Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves. If long continued, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good." It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures. If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 31 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated book, Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

GLACIERS IN A NUTSHELL Ice 150 Feet High and Twelve Miles Wide.

All About the Maxwell, or Rivers of Ice
That go on the March.

Ice seems hard and brittle as solid rock. Yet glaciers are true rivers, carving away the snow that falls on the top of high mountains.

The average snowfall on Mont Blanc is only two inches short of five feet a year. Suppose it all stayed there. In a single century Mont Blanc would grow about 480 feet.

But the glaciers or ice rivers carry the snow off and bear it down to the valleys, where it melts and makes water rivers.

There are 1,555 glaciers in the Alps which, between them, cover an area six times as great as that of the Isle of Man. But they are all toys compared with the Muir glacier, on the Alaskan coast, which presents to the ocean a wall of blue ice 150 feet high and twelve miles wide.

Guides and Men Lost.
Icebergs, great in small, are constantly breaking away from its mountain front. It discharges 77 billion cubic feet of ice yearly.

Forty-two years ago the crooked spine of the Matterhorn was climbed for the first time. In the descent a rope broke, part ice as though stuffed and set in a glass case.

No doubt they had been caught in a violent snow or sleet storm, and, huddling together, had been buried. Then the temperature must have dropped so suddenly as to freeze them in. There they remained frozen, and no doubt if undisturbed will remain there for many years to come.

There are some fine glaciers in the Rocky Mountains in Montana. On the flanks of Granite Mountain, which is nearly 13,000 feet high, is a glacier to which Professor Kimball has given the name of Grasshopper Glacier. It is so full of grasshoppers and their remains that the ice is of a peculiarly dark color.

Periodically the grasshoppers that thrive in the prairies to the north wig their flight southward, and must needs cross the mountain. In the passage across the mountain cold air, rising from the great ice river, numbs them, and they drop by hundreds of thousands. They are gradually carried down, and the moraine at the end of the glacier consists principally of insect remains instead of rocks or sand.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Ladies' College at Mount Allison, Sackville, N. B., which is the largest residential Ladies' College in the Dominion, includes not only the Literary Department but the Conservatory of Music, the Masse Treble School of Household Science and the School of Fine Arts. It provides Literary and Household Science courses; instruction in Painting, Drawing, Designing, Modeling, Leather and Metal Work, etc.; courses in oratory and Piano, Pipe Organ, Violin and Voice. The Art School, with the Owens art Gallery and a collection of magnificent valuable paintings, is under the direction of a member of the Royal Canadian Academy who is also an exhibitor in salons across the water. He is assisted by talented and trained teachers. The Conservatory of Music is under the directorship of an English professor who has associated with him as teachers ladies and gentlemen most of whom have been trained abroad. The staff of the college includes over twenty teachers and four occasional lecturers. At this institution, too, a number of prizes are offered. A calendar will be sent free on application to Rev. Dr. Campbell.

The Academy is a pleasant residential school where boys are prepared for matriculation in Arts, Engineering, Medicine, etc. In the Commercial College excellent instruction is given in Business courses, Shorthand and Type writing. The staff of teachers is strong both in the Academy and in the Commercial College and the constant aim is to make the institution one which will not only give the best of instruction but will also be instrumental in moulding character along desirable lines. The principal, Mr. J. M. Palmer, M. A., will send full information on request.

The Mount Allison authorities are fortunate in that their schools are located in one of the most healthful towns in eastern Canada. This, of itself, leads many parents to send their children to these steadily growing institutions.

A Bad Stomach.

Mrs. S. Keat of Clarkburg, Ont., says: "A bad stomach trouble that had bothered me for years, baffled and puzzled skilled physicians, was nicely relieved by Mi-o-na. My food would not digest but fermented in my stomach, forming a gas that gave me untold suffering and pain and also made me weak, nervous, irritable and unable to rest. Since using Mi-o-na I can go to bed at night and sleep and wake up in the morning refreshed. I cannot speak too highly of Mi-o-na."

The dyspeptic nervous or otherwise, who is losing an opportunity to regain health, for Mi-o-na Tablets are guaranteed to cure dyspepsia and all stomach disturbances, such as vomiting of pregnancy, gas or car sickness and the stomach after excessive indulgence. All druggists, Sec. or from R. T. Booth Co. Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. Sold and guaranteed by J. Sutton Clark.

TROUBLED MEXICO.

Danger in the Existing Situation

(Boston Advertiser.)

There is plenty of trouble in Mexico. The chief cause of the disorder which as yet the government has been unable to repress, is that too many of the Mexicans seem to have expected that with the downfall of Diaz the millennium would come. The Diaz government has been overthrown, but it is plain that the millennium in Mexico is still to seek.

From present indications, it is by no means certain that Madero will be the next President of Mexico. As an administrator, apparently, he does not show great ability. The provisional president, Da la Barra, is really more tactful and more resourceful in meeting the problems which have come up, although at first he was supposed to be merely Madero's creature and to do nothing without the assent of the dictator behind him. Madero has made a number of blunders, and in such rapid succession that there is growing sentiment in favor of supporting Bernardo Reyes for President in opposition to Madero. Whether such a proceeding could be carried out without an immediate attempt on the part of Madero to become an actual dictator, remains to be seen.

The chief trouble in Mexico seems to be that Madero raised a spirit he cannot quell; a spirit of unrest, of demands for the impossible. The average Mexican seems to have come to expect that with the revolution successful, it would be possible for all to grow rich or at least affluent, without much further effort. As the only result has been so far that Mexico is as prosperous as it was before the revolution, the spirit of unrest has grown more troublesome every day. The wage earners all demand more pay and less work; and in view of the temporary depression in Mexican industries, inevitable as the result of a revolution where much injury was done to the railroads and to other industries, it is not exactly an auspicious time for raising the wage rate.

Then, too, the utterances of Francisco Madero himself have had much to do with inciting a bitter spirit against foreign residents in Mexico, foreign business men, foreign managers of industrial enterprises. And this spirit Madero has found himself unable to control or to suppress. There is a wide spread dread lest this bitterness may come to a head in the form of a race riot that will shock the outside world. The Taft administration has already appealed to the Mexican government for the protection of Americans in Mexico. The German government has made similar representations to Mexico in behalf of German citizens. The European powers have received disquieting reports of the prospect of a serious outbreak of the more ignorant portion of the Mexican population against resident foreigners, and there is no doubt that the situation may prove to be quite serious.

But that is not the only element of danger in the present situation. The Indians have put in demands for the confiscation of the large ranches of the richer classes. A number of orators have incited the poorer Mexicans to demand the forfeiture of the big estates throughout Mexico, and their division into small holdings for the common people. It is an open secret for the revolution was financed largely by the wealthy Mexicans, and it will not be easy for Madero to repay them by robbing them. Yet the more ignorant portion of the population have taken up the cry of a new division of the land, and demagogues are busy in preaching that doctrine in many of the provinces.

Evidently the problems which Madero has to face are far from being easy of solution. He has stirred up a popular movement which he has not yet been able to govern and subdue. Unless he shows greater control of the situation than he has as yet been able to acquire, another revolution may overtake unhappy Mexico.

CHICAGO'S LOAN SHARKS.

(Chicago Tribune.)

A Bostonian with a taste for statistics has found out that there are in his city about 100 personal property money lenders and about 100,000 borrowers. The average interest rate is 228 per cent. per annum.

Chicago has a little more than three times as many people as Boston. Presumably it has at least 300,000 borrowers and 300 persons on chattel mortgages or a pledge of wages. As for the interest rate, there is no reason to believe that Chicago is below Boston.

Judging from the frequent offers of "money on easy terms" in the advertising columns, and the circulars of philanthropic money lenders which are stuffed in the mail boxes of householders, Chicago has its fair proportion of loan sharks. It is a pity that this city has not its statistician who could ascertain how many there are, how many customers they have, and about how much they squeeze out of those who do business with them.

Then we should have data which might make an impression on the next general assembly. It might not like the present one, refuse to pass a bill which would cut down the interest rate from 228 per cent. to 49 per cent. on the ground that that would be encouraging usury.

SIX MONTHS TO COOL.

The largest steam hammer in the world has been made at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. It is used for forging steel plates of enormous thickness and size, is ten feet square and strikes a blow of 20 tons. The anvil block upon which it fearful impact descends is a solid cube of twelve feet, and weighs 180 tons. It was upon the foundation it now rests on, and it took the molten contents of six cauldrons to make the block. When it was cast the Pittsburg fire department sent six fire-engines to the scene, and kept them there for a week, or until all danger that the fearful mass of molten iron might burst its bonds, or by its exploding gases fire the neighborhood, had ended. It took nearly six months for the anvil to cool, so that the sand mould might be dug away, and even then workmen could not touch it with their hands.

A Survival of Barbarism.

There is, as the Springfield Republican says, nothing more alarmingly uncivilized than the practice that still survives in some parts, of subjecting newly-married couples to unseemly demonstrations. There was, however, as the Republican further reports, something of poetic justice in a demonstration of this nature, which recently occurred in a New Jersey town.

A man named Chute had for years been a ringleader in such demonstrations in that neighborhood. Not long ago Chute himself married. He managed to escape with his bride before a demonstration could be organized for his benefit, but on the return of the bridal couple to their home, the bride-groom was subjected to a double dose of his own medicine. Chute was first taken to a public fountain, where he was compelled to take off his socks and wash his feet. He was next taken to the Auditorium ball room, and compelled to do "spectacular dancing on his bare feet, with trousers rolled up to his knees. Following this he was taken to a cafe, where his face was blackened, and he was forced to eat salted cocoon pie. Finally he was taken in an automobile to a lake about two miles out from the wood and compelled to swim across it a couple of times.

Asaya-Neural

THE NEW REMEDY FOR
Nervous Exhaustion
Headache, Insomnia and Neuralgia are generally the result of exhausted nerve centres. The true remedy is not a paralyzing drug, but Food, Rest and nerve repair. "ASAYA-NEURAL" is and makes possible this cure. It feeds the nerves, induces sleep, quickens the appetite and digestion; freedom from pains and buoyancy of spirits result. $1.50 per bottle. Obtain from the local agent.

Mine, Costa & Co., St. George.

Remarkable Achievements in a London Studio.

The secret of taking and printing photographs in color—a possibility sought after as eagerly by photographer as the Philosopher's Stone by the alchemists of old—seem now to have been achieved. At the Dover Street Studios, London, England, numbers of photographs of well known people in which the most delicate tints of eyes and cheeks and hair, of jewels, and laces, and silks, had been reproduced on paper, sensitized by an entirely new process, so as to be an exact facsimile to the actual colors seen by the "eye of the camera." "Although colored plates of a kind have been produced," said the inventor, Mr. Hamberger, "I can claim that this is the first time that a true color photograph has been printed upon one and the same sheet of paper without touching up or 'transmitting.' Hitherto color photographs have been reproduced by the three color process—the primary colors, red, yellow and blue, being laid one on top of another and blending into something that will pass for the real picture.

BOHEMIAN SPAS.

Over $40,000,000 Spent There Each Year by Foreign Visitors.
According to the latest statistics about $40,045,000 is expended each year by visitors from foreign countries who take the "cure" at the natural mineral spring resorts in Western Bohemia along the Erzgebirge (Ore Mountains). This does not include the sum spent by foreign transient visitors who stop for less than eight days, or by those from the various crown lands. The grand total is not less than $45,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Some idea of the volume of business transacted at the great Bohemian spas may be deduced from the fact that the railroad office in Marienbad, which has a resident population of 6,279, receives from outbound passengers for transportation tickets alone, exclusive of baggage receipts, $409,000 annually. The post office in the same city turns over to the government, after payment of all expenses, a net profit of a like amount. These figures can be multiplied by three for Carlsbad. The three resorts depending on their natural mineral springs for their purposes (Carlsbad, Marienbad and Franzensbad), pay $913,500 annually in direct taxes, exclusive of the special assessments.

It was almost with glee that some Opposition papers announced that the Niobe, the Canadian training cruiser on the Atlantic coast, had struck on a ledge. Surely that is carrying politics a trifle too far. The Mail and Empire's heading was "Canadian Navy on the Rocks." The "Canadian navy" did not stay on the rocks, nor will the naval policy of the Government.—Ex.

The facility with which the guns on an American battleship perforated huge box kites at night shows that fighting from the surface still has advantages.

arrived on Monday.

Mr. McSherry of Worcester, Mass., who has been a guest at Camp Utopia the past week, made the best score of the season at the Mount Vernon golf links on Monday.

Mr. Dawes Gilmor and Mr. Smith played some good golf during the past week. Mr. Gilmor has had the putting greens improved which adds greatly to the enjoyment of golfers.

Miss Ella Gilmor of Bonny River is the guest of Mrs. A. Goss this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Spear and family spent Sunday at Wilson's Beach.

Mrs. Brine and her daughters entertained delightfully on Tuesday evening a camp fire and a corn roast featured in the evening's entertainment. Afterward there was music and dancing indoors and exquisite ices and cakes were served. Altogether it was one of the most successful social affairs of the summer.

Unappreciated Sympathy.

The Soda-fountain clerk was engaged in vigorously shaking up a chocolate and egg, says a writer in the Bellman, when suddenly the glass broke in his hands, and the ensuing deluge made him look like a human seal. The horrified customer leaned over the counter and tried to be sympathetic. Not knowing exactly what to say, he finally burst out consolingly: "Oh-er-too bad! Did the glass break?" Dripping from head to foot, the clerk looked at him wistfully. "Did the glass break?" he repeated. "Did the glass break?" And then with freezing sarcasm, "Oh, no, not at all! You just happened to stop in while I was taking my morning shower."

Rossini's Reception of Wagner.

Wagner and some companions called upon Rossini. Hearing them on the stairs, Rossini hastily placed the score of "Lohengrin" on the piano and when the German composer entered he said, pointing to it, "You see illustrious maestro, I am studying your work." "But the score is upside down!" exclaimed the other, seeing how the look was placed. "Yes," returned Rossini calmly; "the fact is I have had it the right way up for some time, but could make nothing of it," and then all present began to laugh, including Wagner himself.

THE VANISHING FORESTS

Timber Resources of the United States Showing Signs of Exhaustion.

Commissioners and commissions have been appointed in various parts of the United States to make reports on what should and could be done to prevent the destruction and prepare for the restoration of timber supplies, but wherever actually a response to the recommendations was secured the means employed were too feeble to prevent the former and too inefficient to secure adequate results in the latter direction. For instance, the latest State to move in the matter of taking care of its important timber interest, Alabama (whose annual lumber output is valued at $5,000,000), appropriates $500,000 for carrying out the provisions of the act providing a commission with various duties. The great State of Minnesota whose forest products in one year approach in value $45,000,000, devotes less than $12,000 to its forest interests, and $20,000 on prairie planting. The State of Maine, which still cuts around one billion feet, and is indebted to the forest for a product of $18,000,000 in value, keeps within the modest sum of $25,000 to pay for the protection against fire and the support of a commissioner. Examples of such picaresque and inadequate measures are found in many other States.

The only two States which have not hesitated to spend money for forestry purposes are New York and Pennsylvania. The former, in purchasing forest lands for a preserve, which now comprises about one and a half million acres only, has expended millions of dollars, and is annually appropriating money for further purchase, besides liberal provision for its Forest, Fish and Game Commission. But, alas! the policy of forest reservation which had begun on economic grounds, has degenerated into providing a pleasure ground—a park—for the wealthy, and there is little consideration to economic forest questions given by the State or the Commission.

Pennsylvania is the only State which can be said to have started on a true policy of recuperation, buying up waste lands, protecting them, and in a small way beginning to reforest them, an appropriation of about $500,000 being at the disposal of the Forest Commission.

Rough on Josefa

Dispatches from Berlin say: Pass Ditschek, one of the Siamese twins who lately appeared at a Paris music hall, was arrested by the police to-day on a charge of breaking her contract. Her sister, Josefa, was, of course, obliged to accompany her to jail, and complains that though innocent she has to share the imprisonment.

Unkind Kindness.

The servants were abed, and the doctor answered the bell himself. A colored man stood on the steps holding a large package.

"Is Miss Matildah, the cook, at home, sah?" asked the man.

"Yes, but she has retired," returned the doctor.

"Can I leab dis fo' her, sah?"

"Certainly," said the doctor.

He took the bundle, from which flowers and buds were protruding, and, after bidding the man good-night, carefully carried it to the kitchen, where he deposited it, paper and all, in a pan of water.

The doctor thought nothing more of the affair until he heard Matilda's angry voice raised in conversation with the maid.

"Ef I had de passon heah," cried the cook, "dat put mah new spring hat in dis er dishpan, I'd scald 'im for sho!"

ST. PAUL'S IN PERIL, ARCHITECT BLAMED

Condition of Foundations Now Found Bad.

London, July 28.—That Paul's cathedral is in danger is now evident from the evidence of experts which has been taken before a select committee of the House of Commons. Some years ago, when the danger to the cathedral was reported in the Herald, the mere idea of such a thing was looked upon as a report of alarmist. Now it is made very apparent that there was nothing alarming in the story at all; and the investigations that were made show that the foundations require serious attention if the cathedral is to be made secure.

The evidence of experts shows that the cathedral rests upon an eighteen foot layer of "pot earth," with sub-strata of gravel and clay. At the bottom stratum of gravel a stream of water is constantly flowing, and there is strong evidence on the face of the building itself of settlements having occurred from time to time. The top of the south tower is ten inches out of the vertical, to quote one or two of the changes, and sufficient movement has taken place to imperil the stability of the portico and columns.

Sir Christopher Wren is blamed for "the gigantic mistake ever made by any architect."

"That Wren's judgement was at fault in not making the foundations deeper is shown in the fact that shortly after the cathedral was finished it did actually give way, sinking several inches and making repairs necessary, which were taken in hand by Edward Strong, one of the great architect's pupils." is the conclusion come to by one expert, and the danger lurking in the bed of sand and the possibility of its running off and leaving the pot earth insufficiently supported, was realized very vividly in 1869. Since then the city near the cathedral has been honeycombed by railways, sewers and tube railways, and the extent to which the bed of sand underlying the cathedral's foundations has been tapped can only be guessed at. It follows, therefore, that the extent of the danger which threatens St. Paul's, although a real one cannot be actually gauged without careful and lengthy examination, and no one can be accused of being an alarmist who suggests that this should be done without delay."

ASSISTING THE JUDGE.

(M. A. P.)

A case was being tried in the west of England and at its termination the judge addressed the jury, and they retired for consultation. Hour after hour passed and no verdict was brought in.

The judge's dinner hour arrived and he became hungry and impatient.

Upon inquiry he learned that one obstinate jurymen was holding out against eleven. This was more than he could endure, so he ordered the twelve men to be brought before him. He told them that in his address to them he had so plainly stated the case and the law that the verdict ought to be unanimous, and the man who permitted his individual opinion to weigh against the judgment of eleven men of wisdom was unfit and disqualified ever again to act in the capacity of jurymen.

At the end of this excited harangue a little squeaky voice came from one of the jury. It said:

"Will your lordship allow me to say a word?"

Permission being given, the owner of the voice added:

"May it please your lordship, I am the only man on your side!"

PARADE OF WORLD'S NAVIES.

The greatest naval pageant in the history of the world will be the most spectacular feature of the ceremonies incident to the opening of the Panama canal. The President has been authorized by Congress to invite all foreign powers to participate in a great naval parade, which will insure not only representation of every navy in large numbers, but each country will send its largest and best ships. The spectacle will be the sight of a lifetime. The fleets will assemble in Hampton Roads and proceed up the Chesapeake Bay and Potomac River to Washington, where a formal call will be made upon the President of the United States. On their return the President will review the fleets from his yacht, which will be stationed at the Virginia Capes; then this vast armada will sail southward and pass through the Panama Canal as part of the official opening programme. By no means the last interesting part of the announcement is the continued cruise of the combined fleets to San Francisco, during the Panama Canal Opening Exposition. This will furnish an attraction which an international exposition has ever had and will enable thousands of people who cannot get to the Atlantic coast, to enjoy the inspiring sight of the greatest assemblage of fighting ships ever brought together in the history of the world.—From Popular Mechanics.

FRIDAY, AUGUST, 11 1911

The Hon. Wm. Pugsley arrived in St. John Sunday last going direct to his home at Rothesay.

In an interview with a Telegraph reporter he outlined a pretty lively campaign of improvements for St. John in the future by the government. The Minister has been a representative that has done things for his native province, and judging from his past fulfilments of promises, the future holds big things for St. John in the way of Government expenditures for the advancement of the port and city. The principle expenditures he spoke of were the Courtney Bay improvements, large extensions to the West end wharves the closing up of the west channel by continuing the breakwater to Partridge Island, which would about double the size of the present harbor, the dredging of the main entrance channel, which is now well under way, and the furnishing the city with a post office similar to the new one at Winnipeg, and suitable for a large increase of population in the city, which he confidently looks forward to.

Cruiser Niobe Reaches Halifax

Special to the Telegraph.
Halifax, Aug. 8. The Niobe was towed into Halifax harbor this evening, at a twenty-four hour run from Clark's Harbor, where the cruiser struck a rock eight days before.

The weather was very thick all the way up, so much so that from the time they started till Halifax was reached on only one or two occasions, and that for a brief moment, for those on board the Cornwall, which was doing the towing, to see the Niobe. The Cornwall was connected with the Niobe by two wire cables 150 fathoms long, joined to the Niobe's chains, fifty fathoms more, making 200 in all. The Lady Laurier followed the Niobe, also connected by two cables from each quarter of the Niobe to the bow of the Laurier, doing the steering because the Niobe's rudder was out of order. In this position they proceeded without mishap at the rate of six knots an hour for the distance of about 130 miles.

The Niobe's pumps, in addition to a number of wrecking pumps placed on board, are able to keep the water down though the cruiser is slightly out of trim astern.

The Cornwall was pretty badly damaged during the three hours she was on the rock. Her pumps are able to keep the water down, but she is leaking and it is not known exactly how much water it has accumulated in some of her compartments.

It appears the rock on which the Cornwall struck is not charted. The warship was approaching, steering a good course from the southwest ledge gas and whistling buoy, which she passed closely, and she should have been safe. Several charted rocks have been reported near this place, and there is every reason to believe that the rock on which the Cornwall struck is one which was never reported, and is uncharted. The Cornwall draws more water than any ship that ever passed there before, and hence while others passed over safely, she struck.

Captain Ley and Navigating Officer MacLeod feel keenly the position in which they are placed by the Cornwall's striking but experts on navigation on this part of the Nova Scotia coast believe that it will be shown at the investigation that the charts indicate deep water where this rock was found by the Cornwall.

The British ship will go into the dry dock tomorrow for inspection and thereafter the Niobe will be docked.

The Cornwall is an armored cruiser of 9,800 tons and was built in 1902. She was one of the fleet that escorted King George V., then Prince of Wales, to Canada when he attended the Quebec Tercentenary. Since that she has been used as a training ship, and in addition to her regular crew has on board a large number of cadets.

Carry Milk in Chunks.

The people of Siberia often buy their milk frozen, for convenience it is allowed to freeze about a stick, forms a handle to carry it by.

The milkman leaves one chunk or two, as the case be, at the home of his customers. The children of Irkutsk instead of crying for a drink of milk, cry for a bite of milk, but "Be careful not to break the milk." Broken milk is better than spoiled milk, milk, though, because there is an opportunity to save the pieces.

A quart of frozen milk on a stick is a very formidable weapon in the hands of an angry man or boy as it is possible to knock a person down with it. Irkutsk people hang their milk on hooks, instead of putting it in cans though of course when warm spring weather comes pans and pails are used as the milk begins to melt.

NEED OF THE HOUR

Major George Washington Stephens talks on Canadian Transportation

Not long ago Major Stephens, the president of the Honor Commission of Montreal, delivered a masterly address before the Empire Club of Toronto on the development of the St. Lawrence route. "In the possession of this great national asset, the St. Lawrence waterway," said Mr. Stephens, "into which has gone the genius the courage and the money of the Canadian people, Canada unquestionably has within her midst the cheapest and most efficient national trade route on the Continent."

"The St. Lawrence River today carries to and from the port of Montreal one-third of the country's national trade."

"In this enterprise there are just 2,000,000 Canadian shareholders, all equally interested."

"At her present rate of increase Canada will, during the twentieth century, contribute to the Empire a population exceeding that now occupying the British Isles, and will produce from one-quarter of her available area in the West more wheat than now comprises the total wheat crop of the United States."

"There are two methods of providing for the handling of this new business, not to mention the concurrent industrial production of the country: First, by increasing transportation and terminal facilities on Canadian soil; second, by allowing business to be taken care of by transportation routes and sea terminals not within the limits of this Dominion."

"I like to regard this system extending from Port William to the sea, a distance of 2,500 miles, as a great national undertaking, into which are going the money, the genius and the patriotism of the Canadian people, and out of which are coming year by year privileges and powers to the transportation interests of Canada, instead of diversity of control and authority."

MAKING OF CARPETS

They Were First Used in Europe to Cover Tables.

The primary use of carpets in Europe was to cover tables. The first of these so-called carpets were embroidered—not woven—fabrics, about 1600 years ago. The manufacture of carpets in Europe did not begin until the reign of Henry IV. of France. In England the industry was established about 1750 by a French artisan, who being at odds with his own country, fled thither.

Carpet-making, as a modern industry, was first developed in France. That country had large factories and a monopoly in Europe of the art of carpet-weaving when a rush-strewn floor was the rule even in the royal palaces of Britain. But the edict of Nantes, that great dispenser of French artisans and artists, caused many of the carpet craftsmen to cross the channel. They settled at Bristol, Axminster and other places in the southwest of England. From there the secrets of the industry spread to Glasgow, Kidderminster and the towns of Yorkshire. These places are still the great carpet-weaving centres of Great Britain.

An Alternative. Old Richfellow (desperately): "If you refuse me, what is there left for me to do?" Sweet Girl: "Well, I read the other day about a rich man who made his will in favor of the woman who refused him, and then went and hanged himself."

BELGIAN CHILDREN.

Parents share their Pleasures with Offspring.

This delight in the family life is characteristic of all Belgians. One sees in Brussels and Antwerp mothers promenading in the boulevards or the Bois with a cigar in his mouth, and a child leaning on his arm and the children, in hand, walking sedately under the proud eye of their parents.

One finds children in the restaurants and children in the music halls. The pleasures of father and mother are shared always with the nursery. To go junketing without the children would appear to the Belgian not only childish but dull. His happiness is the happiness of his children. He sees the girls with their own eyes and half with theirs. The toyshops and bookshops in Brussels tell of the part that is played by the child. The happiness of this people is the pleasure of domesticity.

ARE THE MEN THE WEAKER SEX?

Women Gaining Muscular Supremacy.

A college professor expresses the conviction that women are gaining the muscular supremacy over men. He attributes this to their taking a more active interest in outdoor sports, while the men are becoming indolent in that respect, and prefer being spectators to participants in athletic exercises. With their admitted superiority in all the arts and graces, including fluency of expression, and to male life is shorter than that of female life, and thirdly, because the proportion of widows who remarry is much lower than the proportion of widowers who remarry.

Marriages of persons described as "widowers" have actually increased and in the year 1909 were the highest on record.

All He Was Fit For. A former Irishman, reduced to the last stage of poverty and destitution, as the last resource made inquiry at a marine store as follows: "Dye my rags and bones here?" "Yes," was the reply. "Then, he jabs," said Pat, "I may put me on the scales."

The Reason. Benevolent Old Gentleman: "Johnny, why was Damocles afraid to eat his dinner when the sword was suspended over his head by a single hair?" Johnny (who does not like being patronized): "I s'pose he was afraid the hair would fall into his soup."

A Progressive. "Madame, dot girl of yours make great progress mit her moosle. Before she was always two or three notes behind me, and now she is always two or three notes ahead."

LOCALS

The C. P. R. have a small survey party doing some work along the line here and in the immediate vicinity.

The Sam'l. Johnson mill site at Second Falls has been purchased by Percy Thompson of St. John of the Hydro Electric Power Co., Beacon.

The St. Michael B. R. team of St. John winner in the Society League may come here shortly for a game, as negotiations are now under way toward that end.

It seems as if the small herring have struck in along the shore as quite good catches have been reported this week in several places, the Messrs Connors Bros. got about 35 hogheads on Wednesday.

One of London's largest and historic hotels the Carlton was badly gutted by fire on the 9th, which started just as the guests were dressing for dinner catching them in all styles of undress.

The Stmr. Connors Bros. got here Monday morning remaining till Tuesday morning when she left at 9 a.m. for St. Andrews from which place she took a party for a moonlight sail to St. Stephen that evening.

Going Some - Jas. Vealines the Fren h aviator broke all records on Monday when over a measured course at Paris he covered 496 miles, seven hours, fifty-six minutes and thirty-six seconds, with out alighting.

On Monday the Liberal Conservativity party of the County held its convention at St. Stephen when Thos. A. Hartt, M. P. of St. Andrews was chosen as their standard bearer. G. W. Ganong ex M. P. was offered the nominations but declined, giving as a reason ill-health. This nomination will most likely result in an election for the local house also.

On next Monday the 14th the Liberal party of the County will meet at St. Stephen at 3 p.m. to nominate a standard bearer for Sept. 21st, the present member will no doubt again have the honor of contesting the county. In the evening a public mass meeting will be held in the Rink which will be addressed by the Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works and the Candidate selected at the afternoon meeting.

On the afternoon and evening, from 3.30 to 10 p.m., Wednesday August 16th the Parish Aid Association of St. Mark's Church will hold a tea and sale of ice-cream, home-made candy, lemonade and fancy articles on the spacious grounds in front of Mr. Thov. Meeting's residence. From 5.30 to 8 p.m. a 25c. tea will be served on tables set under the trees. The band will be in attendance during the evening. The Association have also decided to have a supper on Thanksgiving Day. The proceeds of both entertainments will be devoted to the Church Building Fund.

On Saturday afternoon last the Quoddy baseball team strengthened by four of the best players of the Calais team, Neptune and Watt as battery, Odell C. F. and Mitchell L. F. arrived here and the game started very late about 4.30 ending 6.30, the management had difficulty in filling the team as both Gilmore and Stewart were disabled and got Fredette of the St. Stephen team to come in the train which was late in arriving, then causing the delay in commencing.

What was expected to have been the closest and most exciting game of the season turned out very one sided as after the 4th inning our boys seemed to be able to bat Neptune about as they liked piling up a score of 19 with an inning to good by innings as follows:

|--------|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|-------|
| 1      | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 | Total |
| Qdy's  | 1 | 0 | 2 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 4     |
| St. G. | 2 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 4 | 4 | 0 | 8 | 19    |

While Woodcock and Gale again proved themselves fighters from the word go, with fine support over the whole field except a couple of errors of the third baseman.

It is likely the team will pay a return match at Eastport shortly, where they will have the opportunity to show what they can do off their own ground, as they have not played from home yet.

On their home ground we seem to have a team that might beat the best league team. On Saturday it is expected that a tickled team from the Commercial League of St. John will come down for a game which will be called at 1 p.m., as they will have to return by the afternoon train. There is some pretty good material in the Commercial League and an interesting game will likely result.

Next Wednesday the final game of three between the Utopias and the home team is scheduled, the home team having 2 to their credit, likely another series will be started at once.

FRENCH MAKE NEW USE OF AEROPLANE And British Postmaster General is to Try an Experiment

Cherbourg, Aug. 3.—Another good record was made here yesterday by the Aviator Auburn, in locating submerged submarine boats from an aeroplane. Auburn made two flights outside the harbor and in the first flight at a height of about 400 feet, within a few minutes located two boats that were a mile and a half out. On the second flight the birdman flew to an altitude of 1,200 feet, when he was able to locate the boats submerged in a depth of 18 feet and going at full speed. Auburn also demonstrated the possibility of locating a submarine from a height of 3,000 feet, while men aboard the submarine were unable to see the aeroplane when it was higher than fifteen hundred feet.

London, Aug. 3.—The Post Master General is arranging with Grahame White, the aviator, for an experimental aeroplane postal service between London and Windsor. King George is greatly interested in the project and has given permission to use Windsor Park as the terminus of the route. The service will start during the present month.

ENGLAND IS BETTING IN A Great Increase in Gambling Is Reported.

Gambling is on the increase in England. According to reports from the British Anti-Gambling League, organized gambling is making great strides, and despite the fact that the police have made it very difficult to place bets in London and other big cities of the kingdom.

It is stated that whereas a century ago there were only twenty bookmakers in Great Britain and Ireland there are now some 30,000 men getting their living wholly or partly in this way.

The turnover is estimated at about $400,000,000 on horse racing and $150,000,000 on football and other sports. The gambling evil, too, is spreading alarmingly among women and children and is restricted to no particular class of society. There have been forty-six cases of women bookmakers before the courts in the last year.

The league has protested to the government against the receipt of foreign lottery circulars and called the attention of the police to the existence of many girls' betting clubs.

To show how deep the gambling passion has taken hold, the directors of the league declare there are many bookmakers who stoop so low as to take bets for sixpence or a shilling from girls or boys.

A Peer for a Minute.

An Aviator Sat in the British House of Lords for Thirty Seconds.

On one occasion a gentlemanly appearing individual walked boldly up the steps of St. Stephen's, passed the various officials, turned into the House of Lords passage and, says the Strand, in a self-possessed manner entered the robing room.

"Lord Normandy's robes," the attendant looked surprised. "But, my lord—" he began.

"I know its absurd," said the stranger, "but my tailor cannot finish my robes in time and I must attend this sitting. Lord Normandy was so kind as to offer—/ou understand?"

"Oh certainly, my lord," responded the rober.

The crimson and ermine was produced and donned and the pseudo peer strolled into the House where a few peers were waiting, administered a series of affable nods right and left and finally took his place on the woodcock.

For full thirty seconds he sat there while these present tried to collect their faculties. Then he slowly arose and remarking to the clerk "How stupid of me! I now remember I have an appointment elsewhere," retired from the chamber. In the robing room he remarked, "Thank Lord Normandy and tell his lordship I have just recalled a pressing appointment with the King."

"Yes, my lord. What name?"

"What?" echoed the other, in assumed astonishment. What name? Really, my good fellow, you must be careful. It does not do to forget yourself in this assembly. But I will overlook your slip this time. Good morning."

That evening it was known at the Beefsteak Club that Banister, the actor, had won a bet of £50.

The Mail and Empire calls attention to the heavy demands which will shortly be made on the Canadian banks for accommodation in connection with the moving of the crops. This is a good time for those banks that finance United States crops with Canadian money to curtail their foreign operations in order to be ready to aid this country in tilting over the impending scarcity of currency.

The official position of the Opposition leader after Parliament is dissolved is still an unsolved problem, and dissolution will call attention to it. Cabinet Ministers retain their positions under the Crown, but members of Parliament have no official standing if re-elected.
