PLANS CONSIDERED
Five Different Solutions to Railway Problem Were Debated.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, June 25.—Joint administration of the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific railways under an independent commission will, it is understood, form the basis of important recommendations which a special committee of the senate is preparing to lay before the upper house today. For some weeks the senate committee has been hearing evidence in camera. The presidents of both railways have been called.

The committee meets this afternoon for what will likely be its final session. A draft report has been prepared, but this has still to be formally approved before submission to the upper house.

It is understood that five different solutions of Canada's present railway problem were considered by the committee and discussed with those summoned to give to the committee their personal knowledge of the subject and suggestions looking to a solution of a situation which threatens the stability of our economic structure. The solutions discussed were:

Plans Considered.
Co-operation between the two systems.
The taking over of the Canadian Pacific by the government.
The sale of the Canadian National
to the Canadian Pacific.
The sale of the Canadian National
to some other private corporation.
The amalgamation of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National under a special plan.

The first plan were not received with much favor, but the last, while not recommended for adoption, was considered worthy of consideration by the government.

Board of 15 Members.
Under the proposed scheme of amalgamation there would be a board of fifteen directors in absolute control, of which five would be nominated by the government and five by the Canadian Pacific, and these ten would select the other five. It is understood the directors would be appointed for long terms, and vacancies on the board would be filled by the board.

Under the proposal the Canadian National would be valued on its earning power. The Canadian Pacific dividend would be guaranteed.
When the time arrived if there was a surplus in operation and the Canadian Pacific charges on the Canadian National valuation this surplus would be divided equally between the Canadian Pacific and the government.
Such are believed to be the salient features of the scheme which most commended itself to the committee.

Mrs. Bert Logan Is Elected Worthy Grand Matron, Order Eastern Star.

The honor of worthy grand matron of the Provincial chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, comes to London this year, Mrs. Bert Logan of this city having been elected to that office this morning at the annual session of the chapter held in the Masonic Temple, Roy A. Hare of St.
Catharines has been elected worthy grand patron, with Mrs. Ethel Van Laven of Walkerville as associate grand matron, Mrs. Ethel Malcolm of Toronto as secretary, and Mrs.
Laura E. Moore of Windsor as grand conductress.

The provincial chapter is planning to erect a Florence Nightingale home for orphaned children of Star members, and already has been offered a four-acre site at St. Catharines by the Garden City chapter there. The decision as to a site and building of the home has been left to a committee appointed at this session of the chapter. With the collection taken last night at the Masonic Temple, the Ontario chapters have already raised almost $8,000 for the home.

meeting, but has not yet been accepted. Installation of the new officers will feature tonight's session, Mrs.
Robina Mains of Toronto having charge.

Further election results will be announced this afternoon.

Entrance Grammar Exam Is Unfair, Student Charges

Official Backs Up Claim That
One Question Is Not in Course.

HIGH SCHOOL WORK

Parents' Complaints Center On Types of Examinations
in Vogue.

The claim has been made, and apparently with good cause, that questions were asked in the grammar paper at entrance examinations that have not been included in the course of instruction in grade eight (entrance class) work during the term.
One of the pupils who was trying to answer the question was told that certain he had not been taught that during the year. Inquiry of one of the school officials led to the answer that the boy's claim was correct.
"That is generally looked upon as high school work," was the reply.
"and I don't think the question should have been on the entrance paper." The manner in which examinations are conducted in the public schools has never been satisfactorily settled, and probably never will be, but just now there seems to be special complaint among a number of London parents on the manner in which the arrangements are being conducted. One of these complaints was voiced to The Advertiser as follows:
"For some years the policy has been to hurry up the children in the public school, and this found expression in the attempt to take out one of the grades. It showed many of the

CITY ROAD DEBT OVER $250,000

Treasurer Starts On Debenture Issue To Care For Provincial Bill.
$19,172 THIS YEAR
Represents Construction Payment and Maintenance
For a Year.

Provincial roads will cost the city of London no less than $19,172.96 this year. This amount represents the maintenance cost for 1924 as well as the first installment of 20-year ventures which will be issued shortly to provide for the original cost of highway paving.

City Treasurer James S. Bell is now working on a new issue of debentures to take care of the road debt.
The bill, with interest, will run up more than a quarter of a million dollars. It must be paid, the province has said, and other cities have set a precedent by starting payments.

The highways account was provided for in the estimates this year and the money will come out of the general tax rate. The 1924-1925 payment on the road cost amounts to $16,102.22 while last year's maintenance costs total $2,562.71.

ister of Railways in Making

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, June 25.—When estimates came up in the house of commons last night, Rt. Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways, moved that the $7,500,000 additional money asked for on behalf of the Canadian National railways be not voted but National railways be not voted but the amount carried. This is the reduction in the estimated requirements of the railway which Mr. Graham intimated in a recent despatch to the national road intended to get along without.

BRITISHERS WARNED.

Associated Press Despatch.

employed on the Canton-Kowloon railway here said they had been warned privately by Chinese friends to seek safety because "the Chinese are determined to kill one foreigner for every Chinese."

patch to the Morning Post says that Captain Roald Amundsen left for the Arctic region aboard a ment. He is expected to reach Oslo July 1.

Amundsen will publish in the

into several languages.

INTEREST IN HAIG'S VISIT TO CANADA GROWS

Mayor Sends Invitation to the Army Commander to Stop Off Here.

Interest in the Canadian tour of Lord Douglas Haig, former commander-in-chief of the British army, has increased immensely since the importance of the visit to war veteran associations has been felt. The Haig, who will be in Ottawa on Sunday morning, and it is hoped that the famous Scot will be able to stop off a few hours on his way through London next month.

London war veterans' organizations have been affected as much by rivalry as any center in the dominion, and there are a half dozen associations or branches here all seeking the support of ex-service men.

No Trouble To Keep Cool

British Debutantes Shiver, Awaiting Presentation
to King.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, June 25.—A sudden change in weather sent the women who are to be presented at Buckingham Palace tonight scurrying in search of warmer wraps after all their plans had been made in accordance with the predictions of the weather prophets that the hot spell would continue.

It was so warm during the first court a few weeks ago that several persons fainted and a number of innovations were brought into use to keep the presentees cool up to the last moment.

Among these innovations were little ice boxes installed in the limousines to cool the interior of the vehicles.

Indications were this morning, however, that the debutantes would have to use foot warmers in their cars tonight instead of ice boxes.

CARMEN'S UNION BACK IN COUNCIL

Strong Railway Body Returns
To Trades and Labor
Fold.

Prestige of the London trades and labor council, hit hard by the loss in strength following the reactionary rumpus of three years ago, has made a complete recovery with the return to the fold of the local branch of the railway carmen's union. Decision to reaffiliate with the council was made at a general session held this week.

Embracing a membership of from 600 to 700, the local carmen's union is one of the strongest in the trades and labor council. Its return to the labor council is heralded in district circles as an indication of growing unanimity among labor organizations.

"The return of the carmen is most opportune and will enhance the prestige of the trades and labor council," John Colbert, council president, said to The Advertiser this morning.
"All the members of the organization are glad to see the local in the rank again."

Three years ago the effects of the reactionary wing became so pronounced that several of the local unions, including the carmen's, withdrew from the council. When action was delayed a group, led by the carmen's union, severed connections with the co-operative body. With the return of the carmen the council again enjoys the strength it maintained prior to the reactionary outburst.

RAIN SALVAGES PARCHED CROPS

"Million Dollar" Shower of Inestimable Value to Farms of District.

The prayers of district farmers were answered last night when a million-dollar rain fell gently on Middlesex and adjoining counties.
Half an inch of moisture was measured at the South London weather bureau during the night and more is expected today, the barometer falling from 29.03 to 8 o'clock last night to 28.89 this morning.

Crop conditions in Middlesex have improved 100 per cent overnight. R.
A. Finn of the department of agriculture states. Mr. Finn pointed out that steady showers were much more to be desired than a thumping, pel-ting rain that merely ran over the surface of the ground.

"Last night's rain penetrated the ground and was of inestimable value to the crops," said Mr. Finn. "It means that timothy hay will pick up wonderfully, while oats and wheat will fill out and give fairly good returns, even although the straw will be short."

Fruit growers state that the rain has meant much to the raspberry and cherry crops. In the majority of cases it came too late to be of much value to the strawberry growers.

The showers have given impetus to corn, potatoes and root crops, and will help the pastures wonderfully, dairymen declare.

LOCAL BANK CLEARING.
The local bank clearings for the ed with $2,632,403 for the corresponding week of last year.

GOLDIE TO VIEW SITE DESIRED

Provincial Secretary Will Visit
London in Collegiate Tangle.
HEARS FACTS OF CASE
London School Committee At Toronto To Request Asylum Property.

Hon. Lincoln Goldie, provincial secretary, will visit London on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week to look into personally the request made by a committee of the board of education that a portion of the Ontario hospital grounds be sold to the board as a site for the East London collegiate.

The committee said the facts before Mr. Goldie at the parliament buildings this afternoon, and were promised every consideration of their request.

"I told them that I would come up to London on Tuesday or Wednesday and personally go into the situation," Mr. Goldie informed The Advertiser today, following the visit of the committee.

The delegation, composed of Trustees E. N. Campbell, (chairman), Rev. R. D. Mess, W. G. Murray, Geo.
P. Copeland, and Principal E. A. Miller, left the city via C. N. R. this morning, and had an appointment with the provincial secretary at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The point to be settled first was whether or not the provincial government is prepared to part with a strip of the hospital property, the desired portion being the extreme west section, in which the bursar's residence is located.

If the government displays willingness to consider the proposition, and the question of price can be satisfactorily adjusted, the committee, it is understood, will recommend the selection of this site to the board.
The recommendation will be adopted, clearing the way for the commencement of building operations this summer.

If the provincial secretary declines to part with any of the hospital territory, one more proposal will be made, namely, to build a new school on the site, and the committee will commence looking in other directions for the solution of this six-year-old problem.

ALL N. S. PARTIES ARE CONFIDENT

Heavy Poll Being Cast, With 93 Candidates in the Field.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Halifax, N. S., June 25.—Nova Scotia was busily engaged today selecting the personnel of her next house of assembly. Of the 96 candidates offering, 43 will have been elected when the polls close at 6 o'clock, Atlantic daylight time tonight.

Two will represent each of the 18 counties of Nova Scotia, save Pictou and Cumberland, electing three, Cape Breton electing four, and Halifax electing five. Of the 96 candidates in nomination, 43 have been endorsed by the Liberals, under the leadership of Premier E. H. Armstrong, and 43 by the Conservatives, led by Hon.
E. N. Rhodes, a former speaker of the house of commons at Ottawa. Labor has ten candidates in the field.

Today's contest was the culmination of one of the most strenuous campaigns in the history of the province, and the opening of the polls at 10 o'clock, Atlantic daylight time, this morning, found both the Liberal government forces and the Conservative opposition workers confident of success. Fair weather was on hand for a large poll.

Today's general election is the fourteenth since Confederation. In 1867, the Liberals were successful in twelve of the thirteen previous contests, and the Conservatives in one. For the past 43 years the Liberals have held the reins of power under four premiers—Hon. W. T.
Pippe, 1882-84; Hon. W. S. Fielding, 1884-86; Hon. George H. Murray, 1887. The Liberals were successful in the present premier.

BARNES LEADS FIELD.
Associated Press Despatch.
Prestwick, Scotland, June 25.—
With 147 for 36 holes, Jim Barnes, United States professional golfer, this afternoon led the field of 33 competitors for the British open championship. The day's play was not yet ended when Barnes brought in a 77 for the second round to add to his morning card of 70.

ANOTHER STEP TO CLEAN UP RIVER.
Progress of construction of the city's new sewage disposal plant at the foot of Front street is shown in the picture above. Workmen have been excavating and putting in cribbing for the past week, and concrete pouring was started this morning. The plant will handle sewage from the Wellington-High street district. Together with the new pumping station at Clarke's bridge, it will serve a large area.

FAULTY BRAKES ADDED TO ANTI-GLARE DRIVE

Morning Court Case Brings a New Warning From Chief of Police.
STRICT ENFORCEMENT
Testing Stations Appear in Spreading Campaign For Safe Driving.

"Every motor vehicle shall be equipped with at least two brakes in good working order, and any police constable or any officer appointed for carrying out the provisions of this act may at any time inspect or cause an inspection to be made of the brakes of any motor vehicle on the highway, and may, if such brakes are not in good working order, require the driver of such motor vehicle to proceed forthwith to put or have such brakes put in good working order."

This section of the highway traffic act, together with that which deals with the use of strong headlights on motor vehicles, will be subjected to rigid enforcement by the police department, according to an announcement made by Chief of Police Robert Birrell, following a police court case this morning.

A Londoner who paid court costs before Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, is one of many in the past few weeks whose cars have been found by the police to have faulty brakes. The conviction followed a brake inspection made after an automobile accident.

Official Testing Station.
The police department's resolve to stamp out the glaring headlight menace will be coupled with enforcement of the section of the highway traffic act, which calls for motor car brakes to be in good working condition. Local police will co-operate with the London motor club in carrying out both brake and headlight tests at a suitable testing station to be recognized officially.

Following Chief Birrell's warning that action will be taken against motorists whose cars are not equipped with properly focused headlights, local garage men have commenced to erect headlight and brake testing stations.

Proper focusing will do more to mitigate the glare of existing headlights than any other means, according to the police and officials of the motor league. It also works to eliminate lenses which are not of the legal type, and give the approaching motorists the full strength of the glare.

The headlight testing stations, one of which is being put into order by Terry's Garage, will consist of a darkened room, where a motor car can be parked at a distance of 25 feet from a white wall.

How to Adjust.
There are two important adjustments. First, to focus the electric bulb in relation to the reflector; and

GREECE IS IN THROES OF REVOLT

Fleet Is Reported To Have

Alleged Inefficiency of Premier Led to Drastic Action
by Radicals.

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, June 25.—Despatches from Salonica report Greece in the throes of a revolution and say the Greek fleet has joined the movement.
The despatches say a military government has been formed under General Pangalos, and has occupied all civil and military institutions.

CAUSE OF REVOLUTION.
Associated Press Despatch.
Salonica, Greece, June 25.—The newspaper Independent announces the Salonika garrison decided to demand the immediate resignation of Premier Nikolaos Poulas, because of his alleged inefficiency in office, and for the purpose of forming a military government, presided over by General Pangalos.

The revolutionary officers occupied public buildings and railway stations. A revolutionary proclamation has been issued. A military communique says the revolutionary movement is now in control throughout Greece. The Greek fleet, under Admiral Hadjirikiakos, former minister of marine, has joined the revolution.

Leaders of the revolution telegraphed the president of the Greek republic: "We proclaim an overthrow of the government. We will hold the cabinet responsible for any bloodshed."

The communique of the revolutionists said their movement was opposed nowhere in Greece.

General Pangalos was appointed Greek minister of war in June 1924.
He was formerly generalissimo of the Greek army and military governor of Athens. He headed the rebels who defeated the Greek Royalist army in September, 1922, and thereafter became a minister of war in the Gonatas cabinet. He resigned that office within a matter of days, and returned to Athens where he was formerly army-in-Chief, then fighting the Turks. He became commander-in-chief during that campaign, and after returning to Athens there were rumors in 1923 that he would attempt to overthrow the government. This plan, if it existed, did not materialize, and in November, 1922, he was appointed minister of war in the cabinet of the Greek republic. In December, 1923, he demanded the resignation of the Gonatas government, and was named Papanastasiou premier.

visional president of the Greek republic, having assumed that office lutionary committee appointed in 1922. The activities of which led to

FOREST FIRES RAGING IN BRITISH COLUMBIO

Canadian Press Despatch.
Vancouver, B. C., June 25.—Forest fires are breaking out in various parts of the province, according to word officials and some localities are blanketed in smoke. Large gangs of men are fighting the fires, which are said to be the worst on Vancouver island. Dry, hot weather prevails throughout the province.

MERCHANTS LOSE ON BOGUS CHECKS

Police Seek Artist Who Victimized Four London Businessmen.

Police are conducting a search for Fred Brown, check artist, who cleaned up on more than $60 from four local merchants on Tuesday and Wednesday.

At the jewelry store of R. J. Young & Co, the man left a pair of cuff-links to be engraved. In payment he offered a $20 check, and received change amounting to $12.50. The check was later found to be worthless.

Police received reports from the Scott Paint & Varnish Company, where Brown received $10.65 change after paying for $9.35 worth of goods by a bogus $20 check. At Rowland Hill's and Kingsmill's similar checks for $20 amounts were cashed.

Each check was made out by "R. A. Johnston," payable to "Fred Brown."

The man is described as about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches in height, stout build, medium complexion. He is believed to be about 35 or 40 years of age. He was wearing a blue suit and straw hat when the checks were cashed.

EXEMPLIFICATION HELD BY CHAPTERS

Past Masters' Ceremony Features Evening Session of Eastern Star.

The exemplification of degrees by past officers of the London chapters, under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Manness, Trinity chapter, featured last night's session of the Provincial Grand chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, meeting in the Masonic Temple. This was followed by a memorial service, under the direction of Mrs. Maud B. Shaver, of Ottawa.

The afternoon was spent largely in the discussion of reports and the presentation of charters to new chapters by Mrs. A. May Ralston. Mrs. Selma Mason officiated at the installation of officers. The bringing in of nominations by the grand secretary, Mrs. Ethel Malcolm, of Toronto, completed this session, the election to take place this morning.

Tribesmen Gain On Hams Winning Double-Header From Lee's Luckless Colts

Coogan Allows But Five Hits in First—Alton Hit Three in Second.

KNOTTY BANISHED

The Bakermans swept the series with Kitchener by taking both ends of a twin bill yesterday afternoon. The whole Kitchener team made an island of Murphy, and Knotty capped the riot by giving the umpire a bump's rush almost to the north fence, using a bare-of-the-neck and seat-of-the-pants hold. He took a fall out of Murphy, but Murphy got the next fall by putting Knotty over the fence and out of the game.

As a Spectator. Knotty therefore was a spectator of his charges' first defeat of the afternoon. Bill Coogan was in wonderful form yesterday, allowing but five hits. Three of these were around the middle of the field. They were sided by Knotty, Kanan and Kanan. In the last one, Knotty was the only one to get a hit.

Coogan opened the second frame for the Colts by banking a home run out among the piles of the valley in left field. The team collected four runs altogether here, but Earl Brown held them scoreless for the next four rounds, and pitched eight hits.

Brower singled when Coogan left off, and Sandquist bunted. Kanan drew a walk. Inman mopped up Klein's mess. Brower counted Sandquist's error as a home run. Kanan's choice to Brown, but Baker's single pushed two more runs off the bat. Brown held the Colts in check, and his mates got nowhere against Coogan's pitching and against the four-run lead, and Stimpson and Cross both doubled in quick succession to tally another run in the seventh.

In the eighth two permissible errors and a brace of hits counted in three more runs. Sandy and Kanan on their tandem stunt, Kanan singled, Sandy making third when Loepf's throw to third was deflected to the fence by Knotty. He scored on Klein's single.

Coogan forced Knotty, and then Brown. Baker's single toward first for a nice play the plate. Kanan being cut off there and Knotty's sacrifice in the next frame for second. He made third on Knapp's error, a hurried throw of hard chance which was muffed by Knotty and then dropped and made home on a steal attempt. Vermilyea playing tag long enough for the run.

Alton's Sixth Win. Lefty Alton, chalking up his sixth win since he joined the club, the Colts took the second frame. Chuck Nosselt chucked good ball, allowing but three hits in the first frame, and continued in trouble out of which he scrambled very nicely several times.

In the first five innings only three men were faced. Alton, Knapp, waded a double, with which he started the eighth, as the game was tied at the ninth on the next three outs.

An error by Sandquist, Beatty's single to centre and Knotty's sacrifice in the gathering darkness of the seventh and a fine drizzle of rain threatened, but Keating popped up and Loepf fled out to Stimpson to send the athletes to sleep.

The Cardinals collected four runs in the first frame, but the Pirates battled back to tie the game in the second. Hornsby was pitching and one man was on base. Hornsby's first homer was in the opening inning of the first game with home on, and the second in the sixth frame with two men on the paths. J. Smith, Wright and Carey took three hits. With a couple of good pitchers added, Knotty Lee has a team that will battle and win today. The game will be a piece of paper doesn't separate any team in the league. Inman who filed Bud Connolly's shoes at third for Bay City Wolves, has given Knotty a week ago, played left field for Boston. Scores: Philadelphia 10 1 0 22 1 0 0. Boston 1 1 1 1 1 1 1.

THAMESFORD DEFEATS WOODSTOCK NINE 11-7. Special to The Advertiser. Woodstock, June 24.—In Thames Valley league fixture, played last night at Thamesford, the home team defeated the visiting Woodstock nine by a score of 11-7. The fire-fighters got away to a five-run lead in the first inning, but the home aggregation kept plugging away and scoring seven runs in the last two frames earned a victory and kept their place at the top of the league. It was a fine hitting contest, with the winners switching between three times during the fracas. Thamesford 11 15 6. Woodstock 7 6 2. Umpires: Sutherland, Pascoe and E. Smith.

CHAPMAN GETS DECISION. Cleveland, June 24.—Red' Chapman, of Boston, was given the decision of the day by the umpire, Al Corbett, featherweight, in a ten-round bout here last night. Chapman won eight out of ten rounds. John Datto, Los Angeles, knocked out Johnny Duffy, Toledo featherweight, in the third round.

A PORTION OF THE ACTION AT THE THISTLE GREENS YESTERDAY.

The Thistle club's 15th annual Scotch doubles yesterday drew a fine entry—57 pairs, and pretty well covering Western Ontario. President A. A. Langford of the Dominion Bowling Association is seen slightly to the left of center, wearing a white shirt and dark trousers. Striding across the green is the ever-youthful Fred Tobias, who last year was still going strong at 5 o'clock one morning against Johnny Banks in the Langford trophy. In the car to the rear of Tobias is Norman Keene, who, with his old doubles partner, Bert Heaman, has become addicted to golf, is talking to Jim McDougall of the London Rowing club, also sitting out the tourney. Norman Keene, just out of hospital from an operation, must have found most of the old pairs back at the 15th renewal of the ever-popular Thistle event.

TILSONBURG LOSES TO INGERSOLL 8 TO 7

Game May Be Protested On Decisions by Umpire English. Special to The Advertiser. Tilsonburg, June 24.—Ingersoll won a scheduled Oxford-Middlesex game here today, 8-7, on decision by Umpire English, of Ingersoll, and it is almost certain the game will be protested. In the eighth inning Ingersoll had three men on the bags with the score 6-4 in favor of Tilsonburg, when he called the runner on third safe at home on a forced play, claiming the catcher was not on the bag. Then in the ninth another hubbub started, which threatened to result in a free-for-all, and English had a lot of explaining to do after the game. Kelly, Ingersoll, replaced Marshall in the third for his first game this season, and Tilsonburg used two twirlers. Wood and Evans, Hibbert received a vote on the bag. Then in the ninth another hubbub started, which threatened to result in a free-for-all, and English had a lot of explaining to do after the game. Liberals and Conservatives Voice Absolute Faith As Hard Drive Ends.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Halifax, N. S., June 24.—At 5 o'clock Atlantic standard time to-morrow afternoon the electors of Nova Scotia will have placed their approval upon 43 of their fellow citizens as their choice to represent them in the commons of the provincial parliament, and there will come to an end one of the most strenuous and universally enthusiastic campaigns that has marked an election, federal or provincial, in this province for many years.

Announcements from the ranks of the two old parties, Conservative and Liberal, the chief contestants in this political battle, and the Liberal victory in a sweeping victory. The Liberals, backed by their forty-three years of consistent election winning, have expressed themselves as satisfied that the people will return them to power with a majority almost if not quite as great as that with which the government of Premier E. H. Armstrong faced parliament at the last session of the statutory term just closed.

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1925.

Give It a Fair Trial.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen informed the commons at Ottawa that he was unalterably opposed to the new trade pact with Australia. He termed it as an "obvious injustice," and was also certain that the "government's treaty-making had been disastrous to Canada." That opinion was given before the treaty had come into effect; Mr. Meighen knew without the formality of a trial that the thing was bad.

On the face of it his position is wrong, because no man has the power to look into the future and say with certainty what will happen. The government knows this, and so there is a provision in the agreement whereby it can be cancelled at the end of six months if it is not satisfactory. By the pact Canada makes certain concessions; others are made by Australia. No worth-while trade agreement was ever based on any other principle. In this instance Canada obtains preferential tariff treatment on parts of motor vehicles, fish, textiles, gloves, typewriters, corsets, iron and steel tubing, glassware, newsprint and paper. In return Australia gets preferential rates on fresh and canned meats, lard, tallow, beeswax, eggs, cheese, butter, vegetables, dried fruits, raisins and currants, and in order to make the preferential treatment of raisins and currants more valuable to Australia the general tariff on those commodities is increased.

Mr. Meighen claims it will be injurious to mixed farming; Mr. Forke was not afraid of competition from that distance with Canadian agriculture, but objected to the prospects of the people having to pay more for currants and raisins. Both seemed to overlook the fact that it meant an increased market for many lines of goods made in Canada for which a wider market is urgently necessary.

Neither Mr. Meighen nor Mr. Forke undertook to tell parliament a better way for increasing the market for Canadian-made products. They know the chances of getting into the markets of United States are very small; they are aware that the purchasing power of Europe is not by any means a mighty force; yet, knowing these things, they are content simply with a denunciation of the government's proposal, with no suggestion as to how it might be altered or where to look for a better argument.

If the trade arrangement with Australia does work a hardship on any branch of Canadian endeavor that is not more than adequately offset by definite advantages in other directions we do not imagine the government of this country would be long in exercising its prerogative and cancelling the arrangement. At this stage no one can say that it is all bad, or yet claim that it is good in every part. It looks like a reasonable attempt to promote trade between Australia and Canada, and on that basis it should be conceded a fair trial.

Anthems and Ministers.

At a meeting of ministers, reported in a paper in a nearby city, the value of the average anthem used by the choirs was discussed. No vote was recorded on the continued existence of the anthem as an instrument of praise, yet it was quite evident, even from the mild-worded report, that there was a difference of opinion in regard to some of the anthems.

One noted divine in England, who has made several trips to Canada, is famous for his dread of hoisterous anthems, his reason being that they disturb and detract from the quiet spirit of worship which should be the foremost idea in a church service. On one occasion when occupying a strange pulpit, one particularly jubilant anthem preceded his sermon. Rising at the conclusion, he held up his hand and prayed, "Dear Lord, I hope you know what it was all about, for Thy servant does not."

A United church minister near London, who was formerly a Presbyterian, tells another about an anthem that was a great favorite some years ago, and which was always used on special occasions in the little church he used to attend. It was sung on the occasion of the visit of a rugged Scotch preacher. The words of it were:

Behold how good a thing it is,
And how becoming well Together such as brethren are In unity to dwell.

Like precious ointment on the head
Which down the beard did flow, E'en Aaron's beard which to the skirts Did of his garments grow.

Of course an anthem like that provides great scope for the imagination of the writer as well as for its interpretation by the vocalists. According to the minister who told the story, the first verse was written in peaceful lines; its melody ran in pleasant paths, and the idea of dwelling in unity was firmly established without very much of a struggle.

But when they came to the place where they attended to the business of pouring the precious ointment on the head and allowing a generous portion of it to flow down the beard, it is easy to understand that things became more complicated. The sopranos were the first to take up the work, and these dainty hand-maidens poured sweet liquid notes and small portions of ointment on the head—not much, just a little. The altos likewise tipped the vessel just a little more and in their deeper notes pictured the ointment as having been correctly deposited upon the head. It was then the turn of the tenors to assist, and the heavy basso section completed the task of making the oil run clean to the end of Aaron's beard. The climax came when the full choir joined to tell once more and for the last time about the ointment flowing down Aaron's beard even to the skirts of his garment. According to The Advertiser's informant the visiting minister, who above all else loved simplicity, was restless throughout the performance; he shifted in his chair several times, looked around at the choir, looked at his watch and coughed vigorously. When it was over he rose to deliver his message, but prefaced it with the following remark: "Now—brethren—that the choir has completed the shampooing of that unfortunate priest, let us begin to worship Almighty God."

That particular anthem was not used again.

A City of Homes.

During the first six months of 1925 there have been built in London 250 homes. That means with only four to a house, and that is below the average, accommodation for 1,000 people.

The building of a home represents a permanent investment; it means that the person planning and erecting the place intends to use it, or he has some person in view who wants it for the same purpose. That in turn, indicates that these families intend to stay in London; they have found it a good place in which to live. That is what has kept and will keep real estate prices steady in this city. Except for occasional exceptional circumstances real estate in London is sold on the basis of fair value created by a worth-while city.

The building of 250 new homes in the first six months of 1925 is a good thing for London. It's not a boom, but a steady development. People are building these homes because they want to live here, and that's about the finest compliment a city can receive.

The Drivers Will Help.

Chief Birrell has given instructions to enforce the bylaw against glaring headlights, and in so doing he ought to have the support of those most interested, the drivers themselves.

There can be no doubt that any number of drivers are rolling their cars around at night not knowing that their headlights are a nuisance and a danger. It is not conceivable that they should want to continue on that basis and for that reason they will welcome advice from an officer that their headlights need adjusting.

Coupled with such a warning there should be some definite instruction as to how to proceed with the cure. A driver who has been in behind a set of properly adjusted headlights, throwing their glare on the road instead of in the eyes of approaching drivers, is at once a booster for sane lighting. Let the good work proceed.

A Better Reason Needed.

Hamilton Herald says the government at Ottawa has cut out the appropriation for the new C. N. R. station at Hamilton and says "the reason is obvious: no member of the government at Ottawa is inconvenienced by the lack of decent C. N. R. station accommodation in Hamilton."

The Hamilton Herald is generally very fair in its editorial outlook, and that prompts the question: Does the Herald actually believe that the decision not to build a new station there at present is due to the fact that no member of the government has to use the Hamilton station? Furthermore, does the Herald consider that it would be wise to enter into a large expenditure for a new station at a time when it is essential above all else that the Canadian National should get out of the loss column and into the class where it will at least break even?

Good Time To Quit.

The Montreal Gazette has a word of warning on the folly of shooting the Lachine Rapids in a canoe. It has been demonstrated that it can be done—in fact the trip was made four times in one week, but all the way there was danger and death all around.

The Gazette's protest seems timely. The four men who shot the rapids were experts. If the fool enthusiasm spreads to others less expert it may be necessary to send word to points farther down the river to be on the lookout for a body and a battered canoe.

Note and Comment.

County magistrate says there are not many auto speeders around now. No—not while the speed-cap is looking.

It's very obliging for the speed cops in the country to wear white bands on their arms. It's easy to see them and behave while they're in sight.

Threats of using the bailiff has helped collect some money owing to the city. It's really not considered good form, you know, to have the neighbors see the bailiff perched on your doorstep.

The Detroit Free Press goes back a great many years to recall the time when the mission of the feminine garter was to hold up stockings, not traffic.

A number of Londoners went out to Pond Mills yesterday and gazed at sunspots through a telescope; shortly after, it started to rain. That's worth remembering.

Ex-Premier Drury says 4.4 beer is one of the worst crimes ever perpetrated on Ontario. And the man who drank it, expecting to receive a rare old wallop, thinks so, too.

Hon. Lincoln Goldie, provincial secretary, says men sent to jail can't smoke there, and that's all there is about it. He probably thinks there are enough women in jail now without making room for Lady Nicotine.

Turks are having a great time trying to decide on whether it's right for them to wear straw hats. They should wear the very latest style, because it was their soldiers who first introduced the idea of balloon trousers.

My Farmer Friend

He writes a letter, hot one, too, and claims the system does much harm, by urgin' on all kind of folks to go out workin' on a farm.

A man who runs a farm near here and does it as it should be done, has writ a letter in to me that shoots like bullets from a gun. For he has read so many times and listened to the same old yarn, "Why don't you go upon the sod and get a job upon a farm?"

You'd think, he says, that any jay that knew a curbstone from a barn, would be a dandy first-class hand to set to work upon a farm. When folks get hauled up into court for cartin' liquor after dark, or they what's lazy so they sit and grouch all day about the park, they always seem to think somehow that we could take them over night, and make 'em so they'd do our work and carry on out here all right.

Why don't they pick on some one else when they have folks like that to dump, and see how fast that some of them will rear around the streets and jump.

Suppose they started in to say to them what's got no work to do, or them what's always on the look to get a job that's still more new, suppose they told these idle men or spoke to him, a chronic crank, and asked them why they didn't go and work within the village bank.

Or else next day they turned around and started in to tell these men, to work into a grocery store and not be comin' here again.

I bet, he says, they'd be a row, the banker he'd be on the run, the grocer he'd look up his store and reach out for his two-barreled gun. Why they would say advice like that is just a-wastin' of your powers, why don't you know it takes some brains to run a business such as ours.

But they suppose, so now it seems, that any man can do a chore, and work around a place like this who's never seen a farm before.

Why lots of them what come out here they won't get up till nine o'clock, they don't know how to milk a cow or keep house for the dairy stock. Why they don't know that when pigs eat they use their snout and both their legs, 'bout all they're good for anyway is lappin' up the ham and eggs.

It's certain how this friend of mine don't see a chuckle or much charm, in takin' any sort of folks to ship them out upon the farm, what's more he says there's lots of them they don't know even hay from straw, and how can they go teamin' when they don't know even see from haw.—ARK.

To the Editor

All Get To Work.

Plea Made For Cessation of Controversy Now and Serious Application of Efforts to the Task in Hand.

Editor of The Advertiser:
Sir,—Now that all men see that there is a United church in Canada as well as a Presbyterian church why not close the chapter of argument and all get to work?

In congregations in which the vote has gone in favor of union why should not that congregation settle itself for the work of the United church? Why should any outsider venture to disturb its peace? In any congregation that has voted to remain Presbyterian why should not that congregation settle itself to her manifest task, uninterrupted by any outside her ranks? In either of such congregations, should conscience require of anyone that he withdraw from fellowship with the majority, why should he not do so, carrying with him nothing but good wishes for those from whom he separates?

We live in great days. No other factor in the life of the commonwealth approaches in importance the element that may be furnished by the church. Men thought of her as a negligible quantity. This fallacy has been swept aside. Men appreciate her as never before. Statesmen and social workers and merchants are turning to her for the word that none but she can utter. Will she lose herself in the dust of controversy? Evil is eager, cruel, persistent, aggressive. Will the church now ignore this fact to come down from her appointed task to waste her strength in barren discussion? Why not stop talking and destroying and get to healing and building? The more a church argues, the less she does.

MINISTER.

Reverent Tribute Is Paid During Memorial Service To Hero-Nurses Who Died

Col. Clifford Reason Speaks at Ceremony in the First United Church.

SERVICE IS SIMPLE

Col. Wm. Beattie and Capt. J. Garbutt Officiate—Maj. Hunter Speaks.

"At the going down of the sun and in the morning we will remember."

These words, repeated last night by Col. Clifford Reason at the memorial service held in the First United church, voiced the one big thought which united the little company gathered there. From all parts of London they had come, of diverse religious creeds, some perhaps with no creed at all, to honor the memory of Canadian nursing sisters whose lives were sacrificed in the great war.

There was something tremendous in the thought that such services were being held throughout the empire simultaneously.

When the Last Post was sounded here in London and every eye was wet as memory turned back through the years, other buglers sounded the same refrain at York Minster, England. Here a memorial was erected in the hearts of the men and women who sought comfort together. There the spiritual memorial took tangible form in magnificent windows unveiled by the National Council of Women to Canadian nurses who are among the soldier dead.

A minute of silence through the church, while the little company stood waiting, the jubilant notes of reveille sounded forth, here as there, the signal that old sorrows were transformed in the rose glow of a new and happier morning.

Service is simple. The service last night was simple, simpler even than had been intended, because the storm had damaged the church organ. Yet there was a reality and a dignity in it that is often lost in more elaborate ceremonials. The gathering was small out of all London, but those who came to the church came not to see, nor to hear, but to place a spiritual flower on graves beneath which lie a white kerchief and a red cross.

In the front row of all was a little company of city nurses, there to remember together, sisters in service, assisted by Capt. J. Garbutt, Major Bruce Hunter was the first speaker of the evening. "We stand with our heads bowed in this hallowed hour," he said, "and we might indeed repeat these words, 'Beloved dead, rest in peace.' In fancy we might take a trip across the ocean and visit that sacred land stretching from the Arctic to the tropics, where white crosses mark the spots and poppies bloom beside. "Here in Canada we may grow rich, we may become great, and sometimes even we may forget those who laid down their lives during the great war. But every year, the month of June, when the breezes blow over the poppies in France, the air will be permeated with something which is forever Canada, and we shall remember."

Two Philosophies. "In 1914 two philosophies of life strove for supremacy in the world. The one, the philosophy of force and survival of the fittest, was adopted by the Prussian. Over against that philosophy we put the philosophy of peace which is the philosophy of Christ, and we were anxious to extend that philosophy and the Kingdom of Christ. It was for that philosophy that our nursing sisters crossed the seas and our men laid down their lives."

The speaker concluded with a graphic description of the nursing sisters at the front, moving from tent to tent, in rubber boots, with shells falling overhead. Some paid the supreme sacrifice, others returned from the effects of their task overseas. It was these whom we must not forget.

Speaks More Personally. Col. Clifford Reason spoke more personally. His talk was rather a description of life in the hospitals at the front. He referred to the hospital where in one day alone the hospital took in over 2,000 wounded, and how nurses from New Zealand, from South Africa and other parts of the empire were rushed to their assistance. And thousands of men were sent back to Britain and to Canada because of their services.

He referred in glowing terms of the noble work of the nursing sisters when on May 29, 1918, his hospital was bombed by the Huns, of how at midnight the Red Cross flag was blown from the top of the hospital and two nurses were killed. Just above in one of the wards, Nursing Sister Dorothy Baldwin, a graduate of Victoria hospital, was carrying on her work of mercy, and paid the supreme sacrifice.

Yet in spite of their losses and in spite of the first which broke out in the hospital, the nurses who were left labored incessantly, two of them wounded, and brought the patients safely from the building. The next day Bishop Talbot of London and his wife were in an unforgettable memorial service to the dead.

1,370 Nurses Died.

Mrs. John Rose, president of the local council of women, under whose auspices the service was held, spoke briefly. One thousand, three hundred and seventy nurses had made the supreme sacrifice during the war, she said, and of these 43 were Canadians. The women of London, in this service, were uniting with the women of the empire to pay fresh tributes to the dead.

The service was held against a background of British standards and large clusters of flowers. Sergeants Horner and Perry sounded the Last Post, while George Leithbridge and a small choir led the congregational singing.

Captain Roy Mess read the honor roll of Canadian nurses as follows, the names to appear on the memorial in York minster: Matron Jessie Jagard, Matron Margaret Fraser and Nursing Sisters Miriam E. Baker, Dorothy Mary Yarwood Baldwin (Byron Sanatorium) Grace Errol Bolton, Christina Campbell, Ainsley St. Clair Dagg, Lena Aloa Davis, Carola Josephine Douglas, Alexina Dussault, Minnie Follette, Agnes Florian Forner, Margaret Jane Fortescue, Min-

Domestic Animals, Birds Benefit In Amendment To Criminal Code

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, June 24.—An amendment to the criminal code making it against the law to abandon in distress or fail to provide food and water for domestic animals and birds, was described as "ridiculous legislation" in the Senate this afternoon by Senator Beaubien.

"If you have a canary you forget and it dies, you will have to go to jail or pay a fine," he said. "Where would such legislation stop?" he asked. "Will we stop short of fleas or those other animals that bite, well known in the war?" asked the senator.

The amendments were carried.

SIR ADAM URGES ONTARIO TO PRESERVE JEALOUSLY RICH HERITAGE OF POWER

Writes Letter Calling Upon Municipalities To Guard Their Rights.

PROGRESS ENJOYED

Special to The Advertiser.
Niagara Falls, June 24.—In his first public pronouncement regarding hydro-electric since he was stricken with illness Sir Adam Beck called upon the municipalities to guard carefully the rich heritage of water power which is theirs.

The message was in the form of a letter addressed to the secretary of the Ontario Municipal Electrical Association and was read last night before a meeting of that body.

The letter follows:
"Dear Sirs,—In acknowledging your very kind invitation to attend the annual banquet of the Ontario Municipal Electrical Association and the Association of Municipal Electrical Utilities, I desire first of all to express my deep appreciation of your kindness and to say that if it were not for the limitations at present placed upon me I should be most happy to be present with you.

Those of us who are familiar with the history of the publicly-owned hydro-electric utilities of this province know that the splendid assistance rendered by you has greatly contributed to bring about the present satisfactory condition of the whole undertaking. The confidence that has been manifested towards you by those whom you represent, and the confidence that has existed between the members of your association and the hydro-electric power commission has, probably more than any other feature, been the secret of the success that has been attained. You must all continue to exercise a live interest in the commission's affairs.

Work Progresses.
"May I remark that at the time I was compelled, through illness, to lay aside the less important details, the prominent matters that were in hand, such as the work in connection with the Queenston-Chippawa plant, the Nipigon development, the program respecting the development of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers, the initial steps looking to the establishment of steam plants, had been advanced as far as it had been possible, and with the constant attention of the Honorable Mr. Cooke to the affairs of the commission, and the continued co-operation and loyalty of the staff and the whole of the commission's organization, the affairs of the commission have not suffered or been neglected.

"It is unnecessary for me to emphasize to the members of your association the vital importance of developing as required hydro-electric energy from the remaining water powers available in the province so that this energy may be available to the municipal, domestic, commercial and industrial requirements of Ontario municipalities. On all sides there is a growing and more intelligent appreciation of the basic and intrinsic value that attaches to low-cost hydro-electric energy. Control of this energy is coveted by many who would like to see it exported to the United States. One can hardly find fault with our neighbors to the south for desiring to have such a valuable commodity to aid in building up their industries and communities, but it is scarcely to be expected that Ontario citizens can be induced to part with a commodity so essential to their own necessities and welfare.

See Danger.
"It is only within the present month that one of the most determined and dangerous assaults ever made, involving the future welfare of the municipalities of the province of Ontario, was under consideration by the Dominion government. I refer, of course, to the proposals in connection with the development of hydro-electric energy at the Carleton Place power site on the lower Ottawa river. The terms of the leases in connection with the development of this site were, as I have said in a pamphlet dealing with this Carleton Place proposal, simply scandalous. A desperate attempt was made to open a flood through which unlimited quantities of electrical energy from the Ottawa river and from the St. Lawrence river, would be exported from Canada to the United States. It is unnecessary here to review this situation, because I have fully covered it in the printed pamphlet issued earlier in this month, but I do desire to take this opportunity of earnestly impressing upon every representative interested that the closest scrutiny must continually be made of all proposals to develop from remaining water power of our province, including, of course, the St. Lawrence river and the remaining power that may be developed from the Niagara river.

"Provincial rights must be protected to the utmost. Citizens like the members of your organization have now had an extensive experience with matters appertaining to the development and distribution of electrical energy, and your close watchfulness and intelligent action, as occasion requires, will not only be a protection to the general interests of the province, but will be a protection also to all the municipalities.

Meet Shortage.
"On several occasions I have emphasized the fact that we are approaching a serious shortage of electrical energy. Every possible effort has been made to obtain from the federal government the authority necessary to enable the Hydro-Electric Power Commission to proceed with the development of power in the upper portion of the St. Lawrence river. Our hopes in this respect have been disappointed. The desired authority has not been granted. There is no definite assurance when such authority will be obtained. The Hydro-Electric Power Commission, however, is moving as rapidly as possible to construct one or more steam-electric plants, so that the industrial development of the province need not be curtailed. It will, I need not be curtailing it will, I understand that until such time as it will be necessary to generate a much larger proportion of electrical energy from steam than is at present produced, the necessary steam-electric power can be produced and supplied under circumstances that will, it is believed, entail no increase in the local rates for electrical energy to consumers.

Results Encourage.
"In here making a general reference to the work of the commission, I should like to say that the operations under the commission's jurisdiction under the commission's jurisdiction under contract have increased from 656 to 386. The amount of power generated reached in December, 1924, an aggregate of over 750,000 horsepower. During the year the capital investment in our municipal undertaking increased from $242,000,000 to about $263,000,000, and the annual revenue now amounts to nearly $19,000,000, and the reserves set aside for renewals and sinking fund by the commission amount to over $39,000,000. In fact no matter what aspect of the commission's work is reviewed, it will be found that there is a very satisfactory growth.

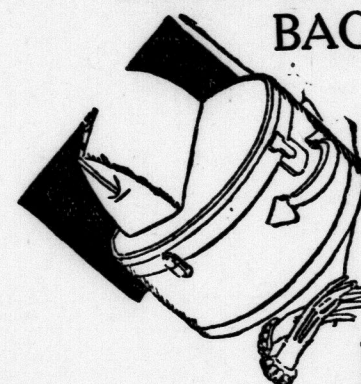

"With respect to the increased demand for electrical energy, I should remark that the course of circumstances bears out the representations I have before made to the effect that our provincial markets will be able to absorb all the hydro-electric energy that our water powers can produce. I recognize, of course, that the development of some of these water powers will take many years to complete operation, but it is my belief that the municipalities and the consumers of the electricity will be required by the Hydro-Electric Power commission as rapidly as it can be made available. This has been the experience in the past notwithstanding all the pessimistic
