Making Headway Against The Strike

British Government Announces That Railway Service Is Improving

More Trains Running Than Called For Under Yesterday's Schedule—Distri- bution of Food Proceeding Satis- factorily—Offers of Voluntary Service Are Overwhelming—Strike Leaders' Statements Tinged With Bitterness

London, Sept. 30.—Great Britain is making headway in dealing with the national strike of her railway men, the government reported today. The official communique from Downing street at noon announced that the railway service was improving, more trains running than called for under the schedules prepared by the companies yesterday. This was in line with forecasts that deterioration of conditions in this respect might be expected today. Attempts to demoralize the strikers by the first time since the beginning of the strike, were referred by the Downing street statement as some minor acts of sabotage. These, it was explained, caused no loss of life, and the necessary steps had been taken to deal with the situation.

Meanwhile the distribution of food is proceeding satisfactorily, the authorities announced largely "to the admirable spirit and efficient work of volunteers." The offers of voluntary service, it is declared, are "overwhelming."

The government announced this morning that live stock that had been abandoned in transit by the strikers and the horses, belonging to the railroad companies that had been left without attendance were being cared for by the authorities.

The commissioner of police has issued an appeal for all male citizens under forty to enroll as special police.

H. Thomas, leader of the railway strikers, in an interview last night stated that unless the newspapers changed their attitude towards the railway strikers the newspaper composers would strike.

ANXIOUS ABOUT 'BUSES'

London, Sept. 30.—Greater anxiety is felt by the people of London over the situation of the bus and tram services which will stop working today, the continuation of this service not being regarded very hopefully. Decision in the question depends immediately upon the Union of Transport Workers, which is one of the many organizations affiliated with the Transport Workers' Federation, but which is able to act independently. In the present instance, however, it is acting entirely under the advice of the Transport Workers' Federation, which in turn is co-operating closely with the National Union of Railwaymen.

Decision Today.

The executive committee of the Union of Licensed Vehicle Workers sat continuously for fourteen hours yesterday morning, adjourning until after midnight this morning. Announcement was made that the union had postponed action until today at the request of the Transport Workers' Federation to enable the latter to confer with officials of the National Union of Railwaymen.

Suburban residents, therefore, were able to use buses and tram cars to reach London this morning, but it is regarded as doubtful whether these means of conveyance will be available for the return trip, as it is believed a majority of the licensed vehicle workers favor a strike.

Employment of troops to protect railway property is being resented by strikers at some places, apparently through the fear that the soldiers may be used as strike-breakers.

Warning to Government.

Speakers at a meeting last night at Nunston, Warwickshire, warned the government that serious consequences would follow the employment of troops. Dock laborers at Newport, Monmouthshire, have threatened to strike if soldiers interfere with railwaymen.

The Herald, organ for labor, features what it describes as an "ominous movement of troops," and complains editorially that "everything is done to give an air of violence to what on the men's part is a peaceful, lawful movement for better wages."

Distribution of troops to various centres, with machine guns and many rounds of rifle ammunition, is reported, but there is nothing to indicate that it is nothing more than precautionary measures to protect depots and other property.

More Trains Today.

Congestion in railroad traffic caused by the strike is expected to be relieved today by the running of an increased number of trains.

Volunteer workmen are reported coming forward to run the trains, and the government has invited citizens to act as special constables in emergency.

Attempts to demoralize strikers occurred yesterday for the first time since the strike began, and two trains were stopped near Aberdeen. Minor incidents are reported at various other places.

Fixing Food Prices.

Government officials have issued regulations providing for price fixing and restricting the consumption of staple foods. Motor lorries are bringing milk and foodstuffs into the city, and a system of distribution has been worked out by the cabinet. Possession of all the transport machinery used during the war makes the government's task easier than had been expected.

Precautions in Ireland.

Dublin, Sept. 29.—Although the railway-strike has not become operative in Ireland, the Irish railroad executive have ordered that from Wednesday on only perishable goods and animals for immediate slaughter be accepted for transit.

No Strike if Ballot Taken.

London, Sept. 29.—Secretary Appleton of the General Federation of Trade Unions, interviewed by Reuters, said

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "do you remember the afternoon you let those cows into the street and they walked right through it to get at the best tops? The lines afterwards of clover I ever saw wasn't good enough for them, although the pasture they had left was poor."

Common Council To Take a Hand

THROUGHS ARE ARRIVING IN CINCINNATI

Every One of 35,000 Seats Sold Already

Intense Interest Being Shown in World's Series Which Opens Tomorrow—Rival Teams Ready For The Battle

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 30.—With the stage set for the opening of the world's series here tomorrow, Cincinnati assumed a gala appearance today as the throngs of visitors began to arrive to witness the initial struggles of the baseball classic. Hotel corridors were jammed to the limit, and the congregation grew greater as the day advanced, and the special trains began to arrive, while supporters of the Cincinnati club were concerned over the prospects of their favorites for victory in the first game, the all-important question on almost everybody's lips being: "Who has got an extra ticket?"

With every one of the 35,000 seats sold, the unlucky applicants for tickets were willing to pay almost any price for a seat for the opening game. If ticket speculators had any seats for sale, they did not advertise their wares. There were a few individuals, however, who demanded from $50 to $75 for a set of box seats for three games. The face value of these tickets was $16.50.

August Hermann, president of the Cincinnati club, declared that he never thought it was possible for so much interest in a world's series, and regretted that Redland Field did not have seating capacity of 50,000 instead of 35,000.

"We have not got a quarter enough seats," he said, "but we have done the best we could do to put a seat in every available space. I never saw so much interest and enthusiasm shown in a world's series as is being displayed in this one. If the interest is the same in Chicago, the series ought to surpass any ever fought between major league clubs."

Chicago Team on Hand
Members of the White Sox, under the leadership of Manager "Kid" Gleason arrived in Chicago early today and went directly to their hotel. The White Sox will take a light workout at Redland Field this afternoon, at the invitation of Pat Moran, manager of the Reds. The Reds also will have a light practice to keep their muscles limbered up.

All members of the Cincinnati club were reported to be in perfect condition, with the exception of Heinie Groh, the fiery captain and third baseman, whose broken finger is still bothering him to a certain extent. The injury, however, will not keep him from starting the series, and he hopes to be able to play all the way through.

While Manager Morris has not definitely picked his pitcher for tomorrow and did not care to make any official announcement, it is generally accepted that he will start with Walter Rucker or "Slim" Sallee. Sallee pitched two games against Chicago in the world's series of two years ago, and Moran believes that his style will give the White Sox most trouble.

That Eddie Cicotte, the pitching "ace" of the White Sox staff, will be Manager Gleason's selection for the opener is regarded as a certainty. The remarkable "knuckle ball" pitcher, with more than twenty-five victories to his credit this season, is reported to be primed to face the Reds in the initial combat.

Manager Gleason, however, expects to make no announcement of his selection until the time for starting the game tomorrow.

C. P. R. FIREMAN WAS BLOWN FROM HIS CAB

When a super-heated engine tube on a train on which he was working at McAdam blew out last night, John Costley, of West St. John, C. P. R. fireman, was blown through the window of his cab and painfully injured.

He was brought to the city on the Boston train this morning and met at the Union depot by the ambulance, in which he was taken to the General Public Hospital, accompanied by his sister, Miss Blanche Costley, professional nurse.

Mr. Costley has been in the service of the road for several years and many friends will regret to learn of his accident. It is feared his shoulder blade has been broken, but it is not known as yet whether he has sustained any internal injuries. He is a son of Conductor John Costley, also of the C. P. R.

MARKET WAS FIRM
New York, Sept. 30.—(Wall street)—Firmness which soon developed into pronounced strength attended the early dealings on the stock exchange today, despite yesterday's flurry in the money market. The steel group was hesitant at the outset, but soon hardened under the influence of another spectacular movement in Crucible Steel, which rose almost fourteen points to the new maximum of 244. Oil, motors, equipments, tobaccos and food shares registered gains of one to five points. American Can, Baldwin Locomotive and Central Leather representing the strongest issues in their respective groups. Initial gains were extended before the end of the first half hour.

FOUND A CHECK
A young boy named Walter Hughes of Brussels street, found a check for $7.50 payable to the Teamsters' and Chauffeurs' Union and signed by Edwin Marshall, treasurer of the City Employees' Service League in St. Patrick street this morning. He brought the check to city hall where it was handed over to John Goodrich who is returning it to the owner.

FOR FIRST TRIP
Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley and Premier Foster will be among the passengers on the first train over the St. John Valley Railway tomorrow.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN
EXTRAORDINARY FILM
FEATURE TOMORROW

"Destiny" Starring Dorothy Phillips
Another Big Universal Picture

Dorothy Phillips' first Jewel picture since the memorable "Heart of Humanity" will be seen tomorrow and Thursday at the Imperial Theatre. It is called "Destiny" and it is based on a widely-read novel by Charles Neville Buck, the noted author. "Destiny" presents several novelties. In the first place, the leading man, William Stowell, is Miss Phillips' brother-in-law, the noted author. The latter part being played by Harry Hilliard, once Theda Bara's leading man. In the second place, the picture presents parallel lines of action, starting from the same point and arriving at widely separated conclusions, as in the stage technique of such present-day playwrights as Max March, Fausel Shipman and Channing Pollock. "Destiny" in its main line of progress, shows the results of Stowell's over-weening lust for power and determination to conquer the world. This ambition, presented in a laudable light at first, is gradually transformed into an evil thing, which wrecks the lives of those dearest to him, and his own. Then the alternative development of the theme is shown. The production is another of the supravative Universal productions.

A monster sunfish, weighing almost 2000 pounds, was brought in to Santa Catalina by Van Campen Helmer of Spring Lake, N. J. The huge fish was sighted several miles off Avalon and was harpooned by Mr. Helmer. So great was the fish that it was impossible to weigh it. Attempts to raise it to the deck of the steamer pier failed owing to the fact that the block and tackle were unable to carry such a load.

In Fredericton Today and Will Arrive Here Tonight—Series Fire in Oromocto

(Special to The Times)

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 30—Registration of women for the provincial election lists went on more rapidly this morning in Fredericton. Some forty were registered, but there was no indication that women in general are displaying any great interest in registering. Shortly before noon today the Fredericton authorities notified that a serious fire had broken out at Oromocto and that help was urgently wanted. A party of firemen was gathered and sent to the threatened village. Parties of citizens also went by motor. Oromocto had a serious fire a year ago last spring in which several buildings were destroyed. The report from Oromocto is that the fire broke out shortly after eleven o'clock in the saw mill of the River Valley Lumber Company, which is a large mill, also owned by the same firm. The fire was blowing and the fire was soon beyond control. The mill yard, containing a large quantity of saw lumber, also caught fire and shortly after noon both were destroyed. The flames then broke into the village, fire starting at Kelly's Hotel, McElroy's and other places with little hope of saving the village. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association party en route to St. John arrived here at noon and is meeting local members of the association. Its members will be entertained at a motor drive and dinner at Mouth of Keswick and will go to St. John this evening. Night classes in vocational subjects opened last night; 189 enrolled with others to come.

MANSLAUGHTER CASE AGAIN BEFORE COURT

A case against Robert Hickey, who is charged with manslaughter, was resumed in the police court this morning. Dr. G. O. Baxter was called and took the stand, testifying that he examined the body of Marion Crawford at her father's summer residence, Loch Lomond, on August 24. He said she was in a semi-conscious condition, suffering from shock. She had a broken nose, a swelling on the side of the head and a cut on the leg. The doctor said she was removed to the general hospital and died on September 1, from the effects of the accident or shock she received. Dr. H. L. Abramson, provincial pathologist, told of making an examination of the body in the morgue at the General Public Hospital. Dr. Abramson read his report of the post-mortem examination, and said, in his opinion the primary cause of the girl's death was the fracture of the skull. Alexander Crawford and Frank McBriarty also gave evidence of witnessing the accident, and the case was postponed.

FIND DRY LAW GREAT BENEFIT

Toronto, Sept. 30—That prohibition has brought many benefits to British Columbia in the two years in which it has been in force is the view of George Bell, M. P., of Victoria, B. C., who has come to Toronto to speak in favor of it in Ontario for the referendum committee. He gave a brief statement of its results in an interview with a representative of the Globe. "The consensus of opinion is that it has been an unqualified success," he said. "There has been some difficulties in the enforcement of the law but these are due to weaknesses in the act and can be remedied."

Three Jails Closed

"In many cases old accounts that were no good have been paid, the volume of business has increased and drunkenness and crime have been reduced greatly. As a result of prohibition three of the provincial jails have been closed." Referring to the patriotic efforts during the war, and the subscriptions to the Victory Loan of 1918, Mr. Bell said that they had been notified by him that the cabinet was again discussing a settlement of the Irish problem during the present week. The blockade of Germany which was threatened by the Allies this week for a rest of probably a month or so. Major-General Graves, commander of American forces in Siberia, has demanded an apology from General Rusanoff, in command of Russian troops in Primor province, for the arrest of two Americans, Captain L. P. Johns and Corporal Benjamin Sperling, and the flagging of the latter by Cossacks commanded by General Kalnikoff. The shutting off of British coal from Italy because of the railway strike in Great Britain in which notice was given by the British government yesterday, will be seriously felt in that country. Tom, W. J. Bowser, former premier of British Columbia, was unanimously chosen as leader of the Conservative party of British Columbia at the conclusion last night of the first provincial party convention held since 1914. The Flume issue will be laid before the Italian people on November 16, together with other matters on which the government wishes to obtain a mandate. Parliament was dissolved yesterday and will be reassembled on December 1. Convicted of several charges, members of the crew of the American barkentine Puako, Captain O. O. Pedersen and his two sons, were sentenced to six months in New York penitentiary and his sons to six months in a local prison.

CONDENSED NEWS

Notwithstanding the strike, the British government intends to keep the Irish question to the fore, and it is expected the cabinet will discuss a settlement of the Irish problem during the present week. The blockade of Germany which was threatened by the Allies this week for a rest of probably a month or so. Major-General Graves, commander of American forces in Siberia, has demanded an apology from General Rusanoff, in command of Russian troops in Primor province, for the arrest of two Americans, Captain L. THE STEEL STRIKE

The inclusion of the Bethlehem Steel Company's plant into the strike area has so far only resulted in broadening the scope of the conflicting claims of the opposing sides. The nine-day of the great struggle opened with the situation on all the fronts virtually unchanged, officials issuing their customary statement that more men were returning to work and union leaders countering with the equally customary assertion that the strike was spreading and victory certain.

MILK STRIKE GO UP

At a meeting of the St. John milk dealers and delegates from the Kings County Milk Producers Association here last evening, it was decided to advance the price of milk to fifteen cents a quart, Wednesday, on account of the intention of the milk producers to advance their price.

WOMEN ORGANIZE TO GET NAMES ON VOTERS' LISTS

City Will Be Canvassed Thoroughly Under Direction of Womens' Council—Twenty New Justices of Peace to Aid in Registration

That the Local Women's Council shall leave no stone unturned in an effort to have every woman listed in the city in order that they may use their franchise in future elections was evinced in the Imperial Theatre this morning. The women thoroughly canvassed the city has been mapped out by the local Women's Suffrage Association. Mrs. F. E. Holmes was in charge of the meeting and assigned the various captains and their associates to sections in the various wards throughout the city. Fifty members of the Daughters of the Empire started out this morning with other helpers, who are in societies affiliated with the Local Women's Council. They were each given a large number of cards and their duties are to visit the homes in their allotted districts, distribute the cards and also assist the women to fill them in. By this system it is expected that the city will be thoroughly canvassed and that the work of registering the women will be greatly simplified. In order to facilitate the work of registering women for their franchise in the next provincial election, twenty new justices of the peace have been appointed for the city. The appointments will be published in the Royal Gazette today and the new J. P.'s will begin their duties today. The list is as follows:— U. H. Miller, 78 Douglas avenue; Joseph W. McLean, 20 Victoria street; Frank Watson, 424 Douglas avenue; George S. Bishop, 121 Wright street; Robert T. Quinn, 47 Main street; Oscar Merrill, 101 Adelaide street; Arthur S. MARINE NOTES

Forty-one days from Liverpool, the term schooner Truro Queen arrived at Halifax on Friday after much anxiety. The Truro Queen is a new schooner launched a year ago by McKay and McLellan of New York. Her owners also are the builders of the schooner and her first trip was to Buenos Ayres, thence to Liverpool. She brought a cargo of salt to Halifax. Captain McLean says that he encountered gales nearly all the way from Liverpool, thus delaying his vessel.

VIRTUOUS MODEL A TREMENDOUS HIT

The Star Theatre sprung somewhat of a surprise on its patrons last evening when Pierre Wolff's great drama "The Gutter" was presented in motion pictures under the title of "The Virtuous Model." Although hundreds were turned away last evening, it will be impossible to hold this picture over until Wednesday, therefore it would be advisable to attend early tonight. First show at 6:45 old time.

MAY OPEN BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

Following the announcement yesterday that a room would be opened in the Buerge House in Barpee avenue to relieve the overcrowding in St. Peter's and St. Vincent's comes the news that the Sisters of Charity who purchased the Buerge House during the summer are planning the opening of a girls' boarding school there next year. Although plans have not been perfected, it is understood that the sisters are considering the project. The location of the house and its accommodation will make it particularly well adapted to such an undertaking and should be a profitable acquisition to the educational facilities in the city.

Fred Wigmore of Newwood, Mass., returned home on Saturday, after spending a week with his sister, Mrs. J. D. Somerville, 224 Prince William street.
Mrs. A. F. Webb of 93 Britain street, and her niece, Miss Pearl and Miss Patricia Quinn of Park avenue, East St. John, returned on Saturday after a visit to their aunt, Mrs. John Mitchell, in Providence, R. I.
Alexander Christie, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. N. Baker motored to St. Stephen for each alternate week. This procedure is still carried on and the Atlantic has been paying thirty-five cents per hour as against thirty-two and a half cents per hour and thirty-four cents per hour in other Canadian refiners for eleven and thirteen hours.

FUTURE OF THE GOVERNMENT MAY BE DECIDED SOON

Depends Largely on Course Agreed Upon at Caucus of Liberal Unionists—A Minority But Essential to Administration

(Special to Times)
Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 30—As a preliminary to the general Unionist caucus which has been switched to Wednesday and may possibly be deferred, the Liberal Unionist members will have a caucus today followed in all probability by a caucus of the Conservative Unionist members tomorrow. Official announcements of these caucuses went out to the member interested but the movements are developed spontaneously from among the members, who felt that they should have an opportunity of hearing the plans and programme which Sir Robert Borden has in view to decide whether they can give their adherence and if not how they can modify or change the programme to suit the views of those whom they represent. The Liberal Unionists are greatly outnumbered by the Conservative Unionist members but they are not disposed to accept policies on a majority vote basis unless it also happens that there is a majority for it amongst themselves.

Statement of the men, as issued by F. A. Campbell, last night, follows: "After a week's negotiations during which all possible efforts were made to avoid a strike it was decided to advise refinery workers to go out at 12 o'clock, midnight. The company are holding out, and will not get to meet the decline of the price which was about ten cents per hour over and above all scales now being paid and an eight hour day."
The committee of the union met the manager of the refinery last night and offered to leave men employed in the refinery until the matter was settled and all the machinery had been cared for. This offer was refused by the management. In case of loss of damage to the machinery which was caused by the clean the men claim that they will not be to blame as they offered every protection and were refused.
The employees suggested a board of conciliation but claimed that the company would not agree to stand by the offer if the men were to accept it. The company offered an increase of five cents per hour but the men would not agree to this.
The strike is being carried on by the American Federation of Labor. The department at Washington and the O. C. officials of the union said last night that 440 men affiliated with the A. F. of L., the Union 2808, Sugar Refinery Workers were affected by the strike.

COMPANY'S STATEMENT

The company's side as presented by F. G. O'Grady, general manager, follows: "During the last two weeks we have had conferences with our employees regarding the question of hours of labor and rates of wages and upon which up to the present time we have been unable to reach a mutual understanding. Our employees have demanded an eight-hour day with a minimum wage rate of forty-five cents per hour for common labor. After giving the most careful consideration to these questions and constantly having in mind its obligations and responsibilities to the public interests, the company has decided to accept the offer of the company, the question of the appointment of a conciliation board under the act governing industrial disputes was considered and promptly agreed to by the company but when it developed that the employees refused to be bound by the finding of the conciliation board and at the same time demanded that the company be so bound it became impossible to continue the negotiations. The company is still desirous of the appointment of a conciliation board. A few words of explanation are due to the public in order that they may be familiar with the situation. When the Atlantic Sugar Refiners Ltd. commenced business it was the custom in the United States and Canada to work in sugar refineries two shifts of eleven and thirteen hours. The public interests, its employees and its investors and shareholders, the company has offered its employees an eight-hour day and a minimum wage rate of forty cents per hour for common labor."
"The employees having definitely declined to accept the offer of the company, the question of the appointment of a conciliation board under the act governing industrial disputes was considered and promptly agreed to by the company but when it developed that the employees refused to be bound by the finding of the conciliation board and at the same time demanded that the company be so bound it became impossible to continue the negotiations. "The executive and directors of the company, however, desire to consider things possible to better the working conditions of their employes but if the employes themselves adopt an attitude that will make it impossible to operate the refinery, the plant if necessary will be closed down until such time as labor is again available."

THE STRIKES.

Unless the transport workers strike the British railway strike seems to be moving toward an early failure. If the press reports are to be relied on the great mass of the people are on the side of the government. The bitter attitude of Secretary Thomas of the Railway Men's Union would seem to be that of a man who is by no means sure of success.

OUR FALLING TRADE.

A statement of Canada's imports was incorrectly set down in a paragraph in yesterday's Times-Star. A statement just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics sets out a number of significant facts. In the first place, the total value of imports for the last three years, each ending with August, was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Value. 1917: $996,186,946; 1918: $922,857,959; 1919: $732,925,081.

Thus the imports for the last year were over $25,000,000 less than two years ago. The imports from the United States, which in 1917 were valued at $818,085,457, or nearly as much as the total from all countries last year, fell to $693,044,981; those from the United Kingdom fell from $99,950,178 to $76,558,348; those from the West Indies from $14,395,778 to $10,338,720; those from France from $5,961,688 to $4,484,194.

The board of commerce has ordered a reduction in the price of pork and hog products for consumption in Canada. The packers are out with an assertion that the thing cannot be done, without destroying the hog-raising and pork-packing industry. Will the board of commerce stick to its guns?

The meeting in the Imperial this afternoon to form a musical club and arrange for high class concerts is one that should appeal to all music lovers in the city. Too little attention is given to musical culture, and every effort to arouse a more general interest deserves hearty support.

The health of Sir Robert Borden apparently does not improve. This is a matter for universal regret. It also complicates the political situation. The Unionist caucus has been further postponed, but meantime the Liberal Unionists are to take counsel together.

BACK TO WORK. I am back from my vacation, rested up and full of vim, back from weeks of recreation in the forest vast and dim; towering mountains I've ascended, hunting cougars to their lairs, and I found the fishing splendid, and I shot some grizzly bears. You poor dreary humdrum critter, never moving from the grade just sit down and start me twittering the bully time I had. Where the mountain brooks go sailing down the gorges to the sea, I caught perch and trout and grayling two feet long—some even three. And I shot a golden eagle that was roosting on a hill; such a bird's turn round and the shooting takes some skill. It's a deal I hold before you—I detached it from its map; what you say my stories bore you, and you wish I'd stop? That's the way I'm always treated when I try to entertain; that's the way I come back full of stories of the wondrous things I saw, of the forest and its glories. I am asked to reef my jaw. What's the good of a vacation if a man, when he comes back, cannot hand the population all the fables in his pack?

CANADA—EAST AND WEST. Dominion Happenings of Other Days. THE DEFEAT OF GENERAL CARLETON. During the War of Independence the revolting colonies that later became the United States of America had naturally very envious eyes upon the British domain along the St. Lawrence. Quebec and Montreal in particular they were very anxious to capture. So when some Indian chiefs came to the camp of General Washington and told him that the Canadian Indians would assist in the fighting, he commissioned some of his officers who had long desired such an expedition to invade the British territory. Chamblay was soon taken and the investment of St. Johns began, but although the garrison was suffering terrible hardships, Major Preston refused to consider a proposal that he surrender to the enemy.

IN LIGHTER VEIN. A Domestic Fable. "With the return of so many pre-war comforts," said Mr. Gibbons, "travelling is once more a possibility." He waited till his words to sink into the minds of other travellers in the dining car. He was very fond of the limelight. Then he turned again to his wife and six-year-old daughter. "Come, Miriam," he said, grinning, "having dined, let us return to our carriage." The good lady collected her wraps and her bag and her gloves and her handkerchief, but her little girl hung back. "Oh, mother!" she cried, "aren't we going to wash up the dishes?"

To Much For Her. It was Jane's day out with Susan, and she was comparing notes with Susan, from a neighboring house. "So I hear you've left that artist," Susan said. "Yes, indeed," remarked Sarah Jane. "I couldn't stand the missus, insults. I hadn't been there a day when she said to me, 'Sarah Jane,' she says, 'when you're dusting off my studio you must be very careful not to touch the old master. It's worth hundreds of pounds,' she says. Well, that got my temper up proper. 'Excuse me ma'am,' says I, 'but I've got a young man of my own and I don't want any older master, not if he is worth millions.'"

Are you going to Centerville tomorrow, over the Valley Railway? "What do you intend to say in your next lecture?" "The same thing in different language. That lecture is so profound that nobody is expected to understand it at the first hearing."

HAS CIVILIZATION FAILED? Social conditions as observed in the Old Country moved the heart and pen of a recent writer to say: "The living in their houses, and in their graves the dead, are challenged by every babe that dies of inanition, by every girl that flies the sweater's den to the nightly promenade of Piccadilly, by every worker-out taller that plunges into the canal. The food this managing class eats, the wine it drinks, the shows it makes, and the fine clothes it wears, are challenged by 8,000,000 mouths which have never and enough to fill them, and by twice 8,000,000 bodies which have been sufficiently clothed and housed. There can be no mistake. Civilization has increased man's producing power an hundred fold; yet through mismanagement the men of civilization live worse than the beasts, and have less to eat and wear and protect them from the elements than the savage in a frigid climate who lives today as he lived in the stone age 10,000 years ago."

THIS SOLDIER HAS NO USE FOR BOOZE. "Run nearly" won the war—not for the Allies, but for Germany," said Corporal Jack Ward, in the course of an address at the meeting held in St. David's Presbyterian church last evening under the auspices of the referendum committee. The corporal told an incident at Passchendaele where men were incapacitated through having taken too much drink. He said that the only time he received any benefit from rum at the front was on a cold wet night, when he slept in a dugout and had discovered the corner of a tin of rum. "I was going to take a drink, but I saw the bottle was empty. I was very angry, but I saw the bottle was empty. I was very angry, but I saw the bottle was empty."

DISCOVERS COMET. A comet of the eighth magnitude is speeding nearer to the earth at such a high rate of speed that it will become visible to the naked eye just as the Harvard endowment fund campaign for $15,250,000 ends in October according to Dr. Joel H. Metcalf, chairman of the visiting board of Harvard University, Cambridge, Dr. Metcalf announced today that he had discovered the comet at South Hero, Vermont, on Aug. 20 when it was approximately Right Ascension 22 hours 48 minutes west of Greenwich with a declination of 25 degrees north. At present it is very near the sun but is traveling at a high rate of speed on a northerly course and within two weeks will be very near the north star. Oct. 16 it will be approximately 44,000,000 miles from the earth when it will be four times brighter than it is now and may even become a "brilliant" comet.

Police Magistrate of the City of Saint John. Please do not forget that every infringement of City By-Laws; of Provincial Laws, and Federal Enactments, come before the City Police Court, either a case to be tried, or as matters in a preliminary way. Every indictable offence including murder, have to come before me as Police Magistrate in a preliminary examination. Police Magistrates in other cities, with out the extended jurisdiction like Civil and Juvenile Courts, receive much higher salaries than I do. Judge House, presides over the Court for Traffic cases in Manhattanville, told me last month that his salary was twice as large as mine. The higher cost of living argues applies to me as well as to other civic officials. Respectfully submitted, ROBERT J. BITCHIE.

Pelts Numbering 1,320,000,000 Were Disposed Of

NEW RECORDS AT ST. LOUIS

Volume of Sales Twelve Times Greater Than Three Years Ago. With 600 Buyers From All Parts of World in The Bidding

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Sept. 21.)
The largest fur sale the world has ever known ended at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the doors were closed at the offices and display rooms of Furs and Fur Exchange. The astounding total of $15,000,000 was received during the sale for a collection of pelts that was gathered from the Antipodes to the equator and from the equator to the Arctic circle. Sables and chipmunks, the one representing hundreds of dollars the pelt and the other a few cents, each found contending bids and appreciative buyers. More than 1,320,000,000 pelts, including the Australian and New Zealand rabbits, which average about ten to the pound, were sold. The Australian and New Zealand rabbits being the single exception to the accepted order of selling by the pelt, irrespective of size or weight. Sealskins from Alaska and rabbits from New Zealand, white fox from the Yukon territory and red fox from Australia; foxes from Japan, Patagonia, the Balkan territories and war-stricken areas; foxes from Texas and from Siberia; from Macedonia and New York were listed in the sales catalogue. House-cats and mountain lions appeared side by side in the catalogue. Mules and monkeys, representing the under-ground and upper air; Polar bears from beyond the Arctic Circle and tigers from the tropics, lay alongside each other in the warehouse shelves. And the buyers, assembled to bid on this marvelous collection—they came from well-nigh as many quarters of the globe as did the furs themselves. Buyers from Australia, New Zealand, the Argentine, Japan, Siberia, London, Paris, Amsterdam, Lodz (Poland), Russia, Sweden and even Italy sent a representative to the international fur sales at St. Louis.

It was said that an appreciable number of foreign orders executed by local bankers were for German hoods, but there is no doubt that France, Sweden, London and Switzerland also sent a substantial number of orders, in addition to those placed by representatives who had traveled thousands of miles to be present in person at the sales.

7,000 Russian Sables.
Perhaps the highest testimony to the dominance of the St. Louis market in the estimation of world-wide fur buyers was the presence of over 7,000 Russian sables, many of them sold for a substantial price. The Russian sables, that quality formerly reserved for the then imperial family of all the Russias. Seldom, indeed, practically never, did such quality sables get out of Russia except as a gift from the reigning sovereign to the representative of some other government. Today the American woman can buy them on Fifth avenue, on Michigan boulevard, on the leading shopping thoroughfare of any important city clear across this continent. Sold raw, the choicest brought $1,200 each, and a collection of ninety sables sold for an average of over $500 each. A tidy fortune for some one.

One little canvas-covered and sewed box came through from Irkutsk, Siberia, a box about two feet long by two feet high and perhaps a foot wide; and this precious package was insured for $800,000. It was filled with Russian sables—and not such a great number of them at that. Australia alone got over $1,000,000 returns from her fur sales during the fall sale. The United States government profited just about $1,000,000. One Siberian agricultural association sold furs to the amount of practically another $1,000,000, and invested the resulting profits in agricultural machinery, shoes, clothing and other manufactured goods for shipment to Siberia. Canadian fur shippers found most profitable transactions in St. Louis, and shippers from every state in the Union announced themselves as well satisfied with the conditions prevailing here.

Home Furs in Demand.
Home furs, as well as foreign furs, found due appreciation—and that financially, too—at the hands of both domestic and foreign buyers. The transcendental flight of muskrat—as a petically inclined buyer phrased it—was subject for conversation wherever and whenever two fur men got together. From the fifty cents of a few seasons ago to an average of around $3 a piece—what though one exceptionally large and heavily furred lot did go to $5.10 apiece—has the muskrat steadily mounted; until now the buyers fear that the public will not pay the high price for the "rats" as they call them when they are sheared, plucked and dyed, to be presented under the guise of mink and uphony of Hudson seal.

In these days of change and industrial unrest, it is good to note that the high prices paid in the $15,000,000 sale were paid about equally by home and foreign buyers. That high prices prevail is taken that the financial state of the country is satisfactory, in open market competition no man pays any more for goods than he sees surely coming back in trade. That $115 a pelt for government sealskins, $1,200 a pelt for Russian sable, $44.50 apiece for beaver, $6.10 for muskrat—and these prices represent the ultimate cream of each offering mentioned; and must not be taken as the average selling price by any means—but that such prices can be and are paid in open market is sure announcement that the fur trade is on a sound and stabilized basis.

The Very Latest Thing

In Ladies' Umbrellas can be seen amongst the new season's models which have just arrived. To attempt to describe all the styles would be an injustice to the complete selection. Sufficient to say that all the new modes are, fancies in the matter of handles are included in the selection, with trimmings of gold, sterling silver and bakelite. The shades come in a generous assortment of colors, featuring many exclusive effects not seen elsewhere.

The Man's Umbrella, of course, always has been more for utility than appearance, but even in these, one or two novelties are observed.

Walking Canes for both ladies and gentlemen are also part of a showing which is distinctly up-to-date.

Paris Declares This is a Season of Brown for Outer Apparel

Is it not the most natural thing to adopt brown suits and coats for the autumn, when the leaves are turning russet brown, when country gardens are full of old-fashioned brown-gold, zinnias, and florists' windows are full of new-fashioned yell-brown chrysanthemums?

There is first the favorite of the season, Faisan brown, colored and named after the pheasant, with a richness and warmth like, nothing so much as the brown of its wings.

Next, perhaps, in popularity is Maduro, the soft and harmonizing shade of the ripe tobacco leaf.

Then there is Cordovan, a dusky brown inspired by the leather effected in shoes.

There are satisfying Mocha and Reindeer browns for the conventional, sumptuous Moose brown for the luxuriously inclined. Bronze brown for the practical, and for those who like novelty, the Beaver shade.

The variety of models, fabrics and shades of brown makes possible a particular suit or coat for every woman and miss.

SMALL ORCHARDS ARE DISAPPEARING

(Toronto Globe.) A few weeks ago a prediction was made in the Country Life Department of the Globe that apple growing in the near future would largely be confined to commercial growers, that is, to men who make a specialty of producing apples only. The following extracts from a United States bulletin on commercial apple industry in the United States would seem to verify this prediction: For a long period of years the census has been showing the total number of...

HORSES, ETC.

BEARING AND NON-BEARING trees and also total production, but no distinction was made between the trees in home orchards and those in commercial orchards. When the census figures would show a decline in the total production many people took this as a strong recommendation for planting. As a matter of fact, when the census was showing a decline in total production there were at times actual increases in commercial production. In other words, while the production from the old farm orchards throughout the middle west and the eastern states was rapidly decreasing, there were springing up in the far west and elsewhere highly intensive regions which were increasing the commercial production very materially. Commercial Production Increased. In 1917 the western boxed apple crop produced in Colorado and states west amounted to nearly 40 per cent of the total commercial apple production of the United States. For the past three years western production has approximated one-third of the total commercial crop, yet twenty years ago western production was practically negligible. When we consider the enormous commercial increase in the west, a pronounced increase in the commercial production in the Shenandoah-Cumberland region of Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania, the improved facilities and attention given generally to the distribution, storage and handling of commercial apples, it must be apparent that our commercial apple production has been steadily increasing, particularly during the past ten years. However, if we turn to records of the total production, which make no distinction between commercial and non-commercial apples, we find that in total production the crop of 1896 was one of the largest ever harvested, 77,538,000 barrels, as compared with the record production of 1914, 84,400,000 barrels. The point is that during the last twenty years commercial apple growing has made vast strides, while the home orchards have been declining.

REDUCING LIVING COST

The cost of living in the United States is being reduced to a certain extent by a greater use of flour. According to estimates of the United States Grain Corporation, the consumption of wheat flour in that country has increased almost 15 per cent, or 3,000,000 barrels in the past seventy days. This goes to indicate that housewives are effecting a more direct saving in household expenditures by eating more bread and less of the higher-priced foods. This has been advocated for some time in the United States. A bulletin on the wheat flour movement says that the past week was the first time since early in July when wheat deliveries from farms have been less than for the corresponding week last year. This fall in deliveries is said to be wholly due to the fact that more than 50,000,000 bushels have left the farm in excess of the total quantity for the same period last year. The increase in flour consumption is confirmed by a sharp fall in the price of replaced foods. Lard is away down, and edible oils show declines. Condensed and evaporated milk does not show the usual autumn tendency to rise.

UNSCIENTIFIC, UNSOUND, UNFAIR, IMPRACTICABLE

Some of the Terms Applied by Packers to Board of Commerce Action in Ordering Reduction in Bacon Prices

Toronto, Sept. 29.-The packers tonight issued the following statement regarding the order of the board of commerce promulgated today is, on the face of it, impracticable.

"The implication of it is: (a)-That packers are at present selling product at prices which would permit reduction of two cents to fifteen cents per pound without loss; or, (b) that the board, without regard to the actual cost of the product, arbitrarily imposes the reduction."

"Meats now being sold are the product of hogs bought in the past two months, during which live hog prices advanced throughout the world to the highest level in history. At present prices these meats are showing heavy losses. In regard to this loss, packers desire no sympathy. It is a phase of the business which they must meet in every year's operations."

"The actual facts are that in its most prosperous year the profits of the packing industry in Canada were less than one-half cent per pound of product sold. The order assumes to fix selling prices of products on the basis of market prices in March, regardless of and ignorant as to whether these prices will return cost or not."

"The action of the board has been taken after a superficial inquiry without conference with the trade, and without any opportunity being afforded of presenting the packer's case."

"Not only does the order assume to fix present prices on an unfair basis, but it enacts a basis of continued fixing of prices which is unscientific and unsound, and would necessitate the operation of all plants at a continual loss."

"If left to take a normal course, prices of products will decline in keeping with the lower tendency of live hogs, but without the demoralization of the trade and of the live hog industry, to the detriment of the entire country, which must inevitably result from the enforcement of such ill-considered regulation."

LEATHER TRADE BUSY

In discussing the hide and leather situation, dealers point out that the big advances in the price of shoes are not wholly caused by the price of leather. They claim that the main item is labor. They think that the increased value of labor is responsible for approximately two-thirds of the advances. The leather situation does not show much change, dealers still claiming to be under-selling the leather market, which remains firm. A good demand is apparent, factories are exceptionally busy, and the fact that they are sold away shows tends to show that there is no let-up in the buying of leather goods. Hides are, if anything, a little weaker.

MANY EGGS EXPORTED

In the past seven months 64,853 cases of eggs, or 1,930,650 dozen, have been exported from Canada. The month of May saw the largest exportation, when 18,223 cases were shipped. The present month is well on its way to equal that record, as up to September 29, 13,122 cases had been shipped. The following figures give the exports by months: March, 7,620 cases; April, 8,495; May, 18,223; June, 6,489; July, 8,345; August, 8 to September 6, 7,445, and September 7 to 20, 13,122. On September 1 there were 13,121,807 dozen eggs in cold storage in Canada. There were 502,890 dozen eggs

Why the Discount on the Canadian Dollar?

The current issue of Investment Items is devoted to a readable explanation of Foreign Exchange, with particular reference to the present American and Sterling Exchange situations.

Among other things, it explains why the Canadian dollar is worth only about 96 cents in payment of American goods. It indicates also how this discount can be overcome.

The issue is of timely interest to business men and investors.

LUDLOW STREET Y P S.

Last evening in the Ludlow street Baptist church, West End, the Young People's Society listened to a very interesting address by Rev. David Hutchinson, D. D., on Canadian Baptist Missionary Work in Telegu, India; and Bolivia, South America. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the speaker at the close of his address. During the meeting a very pleasing solo was rendered by Mrs. Peter McArthur, who has just come to Canada from Glasgow, Scotland, to join her husband, Rev. Peter McArthur, pastor of the North Head Baptist Church, Grand Manan.

R. R. CONDUCTOR OUT WITH FACTS Suffered From Indigestion and Rheumatism—Found No Relief Until He Took Tanlac.

One of the most noteworthy features in connection with the introduction of Tanlac in Canada has been the large number of railroad men who have been benefited by its use. Prominent department officials, conductors, engineers, office clerks, in fact, men representing practically every branch of the service, have reported that they have used Tanlac with the most surprising and gratifying results.

One of the latest to testify is Charles McDonald, residing at 685 Stella avenue, Winnipeg. Mr. McDonald has been conductor on the Canadian Pacific railroad for a number of years and is popular with all who know him.

"Not in years," said Mr. McDonald, in a conversational way, "have I enjoyed such good health or felt so well generally as I do since taking Tanlac. Before taking it I was suffering, and had been for several years, with stomach trouble, indigestion and rheumatism. I had no appetite at all and my stomach was in such a bad condition that I could not eat as much in a week as a child can eat in one day. I was told I had acute indigestion but no medicine gave me any relief. There was a terrible burning in my stomach all the time and after what little I did manage to eat my chest and throat would fill up so with sour gas that I could hardly get a good breath, and my heart would palpitate so from the pressure of this gas that it felt like it would jump out of my body. I came home from work one day in such a bad condition that I really thought I was going to die. I suffered almost continuously with an awful pain across my kidneys and in my shoulders and left arm, and the pain in that arm was so bad sometimes I could hardly use it. I felt tired and worn-out all the time and had no life or energy.

"One day a friend put me onto Tanlac and I had not taken more than half of the first bottle until my appetite was so good that I could get up in the night and eat a hearty meal. I can now eat just anything I want, at any time, and never suffer a particle with gas, sour stomach, shortness of breath or palpitation. There's not a sign of soreness in my back any more and the rheumatism has left my shoulders and arm entirely. I sleep like a rock at night and get up in the morning feeling fine and brimful of new life and energy. I have picked up several pounds in weight and have never felt better in my life. I have had to recommend Tanlac now for I believe I am telling the people about a medicine that will help them."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—(Adv't.)

Prerogatives Held to Walvis London, Sept. 30.—Walvis, on the coast of Southwest Africa, is said to be the sandest place in the world. A writer in a local paper finishes his description of Walvis thus: "Some one who had only been in Walvis for a few days was asked on his return home, 'What do you think of it?' His reply was: 'If I owned hell and Walvis and had to sell one of them, I would sell Walvis.'"

10 Per Cent. of Mutuals Paris, Sept. 30.—The followers of the racing game are finding it a little harder than ever to "beat the game" in France this season. The pari-mutuels are paying 2 per cent. less than they did in pre-war days. Instead of taking only 8 per cent. from the total wagered the officials are debiting 10 per cent. on all tracks where the mutual system is used.

PRINCE OF WALES MET FRIENDS OF PETTICOAT DAYS

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 25.—The Prince of Wales met three old Scots Guards in Victoria who had known him in his petticoat infancy, Sgt. J. MacKenzie; Pte. T. Watson and Pte. P. Connolly. All were six footers, imposing in the red coats bonnets and kilts of the 60th Gordon Highlanders.

All were veterans of this last war and other wars. Sgt. MacKenzie in 1894 had the honor of being included in the well-known photograph of four generations of British Royalty, the late Queen Victoria, the late King Edward, the present King and the Prince of Wales.

"Many times I saw him kneeling on the east terrace of Windsor Castle," declared Sgt. MacKenzie. "A pretty little baby he was too, in his long clothes." "This is the first time he has saluted me," said Pte. Connolly. "It was the reverse in the old days. I always had to present arms when I saw him coming along, and I remember well how his nurse used to make him pull off his little cap and turn the salute."

The beautiful lawns of the Parliament Buildings and Government stairs were crowded with people to witness the civic reception of the Prince. A day of glorious sunshine favored the event, blue-jacket cadets, red-coated mounted police, nurses in white caps and aprons, Gordon Highlanders, flower girls and Daughters of the Empire grouped round the fountain in the middle of the carrying Union Jacks, made the scene from the buildings one full of color. A group of school children waved flags and cheered without ceasing.

Premier John Oliver and Mayor Porter read provincial and civic addresses from the steps of the Parliament buildings, to which the Prince replied.

After inspecting the veterans he walked across the lawn, laid the foundation stone of the Victoria Memorial Statue, during the process he was simply plastered with flowers, which made a carpet for him on his return trip.

Give Dog's Picture Just as he was descending the steps a little girl stepped up with a white Pomeranian dog in her arms which she presented him, telling him she had collected $200 for the G. W. V. A. The Prince seemed so interested that she gave him a big photograph of the dog, which he accepted, gravely shaking her hand.

Later the Prince held a reception in the Legislative Chambers, a sober, dignified room, where it seemed somewhat incongruous to hear the orchestra playing "Johnnies in Town" and other dance ditties.

The Victoria people certainly did themselves proud with their bows and curtsies. There was a dignity and a qualified correctness about their obligations. The Prince did not shake hands, but merely saluted.

ARRANGEMENTS FINALLY MADE FOR UNVEILING

The quarterly meeting of the Municipal Chapter of the I. O. D. E. held yesterday afternoon in the government rooms with the regent, Mrs. Hugh MacKay presiding, was a most auspicious one. The order in making final arrangements for the unveiling of its memorial to fallen soldiers which will take place in Fernhill cemetery this afternoon expressed much gratification that this should be the first result of the co-operation of the various chapters in the city. A communication was received from the Duke of Rothesay Chapter in which that chapter asked to be allowed to contribute its share towards the memorial and the offer was accepted with thanks.

A New Blood-Food Has Been Discovered That Works Wonders SAID TO PUT NEW LIFE INTO PEOPLE THAT ARE RUN-DOWN.

For years doctors have been searching for a combination that would enable them to inject into thin blood the elements it lacked. This can now be done, and any weak-blooded person can quickly be made strong and well.

Already a small army of ailing people has proved the merit of taking after each meal with a sip or two of water, two chocolate-coated Perozone Tablets. This is easily done, and even one week's use of this wonderful blood-food will prove how nourishing and strengthening and flesh-building the treatment is.

Just think of it—Perozone uplifts the entire nervous system, removes the blood, makes it rich and red—gives the sort of aid that's needed in throwing off weakness and languor.

Tens of thousands enjoy the advantages of renewed health through Perozone—if you'll only use it, you'll surely grow strong too; its beneficial action is noticed even in a week. You see it goes right to work, removes the causes of the trouble and then quietly makes a cure.

Let Perozone build you up, let it win you back to robust health—it will do so quickly if you give it the chance. Sold by all dealers. 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. Remember the name. Perozone.

$2,250 in Liquor Fines Cardiff, Sept. 30.—Fines amounting to $2,250 were imposed for selling liquor at more than the controlled price at the Royal Agricultural Show. The defense was that after the first day of the fair, when nearly 10,000 glasses were broken, the prices had to be increased, or the firm would have suffered loss.

Paying Toll for Neglect Needless exposure to damp and cold freeways results in a derangement of the Kidneys and Bladder.

When these important organs fail to do their duty, various evils arise, such as rheumatism, swollen hands and ankles, stiff joints, lumbago, sciatic neuralgia, stone in the bladder or gravel, excruciating pains in the back and sides, constant headaches, dizziness, specks floating before the eyes, uneasiness of mind without reason, and general debility.

These are signs of serious kidney and bladder trouble, which require immediate attention. The most dependable remedy is found in Gin Pills. They often prevent the operations which constant neglect may render necessary. They quickly and safely relieve congested kidneys, passing stone and gravel, heal and soothe inflamed organs and restoring them to normal. Thousands of letters from people who have been relieved are continually coming to us.

Their writers often beg us to spread the good news to other sufferers. That Gin Pills certainly and surely will bring the help they need. Send for free sample, or go direct to your druggist or dealer, 50c a box. Money refunded if relief not given.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE Frederick S. Kelle, M.D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

It does not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better; have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

It is sold by the Ross Drug Co., in St. John and all good druggists.

Finest Thing Ever For Chronic Catarrh! Gets Away From the Medicine Habit—Cures By Novel Method

With the many remedies you have tried you surely know that no liquid medicine can cure your throat or nose. Even a gargle only bathes the entrance of the throat—it can't really get inside, nor can it reach the inflamed bronchial tubes.

With Catarrhazone, it's so different from medicine-taking. You simply breathe its healing vapor, inhale its balsamic fumes, which carry cure and relief to the minutest air cells in the lungs, nose, throat and bronchial tubes.

In this scientific way the soreness and inflammation is rapidly allayed, relaxed cords are toned up, the entire mucous membrane invigorated. Every trace of catarrh disappears, the disagreeable dropping of mucus in the throat, hacking, spitting, and stopped-up nostrils—all these sure signs of catarrh and bronchitis are permanently cured by Catarrhazone. Overdoing

How Women Break Down Owing to the modern manner of living and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, they overdo, and as a consequence develop ailments peculiar to their sex, as is indicated by backache, headache, nervousness, the blues, displacements and weakness.

Women who find themselves in this condition should slow down, and depend upon that good old fashioned root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to restore them to health and strength, for there is no other remedy known that so quickly restores a healthy, normal condition.

Here is the Story of a Most Remarkable Recovery

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night, and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old, and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so imitable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from me, so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."

OF MILITARY
M. C. A. HAS NOT
ENDED WITH WAR

Honor Roll of Local Branch Also Unveiled With 126 Names Including 26 Who Have Fallen—Ladies Auxiliary Serve Banquet.

inner given in the Y. M. C. A. last evening by the directors association in this city, with the presence of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. W. Bishop, the National Correspondent of the Young Men's Association, delivered an address on the future aims of the organization with reference to their work among the returned soldiers. He introduced to those present by the chairman, H. S. Miller, who said that Mr. Bishop was largely responsible for the great measure of success which had attended the war efforts of the Y. M. C. A. overseas.

Mr. Bishop, in a very forceful manner, told his audience that the work of the Y. M. C. A. among the returned men was by no means finished for in the days of reconstruction now taking place, the discharged soldier needed the help of their organization more than ever. He said that petitions had been received from the many large centres where Red Triangle Huts were open, not to close these huts.

Mr. Bishop went on to say that even more important than the work of the Red Triangle Huts was the association's work in the hospitals. He stated that the Y. M. C. A. had even yet representatives in forty different hospitals throughout Canada, and it was very essential that this work should not be abandoned but should be kept up all next year and even longer in some of the larger hospitals.

He spoke of the relation of the Y. M. C. A. to other agencies and especially to the Christian church and that a conference between a joint committee from the five principal Protestant churches and the Y. M. C. A. would soon be held and the probable results of this conference would be the formation of a status between the churches and the association and a working arrangement by which the efforts of the latter would be linked up with the former. He concluded by exhorting all to work together for the general benefit of the association.

Ernest Barbour moved a vote of thanks to the speaker which was seconded by F. A. Dykeman and carried on the question by the chairman, Mr. Barbour also congratulated the St. John branch on the addition to their membership and on behalf of the staff of who welcomed the new boys' secretary, F. I. Woodworth, and the new physical director, Thomas Armour.

Two very enjoyable solos were well rendered by Louis LeLacheur and by Harry Halnes.

Rev. M. E. Conron, of the Zion Methodist church, was then called upon by the chairman to unveil the memorial

CITY CORNET BAND FAIR NOW IN FULL SWING

Interior of St. Andrew's Has Been Transformed Into Scene of Rare Loveliness—Niagara Falls in Operation Tonight—The Committees in Charge.

With a record-breaking crowd the seventh Around the World Fair of the City Cornet Band was opened in St. Andrew's Rink, last evening and will be continued each evening during the week. Veterans in the band predict that from the success of the opening night the big indoor event will be a record breaker in every respect. The official estimate of the attendance last evening was 1,500, fully a third more than that of any previous opening night.

Past masters in the art of entertainment, the bandsmen had left little undone that would go to fulfill all predictions made. True there were a few things which it had been impossible to complete in time but these defects will be all remedied for tonight and the rest of the week. It was a lively and interesting assembly at the ring and the patronage extended goes to show the place occupied by the band in the public estimation.

One must see to appreciate the beautiful decorative effects secured in the arrangement of the spacious interior. The great space had been converted into a paradise of light and colors and bunting. The far end of the rink, which in past years, it has been found somewhat difficult to "touch up" was the best part of the effect secured. By means of the large arch which occupied the head of King street during the visit of the Prince of Wales, and which is now historic, the western end of the rink was completely enclosed and beautifully lighted. One half was devoted to the stage whereon the juvenile band entertained the crowds with a fine musical programme.

Niagara Falls Reproduced. The other half was devoted to a replica of Niagara Falls. To the great regret of those in charge of the fair it was found impossible to have this in complete working order in time for the opening. The background of the scene was painted by Fred Stringer, the Imperial Theatre artist, he took his idea from one of the excellent paintings of the falls and produced a canvas some thirty feet high by more than forty feet wide showing the waterfall. Lighting effects produce an idea of reality but, because of the fact that the pump refused to work at the last minute, the great natural effect, a screen of real water, could not be put in operation and there were lacking some of the necessary details in the way of trees and grass. This, however, will be completed in time for tonight and visitors will then have presented for their inspection a truly natural view of the great and mighty Niagara.

However there was plenty to interest the great throng. The variety of booths offered endless attractions and refreshments were obtainable by all who desired to partake. The display of bunting and the interlacing of the electrical effects produced a splendid result set off neatly by the prize winning float design of Christie Bros. in the "Joy Day" parade which occupied the centre of the floor and was a rally point for all.

The Juvenile Band formed up at the head of King street and marching to the rink was followed by hundreds who spent the evening most enjoyably at the fair. During the evening they played several selections more than confirming the splendid opinion already formed of them.

The Around the World trip tickets, or their equivalent in cash, found ready purchasers, and in fact, the demand for these tickets was so great as to make a serious tax on the supply on hand. In addition tickets were sold at ten cents each for a $100 Cremonophone donated to the band for the fair by the Amherst Piano Company, and these tickets, needless to say, were also in great demand.

Edward Beck is deserving of credit for the effects he secured in the decorations of the booth and Hugh Beck and Fred Driscoll did much in the way of securing lighting effects.

Committee in Charge. The staffs of the various booths, committees of departments, executive, etc. are as follows: Around-the-world ticket wheel—Misses

Tartar on Teeth Shows You Leave the Film

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Free
A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent to show you its effects. See coupon.

Remove the Film
Film is the basis of tartar. It is the source of discolored teeth and decay. In brushing teeth you leave a slimy film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Your tooth paste cannot dissolve it. Most tooth troubles are now traced to that clinging film.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So the one great object in cleaning teeth should be to end that film.

Dental science, after years of searching has found a way to do that. For home use the way is now embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent.

The results are known. Convincing, clinical and laboratory tests have proved them beyond question. Leading dentists everywhere now advocate its use.

A 10-Day Test Supplied
We now send a 10-Day Tube to anyone who asks. Thus we are starting countless people toward cleaner, safer teeth.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object is to dissolve the film, then to day by day combat it.

The way seems simple, but pepsin must be activated. The usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth. It is the invention of a harmless activating method which makes pepsin possible. That, with other Pepsodent ingredients, is doing now what was never done before.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Read the book we send you. Learn the reason for these things. Then judge for yourself if you want your teeth kept in that way always. Cut out the coupon now.

Defends Sunday Games
London, Sept. 30—"Unless men and women are fit to take their places at work on Monday there is something wrong in the way they spend their Sunday," said the Rev. T. Pym, head of Cambridge House. He said he could not understand why there should be any prejudice against games on Sunday, particularly for those who could not play them during the weekdays.

BRINGS REPORTS OF PRISON CRUELTIES

Congress Committee Back From France — "Horrible and Revolting" Among Terms Used by Bland.

New York, Sept. 30—Bringing a report of "outrageous cruelties perpetrated on American soldiers" in prisons of the American expeditionary forces in France, the congressional committee sent overseas to investigate army "prison horrors" arrived here tonight on the transport Agamemnon from Brest. The party was composed of Representatives Royal C. Johnson, South Dakota, chairman; Oscar E. Bland of Indiana and Henry D. Flood of Virginia.

Conditions in army prison camps were found "very bad" with special emphasis laid on Prison Camp 2, near Paris, the committee stated.

Representative Bland held that Col. Grinstead and General Strong were directly responsible for the "unprecedented cruelties" at Prison Farm 2. He also criticized General Harts.

PARIS STYLES ARE STRONG ON FLOUNCES

Canadian Buyers Are Wondering What is Coming Next From Gay Paree.

Flounces—and then more flounces—on skirts, bodices, and sleeves are the cry of the hour in Paris style circles.

To devise ways and means of making them stick out as frilly as possible and without wire is the chief ambition of Paris dressmakers. One of the principal things used for this purpose is supple satin straw trimming which is placed on the edge. This makes it stand out well and is very effective.

Flounces from the waist to the hem of the skirts are all the rage, as well as on the bodices in the cross-over in front style, usually with the bands coming round to the back and tied in a sash.

Tight and semi-tight bodices are also coming into favor. Some have no sleeves while others have very short ones.

Sensational modes of dress are being originated in Paris and Canadian buyers on returning home, say that they were kept busy wondering what was coming next. Bunchy paniers with flounces are introduced on short skirts, which produces an almost comical effect and which will not very likely be adopted in this country.

The reason for these sensational hits, they say, is that during the war Paris was shut off in styles almost entirely, so that on this continent those who wanted new creations had to depend on New York for them.

Marksmanship. Deacon Wright is an exemplary member of the Baptist Church. But he is troubled with the weakness as common to deacons as to other men—that of an extra tilage of the "root of evil," and the usual objection to the root spreading.

The church building being in need of repair, the deacon, as well as many others, was appealed to, and he contributed his mite in accordance with the parable. One night during prayer meeting a large sheet of plaster fell from the ceiling on the head of Deacon Wright, hurting him somewhat, but frightening him even more. He sprang to his feet and cried: "I will give ten dollars toward repairing this church," when, in a solemn voice, the chairman, Elder Woodward, responded: "Lord, hit him again!"

NATIONALIZE, LIQUOR SPECTATOR PROPOSES

Trade Dangerous in Private Hands — Government Control is Favored.

London, Sept. 29.—The weekly review, The Spectator, is publishing a series of letters from a variety of correspondents on the nationalization of the liquor trade.

In an editorial article the paper says it is most important something should be done quickly "or we shall slide back into the old conditions which disgraced us before the war," and if Lloyd George receives enough support from Labor in its changed mood he will no doubt be persuaded to bring out again his scheme for nationalization.

The Spectator agrees with Mr. Bramley, assistant secretary of the Parliamentary Trades Union Congress, that prohibition is regarded with aversion by the workers.

War-Time Measure Only? "When we pleaded for prohibition during the war," continues the Spectator, "we pleaded for it solely as a temporary war-winning measure. We do not believe and never have believed that prohibition would normally be possible in this country. What we do believe is that the state ought to own the whole liquor trade and thus prevent private persons from having an interest in pushing the sale of poison—whatever may be said of drink in moderate quantities drink in excess is admittedly a poison."

"Once the State was the owner the liquor problem would be in an incomparably better position. The taps from which the liquor flows could be turned on and off as the public themselves desired."

Dangerous in Private Hands "To sum up the trade is much too dangerous to be left in private hands, particularly in the years of hard living and hard work that lie before us. Though the trade could have been bought out on much more advantageous terms during the war, it can still be bought out with every advantage to the nation, and the sooner the better. The growing support of Labor should make all the difference to the Prime Minister. This is one of the experiments in nationalization which he can make with complete confidence and with the certainty of success."

ORGANIZING FOR COLLEGE FOOTBALL

(Moncton Transcript.) Some have said that Mount Allison looks strong for football this autumn. May the prophecy be a realization. May the M. A. boys loom in the football line, may they so enthrone other teams as to draw them on the ground with teams fit to be the arena of attraction for any kind of sport.

The M. A. boys should get busy at once and interest all college aggregations at once. The fans would make all the difference when the start is made, and it but remains that a start be given which will be but an impetus to others to jump in.

The University of New Brunswick at Fredericton was formerly a college which gave a run to them all for the money. Since the war, however, this college, as has all others, has lost some of its best sport and many of its former grid-iron participants lie in "Flanders Fields." Now, as is imminent, something is to be done. Old St. Joseph's was in former years in the football game. Why not have it again interested? No doubt there would be little trouble in enthralling this college, and the King's would be a likely participant.

Thus we have four colleges for a chain to begin with. If so and rightly said, we should not be too long in getting the pigskin at once and it will be found that Mount Allison and any other team which chances to get into the spotlights on the fields will and pecuniary assistance awaiting it at every turn. The fans would like to see some good sport. Some of the players at the four colleges should get together, hold a meeting and map out their programme and the next on the schedule would be a workout of the different teams in readiness for the time when "Greek meets Greek."

Among the former star M. A. men is "Cruger" MacAfee, the captain of the M. A. football team of 1915. "Cruger" seems to be quite hopeful of speed. Taking it all in all, Mount Allison is counting on giving a good account of herself in the coming intercollegiate sports.

R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the board of trade, received a communication from T. B. Peck, manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine which stated that there would be more sailings out of St. John than was first anticipated.

ALICE BRADY IN GRIPPING PICTURE

Plays Double Role With Cleverness and Creates Mild Sensation.

Although the art of "doubling" in moving pictures is as old as the industry itself, technical men who have seen Alice Brady in her latest Select Picture, "The Better Half," now being shown at the Imperial Theatre declare that Miss Brady's work of doubling in this picture is unequalled on the screen.

Throughout the picture, Miss Brady plays the dual role of Louise and Trixie Thorley, two sisters who are as alike as the proverbial peas in a pod, yet as different under the surface as it is possible for sisters to be.

Louise Thorley is a lovable child who grows to a fine type of womanhood, while her twin sister is selfish and churlish to an almost impossible degree, with hardly a friend in the world except her sister and Michael Thwaite, a cousin by adoption whom she eventually marries.

During the course of the entire picture Miss Brady's doubling is so cleverly executed that it is impossible to tell which is she and which is her double. In many of the scenes Trixie and Louise are actually Miss Brady herself. One scene in particular shows two front views of Trixie and Louise at the same moment. Both are posed by Miss Brady, and it is a mild statement to say that experienced directors gasped when they saw the finished product on the screen.

"The Better Half," both from a technical and national viewpoint, is undoubtedly the best work Alice Brady has ever done, and when one looks back on her long list of outstanding successes, it is easy to realize what a masterpiece of photographic work this production is.

The Imperial is also showing this change of bill the British Weekly, Topics of the Day and Mutt and Jeff. The programme is very pleasing.

FIFTH DEATH WITHIN YEAR.
Mrs. Alexander Stinson of King street, W. E., has received word from her brother, William Kearns, South Boston, of the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary Kearns. She leaves, besides her husband, one daughter. Much sympathy is shown for the family, as this is the fifth death within eleven months.

ENGAGEMENT DENIED.
Charles Adams of Wm. St. John called at this office today to deny an announcement of his engagement which appeared in a morning paper. He says that there is no foundation for such an announcement. The young lady mentioned is absent from the city and the announcement evidently was made by some irresponsible person with a distorted idea of humor.

FROM ROYAL GEORGE.
In addition to the men whose names are published in another column of the Times-Star as having returned to their homes in this district today, the following also arrived this morning: W. B. Saxe, Maryville, N. B.; W. Wrightman, New York; D. McConnaghy, Fredricton, N. B.; W. Holmes, Worcester, Mass., and Privates Doucette, J. Chanois and R. E. Maher, no addresses given. These men came on the S. S. Royal George, landing at Halifax.

A Yarmouth letter says: "The lightship Lurcher, which has been in port since July 19, is now about ready to resume her position and it is expected she will leave port on Tuesday. Whilst here or during the few weeks of the work of repair and cleaning has been going on much has been done and the lightship goes out to her station in excellent condition. Amongst other work done was the installation of a new Guernsey steam heating plant which will be used for the heating of the ship instead of taking the steam from the main boiler as formerly."

ON A SEPTEMBER MORN.
People coming along Waterloo street about 8 o'clock this morning were interested in the actions of a tiny tot not more than two years of age who sat with her "nights" sitting on the damp steps of one of the houses. Oblivious to the fact that she was the object of much attention, the little one sat with one foot across the other knee while she subjected the tiny, wet and somewhat soiled sole to a searching examination, a stubby little finger tracing its way around the bottom of the foot. A young lady passing disturbed the youngster's quest long enough to lift the child from its cold seat and into the house.

STANDARD TIME EFFECTIVE AGAIN ON OCTOBER 27

Railways Revert to "Sun" Schedule on That Date and Those Following Daylight System Will Fall in Line—Local Plans

(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 30—Sun time will once more operate in Canada immediately after two o'clock on the morning of October 27. At that hour all over Canada trains will come to a standstill and clocks will do likewise or be turned an hour so as to switch industry and all the varied manifestations of life in the Dominion to the old standard time. There is no federal law or order-in-council governing the matter in Canada. The railroads adopted the light saving so that their time tables would agree with those in the United States. All through western Canada the law, for convenience sake in the east, daylight saving has become as much the universal rule as though a law had passed.

The hour of two on October 26 was selected because the night following Sunday is the one when such a change can be made with the least industrial disorder. Some of the large city trains may possibly leave an hour later than usual and arrive at their destinations on time. Schools Change Tomorrow

After midnight tonight city hall and all city employees will resume the old time while the railroad business houses, banks and newspaper offices will continue the new time until October 27, at which time the new railway schedule will take effect. It is understood that the Retail Merchants' Association will follow the train schedule and the banks and the customs house will stand in line. The post office must continue the new time to be in harmony with the trains. It was announced last evening by Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of city schools, that the city schools will open tomorrow morning on old time.

A REUNION AFTER FORTY-TWO YEARS.
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Storm leave tonight for Victoria, B. C., while there they will be the guests of Mrs. Storm's sister, Mrs. Wm. G. Elliott. Forty-two years ago Wm. Elliott and his bride left the small city of Victoria. The trip in those early days required three weeks steady trans-continental travel and cost a great deal so the young people expected some years to pass before they would visit their old home. The death of the young husband within a few years made it impossible for Mrs. Elliott and her children to leave Victoria. So bride and bridesmaid of forty-two years ago, both of them now grandmothers, are looking forward to a happy re-union in the course of a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Storm will be joined at Winnipeg by their daughter, Miss Annie M. Storm, so the re-union will embrace not only the bride and bridesmaid of forty-two years ago, but also their children and grandchildren as well. Mrs. Elliott before her marriage was Miss Anne Marley daughter of the late William Marley, Esq.

Four Hundred Bottles in Cellar of Brussels Street House

FATHER AND SON IN COURT

Charles A. Paddock Charged With Allowing Use of His Premises For Illegal Purposes and Fred Paddock With Having Liquor in His Possession

As a result of a seizure of liquor made recently by Detectives Merryfield, Linton and Kerr in the residence of Charles A. Paddock, Sr., 244 Brussels street, where some 400 bottles of liquor were found, the police court this morning with allowing Fred Paddock to use his premises for illegal purposes.

Inspector Merryfield was put on the stand and told of obtaining a search warrant and in company with inspectors Linton and Kerr going to Mr. Paddock's residence, 244 Brussels street Wednesday afternoon September 24. The inspector said he went down Brussels street while Inspector Linton and Kerr went to the rear of the house. Mr. Paddock came up the street and went into his house and unlocked the door when the inspector stepped into the vestibule and told him that he had a warrant to search the house for intoxicating liquor. The warrant read it to him. The inspector then said to the defendant: "Mr. Paddock, if I tell me, for if there is I am going to find it," the defendant answered: "There is none here except what I have for my own use." He said, "We will have a look at your private stock."

As the inspectors entered the house Mr. Paddock led them to a bedroom where he unlocked a trunk and showed four bottles, one of whiskey, one of gin, one of brandy and one of alcohol, and Mr. Paddock said: "That is all there is, and surely you are not going to take that from me, for I have had it for two or three years for my own private use."

In the meantime Inspector Merryfield said he motioned Inspector Kerr to go down stairs and Mrs. Paddock led the way. After the inspection of the "private stock" Inspector Kerr came up stairs and said "Come on Jim, I have found the stuff we are looking for."

The inspector said they then went down stairs into the coal cellar, where they found four barrels, not opened, with the mud on them still damp. One barrel was opened and it contained "John Hale Gold Label" bottle whiskey; the other contained "Old Club" bottled whiskey; and two other barrels which were opened, contained the same brands of whiskey. They also found a barrel part full, containing "John De Kuyper" gin in square face-bottles, and another barrel part full of "House of Lords" bottled whiskey and a seventh barrel of assorted liquors.

The inspector said there were hundreds of straw wrappers there which are used for bottles of liquor. On going up stairs into the kitchen, Inspector Linton went to the pantry and brought out a full five gallon can of gin.

Mrs. Paddock then said, "You are not going to take all the liquor," and Inspector Linton told her, "Yes."

Inspectors Linton and Kerr then went out, and Mrs. Paddock said to the inspector, "Oh, my, what shall we do?" The inspector answered her: "Do not be afraid lady, we will not harm you; this thing happens in families of higher standing than yours; be fair with me and I will be fair with you. This stuff came in yesterday, did it not?" and she said "Yes," and the defendant said "No, it did not," and she said "yes, it did, you are down in the store when it came in." The door bell then rang and Mr. Paddock went up stairs and shortly after the inspector followed and saw John Chevalier at the door. Another conversation between the inspector and Mrs. Paddock then followed, and the inspector said "I am surprised at Fred being in this business."

Mrs. Paddock said: "I will tell you how it was, when the Military Service was on, Fred could not get a job, for people would not employ him, for they were afraid of being fined. Other people were in the business and he was afraid they might as well be in it too. You know he is very sickly and cannot work hard."

Inspector Linton then came back, and as the inspectors were leaving he spoke to Mrs. Paddock, who replied "You are going to take the liquor and fine him $200, and then he will have to give up selling it."

The inspector then asked Mr. Paddock if he owned the liquor, and he said "No, I know nothing about it."

The liquor was then loaded on a sloven and taken to the Provincial Government rooms in Prince William street, where it has been kept until today. The sloven load of liquor was driven up into the jail yard this morning and was marked there by His Honor as the quantity was too large to bring into the court room.

The case was postponed until tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock. No deposit was taken for the appearance of Mr. Paddock. Dr. J. A. Barry appeared on behalf of the prosecution, while E. S. Ritchie appeared for the defence.

Charge Against Son.
Fred Paddock was then charged with unlawfully having liquor in his possession. He pleaded not guilty and a deposit of $200 for his appearance tomorrow morning was put up.

William Williams was charged with being drunk and also with having offensive weapons and using abusive language. He pleaded guilty and Detective Saunders told of seeing him drunk, and that he called him abusive names and under the accused's coat found a baton.

The accused was charged with obtaining money under false pretences. This case was postponed until a later date.

Fred O'Keefe was charged with being drunk, to which he pleaded guilty. He was also charged with breaking and entering a hen house, to which he pleaded not guilty. He was remanded to jail.

Three men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded to jail.
