TORRENTIAL RAINS HAMPER OFFENSIVE OPERATIONS OF ALLIES

British Take Advantage of Enforced Pause to Consolidate Positions Won—French Sweep Forward, Capturing Two More Villages—Germans Bring Up Reinforcements and Are Stubbornly Resisting Allied Advance.

IMMEDIATE DEVELOPMENT SOUTH OF SOMME IS PREDICTED WITH VAST ARMIES FIGHTING IN OPEN FIELD FORMATION — TIME OF "THE GREAT SQUEEZE" HAS ARRIVED, BRITISH PRESS SAYS.

London, July 4.—The two British official despatches issued today record little change in the situation on the British front. They show that the Germans have brought up strong reinforcements from other parts of their line, and are stubbornly contesting every yard of the British advance. Torrential rains today, however, hampered the offensive operations, and the British action was confined mostly to consolidating the ground already won.

The French have captured two more villages, and are on good roads to Peronne. But there is yet no decrease in the violence of the German attacks in the Verdun region.

Despatches from German war correspondents indicate the realization that the Central Powers are losing the initiative, which their favorable position on the interior lines enabled them to hold throughout the long course of the war. Moreover, in commenting on the enormous resources in munitions and war material the Entente Allies have been able to pile up through the wearying months of preparation, they equally recognize that a profound change has occurred in the relations of the belligerents. Simultaneously with the opening of the Anglo-French offensive, the Russian armies are again attacking on the whole length of their front.

An entirely new offensive has been opened against Prince Leopold's Bavarian forces in the region of Baranovichi, where the Russians have pierced the German lines at two places; while the Italians are maintaining strong pressure along their entire front.

TIME HAS COME FOR THE GREAT SQUEEZE.

The British newspapers consider that these events prove that the moment of "the great squeeze" has at last arrived, and not since the war began have hopes run so high. Nevertheless, almost every British correspondent on the western front warns against being over-optimistic, and daily reiterates that the progress must necessarily be slow and methodical.

Up to the present the Anglo-French captures in the battle of the Somme total more than 14,000 prisoners, twelve heavy guns and twenty-eight field guns. This booty represents, for the man in the street, a very satisfactory result of a little over three days' fighting.

The battle rages on such an extended front that the correspondents find difficulty in shifting the main currents of the operations. The Associated Press correspondent, in a pregnant phrase, records what is perhaps one of the most significant features when he notes "the amazing change from trench-tied warfare to that of an army in progress." The same striking feature comes out in an interesting review of the operations which the Associated Press has obtained in an interview with Major General F. B. Maurice, who predicts an immediate development south of the Somme, where he says, the fighting is now in open field formation.

WHOLE PRUSSIAN BATTALION SURRENDERS.

All unofficial despatches speak confidently of the satisfactory situation on the British front, a notable incident being the surrender of a complete Prussian battalion, with officers, to the British near Fricourt. German prisoners are beginning to arrive in England, 1,500 being landed at Southampton today.

The German Report.

Berlin, July 4, via London.—Heavy forces have been thrown into all attacks on the German lines both north and south of the Somme, in renewed attempts to advance, the war office announced today, but all the assaults were repulsed with heavy losses.

The official statement says: "While the enemy did not repeat his attack north of the Ancre Brook, he brought forward from Mametz strong forces between the Ancre and the Somme against the front from Thiepval to La Boisselle.

"South of the Somme he brought strong forces against the line from Barleux to Belleu.

"His losses under our artillery and infantry fire correspond to the great number of men employed.

"The attacks were repulsed everywhere.

"Bitter fighting took place for possession of Hadeourt, north of the Somme. French troops which penetrated our positions there were thrown out again.

"Northwest of Ypres, west of La Bassée, and in the region southwest of Lens, local enemy advances were reported and repulsed.

"On the east bank of the Meuse fierce attacks against the hill batteries of Damoupy were easily repulsed.

"Repeated official French reports regarding the recapture of the Thiaumont wood and the Damoupy batteries are false; also the information as to the number of prisoners taken during the events on the Somme.

"East and southeast of Armentieres German patrols broke into British reconnoitering detachments and near Etruncke, west of Muebhausen (Upper Alsace), into French positions. One officer and 60 men were made prisoner here.

"Nine enemy aviators were brought down, five in aerial battles, without any losses to ourselves and four by anti-aircraft guns.

"Six machines, put out of action, are in our hands."

Thiaumont Wood In Hands of Germans For Fourth Time

Paris, July 4.—The Thiaumont Wood, around which some of the bloodiest fighting of the war has taken place, has been captured by the Germans, for the fourth time, according to the official statement, issued by the French war office tonight.

The French have advanced south and east of Asselviere, where they have captured a wood and the villages of Barleux and Belleu-Santerre. They have also taken the greater part of the village of Estrees, where 500 prisoners fell into their hands.

The text of the official statement follows: "North of the Somme the day passed quietly in the whole section occupied by the French troops.

"South of the Somme, in spite of bad weather which interfered with our operations, we extended our positions in the course of the day toward the south and east. We captured woods in the neighborhood of Asselviere and the villages of Barleux and Belleu-Santerre, which we hold in entirety. Estrees has also fallen into our hands, with the exception of a small part, where the Germans are still resisting. In the region of Estrees alone we took 500 prisoners.

"On the left bank of the Meuse an artillery struggle is proceeding in the region of Avocourt and Hill 304. The Germans are still resisting. On the right bank of the Meuse the Germans redoubled their efforts in the region of Thiaumont, on which, since midday, they directed a bombardment of great violence with guns of big calibre. About two o'clock after several assaults had been repulsed, a massed attack was launched on the work, and the enemy succeeded in capturing it, for the fourth time. Our troops maintain their positions in the immediate neighborhood of the work. An intense artillery fire was directed by the enemy on Damoupy and La Louette. No event of importance occurred on the rest of the front.

"On the night of July 3 our airmen bombarded the railroad station at Longuevau and the barracks at Challerange and Savigny, and military establishments at Leon.

The Belgian communication says: "There is nothing of importance to report."

DOMINION TO FLOAT DOMESTIC LOAN IN SEPTEMBER; BETWEEN 50 AND 100 MILLIONS

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, July 4.—The next domestic Dominion loan will be floated in September. The amount has not yet been decided upon but it will in all likelihood be between fifty and one hundred million dollars. When the first domestic Dominion loan was floated late last fall the sum stated as required was fifty millions but the amount was subscribed twice over, and fifty millions was utilized by the government for a credit in Canada for the purchase of war supplies by the British government.

It is anticipated that the new loan will be welcomed by the people and no difficulty will be experienced in raising whatever money is asked for.

Colonial Secretary Law has cabled the Governor General expressing the appreciation of His Majesty's government for the assistance afforded by the Canadian bankers in providing a further Imperial munitions credit of $25,000,000.

A REVOLUTION AT HAND GERMAN SOCIALIST SAYS

People Tired of Being Mercilessly Bled Have Reached Limit of their Patience and will Soon Rise in Force—Socialist Manifesto Calls on Masses to Revolt.

London, July 4 (N. Y. Times).—A despatch to the Morning Post from Berlin says: "What is happening in Germany?" is the question placed at the head of numerous articles in the Swiss newspapers during the last few days, and the fact that the question is so frequently put shows that the feeling which prevails among the population of Germany is one of serious disquietude.

"Speaking at a meeting of the Leipzig City Council on Wednesday last a Socialist councillor said: "The people are being bled so mercilessly they must not only be impoverished, but also ruined in health. Muller-Meiningsen has threatened that the people will rise in force and that will happen. There is an end to all patience."

According to the Gotha Zeitung, Muller-Meiningsen is a well known leader of the Radical party in the Reichstag and has written to Von Batocke to tell him which the following passages occur:

Tired of Nice Phrases.
"I am certainly hearing cries of distress from the whole of Thuringia about the lack of sugar.

The discontent increases daily to a most alarming extent and only actions by high officials are useless unless improvement is quickly made. Noisy gatherings will be held of also outside the large towns, for the whole German people are of the opinion, and rightly so, that the limit of endurance has been reached. The bureaucracy is utterly bankrupt, and the people already are rising against it and will finally do away with it by force."

The condemnation of Liebknecht has undoubtedly aggravated the situation. A Socialist manifesto, distributed in thousands in the industrial districts of Germany before the trial was concluded contains the following:

"Workers: The cause of Liebknecht is your cause. In hitting Liebknecht it is you that they wish to hit and reduce to silence in order that this carnage may continue. Will you tolerate it? Let your voice be heard. Prove that there are behind Liebknecht hundreds of thousands of people who think and feel as he does."

Prisoners Taken By the British Now Exceed 5 Thousand

London, July 4.—A late bulletin from the war office says: "Heavy thunderstorms and torrential rains interfered somewhat with offensive operations. The situation south of the Ancre is generally unchanged.

"Operations during the day consisted chiefly of minor local enterprises with a view to retaining the ground gained. The total number of prisoners exceeds 5,000."

An official statement from general headquarters, dated 10.55 p. m., reads: "On the southern sectors of our front fighting continued throughout the day and at some points we made slight progress. The remainder of a whole German battalion surrendered in the vicinity of Fricourt yesterday.

"At La Boisselle fierce fighting and bombing continued, and bombing encounters took place during the past twenty-four hours. Our troops are now in complete possession of the village.

"The Germans made a strong bombing attack this afternoon on that portion of their original front which is now held by us, south of Thiepval. This attack was repulsed easily, with loss to the enemy.

"Between Thiepval and the Ancre the enemy heavily shelled our newly won trenches.

"Immediately north of the Ancre there is no change in the situation. There was considerable artillery activity today about Loos and the Hohenzollern redoubt. A German raid last night on our trenches south of Armentieres completely broke down under our rifle and machine gun fire, and considerable losses were inflicted on the enemy.

"Our aeroplanes successfully attack-

NEW INTEREST IN RUSSIAN OPERATIONS IN THE EAST

With Czar's Men Again Invading Hungarian Soil and Renewal of Great Drive Against Teutons, Eastern Theatre Promises to Become Again Scene of Exciting Events.

London, July 4.—Russian cavalry patrols have crossed the Carpathians and entered Hungary, according to a wireless message received here from Bucharest.

The despatch says that the patrols advanced from Kimpolung and entered Hungarian territory on Tuesday. They cut the telegraph wires and blew up buildings in which food and munitions were stored. It is added that the news that invaders are again on Hungarian soil caused a deep impression.

In the face of the exciting events on the western front, the Russian operations, to some extent, have been lost sight of, but they are of increasing interest. Reports in the Austrian official communications of the fighting southeast of Tlumach indicate that Gen. Von Bothmer's forces must have fallen back from the Tarnopol front, in an effort to meet the threat to his communications. It is thought that Von Bothmer may be forced to retire to Lemberg.

An attack by land and sea against Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's forces in the north, together with a new Russian attack at Baranovichi, promises interesting developments which are likely to have an influence in the Lutsk region, where the Germans hitherto have been able to hold the Russians.

THRILLING STORIES TOLD BY WOUNDED MAJ. GAULT ON STRETCHER GAVE ORDERS TO MEN

Would Have Crossed Hell Itself to Reach Enemy," One Officer Says of British Soldiers.

All Wounded in High Spirits and Supremely Confident that the Tide of Battle has Turned.

London, July 4.—Convoys of wounded continue to arrive at different ports where everybody comments upon their cheerfulness and high spirits, and their supreme confidence that the tide of battle has turned. Some tell thrilling stories. One well known commanding officer of a battalion who was landed at Southampton with a hole through one hand, and an ugly shrapnel wound in the leg, which he received in Saturday's fighting said:

"Our fellows reached their objective. They would have got there if hell itself had to be crossed. No soldiers could have been finer than our men. The German machine guns were sweeping that portion of the front with an absolute hail of lead, but our only trouble was to prevent them from charging right into the thick of it before the chosen moment.

"The officers were splendid—all of them. Lt. Chawner, in the teeth of a tornado of fire, dashed across No Man's Land at the head of his platoon. Not one got through but himself. But he found himself fact-to-face with three Germans, whom he promptly threatened with his revolver, and made them lay down their rifles. He took them prisoners and ordered them back to our lines. Just then he was knocked over by a shell fragment, with one of the Germans. When he recovered consciousness one of the other two Germans was bandaging him; the second had vanished. So Chawner thanked him, and marched him back to our lines.

"Our men marched through that raging fire exactly as if on parade. If they had been soldiers all their lives they could not possibly have shown a finer fighting spirit. My battalion, being in one of the bad bits, suffered terribly, but those who fell, fell fighting like heroes."

Badly Wounded Directs Operations and Urges Men to Keep Cool—Col. Buller Shows His Pluck.

London, July 4.—(Montreal Gazette cable)—Private Harold Coates, of the Princess Pats, son of Mr. W. A. Coates, manager for the Robert Reford Company Ltd., Montreal, has left Aberdeen Hospital, where 120 Canadians were sent early in June. He was wounded on June 2nd, the first day of the great battle. His regiment was holding the front trenches when the battle opened, the first indication being the throwing over of numerous trench mortars. He was buried three times in the upheavals caused by the explosion of these, and the third time a shower of shrapnel entered his body in twenty-five places.

The shells were coming over into the trenches at the rate of one hundred per minute, while behind was a curtain of heavy fire, designed to frustrate relief, but in vain, as other troops managed to get through. Private Coates saw Major Gault lying on a stretcher in the trenches, badly wounded, but issuing his orders and urging the boys to keep cool. Col. Buller, commander of the Patricia's, was moving around, advising his men to be sparing with their rifles, except when they would be useful.

Pte. Coates is now at the King's Convalescent Hospital, Bushey Park. The Aberdonians gave the wounded and convalescing Canadians a good time on Dominion Day.

OPEN FIELD BETWEEN FRENCH AND RIVER SOMME

LAST DEFENSIVE WORKS OF GERMANS IN REGION OF SOMME ARE SWEEPED AWAY

Only German Soldiers in Open Field Formation Stand Between French and Their Next Objective—Maj Gen. Maurice Gives Some Interesting Information Concerning Events Leading Up to Beginning of Great Drive.

London, July 4.—"Only German soldiers in open field formations now stand between the French and the River Somme," said Major General F. B. Maurice today, referring to the part of the river which flows northward to the east of the sector along which the French have made their greatest gains.

"The last of the enemy's defensive works in that sector have been captured by our Allies."

In giving the Associated Press a summary of the results attained by the Allied offensive on the Western front, Major Gen. Maurice, who is a director of military operations of the imperial general staff, continued:

"Much undesired obliquity has been heaped upon the British army by English, French, and American people because we apparently did nothing to assist the French in the desperate fighting on the Verdun front. But all this time we were doing the part requested by Gen. Joffre.

"According to this plan, we conserved our troops, accumulated supplies and waited the word for the grand offensive, in which we were to play our part with the Russians and Italians, as well as the French. Naturally during these anxious weeks we could give out no exciting news, because our deliberate preparations were not good copy. For certain tactical and moral reasons, which need not be dilated on, it was necessary that the French should not lose the east bank of the Meuse, and General Joffre informed us that he could hold the positions which command that part of the river until the end of June, so we knew we were going to strike at the beginning of July.

All Allies included in the Plans.

"The blow planned by the Allied general staffs included offensives by the Russians and Italians which I do not need to tell you, already have been given. We are not disappointed with our own advance, which we expected to be slow, and we are enor-

THEIR PRESUMPTIVE TO GERMAN THRONE ENROLLED IN ARMY

Berlin, July 4, via London, July 5.—According to a traditional custom of the Hohenzollern House Prince William, eldest son of Crown Prince Frederick William, and heir presumptive, was enrolled in the army today, his tenth birthday. He was appointed a lieutenant of the first guard infantry. The Prince, like his great-grandfather, Emperor William I., who became a lieutenant in 1807, begins his military career in the midst of a great war. Prince William also was given an honorary command with the second guard Landwehr regiment.

FINE SPIRIT OF RECIPROCIITY AMONG CHAPLAINS AT FRONT

London, July 4.—(Montreal Gazette cable)—Major the Rev. C. W. Gordon ("Ralph Connor"), on leave from the front, speaks well of the spirit of reciprocity among the chaplains.

Catholics, Anglicans and Free Church chaplains have buried men of other faiths according to the rites of their churches. One Catholic soldier asked Major Gordon to bury him, if a priest were not available, remarking that the prayer put up by Major Gordon over his chum would be good enough for him.

JULY DIVORCE COURT

Fredericton, July 4.—The regular July sittings of the Court of Divorce opened this morning, with His Honor Justice McKeown presiding. There was an exceptionally large attendance, the witnesses in several cases making in itself quite a large gathering.

By arrangement among the counsel and on the ground of convenience and with consent of the court, cases on the docket were taken up in a little different order than entered.

The case of E. Jennie Kelly vs. John F. Kelly was next taken up, Mr. Kerr moving for trial. Several witnesses gave testimony and on adjournment at one o'clock this case was still before the court.

The case of Alexander L. Leama vs. Annelma Leama, on motion of Mowat H. A. Powell, K. C., counsel with Austin A. Allen, was first heard. Four witnesses were examined to prove the allegations set forth in the bill of complaint, and Mr. Powell asked for this case to be taken up on the testimony submitted. The Court delivered judgment, dictating decision to the Court stenographer. The divorce was granted on the usual terms.

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL

Official Report of the Fighting. Petrograd, July 4, via London, (7.50 p. m.)—An official statement issued tonight says:

"Between the Styr and Stokhod, and south of the Stokhod, fierce battles continue. In the region of the Nijnia Lipa we are closely pressing the enemy, who is defending himself with great persistency.

"An attempt of the enemy to cross the Styr, in the region of the village of Lipa, was repulsed. During the night we captured on this front 11 officers, nearly one thousand men and five machine guns. On the right bank of the Dniester the enemy twice attempted an offensive gear lessakoff, but was repulsed by our fire.

"In the direction of Kolomea we dislodged the enemy from several positions and, pursuing him, occupied the village of Potok Tcharny. The booty taken here was four cannon and a few hundred prisoners.

"We pierced two lines of enemy works south of Tairine, northeast of Baranovichi. The battle continues. In this fighting yesterday we captured 72 officers, 2,700 soldiers, 11 cannon and several machine guns and bomb throwers.

"In the course of yesterday's assault the valiant Colonels Govoroff, Silakoff and Stryanoff fell, while Colonel Adjeff succumbed to his wounds later.

"On the northern front there was a lively artillery fire which became violent at some points. In the region of the village of Saltaguz, east of Lake Vichnevskeye, the Germans attempted to leave their trenches but were prevented by our fire. One of our air squadrons raided the Baranovichi railway station.

"Caucasus front: In the direction of Balburte our offensive continues to make progress. We captured two field guns, 11 ammunition wagons, two machine guns and three bomb-throwners.

"Persia: Our troops are fighting in the region of Kermanshah."

THE BLOCKADE AGAINST ENEMY GROWS TIGHTER

Whole Population Now on Short Commons Looks Anxiously to Harvest

TRYING TO GET SUPPLIES ABROAD

Turkey and Balkans Have their Own Troubles and Can Send but Very Little Relief.

Special Cable to the N. Y. Herald.

London, June 21.—"Neither in the North Sea nor the Baltic," said Mr. Balfour in his speech before the Imperial Council of Commerce, "can the Germans for many months make any organized fleet effort, which might have been in their power before the battle. And our blockade is tighter than ever."

If the condition of Germany was ever growing more serious owing to the blockade before the North Sea battle, what must the future have in store? From the same authoritative source from which on a previous occasion I obtained first hand information about the effects of the blockade I have further information on this same matter.

"The whole population," said this same informant, "is on short commons as regards many necessities, though even now things have not reached a point which can justify the cry about starving women and children raised in order to create prejudice in neutral countries against the British blockade. Still, the blockade is telling, and the Germans are looking forward with great anxiety to the next two months before the harvest."

Desperate efforts are being made by Germany to obtain food supplies from neighboring neutral countries, and such imports are in excess of the quantities obtained in normal times. For instance, of 30,000 tons of potatoes exported from Holland this year 42,000 tons have already gone to Germany, and the same quantity of Danish exports to Germany, however, have declined, and the supply of fish and fish oils from Norway have lately been reduced by English purchases. In the case of the Danes, German agents are scouring towns and villages for every article of which Germany stands in need, and what cannot be exported openly is smuggled out by every possible device.

The high expectations entertained by Germany with regard to supplies from Turkey and the Balkan States appear to have been grievously disappointed, but from Roumania considerable quantities of agricultural products are now being obtained. Still "it is clear that the various measures taken to safeguard the supplies and control the use of fodder, milk, butter and other edible articles are being increasingly felt in the provisioning of the people."

The most scarcity "is almost entirely attributable to the fodder shortage, and this in turn to the effect of the blockade upon the imports of various kinds of cattle food. Meat is likely to grow scarce."

The sugar shortage is mysterious. "Whether enormous stocks have been secretly accumulated for the purpose of dumping after the war or whether enormous hoards have been made on stocks for fodder and for providing the public with a diet substitute for fat, or whether the original estimate was deliberately overstated, there is nothing at present to show."

As to prices of food, "the general level in March was more than one hundred per cent above that of the last month before the war. Restaurants are bound by regulations to prevent sumptuous meals even for those who can afford to pay for them, and attention is being directed to the danger of restricted diet. School children in Leipzig are stated by a lady residing there to have lost on an average six to twelve pounds in weight, according to age."

Valuable Victory For Russians Berlin Says. Berlin, July 4, (Via London, 4.27 p. m.)—A notable victory for the Teutonic forces in Galicia was announced by the war office today. Southeast of Tiumsch, by a speedy thrust, the Russians were forced back on a front of more than 12-1/2 miles to a depth of more than 5-1/4 miles. Tiumsch, near which the defeat of the Russians is reported by the German war office, lies 27 miles north of Kolomea, the railway junction point recently taken by the Russians, and 25 miles southeast of Bucacz.

VOW TO PRESERVE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Meeting of Toronto Anti-Unionists Marked by Spirit of Covenanters.

(Toronto Globe, Friday.) Canada is to have its covenanters, who will vow to uphold and preserve the Presbyterian Church against all attempts at union with other denominations of Christians. At a meeting of some three hundred Presbyterians held in St. Andrew's institute last evening, Rev. Dr. Robertson of St. James' Square Presbyterian Church called upon those present to rise and solemnly make a covenant to preserve the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Prayer was offered, and practically the whole audience stood up.

Rev. T. Wardlaw Taylor, speaking of the vote on union at the General Assembly at Winnipeg, said the Assembly was not deliberative, the supporters of union did not consider the social problems before the Church. The vote was taken under pressure of public sentiment. "The whole thing was an appeal to passion and prejudice, and the Assembly carried its decision under a whirl of excitement," said Dr. Taylor. He strongly criticized the character of the debate, and said it was a mystery to him how so many men turned around to the side of the unionists. He said that, while the west was largely for union, there were many strong men there who were opposed to it.

Mr. John MacKay made a strong speech urging more efficient organization for the preservation of the Presbyterian Church.

The audience was composed of members of churches from various parts of the city.

DEATH OF CHARLES STACKHOUSE PURELY ACCIDENTAL, SAYS JURY

Result of Coroner's Inquest Exonerates Randolph and Baker Mill Management from All Responsibility for Accident to West St. John Man.

"We the jury empanelled to enquire into the death of Charles Joseph Stackhouse, find that the accident occurred on the 29th of June, at three o'clock in the afternoon, in Randolph and Baker's mill, and that he died in the General Public Hospital at 2.30 o'clock on the morning of July 1st. After hearing the evidence we are convinced that the accident occurred while he was making repairs to a saw-dust chain conveyor, and that it was purely accidental, and we exonerate the mill management from all blame."

Signed—Andrew Mylles, (foreman), Walter Treacartin, Daniel Connolly, M. J. Isaacs, Edward B. Spragg, Murray J. Northrup, James Kerr.

The above is the verdict rendered by the jury before Coroner W. B. Roberts in the court house last night, on the death of Charles Joseph Stackhouse.

Frank Baker, the foreman of the mill was the first witness called, and testified that Stackhouse had been engaged to install new conveyors. At the time of the accident, he was placing a block to guide a chain on a saw-dust conveyor, the work was quite unnecessary, and was not Stackhouse's duty. If such work should be done it was the duty of Mr. Cripps the millwright. It was when Stackhouse was placing the block in position to fasten to a post that his hand caught in a chain and was hauled between the chain and the pulley.

Dr. J. H. Allingham gave evidence of being summoned to the mill. He found Stackhouse conscious. The man's left arm was badly torn, the hand was hanging only by some skin; there were several fractures of the arm, the muscles from the chest to the shoulder were torn apart and the nerves exposed. Witness gave stimulants, dressed the wounds temporarily and conveyed the injured man to the hospital in the ambulance. That evening the arm was amputated about an inch above the elbow joint. The next morning the man's condition had improved, but during the night he took a turn for the worse, lapsed into unconsciousness and died at 2.30 o'clock Saturday morning. Witness in conversation Friday morning, witness said Stackhouse stated he had some work so often that he thought there was no danger, and that the accident was caused by his own carelessness.

John Kenney, Factory Inspector, testified that he had visited the scene of the accident and found conditions all right. The same conditions regarding these conveyors exist in all saw-mills.

James Cripps, the millwright for Randolph and Baker, did not see the accident but assisted in extricating the injured man from the machinery. Witness said he would not have attempted to make such repairs unless the machinery was stopped. It was not part of Stackhouse's duty to work where the accident occurred.

Thomas Stout, a carpenter employed in the mill, gave evidence that he was assisting Stackhouse when the accident happened. Stackhouse was about to place a block against a post to guide the revolving chain, when suddenly he exclaimed, "I'm caught." Witness then saw Stackhouse's left hand being fed in between the chain and the cogs of the pulley. He caught hold of the body and tried to haul the man's arm clear, and being unable to do so, stopped the machinery, and with others assisted in hauling the man clear.

Harry J. Kierstead, a millwright employed in looking after the top floor of the mill, stated he would not have attempted to place the block in position without first stopping the machinery. Stackhouse had no right to make such repairs, as he was engaged to place new conveyors in the mill and this work was fifty feet from where the accident occurred.

John L. Valtour, assistant millwright was called but stated he had nothing to add to the testimony already given.

The jury then retired and in half an hour brought in the verdict as stated.

The manuscript score of Edward MacDowell's principal orchestral work "Indian Suite," is in the Library of Congress, a gift from its composer.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS AT A.F. AND A.M. INSTALLATION CEREMONY IN LONDON

London, July 4 (Montreal Gazette Cable).—"The finest type of Canada's soldiers defending the Empire," was the reference made by one speaker to Captain W. MacLeod Moore, formerly of Montreal, who was tonight installed as Worshipful Master of Canada Lodge, A. F. and A. M., at present in charge of the Queen's Canadian Military Hospital at Beachborough Park, Shorecliffe. Captain Moore is preparing for the active life in the trenches. Captain Moore, declared P. G. S. Grundy, in toasting the worshipful master, was the embodiment of everything for which Canada lodge stood. It was largely owing to him that the lodge existed, and there was no more fitting time for him to take office than when Canada's contribution to the defence of the Empire was being so strikingly emphasized. Messages from the King and the Duke of Connaught were received.

A number of officers and men of the Canadian expeditionary force were guests at this most successful installation gathering.

GERMANS PRESENT BRITISH WITH A BRAND NEW FOKKER

Hun Airmen Donation Not Intentional, However — Mistook British Hangar for His Own.

London, July 4.—Major Baird, representative of the arial committee in the House of Commons, said today that the demand for flying machines at the front was enormous. Recently as many as twenty-four flew across to the field of operations in one day, he added, in illustration of this demand, and the manner in which it was being met. In admitting that in one case an airman had taken a British machine by mistake to a German hangar in Belgium, Major Baird commented that these mistakes occurred on both sides. Recently, he said, the Germans had presented the British with a brand new Fokker.

NEW RECORD IN DIVORCE COURT

Five Absolute Divorces Granted by His Honor Judge McKeown Yesterday.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, July 4.—Five absolute divorces were granted in rapid fire order in New Brunswick Divorce Court here today, and when Mr. Justice McKeown adjourned his court until August 8th, he had established a new record for untied nuptial knots in this province.

The first case taken up and decided was that of Alex. I. Leaman vs. Angelina Leaman of Moncton. They were married in 1885 and are parents of twelve children. Leaman swore that his wife left him in 1911, and had been unfaithful. After hearing evidence Judge McKeown dissolved the marriage.

The next case taken up was that of E. Jennie Kelly vs. John F. Kelly, of St. John. They were married in 1911 at Weston, Kent county, and plaintiff secured her divorce on usual statutory grounds.

In the case of George Christie vs. Lillian Irene Christie, plaintiff swore she left her husband a year ago last March and since then has been living with Samuel Veysie, in Carleton county and Maine. Mrs. Christie was formerly a Miss Williams, and they were married in 1909 at Temperance Vale, York county. A decree was ordered to issue granting divorce.

After being married almost twenty-five years John T. McGoldrick, of St. John, secured divorce from his wife who was formerly Eleanor Desmond. They were married in 1893, but have been separated for some time, having lived together for sixteen years. Evidence showed unfaithfulness on part of defendant, one Melanson being named, and she now runs what witnesses declared to be a house and beer shop of questionable character on Paradise Row, St. John.

Mrs. Bell Yerxa, of Douglas, was granted a divorce from her husband Alexander Yerxa, of this city, on usual ground of infidelity. Plaintiff was a widow when she married Yerxa, who she charged with desertion and being unfaithful.

Case of Mary Clark vs. Robert Clark plaintiff being a resident of Kent county, and defendant a member of the 104th Overseas Battalion, was stood over until next term, papers not having been served in time for trial of the case at this sitting, and the case of Lily May Carr vs. William Seymour Carr was then taken up. Plaintiff is a resident of St. John, where she conducts a boarding house. She was formerly a Miss Drummond, of Burton, Sunbury county, and was married in 1899, her husband being a native of Geary, Sunbury county. Case stands over until August 8.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

WHY?

Frank B. Carvell, Member of Parliament for the County of Carleton, N. B., and George W. Kite, Member of Parliament for the County of Richmond, N. S., have made serious allegations against a responsible minister of the Canadian Government and responsible Canadian officials.

These allegations and comments upon them by the men named and the Liberal press have had the effect of defaming Canada and of arousing throughout the world a contempt and prejudice against this country.

Free and full investigation of the allegations made by Carvell and Kite has shown there was no corruption or dishonesty on the part of the Minister of the Canadian Government or the Canadian officials referred to.

Why should Frank B. Carvell, Member of Parliament for the County of Carleton, N. B., and George W. Kite, Member of Parliament for the County of Richmond, N. S., be permitted to remain in Canadian public life?

THE GOVERNMENT AND ITS CRITICS.

With evident delight the miserable Times copies from the Toronto Globe an article in which the opinion is expressed that Sir Robert Borden and his ministers must be "sleeping" because they have not permitted themselves to be forced to adopt a policy of conscription. The Times so approves of the Globe's stand that it adds a commendatory word of its own as follows:

"The trouble with the whole campaign since the war began has been that very fact of the failure of the government to do its part."

That statement is a foolish falsehood such as no newspaper editor in his senses would make. Not only has the Government done its full duty in the prosecution of war measures of every necessary sort but what it has accomplished has been in the face of the bitterest and dirtiest opposition on the part of the muck-raking politicians of the Carvell-Kite type, and mud-slinging newspapers such as the Times and its Toronto idol.

It is not to be expected that the work of the Government, or of any Conservative Government, would impress the Toronto Globe or the Times. Those newspapers are too solidly in the pay of the great element of the Grit party to dare to manifest the independence necessary to approve of any action by any government in which their friends and paymasters do not control. But the better class of newspapers, both here, in the United States, and in Great Britain have been able to pen a word of appreciation of the Government's activities and to effectually silence any criticism the Times or Globe may make.

Let us take first the Minister most responsible for the conduct of Canada's share in the war, Sir Sam Hughes. He, more than any other, has been the target for the abuse and misrepresentation of the Times and of the Globe who have contended that he has been worse than "useless" and "could well be spared" from participation in Canada's military affairs. Yet how is Sir Sam regarded by newspapers which are not paid to abuse him, and by public men with sufficient manhood to speak their own minds?

The New York Sun says of the Minister of Militia:

"Sir Sam Hughes, the target for so many political shafts, has proved himself the most formidable man in Canada. He overrode the law, the business habits of the Government and the expert advice of army men and civil engineers and extemporized the great training camp at Valcartier, whence soldiers by the hundred thousand have gone forth since August, 1914, to fight England's battles. He organized the Canadian war industry that has produced over a billion dollars' worth of shells. It is said, in the past 18 months, whether or not he showed the same contempt for rules and regulations here as at Valcartier, he produced results everywhere, and made Canadian participation in the war a glorious one."

The London Daily Express in April last had occasion to discuss Sir Sam Hughes and said this:

"Sam Hughes would have risen to prominence in any country possessing democratic government. During the four years he has been at the head of his department he has stamped his individuality upon the entire militia life of Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He wants a soldier to be a soldier, not a drawing-room ornament. NEITHER A GOVERNMENT NOR A COMBINATION OF INDIVIDUALS COULD DO WHAT SIR SAM HUGHES HAS DONE TO SECURE AND PERFECT THE ORGANIZATION OF THE EXPEDITIONARY FORCES."

So much for the Minister of Militia. Now, how about what the Toronto Globe terms the "inept" Government, which the Times' war expert says has "fallen to do its part"?

The Christian Science Monitor of Boston is a sane and able paper. It has found something to admire in Canada and the Canadian Government for, after referring to the part Canada has played in this war, it says:

"The marvelous results of these sacrifices and of this devotion have been recorded. They have surprised Canada itself. THEY HAVE WON THE UNCONCEALED ADMIRATION OF ITS NEAREST NEIGHBOR AND THEY HAVE EARNED THE PRAISE AND GRATITUDE OF THE EMPIRE AND ITS ALLIES."

Let us also quote from the address in the House of Commons of Dr. Michael Clarke, Liberal member for Red Deer and a Liberal of the Liberals. Speaking in the House on May 1st, 1916, Dr. Clarke said:

"When this war of evil history will record that whatever the petty political fortunes of the parties happened to be THE PRESENT HEAD OF THE GOVERNMENT HAS SINCE THE WAR CLOUD BURST KEPT AN EYE SINGLE TO THE WINNING OF THE WAR AND HAS NOT BEEN TURNED ASIDE BY ANY IMPROPER PURPOSES OR SMALL CONSIDERATION."

These are the words of a Liberal leader spoken at a time when many of his colleagues were indulging in petty political discussion and doing their best to turn the Government aside from consideration of war matters to engage in the Carvellian pursuit of mud throwing. They were a standing rebuke to the Grits of the machine wing of the party, the Grits who saw in the war, not a struggle for liberty and justice, but a grand opportunity of manufacturing a little cheap political capital for themselves. The same gentlemen who encouraged the attacks of Carvell and Kite, who dealt in scandals and devoted their best efforts to the attempt to undermine confidence in the Government, are now engaged in raising an outcry that the Government has not risen to the full seriousness of the situation and has failed to do its part.

There is a reason for the anxiety of the Times and the Toronto Globe and it is not patriotic, rather does it spring from a partisan desire to supplant the present rulers at the Dominion capital with men of the Carvell, Kite, Pugsley type. It is in the interests of such as these that the Toronto Globe and the St. John Times burn their powder, not for the well being of Canada or of the Empire.

WHERE ARE THE SLACKERS?

If the Toronto Globe and St. John Times are so painfully in earnest in their belief that Canadians and the Canadian Government are not doing their duty in the present war, that recruiting is dead and the country is filled with "slackers," they should not object to considering a few plain facts with the object of showing just what part of Canada harbors the men who cannot be coaxed into the King's uniform. Let us go to the recruiting figures and see.

When it was proposed that Canada should raise an army of 500,000 men, Manitoba and Saskatchewan were asked to produce 60,000, and up to the middle of June the enlistment from those two provinces totalled 68,859. Alberta was asked for 26,000 and she has given 30,921. British Columbia was commissioned to raise 27,000 and she raised, in round numbers, 32,000. Ontario was asked for 185,000 and had already contributed 144,856. The Maritime Provinces were asked for 31,000 and while they have not yet completed their apportionment they have raised approximately 22,000 men. The apportionment for the province of Quebec was 139,000 and of this she has raised 34,908.

In the Maritime Provinces 70 per cent of the allotted number of men have already been raised, while in Quebec but slightly more than one-quarter of the requirement has been met. The western provinces, where there were more idle men, have done more than their share, Ontario has made a splendid showing, the Maritime Provinces have not done so badly; Quebec alone, the province of Laurier, is derelict in its duty.

Yet, as late as June 15th of this year, the Toronto Globe, chief Laurier organ in Canada, told us that there were "not less than three million people out of a total population of about eight millions in the Dominion who would resent fiercely the application to the men of military age among them of a law compelling enlistment for service in a European war."

Finally the Globe admits that the Quebec Liberals, the Laurier Liberals, would "resent fiercely" any attempt to apply compulsory military service. And yet, knowing this, it now urges the Government to do something to stimulate recruiting. Does it take this course in the hope that the Liberals in Laurier's province would carry their resentment to the point of voting against the Government that would incept a measure of conscription?

There are slackers in Canada, plenty of them, some of them here in New Brunswick, some, even, in St. John. But by long odds the chief slacker in this regard is the province of Quebec, the province of Laurier. It is very poor policy on the part of the machine Grit press to upbraid the Government for not having done more, the wonder of it is that there has been so much done. And for what has been done very little credit is due to the newspapers which are today complaining. Nor is there much thanks coming to the leader of the Liberal party, for in the province in which his influence is supreme can be seen today the results of the pernicious doctrine preached by him in days gone by.

The people of Quebec can hardly be blamed if they would "resent fiercely" fighting in a "European war." Too long have they been led to believe, and some of his lieutenants, that they are not concerned with what happens outside the borders of this Dominion. Even today, in the midst of the world war we are faced with the spectacle of Sir Wilfrid Laurier raising the flag of racialism and countenancing among his compatriots in Quebec, the idea that the English speaking people of Canada are warring upon their race and their language.

Let the Times, the Toronto Globe and other Liberal newspapers discuss the failure of recruiting if they will, and blame the Government for the lack of men coming forward to don the khaki. The Conservative party and press will willingly accept the challenge. But in such discussion let us call a spade a spade, let us get down to basic facts and see where the slackers are, see what provinces have signally failed to make good in answering the call to arms. Then we may be able to trace the causes as well as the effects and place the main responsibility. And that burden will not rest upon the shoulders of the Canadian Premier or any member of his Government.

A "GERMAN" FALSEHOOD.

"Today we see three Yankess, with J. Wesley Allison, dividing a million dollars of the country's money when it's heart's blood is being shed."

These few words almost read as though they had been taken from one of the Evening Times' "patriotic" editorials, but instead they came from a synopsis report of the address delivered by W. M. German, Liberal M. P., at the convention of the Liberal Association of Welland, Ontario. And they are absolutely untrue. Not a cent of Canadian money was divided by the four men mentioned and the excerpt from the address is merely quoted to show that the "German" of Welland, for political reasons, can juggle the truth as slyly as other Germans have done for military reasons.

In the course of one of his "patriotic" editorial notes, the superman on the Times says: "Perhaps the Borden Club will now elect a returned soldier as president." There is no desire to draw political lines when considering the willingness of our young men to go to the front, but we believe the Borden Club would have no difficulty in finding one of their members, qualified by active service, for such a position. How about the Young Liberal Association?

In the opinion of some of our esteemed contemporaries the Canadian Government's war affairs will never be properly administered until Brother Stewart Lyon of the Toronto Globe and Comrade Belting of the Times take personal charge.

Snoring as usual, the Times declares that if the Australian system had been adopted in Canada there would not be so many officers to "go from Canada to England only to be attached to some base there because of inefficiency instead of being sent to the front with their men." How do the patriotic young Liberal officers in this province who have left good positions to don the khaki, like that slap in the face?

H. F. Gadsby, the gentleman who contributes abusive letters to the Liberal press on the alleged shortcomings of the Government and all government appointees, now takes an impertinent fling at Canadian officers. By the way, has Mr. Gadsby himself manifested any keen desire to go into khaki, or does he find it more profitable and more safe to stay at home and abuse the men who have?

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM THE FINANCIAL WORLD

BACHE'S REVIEW OF THE SITUATION

No Change in the Favorable Situation in General Business.

SURPLUS RESERVES IN BANKS INCREASED

In Monetary Circles the Feature Continues to be the Arrivals of Gold from Ottawa and London.

There is no change in the favorable situation in general business. Production is going on at an enormous rate, met by equally good distribution with average good profits. In many lines sales have been made for the whole of this year, with good prospects for next year's business.

Our foreign trade continues in largest figures, the exports for May being the greatest on record, with the trade balance for the fiscal year just ended estimated around $2,200,000,000, which is double that of 1915.

The market has taken Mexican news during the week to give it its own degree. Any adverse news would have done as well, in the present underlying situation, when nearly everything is favorable for advancing prices, except that Wall Street is full of stocks.

On the other hand, very large sums of money would be available and would be used for outright purchase if margin holders sold out on a substantial decline.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, July 4.—There are reasons forward the street for the belief that the shares of Nova Scotia Steel and Coal will occupy a prominent place in the market's eye as the time approaches for the putting forward of some plan which will prove of direct benefit to the shareholders and will reward them for the period of waiting which they will have put in since the dividend was cut off shortly after the war broke out.

DULL SESSION YESTERDAY ON MONTREAL STREET

Resumption of Upward Movement in Quebec Ry. and Carriage Factories One of Few Redeeming Features.

Montreal, Que., July 4.—With the New York market closed its observance of the "Glorious Fourth," the local market expected to be even quieter than usual, and in that respect suffered no disappointment.

Quebec Railway and Carriage Factories apparently conspired, however, to save the day and prevent the list from sinking into a state of utter insignificance. The resumption of the upward movement on Quebec which developed yesterday when the price crossed the 34 mark and rose to 35½, before the noon recess some spirited buying brought it back to itself and its buoyancy and it rose to 35½.

HARTLAND

Hartland, N. B., July 4.—Mr. Percy Graham, for about 18 years manager of the branch of the Bank of Montreal here, leaves tomorrow for Sawayerville, Que., to take charge of the branch there. He has been prominent in the work of the Church of England here during his residence, as also has Mrs. Graham, and the members of the congregation meet at the rectory tonight to bid them farewell and wish them success in their new field of labor. During the evening the rector, Rev. N. Franchette, on behalf of the congregation, presented them with a fine cut glass water set, accompanied by the following address, to which Mr. Graham made a fitting reply. Ice cream and cake were served during the evening.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Graham: We read in Holy Writ that "A certain man took a journey into a far country." The impending removal of yourself and your estimable spouse from our midst brings to our minds the New Testament parable of the lord of the vineyard who, before he went away, saved his servants behind certain talents. It is our earnest hope that when you return to us at a future date we may be classed with the man who had made use of the one talent given him.

Partings are seldom joyful events, and the severing of our pleasant relations here is but an example of the uncertainty of all things earthly. The members of our little congregation in Hartland look upon your departure from our midst as a great loss to the community and the church, to the latter of which you have for so many years been staunch and loyal supporters. We could not very well permit you to go from among us without in some way expressing our appreciation of your faithful service to the church which you so ardently loved and our sense of the loss we shall sustain by your removal. Your wise counsel, kind sympathy and generous hands have contributed in no small degree to the present and prospective prosperity of our beloved church, and your going away will leave a gap that will be difficult to bridge. Ever zealous for the welfare of our church, you have become the buoy to which all our smaller barques on the turbulent sea of religious life have been moored. But perhaps we leaned too much on your moral and financial support, and your going away from us may inspire our members with a spirit of confidence in themselves that they have previously been strangers to.

The Sunday school, the Sewing Circle and other auxiliary work of the church will sustain a loss when Mrs. Graham goes to her new home. Her untiring efforts in behalf of her church, with a Christian zeal worthy of emulation by those who are left to continue the work. We feel sure that in her new sphere of usefulness she will gratefully herself into the hearts of the people as surely as she became a live factor in the religious and social life of Hartland. Although going among strangers, the radiance of her Christian spirit will attract those most worthy of the friendship that is something more than a name. No matter what the future may bring her, Mrs. Graham can rest assured of the fact that there is a little coterie of Hartland people who will have nothing but good to say of her and who are proud of the fact that she has chosen the part that Mary of old was commended for by her Master.

For yourselves, we feel sure that the severing of the ties of friendship and church relations here is perhaps the keepest blow that she has chosen for many years, but we trust and pray that in your new home you may find friends strong and true who will come up to their hearts and temper the sting of the parting from those with whom you have been so long associated.

More words are inadequate to express our sorrow at parting, but you may rest assured that at the family altar in each home represented in our congregation the names of Mr. and Mrs. Graham will be remembered when making intercession at the throne of grace.

Though we feel that you will need no monitor to remind you of your stay among us, we would ask you to accept this small token of our regard, and when the glass is raised to your lips may there be therein a picture of your friends in Hartland who dearly love you and are parting with you with the most sincere regret.

Responsibility. The meaning of this word, as the dictionary says, is "a state of being answerable for any trust." Now we all think we are responsible, people, don't we? We would be very much annoyed if any one said of us, "Oh, she's not responsible for her actions." And yet are we always "answerable for any trust? When you join a society for patriotic or charitable work, do you attend the meetings faithfully, or do you go just when you have nothing else to do? If you are at the meetings and are put on a committee to do your share of the work, or are you content to let the others spend their time and strength while you get your share of the credit? There is a decided falling off in the work for the Red Cross and Patriotic Societies. Think of the casualty list and your own common sense will tell you that the Red Cross workers will have to redouble their efforts to keep up with the hospital supplies. Surely these long rainy days in the country, or in town, could not be better employed than in sewing or knitting for our brave fighting men. Try it and the days will seem all too short.

Medicine Bottles for Red Cross

Do you know that nearly all the medicine bottles were made in the war-torn countries? Therefore they cannot be procured and our empty ones can be used over again in the hospital abroad.

Lady Lytton, president of the Provincial Red Cross, was received a letter from Capt. Kubring in which he states that—

"An urgent need has arisen and on that I am sure a little attention on a little cost on the part of the people of New Brunswick could readily supply. It is almost impossible to procure empty medicine bottles of the various sizes. The authorities have not got them and the result is a waste of medicine and untold inconvenience.

"Could you arrange for an immediate collector of used bottles (medicine size) and have them forwarded? We have a large number of hospitals in this area and any surplus would be welcomed by them. I am sure I can appeal to the people of New Brunswick through you, with an assurance of success."

The local Red Cross will receive a

Veils are an essential of the summer's preparation. There are very many kinds from which to choose. In the first place, there is the shadow veil, which is made of a fine mesh of lace or tulle and a part of the hat itself, but it serves to veil the eyes, and it gives a finely midsummer look to any hat.

Are you depending upon the teacher or librarian to influence the tastes of your children in their reading matter? It is strange how parents seem to think that some time, somehow, they will begin to develop intellectual taste in their children; but that now they are "too young." They are developing some kind of taste every minute. "Later on" it will be too late.

Never give them trash to read or poor pictures to look at; the world is full of good things, and every minute they waste on rubbish is a minute lost which never will return.

The nature stories are endless. Get good ones, written by people who know what they are talking about. The librarians will help you to select the well-written, authoritative books, and to avoid the "nature-fakers."

We would not think of putting bad food into our children's stomachs, but mental and moral food seems so much more illusive. Bad reading does not show—more's the pity!—an immediate stomachache or bilious attack; it is very often years before we see the effect of poor reading on our children. I am not warning against obviously vulgar reading—that is comparatively easy to avoid—but just against poor reading, that the casual mother or father might suppose to be all right.

Some rainy day you will be glad to have some good books on the shelves of your country house ready and waiting for you and the children.

"This thing is not easy, it will not do itself." If you are content to have your children grow up like weeds, why, let them grow. Women are not put in jail for this kind of negligence. But they ought to be, and besides that, they miss a lot of fun and rare delight, and I am sorry for them as well as for their neglected children.

Reading For Little Minds.

Little minds dwell in the little books that you have been fixing up with all kinds of frocks, shoes, hats, and coats.

"Oh, but the children are just going to read and play, they do not care to study or read in summer!" I hear you say. And the children would echo it.

Formal study, perhaps not; but every healthy child is a life interpreter, busy in vacation as well as in school. Whether you or they realize it or not, they are unconsciously studying every minute. You need not have the slightest fear of overworking or over-stimulating the child if you let him lead by his own questions, says Prudence Bradish in The New York Evening Post.

Did he ask you last summer about the star-fish you found on the beach, or the jelly-fish or seaweed, and did you have ready one or two delightful children's books on the Sea Wonders? Did he show interest in the birds, the fish, the flowers that you saw in the woods, caught in the lake, or found in your walks across the meadows? It is such a waste of precious opportunity and precious mind-power not to have something on hand to give him when he is hungry for information. If you do not utilize the opportunity, some one else will—and with what result?

If you are by the seashore and the children are interested in the sea things, you have work set before you all summer in feeding these eager little minds with the best. It is their business to learn, and your business to help them.

After the day along the beach, when you have been helping the children find and notice the fascinating things

TODAY'S LITTLE JOKE.

Doctor (to Willie, aged 4): "Put your tongue out, will you?"

Willie, who is not feeling at all well, feebly puts out his tongue.

Doctor: "No! No! put it right out!"

Willie (startled): "But I can't, Doctor, it's fastened on to me!"

June Caprice.

June Caprice, the little New England girl who William Fox himself discovered, the native health-Boston—will make a debut in July before film fans. Miss Caprice is only seventeen years old and was born in Arlington, Mass.

The bright Arlington miss will have her premier next month in a story of the out-of-doors, when she plays the title role in "Caprice of the Mountains."

William Fox has brought this newest of stars into filmland as a result of his own keen observation. He decided that he would enroll the girl for his productions, regardless of the fact that she had no previous experience.

John Adolph, director of "Caprice of the Mountains," is impressed deeply with the historic progress of the Fox protégée. He attributes the work which she does in her first endeavor to her thorough interest and willingness to learn the rudiments.

It will be noted that she wins recognition immediately, for she is deserving it. Mr. Adolph said a few days ago, "The films fascinate her, and she is bound to fascinate her audiences when they see her in action on the screen."

In "Caprice of the Mountains," by the way, the New Englander is introduced to her first glass of champagne. Miss Caprice has still to sip of the real thing, for the intoxicant in which she actually indulges—for the screen—is a beautifully translucent grape juice. In the picture, the result of the tippie is that Miss Caprice sees triple.

Long acquaintance with water-borne New England has made Miss Caprice an adept at swimming, rowing, and yachting. She is an expert tennis player, and when tired of the courts, she gets out her bag of mid-runs, drivers, niblicks and putters, and trots off to the links. Basketball, too, has no terrors for her.

"Shootless Cartridge" Discharges Talcum.

Jack Dillon, director of Vogue comedies for the Mutual Film Corporation, has purchased the exclusive rights to a "shootless cartridge."

This remarkable ammunition, designed for use in motion picture shooting scenes, is the invention of H. Spearman Lewis of Chicago, an expert on light ordnance.

Mr. Lewis, who has specialized on the mechanical application of compressed air, has evolved a cartridge loaded with talcum powder and air under 600 pound pressure to the square inch. The air charge is contained in a tiny steel capsule placed behind the talcum powder.

When the engaged movie villain pulls the trigger of his mucklet, pistol or revolver, a plunger pin punctures the capsule, releases the air and discharges a spurt of the talcum powder, which in the film picture gives a realistic effect of the jet of flame and wreath of smoke which come from actual gunfire.

The Lewis Hot Air Cartridge is entirely harmless and practically noiseless. It will not injure the most delicate fabric or skin. When more realistic effects are required for close-ups, it may be loaded with currant jelly.

Mr. Lewis admits that the idea was evolved in his boyhood days, when farmers loaded shotguns with rock salt to protect the watermelon patches.

Rawlinson's Car Cannot Remain Neutral.

Universal City, Calif.—Herbert Rawlinson, the well known leading man at Universal City, declares that he has the only "alleged" car at the big picture studio.

It has a French top, the seats are covered with Italian leather made of English herring cloth, the make of the car is German.

"However," stated the actor, "the car is not always running neutral."

About Ben Turpin.

When it comes to driving away the blues, there are few who have anything on Ben Turpin, the funny man of Vogue-Mutual Comedies. Ben is a natural born comedian. His long career, both on the stage and in pictures, has been one continuous march up the ladder of fame.

Like Charles Chaplin, the Mutual million dollar comedian, with whom he has frequently appeared on the screen, Turpin's biggest asset is his originality. It is his ability to do the unexpected—to pull something directly opposite to what the spectator has already seen—that has been in a big way responsible for Turpin's great success as a comedian.

What New York is Seeing.

"How Britain Prepared," the remarkable English official picture, will be transferred from the Criterion Theatre to the Standard Theatre, says the Evening Post.

"Civilization," the Thomas H. Ince big spectacle, with its remarkable naval battle scenes, begins its sixth successful week at the Criterion Theatre on Monday.

"The Fall of a Nation," with the impressive scenes and the beautiful music by Victor Herbert, is still a potent attraction at the Liberty Theatre.

"The Man from Bitter Roots," taken from Caroline Lockhart's interesting story, will be the chief film next week at the Academy of Music, with William Garham and Betty Schade in the principal parts. There will be the usual comedies and news films as well.

At the Strand Theatre next week

Blanche Sweet will be seen in "The Duke," Hector Turnbull's story, prepared for the film by Margaret Turnbull. Other features of the programme will include "Taking a Rest," with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew; "The Shoshone Dam," a scenic study, and the Topical Review.

At the Broadway Theatre next week the leading film will be the Pallas-Paramount photo-play, "The American Beauty," with Myrtle Steadman in the leading part, and a sensational production is promised. The rest of the programme will be made up of the usual weekly events, colored scenic and educational studies, comedies, and cartoons.

V. L. S. E. has a most attractive programme of releases to offer for the month of July. There is a decided variety of pictures calculated to appeal to everybody. The first will be a Vitaphone production, "The Conflict," featuring Lucille Lee Stewart, July 3. July 10 will be the release date of "Fathers of Men," in which Robert Edson, Naomi Childers, and Bobby Connelly are featured. "According to the Code," with Marguerite Clayton, will also be released on the 10th. Antonio Moreno and Edith Story will be seen in "The Tarantula," on the 17th, and Anita Stewart's next picture, "The Darling of Diana," will be released on the 24th. Sell's "The Prince Chap," with Marshall Nellan, Mary Chase, and Bessie Eytan will also be released on the 24th. "The Light at Dusk," with Orrin Johnson, will complete the month's offerings on the 31st.

Ethel Barrymore will appear in a dual role in a new comedy never before given on any stage. On its reception in America depends its production in London and Paris.

William Gillett will appear for a season of twenty weeks, six of which will be played in New York in a new play by a prominent English author.

Otis Skinner will act in a new comedy of American life especially written for him by Booth Tarkington.

Blanche Bates will open her season early in October in a play now being written by William Somerset Maugham.

Margaret Anglin, who began her career as a star at the Empire, will return to the Frohman management in a comedy by William Somerset Maugham, entitled "Caroline." The author has been serving in France in the medical corps of the British Army, but is expected to come to America to superintend personally the production of his comedy.

Made Adams will appear in an entirely new play by Sir James M. Barrie, entitled "A Kiss for Cinderella." During the past season Miss Adams has been playing her old Barrie success, "The Little Minister," and will reappear for a brief tour in it in October. Miss Adams will return to New York for her annual engagement at the Empire Theatre beginning Christmas week, in the new Barrie play.

THE RACE AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

If you have not seen that clever and thrilling automobile comedy drama, "The Race," at the Opera House, also the interesting travel picture, "Australia's Unknown," by all means see them today. Last performances this afternoon and evening.

Commencing tomorrow and for the remainder of the week, the favorite Famous Players star, Pauline Frederick, will be seen in a pictorialization of Mary Johnston's intense novel, "Audrey." On the program as well will be the last issue of the English Topical Budget, a full reel of the latest pictorial happenings in the old country, also another of those very laughable Paramount Bray animated cartoons, depicting the adventures of that funny old clogger, Col. Heeza Liar, as a baseball player.

I am sending you the answer to the drawing my fountain pen I got today. I saw where you were going to write me personal, and I will be very glad to get any personal letters you send to me any time. Glad to see where you got word from Geraldine Cory. I would like to correspond with her if she will write me first.

I was glad to see where they mailed out so well selling their violets. If I had known about it I could have sent some.

I like the new addition to the Corner. I think it would be nice if you would publish a story about Uncle Wigley every other Saturday.

As my letter is getting long I guess I will close with love and best wishes to you and the Corner, from

MYRTLE COX.

Interesting Letter From Old Member.

Dear Uncle Dick:

I received your letter, and you can about guess how pleased I was to receive a personal one, although I enjoy any.

I was also very glad to get your picture, and will wear it next to my Kaiser button, and that I always wear.

I enclose a very good and cheap receipt. I have used it, or I mean it, has been in use in our house for some years. (You can try it yourself.)

Canoes are just commencing to get in season, and I spent a delightful evening on Saturday on the creek. I have a nice new bicycle, which, as you can guess, I have many good times.

Well, as you have so many other letters to write, I must stop for I may well say this is too long a letter to such a busy man as you must be.

Your niece,
GERALDINE COREY.
