DIVINE SERVICE

Troops in Camp Heard Splendid Sermon by Rev. Canon Dann Yesterday Morning.

SUNDAY IN CHURCHES

Sermons Preached B London Pastors—Interesting Topics Touched Upon.

There was a splendid turnout citizens yesterday morning, when for the first time in many years the troops at camp attended divine service in Victoria Park. The service commenced at 9 o'clock sharp, the men leaving the camp at 8:30 and marching to the park attended by the regimental bands. On their way to and from Carling's Heights thousands of citizens lined the streets to see them pass and were greatly pleased at the fine appearance the soldiers made.

Upon arriving in the park, the various regiments drew up in the form of a large square, in the centre of which the drums were massed, and covered with a Union Jack. The lessons were read by Canon Davis, of the Twentyseventh Regiment, and Rev. J. W. Hodgins, of the Thirty-third, and sevwere accompanied by a band made up of members of the various regimental bands, about 100 strong, under the direction of Bandmaster Zeller. Canon Dann's Sermon, Canon Dann preached, and based his ermon upon the healing of the centurion's servant by Christ. He pointed out that the first quality apparent in the centurion was reverence.

"This," he said, "is something that is very much needed throughout the world today. Respect for those who are above us. Unfortunately, we are sadly lacking in this, and if we continue as we are now irreverence will eat into the heart of our nation and others also. Reverence begets obedience and affection. Obedience is one of the most necessary qualifications for a soldier. One of the first things J. Coughlin, 30th Regt.; 3 T. Day and he is taught in his training is to obey. Everything must have a head or leader, and the leader if he is to do the most good for all must be obeyed. Discipline is the life of efficiency in an army as in anything else. In our modern life our children too often are allowed to have their own way in everything. They are pampered and spoiled. This is not the way to make strong characters." Canon Dann urged the soldiers accept Christ as their leader, and to obey Him and reverence Him through-

Ideal weather, large crowds, and a splendid programme made the field day held at the camp on Saturday afternoon one of the most successful that has ever been held there. The events were all keenly contested, and those taking part were urged on to the utmost by the plaudits of their friends and a large crowd of citizens. The men of the Twenty-sixth Regiment eral hymns were sung by the men, who showed up well in all the events, and got away with a very large share of the prizes. Major Berdan, Capt. Jones, Lieut. Armstrong, and Lieut. Noyes were the judges, and Mr. Sovereign, of the Y. M. C. A., was starter. The

Some Lessons.

Dr. Ross at St. Andrew's Church, drew a number of important lessons from the life of Christ. "We should do right." he said, "because it is right of racing stables is not usually considered favorable to piety. But Richard Marsh, the royal trainer at Newmarket, darsh, the royal trainer at Newmarket, darsh do right," he said, "because it is right was not as black as it was painted, and

From the start they took to the athletic parson, and immediately dubbed him "The Jockeys' Chaplain"—a name that has stuck to him ever since. His "Straight Talks to Stable Lads" have become a feature of Sunday life at Newmarket. With infinite tact he deals with racing difficulties—and the problems of sporting existence. On non-essentials he avoids existence. On non-essentials he avoids antagonism, but on essentials he is un-compromising. Before he had been in Newmarket a month the lads wanted his

On cruelty to animals he is quite as outspoken. "If the whip must be used to make a horse do its best, that horse is not fit to race. He is a worse horse every time he is thrashed past the post. It will mark a new and glorious era for sport when the stewards of the Jockey Club banish from the racecourse the use of whip and spur."

The royal decree authorizes the edifices of non-Catholic religious societies to display the insignia for public worship and other ceremonies.

Had Weak Kidneys For Two Years. Doctor Failed to Help. Doan's

Kidney Pills Cured Him. Mr. Edmund Assels, New Carlisle, Que., writes:—"I feel it my duty to let you know of the great cure I have obtained by using Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with my kidneys for two years. I tried a doctor, but he failed to help me. I read in the B.B.B. Almanac about

Doan's Kidney Pills, and began using them, and after the first box began to feel better. I only used four boxes and they completely cured me. I am very thankful to have found so speedy a cure, and would advise everyone suffering from kidney disease to try them."

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some kind of Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as brick dust deposit in the urine, highly colored, scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or suppressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc.

KIDNAPPING ENDED IN PRETTY ROMANCE

Terminates in Happy Marriage.

Detroit, June 17.—That sensational kid-napping of Josephine Bomarito, Ford City's dark-eyed Italian belle, who apparently was snatched from her parents' home by an insanely jealous lover, and a young army of his countrymen, at dusk Wednesday, was not so brigandish as if

Lisbon, June 20 .- A notorious brigand chief and five of his band, who for some months past have carrying on a campaign of robbery and murder in the district of Pezuengos, has just been captured by the police, who had for some time past been keeping a careful watch in the Burwell street, evenings, between 6 and district, which, owing to its rough, mountainous nature, and extensive tracts of lonely forest lands, affords favorable opportunity for the malpractice of robbers. Eventually the police arranged ar ambush. One of their number was sent into the dangerous district as a decoy, dressed as an ordinary traveller, and a detachment of civil guards was distributed in hiding along the path he had to traverse. The scheme proved successful, for when the man nad advanced a short distance into the forest he was attacked by a number of brigands, and the soldiers, rushing from their hiding places, were Chalan, and five of his companions. ### CORRESPONDENCE.

Municipal Buildings. To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Having read with pleasure in the columns of your valuable paper the letter written by a taxpayer on "The City Hall Site," I would like to say, if I may, that I for one heartily indorse all he says in his letter. I think that Mayor Beattle and the other members of the council have the right idea when they say that a new site should be chosen for the civic buildings, and I also think that the "V," as sugsested by the mayor, would be an excellent location to build. The "V" formed by the junction of Park avenue and Richmond streets, is almost in the very centre of the city, and is easily reached by the street cars, by the Wellington, Oxford, and Belt line cars, which make it a convenient place to find for those who would have business to transact there, and would also stand out prominently to the view of strangers visiting the city, as nearly all who visit the city indulge in the pleasure of a ride on the Belt Line, and also visit Victoria Park (I know, for I have done it myself).

I think also, if I may suggest, that by closing park avenue from Kent street north (I think the street is called Kent), and building as close to the park as is found necessary that, For curiosity sake I bought six bottles of having the beautiful park on two Burdock Blood Bitters, and it completely sides of the civic buildings, it would be an ideal location—one not excelled for beauty and usefulness. The other two side could be used for office For sale by all dealers. Manufactured fronts and show windows, as suggestonly by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, ed necessary by Mr. Dark. I would ask you also not to forget the fact that the revenue from the sale of the it is a libel. So far as his close friends have noticed him he has never been station, and registry office (which, I believe, has been condemned), would go a long way towards the buying of the land and preparing it for the new buildings.

I hope that the mayor and all those having authority in the matter will have sufficient stamina in this project as they have proven to have in the past, to protect our rights and not to yield to the demands of the slowmoving and unprogressive body from the county council, who are opposing this movement, and are in favor of retaining and repairing the present county buildings, the condition of which has been censured by grand jury for years past (if I have not been misinformed).

It is a few years since I've been a resident of your city (the place of my birth and education), but I always read with interest all the new changes that are contemplated, and I think with the mayor and those appointed to act with him succeeding in having their ideas regarding the change in location accomplished, even if the city has to build the structure itself, leaving the county in possession of their unsightly and insanitary build-

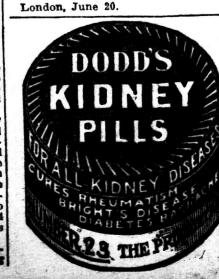

PAYER. London, June 18.

The Ladder Truck.

Just a last word in this connection. I noticed an ad, in your paper for a service truck for the city. I secured a Later Parr heard of threats against States claim that American fishermen them to a large American fish after considerable correspondence they decided to tender for this truck. They told me also that the specifications were for a Seagrave truck, but that they would tender for their own style of truck, the equipment to be the ODD MUSEUM IN same as asked for. This style is used by fire departments all over the United States. I placed their tender in the hands of the city clerk, and in due time it was opened along with the Seagrave tender, the price quoted by Seagrave being $2.250, and that of the American Company $2,174, or $76 less exclusive rights. The treaty of 1818 than Seagrave's, and this price in face of the fact that the American firm would have to pay a duty of 30 per cent, or $650. This firm is no novice in the building of trucks, as they are the largest builders in the world of vacation. There has just been opened fire apparatus. They were anxious to what is known as the Norman underdo business in Canada, and have been croft in Westminster Abbey, which is of arrangements with a Canadian firm to handle and manufacture their goods. known as the "dark cloisters" and and they made a special effort to secure this order, but all to no purpose, There is only one builder of Scagrave's trucks in Canada, and he therefore has a monopoly. One would naturally suppose that with a protective duty of 30 per cent the Seagrave have been knocked away, the ceiling Company would have been under the American company in price. Trucks such as the city is buying, I am in- the most interesting things about the formed by the traveller for the La-France Company, are sold in the United States for $1.600, and notwithstanding the fact that labor is cheaper in Canada, and the protective duty, the Canadian-made article is higher priced, and not a whit better, if as the features, with the exception of the good, as the American goods. the price quoted in the United States, preserved. $1,600. Add 25 per cent for selling, for this is what is generally paid to agents for selling to municipalities, although the same agents will sell to private parties for a commission of 10 per cent -why it costs 1 5per cent more to sell to municipalities than to private individuals I will leave the reader to surnise; add this 25 per cent commission to $1,600, and it equals $2,000. Now, the American firm, after selling this truck for $1,600, and paying 25 per cent commission, has a balance $1,200, and still make a profit. What profit must the Canadian manufacturer make at a price of $2,250? It looks profitable, doesn't it? When the matter was up in No. 3 committee, although the American tender was $76 lower, one gentleman on the board explained, as he seconded the motion accepting the Seagrave tender, "What is $76 in such a con-tract?" Well, sir, it may not be much to him, but it amounts to five weeks' hard work to any one of a majority of the taxpayers in London, and surely is a consideration, and should not have been thrown away. ROBERT ANGUS.

For many years it was divided up by partitions, and used as a general lumber-room, but now the partitions has been cleaned and whitewashed and electric light has been put in. One of place, which dates back to Edward the Confessor, is the effigy of Edward III.. which was carried at his funeral and placed on his hearse in the abbey. The Jerusalem Chamber, another of the sights of Westminster Abbey, has now been closed, and can only be seen by special permission from the dean. The chamber, which was originally used as the abbot of Westminster's ante-room, is chiefly interesting as the place where Henry IV. died.

It is not, however, realized by everyone how many English kings are buried on foreign soil-William the Conqueror at Caen, Richard I. at Fontevrault, and his heart at Rouen, James II. in a modest tomb just inside the doorway at St. Germain-en-Laye, near Paris

The Goldfield delegation reached Reno last night. While Rickard has not made up his mind definitely as to the location of the fight, he is known to strongly favor Reno, and expects extraordinary inducements will have to be offered by Goldfield to take the fight away from the Nevada metropolis.

the Death of Mrs. Orena Riddell

Norwich, Ont., June 20.-When the jury investigating the mysterious death of Mrs. Orena Riddell assembles on Thursday evening next for what expected to be the final sitting of the coroner's inquiry, it is practically a surety that the provincial analyst's report, which will then be ready for presentation, will show the presence of a considerable quantity of prussic acid in the stomach of the woman. But Playwright Sees a Better Day For Cultured Drama.

London, June 18. - If overdressed musical comedy is the only form of dramatics in England which arouses popular enthusiasm and makes managers rich, it must be that England is a musical comedy nation. So says C. M. S. McLellan, author of "Leah Kleschna," "The Belle of New York," and several other well known plays.

REGARD TO REBATES

Discussed the New Law Now in Force.

The regular monthly meeting of the Life Underwriters' Association of London, which recently took place at the Tecumseh House, took the form of a luncheon.

The chief topic was the recent legislation with regard to rebates. The new insurance act, which went into force on the 4th of May, provides for a very heavy penalty for either the giving or the re-ceiving of a rebate of a life insurance premium, either directly or indirectly, in any shape or form.

The rebate clause reads as follows:
Clause 87—No such life insurance com-cases until October. The principles involved in al these cases are so exceedingly important that pending their determination men of money naturally are hesitant. That accounts for the check to public confidence.

THE FIRST BOY IN ALL ENGLAND

Be One of the Most Popular.

A TYPICAL ENGLISH LAD

London, June 20.-Prince Edward of Wales, who has been "the first boy in England" for sixteen years, has gone to join his ship at Dartmouth and take his place as Cadet Edward of Wales. During the funeral ceremonies of his grandfather King Edward he was a prominent figure not only because he is heir to the throne, but because he is highly popular.

A typical Anglo-Saxon lad is Prince Edward, now called the Duke of Cornwall, and soon to be formally made the Prince of Wales. He is fair haired, blue eyed, and sturdy of limb; the picture of health, strength and good Even at school Prince Edward is popular, and one has to be more than a prince to be a favorite at an school. One has to be an all-round expert at games and sports, a generous, open-handed good fellow with plenty of courage open-handed and a love of fair play.

Prince Edward has always been a sportsman. He could ride his pony when he was five and on his seventh birthday. King Edward gave him a bicycle. Swimming lessons at the Bath Club came next, and a little later cricket, football and boxing, and now he is one of the first-class cross-country runners of England.

Before he was 10 he had handed over Church of St. John the Evangelist, and Wor. Master C. G. Of course, when the time came for him to go to school it was not difficult to make a choice. He Loves Animals. In his lessons Prince Edward does not shine. If he were an ordinary lad he would be called backward, except he likes.

Love of animals is a trait of all the Youngest Daughter of Late King Leo-Wales children, as they were known till very recently. Prince Edward's include dogs, cats, ponies, horses, birds, a monkey, guinea pigs, rabbits, white mice and several kinds of birds. He said once, "When I am king I will make three laws: No one shall cut puppies' tails, no one shall use bearing reins, because they hurt the horses

The pronoun "I" is the first person singular and should be carefully capitalized.

Such a person is also in a better position to help others and will be better able to promote unselfishness and charity.

Injections of Magnesium Sulphate connected with the reigning families Into Spinal Column Stops

Philadelphia, June 20. - Cured of lockjaw by a new treatment used for the first time in this city, 12-year-old John Smith, of 433 North Felton street, was discharged from the West Philadelphia Homoepathic Hospital yesterday. He was in the hospital eight weeks, and when first admitted it was thought he could not live more than a few hours. The treatment used in effecting the cure was first advocated by a German physician several months ago. It has been successfully used in cases in New York and Baltimore. It consists of injections of magnesium sulphate in conjunction with the anti-toxin treat-

These injections are made into the spinal column, where the fluid reaches the nerve centre, relieving the violent spasms which usually cause death. In the case of the Smith boy, 40 drops of magnesium sulphate were injected

Case Attracts Attention. Doctors all over the state have watched the progress of the case with interest. It is probable that the treatment will now be adopted in lockjaw cases by all the hospitals in city and state. While playing about a stable nine weeks ago, the Smith boy stepped on a rusty nail. He was at first treated for rheumatism, but when his right leg became stiff he was taken to the West Philadelphia Homoepathic Hospital. After his admittance his jaws became rigid.

For two days the anti-toxin treatment was used, but this did not have the desired effect, and when it appeared as though the disease would prove fatal, it was decided to try the new treatment. Drs. Charles Fox and William C. Pierce took charge of the case and administered the magnesium sulphate. Doses Gradually Decreased.

Pittsburg, June 20.-Reports received today from the districts cut off from communication by the storms of Saturday indicate that the damage done in the stricken sections will amount to a much larger sum than was at first reported. The current and high waters overturned his skiff. At Point Marion, Pa., millions of feet of lumber and hundreds of logs are being carried out of the Cheat River, which is nearly at flood stage. The
