that while 61 British ships of over 1600 tons sank before submarine attack in February, 67 British merchantmen which were attacked made their escape. Thus the arming of merchant ships is aiding in the sounding of the death knell of submarines. Great Britain has now more than two million tons of shipping on the stocks in a more or less advanced stage of construction. The admiralty announces that it considers the general situa-near Verdun, yesterday at the point where they lost ground to the attack of the enemy on Sunday. The Germans had launched a big movement against a two mile front on Sunday, and only after the failure of reneated attacks did they give up their attempts to advance. When the fighting ceased they held only one French front line trench north of the Caurieres

Wood. The French barrage and machine gun fire had worked great havoc Salonica, and it refused yesterday to discuss the expedition in secret session of parliament. A. Bonar Law said that the government had no intention of abandoning this theatre of the war, and that in this matter Great Britain could not act independently and she had to consult her allies. If she withdrew the expedition, she would leave Greece open and the whole

Balkan Peninsula in the hands of the enemy. The allies had now a common policy and that policy had as its main object the insuring that if the enemy advanced against the allies, these should not run the risk they ran a few months ago of being attacked from behind. He denied that the allies used any threats to induce Rumania to enter the war. Fault-finding by Winston Churchill and other members occasioned the foregoing declaration of Mr. Law. In his reference to the risk of being attacked from behind. Mr. Law probably referred to the action of Bulgaria in declaring war on Rumania after the signing of a convention with Rumania not to attack

COUNCIL ACCEPTS WHAT THE COUNCIL DID JAIL COMPROMISE

New Arrangement Will Save Only Eight Thousand on Total Annual Cost.

PENSIONS GANTED

Aldermen Declare City is Forced to Reward Government's Political Friends.

Council yesterday accepted the Ontario Government's compromise on the closing of the old fail, but not without protest. The final vote was 14 to 7 but every member who spoke in supthe agreement expresse port of the opinion that a clug was being held over the city's head, and that in agreeing Toronto was simply making the best of a bad business.

The pensions of $1200 and $1000 demanded for the governor and de-puty governor were the big items of puty governor were the big items of protest in the arrangement. "It is a compromise we are being differed," de-clared Ald. Singer, "and council should be big enough to say to the govern-ment that if they want to reward political friends they should pay for it. The fact that they are a lot of po-litidems conting something for noliticians getting something for no-thing makes it a graft."

Controller O'Neill negotiated the ar bitration with the government, and upon him Controller Foster laid most of the blame for what he declared was the failure of council to satisfactorily arrange matters. He said if he could not have made a better dicker with the government he would unive let matters remain as they were. It was not $8000 a year council want-ed to save on the old jail, it was the whole $30,000 of annual expenditure. Ald. Hiltz also opposed the arrange-ment. In this instance, he said the ment. In this instance, he said, the men concerned had, only been at the jail comparatively few years and any-way they were not civic but government employes. Ald. MacGregor: Is it true that Governor Chambers is a superannuated Methodist preacher, and is drawing a pension?

Controller ()'Neill: I do not know. In our investigations we did not en-quire into the governor's private af-fairs.

Urged Council's Support. Controller O'Neill urged council to support the recommendation, as it was the best the government would do. It meant, he pointed out, a sav-ing of $8000 a year, whereas if the members turned down the arrange-ment it must, seconding to the Ontario statutes, maintain the jail with the whole staff. He said he had not meant to de-clare it publicly, but the existence of the old fail was seriously interfering with the management of the jail farm There was dual adthority as to prisoners, which must be eliminated. Sometimes a prisonar sent to the jail farm was retained at the old fail if the officials there thought that was where he ought to be.

"If you don't accept this it is sima case of g the old con for remands and persons awaiting transfer. Referred back Dr. Hastings' recom-mendation to increate from $5 to $50, $100 and $500 the fine for selling light weight bread. Asked further information from the etty solicitor upon Ald. Singer's motion that legislation be applied for to enable Toronto to license and control all ballifs. Granted $2500 to the 108th Regiment for expenses of recruiting Great War Veterans' Overseas Company. Granted $2500 to the Royal Flying Corps and decided to petition the min-ister of millita to add a flying branch to Canada's anilitary activities. Gave $15.000 to Grace Hospital to over cost of a number of structural and other improvements at the distitution. Granted $2500 towards expenses of vacant lot gardening. Refused to approve plans of the C. P.R.'s double track railway from Yonge street to Leaside pending agreement as to a certain subway at Summerbill avenue.

to a certain subway at Summerhili avenue. Agreed to supply the Town of Lea-side with water at a rate of 20 cents per 1000 gallons to a maximum of one million gallons per day. Voted $7000 to wage a war of ex-termination against the tussock moth. On motion of Aid. Ball decided to pe-tition the Dominion Government to care-fully investigate food prices and where necessary to place embargoes on food products. Presented Fred Robson, ex-skating champion of America, with a medal.

there was no baker in the city who could bake ten loaves of bread and turn them out all the same weight demanded by law. Ex-alderman Bredin said, that while there might be one or two bakers who continue to make light-weight bread because it paid them in spite of the 5 fine, he believed the bulk of the bakers were honest, and tried to live up to the law. There were 400,000 loaves of bread sold in Toronto every day, he said, and last year there were only $06 seized by city inspectors.

for Overseas Draft.

There was not a dissenting voice in council to the $5,000 grant to the Great War Veterans' Association, to assist in the establishing of a club house. After it had been explained that the desire of the association was to establish Dominion headquarters in Toronto, with branches in every city in Canada, Sir William Mulock spoke briefly in favor of the grant. ion Evidence of perjury, theft and fraud in this connection had been before the legal advisers of the municipalities in-volved for three years before Moyes disappeared in 1914, said Hon. I. B. Lucas. Blame that no criminal action had been taken during that time rested on these lawyers and not on the at-torney general he said. They wanted torney-general, he said. They wanted restitution, not justice. He regretted to have to make the matter public, but Pinkerton detectives had followed clues to secure Moyes. The very mention of these things in the house de feated the object sought.

In reply to Sam Carter (S. Wellington) Mr. Lucas said that the hydro had ade no application for the extradition of Lobb, charged with misappropriation of some $8000 of hydro money. "I call that a perfect outrage," said Mr.

Carter. A. H. Musgrove (N. Huron) said the matter was a burning issue in parts of his constituency. The indebtedness amounted to a mortgage of $400 on each farm.

Hon. Mr. Lucas refused to bring down the returns asked for by Mr. Proudfoot unless he could see some way in which it would be to the interests of justice.

LISTENING ON PHONES WILL BE PUNISHABLE

Listening in party telephone lines and repeating the conversation thus overheard is to be a punishable offence, according to legislation to amend the Ontario Telephone Act introduced by Hon. I. B. Lucas yesterday. The nalty for listening and repeating telephone conversations intended for others will apply to telephone operators also, he said.

Other parts of the amendment apply to Ontario representation on the tri-bunal to be formed by the Dominion Government regarding connections beween Dominion-regulated Bell Telephone Company and local compa anies; and that no such provincial and Dominion company shall amalgamate without the consent of the provincial railway board.

Provincial Resources Board Is Considerably Strengthened

The membership of the provincial organization of resources committee has been considerably extended by the government. In the absence of an alternative proposition, Ald. Ball said he was bound to support the arrangement, Controller Shaw moved that a pro-position be made to the government to pay $200 less in each case than the pension demanded, but withdrew later.

Discouragement at his inability pass the medical test necessary for enlistment in the army and grief at the loss of his brother, recently killed in action, are believed by the police to be motives behind the of deatl George Baker, 26 years of age, 19 Mc-Pherson avenue, who ended his life by hanging himself in the cellar at his home yesterday morning.

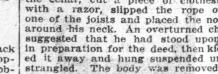

Baker was employed as a munition maker, and every time he applied for enlistment was rejected on account of deafness. He seemed to be in good spirits until the news of his brother's death, some months ago, when he be-came despondent. His two brothers enlisted at the outbreak of war.

It is believed that Baker went into the cellar, cut a piece of clothesline with a razor, slipped the rope over one of the joists and placed the noose around his neck. An overturned chair suggested that he had stood upon it in preparation for the deed, then kicked it away and hung suspended until strangled. The body was removed to the morgue, but it is not likely an inquest will be held.

At a meeting of the Toronto branch of the Women's Emergency Corps, held yesterday afternoon at the Sherbourne House Club, plans were dis-cussed for holding a series of ward meetings with a view to helping re-cruiting. Mrs. Willoughby Cummings

Mrs. Cummings thought that the presence of children over 14 years of age, who belonged to the families of soldiers overseas or returned soldiers, ought to be an incentive to those who ought to be an incentive to those who might be present at the gatherings. After a good deal of discussion it was decided that the meetings should express themselves strongly in favor of conscription, and a committee was appointed to look after details and to

The True Estimate of Milk Service

A milk service to be complete must combine milk quality, reasonable price and efficient delivery.

From the day the Farmers' Dairy was organized we have succeeded in maintaining a milk service that has won the unstinted approval of our hundreds of customers. Service is the keynote of our institution.

On the farms of our shareholders service is supreme. Only the healthiest cows are kept. The greatest care is exercised in milking the cows and in shipping the milk to the dairy in sterilized and sealed cans. At the dairy the milk is scientifically pasteurized, cooled and bottled by machinery - no hands touch it. All this because quality and cleanliness count.

Delivery has an important place in service. We have therefore organized a splendid delivery system. Milk is delivered regularly every day by courteous salesmen on the White Farmers' Dairy wagons. A notable result of our service is the day delivery instituted for the benefit of our patrons during the winter months.

Another way in which we have successfully striven to serve the people of Toronto efficiently is by keeping down the price of milk. It was partly for this reason that the leading farmers of Ontario formed the Farmers' Dairy. From the men who milk the cows to the salesmen who deliver the milk, service permeates the organization.

But the man who wishes to show what side he is on, what stuff he is made of should delay no longer, but march up like astree man and a Briton. It will be a sorry thing to wait till one is sent for.

Scoring the Senators

The senators who talked out th mmed neutrality bill may well be subjected to indignant criticism from the people of the United States, but the people will be none the less surprised to hear the president speaking disparagingly of congress, or even of eleven senators. Since Andrew Johnson, fifty years ago, in his famous "swing around the circle" denounced congress, it has been thought best for the president to speak to congress and not of it.

The president had cause for exapperation, yet what the recalcitrant senators did is not without precedent. They are censurable for obstructing the great majority of their colleagues at this time, but obstruction in itself is not a new thing nor always obfectionable.

Talking a measure out in the dying days of the session is a parliamentary performance as old as the hills. Up to three years ago our Canadian House of Commons, like the United States Senate, had unrestricted debate, and that privilege was used by the minority with telling effect against the government of the day in 1896, and again in 1911. If a closure rule had been then enforced, the Remedia Bill and the reciprocity agreemen' would both have been adopted. True the parliamentary minority in both cases claimed to represent the majority of the people, and the claim wa justified by the event.

Possibly the eleven sensions resorted to obstruction in order hold up the armed neutrality bill do not represent ten per cent. of the people. Perhaps they represent no considerable public opinion at all. On the other hand it may be contended that the president, by his own prothat the president, by his own pro-crastination, created the very ambush Diavolo"; "The Flower Girl," Bordesse of which he now complains so bitterly. If Miss Forman's condition had been due to the agency which you suggest I should have found it out for myself. I tell you. Mooney, your diagnosis is not worth a cent. If you went down on your knees and told me that Miss Forman was an inebriate I would not be love you. I know her better than you do, and I am confident that she is not as you claim her to be. How-ever, now that you have stated your finding. I want to know upon what you base it."

"Since you refuse to believe that "Since you refuse to believe that, my diagnosis is correct, why should I explain anything to you?" demanded the other. "I think the best thing for me to do now is to get out of here as quickly as possible. You are danger-ous and not in a fit mood to discuss the matter sensibly." Saving this Mooney turned toward.

His grip, relaxed a trifle while Mooney was talking, again tightened. "No, you don't!" he cried. He yank-ed Mooney toward him with an adroit twist of the wrist. "You don't leave this house with an adroit the sevential and the seven this house until you explain every, thing I want to know. Don't drive me to extremes, Mooney!" he warned. "It might go hard with you if you do!"

"Let me go, you fool!" Dr. Mooney was as angry as one of his mild nature could be by this time. Behind the disfiguring glasses his blue eyes glistened and his lean face became rigid with sudden determination. "You htve gore too far as it is, Warrener, "You and I won't stand any more of your brutality. When I'm ready to tell you my upinion I'll let you know. Large Sulphide Vein.

No. 1 camp, Superintendent Powers showed them the results of the open cutting and stoping on the high grade gold vein, which is over 600 feet in gold vein, which is over out leet in length, with a width of 18 inches on the 26-foot level, where the first car of high-grade gold ore is now being mined and bagged; ten tons of ore was also examined in the ore house.

Very

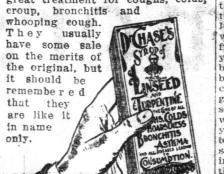

adjacent to this open cut, the same being very spectacular, and he estimates that the first car will be ready in about two weeks, when same will go forward to the American Smelting and Refining, Co. at Perth Amboy, N.J., for extraction and metallurgical purposes

Crosscutting the surface of the big gaunt shadow in a lifting mist. sulphide vein is being pursued with the object of getting below the oxidized zone for the purpose of sampling, and if the values below the oxidized without avail.

and if the values below the oxidized zone are only half of the surface sampling shown, the Tommy Burns will turn out to be the largest mine in the camp, for the reason that the sulphide dyke is one of the largest that have been found in the Porcupine Camp. This dyke of low-grade ore has been stripped for 1464 feet for an average width of 15 feet, but it is cer-tain that it is far wider, and it has tain that it is far wider, and it has been traced for 3000 feet, and sampling has proved high gold values, but wall is a green porphyry similar to the hanging wall of the Dome mine ore deposits. At the present time the workings show no diminution at depth. In order to prove same it is the intenn of the company to sample the ore body below the oxidized zone. This work is going on now and will be probably completed in two or three months.

and saw there a determination as adamant as his own. Then a maniacal spirit seized him; his hand shot up from Mooney's arm to his throat, and the next moment the specialist found himself forced back upon the upholstered back of the couch with the grip of a vice on his windpipe and hands clawing the air wildly in the effort to break free and breathe. His eyeballs were starting from his head in grotesque fashion, and his lungs felt as if they would burst with the terrific strain put upon them. Gradually his struggles became weaker, and at last he sagged down limply into semi-consciousness. "Jerry, old man! Jerry, Jerry!" Warrener's frenzied appeal was the first sound to fall upon Mooney's disordered senses as he emerged into a befogged world once more. Some-thing liquid and ice-cold trickled deliciously down his puffed and fevered face. He opened his heavy eyes slowly and stared, uncomprehending, about him. Before him Warrener towered, a seemed a lifetime before the fog lifted completely; and he saw Warrener's face bent close to his, and Warrener' eyes, sympathetic, asking forgiveness of him. He strove feebly to marshal his thoughts into coherent shape, but Presently, however, he sat up and gazed with better understanding into a revolving world. Warrener handed him his spectacles, which had become detached in the struggle, and he adjusted them with trembling fingers. Now he felt his aching throat tenderly, and gazed reproachfully up at the cause of the pain.

ling has proved high gold values, out as yet the depth of this wonderful de-posit has to be ascertained; and the work which is being aggressively pushed ahead shows that the hanging woll is a green porphyry similar to "I guess I had better start for home er apologized abjectly. "But what you inferred about Miss Forman sent me nearly crazy for the moment, and I didn't know what I was doing. I hope you'll forgive me this time, old man." "Yes, if you'll place the table be-tween us while we continue the conversation." "There's no need for that, Jerry Warrener assured him, as he seated himself on the table and commenced swinging a long leg to and fro in his impatience. "I'm safe enough nowyou could eat off the same plate as and I wouldn't attempt to bite you.' was a little over three years "It ago that I met Miss Forman," Mooney began. "I happened to be in Boswell, began. a small country place, in which the Benson home for inebriates is located. I was there on a short vacation, and one day found it necessary to pass the home while out for a walk. It was then that I saw the girl. She was walking about the grounds in front of the institution with another young lady. I was struck with her beauty. I could not bring myself to believe that so splendid a creature cculd be an addict of alcohol. The gardener of the home was at work on some flower beds near the ferce, and wishing to know something about the young lady whose beauty had so interested me, I engaged him in conversation. He told me that she was an inmate of the home and had been there for the past three months. Later in the day, while talking with Dr. Benson, I happened to mention the matter to him, and he corroborated the gardener's story. I never saw Miss orman again until today."

You'd think they were plum puddings! You'd think we had a RIGHT to eat 'em - simply because we bought one - for a cent! - in the newspaper. Nice kind of victory it would be if its winning depended on us folks who pay a cent and throw our hats in the air! Victories are won by men who DON'T, enjoy them - but take them grimly, soberly, with silent satisfaction. We people at home - who CAN go if we only try are like beggars stealing a glimpse of a lacrosse match through a knot-hole! We sneer at Uncle Sam - but are WE any better? Are we fighting - or talking?

THE TORONTO WORLD

Making a Special Feature Today of Millinery a la Mode

Simultaneously every lid is lifted from every Paris bandbox and the crowning touch of fashion is revealed. Those magic bandboxes have tra-versed the risky Atlantic pathway from their French homes, bearing the beautiful "burdens" which today are released to delight Simpson's customers. New York also is fully represented at this unprecedented exhibition.

Hat Colorings

Judging by the authoritative modes on the second floor, it is very easy to see that Madam Fashion was in a humorous vein when she splashed the little hats with vivid colors and ordained sombre tints for the spreading picture hats. Demure cafe-au-lait, Quaker grey, navy and Havana brown, usually of aeroplane or crepe Georgette, is used in a thousand ways for large hats, while purple, lobster, jade, shadow lawn of real hair, lisere and caterpillar braids glorify the smaller shapes.

TUESDAY MORNING

These modes represent the master creations of the great Paris modistes, as well as our own distinctive interpretations, introducing many originations, making them thereby more exclusively reserved for our own patrons.

Hat Silhouettes

After being privileged to view these secret wonders in our French room, we observed that so long as it is tight, your smart suit hat may tower almost into infinity.

Also with graceful slopes and swerves the hat of tremendous proportion to crown afternoon toilets is a most emphatic spring model. Neither is girlishness omitted in the large sailors and mushroom ideas so becoming and simple, of which there are a great many.

Misses' Dresses

We don't ask a fabulous price for our dainty dresses although, of course, everyone knows the sumptuous models are highly priced. But from $15.00 to $22.50 we have an array in the Misses' Department that would be hard to compete with. They are simple, but good, and we want you to look for them today. Crepe de Chenes and other silks in beautiful colors. Prices $15.00 to $22.50.

Misses' Suits

Of course, the style tendency is similar to the women's suits, except that some are more girlish in outline. If you have difficulty in being fitted, or find the women's suits are always too big, be sure to take your troubles to the Misses' Department, which is a sort of "lucky well." We have a surprisingly 27.50 good suit for misses at the popular price of

Spring Coats

They have a verve and smartness that is all their own, and whether of serge, tweed or covert cloth, the some tendencies are evinced in many models, namely, loosely beited, large collars usually, and capacious ockets almost invariably. Serviceable coats priced as low as $10.50, and, of course, others as high as you want to go.
