To have lived continuously in Toonto since the days when the site now covered by the city was a military as American tourists are now, was the experience of Mrs. Norah "Mc-Manus, who died yesterday afternoon at the residence of her niece, Mrs. Ellen Morgan, 210 Beverley street, at the age of 88, and after having lived in Toronto 84 years.

And Children Are All Taught in One Class at Pres-

Believing that the time has now arrived when patience ceases to be a virtue, the members of the Parents' Association, in connection with the special class at 23 Grace street, are organizing for a greater effort even than heretofore, for the amelioration of conditions which they seek to see remedied.

On Tuesday night an informal meeting was held, at which Mr. Florence, president of the association, and a number of the members were present. These people are either the parents or guardians of the children now attending the special class at Grace tending the special class at Grace street.

It was pointed out to The World that while the pupils had made progress, which is simply wonderful, under the teacher, Miss Carruthers, that the conditions and environments of the class are not at all conducive to either the mental or physical development of the pupils. The room in which the sixteen children are taught is small—just an ordinary room in a fairly small house—and equipment is of a very limited order.

Owing to the fact that a family occupy the remainder of the house, the children of the class have to undergo a certain amount of repression sufficient to be hurtful even to brighter children than those in question. In addition there is no grading possible. Boys and girls, the majority over fourteen years of age are together, with only the one teacher to answer as best she may the several requirements of their different mental and physical conditions.

No Inspection.

It was further pointed out that the children have received no expert inspection. They are not believed by their parents to be what is generally termed defective, but simply backward, demanding more individual care and instruction than the ordinary child.

What the parents ask is a special school to suit most special children. They quote Dr. Helen MacMurchy as authority for the statement that there are three hundred backward children in Toronto. Where are these three hundred? They are not in the ordinary classes, because these classes would not retain them. They must be in the home, and the Parents' Association claim, that if all parents of these backward children would but become active in the matter, concerted action would be sure to bring desirable results. MR. McNAUGHT'S POSITION.

Following is a copy of a letter written by W. K. McNaught, M.L.A., to the editor of The Evening Telegram:

Toronto, May 27, 1913.

Editor Evening Telegram: Dear Sir—On my return to the city this morning I was shown your editorial criticism of the 21st inst. on the iniquities of the McNaught bill, regarding the proposed purchase by the city of the Toronto Railway Company and the Toronto Electric Light Company.

You took for your text the following extract from an informal talk given by myself at Oddfellows' Hall on April 25, which reads as follows:

(3) In deing this I appear to have committed a most grievous sin against The Telegram. My only excuse for this, however, is that I have a great deal more confidence in the judgment of the people of Toronto, who will have to foot the bills, than I have in either The Toronto Telegram or its henchmen, Controllers Church and Foster.

I do not trust the judgment of The I do not trust the judgment of The Telegram or any other journal that will Chicken-pox is one of the most conlagious of the diseases common to children. Very few children escape taking it if exposed to the contagion. Whooping-cough begins like a cold on the chest. Children of all ages may contract it but young bables are especially liable to have it if exposed. From the very beginning whooping-cough may be given to others, and while there is the least "whoop" it is very contagious. There are two stages to whooping cough. The first is the "ordinary cold" stage, with a cough. This lasts about ten days, and then comes the second or spasmodic stage heralded by the "whoop" and vomiting. This severe spasmodic stage usually lasts about a month, but it may last much longer, especially in the winter.

PRETTY LINEN COLLARS Very pretty linen collars may be fashioned by the woman at all clever with her needle. For only a few cents, dainty insets or medallions of Irish crochet are to be found in the shops. First, get a pattern of the collar you wish so that the shape may be exactly right. Then place the medallions to the best advantage. Baste them carefully into place and then buttonhole or featherstitch them firmly into position, carefully cutting out the material beneath, when this part of the work is done. Turn back a single hem, and featherstitch it into place with heavy thread—No. 40 crochet coton is excellent for this purpose—and then sew on an edge of Irish picot as a finish.

Thus, at very small cost you will have a collar that will launder admirably and wear well. Cuffs to match may be made. The beauty of a set of this sort is that one may select just the shape collar and cuffs to fit a particular gown or coat.

English terms now supplant French names on menus. The correct ord of courses is as follows: Shellfish, soups, hors-d'oeuvres or light side dishe and with this course come the relishes that remain on the table until desse These relishes may be canapes, olives, radishes, pickles, caviar and the like. Fish comes after the soup, with vegetable accompaniments and often a cucumber salad, in which case the salad course is omitted. The heavy means are called the releves or removes, and are saddles, or joints, roasted or baked tenderloins or short loins. Two vegetables, one starchy and one succulent should be sent with the meat course.

If entrees of meats are served they should have one vegetable with them unless they are terrapin or crab. Fish never figures as a correct entree, but exception is made in favor of lobster, frog legs, and shellfish.

When the meat course is light the following entrees should be rich, and vice versa. When the meat course is light the following entrees should be then, and vice versa.

Punches and sherbets follow the heaviest course, but are not printed as a separate course; simply place them on a line by themselves. If there is a saind course cold dishes may come with it. Boned turkey terrines and aspics are liked here as they are ornamental and show the chef's skill.

The hot sweet dishes are puddings, cream crusts, fried creams, fritters and French omelettes, and form a course by themselves. The cold sweets follow the hot ones, and are ices, macedoines, jellies, charlottes and elaborate large cakes. The dessert comes after the cold entrements; it is candied fruits, bon-bons, small fancy cakes, cheese, pastry, frozen pudding and coffee.

If a dinner is in honor of a distinguished foreign guest, dishes of his own nation are introduced on the bill of fare, and sometimes new dishes are invented for him and bear his name. In planning the courses vary the colors of the means and do not use the same colored sauce twice, especially if the dishes follow one another. in play!

The order of the courses and the appropriate foods for each one are determined by the season of the year and the state of the market, and whether the guests are all men or women, or for men and women. If for all men, the foods are heavier and there is less ornamentation than if for ladies only.

Menus for special occasions with directions for preparing any special dishes and service will be printed on request of readers. When sending such request, please state the namber of guests to be planned for, and give some idea of the amount of money you want to keep your expenditures in.

Menus and bills of fare as printed are not intended to be followed in toto, but are only meant to be helpful suggestions to be changed to suit the reader.

The beauty of a set of this sort is that one may select just the shape collar and cuffs to fit a particular gown or coat.

Exit the Broom!

It has outlived its usefulness. It takes its place with the spinning wheel, the candle, home-made soap and hoop skirts.

The Electric Vacuum Cleaner has taken its place.

From a hygienic viewpoint, the change is decidedly beneficial and welcome. The oldfashioned broom was a great distributor of dust and germs. Just watch the Electric Vacuum Cleaner at work!

See how it sucks up the dirt, hair, thread and lint without making a particle of dust!

There is no "dusting" necessary, no need to move any article from its place. There is no rubbing and scrubbing to wear the "nap" off the rugs or carpets. No circulation of germ-laden dust to form new breeding grounds for disease.

The Electric Vacuum Cleaner is hygienic. It is sanitary. It is easy to operate. And it transforms the dreaded drudgery of housecleaning into a task as simple and pleasant as watering the lawn.

Mr. Robertson stated that the school had just completed its twenty-eighth year, and the past year had been one of great activity and progress. the graduation exercises of 1913 were of special interest for two reasons. Because it was the first time on which His Grace, Archbishop McNeil, had officiated at any public ceremony in the hospital, and because the class now graduating surpassed all others in numbers. He advised the nurses to practice their profession with dignity and refinement and always to cultivate the quality of sympathy, which otherwise the routine of their work might obliterate.

Encouraging words were spoken by Dr. Silverthorne. The training of St. Michael's was as good as any on the continent, and perhaps in the world, was his statement. Those who deserve success usually get it; therefore the success of the outgoing nurses was assured. Dr. Uren added his congratulations, as did also Rev. Dr. Kidd, who counselled kindness as the first requisite for attendance on the sick.

Mathew O'Connor, the oldest director of the hospital board, gave some interesting reminiscences, contrasting the first graduation, when six nurses received their diplomas and six fiances stood ready to carry off overyone his prize, with the present class of four-fold proportions. A last word was given by the arch-bishop when he told the nurses that If they came across a millionaire who did not know what to do with his millions, it was their duty to re-mind him that a nurses' home was wanted at St. Michael's, a home at present very much needed. A sense of gratification is apparent in the provincial secretary's department, following the reports from the training schools for nurses established as an experiment at the Ontario hospitals for insane four years ago. The system of examination which was arranged under the direction of Hon. arranged under the direction of Hon.

modern treatment of insane patients.
The examinations, both written and Close Quarters. Close Quarters.

After that slamming and bolting of the door of reconciliation, the talk in the train died away. Steingall began to chat about other matters, hoping to draw out his strange companion, and take his measure more completely by interchange of ideas and reminiscences; but Waverton, pleading fatigue, dozed for an hour or longer.

He was not feigning sleep. Obviously, he was still enfeedled by the injuries he had received in the accident,

A SURVEY OF TORONTO. A survey of the city has been proposed by some business men and weight. A survey usually conveys the idea of land measurement, but the survey suggested, and in practice in New York and other large cities, is a sysmarked, "is the report of an expert as to how the efficiency of any particular city government may be increased."

Such experts could only be employed at the instance of the city council, and with the full approval and co-operation of the heads of departments. The recommendations of such experts the selves to the city council to be put in force. Information is the breath ed, and if only for the purpose of plac ing at the disposal of the aldermen and others interested in civic reform, reliable information about actual costs. the incidence of taxation, the control of expenditure, distribution of charges as figured in commercial institutions. and other radical phases of statistical intelligence, the adoption of the survey would be worth while.

Detroit has a debt of $7,000,000 as against Toronto's $50,000,000, which in a year or two may have risen to $65,-000,000 or $70,000,000. Yet no one in the city can say in brief why this dif-

Annual Report Is Best Issued For Some Considerable Time.

President Wilkie Deals in a Comprehensive Manner With Bank Business.

The annual report of the Imperial Bank of Canada, as presented to the shareholders at the 38th annual meeting yesterday, was one of the most comprehensive and satisfactory ever presented. The net profits of the! bank, after making full provision for all bad and doubtful debts, for interest on unmatured bills under discoun and for payment for all provincial and other taxes, amounted to $1,125,971.61. This is at the rate of 17.28 per cent. upon the average paid-up capital of the bank. By way of premium upon new stock there was received from shareholders $788,169, which with the balance of profit and loss carried for-ward from 1912, makes a total available surplus at the close of the year and the tendency thruout the Domin of $2,936,928. During the year it was found that the business of the Imperial Bank had increased to such an extent that branches were opened at Aurora, Fort Frances, Sparta, St.

Ion towards undue and speculative expansion in real estate values.

The revised Bank Act, he contends, is, on the whole, a good workable piece of legislation, and in many respects.

KING EDWARD HOTEL GOLD CUP WON BY AMOS TU RNEY'S KLEBURNE

Harry Giddings Lands the Coronation Stakes With Beehive -The Montreal - Owned Colt, Corn Broom, Ran in Fourth Place-Old Caper Sauce Won Again.

By Ed. Baker. Lovers of all that is good in racing could hardly have had a better bill of fare than the one provided by the Ontario Jockey Club at Woodbine Park yesterday, and the large attendance shows that the sport is being appreciated.

The day was perfect for racing, the

The day was periect for facing, the track at its best, and well balanced fields with a couple of exceptions, characterized the racing.

The feature race of the day, the King Edward Hotel Gold Cup, at a mile and a quarter, proved an excellent contest, and the finish was of the closest variety. Amos Turney's 3-year-old, Kleburne, off in front and making his own pace, was just able to nose out Barnegat. The latter, running in the same good form of his two winning races on Saturday and Monday, was probably unfortunate in losing, as it seemed that Butwell delayed his run a little too long. As it was, Barnegat would have won had there been another ten yards to go. Turner, on Kleburne, rode a well judged race.

The field of thirteen starters in the Coronation Stakes is sufficient evidence that the thorobred is gaining ground in this country, as the race is for Canadian bred 2-year-olds.

Again the winner came from the Giddings' Stable, as the Bassetlaw-My Honey colt that won the Goodwood Purse on Monday, just romped home, and, as in the race of Monday, Dark Rosaleen and Slipper Day, from the Seagram and Hendrie stables respectively, ran second and third.

Bee Hive and Alai Bass, coupled as track at its best, and well balanced Hendrie stables respectively, ran second and third.

Bee Hive and Alai Bass, coupled as the Giddings entry, received the bulk of the public support, and the touring horsemen who had seen Corn Broom run at Pimlico, backed that one strongly. Corn Broom, however, was slow to get running and did not appear dangerous at any stage of the race.

Dark Rosaleen, the Havoc-Irish Lass II. filly, again showed that she possesses class above, the ordinary by being second to the Gidings' crack. The victory of Bee Hive yesterday is significant in many respects. It marks the third consecutive time that Mr. Giddings has won the Coronation. He won in 1911 with Ondramon, also out of My Honey, the dam of Bee Hive, and in 1912 with Hearts of Oak, this year's King's Plate winner.

Bee Hive's impost yesterday, 121 lbs., is more weight by 3 lbs. than any previous winner carried and the time, Company of the company of once more the Davies colors were carried to victory.

Blackford, that ran second to Barnegat, his stable mate on the opening day, at the same distance, was the choice, but Fountain Fay beat the Watkins horse by a nose. Moody rode persistently on the winner, but neither Soder who rode Blackford, nor Waldron, who was on J. H. Houghton, show a quility as race riders.

Gay Burns on Chuckles set out to make a runaway race of it, but Chuckles

Blackford beat Houghton for the place in the last few strides.

To win four stake races in four days of racing with two horses is a record seldom accomplished by one owner, but this is exactly what Harry Giddings has done to date. With Hearts of Oak he won the King's Plate and the Breeder's Stake, and the 2-year-old Bee Hive has accounted for the Goodwood and the Coronation, making the total winnings of the two Bassetlaw colts about $8000 to date, and the meeting is little more than half over.

Tinker's Lowly Reds

PITTSBURG, May 28.—Pittsburg could not hit Suggs, and Cincinnati won its second straight from Pittsburg. 3 to 1. Long hits off Hendrix at the right time by Clarke, Suggs and Groh netted the Reds two earned runs, and the other was scored in the second innings on a muffei throw by Hyatt, Tinker's steal of second and a passed ball, that allowed Tinker to score. The Reds played a brilliant field-ling game. Devore made a sensational running catch of Booe's difficult long drive in the sixth. Hyatt's two-bagger, an out and Byrne's saerifice fly in the seventh spared the Pirates a shut-out. Hans Wagner protested Umpire Byron's decision on Groh at second base so vigorously in the minth innings that he was put out of the game. Score:

ST. THOMAS, May 28.—(Special.)—Ottawa dropped today's game to the Saints, making it three in a row. The champions were unable to connect with Howick at opportune moments, and only once were able to get a man as far as third base, the final being 8 to 0. The local youngster was in great form and let the visitors down with four hits. Kopp's brilliant fielding in left was the feature, he accepting seven difficult chances. The locals had the game won until the ninth innings, when Mitchell dropped McLean's fly after two were out. This, followed by a double, a single and a wild pitch, tied the score. Harmon, who had replaced Griner, and Cheney, who was the third pitcher for Chicago, put up a great pitchers' battle. Chicago made all the early score by bunching hits behind errors of the visitors. Pierce started for Chicago, but was hit hard, and gave way to Lavender. After Lavender filled the bases, with none out, in the seventh, he was relieved by Cheney. Score:

BALTIMORE, May 28.—Bill Morrissette, the young Mount St. Joseph pitcher, worked his first full game for the Orioles this afternoon and, altho he out-pitched Enzmann, the Indians won by 5 to 2. Morrissette allowed only seven hits. Only one of the five fallies scored by the visitors was earned. Jack Dunn's men also threw away several chances of sewing up the contest by poor work on the bases. Score:

UNASHAMED TO BE HUMAN.

Whatever else I may be ashamed of let me not be ashamed of being human. I may well blush for my little store of knowledge, for it might have been greater; and for my imperfect wisdom, which might have been sounder; for my sins, that might have been fewer; and for my righteousness, which is paltry enough. For excesses, lacks, and want of balance, I may be justly blamed, but for any genuine human feeling I have no right to hang my head.

So I dare say frankly that I love to eat and to drink, I love woman and the child, I love my slippered ease and a crack with good company, I love adventure and the shining sail, I love a rousing book, a clever play and a fair fight.

And whatever pride or joy is built upon the contempt of others I hate.

The best part of the heritage the Twentieth Century brings me is the privilege of being wholly human and not ashamed of it. To quote from William Watson's recent poem:

For now the hour of dreams is past; The glibbering ghosts depart; And Man is unashamed at last To have a human heart.

The Decennial Revision has been under way in Parliament since December 17, 1912. The Act has had its third reading in the Commons, and is now before the Senate. It is expected that the final revision will be concluded and the Act receive the Royal assent in a few days. The unfortunate circumstances connected with the recent failures of banks were reflected upon existing institutions, and we have had much prejudice and fill-will for contend with. The revised Act is, however, on the whole, a good, workable plece of legislation, and in many respects an improvement upon the present Act. One cause of censure in the Legislature is the reputed profits which it, is said that banks have made in underwriting ventures. Complaints have been made regarding the financial starvation of the East through the transfer of deposits to the West, attracted by the high rates of interest following upon Western development and the opportunities to invest in lands at comparatively low cost. The elaborate proportions and extravagant expenditures upon bank premises have created very unfavorable comment. The vexed question of inspection or audit has been solved, and a system of audit by auditors selected by the shareholders of each Bank from amongst a Board of Auditors approved of by the General Managers of chartered banks and by the Minister of Finance has been agreed to. I take the opportunity to give you in a few words a resume of the important additions to and alterations in the Act so far as they have gone:

Sections 12 and 16—Additional safeguards have been introduced in connections.

Sections 12 and 16—Additional safeguards have been introduced in connection with the incorporation and organization of banks to ensure the bona fides of original subscriptions for stock, and to facilitate the recovery of unpaid liability thereon, while statements of disbursements for preliminary expenses will require to be submitted to the Treasury Board for approval before a certificate to commence business is issued.

Sections 18 and 20—Changes have been made in the internal regulations in providing for Shareholders being kept advised of the bylaws of the Bank in force from time to time by being furnished with copies of the current bylaws every five years, commencing with December 31, 1913, and by limiting the qualification shares of Directors to those of which they are absolute and sole owners in their individual rights.

Section 43—Proposals have been introduced making the keeping of share and transfer registers in each Province in which Shareholders are resident compulsory, but it is hoped these provisions, which have many objectionable.

At a substitute of the section of the Section 54—The annual statement to be submitted to Shareholders has been somewhat enlarged, so as to make it more in keeping with the monthly return to the Government. Many new headings have been added, which make for a clearer and more detailed statement of affairs. The Monthly Government Return has also been improved in some respects.

Section 56—As already referred to, an important departure has been made in the introduction of an annual audit by qualified auditors appointed by the Shareholders from a panel selected by the General Managers of the Banks, and approved of by the Minister of Finance. It will be the duty of these auditors, who are given the widest powers of access to the books, accounts and securities of the Banks, to check the cash and verify the securities, and make a report annually to the Shareholders. It is placed in the power of the Minister of Finance to call upon the auditor of a Bank, or any other auditor whom he may select, to make a special report at any time upon the affairs or business of a elect, to make a special report at any time upon the affairs or business of a Bank.

Section 61—In addition to retaining the present emergency period, extending from September 1 in any year to the last day of February in the ensuing year, provision for a much-required increase of circulation has been made against the deposit of current gold and Dominion notes, or either, in what is termed the "Central Gold Reserves." These Central Gold Reserves will be under the control of trustees appointed by the Canadian Bankers' Association and the Minister of Finance, and will be subject to frequent inspection and audit by the Department of Finance. It will be the duty of the trustees to receive, and, when proper and required, return the gold and notes deposited with them by the Banks, who will be entitled to issue increased circulation to the extent of the amount from time to time on deposit. In this way not only is additional circulation assured, but also the anxiety of over-circulation when nearing the present limits can be avoided.

Section 72—Regulations providing for the disinfection and sterilization of Section 72—Regulations providing for the disinfection and sterilization of bank notes may be made by the Treasury Board.

Is it the case that the hired man dees not receive the comforts to which he has every right to lay claim? Want of help must induce careless farming. If I were a farmer dependent upon the hired man I should be inclined to offer him every reasonable comfort. This suggestion is by no means original; no farmer in England, whether he be a landlord or tenant, would think of asking his farm laborer to lead the happy-go-lucky existence that farm laborers in this country are expected to enjoy. From Quebec we hear that the season is backward, and that crops are retarded. It is satisfactory to learn, however, that the large quantities of butter and cheese produced in Quebec find a satisfactory and lucrative market in the western Provinces of the Dominion, and that there is a wonderful advance in agricultural science through the benefit received from experiments which are offered by the Province of Quebec to immigrants are not availed of to a greater extent. City Growing Up Within a Two More Ten-Storey Struc-City in Greenwood Avenue Section.

HAS LARGE THEATRE

This Part of Toronto Has Factories, Stores and Amusements of Its Own.

The growth of the self centred community in different parts of the city is shown in the building of a light vaude-ville theatre to seat a thousand at the corner of Redwood and Gerrard streets. Redwood is the first street east of Greenwood, and the building, which will have two storeys of offices above the theatre, will be built at the northwest corner on ground 45 feet by 120. A. Well-wood is the owner, and Neil G. Beggs, architect.

corner on ground 45 feet by 120. A. Well-wood is the owner, and Neil G. Beggs, architect.

The World has before pointed out that this section of the east end was becoming a city in fiself, with its own factories, stores, banks and amusements. East Toronto, West Toronto, North Toronto, D'arkdale, are almost separate communities in a great many ways. But the growth of the neighborhood idea around threenwood avenue at Gerrard has uncommon aspects, for this is a part of the city close to the central section and with well-built districts still further east.

The responsibility for this condition rests with the great number of industries, each employing hundreds of hands, centred just to the south of Gerrard street, down to 'Queen and in the Eastwern avenue neighborhood. These factories are immediately north of the great industrial area being created out of Ashboridge's Bay. When the factories begin setablishing in this area the community feeling will be further emphasized contiguous to Greenwood avenue, finding its greatest expression at Danforth avenue and Bloor street in all probability. Even now the corners of Greenwood and Danforth near being held at $300 a foot, with hearby property proportionately priced, with some show of reason, too, considering the way the neighborhood has changed this spring already and the developments forecasted. Take one layout near Danforth and Greenwood as an instance. Monarch Park was last fall barren of anything but trees. Today the city is putting in sewers, the water and sidewalks are already. In and buildings by the dozens are going up. That is only characteristic of the whole neighborhood, realizing its nearness to the city and that the operation of the Danforth avenue civic car line and the building up of the district it will serve, should be synchronous.

Another feature promising the advancement of the Danforth and Green-wood as a ninstance. Monarch park was last fall barren of anything but trees. Today the city is putting in sewers, the water and side-walks are already. In a

Another feature promising the advancement of the Danforth and Greenwood district is the platting of the Glebe lands at the northeast corner. This property has remained idle for years and is only now beginning to be available for building. Then annexation of the whole neighborhood above Danforth is getting very close. With transportation, factory employment, city improvements, the development of a new community at this point seems to be a

THE GREATEST SPORTING AND

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE YEAR

The gradual return of money, and therefore activity, to the real estate market is raising a crop of reports of new buildings. Bay street is the field. It is said that the northeast—corner of Bay and Wellington streets is being bought at $225,000 for the site of a ten storey building. Further up the street there are reports of another ten storey building, these reports coming from a pretty good source; In fact, plans are already out for this building, enough capital is raised to carry it well thru, and in a few days when the arrangements are finally completed, The World may be able to announce the site. Other reports of new structures are heard, but promoters are not very far advanced on their plans. However, should these two Bay street proposals go thru three ten storey buildings will be rising up on Bay street. The Trusts and Guarantee Company anticipate an early start on their structure on the west side just above King street. $53,000 IN ADDED MONEY The King's Plate, $5250 added, will be run on Saturday, May 24th, to be followed by a brilliant program of flat racing and steeplechasing events, to conclude on Saturday, May 31st, with

The Key to Your Happines May Fit in This Door

HAT we want in this world is not more happiness. but to have the happiness which is already in the world spread out more. It is too thick in some places and too thin in others, that is all. There are whole shoals of people in this city whose home is a single room. If they are happy, one room is enough. If they are unhappy, Buckingham Palace would be too small.

There are rooms in this city where a man or a girl would rather go to jail than go home. There are other rooms where people cannot hurry home fast enough.

If you have a room with happy surroundings, for goodness sake stick to it! But if you have a room which seems like a jail, get out of it as quickly as you can.

The Want Columns of this paper have little Room Ads. They tell you of places where you will find pleasant surroundings and a happy home. It won't take you ten minutes to check this list, and mark the locations that appeal to you. And it won't take you one hour this evening to go and look at some of these places, and see if you cannot find pleasanter surroundings than you already have.

Remember, it is your happiness that you are looking for, and the advertisements of many good places in this city are in this paper today. The key to your happiness is sure to fit some one of these doors. Some one of these places will be glad to welcome you. There are friends waiting for you inside some one of these doors. They want you as much as you want them.

Don't be miserable when it is such a short road to Turn to these Room Ads, check off those that appeal to you, go and see these places today or tonight.

And mention this paper, please, each time you answer an Ad. Help us just as we are trying to help you.

Montreal parties close to the Mackenzie & Mann group are satisfied that there is something coming on the Toronto Railway, whether the present negotiations to have the city buy out negotiations to have the city buy out the company go thru or not. MONTREAL, May 28. — Continued weakness in Canadian Pacific, which broke to 230 here and to 229½ in New York, was the principal feature in local stock market dealings today, but the entire list was on the heavy side, the decline continuing slowly but steadily, with practically no indications of a rallying tendency. Brazilian, which recovered on London buying to 34¼, as compared with 93% the previous day, closing at 94, was the only stock of prominence to sho wa gain for the day. Liquidation was again small in volume, but offerings of stock, light as they were, could only be absorbed at price concessions.

At the low of the day C. P. P. absorbed with continued weakness in Canadians, are heavily interested in oil properties, and more particularly perhaps in a quicksilver mine, which is now under active development.

Mr. Gray told The World yesterday that in the opinion of the best engineers the King's Quicksilver Co. have the richest mine of this kind in the world. A wire received by him from the engineer in charge since his return has more than confirmed him in his opinion.

In respect to the Dominion Oil Compared with the company is now thru drilling, but has met a little difficulty with water, and until that has been tided over, the flow of the well will not be leaved.

At the low of the day C.P.R. showed a loss of 7 points since the beginning of the week. Local dealings were less than 900 shares, with the trend downward until the late afternoon, when the New York rally brought about a recovery of ½ from the low of the day. The loss, which at one time stood locally at 2½, was therefore reduced to 1½.

Textile was a conspicuous stock on the downward side. Liquidation of less that the company has excellent prospects, and that a short time will demonstrate this.

Losses.

With new low records for the year stablished on Big Dome, Dome Lake, Porcupine Gold, Coniagas, La Rose and Peterson Lake, the unfavorable character of the mining market was plainly apparent yesterday. Scattered liquidation was in effect thruout, and he manner in which stocks vielded to pressure clearly indicated that the de-mand was scant and support totally acking.

The decline which has been in effect during the last few days has rought about a material reduction in he value of many of the principal is sues. The downturn has been caused not so much by developments in the mining market itself as by events in the financial arena. Both the To-ronto and Montreal stock exchanges have been weak, and Wall street has been in more or less of a blue funk for some time. The big drop in C.P.R. has undoubtedly played a part in in-ducing the bearish feeling, for senti-ment on this side of the border is always influenced by its action in the big market.

Signs of acute weakness were evident in both the Cobalt and Porcuping lists yesterday. Stop loss orders were caught on the initial decline and considerable of the late selling represented the closing out of accounts on which a limit had been set. The downturn in the big silver issues was viewed as an indication of the general bearishness and undoubtedly aided the movement. Coniagas, Nipissing Rose, Crown Reserve and Kerr were all lower. Beaver was off a point at 35, Timiskaming 1-2 at 34, Chambers 1 at 20 1-2 and Peterson Lake 2 at 21. Great Northern sold up to a new record at 19 early in the day

The weakness in Dome Lake, which dropped 15 points to a new low in its history at $1.80, was the feature of the gold stocks. It sold at $2.55 a couple of weeks ago and at $3 in March-Pearl Lake was down 4 points to 50, Porcupine Gold at 14 and Dome Extension a fraction at $1.2 Hollinger tension a fraction at 8 1-2. Hollinger was strong in the initial trading, but lost all its gain, and wound up offer at $17.45.
