London, Sept. 4.—Constantinople was bombed on four successive nights, the admiralty announced today. The arsenal, the dockyard, the Turkish war office, the airdrome at Galata the airplane base at Gallipoli and Chanak were attacked.

The text of the communication issued by the British admiralty reads: "During the period between Aug. 26 and Sept. 1 the Royal Air Force contingents working with the navy have carried out successful bombing raids over Ostend and Zeebrugge, and approximately 13 tons of bombs have been dropped with excellent results. Large fires were started. Two direct hits were obtained on the base of anti-aircraft batteries and there were many bursts in the docks.

"In harbor waters anti-submarine reconnaissance and offensive patrols have been maintained. In engagements with enemy machines two were destroyed and another driven down out of control. Official War Reports

BRITISH

London, Sept. 4.—The Canal du Nord and the Tortille River have been crossed on a wide front north of Moislains by English and Welsh troops, according to Field Marshal Haig's communication issued tonight.

FRENCH

Paris, Sept. 4.—In addition to forcing the Germans to retreat north of the Oise and on the Vesle front, the French made big gains northeast of Noyon, according to the war office announcement tonight.

GERMANS IN CRISIS

While the debacle in the south seems complete, in the north the Germans also are facing a crisis. Everywhere from Peronne to Ypres, Field Marshal Haig's men are keeping hard after the enemy, whose line daily is being bent back further eastward, giving the British better points of vantage from which to work in their task of regaining as their first objectives St. Quentin, Cambrai, Lille, and Arras.

GERMANS GIVE UP BATTLE ON VESLE

The strategy of General Foch, which imposed upon the Germans the necessity of falling back in Flanders, Arras and Picardy, now likewise is compelling the enemy to withdraw from the Vesle River between Soissons and Rheims northward toward the Aisne in order to avert disaster.

GERMANS GIVE UP BATTLE ON VESLE

With the American Army on the Vesle Front, Sept. 4.—A German withdrawal from the Vesle has begun. Combat patrols of Americans and French are close on their heels to the west of Bazoches and eastward to a point beyond Fismes.

GERMANS GIVE UP BATTLE ON VESLE

Smaller machine gun resistance is being encountered. By all indications the Germans have withdrawn their main bodies to the north, possibly preparatory to crossing the Aisne. Light forces of Americans have advanced their lines some distance north of the Vesle.

GERMANS GIVE UP BATTLE ON VESLE

It became more apparent today that the Germans had given up the struggle to maintain a foothold north of the Vesle. American and French artillery continued their punishing fire over an area extending to the Aisne without bringing a reply that could be compared in intensity.

WAR VETERANS

ORDER FIXES PAY FOR DISCHARGED MEN

Order-in-council has fixed pay and allowances for discharged soldiers and sailors receiving treatment in the hospitals under the supervision of the invalided soldiers' commission. The amount will be practically the same for each man and family as before discharge. There will be a special allowance, however, in place of the patriotic fund no longer paid out. More than 4500 men will be affected by the new order. Under this new allowance a wife will receive $10 a month and a wife and child $19, a wife and two children $26, and a wife and three children $31. The maximum allowance for a family will be $45 a month.

LOOKING AFTER COAL.

NEW PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY

City Asked to Use Influence to Change Route to Guelph.

A deputation from Guelph advocating the northern, instead of the southern, route for the proposed Toronto-Guelph-London highway, waited on the board of control yesterday to enlist that body's support, but was told that the undertaking was purely of a provincial character, and the city had nothing to do with it. However, the controllers decided to see what they could do. It was pointed out that the value of the agricultural products of the northern section of the province amounted to $35,000,000 annually. Approximately $1,600,000 had been paid for road construction and $644,000 for the erection of bridges on the northern route, while only $400,000 and $67,000, respectively, had been expended on the southern route.

FERRY BYLAW UP AGAIN.

The city solicitor has received a letter from the Toronto Ferry Co. suggesting that in the event of the amendment to the ferry bylaw passing council the old bylaw which had not been assented to by the lieutenant-governor be repealed. The solicitor reports there is no objection to granting the request.

Warning the Banks.

Hon. Myron T. Herrick, who is best known to Canadians as the American ambassador at Paris at the outbreak of the war, has delivered a warning to the banks and bankers of the United States. He points out that the banks now encounter competition from the government and government agencies in their quest for deposits.

An Allied Peace.

Germany and Austria have been busy getting out peace feelers, and making proposals which are in accord with their desires, but take no note of the intentions of their enemies. It has been frequently pointed out that the German is unable, owing to his psychological training, to conceive of anyone viewing things from a different angle than he does himself, or arriving at different conclusions from the same premises.

The same is true of city life. All the arts and crafts, the manufactures, the whole organization of industrial life in the city, is represented by a multitude of sights. The man from the country could walk around and judge city life and its opportunities from what he saw there.

And those who are held fast to the thought of the war will find no lack of objects to interest them. In one sense the whole show is a war exhibition, but there are special features about it which even after four years of war must awaken a new interest and strike with a new appeal in the heart of those whose best and bravest are somewhere in France. Do not let any trivial excuse prevent a visit to the big Exhibition.

it does not help the suffering seaman nor their dependents. If the sailor men declined their responsibilities and duties on the ground that the government should provide for them the empire would be in sorry case.

The men from whose ranks 15,000 have sacrificed their lives do not stand on punctilios as to who should handle the job when the job is there to be done. They do it. No one who knows anything about our public charitable funds doubts that the cause of the merchant marine is worthy beyond any, for it represents relief for voluntary and unbargained-for suffering. The soldier and the naval unit knows what he is in for and what ship in a peaceful occupation and has been subjected by the Germans to the most abominable cruelty. It wasn't in his contract, but he has stood faithfully by his duty.

It may not be in the contract of the well-to-do citizen to subscribe, but the little extra bit is worth all the duty work, for it comes out of good grace, and brings him a little nearer the level of the hero for whom he does it.

THE WIFE

By JANE PHELPS

Ruth Has a Delightful Trip to Newport With Mr. Mandel.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

The rasp-Ruth heard was not reassuring. "What's that you say?" Brian asked, and his voice was so raucous it made Ruth shiver with dread of what he would say when he realized she was really going.

"I am going to Newport to look at a house to buy over. I'll be back tomorrow night! If I find I can't, I'll wire you," then, before he could answer she glanced at the clock. She must go at once. "Good-bye, I can't wait another minute!" and she hung up without waiting for an answer. It was hard to go away without even hearing him say "good-bye" but perhaps it was best. He perhaps was angry, and by the time she returned would have cooled off. Nevertheless her eyes were swimming with tears when she gave her final instructions to Mrs. Crawford.

"Be sure you give him all the things he likes to eat," she cautioned, showing she, like other women, knew one way at least to placate a man. "Indeed I will and don't you worry, ma'am." Mrs. Crawford had soon understood how matters were; had sensed Brian's dislike to having his wife work, even though it made him more comfortable.

Mr. Mandel was waiting at the station. "Just on time!" he said pleasantly, as he took her bag and helped her into the train. He had two seats in the parlor car, on the shady side, and had laid late magazines on both of them. His own luggage also had been placed in the car before her arrival. "This is comfortable," Ruth said as she sank back in the chair, and the porter, in response to a motion from Mr. Mandel, brought her a hassock for her feet.

"Traveling is hard enough at any time and under all circumstances, I believe, in being as comfortable as possible," he returned, then picked up a magazine and was soon buried in its contents.

Ruth was thankful she did not have to talk. Her mind was full of her own affairs. She could not forget that gasp she had heard when she first told Brian she was going away, and she felt decidedly uneasy as to what he would say on her return. He would be terrified she would be, that she knew, but she was angry. But he would have nearly two days to think it over. Perhaps he would be sensible, but she had seen Mr. Mandel. With an unconscious sigh at his lack of sympathy in her venture, she also picked up a magazine. She had failed to notice the sharp glance Mr. Mandel gave her when he heard that sigh.

Neither spoke until luncheon was announced, then he laid aside his magazine and said: "Suppose we go right in. I reserved a table, and the food will be better if we go." Ruth rose obediently. She had traveled so little, was really unfamiliar with the hotel, and upon supplementing with a dish or two.

She ordered a very simple luncheon, which he insisted upon supplementing with a dish or two. "You will find your appetite when you commence to eat," he told her. "I always do when traveling."

Luncheon finished, Mr. Mandel went into the smoking car and did not reappear until she had had a chance to pleasantly thru luncheon, not mentioning business, and so preventing Ruth from doing so, although there were several things in connection with their arrival at Newport she would have liked to discuss.

"Perhaps he doesn't believe in talking business when he's away from the shop," she thought. So she contented herself with reading the magazine he had provided and in looking out of the window. She never had been east of New York and so was interested in all she saw.

After Mr. Mandel returned from the smoking car, she asked a question which proved her unfamiliarity with the country thru which they were passing.

"Have you never been to Newport?" he asked.

"No, I never have been much of anywhere," she confessed. "Aunt Louise didn't much believe in girls leaving home. I reckon she thought it wasn't good for them. She and I visited New York once before I was married, and we, my husband and I, stayed at Atlantic City for a while. You see I am not much of a traveler."

"So I see!" he replied, looking at her with an added interest. It was wonderful that this delicately nurtured southern girl, who still "reckoned" when she talked, should have become so proficient in an art to which he had given many years hard study.

From that time until they reached the end of their journey, he pointed out all places of interest they passed, giving her a little sketch of that part of the country at the same time.

"You will revel in New England homes," he said, explaining that, as they went further east, the homes were still filled with gems of old-fashioned furniture, chippendale chairs, and Windsor tables and cabinets; in fact he made himself so entertaining that Ruth was almost sorry when they reached Newport, and she had bade him good night in the hotel to follow the boy to the room reserved for her.

Tomorrow—Ruth sees Newport's famous Ocean Drive for the first time.

VICTORY WAS WON WITHIN 24 HOURS

Second Phase of the Battle of Arras Results in Retreat of Enemy.

DEEDS OF CANADIANS

Hindenburg Line Opened to Within Grappling Distance of Main Resistance.

By J. F. B. Livesey.

With the Canadian forces, Sept. 3.—The second phase of the battle of Arras is over. It was decided within 24 hours. The enemy is in full retreat and the British army on the right of the Canadian corps is marching unopposed thru villages which yesterday were in the hands of the enemy.

It has passed over the famous Hindenburg line with little opposition.

The first phase of the battle, now concluded, was that of preparation, the second, of victory. It is difficult to write with becoming modesty of the deeds of the Canadian corps during the past few weeks, but the Canadian people are entitled to know the facts.

On July 20 the last great trek in the silent watches of the night began. At twenty minutes past four on the morning of Aug. 8 the Canadian corps, in the centre between the Australians and English, and directly in front of Amiens, opened the battle of that name. They are up against an enemy flushed with victory and preparing a new offensive.

All his guns were in forward positions and 2000 rounds lay behind him. They were waiting the word to push ahead, and thus is accounted for the great capture of artillery.

Canadians Victorious. By Aug. 20 the battle was over and won so far as the Canadians were concerned. Those of the fighting dealt a tremendous blow at the enemy's morale.

Von Hutier, the German commander in that area, is a brother-in-law of Lieutenant-General Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian Army Corps.

"Warmest congratulations to yourself and gallant troops under your command on magnificent achievement in breaking famous Drocourt-Queant line. All Canada recognizes with thrill of pride and gratitude tremendous significance of this latest triumph which must bring dismay to the heart of the enemy.

While mourning for those who have fallen, the nation will be inspired by their example to get greater efforts in emulating the dauntless spirit and determination of the Canadian army."

SOVIET FORCE DESTROYED. Washington, Sept. 4.—Related despatches reaching the state department from Irkutsk, Siberia, via Peking, dated Aug. 13, state that the Bolshevik army east of Lake Balkal has been destroyed by the Checho-Slovaks, that Cosacks are co-operating with the Czechs, and that all Americans in Siberia are safe.

TO RETIRE FROM VESLE. London, Sept. 4.—The Germans are contemplating a general retirement from the Vesle region, where they have been facing the Americans and French along the river, according to indications reported from the battlefront today.

The recent Franco-American successes in the south apparently have prompted such a move.

ALLIES ON LAST LAP. London, Sept. 4.—Paris papers print the following semi-official statement: "The hour seems close at hand when the superb efforts of the allies will begin to bear fruit, one of our great chiefs said yesterday: "We are on the last lap and close to the winning post."

Completely Succeeded. The Canadian corps has succeeded here as completely as it succeeded at Amiens. These two great victories under such opposing conditions within the one month are without parallel in this war.

If the Canadian corps did nothing more this year, its laurels are safe. Outside of the crushing blows to enemy morale, these victories have re-vegetated widely elsewhere. London, Paris and every allied capital has been heard of.

Up to this morning, well over 5000 unwounded Boche prisoners have passed thru the corps cages as the fruits of yesterday's battle. Add to these the wounded which crowd our dressing stations, and the total cannot be less than 7000. To these, add the 4500 captured last week, and the 9000 odd of the battle of Amiens, and the Canadian corps is thus credited with over 20,000 prisoners as the result of a month's work.

This number is in excess of our total casualties, so far as current figures show. Fed on victories and not knowing what it is so full, the Canadian corps is ready to go in again when such another task shall be required of it.

REEVES OF ONTARIO TO FORM SOCIETY

Heads of Rural Municipalities Will Prepare for After-War Taxes.

Reeves of Ontario rural municipalities have decided to organize into a farmers' association, having for its object the advancement of farmers, and specifically interesting itself in the question of after-war taxation affecting the rural districts.

This decision to organize was made at a special convention of reeves from 130 municipalities, held yesterday in the Labor Temple.

Those who were specially interested in the new organization were John Forgie, reeve of Claremont; D. R. Ebdon, clerk of Whitevale; Deputy-Reeve F. H. Richardson of Pickering; and J. E. Harrison, of Sheffield Township, County of Lennox and Addington. These men stated emphatically that the new organization would neither oppose nor overlap the work of the United Farmers of Ontario. They felt, however, that as the reeves of the rural municipalities were well versed in the intricate problems of taxation and represented at least 80 per cent. of all the farmers, they could form an association which would add much to the good work now being carried on by the U.F.O.

A committee will be formed to confer with the officials of the U.F.O., as a means of co-operation between the two organizations. Clarence Mallory, J. E. Scratch, F. A. Richardson, J. E. Harrison, and Reeve Raabers were elected a committee to consider a detailed plan of organization, which will be submitted to the convention this morning.

There are 540 rural municipalities in Ontario, and of this number 139 have so far approved of yesterday's decision to organize.

THEFTS DURING RIOTS.

Ray Thurston Found Guilty of Receiving Goods.

Ray Thurston, 285 Quebec avenue, was found guilty by Judge Denton in the criminal court yesterday on the charge of having received a quantity of cheese, marmalade and other articles, the property of E. Klees, Yonge street, and was allowed out on suspended sentence. The articles were taken from the stores during the riots on Aug. 2. Thurston said his motor car had been commandeered by some soldiers, who compelled him to drive them to a restaurant and who made him pay out over $8 for their suppers before they allowed him to go.

SHORT IN RETURNS.

Judge Denton in the weekly criminal court yesterday found W. Williams, 205 Nairn avenue, guilty on the charge of theft and receiving and allowed him out on suspended sentence. Williams was employed as a driver by the Briar Farm Dairy, and William Bailey, the proprietor, stated he was over $54 short in his returns.

PLEADS GUILTY TO NEGLIGENCE.

Averton Alcombrack, 177 Beaufield avenue, in the criminal court yesterday, pleaded guilty to the charge of criminal negligence, and Judge Denton fined him $100, or in default two months in jail. While driving his car near the corner of Richmond and Church streets on May 22 accused drove onto the sidewalk, knocking down Edward Brady of 139 Sydenham street, causing him such injuries that he was laid up for seven weeks.

LOCAL FUEL CONTROLLER HAS RESIGNED POSITION

But Says He Will Help Citizens in Event of Famine Occurring.

The resignation of Daniel Chisholm, property commissioner, as local fuel controller does not mean that that official is deserting the ship with the approach of winter. On the contrary, he explained yesterday that he would continue to serve the public as he did last winter, and do everything possible in the event of a fuel famine.

Mr. Chisholm has investigated several complaints of hoarding, and in every instance they were found to be groundless. The suggestion has also been made to him that there should be a curtailment of deliveries so that those who have no coal would be able to get in a supply with which to start the season. At present the dealers refuse all orders and say they are filling those received as far back as last March and April.

CIRCISSIAN WALNUT.

Circassian walnut is becoming quite popular on account of its beautiful grain. An example of the way the grain of this wood can be matched and finished is afforded in two plaques in the exhibit of Ye Olde Firme of Helmsman & Co. Ltd., in the manufacturers' building, at the main entrance. It is worth while stopping to examine these two plaques.

HALF-HOUR ART TALK.

Pictures in which snow was a prominent feature were selected by Miss Margaret MacLean as the subject for her interesting half-hour talks in the art gallery of the Exhibition yesterday.

The reasons for snow being of different colors were clearly explained on scientific principles, the law of refraction being responsible. Miss MacLean explained that the three primary colors, red, blue and yellow, in certain combinations give other colors, as when blue and yellow are mixed we get green. This explained why the brown leaves, and especially those with a reddish tint, in a landscape, make the snow appear green. Taking one of the pictures as an example, Miss MacLean also explained how the artist got massed attention which enclosed the centre of interest. The pictures demonstrated were those of American and Canadian artists.

Philadelphia Orchestra For Toronto. The executive of the Mendelssohn Choir has completed arrangements for the engagement of the Philadelphia Orchestra, who under their conductor, Leopold Stokowski, made such a brilliant debut before Toronto audiences last season. The orchestra will appear at two evening concerts and an orchestral matinee in February. Rehearsals for the choir begin on Tuesday, Sept. 24. A considerable number of the choir are serving at the front, and others engaged in war work, consequently a limited number of new applications can be received for membership, which should be addressed to the secretary, 125 College street, or to H. A. Fricker, Lipton Apartments, 91 Wellesley street.

PLAYS PICTURES AND MUSIC.

"Everywoman."

Seats will go on sale this morning for "Everywoman," which Henry W. Savage will present at the new Princess Theatre next week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday at popular prices. The musical score was composed by George Whitefield Chadwick, dean of the New England Conservatory of Music of Boston. It contains 26 musical numbers which are interpreted by a special symphony orchestra, which accompanies the organization. Dr. Chadwick is one of the few American composers who have written music of a dignified character which has been played abroad. All the world's famous orchestras delight to play his celebrated symphonies. He is easily at the head of America's gifted composers, and his works will unquestionably outlive the generation of the author.

"The Man Who Came Back." Probably no theatrical announcement of the present early theatrical season will create or excite as much interest as the announcement that the melodramatic thriller, "The Man Who Came Back," this week's attraction at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, will be held over for one more week to enable the vast numbers of patrons who have not been able to witness this production during the present week to see the brilliant A. Brady play that has only been seen in four cities in the United States during the two years of its life. These cities are New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston, where runs of from fifteen weeks to one solid year were registered, with daily matinees.

WRIGLEY'S

A second edition of the famous Four Mortons will come to Shea's Theatre as the headline attraction next week, when Sam and Kitty, the parents, are assisted by their two youngest children, Martha and Joe, in a revival of their former offering, Clara Morton, the older daughter of the original Four Mortons, shares headline honors. Notable the singing violinist's feature of the bill, while Tarzan, the educated simian, described as the only and original "missing link" is also on the program. Espe and Dutton, "top-notchers of versatility," have a varied offering, while in their funny sketch "Ghosts and Hobbies" will be appreciated. Elsie Williams with a new sketch for vaudeville; Bell and Wood in a clever offering, and the British Gazette complete the bill.

The plot of "The Million Dollar Doll," the new musical comedy which will be presented at the Grand Opera House all next week, is novel and well suited to musical comedy. The guardian of a beautiful young lady has invested her money in a wonderful smoke consumer, which does not prove a success, and they are about to lose all their money when they hit upon the plan of taking the young lady to the Panama Exposition, and have her compete for a ten thousand dollar prize which is to be awarded to the most beautiful "Doll" in the world. They go to California by way of the Panama Canal, which gives opportunity for the great "boat scene," which has been pronounced one of the most elaborate ship scenes ever offered the public. The last act of the play takes place on the famous "Joy Zone" at the exposition, where Dolly wins the prize, and is awarded the ten thousand dollars.

Norma Talmadge and her own company will be seen at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden next week in "The Circus," a musical, vocal and dancing extravaganza, and the Chung Hwa Four, the world's only Celestial quartet, will divide the headline honors of the vaudeville bill. Other features embrace the Standard Duo, extraordinary equilibrist; "Don't Lie to Mama," a comedy playlet, and "Widow West," in a sparkling version of song and dance eccentricities. At the Hippodrome.

Elaine Hammerstein, the beautiful Polish girl, will be featured in "The Lieutenant and the Traffic Cop," a thrilling story of a Kentucky mountain feud in which a beautiful society girl plays a prominent part. "The Cork Artists" present a clever offering in the vaudeville line, while Gifford and Smith are known as "The Novelty Minstrels." Moore and Elliott, "the Garrison Sisters," are well known and will be welcomed here, while "A Matrimonial Substitution" is a novelty in a posing act that has a beautiful stage setting. The Clark Brothers provide a sensation in mid-air, while Hooper and Hooper are refined singers and dancers. The Fathe Nows and comedy form a welcome addition to the bill.

Next week the Gayety Theatre will have an unusual attraction in Billy Watson, who will be featured in "The Watsons," a musical comedy. Billy Watson heads the cast, supported by George E. Barnes, Jacob Birnberg, Gertrude Sommers, Kathryn Pearl, Suzanne and Eileen, and Sherrill Sanders, in two comedies, "Krausemeyer's Alley" and "The Christening," afford good entertainment during the entire performance.

As an added attraction a series of living art models appear in reproductions of famous paintings.

Everybody goes to the Regent this week to see the great war romance and wonder picture, "To Hell With the Kaiser." The large crowds that have already witnessed this thrilling photodrama are loud in their praise. This is a story which will reach the hearts of patriotic citizens everywhere, but in addition to its military interest, exposing at it does the whole German war machine, there is a beautiful love story, so fascinating, so gripping, and so charming, that those who see it and follow its adventurous course are enthused. It is expected that record attendance will mark the coming of this renowned drama. Next week Mae Marsh will appear in her latest success, "Money Mad."

Forbes-Robertson at Strand. In compliance with requests received from innumerable lovers of the silent drama, the management of the Strand Theatre is bringing back to that popular playhouse for the latter half of this week, starting today, the most wonderful photoplay now being shown. It is presented by the finest cast that has ever been got together, either on the speaking or the silent stage. Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, finest of all living actors, is the star, and he has been surrounded by Sir John Hare, Sir

Lord Charles Beresford's Message Regarding the Merchant Marine

Admiral Beresford concludes a letter to the Navy League as follows:

REMEMBER THE "Belgian Prince" The British Admiralty report of August 6th, 1917, reveals one German crime out of the many committed against the men of our MERCHANT MARINE. "The British steamer Belgian Prince was torpedoed by a German submarine on July 31st (1917). The crew abandoned the ship in two boats, and were ordered on to the deck of the submarine by the German commander. The three survivors were then smashed with axes, and the crew of the Belgian Prince deprived of their lifebelts. The master was taken below and the hatch closed; the submarine submerged without warning, with forty-three men standing on her deck. This was the entire crew of the Belgian Prince. With the exception of three, all these were drowned. The three survivors had contrived to retain their lifebelts without the knowledge of the enemy. They were picked up after having been in the water eleven hours. The details of this atrocious outrage are supported by the separate affidavits of the three survivors. The cold blooded murder of these men equals, if it does not transcend the worst crimes which our enemies have committed against humanity."

"The Navy is enabling us to hold our own at present against a brutal and unscrupulous enemy, but we must never forget the brilliant heroism of the Mercantile Marine." "The Mercantile Marine has really enabled us to carry the war on so far. It has transported our troops, munitions, millions of men and, more than all, it has fed our people and our fleets and armies, and though some men have been torpedoed as many as seven times, never once has a Mercantile seaman refused to sign on—to their lasting glory be it said." "Wishing you all good luck and success, Yours sincerely, Beresford Admiral."

Consider carefully Lord Charles Beresford's letter. Read again the tragedy of the Belgian Prince, the crime which cost the lives of 38 men of the Merchant Marine. Realize that 15,000 men have lost their lives in this service. Then think of the widows and orphans left without support. Governments make no provision for them. Surely our duty is unmistakable! Give! Give Liberally! 15,000 men have made their last voyage. 300,000 still "carry on," in spite of the submarine and floating mine.

DOMESTIC LEADS RISE

McIntyre and Hollinger Other Strong Issues—La Rose Holds Advance.

Decided strength in Dome, McIntyre and Hollinger gave a bullish aspect to the mining market yesterday. Rumors are again in circulation that the price is to be given the gold mining industry in the allied countries by the announcement of a bonus or premium, but it is probable that the buoyancy of the stocks of late is due more to the outlook for early peace than to any other factor.

The advance in Dome led trading on the Standard Exchange is showing only moderate expansion as compared with the conditions of a few weeks back, mining stocks of the better class are growing steeper as price advance, the very best indication that the movement is free from manipulation.

The advance in Dome locally reflected the sharp upturn in New York where the stock after opening at 9.00, advanced to 8.75 on a feeling of 2100 shares. Four hundred shares of Dome were traded in here, with the closing at 9.25, comparing with the previous close at 9.00. McIntyre sold up three points to 1.50, closing at that figure with 1,500 bid and 1,51 asked. McIntyre is counted upon to lead the market when the movement develops genuine strength.

Hollinger rallied ten points, selling again at 5.00, and Dome Extension at 16 was half a point above the previous high of the movement. Kirkland Lake was up a point at 25 and Lake Shore, half a point higher at 49. Davidson at 34 was at the best price of the current movement, and Rock-Highs advanced two points to 18.

Beaver was prominent among the Cobalt, selling at a point higher than 25 and predictions are made that the 30 mark will be crossed in a day or two.

Rose held well around 9.00 and is being sold below Tuesday's closing, the rapid movement of the flood of realising sales that might have been expected. McKinnley-Darrah was active but sold off a point to 4. New York is reported to be still a buyer of this stock. Nipissing sold again at from 10.00 to 10.50, bid for Trethewey advanced half a point to 25. Peterson Lake was steady at 9. The mill is stated to be again in good running condition.

Rockwood Oil rallied strongly, closing at 28, an advance of three points from Tuesday's closing figure.

ORPINCHE PROPERTY WILL BECOME BIG PORCUPINE

Half Dozen Other Properties in Matchewan Have Bright Prospects—Ore Likely to Grade Higher Than in Porcupine and to Occur in Greater Volume Than at Kirkland Lake.

Matchewan is a very interesting mining region. The as yet only slightly explored, it looks very promising, and it is likely to furnish not a few large and rich mines. There are many igneous intrusions, and many different types of rock, but it is a curious and somewhat significant fact that the sediments of the Cobalt series have attained the greatest development.

The country, on the whole, is more rugged than Porcupine or any other gold field of northern Ontario. There are also quite a number of small lakes and ponds, and in places rather wide expanses of water, but these are not plains at all, but isolated sections of gently sloping, frequently broken by considerable hills, the sand has accumulated on the more level ground. On these so-called "plains" there is a profuse growth of the sweet fern and young poplar and birch, the latter after-products of fire, which sweep the region a few years ago.

The presence of gold seems to depend mainly upon (1) a contact between schist and porphyry or syenite, and (2) the presence of a metamorphosed. Merely massive porphyry or syenite, without any unusual development of sulphides is not likely to afford auriferous veins.

Mr. Burrows, the assistant provincial geologist, recommends the contact between the porphyry or syenite and the schist as the best place to look for the elementary principle of fracture and its attendant facilities for the introduction of the precious metal. This is an important in this field as elsewhere. It is the factor in the acquisition of gold in the Orpincine and Colorado and Ontario Developing Co.'s property there is apparently not so much about the contact as the Davidson. On the former, however, the formation seems to have been more thoroughly metamorphosed. The all movements may have partially obliterated earlier shearing.

Specular Finds.
The Orpincine comprises three claims, extending from west to east, the first of a mile from west to east, the second of a mile from north to south. The Nipissing property is a large tract, being 40 chains or half a mile on each side. It lies immediately south of the Cobalt series, and is a very interesting and spectacular find on the Nipissing was made on Friday, the 23rd ult., within 27 feet of the surface. The ore body is 65 degrees. This makes a probable crossing of the boundary and a considerable amount of work.

The gold taken out of the Nipissing was so massive the managers of both properties are confident that the ore in the vicinity could hardly be better. The royal metal was at first taken out of the contact zone, but as the quality became indispensible at least one of these men trembled like a wind-blown reed at the prospect of the ore in the moment. Masses of pure metal are not often found in mere surface operations.

Fluorite is of widespread occurrence in the Orpincine area, as attested by Mr. Burrows' report. It has a rich purple color. It has, however, not been found in commercial quantities; that is, it cannot be profitably mined as fluorite alone. Mr. Burrows, however, does not deal with fluorite as a mineral associated with gold. But as such it occurs in the two great gold-telluride fields of Kalgoolie, Australia, and Cripple Creek, Colorado. Kalgoolie is a very common rock in the Orpincine, and the association of fluorite with rich tellurides of gold is a very common feature of the special significance to its occurrence in the Canadian camp. It seems to indicate a rich ore.

Appearance of Fluorite.
In this connection it may be mentioned that the property of the McIntyre Lake syndicate in Cairo we noticed fluorite forming part of the gangue of the precious metal, the color was wine-yellow with specks of red. There was considerable quartz, but no immediate hope of marked progress for any new gold camp, however promising, without large quantities of the ore. It supplies the necessary morale, and where it advances, it is likely to be a better grade than that of Porcupine, and the veins are likely to be of greater volume than at Kirkland Lake.

A Favored Region.
C. B. Flynn, New York, one of the directors of the McIntyre Consolidated, is interested in the Orpincine and has lately been at the property for six weeks. The gold there occurs principally in wide bands of gray and green schist, and is very rich, the average being 84 per cent. Mr. Flynn informed us that unoxidized ore from this vein would be worth $40 per ton. The present owners of the Orpincine expect to spend $1,500,000 in developing and equipping the property. This means that the merits of the new district will be carefully investigated and fully appreciated. B. B. Clarke.

Transportation to the new gold camp has been considerably improved of late, but the young poplars supplied the former was a wonder in point of unbroken definition, and its selection seemed to be a human stroke. It ran straight for the harvest fields of the animals, and yet always under, never over, the top of the trees. The water of the incline up the hill from the pond, the trail was quite smooth and level.

Mr. Burrows, a master of engineering, and his fleet is excellent. Beaver meat is so good that it is a great treat, and, next to the muffs or preservative upper lip of the moose, it is the delicacy of the wild game of the continent.

Posts have sprung up in the Orpincine and the sweet fern? On the so-called sand plains of the Orpincine, the sweet fern is in great profusion, and its delightful, aromatic odor cannot be escaped. It is a very common plant, and is the other flora of the north. Even the fragrance of the wild rose is not diffused so far as the Orpincine. The soil is not so much unthought, but that of the sweet fern fully pervades the whole atmosphere.

The only 30 miles north, the flora of Porcupine is in several respects, unlike that of Matchewan, but the latter belongs to the southern and the former to the northern. The difference is in the transportation.

Posts have sprung up in the Orpincine and the sweet fern? On the so-called sand plains of the Orpincine, the sweet fern is in great profusion, and its delightful, aromatic odor cannot be escaped. It is a very common plant, and is the other flora of the north. Even the fragrance of the wild rose is not diffused so far as the Orpincine. The soil is not so much unthought, but that of the sweet fern fully pervades the whole atmosphere.

The only 30 miles north, the flora of Porcupine is in several respects, unlike that of Matchewan, but the latter belongs to the southern and the former to the northern. The difference is in the transportation.

Transportation to the new gold camp has been considerably improved of late, but the young poplars supplied the former was a wonder in point of unbroken definition, and its selection seemed to be a human stroke. It ran straight for the harvest fields of the animals, and yet always under, never over, the top of the trees. The water of the incline up the hill from the pond, the trail was quite smooth and level.

Mr. Burrows, a master of engineering, and his fleet is excellent. Beaver meat is so good that it is a great treat, and, next to the muffs or preservative upper lip of the moose, it is the delicacy of the wild game of the continent.

The Star of the Gold Stocks Ascending

"We are on the last lap, and near the winning post," states a French writer.

In the resounding hammer strokes of the Allied armies in France, so gloriously successful against the Hun invader, can be detected a prophetic note.

A note of triumph for the Allies which is being heard and appreciated from the highest in the German ranks to the lowest.

The enemy is now realizing that "the jig is up" as far as their schemes of aggression are concerned. The only question that is occupying the minds of authorities now is, will the end come this year or next?

The effect of the military success gained since midsummer is reflected in the stock markets, where the tone has become more buoyant and the tendency is unmistakably towards higher prices.

The period of anxiety and depression is passing and will soon be but a memory. There is no room now for pessimism and doubt while our doughty warriors are performing epic deeds of valor in France.

The buoyancy in the markets should keep pace with the ebbing tide of German power. The markets have stood up wonderfully well in times of trial and stress. Now that victory is assured there should be no holding back.

The time is now rapidly approaching when the gold mines of the north will be given a new lease of life. Even with conditions such as to cause the gold mines great hardship the record of production and dividends has been remarkably good. When the situation clears and the gold mines can expand as their physical condition warrants it is safe to predict that previous records of production, etc., will be left far behind.

The gold stocks lead in favor among the "peace" issues, this favoritism already having evidenced itself in a better demand within recent times which is clearly due to the growing conviction that the day of the gold mines is approaching.

Given sufficient labor the gold mines can take care of themselves.

The average grade of ore being found in the gold camps of Northern Ontario is such as to return handsome profits in normal times and even with costs at unprecedented levels some of the mines have been able to operate profitably and make a fair rate of return to shareholders.

When conditions improve, and this will take place as the end of the war grows nearer, the people of Canada will be given a revelation of what the gold camps of the north can do. What a showing can be made in Porcupine with the Hollinger, Dome, McIntyre, Porcupine Crown, Davidson, Dome Lake, Vipond-North Thompson and all the other properties working at full blast!

In addition there are Kirkland Lake, Boston Creek, Shingtree, Matchewan, etc., where the production of gold on a substantial scale is assured upon further development.

When war broke out in 1914 the mining markets were just getting in shape for a boom such as has never been seen in Canada. This was simply the logical result of the steadily increasing activity in the gold fields and the success being met with in the production of the yellow metal.

Since then despite adverse conditions great strides have been made.

The great Hollinger consolidation has taken place, the McIntyre consolidation has been effected and the whole tendency of centralization of effort in the camp has borne much fruit.

As the clouds of adversity roll away the effects of greater efficiency, more scientific methods of mining and milling as adopted in the gold mines up north, will become more apparent and the gold stocks will more than justify their favored position in the realm of investment.

WE BELIEVE THAT NOW IS THE LOGICAL TIME TO BUY THE GOLD STOCKS. WE GAVE SIMILAR ADVICE SOME MONTHS AGO. LET US EXAMINE WHAT HAS SINCE OCCURRED.

WE ADVISED THE PURCHASE OF HOLLINGER AT $3.50, IT IS NOW $5.

WE ADVISED THE PURCHASE OF DOME AT $6.50, IT IS NOW $9.75.

WE ADVISED THE PURCHASE OF MCINTYRE AT $1.25, IT IS NOW $1.50.

CROP SITUATION

A wheat crop of 149,000,000 bushels is the present outlook for the three prairie provinces, according to The Manitoba Free Press. C. B. Watts, secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Millers' Association, yesterday received wire from Winnipeg, summarizing the figures contained in the latest report of The Free Press as follows:

Table with columns: Province, Wheat, Barley, Oats, Rye, Flax

Mr. Watts pointed out that, save in the case of Saskatchewan, the estimated wheat production is almost identical with the figures of probable yield.

Before the grain men who attended the session of the board of grain supervisors in Winnipeg about two weeks ago, it was calculated that Manitoba's yield would be from 45,000,000 to 47,000,000 bushels and Alberta's 10,000,000, but the Saskatchewan figures were placed at 18,000,000 or 11,000,000 bushels below the latest estimate.
