The Waterdown Juniors lost to Flamboro Centre on Saturday last. The playing of both teams was ragged, more errors than runs. J. Wells batting for Flamboro Centre featured winning the game in the ninth inning. Umpire Kerr of Flamboro Centre came in for some undeserved comments from the home players. However anyone who knows Jack Kerr knows that he calls them as he sees them, playing no favorites. Umpire baiting must be stopped or names will be mentioned. The score by innings was:

Holiday Games

Waterdown Juniors got even with Flamboro Centre for the defeat of Saturday, beating them by the score of 11 to 10. Good baseball in spots kept the large crowd of spectators in good humor. Gordon's first attempt in the box proved him a comer. The score was:

Waterdown..... 1 0 6 0 2 2 x-11
Flamboro Cen. 6 1 1 0 0 2 0-10

The Seniors stacked up against Millgrove in the second event, and put up a very interesting game. The old time boys from Millgrove can still give the boys, in any of the districts, a run for their money. W. Carey fielding and batting in real old time form. A decision by the umpire in the last half of the tenth inning ended the game. Millgrove could not see it the way the umpire did, so called their team from the field with the score standing 9 to 8 in their favor.

It is the intention of the Overall Club to stage a hair pulling contest in the rink at an early date, for the championship of Waterdown and East Flamboro. It is said that the scalps of several of our local gladiators have become so tough from constant practice that it would require a stilliard stumping machine to remove even a small bunch of hair from the scalp. Several challenges have been received at the office from young ladies who are anxious to try conclusions with their male friends, but it has not as yet been decided whether females will be allowed to compete or not. Even the barbers are complaining of the toughness of the hair they are called upon to remove, which is caused no doubt by the constant abuse it is subjected to.

Be a Booster

One of the most striking lessons taught Col. Simpson on his recent tour of Western Canada was the limitless spirit of boosting animating every man, woman and child in the west. The same has been experienced by every citizen who has visited that portion of Canada and come in contact with this marked difference as compared with the spirit of the average dweller in Ontario.

Here we have almost everything that the westerner lacks, but because it has become part of our lives we see nothing to boast about. The westerner, on the other hand, has less to boast about, but he certainly does infinitely more boosting for the place in which he lives. You never hear one of them do any knocking. The water may be bad and the public service execrable, but never a word of complaint; instead, it's boost and boost all the time.

It's that sort of spirit that's making Western Canada go ahead, for nothing can hold a municipality where every inhabitant is out plugging for all he is worth. We need to think more about this sort of thing in Waterdown than we have in the past. Boosting isn't necessarily boasting, though it means the same thing, and it certainly does go a long way when visitors come into a town and hear nothing else but praise and remember only the immense advantages that this town has. We have everything here that ought to make for success, we haven't had it in such measures as we might have had, it is because the people have lacked faith in themselves and pride in their town.

Let us try and overcome this defect and not only boost Waterdown but boost everything and everyone that is in it. There would soon be no holding Waterdown back if this were the case.

To Mrs. E. F. Peterson

We are sorry dear to lose you,
But our loss is some one's gain,
And we look with pleasure forward
To our meeting you again.

As you leave us now to enter
Thru this life a different sphere,
May you hold in kind remembrance
Many friends who miss you here.

May Life's storms blow lightly o'er you,
And no cloud your pathway dim;
And may your cup of destiny
Fill with gladness to the brim.

Thru our paths thru life may differ,
Hope leads each one bravely on
Thru the gloom of changing struggle
Eagerly we wait the dawn.

As you face the trying problems
In this world's perplexing din,
May the One who watches o'er us
Give you grace and strength to win.

May God bless you with his spirit
And earth yield a bounteous store;
Then in that great Home re-union
We will meet to part no more.

Luck

Luck means rising at 6 o'clock in the morning, living on a dollar a day if you earn two, minding your own business and not meddling with other people's. Luck means appointments you have never failed to keep, the trains you have never failed to catch. Luck means trusting in God and your own resources.

"At Home"

The Young Ladies' Tennis Club will hold an At Home on Thursday evening, June 3rd at 8 o'clock in the Roller Rink under the auspices of Mesdames P. D. Davidson, F. J. Shaidle, R. J. Vance, A. W. Palmer, J. F. Vance, M. Cook, J. O. McGregor, W. A. Drummond and Mrs. Torrance. The girls request that the ladies of the village assist the club by baking. The first part of the evening will be spent in progressive euchre, followed by refreshments. Creaton's orchestra of Hamilton will provide music for dancing. Admission 50c. F. J. Shaidle, chairman.

A meeting of the young ladies of the village was held last Thursday for the purpose of organizing a Lawn Tennis club, the following officers were elected. President, Mrs. Torrance; Vice President, Mrs. R. J. Vance. Treasurer, Miss M. Shaidle; Secretary, Miss V. Nicholson.

The Tennis courts, four in number, are now under preparation on the grounds of Mr. W. H. Cummins on Dundas street. Mr. Cummins has very kindly given the free use of these grounds to the association.

Mountsburg

The Misses Edna, Hannah and Mary and Mr. Elmer Mount spent the holidays under the parental roof.

Miss P. Hannah our Public school teacher, spent the week end in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beaver of Guelph spent the week end at Mrs. Beaver's father, Mr. T. Woolsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Page spent Sunday near Guelph at their daughter's, Mrs. T. Wingrove.

Miss L. Revell took her S. S. class of boys to Flamboro Centre Church on Sunday last.

A number of our young men took in Sparks Circus in Hamilton on the 24th.

Miss Muriel Patton spent the 23rd and the 24th with friends near Flamboro Centre.

The paper hanger is busy in this vicinity.

A certain Lady from the royal city Guelph was visiting in the country near the noted town of Mountsburg and wishing to explore the town and vicinity started out of a Saturday eve to view the landscape o'er. Landing in the town she decided to hire a Jitney that was there, and with some friends started out for their joy ride. Now this Jitney being a Ford it would sound unreasonable if I said it had baulked, but oh me that wasn't the trouble, the Ford remained true as long as it was on the road but the Jitney driver got the Saturday night blues and became baulky and on reaching his own gate drove his car into the garage leaving the occupants to hoof it back to the old town. Now this lady wishes that anyone intending to hire a Jitney in this town to take warning of this and be careful who they hire and not take chances with a Ford Car any more.

JAPANESE DIVERS.

They Are the Most Skilful in the World.

There is at any rate, one post-war activity in which Britons have to take a back seat.

That is as deep-sea divers in the work of salvaging vessels which have been sunk by mine or torpedo.

It is here that the Jap shows his superiority. The Japanese diver can descend to a greater depth than the British diver and, what is more, he will remain longer under the water without apparent injury to health.

SINCE 1870

This is no more boasting claim by the Japanese themselves; it is the rueful but truthful admission of an expert with a long association with marine salvage work. Few Japanese divers are engaged at work around the coasts of Britain, their activities in this direction being mostly confined to the Mediterranean.

The greatest depth at which a British diver can work under water without doing himself a serious injury is from twenty to twenty-two fathoms — that is, at the most, 130 feet below the surface. Even then our divers can remain only a comparatively short time at that depth, and they are obliged to descend and ascend very slowly to prevent the blood gushing from their noses.

In some of the Government salvage ships what is known as a decompressing chamber now provided, which the diver on ascending can enter and a rule he is not in such haste to give the signal to be hoisted up as his British colleague.

Eastern fatalism enters largely into the composition of these Japanese divers, and on this account the yellow men are inclined to take risks far below the surface, which British divers, no less intrepid, would hesitate to take.

Unexpected danger often confronts the deep-sea diver who has located a wreck which has been sent to the bottom by torpedo.

The pressure of the water frequently has the effect of crumpling up parts gradually become acclimatized to the natural atmosphere on the surface. A Japanese diver can work with comparative comfort at a depth of twenty-seven or twenty-eight fathoms, or nearly 170 feet below the surface where the salvage ship is moored, and as of the vessel near the spot where the torpedo has shattered the sides, and sometimes even an ordinary touch will cause part of the splintered hull to collapse. The danger in such circumstances of being enveloped by a mass of wreckage is ever present.

CULTIVATION OF MUSTARD

(Experimental Farm's Note).

The seeds of two species of Mustard are used commercially, namely White Mustard (Brassica alba) and Black Mustard (Brassica nigra). The common names of both species are somewhat misleading as in both the flowers are yellow in White Mustard and brown to dark purple in Black Mustard.

Both species grow rapidly, and the seeds can be sown from the beginning of May to the end of the first week in June. The crop will, as a rule, be ready for cutting in August.

Experiments with both species were carried out at the Central Experimental Farm during 1916, and also to some extent during 1917 and 1918. The seeds were obtained from the United States, France, Holland, Sweden, and Russia.

The plots were of various sizes, and the rates of sowing per acre also varied considerably. The yield of seed varied and was influenced largely by the dryness or otherwise of the season at the time of flowering. The seed-pods of White Mustard usually remain closed when ripe, but in Black Mustard the pods open as they ripen and allow the seeds to escape, consequently the latter crop has to be cut as soon as the first pods are ripe.

The particulars of yield per acre are as follows:—
Sown at the rate of 7 lbs. per acre, yield of seed at the rate of 32 1-4 lb. per acre.

Sown at 11 1-4 lbs. per acre, yield of seed 198 3-4 lbs. per acre.
Sown at the rate of 14 1-2 lbs. per acre, yield of seed 346 lbs.

Sown at the rate of 14 lbs. per acre, yield of seed at the rate of 891 lb. per acre.

For Black Mustard the yields were as follows:—
Sown at the rate of 7 lbs. per acre, yield of seed at the rate of 39 3-4 lbs. per acre.
Sown at the rate of 11 1-4 lbs. per acre, yield of seed at the rate of 22 1-2 lbs. per acre.

acre, yield of seed at the rate of 30 lbs. per acre.

Samples of both species were sent to one of the leading firms of Mustard Manufacturers in Canada, which reported as follows:—

GRANITE HIGHWAY.

Building in the Rockies Through Colorado.

Taking example from the famous Appian way, which has the name of being the first great road undertaken by the Romans as a public work, the state of Colorado, with the help of an appropriation by the United States Government, is building a highway of solid granite in the Rocky mountains. No other highway in the world, it is predicted, will provide travelers with so magnificent a scenic setting, close to a sheer fall of 3,000 feet on the other side of the great concrete posts and cables that will safeguard vehicular traffic. One gets an idea of the road from the practical statement that it is costing $25,000 a mile to build. Like the Appian way, on which long stretches of pavement first traveled over 300-odd years before the Christian era, still remain practically perfect, the chairman of the Colorado highway commission believes that Colorado is creating a work which will defy the centuries and stand, on completion as the most wonderful road in the modern world.

Flowers of Poland.

According to an English newspaper correspondent who recently reported a journey he had made from Paris to the Polish capital, the most impressive spectacle that he saw was the mantle of blossoms, clustered profusely, which fringed the highways and byways about Warsaw. "All the wars of Poland," he writes, "could not check the new life that came riding through her borders at the head of the advancing spring sprays of lilac found place in the gray cape of Polish lancers, tulips and chestnut leaves, tokens of the new lawn, the garb of peer and peasant. Everywhere was spring yielding back a measure of her everlasting rights." But the flowers never took much notice of the war when "at the front."

EXPLAINS ORDER OF WHEAT BOARD

No Gain to Millers, Says Secretary.

They Must Pay Increased Price.

Toronto report: An explanation of the changes in flour prices made under Order No. 97, of the Canadian Wheat Board, is given by Mr. C. B. Watts, secretary of the Dominion Millers' Association, in the following statement: "Both millers and flour buyers are inquiring where they stand in view of the advance in the price of 35 cents a bushel on western wheat, and 49 cents a bushel on Ontario wheat, under Order No. 97, of the Canadian Wheat Board. As the matter is of public interest, it is important that the order should be understood by those affected by it.

"Order No. 97 is a re-issue, with certain modifications to meet changed conditions, of Order No. 92, issued on the 15th day of February, and under both these orders, millers are compelled to pay any advance that may take place in the cost of the wheat, made by the orders of the board, on not only all the wheat, but all the flour on hand not shipped, the date the change was made.

"Accordingly, on Monday morning, every miller was compelled to put up Manitoba flour $1.47, and Ontario flour $1.70 per barrel, or lose the difference, because the wheat to make a barrel of flour cost him that much more.

"This was clearly pointed out in a circular letter sent the members of the Dominion Millers' Association on the 21st of February last, referring to Regulation No. 92, reading in part as follows:

"As far as the miller is concerned the price he has paid for his wheat, will not be fixed, but the price will be whatever price is in effect under the regulations of the board at the time the flour, bran and shorts are actually shipped."

"Millers could not make sales at fixed prices for future delivery unless they disregarded the orders of the board and to prevent any misunderstanding in this respect, some of the big milling companies at least have had slips printed, which they attach to each order, reading: "This sale is made subject to any change in price of wheat, made by order of the Wheat Board."

"No other course was open for the millers, as since the first of the year few millers in Canada have held their own on their mill operations, as a majority have been shut down most of the time.

"There appears to be a general opinion that millers benefit by the advances in the price of wheat, but this is wrong, as exactly the contrary is the case, because flour always advances slower than wheat and some buyers refuse to take their purchases at the advanced prices till they have used up the stocks bought at lower figures, consequently milling is at a standstill for some time after each advance in wheat.

"The milling industry is in the unfortunate position that as nearly all their employees are skilled workers, the mills have to retain them under pay, even if they have no work for them to do, as otherwise they would be unobtainable when business improves, so it is the custom of the milling industry to keep their help all the year round except their day labor, of which comparatively little is employed.

"As even if the miller had the flour ground on Saturday, but not shipped out, he had to pay the increased cost of wheat as above; only dealers or others that had stocks of flour on hand or shipped, could afford to sell without getting the advance resulting from the increased price of wheat, which, as pointed out, would amount to $1.47 per barrel on Manitoba flour and $1.70 per barrel on Ontario flour, after allowing for the increased price for bran and shorts, of $3 per ton."

BRITISH FOOD COST

Now 146 P. C. Above Pre-War Level.

London cable: The cost of food up to May 1, had risen to 146 per cent. above the pre-war level, and there is a prospect of its going still higher, says Charles A. McCurdy, Minister of Food, in an official statement, issued to-night.

Mr. McCurdy, however, points out that the price of food in England is still lower than in France, Italy and Sweden, and says it is not much higher than in the United States.

The Labor Gazette estimates that the cost of living, including food, clothing, fuel, light and rent is now 141 per cent. over that before the war.

A total of $6,047,010.12 in surplus stores was disposed of by the various Government departments through the War Purchasing Commission between December 1st, 1918, and March 31st, 1920.

Extravagance Ending, and Prices Will Drop

New York, May 1.—Telegraphic reports to the Evening Sun from the leading industrial centres where the necessities of life are produced are to the effect that the crest of the high prices has been reached in the United States and in many instances passed. Nowhere is there found an indication that prices will be higher next fall and winter than they are now, and in most places it is indicated that a reduction is certain to come.

The main reason for the prediction is that people have finished their era of extravagance, and are not buying without regard to price as in the past. They are doing without non-essentials to a large extent, and are buying cheaper articles than the best and highest priced.

CANONIZATION OF JOAN OF ARC

Great Ceremony by Pope at St. Peter's.

70,000 at It, Including Her Line.

Rome cable: The canonization of Joan of Arc, the French heroine, was celebrated by Pope Benedict this morning in St. Peter's. It was the greatest and most impressive function performed in the historic Basilica for several centuries past.

The interior of St. Peter's was lighted by thousands of incandescent bulbs and the soft radiance of innumerable wax candles, the flickering of which added fascinating beauty to the scene the enormous pillars of the Basilica were decorated with priceless ancient crimson damask, and pictures of Joan of Arc were prominently displayed. A passage was kept open in the middle of the Basilica for the Papal procession to the high altar, behind which the Papal Throne was erected, having a small tribune for the Papal family. Another tribune that attracted much attention, contained 140 descendants of the family of Joan of Arc. These, belonging to all ranks of life and coming from all parts of France, had for the most part never met each other before. Three times as many applied for seats as relatives of Joan of Arc's family, but their claims were not admitted.

Further along there was a tribune for the Roman aristocracy, the Knights of Malta, headed by Count Lambertenghi, the diplomatic body accredited to the Holy See and aspirant mission headed by Gabriel Hanotaux, sent by the French republic. The dependence tribune, which glittered with uniforms and decorations of all kinds, contained among others the Duke of Vendome, Princess Irene Alexandrovna, Princess Jousourouff, Prince Theodore Alexandrovitch and Prince Miguel of Braganza.

Diego von Bergen, the German Ambassador to the Vatican, made his first appearance at a function. He wore evening dress, in striking contrast to the gorgeous uniforms of the other representatives. From 60,000 to 70,000 persons were present at the canonization ceremonies.

The vast temple was filled from dawn with the crowd which had gathered from all parts of the world. The Pontiff was received at the entrance to the Basilica by Cardinal Merry del Val, Arch-priest of St. Peter's with the Vatican chapter. The choir sang "Tu Es Petrus" while the faithful sank to their knees, but did not allow any details of the magnificent procession to pass unobserved.

NEW EPIDEMIC HURTS FRANCE

Paris cable: France is suffering from a peculiar affliction and the authorities, as well as medical men and social economists, are much concerned about it.

"An epidemic of girl babies is sweeping over the country," as a certain magistrate put it. Naturally, France, whose man power was so greatly reduced by the war, desires that many more boy babies than girl's should come into her world.

FARM EXPERTS

Will Convene in Ottawa in June.

Ottawa report: L. S. Klinck, president of the University of British Columbia, has been elected the first president of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists; H. Barton, professor of animal husbandry, Macdonald College, Quebec, vice-president; and L. H. Newman, secretary Canadian Seed Growers' Association, honorary secretary-treasurer.

This society has been in process of organization since October of last year, and will hold its first convention at the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, on June 2, 3 and 4. A particularly interesting and attractive programme has been completed, some of the principal speakers being: Dr. James W. Robertson, Dr. H. J. Grisdale, Dr. M. Cumming, Prof. J. W. Crow, Dr. W. P. Thompson, Dean Rutherford, Dean Howes, President Reynolds, Dr. F. C. Harrison, Hon. J. E. Canon, Hon. Manning W. Doherty, Tom Moore and Hon. S. F. Tolmie.

The membership of the society is now approximately four hundred. Official delegates from the various provinces of the Dominion have already been appointed.

DINOSAUR PRESENTED TO MUSEUM.

Fossil skeleton of a Dinosaur presented to the Royal Ontario Museum. It was discovered in Southern Alberta two years ago by an expedition under Dr. W. A. Parks. Its complete length is 27 feet, while in its natural posture it was probably about 17 feet high. It is estimated that it lived upon the earth about 3,000,000 years ago.

LESS WHEAT IS WINTER-KILLED

Best Ever Recorded, is This Spring Showing.

Seeding Never Later—Fast Growth Likely.

Ottawa report: The first crop report of the season 1920 was issued to-day by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. It dealt with the winter killing of "fall-down" wheat, the condition of fall wheat and of hay and clover meadows and the progress of spring seed sowing, the report being compiled from the returns of crop correspondents from all parts of Canada on April 30.

Notwithstanding the severity of the past winter, the proportion of fall-sown wheat that has been killed is reported to be very small, amounting, in fact, to not more than 4 per cent. of the area sown. This is the smallest proportion on record.

Deducting the areas reported as winter killed, representing four per cent., or 28,700 acres, in Ontario; one per cent., or 400 acres, in Alberta, and four per cent., or 600 acres, in British Columbia, the total reduction by winter killing is 29,700 acres, leaving 740,300 acres as the area of fall wheat to be harvested for 1920, as compared with 672,793 acres, the finally estimated harvest area of 1919. The average condition of fall wheat on April 30 last was 98 per cent., representing the promise of a yield 2 per cent. below the average of the ten years 1910-1919.

The condition on April 30 was 98 per cent. for both Ontario and Alberta, and 95 per cent. for British Columbia. The seeding season this year is later than in any previous year since annual systematic records were begun by the Census and Statistics Office, in 1910.

The ground was reported as very moist, and several days' sunshine were requisite to get it into good condition. In Ontario about 23 per cent., or nearly one-quarter, of the total seeding of wheat and 19 per cent. of oats and barley had been done by April 30. In Manitoba and Alberta wet and cold weather and in Saskatchewan snow falls and frosty nights have prevailed, so that in the Prairie Provinces very little seeding of wheat had been accomplished in April, and practically none of oats and barley. Such a state of backwardness is rare in the Prairie Provinces, as usually from 40 to 50 per cent. of seeding is done in April.

SWORDS OF HONOR

And Freedom of London, to Jellicoe and French.

London cable says: With full civil ceremonial Admiral Jellicoe and Viscount French to-day received swords of honor and the freedom of the city of London. The Duke of Connaught and Marshal Haig attended. Admiral Jellicoe, retaining thanks, paid a great tribute to the Dominion's naval air services. Their splendid gallantry, sacrifice and endurance had made the British Mercantile Marine famous throughout history, he said.

Lord French replying, said when he went to France he hoped to remain until "we had won the victory," which he never doubted would be "ours."

"It is too early to pronounce a verdict on the great factors and characters of the war," he proceeded. "Our deeds will be judged calmly and faithfully at the bar of history. To that tribunal I am only too willing to leave the duty of assessing our merits and demerits. The great lesson is that indecision and vacillation always end in disaster."

Lord French added that the Germans made a cardinal mistake in failing to seize the channel ports, which might have prolonged the war.

INTO PERSIA NOW.

Russ Bolsheviks Cross the Frontier.

London, May 1.—It is announced that the Bolsheviks have appeared at Astara and crossed the Persian frontier, says a dispatch to the London Times from Teheran, under date of May 1. The dispatch adds that the Bolsheviks said that they had no quarrel with Persia, but that the British troops must be withdrawn.

Astara is a small town in the south-east corner of Trans-Caucasia on the Caspian Sea.

HEAVY BETTORS.

$176,000,000 Gambled in Argentina in 1919.

Buenos Aires, May 1.—The people of Argentina like to take a chance on a betting proposition. This is shown by the fact that last year they bet altogether $176,000,000 on horse races, lottery tickets, roulette resorts or other means of gambling, says La Razon.

Argentina's population is about 8,000,000 so that the average gambling by each person was $22 a year. La Razon gives these figures in urging that all gambling should be under government supervision and that the proceeds should be used for public benefit.

Signor Bonomi, Minister of War in the retiring Italian Cabinet, has been asked to form a new Ministry.

TRADE BOOMS

Increase of $32,633,172 in April, 1920.

Ottawa, May 1.—(By the Canadian Press).—An increase of $32,633,172 in the grand total of Canadian trade for the month of April, the first month of the new financial year, as compared with April, 1919, is shown by the trade statement issued to-day from the Customs Department. The trade of Canada during the past month reached a total value of $154,161,134.00, as compared with $121,527,962 for the same month a year ago.

MARRIAGE SERVICE.

British Brides Must Still "Love, Honor and Obey."

London cable says: Another attempt to alter the "causes for which matrimony was ordained" has been defeated by the Lower House of Convocation.

The Dean of Canterbury moved to give first place to a solemn promise between the contracting pair "to love, comfort and help each other through life." He argued the tone of the present marriage service does not correspond with the feelings of women nowadays.

However, for the present, women will have to continue to "love, honor and obey."

Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, and now Republican aspirant for the Presidency of the United States, told the U. S. Congressional Committee investigating the sugar situation, to-day, that a world shortage of sugar was likely to last two or three years. He urged rationing.

LAST BIG BLOCK Of Canadian Pacific Reserve Farm Lands In Central Alberta and Saskatchewan

We would call your attention to these lands, the last large block of good virgin farm land in Western Canada, which marks the end of wholesale prices for virgin farm lands in the Prairie West.

News of this block being opened up is being advertised throughout Europe and the United States, and is being read by hundreds of thousands of people every week.

The American farmers have been quick to see the opportunities offered in the Western Provinces of Canada in the past, and I am sure that they will see this last opportunity as quickly as any, and that there will be thousands of them going to see these lands as soon as the snow begins to thaw in the spring. It is, therefore, up to us in Eastern Canada to make arrangements to visit the West and see these lands at the earliest possible opportunity, and I cannot urge you too strongly if you are at all interested in getting a farm of your own, to take advantage of this last opportunity. Those who act now and secure some of these lands will reap the benefit of quicker increase in value than at any period in the past, and the land will pay for itself from the crops in a few years.

Those who do not wish to improve the land at once may purchase land on our ten year contract, one-tenth cash, balance in nine equal payments at 6%, which does not require improvement of the land, or you can pay in full if you choose.

Those who get there first will get best selection and best location.

FLAX-GROWING IN CANADA.

Industry Has Shown Signs of Reviving Since the War.

The carefully considered effort which is being made by the Provincial Government of Ontario to encourage the cultivation of flax in the northern part of the province is a welcome evidence of foresight. For there is a very considerable shortage of flax in the world's markets, and the old sources of supply are, for the time being, at any rate, seriously curtailed. Thus, in the days before the war, and for some time after its onset, great quantities of flax came from Russia, whilst Belgium and Holland also made considerable contributions. To-day, Russia is practically out of the market, and the supplies from Holland and Belgium are still limited. This condition has, of course, obtained for some time past, and, two or three years ago, when the demand for linen for airplane wings and other war purposes was making heavy calls on the linen production capabilities of the Allies, Canada applied herself seriously to the question of increasing the flax production of the country. To this end the Government promised a fixed price for the crop, and a bounty, running from two to nine cents a pound, to the spinner for the finished yarn. The authorities, moreover, suffered no delay in the matter. With characteristic energy they established a complete plant at Regina, Saskatchewan, for the extraction of the fibres from the flax, and arranged for the carrying out of a series of experiments in spinning, in Kitchener, Ont. The idea of the Canadian Government was, of course, not only to establish an industry which would help to meet the war needs of the Allies, but one which might be developed, after the war, to the increasing advantage of the Dominion as a whole.

Now flax is essentially the crop for the small holder. There is, it is true, really no limit to the scale upon which it can be grown, but the process of hand weeding, to which it so readily responds, makes flax a crop particularly adapted to the kind of labor generally available on a small holding. It is for this reason, no doubt, amongst others, that the Ontario Government has adopted the scheme, just referred to, of encouraging flax growing in the northern part of the province. Under this plan, various mills in older Ontario, will supply seed to be distributed among selected settlers in the north country, in quantities sufficient to plant two or more acres, whilst the settler when he has harvested his crop, to return to the mill an amount of seed equal to that which was sent to him. It is proposed then to compare the northern seed and fibre with the product grown from similar seed in the older districts, and if the results prove satisfactory, the Government is prepared to take still further steps to encourage cultivation.

Ultimately it is hoped to establish in Canada a complete linen trade, on a large scale, and not merely to cultivate flax for export. There is, however, to-day an immediate market for exported Canadian flax, not only for the sake of the linen which may be made from it, but for the sake of its many greatly needed by-products, such as linseed oil and cake.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

16. May 30th, 1920. Jonathan and His Armor-Bearer. 1. Samuel 14: 1-46. 14:1-3.

Commentary.—1. Jonathan's courageous suggestion (vs. 1-3). 1. Jonathan—This son of Saul may have been eighteen years or twenty years of age, the young man that bare his armor—He was Jonathan's trusted attendant, who proved himself both brave and strong on this occasion. let us go over to the Philistines' garrison—The Philistines had come to the very centre of Israel's country with a great army and were encamped on the opposite side of the valley from where Saul's small force was staying. Jonathan's suggestion to his attendant was a courageous one, told not his father—it was not in keeping with military tactics for such a movement as this to be undertaken. Saul would not be likely to approve of the project. 2. uttermost part of Gibeon—Saul, with his six hundred men and Samuel and Abiah, the priest, was entrenched on one of the many hills of the extreme northern part of Gibeon. Migron—The name means precipice, six hundred men—His army that he had was reduced to this small company. 3. Abiah—A great grandson of Eli. He was the high priest, wearing an ephod—The ephod "consisted of two parts, of which one covered the back, and the other the front, that is, the breast and upper part of the body." It was worn by the high priest of Israel. 11. Two brave men divinely directed (vs. 4-12). 4. between the passages—From the description of the place it is evident there was a valley leading down to the main valley from where Saul was encamped, and one leading up on the other side to where the Philistines were. Between these,

THIS WOMAN'S MISERY

Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Remarkable Recovery of Mrs. Church.

Smiths Falls, Ont.—"I suffered with falling of my organs, pains around my heart and in bowels and down my legs, neuralgia in my face and head, and that terrible sinking feeling. I felt that I could not live and would fix my house in order every night so there would be no trouble if I dropped off in the night. My husband went to the druggist to get the best remedy he had and he gave him Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and felt a lot better. I will always recommend the Vegetable Compound, and you can use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. O. Church, Box 545, Smiths Falls, Ont.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from nervous prostration, displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion and dizziness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills. If there are any complications about which you need advice write in confidence to Lydia E. in the valley, were the steep rocks or hills mentioned, called Bozes shining, and Seneh, thorn. 5. over against Micmash—One crag was to the north in front of Gibeon. Micmash and Gibeon were on opposite sides of a valley that extended nearly east and west about seven miles north of Jerusalem. The facts stated in verses 2-5 are thrown in as parenthetical to give details as to the conditions under which the assault about to be described was made. 6. these uncircumcised—Circumcision was a rite by which the Israelites were set apart as God's peculiar people. The Philistines were designated as uncircumcised, since they were not the Lord's people. By this term the Israelites expressed their abhorrence of the Philistines. It may be that the Lord will work for us—This expression did not imply a doubt; it signified simply that the object he aimed at was not in his own strength nor his own merit—J. F. & B. to save by many or by few—The expression just before this indicates that Jonathan believed in God's ability to give success and that his power might be exercised on this occasion. He expressed his faith clearly. He had a conviction that God would give the victory that moved him to go forward trusting in him. 7. I am with thee—Jonathan's armor-bearer had confidence in his master and also in God. He did not hesitate to go with him, nor would he turn him from his purpose.

8. we will discover ourselves unto them—They would go to the garrison of the Philistines and would make themselves known to them. 9. if they say thus unto us—Jonathan had no doubt prayed beforehand for guidance, and now he proposed a test by which it would be clearly indicated what course he should pursue in the matter. 10. the Lord hath delivered them into our hand—This statement shows how implicitly Jonathan depended upon the Lord's direction and aid, a sign unto us—Our action will depend upon the words received from the Philistines. They will be the unconscious bearers of a message from God. 11. the Hebrews come forth—The Philistines understood the weakness of Israel at that time, and believed they were hiding in the numerous caverns of the locality. They could not have known for what purpose Jonathan and his armor-bearer had come forth. 12. answer—The two had not addressed the Philistines, but their presence called for words from them. come up to us—With this invitation came the knowledge of what Jonathan and his armor-bearer should do and what the Lord would do for them. we will shew you a thing—These words may have been spoken in contempt or derision. 13. Victory for Israel (vs. 13-23). 13. climbed up—Immediately to the east of the village of Micmash exists a natural fortress, still called the fort of the peasantry. It is a ridge rising in the three rounded knobs above a perpendicular crag, ending in a narrow tongue to the east with cliffs below—Conder. An advance guard of the Philistines may have held this position, and this crag may have been the one Jonathan and his armor-bearer ascended. they fell before Jonathan and his armor-bearer. In a space equal to one side of a square containing an acre. 14, 15. Great fear fell upon the Philistines because of this successful attack and the terror was increased by the quaking of the earth. 16-23. Saul was within sight of the camp of the Philistines and saw what was being done there. He caused his camp to be searched to determine who of his men were missing. His little army joined in the battle, and those who were hiding in Ephraim came out also to help their brethren. 17. Saul's unwise demand (vs. 25-26). Saul was much moved by the victory which was being gained over the Philistines, and rashly decreed that no man should taste food that day. He did not consider that his men would be better fitted to pursue the enemy if they should be strengthened by taking food. There was woodland then in that country and many wild bees. Honey was produced in large quantities. Jonathan was ignorant of his father's decree and ate some honey. It was learned later what Jonathan had done and Saul was determined to have him slain in accordance with his decree, but the people interfered and saved Jonathan.

Questions.—What was the condition of the Israelites in their relation to the Philistines at this time? Where were the two armies? What did Jonathan propose to his armor-bearer that they should do? What test did Jonathan make to learn what he should do? Describe the victory gained by Israel over the Philistines. What mistake did Saul make?

GREENS.

Now is the Time They Are at Their Best.

Now is the time to eat greens while they are green, tender and juicy. It is a most desirable change from the very solid and substantial feeding of the winter months.

Among the cultivated or garden plants that are used for greens, spinach is perhaps the most popular. It is found on the city market practically all winter and is still more abundant and lower in price in the spring. A small patch in the garden will provide several meals for the family if only the large leaves are taken at each cutting, leaving the bud to grow and produce more leaves.

Mustard grows very quickly and is a favorite with those who like the slight roughness of the leaves. Watercress, which is usually eaten raw, grows in running water and comes out early in the spring. Unless it is thinned out occasionally it will soon choke up a small stream with its luxuriant growth.

Carrot tops, when very young, make good greens, and the small hoots and the tops may be cooked together. Beet greens may be used the same way, the whole plant being cooked even after the leaves are quite large and the little beets as big as marbles.

Among the field plants that are used for greens the dandelion is about the first to appear. When very young the leaves may be used as salad with a dressing of oil and vinegar, or with hot bacon drippings and vinegar. As the plant grows larger a bitter taste develops and the leaves are better when cooked than they are raw. Cook dandelion greens in boiling salted water for thirty minutes, or until they are tender, drain, chop and season them with salt, butter and vinegar.

Plantain, which is as great a pest when it gets a start on the lawn as the dandelion is, makes good greens when the leaves are young and tender. Cook and season the same as dandelion, or boil with a piece of salt pork.

Lamb's quarter and curly dock are both good. The dock grows in such large bunches that enough for a meal may be gathered very quickly.

Sorrel, which grows so abundantly in some places, may be cooked as greens, used in salads and in cream soups, and is sometimes used as a pie filling.

Wives and Mothers Need Not Have Sore Backaches

Constantly on their feet, attending to the wants of a large and exacting family, women often break down with nervous exhaustion.

In the stores, factories, and on a farm are weak, ailing women, dragged down with torturing backache and bearing down pains.

Such suffering isn't natural, but it's dangerous, because due to diseased kidneys.

The dizziness, insomnia, and other symptoms of kidney complaint can't cure themselves, they require the assistance of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which go direct to the seat of the trouble.

To give vitality and power to the kidneys, to lend aid to the bladder and liver, to free the blood of poisons, probably there is no remedy so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For all womanly irregularities their merit is well known.

Because of their mild soothing and healing effect, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are safe, and are recommended for girls and women of all ages. 25c per box at all dealers. Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

To Avoid Noise.

If doors in swinging back strike the wall with a bang, the noise can be overcome by fastening a cork to the wall where the door strikes. A small ball should be used so as not to disfigure the wall.

WILLIE'S CHOICE.

"Now, Willie," said a generous father, as he and his little son were gazing into a tailor's shop window. "I am going to buy you a new pair of trousers, and you shall choose them. Which pair do you want?"

After a moment's hesitation, the little boy said: "Please, father, may I have that pair, marked 'cannot be beaten'?"

SLIGHT MISUNDERSTANDING.

She (after the quarrel): "Leave my presence!" He (confused): "Why—er—you've got them all!"

Stay in Bed to Grow.

How many people are aware that we are shorter when standing than when lying, and taller in the morning than in the evening? asks "Tit-Bits."

An Englishman was the first to discover this, but afterwards Dr. Marand of the Royal Academy of France, made several experiments to prove the theory. He found after a year's trial that usually in the night he gained almost three-eighths of an inch, and lost almost as much during the day. The cause of this is to be found in the different state or condition of the cartilages which go to make up the spine.

The joints of this part of our bodies are separated and yet joined by particular bony substances, every one of which has a springy resilience. These are capable of yielding on all sides without bending the backbone or spine itself. Of course, the difference is scarcely perceptible in one joint alone, but the combined effect is appreciable. Naturally when the spine is supporting the weight of the head it is liable to be contracted, and we are taller after lying down for some time than after we have been walking about all day with our bodies in an upright position with the spine supporting the weight of the head.

At night, when we lie down in a more or less horizontal position, these top parts do not weigh so heavily, and the springy muscles being expanded, our spines consequently become longer.

Another proof of this is to be found in the increase of height sometimes experienced by invalids who have spent a long time in bed, and also in the fact that the most regular young child has the taller he will grow.

No Asthma Remedy Like It. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is distinctly different from other so-called remedies. Were this not so it would not have continued its great work of relief until known from ocean to ocean for its wonderful value. Kellogg's, the foremost and best of all asthma remedies, stands upon a reputation founded in the hearts of thousands who have known its benefit.

Received in Silence.

If Cinquevall, by his feats of jugglery, could make men weep, E. V. Lucas records, he could also make them pray. And these y hangs a tale as strange as any told of the stage.

Cinquevall had ended his career as an acrobat in Russia by a terrible fall, and after a life and death struggle he recovered, and decided to make a new name as a juggler.

His entry on the stage had hitherto been always marked by a roar of applause but on the night of his debut as a juggler he was received in dead silence.—London Chronicle.

The Poor Man's Friend.—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil possesses more power in concentrated form than one hundred times the quality of many unguents. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

FATHER SAID SO.

Tommy—"Do you go to bed very early, Mrs. Peck?" Mrs. Peck—"Yes, Tommy, sometimes—when I feel tired."

"You wouldn't go so early if you were married to my father, would you?" "Oh, Tommy, you funny boy! Why not?"

"Cause my father told mother that if he were your husband he'd make you sit up!"

The Beauty of a Clear Skin.—The condition of the liver regulates the condition of the blood. A disordered liver causes impurities in the blood and these show themselves in blemishes on the skin. Parlee's Vegetable Pills in acting upon the liver acts upon the blood and a clear, healthy skin will follow intelligent use of this standard medicine. Ladies, who will fully appreciate this prime quality of these pills, can use them with the certainty that the effect will be most gratifying.

Plain Cake.

One-half cupful of butter, one cupful of sugar, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, two eggs.

Cream the butter and sugar, add egg yolks well beaten, half a cupful of milk or water, flour sifted with a quarter teaspoonful of baking powder, then fold in the beaten whites of the eggs and vanilla.

This can be variously treated by adding chocolate, apricots, baking in layers with an orange cream filling, adding strong coffee instead of the water or milk and chopped nuts for a delicious nut loaf, or raisins and nutmeg to be eaten without frosting.

ANAEMIA ROBS ITS VICTIMS BY STEALTH

Conditions of Thin Blood That Could be Corrected Easily Are Stealing the Health and Energy of Many Men and Women, and Boys and Girls.

Anaemia, which literally means bloodlessness, is one of the most prevalent troubles of the present day. If neglected it is apt to develop into pernicious anaemia, one of the most hopeless diseases. While anaemia attacks men and boys, it is more prevalent among young girls and women, and for this reason every woman, particularly every mother, should know how to recognize the signs of this trouble which makes its approach so gradually and so stealthily that it is often far advanced before the nature of the trouble is noticed. One general symptom of anaemia is pallor. The cheeks gradually lose their color, and the lips become pale or white. With this loss of color there come a tendency to fatigue, a palpitation of the heart, and breathlessness after slight exertion, with occasional headaches. In the more severe cases fainting spells frequently occur.

In ordinary anaemic conditions, including the anaemia that affects young girls in their teens, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are all the medicine required. Fresh air, sunlight and nourishing food will do the rest. Any woman or girl taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can tell by the growing redness of her lips that the pills are making her blood rich and red.

Mrs. Mabel Feener, Liverpool, N.S., says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I felt like a complete wreck of my former self. My blood was thin and watery; I suffered from faint and dizzy spells, and had headaches almost every day. I was taking doctor's medicine, but it was not helping me, and at this time I was learning my trade as a tailress, and was forced through my illness to give up work. After reading an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills one day I decided to give a pill a trial. After taking two boxes I felt that I was being benefited, and continued their use until I was fully restored to health. The pills certainly did wonders for me, and I cannot recommend them too highly.

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, after-effects of the grip and fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug, and cannot injure the most delicate system. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Righted in Time

He tossed his cap up in greeting. "Coming down?" he asked. "I'll catch you, if you are."

"No, thanks," snapped Moya undeniably enough. "I'm not going to break my neck just to please you."

"Oh, if you jump into a hole," he retorted airily, "I'll pull you out. It would not be the first time you asked me to pull you out of a hole."

It was not the most pleasant memory to Moya. She winced. Barry had scored one.

"You're rather fond of holes," inquired Barry. "Aren't you? And dragging other people into them. I say, Moya, are you coming down the cliff, or shall I climb up?"

"I don't want you," she declared.

uninvitingly. "I came out for a walk by myself."

"But that won't do," expostulated Barry with mock gravity. "Won't do at all. It will create quite a scandal if we go for solitary walks when we ought by rights to be strolling along arm-in-arm together. And I can't stand here shouting up to you sweet nothings that I ought to be whispering in your ear. It's most terribly unromantic, and it hurts my sense of the fitness of things."

"It's all so romantic," agreed Moya with a sneer, and added: "You've such a fine sense of the fitness of things. I've noticed that before."

Barry ignored that. "Oh, the place and time are all right," he said. "The sea and sky and sands, most romantic. What are you frowning like a thunderstorm for, Moya? You spoil the picture."

She did not attempt to enlighten him. He went on teasingly: "This is rather like Romeo and Juliet in the balcony scene, isn't it? Only Juliet did not scowl on Romeo as you do on me."

"Oh, go away," said Moya impatiently. She hurried on candidly: "I feel I hate you just now, Barry. Yes, I do. I know we were good friends enough once, and I was very fond of you. But now—oh, I feel I can't bear the sight of you, you irritate me beyond endurance."

He looked at her silently for a moment. Then he laughed.

"You're grateful," he commented. "Seeing how you asked me to help you out of a difficulty, and I did. And this is all I get for my generosity."

"I can't help it," cried Moya contritely. "And I daresay you feel just the same, only you won't own it. I feel as if I had lost all my freedom and liberty of action."

"You can get it back," he broke in quickly upon her. "Any moment you like."

"I dare not," she said, and her voice sharpened, there was a note of fear in it. "No, I can't. We must go on, Barry—must until Guy has gone away, at least."

"But why?" he demanded, pointing blank. "Because of your mother? She seems to approve of me more lately. I fancy she's not so keen on the estimable Guy now she's seen him. But why, Moya? It seems to me all the reason for pretence is gone now. There's no reason to keep it up any longer."

"Oh, there is, there is," she protested hurriedly, and still there was that fear in her voice.

"But why?" reiterated Barry.

She was silent. If there was a reason she did not own it to herself.

Strong Women

BY DR. VALENTINE MOTT.

Women and men too—are just as strong and healthy as their blood. Vigor and health come with good blood. Without good red blood a woman has a weak heart and poor nerves.

In the spring is the best time to take stock of one's condition. If the blood is thin and watery, face pale or pimply, if one is tired and listless, generally weak, a Spring Tonic should be taken. An old-fashioned herbal remedy that was used by nearly everybody 50 years ago is still safe and sane because it contains no alcohol or narcotic. It is made of roots and herbs and called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If druggists do not keep it in tablet form, send 50 cents for a vial to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

grin, as if, far from being au revoir, he guessed she did not want to see him again. And Moya, left to the solitude of the cottage garden, frowned majestically. Barry was hateful! He had been delightful as a chum; he was detestable as a fiancee.

"Is it against etiquette to be alone when one is engaged?" fumed Moya. She was not even mollified by the sweet silence of the sunny garden. She felt out of heart. The song of the tide came faintly to her ears. Not much breeze found its way into the sheltered garden, but on the shore the most delicious life-giving breeze would be stealing up with the turning tide.

Yet Moya did not get up to go and see it. She sat back listlessly in the low garden chair, her dark head half-turned to that faint sea-song. It was calling her, and just now there was no response in her heart. "Come out to us," it sang, "and see how lovely life is. How this is just the sweetest hour of the day, and the incoming tide the most lovely thing in the world. The turn of the tide! Fresh hopes, new birth. A washing away

ASTHMA CURED TO STAY CURED

THOUSANDS TESTIFY TO THE LASTING BENEFIT SECURED FROM CATARRHOZONE CURES WITHOUT DRUGS

One of the finest discoveries in medicine was given to the public when "Catarrhozone" was placed on the market about fifteen years ago. Since then thousands have been cured of asthma and catarrh. An interesting case is reported from Calgary in a letter from Craighton E. Thompson, who says:

"Nothing too strong can be said for Catarrhozone. I suffered four years from asthma in a way that would beggar description. I went through everything that man could suffer. I was told of Catarrhozone by a clerk in Findlay's drug store and purchased a dollar package. It was worth hundreds to me in a week, and I place a priceless value on it. I have since derived it strongly urge every sufferer to use Catarrhozone for Asthma, Bronchitis and Catarrh."

of old follies, old mistakes, a wiping out of faltering, straying footprints—a new, unmarked, untrodden path for the future to write what it pleases."

"I can't," Moya sighed as if in answer. "I've made foolish steps I can't retract—that nothing will blot out. I only wish it could. I've made mistakes that no breeze of the turning tide can blow away, but no crystal-clear little waves can wash away and erase. It's no use my coming."

"What did you say?" a voice asked. And she started. Guy Berkeley had come noiselessly over the thick lawn grass. Moya sat upright in her garden chair. "Did you say it was no use going? But I thought you had gone."

"No, I didn't go with the others. I had a headache, and wanted to rest. But I thought you had gone."

Guy threw himself down on the grass. "I went up to the station," he said, "to see about my train tomorrow. I wasn't sure as to the time. The trains were altered this month, you know, and I had not got the new time-table. They've struck off some of the fastest trains, it seems."

"Train?" echoed Moya.

"Yes," he answered quietly. "I'm returning to town to-morrow."

She made no comment, not even a politely-conventional murmur of regret. And he gave a strained laugh.

"You don't say you're sorry," he said. Then he took one look into her eyes. "I believe you're really glad!" he said, and his voice changed.

For in the first moment gladness had been her uppermost feeling. He was going! This mistaken, foolish chapter of life was closing. No more need for pretence, for the deception that started in joke but had become so irksome. Moya called up words to her lips.

"Oh, no I'm not," she averred hastily. "I'm awfully sorry you're going. We all shall be. Especially the boys. You're such a hero of theirs. Besides, I did not know you would go so soon."

She was painfully conscious that her sentences were jerky and unconvincing.

"It's not so soon," said Guy. "I've stayed here a long time—much longer than I intended. But now—it's no use my staying."

His voice suddenly sounded dragging and weary. Moya glanced at him.

"I don't think," she said abruptly, "that you've had enough holiday yet—that you're sufficiently rested. You look worn and tired. Not fit to start work again. Must you go?"

A strange flash deepened his grey eyes. "Yes," he said shortly. "I must—I must!"

He got up, and paced the small lawn, walking restlessly to and fro. Moya watched him. Usually there was a quiet, strong repose in his manner. It was lacking now. He came back and looked down at her.

"Work!" he said. "It's the one thing for me now. I always gave my life to my work. I found it easy to do so; it satisfied me. It must do so now."

"I know your work is everything to you," said Moya. "And it's such a splendid note in her voice now. He was going away, and she would hear no more of that work, have no more insight into this new stirring life, so full of all life really meant, or should mean—self-denial, upward and onward progress." She had just glimpsed this life, and it had opened to her a world of new things.

"Oh, I wish," she exclaimed involuntarily, "that I could do some such work, too. I feel my life so empty—so purposeless."

He stood there looking down at her, but he said nothing at once.

"Empty!" he said then, and there was an odd note in the word. "But your life should be full."

She suddenly understood his meaning, and her face flushed. How nearly she had betrayed herself! There was trouble in his eyes, she saw it, and turned away her own. He was questioning her silently. Did he, too, like Una, guess at misunderstanding between her and Barry?

"Your life should be full," said Guy. "Whose life, if not yours? You have everything before you—"

"Oh, I don't mean that," she interrupted. "But it's all so aimless. You have an aim in life. It means so much to you. Ah, sometimes I almost wish you had not come. Because you have made me see how petty and small and useless my own life is. You have made me dissatisfied with myself. And now you are going!"

He was going. He, who alone could teach her to make of that life, so aimless and useless, something full and satisfying. She had spoken impulsively, out of her inmost heart, without weighing her words. But she stopped at the look on his face.

"Yes, I'm going," he said. "Child—why do you say all this? You know why I'm going."

"No—why?" breathed Moya, but even as she spoke she knew. The real reason why Guy was going. It was written in his eyes, in their flash, and in their deepening, and, above all, in their pain.

Poisoned By Gas While In a Well

FRANK CARLSON FOUND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Saskatchewan Man Who Suffered All Summer Claims That His New Lease of Health is Due to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Livingston, Sask., May 15th, (Special.)—Most enthusiastic about the benefit he has received from using Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mr. Frank Carlson, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place.

"I was gassed in a well on my farm 25 feet deep," Mr. Carlson says. "I was nearly dead. I was treated for a whole summer for my trouble, but did not get better."

"Then I read in a little almanac about Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had no idea they might benefit me, but was willing to try anything. To my surprise the improvement in my general health was so great, and my kidneys were so much better, that I feel like advising everybody to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I would not be without them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys and enable them to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the sovereign remedy for sick kidneys.

NEW YEAR'S IN CHINA.

All Debts Are Paid and the Country "Painted Red."

New Year's is the national holiday in China. All accounts must be squared up at that time and the man who can't raise money enough to pay his debts has to go into bankruptcy. The laws are such that the creditor can enter the debtor's house and take what he pleases there—a no settlement. To prevent such action families club together and make all sorts of compromises to keep up the business reputation of the clan.

New Year's is a great day for the pawnbrokers. Their shops are crowded with people who want to redeem their best clothes before the new year. There are crowds, also, who want to pawn other things in order to get money to pay their debts. Pawnbrokers receive high rates of interest, in which they are protected by the government.

The Chinese paint the whole country red, figuratively speaking on New Year's day in more senses than one.

Red is the color which with them denotes good luck and prosperity and all the New Year cards and invitations are on paper of that color. Every child gets its New Year's present wrapped in red paper, and red inscriptions are pasted over the doors of the houses. New pictures of Chinese generals are put on the front doors and the houses are scoured and made clean.

A MOTHER'S ADVICE

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she is always happy to recommend them to others, her advice, given after a careful trial, can be readily followed with assured good results. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm even to the youngest babe. Concerning them Mrs. P. Laforet, St. Nazaire, Que., writes:—"For three months my baby was constipated and cried continually. On the advice of a friend I gave him Baby's Own Tablets, and now at the age of five months he is perfectly well and weighs twenty pounds. I am delighted to be able to advise other mothers to use them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LONG BURIED STEAMER

Revealed By Dredging in the Mersey.

For some time past the Mersey docks and harbor board has been conducting dredging operations in the neighborhood of the Burbo bank, one of the large accumulations of sand which impeded the navigation of the Mersey entrance, and there have resulted in a "find" of remarkable interest.

It is the remains of a steamer which have evidently been embedded for generations. Her date is long on—prior to that of iron shipbuilding. Of sound English oak were her timbers and framing, to which circumstances doubtless led to the fact that they still retain cohesion and shape and have so wonderfully resisted the forces of decay as to supply an abundant quantity of material for the souvenir manufacturer. Her beams, in point of fact, are described as being as "hard as iron."

The machinery has practically perished, but the engine bed-plates and the funnel remain, and relics of pottery and other articles are plentiful. The vessel, cleared of superabundant sand, is not only visible, but accessible at low water, and has been visited and examined by many interested people.

The prevailing opinion is that she is the William Huskisson, a paddle steamer belonging to the City of Dublin company and trading between Liverpool and the Irish capital, which on the 12th of January, 1845, was wrecked on her passage to the Mersey. She had 120 passengers on board, of whom 95 were rescued by the ship Huddersfield, and the remainder perished. Captain Clerg of the Huddersfield subsequently received handsome presentations from the citizens of Liverpool in recognition of his good work. —Manchester Guardian.

JUST HOW TRUE?

A girl and a man sat under the palm just outside the ballroom.

"Is your love true?" asked the girl.

"As true," the man answered in low, passionate tones, "as true as the delicate flush on your cheek."

"Oh—oh—oh," the girl stammered hurriedly, "isn't—doesn't the band play nicely?"

We show this week a cut of the latest in Electric House Pumps, with automatic cut-out. This pump regulates the supply of water at regular pressure to Tank, and brings it from a well or cistern if not over 25 feet deep and any reasonable distance. This pump has no gears, is almost noiseless in operation, self oiling, self regulating, high-grade motor.

We endeavor to keep the latest and very best ideas in Hydro-Pneumatic Force and Lift Pumps. We also supply Electric and Gasoline driven Washers and Wringers and a complete line of Farm Equipment.
