Wholesale Arrest of German Citizens in Halifax Kaledines and Korniloff Lead Counter-Revolt

Uprising Against Maximalist Misrule in Russia Headed by Three Military Leaders--Bolsheviki Already Overthrown by Dutoff in the Province of Orenberg

By Courier Leased Wire. LONDON, DEC. 10.—THE COUNTER-REVOLT IN SOUTHEASTERN RUSSIA UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF GENERALS KALEDINES, DUTOFF AND KORNILOFF, APPARENTLY IS AIMED AT SEIZING THE AUTHORITY IN THAT REGION AND IN CUTTING OF FOOD SUPPLIES FROM SIBERIA.

TCHELIABINSK, AN IMPORTANT RAILWAY CENTRE IN NORTHEASTERN ORENBURG IS BESEIGED BY GENERAL DUTOFF'S TROOPS, GENERAL KARAUOFF IS ATTACKING TCHECHENY AND INGUSHER. THE PROCLAMATION SAYS THAT THE ENEMIES OF THE PEOPLE HAVE UNDERTAKEN A LAST ATTEMPT TO DESTROY THE CAUSE OF PEACE AND SAYS THAT THE CONSTITUTIONAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY IS PROVIDING THE MEANS FOR THE REVOLT.

"The Constitutional Democrats are the political leaders of this rising and the Bourgeois is supplying scores of millions to the counter-revolutionary general. The Bourgeois Central Committee of the Ukrainian Republic, which is waging a struggle against the Ukrainian workmen's and soldiers' councils, is assisting General Kaledines in drawing troops to the Don region, and is hindering the Workmen's and Soldiers' Councils from distributing the necessary military forces throughout the Ukraine for the suppression of the Kaledines rebellion.

"The Constitutional Democrats, the worst enemies of the people, who, together with the capitalists of all countries, prepared the present world war, are hoping that as members of the Constituent Assembly, they may be able to come to the assistance of their generals, the Kaledines, the Korniloffs and the Dutoffs, in order to strangle the people with their aid."

The proclamation then makes an appeal to the people to sweep away these enemies of their cause, and announces that the new military divisions have been made to suppress the uprising. It concludes with the following decree: "1.—Declaring a state of siege in all the regions of the Ural and Don provinces, and wherever counter-revolutionary detachments are discovered.

MEN GO MAD UNDER STRAIN OF FIGHTING FOR MONTH'S

Major Mathieson of Toronto, Returned Officer, Delivered Impassioned Appeal for Support of Union Government and Sending of Reinforcements for Men Overseas—W. F. Cockshutt Received With Enthusiasm at Victoria Hall Saturday Night.

"Is it to be said that Canada can give generously of her dollars, but can not sink her political differences long enough to ensure the winning of the war?"—A. K. Bunnell.

"After months of constant working and vigilance, our men at the front commenced to go mad, because reinforcements were not forthcoming to relieve them!"—Major Mathieson.

"The only honorable way in which our men can come home to us is through being relieved of their duties at the front by a steady stream of reinforcements!"—Major Mathieson.

"If Canada were to drop out of the war, it might be the last straw which would mean the breaking of the allied line on the west front!"—Major Mathieson.

"Remember, it is only a five days' journey from Calais to Halifax, and if the people of Canada choose French-Canadian domination they will have it, and on its heels Prussian domination!"—Major Mathieson.

"I believe Mr. W. F. Cockshutt as sincere in his efforts for the winning of the war as his son Lt. George Cockshutt, with whom I served in the 19th battalion!"—Lt. Machell.

"Exclusive of Montreal, the province of Quebec has given $17,000,000 to the Victory Loan, and are the people of that province to be given the spending of the full four hundred million and over?"—Lt. Machell.

"Russia is a striking example of disunion to-day!"—Lt. Machell. "I tell you, I would rather suffer a thousand defeats than have the boys overseas suffer!"—W. F. Cockshutt.

"Dr. Beland is one French-Canadian whose opinion I would be willing to take on the present issue."—W. F. Cockshutt. "The crisis to-day is probably the greatest since the commencement of the war!"—W. F. Cockshutt. "Our Canadian boys are the finest fighters who have yet faced the foe, and are we going to let them down? Are we going to cry quit when we have so nearly won?"—W. F. Cockshutt. "Is it not better to send our boys three thousand miles to fight than to be compelled to face the enemy here?"—W. F. Cockshutt.

HALIFAX, DEC. 10.—REVISED figures in connection with the casualties resulting from the explosion here follows: Known dead, 1,200. Identified, 900. Unaccounted, 2,000. Wounded, 2,000. Homeless, 25,000.

Mr. George Yates, who has written for the Canadian Press, Limited, the following graphic pen picture of the Halifax disaster, is the private secretary of the Premier of Canada and is a trained newspaperman. Returning to the stricken city with Sir Robert Borden from Prince Edward Island the day after the grim event, Mr. Yates had the advantage of an early tour of the ruined district, and has given his impressions to the Canadian Press.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Yates was among the casualties of the big city hall collapse in London, Ontario, January 3, 1893. He woke up after that event and found himself on slab 23 of the temporary morgue. Halifax, N. S., Dec. 10.—(By George Yates)—The catastrophe is almost too dreadful to admit of description in coherent matter of fact English, and yet too complete for adequate portrayal by means of the indiscriminating camera. To properly appreciate it, one must be able to conjure up a picture of what once was, in contrast with what no longer is. I have visited Halifax on many occasions, have seen the North street station area, Richmond, representing Cassavant Brothers of St. Hyacinthe, Que., was in the church at the time of the explosion supervising the installation of a new organ. The organ was overturned with Mr. Ledieux underneath. His was one of the many marvellous escapes that occurred, for he came out with only slight injuries.

WOMEN'S HOSPITAL AID SUBSCRIBED TO VICTORY LOAN

Invested $5,000 in Bonds—Closing Meeting For the Year.

There was a large attendance at the last W. H. A. meeting held Friday. The treasurer reported that $5,000 of W. H. A. money in the city treasury had been converted into Victory Loan bonds, leaving $300 still there and a balance in the bank of $758. Gross receipts of the Rummage sale totalled about $625. Fees were paid in, and about $25 received from the Brant Women's Institutes for the yearly upkeep of their ward.

It was reported that $500 had been spent for the purchase of hospital linen. Mrs. J. E. Brethour stated that the W. H. A. work in her district was progressing favorably. Some time since, a successful jelly shower for the local hospital had been held by Burford and Tansley ladies, when many jars of fruit, jelly, honey, etc., were donated.

Mrs. Hurley reported a new membership list in the county, lately formed at Oak Hill, with Miss Margaret Laird as collector. The Women's Patriotic League asked for money and clothes to relieve the suffering of victims of the Halifax disaster. Donations to be sent to the Y. M. C. A. Committees were named to make the usual Christmas purchases for the hospital.

The President, after expressing her appreciation of the unity of the members and their loyalty to her during the last two years, closed the meeting by reading a prayer for our country in these critical days.

Convalescence after pneumonia, typhoid fever and the grip, is sometimes merely apparent, not real. To make it real and rapid there is no other tonic so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla. Thousands testify "Take Hood's"

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful refreshing lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

announcements the local management will be able to make to theatre-goers during the entire season, is the news of the coming of "The 13th Chair" to be held at the Grand Opera House Friday, Dec. 14.

"The 13th Chair" was not only the most sensational success seen in New York where it ran for an entire year at the Forty-Eighth Street theatre, but it was the greatest financial success made in the theatrical world during the past five years.

Written by Bayard Veilior, who had already won a place of undying fame for himself as the author of "Within the Law," "The 13th Chair" did exactly what critics believed would never be possible—exceeded even the success of the author's former masterpiece.

This is the same company which played at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, Toronto, two weeks ago.

C. W. MILLER HAS GAINED 32 POUNDS
BY TAKING TANLAC

Improvement of Former Postmaster Surprises All of His Friends.

Remarkable, indeed, was the statement made by G. W. Miller of 232 McNab street, Hamilton, who recently declared that he has not only gotten complete relief from rheumatism and stomach trouble by taking Tanlac, but that he has actually gained thirty-two pounds in weight besides. Mr. Miller was for twelve years postmaster and merchant at 69 Corners, Brant county, and is well-known and respected throughout Southern Ontario. Mr. Miller's complete statement follows: "As a result of rheumatism and stomach trouble I had fallen off to one hundred and fifteen pounds. I now weigh one hundred and forty-seven pounds, which puts me even beyond my normal weight, and I don't think I have ever felt better in my life. I was so sick and crippled up that I had to sell out my business and get a man to take charge of the postoffice. My legs had perished away until they were no larger than my arms—I couldn't bend them—the leaders seemed to be tied in knots and hurt me so I could hardly bear anything to touch me. I just could manage to hobble around by the use of a walking stick. My stomach was so upset that I could hardly eat anything. My appetite was all gone and I just seemed to be slowly starving. Sometimes all I could take was a glass of milk and even then I suffered. "For several months I was under treatment at a considerable cost without getting any relief, but my improvement came when I took Tanlac has astonished me and all who knew of my awful condition. It seems that everybody I see asks me what I have done to gain so much weight and make me look so much better. My appetite is so big now I can hardly eat enough to satisfy me, and I can eat anything—meats and all kinds of vegetables—and nothing hurts me. I was badly constipated, too, but by using the Tanlac I have been relieved of this trouble. The rheumatism is all gone out of my legs—I don't have to use a cane any more—and I can walk any place I want to go. My legs are getting back to their regular firm and my muscles are getting different in every way. Of course I owe my relief and health to nothing but Tanlac and am glad to make a statement that will reach others who may be suffering as I did, for I honestly believe Tanlac will help them, too."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Hamilton H. Robertson and Co., Ltd., in Paris by Apps Ltd., in Mt. Vernon by A. Yoemans, and in Middleport by William Peddie.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS

A special meeting of the City Council took place Saturday night, with reference to the Halifax disaster.

Deputations of the manufacturers of the city and from the board of trade waited on the Council and pleaded the urgency of the case, and the necessity of generous action. They reported that the manufacturers of the city had decided to give $5,000 in money or in goods, and the board of trade had opened a subscription list with an objective of $5,000, making $15,000 as Brantford's contribution if the City Council voted $5,000. The latter did in a resolution calling on the government to make good Halifax's material damage, as the catastrophe was one caused directly by the war, in which the Dominion as a whole was vitally concerned. The resolution also expressed hearty approval of the generosity of the manufacturers of Brantford, and commended the action of the board of trade in opening a subscription list. The Aldermen were unanimous on behalf of substantial help. On Mr. Muir's suggestion, Ald. Bragg, Kelly and Tulloch were appointed to form, with three each from the board of trade and manufacturers of the city, a clearing house for relief efforts.

WHOLESALE

Continued from page one were the railway tracks, in the foreground the Narrows, leading from the harbor proper to the seclusion of the Bedford Basin and, probably half a mile across the Dartmouth shore. In the railway yards scores of men labored to re-establish communication where the tracks had been washed out by the tidal wave that followed the explosion, and left dead fish and other evidences of marine life unburied in the wreckage at the base of the cliff on which I stood. The blizzard which had raged for fifteen hours, had doubled the task of tired and disheartened men. Imagine you with intact and snug double windows, the depressing influence of a terrible gale of wet, clinging snow, sweeping over a city with scarcely a pane of glass intact and carrying its chill contact in a falling temperature over thousands of bodies of pain. But towards morning the gale subsided into steady, though bitter northeast breeze, and now the sun lit up a melancholy scene.

SUNDAY AT THE TABERNACLE

Separate Services for Men and Women Were Conducted Yesterday.

The meeting for women, in the Tabernacle was well attended. In spite of the weather, the tabernacle was half filled. Mrs. Dr. Nichol sang in a very tender and appealing manner "My Mother's Prayer," and Mr. Fisher sang the most loved song, "His Eye is On the Sparrow." Dr. Hanley gave a most timely and searching address on the subject, "The Woman Who Dared." The woman who dared would be: 1. True to herself. 2. She would dare to stand alone for the right. Several girls had confessed to Dr. Hanley that they were victims of the cigarette habit. Startling statements were made by the speaker in reference to the growing prevalence of tobacco using and liquor drinking by women, that while such had decreased among the men of the U.S., it had increased among the women. Gambling also was growing with remarkable rapidity. Instances were told where women had deplored the vice of gambling in their sons, and they themselves had in their homes many prizes that they had won at bridge parties. Gambling was an evil, and when the proceeds were applied to Red Cross work or philanthropy, than in the men's club room and for private gain. It was wrong in any case, and women just as much as men should in the name of God and humanity cease to do it. Many women stood and expressed a desire to live more consistently for the service of God.

An overflow meeting for women only was also held at the Park Day church at night. The church was filled. Mrs. Leeming sang "Does Jesus Care," and Mrs. Hanley sang "This is My Task." These accomplished singers greatly delighted the audience. Miss Robertson, the capable leader of women's work of the Hanley-Fisher party, spoke on the subject, "The Path of Service." The address was one that will long be remembered by those who heard. With earnestness and emphasis, the speaker impressed on all the importance of service. 1. In the path of service there is a task to do. 2. This task is a daily one. 3. This task can be a glorified task if it is done in the service of God, and for Him. 4. Each woman should find her task, and having found it she should do it. A very large audience of men enjoyed the privilege of being at the tabernacle last night. The song service was most inspiring, the men singing with zest and heartiness.

The choruses were distributed among the single men, married men and ministers, and the friendly rivalry was greatly enjoyed. The Wesley Male Quartet contributed in good style "I am the Shepherd True," and to an encore responded with "God Save the People." Mr. G. N. Crocker greatly pleased with "The Coming of the King," and as an encore sang "The Man of Galilee." Rev. Mr. Bowyer led in prayer. It was a fine feeling to have that with a temperature outside of 2 degrees above zero, those inside were enjoying a warmth of 65 degrees, thus testifying to the splendid heating facilities of the building. Dr. Hanley had been told that neither opera singers nor actors nor any other attraction could have brought together on such a wild night so fine and large a company of men. He announced the meeting on Tuesday night, subject, "The Unpardonable Sin," as of special importance and attractiveness. On Wednesday night the men were asked to parade at 7.45 from the Y.M.C.A. to the tabernacle. These meetings are for everybody. Mr. Fisher sang by request, "Our Mother's Way."

Dr. Hanley paid a fine tribute to the men at the factories as being a splendid lot of fellows. He also thanked the press for their great courtesy and kindness in giving such generous space to the reports of the various meetings. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered in a thunder of applause. Mr. Whitaker expressed his pleasure and gratitude for the success that had attended the meetings. He asked that the collection be taken for the Halifax sufferers. The collection taken amounted to $296 for this purpose. The first five dollars placed on the plate came from a man who, grateful that God had spared him, and kept him from drink, gave what he would have spent in liquor for the week as a thank-offering. The audience was thrilled as

Directory First!

WHEN you call a telephone number from memory or when you guess at it you are apt to be wrong.

- Q The mind has a trick of transposing figures—instead of "1263" you are quite likely to say "1623."
- Q Also, telephone numbers, firm names, etc., are frequently changed.
- Q And when you thus ask for the wrong number, you waste your own time, the operator's, and the time of the person called through your error.
- Q Directory first is a good principle. In the end it saves time and temper to first consult the latest issue of the telephone book.

TO THE ELECTORS

THE SITUATION.
The announcement is made from Italian headquarters that British and French troops have now taken up their positions on the front line.

For the first time yesterday since hostilities started not a shot was fired on the entire Russian front.

German forces are massing on that part of the eastern front held by the Rumanians, while behind the Rumanian army the Russians are not only inactive, but there is said to be some agitation for attack.

DESPERATE TACTICS IN BRANT.
The fact that all the indications point to Mr. Harold proving to be third man in the north riding is leading to some pretty desperate tactics on his behalf.

Coupled with this is a duplicate of a letter from the Prime Minister's office alleged to be signed by A. E. Blount for the Premier's secretary, and said copies never came from the Prime Minister's office at all.

"Those who wish to support Union Government must necessarily vote for Mr. Harold. A vote cast for any other is a vote against the Government."

The signature is another gross deception. The Union Government as such has no such committee in any riding.

Brant voters should not for one moment be deceived by these clumsy tactics, not to give them a stronger term.

To say that a vote for Cockshutt would be a vote against the Government is an unmitigated falsehood. From the very commencement he has been heart and soul with the Administration and the cause for which it stands in this great time of crisis and a vote for him is most emphatically a vote for Union Government and a most necessary vote because it is not on the cards that Harold can win.

MR. COCKSHUTT'S MEETING.
The Union Government's standard bearer for this riding was in splendid form at his meeting in Victoria Hall on Saturday night.

Of Mr. Cockshutt's success in the approaching fight, there is not the slightest shadow of a doubt, but the good work must be maintained without any let up in order to make his majority emphatic.

Mr. James Pitts spent Sunday in Burlington, the guest of his brother.

One of the many charges preferred against me in connection with the present campaign is that I object to what is called "Conscription of Wealth." Now the word conscription, means to take all of a man and in like manner would mean to take all his possessions, including the house he lives in and all the rest of it.

I am not a man to dodge my duty or any sacrifice which is needed for war purposes, and I have stated time and time again that I believe the State should take all that is necessary in the shape of taxation for war purposes for the proper pay of the soldiers, for the upkeep of their families whose sacrifices have been equally as great as theirs, for pensions, and for all other demands which arise out of the great struggle.

Now another attack upon me is that, as member of parliament, I should have taken an active part locally regarding the supply of wood and coal, matters which belong to the domain of the Mayor and aldermen, all of whom would have resented my interference.

W. F. Cockshutt, Esq.,
Dear Sir,—
I thank you for your favour of the 12th instant, enclosing copy of a letter from the Deputy Fuel Controller, which I submitted to this Council last evening.

By resolution I was instructed to tender the hearty appreciation of the Council for your co-operation in producing so satisfactory a result.

I may say that already it has made a substantial difference to the consumers in the city. A week ago soft coal was selling at $10.00 a ton cash. To-day stove coal is being sold at $9.00. The fixing of a price will make any tendency to hold coal for zero weather unprofitable."

It was a matter of gratification to me that my efforts had been thus appreciated.

Sincerely,
W. F. COCKSHUTT.

MEN GO MAD

Enthusiastic, receptive, unanimous, the gathering which filled Victoria Hall Saturday evening in no uncertain manner affirmed its loyal support to the winning of the war, union government, and W. F. Cockshutt, endorsed candidate of the Union Government in Brantford.

MR. A. K. BUNNELL who occupied the chair, touched upon Canada's response to the Victory Loan, whereby she had made clear to the world that she was in the war to the last dollar. A union organization, without political, religious or other distinction, had brought about the splendid results attained. The City of Brantford and the County of Brant never had been truer to themselves than on that occasion, as testified to by the splendid total of $3,500,000.

LEMONS BRING OUT THE HIDDEN BEAUTY

Make this lotion for very little cost and just see for yourself.

In social life and in business the girl or woman whose face and hands show evidence of constant care enjoys a tremendous advantage over those who do not realize the value of a healthy skin and a spotless complexion.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful full lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in. Then this lotion will keep fresh for months.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin.

Efforts of the war veterans, evidence was found in the appeals voiced in regard to their riding by the Laurier machine, that the returned men be restrained from speaking.

Early Days of War
In order to bring before his hearers the need for reinforcements, Major Mathieson sketched the adventures of the First Canadian Contingent, at Valenciennes, Salisbury and finally in the trenches of Flanders, where they were soon placed in the Ypres salient, where they first met Prussian troops.

Lack of Reinforcements
Telling of the work of the engineers, Major Mathieson declared that the men of that branch by May 3rd were thoroughly exhausted, but forced to go to at once into the battle of Festubert.

Up to the time that I left the front, he declared the speaker, "both England and Canada were straining every nerve to get fresh men ready for the front, but just at the time when a 10th Canadian division seemed possible, recruiting through the Dominion began to fall off."

Returned Men for Union.
We returned men know the difficulty under which the men at the front labored with the result that the Great War Veterans organized from coast to coast, and called upon the Government for action. They were promised by the Government that adequate means would be taken, and were shown that earnest endeavor was being made to bring the two parties together for the forming of a Union Government.

The returned men declared the speaker, "have decided to go out behind the Union Government because they are determined that it is the only means of sending reinforcements overseas. There is only one issue before the people of Canada, are you going to send reinforcements to the boys at the front, or not?"

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier," continued the speaker, "is not the leader of Quebec today; Bourassa and Marcell hold that Province in the hollow of their hand. Sixty-five solid seats in Quebec say that we have done enough. Added to that are the allies in the West, who say the same. I tell you, the only way that Laurier can bring your men home to you would be by his being returned to power, the 35,000 returned men in Canada dropping dead and the boys at the front having Moon Take Four o'clock milk pumped into their veins over eight in the place of good red blood. The only honorable way in which our men can come back is by our sending overseas a steady stream of reinforcements, and allowing the boys over there a well deserved rest. I know their spirit, and I know what they would say in the present issue."

If Canada Withdrew.
Suppose Canada were to withdraw. With Russia practically out of the fight, Italy suffering enormous losses, our backing down would lower the morale of the remaining allies. Were we to withdraw the Canadian corps, the representative there of Britain's greatest colony, the greatest thorn in the German side, the unit most thoroughly hated by the Germans on the west front, it might be the last straw which would result in the breaking of the west front.

Major Mathieson told graphically of the manner in which the Germans drafted Belgian non-combatants into service. The Turks a thousand years ago had women slaves, but they at least fed them; the Huns to-day did not feed their deported slaves, they let them work until exhausted, and then drew again on the permanent supply. Thus by every gain on the west front, by every point carried, Germany had new life and new power to build.

"That wonderful war machine of Prussia," he declared, "forty years in the building, is far from broken, and it will not be broken until the entire manhood of Germany is destroyed. It will take the whole strength of the United States, the British Empire and the Allies, but the only thing which can bar us from ultimate victory is the falling off of one unit after another, as the 'done enoughts' would have us do. The issue to-day, I tell you, is far above all party politics; we are pledged to united effort for the supporting of the boys at the front and the sending over of a steady stream of reinforcements."

who went overseas as a private, won his commission in the field, where he spent 19 months. He had served, he stated, nine months in the same unit with Lt. George Cockshutt, and believed in the latter's faith-fulness just as sincere for the winning of the war as his son. The speaker scored the argument of the opposition, that reinforcements were being held in England, that the men at the front might feel the pinch and vote for the Union Government. He read figures to show the falsity of such a plea. Laurier advocated another

WAR VETERANS GIVE

Twenty-five dollars, to be forwarded to Halifax for the relief of the citizens of that city, was generously contributed by forty-seven war veterans at the Saturday night meeting. These men have already been overseas, and bear the marks of the Hun, but they sympathize with those of their countrymen who have also felt the effects of war.

MANY NAMES ADDED.

In twenty out of the thirty-one sub-divisions in the city, five hundred names have been already added to the voters' lists compiled by the enumerators. Miss F. G. Biscoe, clerk of the Court of Registration, has completed the appeals of twenty sub-divisions, and in the course of a day or two the balance will be completed. The omissions made are said to have been exaggerated and at the present rate there will be less than eight hundred names to be added. The work of correcting the lists has been made much heavier through several applications being filed dealing with one appeal. The names omitted have been equally proportioned between men and women voters.

Wedding Bells

DRAKE-ROBINSON. On December 5th at the Baptist Parsonage, St. George, with Rev. Mr. Hesterstock officiating, the marriage was solemnized of Edith Robinson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Elm Grove, to Stanley O. Drake, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Drake, Governor's road. The bride was unattended and was becomingly attired in old rose silk gown trimmed with cream silk crepe de chene and wore a beautiful sunburst, gift of the groom. Her going away gown was blue broadcloth with plush coat and hat to match. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Drake left for Detroit and the Great Lakes, and on their return will reside on the old homestead.

PEARCE-MOTT. A quiet but very pretty military wedding was solemnized Saturday, December 8th, at the home of the bride's father, Dr. T. H. Mott, when his youngest daughter, Esther Edith was united in marriage to Capt. J. A. Pearce. The bride entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, and looked exceedingly pretty in a handsome gown of white silk crepe over real lace from Flanders, and wore the groom's gift, an exquisite necklace with platinum pendant set with a diamond and pearls, and carried bridal roses. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate relatives by Capt. (Rev.) C. E. Jenkins, formerly captain of the 53rd overseas battalion, with which unit Capt. Pearce served in France. After the ceremony, a dainty de-trial of the voluntary system, then a referendum. A new trial for the voluntary system would mean nearly a year's delay, and if Quebec voted against a referendum, conscription would ever be enforced.

Why Recruiting Failed
 The speaker outlined reasons for the failure of the voluntary recruiting system. The men who had built up the traditions of the British army and navy were conscripts, men pressed into service. The speaker promised that no distinction would be drawn between conscripted men in Canada and the volunteers now at the front.

The voluntary system was not reliable, men were taken who should not be taken, and men left who should go. Men must be left on the farms, and for other necessary work at home.

"The province of Quebec," declared L. Machell, "exclusive of Montreal, where a large number of British reside, has given $17,000,000 to the Victory Loan. And are you going to give to that province the spending of the other $396,000,000?"

"No, no," declared a number from the audience.
 "Then it is up to you to elect a candidate who will support Union Government, and Mr. Cockshutt is just such a candidate."
What Disunion Means.
 The voluntary system appealed to the unselfish and patriotic alone. Giving Laurier all credit for being sincere in his desire for a fresh trial of the voluntary system, the speaker declared that from coast to coast the French Canadian leader must be his own entire Cabinet, for he could not find sufficient supporters who would be equally sincere for the voluntary system.

Russia was an example of disunion to-day. Canada's union government was being formed from the best of all parties, upon the platform of throwing away all things petty, and to keep Canada's flag flying.

"I tell you," declared the speaker, "that German gold is being spent in Canada by the millions. Look at Italy, and Russia. German gold is causing disruption, and it will do it right here in Canada unless on Dec. 17th we cast our ballots in the right way."
 "In the military camps in the old land, free canteens have been opened up by the Laurier machine to win over the soldiers there. Where is he getting the money which he is spending like water? Not from the Liberal party, not from the Conservatives, not from the labor party; he is getting it either from Quebec or from the German element in the U. S. I ask you which party to-day is guilty of high treason, of giving comfort and aid to the enemy?"

Appeal to Women
 The speaker impressed upon his female hearers the privilege and responsibility conferred upon them by the franchise.
 "You are sending ammunition to the enemy when you vote against a Union candidate," he declared.
 The women not yet enfranchised were doing their bit, by keeping alien women out of the vote.
 "At a time like this," declared L. Machell, "a man must serve the need of the country above all. Running against Mr. Cockshutt here you have Mr. MacBride, who offers to back any leader with more backbone than wishbone." I tell you Sir Wilfrid Laurier has more backbone than wishbone, in thus opposing the spirit of all British Canada, and what guarantee have we that Mr. MacBride will not, if sent to Ottawa, support Sir Wilfrid.
 "Mr. MacBride, I tell you, is trying to get votes on the old appeal to selfishness, he is trying to create a division between the classes. We must place the campaign on a higher level, and keep Canada's flag flying, for if we do not get a victorious peace, we are farther back than we were in August, 1914. It is up to all of you to get out and work from now until Dec. 17th to put Mr. W. F. Cockshutt back into parliament."
W. F. COCKSHUTT,
 on rising to his feet, received an enthusiastic ovation.
 "Sometimes I wonder whether the "California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels.

 A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs." You don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickroom.
 Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

people realize the crisis we are facing," declared Mr. Cockshutt. "Many seem scarcely to know that a conflict is now on which leaves the destiny of Great Britain and of civilization hanging in the balance."
 "Quebec has set herself the task of dominating the war policy of Canada to-day, and that policy they would make one of faction. The people of Quebec need some of the fighting spirit which imbues the patriotic ladies of Brantford. I want to compliment the ladies upon the fact that they are making a clear cut start, where the issues are clear cut and well defined."
A Clean Campaign.
 "I am trying to conduct a clean campaign," declared Mr. Cockshutt. "Would I gain anything by blackening the characters of my opponents, or will they gain anything by doing the same toward me? It is one thing to attempt to tear down a man's character, and quite another to put a better man in his place. I tell you I would rather meet a thousand defeats than see the boys overseas suffer. I have given too freely of my own flesh and blood for that. Those who have given alone know what they have sacrificed, and no earthly treasure can recompense them. PARIS ONCE MORE STRONG FOR COL. HARRY COCKSHUTT

Win-the-War Candidate Cheered by Enthusiastic Audience on Saturday.

(By Staff Reporter.)
Paris, Dec. 8.—Re-affirming his staunch loyalty to the Union Government and promising continued support to it and strict adherence to a win-the-war policy, Col. Harry Cockshutt, the endorsed candidate of the G.W.V.A. in the riding of Brant, addressed another enthusiastic crowd of large proportions in the win-the-war rooms here to-night.

"There are three endorsements in this riding and for myself, I am content with the endorsement which I bear, that of the Great War Veterans Association. They are the men who have been over there and they know what is wanted," emphatically declared the candidate during the course of a rousing statement of his stand on the national issue.

Other speakers were Senator J. H. Fisher, Franklin Smoke, James Seace, and Dr. Lovett.

Dr. Lovett, chairman, spoke briefly, condemning the falsehood that a vote for Col. Cockshutt was a vote against Union Government. He urged all to vote for Col. Cockshutt, the win-the-war candidate.

subscribed, and that money would be placed in the hands of the government and would be spent. "Whom do you want to spend that money?" asked Col. Cockshutt. "If you want me to represent you in the spending of that money, I will be glad to serve you."

There is just one thing we are fighting for—our country," continued the speaker. "The seriousness of the situation during the last week is most appalling. The terrible catastrophe at Halifax is a direct result of the war—it is appalling, but when you think of the 32,000 Canadians lying dead on the battlefields of Europe, there is only one thing to do, get the war over as quickly as possible, consistent with victory. We must send men and money unstintingly to win this war and bring our men back."

when I received a letter from Sir Robert Borden, asking me to support the Union Government. I want to win this fight straight. I am going to come out from this fight clean. I don't want mud and I am not going to throw any. Will you help me to win in a clean, straightforward manner?" asked Col. Cockshutt.

"Yes! Sure we will! You bet we will!" shouted the crowd.

Franklin Smoke, exploded the fallacy that Col. Cockshutt was not as strong a supporter of Union Government as his opponent. He quoted from a report of the last annual meeting of the Liberals of the riding at which Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been endorsed and the speeches of Mr. Harold and Scott Davidson in support of the French-Canadian chieftain.

Senator Fisher, declared the fallacy that Col. Cockshutt was not as strong a supporter of Union Government as his opponent. He declared Senator Fisher. Reports have been circulated that we were traitors in the cause. Do you believe that?"

Col. Harry Cockshutt would never be found sidestepping. He had been a consistent supporter of Sir Robert Borden. There was no talent of Laurierism in his platform and there was no possibility of finding him lined up with Laurier as would be the danger were either of the other candidates chosen.

The Coming of a GREAT ENGINE

It Makes High Power Out of Low Grade Gas

Men who drive cars are face to face with a condition that becomes more and more serious each day.

That condition is the constantly declining grade of gasoline.

Nearly every engineer has said goodbye forever to high-grade gas.

For the moment, and possibly for all time, multi-cylinders, counter balanced crankshafts, and little tricks with valves give way in engineers' discussions to the "gas problem".

Every alert engineer is bending his utmost to make "one drop of gas now do the work of two".

Just as great situations produce great men, so out of this condition has come a great engine.

It is a Chalmers.

It makes high power out of low grade gas.

Compared with other engines of the same size or thereabouts, it shows:

*More power More rapid acceleration
Greater economy Greater length of life
Greater smoothness*

And an amazing ability to start quickly on a cold day, and to "warm up" without delay.

The Chalmers engine is a simple one. That is one reason why it is so good.

In many engines of the moment the gas passes on its way from the carburetor to the cylinder through a tunnel, which runs all the way through the engine block.

Before the gas gets to the cylinder it is forced to turn many sharp angles and does not become completely mixed with the air.

This results in raw gas running into not only one but all the cylinders, particularly when the car is cold, and especially when running for the first five or ten miles.

In the case of the Chalmers engine this type of intake manifold has been completely eliminated.

A new manifold termed "The Ramshorn," has been constructed of simple piping. It is on the exterior of the engine. It is a manifold of easy curves so that there are no sharp corners for the raw gas to lodge against and be pushed into the cylinders.

The next development was to give the gas the proper amount of heat after it came from the carburetor.

What is termed a "hot plate" is built in at the top of the throat of the carburetor so that the gas coming straight up from the carburetor hits the "hot plate", the dimensions of which have been worked out very scientifically, and then passes around the easy curves of the smooth manifold in perfect state of mixture and at the proper temperature to each of the cylinders.

The case of this Chalmers engine has been proved.

1. On August 1 and 2, Joe Dawson drove a Chalmers equipped with this same engine 1,898 miles in 24 hours—faster and farther than anyone ever before had traveled on land, sea or air.

If there's a flaw in pattern, or part, a solid day of bitter, brutal speed will find it.

2. There are over 1,000 Chalmers containing this engine now in use. They check up past all expectations.

Therefore, the Maxwell Motor Company, which has leased The Chalmers Motor Company, has put its O. K. on this engine, and accordingly on the Chalmers car.

90 per cent. of any automobile is the engine; and no car can be a bit better than its engine.

So you are safe in writing your check for a Chalmers.

EXCHANGE OF MERCHANDISE.
By Courier Leased Wire.
Copenhagen, Dec. 8.—Negotiations carried on between German and Danish delegates concerning an exchange of merchandise in the coming month between Denmark on one side and Germany and Austria-Hungary on the other have been brought to an end. The parties principally turned upon supplying Denmark with coal, salt, lubricating oil, iron and steel, including ship-building material as well as the prices of Danish agricultural produce for export to Germany. Danish negotiations with England and the United States have not yet been brought to an end. For the present butter destined for England is warehoused by exporters.

It has been left to the modern German Culture to introduce murder at sea. We remember the Lusitania, Falabar, the Belgian Prince, but at this moment we particularly think of Captain Fryatt, in command of a passenger ship, whose only offence was that he sought to save his ship from the hungry maw of the Prussian wolf in endeavoring to save his ship from being submerged. He was sent through the farce of a mock trial, condemned to death and was shot. Had he been a naval officer, seaman or soldier, he would have been made prisoner; because he was a merchant seaman, his life, (according to the law of German civilization) must be forfeited. He is only one of many; thousands have been torpedoed again and again, and after reaching port they sign on and are out again on the Long Lone Trail.

The boys at the front are busy. Vote for Cockshutt and help keep the munition factories busy to help them.

Rippling Rhymes

SHIFTING WEATHER.
The weather switches to and fro, from one extreme to 'other; one day we're ankle deep in snow, the next, in heat we're another. When I retire at 9 o'clock, all tranquil is the weather; it looks as though there'd be a flock of balmy days together. "It is the finest climate built," in bed I keep repeating, and kick off coverlet and quilt, because they're overheating. So in a pleasant frame of mind I soon become a snorer, preparing for the morrow's grind with nature's sweet restorer. And when the clock is striking three, I wake from all my dozing; the show is drifting over me, and I'm three-quarters frozen. Oh, it would bother any gent to know what traps to carry when he goes forth to pay his rent, to scamble or to marry. His ulster or a palm leaf fan? His rubbers or his sandals? This climate is too fierce for man, and weather sharp as vandals! One day I wake around in a doze, and think this life is phoney; the next day I have prickly heat, and then again pneumonia. One day the weather gives me a coup, the next, sunburn and freckles; and all the time I'm in the soup, and doctors get my shekels.

SIDE TALKS

"I shouldn't think you'd hesitate a minute to ask him to look that up for you," said the Authorman's Wife. "Why think of all you did for him?"

"That," said the Authorman, "is the very reason why I don't want to ask him to do it."

"What nonsense," said the Authorman's Wife. "Isn't he under obligation to you?"

"Yes," said the Authorman, "and I'd rather ask someone who isn't."

"Perfectly absurd," said the Authorman's Wife. "Don't you think so?"

"No," said the Cynic. "I don't know as I do."

"Hasn't Jim done enough for him?"

He'd Rather Borrow Than Dun
"More than enough," said the Cynic, "but it's like this. If I want money I'd rather go out and collect from someone who owes me money for work, or even go out and borrow it, than ask anyone whom I'd lent money to, to pay it. That is, unless they were one of those dead beats that deserve to be dunned. I think there's a kind of noblesse oblige about not demanding pay in both cases—money loaned or services rendered."

Ingratitude Made Her Feel Ashamed
"And there's another thing," broke in Molly, "if people whom you've done things for don't do things you ask them to it makes you feel so perfectly dreadful, so kind of rebuffed and bruised, their being so ungrateful almost makes you feel ashamed. You know Ted," to the Cynic, "that girl I kind of helped get her position (Molly was really too modest. She actually gave the girl an opportunity she would never otherwise have had—an opportunity that changed her whole life) well, one day I was sick and I asked her to draw my pay for me. (You know she lives near me) and she wouldn't do it! Said she didn't like to have the responsibility of bringing home that money. And it made me feel kind of ashamed. I never want to press a debt of gratitude again."

"Ashamed?" echoed the Authorman's Wife. "I can't see what you had to be ashamed of."

"But the Authorman gave her a queer little smile that understood."

The Sealed Valley

By HULBERT FOOTNER

Author of "Jack Chanty"

(From Saturday's Daily) CHAPTER XXI. The Return to the Valley. The Indians of the valley were engaged at their morning tasks in front of the teepees, the women making and mending clothes and St. Jean Bateese, showing the boys how to wind the grip of a bow, when, without warning, the haggard white man and white woman rose over the edge of the green slope. The Indians dropped their work and broke into loud exclamations, which brought Nahnya quickly out of one of the teepees. She silenced them peremptorily. Nahnya herself betrayed nothing. She approached Ralph and Kitty with a hard and accusing face and waited for their explanation. Despair made Ralph as callous-seeming and as laconic as Nahnya herself. "The white men know about this place," he said abruptly. "Joe Mixer and his party. They are on their way here. I came to warn you." Nahnya's mask was unbroken. "How many?" she asked. "Three white men and a native." "Who told them?" she asked acerbically. Ralph looked away. "It was I told them," cried Kitty quickly and tremulously. She felt as if she were being ground to pieces between this stony pair. "They tortured him to get it out of him! Look at him! He can scarcely stand. You would have told them yourself." "He told you?" asked Nahnya remorselessly. Kitty's voice began to escape from her control. "He was out of his head," she said. "It was when he first came, I told you that. He told me in his fever. He didn't know what he was saying." Nahnya turned on Kitty. "I didn't bring you here to defend me," he said harshly. This was the last straw. Kitty turned from them and wept bitterly. Neither Nahnya nor Ralph regarded her. Nahnya said dully: "What matter who tell? It come, anyway. Always I know that." There was a silence, broken only by Kitty struggling to master her sobs. Nahnya studied the ground with a line between her brows, and Ralph looked at Nahnya. "What are you going to do?" he asked finally. Nahnya flung up her head. "Fight!" she said. Ralph's dull eyes brightened. "We pulled the bridge over to this side of the hole after we crossed it," he said eagerly. She nodded brief approval. "It will take them time to bring logs to make another. I will think all to do. You take some rest." Nahnya issued her orders, and Ahabwah took Kitty in charge. St. Jean Bateese led Ralph to his teepee and Marya came and dressed his shoulder, and made a sling for his arm. They left him to sleep, but Ralph lay watching through the teepee opening, and when he saw Nahnya start off in the direction of the cave with a rifle under her arm, he followed. Nahnya ordered him to return. "They not come long time yet; maybe not till to-morrow. Anyway, you can't fire a gun. Get your sleep." "There's no use talking about it," Ralph said stubbornly. Nahnya shrugged and went on. Kitty was likewise on the watch. She followed a little way after Ralph. Nahnya frowned, but said nothing. Nahnya took up her post on the rocks above the entrance to the cave. She told Ralph coldly that she had decided to make her stand here. He approved it; her enemies must issue one by one into the daylight below. She had armed St. Jean Bateese and Charley with rifles, she said, and the two boys had their bows and arrows. They were all coming directly with blankets, food, and ammunition sufficient for a siege, if required. They prepared for a long wait. Ralph sat down in the grass a little removed from Nahnya and bowed his head on his knees. By and by he fell over like an inanimate object and slept as he lay. Kitty sat still further away, like an humble dependent. She nursed her knees and stared over the valley with tear-stained, look-juster eyes. Ralph was awakened by a sharp exclamation from Nahnya. She had raised and pointed the gun, but held her fire. Kitty knelt in the grass with her hands pressed over her ears, terrified in prospect of the expected shot. Ralph ran to the edge of the Rocks and looked over. Philippe Boisvert had just issued out of the cave. He held his hands over his head and came climbing up the rocks in that attitude. Arrived within a dozen yards, the half-breed began to speak eagerly in Cree. His eyes burned on Nahnya strangely. At the sound of his voice surprise broke through the mask of her face. "Philippe!" she murmured. A flame of jealousy made Ralph's cold breast alive again. He had thought he was past all feeling. "What is he saying?" he demanded to know. Nahnya's eyes were troubled. "I know him," she murmured. "From a long time ago. He is the boy I talk with at the mission school." The half-breed continued his impassioned plea, and Nahnya was clearly not unmoved by it. Philippe was a handsome young creature, and the fire of his feelings was seemingly an honest fire. Ralph ground his teeth. Kitty creeping closer and searching Ralph's face, betrayed a reflection of his jealousy in her own. Nahnya soon recovered from her surprise. "Speak English," she commanded Philippe coldly. Ralph's heart was lightened. The half-breed bent an offensive scowl on him and his lips curved into a sneer. Ralph's returning look was identical. Philippe told his tale with a swagger. "Joe Mixer hire me at the Portage to make a trip. I don't know what for. I don't care. I go for fun, 'cause he got plenty whisky. Bam-bye he say he after Nahnya Crossfox. I lak to kill him then, but I say nothing for 'cause I want to know where Nahnya Crossfox is. Seven year I look for her. She is promise to me." "Promised!" cried Ralph, turning to Nahnya with stormy brows. "It was a child's promise," she said coolly. "He soon forget it, and I soon forget it." Philippe launched into Cree again, protesting energetically Nahnya interrupted him in the same language. Her eyes flashed. Under the last of her tongue the young man quailed. "Now speak English," she said imperiously. "I help Joe to chase the doctor," Philippe went on sulkily. "because the doctor know where Nahnya is. Last night I find out where she is and I am through with Joe, but I bring him down the river to sell him good. I hate all white men. When we come to the other side of the mountain I say to Joe: 'You wait here, and I go spy out the way. I come back soon.' Joe say: 'All right.' 'He think I am his friend. He is a fat fool. He want to kill us all to get the gold himself. He think I not see it in his eye. He is a fool!" "You say you fool him," said Nahnya. "Maybe you fool me, too." Philippe protested passionately in his native tongue. More than once Ralph heard the word moon-lays, which he knew was Cree for white man. "How did you get across the hole?" asked Nahnya. "I leaped it," said Philippe with a swagger. "Are the others behind you?" "Could the fat man leap it," said Philippe, "or the little scared one or Crazy Crusoe?" "No, but maybe you put the bridge back for them," said Nahnya. "The my hands!" cried Philippe passionately, "and if they come kill me!" "Come here," said Nahnya coolly. "Hold up your hands." Philippe obeyed, his eyes fixed anxiously on Nahnya. "See if he have a gun," Nahnya said to Ralph. Philippe scowled furiously at the indignity—but kept his hands up. Ralph quickly satisfied himself that the other was unarmed. "Good!" said Nahnya with an in-

CHILDREN'S YOKE DRESS. By Anabel Worthington. Children's clothes can be made so much more individual looking when the material, trimming and pattern are selected by the maker to suit the particular type of the little wearer. No. 8508 is a charming little frock, which might be made up in either challis or dimity. It has a plain bodice in bolero effect, and it buttons at the centre back. A tiny round collar, which is in two sections, gives the dress a quaint air. The waistline is straight across the back, but just for variety it is cut out in a semi-circle. The sleeves may be long or short. A one-piece skirt is gathered to the yoke. The children's yoke dress pattern No. 8508 is cut in three sizes—1, 3 and 5 years. The three-year size requires 2 yards of 36 inch material, with 1/4 yard of 27 inch contrasting material. To obtain this pattern, send 15 cents to The Courier, Brantford. Any two patterns for 25 cents.

National Unity Essential to VICTORY

To-day, Canada, like the other fighting nations, has Union Government. War has proved its absolute necessity. It is the ONLY way in which Canada can throw her whole strength into the business and finish the war victoriously. Party must give way to the supreme concern for the safety and continued existence of the state. Any opposition to national unity at such a time as this must, if it is not to plead guilty to a charge of utter disloyalty, arise from thoughtlessness, rank prejudice, or narrow party spirit. The following extract from de Tocqueville written half a century ago, condemns such opposition as is being launched by the Laurier-Bourassa faction—"For a generation which is manifestly called upon to witness the stern and terrible changes of the constitutions of the empires of the earth, the deadliest sin is thoughtlessness, the most noxious food is prejudice, and the most fatal disease is party spirit."

Patriots will Support Union Government

The fainthearts, the indifferents, and the quitters in the province of Quebec must NOT be permitted to interfere with the will of the people as represented in the leading men of both the great parties, brought together in Union Government. If Laurier prefers Bourassa to the great Liberal leaders who have thrown in their strength and influence with the great Conservative leaders for the Winning of the War, Laurier must be prepared to lose his personal following while there is real work to be done.

The Vote is your Seal of Approval

Union Government is formed by the union of men who have sunk political differences in the hour of great national danger. It has come into existence in order that the whole moral power of Canada could be organized for victory. The task of getting these strong men together has been accomplished; all that remains is for the people to put their seal of approval on the best Government Canada has ever had.

Support and Reinforcement of our Fighting Forces Supremely Important

Union Government is pledged to supply reinforcements of men and money at the earliest possible moment. The rejection of Union Government and all it implies would be disastrous, and its effects far-reaching. This war is a test of civilian morale as well as of military efficiency. Behind the armies stand the people, if they break no valor in the field can avert defeat. The Kaiser hopes the Laurier-Bourassa faction will accomplish in Canada what Lenine is achieving for him in Russia. Your interests and the Kaiser's are absolutely opposite—and it is YOU who have the vote.

WOMEN WHO CAN VOTE

Every woman may vote who is a British subject, 21 years of age, resident in Canada one year, and in the constituency 30 days, who is the mother, wife, widow, daughter, sister or half-sister of any person, male or female, living or dead, who is serving or has served without Canada in any of the Military forces, or within or without Canada in any of the Naval forces of Canada or of Great Britain in the present war, or who has been honorably discharged from such services, and the date of whose enlistment was prior to September 20th, 1917.
