REGULAR MEETING

TOWN COUNCIL

Decide to Investigate Gravity Water Supply—Analysis to be Made of Water Coming from Springs

The regular monthly meeting of Hartland Town Council was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening.
The Mayor in the chair. Minutes of previous meetings read and approved.
The usual departmental accounts were read and ordered paid subject to the o. k. of the chairmen of the various committees.

The most important matter dealt with at this meeting was the water question. Our readers will remember that some time ago there was some what of a controversy as to the relative merits of the crude oil engine and the electric motor. At that time tests were made and a report handed in to the Town Council. The suggestion was made that there were certain springs on the hill back of the Town that could be put into use and thus augment the water supply. This water from the springs would flow into the Town reservoir and thus save the cost of pumping the water that they supplied. Now the Town Council have again taken the matter up and have started the first move for some time to establish a gravity supply for the Town. At Monday's meeting they decided to clean up two of the springs and then send a sample of the water to Saint John for analysis. There will be a test made of the flow of water during the present summer to ascertain how much water is available for the Town
from this source and thus the Council will have something to work upon.

The Town Marshal reported taking care of a tramp who applied to him for protection and he had to lodge him at a hotel and pay for the board and lodging of this summer tourist.
Too bad the Town did not have a bill to put him in and thus save the cost of such occurrences. During the coming summer we will no doubt have several of these transient visitors and more than one will be asking for protection.

The reports of the various chairmen of committees were given and approved after which the council adjourned.

ANNUAL AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS OF CANADA, 1925

It is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa that the annual census of field crops and live stock for 1925 will be made this June. These statistics are collected jointly by the Dominion and Provincial Governments by means of cardboard schedules issued to farmers through the rural school teachers and children. In British Columbia they are mailed direct to the farmers.

These schedules call for the acreage sown this year to the principal field crops and for the numbers of farm animals alive on the farms in mid-June. The areas thus collected form the basis of the annual statistics of acreage and yield. It is very important that correct statistics of agricultural production should be published, but it is especially so for farmers themselves who through cooperative wheat pools are now undertaking to market their own wheat and other products; because accurate statistics are essential to the fixing of fair prices. Any farmer who has not received the blank cardboard schedule through the rural school of his school district or otherwise, by the middle of June should make immediate application for same either to the teacher of the Public School District in which he resides or to the Provincial Department of Agriculture at the capital of his province or to the Dominion Statistician
at Ottawa.

WARNING TO AUTOISTS

The police committee hereby gives warning to auto drivers that the law touching fast driving within the town limits will be strictly enforced. Autoists are asked to give attention to the rules governing silent policemen.
keep to the right.

of Moire's Chocolates. It certainly is an interesting novelty.

Each package contains one of a series of six booklets. Each booklet has four Cross Word Puzzles to solve, plus an acrostic, the latest twist to the Cross Word idea.

you can see them through the

Stoney Indians Prepare for Celebration

1. Stoney Mountain Indians gathered in the hotel yard at Banff for the distribution of the Pow-wow prizes. Insert: The Duke of Connaught as a Tschantoga chief.

These are Tschantoga or Stoney Mountain Indians—"people of the woods". Time was when they were a blood-thirsty lot, with a partiality for white men's scalps and an unpleasant habit of slaying anybody they did not happen to approve of. But look at them now. Their war-like glory has departed and they realize that the white-man is not such a bad sort of chap after all. Big Chief Powder-face is as friendly as a Rotary president, and he and his six hundred braves come over every year to Banff, all decked out in their gala attire, and celebrate the burying of the hatchet by a two-day carnival and Pow-wow.

The occasion is called an "Indian Day and Pow-wow" and consists of a series of parades, sports and encampment scenes and events. It always takes place on the third Monday and Tuesday in July, falling this year on the 23rd and 24th. The individual in the insert is not, and never was, blood-thirsty nor fond of scalps. It is the Duke of Connaught in his regalia as an Honorary Chief of the Stoney Mountain Tribe. The picture was taken on the occasion of His Excellency's visit to the Rockies when he was Governor-General of Canada during the war. This year's Pow-wow and Indian Day will be the thirty-third since its inauguration. After the field events the members of the Tribe meet in the yard of the Banff Springs Hotel for the distribution of prizes. The big picture above depicts the scene which usually follows the prize distribution.

PAINS ACROSS THE BACK

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mitchell, Ontario.—"I have taken your medicine for a number of years. I do not take it steady all the time, but I am never without it. I always keep it in the house. I took it first for pains in the abdomen and bearing-down pains, headaches and pains across the back. I have my home to look after and many a day I could not get up at all. I saw the advertisement in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Mrs. John Miller told me about it, too. Every time I take it, it makes me feel better and I always recommend it to my friends. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about this medicine and you may use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. F.J. WASSMANN, Mitchell, Ontario.

The merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is told by women to each other. Many women know by experience what this medicine will do and they are anxious for others to know. Such testimony should cause any woman suffering from the troubles so common to her sex to give this well-known medicine a fair trial.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

"I PAGLIACCI."

From the Canadian Bureau for the Advancement of Music, Ltd., Building, Toronto.

Many people have frequently heard the prologue of the famous "I Pagliacci" sung on the phonograph, but have possibly never familiarized themselves with the story of the opera itself.

The keynote of this great opera, of Leoncavallo's, as a matter of fact, is taken from the words of the prologue. "We are all players," which, in reality, is another version of the Shakespearean proverb, "All the World's A Stage."

The story opens in a village, in Calabria, in Italy. The villagers are congregated about the cart of a travelling showman, which has just arrived, drawn by a donkey. Canio, the showman, and Nedda, his wife, get out and tell the crowd to be sure and come to the evening performance as they will see an exciting play. Canio then goes down the street, the villagers go to noonday worship leaving Nedda alone. Canio, another member of the troupe, seizes this opportunity to try to make love to her and for reward gets a cut from her whip across his face. He retires, vowing vengeance. Silvio, a villager, between whom and herself a secret love exists now enters and pleads with her to flee with him. She at first refuses, but finally consents to see him that night. Canio has overheard and steals away to summon Canio. The latter returns and surprises the lovers but does not succeed in catching Silvio. He then returns and is about to lay hands upon his wife, when the other members of the company interpose, and a semblance of peace is patched up. But Canio's heart is filled with rage.

Act 2 opens showing the village square with the showman's stage at one side. The show is about to begin and Canio is beating on the drum. The people bustle in, filling the seats which have been provided in the square. As Nedda collects the tickets Silvio reminds her of her promise but she cautions him to be silent. The play begins and deals with a jealous husband who returns to find that his wife has been entertaining another man at supper. The guest jumps out of the window, but the injured husband, (played by Canio) loads his wife with abuses. In his fury Canio forgets his lines, and his abuse becomes real and violent. The audience is wrought up to a fever pitch and when he seizes a knife from the table and actually stabs her, all is in an uproar. Silvio, alarmed, springs forward to her aid, and Canio, recognizing him, drives the knife into his breast also. The villagers seize the murderer and he stands quietly gazing at his two expiring victims, saying, "the play is over!"

Readers of this article will likely find the above story helpful to them in their study of the opera as a whole. Possibly some will utilize this information when next they play excerpts from the opera on their phonographs. Certainly, in so doing, great appreciation of the music will result.

WORDS OF WISDOM

To enrich one's self by producing what the community needs does not impoverish but enriches the community. The more individuals there are who get rich by this method and the richer they get, the better it is for the community.

The more millionaires there are, the better off the rest of the people are, provided every millionaire has produced his millions, that is, provided he has added millions to the total wealth of the community, and provided he continues to use accumulations as tools for further production rather than for personal consumption or unproductive gratification.

But every dollar which a man gains, whether he be rich or poor, by methods which do not add to the strength of the whole community, is just so much subtracted from the surviving power of the whole.

And every dollar's worth of wealth which a man consumes, whether he be rich or poor, in ways which do not maintain or add to his efficiency as a producer, is so much wasted and is subtracted from the power of the whole.

—Thomas Nixon Carter.

OPTIMISM

The most optimistic man we know is the man who fishes without flies or bait, tries to operate a radio set without any batteries, tries to run his automobile without any gas, and expects to get business without advertising.

American women spend $70,000,000 a year for cosmetics, and that is another staggering fact man is face to face with.

Mail crossing the continent in a day travels now about as fast as bad news.

NURSES GRADUATE

Miss Mary M. Melville, daughter of Edwin Melville of Lansdowne arrived home last week from Framingham, Mass., where on National Hospital Day she was one of eleven nurses who were graduated from the Framingham Hospital Training School for Nurses. Many relatives and friends of the graduates were present, including a number who had been patients at the hospital and who made their presence an expression of gratitude.

The graduation program opened with invocation by Rev. John F. Heffernan, an officer and member of the Board of Trustees. After a selection by the Indian Head orchestra, and the address on National Hospital Day by Miss Adams, President George L. Avery of the Board of Trustees, announced the scholarship and prize awards.

The Alumnae prize was awarded to Miss Helen C. Watson of the graduating class. The scholarships to the Boston Floating Hospital were awarded to Miss Lottie Higgins of New Brunswick and Miss Esther Wood of Leominster.

The class song to the tune of "Aloha Oo," and written by Ruth L. Allard of the class of 1925, followed an address on "New Occasions to teach new duties," by Carl Schroder of the State Department of Education who came in place of Frank W. Wright of the same department.

All joined in the singing of "America the Beautiful," and the exercises were closed with benediction by Rev. Theodore B. Lathrop.

While the floor was cleared for dancing, a reception took place. Members of the Board of Trustees, citizens of the town, friends of the hospital, graduate nurses and others congratulated the graduates on their successful completion of the course of study and wished them future success. A committee of young ladies from the high school assisted in serving refreshments of ice cream and cake. Dancing was then enjoyed by a large number.

Miss Melville is home for a vacation of three weeks after which she returns to the hospital to finish the practical work course.

DONATION

On May 26, members and friends of the Primitive Baptist Church, Plaster Rock, gathered at the home of Mrs. William Post where a presentation was made to Rev. A. Hatfield and family.

The evening was agreeably spent by all present in singing and enjoying a good social chat. A bounteous luncheon of cake, sandwiches, tea and coffee was served.

Mr. Hatfield and family received a purse of money, many household necessities, and some beautiful pieces of linen. All were very appropriate and were gratefully received. After a few words of thanks had been extended to the friends for their kindness, all joined in singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

AN AMUSING PLAY.

The play "A Poor Married Man," put on last evening in the Neighborhood Theatre by the East Florenceville Comedy Club under the auspices of the Women's Institute, was greeted by a capacity house.

The parts were all well taken and R. Stevens as the "poor married man," carried his out to perfection. The specialties between the acts consisting of mixed quartettes and solos were well rendered and all responded to encores.

The sum of $76 was realized and was divided equally between the Company and the Institute.

HARTLAND WINS BASEBALL GAME

Juniper Trimmed on Friday Night—Real Good Ball Played and Visitors Surprised—Interest Revived

Hartland had the pleasure last Friday night of returning the compliment paid to her at Juniper on the 25th. On the 25th, the Hartland ball team was severely trimmed at Juniper at the celebration of the flag raising. Last Friday night the Juniper team played a return game on the Hartland diamond and although the game as called on account of darkness in the last half of the fifth inning Hartland was well in the lead with a score of 11 to 1. The comeback of the Hartland team was phenomenal and they deserve credit. Although the game was very loose and errors numerous the game kept the fans right on their toes and there is no doubt but that Hartland likes to see a ball game.

Don Hoyt for the Hartland team, played a wonderful game in the box and has the makings of a wonderful pitcher. The Hartland infield and outfield were almost airtight and even when the Juniper team did manage to get a hit off Hoyt there was very little hope of them getting a run. Juniper was without the aid of Chub Turnbull and this was no doubt partly accountable for their defeat.

The gate receipts were over $20 and the manager wishes to thank the patrons of the game. It is hard to collect all the admissions at the gate and we hope in the future the fans will not be scared to approach the manager, E. W. Laskey if they are not stopped at the gate and render to him the monies due.

Hartland juniors succeeded in winning their game from Woodstock on Saturday afternoon and although the score was away up in the teens the boys played very good ball.

"In the last analysis," declared a dry orator, "it is the kind of liquor that the country is drinking today." It certainly is, in the last and in every other analysis.

H. T. REID WRITES OF
IMPRESSIONS OF THE WEST

Another great problem which is engaging the attention of the west is population or rather lack of population. The west needs more people of the right sort. That is the type of people who will take Canada as they find it and try in every way to become useful citizens. Vast uninhabited part of the prairie provinces from Winnipeg to the Rockies are crying out for people of this type. During years of prosperity great building propositions were undertaken and plans were laid to provide for a population in 1925 greatly in excess of the present one. The west is well served by railways and increase in population would help solve the traffic problem. A market for home consumption would be provided paving the way for manufacturing industries without which no country or section of country can really be great. Take the province of Alberta as an instance. Its resources are inexhaustible. The mining areas comprise 15 p. c. of the world's source; ideal ranching country at the eastern foothills of the Rockies; extensive oil areas, both in the north and south of the Province, natural gas in the district around Medicine Hat. All this in addition to millions of acres of land suitable for farming.

and Alberta present is supporting a population of less than half a million people! Such problems as these are beyond the realm of party politics. To secure for the west by a progressive plan of immigration a steady flow of people suitable to its needs, is a national problem. Such a policy needs to be elastic enough to satisfy the varying conditions of industry. So as not to increase unemployment. It ought to depreciate cheap labor which is one of the biggest factors in lowering the standards of living. Speedy solution of our immigration policy will go far toward helping the West of Canada, in fact Canada as a whole, to realize that greatness, which, as yet, is only potential.

I would like to mention, in closing, a matter of great importance which we in the East hardly realize. Nature has failed to provide the west with means for conserving moisture in the soil. The notorious absence of tree life leaves the land exposed to the action of parching westerly winds. I was told that a field of wheat, giving promise of abundance, will be bleached and ruined in two or three days if subjected to a hot Chinook, coming from the south west. A great deal depends upon the condition of the land, so far as moisture is concerned, at seeding time. A wet spring following a winter in which frost has set well into the ground means sufficient moisture to provide for germination of crops. Happily this is the condition existing this year. Seeding also was in progress anywhere from two weeks to a month earlier than last year. But unless there is a rain (an uncertain factor later on) in June or July, the position will become serious again. To provide against this and to assist nature in providing moisture for the ground, millions of dollars are being spent on irrigation projects throughout the prairie provinces. In Alberta this is being carried on by the Government as well as by private enterprise. Streams are dammed at suitable places and huge concrete viaducts carry the water across country emptying into dykes at various points.

Perhaps this is sufficient to show that the west, like the east of Canada has problems of their own. But the west is ideally situated to attack and overcome these problems. What I admired most was the spirit of optimism everywhere exhibited—the old spirit of the west. If the various parts of Canada could be led to realize and appreciate the problems of the other parts, and if we could discuss each other's problems in the light of knowledge, a great deal of what today appears unsurmountable, would become commonplace. The more I see of Canada the more firmly am I convinced that as a nation we are second to none. That unfortunate phrase "the parting of the ways" is as obsolete as the first steam engine. A country which stretches from ocean to ocean, and under whose laws every class and creed of people under the sun are living lives of freedom and usefulness, is capable of working out its own destiny. There is no reason why a prosperous west should mean an impoverished east or vice versa. As a country we produce practically everything which man requires. There should be plenty for all, if we are big enough to attack our problems in the true Canadian "get-together" spirit, thinking less of sections and more of Canada then and only then will we realize what is our by right—a future in which fear plays little part and confidence is everything.

PICNIC KING STARTS FOR NEW BRUNSWICK

"The Orphans Friend" or "The Picnic King," J. D. O'Connell, has sent word from Jacksonville, Fla., that he will arrive in Saint John about the middle of June to hold his series of picnics. Included in his letter are 2 tickets, blue and pink respectively, which show that the children in the south where Mr. O'Connell has spent the winter, have been sharing in the good times with all children in North America.

In his letter, dated May 16, he writes: "I am on my way back to Canada. I have been giving my orphan picnics in Cuba and Central America, where it is always summer and came over to the southern states about a month ago, where I have given several more."

"I had a very successful one here today. My next will be in South Carolina. Then I go to Washington and New York. I expect to arrive in Saint John about the middle of June and after giving three or four picnics in New Brunswick, to go to Nova Scotia and P. E. Island."

"After finishing in the Maritime Provinces I go to Ontario, Manitoba, and British Columbia, where I also give picnics."

THREE FISHERMEN CONVICTED OF CAUSING FIRE IN SUNBURY CO

Court Allowed Fines to Stand Upon Payment of Costs of Court on Account of the Action Taken by the Fishermen in Promptly Reporting Fire When it Got Beyond their Control.

MINTO, N. B., May 23—The trial of three persons charged with setting a fire during a fishing trip last week on the Newcastle Stream occasioned considerable interest here yesterday, more so perhaps on account of the serious fires which have been springing up the past few days.

The case was held before Magistrate Lawson at Minto. Chief Game Warden Gagnon appearing for the Department. One member of the party pleaded guilty, the others pleaded not guilty, but on evidence being taken were found guilty, on two charges, being fined $20 each for causing a forest fire and $10.00 each for travelling in the forest without a permit, but in view of the evidence revealed, the Court allowed the fines to stand upon payment of costs. The party admitted having a lunch fire but also proved that precautions were taken and water put on the fire. The party however did admit smoking and it was felt that no doubt the fire started from smoking rather than from the lunch fire. The main point, however, was the fact that the party on returning down the brook, on discovering the fire tried to put it out and they could not, promptly reported it to the fire warden. Extra help was secured and the fire put out before spreading into a serious conflagration.

In view of the sincere attempt made to put out the fire and the straightforward evidence given by the party, the Court allowed both fines to stand.

OBITUARY

MRS. NORMAN CLARK

Passing away as if sinking to rest after a day of toil in the service of the Master, Mrs. Norman Clarke of Lower Wakefield fell asleep in Christ on May 23. She was 64 years of age and leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving wife and mother, her husband, five sons, Bertram of Houlton, Me., Munzer of Robinson, Me., Charles of Woodstock, Ward of Connecticut and Norvel of Wakefield, and one daughter, Mrs. Henry Ervine of Boston, Mass., besides a large circle of other relatives and friends.

Sister Clark professed religion a number of years ago and lived a faithful Christian and was always found at her post in the Church until a few years ago when she was stricken with paralysis and since that time was unable to attend church, it is a great blessing to the family who mourn the loss of a good mother to know that she professed Christianity when she had a mind to retain it.

God and Heaven should be more real to those who mourn because they do not mourn as those without hope. We have the consolation, consciousness that because of a work of grace in the heart years ago has enabled her to withstand the storms of life in the past and we have faith to believe has given her an entrance into the mansion which Christ has gone to prepare for those who love and serve him.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon at the Primitive Baptist Church, Lower Wakefield, conducted by Rev. P. J. Quigg, with interment in the cemetery nearby.

The floral tributes were as follows: Pillow, Husband; Gates-ajar, Sons; Wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Irvine and Ward Clarke; Spray, Mrs. Bertram Clarke; Spray, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Britton; Flat Bouquet, Mrs. Dugan; Flat Bouquet, Mrs. H. Britton; Mrs. Arthur Bragdon; Mrs. H. London and Margaret Bragdon; Flat Bouquet, Mrs. White and Hortense White; Cut Flowers, Mrs. Ella McCoughy; Cut Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jones; Cut Flowers, Mrs. Fred McCluskey and Maggie McCluskey.

"I Suffered Terribly With Sore, Aching Back"

Mrs. Roland Ferguson, 194 Lake St., Peterboro, Ont., writes:

"For over two years I suffered terribly with sore back. I was almost mad with the pain, and had doctored with it until I was discouraged. Then my father, who is a firm believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I followed his advice, and am glad to say I was completely relieved of that torturing pain in my back. It is over a year since I used these pills, and I have had no return of the trouble, but always keep them in the house."
