

HUSBAND MURDERED WIFE THEN BLEW OUT OWN BRAINS AWFUL TRAGEDY AT LEAMINGTON

Floyd Dresser, Aged 20, and His Wife, Aged 19, Found Dead in Bed in Their Home in Western Ontario Town.

INFANT PRATTLED MID SCENE OF DEATH

Baby, Spared by the Crazy Husband, Cried and Laughed by Turns—It Is Said Husband and Wife Had Had Many Quarrels of Late.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Leamington, Ont., May 13.—The most horrible tragedy in the history of Leamington was discovered this morning when Mrs. Floyd Dresser, aged 19, was found murdered in bed, and her husband, aged 20, the supposed murderer, a suicide, on the floor in the room.

INFANT IN THE BED.

Both bodies were cold in death when found. A tiny infant, 6 months old, was in bed with the dead mother, and in turn cried for the care and attention only a mother can bestow, and then laughed with childish glee, not realizing the fearful tragedy.

Dresser was about town as usual last night. He was in Jeffrey's billiard room until 10 o'clock, and seemed to be in the best of spirits. He laughed and chatted his companions, and there seemed to be no sign of care or worry. He left the place shortly after the hour named, and, bidding his companions good night, went home.

Early this morning, Mrs. Dresser's father, John Oliver, went to the home, and found the house locked up, with no sign of life. He went home and told his wife, who went at once to the scene.

Mrs. Oliver got into the house. The fire was out, and there was not a sign of life anywhere. She went to the young couple's room and almost dropped with fright when she saw the awful sight.

A HORRIBLE DISCOVERY.

On the bed lay Mrs. Dresser with a ghastly wound in the left temple. On the floor, face downwards, near the bed, lay the husband in a pool of blood on the floor.

The tiny infant laughed and cried in turn on the bed beside its dead mother.

Mrs. Oliver ran from the house with a scream of horror. Mr. Oliver rushed to the place and Constable Booth was notified.

Several physicians were hastily summoned also, but man and wife were rigid in death.

Mrs. Oliver took the baby, and was removed to her home by neighbors.

MURDERED WHILE ASLEEP.

Mrs. Dresser was evidently murdered while lying asleep. She was lying on her back, with the clothes drawn up around her and an arm about the baby.

A horrible wound in the temple showed where the bullet had sped on its arched path. A black, jagged wound it was, with powder marks and scorched flesh, proving beyond peradventure that the man, with manicured fangs, had struck his victim would not escape his anger.

The woman apparently never moved after the fatal shot, and lay as if in a sleep.

TWO REVOLVERS IN HANDS.

Dresser was fully clothed, and lay on his face, with the revolvers clasped with the grip of death in his hand. One in his right hand, a 32-calibre revolver showed two empty chambers. The other lay under his body, covered with his life blood.

From all appearances he had come into the room, placed the revolver near his wife's temple and shot her as she slept.

Making sure that the wound was fatal, he turned the weapon upon himself. The bullet struck him on the forehead, close to the top of his nose, and crashed into his brain. He fell, striking the side of the bed, leaving an imprint of blood, and lay on the floor, where he was found.

SPARED THE BABY.

There was no evidence that he tried to kill the baby, nor that he took any interest whatever in the little infant.

As they died they were found. The dread tragedy had evidently taken place shortly after he came in from the billiard room, or at least quite early in the night.

There is no motive known for the deed. Mrs. Dresser bore a good reputation, and was well liked by her neighbors. Dresser had been living very fast of late, however, drinking, and staying away at nights. This led to many quarrels, it is alleged, when Dresser neglected his wife considerably.

She upbraided him for his conduct, and violent quarrels are said to have taken place on his part. Dresser returned home late last night, after spending the evening in the poolrooms, and the theory of the crown is that a violent quarrel took place on this score. Dresser evidently determined upon murder in his anger, and waiting until his wife had retired and gone to sleep, he slipped into her room, killing her as she lay.

Coroner was notified. Constable Booth took charge of the case, and summoned Dr. King, the coroner. A careful investigation of the case was made by the officers and it was decided to hold an inquest.

"The facts are quite plain," said Dr. King. "Dresser shot his wife, and then committed suicide. Dresser was struck in the left temple by the bullet. The revolver must have been held very close to her head as there were evidences of burns and powder marks. He shot her in the forehead right over the nose, the bullet entering the brain. In falling he evidently struck the side of the bed, as there was a blood stain on it. He fell on his face, and was in the position when found. He had two revolvers, one in each hand. One had two chambers empty, and the other was in his hand and under his body."

Shot His Wife. "There was no other conclusion to come to than Dresser had first shot his wife as she lay asleep, and then turned the revolver on himself. Death had taken place some hours before the bodies were found, as they were quite rigid."

No Motive. "As to the motive, there is none, except, perhaps, his conduct of late. Mr. Oliver, father of Mrs. Dresser, stated that they had quarrelled somewhat of late. She had upbraided him for his conduct as he was staying out late, and had been spending his money very freely of late. This, he thought, was the cause of the tragedy."

Dresser was about 22 years of age, and his wife was a year or two younger. He was the son of Mr. Thomas Dresser, a farmer living on the fourth concession of Mersea Township. He is one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of that district. He was notified of the tragedy at an early hour. Mrs. Dresser was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver, of Leamington.

MR. NUTTER NOT FAVORITE WITH BOARD OF EDUCATION

City Engineer Graydon Wants to Know Why City Architect Has Been Overlooked.

City Engineer Graydon and the board of education are again in a controversy over the services of City Architect Nutter.

Mr. Nutter declares that he has not been given any details of the proposed building, and that consequently he is not preparing any plans for the building.

Mr. Graydon took up the pen on Mr. Nutter's behalf, and in a letter to the board asks why it is that outside architects can be furnished with the details while the city architect has not been given them.

"We should at least be given the same consideration," said Mr. Graydon. "I cannot understand the action of the board whatever."

FATAL EXPLOSION IN TOY-PISTOL FACTORY

Barrel of Cap Making Material Goes Up in Smoke—Boy Killed—The Factory Wrecked.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 13.—When a barrel of cap-making material exploded early today at the plant of the Pittsburg Cap and Pistol Company, in Homestead, black powder so completely destroyed the factory that the body of J. Johnson, aged 42 years, that when found its identity could not be ascertained for some time. A young boy also working in the plant was badly injured.

The factory was wrecked and windows for two blocks about the place were shattered.

The concern had been working night and day to fill Fourth of July orders for toy pistols and caps.

FIVE BLUEJACKETS KILLED

Disastrous Results of German Naval Manoeuvring Off the Coast.

Berlin, May 13.—The report from Wilhelm that a fatal explosion has occurred while the mine-laying division was manœuvring off the coast, was officially confirmed today.

Five bluejackets were killed and two others were injured.

YUKON RIVER OPENED

Ice Broke Up in Front of Dawson—Boats Start Saturday.

Dawson, Yukon, Territory, May 13.—The ice on the Yukon River broke up in front of Dawson yesterday afternoon and thousands of dollars were expended on the time of this event changed hands. One hundred tons of supplies were caught on Lake Labarge, and as the ice is too soft to permit the use of horses, dog trains are being used to carry them off before all the ice goes out.

The first of the steamers from the Upper Yukon for Dawson will start on Saturday. The fees of the small boats bringing the advance guard rushing in for spring water are said to be high.

The Dawson provision market is depleted.

MONTREAL-CHICAGO ALL-WATER ROUTE

Inauguration of a New Freight and Passenger Service.

Chicago, May 13.—New freight and passenger service entirely by boat between Montreal and Chicago will be inaugurated today with the arrival of the steamer City of Montreal from the Canadian city. This is the first of a series of all-water routes.

Service has been operated from the St. Lawrence River to the great lakes via the Welland Canal. Several years ago the experiment failed on account of high insurance rates, but an arrangement has been made by which shippers are not required to insure their freight, and it is supposed to operate three boats on schedule for both freight and passenger throughout the season.

SITUATION IN NICARAUGA

Threatened Battle May Not Take Place or Several Days.

New Orleans, May 13.—The threatened battle between the Estrada and Madrid forces in Nicaragua may not take place for several days, according to a dispatch received here. It is reported that the largest division of the Estrada forces is now stationed at a point about eight miles south of Bluefields.

It is believed the Madrid forces are awaiting the arrival of the steamship Venus. That the Venus has put into a port of Central or South America to change its register is not denied by the Madrid representatives in New Orleans.

According to a proclamation of Estrada, each volunteer in the insurgent army will receive 125 acres of land for his services, the same to revert to the government of the east coast if it is not in cultivation within six years.

FATAL FIRE IN MAINE

Jackman, May 13.—Fred O'Brien, a lumber camp cook, was burned to death, Henry Hays was seriously burned, and Harry Landry, a hotel employee, received slight injuries in the fire which destroyed the Armstrong House, the principal hotel here, and the Canadian Pacific Railroad station.

Several of the eighteen men sleeping in the hotel jumped from the windows or came down a telephone pole which stood close to the building.

Dog Fines. At this morning's session of the police court, John Scott, James McLean and Robert Johnston each paid $2 for allowing their dogs out without muzzles. Seven wheelmen, who took to the sidewalks, paid $1 each.

Watch For The Advertiser's New Story

Saturday there will appear in The Advertiser the first installment of "The Message," a story by Louis Tracy. The author's name is sufficient guarantee of its enthralling interest. It is a story which teems with thrilling incidents—a snappy, gripping tale of romance and adventure. Mr. Tracy is the author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Wheel of Fortune," and other popular stories, and is one of the cleverest of present day writers. Don't miss the opening chapters on Saturday.

LONDON PEOPLE IN A BAD ACCIDENT AT THAMESFORD AUTO PARTIALLY WRECKED

Mr. J. L. Secord, of Euclid Avenue, and Party Suffer Severe Hurts in a Mishap by Which All Were Thrown Out and Two of the Occupants Went Under Car.

Spinning along the road at about fifteen miles an hour, near Thamesford, on a trip from Brantford to this city, at 10:30 last evening, a touring car driven by Mr. J. L. Secord, the owner, of 109 Elmwood avenue, who was accompanied by Miss Alice Bloxam, also of Elmwood avenue, and Mr. Secord's brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. W. E. Bryson and Mrs. J. A. Wolf, of Tacoma, Washington, skidded, as the rear wheels left a bridge, faced about and turned turtle.

The fact that the top was down over the back at the time saved the lives of the passengers, all four escaping with cuts and bruises, with the exception of Mrs. Wolf, who sustained more serious injury. Two ribs were broken, and she was otherwise badly shaken up.

Under the Car. Mr. Secord was driving at the time, and was accompanied in the front seat by his sister-in-law. Both were thrown under the car, but Mrs. Wolf was easily extricated.

The steering post rested on Mr. Secord's leg, but Mr. Brown, who with Miss Bloxam, was thrown from the tonneau unharmed, was able to hail a taxi cab. Continued on Page Ten.

EMPLOYER CHARGES UNION MEN ARE NOT PLAYING FAIR

Claims That Vega Cigar Company Is Being Asked to Pay More for Same Class of Work Than Union Demands From Other Places—It Looks Like a Strike Monday.

Members of the local cigarmakers' Union expect an organizer to arrive in the city this afternoon, and state that it is certain that the strike will be officially called on Monday.

A meeting of the committee will be held on Sunday afternoon. It was stated today that there are about 300 members of the union in the city, and that all will go out. Several have already, in anticipation of the strike, left the city. Five from one shop went in a body last night to Toronto.

Local manufacturers are paying the men up to tonight, and are making arrangements that all who come to work tomorrow will be paid up till tomorrow night.

Employer Objects. One of the most interesting situations has occurred in the case of the Vega Cigar Company. Mr. Gaste has agreed to practically every demand the union has made, except that of paying $12 for a certain line of Havana cigar. He has been paying $11 per thousand for this class of work right along, as against $10 paid by other manufacturers. Now the union is asking Mr. Gaste to pay $12, and the other shops $11.

"I think this is simply an imposition on me," said Mr. Gaste to The Advertiser this afternoon. "I simply can't pay that price for that class of cigar. Why they should single me out to pay $12, and only ask other manufacturers $11, is more than I can tell. I am willing to leave this question to a board of arbitration to be composed of an equal number of men in the city, and ask if my contention is not fair."

RENWICK AVE. MEN BURIED THE HATCHET

President Navin Has So Informed Mayor Beattie.

The Detroit Tigers will not visit London this summer.

Mayor Beattie today received a letter from Mr. Frank Navin, president of the club, stating that there were no open dates on the club's list, so that it would be impossible to play in London.

Mr. Navin also pointed out that the club could not accept an invitation to play for charity on account of the fact that if once a president was established it would be impossible to refuse a thousand such invitations.

WALTER ROSS WAS GRANTED RESPITE

North Bay Murderer's Execution Postponed—Smallpox in Jail.

Ottawa, May 13.—A respite until June 21 has been granted in the case of Walter Ross, the North Bay murderer, who was to have been hanged on Friday next.

The execution is postponed because the jail at North Bay where Ross is incarcerated is now quarantined for smallpox.

Rose killed in cold blood a brother of Principal Parkinson, of Grand Avenue School, London.

THE COSTA RICA QUAKE

Earth Tremors Continue—Will Take Six Months to Clear Cartago Ruins.

San Jose, Costa Rica, May 13.—The earth tremors continued today. In the month since April 13, four hundred distinct shocks have been recorded. The volcanoes exhibited no special activities. It is estimated that a force of 2,000 men will be required for six months to clear the ruins of Cartago. Half that number is engaged under good organization. Ninety-five building blocks shaken from their foundations contributed to the debris.

WATT COMPANY COMES HERE WILL EMPLOY FIFTY HANDS

Patterson Auto Company Will Also Locate Canadian Branch in This City—London Appears To Be in for a Big Industrial Boom.

London, after resting on her oars for a couple of years while other municipalities with fewer advantages to the manufacturer, obtained industries from all sides, is developing a first-class crew of boosters, and today the announcement is made that another big manufactory is to locate on the Higgins farm, east of the Empire Brass Works, on Dundas street, near the inter-switching line, has been safely landed.

The R. Watt Company, Limited, now located in Ridgetown, has secured the lease, the deal is closed, and within the next two weeks work on a factory covering 30,000 feet, ranging from one to two stories in height, will be commenced.

At the outset the firm will employ about fifty hands, but within the year it is expected that over a hundred names will be on the payroll. Twenty families are being brought from Ridgetown alone.

The Product. The Watt Company manufactures beam threshers, threshing engines and machines, and a new automatic thresher feeder. The Watts have a monopoly of the latter line, and as beans are raised extensively in this part of the country, particularly in Kent and Essex Counties, the field is a fine one.

The building will be rushed to completion this summer and within a short time dozens of residents of Ridgetown and other places will trek for the leading manufacturing centre of this part of Ontario.

Patterson Auto Company. With the news of the new industry come further particulars of the Patterson Automobile Manufacturing Company, of Flint, Mich., that has decided to locate a Canadian plant in this city.

Mr. W. A. Patterson's representative, a Mr. Sullivan, of Flint, was in the city a few days ago. Continued on Page Ten.

EXPULSION OF JEWS TO BE RESUMED

They Must Leave, Kiev, Russia, Before June 14—Order Applies to Other Cities.

Kiev, Russia, May 13.—The expulsion of Jews residing illegally in Kiev will be resumed tomorrow. In some instances a delay has been granted to permit a settlement of their affairs, but all of these marked for expulsion must leave the city before June 14.

The order of expulsion was issued as a result of an agitation which began in the Duma and originally provided that the expulsion should take place on April 28 last. Subsequently the order was suspended by Premier Stolypin to permit a further examination of Jewish claims of residence.

The order applied to other cities and towns where Jews are residing.

The Kiev commission has considered thus far about 1,000 cases, of which $50 have been found to be subject to expulsion. The governor-general has reviewed the decisions of the commission and confirmed the expulsion of 700 of those listed.

The Jews remaining in Kiev will be allowed to occupy summer villas outside the city through special permission granted individual cases.

Tashkent, Asiatic Russia, May 13.—The police have given forty Jewish families, declared to be residing illegally here, three days in which to leave the town.

STARVING, BURNED AND NEARLY FROZEN

Terrible Experience of Family On Thirty-Mile Tramp in Michigan.

Grand Marais, Mich., May 13.—John R. Elving and his wife, with their young baby, together with their six older children, the eldest of whom is 15 years, have reached here in an almost famished condition after a 30-mile tramp through the forest between here and Upper Bruce Lake. It took them five days to cover the distance, and they were almost burned and frozen to death.

Two of the smaller children were saved from drowning by the family's Newfoundland dog.

Elving's family were routed from their beds Sunday morning by an advancing forest fire, they beat a hasty retreat to a small stock of provisions. After tramping for three days in an effort to escape from the burning timber, they found themselves entirely surrounded by flames. Elving with his hand-axe cut limbs from tree on the bank of the Bruce River, sought a favorable place in the street and stationed himself and his family near, deep in the cold water beneath a wet screen of old brush, which he saturated from time to time until the fire burned out.

CITIZENS MAY TAKE HAND IN THE DEAL

Looks Like a New Move to Buy the Saunby Mill Property.

The Saunby property must be purchased by the city, in agreement with some private citizens, who will take part of the property along the street, leaving the city the flats and the mill property to be used as a park.

The gentlemen in question are said to be willing to pay $10,000 for the land suitable to improve their property, provided the city will pay the remainder, which is said to be about $10,000 additional.

There is no person acting for the water commissioners in the deal, although it is stated that Mr. Geo. C. Gibbons, or Mr. Geo. B. Harris through Mr. Geo. C. Gibbons, K. C., are interesting themselves in the deal. They are practically the only people along Ridout street to whom the property would be sold.

However, nothing of a definite nature has transpired as yet, but negotiations are under way.

SOUTH LONDON MAN RAN BEFORE A CAR

L. Carpenter, of 22 Evergreen Avenue, Had Close Escape From Death.

Mr. L. Carpenter, of 22 Evergreen avenue, had a remarkably close call from being seriously injured just about noon today, when he tried to run across in front of two street cars on Richmond street, near York No. 70.

The line was going south, and Oxford No. 54 was coming north. Mr. Carpenter had nearly cleared the track, when the fender of car No. 64 struck his foot and knocked him over. Fortunately, the roller clear of the oncoming Belt Line car, or he would have been crushed by it. Beyond sustaining some very muddy clothes and a broken umbrella, Mr. Carpenter suffered no injury.

RAIN DELAYS THE WORK IN CANAL

Fall for April 5.08 In. Against 3.78 In. for Previous Month.

Washington, May 13.—Heavy rain-falls on the isthmus have retarded the canal diggers, according to a cable report from the Washington office of the Isthmian Canal commission by Col. Goethals. The total excavation for the month of April was 2,632,468 cubic yards against 3,473 yards in the previous month, but the rainfall for April was 5.08 inches, against 3.78 inches in March.

Besides rainfall, the canal workers have had to contend with the fact that as they got nearer the bottom of the excavation the work increased in difficulty. In spite of this, Col. Goethals reports a substantial increase in the amount of work done on the great locks and dams of the canal during April, 36,120 cubic yards of concrete having been laid, against 30,512 yards in March.

THE INTERCOLONIAL HAS A SURPLUS

General Betterment of Traffic — Net Earnings About $500,000.

Ottawa, May 13.—The accounts of the Intercolonial for the past fiscal year, which are now being balanced up by the railway department, show that under the new system of management, with the economies effected and a general betterment of traffic conditions, a substantial surplus, probably a million dollars, has been realized on the year's operations.

Compared with a deficit of nearly three-quarters of a million for the preceding year, this result speaks volumes for the businesslike administration of the road under Hon. Geo. P. Graham.

The I. C. R. board of management will make a trip of inspection over the road towards the end of the month, and will at the same time look into the question of the acquisition of branch lines, as provided for under the provisions of the act passed last session.

CONDITION OF THE COMET.

Washington, May 13.—Cyanogen is now practically absent from Halley's comet, according to a dispatch received today by Georgetown University from the Lowell Observatory of Flagstaff, Arizona. The dispatch added that the cyanogen bands appeared strongest in the head of the comet.

EXPERTS TESTIFY IN UXBRIDGE CASE

Dr. Johnston Declares Strychnine Caused Mrs. McLachlan's Death.

CROWN CONCLUDES CASE

Sister of Dead Woman Declares There Was No Signs of Insanity About Her.

Whitby, May 12.—The prosecution today closed its case against Archie McLachlan, who is accused of murdering his wife and children.

The principal witnesses for the crown were Dr. Ellis, who testified to finding strychnine in the dead woman's stomach, and Dr. Johnston, who was sure that poisoning, and not suffocation, had caused the woman's death. Miss Alma Nix was not called by the crown.

Marvin Dennis Testifies.

Marvin Dennis, a brother of Mrs. McLachlan, said that he never heard of any insanity or melancholia in his family or its branches. On learning of the tragedy he came to Uxbridge and talked to the prisoner. I asked him how it started, and he picked up some papers and gave them to me, saying, read them. I said it was strange if he didn't know anything about it, and he said he came home about 10 o'clock. His wife wasn't very well, and he sat up in the kitchen with her, who wasn't very well. He said he fell asleep, and was awakened by the fire. He said he remembered going out with the baby, but didn't remember what happened after that until he was given a drink of water in Dr. Shier's office about 4 o'clock in the morning.

Sister of Mrs. McLachlan.

Mrs. M. Watson, of Sarnia, a sister of Mrs. McLachlan, told of receiving a telegram acquainting her with what had taken place.

"You visited Uxbridge in September before the fire?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"Yes, for about two weeks."

"During that time what do you say as to the relations between McLachlan and his wife?"

"I WAS IN BAD SHAPE"

But Little Digesters "Have Done Wonders for Me"

Here is an experience with the first part of which you may be all too familiar. Mr. Josh Smith, of North Seneca, Ont., writes about "Little Digesters":

"Having been troubled with indigestion for a number of years, I have tried nearly all kinds of pills and tablets for indigestion only to be disappointed."

"Seeing your tablets advertised I thought I would give them a trial, and must say I am glad I did. Before taking them I was in bad shape. Bad taste in my mouth mornings and so dizzy that I hardly knew how I would get in the day. Everything I would eat would seem to sour and ferment, but after taking "Digesters" I can say they have done wonders for me."

If you know what the first part of this story means why not learn the relief and delight which comes from the use of "Little Digesters"?

"Little Digesters" are positively guaranteed to cure all forms of indigestion and dyspepsia or your money will be refunded.

ter make it ten grains, as he wanted to make a sure job of the rats. Lévi Barber, assistant to the undertaker, who looked after the burial of the three victims, said that no one had tampered with the box in which Mrs. McLachlan's stomach was sent to Toronto for analysis. Dr. Ellis and Dr. Johnston then testified, after which Mr. Blackstock announced that the case of the crown was closed.

PRIMA DONNA RECOVERS HER PEARL

Missed Jewel When She Arrived at Buffalo Hotel.

Buffalo, May 13.—Madame Nordica, the prima donna, is congratulating herself on the recovery of a valuable pearl, which she said was worth about $9,000. For a time she considered it irrevocably lost. The stone was attached to a necklace. The platinum fastening broke, and she noticed that the pearl was missing upon her arrival at her hotel.

Captain Gilligan, of the Pearl street station, was notified by W. J. Chauncey, Mme. Nordica's secretary, and they made a trip to convention hall. The pearl was found on the floor of the stage.

EMBRO HAPPENINGS.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Embro, May 11.—Mr. Wm. Duncan, of Hamilton, is visiting his mother, Miss Adela McKay, of Ayr, spent over Sunday at her home.

At the special meeting of the Presbytery of Paris, which was held in Knox Church, Woodstock, Thursday, May 5, the call of Rev. James Egan to St. Andrew's Church, Niagara Falls, was confirmed. The Embro congregation was ably represented by eight gentlemen, who were in favor of retaining the pastor, but after he had expressed his wish to accept the call the presbytery granted the removal, which will take effect after May 29. Mr. Barber has many warm friends, who regret his removal, but wish him every success in his new field.

Messrs. Roy Porter and Geo. Youngs, of the Traders' Bank, Ingersoll, spent over Sunday at their homes.

Mrs. Thomas Moyer and children, of Woodstock, spent over Sunday at Mr. D. Kennedy's of the parish.

Mr. Williams, of Toronto, is visiting his sister, Mrs. (Dr.) A. H. Green.

Mrs. Maggie Campbell, of Kansas, is on a visit to her home here.

Mrs. Mitchell, of Aylmer, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. Gordon.

Mrs. Struthers, of Galt, and Miss Rutherford, of Calgary, spent a few days with Mrs. James Brand.

PARKHILL.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Parkhill, May 11.—John Leslie and son Robert left here on Tuesday for Alberta, taking with them a carload of settlers' effects and seven good horses.

Bishop Fallon, of London, will conduct a confirmation service at the Sacred Heart Church here on June 5 of about fifty candidates are preparing under the leadership of Rev. J. P. Dunn, rector of the parish.

Angus Currie left here to take a position with J. B. McKenzie, of Arkona, as teamster, between Thedford and the Ark.

The flag on the separate school, Bornish, is hoisted at half-mast in memory of the late King Edward VII, who was a good friend of the Roman Catholics throughout the world.

J. P. Sullivan, of London, paid his official visit last Monday to the Bornish separate school, examining the pupils who are going up for entrance at midsummer.

Richard Haskett, S. R., is fencing his 50-acre farm on the 15th concession, East Williams.

George Murch, who had a blacksmith shop in Forest, has returned to Parkhill to resume his trade at his old stand. This speaks well for the Hill.

J. D. McCall, of London, has opened the Franklin House, Parkhill, as a first-class temperance hotel.

Ex-Mayor Nell McPhee has the contract for D. A. McKenzie's new residence, which is to cost $1,500 or $2,000. Red brick is to be used in the construction.

A shovel with high, sharp edges and with a hinged blade that lifts away from the front, has been patented by a New Jersey resident to cut and lift sods.

How to Stop Drinking

It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every fit of remorse that followed his debauches, and then—break it.

But now it is gradually dawning on the world that pledges do not stop drunkenness. The nervous system of the habitual drinker is diseased, and he must have treatment that will cure this condition.

Orine is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the drink habit or the money will be refunded. Can be given secretly.

Write for free booklet on the "Cure of Alcoholism" to the Orine Company, 97 Orine building, Washington, D.C. Mail-order sealed. Orine costs but $1 per box. Sold in this city by W. T. Strong, 184 Dundas street, London.

STORE NEWS FOR SATURDAY SHOPPERS!

SHOP EARLY SATURDAY

If ever we published a list of inducements that should start MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN out early in the morning, it is this list of bargains for tomorrow (Saturday), and many, we venture to say, won't last the forenoon. In the Men's Department: Who wouldn't come early for a $2.50 Hat at $1.00?

Or where is the woman who would not exert herself for a 12-yard end of Silk at One-Third Off, or a pair of our best $1.25 Kid Gloves for 95c, and so on throughout the store. Saturday such inducements will be found at every turn. It will be a big money-making day for the shoppers at this store. SHOP EARLY, WE CLOSE AT 6 O'CLOCK.

Great Towelling Day Saturday Sixteen Yards for $1.00

Get Your Share. Mail Orders Filled.

1,850 yards bought at a sacrifice price on account of irregular finishing from a large old country mill. This Towelling is 17 1/2 inches wide, with colored borders, good selvage on both sides, and absolutely pure linen. While the quality of some of it appears thinner than the rest, it will improve with washing, being all made from the same grade of yarn. Much of it you would be willing to pay from 8 1/2c to 10c per yard for.

See it on display in Dundas street vestibule window. Just a good day's selling, and cannot be repeated; suitable for hand or tea towels. 6 1/2c yard, or 16 yards for $1.00

THE BRITISH POLITICAL CRISIS. The political situation in Great Britain derives a new interest, not only from the death of the King, but from the complete statement of the Government's policy contained in the text of the veto bill which has been just issued. It is made plain that the present settlement of the question for which the Government are pressing is to be regarded as something quite temporary. The Government propose to restrict the veto of the House of Lords, so that a measure sent up by the House of Commons can be delayed only two years by the upper chamber, but this provision is to apply only so long as the House of Lords is constituted on a hereditary basis.

The Government express their intention of placing the House of Lords on a popular basis. When this is accomplished the whole question of the balance of power, between the two houses will be reopened. This proposal had no place in the veto resolutions which were adopted by the House of Commons some time ago, and its incorporation in the bill has come as a surprise to all parties. It will to a certain extent disarm the Unionists, as it destroys their contention that the Government are aiming at the destruction of the two-chamber principle. The issue will not be between a unicameral and bicameral system, but between an elective second chamber and a second chamber on the Rosebery model.

The Rosebery chamber would differ from the House of Lords, chiefly in size. It would be composed mainly of peers elected exclusively by members of the peerage. No Liberal peer would have a chance of election by such a constituency. If he got into the upper chamber it would be as one of the small minority whom Lord Rosebery would graciously permit to be elected by municipal councils and certain other ancient corporations, or to be appointed by the Government of the day. The Liberals would never accept a second chamber so constituted, and the Unionists will not consent to the elective principle unless under compulsion.

SALVATION ARMY EMIGRATION WORK. If an estimate made by Col. Howell, secretary of the emigration department of the Salvation Army, is borne out, 150,000 people will leave the British Isles for Canada this year, of whom 5,000 will come under the army's auspices. Profiting by experience, the army is now careful to select only such persons as are likely to be self-supporting when they come to this country. The restriction laws now are such that it is impossible for any organization to dump on Canada's shores immigrants who are likely to become a public burden. The plight of such individuals, even if admitted, would be no better than it was before they left home.

THE MAINE TO BE RAISED. There is a prospect of an early and definite settlement of the question whether the sinking of the United States battleship Maine in Havana harbor, just before the outbreak of the war with Spain, was due to an internal accident or was the deliberate work of Spainiards. The destruction of the Maine undoubtedly hastened the outbreak of hostilities. The Washington Government, even if it had been so disposed, could not have withstood the wave of feeling that swept over the country. The American people, as a whole, believed that the disaster was caused by Spanish treachery, though even at the time a few Americans of high station intimated that the evidence was not conclusive. Since the war, internal explosions on warships have been of such frequent occurrence in other navies that increasing doubt has been cast on the anti-bellum theory. To settle the point Congress has passed a bill directing the secretary of war and board of engineers to have the wreck raised with all convenient speed. If the examination should reveal that the explosion was from within, the reflection cast upon the honor of Spain as a civilized nation will be removed. But even before the destruction of the Maine the relations of the two countries had become so strained that war was inevitable.

KING EDWARD'S ILLNESS. The official statement of the royal physicians shows that King Edward had for years suffered from the disorders which culminated in his death. Signs of emphysema, they say, were permanently present at the bases of the lungs. It is a disease in which the air cells of the lungs are distended and their partition walls ruptured by abnormal pressure of the air contained in them. This was attended by bronchial catarrh. On several occasions digestive disturbances caused the King's medical attendant to realize that he no longer had the reserve constitutional power which stood him in such splendid stead after the operation in 1902. "Any intercurrent catarrhal or bronchitic attack of a serious kind," they say, "would at once call upon both heart and lungs for their fullest effort." On his recent journey to the south, he had a severe attack of indigestion at Paris, with shortness of breath, and a bronchitic attack at Biarritz. After his return to England he contracted a chill while inspecting the gardens at Sandringham.

This intelligence shows that the King was not as physically sound as his appearance indicated during the past few years. The suggestion of his physicians that his earnest concern over the political situation "should not be lost sight of in an all-round consideration of the King's health," is, of course, largely based on conjecture. He died of maladies which had afflicted him for years. The political situation only became intense when the Lords threw out the budget in November of last year. The King would have been unworthy of the crown if he had not followed with concern the development of the crisis, but it could not involve the monarchy unless the monarch chose to involve himself, and there is no proof that it so depressed his spirits as to aggravate his illness. If it were a contributory cause, the responsibility would rest upon the peers, who raided the constitution. The King is censured by a writer in the Contemporary Review for not bringing pressure upon the peers to prevent the rejection of the budget, but this interference would have been as blame-worthy as if he had tried to induce the Government to frame a budget which the Lords would accept. The issue of the Contemporary Review containing the article has been called in since the King's death.

A discovery of coal in Ontario would be worth more than the discovery of another silver district. Coal is the one mineral the Province lacks. There is a Wall Street report that the C. P. R. is buying Wabash stock. We are not nearly so interested in that as in the fact that the C. P. R. is buying land in this city.

The King has sent a birthday greeting to Florence Nightingale, who yesterday entered her 91st year. The King honors not only Florence Nightingale, but himself. There is no living person more deserving of a homage of mankind than the angel of the Crimea. The recent deaths of John Cameron, John Dewar, Malcolm Bremner and Archibald Bremner have sadly depleted the ranks of the old guard of journalists, who grew up with The Advertiser and the Free Press.

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review records the fact that Rev. Mr. Ames, of that town, has lived from George the Fourth to George the Fifth. Two residents of this city, Mrs. McCully and Mr. Deacon, who died within the past fortnight, would have lived from George the Third to George the Fifth if they had lived a few days longer.

The ordinary level-headed Weekly Sun of Toronto lost its head the other day when it accused Earl Grey of exercising a baleful influence in Canada and of "forcing upon the young people the building of a Canadian navy." Earl Grey has had no more to do with Canada's naval policy than Neptune himself.

LAURIER'S POPULARITY. (New York Globe.) Prime Minister Laurier is held in the highest esteem in this country, as was so well testified by comment here during the last Canadian general election. If the Duke of Connaught, as Governor-General of Canada, should prove half as popular in this country, the promised establishment of better relations between the two countries would be still further facilitated.

MAKING THE BEST OF IT. (Buffalo News.) The most philosophic man I ever knew, just fairly breeds it—When crops are in an 'comes a spell of rain, he rests an' figgers "Well, Now I suppose there's someone needs it!"

BIG ONES AT THE TOP. (Milwaukee Journal.) The world is all a strawberry box, And if to think you'll stop, You'll find the very biggest men Are always on the top.

TO BEGIN WORK when he signalled that he wanted to come up. As soon as he was on the boat he motioned to have the helmet taken off. "Begob," he said, when his head was free, "I'll not wor-r-k where I can't spit on me hands."

SUFFICIENT REASON. (Chicago News.) "What do you sell lard for, young man?" asked the old lady of a new clerk in the corner grocery. "Cause I can't get anything else to do, ma'am," replied the young man, who was not altogether satisfied with his job.

A PERILOUS NAP. (Baltimore American.) She—That new maid of mine is as lazy as she can be. Do you know, last evening she fell into a sound nap as she was dressing my hair. He—A terrible dereliction of duty. Asleep at the switch!

THE TRUTH AT LAST. (Punch.) Caller—Is Mrs. Brown at home? Artless Parlor Maid (smiling confidentially)—No, ma'am; she really is out this afternoon.

A STRANGE MYSTERY. (Mr. Dooley.) Wan iv th' strangest things about life is th' poor, who need th' money most, ar-re the very wans that niver have it.

A TRIBUTE TO EDWARD. (Washington Star.) The quality of his work proved even more surprising than his physical strength he showed in performing it. The man of fashion and sport developed into the greatest English diplomat of his generation. In mingling cordially with all classes of representative men, he had familiarized himself with all the needs and enterprises of the empire. He knew what was afoot, and what was contemplated, and he was able to see because he had the confidence of all. In a very short time it was plain that the man on the throne had every qualification for its most exacting requirements, and was strengthening his country in all of its foreign relations.

HIS CHOICE. (Metropolitan Magazine.) Judge—You are privileged to challenge any member of the Jury now being empanelled. "Well, thin, yer honor, O'P'll fight the small man wid wan eye, in the corner there fermin' ye."

THEN AND NOW. (Toronto Star.) The span of a single life sees many changes. At the tin' of Queen Victoria's coronation it was a lithe and care-free Goldwin Smith who ran behind her carriage from Eton to Windsor. Today, a prisoner within the confines of his home, the Sage of the Grange mourns the death of him who was Victoria's son and his own pupil.

STARCHY VERSES. (Washington Star.) A man was thoughtfully gazing in a drawer of his dressing-case. Not an old-time picture, Nor a kerchief of dainty lace. His mood was not sentimental, Nor his accent of sad repose. As he said, "I wonder where in thunder, The laundryman sends my clothes?"

UNCOMMON WANTS. (Youth's Companion.) Curiously worded advertisements, which are funny without the author's intent, are to be found in almost any number of any newspaper. The following announcements were printed in all good faith in the advertising columns of various English newspapers, and, as a whole, they won a prize offered by a London periodical for the best collection of such specimens of unconscious humor:

Annual sale now on. Don't go elsewhere to be cheated—comes in skins. A lady wants to sell her piano, as she is going away in a strong iron frame. Wanted—Experienced nurse for bottled baby. Furnished apartments suitable for gentlemen with folding doors. Two sisters want washing. Wanted—A room by two gentlemen about thirty feet long and twenty feet broad. Wanted, by a respectable girl, her passage to New York; willing to take care of children and a good sailor. Respectable widow wants washing on Tuesdays. Mr. Brown, furrier, begs to announce that he will make up gowns, capes, etc., for ladies of both classes. A boy who can open oysters with reference. Bulldog for sale; will eat anything; very fond of children. Wanted—An organist and a boy to blow the same. Wanted—A boy to be partly outside and partly behind the counter.

REGULAR DRILLS WILL BE RESUMED MONDAY. The Officers and Men of the 7th Regiment Must Be Sworn in Again. The regular training drills of the Seventh Regiment, which have been discontinued this week owing to the death of King Edward, will be resumed on Monday evening next, when a parade will be held in the armories. All the officers and former members will be resworn, and will take the oath of allegiance to King George V. All the new recruits will take a similar oath. The regiment will not have any outing on May 24, but will probably go to Sarnia on July 1. A number of places have been mentioned for going into camp for a couple of days, but Sarnia is favored very strongly.

BILL AGAINST FIGHT PICTURES THE LATEST. Washington, May 12.—Representative Smith, of Iowa, introduced in the House today a bill to prohibit interstate transportation of pictures of any kind of prize fights. The bill also prohibits the importation of such pictures.

CLINTON. (Special to The Advertiser.) Clinton, May 13.—Mr. Wm. W. Cook and Miss Ellen J. McNeil were united in marriage on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Murray, Rattenbury street, in the presence of the intimate friends and relatives. Rev. W. J. Jolliffe performed the ceremony. Chief Wheatley is confined to the house with an attack of la grippe.

Best of All Our Oranges and Lemons Are 'Sunkist'

We pick, pack and ship over 20,000 cars of California oranges and lemons each season from our 5,000 groves. These are of varying grades. From all this vast quantity we select the finest—the superior grades—which we wrap in tissue paper bearing the famous "Sunkist" label so that you may know them as the choicest fruit. So be sure to get "Sunkist" oranges and lemons at your dealer's. He has a fresh supply today. "Sunkist" oranges ripen on the tree. The warm California sunshine gives a tender, sweet pulp, matured and made exquisitely juicy by Nature.

"Sunkist" Navel Oranges Are Seedless. These oranges are distinct, full-flavor, thin-skinned. They are picked by gloved-hands; thoroughly cleaned, wrapped in "Sunkist" tissue paper; packed carefully to insure firm, unbruised fruit. How to Tell "Sunkist" Each "Sunkist" orange and lemon is wrapped in tissue paper upon which is printed the "Sunkist" label. Lemons or oranges without "Sunkist" wrappers are NOT "Sunkist" brand. Free—Best Rogers' Orange Spoons—Send us 12 "Sunkist" oranges or lemon wrappers and 12 cents in coin or postoffice order, for postage, packing, etc., and we will send free, a William Roger & Son full standard, AA plate orange spoon. For each additional spoon send 12 cents and 12 wrappers. You can easily have a full set. Get a dozen "Sunkist" oranges or lemons and send for your first spoon. Address California Fruit Growers' Exchange 32 Church St., Toronto, Ont.

WHY make yourself uncomfortable with an old-fashioned corset when you can have the latest physique effect and be comfortable with the New La Diva Renaissance Corset. "A pudding bag with a string around it." An old-time description which applies to many figures today—thanks to the ordinary corset. This "pudding string" effect is bad both for health and for style. The corset to wear is one which gives that smooth flowing physique—that holds one together comfortably—healthfully. On these lines Madam the new La Diva Renaissance Corset will be a revelation to you, as to style, comfort—health—it will give you a physique no other corset can give. We spent thousands of dollars perfecting this corset. Our designer studied correct styles where they are created, Rue de la Paix—where they are worn—the tea rooms, Rue de Rivoli, the race-track at Long-champs, the promenades of London and New York, and, finally, moulded on the human form, we evolved the La Diva Renaissance corset that will give you all the "Chic" and "Svelte" appearance of the most stylish French and American women.

We're anxious to see how Canadian women will appreciate our endeavour to obtain for them a really wonderful corset. For that reason we have made the price of "La Diva" only $2.50—it's a $3.50 corset. Write today for our Corset Booklet. We send it FREE. This booklet will tell you just what style of corset is adapted to YOUR physique in order to retain health and give shapeliness. THE DOMINION CORSET COMPANY, QUEBEC. 40

LUNCHEON.
DINNER.
 Split pea soup, boiled mutton, young turnips, string beans, bread and fig pudding, black coffee.

RECIPES

Mutton Broth.— Wash three pounds of mutton (cut from neck), remove skin and fat, and cut in small pieces. Put into kettle with the bones and cover with cold water. Bring slowly to boiling point, skim and season. Cook slowly until meat is tender, and strain broth. Reheat, add rice, and cook until tender. The meat may be served with peas and potatoes for a dinner.
Spaghetti Rarebit. Beat yolks of three eggs with one-half cup milk. Season to taste, add two tablespoons butter and one-half pound grated cheese. Cook in double boiler until cheese is melted, pour over boiled, drained spaghetti and serve.

Still one more question: "How much were my father's liabilities?"
 He made as if to evade the question but she caught at the lapsels of his coat and dragged his face nearer hers; he stammered, tried to loosen the grasping hands, but she would have none of it. "How much did you pay?" she demanded.
 "Quarter of a million," he said slowly; and then she released him with an inarticulate sound, the low note to her face, and strove out into frigid sobbing. "But why, why?" she cried wildly.
 "The man's face was the face of a god; only by dint of the most tremendous effort could he keep from seizing her and crushing her to his heart. But no, what advances were made must come from her."
 "Because I know that to you honor was everything, and I had taken a solemn oath that if it were ever in my power to stand between you and dishonor, I would do so, and it seemed to me that that was the only way to fulfill my vow."
 She sank slowly to her knees, and her head drooped very humbly. The man no effort to lift her, though the workings of his face told of his great distress.
 "And I prated about my honor!" she said brokenly. "I spoke of you, of dishonor! Oh, my God, what a blind fool I've been. I, the one who blighted dishonor, to your house; who could not bear to see you dishonored, I must be away from you like a rat leaving a sinking ship! I, whose father was a suicide, dishonored in his life, dishonored in his death!" She was growing hysterical, but she held her face up to him.
 "Why did you not tell me this before?" she implored him. "Was I not to touch her disordered hair? You merely threw the discovery of the pistol in my face and accused me of the murder. I was tempted then to make a clean breast of it, but I thought that you could better bear the thought of my sin than that of your father's. Perhaps I was unwise, but when I saw how readily you turned against me, I felt hard, I have made a mistake; I can only entreat your forgiveness."
 "You—you to ask forgiveness! Ah, is there ever a hope that you will learn to forgive me? No, there cannot be. I'm all unworthy. Did you hear what I said before? I was leaving you tonight; I was about to elope with another man. Dishonor everywhere, in me, in him, and the only clear honor that I see anywhere is in your eyes. I have sinned—let me stay here at your feet—let my tears plead for me."
 "Not at my feet, sweet," he said lifting her. "Here, on my heart," and his arms closed about her in a clutch that seemed to defy death itself to break. "Ebenzer," she sobbed, and she sobbed the clouds broke and a ray of afternoon sunshine streamed into the room falling full on her hair. Scroogs turned her face towards the growing radiance.
 "After clouds, sunshine, after cold, warmth—the warmth of my love," he said tenderly. "It never failed, dearest, but they're up there, come back to me—and the child."
 "Ah! so gladly, husband mine, so gladly," she sobbed, nestling to him so softly.
 On the platform of Liverpool street station a man paced impatiently up and down, gnawing his nails. He was waiting—waiting—waiting. Marion had found out a storm man's devotion; and her storm-tossed heart was at rest at last.
 [The End.]

A LIFE'S DEVOTION

BY FRANK H. SHAW.
 Author of "A Daughter of the Storm," "First at the Post," etc. (Copyright, 1910, by America. All Rights Reserved.)

Marion read on here and there, until, with a sudden determination, she turned afresh to the first page and read steadily forward, the blood drumming in her ears. Little by little she traced her father's story; it commenced with a lucky speculation in mining shares that had brought a large and quick profit. It was all there in black and white. "Sent check value £500 to Mostyns, with instructions to buy Rio Negro. Hope this to make up the losses in the rental this year, as Mostyns assure me that margins offer a swift return and are absolutely safe." Then a few days later: "Received check value £750 this day from Mostyns, being profits on my investment in Rio Negro. This seems to me to be the swiftest way of reimbursing myself for past losses."

Page by page the dead man's daughter traced that concise record of a man's infatuation, noticed the growing unrest that Lord Greatheart must have felt as investment after investment failed. Then the amounts grew larger—the income grew more frequent intervals. There were notes concerning mortgages and loans, the gambling fever had bitten the old man very hard.

Mervyn sobbed on, crying aloud as every fresh peal of thunder shook the room. For by this the storm had broken in grim earnest, and solid, deluging rain was streaming down from a leaden sky.
 "I shall draw a portion of the 'Lid' dell trust fund in my own name," read Marion, pausing the pages feverishly. "I cannot run the risk of ruin for want of a little daring. This new investment mentioned by Mostyns seems so certain that only success can reward me. I will play boldly, and, winning, I will cease from further attempts. Once let me recoup myself for my losses, and I will be content with my income. I have had a lesson—it shall suffice me. No more frenzied gambling. If God wills that I should escape this time, I will take a solemn oath not to risk my good name more."

Hardly able to see because of the fading light, Marion peered with wide eyes over the book. A discreet knock at the door, and she entered.
 "The carriage is waiting, my lady," Marion never looked up. "Tell it to wait—I may not need it."
 "The last time it has fallen. I shall try once more with the balance of the trust. If that fails—but it cannot fail. It means ruin and disgrace—that can never be my share of life." And with a gasp she entered.
 "Ebenzer Scroogs, the new tenant of Merrythought Hall, desires to marry Marion. I thought to make it conditional on her allowing me to should make good my losses, settle a sufficient sum on me; but I cannot bring myself to the task. He would despise me, and I have always prated of my honor and dignity! No; I will not give myself into the hands of a man who might use his knowledge to devious ends. If the worst comes to the worst there is always the grave. I know a certain way. The old pistol will not fail me. One shot, and the matter is settled finally."
 Marion sat up rightly. The book dropped from her hands and fell to the floor as a brilliant light broke in upon her senses. Yet she would make sure—she stopped and picked up the book again. Yes, there was the final entry: "Chartereds have fallen three points; there is no hope. Mostyns ask for a settlement at once—exposure is inevitable; better death than this disgrace."

The sudden plash of the falling rain and the crashing thunder had drowned the sound of a motor's approach. Marion's bounder looked out on the old courtyard, and did not command the front door. She heard nothing of a footstep, hurried and firm, on the carpet of the corridor outside, but the child's ears were quicker than hers.
 "Daddy!" called a shrill, tearful voice. "Daddy, I see here." And she looked up to see her husband's form in the doorway.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.
 Marion learns the truth.
 "What is the matter? Is the child ill?" I felt that something was wrong," began the man, stooping over Mervyn, as the child ran to him with a sob of joy. Marion caught her breath—how noble he looked there, with tenderness evinced in every line of his bending figure! How she had misjudged him! Or—had she misjudged him? Twice she tried to speak, but the words failed on her lips. And then:
 "The child is well—he is frightened at the thunder, I think. He came here a little while ago." No, she could not speak. It was a tense moment.
 Scroogs looked at her curiously, aware of the emotion in her voice. To him the fallen secretaire meant nothing, and Marion had slipped the leather-covered book behind her as she turned.
 "Daddy, I've fytined!" But for once he was brought to light, so he took the Scroogs was deaf to that tiny appeal, shortest way out of the difficulty and

PLAYTIME STORIES

HO! FOR FANCYLAND

Copyright, 1910, by N. E. A.

"Oh look there! Young Jousel cried."

"Tousel, now we're on the way To a place where strange things play."
 Said Sweet Slumber, "Fancyland— That's where lives a happy band; But he couldn't find it, and And we'll romp and run about."
 "Oh! look there!" young Tousel cried.
 "See that Horse Fly in air ride! Goodness! he is awful big— Large enough to pull a rig!"
 Butter Cups then both did see; Churning Butter in great glee; Climbing into his hand no fear; Which were running 'cross the street;

He was looking at the shrinking figure of his wife, looking curiously.
 "I hope we are not detaining you," he said slowly. "I see you are dressed; the carriage is waiting at the door. I should advise you to wait until the storm is over."
 She felt her knees shaking under her; she knew that her face was deadly white. But she had a pride of her own and she called upon it now, begging of it to allow her to say the words she needed to say. And strength was given to her.
 She made a swift run across the room, and laid her hand on his arm.
 "Ebenzer," she said, lifting her face to his, "will you tell me everything you know about papa's death? I must know; this is not time for hiding the truth. See me—dressed as I am. I was about to leave your roof for ever. I was about to add dishonor upon dishonor; I who prided myself upon my honor! I shall not need the carriage unless it be to go at your bidding, for I believe that I am all unworthy to remain beneath your roof. But will you tell me what you know about papa's death?"
 He looked at her, his face suddenly ashen white, and he caught his breath with a deep sob.
 "So it was that which called to me, and told me that I was needed here? My poor child, had it come as far as I? I ask no questions, but as if I had even dreamt of such a contingency I would have kept silence no longer."
 She was half-drooping towards him, and she felt she deserved no pity; so she asked her question again.
 "I know very much," she said, showing him the book. "Here is papa's diary; he tells me a lot. But, there is something that still remains to be told. Will you tell me, please?"
 "I had sworn that wild horses should never drag the truth from me," he said slowly. "But it is time for me to speak now. Your father shot himself in the arbor because he was afraid of a disclosure. He had been careless with a fund that was intrusted to him. It seemed that the whole story of his delinquencies must inevitably be brought to light, so he took the Scroogs was deaf to that tiny appeal, shortest way out of the difficulty and

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: (1) Will sashes be worn this summer and if so how tied? (2) Is a girl of fifteen too young to go with the boys once in a while? (3) What is the prettier name, Marie or Grace? (4) Is Albert a good name for a boy?
 HEARTBROKEN GRACE.
 A.—There is no reason why he should not call on other girls unless he is engaged to you, and that probably is not the case, since neither you is old enough to know what love means. (2) Both are pretty. (3) Yes.

 Dear Miss Grey: (1) I am an office girl and sit in an office in the shipping clerk of eighteen. I heard he tried to make dates with an old girl since he has been going with me. Do you think he loves me? (2) Which is the prettier name, Marie or Grace? (3) Is Albert a good name for a boy?
 HEARTBROKEN GRACE.

 Dear Miss Grey: (1) How can I clean a Panama hat, without making it yellow? (2) Can you tell me of an inexpensive cream for the face?
 M. J. L.
 A.—(1) Use good white soap and warm water. Rub with small hand brush. Rinse with cold water, and drying it in shade. (2) I do not advocate the use of facial cream.

 Dear Miss Grey: I know a boy to whom I would like to be introduced. He does not know me, his name is known by my parents slightly, but they do not know that I take an interest in him. Please advise me. 2. When getting introduced to a boy, should you wait until the introducer is through? Should you shake hands? If so, what should and in his other hand was an envelope I do not know what possessed me to read the letter contained therein, but I did. It was from a firm of bucket-makers. I knew them; they were not altogether honest. The letter told me that your father was ruined, and I destroyed it. I knew instinctively that to think of your father as a suicide would give you great pain. I thought swiftly: If I removed the pistol and the letter it would be said that he was murdered; someone would fall under suspicion, but to no one could the crime be brought home. I thought that this would be easier for you to bear than the disgrace of a suicide. So I removed the pistol and destroyed the letter, as I said.
 "Oh," she said, "oh! And for more months than I can think of I have accused you of my father's murder! Ebenzer—but wait, there is something more. Where have I heard his father's losses? If the case were as you said, exposure must have been inevitable. Or was it—a wonderful light was breaking in upon her; she was overwhelmed by it.
 "It was necessary to make the thing quite complete. I am not seeking for praise; I was actuated simply by a desire to save you pain. I went from the arbor and drove straight to Munster's office; there I arranged matters so that there should be no exposure. It was comparatively simple. I had a slight hold over Mostyns; they were only too ready to accede to my terms on condition that all liabilities were paid up forthwith. Munster carried the work out in secret; I paid him to do so."

BLOOD WILL TELL!

The Complexion Faithfully Mirrors Its Purity or Impurity

Massage, cosmetics and the like sometimes improve a good complexion, and occasionally mitigate the badness of a bad one. But there is only one way to get that clear, satin skin, with the rosy tint of health glowing through, and that is by keeping the blood pure.
 "Impure blood will show itself." It makes the skin "muddy" or sallow, with pimples, blackheads or boils breaking out. It takes away the clearness from the eye, coats the tongue, makes the breath bad. It saps the energies and brings on headaches. It is fatal to good health or to the highest happiness or usefulness.
 Purifying the blood is simply a question of keeping the four great eliminating organs—bowels, kidneys, the pores of the skin and the lungs—in good working order. These organs should throw off all the worn-out tissue and other impurities which the blood is continually gathering up throughout the body, and all the waste matter from the food.
 The failure of any or all of them to perform these functions should be remedied at once, and it can be, quickly and certainly, by the use of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. One of the ingredients of these splendid Pills open up the pores of the skin, another regulates the bowels, a third gives ease and strength to the kidneys and a fourth clears the mucus membrane of the lungs so that the gaseous impurities in the blood can pass freely through into the air.
 Thus whatever may be the cause of the impure blood, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills remove it, and soon the veins are filled with pure, red, life-giving fluid.
 Then, and only then, will you have a clear eye, a clean tongue, a sweet breath and a perfect complexion.
 Mr. Richard Wilson, of Middlesex Co., Ont., writes:
 "For some time I have been in a low and depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointment, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood. At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Had Weak Back.

Would Often Lie in Bed for Days Scarcely Able to Turn Herself.

Weak back comes from the kidneys, and when the kidneys are out of order the whole system becomes deranged.

They begin by heaping the kidneys to flush of all the acid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages and carrying away the uric acid, the chief cause of rheumatism, from the blood.

Mrs. Arch. Schmale, Black Point, N.B., writes: "For years I was troubled with weak back. Oftentimes I have lain in bed for days, being scarcely able to turn myself, and I have also been a great sufferer while trying to perform my household duties."

FOUR OF APPLICANTS NOW IN THE RUNNING

Water Commissioners and the Board of Works Will Look Into Their Capabilities.

At a conference between the board of works and the water commissioners last night, the 57 applicants for the position of head engineer were reduced to four, and information will be obtained as to their ability, etc., before definite action is taken.

Mayor Beattie read the telegram from Mr. A. J. Antonisen, of Port Arthur, withdrawing his application.

BOARD OF WORKS WILL INSPECT COURT HOUSE

Another Attempt Will Be Made to Meet County On Necessary Repairs.

The board of works had a short session last night to transact their own business, later taking up the question of a head engineer with the water commissioners.

City Engineer Graydon submitted a report on the East End Hall, in which he estimated that it would cost $225 to put the building in proper condition.

Reeve Frank Glass appeared before the committee, and asked them to send a deputation to investigate the conditions of the court house and jail with Dr. Bruce Smith, inspector of prisons and charities, on Monday next.

It was decided to purchase a one-horse street sweeper at a cost of $275. Two men were added to the engineer's department to assist in taking levels.

A system of checking up the gravel contracts of the city was explained by City Engineer Graydon, and 1,500 checks necessary for this were ordered to be purchased.

New Crossings. On motion of Ald. Saunders it was decided to lay crossings at Hamilton road and Pegler street, and the Hamilton road and Chesley avenue.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is so pure and clean, so delightfully soothing and healing and so certainly effective in making the skin soft, smooth and clear that it has only to be tried to be appreciated.

You may know of its value as a cure for eczema, salt rheum and the most severe and painful forms of itching skin disease.

PETITIONS ARE FULLY SIGNED

Tenders Will Be at Once Called for to Place Wires Underground.

CITY SORE ON THE G. N. W. Big Telegraph Company Have Refused To Meet the Wishes of the Water Commissioners in the Matter.

The petitions circulated among the merchants on Richmond and Dundas streets, asking to have the wires along these streets placed underground, have met with gratifying success, and now have more than enough signatures to go ahead with the work.

Tenders will be called for the work as early as possible, so that the underground construction can be carried on during the same time the pavement is being resurfaced.

All the companies have come in with the exception of the Great Northwest-Kidney Pills, who refuse to place their wires underground.

Some time ago City Solicitor Meredith gave his opinion to the effect that the company could be compelled by the operation of the new Beak act to place their wires underground if the city insisted.

The matter was taken up with the attorney-general's department in Toronto, but it was thought that the question involved an issue of great importance, and it was decided to take no action for the present.

A joint meeting of the board of trade and businessmen may be held to decide on some course of action, and bring pressure to bear upon the company to induce them to come in on the deal.

"The businessmen of the city deserve untold credit for the fine sentiment they have shown in this matter," said Commissioner Pocock.

"They are alive to the needs of the city, and are not at all slow to see the advantage to be derived from this scheme. I will venture to say that when the scheme is properly worked out as it will be, they will be more than satisfied with their action."

"I venture to predict that the other will follow their lead, and in a few years London will be one of the best lighted, as well as one of the most attractive cities, in Canada or anywhere else."

The G. N. W. have refused, and I do not think their interests are being served by the action. I do not feel disposed to treat them with the respect as formerly. We made them a very reasonable proposition, and they certainly should have accepted it."

LIFE UNDERWRITERS ELECTED OFFICERS

Association Held Annual Meeting and Banquet at Tecumseh House.

The Life Underwriters' Association of London held their annual meeting at the Tecumseh House, immediately after an enjoyable luncheon. Among those present were President C. E. German, Honorary President F. H. Heath, Vice-President V. Reeve, Messrs. H. E. Gates, A. S. Macgregor, George McBroome, Capt. Manley, Chas. Glass, J. J. Mathers (Petrolia), T. B. Parkinson, W. H. Richardson and Secretary-Treasurer A. Elliott.

The question of how to collect first year premiums was actively discussed, Messrs. German and McBroome being given many valuable pointers, and citing the recent experiences of several of the companies in resorting to the courts.

The following officers for the ensuing year were then elected: Honorary president, Mr. C. E. German; president, Mr. V. Reeve; vice-president, Mr. George McBroome; secretary-treasurer, Mr. Angus Elliott; Judicial Committee Messrs. C. Glass, A. S. Macgregor and Capt. Manley.

Representatives to the Dominion Association—Messrs. T. B. Parkinson and V. Reeve. Messrs. D. A. Sinclair, of the Manufacturers' Life, city, and Thomas H. Wright, district manager of the Union Life, city, were then duly elected members of the association.

The auto-rebate clause of the new insurance act, making it illegal to either give or receive a rebate of premium, was highly spoken of by the association.

The outlook of the association for the coming year is very bright.

HEINZE CLEARED

Jury Says That Copper King Did Not Misuse Bank Funds.

New York, May 13.—Fritz Augustus Heinz was acquitted in New York last night of charges of misapplying the funds of the Mercantile Bank while he was president of the institution in 1907; and he was cleared of the charge of over-certifying the checks of his brother-in-law, Otto Heinz & Co., a United States circuit court, after a trial lasting nearly three weeks, found him not guilty at 8:59 o'clock, and he was discharged.

This failed ingloriously the Federal Government's attempt to hold Mr. Heinz responsible for financing during the panic of three years ago, alleged to be in violation of the national banking laws. Charles W. Morse got 15 years for "bank wrecking," but Mr. Heinz's transactions were held legal, notwithstanding the prosecution's vigorous attempt to prove him a gambler with millions not his own.

THE COMET WILL COLOR THE ENTIRE HEAVENS

A Local Astronomer Predicts a Brilliant and Astonishing Spectacle.

Hundreds of citizens are rising at unearthly hours to see Halley's comet which is daily becoming more conspicuous.

"After we have passed through the comet on May 18, and it is rushing away from us at a tremendous velocity, it will be a most terrifying sight in the western sky," said a local astronomer to The Advertiser today.

"The comet then will probably appear as large as a telegraph pole in the sky. Owing to the effect of the gas, of which the tail is composed, in the atmosphere, it will probably present an extraordinary variety of colors, and the color of the sun and moon and stars will probably be much altered about that time. People who are superstitious will probably be greatly terrified, but there is nothing to fear. The comet is the sight of a lifetime, and those who see it at its best will never forget the sight."

TOM FINTON AGAIN IN POLICE COURT

Preliminary Hearing on Charge of Murdering His Father.
[G. N. W. Dispatch.]
Hamilton, Ont., May 12.—The preliminary hearing of the charge against Thos. Finton, charged with the murder of his father, Elijah Finton, at Stony Creek, is taking place at the police court today. Crown Attorney Washington is conducting the prosecution and Geo. Lynch-Staunton is appearing for the defence. In all 15 witnesses were subpoenaed and about half of them had been examined when court adjourned at one o'clock for lunch. Practically the same evidence given at the inquest was adduced this morning. It is not likely that the defence will offer any evidence.

GEORGE TO TAFT

King Thanks President for Sympathy Shown by United States Government.

London, May 12.—Mr. Roosevelt will be presented to King George soon after his arrival in London early next Monday morning. Arrangements for this end have been made at the wish of his majesty.

The King has personally extended through Ambassador Reid his thanks to President Taft and the Government for their many tokens of condolence and sympathy.

Mr. Roosevelt, upon his arrival here, will proceed to Dorchester House, where he will remain quietly until after the funeral of King Edward.

Official notification of Mr. Roosevelt's appointment as special American ambassador to the funeral of the late monarch was received this afternoon.

FORCES TO PARADE FOR PROCLAMATION

Ottawa, May 12.—The militia council directs that the proclamation on the death of King Edward and accession of King George be read at the head of all units of the permanent force at a parade to be held for this purpose, every available officer, non-commissioned officer and man being present; and to all regiments, batteries, and active militia at the earliest opportunity of ordering a parade for this purpose.

In cities where more than one corps is located, garrison parades should be held, and the proclamation read by the officer commanding the district or the senior officer for the summer.

THE "KAID" WANTS JOB.

Ottawa, May 12.—Andrew Belton, the young Englishman who commanded 42,000 Moroccan troops, and through putting the present Sultan of Morocco on the throne, earned the title of pasha, or commander-in-chief, is here. He has seen Col. Fleet, deputy minister of militia, and others, and is seeking a position on the Canadian forces. He has had very extensive experience in the cavalry, infantry and artillery arms of the service, and, though only 28 years of age, has been wounded five times, and has eight decorations of the highest order. He fought through the South African war, and was alongside Canadian troops who were under Colonel Sam Hughes, M. P., at the battle of Baher's Putts. He speaks highly of the colonel.

REST IN WATER TO WARD OFF FLAMES

Settlers Near Grand Marais Spend Night in Bed of Stream.

Duluth, Minn., May 12.—Settlers in the vicinity of Grand Marais, having lost their homes and everything else excepting the clothes on their backs, began arriving in that village today, according to reports by wireless telegraph.

One group had arrived after it had spent the night in the bed of a stream. Part of the time they were compelled to submerge themselves to keep the flames from burning the clothes from their bodies. In this party were five children, who were so severely burned that they had to be cared for in a hospital.

At Gooseberry River and along Beaver Bay the flames are eating their way fiercely through the woods. From Park Bay to Tofta and as far back as the eye can see timber is on fire. From Good Harbor to Grand Marais fires are burning at intervals.

Reports received from Northern Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan indicate that the fires are not burning as fiercely as yesterday, but the wind threatened to fan the flames into activity again.

A dispatch from Calumet, Mich., says that Willis Seaman, an instructor in the Michigan College of Mines, and Rodney Burnham, while out fishing in a canoe, were hemmed in by fire. Attempting to break through the fire, their shoes were partly burned from their feet. Both also lost a portion of their clothing.

FUNERAL HYMNS FOR KING'S BURIAL

Musical Service Will Be Very Brief at Westminster Hall.

London, May 13.—At Westminster Hall on Tuesday the service will be brief. The music will be under the direction of Sir F. Bridge, and the voices will be unaccompanied. The Twenty-third Psalm will be sung as an ordinary chant; "Blessed Are the Departed," and "The Last Judgment" will follow as a solo, quartette and chorus. The only other musical portion of the service will be the funeral hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," sung by the choir of 60 voices.

The home office states that a limited number of wreaths will be accepted for the funeral of the King. Among the representative wreaths those presented by the self-governing colonies will have a prominent place. South Africa agreed to act in concert, and so their wreath will bear the names of all four contributory colonies about to enter the union. Of the important public bodies to which the privilege of presenting a wreath will be granted, the Royal Colonial Institute will be in the forefront, with a wreath emblematic of the unity of empire.

The Nova Scotia Government office faces the entrance to Marlborough House, and is the only colonial government office on the route of the King's funeral. Agent-General Howard is making arrangements to dispose the front of the building.

There are about 170,000 oil-producing wells in the United States, representing directly and indirectly an outlay of about $700,000,000. Self was sovereign for many ills.

MOTHER ATTACKS A MAN IN COURT

Chokes a Brute After Hearing 9-Year-Old Child's Story.

New York, May 13.—Henry Abel, a butcher, 30 years old, was yesterday held without bail for examination, by Magistrate O'Reilly, upon charges of abduction. A dozen or more girls, none exceeding 10 years of age, are his accusers.

In committing the prisoner Magistrate O'Reilly seized his gavel and waved it before the cowering Abel.

"You miserable brute," said the magistrate, "it is all I can do to restrain myself from braining you with this gavel. When you come before me tomorrow I hope to pave the way toward getting for you your just deserts."

As the prisoner turned to leave the courtroom in charge of a policeman, Mrs. Fisher, mother of Olga Fisher, 9 years old, one of the complainants leaped at Abel, fastening her fingers about his throat she choked him until he was black in the face. When she was wrenched away she held the prisoner's collar and necktie in her hands.

The case against Abel grew out of that against Mrs. Mary Hyde, sometimes known as Mrs. Mary Jackson, which was heard in the same court yesterday. Mrs. Hyde was held without bail for examination. She is charged with enticing little girls to her home. It was said at the hearing in her case that Abel was a regular and frequent visitor to the Hyde House. The charges against Mrs. Hyde were preferred by the mother of Barbara Salzman, 10 years old.

Barbara testified that she and Olga Fisher met the woman one day last week. Asked if they wanted to visit a moving picture theatre, they readily assented. Later they went to the Jackson woman's house, where they were supplied with candy and cake.

These meetings became everyday occurrences. On Monday the children were induced to spend the afternoon at Mrs. Hyde's home. They said Abel and several other men called. Their testimony so aroused Magistrate O'Reilly that he denounced every one concerned in the case.

THE SLIM WOMAN IS WINNING

The day of the slim woman's triumph has arrived. "The thinner one is the more stylish," say the dressmakers. This would have been sad news for the fat woman a year ago. She would have had to try dieting or exercise. Nowadays, however, the woman who is too fat for the styles goes to a druggist and gets a case of Marmola Prescription Tablets, one of which she takes after each meal and at bedtime, and so reduces her superfluous flesh quickly.

These tablets, being made in accordance with the famous prescription, are perfectly harmless, and they are, also, the most economical preparation a person can buy for they cost only 75 cents a large case, one of which is frequently enough to start a person to losing fat at the rate of 12 to 14 ounces a day. Pretty nearly every druggist keeps this tablet in stock, but should yours be sold out, you can easily obtain a case by sending to the makers, the Marmola Company, 191 Farmer building, Detroit, Mich.

END OF ESCAPEE.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 12.—The last echo of a sensational escapee was heard here today when the grand jury ignored a bill of indictment, charging Ferdinand Cohen, a hotel waiter, with kidnaping of Roberta B. De Janon, the 15-year-old heiress. The couple, after being missing a week, were found in Chicago. Robert Buist, the millionaire grandfather of the girl, at the outset, engaged private counsel to press the charge made against Cohen, but it is understood the action of the grand jury was agreeable to counsel for Mr. Buist.

Features of Grand Jury's Report and Justice Riddell's Comments Thereon.

Toronto, May 12.—Strong criticism of the system of inspection of immigrants which permits imbeciles to enter Canada, and of the failure of officials to disarm foreigners of unlawful weapons, characterized the comment of Justice Riddell on presentation of the grand jury's report on the trial of the assassin of the late President McKinley.

Two additional wings for the jail insane are recommended. The crowded and insanitary conditions of the children's court and detective offices are remarked upon, and the comment is made that the walls of the public city hall "the walls of the public offices are not in such a condition of cleanliness as a visitor would be led to expect, and are liable to hurt the reputation of the city."

Justice Riddell, concurring in the report, referred to his having presided at the trial of a youth in a neighboring town on a charge of brutally murdering an aged woman. The young man, named Ambrose, and medical men testified that a proper physical examination when he entered Canada in May, 1909, would have disclosed the fact. Foreigners should be examined at the boundaries to determine whether they were of the material of which good citizens might be made. Such weapons as air rifles, daggers and revolvers should be taken away from all immigrants, whether of British origin or otherwise.

Judge Riddell deprecated "the constant effort to charge the police with using the third degree. He had never found an instance where the police of any Canadian city had gone beyond their duty in trying to extract information."

COMET'S TAIL LONGER

It Has Grown From Five to Ten Degrees in Length.

Paris, May 12.—Astronomers in France are making observations on Halley's comet that are attracting the greatest interest. Maurice Hamy, of the Paris observatory, reports that the length of the tail has increased from five to ten degrees in three days. Professor Deslandres, of the University of Dijon, finds a reappearance in the spectroscopic of cyanogen, the poisonous gas which was observed in January and February, but which disappeared in March. In his report he says that the hypothesis that the gas is liable to affect the terrestrial atmosphere would not be at all absurd.

On the other hand, Camille Flammarion thinks that the tail of the comet is simply an optical phenomenon produced by the flight through ether, similar to the wake of a ship at sea.

Mr. Marchand maintains that the comet shows important variations from its predicted orbit, which pre-empt unexpected surprises.

PROPOSED BY CABLE

World's Most Beautiful Opera Singer to Marry American.

London, May 12.—Miss Lina Cavalotti, the grand opera star, famed alike for her beauty—she is the most beautiful opera singer—and her emeralds, is to be married to Mr. Robert W. Chandler, of New York.

She accepted his proposal by cable from Paris, on condition, states the New York Herald, that the marriage should be celebrated on her return to New York in October.

Mr. Chandler gladly accepted the condition. "It's a long wait, but a wise one," he is reported to have said.

He will shortly go to Paris to see his promised bride, who was a member of Mr. Hammerstein's grand opera company in New York last winter.

Few operatic stars have had so romantic a career as "La Belle Cavalleri." A Roman by birth, she earned her living when a child by dancing in a Roman cafe chantant, where her beauty and her voice soon made her a success.

She made her operatic debut as Fedora in Paris, with immediate success. Her first appearance in London was as Manon Lescaut in 1908.

Mr. Chandler, who is about forty years of age, is a great grandson of William B. Astor, and a brother of Mr. Lewis S. Chandler, formerly lieutenant-governor of New York.

Although the first American patent for a metal pen was granted a Baltimore man in 1810, it was half a century later that the industry began to flourish.

FOOD FOR MEMORY

The Kind That Builds Up the Brain.

It is hard to believe that certain kinds of food will strengthen the memory, and yet, upon the condition of the brain depends the character of the mind, and its power to remember and to exert itself in various ways, and a healthy brain can only be maintained by well selected food.

Now we know that daily use of the brain uses up certain parts that are thrown out through the pores to the outer surface of the skin. This waste is natural and must be made up from food.

Grape-Nuts food was made especially to rebuild the brain and nerve centres. An experience in Chicago will illustrate:

"I had a terrible siege of gastritis; my stomach refused everything in the way of food until I got hold of Grape-Nuts. It was perfectly wonderful and marvellous to see the difference—I began to improve at once."

"I weighed myself about that time and found that I had 118 pounds on my credit. I gained in weight, strength and health steadily and rapidly, and now weigh 150 pounds and am strong and in better health than ever in my life."

"I have lately had a seven months' course of instruction in vocal music, and have memorized 58 songs and most of the accompaniments besides several piano pieces. When I started in it seemed difficult to memorize one, but my memory has been growing better every day and I now find it easy to commit to memory without difficulty."

"I have taken no medicine, but my steady diet of Grape-Nuts food has given me strength, health and memory."

Read "The Road to Wellville," found in packages. "There's a Reason." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

TERMS IN PRISON
GIVEN BRAVE MEN

While Cowardly Vice-Governor Who Ran Away Emerges in Triumph.

Odesa, May 12.—Just across the Black Sea, at the port of Novorossisk, there has concluded a travesty of justice that would be funny were it not for the gravity of the lot of some of the condemned.

Novorossisk is a quiet enough place in its ordinary habit, but five years ago there was a strike among the seamen, deck and railway laborers, and for a time a "republic" was established. That was in 1905, but the trial of the offenders has just run to its final stage.

During those by-gone disorders, Vice-Governor Berezniokoff, under a sudden attack of sheer funk, ran away and hid himself. The workmen's council, finding the port threatened with anarchy, thereupon took over the municipal control, organized a volunteer body and distributed rationed food to the strikers from funds supplied by rich residents. Not an act of violence occurred during this republican regime.

But when troops came along from Ekaterinodar, the cowardly acting governor turned up again—he had been skulking in a railway carriage in the hills—and had the council of workmen's deputies arrested. Four names appeared on the charge sheet, including the mayor and other prominent residents.

After a preliminary investigation the number of accused fell to 196. Of these 45 were acquitted. The remainder were variously sentenced to terms of imprisonment. But the crown prosecutor was not satisfied. He appealed, a second trial was ordered and at that hearing all the sentences were reduced, six more were let off, and nobody was given more than two years in jail. Simultaneously the military court frankly said the action of the vice-governor had been unfortunate.

But M. Berezniokoff had by that time been made governor of the province. He was a fortnight late in getting another appeal put in, but though the legal time had expired he ordered a third trial. That has just opened.

It lasted three weeks and though the defence was strongly put, not only were the sentences increased to terms of penal servitude up to 15 years, but seven men were condemned to death. Two of them were voluntarily witnesses who had come to Novorossisk from abroad to give evidence. Appeals to the viceroys of the Caucasus have led to the commutation of the death sentences to long terms of penal servitude. But Governor Berezniokoff emerges in triumph over those who saw him run away.

BABY VANISHES IN MYSTERIOUS MANNER

Desperate Efforts To Solve Amazing Incident of the Plains.

Elkhorn, Mont., May 12.—A blood-hound was secured today in one last desperate effort to solve the amazing circumstances surrounding the disappearance of the 2-year-old son of a Thomas France.

A Catholic priest at Winghurst, Sask., has a very intelligent board of the Russian variety and today consented to give the animal to the authorities. The third day of the search shows several hundred people in the field diligently covering every foot of the surrounding country.

The resolution displayed by every class in abandoning business to assist the bereaved family indicates the widespread interest in the affair. But the authorities are baffled. Today they arrived at the conclusion that less than ten minutes elapsed between the time when John Heritage, a farmer residing near the France homestead, saw the baby in the road, and the time when Mrs. Heritage arrived at the point to ascertain what the little fellow could be doing there alone.

At ten minutes the child vanished, and the country surrounding the place where the baby was seen is so level that if a person was passing Mrs. Heritage would have observed him. The grass is not high enough around to conceal a child's body, reclining or standing. These facts add to the mystery of the distressing case.

ENJOYABLE RECITAL
Given in Heintzman Hall Last Night By Students.

A most enjoyable recital was given in Heintzman Hall last night by the pupils of Miss Isobel Jackson, Miss V. H. Chalmers and Miss Jean Walker. The programme included selections by Miss Ulla Kennedy, Elsie McDermid, Beatrice Brake, Gertrude Wood, Dorothy Haskett, Elsie Wood, Alberta Han-nah, Irene Wood, Marjorie Rowe, Mildred Robert, Beatrice Gould, Maud Ross Roberts, Miss Lois Boideau, Marguerite Blake, Elsie Mathewson, Mr. Stanley Newton, Miss Jennie McGregor, Miss Vera Lowie, Alva Taylor, Olive Whitaker, Lily Prattien, Olive Poole and Regina Keenleyside.

DEAN'S MOTHER DEAD.
Hamilton, May 12.—Mrs. Mary Mahony died at noon yesterday at the family residence, Saltfleet, after an illness of ten days. Her husband and two sons predeceased her, and she is survived by four sons and four daughters: Mgr. J. M. Mahony, rector of St. Mary's Cathedral, and vicar-general of the Hamilton Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church; Rev. P. L. Mahony, rector of Sacred Heart Church, Memphis, Tenn.; E. J. and T. J. Mahony, Mrs. John Kennedy, Penetanguishene; Mrs. James O'Brien and Miss Minnie Mahony, of Saltfleet, and Miss Annie Mahony, of New York, graduate of King's County Hospital, who was in constant attendance on her mother during her illness.

MOTORMAN INDICTED.
Toronto, Ont., May 12.—In the general sessions today the grand jury indicted Wm. McLean, a street railway motorman, on a charge of criminal negligence in connection with the death of Sam Manowitz, a ten-year-old boy, on March 14 last. McLean's car ran into a car, at the back of which Manowitz was riding, knocked him off and killed him. A coroner's jury later exonerated McLean of any blame, but proceedings were taken by the crown to bring the case before the grand jury of the sessions.

MILLION MORE FOR U. S.
Washington, May 12.—That the United States will receive a million immigrants during the fiscal year ending June 30, is the prediction of Constipation.

No one need expect to be healthy if the bowels are allowed to become clogged up. A free motion of the bowels daily should be the rule with everyone who aspires to perfect health.

Costiveness or constipation clogs the bowels, chokes up the natural outlet of impure matter, and retains in the system the poisonous effete waste products of nature, causing bad blood, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, foul humors, pimples, boils, blotches, piles, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters has built up an unrivaled reputation as a cure for constipation and all the diseases which arise from it.

Mr. Burns Woodcock, Nashuaak Bridge, N.S., writes: "For over two years my wife was troubled with constipation. She tried several physicians, but could get no relief, but after taking three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters she was completely cured and is to-day in good health. My wife and I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters."

the officials here. During April 125,278 arrived, making a total of 811,225 thus far this year. The last million immigrant year was in 1907.

Figures received at the immigration bureau show that 4,246 Chinese entered Canada from July 1, 1906, to Dec. 31, 1909, the revenue from which on account of the head tax was $2,123,000.

BRITISH PARTIES
ARRANGE TRUCE

Parliament Will Not Resume Until the Eighth of June.

London, May 12.—Mr. Asquith's announcement that the Commons will meet on June 8, gives the ministers a badly-needed extension of holidays, and accords with the general desire that the constitutional controversies should not be resumed in the earlier days of the national mourning. The premier's outline of the business to be taken up—namely, the civil list and some unnamed bills (including, possibly, the bill dealing with the coronation oath)—means a further pause. The budget of 1910-1911 is due, of course. Whether it will be introduced with the Lords' veto still undecided with one of the complications perplexing the politicians here. Still, with several weeks' truce it is hoped something will happen to prevent a further dissolution of business by an election. The Unionist press offers Mr. Asquith a question which rests primarily with the majority in the House of Lords, and with those who co-operate politically with it.

PEARLS IN BASKET

Girl Goes to School Wearing $3,000 Pearl Necklace.

London, May 12.—In remarkable circumstances a pearl necklace worth $3,200, which was stolen a few days ago from the Marquise de L., has been recovered.

The marquise, who was staying at an hotel in the Rue de la Paix, had ordered some shoes to be brought by a messenger boy, who took the opportunity of pocketing the necklace.

On arriving home the lad's mother found the jewels in his pocket. He told her he had bought the necklace, and was soundly scolded for spending his money on such rubbish. She took the row of pearls, and gave it to her little daughter, who went to school with it round her neck. "I thought the whole thing was not worth 6d," said the little girl's mother to the magistrate when the lad had been arrested. As the necklace was too large for the girl, her mother took some of the pearls out, which she put in her work basket amongst buttons, needles and threads.

All the pearls have been found and handed to the marquise, who was so much amused at the adventures of the recovered necklace that she withdrew the complaint, with the result that the boy has been set at liberty.

RUSH FOR TICKETS.
New York, May 12.—British Consul-General Bennett announced today that the demand for tickets for the memorial service on May 17 is so great that not one in ten of the applicants who have sent in requests for tickets can be furnished with seats. Under these circumstances Dr. Manning, the rector of Trinity, has kindly consented to have an additional service at Old St. Paul's chapel at the same hour as the Trinity service to accommodate those who cannot find places at Trinity Church.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Had It For Years Until He Heard of Mi-o-na—W. T. Strong Sells It.

If you suffer from indigestion, belching of gas, lump of lead on stomach, biliousness, dizziness, foul breath, nervousness, constipation, or headache, give W. T. Strong 50 cents today for a box of Mi-o-na, the celebrated stomach prescription. If it doesn't cure you, you will give your money back. It relieves painful stomach distress in five minutes. Read the following:

"For seven years I could eat but very little, as the food would ferment and sour, making gas, which caused serious heart oppression. I was in constant misery; sour gas would belch from my stomach. I was weak and had no ambition, did not feel like going anywhere or seeing anyone. There was a constant, dull pain in the pit of my stomach. I was unable to sleep, was nervous, restless. I tried Mi-o-na and soon found relief, and in less than six weeks Mi-o-na had completely cured me." Harry Dodd, of Bridge Street, Hastings, Ont.

Mi-o-na is the best prescription for stomach trouble ever written; not only does it give quick relief, but it cures permanently, because it thoroughly cleanses, renovates, builds up and puts elasticity into the stomach and bowels. Mi-o-na is put up in tablet form and is small and easy to swallow. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in London by W. T. Strong, who rigidly guarantees them.

WOMEN SUFFER NEEDLESS PAIN

Many Mysterious Aches May Be Cured by Curing the Kidneys

Every woman has so much pain, work and worry in life that any needless daily suffering from backache, dizziness, languor, or other kidney ills is unfortunate indeed.

Booth's Kidney Pills have brought new life, health and strength to thousands of women afflicted in this way, by curing the kidneys. If you don't just understand your condition, don't forget that it may be the kidneys.

Women easily fall victim to kidney ills. The confining work a woman does, the tight, heavy clothing she wears, the constant bending, reaching and lifting of housework, the cares of bringing up children, are all trying. Any fever, cold, chill or strain may weaken the kidneys, and set up constipation, with backache and disturbances of the urine.

Too many women have come to think that backache, pain through the hips, headache, "blues," dizzy spells, sick headache, nervousness and swelling of the ankles, wrists or limbs, are troubles peculiar to the sex. Don't make that mistake. Suspect your kidneys first. Men have similar aches when the kidneys are sick.

It is a woman's duty to herself and to her family to detect the first signs of kidney weakness, and to give the kidneys prompt help. A special remedy for weakened or diseased kidneys, for backache and urinary disorders, is Booth's Kidney Pills, a composition of vegetable ingredients that may be taken by strong or weak, or young or old, for the action is gentle, and only on the kidneys. Booth's Kidney Pills restore normal action of the kidneys, regulate the urine, drive out backache and languor, and cure kidney troubles permanently.

LONDON PROOF.
Mrs. Sarah Doherty, 508 Grey Street, London, Ont., says: "The use of Booth's Kidney Pills did me much good, and I can give them great praise. I procured Booth's Kidney Pills at the W. T. Strong drug store and used for a case of kidney trouble and for a lame, aching back that had bothered me for months. Put me down as an ardent supporter of this grand curing remedy, Booth's Kidney Pills."

PRECIPITATED INTO GREAT SALT LAKE

Hundreds of Men and Women Were in Deadly Peril.

MANY WERE INJURED

Pavilion Floor Gives Way Where 3,000 People Had Given Prize Fight—Fell 50 Feet Into Water.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 13.—More than a hundred men and four women crashed through the floor of Salt Air pavilion in a wild panic late last night and were plunged 50 feet below into the briny water of Great Salt Lake, many of them being seriously injured.

It was in this pavilion that it had been proposed to hold the Jeffries-Johnson fight. Three thousand men and a number of women saw "Cyclone" Johnny Thompson whip Peter Sullivan, and then the rush to get away started.

One hundred or more were massed on the steps when they crashed and sank to the floor of the amphitheatre. An instant later their weight broke through the floor, and they dropped into the water. Many tried to jump out of the windows.

Fierce Battle For Life. Struggling in five feet of water, seizing one another, and fighting loose from the wreckage of the half-submerged pavilion, the crowd, among them four women, cried for help.

Ropes, sticks and boats were used in the work of rescue, and, one by one, the victims were drawn from the brine. At last the swinging lanterns on the bows of boats coming to the rescue were seen.

Work of Rescue. The injured were placed on the floors of the improvised hospital cars, and the crowd was hauled back to the city. Among the more seriously injured were Fire Chief Con. Gallagher, of Murray, Utah, arm and leg broken; William B. Covey, leg broken, and Miss May Clark both legs broken.

ALLEGED MAD DOG BIT A GRANTON LITTLE GIRL

Annie Patterson Has Been Sent to Toronto for Treatment.

Annie Patterson, the little daughter of Mr. A. Patterson, of Granton, was hurried to Toronto yesterday to take the Pasteur treatment as a result of having been bitten on Sunday last by a collie dog belonging to her uncle, Mr. F. Patterson, who lives on the next farm to that owned by her father.

The dog bit the little girl on the ankle, Sunday, and she was taken at once to Dr. Laing, of Granton, who dressed the wound.

The dog's head was sent at once to the authorities in Toronto, and word came yesterday that it had rabies.

Mr. J. H. Tennent, of this city, went at once, and upon investigation found that Mr. Patterson's dog had been bitten a few weeks ago by the dog of John Slattery, of Stratford, which was killed on April 3 near Denfield, after it had bitten more than a score of sheep and cows. He also learned that it had bitten a number of other dogs in the neighborhood which have since been killed.

passing wagon and proceeded to a physician at Thamesford with the party. Mrs. Wolf was in a faint when excited, as a very heavy winter cape which she was wearing had fallen over her head, and was smothering her. She soon revived, however.

The party left this city yesterday morning on a run to Brantford. They started on the return trip in the evening, and everything ran very smoothly until the point of the accident, near Thamesford, was reached.

A Pitch-Hole. A few feet over the end of the bridge a small pitch-hole threw the front wheels to one side, and a greasy road started the car on a skid. Before Mr. Secord was able to bring the auto back onto the road, one of the rear wheels was torn off, and the accident occurred.

Both Mr. Secord and Mrs. Wolf are laid up today, and will be under the care of a physician for some time.

Machine Damaged. The damage to the machine is very heavy, and a local agency is being sent out by a local agency to bring the mangled back this morning.

Mr. Brown was spoken to by The Advertiser, and attributes the lucky escape to the fact that the party was not in use at the time.

"Had the top been up we would never have escaped," he said, "as it would have held us directly under the machine when it turned over. We are better than a lot of dead people today, but we had a very narrow escape."

OWEN SOUND HOTELS ARE IN TROUBLE

Fines Amounting to $575 Imposed on Three of Them.

Owen Sound, Ont., May 13.—The liquor cases were taken up again this morning. The fine of the Pacific Hotel, which was convicted yesterday, was put at $100.

The Central Hotel and Comely House for the same offence were each fined $100, and the Comely was assessed $100.

The Paterson House case is now in progress.

MOTHER EARTH SHIVERING

Washington Seismograph Records an Earthquake Lasting 48 Minutes.

Washington, May 13.—An earthquake was recorded early today by the seismograph of the Georgetown University. The movement began at 3:26 and lasted for 48 minutes.

The interruption was only moderate, the maximum movement beginning at 3:38 and lasting for five minutes. The motion of the instrument was from east to west, indicating that the quake was west of Washington.

FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET OF NUMBER FIVE CLASS

A Very Pleasant Affair in the Wellington Street Methodist Church.

The first annual banquet of No. 5 Class of the Sunday school of the Wellington Street Methodist Church was held last night, and proved such an enjoyable affair that a similar gathering will be held every year.

Mr. W. J. Mountjoy presided, and the following programme of speeches and musical numbers was carried out: Song, Mr. C. Boyce; "The Classes," Miss A. Beck; chorus, "Annie Laurie," No. 5 class; stump speech on "Matri-mony," Mr. Fred Parsons; address, Rev. H. A. Graham; "The Ladies," Mr. A. Herrick; song, by a quartet composed of Messrs. Boyce, Adams, C. Boyce and McCormick; address, "The Sunday School," by Mr. George Jack; song, "The Teachers," Mr. C. L. Mountjoy; chorus, No. 5 class; address, "London," Mr. Roy Baker; solo, "Sing Me to Sleep," Mrs. W. H. Humphries; address, Miss Rose Merritt; duet, Mr. H. Downs and C. L. Mountjoy; addresses by Miss Hiltz and Mr. Blackwell.

WATT COMPANY

few days ago looking up suitable sites for the new industrial plant.

The building until recently occupied by the Murray Shoe Company, on King street, opposite the central fire station, was considered, but a plan whereby the Paterson people would unite with W. J. Thompson & Co. in the purchase of the place manufacturers, appears to have been looked upon very favorably.

A Big Concern. Mr. Thompson now employs about 25 hands, and has a capacity for turning out carriages at the rate of one hundred per week.

This for the time being would be suitable for the auto manufacturing business, and it is understood that there is plenty of room to provide additional floor space when necessary. The storerooms are now occupied by the carriage makers. Mr. Thompson, when spoken to by The Advertiser, stated that he has been approached by the Paterson Company's representative, and he expects an answer from the Milligan this week.

A Big Staff. Mr. Sullivan while in this city, indicated several prominent Londoners that the firm will open its plant with a staff of about 50 hands and the assembling of the machines will commence in the fall.

By next year, when the business takes hold properly, an undoubtedly will the staff will be increased to several hundred.

The majority of the employees will be skilled mechanics. Motor car builders in Michigan, the automobile manufacturing centre in the world, pay higher wages than any other class of manufacturers, and the same conditions will certainly prevail here.

Import Men. Local men for the most part will be given employment, but at the outset it will probably be necessary to import to London a number of outside skilled mechanics.

Other industries will follow the auto company to this city. Body-builders will be necessary as the chassis—the gear of the auto with the motor—is practically the only part of the machine built entirely in the majority of factories.

Brass works will be attracted. The gas headlights, all lamps, switches, generators and buffer bars and the like are all extras.

Snowmeters, auto clocks, electrical and tube horns, lamps, batteries and all such extras are built in separate factories in the vicinity of the auto plant. The fine work demands the employment of high-priced men.

Topes and canopies of all classes are other extras, and as nearly every motorist has them, no car is fully equipped without such things. They are needed to make them, and the manufacturers of them invariably follow the motor builders.

The Prices. At present autos imported from the States by Canadian buyers are worth over 35 per cent more than on the other side of the line, the Canadian tariff being extremely high.

Many limited States builders who come to this country take on about 30 per cent to their American price and still control the Canadian trade. A very small portion of this may be necessary, as certain equipment required in constructing a first-class car is not made in this country. However, it is rumored that the price of the London-built Paterson will be a hundred dollars or so above the Yankee quotation.

Three models will be turned out of the

UNIVERSAL UNIFORM FOR MOUNTED TROOPS

Militia Department Endeavoring to Make Question Less Complicated.

Ottawa, May 13.—The militia department has adopted universal uniform for all mounted troops. The idea is to make the uniform question less complicated. The cavalry and artillery will be particularly affected as well as the mounted divisions of other branches of the service. For the present it will not apply to infantry.

It is decidedly different from any other uniform used in the militia, the riding breeches being one color, and the sergeants another. The trousers are of Bedford cord material of Khaki color, and will be worn with tanned leather leggings and tanned boots.

The sergeants' coats are of drab blue, the same color as the former sergeants, but have no piping on the sleeves. They have also blue collars.

The shoulder straps come detached and have to be sewed on. These will afford the only distinction between the different branches of the service.

For the artillery regiments will be red for the cavalry yellow, and so on.

COTTON BOOMING

Sharp Advance Comes On Top of Steady Upward Trench.

New York, May 13.—There was a very sharp advance in the cotton market today, which, coming on top of the steady upward movement ever since last Monday morning, assumed sensational proportions. May contracts which had sold as low as 12.99 during April, were 12.72 before Monday, making a gain of 19 points from the closing figures of last night, and 172 points from the recent low level.

Other markets showed even greater gains, with July selling at 15.24, and September 13.99, or from 29 to 33 points above the closing figures of last night, while still later deliveries showed advances ranging from 17 to 18 points.

Logging by electricity, it is said, will soon be the common practice in British Columbia, where electricity can be readily obtained from water power.

COOL WEATHER CAUSES FARMERS MUCH ANXIETY

Temperature Dropped Almost to Freezing Last Night—Too Much Cold.

The continued cool weather is a source of considerable worry to the farmers.

Last night the temperature came within half a degree of frost, and on Wednesday night three degrees of frost were registered.

It is far from the best weather for the crops, and the farmers fear that the frost and cool weather may greatly arrest their growth.

The farmers are not overly pessimistic, because the crops are several weeks ahead of last year, but a continuance of the present variety of weather will have the effect of undoing all the good work of the early spring.

"If this keeps up," said one farmer to The Advertiser this morning, "it spells short crops gain this year."

DOG TIP IS SENT FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE

New Use to Which Alex Graham Bell's Invention Is Being Put.

The latest dodge in the rural districts to elude the constables and evade dog fines is the use of the telephone.

Several of the county constables have been experiencing some difficulty in bringing offenders to justice.

The story goes that when the constable is seen making his way through the country, the rural telephone lines get busy, and the tip is passed along the line.

One constable was beautifully outwitted in this manner in London Township recently. He started out in a rig with the intention of paying a visit to a farmer whose dog he had heard was running at large, unmuzzled. About noon he stopped at a farm house to satisfy the cravings of the inner man. His hosts were most courteous, but learning his mission, they rang up his intended victim even while the constable was eating his dinner.

When the constable arrived at his destination, what was his surprise and dismay to find that the suspected canine was securely muzzled, and he had had his trip for nothing.

Mr. J. H. Tennent, of this city, went at once, and upon investigation found that Mr. Patterson's dog had been bitten a few weeks ago by the dog of John Slattery, of Stratford, which was killed on April 3 near Denfield, after it had bitten more than a score of sheep and cows. He also learned that it had bitten a number of other dogs in the neighborhood which have since been killed.

SCORES WERE KILLED IN ENGLISH MINE

Terrible Accident in a Colliery at Whitehaven.

Manchester, Eng., May 13.—One hundred and thirty-seven miners lost their lives yesterday in an explosion in the Wellington col mine at Whitehaven. Rescue parties saved four men, but fire has started in the workings, leaving practically no hope for those who are entombed.

Throughout the day the rescue parties made considerable progress in the mine, but their work was stopped by the collapse of the roof.

A curious fact is that a colliery warning was published in many of the newspapers in the mining districts of the kingdom, to the effect that unusually high barometric conditions rendered fire damp explosions extremely probable, and that all underground workers ought therefore to be on the alert. The barometer reached its highest reading in the Whitehaven district.

King George sent a message of sympathy to the owners of the colliery.

HAY AGAIN SOLD FOR $14 A TON

Only Poor Quality Went Below This Figure, Although 20 Loads Were Offered.

DRESSED PORK IS SCARCE

A Big Supply of Butter is Looked For on Saturday—Eggs Continue Steady on London Market.

The farmers are bringing their hay in a little more freely, and are realizing very high prices. Despite the fact that about twenty loads were on the square this morning, it was almost impossible to get a load for less than $14 a ton. One or two loads of poor quality were sold for $12 a ton. The best hay on the market brought $14 50 a ton.

A load of good wheat straw went off at $7 a ton. Oats are still up around the $1 20 mark. One load sold for this high figure. There were half a dozen loads in the others going from $1 25 to $1 28 a cwt.

Dressed Pork Scarce.

Dressed pork is not coming in in sufficient quantities to satisfy the butchers. They are paying a high figure, and think there should be a larger supply. There was practically no dressed pork in this morning. Twelve dollars is being paid with little prospect of any drop.

The first rush of calves has somewhat subsided, not quite so much as coming in now. Quotations are from $7 to $9 50 a cwt.

The quantity of butter daily coming in is increasing with the arrival of grass butter. A good supply is expected from 22 to 24 cents a pound for whole sales.

Eggs are steady, 19 cents a dozen being the figure quoted by the wholesale dealers. There may be a drop to 18 cents, but there is little prospect of any further reduction.

Following are quotations: Oats, per cwt., $1 25 to $1 30; Barley, per bushel, 62 1/2 to 63 1/2.

Grain Per Bushel.

market closed today with a little spurt in prices, which carried them 10¢ to 15¢ higher than the earlier market. The run for yesterday and today included 272 sheep and lambs, 1400 hogs and 200 calves. With these light offerings a sharp demand soon developed, along with a strong feeling of shortage. The higher prices asked had the immediate effect of checking trade somewhat, and with slight concessions business was kept moving, and everything was cleared out at good stiff prices. The exception was for sheep and lambs, which are quoted easier.

The hog market has become stronger as the week advances, quotations going 25¢ higher today, making a 50¢ advance for the week. Choice stockers are firm at $5 to $5 50 and heavy feeders at $6 to $6 50. Lambs are easier at $4 to $7 sheep easier at $5 to $5 75; spring lambs steady at $5 to $6 50 each.

PRODUCE.

will be made for the visit of a deputation from this body in the near future. Buter Brown.

"Buster Brown," a musical play of more than ordinary cleverness, attracted good audiences at the Grand yesterday afternoon and evening, and pleased greatly. There are some very fine musical numbers and many pretty songs. The girls were fair to look upon and could dance. "Buster" himself was a clever kid.

CHATHAM MUST GIVE UP FINES

Provincial Government is Now Anxious to Get Its Share of the Money.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Chatham, May 13.—Police Magistrate Houston has been asked by the attorney-general of the province to report to him as to the disposition of the fines imposed by him in cases of assault. None of these fines have probably been made as to the disposition of gone to the provincial treasurer, and such fines in the past.

under the statute the city has no right to retain them, but is compelled to turn them over to the treasurer of the province.

The inquiry has been caused by the recent action of the city council in passing a resolution to refund to Alexander Jamieson, the city dog-catcher, the amount of a fine imposed on him by Magistrate Houston in a case where Jamieson was found guilty of assault. The council, after passing the resolution, discovered that the fines in cases of assault did not go to the city but to the treasurer of the province. An investigation will probably be made as to the disposition of gone to the provincial treasurer, and such fines in the past.
