OT MURDER PROTESTANTS IN IRELAND, REPORT

The Hamar Greenwood Says They Are Being Slain According to Plan.

EX-SERVICE MEN FIRST TO DIE

"Horrible Case of Desecration of Protestant Church" and Fifteen Deaths.

(Continued from Page 1.) In introducing the vote for the Irish office, the Chief Secretary expressed regret that since the last debate the Sinn Fein threat to newspapermen in Ireland had become more pronounced, and he declared one of them had been obliged to leave the country under the menace of death.

Discipline Was Good

The discipline of all the Crown Forces in Ireland, said Sir Hamar, under the circumstances was extraordinarily good and was improving. The Government, Sir Hamar declared, declined to differentiate between the north and south of Ireland in applying the Home Rule Act.

He continued: "We decline to have an act of Parliament torn up by the intimidation of anybody in Ireland. We will have a parliament functioning in the north in June, and we hope, the south will also. That is the key to the political solution of the Irish problem, but if it does not function every preparation has been made in the act to carry on successfully. Everyone, except the extremists, wants peace. The obstructionists are those who refuse a conference with the Government as to the best methods of securing accord between the two governments."

Lloyd George The prime minister, replying in the debate, declined to postpone the elections because that would give the impression that parliament could not be trusted. To Ireland must be left the responsibility of accepting or rejecting.

Mr. Lloyd George's speech was largely a repetition of his former statements that an insurrectionary movement in Ireland is what always happened when Britain, as during the war, had her thoughts and energies pre-occupied elsewhere. Hence, the government must persist in the policy of re-establishing the authority of the law, however long it took, just as did the United States in the fight against secession.

What About Visit? Mr. Lloyd George concluded by reading from a document drawn up after consulting with Mr. Balfour, and which is generally interpreted as having some connection with Lord Derby's recent visit to Ireland, in which the prime minister reiterated his willingness to see any member of parliament, without stipulating any conditions.

"If there is any man in Ireland who thinks he has a better plan than the government's, and he comes with authority and representing Irish opinion," said Mr. Lloyd George, "I will meet him, and the government will meet him."

Handbag Is The Thing For Milady

The thing to do nowadays is to have a handbag of some kind for every costume. And, furthermore, the thing to do is to make that bag yourself.

At least that is what many smart women are doing. The little bags they make are difficult to accomplish, and they have the distinction of being really unusual, really individual.

There are enough disadvantages in most home-made things, as everybody knows, so it is just as well that there are some advantages. But in these little bags the disadvantages are negligible. The advantages are everything.

One especially smart woman recently made a little handbag for herself to wear with a beige costume. It was made of the same beige-colored material as the frock. On it she outlined her farm-yard animals, little pigs and ducks and dogs, and she outlined them in little pink beads. The best gained really with a minimum of head work gave a delightful impression.

And, by the way, it is the thing now to outline the design in beads rather than to work the beads solid, as we have done for so very, very long. The outlining process of course uses less beads and less labor. But that is not the point. The point is that the thing is considered smart.

Another original bag devised by a girl who was a golf enthusiast was made with a little Scotch golfer working on a green, and with clubs and balls surrounding him. This, too, turned out to be extremely effective. And it gave rise to a good many other bags to suit different people's hobbies—gift bags, money bags, and so on.

Some of these, much appreciated, too, were fitting them into frames. Some of the tops are cut in bell-shaped shapes and edged with a piping of blue or green, and some are made of silk which are pinned by dragonflies or butterflies.

One of the most original and effective of these is a little bag made of pink satin, which is pinned by dragonflies or butterflies.

Veils Are Used For Hat Trims

Many Novelties Shown This Season in Veilings—Colors Are Popular.

Veils continue to be extremely important, and many of the smartest hats depend almost entirely on the placement of their veil for chicness and charm. In consequence, veiling houses are making novelties that are interesting.

One of the most striking has the shape of a semicircle, to be worn round the front of the hat, veiling the eyes and sometimes the mouth. Another is square-shaped, with a long end at one corner that is supposed to fall from the side of the hat; and others are various shapes with ends or tails to be draped from the hat, all of them unobtrusive mesh.

Circular Veil. One small circular veil is plain mesh with its edge finished by a triangular border made of heavier cord mesh, and one longer triangle, about six inches long, to fall over one side of the hat.

Maris Guy is using a small, round veil, edged in the narrow rib milliners are using so much of this Spring and which is called comets, either to hang down all around the brim, shading the eyes, or to be fastened back at the front, forming the only trimming on the hat. A similar veil is triangle shape.

Spitely gives her name to one of these novelty shapes with extra end, that is supposed to be placed directly on the head, with the hat over it, and thrown back over the brim. This is particularly effective on sailor shapes.

Embroidered Border. Lavinia has veils made of fine octagon mesh with border of finer mesh embroidered.

Suzanne Thibot has an Egyptian veil of flat mesh with embroidered chignon border that is caught under the chin. The mesh is in such shades as coral, brown or black, with the chignon border of pale pink or white chiffon.

In veiling yardage they are showing handkerchiefs, mesh light and in squares about a quarter of an inch. This is shown in several shades, is beige, gray and others.

Colors reported to be good are oyster, tortoise, shell, blond and the rust shades.

QUAINT CUSTOM STILL SURVIVES AMONG CORNISH

Stones Thrown at Statue of Magdalen Bring a Reward.

DISRESPECT OF THE FIGURE PUNISHED

If Object Remains on Statue Then Wish Will be Granted.

In Llanecoston, a small town in Cornwall, one image and one old custom have remained in spite of the Puritans, says a contributor to London Country Life, who relates a curious survival of the old days when Oliver Cromwell and his image-smashing soldiers ruled England. Perhaps it was because the Cornish did not take kindly to the Puritan spirit, continues the writer, but the Magdalen of the Llanecoston remains and the people of Llanecoston still believe in her power for good and evil. The figure, which rests in a canopy between the centre of the three windows at the east end of the parish church, is a little less than life size, and represents the Magdalen as lying face down in an attitude of grief. By her side is what is described as a skull or the box of ornament.

Still Cast Stones. What is still more interesting is the large number of stones, pebbles and pieces of slate always to be seen scattered and untidy on the back of the figure or upon the sill of the window above. They represent the triumph of custom or superstition. The people believe that if you cast a stone up at the figure and it remains upon it you will get your reward. If you treat the statue with disrespect you will suffer. The stones on the window sill represent failure; those on the figure, success. The people of Llanecoston are reluctant to talk about this belief of theirs. If you ask they will half shyly tell you that the children believe it, and that they remember that when they were children they threw a stone up when they wanted a new pair of boots or a treat of some kind.

"And did you get it?" you ask. "Children" still believe. You will generally be told, "Yes," if you watch, you will see that the children still believe it, and that some of the "children" have long since passed school age. The stones are always there, always increasing. Of the many stories I heard of the Magdalen of Llanecoston one was of how the narrator, when a boy, many years ago, came running home from school and, passing the statue, jumped at it to hit its face. He told me that it might have been the boy or the girl, but before he was out of the churchyard he slipped, sprained his ankle and was in bed for many days. No one seems to know how old the custom is, but the statue itself is no old as ecclesiastical figures count age.

shimmering tones of blue and green. And there is another bag with a doll for the top, the bag consisting of her size woman's shoes. These, too, there is the little empire bag made up of loops of crystals suggestive of chandelier pendants, hang on pink satin.

APPLICATION OF PENALTIES TO THE HUNS

To be Discussed Saturday by the Supreme Allied Council.

GERMAN-POLISH BOUNDARIES ALSO

Line Between Poland and Upper German Silesia to be Determined.

Paris, April 28.—Application of further penalties to Germany and the tracing of new boundaries between Poland and Upper Silesia will be discussed by the supreme Allied council at London on Saturday, it was learned here today.

The council will limit its deliberations to these subjects, it was stated, having decided to take up only questions of urgency.

The determination of the frontier between Poland and German Silesia would be based upon reports from the plebiscite commission, which supervised the voting held in Upper Silesia, and recommendations from the council of ambassadors.

U. S. Invited to Attend. The U. S., it is understood, will be invited to have a representative at the London meeting.

In French official circles it is said that Premier Lloyd George, who will act as presiding member of the council, because it is held at the British capital, will convey the invitation. Premier Briand, it is understood, will not undertake the occupation of the Ruhr district without the approval of the Allies.

In any case occupation cannot be effective before a week, or even 16 days, after orders are given for the advance.

Difficultly Have to Supply Food. A difficulty which may possibly have to be provided for is provision for food supplies for the 3,000,000 inhabitants of the district, this being only one element which has to be taken under consideration in the plan made for the operation.

German Residing in the Ruhr region it is said, in reports reaching the French foreign office, are preparing in their traditional orderly manner for occupation, and are arranging billets for the French troops. All official documents at Essen have been sent to Berlin.

GERMAN OFFER IS REFUSED BY LLOYD GEORGE

Premier Briand Declares Terms Are Absolutely Unsatisfactory to France.

TROOPS READY TO ADVANCE ON GERMANY

"We Will Get Our Money Without Harming Germany" Premier Declares.

(Continued from page one) M. Briand spoke of the prospective occupation of the industrial region of Germany as a foregone conclusion and declared that the operation would have not only a great moral effect upon Germany, but would give material results. Referring to the proposals addressed to Washington, he said: "If Germany wanted to show good faith in executing the treaty of Versailles, she had only to address her proposals to the reparations commission, as had been done in other cases. The fact that she applied to an intermediary is suspicious in itself, and the more so on account of the fact that she waited until the eve of the day of reckoning to apply to the Desk of States, in the hope that the United States Government would intervene and that an interminable discussion would follow, during which French public opinion would be unnerved and German propaganda would work on foreign opinion with a view to dividing the Allies and estranging sympathies."

Not Fall into Trap. "Well," declared the Premier with great emphasis, "we will not fall into the trap."

"One is struck," he went on, "by the fact that the German proposals are so full of references to some questions that are essential to France. We want our friends abroad to know that there are two problems involved—reparations, in which all the Allies are interested, and security, which concerns France particularly. We accepted frontiers with Germany that were generally drawn, frontiers that are fragile and leave us in the face of Germany. The only way we can gain security is by disarmament, to which Germany agreed over her signature. It would have sufficed for Germany to ensure that the good-will by simply fulfilling these obligations to which she subscribed."

Germany tried to dodge them and asked for delay, which was accorded, but she could not without having carried out her obligations. That alone suffices to justify the measures we are going to take. When we hold the region in question we shall have in it, important productive plants, a center of German imperialistic reactionary industry, a center of German war-making production. The Premier expressed the opinion that the Allies will draw good financial yield from the occupation, and remarked: "We do not want, and we do not intend, to kill the geese that lay the golden eggs; we intend to put her in the way of laying some for us."

Getting the Money. "We will derive resources from the districts without harming German industry. The conditions resulting from her defeat and the rate of exchange and the conditions under which the mines are worked enable the Germans to derive a great advantage. They put a tax of twenty per cent. on the coal of the Ruhr. We are simply going to collect that twenty per cent. ourselves. Our forces of occupation will be there as police, rather than as soldiers. It is not a question of making war on Germany."

M. Briand referred to what he termed "the reactionary demonstration" at the funeral of the former German Emperor and said: "It is time for Germany to act if she wants to rid the country of reaction, time to act against those who manifested at the funeral of the ex-Emperor."

"We French," he said, in conclusion, "have seen with great regret our friends in the United States leave the peace which they held in our councils, and in which they had so much right to be. The desire of the French to see them return I wish to express in the strongest possible terms."

Talk at Washington. Washington, April 28.—Diplomatic representatives of three of the Allied Powers, Great Britain, France and Belgium—transmitted today to Secretary Hughes the views of their governments with respect to Germany's reparations proposals.

Official announcement was withheld, but it was understood that the secretary of state was informed that the Round sandwiches, made from white bread cut the size of little butter plugs, formed part of a bride shower "feast." These were filled with candied rose-leaves and violets held together with a bit of whipped cream, and each with violet ribbon and that of the other with pink. They were put in bread baskets with the handle of open tied with violet ribbon and that of the other with pink. It goes without saying that these sandwiches were an innumerable success.

Next sandwiches are delicious if made of certain sorts of nuts, the very best of them being the Brazil nut and a large nut which comes from South America called the cream nut. Shell these nuts; then remove carefully with a sharp knife the inner covering or brown skin which surrounds the kernel.

Closing Banquet of Men's Bible Class

Most Enjoyable Evening Spent by Men's Class of St. Luke's Church.

The closing banquet of the St. Luke's Men's Bible Class was held last evening with Mr. H. Whelpley as the guest of honor. More than 50 men sat down to a bountiful repast provided by some of the ladies of the church. The following program was carried out:

It was emphasized officially, however, that the chief question at issue was not whether the proposals as such were acceptable to the Allied Governments, but whether they could be regarded as the basis for renewed discussions from which satisfactory terms might emanate.

Heat Record of Wednesday Broken

Mercury Climbed up to 75 Degrees Yesterday, Setting New April Record.

The new record for April heat established on Wednesday, was not only broken once, but twice yesterday. The mercury began rising early in the day and went up from 46 degrees at seven o'clock to 63 at nine o'clock, and finally reached the peak, 75 degrees at eleven o'clock; towards noon it became somewhat cooler and the mercury dropped to 62, but in the afternoon the warm wave sprang up again, and slowly increasing again set the glass reading at the new record, 76 degrees, at six in the evening. As the sun went down the atmosphere cooled, and at nine o'clock the glass marked 59 degrees.

Prior to yesterday, Wednesday with its maximum temperature of 74 degrees, was recognized as the hottest April day in the history of the city, since the Dominion Meteorological Observatory records were established here in 1874. The highest previous records for April were in 1888 and 1905, when the maximum was 73.46 degrees.

The noon hour is commonly believed to be the hottest in the day, but on Wednesday the maximum temperature was obtained at four in the afternoon, and yesterday at eleven in the morning and six at night.

on Brunswick Record No. 30004

All who have heard Godowsky enthusiastically agree that he displays a supreme technical proficiency, coupled with a profound sympathy in the interpretation of musical moods.

But even if you have not had an opportunity to hear him on the concert platform, that need not deprive you of a great pleasure.

You can hear him in your own home—hear him at his very best—by getting Brunswick Record No. 30004, "Marche Militaire."

This wonderful record will prove an enduring source of enjoyment for every lover of the best in piano music. It is a triumph of recording.

It sets a distinctly higher standard and conclusively demonstrates the superiority of the Brunswick method of recording classical compositions.

This record deserves a place high up among those favorites which you keep in the most accessible file—favorites that you play and play again, and again, discovering new shades of beauty with every repetition.

This is high praise, but not a bit too high. It is impossible to conceive of better music or better recording.

Other of Mr. Godowsky's Brunswick Records will give you enduring pleasure are No. 10027, "The Witch's Dance"; and No. 10023, "Rustle of Spring."

PROTECTIVE TARIFF
FAILS, HE DECLARES

Thinks Dominion Would Have Been Greater if Resources Had Been Developed

The government at Ottawa had not measured up to the standard expected of it when elected in 1917. It then had appealed to carry on the business of the country until the end of the war. Then it was expected to go to the people. But it had not done that.
On May 28 he would expect every man and woman not in favor of the government at Ottawa to go to the polls and vote for him.

Hon. Mr. Crerar.
Hon Mr Crerar said he was pleased to see so many ladies present. With the past few years rights of full citizenship had been conferred upon women. On May 28 every woman, twenty-two years old or older and "out of fall" could go to the polls and vote, just like the men. They would make an important contribution to the public life of Canada and would insure upon honesty and parity.
For ten years there had been no election on domestic issues. In 1917 there had been an election, but it had been one great national issue.
Then there had been differences in opinion, and he had every respect for the person who differed from him honestly.

Domestic Issues.
For the first time in ten years the electors of this constituency would have the opportunity of pronouncing upon domestic problems and their verdict might be far-reaching.
Of late there had been much talk of the United Farmers and the Progressive party. What did it mean?
The meaning was that a large section of the agricultural population of the Dominion was viewing its responsibility from a different angle. Was it not a fine thing? It was not fine for the professional politicians who expected to take out of public life more than he put in. The movement had been declared a class movement. The Prime Minister had been one to say that. His utterances in the Province of Quebec were such as to make one expect to wake up some morning and find the entire farming population following a red flag.

Past By-Elections.
Elections had been held on several occasions. One had been in Colebrook, and one in which he had taken part had been in East Main. Neither had the government speakers discussed public issues. The chief topic was the Grain Growers Company and the salaries paid its officials; that had been simply an attempt to distract attention from the record of the government.

Organized labor had also been criticized. He could say that there was no body more loyal to the interests of Canada than organized labor. A year ago last autumn in Ontario there had been an upheaval which had resulted in a government composed of farmers and labor men taking office, had any great disaster followed?
Business men in Toronto had told him that the province possessed the best government it had in twenty years.

The Tariff Issue.
Mr. Crerar then took up the tariff issue. For forty years protection had been the tariff principal followed by Canada. That meant that by legislative enactment goods were kept out of the country. By that a great advantage was given those manufacturing within its borders. Two chief arguments were advanced to support protection, the country would be made self sustaining, and a home market for agricultural and other natural products established. He claimed that the argument that the tariff was a revenue measure as well as a protective measure could not be supported.
He believed that the Canadian manufacturer, if he set about it, could compete with any in the world.

Against Protection.
Protection might establish industries here and there, but was not for general good of the country. He believed in the fostering of industry, but not by a wrong method which would sow the seeds of revolution in a country. The time had come for tariff revision downwards. The idea once held away that the tariff was the only method of raising revenue.
Within the last six years income tax, business tax and other measures had produced a revenue in excess of what had been raised by revenue in past years.
He claimed that if the tariff lines followed in Canada during the past forty years had been different the population would have been greater and the country better off. Perhaps there would not have been so many factories in the cities but the great

Long Lumber Mill
To Start Next Week

Fraser's Announce That Enough Men Are Available to Open up.

Fredericton, N. B., April 28.—Confirmation of the reported intention of the Fraser Company, Ltd., to commence the operation of their main long lumber sawing plant at their mills here next week was given today in an announcement made by the management.
W. J. Glenn, manager of the Victoria mills, said this morning that the men who had been on strike were returning so rapidly that he believed the company would start the mill in operation next week. He said that including those employed and on the waiting list there were now 56 per cent of the full crew available for work and there would not be many more needed. Lack of piling room in the yards as a result of the slow movement of stocks and lack of orders would govern the extent of operations of the mill this year.

natural resources would have been developed.
Lumbering, fishing, mining and agriculture were what created the wealth of a country. The attempts to settle the war problem showed the value attached to the nation's natural resources. Agriculture was Canada's greatest resource. New Brunswick's greatest item of export, lumber and potatoes, formed another great item.
The removal of the tariff imposed by the United States had increased the export of potatoes to that country from $27,000 to $8,500,000 in three years. Commercial life depended upon the prosperity of the farming community and the development of natural resources would add business. The imposition of duties on fertilizers and agricultural machinery hampered farming and in that was business of all kinds.

Not Wiping Out Tariff
The statement that the tariff would be swept away overnight was not correct, but its removal was goal toward which the opponents of the tariff were headed.

Mr. Crerar stated that machinery for us in farming, lumbering and mining should be relieved of duty. It was the policy of his party to lend every encouragement to industries dependent upon the natural resources of the country.
Great Britain in 1846 had changed her fiscal policy with the result that there had been tremendous expansion of trade. During the great war her ships had carried American troops to France and had borne the chief financial burden of the war. Canada with a policy of protection was having a hard time to finance.

Dealing with markets, he mentioned the importance of the British market and also that in the United States
New Brunswick found the value of the American market. The "old flag" argument against trade with the United States was worn out. A better understanding with other Anglo-Saxons was a thing greatly to be desired.

Exchange Situation
With regard to the exchange situation, Mr. Crerar said that the argument that goods should not be bought from the Americans because they would allow only ninety cents on each Canadian dollar, was not sound. The balance of trade which was against Canada was not the cause of the adverse exchange rate. If it were, why was the rate not lower in the year ending March, 1919, when the balance was more pronounced than it is now?
In 1911 there had been an adverse balance of $64,000,000, but the Canadian dollar had not been at a discount in the United States. Neither had there been a discount at numerous other times when the trade balance ran heavily against this country. Inflated currency was the real cause of the adverse exchange rate and an excess of exports over imports would not rectify it. The Western Grain Growers had been criticized for buying implements in the United States, but the government of Canada purchased its automobiles, and even its pencils in that country.

Public Debt.
He referred to the growth of the public debt and the greatly increased expenditure and said that the great problem confronting the country could be solved only by practicing the most rigid economy from one end of Canada to the other. The interest charge would have to be met and pensions for the gallant soldiers provided.

Disastrous the railway situation he referred to the suggestion of Lord Shaughnessy and said that they were worthy of careful consideration coming from a man of vast experience.
He felt that the railway situation in Canada today was largely the result of mismanagement. In eighty years the country had contributed in land grants and subsidies a round billion dollars and all this could be shown for it was a railway system which last year was operated at a loss of seventy million dollars.

He declared that the government was carrying on without a mandate from the people. The prime minister wanted to re-organize his cabinet but was afraid to act lest his ministers could not be elected. With the great problems confronting Canada today there was need of a vigorous ministry.
They did not want a government that was merely clinging to office. He strongly urged the electors to rally to the support of Mr. Stairs on May 28th.

Special to The Standard.
Chatham, April 28.—Further particulars have been received here regarding the fire near Green Point, Gloucester County, on Tuesday, when a cook house in connection with a lobster factory conducted by Peter Noel was destroyed and two inmates, John Noel, and a young man named Casey were burned to death while Peter Noel and a woman cook suffered serious burns.
According to advices received from the scene of the tragedy the fire is supposed to have been caused by the cook using gasoline in mistake for oil when kindling the fire as a result of which she was so badly burned that she was unable to give any alarm.

Got Out Through Window.
The cook house was only a small building and at the time of the fire there were six men sleeping upstairs, four of whom succeeded after a hard fight in getting out of the one small window in that part of the building, in addition to the loss of the cook house, Mr. Noel also lost fifty lobster traps, a quantity of rope and other equipment and most of his supplies necessary for the operation of the factory during the fishing season.

TRIPLE-SERVICE
(ECONOMIC-HYGIENIC-STYLE)
Makes
Nemo Corsets
Indispensable

The Meaning of Nemo Corset Service
MILLIONS OF WOMEN DEPEND ON IT

Nemo Corsets comprise many hygienic features of great scientific value and are divided into three distinct services:

Hygienic Service---Style Service---Economic Service

Their Hygienic Service has become invaluable and indispensable from a humanitarian and health point of view. The medical profession fully recognizes its preventive and curative qualities.

Their Style Service is necessarily different from that furnished by other corsets. The scientific and hygienic results can be obtained only when Nemo Corsets fit the figure accurately, comfortably and properly.

Their Economic Service, on which the first two depend represents the long-wearing qualities of Nemo Corsets. No amount of ingenuity in conceiving these valuable inventions would avail it if the corsets themselves were not extremely durable based exclusively on the themselves. Their Hygienic more than the corsets are given entirely free.

does for the figure above the waist what the corset does below.

COPS DRY UP WET HECKLER OF MR. BRYAN

Booze Advocate Calls Commoner a Hypocrite and Starts Uproar. NOT ALLOWED TO GET ANY FURTHER Tells Audience Beer Hole in Law Will be Plugged—Praises Enright and Hyland.

New York, April 28.—A leather-tipped citizen, who contended that he had been a friend of Wm. J. Bryan for 25 years, sat in the auditorium of the Washington Irving High School yesterday for two hours while Mr. Bryan discoursed upon the merits of prohibition. When Mr. Bryan had ceased speaking the stranger arose, introduced himself as "a sincere wet," and announced his intention of replying to his friend.

Ernest L. Crandall, director of lectures for the Board of Education, was in the process of telling the would-be orator to hire a hall of his own when a man about the side of Strangler Lewis took the floor by main strength. He began by calling Mr. Bryan a hypocrite. He brushed frock-coated shavers aside as though they were flies, and set up an entirely unintelligible bawling that was not in kind by the rest of the audience. The big man was still doing well when a quartette of police arrived from the detachment stationed in front of the school in Irving place.

The appearance of the police had the desired effect. The tumult died and the big man sat down howling. "Anyway, what do you think about that, hey? What do you think about that?"

Drys in Majority in Audience. And Mr. Bryan, who won the majority of his forensic jousts with his audience which was overwhelmingly in sympathy with him, made victory complete by leveling an accusing finger at the disturber and shouting: "I'm not responsible for these exhibits, who prove my case."

Mr. Bryan said that he had called upon Police Commissioner Enright Saturday and told his audience that New York ought to take pride in a police chief who was intent upon enforcing the law. Mr. Bryan said that if he was any judge of character, Mr. Enright was sincere in his desire to wring the city dry. He called upon everybody to consolidate behind right in enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment.

He turned his attention to booze smugglers. He cited the traffic in liquor from Canada, Mexico, Cuba and various ocean islands—Bimini, off the coast of Florida, in particular. The Palmer ruling meant nothing, Mr. Bryan explained, except that there was a hole in the law. "We shall answer that by closing up that hole," he continued. Mr. Bryan replying to questioners and raucous hecklers, explained that there had been a day when he never expected to see the United States dry. Surprised by Prohibition Sweep. "I never expected to see my own State dry," he explained, "and certainly I never expected to see the Democratic party dry."

Many of his hearers who spouted questions asked Mr. Bryan whether he was a true Democrat, believing in real democracy, and whether the Eighteenth Amendment was added to the Constitution in a truly democratic manner. Every time he replied in a sweeping affirmative, with such vigor that great applause greeted him, and his opponents bade him "sit down," "get out" and "shut up."

"Way back when I was in Congress I came to New York to speak in Cooper Union on the silver question, and—" "Yes, yes," agreed a gallant. "I was there."

"Well, my friend," observed Mr. Bryan, "if you've been listening to me ever since you haven't done much else."

Fourteen Held After Death of A Guest

Police Believe Rival Gangs Chose Wedding Feast as Occasion for Battle. New York, April 28.—Charges of suspicion of homicide were made against fourteen men in the Gates avenue court yesterday in connection with the killing of one guest and the injuring of another early yesterday at the wedding party of Frederick (Patsy) Black and Mrs. Teresa Broderick Black at 155 Washington Park, Brooklyn. None of the prisoners, among whom were Black and his father, Patrick Black, would assist in the investigation, the police said. The theory that rival gangs chose the wedding supper as the occasion for a free for all fight is held by the police.

The body of the man who was found dead in the dining room of the Black flat was identified as that of John Brennan, a driver, of 478 Adams street, Brooklyn. The identification was made possible with the aid of finger prints and his father and sister were notified. They could give the police no useful information.

According to the detectives of the Classon avenue police station Thomas Feneasberne, 34, of 17 Byamport street, who is dying in Chamberland Street Hospital, was the object of the principal attack.

Left His Fortune To Actress Friend

Pittsburg, Pa., April 28.—The will of Howard J. Flannery, a prominent young business man and club man of this city, who died in New York suddenly several weeks ago, makes Miss Carroll McComas, an actress, of 200 West Fifty-seventh street, New York city, the sole beneficiary. The value of the estate of the deceased is not estimated. The will which was filed for probate today expressly stipulates that Miss McComas is to be acquitted and that she is not to be required to furnish a bond.

Young Flannery was a graduate of Yale, and a noted athlete several years ago. He was a member of the family which developed the Vandium business and was rated as wealthy.

Mr. Flannery was frequently called to New York on matters of business, and it was on one of these trips that he was stricken with a fatal illness.

HUBBUB CREATED BY MONKEYS ON BOARD STEAMER

Some Joker Liberated the Animals While Owners Were on Deck. ALL WERE CAPTURED AFTER LIVELY CHASE Thirteen-Foot Python Caused Diversion by Chasing Cat Into Sea.

New York, April 28.—Like some old incredible sea tale, but vouched for by the story told on the arrival yesterday of the Lamport and Holt steamer Vauhan, from South America, Escaped monkeys and a playful python which chased a cat overboard and itself disappeared over the side, figure in the yarn related by the cook and the crew.

The Vauhan brought back seventy tourists, who have been sight-seeing in South America. Many of them had decided that they Brazilian monkeys would be fine pets to take back to Main street, and in consequence a few of the travellers left Rio without at least one, and some had three.

Joker Liberated Monkeys. The first two days of the voyage were uneventful, but on the night of the third, when the passengers were on deck enjoying the moon, some one unloosed the monkeys and in an instant bedlam reigned. Cats sped up the rigging, followed by monkeys, and the crew was hustled on deck to recover the simians. After much persuasion they were captured. The monkeys had lost all marks of ownership, such as knitted sweaters, ribbons and the like. Captain Cadogan avows he had the monkeys over when he finished the distribution.

The fourth day out a thirteen foot python, the property of Albert K. Dawson, official photographer of the tourists, who purchased it in Rio de Janeiro, did a Hondral from his box. A passenger stepped on what he thought was a rubber hose, then let out the stokers below. Ted Bartlett, a fireman off duty, declared he would swear he saw the python chase a cat overboard. Then, said the fireman, the python, refusing to give up the pursuit, followed the cat into the sea.

VIVIANI ARRIVES HOME

Paris, April 28.—M. Viviani returned to Paris yesterday from his mission to the United States. His reception savored somewhat of a triumphal procession. He was greeted at Havre by Government officials, who accompanied him here. In Paris his friends and other officials had prepared an elaborate reception, and great crowds cheered him.

A Danger Warning — Bleeding Gums

Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhoea. This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth, but often wrecks the health.

In Pyorrhoea, the gums become spongy, then recede; the teeth decay, loosen and fall out—or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhoea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases.

You can keep Pyorrhoea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums prevents Pyorrhoea—or checks its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean.

Wed in Cave Age Style, She Gets Annulment

New York, April 28.—Mrs. Marie Esposito Impellitteri, a school teacher living at 127 Rockaway avenue, Brooklyn, who alleged that Paul Impellitteri, in cave man style and married her when she was in fear of her life, obtained from Supreme Court Justice

Samuel in Brooklyn yesterday an annulment of the marriage. The teacher alleged that Impellitteri, who had been in the navy, induced her to go to his uncle's home in Warren street Brooklyn, and refused to allow her to go home. The next morning she was bundled into a cab, taken to a jewelry store, where a big ring was purchased, and then to the Municipal Building in Manhattan, where the marriage took place August 4, 1920. She testified she was afraid to make any outcry.

MOSS ROB STORES

Belfast, April 28.—Spirits and grocery stores on Newtownards road were attacked last night by a mob, which carried off everything portable. The street which was the scene of the disorder, was the centre of the exciting events of last July and August. The section of the city where riots occurred yesterday was invested by military forces this morning. After occupants of the houses in that neighborhood, which were, for the most part boarding establishments, had had

TRANSPORTATION RATES

It seems to be agreed on all sides that the present high freight rates and other transportation problems are responsible for most of the difficulties which the industrial life of the Maritime Provinces have to contend with at this time. The subject has been discussed time and time again by various public bodies in the provinces, the Boards of Trade, Commercial Clubs, Business Men's Associations and so on, and resolutions have been passed condemning existing conditions on the ground that they utterly strangle all possibility of trade between the Maritime Provinces and Upper and Western Canada. It is practically impossible for Maritime manufacturers to compete with the manufacturers in other parts of the country, for the reason that the freight rates and inadequate transportation facilities add so much to the cost of the goods when laid down at destination as to render any profit out of the question.

While, however, existing conditions have been condemned over and over again by the interests concerned, the latter never seem to have been able to suggest any workable plan under which they can be remedied. Their criticisms have always been destructive, whereas what is needed under the circumstances is constructive criticism. It while they were pulling present conditions to pieces, they had suggested some workable plan under which they could have been remedied, they would have had something tangible to lay before the powers that be, and upon which they could work. It may be that the task of formulating a workable plan is one that can only be satisfactorily carried out by some one specially skilled in such matters. The details of any such plan must necessarily be highly technical in character, and such that only an expert in matters of that kind could satisfactorily deal with them. It would seem therefore that the proper thing to do would be to seek out such an expert and entrust him with the job. He would have to deal with his subject by and large, bearing in mind that there are several points of view from which it has to be considered.

Armed with a report upon the subject prepared by a man sufficiently well known as an expert for his views to command the respect and consideration that is required, the representatives of the Maritime Provinces could then apply to the Railway Commissioners with a certain amount of confidence—something that they have never been able to do as yet. It is not a very difficult matter to demonstrate the rank injustice from which these provinces are suffering at the present time, but it is more difficult to propose a remedy that, while benefiting them, will not cause more or less trouble elsewhere. It would be the duty of a traffic expert to suggest a scheme which while providing relief to the Maritimes, would not be so drastic or one-sided as to create opposition in other quarters.

We offer this suggestion for what it is worth, and as a possible means of solving one of the greatest problems confronting these provinces. There are doubtless other suggestions that may be made looking toward the same end; and those who know of them should come forward, for the sake of the general good.

THE OIL INDUSTRY

Canada has a long way to go before she contributes anything like her proper quota to the oil production of the world. Her present share is .06 of one per cent. The largest producer is the United States with 65 per cent and Mexico is second.

It is rather an astonishing state of affairs that North America should produce by far the greater part of the world's supply, and that the largest section of North America should produce none at all, or next to none.

The explanation, however, is not quite so creditable to Canadian enterprise as it might seem at first. It is only of recent years that the United States has developed oil in the West, while in Canada the intervening territory between the East and the West is a necessary blank because of the formation. The discovery line traveled West to the end before it turned north and south. Although Mexico is second in current production, it is a very poor third in its total contribution, since flowing wells become a factor in supply.

The market for oil is quite unlimited at the present moment. Consumption is increasing more rapidly than production. According to figures quoted in the Winnipeg Tribune, in 1920 the United States produced 43,492,000 barrels and consumed 53,126,000 barrels. It imported 9,634,000 barrels. According to this, some of the main Bouquet For Lloyd George.

 Great Britain is fortunate, indeed, in her present time of stress and trouble, to have a superman at the helm. That this opinion is shared outside of its boundaries is shown from the following tribute to his qualities by the New York Herald: "Wherefore today Lloyd George seems to all England, to all the United Kingdom, the one man for the national chieftainship against a self-willed minority which would pull down the whole structure to serve its own single, selfish purpose. This is not mere political agility and daring opportunism. It is statesmanship; it is genius, and it is masterful leadership.—Hamilton Spectator.

Nationalized Industry.
 Here is an extract from a private letter just received from England: "What the miners want is nationalization of the coal mines. Then they can claim high wages as Government servants, altogether irrespective of the value of their labor."
 So far we have only the beginning of the nationalization of industry. And what does this entail? It entails the diversion of men from productive industry into banks, enterprises supported by conscripting the wealth which the remainder of the population produce.—Montreal Herald.

A BIT OF VERSE

MY CANOE.
 As feathers float in calm and storm
 So lightly glides with wind and tide
 My little bark canoe:
 The steamer plows with cutting bows
 And waves make wakes that lash the shore;
 But lightly skimming waters blue
 I keep near shore and wait for you.

The water blue with curve of green,
 And paddles softly dipping,
 The swish and ripple of the stream,
 And close to nature's melody,
 The narrow stream with many bends
 Reflects the elms and maples,
 The grasses tall and lily-pads
 Arc full of silver ripples.

"Where are we going to now, Tom?" she exclaimed.
 "We're going round the Nore now, my dear," said Tom, as he pointed to the venerable lighthouse.

Benny's Note Book

Sunday afternoon I came home and rang the bell to get in, and all of a sudden I had a queer, thinking, G. I know what it means in the parlor window and whoever opens the door won't see anybody out there and they'll think they're April fooled.

Which I quick climbed thro' the parlor window and snuck around in the hall and the front door was open and pop was standing on the top step in his slippers looking up and down the street, and I quick shut the front door to make it even more of a surprise, and pop tried the doornob and the door was locked, pop saying, Confound the luck, how did that door blow shut without a breath of wind to blow it? And he rattled it like anything, saying, And me out here with my slippers on and no key and not a soul I'd like to get a hold of the silly ass that rang this bell.

Me thinking, G.

Which just then somebody started to go past, being Mr. Simkins, me telling him by his voice, saying, Well, well, well, going to take a walk in your slippers, Pops? How haw, haw.

Very funny in sure, if I catch the clown that rang my bell he won't think its so funny, and pop.

Me thinking, Holy smoke, I better not open the door yet, this is fears.

And I snuck up stairs and peeked out the 3rd story window and pops legs was just going thro' the parlor window on account of the rest of him being thro' already, and Mr. Simkins was still standing there laughing, and I snuck back to my room and got under the bed in case pop started to look around the house.

Which he didn't, and after a while I snuck out of the house and rang the bell again and pop opened the door and I wawked in the regular way as if it was the only way I ever went in, and pop didn't say anything so neither did I.

Forsaken Fiance Wishes Bride Joy

"Sweetest Ever" is Note of Congratulation Received by Mrs. Kate Stevens Fagan.

New York, April 28.—A most interesting document received yesterday by Mrs. Kate Stevens Fagan, youthful bride of Richard Fagan, the Dartmouth College student with whom she eloped, was not a certified copy of her father's will, but a letter of congratulation from the man—said to be an Atlantic City physician—to whom she was reported to have been engaged.

When the missive arrived the couple were leaving their hotel for a shopping tour, preparatory to a trip South.

"Oh, look, Dick!" she exclaimed. "Isn't this just the sweetest ever?" Dick looked and nodded.

"I guess we better get started," he said.

Nothing was heard from any one of the dozen or more lawyers Mrs. Fagan's father, the late Calvin Stevens, was in the habit of employing from time to time concerning a will. Mr. Stevens died last March, apparently without making provision for the distribution of his estate, valued at least at a million and a half, and possibly as much as $15,000,000.

Mrs. Fagan will get her share in any event, and she is not worrying anyway because her grandfather provided for her before he died several years ago.

Plans Not Matured.
 The plans of the young Fagans are not worked out yet. "Dick," as his classmates at Dartmouth call him, started out to become a mining engineer, but his marriage was not calculated upon when he began. He is inclined now to think a practical mining man is perhaps the thing after all—particularly if he is equipped with a young and beautiful wife. Consequently Fagan proposes to find a job after the interrupted honeymoon is finished and after a trip to Virginia and Texas.

Mr. Fagan let it be known that he and his bride may just pack up and take a train to Colorado, where he will get her share in any event, and she is not worrying anyway because her grandfather provided for her before he died several years ago.

May Allow Autos In Rockwood Park

With a view to allowing automobiles in Rockwood Park a request was made yesterday of the common council that they pay one half of the cost of removing a section of rock on the southern side of the road around the lake. The matter was referred to the mayor and commissioner of public works to make a report to the council.

On motion of Commissioner Bullock a waste was ordered issued to the Colwell Fuel Co. of a building on Nelson wharf at $25 per year.

Regarding the tax of the Dominion Express Co., the solicitor reported that the city could do nothing but accept the $181.37 offered instead of $589.78 assessed last year.

Dr. Frink moved that the assessors be instructed to accept the sworn statement of the company regarding income. Carried.

The mayor said the amount had not been paid for 1920.

On motion of Commissioner Bullock the following scale of charges was ordered for the swimming across for this season: season tickets, under 16, $1.

Discussing the Industrial Relations Court, Gov. Allen said it had been in existence thirteen months, during which thirty cases had been brought before it, most of them by union labor. Of twenty-eight decrees uttered twenty-seven were accepted by both employer and employed as entirely satisfactory. One case had been appealed, that by a railroad company. Two strikes only were declared within the life of the court, both small and each started by Alexander Howat, mine union leader in that district, and for each of which Howat was sentenced to serve a year in jail with additional fines.

PRESENTATIONS AT MOTHERS' MEETING

Mrs. Leaver and Mrs. Fowle Remembered by North End Kindergarten Members.

The Kindergarten mothers' meeting of the North End was held last evening at the residence of Mrs. Leaver, 54 Simonds street, and proved most enjoyable. Mrs. Leaver, who is leaving today to take up her residence in Fall River, was presented with a silver case basket by the members as a token of remembrance.

Another pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a quilt to Mrs. Fowle in recognition of valuable services she has rendered as a member of the Mothers' Quilting Meetings. Refreshments were served during the evening which was spent most pleasantly.

Mrs. Hilliker, who titles and doctors poor films, drew down $12.00 last year.

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS:

By HELEN ROWLAND

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
Being the Confessions of the Seventh-Hundredth Wife.

Verily, verily, my Daughter, the concealing of things from Man is the beginning of wisdom in Woman!

And, it is to the glory of Providence, that man hath not been made curious, and there is no suspicion IN him.

For, all the days of his life Woman HIDEETH things from him. And her sleeve is full of secrets!

In his youth, she hideth the jam and the cake in the closet; and when he waxeth unto manhood, she hideth her sentiment and her love for him in her heart.

Yea, so long as she liveth, she hideth from him her REAL feelings and her real thoughts; her sorrow, her pity, her scorn and her amusement.

She hideth her beauty cream, her ear-puffs, her lipstick, and the secret of her curling locks.

She hideth her humiliation, when he doth not ask her to dance, and her delight when he asketh her to dance.

She hideth her chagrin when he doth not propose—and her joy when he doth propose.

She hideth her desire to be kissed, and her impatience to be married.

She hideth yesterday's chicken in the ice-box, and yesterday's cheese where he cannot sniff it.

She hideth her concern when he sneezeth, and her anxiety when he cougheth.

She hideth her jealousy of other women, and her opinions concerning them.

She hideth her impatience when he cannot find things—and her chagrin when he hideth those things which she hath hidden from him.

She hideth her curiosity, until she hath succeeded in worming his secrets from him; she hideth her bills until the psychological moment for springing them.

She hideth her little failings beneath an exterior of sweetness, and her nerves beneath an exterior of blandness.

She hideth her son's sins from her father, and his father's follies from the son, and the faults of both from all the world!

She hideth her dreams of her youth; her disillusionment in middle life, and her True Opinion of her Beloved until the hour of death. Yea, even from herself, she hideth it!

She hideth her desire to laugh when he is serious, to yawn when he is funny, to scream when he is obtuse, and to weep when he is cold!

And, all the days of her life, she hideth these things from him for the good of his soul, and the peace of his mind, and the salvation of his vanity.

Yet, there is no gratitude in him.

For, in the end he ariseth, and acclaimeth her full of DECEIT.

Yet, I say unto thee, she is NOT deceittful—but MERRIFUL!

Women's Auxiliary Convention Closed

Work of Various Branches Reviewed, Helpful Ideas Exchanged.

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Fredericton Diocese was brought to a close yesterday afternoon after a series of meetings which extended for three days and in which the work of the year in the various branches was reviewed, many helpful ideas exchanged and the needs of the mission fields at home and abroad impressed anew in the hearts of all.

The election of the new executive for the coming year was announced at the afternoon meeting yesterday as follows: President, Mrs. G. P. Smith, re-elected; 1st vice-president, Mrs. G. F. Robertson, 2nd vice-president, Mrs. L. R. Harrison, re-elected; 3rd vice-president, Miss Halston; corresponding secretary, Miss Clara Schofield; recording secretary, Mrs. F. J. G. Knowlton; treasurer, Mrs. G. C. P. McAtyra, re-elected; treasurer E. C. D. Pund, Mrs. Roy Campbell, Dorcas secretary, Mrs. John M. Hay, re-elected; secretary-treasurer literature committee, Miss Muriel Fairweather; Junior Secretary-treasurer, Miss Fortis MacKenzie, re-elected; Little Helpers, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Fred Foster, re-elected; Girl's secretary, Miss Helen Richardson, re-elected.

The delegates selected to the Triennial to be held in Montreal next October, were: Mrs. Alfred Morrison, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. George Allen, Mrs. Shewen. Substitutes, Mrs. G. W. P. Jones, Miss Halston, Miss Lou Howard, Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Wiggin. The apportionment of the Life Members fees was also announced.

Afternoon Session.

On the opening of the afternoon meeting, papers on "Looking on the Fields" and on "Springs of Service" were read by ladies, Mrs. Tomalina, Mrs. J. H. McAvity, Miss Tinker, Miss E. Burchill, Mrs. Oty and Mrs. Kurling.

Mrs. Tomalina read a paper on the field of the mission schools. She said there were 1,300 girls enrolled in the Girls Branch of the W. A. work in the Dominion but only five of these were training for work as teachers. She asked the 500 girls in the diocesan branch to take as their motto "Forward" and strive to secure at least one worker for the Northwest mission field during the year. She also urged that all branches live up to their pledges in Dorcas and all other branches of work.

In Mission Work.

Mrs. John McAvity, told of the obligation of the W. A. in mission work among the Orientals in Canada. It was a work in which the lay citizens were jointly responsible with the clergy in upholding Christian ideals and ideals of citizenship to the strangers within our gates.

An endeavor should be made to impress upon the minds of the immigrants that, not only had they come to a land of opportunity in things material but that in coming to a Christian nation, vast opportunities spiritually were also awaiting them.

Necessity of Workers.

Miss Hunter delivered an inspiring address on the necessity of workers in the missions of India, China and Japan, and of the qualifications essential to such workers. She urged that those of the W. A. who were unable to accept the call personally, should not discourage others but assist in every way possible to enable those to whom the call had come, to answer the call. There was great need of workers she said to fill the places of those long tried in the service, as well as to extend the work.

Lack of Volunteers.

The lack of volunteers from amongst the 5,442 girls of the W. A. Miss Hunter ascribed to lack of encouragement to those who heard the call from their seniors. To any girl who felt she had such a call, who enjoyed good health, and who was possessed of a good education, every encouragement should be given to enable her to fit herself for her vocation.

Missionaries were good people, but no good-fortunes. They were happy, earnest minded vital women, who attained a broader outlook and a wider vision in the wide field of their labors, than that attained by the same girl at home. She urged that every branch of the W. A. unite in securing candidates for the overseas missions.

Duties and Obligations.

Miss Alice Oty of Gagetown, read a well prepared paper written by her mother on the Duties and Obligations of the W. A. at Home. The obligations were set forth in the words, Pray, Learn, Work, Give, and Tell Others.

The members should learn about every field of mission work, and this might be done by making a special study of an individual field each year. By each member making it her special duty to read the Letter Leaflet and by reading books on the different missions.

Prayer was an inspiration to the parochial members and to the missionaries for whom they prayed, especially if the missionary was one sent from that particular branch. In working, the members should endeavor to fulfill all their respective duties, whether it be in sewing or in sending in reports promptly, or whatever it might be. In giving, the members should have a knowledge of what the money devoted to the different funds were to be used for. They should tell others, so that they, too, might join and partake of the happiness that came from serving others.

Miss Oty was heartily applauded at the close of her excellent paper, and it was moved and seconded that printed copies of it be sent to every branch.

Springs of Service

Mrs. Kurling read a paper on Springs of Service. She said that the last afternoon of the annual meeting was always felt by every member to be a very sacred time, a time when all realized the increased enthusiasm and interest that had been kindled and the eager response that had met every appeal for loyalty and devotion. She thought all might go forth rejoicing and looking forward with hope to the coming year.

Votes of Thanks

Following the announcement of the new slate of officers, votes of thanks were moved and extended by the president to the Bishop for his attendance at the meeting and the encouragement and counsel he had given; to the Rev. Canon Cody and the Rev. J. H. A. Holmes for the inspiring sermons they had preached; to the rector and corporation of St. John's church for the use of their buildings, and to D. Arnold Fox, the organizer, for his services; to the convokers and hosts on the hospitality committee; to the convokers of the luncheon committee and to the press for their full and accurate reports.

Mrs. McAtyra read a letter from Miss Hale, a missionary in Kangra, India, for money received from the diocesan branch.

Mrs. Kurling read a greeting to be sent by the branch, reciprocating one sent by the Niagara branch.

The president then wished the members Godspeed and expressed the hope that the coming year should be a successful one with every branch.

Bishop Richardson

Bishop Richardson was called for and addressed the meeting to consider the text, "The Lord Bless Thee and Keep Thee." It was a double benediction, he said, and the W. A. had been doubly blessed in their desire to work for Him through the W. A. He said he had been present at many of the meetings, and through them was able to look forward with great hope to the future of the W. A. The Lord would keep each one, for He had promised, He would not only hold them up, but would aid them in the future, and the measure of His help would be determined by the measure in which they surrendered their wills to His. He thanked the meeting, and the Bishop, for all the work they were doing for their diocese. The life blood of the Church of England in the diocese was centred in the W. A.

Morning Session

The morning session was opened with singing of hymns and prayer, followed by recitation of prayer by the president, Mrs. G. P. Smith.

Miss Edith Nasse gave a Bible reading from the 14th Chapter of Acts, followed by a discourse on prayer.

Mrs. A. M. Woodman read a report on Chinese missions work. She said a great future lay waiting for that land. In Canada, said Mrs. Woodman, the W. A. had great responsibilities towards the Celestials, where quite a number had been baptized and confirmed.

Reports Received

Mrs. C. B. Schofield, treasurer of the extra cent a day fund, submitted a report showing that receipts amounted to $248.21, with expenditures, $230, leaving a balance of $18.21.

The president, Mrs. Smith, announced that there was available $164.41 from the diocesan fund to be used in the diocese for urgent needs. She asked for expression of opinion from the floor, and after balloting, it was announced that aid would be given to Oromocto and Hartland, and to the Church of England Institute library.

Miss H. E. Berry, secretary of the Pickett Memorial Fund, reviewed the work of the organization. The report showed that a great amount of good work was being accomplished.

Mrs. D. Williston Dies

Newcastle, N. B., April 28.—The death of Mrs. Duncanson Williston occurred very suddenly at Miramichi last night, after illness of only four days of pneumonia and complications. She was around town on Friday last and took ill on Saturday and continued to sink until the end came last night. She was fifty-seven years of age and a daughter of the late R. G. and Mrs. Anderson, of Newcastle, residing here all her life. She leaves an aged mother, husband and two brothers, Keith, of C. N. B. here, and Norman, at home. The funeral will be held Saturday-afternoon at 3 o'clock.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant - it contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. ## ST. JOHN Y. M. C. A. BOWLERS WON CANDLE PIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Captured Six Games and Lost One—G. W. V. A., St. John and Fredericton Tied for Second Place—Calais Takes Fourth Position—Twenty-Eight Games Were Played.

Fredericton, N. B., April 28.—The Y. M. C. A. team of St. John won the Maritime and Maine Bowling Tournament and possession of the silver pin indicative of the candle pin championship for 1921.

The tournament closed this afternoon with four crucial games two of which were played by the Y. M. C. A. team and one by the Fredericton team, the previous title holders, and runners up for the championship. The Y. M. C. A. first game was with Amherst, who they easily defeated by 50 pins, and the second was with Houghton, which almost resulted in disaster for the host champions.

Fortunately for Y. M. C. A., the Aroostook's potato belt did some of their worst bowling of the tournament and wound up with a score under the 1,300 mark, 1,287 to be exact. The Y. M. C. A. team's score was 1,309, which was disappointing but enough to win—so they should worry.

Fredericton, meanwhile, won their only game but only after tough opposition as St. John Y. M. C. A. bowled 1,345; however, the locals put on 1,368 having four strings in three squares.

A victory for Houghton over Y. M. C. A. should have precipitated a play-off between Fredericton and the St. John Y. M. C. A. and G. W. V. A. teams, but that was not to be and there was merriment in the Y. M. C. A. camp. The visiting bowlers were guests at a smoker at the A. O. H. Hall tonight when the prizes were presented to the winners by ex-Ald. W. E. Farrell, who presided at the gathering.

Prize Winners

The winners of the prizes were: Best individual average—Ozell Brewer, Fredericton, total score 1,953 for 21 strings, average 93.
2nd Best individual average—Sandy Staples, Fredericton, total score 1,937 for 21 strings, average 91.62.
3rd Best individual average—Jenkins, St. John Y. M. C. A., total 1,917 for 21 strings, average 91.29.
Best individual three strings—C. J. Wheaton, St. John Y. M. C. A., 299.
Best team single string, Fredericton and Black's Alleys, St. John tied with 483.
Best team three strings—Fredericton, 1,380.
Best individual average, visitors—Jenkins, Y. M. C. A.

North Shore Baseball League

Newcastle, Nelson, Campbellton and Bathurst Will be Represented With Teams.

Newcastle, April 28.—A meeting for the purpose of forming a North Shore Baseball League was held in Bathurst last evening. Delegates were present from Newcastle, Nelson, Campbellton and Bathurst. It was unanimously decided to organize a league and the meeting adjourned to meet here on Wednesday next to complete the organization.

National Athletic Contest Wednesday

Portland "Trail Rangers" Make Higher Average Than Last Year's Champions.

In the second of the series in the National Athletic contest, held at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday night, interest was very keen and some fine scoring was done. The boys of Portland Methodist church made a very fine showing, their final average being 360. (This is open to question at a later date.)

The star performers of the evening were:

One potato race—Roy Smith, Central Baptist, 90 points; Russell Naves, Portland, 80 points.

Three potato race—Robert Sproule, St. Mary's, 90 points; Central, 217.

Running high jump—Fred Yomama, Portland, 88 points.

Standing broad jump—Robert Sproule, St. Mary's, 86 points.

Five pin—Jack Smith, St. Bartholomew's, 127 points.

The final averages are as follows: Portland, 360; St. Mary's, 314; St. Bartholomew's, 289; Central, 217.

These scores, of course, will all be re-checked and revised, but the results should be practically the same.

It is interesting to compare the score made by the Portland group last night with that of the previous year's provincial champions whose average was 344. If the Portland boys had made a similar score last year, they would have been fourth in the dominion. It is expected that the high score made by Portland will stir up a great deal of extra punch and the contest in the future will be run out in which the Rothery group have still to compete and which will start on Saturday at one o'clock.

Local Bowling

BOWLERS RETURN.

The G.W.V.A., Amherst and Y. M. C. A. bowling teams who competed in the Maine and New Brunswick tournament at Fredericton, arrived here last night and voted the tournament a most successfully conducted one, although the scores were not as high as was expected. It was a hard fight throughout, and considerable credit is due the G.W.V.A. for their good showing, as it was the only team of the eight without a spare in the big game they expect to do even better than second place at the next meet.

TWO-MEN LEAGUE

In the two-men league on Black's alleys last night, Team No. 8 took four points from Team No. 4. Team No. 10 won three points from Team No. 11, and also took four points from Team No. 8. The scores follow:

GREEKS AND JEWS FIGHT

Constitutionally, April 28.—Stirring occurred here today between Greeks and Jews in which several persons were injured. The Greeks, who accuse the Jews on the Golden Horn of being pro-Franco, paraded about with the effigy of a Rabbi. They attacked a Jewish procession and in the clash a number on both sides were injured. The British police interfered and stopped the fighting.

STEAL BOGUS MONEY.

Warren, April 21.—Commonwealth American bills, representing approximately $5,000,000, have been confiscated in Lansing by the Polish authorities who discovered a counterfeiting plant in full operation.

Demonstration of Gymnastic Work

Combined Classes of Y. M. C. A. Under Direction of Physical Instructor Stirling.

A grand review and demonstration of gymnastic work was given by the combined classes of the Y. M. C. A. in St. Vincent's Auditorium last evening. The work was under the direction of W. E. Stirling, the physical instructor and his assistant, L. T. Dow.

Not only did the entertainment prove of interest to those in attendance, but it also served to bring before the public the large number who are taking advantage of the splendid opportunities afforded by the Y. M. C. A. and the nature of the work the leaders in the programme embraced.

The first number on the programme consisted of horizontal bar work by four Senior Leaders in which some very advanced and difficult work was gone through in a most attractive and finished style and received much well merited applause.

The next number, dumb-bell drill by the School Boys' class, was very well done and heartily applauded.

Pyramid Drill by the High School Boys followed, a number of clever and difficult poses were demonstrated by the boys in a very finished manner and was well received.

The Waiver Drill by the School Girls, a class of over forty, attractively garbed in neat white middie and dark blue gym suits, proved a popular number in which the girls demonstrated an aptness for the exercise they performed.

The parallel bar work by the Senior Leaders was an exhibition of this class of work. The antics of two comedians who took part in it caused much laughter.

The Waiver Drill by the Senior and High School classes followed. The drill was gone through with admirable smoothness.

T. Dow and P. Pemberton then gave an exhibition in tumbling, assisted by two juniors. The tumbling work was of a high order and the antics which were witnessed in it caused much merriment.

The next number consisted of tableaux by C. Lennox and R. Martin. Some very pretty effects were secured in the lighted club swinging by L. T. Dow.

The High School Girls followed with Indian club swinging. They acquitted themselves remarkably well. The drill was most pleasing and heartily applauded.

An athletic lightness and poetry of motion was evident in the dancing of the Senior Girls which followed, and in which many different folk-dance steps were shown.

The High School Girls were in charge of Miss Genevieve Cronin and the School Girls in charge of Miss Eleanor Tapley. Miss Anna McGarvie acted as pianiste for the special numbers.

The staff were: Senior Leaders—H. J. L. Nixon, L. T. Dow, C. Lennox, P. Pemberton, H. Burns, N. Dobbinstein, N. Kennedy.

Pyramids—W. Williams, James Moloney, J. Stevens, Wm. Molonia, L. Gaynes, F. Donovan, E. Wall.

Tumbling—L. T. Dow and P. Pemberton.

Property Manager—T. Killen.

Stage Manager—T. K. Sweeney.

Assistant—D. Connolly Jr. and C. H. O'Regan.

During the performance Instructor Stirling announced that the Y. M. C. A. bowling team had won the N. B. and Maine Bowling Championship at Fredericton. His announcement met with much applause.

Last evening's review is to be repeated this evening and a matinee will be given Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

Real Race To The Fifteen Round

Schr. Mayflower Will Race New Schooner La Dunton for First Bait.

Boston, April 28.—The schooner Mayflower, Boston's candidate for international fishing vessel race honors next fall, got out today on her maiden voyage, a salt fishing trip to the Magdalen Islands in the west of St. Lawrence. As she slipped out of port in a lull she was hailed by ships' bells, sirens and fog horns.

At her wheel was Captain J. Henry Larkin, her skipper, and beside him stood Charles Francis Adams, who sailed the Rocolite to successful defence of the America's Cup in the international yacht races last year. Mr. Adams who is a member and director of the syndicate that built the Mayflower was to try the fishermen under his hand during the fish down.

Schr. Mayflower Will Race New Schooner La Dunton for First Bait.

New York, April 28.—The fifteen round boxing match between Fred Fulton and George Galley, which had been arranged for a Jamaica, L. I., club tonight, was called off at the last minute. The club management announced that Galley had declined to enter the ring, but gave no reason.

After picking up two additional men at that port to round out his crew of 25, Captain Larkin planned to point the Mayflower's nose for the fishing banks in a race with the new schooner La Dunton. The latter, a possible contender also for international honors, was primed for the brush of 600 miles to the Magdalen Islands with Captain Felix Hogan and his crew laying more than one wager that they would be first to get bait and start the season's fishing.

Papers Read At Eclectic Club

Members at Residence of Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley—Study of 'Famous Women of France'

The Eclectic Club met at the home of Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley last evening where the club devoted themselves to a study of 'Famous Women of France.' Dr. H. S. Bridges presided in the absence of the president, Rev. Canon Armstrong. Mrs. Courland Robinson, who was in charge of the programme, read a clever and well prepared paper on the 'Famous Women of France' in which she cited a long number of distinguished personages who from the time of Jeanne D'Arc down to the time of the Empress Eugenie, had exercised a potent influence in the shaping of the destinies of their country.

Mrs. Fred Foster read a paper on 'Famous French Salons.' She alluded to that of Madame Recamier, in particular, as a rendezvous for the smart intellects of a period of especial brilliancy.

EXCESSIVE FREIGHT RATES SEVERELY HANDICAP MARITIME

Speakers at Banquet to J. E. Walsh, Manager of C. M. A., Gives Their Views on Situation—Maritime Urged to Go After Foreign Business—Port Development Boosted

The meeting of the Maritime Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association came to an end last night with a complimentary dinner tendered by the Maritime members. Mr. Walsh, executive head of the C. M. A., was here for the purpose of attending the meeting of the Maritime Branch, to counsel with them, suggest methods to adopt in meeting the many problems confronting the manufacturer of today.

The Association met at the Board of Trade rooms Thursday forenoon for their annual gathering. There was a large representation from the different industries present, Manager Walsh expressing himself as greatly pleased with interest shown in the work of the C. M. A. as evidenced by the representative attendance of members of the Maritime Branch. The business of the meeting was taken up during the first part of the session and the election of officers for the ensuing year followed and committees appointed to carry on the year's work. W. S. Fisher was nominated for election to the presidency of the C. M. A. at the annual meeting to be held in Quebec, June 7, & 8. The election of officers resulted as follows: Chairman, L. W. Simms; vice-chairman, C. S. Sutherland; J. A. Marvin, J. E. McLaughlin, Secretary, H. R. Thompson.

The feature of the morning session was the address of J. E. Walsh who spoke on various matters affecting the manufacturing interests of the country. The matter of transportation problems, as affecting the Maritime Provinces, was taken up and discussed, many valuable suggestions being given.

Compensation Act. The afternoon session was given over to a consideration of the Compensation Act. The Compensation Board of New Brunswick was present and with them the members of the C. M. A. discussed the administration and operation of the Act. They discussed the formation of the so-called Safety Association. The purpose of such an Association would be to consult with the Compensation Board and advise, but, more particularly, to deal with questions pertaining to the prevention of accidents.

The Compensation Board expressed a willingness to co-operate at all times, and in so far as authority was granted under the Act, permit consultation to organize such an Association. The formation of such an Association is on the condition that sufficient number of employers from each group will be willing to acquiesce in such a plan, and each group have representations.

The whole afternoon was devoted to the Compensation Act and its working, there being a very free and frank discussion of the Act from various angles.

Evening Session. After the delightful dinner, one of the best served up at Bond's, there was a general discussion of various problems, as best suited the speaker, L. W. Simms. The newly elected Chairman of the Maritime Branch, was director of ceremonies. Mr. Simms, in his opening remarks, told a few apt stories and had the honor of more diners in good humor. He extended a welcome to the representatives of the Provincial Government, City Government and city organizations present.

He said manufacturers had been so-called 'producers.' He thought many of them would like to experience a little of that experience that comes to a profiteer, but he feared most of them had not enjoyed that pleasure. He also said the manufacturer had never used co-operation. His activities have been in an advisory capacity carrying on of educational campaigns and appealing directly to the people. The results were now being seen in a better spirit in the industrial world, and all working to further Canada's interests. The country today, he said, should stand behind the C. M. A. which is making Canada bigger and better.

Chairman Simms introduced Mayor Schofield as the first speaker. The Mayor expressed his pleasure at being present and extended a hearty welcome to the visitors. He said it was a pleasure to receive those from other New Brunswick cities and he thought the visits should be more frequent. He told the visitors that the special brand of weather they were enjoying had been specially ordered by him for the occasion.

He said he was glad they had with them a representative from a Western Province. He thought too many people of Western Canada were carried away with the belief that Canada on the East, ended with Montreal. He wanted them to understand that if they were not for the Maritime Provinces, with their winter ports, there would be no West. The winter ports, he said, had played a very prominent part in the development of Canada.

He referred to conditions existing and expressed the belief that things would soon be picking up. The city had done fairly well, he said, during the terrible month that have passed. It had been hard sledding, but the people were pulling themselves

Price of Milk Drops Two Cents

Commencing Sunday General Price in City Will be Thirteen Cents Per Quart.

Commencing on Sunday May 1st, the general price of milk in the city will be thirteen cents per quart, a decrease of two cents and this news will be hailed with much satisfaction by the thousands of citizens. A prominent dealer in conversation with The Standard last night said that he expected the thirteen cent price would prevail at least until September. All last summer the price of milk was fifteen cents per quart and remained so until the 15th of September when the producers boosted the rates and the local dealers were obliged to increase the price to 17 cents per quart. He said, the high rate for some months, it dropped two cents and the new rate coming into effect next week is the lowest for a couple of years.

The Reason. There is always a reason given for an increase or decrease in prices, and on this occasion a good reason is presented by a dealer. He says the Milk Producers' Association has become inactive, there is a big surplus of milk at the present time and instead of the farmers standing together they are dealing individually and making their own prices. There is plenty of milk and the farmer is not losing any money but is getting clear of all milk at a profit with the result that the local dealer is enabled to make a cut in his prices and thus benefit the consumer.

For some time past certain stores in the city who are in competition have been selling milk at twelve and thirteen cents per quart on the cash and carry plan, but not delivered. The thirteen cent rate is general with the dealers who deliver at the homes. It has been announced that the Sun set train will run on daylight time, but no complaint is expected from the Kings County producers this season.

Health Meetings Largely Attended

Speakers at Grand Falls and Sackville Last Night—Closing Meeting Here Tonight.

Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, minister of health, was in telephonic communication with Grand Falls last night and was informed that the public meeting held there in connection with the Brunswick Health Week series, was most satisfactory. Five hundred people crowded the place of meeting and many others were unable to gain admittance.

At Sackville last night another well attended meeting was held at which the student body of Mount Allison attended in large numbers. The speaker at this meeting was Dr. Gordon Bates, Toronto, Secretary Canadian National Council for combating venereal diseases.

Here Tonight. Tonight it is expected there will be a large attendance at the Board of Trade rooms when the last meeting of the campaign will be held. It will be an "Organization meeting" of the Tuberculosis and the Prevention of Venereal Diseases. The speakers will be Dr. Gordon Bates, Dr. George Porter and Dr. Burnett, Ph. D.

count of the prohibitive freight tariffs. There was a need of a strong effort being put forth to secure a reduction in rates. Under present conditions it is impossible for the East to compete with the West, he said, and relief can only come by striving for a general rate of export. These products of our workmen. These products will be chained, however, if lower rates are not forthcoming. He advocated greater attention to the building up of the Maritime Provinces so as to afford a larger home market which is the best market of all. He urged that employers do more for their help and greater benefits will accrue to all.

W. S. Fisher referred briefly to the compliments that had been paid him by the Maritime Branch of the C. M. A. He said he was pleased with the association and that his connection with it had been a source of inspiration.

Speaking of the transportation question, he thought the time had come for a concerted action to restore rates to the pre-war levels in order that our industries might have a chance to survive. He said we must produce from every branch of industry, have more than a case of inspiration.

He cited figures to show that Canada purchased $300,000,000 worth of goods from the United States last year, and that the balance of trade in
