TO MAKE SERFS OF NEW YORK CHILDREN. North Dakota Aroused Over Plan to Send Waifs to Poor Russian Farmers. ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 23.—A plan has been discovered whereby many children from the tenement district of New York are to be sent to North Dakota to begin a kind of life that amounts practically to serfdom in the families of poor Russian settlers in the extreme western part of the state. This statement is made on the authority of Superintendent Hall of the North Dakota Children's Home. The law in North Dakota prohibits under heavy penalties the importation of orphan and needy children from other states. Mr. Hall announces that a carload of "kids" taken from the "slums" of New York have been gathered and plans completed for their shipment to North Dakota. Applications for these children have been made by twenty-seven Russian farmers of Western North Dakota. Public sentiment in North Dakota has been thoroughly aroused.

ITALIAN QUEEN COOL IN PERIL. Royal Automobile Crashed Through Stone Barriers Raised by Peasants. MILAN, Aug. 23.—Inquiry into the circumstances attending the accident to Queen Margherita's automobile in the valley of Aosta was shown that the road was intentionally blocked by four young peasants, who admitted raising three barriers of loose stones under cover of darkness. The automobile crashed through these barriers, being seriously damaged in so doing. Queen Margherita, who did not leave the machine, exhibited great coolness and stilled the alarm of her companions. Marchese Villanovina, Marchese Caprigna and Professor Giacosa. A carabinieri who followed the automobile on a bicycle came to grief at the first barrier. The young peasants were not aware that the Queen intended passing along the road, and explain their action by stating that the inhabitants hate automobiles because they frighten their cattle. The young man's parents have called on Queen Margherita and implored her pardon.

CLERGYMANS CONDUCT CRITICIZED. (Special to the Star.) MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 24.—Rev. John Armstrong, superannuated minister residing at the border towns, Montreal has had charges laid against him of infractions of the rules of the Methodist Church owing to his celebrating a marriage ceremony in a shop window here some time ago. The ceremony was adversely criticized by the Roman Catholic and Protestant clergy and by the press and on the return to town of Rev. Melvin Taylor, chairman of the district, action will be taken by the Methodist church.

PEACE PROSPECTS ARE MUCH BRIGHTER. Teddy Roosevelt is Making a Strong Effort to Settle Matters Between the Japs and Russians—Will Be Settled in a Few Days. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 24.—The personality of President Roosevelt looks larger and larger in the crisis. He stands between the warring countries insisting that the peace conference shall not fail. Had he not stepped in into the breach the conference probably would already have gone to pieces. Such hopes remain that it will end in peace and a treaty rest upon it. The strength of the president's position is that he commands the confidence of both sides. He has already accomplished much, using his good offices to impress upon each side the necessity of mutual concession, and both sides have already yielded a great deal to his persuasion. The main point still separates them but it is as if it had been from the beginning, the crisis. It was Mr. Roosevelt's compromise proposition which Baron Komura formally presented at yesterday's meeting in which Japan agreed to entirely withdraw articles ten and eleven (surrender of interned warships and limiting of Russian naval force in the Far East) and to substitute for Article five and nine (cession of Sakhalin and indemnity) a new article providing for the return of Sakhalin to Japan should legal title to the southern half of Sakhalin which she possessed before the treaty of 1875, while Russia should redeem or repurchase her title to the northern half of the island for 1,200,000,000 yen or $600,000,000. While it is Mr. Roosevelt's proposition in substance, the Associated Press is informed that as offered yesterday it varies slightly from the terms of the compromise as the president suggested it on both sides. In exactly what particular cannot be ascertained. Russia while rejecting the compromise because it insisted on the cession of the island of Sakhalin under another name, was willing and indeed offered the island of Sakhalin by not only restoring the status quo existing before the treaty of 1875, but to delimit the frontier and renounce all claim to the southern half. "Wings" of the treaty cut out the way by Japan's recession and article 5 settled by compromise, the only thing which remained was the indemnity for the paper losses of the Japanese. Under the financial head, Russia offers to pay 100,000,000 yen for the loss of Japanese prisoners in Japan. Hercession of the Chinese Eastern Railroad will place a tidy sum in the Japanese exchequer, but further than that Mr. Witte has as yet no instructions to go. So the situation stood yesterday when the conference adjourned until Saturday. But the president did not surrender. He carried his appeal for peace to the throne of the Romanoffs, to the author of the dream of reduced armaments and universal peace. Ambassador Meyer's three hour audience with Emperor Nicholas yesterday during the very time when the plenipotentiaries at the navy yard were explaining to each other their irreconcilable differences may have proved a deciding factor. There is yet no clue to the response Mr. Meyer received from Emperor Nicholas, but it is already in President Roosevelt's possession, and he is in a position today to determine his next step. If the Emperor declined absolutely to yield there may be still time to turn to Tokyo for a last appeal to forego the war indefinitely at the cost of millions in money and thousands of lives, with no surety that they will ever be able, whatever her military successes, to force tribute from her burly adversary.

Now, too, in the final struggle the influence of the neutral powers, the threats of financiers have been brought to bear to force the combatants to cease the bloody struggle which has been going on for 13 months. The financiers of the world are as potent as nations. No country can conduct military campaigns with an empty wallet. The money markets of the world have already shown their disposition to close their doors to Russia unless she makes peace. In consequence Russia only the other day sought to raise an international loan of $400,000,000 rather than with a cool response, although there is plenty of idle money in Russia. Yesterday the cable brought the news that as the attempt was a failure the treasury had resorted to an issue of paper. While a margin of gold reserve for paper issues still remains, it is not large and foreign bankers could shortly force Russia again upon the paper basis from which Mr. Witte rescued her. A failure to respond to Japanese appeals for loans would probably place Japan in even a worse position. These considerations in the next few days may prove all powerful.

TROLLEY CAR HITS AUTO. NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Two men and two women were badly hurt early today in a collision between a trolley car in Brooklyn and an automobile returning from Bergen Beach. It is thought both women and one of the men will be injured. The injured are: Miss Emma Judge, Miss Agnes Rice, Otto Novis and F. Brown, owner of the motor car. Both the women were hurried to a hospital where one was found to have sustained a fractured skull, while the other was injured internally. Brown was so badly hurt that he could not be removed from the scene of the accident. The trolley and motor car collided on a crossing at Kings Highway, while running at a high speed.

BOGUS TO THE RESCUE. "Bogus" Magee may be fond of a few drinks, and all his trouble is brought about by his fondness, but one before this morning would ever have thought of accusing him of "breaking and entering" a dwelling house. Yet this is what actually took place. It happened like this: Miss Rankin, who is still living in the deputy sheriff's house in the jail, went out this morning, and on her return found to her consternation that she hadn't her key with her. At this moment Deputy Jenkins happened to come along, and the deputy, as is well known, is always willing to help a lady in distress, gallantly offered his help. It was accepted by the young lady, and in less than no time the deputy was hard at work trying to force a window open. But it was no use, however good a burglar catcher he is, he would not make a living as burglar. Then appeared on the scene Jailer Clifford, and after a brief consultation the genial jailer left only to return a moment later with the redoubtable Bogus. The latter surveyed the job for a moment, and in a most expert manner proceeded to crack the crib. The window was soon thrown open, and the last seen of Bogus was the soles of his feet as he disappeared head first through the window. This is a true story of how Bogus committed his first burglary, and at the same time rescued a lady in distress. The deputy and jailer stood by, each armed with a flower pot, silent and jealous.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Crawford, 20 Ford street, Brockton, victims of the shocking double tragedy were brought through this morning from Boston and taken on the Point du Chenais express for interment in P. E. I. They will be buried in a single grave at Crapud, their native place. As described in last night's Star, the two were found dead in bed at their home, the husband having killed his wife and then committed suicide.

THIRTY YEARS AGO. Captain Webb Swam the English Channel—Three Attempts to Duplicate His Performance Today. DOVER, Eng., Aug. 24.—The thirtieth anniversary of the success of Captain Matthew Webb in swimming across the English Channel, which occurs today, brought out three candidates anxious to imitate the famous swimmer. They are Miss Annette Kellerman, the woman champion swimmer of Australia, T. W. Burgess, who has already made three unsuccessful attempts to swim the channel, and Horace Mew. All three made an early start from this vicinity under favorable weather conditions. August 23rd, 1875, Capt. M. Webb dived from the Admiralty pier, Dover, and swam to the Calais sands, France, a distance of twenty-two and a half miles, in 21 hrs. 45 min. On July 24, 1882, Captain Webb was drowned while attempting to swim the Niagara Rapids.

TRAGIC DEATH RECALLED. Sensational Story Published in Honolulu About the Late Mrs. Stanford. HONOLULU, Aug. 24.—The tragic death of Mrs. Jane Stanford has been recalled by a sensational story published here to the effect that representatives of the Stanford estate practically offered monetary inducements to local physicians to change their opinion that strychnine caused the death of Mrs. Stanford. It is alleged that the bill of $150 of Dr. C. B. Wood, who performed the autopsy on the body of Mrs. Stanford, has been refused payment by the estate on the ground that the authorities should have performed the autopsy. Dr. Wood declared he was employed on behalf of the estate by Dr. Humphreys and the latter said that he considered the refusal to pay Dr. Wood to be amazing as he considered the emergency to be of the estate indicated a representative of the estate indicated to the physicians that it would be satisfactory to the estate if they could revise their findings of poisoning and in such event their bills were not to be questioned and doctors Humphreys, Day and Wood would be paid the amount of their claims of $150.

All three doctors are preparing a statement to place their version of the scientific facts of the case before the public in a final justification of views concerning the facts of the death of Mrs. Stanford. WILL SELL CROESUS. CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—The Leader today says—George H. Ketchum, of Toledo, the breeder, owner and trainer of the world's champion trotting stallion, Croesus, had decided to dispose of that famous horse, and has arranged to have him sold to the highest bidder at the Fasig-Tipton Company's auction sale to be held at Madison Square Garden, New York, in November. MORE TROUBLE FOR LAND OWNERS. ODESSA, Aug. 24.—Fresh disorders have broken out in the Ellisabethgrad and Alexandria districts, and the rioters are destroying the property of the land owners' big estate at Butsky has been entirely demolished. The president of the Ellisabethgrad Zemstvo has asked permission of the government to convene a meeting of landlords with the view of settling the Agrarian question. WIGGS GOES WITH THE FAST ONES. DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 24.—Manager Armour of the Detroit American League, has announced the purchase of James Wiggs, a pitcher, from the Minneapolis American Association team. The consideration was not given. Administration in the estate of Gillis O'Leary, situate in the province of New Brunswick, was granted by his brother, John O'Leary. Estate values at $300. Tilley & Smith proctors.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT. Games Played This Morning Provided Lots of Excitement for the Large Number of Spectators Who Attended. The fates gave propitious weather for the opening of the second day of the provincial tennis tournament. A slight shower fell during the morning but not enough to stop the players. Tea will again be served on the grounds at five this afternoon, the hosts being Mrs. Sherwood Skinner and Miss Emma Barker. The match which created the most interest this morning was that between Will Allison with Miss Helen Robertson and Rupert Turnbull with Miss Muriel Robertson in the mixed doubles. The results this morning were as follows: LADIES' SINGLES. Miss Helen Robertson vs Mrs. Ward, 6-4, 6-0. Miss Muriel Robertson vs Mrs. J. R. Thomson, 6-3, 9-7. LADIES' DOUBLES. Miss W. Barnaby and Miss L. Smith vs Miss Muriel Thomson and Mrs. L. W. Barker, 6-1, 6-1, 2-6. SEMI-FINALS. Miss W. Barnaby and Miss L. Smith vs Miss M. Trauman and Miss I. Kerr, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2. MEN'S SINGLES. W. M. Angus vs C. E. Merritt, 6-4, 6-1. McAvity vs W. M. Angus, 6-3, 6-2. Malcolm McAvity is a new star on the tennis horizon and his brilliant playing this morning won considerable applause.

HIS WHEELS ARE WORKING. An ex-inmate of the hospital for nervous diseases caused quite a little excitement in the neighborhood of King street this morning. It appears that the person—a young man—immaculately attired, has only been discharged from the hospital recently and is quite harmless. He went into a bookstore nearby and considerably alarmed a young lady assistant by saying he had a bank book and a diamond ring, the latter entrusted to him by the attorney general, with the strict understanding from that gentleman to him that where he was able to get admission to the young ladies were all Liberals. The police officer on duty was notified, but the young man quietly walked out before his arrival.

MARY HOPE YOUNG GUILTY OF MURDER.

To Be Hanged on December Twentieth, at Digby—Jury Recommends Mercy—May Be a New Trial.

DIGBY, Aug. 23.—After one of the briefest trials in the criminal history of this province, Mary Hope Young was this afternoon found guilty of murder of May Ward, and a few minutes later sentenced to death...

The attorney general then addressed the jury, and after recess for lunch, Mr. Munroe replied for the defense in an able address. After the charge from the judge, the jury retired, and in half an hour returned with the verdict above stated.

When Judge Meagher this morning admitted the evidence of her confession, he said he would reserve a crown case for the full bench as to its admissibility. This he did without application being made by her counsel.

The future custody of little Elma Young has not been settled, but tomorrow will be decided upon between the attorneys for Hope Young and the crown.

N.B. MEN WHO WILL GO TO OTTAWA To Take Part in the Annual D. R. A. Meet.

It begins to look as though New Brunswick would be fairly represented at the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association which opens at Ottawa on Monday next.

The Sun learns that the St. John men who have decided to go if they can possibly arrange it are: Capt. Jas. Manning, R. O. Major Jas. H. McRobbie, 8th Hussars.

The intercolonial, as has been stated, has this year refused to grant free passes to those who are going to the shoot. This has had the effect of preventing at least two or three St. John men from taking the trip...

It is not probable that any regimental teams will be entered from New Brunswick, as it is unlikely that there will be sufficient men from any one regiment to form a team.

Among the principal matches at Rockcliffe are the following: Tyro, with 75 prizes, value $325, and 2 team prizes. Bankers, 123 prizes, value $638.

There were in all about twelve tenders, many of them being from the eastern and western states. Many of these men were prominent in the Canadian Pacific Railway.

BURGLAR SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY

SACKVILLE, Aug. 23.—The examination of Joseph Davis, a tramp, accused with burglarizing the house of Charles Fowler, Westmorland Point, was resumed before Police Magistrate Cahill this morning. Mrs. Fowler deposed that she saw the accused around her house last Friday. He first tried to gain admittance to the house, by the doors, which were fastened. Then he went into the cellar, but as the doors were all fastened he failed to get into the house. Accused then broke a window and crawled into the house, ransacking the rooms and stealing the clock. John Card, constable in charge of Newark, testified that the accused admitted his guilt. When asked to plead, Davis said, "Guilty, but I was awfully drunk at the time." He was sent up for trial, and in default of bail was sent to Dorchester.

ANNUAL MEETING FOR ELECTION OF OFFICERS. The annual meeting was held last evening at Carville Hall. Officers were elected as follows: President, T. McAl. Stewart; vice president, Harry Clark; sec. treasurer, C. F. Randolph.

It was resolved that the invitation of the Fredericton club be accepted and the annual tournament be held in Fredericton next year.

The by-law prohibiting members of different clubs playing together in doubles was suspended for one year, so that fully qualified members of any club may play together in doubles.

The secretary was instructed to correspond with the secretary of the Nova Scotia association with a view to playing a championship match between the winners and runners up of the events in the N. B. and N. S. tournaments. It is hoped this will be effected in time to play for the maritime championship this year.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers, C. H. Allen, H. M. Wood and W. H. Harrison.

MARITIME HARVESTER EXCURSIONISTS RIOTOUS. FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Aug. 23.—A riot was narrowly avoided here yesterday, when C. P. R. Constable Mackay arrested a Maritime harvester who was paroling flowers. The passengers hurled bottles and tin cans at pedestrians.

At Buda, J. Davis, a section man, was struck in the head by one of the bottles and hurt badly. He may die. On this same train a man was stabbed and a railway man just in from the east says the excursionists nearly killed a C. P. R. constable at North Bay, Ont., Monday.

MUST CHECK IMMIGRATION. The whole country should be keenly alive to the absolute necessity of restricting immigration. The incoming flood of Europe's scum has grown to such proportions that it must be carefully studied from many points of view by the approaching Congress.

Collier's for August 25 says: "The demand for some improvement in our stitching machinery is too strong to be ignored. One suggestion is that the amount of air space demanded of the steamship companies for each piece should be increased, and the cost of transportation thus correspondingly raised. An objection, however, to any money test is that under the present system it is found that many of the immigrants most undesirable in health and character are those who will pay the most, through themselves or those who wish to be rid of them. Probably the most effective work will come time by time done by American agents at the places from which the immigrants come. Even under the present inadequate system the numbers are rejected on this side even at the gangplank. On the other side it is far more difficult to accomplish serious and just results. We wish, by the way, that Mr. Williams, who did so much to improve the immigration work at New York, could be used in that service somewhere by the President. He lost his place for reasons that have not been made public, and would be likely at any time to be a position in which his exceptional fitness could again be put into use."

Arthur McCarty, Inmate of Provincial Hospital,

An inmate of the Provincial Hospital at Lancaster, who has given the attendants a good deal of trouble for some time past to keep him from doing himself violence, has at last found an opportunity to put himself out of the world.

McCarty has been closely and constantly watched, but on several occasions has proven himself too cute for his attendants.

McCarty was a resident of this city before being taken to the hospital, and is mother is still living here.

McCarty was the same man who escaped from the hospital a couple of months ago and went over the break-water at Negretown with the intention of drowning himself.

SIR HENRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY, Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. BILLINGHAM COMPANY

Sir Henry Morgan, a notorious buccaneer, who has been made vice-governor of Jamaica, was deposed by King James and ordered with arrest. Morgan, however, with the help of Benjamin Hornigold, is once more able to hoist the black flag. Hornigold aids them with the hope of getting Morgan in his power and exacting revenge for his brother whom the old buccaneer had hanged. On the Mary Rose, Morgan sails south and attacks two Spanish frigates conveying a heavily loaded galley. The convicts were destroyed and also the Mary Rose. Morgan, however, sails south in the galley where he is wrecked off the coast of Caracas.

"I welcome thee to our court, fair lady, and you here. What say you, gentlemen all? Rum for the noble captain here and wine for the lady?" called out Morgan, bowing over the table in malicious mockery. "I drink with you, my dear," said Alvarado, smiling, thrusting the negro who proffered him a glass violently aside with his shoulder, causing him to topple over, grasping himself with the hands. "Hail! Is it so?" laughed Morgan in a terrible manner. "Black dog, my young cock, then about cover and beg and pray for another drink at my hand presently—and get it not. But there is another cup thou shalt drink—aye, and that to the death. Back, ye scoundrel, speak with the lady, Well, Donna Mercedes," he continued, "art still in that playful mood?"

"Silence. The girl stood erect, disdainfully looking him full in the face. "I shall break thee yet, proud wench," he shouted. "Come hither! What do you move for? Black Dog! Black Dog, I say!" Mercedes was hounded and could not at first release her hands, but she sprang back, struggling. "Alvarado, Alvarado!" she screamed. "Help me, save me!"

"Hold your hand, Black Dog," answered that worthy. "Tear the man and come hither. This is thy first appeal, lady. You know my power at last, eh? Down on your knees and beg for your life!" Instantly Mercedes sank her knees and stretched out her hands, a piteous, appealing, lovely figure. "Save him, save him!" she cried. "What would you do for me, my dear?" "My life for you," she answered bravely. "Nay, Mercedes," interposed Alvarado; "let him walk his will on me."

both men of intelligence and could easily see the absolute necessity for the precaution suggested by Hornigold and accepted by their captain. If they held the passage over the mountains—and fifty men could hold it against a thousand—the Spaniards could come at them. So the little group, leaving the two prisoners and Hornigold, sallied out into the infernal night. It was a difficult thing for them to find a sufficient number of sober pirates, but by persuading, threatening and compelling they at last gathered a force of the least drunken leaves, with which they set forth on the road.

"The same which had been wanted knodded in different places by the buccaneers were making such headway that Morgan hastily saw that special efforts would be needed to prevent the complete destruction of the town. He wanted La Guayra for his base of supplies for the present, and with tremendous energy, seconded by De Lussan and some of the soberest men, he routed out the buccaneers and set them to work.

"You have saved me for the moment," said Mercedes gratefully, turning to Hornigold as he led her away from the hall. "I was not for care of you," blazed out the old man, carelessly. "But that I'd fain talk him in every desire he cherishes, even of possessing you."

"Whatever it was, I am thankful, sonor. You have my prayers!" "I had been sixty years since I heard those canting Puritans, my mother and father, pray. I want no prayer for me, I must get you in ward. There should be strong rooms in this castle."

He summoned a slave and found what he wanted. Mercedes and Senora Agapida, who was feebly behind other slaves, were locked in one room. Alvarado was thrust into another. As soon as he could do so after making provision for the comfort of the women Hornigold came down to him. "Senor," he said, "the band is drunk and helpless. One hundred resolute men could master them. Morgan means to march to Caracas tomorrow. He cannot get his men in shape to do so as long as the liquor flows in La Guayra."

"If I set you free what will you do?" "There is a way over the mountains," answered Alvarado—a secret way. It has been known for fifty years, but I could follow it to Caracas."

"And once there, what then?" "There, if the victory be not gone, and I do not believe he has yet departed, there are thousands of soldiers to retake the city."

"And if they be gone?" "I will raise the citizenry, the honestest guards, the savages and the slaves."

"Can you do it?" "Free me and see," answered Alvarado with such resolution that he convinced the sailor. "The use of Caracas, the daughter of the victory. They are not inexperienced in arms. I will lead them. The advantage of numbers will be with us. If you free me, I take it we will have a friend within the walls. Success is certain. We have too much to revenge," he added, his face flushing with rage at the thought of it all.

EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE.

Is money, or the present mania for amassing it, an evil? Read two remarkable articles in the August Everybody's, dealing both with the direct and the indirect effects of the money-mania; they may help you to a conclusion. A "miracle of millions," as performed some half dozen years ago in Boston, by the now notorious "New England Gas & Coke Company" (Henry M. Whitney and H. H. Rogers, leading spirits), is the amazing revelation reserved by Mr. Lawson for this significant instalment of "Everybody's." With scrupulous fidelity to detail, the fearless witness tells us how certain leaders of finance, of eminent public standing, not only defraud and deceive the public, but betray and treacherously injure their closest friends, merely to gratify the insatiable lust for more and more millions. In Chicago, meanwhile, to this same end, there are traceable crimes precisely as infamous. In the powerful conclusion of "The Greatest Trust in the World," Mr. Charles Edward Russell shows the needless suffering inflicted upon the Chicago poor by the merciless money-makers of Packingtown; and eloquently urges the overthrow of the Beef Trust by united moral force. The integrity of the Republic itself, Mr. Russell believes, is at issue here.

This year Everybody's has had unprecedented success in making its August issue a "Special Fiction Number." Its most conspicuous feature is Robert W. Chambers' admirable love story, "The Ghost of Chance," perhaps the best story of the season. In the second of his series of powerful New Zealand stories, "In the Pathless Sea," G. B. Lancaster well sustains his reputation as "the new Kipling."

STORY OF A POLITICIAN AND A WOMAN SECRETARY

Washington's Way

By WILLIS EMERY

Copyright, 1935, by Charles N. Lurie

LITTLE old building of one story in the corner of a lumber yard contained the offices of John Wadsworth.

By a desk in a railed and screened inclosure Miss Hilda Lawrence was opening the morning mail. She always opened all of Mr. Wadsworth's letters.

In one of the envelopes which Hilda opened on this particular morning she found a check drawn to the order of the bearer for $200 and signed with an illegible scrawl.

came for the first time under her eye. The letter had been directed not to Mr. Wadsworth, but to John W. Allen.

This announcement had been received with incredulity and then with enthusiasm by the local "machine." The fact was that the practical politicians of that district would have been glad to see Wadsworth go to Washington or to some much more remote place any time within the past ten years.

Up to recent days a hint from Wadsworth would have been equivalent to a nomination, and his election had been assured. But a change had come over the complexion of the district.

Wadsworth, though a very rich man and of excellent ancestry, was not a silk stocking, and his sympathies and political strength lay with the horny handed toilers and small merchants.

stockings who were known to be bitterly opposed to the candidacy of Wadsworth, and there had been surprise among the wise when he received his invitation.

"I will wait," said Hilda after brief hesitation. "I have no faith in your defense. You have taken pay for influencing Mr. Wadsworth's action in some political matter. I will never forgive you."

"I shall be away this afternoon, but if I leave before you get home, I'll come over this evening and send them off."

Accordingly about 5 o'clock Hilda entered the private office carrying the contents of the envelope she had opened, and a gust of wind as she opened the door scattered some paper along the floor.

"I shall be away this afternoon, but if I leave before you get home, I'll come over this evening and send them off."

face were dark, but there was a light in the larger room which seemed to be over Allen's desk. Was it possible that he was there? Hilda glanced in that direction instantly upon opening the door and beheld John Wadsworth in Allen's chair reading a book.

He was so absorbed in this task that he did not hear Hilda come in. She stood by the door watching him and wondering at the change in his looks.

"I shall be away this afternoon, but if I leave before you get home, I'll come over this evening and send them off."

"I shall be away this afternoon, but if I leave before you get home, I'll come over this evening and send them off."

Then he repeated slowly and with absolute accuracy some words which he had read more than an hour ago.

"I have learned," said she slowly, "that the right is just the same for little men as for big men. Washington's way and my way do not differ by a hair's breadth. The true path was the same before him as it is before me; it is the same for us all if we have the grace to see it, as my aunt would say. Avoid all that savors of dishonor. Do you know what that means for me?"

"I am very glad," said she. "Tell me what it is."

A ROUND TABLE FOR OUR JUVENILE READERS

What George Washington, the Man, Was Like

Wonder what kind of a picture you have in your minds as to the personal appearance of George Washington. You could not help having some sort of a picture. No American could. I have lately found an old description of General Washington's looks, written by a friend of Virginia. To begin, Captain Mercer tells us the Father of His Country stood six feet two inches tall in his stockings and that he was "straight as an Indian." It is not likely that a man so upright and particular in all other respects would have let his body slump over and become round shouldered.

General Washington had bodily backbone as well as mental, and he kept both of them straight. He had great muscular strength, as his full, thick fish showed. He had large hands and feet and large bones generally, with long legs and arms, also broad shoulders, though not an unusually full chest. His waist was rather slender, giving him a graceful appearance. He was built for strength and endurance, all of which he needed to carry this struggle.

LOCAL NEWS.

There were no arrests in the city yesterday.

A horse driven by John Keefe ran on the sidewalk on Sherif street last evening and broke James Heney's door.

The Ladies Aid Society of Carmarthen street Methodist church will hold their annual raspberry social this evening at 8 o'clock at Mrs. A. L. Eagles, 51 Mecklenburg street.

Last evening a quiet wedding took place at the Victoria street parsonage, when Rev. David Long united in marriage Miss Susie Gertrude King and Wm. J. Humphrey, both of this city.

The fish market for tomorrow does not promise very well, as the supply is scarce. There are no shad in the market, which is unusual for this time of year. The fresh fish is haddock, 5 cent per lb., cod, 5 cents, and Salmon 16c to 24c. The smoked and cured fish are as usual.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock last evening a horse owned by School Inspector W. S. Carter, while being put in a barn at 120 Elliott row, bolted and ran away. When last seen it was running down Waterloo street, and no trace has since been seen of it.

The steam yacht "Selonda," with Colonel Edwards, Dr. March, W. W. Allen, A. G. Crookshank, John Miles and N. R. Burrows, guests of Commodore Thomson, leave today for Halifax to see the yacht "W. E. Steward" which there this week. W. E. Steward will join the party in Halifax.

There is some talk of holding another matinee trotting meet on Moosepath this Saturday. Those who participated in the last meet are anxious to have another "go" and some additional horse owners think they can make it interesting if they enter their speedy equines. The interest in the trotting horse owners think they can make it interesting if they enter their speedy equines. The interest in the trotting horse owners think they can make it interesting if they enter their speedy equines.

G. A. Goring and Master G. I. Goring, of Georgetown, British Columbia, arrived yesterday on the West India liner Caribbee. They will leave this morning for Halifax and afterwards go to Europe. Mr. Goring is connected with a firm of steamboat and railroad contractors to the British Guiana government. His visit to Europe on business and he will visit various parts of the continent and England.

Tomorrow all day, and in the evening, the principal shopping feature of Mr. R. A.'s will be the sale of sample furnishings for men and boys. It is a grand clear-up of manufacturers' specimens of the season, including underwear, ready-made shirts, shirts, working shirts, braces, belts and bathing togs. A little ruffled from handling is all that is wrong with them. See advt.

A serious rear-end collision was narrowly averted on the I. C. R. Tuesday evening. The special having on board the Trinity church picnicers when near the Chatelet found difficulty in ascending a grade. There was a delay, and in the meantime a freight rounded a curve, the driver not being aware that another train was ahead. The fog was dense at the time, but by prompt signaling the freight stopped, but she did not ease up until within a short distance of the picnic train.

People who happened along Charlotte street on Tuesday were interested in a huge pile of cases in front of one of the enterprising retail establishments of that thoroughfare. Many expressed wonder at such a large shipment being received at one time by any retail house. It has turned out that these cases contained a very large lot of goods which the firm secured under exceptional conditions, and the ladies of St. John will now be able to participate in a sale similar to that which often takes place in the larger centres.

A NEW CLOTHING STORE IN THE NORTH END.

Messrs. Henderson & Hunt have leased the store No. 533 Main street that has been occupied for several years by F. S. Thomas, and they propose opening up a branch store, and will carry a full line of men's and boys' clothing and furnishings. This firm purpose keeping in stock the newest, best and most up-to-date goods in their line, and at the same time will keep a full assortment of the cheaper grades of clothing, so that the residents of the North End can procure the same class of goods that can be had in any other section of the city. As all goods are to be sold for cash, and one price to everybody, everything will be marked down to rock bottom figures. One of the features of this new store will be the excellent values to be offered. They purpose opening the store to the public on Saturday and will have some special bargains for the opening day.

Charles Crawford, who resides in the North End, and who has been in the employ of Henderson & Hunt for some time to have the management of the store.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS DECORATION DAY.

Annual Ceremony Taking Place This Afternoon.

Big Turn Out of the Various Lodges and Uniform Rank—List of Deceased Knights Remembered.

Queen's Rink presented a lively appearance this morning when a dozen or so ladies were in charge receiving the donations of flowers sent in by the friends of the Knights of Pythias for their decoration day observance this afternoon. The ladies have been kept very busy both this morning and yesterday afternoon and evening as about 325 donations of flowers have been received.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the parade took place which consisted of No. 1 Brunswick No. 1; Union Lodge No. 2; Victoria Co. No. 1 and Sympet. No. 5 of Uniform Rank and the Auxiliary Band. The route of procession was from the lodge rooms Germain street along Queen, Charlotte where two barouches filled with flowers were picked up at Queen's Rink, then along Union street and Waterloo. The first graves decorated were at the Church of England and Methodist cemeteries, the procession then proceeding to Fernhill. There the main services were held. Their programme consisted first of the decoration of the graves, then the singing of the hymn, "A few more years shall roll," followed by the reading of Scripture and an address by James Moulton, past supreme prelate. Next followed the hymn, "Best be the tie that binds," the hymns being sung with band accompaniment, the meeting being brought to a close by prayer, benediction and the singing of the chorale. The parade returns by way of the front road.

The graves at Cedar Hill were decorated by a delegation this morning, while the graves at Hampton, Richibucto and St. Andrews were looked after by Knights living in those towns. The list of deceased Knights whose graves were today decorated is as follows:

Harrison, was united in marriage to Charles Archibald Morgan, of the Imperial Starch Company, Prescott, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Campbell, of Queen Square Methodist church. The bride, who wore a dress of cream crepe de chine over cream tulle silk was attended by two flower girls dressed in cream china silk. After the ceremony a lunch and a reception was held at the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan leave on the C. P. R. this afternoon on an extended trip to the west. They will visit Winnipeg and probably the coast. On their return they will spend the winter with Mr. Harrison and in the spring will commence housekeeping for themselves. Mrs. Morgan has many friends here and she is one of the best musicians in the city.

The wedding gifts were very numerous, including presents from Vancouver, Toronto, Montreal, Ithaca, N. Y., New York and Boston. The groom's present to the bride was an amethyst brooch set with pearls and to the flower girls pretty gold pins.
