FRED G. MITCHELL OF UTILITIES COMMISSION IS A POSSIBLE CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR'S CHAIR

Approached by Number of Cit izens Who Promise Strong Backing—Is Not Yet Ready With Definite Answer.

Utilities Commissioner Fred G. Mit- After they nominate a list of candichell is the latest addition to the list of possible aspirants to the mayor's chair at the next election. He admitted today that there was a possibility he would be in the running. He stated that he had been approached by several citizens who promised to give him strong backing if he entered the field. He is considering the proposal, but has not come to any definite decision yet, he said.

The aspect in the municipal political field at the present time is rather unsettled. Everyone seems to be waiting for the "other fellow" to take the lead, and under these circumstances it is difficult to get a definite statement of intentions from any of the possible candidates. Admittedly much will depend on the action of the Labor Represeutation Committee next Friday night.

STORM WARNINGS

Expects A Visit From Wilhelm

Corfu, Nov. 22 .- Achilleion Villa, the Corfu, Nov. 22.—Achilleion Villa, the property of former Emperor William of Germany, is being repainted and thoroughly put in order as if to receive a guest. The neighborhood has been cleaned up, and the avenue leading to the villa from the main road, which, during the regime of Premier Venizelos, was known as Liberty avenue, now bears its original title, Avenue William II. II.

It is rumored here that one of the first efforts of Queen Sophia upon returning to Athens will be to secure consent from the Allies for a visit of the former emperor to Corfu.

The inspector recommends revision of the present method of disposing of surplus stores.

Ald. Watkinson Will Bring Plan Before City Council.

AT THE NEXT MEETING

Continuity of the Government Would Be Properly Established, Claims Sponsor.

Radical changes in the form of city government were advocated by Ald. F. R. Watkinson today. He will make efforts to have them considered at the next council meeting, and even hopes that they may be tried at the coming election. He is convinced that a change of some kind is needed. He points to the fact that a form of commission government has been included in the London bill, for which the approval of the Legislature will be sought. He also draws attention to the fact that other municipalities are advocating a change. draws attention to the fact that other municipalities are advocating a change. The plan he outlined today was that six councillors could be elected from each ward to hold office for a term of three years. The councillors would elect eight aldermen, making a total of 32 members on the city's chief governing body. The mayor would be chosen from the eight aldermen so appointed, and would be elected by the whole council. The aldermen would hold office four years, and the mayor for one year.

hold office four years, and the mayor for one year.

In practice, Ald. Watkinson believes this plan would lead to the appointment as aldermen of men skilled in civic affairs. They would be elected as councillors, and after acting in that capacity for a term likely would be appointed aldermen. Choosing a mayor from among eight such men it would be fairly certain that a skilled administrator would be selected. He would be well acquainted with the city business, and would not require several months to get a grasp of affairs as is sometimes the case under the present system. His successor also would be an experienced man.

The great advantage for the plan claimed by Ald. Watkinson are that a continuity of government would be established. The policy of the incoming council reversing the work done by the previous year's council would be eliminated. This would make it possible to formulate a definite policy and to pursue it for several years, instead of the disjointed fashion resulting from the present form.

London was waiting anxiously and fearfully this morning for further news from Dublin, following the reports of yesterday's horrors, but up to early afternoon only meagre dispatches had been received. Reports to the Irish office from Dublin which were in hand by noon said three or four unidentified persons had been killed in other parts of Ireland, the home office announced.

A brief telephonic message at 8 o'clock this morning had reported the city at least temporarily quiet. Then came a gap in the reports up to the noon hour, but whether this indicated a censorship was not known.

Meagre reports during the night stated that shooting was going on as a sequel to yesterday's assassinations and the subsequent clash between the military and a crowd at Croke Park.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, the chief secretary for Ireland, was in conference during the morning with members of the cabinet in preparation for the expected bringing up in Parliament today of yesterday's Irish happenings. Nationalist members, it was understood, were prepared to move an adjournment of the House in order to secure an opportunity for full debate on the situation.

"Yes, some sins may be forgiven in the world to come. In fact, the gospel of Christ which brings forgiveness is preached after death. That is another doctrine which is not preached in the orthodox churches. But it is a New Testament teaching. Jesus said to the thief on the cross, 'This day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.' Where did Jesus go that day with the thief? Not to heaven, as the ministers have mistakenly supposed, for Jesus, after his resurrection, said to Mary, 'Touch me not, for I have not yet ascended to my Father'."

Drop of 35 Cents per Hunderdweight Registered Today.

A slight movement has again taken place in the sugar market. Today some local dealers quoted sugar at $12.15 a hundredweight, where last week it was quoted at $12.50 a hundredweight. The selling is slow on account of the unsettled market, but according to a few familiar with the situation, the price is expected to come much lower. The market has not yet reached pre-war prices, and large users of sugar claim that present quotations do not jestify a decrease in manufactured products containing a large percentage of sugar.

Rub Musterole on Throats

No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then's when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt, sure relief. It does not blister.

As first aid and a certain remedy, Musterole is excellent. Thousands of mothers know it. You should keep a jar in the house, ready for instant use. It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

WATCH YOUR GUMS-

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the fore-runners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, oosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons generated at their base—poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. They cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and many other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorhan wi rhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist imme-diately for special treatment.

R. P. Liddle, industrial secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is completing plans for the winter picnic of the Somerville Paper Box Company in the "Y" next Saturday evening.

He urged that we should not leave it to certain families to preach the word of the Lord Jesus Christ throughout the world. He said that one family he knew had every member of it a missionary in China.

"As a church." he continued, "the time has come when it must take greater pains in the teaching of its young to study the Word of God. It is up to the older members of the church to set an example and for us to practice what we preach. We should not heavier to do what the minister asks us to do in helping to impress upon the minds of the young the fact that the wages of sin is death, and through God comes eternal life," he concluded.

STRANGE POISONING!

The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves. By experimenting and analysis at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce discovered a combination of native remedies that he called "An-uric"-which drives out the uric acid from the system, and in this way the pain, swelling and inflammation subside. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, backache, pains here or there, you should obtain "Anuric" at the drug store; or send Dr. Pierce 10c for trial package. "Anuric" is many times more potent than lithia.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

LUCINDA. Lucinda is a seventeenth century product. It is the romantice version of Lucy, a name borne by many able ladies of that period, whom poetry preferred to address as Lusinda, under the impression that the latter was more pleasing and popular than the simple Lucy.

Lucinda, of course, signifies light.
Her origin is with the Latin word lux.
meaning light, which gave rise to the favorite old Roman name Lucius, one horn at daylight, or one of fair complexion, as some translations would have it.

The first feminine form which paved the way for the rise of Lucinda, was Lucia. This name belonged to a virgin whose name of martyr of Syracuse, whose name of light, being inducated by early painters by a lamp or by an eye, led to the legend that her beautiful eyes had been put out. Santa Lucia was the patroness of Neapolitan fishermen and her name was soon adopted by the Nor-mans.

The daughter of the Earl of Merica was baptized Lucia in the time of Edward the Confessor. France received Edward the Confessor. France received her as Lucie through the House of Blois. One Lucle, a sister of Stephen. was among those lost in the White Ship. In England, Lucy was the favorite form, until the affectation of the seventeenth century produced Lucinda. Lucy Anne, another popular English version, had its counterpart in Italy in Luciana and in France in Lucienne. The amethyst is Lucy's tallsmanic

The Ideal Bathtub for Baby

E DDY'S Indurated Fibreware Washtub is just the thing for baby's bath. Besides being light, easy to handle and unbreakable, it has a surface which cannot cause injury-no cracks, no joints, no nails or rivets. It is moulded in one piece and unlike wood, it cannot splinter or come apart. It is much superior to metal because it cannot dent or rust. Metal tubs quickly absorb heat and are liable to scald baby's skin, even after cold water is added. In a like manner, metal if cold will strike chill to the skin and also cause the water to cool quickly. Eddy's Indurated Fibreware does not radiate heat or cold and is quite safe. For the same reason it keeps the water warm longer.

The pretty home of Mrs. J. D. Wilson, Stanley street, was the scene of a delightful gathering on Saturday afternoon, when she entertained at the tea hour in honor of her guest, Mrs. A. W. Stuart of Sarnia. Golden 'mums lent their grace to living-room and hall, while in the dfining-room, the spicy fragrance of carnations, came from the tea table, over which Mrs. John Dillon presided at the teapot, and Mrs. George B. Sage at the ices. They were assisted by Miss Elsie Green. Miss Wigle of Kingsville, and Miss Florence Wilson.

GARTON—TERRY.

A quiet marriage took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Terry, Rodney, Ont., on Wednesday, November 10, when their only daughter, Helen, became the bride of William Lloyd Garton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Garton, of Rodney, Rev. J. R. Falconer officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely robe of white georgette over silk, beaded in crystal, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. She wore also the groom's gift, a wrist watch. Miss Mary Bell Buchan played the wedding march, receiving as the groom's gift a cameo ring. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Garton. GARTON-TERRY.

DEARING—RICE.

The Trivitt Memorial Church, Exeter, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, November 17, when Miss Charlotte Allene Rice became the bride of Mr. Preston Edgar Dearing, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dearing, of the second concession of Stephen, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. A. Trumper. The bride, who was beautifully gowned in a suit of grey silk, richly trimmed with beads, entered the church with her brother, Mr. Austin Rice of Stratford, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss McFaul. During the signing of the register Mr. Middlemiss sang "O Perfect Love." The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold necklace set with diamonds and pearls.

After a dainty wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Dearing left on the evening train for various points in Michigan. On their return they will take charge of the farm which the groom's parents are about to vacate.

YOUNG—ROWE.

On Saturday afternoon, November 20, the anniversary of her mother's wedding, Ethel Annetta, daughter of the late Mr. G. Rowe and Mrs. Rowe of King street, London, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Young of St. Marys, the Rev. Dr. Peever officiating. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. B. Hartness, playing the wedding music. During the signing of the register Mrs. Ed. Wyatt, sister of the bride, sang delightfully, "O Promise Me."

The bride, who was unattended, wore a smart tailored suit of navy gabardine with navy velvet hat to match and corsage of Ophelia roses. Her only ornament was the groom's gift, a lavaliere of peridots and pearls. She was given away by her brother, Mr. E. P. Rowe of Toronto. Mrs. G. Rowe, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of black satin, and Mrs. Ed. Wyatt was wearing a pretty gown of navy tricolette. Immediately following the ceremony, at which there were about twenty-five guests present, a buffet luncheon was served, Sweetheart roses decking the bride's table. The characteristic chair of Louis XIII's time was square, with a short back, covered with leather or tapestry, fastened to the wood with large brass nails, and often both back and seat had a fringe. There were arm chairs, plain chairs, folding stools, and long reclining, like the modern chaise lounge. Manipulation.

For the past year or more I have noticed when I sit working at the type-writer for two or three hours at a stretch I begin to feel a pain right at the top of the spine. I consulted a rub doctor and he told me I would have to take care or I might get locomotor ataxia. I have had about ten treatments from him so far, but I seem to get the pain the same as before if I work long at the type-writer. What should I do? I am 40 years of age and have always been quite well. (Miss D. L.)

But one must face it. One couldn't sacrifice one's happiness over squeam-ishness as to what the world would say. Just let them talk!

I cried myself to sleep that night, regardless of the woebegone visage I'd present next morning. (Tears don't suit me. They leave me with a lumpy nose and swollen eyelids!)

I awoke at half-past six, with the syellows bility at that moment—for my tongue to the roof of my mouth.

"Anne! Open, please!"
I did not speak. I crouched down on the bed again, for my knees trembled so oddly that I could not stand.
Silence throughout the house. Then a tiny clock on the mantelpiece struck twelve, with slow, deliberate tinkles.
"Anne! Are you all right?" Neil's voice was anxious.
I forced my lips to the monosyllable:
"Yes."
"Anne. May I speak to you a minute?" A little louder this time.
I made no reply.
There was a sound as of someone drawing in a long, deep breath. And then, very quietly, the footsteps moved away.
I was alone!
The tension was over, and I broke down, weeping bitterly.
Oh, what a mess I'd made of things!
Oh, what a helpless little fool I'd been!
I thrust my pocket handkerchief inside my mouth, biting on it to silence my sobs. No one must hear.
Forlorn, desolate little bride, I sat there on my wedding night, completely miserable.

I silence throughout the house. Then swallows twittering underneath my window. The lowing of the cattle on some pasture-land was mingled with their voices.
And long rays of sunshine glinted across my pillow, like living gold.
I listened to the clattering of the mik-pails, and the shrill tones of farm hands and dairy maids going about their work.
Then I rose quickly, washed and dressed, thrust my sleeping suit back into my trunk, unlocked my door, and stole stealthily along the passage, ready to escape.

My luggage would be forwarded by the hotel foliks to whatever address I should send. It was useless to try and remove it myself. Neil would prevent my going if he could.

I gained the stairs, descended them, and was about to cross the lobby to the front door (which was open) when—"Good morning, Anne. Did you sleep well? Breakfast is ready in our sitting-room." And Neil, shaven, fresh, and smiling, stood before me!

Ohio Triumphs Over Illini 7-0

Gives Presidential State, Honors in Western Conference.

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 21.-Ohio State carried the 1920 football championship of the Western Conference back to the presidential state last night. In the most spectacular finish seen on Illinois Field in years the Ohioans triumphed over Illinois, 7 to 0, in the deciding game of the Big Ten race yesterday, when Myers in the last ten seconds of play snatched a 37-yard forward pass from Workman and dashed across the Illinois line for the one touchdown of the game. The goal was successfully kicked by Pete Stinchcomb, the brilliant Ohio left halfback.

By winning this game Ohio remained of the Western Conference back to the liant Ohio left halfback.

By winning this game Ohio remained undefeated this season, and has undisputed claim to the title. Both elevens were keyed to a fighting pitch, and were on even terms until the final few minutes of play. Illinois, weakened through the loss of Captain John Depler, the all-Western centre; Carney, forward pass star, and Ralph Fletcher, kicker and halfback, fought stubbornly to check the attack of Ohio's superb back field. The Ohio team carried the fight into Illinois' territory during most of the game, although each eleven marched the ball to within inches of the opposing goal.

Montreal, Nov. 22.—The National Hockey League will consist during the coming season of four teams—Ottawa. Canadiens, Toronto, and probably Hamilton. This was learned following a meeting at the Windsor Hotel on Saturday of the governors of the N. H. L. The season will open about December 22, and will run until early in March, when the eastern finalists will go to the Pacific Coast to play the Seattle, Victoria or Vancouver team for the Stanley cup and the championship of the world.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—Argonauts, champions of the Interprovincial Rugby League, qualified to play Toronto Varsity in the Dominion championships by the propagate transity of the control of th second down. Sarnia had a chance for a rouge, but later Raynor made a nice running kick. Simpson's 30-yard incline run took the ball down again in Galt territory, and a kick gobbled up more ground. On a first down Traynor took the ball and made a poor pass, which was fumbled in addition, and Simpson pounced on the loose oval and squirmed across the line for Sarnia's third touchdown. McGibbon converted this one. Sarnia 16, Galt 1.

Play was largely in Galt ground the first five minutes Traynor kicked to the deadline for Sarnia's 17th point. Both teams tried some bucking near centre field, and then came back to kicking. With four minutes to go Sarnia bucked over ten yards for their fourth touch. The convert kick was too high. Final score, 22-1.

On Wednesday night the executive of the City Hockey League and board of control will meet and get the City League and other hockey matters straightened out into a working basis. A constitution has still to be drafted for the City League, and this will be somewhat involved, especially with regard to eligibility of players for the league. > Repulsed repeatedly in their attacks on sorted to a kicking offensive, and with KINGSTON, Nov. 20. — Varsity are senior intercollegiate champlons. In one of the most exciting games ever played on the local gridiron McGill bit the dust to the tune of 14 to 6. Varsity emerges winners of the intercollegiate union. The inferior work of the McGill back division was directly responsible for the defeat of Shaughnessy's team. Flannigan, Russell and Little played away below form. They failed to kick or catch, and their running was poor. Almost every other kick from the Varsity halves was fumbled by the McGill backs, and even the desperate changes which Shaughnessy made in the second, third and last periods availed nothing. Varsity played perfectly throughout the game. Snyder, Breen and McKenzie three goals defeated Yale by a score of to 0 in the annual football combat in the Yale bowl. The contest, witnessed by close to 80,000 spectators, said to be the largest crowd that ever attended an athletic event in the United States. was the 39th meeting between the universities since 1875, and was a remarkabel exposition of the modern open and aerial game, and while loosely played at times fairly bristled with thrilling forward passes and sweeping runs.

forward passes and sweeping runs.

The defeat of Yale, while not unexpected, took a most unusual turn due to the ragged but the savage defense of the Elis, who, facing a far more finished footbal machine, refused to be awed by the Harvard juggernaut. Although the fierce charges of the Crimson several times drove the Elis back to the shadow of their goal post, the Blue team fought so doggedly that a touchdown was a physical impossibility for their opponents.

In this crisis Harvard fell back upon the kick for field goal, and three times out of five tries booted the ball between the uprights. Yale, defeated, but not disgraced, left the field with the satisfaction of having partially checked its greatest rival, when the odds were 3 to 1 against them.

He handled the most of the kicking and together with Breen and Mc-Kenzie played faultlessly.

As was expected, the back division proved the decisive factor as the remainder of the two teams were much on a par. McGill's line held about as well as Varsity's throughout the game, but the kicking tactics of Varsity coupled with the fumbling of the McGill backs allowed the Toronto team to win. FIRE GUTS QUEBEC RETAIL STORES WITH HALF MILLION LOSS

QUEBEC. Nov. 21 .- (By Canadian Press).-Fire losses aggregating over half a million dollars were caused here this morning by a blaze which swept the heart of the retail business section Richly Carved Specimens Are and at one time threatened to become on conflagration. The blaze, which was Dec. 11, Jan. 15, Feb. 19Colum discovered in the early hours of the norning, had been burning for hours before discovery, and started in the drygoods firm of Marceau & Co., 155 St. Joseph street, spreading thence to the Woolworth store. The fire, reaching a deposit of celluloid goods, was followed by a violent explosion, which immediately caused the fire to spread to the Paquet clothing establishment

By 8 o'clock the blaze was under control, but not before the Marceau and Woolworth stores were completely destroyed and the Paquet Building, with its contents much injured.

Insurance is carried on only a portion of the burned stock.

Fireman Fraser Lapointe was severely burned about the head and face and was taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital. Seven other firemen were more or less injured, but remained on duty.

A ruined castle, a ghost, a mysterious tower, an American novelist, a wicked count—these are the skillfully mixed ingredients in "A Fool and His Money," a Selznick picture, adapted from the story of George Barr Mc-Cutcheon, which opens today for a two-day engagement at the Grand Opera House.

Eugene O'Brien is the star, and appears as an American best-selling author, who purchases a castle in the Swiss Tyrol. He is regarded as a fool for having made the purchase, but, as it turns out, he gets the best of the bargain after all. He goes through all sorts of exciting and amusing experiences, and wins a charming wife and gets material and "atmosphere" for a record-breaking best-seller.

A rollicking comedy feature from the Paramount-Arteraft studio, starring Al St. John, that funny man of the screen, in his latest and newest comedy success, "Cleaning Up," and he does much to the merriment of the audience. VASA PRIHODA AT THE GRAND
WEDNESDAY EVENING.
Vasa Prihoda, the young Bohemian violinist, who is announced to play here violinist, who is announced to play here at the Grand Wednesday evening, under the auspices of London Musical Art Society, has succeeded in winning the unanimous praise of his critics wherever he has appeared, especially for his mastery of the music of the great Italian violinist composer, Paganini, music which for the most part is generally regarded as beyond the artistic and technical reach of contemporary violinists. It was in his interpretaary violinists. It was in his interpretatistic and technical reach of contemporary violinists. It was in his interpretation of this music in a strange country that Prihoda first received recognition, being at once recognized as an authoritative exponent of the art of Paginini. One of the most brilliant technicians yet to be graduated from the famous Conservatory of Prague, Vasa Prihoda is making his first tour of the principal cities of the United States and Canada under the New York management of Fortunte Gallo, the grand opera impresario. A. D. Jordan Saturday morning received a wire from Fortune Gallo from Elmira, N. Y., in which city Prihoda gave an informal opening concert November 19. The entire house was sold out and selling of seats had to be stopped long befone the time of the concert. Gallo further states that "Prihoda is the greatest living violinist, and after his New York concert tonight at Carnegie Hall will be known the world over. His technique and tone are so great that the words cannot describe it." Seats for his London engagement, the first time in any city outside New York, went on sale this morning.

MASTER VITAGRAPH FEATURE "TRUMPET ISLAND," AT THE GRAND LAST THREE DAYS OF WEEK.

Eve de Merincourt loosened the strap which held her to her seat. Another moment and the bonds which kept her in the midst of life's tragedies would be freed. Circumstances had been too much for Eve, the little convent-bred girl.

Then a sudden tremendous flash and crackle about the frail aircraft. The storm had burst right on them. A splintering roar and one wing of the machine was ripped off like paper.

What happened to Eve and to the repulsive old millionaire who had pursued and finally captured her, using her sense of duty to a bankrupt father as the bait? "Trumpet Island." the wonderful special Vitagraph production, to be shown at the Grand Theatre tells vividly and with smashing dramatic force of what followed.

Eve had always dreamed of the kind of man she wanted to marry—young, handsome, tall—and at last she was to be thrown into his arms—literally—from the clouds. Just how the two tangled lives are straightened out is portrayed with marvelous beauty, daring and speed in "Trumpet Island." a master production, the combination of a great story by a master teller of tales, edited, adapted and directed by

H. V. ESMOND AND EVA MOORE COMING TO THE GRAND THURS-DAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, DECEMBER 2, 3 AND 4.

The forthcoming visit to this city of Mr. H. V. Esmond and Miss Eva Moore, which will take place on December 2, 3 and 4. when they will be seen at the Grand Theatre in Mr. Esmond's newest comedy, "The Law Divine," is an event of exceptional interest to theatregoers, for these two distinguished artists occupy an unique place on the English-speaking stage today. They have for some considerable time past been the acknowledged leaders in the presentation of high comedy, and while Mr. Esmond has made his position as a dramstist secure, Miss Moore has won for herself the reputation of being the premier comedienne on the London stage.

out of the war—one which will no doubt appeal to many who witness it. The story is one of a domestic upheaval, following the return of a husband from the front to find his wife so absorbed to the control of the story of the st in war work and women's meetings of every kind that she has no time to devote to him and in consequence he has sought consolation in a pretty Widow.

The situations are vastly entertaining, although there is a hint of impending tragedy which is swept away through the wife's commonsense in realizing before it is too late that her duty to her family comes first. How would you like to be banished to Bogga Billa, in Boorooloola, just because you told your mother you would like to go on the stage. That's what happened to pretty Sylvia Breamer, who plays the girl in Maurice Tourneur's big photoplay. "My Lady's Garter" at Loew's Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Breamer is an Australian, and lived the early years of her life in Sydney. But when she confided her ambitions to her mother, the good lady was scandalized, and forthwith packed off Sylvia to her uncle's desolate sheep ranch.

Much of the year which it took to make this picture was spent in researches into new photographic inventions, and some idea of the time and thought spent on the picture can be gained from the fact that over 37 miles of film was used up in the making before the finished production of something like 7,000 feet was pronounced completed. A picture which turned disappointed crowds away from capacity audiences at $10 a seat, which later ran for nearly a month at $5 a seat, and still later, in the same New York, played the Capitol for $1, doing capacity business all the time. At Massey Hall, Toronto, it repeated its American popularity, and with seats selling at $1 one had to book far in advance. "Earthbound" is to be shown at the Allen in Toronto this week, as well as at the Allen in London.

off Sylvia to her uncle's desolate sheep ranch.

"Boggo Billa," says Miss Breamer, "describes it very well. For a time it was fun, watching the men shear the sheep and the natives at their queer dances. But the stage bug was firmly in my bonnet, and soon afterward I ran away and joined a traveling stock company in 'Within the Law.' It was quite a job reconciling my mother, but finally she consented not only to my following the company to America."

In "My Lady's Garter" Miss Breamer has the role of a girl who for a while is nearly forced to believe her sweetheart a notorious criminal, but sees everything cleared up satisfactorily in the end.

As he proceeded to tear to pleces the filmsy fabric created by the Government he was greeted by cheers and applause which at times grew tumultuous. Plunging directly into the milk question, which is so relevant to the welfare of East Eigin, he showed how absurd were the claims made by the Government that the condensed milk industry would be ruined if the produced statistics showing that the condensed milk industry was failing because of the high tariff and consequent lack of foreing markets. Out of the thirteen factories which had been operating in different parts of Canada he said that ten had closed during the factory at Aylmer the only one operating in the whole country. "I am for tariff reduction all along the line. I stand for the abolition of protective tariff. I will fight for the little fellow. I must protect those who need it, but I will not protect the big fellow. We must raise revenue and revenue only from customs."

Mr. Chariton said that it would not be possible for Canada to develop free trade for a few years, but he believed that the products of the soil should be sold in the United States on a reciprocal basis. The things needed in Canada but not produced here should be admitted free in exchange for free markets for wheat and dairy products. There would be little danger of the United States flooding our country, because that country had more than ten times the non-producing population that Canada had.

Government Policy.

"In this pamphlet," he continued, "the Government tells you to stand together, and that it is a bad time to experiment in politics. They tell you that in a small by-election while in the last great election they deliberately set Quebec against Ontario, Catholic against Protestant to set up a bastard government. The rump of that government comes to you now for support. They come into the riding with enough organization to carry the county and bring with them this pamphlet filled with political tuberculosis. If their standard is the same now as it was then it is mighty low.

Mr. Chariton bitterly attacked the Government because of the way in whi it financed the war. He claimed that the many loans raised by Sir George Foster were used to pay the running expenses of the Government of making lavish expenditures. The speaker said that the claim made by the Government that the high exchange rate was due to the fact that change rate was due to the fact that Canada was buying more in the United States than she was selling is not true. If that was true, he asked why was it not the case before the war. He blamed the condition on the fact that Sir Robert Borden had reduced the amount of silver in Canadian currency from that the liquor license branch, hitherto under the provincial secretary's department, will be taken over next week by Attorney General Raney. This step has been evident for some time, but when questioned today Mr. Raney would neither confirm nor deny.

Killed by Blood-Poisoning Used an old razor for paring his corns. Foolish, because a 25c bottle of Putnam's Corn Extractor will cure

all the corns in a family for a year

Safe, because purely vegetable. Use only Putnam's Extractor, 25c at all
