The extraordinary circular note directed by the Russian foreign minister to the members of the diplomatic body at St. Petersburg has attracted the earnest attention of the Washington officials It is believed that the victory achieved by the United States in the late war was a contributing factor in the preparation of the note. It is surmised that the victory made it clear at once to the European statesmen that to maintain the balance of power they woud be obliged to redouble their expenditures on account of army and navy, else they might be outstripped by the United States. The official mind at Washington looks upon the Russian project for a general disarmament as utopian at this time, and, while any statement as to the attitude of the United States towards such a confer-

Serious Illness of Judge McKenzie, Sarnia.

The Sarnia Observer says: Judge

Mackenzie on Friday afternoon took

Messrs. McMorran and Davidson, of Port Huron, for a drive into the oil district, where the judge is interested in some wells. While there he was seen to stumble and fall, and when raised up it was found that he was unable to speak. Messrs. McMorran and Davidson helped him into the carriage, and drove rapidly to Dr. Fraser's office in Sarnia. The doctor not being in when they arrived, Dr. Johnston was sent for. The judge meantime bad recovered the use of his limbs and was able to move about freely, but unable to speak. Mrs. Mackenzie being away from home on a visit to her daughter in New York, the judge was taken to the hospital. His ailment appears to be confined entirely to the loss of power to articulate. In other respects he seems to be all right. Early this morning he had improved sufficiently to be able to pronounce a few words, and the prospects were that he would gradually recover his vocal powers. The news of his illness caused a widespread feeling of regreat throughout the town, which was deepened by the fact that not a single member of his family was at home at the time of his seizure. General Jail Delivery at Goshen, N. Y.

-Twelve Prisoners Escape. Goshen, N.Y., Aug. 30.-Twelve prisoners escaped from jail here yesterday morning. Two men, James W. Crum, of Scranton, and Lewis Blackman, of Port Jervis, sawed their way out of their cells during the night, and then hid in the toilet room. About 2 a.m. a man asked for a drink of water, and Constable Halstead went into the corridor with a cup, when Crum and Blackman jumped on him, knocking him down. Blackman pounded his head on the concrete floor, while Crum choked him almost into unconsciusness. They then took his keys and opened the doors of all the cells, and twelve men, in all, lined up in the corridor. After the jailer had been placed in a cell, bruised and bleeding, and locked up, Crum opened the door with the keys, and all filed out into the jail yard, climbed the plank placed against the roof of the stonebreaking sheds and escaped. Two did not want to go, but Crum, with the keeper's pistol in his hand, drove them ahead for a mile into the country. One old man, Thomas Ward, left the party there to go alone. He went to his daughter's home and gave the alarm. She notified the police, who hurried to the jail and found the jailer locked in and badly hurt, and then awakened the sheriff, who lives in the court-

Arrival of the Steamer Hope at St. John's, Nad.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 30.—The steamer Hope has arrived here last night from Greenland, having left the Peary expedition at Foulkefiord. After leaving Sydney, C. B., their first landing was at Cape York, but the party was disappointed, all the pleted by the general conference statisticsailed for Snow Pocket Bay, but here again they were disappointed. They then protected to Saunders' Island, finding the ceeded natives there in poor condition, they having 280,537. This is a net increase for the secretary), and Mr. Pottinger arrived had an exceptionally bad winter, snow falls past four years of 19,584. which lasted for weeks forcing them to quit their old haunts in quest of food. The natives were delighted to see Lieut. Peary, the rate of increase has dropped from natives were delighted to see Eleut. Feary, and swarmed all over the ship. The Hope took on board a number of Esquimaux, and sailed for Whale Sound, but owing to the subject of earnest debate in the General heavy ice pack, was unable to get in. She | Conference. came out all right, though she received some bad scrapes. The party then decided to return to Saunders' Island, and spent a fortnight there, during which time sixty walrus and a quantity of seal were obtained.

Then the Hore recorded for Freiling. Then the Hope proceeded for Foulkeflord. She met the Windward on her way. The latter is a poor ship for this work, being

Allied Trades and Labor Council So Leave the Prohibition Matter

Ottawa, Aug. 29.-At a meeting of the Allied Trades and Labor Association Saturday evening, in reply to the ommunication from the Dominion Alliance, laid over from last meeting, it was decided that the communication be received and that members of the association who volunteered to do so might individually give their support to the prohibition movement, but that they should not appear as representatives of the association.

This decision was not arrived without considerable discussian of the warmest kind, the chairman's ruling as to amendments being by standing vote of the delegates present.

The Company Has No Definite Plans Regarding That Port.

Great Importance of the Recent Erie and Union Railway Deal.

James Egan, formerly baggage agent at Exeter, and lately assistant freight clerk for the G. T. R. at St. Marys, has been appointed chief clerk for the same company there. A new G. T. R. station agent has been appointed for Port Elgin, in the person of J. S. Cameron, of Alma. Mr. Milligan, who filled the position for six months, returns to Clifford.

Following are the official returns of traffic on the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ending Aug. 21, 1898, as compared with the corresponding week of the previous year: 1898, $462,794; 1897, $487,093; decrease, $24,299.

The Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway has already commenced to overhaul its newly-acquired property, the Erie and Huron Lailway. The first thing to be done is to repair a number of the cars, both passenger, box and flats. A number of these cars are being taken to Walkerville, to be repaired, and the work will be hustled through as soon as possible.

The new officers of the Erie and Huron Railway, recently purchased by the L. E. and D. R. R., are as follows: President and managing director, E. C. Walker; vice-president, Dr. S. A. King; treasurer, J. H. Walker; secretary, J. E. Foreman; solicitor, J. H. Cobourn. The present operative force of the Erie road will have jurisdiction over the Huron line also.

The fastest run ever made over the tracks of the Philadelphia and Read-ing and the Central Railroad of New Jersey, was that made last week by train 500, known as the Royal Blue Line Express, which left Jersey City at 3:42 p.m. It was made up of an engine, four coaches and a Pullman palace car. The record run was made between Elizabeth and Jenkintown, a distance of 69 miles, which was covered in 61 minutes, including the time consumed in twice slowing up for water, once near.

As a large portion of the There was considerable difficulty in getting sufficient labor, particularly after the report of the government commissioners, but that has been overcome, and matters are going smoothly, the men being content with the way in which they are treated. The idea, however, of bringing out old country laborers, with the thought of having them take up land after the work was finished, and becoming citizens of the country, has had to be abandoned, owing to the reports which the first batch of laborers sent home as to the conditions, which, in their unfamiliarity, appeared worse than they really were, as judged from the standpoint of the trained navvy. The wages now are $1 75 a day, with deduction for

It would watch with interest the progress of the winter export business and western freight to this port. Mr. Hays said that the railroad was met with demands from Winnipeg to the east to assist in developing the country, and it was impossible to meet them all the afternoon.

at once. The party left for Quebec in The purchase of the Erie and Huron Railway by the Walkers, of Walkerville, who own the Lake Erie and Detroit River road, constitutes one of he most noteworthy railway deals of the day. The possibilities which the transaction begets are wide-extending, for the road has always been regarded by capitalists and promoters of large transportation enterprises as an excellent link in a long-contemplated route from Ohio through Canada into Northern Michigan, opening up, developing and controlling an immense and valuable trade. The Erie and Huron Railway is a remarkable line of road, running from Sarnia to the piers at Rondeau Harbor on Lake Erie, about twenty miles south of Chatham. It intersects and has excellent connections with four other roads-the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk, the Michigan Central and the Lake Erie and Detroit River. It serves a rich agricultural district and enjoys a traffic, passenger and freight, both large and profitable. Moreover, it has this trade all to itself, besides sharing with connecting lines a large amount of business. Competent authorities regard the Erie and Huron as the best paying railway in Canada. A complete overhauling and reorganization will at once take place. This is imperative, so far as the rolling stock is concerned, at all events. But the new owners have millions at their back, and will spare no expense to put their latest acquisition into the best possible shape. With the change in ownership, it is learned, from an authoritative source, the Cleveland-Rondeau lake transporation scheme will be revived. and carried through without delay. Mr. E. ## Pain Around the Heart, AND ALL OTHER SYMPTOMS

OF HEART DISEASE ARB TOO DANGEROUS TO NEGLECT.

An Ingersoli, Out., Man tells how Milbura's Meart and Nerve Pitts Restored his Heart to Healthy Action.

SOMETIMES a pain catches you in the region of the heart, now and then your heart skips beats, palpitates, throbs, or beats with such rapidity and violence you think it will burst. Once and a while you have a direct or faint spell feel week. you have a dizzy or faint spell, feel weak, nervous, irritable and depressed. There is no other remedy will do you so much good, restore your heart to a natural condition, build up your strength and give you back vigor and vitality as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Here's what Mr. Hugh Moore, Ingersoll, Ont., says about them: "Last year I was sick with Malaria. Since then I have had serious heart trouble, such as sharp pains beneath the heart, violent palpitation, shortness of breath, smothering spells on going to bed, etc. My rest was broken and disturbed, and I often woke up gasping for breath, while my heart beat so violently as to make me fear sudden death.

"I heard that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills were a good remedy for heart troubles and therefore got a box from Mr. G. A. Ionson's Drug Store, and to my surprise and delight obtained almost instant relief. My heart is now all right, the pain is gone, the heart beat is natural, the shortness of breath has vanished, and I have had no attack of smothering since beginning their use. I now get unbroken, restful sleep, so that I am feeling strong and well. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have wrought this gratifying shappe, and I heartily recommend them to all sufferers." Price 50c. a box, or 8 for $1.25, at all dauggists. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, CRICKET. CANADA V. U. S. Philadelphia, Aug. 29.-The annual cricket match between the United Glencoe has a smart ball team.

A very one-sided game of ball was played Saturday on Eric Flats, between teams representing R. O. Struthers & Co. and The R. Greene Mfg. Co. The features of the game were the pitching of Berry and the fielding of McHattle. The former were defeated by the following score:

R. C. S. & Co. 1 1 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 - 4 10 13 R. G. Mfg. Co. 1 1 0 2 5 6 2 1 - 10 13 3 Batteries—R. C. S. & Co., Noble and Dulmage and Cowley; R. G. Mfg. Co., Berry and Saunders.

States and Canada began to-day on the grounds of the Merion Cricket Club at Harvard. When stumps were drawn for the day the United States team had completed its first inning for 250 runs, and the Canadians were still at bat, with 38 runs to their credit, and 3 wickets down. The U. S. team to-day batted strongly, the century wicket feil, and the 200 mark was reached soon after the fall of the sixth wicket. The last 3 wickets, however, added but two runs to the care. States and Canada began to-day on wicket. The last 3 wickets, however, added but two runs to the total. Most of the bowling for the Canadians was done by Laing, McGiveran and Philpotts. The Canadians went in against the bowling of King and P. H. Clark. Their first wicket went down for 13, the second for 13, and play was suspended with the total at 38 for three Niagara, Ont., Aug. 28.—Splendid was the quality of the tennis witnessed on the Queen's Royal courts to-day. The all-comers' fell to the lot of Lee Ware, who has always played very strong tennis. At Niagara this afternoon he won from Jos Forbes in the flual by three sets to one, after a fine exhibition. Ware meets W. S. Bond in the International championship trophy match on Monday. The ladies' flual cup match, between Juliet Atkinson and Miss Marie Wimer, developed a surprise in Miss Wimer's very strong pisy. It was a brilliant exhibition of extremely fine tennis. The first set fell to Miss Atkinson after a protracted struggle of 18 games.

WINNER OF THE CHAMPIONSHIP. Queen's Royal, Niagara, Aug. 29.—This evening the final for ladies' International championship was continued between Miss Marie Wimmer, of Washington, challenger, and Miss Juliette Atkinson, of Brooklyn, defender. On Saturday the game was postponed with the score one set each, the games being 10—8 9—7. This morning Miss Wimmer was not in quite as good the games being 10—8 9—7. This morning Miss Wimmer was not in quite as good form as on Saturday and by greater steadiness Miss Atkinson won the match, the sets being 6—4 6—3.

The Moore challenge vase thus becomes Miss Atkinson's property, as she won it three years in succession. The semi-final handicap, Langton, of Oakville, beat Gabriel, of Cleveland 6—4 6—5, while Porter, of Niagara Falls, beat Tate, Petrolea, giving him 15, 6—4 6—2.

THE TRIGGER

Dominton Rifle Matches Begun

Ottawa, Aug. 29.-The formal opening of the Dominion Rifle Association took place this morning on the new Rockcliff range, the initial shot being fired by Major-General Hutton, the new general commanding. In his opening speech Major-General Hutton suggested to the committee that it would be a good idea if they would practice matches. Such practice he considered would be of the most practical benefit to the Canadian militia. The weather conditions were most favorable for making high scores. Owing to the rain which fell early in the morning the sun was obscured by clouds which threw a greyish light through which the targets stood out very distinctly. Shortly after eleven o'clock a slight breeze started up from the right rear, but it was not long enough to interfere with the scor-

Make Trouble at Cavite and Manila.

Conflict Between Natives and Americans-Five Men Killed.

London, August 29 .- A despatch to a news agency from Manila, dated August 25th, via Hong Kong, to-day, says: - "The friction between the Americans and natives requires exceptional ability to avoid total alienation. I find that several high American officials of mediocre education are utterly unacquainted with oriental ideas, and are unable to understand the primitive races. Most of the Americans are deficient in patience, and numerous trifling misunderstandings intensify the friction. I believe the Americans intend to be harsh. The American censor absolutely prohibits the sending of a single word about the Cavite incident of yesterday, and he threatens to expel any correspondent who mentions it. A deputation from the press is going to General Merritt to protest against his action. The affair began in a drunken American shooting, and native sentries tried to arrest him. In consequence of the melee four natives and one American were killed, and it is now generally misreported as being a deliberate inauguration of hostilities. General Merritt returned their arms to the natives, who fired upon the Americans presumably inadvertenly. The natives as-sert that Aguinaldo forced General Merritt to liberate them, and return their weapons. The Americans con-demn General Merritt's course." Managing Director John Cameron and Editor, London, Tuesday, Aug. 30, 1898.

The Czar's Sensational Proposals.

All the world is talking of the big sensa. tion suddenly sprung on the world by the Emperor of Russia. It is, in brief, a proposal for a conference, to see if arrangements can be made for a proportionate disarmament by the great Powers; or, at the least, a cessation in the mad race between the nations as to which shall add most rapidly to its armies and navies.

The world seems divided in opinion as to whether the proposal is made sincerely, or is merely a ruse. The most part consider the proposal sincere.

If it is a suggestion made in sincerity, it marks a new epoch in history of peace. The Anglo-Saxon world can afford to greet the proposal with welcome. Strong in war, the genius of the Anglo-Saxon world manifests itself not less strongly in the paths of peace.

The very proposal, from so inflential a quarter, is immensely educative; and our belief is that, like the coming Anglo-American alliance, a general proportionate disarmament on the part of the nations is one of the happy inevitabilities of the future.

American Losses by Disease and Starvation.

An irresistable demand goes up for an investigation into "the horrible slaughter of American soldiers by the preventable disease and starvation which have proved more deadly than the bullets of Spain." We fancy it will be difficult to fix on any individual as scape-goat, though the most ger eral nomination for that office seems at present to be Secretary of War Alger. The truth is, the United States. at all events on the army side, was totally unprepared for war; and every war, in the case of unmilitary nations, begins with break-down of the commissariat and medical departments.

How great that break-down was, in the recent war, is only now becoming generally known. All dispatches from in the American arrangements, were necessarily and properly prohibited. lest they should give aid and comfort to the enemy. But now that the battles are over, and the newspaper correspondents and soldiers are alike returning home, the full truth is coming

One result, among others, will be a pretty general acceptance of General Sherman's impressive aphorism, that

One war is usually enough for one generation, and the people of the United States will not be keen for another conflict, unless perhaps by sea for a good many years to come.

The Cloakmaker's Cheek.

The International Conference at Quebec has given rise to some very cool propositions. Among others, we find that an open letter to the Canadian Commissioners has been published by Mr. Coldwater, who signs himself "Acting Editor of the Cloak Journal." This New York giver-of-advice makes an argument to show how advantageous it would be for Canada if her people would be contented with growing wool to send to the United States to be manufactured into cloth, to be subsequently made into garments by United States workmen. Then it would be sent back to Canada as readymade clothing. To effect this, Mr. Coldwater suggests that the United States should admit our wool duty free, and Canada should receive duty free the clothing manufactured from it by Mr. Coldwater and his cloak-making friends.

Did it never occur to Mr. Coldwater that Canadians are a manufacturing people as well as a farming and sheepraising community? It certainly profits our people to sall to the United States manufacturers, or they would not do so; but it is a fact that Canada has hundreds of women mills within her bounds, and thousands of expert operatives engaged in making up, for the use of the public, the products of those mills. Why, then, should this advocate of the New York cloak manufacturers think it possible that the people of this country would for one moment entertain such a one-sided proposition as he has made?

If Mr. Coldwater could prevail upon the United States Congress to agree to a lowered tariff on cloaks and other woolen articles, as well as on wool, thereby giving a fair field to the manufacturers of this country in the United States markets, as well as to our wool growers, we are certain that our Government would meet the proposition in no haggling spirit. We have already a much more liberal tariff than our neighbors, and neither our manufacturers nor our farmers are afraid to wise to entrust the tremendous respontake equal chances in any market with their competitors; but a proposition conceived in so selfish a spirit as that which the advocate of the United States cloakmakers has set forth has but to be mentioned to be rejected.

Canada is ready for give-and-take reciprocity, but not for a treaty that would provide, as Mr. Coldwater advocates, for reciprocity that would enact reciprocity for one industry and a virtually prohibitory tariff against another. Canada is not doing business, in these days of prosperity, in that

Freedom In Reality.

The Russian authorities kave given another exhibition of their intolerance by expelling all the Roman Catholic missionaries from the Province of Manchuria. China, of which they have recently acquired control. The London Tablet, the organ of the English Catholics, comments on the significance of this illiberality, and points out how different it is to the line of conduct pursued by the British and United States Governments in countries over which they have from time to time assumed control. For this reason, the Tablet welcomes the extension of the influence of the United States to Cuba and elsewhere, and the growing friendliness between Great Britain and the United States. The extension of both these English-speaking nations, and their cordial co-operation in the cause of human freedom, our London contemporary holds, guarantees an enlarged area of religious liberty and fair treatment of the Roman Catholic Church in their respective countries.

Under British and United States rule as our contemporary rightly points out there will be no such illiberality or persecution of any denomination as has been recently witnessed in China, at the order of the Russian authorities. The English speakers have passed the stage of national development in which religious bigotry and loyalty to the State were regarded as inseparable by very many of the people, and more especially by the ruling classes,

The Ottawa Citizen, speaking of the Quebec commission, gleefully proclaims its belief that reciprocity is "knocked out." Does the wish occupy parental relation to the thought?

Judging from the almost universal sentiment of United Statesers summering in Muskoka, opinion among our neighbors pretty generally favors keeping all the territory conquered from Spain. That's what The Advertiser wants to see.

Rough-Rider Col. Roosevelt is proving a formidable candidate for the Governorship of New York State on the Republican side. He is rich, brainy, patriotic and fearless. The leader of the Rough Riders has ridden into popularity, but by no means beyond his

Of all our esteemed Conservative contemporaries, we do not know any quite so habitually anxious as the Montreal Star. On the 27th of August it begins to inquire, in awe-stricken tones, "What of Next Session?" As the next Dominion session is presumably six months away, does not this savor a little of rushing the season? Our Conservative contemporary is not as those who sorrow without hope. It thanks Heaven the friends of truthand righteousness still have the Senate upon which to fall back.

"Bystander," writing in the Toronto

Weekly Sun, says: "Essentially different from suicide in the proper sense of that term is euthanasia, as it is called—that is the termination of life when medical science has pronounced that death is centain, and that nothing remains for the patient but useless pain. Providence, to whose decree opponents of euthanasia appeal, if it has sent the suffering, has also sent the means of release. In time, probably, the use of those means under due limitations and safeguards will be sanctioned. Express.] Mr. Ross is not as busy with pen and books as his colleague. As a rule, he leans back in his chair, with his hat well drawn over his eyes. In fact, he wears his hat in the House more than any other Cabinet Minister. That he is attentive to what his opponents are saying is evinced by his frequent and sarcastic "Hear, hear!" delivered in a peculiarly disconcerting tone. Many a ew member, attempting to establish a reputation for oratory, has had his ideas driven out of his head and the thread of discourse severed by that sarcastic exclamation.

I had the worst hands I have ever seen. At first my hands and fingers broke out in red, watery blisters with terrible itching, so I could nearly twitch the skin off my fingers in agony, then after the watery fluid would come out, there would a scab form with matter under it, which would peel off and come in great cracks, the blood running out in streams.

My finger nails grew out in wrinkles like a cow's horns and the roots of the nails were so affected that I lost six nails, three off each hand, but now they have grown out nice and smooth. ## "CRUELLY TREATED"

A London Audience Witness "The Mikado' - Company Have to Quit-Was Simply "Awful."

It was clearly demonstrated at the Grand last night that a poor company cannot put on a high-class show which requires every member of the cast to be a finished artist. The celebreated opera, "The Mikado," is no exception to this, and one thing was made plain, that the "Metropolitan Opera Company" should never have attempted to give a London audience a show that was in every way out of their reach. The costumes of .the troupe were certainly very handsome and expensive, and the cast is a large one, but these in no way made up for the amateurish manner in which the respective parts were taken. It would look as if the piece was hurried on, and not sufficient time taken in its rehearsal. The play abounds with singing, and requires rich and well-trained voices to handle the solo parts, which were certainly badly treated at the hands of the singing "artists" last night. "The Mikado" has been presented to London audiences on more than one occasion by a strong com-pany, and delighted large crowds, and the name of Gilbert & Sullivan, with the cheap prices, filled the opera house last evening with persons expectant of a first-class interpretation of this noted opera. They were simply "taken in," which they realized more and more as the play developed. People yawned, gazed about, and at every opportunity whispered something not altogether complimentary to the "artists'" ability as actors. The opinion was voiced on all sides that the company might put on a "heavy tragedy" with good effect, but the management should have considered that Londoners had witnessed "The Mikado" at its best, and will now be able to say at its worst, also, thanks to last night's A cheap priced show 'performance." is all right, and will be liberally patronized, but a "poor" show will not do for London theater-goers.

Manager Roote, of the Grand, last evening gave emphatic notice to the that he would cancel their two weeks' engagement. This has been done, and last night was the first and last "performance" in this city. Mr. Roote's action will be appreciated by theater-goers. The opera house suf-fers a large loss, as other attractions been booked, and it will now be difficult to secure any companies on so short a notice.

CROOKED CASHIER.

the Bank-Is a Forger Too.

Preston, Minn., Aug. 30 .- M. R. Todd, the cashier, who wrecked the Fillamore county bank, has confessed the theft of all the banks' deposit funds to M. T. Grattan, one of his bondsmen. Grattan told Todd that a lynching was imminent unless he made a full confession. Overcome by fear he confessed that just prior to the banks' assignment he had taken all the money on deposit and delivered it to a former partner, who is now in Lacrosse, Wis. The Lacrosse authorities have been asked to arrest him and further developments are expected. It develops that Todd is a forger, a spurious note having turned up in the banks' paper. A note given by the Presbyterian church, of which Todd was treasurer, was paid, knowing how many preachers may and Todd said he had destroyed it. The note now turns up as collateral in a La-crosse bank. Todd seems to have compietely looted the bank and his mother-inlaw's large estate. The feeling against him is bitter.

Increase the Per Diem Allowance of Delegates-Constitutional Amendments Adopted.

Deseronto, Aug. 80. - The supreme court of the I. O. F. resumed its session at the pavilion, Foresters' Island Park, yesterday morning.

The mileage and per diem allowance committee report, recommending that the per diem allowance be increased to $5 a day; also that the actual ex-pense for Pullman car on the journey to and from the supreme court meetings be allowed, was adopted. lowed, was adopted.

Consideration of the report of the committee on constitution and laws was resumed, and about twenty clauses were disposed of. The question of the composition of the supreme court in view of the changed conditions arising from the recognition of the companion courts, was settled by a decision that only male members of the order be eligible for office on the supreme of high court executive. Among other recommendations by the ommittee were the following: That the per capita tax of the supreme court be discontinued, and that the court dues be 25 cents per year; that the charter fee be $1 for each applicant, that is, that if there be to ty applicants for a charter the fee shall be $20, and if twenty-five applicants $25, and so on: also that a tax of five cents per month be imposed for supreme court purposes for each $1,000 carried. All these recommendations, after discussion, were referred back to the commit-

Another recommendation of the committee was that the session of high courts be biennial or triennial, and that if a high court have no bylaw covering this point, the case should be covered by this amendment of the constitution, which was to come into effect in 1900.

This clause was adopted. In the afternoon the brethren left for

COMES BACK RICH

Old-Time Actor Makes $200,000 in Alaska Mines.

Saginaw Man More Fortunate Than Some Klondikers.

Seattle, Aug. 30.-Thirty years with sock and buskin; one year in the Klondike, and a fortune of $200,000. This is an epitome of the life of Geo. T. Snow, whose name is familiar among stage folk all over the country. and who in the days of the old California Stock Company played comedy and tragedy with John McCullough, Lawrence Barrett, Fechter, Booth, John T. Raymond and a host of lesser lights in the dramatic firmament. Snow's experiences in the Klondike form a tale of romance and adventure unequaled in the written history of golden Yukon. When William A. Brady was a prompter in the California Theater, and McCullough, Barrett and Keene were members of the California Theater Stock Company, in San Francisco, Snow played Marc Anthony, Brutus, and Hawkshaw, in "The Ticket of Leave Man." Twelve years ago he took his wife, an accomplished actress, and his two children to Juneau. Thence he went to Circle City, where he built and managed the biggest theater in Alaska. Between seasons he mined. Even then he did not prosper. At Circle City came news in 1897 of the discovery of fabulous riches in the Klondike, a stream that Snow had prospected with Jack McQuesten and other Yukon pioneers years before. Hurrying over the ice with his wife and two children, Snow staked the cleams 7 and 9 on the benches of Bonanza Creek. On Saturday he stepped off the deck of the steamer Progreso, carrying, with the assistance of two men, eight sacks filled with gold. He has United States Assayer Wing's receipt for $53,000 in gold, and owns half a dozen of the best claims on Bonanza Creek. His holdings in the Klondike are worth, according to most reliable estimates, nearly $200,000.

$216 IN TEN MINUTES. Chicago, Aug. 30.-George H. Leathers, of Saginaw, Mich., arrived yesterday from Alaska, where he had become wealthy. The contents of the biggest pan which he washed was exhibited at his hotel. The gold is worth $216, and was secured in ten minutes work on the banks of the Copper Mr. Leathers is the owner of two effected remarkable cures. It is not the practice of the Medical Profession indiscriminately to use proprietary medicines, but there are hundreds of physicians throughout this country who are using Dr.

Chase's Ointment in their practice. We handed out during the last month 2,700 boxes of free samples of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the thankful results have

The cures says:

Mr. O. P. St. John, 246 Shaw St., Toronto, in his letter states: I suffered for some years from Itching Piles, at times being unable to sleep for the annoy-nance caused by them. After trying almost every remedy known, I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Ointeent, and can say one box entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of it, and have recommended it to several of my friends, all whom have been cured by its use.

BUSINESS EXCLUSIVELY The undersigned, in returning sincere thanks to his numerous customers and friends in both city and country for their kind and generous patronage during the last twelve years, begs leave to say that the business has arrived at a stage in its existence that it is not policy to much longer continue the retail portion of the grocery business. I therefore beg to say that on and after the first day of September next, the retail portion of the grocery business will cease. In the meantime, that is, from now until the date above specified, all loose goods and broken packages will be offered to our customers and friends at reduced prices. The liquor business will be conducted in the same manner and place as heretofore. All parties owing accounts on account of the retail portion of the grocery business, will please call and settle at their earliest convenience. tric power house had a serious effect upon several factories, which had to shut down this morning for lack of power.

As soon as the fire was under control, Mr. Bert Hunt, one of the managers, telegraphed to Toronto for new belting. At 4 a.m. the manufacturer to whom the message was sent had his workmen at the factory, and at 7 o'clock the belts were shipped to London, accompanied by two men, who are superintending the work of putting them in place. The full loss cannot be estimated until the machinery has been started. The plant is valued at something over $100,-000, and the insurance on engines, etc. amounts to $50,000. The Hartford, Connecticut, Etna, Queen's, and Commercial Union carry $2,777 77 each; and the Royal, North British and Mercantile, London, Liverpool and Globe, Guar-dian, Western, and Union each carry $5,555 55.

The new boilers, recently put in, were uninjured. The incandescent light will in all probability be operated tonight. One engine was set running at 10 o'clock this morning, and another one in the afternoon. Fortunately, it is moonlight, and the street lamps are not required. Mr. Hunt expects that three months will lapse before the establishment assumes its usual complete condition.

Mr. C. B. Hunt, who is away on his holidays, has been called home.

Middleton's Victims Reluctant to Prosecute.

Crown Will Today Ask for a Further

Remand. Woodstock, Aug. 30 .- After hearing a portion of the evidence in the charge of false pretense brought against Reginald Lancelot Middleton, the alleged railroad swindler and bigamist, the crown asked for a further remand, probably for the purpose of securing additional evidence as to the railway man's alleged shady transactions.

Should Middleton's case go to the assizes, it will be tried by Chancellor Boyd, who will open court on Sept. 20. Strenuous efforts have been made by local men to have the charge withdrawn. The crown attorney refused to do so, however, and the prosecution will go on. Those who were the prime movers in getting after Middleton just prior to his arrest hoped that by staying the proceedings they would stand a better chance of getting their money. The crown expects to show that there never was such a railway com-pany as the Brantford and Woodstock in existence.

> Gunboat Wrecked During a Sandstorm -Proclamation by Holland's Queen Regent-The Czar's Peace Note. THE QUEEN OF DENMARK HAS

Copenhagen, Aug. 30.-The Queen of Denmark is suffering from dropsy. The disease is extending, and her condition is serious. The Duke and Duchess of York are expected to arrive here The queen is the duke's shortly. grandmother on the maternal side.

THE HOLLAND SOVEREIGNTY. The Hague, Aug. 30.—The queen regent of Holland, in a proclamation just issued, upon the occasion of the end of her regency, her daughter, Queen Wilhelmina, coming of age tomorrow, expresses warm pleasure at seeing the whole nation "ranged gloriously round the throne of the young queen," thanks God that her dearest wish has been heard, and after thanking the people for their loving and faithful support of herself, her majesty invokes God's blessing upon the youthful sovereign, and concludes: "May our country become great in everything in which a small nation can be great." WHAT THEY WILL DO WITH IT.

London, Aug. 30.-The newspapers here continue to devote a large amount of their space to criticising the czar's peace note. They generally agree that the outcome will be a conference of the premiers, if not of the sovereigns themselves, probably at Copenhagen, which will be followed by an expression of concurrence in the humanitarian aims of the czar, and a report of the resolutions to their respective governments, when the whole thing will be shelved indefinitely. The latest comments from Paris show that there is intense irritation there on the subject. The czar's proposal is regarded as being unfriendly and inconsistent with the Franco-Russian alliance.

FIGHTING IN THE SOUDAN. Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 30 .- A brigade of friendly Arabs, commanded by Major Stuart Wortley, it is announced in a dispatch from Wady el Obeid, dated yesterday, which has been pushing round Omdurman, the dervish position near Khartoum, with a purpose of cutting off the retreat of the khalifa, had its first brush with the enemy on the east bank of the Nile, and captured five men and a grain-laden boat. The dervish scouts, the dispatch continues, are now frequently sighted, and the whole Anglo-Egyptian army has reached Utrief, 30 miles from Omdurman. It will move into new camp ten miles further south today. The gun-boat Melik has been wrecked, while reconnoitering ten miles up the river. in a terrific sandstorm.

CABLE NOTES. The Times cautions English investors to remember that the silver party in America is still potent for mischief. The Zionist convention at Basle, Switzerland, has passed a resolution, expressing its profound thanks to the czar for issuing his peace note. The French newspapers generally distrust the practicability of the czar's peace scheme, and clearly indicate that France would make the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine a pre-requisite to her Wonderful Transformation at Springbank Tomorrow Night.

Over 8,000 Colored Lights Festooned Among the Trees Along the River Shore and in the Parks-Something New and Novel. Many and varied have been the attractions provided at Springbank for the pleasure of the thousands who go down the river in search of rest and quiet. Something new, that has never been seen in Canada before, will be put on at Springbank tomorrow evening. On ordinary occasions the handsome pavilion laced with strings of bright incandescents, which give the place an inviting appearance. Tomorrow an excursion will be run from Strathroy to Springbank, and the street railway company have provided special attractions free for the occasion. The place will be transformed from picturesque forest and landscape into veritable fairyland. Three thousands prismatic globes—green, red, blue, white, yellow, amber—will be festooned among the trees along the river bank and in the woods, among the trees, in fantastic loops and figures, shedding just enough soft radiance to dispel the gloom of the woodland, without subtracting from the fascination of its dreamy shadows. The effect to be produced may be better imagined than described. The multitude moving in the mellow light of these lamps, which shine with many-colored gleams for four hours continually, will form a kaleidescopic picture of great beauty. In the middle of the river a little island has been cleared. This also has been decorated with a profusion of lamps. The band will take up its position here, and along the river for a considerbable distance each way will this unique illumination confront the eye, while, mellowed by distance and atmospheric influences, the music will fall upon the ear in softly thrilling symphonies. Over 60,000 people attended a similar entertainment at Belle Isle, Detroit, and it is estimated by the street railway company that no fewer than 8,000 to 10,000 people will visit Springbank to witness the spectacle tomorrow night.

LIFE SAVED .- Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such & state that I doubted the power of and remedy to do me good.

E.N. HUNT 190 DUNDAS STREET.

Maria Saproni fulfilled her mistress' order, and they alighted, the footman following. On reaching the crowd flowing into the hall, however, Maria dismissed him, telling him to return in an hour and a half.

No sooner had he gone than the two, instead of entering, passed through the crowd, and hurried on along the Strand.

'Now, Maria, call a cab.' In that part of the town the article was not difficult to procure, and they were soon shut up in one of those perambulating tortures.

'Oh! this fearful deception!" ejaculated Lucille, with a sob, as she lean-ed back, and covered her face with her hands. "How humiliating-how base it makes one feel! But it is for the last time. I pray heaven, for the last time!'

After a space she aroused herself. They had quitted the glare of the Strand, and, through ill-lighted, back, narrow thoroughfares, were making short cuts to Oxford street.

"Come, Maria," shesaid; "this place will serve our purpose. It is dark." Thereupon the lady's-maid arose, and having re. ed Lucille's bonnet and mantle, she substituted her own plain ones, and assumed her mistress'. Finally shedrew two thick lace veils from her pocket and each put one on. As the light of a lamp soon aftetr flashed through the window of the cab, it disclosed Lady Westbrook metamorphosed into the Earl of Lethringion at the railway station,

The circction given to the cabman had been Oxford Circus; but on reaching it, Lucille directed him to a street situate somewhere between Oxford street and Euston road.

Arriving at the corner, she bade the driver stop. Maria entreated to accompany Lady Westbrook-at least to the house-but Lucille was firm. 'Remember," she concluded, with a faint effort at a smile, "you represent Lady Westbrook, and must not be seen in such a place

Alighting and bidding the cabman wait, she flitted down the gloomy, wretched street. Maria watched until tured first prize for dancing Irish jig darkness shut in her view; then sank back wit ha sigh of compassion. Meanwhile Lucille hurried on, collecting her strength for the forthcoming interview as she went. Nearly at the other end of the street she stopped, and glanced up at the house she was standing before.

Of two stories high, it possessed a most dingy, dilapitated appearance, though aping gentility. It was apparently let out in tenements, for after suppressing a shudder, Lucille murmured, her eyes fixed on the first-floor windows, where a sickly light gleamed through dirty holland blinds, yellow with age:

"She said, 'knock twice,' " Approaching the door, she raised the slender, uncertain-of-stroke knocker, and brought it down twice with a thing, hollow sound: For a few sec onds there was no rejoinder; then there was the patter of a child's feet. accompanied by a child's voice, in the passage, followed by a harsh, female tone, which, with a "Come 'ere, you little imp!" stifled both. Then a door banged; then a light glimmered on the dust encrusted fanlight, the door opened, and Susan Squelcher, the younger of the two women whom the Earl had addressed in the square, stood with a flaring, guttering candle in her hand. "Oh! it's you, your-I btg pardon." and Susan Squelcher corrected herself with a snigger. "It's you, mum. I thought it was."

"Be kind enough," said Lucille, with hateur, as she entered the dingy passage, "to lead me to the room where the business that has brought me here may be transacted, and spare me your remarks, which are of no moment. "Oh, indeed!" muttered Miss Squelcher, tossing her head, her tones, however, subdued, for, despite their vulgarity and boldness, they felt the vast social gulf between them and their victim.

Holding the cand's in a fashion which satisfactorily accounted for the dark blotches of grease on the tat-tered carpet, Miss Squelcher led the way to the first floor front. It was a tolerably-sized apartment, badly lighted by an evil-odored, smoky paraffin lamp. The furniture was shabby and ill-kept, ill-arranged

Above hung one or two silhouettes, and-if the subjects had been worthy of insupection-tantalizing daguerreotypes. A kettle sung on the hob, and, though the table now was clear, the atmosphere of the apartment was redolent with a sickly smell of warm rum-and-water. On entering, Lucille recoiled, first with disgust, secondly with an annoyance, amounting to anger, at perceiving, besides mere Squelcher, seated in a soiled tawdry cap by the table, a iard, otr, eulypyour.a-Gal 2 story man, disreputable of aspect both in appearance and attire, leaning against the mantle-piece, his hands in his pockets, and his dull, cunning eyes fixed curiously, boldl on the visitor. "I conditioned," said Lucille, firmly and proudly, "that our interview should be private. If it is not complied with I leave immediately!" "If you refer to my brother, your ladyship," responded Susan, a suspicion of defiance in her tones, "it's just for our security he's 'ere. You're a great lady, with interlect, I s'pose, and all that. Me and my mother can't scarcely read. Now, Sam's a scholard, so ot's right he should be present." Lucille's cheek burned her eyes flashed beneath her veil. Oh! to what bitter humiliation had one silly-silly secret exposed her! Controling herself, she said hautily: "If he be your brother, it does not so much signify, as I do not dougt the matter is no secret to him." "No, your ladyship," remarked Sam, with a coarse laugh. We are too af-fectionert a family for one to care to suck the oranges alone." Lucille merely raised her veil, and looked at the speaker. The proud scorn so mutely expressed was better than words. Sam shifted his shoulders uneasily, tried to return her gaze, but failed, and finally fixed his gaze on the smaky ceiling, and whis-

"I suppose it's all right?" he remarked, answering the interrogation. "Of course it isn't true; and 'ull hold us pretty sharp. Still—"
"Still," broke in Lucille, with quiet decision, "unless that paper is signed I give no money. I refuse any longer to subject myself to an extortion so humiliating. Far better that my friends should know all: I feel their anger would be but temporary, while the Marquis loves mee too well not to compassionate when he hears how I have suffered. Mark me. I am determined! Refuse to sign that paper," she proceeded, looking very and queenly in her haughty determination, "and I return instantly to make a full confession to my adopted father. Sign it, and the hundred you have asked I make a hundred and fifty! It is for you to decide. I must trouble you to do so speedily."

There was a pause. They looked at the white, handsome face of the speaker: then the Squelcher trio, retiring into a corner, consulted. Lucille waited. (To be Continued.

Eating too much or not enough: or the wrong time—gets the digestive organs into such a thoroughly disordered condition that at last noth ing whatever can be digested. When the appetite fails and the liver becomes sluggish, the whole system is dragged down and deadened by imperfect nutrition. There is nothing in the world which restores or ganic tone and vigor so quickly and scientifically as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medcal Discovery.

It acts directly upon the nutritive organsm; it gives the stomach power to extract a high percentage of nourishment from the food, and enables the liver to filter all bilius poisons out of the circulation: it puts the red, vitalizing life-giving elements into the blood, and builds up solid flesh, mus-cular force and healthy nerve-power. In all debilitated conditions and wasting diseases it is vastly superior to malt extracts or any mere temporary stimulants. It gives permanent strength. It is better than nau-seous emulsions, because it is agreeable to

BOMBAY IS BANKRUPT. The annual budget for the Presidency of Bombay was presented at the meeting of the Council. The Finance Minister summed up the finan-cial situation of the Presidency by describing the Bombay Government as "on its beam ends," and existing on the charity of the Supreme Government. During the discussion which followed the budget statement, the Presidency was generally described as bankrupt. THE WAR AND U. S. TRADE. The Times this morning devotes an editorial to the discussion of the effects of the war upon American commerce and trade. It thinks that the present hopefulness of the An rican people in this respect is not unreasonable, and says that, looking at the marvelous expansion of exports, the contraction of imports and the movement of American bonds homewards, there is irreproachable evidence of the country's wealth. The Times cautions English investors, however, to remember that the silver party in America is still potent for mischief. A NEW STEAMSHIP LINE. The report of the Milford Docks Company has just been issued, and secret the Squelchers had professed to says the directors have grounds for expecting the early conclusion of negotiations by which an important line of steamers for carrying passengers and general cargo will be established to run between Canadian ports and Milford Docks, with through bookings between Canadian and American railof Canada. It is understood that this refers to Mr. C. M. Armstrong's railway and steamship project, in connection with the Pasbiac and Bay Des Chaleurs Railway of Quebec. It is stated in reliable financial quarters that £900.000 of bonds of the new the company, the Dominion and Quebec subsidies being given back to the Quebec Government for disposal as Government guaranteed interest.

CZAR ALEXANDER II. A Moscow despatch says:-To-day. upon the occasion of the unveiling of a monument to Czar Alexander II .. grandfather of the present Czar, Emperor Nicholas III. issued a ukase re- tury. ferring to the event, and eulogizing the deeds of the deceased, notably the liberation of the peasants from bondage, which earned him the name of "The grateful people. The ukase concludes: -"Wishing to seal more firmly the memory of this historical deed, we wearing and possession of medals he tion: conferred upon his co-operators as a sign of his great acknowledgment of decoration of the Order of St. Andrew, with an Imperial rescript, reminding of the administrative department then entrusted to him. His Majesty then proceeds to express his gratitude, and eulogizes M. Pobiedonoststeff's patriotism and valued services to the country, the church and himself. The Emperor unveiled the monument at 2 p. m., in the presence of the Czarina, the Queen of the Hellenes, the Cabinet Ministers, the German and Austrian Ambassadors, deputations from all the land and naval forces of Russia and the Uhlans regiment. The clergy recited a prayer in memory of the deceased, the entire audience kneeling. 320 guns was fired. The Emperor then placed himself at the head of the troops and marched past the monument, amid the cheers of the multitude.

THE ARAB NAPOLEON. Important news has been received advance of Rabah, "the Arab Napoleon," upon the Western Soudan. The most recent news stated that Rabah was within three days' march Western Soudan. The "Arab Napoleon" was reported to have a large force with him, mainly composed of cavalry, of which he possesses enormous masses. He has numerous guns, but is short of powder and caps. The Sultan of Sokoto was hurrying to the assistance of Kano-which is a great source of revenue to him. Almost simultaneously with this report, another report has come to hand from French sources, via Tripoli. It is to the effect that Rabah, with a huge following, is moving westwards. The report gives Rabah's strength at 40,000 men. 8.000 of whom are said to be armed with repeating rifles. Rabah's guns-mainly Winchester-have been optained via Benghasi (North African concealed in bales of merchan-

The general position of affairs in the Mohammedan empires of Nigeria is causing some anxiety, and rumors -the accuracy of which is as yet impossible to prove-are rife in African circles of important British military operations in Nigeria, as soon as the rains have well set in, and the consequent rise of the waters in the Niger and Binue facilitate transport movements on those rivers. That these rumors have something in them is generally believed in well-informed circles, and it is pointed out that England has now accumulated an army of from 2,500 to 3,000 men in Lokoja and Jebba, commanded by over 100 British officers and non-coms. To this little African army are attached several maxim batteries, and an extensive commissariat staff.

Prof. Haeckel's Paper Read at Cambribge Is Supposed to Explain the Origin of Man.

London, Aug. 27.-Two international bodies sitting during the current week discussed subjects of general interest. One is the Cambridge Congress ways and the Great Western Railway of Zoology, which will be remarkable for a fascinating paper by Prof. Haeckel on the present knowledge of the descent of man. He does not hesitate to declare that science has now established the absolute certainty scheme have been underwritten here, that man has descended through varipreparatory to the early floating of ous stages of evolution from the lowest form of animal life during a period estimated at a thousand million years. Lamarch, Darwin and finally scores of other investigators won the knowledge which must now be accepted as the crowning achievement of science during the nineteenth cen-

A member of the congress said that Prof. Haeckel had spoken of one thousfrom the Niger on the subject of the and million years as necessary for his evolution tree, while Lord Kelvin supposed himself to have proved that this world as the scene of life could not be more than twenty-five million years of Kano, the famous metropolis of the old. It seemed unwise to complicate Prof. Haeckel's theory by assuming that a thousand million years would be required for proof. Prof Hackel replied that the computation was not his own. He took the time from one of the most eminent geologists. For himself he confessed that he had no intuition as to the length of time required for the evolution.

MR. F. H. HEATH'S SUGGESTION. To the Editor of The Advertiser:

With your kind permission I would like to make a suggestion to the citizens re the present plebiscite campaign. I would propose that his worship the mayor be requested to call a citizens' mass meeting, for the purpose of discussing this all-important issue. I would propose at this meeting to have both sides of the question taken up and handled by their respective champions. This will not be a religious meeting, and every citizen can feel at liberty to come. A very definite invitation should be extended to the liquor men, as well as to the temperance men, to be present, and have a fair, gentlemanly discussion. Trusting that this line of action will be adopted, I am, yours, F. H. HEATH.

Meters to be Placed in Them-Matters Handled by the Water Commissioners

The water commissioners held their regular session yesterday and some important matters were handled.

The Grand Trunk Railway submitted an agreement re the crossing of their tracks near the coves with a 10 inch main. Referred to the city solicitor. Bradford and Hodgins asked for a rebate on their rent for the Springbank pavillion, but the board did not grant it.

Commissioner R. Brown, of No. 3 ward, Westminster asked for a grant of $10 to improve the Byron road. Referred to chair-Mr. Harry Jones made application for a main on Railway street and it was granted.

Supt. Moore will report on an application of E. H. Cowan and others for a main on Wellington street north. Meters will be placed in all photograph The board awarded the contract for lay ing a conduit on the north side of the river to J. M. Drummond, provided the chairman considers the work necessary.

Inspector Plastow was ordered to report on Wm. Rowland's application for a refund of both rates, said to have been paid in error. No action was taken on the request made for changing a service.

The annual contract for printing was trans'erred from Warren & Wright to the London Printing & Lithographing Company, the former firm having gone out of business. The report of Engineer Findlay showed that 37,402,606 gallons had been pumped in two weeks, and fourteen feet still remained in the reservoir.

Terms on Which the County May Get Hospital Accommodation.

Fifteen Thousand Dollars Would See the Building Committee Through-Special Meeting of the County Counoil May Be Called.

The special hospital committee of the city council met a sub-committee from the county council at the county buildings yesterday afternoon, and endeavored to make a new arrangement for the treatment of county patients in the Victoria Hospital. Warden Elson, County Auditor W. D. Stanley, James Gilmour, M.P., C. C. Hodgins, and James Murray were present in the interests of the county, and Mayor Wilson, Ald. Jolly, Wilkey, McPhillips, and Carrothers, and Secretary Bell represented the hospital building committee. Dr. Balfour, superintendent of the hospital, was also present. Secretary Bell presented a statement, showing that the tenders already for work on the hospital accepted, and those yet to be recommended to the council amounted to $89,542 83, which included about $4,000 for an electric plant large enough to ght the hospital and all other municipal buildings, and make the cost of the hospital proper between $85,000 and $86,000. After a long discussion about the terms on which the county could get hospital accommodation, Mayor Wilson submitted two propositions. The firs was that the county should invest $15,000 for a term of twenty years on which 31/2 per cent interest would be allowed, the county to pay for patients at the actual cost of treatment, and, if desired, the agreement to be dissolved at the end of 20 years on either corporation giving a year's notice of a desire for its termination, the county to have its $15,000 returned. Repairs to be charged to the maintenance account from year to year. The second proposition was that the county should invest $15,000 for the twenty years, without interest, and pay 70 cents a day per patient.

The amount of capital was fixed at $75,000, and the meeting adjourned. Following the action of the city council tonight, a special meeting of the county council may be held.

Blaze in the London Electric Power House Results Seriously.

The City in Darkness and All Machinery Driven by Electric Power at a Standstill.

Fire broke out between 11:30 and 12 o'clock last night in the power house of the London Electric Company, and did damage amounting to several thousand dollars in a short time. The oil-saturated floor blazed furiously, plants. and, aided by the draughts from the belts, the flames were given a good start before the arrival of the firemen. Dense smoke filled the place, and Hugh Kyle, a patrolman of the company, who was cleaning the floor near where the fire broke out, was overcome, and carried out unconscious. Dr. James Wilson was called, and after a few hours' work, Kyle was resuscitated. He is thought to be seriously affected. As a result of the fire, nearly all the hotels and numerous private residences were left in total darkness. The gas apparatus in the hotels, which has so long been in disuse, was thought in-safe, as the taps and pipes might leak. The telegraph offices and places where electric light was used, were left in total darkness. The management of the company could not at a late hour give even an approximate estimate of the damage sustained. Much harm has been done by the water among the costly machinery. Nearly every piece of belting in the place was rendered useless. The effect of the fire meant much to the newspapers, all of which were seriously inconvenienced, as they use electric power almost exclusively. The typesetting machines, in consequence, could not be run until a late hour this

Several places throughout the city which relied upon electric motor power have been shut down for the time being. It is expected that power will be generated again tomorrow.

FAGGED OUT .- None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength has gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure—one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmelee's Pills.
