separated. Men watched the work of a lifetime disappear in a night. Reports of deaths came in every few minutes. No one slept. Through the long anxious hours the people of Campbellton waited in dread of what the morning would reveal.

A new day dawned, bringing a fuller realization of the waste and desolation that a few short hours had wrought. The prosperous town of yesterday was now a field of smoking ashes. Not a tree or a blade of grass remained the devastation was almost complete. Here and there a chimney or a fire-place stood out among the chaos, reminding one strongly of tombstones in the half light of the early morning. The sky was dark and murky and the air heavy with smoke. The wind had veered round to the north and was cold and biting, rendering the condition of the homeless even more miserable.

It was a scene well calculated to remain in the memory. Thousands of people with misery depicted on their faces gazed with gloomy eyes on the awful scene.

There have been larger fires in the history of Canada but none where the destruction was more complete. With the exception of a few houses which by some miracle escaped the flames, the town was completely destroyed and the people rendered homeless and for the time being helpless. There was absolutely no shelter for the six thousand people nor was there any food to feed them. But the news of the disaster had flashed over the wires to all parts of Canada, awakening the sympathy of every Canadian. A carload of provisions arrived from Bathurst at eight o'clock on Tuesday morning. Dalhousie, Newcastle, Chatham and Moncton also sent the sufferers as soon as the word reached them. All telegraphic and telephonic communications were destroyed and only the most meagre details could be obtained. Anxious relatives and friends all over Canada and United States were waiting for further details. The press did its parts in informing the public of the awful calamity and urging them to send immediate relief.

Canada responded nobly to the appeal for help. Money, provision, and clothing came in with every train. A carload of tents, property of the Canadian Department of Militia arrived on Thursday. These were needed for the people encamped in the fields were suffering from exposure.

The Militia was called in to help keep order and the Provincial Government cancelled all liquor licenses, placing the town under local option. Five days after the fire a meeting of the citizens was called by Mayor Dr. D. Murray and the work of relief placed in the hands of a competent committee.

CLASS PROPHECY OF 1925 CLASS

Given At The Closing Of The Campbellton High School.

Mr. Chairman, Members of the School Board, Ladies and Gentlemen, Fellow Students: I have been chosen by my school mates to write the Prophecy for this class of '25, and I shall try to do justice to this great honor.

To all appearances I should have been the most contented person in the world, for I had an interesting book and a cozy chair before a cheery fire. However I could not get interested in my book, my gaze wandered to the fire and vague memories came to me of my school chums and I began to wonder where they were and how life had dealt with them.

Somehow, I can never account for it, perhaps it was my fixed gaze at the fire or the train of thought that was passing through my mind, but suddenly the flames took shape and I sat spell-bound watching a scene unfold before me.

At first I saw a large crowd of people, listening with rapt attention while two lady members of Parliament made impressive speeches, surely, that eloquence recalled to my mind, Corinne Harquail and Edith MacKay. Next I see tennis matches in full swing, and the contestants are Edith MacKay and Raymond Martin, of course Edith wins the match. It looks as if she has won a heart as well by the expression on Raymond's face.

The scenes changed again before me, another chapter of someone's life was unfolding, who would it be this time? A Ladies' College came into view and then a lake around which a group of girls were gathered listening to a tall, slim girl, their Physical Director, whom I at once recognized as Helen Marquis, she was advising them not to use powder before they went in the water for fear the fish might be attracted. Slowly the flames die and another scene appears. A large grocery store comes into view, I look inside and see Olive Sullivan behind the counter and in the office sits Edna Hume, trying to get her debits and credits to equal one another. Rumor hath it that the profits of the business are considerably lessened owing to these girls' devotion to the candy counter.

In the winding columns of smoke that curl upwards another scene meets my eye, it is of a hospital ward and in it I see May Boyle the white robed nurse taking George McMillan's temperature, just then the doctor, Harold Jamieson, comes along and asks May what the patient's temperature is, she very innocently answers that she forgot to take it and put it back into the thermometer again.

Deep into the heart of the fire I gazed and saw a stately man—in the orchard walked Edward McLean, a solemn-faced minister. By his attitude I easily surmised that he was thinking about his Sunday sermon. My gaze wandered to the man, I saw his wife (nee Vera Marquis) busily engaged in cooking. I think she must be still testing that old saying that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

My next scene is evidently a foreign land, I see mountain peaks glimmering cascades and terraced plains, in this island which discoverers called the "Beautiful Isle" I see a crowd of slant eyed Celestial children and in their midst Bessie Young their missionary teacher.

The flames again take shape, I see a court house and hear a deep, rumbling voice, inside sits Mac MacCallum, Judge of a juvenile court. His eye is stern as he passes his sentence upon each of the young offenders, but who is that fair-haired lady, pleading for her little boy? It is Mrs. Harold Jamieson, formerly Mary Murphy. The judge tries to steel his heart against her but her pleading has touched him, he lets her off, but gives Mary a long lecture on how to bring him up to be a nice, quiet boy.

The rapidly shifting scenes reveal an apartment in which lives three ladies, Emma Shannon, the great lecturer on "Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," her secretary, Mildred Smith and Lila Sansom, the editor of a city newspaper, the special attraction of this paper to women, at least, is her weekly items on "Beauty and how to preserve it."

The fire dies down, I hardly put more fuel on it and it burns again more brightly, I see a little bungalow, the kind you dream about with roses and vines climbing up over the porch, I look in at the door and see Muriel Sears, the young housewife, but she is not busy with household duties, she is—horror of horrors, she is reading a novel. And hark, what was that droning noise? It is an aeroplane, it lights outside, the aviator walks in removes his goggles and I recognized it as hungry, hand the features of Peck Ferguson. Poor fellow he seems to be accustomed to the sight which meets his eye for, after a sad look at Muriel, he begins to prepare his own meal.

The flames leap up again and in their midst I see a garden gate going on, the hostesses, Mary Andrew and Tillie Goldenberg, living lives of luxury, apart from the trials of this weary world. By their side helping them entertain is "Syd" MacKay, M. D. "Syd" is a great comfort to the girls, for when their guests begin talking about their ills they send them to "Syd" who always prescribes something and invites them to call at her office for treatment.

Next I see a shabby road, in the distance I can discern a two-wheeled vehicle, drawn by a pony. As it approaches I see two figures—who could they be? Why nobody else but Hazel Robertson and Susie Macdonald, comfortably touring the countryside, giving concerts. Hazel you know is a famed elocutionist and her companion, Susie has made her mark in the musical world. Strange they do not travel by motor! But Hazel could never give up the renowned "pony" she prized so highly during school days.

A veil of smoke hides the fire for an instant but when it lifts I see a green sward sloping down to a lake, at the top of the slope were numbers of girls in camp costume, while the central figure addressing them had the dark hair and laughing eyes of Christine Taylor, Girls' Work Secretary.

The next vision that the flames portray is of a little red school house but this was like no I had ever seen, for the three teachers, Margaret Ward, Lillian Hamilton and Hectorine Guidry, were of the very modern type for they really believe, mind you, "that the heart is the seat of the soul."

In the flames I see a Post Office, inside stands Frank Steeves, busily sorting the mail. It may be said that he was reading all the post cards, this is why he is such a good letter writer, himself, for he gets all the latest phrases from the incoming mail. Another scene unfolds before me it is of a beautiful theatre, and on the stage a wonderful play is being acted, one could see that the success of it was assured for Beatrice Byrnes is the leading lady. Meanwhile the curtain rings down and then there arises the cry for "author" and indeed I was not surprised when I saw Marie Dorwood appear on the stage to receive her congratulations for had she not displayed her literary skill in class during Composition periods?

The fire dies down, I eagerly stir it up and the din outlines of a college appear, upon closer vision the door swings open and in the Domestic Science room I see the figures of two of my old class mates Winnifred Sansom and Mildred Brooks, instructing their students in the mysteries of making tasty dishes which are supposed to appeal to the palate. Contrary to Vera they believe that the way to a man's stomach is thru his heart.

And now the fire has died down, a few sparks remain, will I see at least a glimpse of my own future? But no, the sparks flare up brightly, flicker and then die, so that all that remains now is a few charred fragments of what once had held such fair visions to me—a student of the class of '25.

To Ford The Ocean In A Ford

(1) Ford car reaching ship on first leg of trip. (2) The crated car being swung aboard ship. (3) Canadian Pacific liner Melita which carried the car.

What is it that goes over the sea, under the sea and never touches the sea? Appropos of what has gone before and to complicate further the puzzle, another question is suggested, "Is it possible to ford the ocean in a Ford?" The correct answer to the second question is—No. And now, "Let there be light." The thing that goes over the sea, under the sea and never touches the sea, is a Ford car in the hold of the S.S. "Melita." So that, in a way, it is possible to ford the ocean in a Ford, and the principals concerned in the performance of this unusual feat are the family Fox, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. and small daughter, Miss Josephine, the family are from Parkstone, England; the S.S. "Melita" is a Canadian Pacific liner plying between Antwerp, Southampton, Cherbourg and Montreal; and the Atlantic is, of course, where everyone suspects it is. It seems that the Foxes, after motoring all over the British Isles, not once but several times, since they covered 17,000 miles all told, and we too are all told that Great

Their advance will be considerably facilitated by favors from the company. Letters to Ford direct, clear across the continent have been given them. Repairs and incidentals will be supplied gratuitously and detailed directions thrust on them. All because they happen to be the first party from across the water to bring their own Ford to tour in. We were on hand to meet the invaders. A small army of Ford mechanics quickly assembled the car, the customs men were dealt with, a license procured and the 5,000 mile trek of course, but we have a fair idea

GETTING TOGETHER.

The conference to be held next month in Moncton, N. B., at which representatives from the three Maritime Provinces will endeavor to come to a common agreement on a line of policy which, while mutually beneficial to themselves, will serve the best interests of the Dominion as a whole, is regarded as somewhat unnecessary and practically foredoomed to failure in some quarters.

The conference is to be non-political in character and aims to discover that middle course of conciliation and compromise which, in controversial matters, is most likely to bring about harmony and progress. Chief of these controversial subjects is, undoubtedly, the tariff. It is hoped that other conferences similar to that at Moncton will be held in other parts of the country, the various findings to be submitted to the consideration of a general conference which will take place at some central point—Winnipeg is suggested—after all the provincial reports have come in, with the idea of formulating a national economic policy acceptable to the entire country.

"We had supposed that the present tariff schedule aimed at this very thing," declares a leading government organ. "It is attacked by high protectionists and by western free traders because it is based on the principle of compromise. What are the improvements that will strengthen national unity?" Surely, the present economic position is not such that even the staunchest friend of the administration will claim perfection for it, however; it is obviously capable of vast improvement and suggestions are in order.

When people feel themselves aggrieved, it is natural for them to get together and talk over their troubles. The Maritime Provinces make no secret of the fact that they are dissatisfied, and it is to their credit that they are determined to deal with their problems on broad national lines. If, later on, east and west and center meet together in friendly discussion, with the set purpose of reaching a satisfactory solution of their difficulties, it would seem that nothing but good could result. What the west thinks of the Moncton conference and of the broader scheme which, it is hoped, will evolve from it, may be gathered from the remarks of the Calgary Herald, which commends the Maritimes for the thorough way they are going about their tasks, "with broader than purely local vision." In the same spirit, it is urged, Canada as a whole should undertake an unprejudiced examination of the national problems. "Each section of the Dominion cannot have all that it would like to have. One has to give as well as take in a Dominion so large and with interests so distinct," proceeds the western newspaper. "If the national interest is to be served and not the purely provincial interest, or selfish industrial interest, all these problems will have to be examined with something of the spirit of compromise that was displayed at the time of Confederation, when, as Sir John A. Macdonald said, 'an ardent desire was displayed to approach the subject honestly, and to attempt to work out some solution which might relieve Canada from the evils under which she then labored.'"

WERE GREAT MEN CHRONIC INVALIDS?

A new basis for study and explaining the actions of the world's great men is used by Dr. C. MacLaurin, Australian surgeon and author, in his book, "More Mortals." Mr. MacLaurin, whose untimely death followed the publication of his book, maintained that the physical ailments of many of these "great men" helped to mould their characters and served to explain some of their eccentricities of conduct.

The characters whom the author chose for discussion include Dr. Johnson and King Henry VIII, Martin Luther and Ivan the Terrible, Mary Tudor and Queen Elizabeth, Henry Fielding, Frederick the Great, Arthur Schopenhauer, Baruch Spinoza and several others.

Some of these, in Dr. MacLaurin's opinion, were suffering from strange and rare maladies. Others were the victims of diseases common to this day and easy to identify: Baruch Spinoza, "most wonderful of all philosophers" and one of the best of men, was afflicted with tuberculosis, due to his sedentary manner of life; another great philosopher, Nietzsche, was "ruined" by "insanity," a terrible nervous complaint which affects mostly the elect of earth; that leader of religious thought, Martin Luther, was suffering from "Menier's disease of the labyrinth," a disease of the inner ear that caused him to hear dreadful noises in the head and by stilling him with the fear of the devil perhaps served to alter the course of history. And, among many of the other historical personages and particularly among the kings, the decorations of diseases, syphilis, whose physical ravages were accompanied by a mental decay and a moral degeneration which, it is hoped, will evolve from it, may be gathered from the remarks of the Calgary Herald, which commends the Maritimes for the thorough way they are going about their tasks, "with broader than purely local vision." In the same spirit, it is urged, Canada as a whole should undertake an unprejudiced examination of the national problems. "Each section of the Dominion cannot have all that it would like to have. One has to give as well as take in a Dominion so large and with interests so distinct," proceeds the western newspaper. "If the national interest is to be served and not the purely provincial interest, or selfish industrial interest, all these problems will have to be examined with something of the spirit of compromise that was displayed at the time of Confederation, when, as Sir John A. Macdonald said, 'an ardent desire was displayed to approach the subject honestly, and to attempt to work out some solution which might relieve Canada from the evils under which she then labored.'"

BARNJUM WILL BUILD PAPER MILL

Says He Will Keep His Pre-Election Promise to Nova Scotia.

Annapolis Royal, N.S. July 2.—Frank J. D. Barnjum, victorious Conservative candidate for Queens county in last week's general provincial elections, reiterated his pre-election promise that he would build a pulp mill in Nova Scotia, when speaking at a declaration proceedings here today.

He said: "I want to say to the people of Nova Scotia that I am going to build a paper mill in Nova Scotia that will provide a market for every cord of wood that is now being exported by the farmers of this province."

ON THE BUILDING

The contractor took his visiting cousin to watch the construction of a new building.

"It's a fine building, all right," she said, "but I don't see why you want to have those statues up there."

"Statues?" queried the startled contractor. "What statues?" Then he looked. "Oh, those are not statues," he said. "Those are bricklayers."

FERRY SERVICE FROM DALHOUSIE

Gasoline Service Decided On For This Year—Tenders Are Being Called For.

Dalhousie, N. B., July 7.—Three tenders were received by the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, for the Steam Ferry Service between Dalhousie, N. B. and Maguasha, St. Omer, and Carleton, P. Q. All the three tenders having been far beyond the subsidy of $1000.00 voted by Parliament, the Minister has decided for this year, as an experiment, to ask for tenders for a gasoline service, at once. Hon. Charles Macdowell, M. P. for the district, has been asked to represent the Tourist Association, that if the gasoline service proves a success, they may have a steam service next year.

A notice is posted here calling for tenders for the gasoline service, with the same time table as previously announced. Tenders to be received at the office of the Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce until noon on July 15th, 1925. Blank forms of Tender for the above service may be had from Mr. LaBelle.

It is encouraging to know that several of our citizens own large gasoline boats, which a little improvement in the way of cabin room, in case of rain would be most suitable for the service. There are also gasoline boats on the Quebec side of the River and Bay. It looks as if several tenders would be sent to Ottawa.

The Upper Maguasha wharf, which forms an important part in the undertaking to establish a practical ferry service between New Brunswick and Quebec points is fast being put into shape. The contractors, Messrs. LaVoie and LeBlanc are making splendid headway, and a substantial structure is being built, which will stand the test of the running ice in the spring.

Use the Want Ad. way

The leaner the fuel mixture used and the more nearly complete its combustion, the less objectionable the smell of the resulting gases. An excessively rich mixture burns incompletely, with black smoke and products are found which are of very disagreeable odor and very irritating to the eyes, nose and throat. Deadly carbon-monoxide results in large amounts from such combustions. Directions for reducing fuel combustion odors are similar to those for securing high gasoline economy, viz: Keep the carburetor set for the leanest practicable mixture, use the choke only when absolutely necessary, keep the circulating water hot as much of the time as possible, and keep the intake heating device in action at all times, except possibly in the very hottest weather.

Mr. Robt. Anderson has returned from Halifax, where he has been working with the Chronicle of that city doing cartoon and reportorial stunts of no mean order. While the majority of the people of Nova Scotia did not see eye to eye with the Chronicle in the last election campaign which was an especially fierce one, young Mr. Anderson's work with the cartoonist's stencil attracted much attention and a bright future is present for this gifted young man. At present he is enjoying a holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Anderson, King street.—Cathlam Gazette.

Although taken by surprise Mrs. Poirier proved to be a very agreeable hostess. A pleasant evening was spent by all. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. P. Dittie, Mr. and Mrs. A. Allard, Mr. and Mrs. N. Levesque, Mrs. George Poirier, The Misses Catherine Kasev, Clara, Marie, Stella, Yvonne, Henry, Anita, Poirier, Elizabeth Shannon, Messrs. ### PRaises N. B. ROADS

J. J. Stothart, who recently motored here from Niagara Falls, stated to the Globe to-day that the roads through Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick were in wonderful condition. Most of the roads in the former two provinces are tartrized, but the dirt roads are very good. The roads of New Brunswick, Mr. Stothart continued, are just as good, if not better, than the roads of the other provinces, and fast time can be made on them. Mr. Stothart's chauffeur, like many other car drivers, prefers the dirt roads to the paved ones. The short road from Fredericton to Saint John is one of the best stretches in the province, Mr. Stothart said, and the roads in general show evidences of good care. Another party who went from here to Moncton on the holiday said that the road was excellent, and claimed that the trip was made in little over three hours.

U. S. GOVERNORS VISIT N. B.

An ovation was given to the United States governors as they entered New Brunswick, Thursday after leaving the special train which brought them from a conference at Poland Springs, Pa. Van Buren. Forty U. S. governors from as many states in the Union, accompanied by their wives, staffs and representatives from the press throughout the country and camera men were carried across the international bridge, at St. Leonards into New Brunswick at 10.30 a. m. by automobiles from Presque Isle, Fort Fairfield, Caribou and Van Buren, Me.

AFTER RUMRUNNERS

The revenue cutters are again active this season, guarding the hundreds of miles of coast line along the Strait of Northumberland and Gulf of St. Lawrence against the illegal landing of liquor cargoes. So persistent were these cutters in inspecting suspicious craft last fall that several vessels with liquor were unable to land their cargoes and were forced by the close of navigation to abandon their work for the winter. One of these vessels is owned in Kent County, and another is a Prince Edward Island craft. Both of them, with others, are again on the trade this summer.

SHORT TERM LEASES

With a view to encourage visiting tourists to remain in the province for a longer period than at present the government has passed an Order-in-Council which provides for the issuing of short term licenses for salmon anglers. A charge of five dollars will be made for non resident license good for a period of three days. Should the anglers wish to remain for a longer period, or say for six days another would be necessary making the total cost $10. Parties remaining over a fortnight will be required to pay the usual fee of $25. The short term licenses will be good only on unleased waters. For trout fishing the license fee remains at $10.

The short road from Fredericton to Saint John is one of the best stretches in the province, Mr. Stothart said, and the roads in general show evidences of good care. ### HALF-HOLIDAY CONTINUES

Despite the feeble attempt of the Tribune to create the impression that the weekly half-holiday was not being longer observed in Campbellton, nearly all stores in the town were closed yesterday afternoon. In addition to this many merchants wish it clearly stated that they intend to close every Wednesday afternoon during the summer season. Anyone who has been inconvenienced by the misleading statements published have only themselves to blame for paying a moment's attention to mere propaganda from such an unreliable source.

Convention of the Women's

Institute of Bonaventure

can not help regretting that the attendance of our branch meetings is not larger. Surely an organization which has so worthy a cause as 'Home and Country' should be of interest to all our women. I, again, welcome you heartily in the name of the members of the Woman's Institute, and we hope you will enjoy and receive benefit from this Convention at Port Daniel.

The reply was given by Mrs. Hughes of New Carlisle.
"Madam President and friends of the Woman's Institute of Port Daniel. It is with great pleasure that I rise to reply to your kind and generous words of welcome.

On behalf of the Woman's Institute of New Carlisle, as well as that of the other branches of this County, I can truly say how glad we are to be here. Many of us have pleasant memories of happy days spent in beautiful Port Daniel. We were rejoiced when we knew that we were to meet with you.

We feel sure that our Convention will be a memorable one in co-operation, genuine interest, and it may be extension of work. We have begun well, but there is still a great extent of coast awaiting development along the lines touched upon by the Woman's Institute. We thank you for your kind reception, your generous kindness your unfailing interest in all work for the improvement and advancement of our County.

Miss Poole favored the convention with a solo, beautifully rendered, and accompanied by Miss Rena Caldwell.

Miss Jarvis, the new Provincial Superintendent addressed the Convention on the work of the Woman's Institute in Quebec Province for 1924-25. She began by remarking that she wished the county had been represented at the Provincial Convention, as it would have helped towards a better realization of all for which the W. I. stands. The membership had been increased by 84, there are now 1696 members, with an average attendance and wonderful work.

Among other things there are now 9 community halls owing to the W. I. 3 others partly owing to them. Schools have been helped, (not lunches, prizes given, three scholarships provided, three organs procured, and in one school the teaching of music received attention, and medical inspection has not been neglected. $10,678.40 had been raised in the province. Contributions had been made to the County and various schools, and exhibitions made at Co. fairs. Work is usually started in October, there are 77 branches to visit.

Miss Jarvis emphasized the responsibility of the County Executive. Visiting a weak branch was advised. She made a strong plea for loyalty on the part of the members, and the support of attendance as well as giving. 14 short courses had been given, 37 lecture demonstrations, 21 lectures, 67 Institutes visited. Miss Jarvis referred to the appeal which had been made for the Toronto Exhibition Re Maple Product.

A very pleasing function of the session was the presentation of a Life Membership pin and certificate to Mrs. Wm. A. MacPherson. Miss Charles Enright made the presentation and read the address as follows:

"Dear Friend: We your fellow-workers of the Woman's Institute of Port Daniel take this opportunity to express to you our sincere appreciation of the interest you have ever taken in the work of the Institute. Your interest has never failed. Your work has been earnest and faithful, and we realize how greatly our association is indebted to your wholehearted effort and co-operation.

We ask you to accept the accompanying certificate of Life Membership as a small token of our affection and appreciation.

Yours in service,
THE WOMAN'S INSTITUTE OF PORT DANIEL."

Mrs. MacPherson responded suitably and Miss Poole kindly sang two solos. The meeting adjourned the following resolution was passed.

"In view of the fact that Miss Poole will not be with us in Convention tomorrow, I have much pleasure in moving a vote of thanks and appreciation to her for the interesting and instructive talk and demonstrations, and the pleasure of this evening's singing, and we regret that she is unable to remain till the close of this Convention."

Miss Poole responded in well-chosen words.

Mrs. Aubrey Blois of New Carlisle presided most acceptably at the session on Friday morning, and by her careful questioning, and capable summing up quite a creditable showing

Here and There

The entire Province of Prince Edward Island and adjacent islands have been leased for oil prospecting purposes to Henry L. Doherty & Company, according to an announcement by the concern. The lease has been taken on option.

Indications are that 1925 will be one of the best tourist seasons ever experienced by Montreal. It is estimated that 750,000 people from all over the continent visited Montreal last year, while this year the number is placed at a million.

It is understood that a contract has been let for the laying of a submarine cable from Vancouver Island to Suva, Fiji Islands, by the Pacific Cable Board. This is part of the "All-red" cable and wireless route which is being established between British possessions the world over.

In order to facilitate the work of the air force patrol radio stations are being erected at the Pas, Norway House, Victoria Beach, and Port Osborne Barracks, Winnipeg. The stations will be completed shortly and will have, it is stated, a radius of communication all over Canada.

"Judging from the amount of sound business activity noticeable here, British Columbia is launching into an era of constructive development which augurs well for her future prosperity," comments Grant Hall, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who recently spent ten days on the Pacific Coast.

"So long as the Canadian Pacific Railway has a dollar left in its treasury, it will fight for the ideals, uphold the faith and maintain the precious heritage of confederation," said E. W. Beatty, Chairman and President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when addressing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at their annual convention held at Hamilton recently.

Eleven hundred pounds of speckled trout, gray trout and pike were the trophies taken back to New York recently by seven members of the Coughlin-Hunting and Fishing Club, private preserves near Montreal, after a two-week stay on the fishing grounds. The catch included a 19-lb. gray trout and the average weight worked out at around eight pounds.

Frank W. Ashby, secretary of the Australian Manufacturers' Association, visiting here recently, said the impression in Australia was that Canada was the back door to the North Pole. People in the Antipodes think that Herschell Island and Baffin's Bay are linked up municipally with Montreal and Winnipeg, he said. He was surprised to find the Dominion had a delightful climate and cities more modern than those in Australia.

What is stated to be the biggest log jam in sixty years recently occurred on the Montreal River in a gorge through which the river flows into Lake Temiskaming. 800,000 logs were piled up to a height of 80 feet with a width of 250 yards, choking the river for 300 yards down at the point where the jam took place. An army of 100 men, working night and day for three days, at last succeeded in breaking it up.

A three-week tour of Canada by teachers and their friends, under the auspices of Dean S. Laird, of MacDonald College, will leave Toronto July 20 on the Canadian Pacific Railway. The party will travel by train to Vancouver and Victoria, and will return by way of Southern British Columbia, across the northern end of the Prairie Provinces and by boat from Fort William east. Stops will be made at all the principal points of interest.

was presented by the Convenor of the several departments. She spoke of the effort being made in New Carlisle to reclaim waste land for public benefit and pleasure.

Miss Jarvis in summing up pointed out the duties of the different departments, and asked that all branches should send Publicity reports to the Co. Convenor by the 15th of each month, so that she could summarize these reports before forwarding to Mrs. Armitage. Any information concerning the home would be given by Mrs. Warcup, East Angus, Que. Many other helpful suggestions were given, which doubtless will be reported by the visiting delegates.

The Nominating Committee reported as follows:

President—Mrs. Cameron Dow, Port Daniel.

1st Vice Pres.—Mrs. Elwyn MacWhirter, New Richmond.

2nd Vice Pres.—Mrs. I. H. Jellett, Cross Point.

Sec.-Treasurer—Mrs. J. R. Hughes, New Carlisle.

Assistant—Mrs. Dan. Sherar, New Carlisle.

Committee of Agriculture—Miss Jennie Doyle, Cross Point.

Publicity—Mrs. C. MacLean, New Richmond.

Child Welfare—Mrs. Charles Enright, Port Daniel.

Home Economics—Mrs. Cooke Miller, New Carlisle.

National Events—Mrs. Wm. A. MacPherson, Port Daniel.

Miss Jarvis gave a most interesting and helpful talk on Dry Cleaning and Pressing, and also distributed recipes and instructions to the delegates, so that it will not be necessary to give a detailed account of her address.

The session in the afternoon was devoted to a practical talk on dress-making, and demonstrations in making tailored pockets, and bound button holes. As the members had prepared themselves with sewing materials a very pleasant session resulted.

The evening session was in charge of the local branch and a most enjoyable evening was spent which certainly spoke well of the ability of the people. Mrs. Mortimer presided at the organ and did all she could to make the programme a success.

The County President, Mrs. Cameron Dow, gave a short history of the Woman's Institute, and presided in her usual capable manner.

The following programme was presented:

Address—Mr. Jones.

Solo—Miss Rena Caldwell and Mr. E. St. Meux on the violin.

Address—Rev. J. E. Chenel.

Solo—Mrs. H. Journeaux.

Reading—Rev. Mr. LeGallais.

Violin Solo—Mr. E. St. Meux.

Duet—Misses Jessie and Ella Lawrence.

Recitation—Mrs. I. H. Jellett.

Solo—Miss Sadie MacPherson.

Reading—Rev. Mr. LeGallais.

Solo—Mrs. H. Journeaux.

Violin Solo—Mr. E. St. Meux.

It was resolved that this Convention express its deep appreciation and sense of obligation to Miss Jarvis for her interesting and helpful talks, information and advice and also for her painstaking lessons. We feel that we are better equipped for the work of the various departments since she has been with us.

It was resolved that the visiting delegates wish to express their appreciation of the great kindness and hospitality of the people of Port Daniel. In every manner, and on every hand the Institute and other friends have exerted themselves to make this convention a memorable one. We therefore extend to you all our sincere thanks for the kindness you have shown us.

The convention closed, and all who had the privilege of being present expressed themselves delighted with the convention, the place, and the kind hospitality which had been so generously extended.

PRAYERS AND RADIO
A new invention is helping to revive an old custom.

Morning prayers, when the whole family gathered together daily for spiritual refreshment, used to be as much a part of the life of early America as spinning-wheels and town council meetings. But with the rapid growth of cities and commuting and hurried breakfasts, they have become more and more rare.

Now they are being revived in Boston and vicinity by radio. "The Morning Watch," a service broadcast daily by the Boston Y. M. C. A. from St. Mary's Church, has been attracting increased interest. Prominent ministers lend the services for the thousands who listen in.

Through letters from professional and business people, farmers, shut-ins, and from old and young, it has been discovered that a great many New Englanders welcome this reversion to the habits of their forefathers. One letter reads:

"Morning prayers is inspiring in all of my family. I now feel that my day is started correctly, and my optimism, so necessary in a surgeon's life, is maintained at 100 per cent."

Another from a farmer's wife tells of the long busy day in the farmhouse, and ends:

"I think you understand how easy it would be to live for work alone. My faithful helper and I always stop for your Morning Watch. It helps."

Another member of the circle is an old woman living near the tip of Cape Cod who never has a chance to go to church service.

Canada spent $49,056,179 last year for pensions and re-establishment of Veterans of the Great War, according to a report recently issued from Ottawa by the department in charge of this work.

Without a dissentient voice over 4,000 cattle owners in 200 districts have voted to make Prince Edward Island a disease-free area under the Department of Agriculture arrangement which calls for a two-thirds vote of all cattle owners.

Two thousand young buffalo from the Wainwright herd will make a 700-mile trek northward this summer to the buffalo reserve on the Slave River where they will be turned loose to mingle with the wild bison which roam that area.

"In all parts of Canada and the United States," according to Robt. G. Hodgson, editor of the Fur Trade Journal of Canada, "Muskrat farms are being established, mostly on a large scale and they are rapidly turning what was once marshland of little value into the most productive part of the farm," Mr. Hodgson adds.

The record established recently at Acme when 114 horses worked in one field at one time seeding the crop of Mrs. C. W. King, has been broken at Gadsby, Alberta. When the neighbors of J. B. Ball who recently suffered a broken arm, put in his 100-acre crop, 39 outfits were at work on one day and 175 horses. The crop was put in in a single day.

H. E. Morris, whose horse Manna made a run away victory in the English Derby, will visit Canada in the fall en route to China from which country he hails. He will sail on the Canadian Pacific S.S. Minnedosa from Southampton on October 8, stay a short time in the Dominion, and sail from Vancouver for China on the S.S. Empress of Australia, October 29.

Rebuilt in nine months after the fire that destroyed it last October, the Chateau Lake Louise hotel opened for the current season on Sunday, May 31 as the Trans-Canada train arrived from its cross-continent run. The hotel was rebuilt under exceptionally difficult conditions in temperatures as low as fifty degrees below zero during which a wooden wall heated by stoves had to be erected about the construction works.

Following the opening visit by Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary to the Wembley Exhibition, the Duke and Duchess of York also went over the grounds. Their Majesties were especially delighted with Treasure Island, the Paradise of children, and travelled over the miniature Canadian Pacific train that runs around the Island, passing en route the replica of Banff Station and the reproduction of the Canadian Pacific Rockies.

MISERABLE AND ALWAYS IN PAIN

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Help for Mothers

Port Greville, Nova Scotia.—"I took your medicine for a terrible pain in my side and for weakness and headaches. I seemed to float all over, too, and my feet and hands were the worst. I am the mother of four children and I am nursing my baby—the first one of four I could nurse. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before the baby's birth, so you can see how much it helped me. I cannot praise it too highly for what it has done for me. I took all kinds of medicine, but the Vegetable Compound is the only one that has helped me for any length of time. I recommend it to any one with troubles like mine and you may use my letter for a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT McCULLLEY, Port Greville, Nova Scotia.

Before and after child-birth the mother will find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a blessing. Many letters are received giving the same sort of experience as is given in this letter. Not only is the mother benefited, but these good results pass on to the child. No harmful drugs are used in the preparation of this medicine—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

98 out of every 100 women reported benefit from its use in a recent canvass among women users of this medicine. C

PARTRIDGE AND GAME PLENTIFUL

Chief Game Warden Gagnon Has Returned From Tobique and Upper St. John.

Prospects for big game and partridge in New Brunswick this year are good, according to Chief Game Warden Gagnon, who has returned from an inspection tour through the counties of Carleton, Victoria and Madawaska.

Mr. Gagnon visited Nictau in Victoria county and proceeded as far north as Clair in Madawaska county. Never before he said had he seen the country which he visited and particularly the district north of Plaster Rock along the Tobique river looking so well as it did at this season of the year. The crops are well advanced and the entire country presented a most inviting appearance. Mr. Gagnon was also particularly taken with the location of the sporting camps owned by the Ogilvie Bros., at Oxbow where they are situated two miles from the main highway in the heart of a dense forest on the Tobique affording ideal headquarters for both fishing and hunting.

Early returns which have commenced to come in from the game wardens of the province in response to a circular inquiry issued by Mr. Gagnon respecting the partridge, indicate that the partridge, will be quite plentiful this season.

No Such Animal.
"Charming! Exquisite! Perfectly delightful!" she exclaimed, peering through her pince-nez at the young artist's latest picture.

"I am glad you like it," he said with becoming modesty.
"Like it? Could any one help liking it? So original! That queer little animal with the funny legs in the right-hand foreground! What a delicious conceit. How can you imagine such impossible things, Mr. D'Aubre?"

"Um—er—you mean this?" he asked, pointing to the strange thing in the lower corner.

"Yes, of course."

"Er—h'm—that is my signature."
