CURRENT TRADE CONDITIONS.

ONTARIO.

Under the influence of a fair demand the lumber market has maintained a quiet though steady tone. Much prosperity is evidenced in the province, with the assurance of a good crop of grain, while the future is extremely promising in the building trade and various other departments of industry which all contribute largely to the advantage of the lumber trade, and which give promise of a good fall demand. The increasing competition of the American lumber is being utilized as a strong weapon in the hands of tariff reformers and it becomes increasingly evident that the government while opposed to any increase of duties, for purely protective purposes, will be compelled to yield to the pressure in the fall. Turning from local conditions it is regrettable to note that there continues to be very little improvement in the British market, depression being the chief feature, while very few sales are made and practically none at all of square timber, except at ridiculous prices. This fact coupled with the unsatisfactory shipments to United States and the continued uncertainty of that market, has decided many operators upon a curtailment of the cut for the season just entered upon, and a reduction in the wages of their employees. Hardwoods are in steady demand, prices being firm and no concessions obtainable by purchasers.

QUEBEC AND NEW BRUNSWICK.

Reports coming from Quebec and New Brunswick give really no substantial signs that the spruce market is likely to become more active in the near future. There has been an excellent yard demand from the United States during the past week, but, as against this, the shipments to England has been exceptionally light, while with the low pressure on the market prices have not improved. However, their is little possibility of them going any lower, while in the general course of events the probabilities are they will improve. One of the causes advanced for this continued depression in the export business is that Russian lumbermen, being unable to borrow from their home banks, have been obliged to realize on stocks of lumber at any price, the figures quoted making it impossible for Canadians to compete. At St. Johns, N.B., in view of the continued quietness of the trade the lumbermen are seriously considering the advisability of curtailing the output by closing their mills early in the fall unless an improvement should change the situation. The situation is further accentuated by the increase in stampage and mileage dues imposed by the Government of New Brunswick, which, it is estimated, will create an increased expenditure of $3,000 out of the St. Johns lumbermen alone. Cedar shingles are selling freely, there being evidence of a stronger market, which was anticipated some time back, appearing in the fall.

UNITED STATES.

From almost every part of the country trade reports this week show hopeful signs of improvement, and while the volume of trade is still unsatisfactory, there comes an occasional report of a dealer doing good business. In some grades prices are weak, but as a rule these low offerings usually emanate from overstocked mills or those in want of money. Just now there appears a better demand for hemlock on account of the scarcity of low grade pine, and it is noted that this class of lumber is gradually winning a place for itself in spite of all prejudices, upon its merits. With the assurance of a good crop in all sections of the country, it becomes increasingly evident that the demand for lumber will show considerable improvement in the fall. Building in the large cities continues heavy and gives promise of holding so until the close of the season. The export trade is still in an indifferent condition, although manufacturers predict that rock bottom prices have been reached and that the advent of early fall will see a resumption of the demand and an increase in prices. The hardwood trade remains active, although the supply has been up to requirements, prices being the same. Very little change has been evidenced within the past week in general lumber prices obtained, western pine remaining firm, cyprus slow of sale and prices easy.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The latest indications to hand of the economic barometer points to fair weather in the near future. It is pleasing to note the healthy condition of the cotton trade and the encouraging reports of improvements in iron and steel. In the lumber business the past week has not heralded any discernible advance, as the country is right in the middle of the holiday season when movements are usually slow. The arrivals though fairly large, have with few exceptions been less than at this time last year while the demand continues quiet, with ample stocks on hand and consequent low values. Maritime province spruce imports have lately increased in quantity but with the already large stocks on hand there has been a further decline in values. Many buyers have been tempted in the market on account of this continued decline. Quebec spruce has given evidence of a distinct improvement a much better feeling prevailing than for some time past. In pine deals the demand is exceedingly quiet and sales difficult, although prices in the better grades are firm. Birch planks are in good demand, price being a little better. While the anticipated revival is slow in coming and numbers of consignments remain unsold, it is confidently expected that the opening of the fall season will herald an advance in all branches of the trade.

TO HOLDERS OF BIRCH LIMITS.

Can you cut birch into Squares, &c. We can also take birch cut on the sweep with a jigger or small hand saw. Large quantities required. Write in first instance to "Finance," c/o CANADA LUMBERMAN.

(Correspondence of the CANADA LUMBERMAN.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., August 10, 1904. A good demand for lumber and especially shingles at the present time improves conditions in the industry on the coast and particularly in the interior, though none of the causes which brought about the depression have been removed. All grades of shingles are being asked for from the Territories and a fair business is being done.

While 124 licences to cut timber have been issued during the past month, that is hardly to be taken as an indication that the industry is thoroughly prosperous, according to the expression of one of the prominent operators. He points out that 97 of the licenses were issued for the interior where there is activity in timber just now. Of the twenty-seven issued to people on the coast, all were renewals except one, showing that the holders of limits are only saving their investments, and waiting for better times.

Still, one or two new enterprises are talked of, besides the reopening of the Ross-McLaren mills at New Westminster by a company composed of San Francisco capitalists. Ontario people, represented by Mr. Cook of Algoma, have secured large limits in the interior, and are talking of starting a mill near Ymir, while a company dealing in cedar, and which has mills at Ballard, Wa., is purchasing limits on the west coast of Vancouver island, to manufacture cedar for export. Thomas McNaught, of Toronto, has also been in the province lately, and is very favorably impressed with the prospects. He has not expressed himself as to whether or not he will erect a mill, but it is not improbable as so many people from Ontario have become interested in British Columbia during the last year or two. Nearly all of the big lumbermen in the interior are either from Ontario or the Maritime Provinces, with a few from Minnesota and Michigan.

Lumbermen from Winnipeg west to the coast have organized under the Manufacturers Lumber Company, with a capital of $500,000 under the provisions of the Manitoba Joint Stock Companies Act. The membership includes all of the prominent operators, and principally those of the Kootenays and the interior, with a few from the coast. There are already two associations in British Columbia, many members of which have joined the company recently organized. It is understood that the B.C. Lumber & Shingle Manufacturers Association, of this city, and the Mountain Manufacturers Association, of the interior, still retain their integrity, though the new company places all under one management.

Bush fires on the coast have subsided since the rain, though the warm weather which has again followed will likely restart them. The most destructive of them all was that which burnt $200,000 worth of logs, the whole season's cut of the Elk River Lumber Company, and seriously threatened the town of Fernie, a week ago. This company is composed of Minnesota people. Two or three of the mills on the coast have also had narrow escapes from fire. Lumber in the yards of Mr. McLaren's mill at Barnet was discovered to be on fire the other night, but was extinguished with a loss of $700. Galbraith's sash and door factory, New Westminster, was also on fire, but was saved.

The loggers, who are praying for the removal of the export duty on logs saw the premier last week, but he asked them to wait until a full meeting of the executive was present. From the present attitude of the government, the loggers will remain bankrupt.
