CANADA IS LAID BY DUKE

Governor General Has Great Confidence in Dominion.

He Hopes to See Great Highways Built in Canada.

LONDON, April 26.—The Canadian Club was honored with the Duke of Connaught as its chief guest last night. Lord Strathcona presided with Earl Grey on his left. The company also included: Postmaster-General Samuel, Sir G. Armstrong, Sir T. Burrow, the Bishop of Columbia, Bishop Peffer, Lord Desborough, Admiral Drury, Lord Emmott, Alderman Hanson, Sir Thomas Lipton, Rt. Hon. Walter Long, Major Malcolm Murray, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Sir William Mackenzie, and practically every other notable Canadian in London.

The Duke of Connaught was obviously moved by the warmth of the reception which was renewed after his death by our present gracious Sovereign. I felt great doubt as to whether I could do justice so high a position. "Do not doubt I should be the guest of the Canadians to-day as I was thirty years ago. "Gentlemen," His Royal Highness continued, "since I have been in Canada during the last year and a half I have been able to gain the keen sympathy, I venture to say, the affection of the whole Canadian people. I am sure you will believe me when I say I never spent a happier year and a night."

His Royal Highness went on to speak of his tour of the Dominion: "To those Englishmen who have not been here, I say the sooner they go the better. It is moving with leaps and bounds." His Royal Highness paid a tribute to the enterprise of the Canadian railroads, but expressed the hope that the government may be its way clear to promote great highways as well.

He also expressed deep gratitude for the sympathy shown the Duke, "who on two occasions has been the death's door. She as well as myself has become very much attached to Canada. We have made a very nice home here. I only hope if my health permits, we may go back and spend another year in your midst."

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, proposing the toast of the visitors, spoke of the greatest possible spirit of liberality with which Great Britain has provided Canadian loans during the last twelve years, amounting to $200,000,000. He advanced figures to show that such borrowing had proved to be justified. "There is nothing on the horizon to-day to cause anyone to hesitate making investments in Canada," Sir Thomas Shaughnessy continued. "If only due caution is exercised." The speaker concluded with a vigorous arraignment of the naturalization laws.

Postmaster-General Samuel expressed his appreciation of the mail contract just negotiated by Hon Mr Pelletier. He directed attention to the recent improvements in cable communication, and assured Sir Thomas Shaughnessy that the government anticipated being able to deal early with the naturalization question. Rt. Hon Mr Samuel also mentioned that he was looking forward to visiting Canada himself this year.

Put Guns on All Big British Liners

Will Be Difficult Matter, The Times Points Out in Article To-Day.

[Canadian Press Despatch] NEW YORK, April 26.—A London cable says—in view of the movement now in progress to equip British liners with guns supplied by the Admiralty for the purpose of defence in war time, the Times this morning discusses the position of the White Star Company which though registered in this country, is controlled by the International Mercantile Marine Co. of America. The Times says: "In this question of armament there is no room for a twin nationality. If the White Star Line is thoroughly British then it should be one of the lines to be approached by the Admiralty with an offer of guns—and frankly, on the facts known it is impossible to see how it can be so regarded—then how can the Admiralty lend the guns? Then, if the line does not fall in with the scheme because of its nationality, it would seem paradoxical for its ships to continue to fly the British flag and work under British conditions."

"The only satisfactory solution to the difficulty would seem to be for the British financiers to acquire the whole of the Morgan interests. Otherwise, since under the new circumstances doubtful nationality is out of the question it would hardly be surprising to find the whole fleet transformed to the American flag." As The Times further points out, similar conditions apply to the Atlantic Transport, Dominion and Leyland Lines.

HEALTH BOARD HOLD MEETING

Dr. Pearson's Account Was Satisfactorily Settled Last Night.

A meeting of the Board of Health was held in the Mayor's office last night. Present, John Latte, chairman, Mayor Hartman, W. E. Walsh, A. S. Pitcher, Sanitary Inspector Glover and Dr. F. G. E. Pearson.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and the following accounts were passed and recommended to be paid: Michael Deleany, $2.50; W. Eastcott, milk, $3; Brantford Bill Posting, $3; W. W. Simpson, drugs, $0.75; M. H. Robertson, drugs, $30.12; Hunt and Colter, $7.50.

Mayor Hartman raised an objection to Dr. Pearson being paid $150 for services rendered the patient at the small pox hospital, claiming that as he was being paid a salary of $1200 per year by the city he was not entitled to it. The technical points of the case were discussed, and after much deliberation it was decided to give him a bonus of $75 for his services on a motion which was passed unanimously.

Moved by A. S. Pitcher, seconded by W. E. Walsh, that the resolution of May 18th, 1913, passing the account of Dr. Pearson, $150, be rescinded and that he be granted a bonus of $75 for services at small pox hospital.

The question of meat and other articles offered for sale on the market and in stores came up for a lot of discussion, and the board was unanimous that the council should at once take steps to pass a by-law covering the sale of meat and produce in the city.

The meat on the market which is offered for sale, and exposed to wind, dust, etc, came in for much condemnation, and after thrashing the matter out for some length, the following motion was passed and will be sent to the city council for their consideration: Moved by W. E. Walsh, seconded by A. S. Pitcher, that the city council be asked to pass a by-law to make all dealers offering for sale such products as fresh and salt meats, fresh sausages, cooked and jellied meats, fresh and all smoked fish, dried fruits, dressed poultry, cheese; all berry fruits of the juicy kind, bread, cakes; pastry of all kinds, candies, to cover the above products with fly screens, the said screens to be erected four inches above the said products offered for sale. This by-law to apply to all dealers who do not keep the said products under cover, such as show cases, where flies cannot come in contact with products above mentioned.

TIRING OF STARS AND STRIPES

Combination of English Manufacturers Re Pictures.

Efforts to Supply Canada with Real British Pictures.

[Canadian Press Despatch] LONDON, April 26.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: "Tired of the Stars and Stripes," are the words used in announcing a combination of manufacturers agents and exhibitors of British moving picture films organized to try to substitute in England and the British colonies, pictures of English scenery and waterfalls, of British animated, story-telling films supplied by American and continental firms. The announcement continues: "The British public is admittedly tired of American wild west scenes and peculiarly continental domestic scenes. The lack of British films is giving the inhabitants of the colonies who have never seen England, totally erroneous impressions of the mother country. If they see a battleship it flies the stars and stripes; if they see a fire brigade at work, the background is New York."

The complaint is made that the United States supplies Canada with 90 per cent of the films exhibited in the Dominion. "Winnipeg alone, with its 200,000 inhabitants, speaking twenty or thirty languages, throngs the picture palaces every night to see picture after picture of American production." One-third of the exhibitors of the United Kingdom are joining in the agreement. At present against one hundred manufacturers in the United States there are only about ten in England and only $10,000,000 is invested here.

A Runaway

A runaway took place at five minutes past twelve to-day, when a team attached to one of Donaldson and Walker's hacks bolted in front of the Fire Hall and ran to the corner of Brant avenue and Dalhousie St. The team was driven by Mr. Walker and was coming down Queen street and in turning the corner of Dalhousie street, Mr. Walker lost his balance and fell from the seat on to the pavement and sustained a severe gash on the top of his head. He was picked up by P. C. Burn who carried him into the fire hall where the constable rendered first aid. Dr. Secord was phoned for and soon arrived on the scene and dressed the wound. He was afterwards driven to his home. The horses in the meantime dashed up Dalhousie street and struck a hydrant at the corner of Brant avenue, breaking the whiffletree and doing other slight damage to the rig.

BENWELL MURDER CASE RECALLED BY DEATH OF HAMILTON PASTOR WHO KNEW BIRCHALL'S SECRET

Without doubt it was Birchall's intention to push him in, and then to pretend that he had slipped, or become dizzy and fallen in. So much for the introduction. Now for a little necessary break in these reminiscences.

Finding of a Body Early in 1890 the body of a young man was found in a swamp at Princeton, a place near Woodstock. There was a bullet wound in the head, and nothing by which to identify the remains. An inquest was held, and some farmers testified that they identified him as a peddler Jew whom they had seen on Woodstock market the previous Saturday. As such he was buried.

First Clue From Brantford The late Chief Vaughan, then head of the Brantford police department, on Thursday, February 27th, 1890, called on the present editor of the Courier, who at that time also occupied a like position, and remarked that he had been following the case and that he was satisfied that a mystery remained to be cleared up. He asked the newspaper man to go halves in driving to the scene, and this was readily agreed upon. They went that afternoon, and the Courier of February 28, 1890, on file at this office shows what they discovered.

The next day there was a two-column article headed "A Mystery Indeed." "The Strange Circumstances Surrounding the Princeton Murder." The article is too long to reprint in full, but here is a portion of it: "The Princeton murder is without question one of the most mysterious crimes ever recorded in Canada, and a personal visit to the scene serves to still further emphasize the extraordinary nature of the surrounding circumstances." Chief Vaughan and a Courier man took the journey yesterday afternoon, and the trip in a gruesome sort of way proved a very interesting one. The crime certainly presents some very unusual features. Here is the body of a well-dressed man discovered in a lonely swamp at the far end of Oxford county. * Deceased was 5 feet 8 inches in height, about 24 years old and of slight build. In fact Constable Watson, who took particular pains to get at a correct estimate in the matter said at the outside he would not weigh more than 140 pounds. His face was thin and the features clear cut. The hands were small and tapering, and they had manifestly never been used in rough employment. The muscles, although well developed, had not been hardened by any hard work. Altogether the body was that of a man apparently in easy circumstances, or one who at any rate lived by his wits if he had to earn a living. There does not seem to be any ground for the supposition that he had any Indian blood in him.

Old Cottages to be Torn Down For Bell Memorial Park

The above shows a row of cotta ges on the corner of Bridge and Pearl streets, with a glimpse of a corner of Grace Church in the rear. This property was expropriated by the Bell Park Board and will be at once torn down after an auction sale on Monday.

VERITY FIRE LAST NIGHT

Cupalo Was Damaged Somewhat - Firemen Were in the Dark.

Fire broke out in the cupalo building at the Verity Flow works at 10:30 last night and caused a few hundred dollars loss to the second floor of the building. The cause is said to have been defective insulation. Two streams of hose were already laid when the firemen arrived and the department put one more on. The factory whistle was blown as an alarm several minutes before the fire department was summoned. The fire was extremely hard to get at, and the plant was in pitch darkness. Chief Lewis this morning stated that he had previously recommended better lighting facilities in these large plants and would again ask that something be done. Had the fire been of unusual proportions, the firemen would have been greatly hampered. The chief recommends a separate circuit so that lights can be turned on in case of emergency.

Milk Maids Put on Entertainment in Trinity Church School Room.

The young ladies of the Girls Friendly Club of Trinity Church gave a very entertaining little "skit" called the "Milkmaids Convention" in the school room last night, which was attended by large and appreciative audience were not slow in showing their appreciation of the efforts of the young ladies by heartily applauding them for their work. Miss Annie Kerr made a capital directress of ceremonies and it was partially due to her efforts that the affair was the success that it turned out to be. The Milkmaids met for their annual convention and discussed the different kind of milk, cream, coops, butter, etc. They also discussed whether they would allow the Press representatives in or not and this caused a very spirited and laughable debate. It was finally agreed to let the scribes in after the young ladies had given them a severe roasting. Talk about the City Council all talking at once, they were amateurs beside those milkmaids when they got at it.

Good Work Boy Scouts Laid First Stream on Last Night's Fire.

Just to show what boy scouts would do in an emergency, the Trinity and Brant Troops at the conclusion of the affair at the Y.M.C.A. last night, heard the Verity fire whistle alarm and responded with alacrity. They were first on the scene, and laid the first two streams on the fire, using the company's equipment. That was pretty good work for the seven boys who were in charge of Scout Master Crumple and his assistant, Scott.

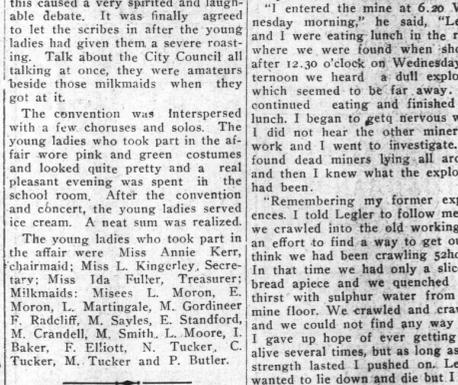

TERRIBLE TALE IS TOLD

How One Man Twice Escaped From Mine Calamity.

He Saved His Companion's Life by Great Luck.

[Canadian Press Despatch] PITTSBURG, April 26.—Charles Crawl, who with Philip Legler, was taken alive last midnight from the Cincinnati Mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Co., of Finleyville, where a disastrous explosion occurred on Wednesday, was also a survivor of the Marianna Mine disaster of November 18, 1908, when 154 lives were lost. In that explosion Crawl lost his right eye. The rescue of Crawl and Legler, both of whom are 36 years old, was effected by J. McVickers and Clyde Gibson, members of the coal company's rescue crew, who entered the mine last night after the expert helmet men and mining inspector had given up work for the night. When McVickers and Gibson reached a point two and a half miles from the entrance they heard a faint cry towards which they groped and discovered the two miners in what is known as room 10, or entry 20. The men were barely conscious and had to be practically dragged through the long tunnels to the opening. It was considered miraculous that they had survived at all for the explosion and gases had already claimed the lives of 96 men.

Crawl is a widower and has two children. His first words when rescued were a plea to see his children at once. He said it seemed he had been in the mine for a week. At the hospital this morning Crawl had recovered sufficiently to tell his story. "I entered the mine at 6.30 Wednesday morning," he said, "Legler and I were eating lunch in the room where we were found when shortly after 12.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon we heard a dull explosion which seemed to be far away. We continued eating and finished our lunch. I began to get nervous when I did not hear the other miners at work and I went to investigate. I found dead miners lying all around and then I knew what the explosion had been. "Remembering my former experiences, I told Legler to follow me and we crawled into the old workings in an effort to find a way to get out. I think we had been crawling 5 hours. In that time we had only a slice of bread apiece and we quenched our thirst with sulphur water from the mine floor. We crawled and crawled and we could not find any way out. I gave up hope of ever getting out alive several times, but as long as my strength lasted, I pushed on. Legler wanted to lie down and die but I urged him on. In Room 23, entry 10, we found an old man and his son. They were alive, but could not move. We tried to carry them, but their weight was too great, and we were exhausted. When we left the old man and his son my mind seemed to wander, but I held Legler's hand and in some way we got back to where we started from after the explosion."

This is a view of the Austin brick residence to be torn down at the corner of West and Wellington Streets on the site of the Bell Park. It also has become delapidated and will be torn down.

When Crawl was taken from the mine a message was found scribbled in chalk on the lines of his overalls. The message read: "Good-bye, my children. God bless you." Legler furnished a simple account of his experience, giving credit to Crawl for saving his life. "Only for Crawl," he said, "I would have given up too different times, but he urged me on. I never expected to see daylight again but God was with us and helped us through."

One of the leaders among the tant suffragettes across the pond is Miss Zelle Emerson, a Canadian who might be more engaged helping to look after domestic circle at home.

There has been an effort on the part of some striking sister of the line to define her as a m and also Mrs. Pankhurst and of the softer sex who refuse to nourishment in the ordinary but it is gratifying to note that of the U. S. papers refuse to the statue of Liberty over in to throw it at Asquith's head something equally practicable.

Here are some sample remarks New York Life:—
"After nine days' imprisonment, in which she refused food, feeding and other self-inflicted hardships, they say she broke her turning it up at the British Government, and has developed a dicitis out of pure spite. The vel is that our cousins do not Miss Emerson home to her and put bars up against her re Mrs. Emmeline is their own ble which they will have to through, but why should bother with Zelle? She is ne by the way. At home, in Mich where woman suffrage was do ed in the election on April 7, this of last year, their own movement seems for the mo to be checked. Perhaps its inc ing unpopularity in England i flected in this country."

CLOSER TO THE PEOPLE
These are days of great changes and the tendency is and more towards the people. Within a comparatively space of time China has become public. The Young Turks have control in that country and in the Balkan nations have freed them from the Turkish yoke.

The Old Land, although u monarchial rule, has with one exception, an hereditary House of Le been practically a Republic, but Upper Chamber has had its po so clipped that as one remarked, though they can grow, they e bite. Without much doubt, w the lifetime of very many it will turned into a popular chamber u out regard to titles as such. In o words, the majority of the mem as now, will not get in there thro the tomb of a progenitor.

In the United States also there been a successful effort to have tions elected by the people. U the original constitution and u the present moment the State Le tures have each selected two tors for a term of 6 years. The n sary three-fourths of the said St have now ratified the seven amendment to the constitution w provides for the direct election of Senators by the people. The cha is quite sweeping and should p beneficial.

In Canada we are having trou with our own Senate. The peo have no say in the choice of members of that Chamber, and year at the behest of the party lears, the Grit majority threw much excellent legislation of Borden Government. Now t threaten to decapitate the Navy when it reaches them, if Lau gives them the nod. This kind thing is intolerable and should be ended.

A man before becoming a Sen should have to run the gamut the electors, and then at the end a specified number of years go be them either for endorsement or kick out. If the present irres pables tamper with the Navy, they will find that Borden will m

NOTES AND COMMENTS

With all those ruckeries cleared away to establish the Bell Park, my, won't our City Hall be the lonely old thing.

If anyone doubts that the acquisition of the Brantford Street Railway is not a popular move, he should hang around the Courier for a while and hear what those who come in say about it.

Miss Lind, a leading opponent of vivisection in the Old Land lost her libel suit against the Pall Mall Gazette and a doctor. She conducted her own case and in the fifty six hours of the trial, spoke about 300,000 words.

Conservative members have given Sir James Whitney a motor-car, though no one can see how he could be any mo-Tory than he is now—Toronto Star.

There must be something wrong with your exhaust oil chap.

And once more we have the glad-some spring days with wifey overhauling and re-arranging furniture, which to a mere man looked all right before and hubby out in the garden straining his digging muscles in order to plant things of which he doesn't even know the name.

Continued from Page Four from New York and had a very pleasant trip indeed. Your son has inspected all my books and all my business arrangements, and introduced him to people who know me well.

The Final Scene

Those present will never forget the final scene when Birchall was brought in for sentence. The midnight hour, the dimly lighted hall, the moon shining in through one of the windows, the faltering voice of the judge, and other accessories, served to make the proceedings doubly solemn as the accused came into court handcuffed to his guard.

DYING FROM GALL-STONES

Doctors Said Only An Operation Could Save His Life—"Fruit-a-tives" Enabled Him To Pass Nearly 200 Gall-Stones.

J. B. HARDING, Esq.

46 Grove Ave., Toronto, Ont., Jan. 10th, 1913. "I suffered untold agony from GALL-STONES for the past three years, and tried many doctors without getting relief. I also paid $5.00 for one bottle of medicine which was useless. At times the pain from these gall-stones was so great that I lost consciousness, and my condition was desperate. I was quite satisfied that I was dying and the doctors said I must be operated upon.

"During one of these severe, acute attacks, I was given some 'FRUIT-A-TIVES', and after taking a short treatment of this remedy, I passed gall-stones over an inch in length, and as many as one hundred and fifty or two hundred in number. 'FRUIT-A-TIVES' was the only thing that would relieve my pain. They are the greatest medicine in the world, and if there is anyone in Canada, or anywhere else, that suffers from gall-stones, I say 'Let them take 'Fruit-a-tives' and be cured'.

"If this testimonial will further the good work of 'Fruit-a-tives', publish it with my full authority." J. B. HARDING. "Are you wondering how 'Fruit-a-tives'—a medicine made from fruit juices, can cure Gall-stones? We will tell you. The Gall bladder is the reservoir for holding the Gall, or bile, secreted by the liver. If there is insufficient bile, then the bile in the Gall bladder is thick and easily forms stones. When the liver is weak, it secretes very little bile and then the Gall bladder is partially filled with a thick jelly-like mass of bile and thus forms into lumps or stones. 'Fruit-a-tives' stimulates the liver to secrete more bile, and this increased bile softens the Gall-stones and by overfilling the Gall bladder, forces the passage of the stones through the Gall duct—and thus cures the disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices. By a wonderful process, the medicinal properties of certain fruits are greatly intensified—then valuable tonics and antiseptics are added and the whole made into the pleasant tasting tablets known in every section of Canada as "Fruit-a-tives". "Old Folks" Concert

An Enjoyable Event Was Put on at Sydenham Church Last Night

The "Old Folks Concert of One Hundred Years Ago," given by the choir of Sydenham street church last evening drew a bumper house and the entertainment fully deserved the large attendance. For some weeks the leader, Mr. A. R. Knott has been training the choir for this event and he must have been pleased with the result of his labors. Especial mention ought to be made of the costumes of the ladies. They were gathered from far and near and were truly gorgeous and stunning. Many of them are highly treasured relics of the past and were loaned by old friends of the choir. The men's costumes were also striking and characteristic of by-gone days. Many of the popular songs of years ago were rendered during the evening such as "Old Lang Syne," "Billy Boy," "You Can't Have Any of My Peanuts," "Juanita," "Bonnie Doon," "Annie Laurie," "Anvil Chorus," "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," "Comin' Through the Rye," "Forsaken," "Home Sweet Home," "I Cannot Sing the Old Songs," "Robin Adair," "Sound the Loud Timbrel," "Life's Long Dream Is O'er," "Swanee River," "Sweet and Low," "Theres Music in the Air," "We Are All Noddin'," "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," "The Old Song," "Wait for the Wagon," "Cousin Jedediah," "Good Night Ladies" and others. A spicy dialogue and amusing speeches and recitations and parodies all aided in keeping the audience in the best of good humor. The affair was supposed to be a rehearsal for a concert one hundred years ago for which the services were secured of a German professor to assist in putting on the finishing touches. Mrs. Howard was especially good and the parts taken by Misses A. Huffman, I. Knott, Jack Cowbrough, Will Telford and Mrs. E. Alderson were also well performed. Mr. Knott made an ideal professor. The affair was a splendid success and is worthy of repetition. Miss Willman acted as accompanist in a very satisfactory manner. After the entertainment, several friends entertained the choir at the home of Mr. A. Scruton. The cast: Herr Glockenspiel Fitzboole, A. R. Knott; Squire Durmitt, Ernest Alderson; Eleazer Osborne, Chas. A. McWebb; Dr. Quick, Will Telford; Sarah Scheecher, Mrs. Howard; Widow Wise, Ariel Huffman; Henrietta Homelish, I. Knott; Jerusha Jane Cooley, Mrs. Earthy; Mercy Toomey, Mabel Willis; Prudence Issey Virtue, Mary McWebb; Faith Ann Works, Grace Kilgour; Mrs. Wm. Penn Perkins, Hazel Huffman; Samanthly Smilax, Mrs. E. Alderson; Kate Perkins, Lily Dungey; Hannah Hooper, Florence Gillespie; Duplicate Perkins, Margaret English; Triplicate Perkins, Ursula Willis; Orson Wagon, Herb. S. Scruton; Major Strain, Mr. Joe Earthy; Uri Nutter, Russell Gowman; Leguminis Blue, I. D. Scruton; Plymouth Rock Rickens, Mr. Pinnock; Coronation Cooley, Mr. Kilby; Wm. Penn Perkins, John Kilgour; Peter Perkins, Frank Alderson; Repeater Perkins, Mr. Davison; Welby Gosh, Ellis Miller; Hiram Hooper, Jack Cowbrough; Pianist, Miss Willman; conductor, A. R. Knott.

Caruso and Cobb

ATLANTA, Ga., April 24.—Eric Caruso, the tenor, and Tyrus Cobb, the premier baseball player, yesterday visited the federal prison here. Caruso sang in the prison chapel at the request of Warden Moyer, made in behalf of the Italians who are serving sentences. All the prisoners were allowed to hear the noted singer, and many were moved to tears when he sang the "Sob Song," from Pagliacci. Caruso was visibly affected at the conclusion of his programme, when his fellow countrymen in the prison presented him with two large bouquets of roses. Cobb was given a hearty demonstration by members of the prison base ball team. He left Atlanta last night for Detroit.

can be had as to the sterling quality of our Household Coal, for everybody who has used it once cannot help but praise it. One thing to be said in its favor—besides its great heating and slow burning properties—it is that it is ALL COAL, and contains no dirt or rubbish, but is perfectly dry and well screened. Added to which you always get your full weight to the ounce, and the prices are lower than usual at present.

Artistic Display Wall Papers!

You may not know that you are indeed a true lover of Art you unconsciously have a feeling that you are not satisfied with the hangings of your rooms, and when you see an effect that is the something that appeals to your ideas of what is pleasing, you say: "Now, there is the style I have wanted for a long time, but it must be very expensive and difficult to make." Yes, perhaps you are right, but then, again, you may not be—there are many very elaborate effects attained by simply "knowing how." We make a specialty of "knowing how," and will be pleased to give any person the benefit of our advanced knowledge of the proper styles in paper hanging, and also of a stock that is right-up-to-now in correctness.

WOMAN WHAT SHE IS DOING

high esteem in which the host and hostess are held. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. VanEvery and Miss Reta of Galt were midweek guests at 46 Dundas street. Mr. M. Van Every of Hamilton was the guest of his brother, Mr. T. C. Van Every. Messrs. A. and L. Van Every of Galt were Thursday visitors with the former's brother at 46 Dundas street while attending the funeral of their uncle.

The "Perplexing situation" which is being given in Colborne St. Methodist church on Thursday evening of next week by the Young Ladies of the Adult Bible Class of that church, promises an evening of fun to those attending. It is a farce pure and simple, and is sure to be largely attended, as all the participants are well known.

At the Isolation Hospital three scarlet fever patients are convalescing, and as seen at a distance, looked quite happy—and the visit ended at the new Nurses' Home so nearly completed—a bright, airy structure and a lasting monument to the women of Brantford, who have worked so indefatigably for so many years in order to provide the same. One needs to see it themselves in order to appreciate what they are accomplishing.

One of the busiest little spots around this city of ours at the present time is the Brantford General Hospital—a total of 56 patients inside, many of them pretty sick people—and outside, excavating and building going on to complete the new buildings which are in process of construction. A party of friends motored up on Friday afternoon and were kindly piloted around by Miss Carson (the superintendent), first visiting the wards, and en route seeing three little babies, were morsels of humanity, for they were very young—cosily and peacefully sleeping in their respective "baskets"—but missing the dear little Chinese baby born at the hospital recently, an eight and a half pounder, and around whom so much interest centered, as it was the first Celestial claiming Brantford as its birthplace, but Mrs. Li Hung and her boy had returned to their Market street home.

During the Toronto Horse Show, which opens in the Queen City next week, the "Tea Rooms" at the Armouries will be under the auspices of the Humane Society and some of Toronto's prettiest girls will assist, amongst who are: Miss Clare Corson, Miss Phyllis Pippin, Miss Lorna Murray, Miss Blanche Miles, Miss Audrey Strickland, Miss Aileen Cotton, Miss Mona Maclure, Miss Kathleen Sweeney, Miss Marjorie Bell, Miss Miss Evelyn Wedd, Miss Amy Baines, Miss Dorothy and Alison Roberts, Miss Marion Castle, Miss Birdie Kapelle, Miss Ida Pierson, Miss Mollie Ponton, Miss Helen Murray, Miss Isabel Crozier, Miss Florence Atkinson, Miss Helen Thompson, Miss Stephanie Jarvis, Miss Marion Gillespie, Miss Maynard Grange, Miss Olive Barnes, Miss Clare Turner, Miss Rita McBride, Miss Lilah Fairbairn, Misses Dorothy Tyrwhitt, Miss Phyllis Stevenson, Miss Dorothy Tate, Miss Winifred McCall, Miss Marjorie Ross, Miss Edith McPherson, Miss Dot Shannon, Miss Dorothy Burritt, Miss Leonora Deacon, Miss Jessie Gooderham, Miss Gladys Foy, Miss McMurrie, Miss Gladys Davies, Miss Annie McMichael, Miss Edith Barber, Miss Laurenda McAndrew, Miss Jean Bartie, Miss Phyllis Parsons, Miss Marion Hall, Misses Edwards, Miss Ethel Webster, Miss Eleanor Mackenzie, Miss Bowes, Miss Beatrice Bethune, Miss Wright, Miss Beatrice Corson and Miss Rita Haynes.

Mrs. Caldwell, Toronto, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Simon, 174 William street. Mr. D. Ernest Caldwell of Toronto, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Chas. Simon, 174 William street. The engagement is announced of Miss Jean Greig Martin, daughter of the late Rev. W. A. J. Martin of Brantford, to Mr. Gordon Duncan, son of Mr. W. E. Duncan, Brantford. The marriage will take place in May.

Great enthusiasm is being shown in Brantford this spring for riding and can proper saddle horses be obtained, it will be one of the features of the season. A fortunate few have horses of their own, but a majority will have to depend upon those obtainable at the local livery, and just how many are available remains to be seen, but enthusiasm runs high and calls for many.

A jolly little party of young people went down by radial on the "theatre special" Friday evening for the performance at the Temple, returning by the late car. Miss Elsie Cockshutt's two guests, Miss Margaret Nairn and Miss Harvey were the raison d'etre for the affair and the evening was a thoroughly delightful one.

A delightful dance claiming the "Bohemians" as hosts was given in the municipal building, Paris, Ont., this week. The hall had been prettily decorated for the occasion; excellent music furnished, a delicious supper provided and dancing kept up until the wee sma' hours. Altogether the affair was voted a huge success. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Downie, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bray and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Finmore.

A meeting of the Senate of Victoria University (devised to confer the degree of D.D. (honoris causa) on Rev. Geo. H. Bridgman, M.A., D.D., L.L.D. and Rev. J. J. Ferguson, M.A. B.D., D. Divinorum, M.A. Canadian, a well known to many Brantfordites, who after his graduation at Victoria in 1864, served the Methodist church in his own land for nine years and then transferred his activities to New York State and was appointed President of the Grace Wesleyan Seminary at Lima. After ten years in charge of this Seminary he was elected in 1883 President of Hamline University, St. Paul, Minn. He found this university in a struggling position, and when he resigned recently he left it in an assured state.

Canada is fast forging to the front as a musical country which fact speaks well for the future of Canada as the more cultured people get the more musical they become. Not only does Canada boast of great musical organizations but as she is also producing artists who are making a name for themselves and Canada. Vocalists, organists, violinists and pianists are all upholding Canada's reputation as a music center. The foremost pianist in Canada to-day is said to be Ernest D. Gray, who has just recently returned from Germany where he completed his studies. The musical critics abroad have predicted a great future for Canada's pianist-composer and Brantfordites will have an opportunity of hearing this premier pianist on Tuesday, April 29th when he gives a joint recital at the Conservatory with the Russian violinist Zusman Caplan on that date.

Among the hostesses entertaining delegates to the twentieth annual meeting of the National Council of Women of Canada, to be held in Montreal on May 8th and 9th, are: Lady Drummond, Mrs. J. B. Learmont, Mrs. George Drummond, Lady Van Horne, Mrs. Cahon, Mrs. Preble, Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. G. A. Kohl, Madame Fortier, Mrs. G. F. Johnson and Mrs. Byrd. The following item refers to a popular Western girl who has many relatives and friends in this city and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waterson, St. Paul, Minn.: Pioneer Press, Washington of hearing—Washington, April 18.—Mrs. William Cummings Story of New York to-day elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, found her mascot in Miss Irene Watrous of St. Paul, her personal page during the exciting hours of the continental congress. Miss Watrous in turn believes that Mrs. Story's good fortune came through following out a time-worn lucky formula, the wearing of a four leaved clover. While the balloting was in progress and the Daughters were rejoiced and sorrowed as the tide of voters ebbed and flowed, Miss Watrous slipped away from her chief and ramblod out into the big park that disrespectful Washingtonians call Woodrow Wilson's back yard. After an hour's search she returned with a smile of triumph on her face. She had found three tiny four leaved clovers. One she presented to Mrs. Story and that lady deftly slipped it into the heel of her left slipper all unbeknown to the rest of the congress. Another was presented to Mrs. Bruch of the Manhattan chapter and the third to Mrs. Betz of Washington, wife of the Story-party.

Miss Watrous, next to Mrs. Story herself, is the happiest girl in Washington to-night. Word comes from Vernon, B.C., of a very fine General Hospital at that point—the building expenses connected with its erection having been shared by the City of Vernon and the province. Recently a nurses' home has been added, and the furnishings undertaken by the W.H.A. at Vernon, of which Mrs. Ernest Watts, a former Brantfordite, is President. On the day of the formal opening, April 17th an entertainment was given by the proceeds of which together with the funds already raised by the ladies will nearly pay the expense of furnishing the home.

Mrs. R. H. Reville leaves to-day on a short visit to Mrs. Kline at Baltimore, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turnbull and Master Archie Turnbull returned the early part of this week from an extended trip through California and the Coast. Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Secord have returned to the city from a delightful trip through Texas (El Paso, San Antonio, etc.) and also touring California. Mr. Ralph Howell of Hamilton, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is reported to be improving. Miss Chattie Christie spent a couple of days this week the guest of Toronto friends. Mrs. Jennings, who has been a guest in the city for the past couple of weeks, returns to Toronto on Monday accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. George Watt, St. Paul's Avenue, who has snow almost quite recovered from her recent indisposition.

A number of personal friends of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Ashton were at the G. T. R. station on Thursday evening to wish them bon voyage and God speed. Mrs. Ashton was also the recipient of a box of beautiful flowers from the Brant Chapter of I. D. E. delivered on entering the train for Montreal. Plans are being discussed for the holding of a "Burnett Dance," at the Adelphi, Brant Avenue, on the evening of Empire Day and under the auspices of the Dufferin Rifles Chapter I. O. D. E., and although nothing was definitely decided upon, it is pretty sure to materialize if, as rumor is to be believed.

The choir of Grace church were most delightfully entertained at the conclusion of the choir practice, at the Conservatory of Music last evening by Mr. Thomas, when Miss Clara Hensman, the bride of to-day was made the recipient of a beautiful large silver coffee spoon. Mrs. Charles Craddock, "Oak Lodge," St. George Road, was the hostess of most delightful little luncheon on Thursday of this week. Covers were laid for ten, and the decorations of highly water flowers and ferns, sent their sweet fragrance throughout the rooms. The guests returned to town again by a late afternoon car, having thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of their hostess and the scenes in the country.

With the first of May and the approaching summer, many changes are being made in the North Ward, amongst the well known Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bur moved into their new house at 136 Brant Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Morten Paterson take possession of the cosy little house now in readiness for them at 305 Brant Avenue. The marriage was solemnized in Grace Church this morning, at half past eleven, of Miss Clara Hensman, daughter of Mrs. Mary Hensman of this city, and Mr. Ernest R. Hutchinson, son of Mr. W. J. Hutchinson, Superintendent of Cumberland and Westmoreland Constabulary, Workington, England. Ven. Archdeacon Mackenzie officiated. YOUR SUMMER VACATION
A most interesting and well printed publication has just been issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System dealing with the attractions of the well known Algonquin National Park of Ontario, and copies may be had from any of their City Ticket offices.
The territory dealt with is a thoroughly universal vacation one, combining high altitude, (200 ft.) pure air, unspoiled forest, beautiful lakes, splendid fishing, much wild game, hotel or camp life, in close touch with civilization or entirely apart from it, and satisfying alike to novice and veteran.
Included in this publication is a description of the "Nominigan Camp" situated on Smoke Lake, the centre of one of the finest fishing grounds in Canada, and which will be open for the first time this year with accommodation for 60 people. This idea of a log cabin camp is an innovation in Canada but one that has become most popular and attractive to a number of summer playground seekers in the Rangeley Lakes, Maine. Good hotel accommodation is offered at the Highland Inn, and the rates are most reasonable.
The publication is well written and one a good idea of the 2,500,000 acres that are found within the Park boundaries.

Baseball is a subject everyone in Canada and States is interested in. As the people attend the game, they mean and employ them to. Even if it is three games a season, they feel competent to play. It is their delight to after a play has occurred. Psychology of Baseball Written Specially for the Courier By Expert

Baseball is a subject that almost everyone in Canada and the United States is interested in. A majority of the people attend the games as often as their means and employment allow them to.

Every one recognizes this player—the big husky chap who stands up to the plate like a hero and generally hits the ball even when opposed by the cleverest of pitchers, but he has his drawback being a poor fielder and is most likely found placed in right field.

Now, Mr. Fan, it is your right to criticize the players taking part in a game, that you have paid to see, but be merciful in your attack. Do not let one or two misplays by a man giving the team whose colors he wears, his best efforts and is using all his brain and muscle to help carry the team to victory.

Dashing, bold, reckless work is the forte of another, grasping chances that the slow thinker or the cautious player would never dream of attempting and in many cases gets through with them. Often he brings victory to the home team by some daring piece of work, and receives the plaudits of the excited crowd.

DETROIT, April 26.—After a conference with President Navin yesterday, Ty Cobb, outfielder of the Detroit American League Baseball Club, attached his signature to a 1913 contract.

The conference between President Navin and Cobb lasted about two hours. Both emerged from the conference room smiling and when they were asked for the contract terms, they smiled more broadly but refused to give out any information.

"This is my last holdout," said Cobb, as he left Mr. Navin's office. "I'm going to get into my uniform just as soon as possible and begin to practice and I'll be ready to play when they let me."

"Send Me a Few Simoleons"—Algie Writes Again.

Third letter of Red Sox tryout to his father:— Dear Dad,—I pitched one inning to-day and they made a lot of runs off me, more than the Sand Duster's down home made all last season.

However, dear dad, I'm here to stay. Groundkeeper, Pat. Crowley, said he was afraid I came, because I had the speed of a road roller. Pat evidently thinks I'm going to keep the grounds well for him. When I start to pitch I'll keep him busy repairing the pickets in front of the grandstand. Guess that'll hold him for a while.

The umpire to-day told me Gabby Ivers' weakness. He said: "Groove one right over the plate and then duck for your life." I didn't take any chances but walked start.

Father, pay doesn't start until May 7. Please send me a few simoleons. These Canecks like a good spender. Yours, ALGIE.

RED SOX IN FIRST DEFEAT

Picked Team Defeated the Coming Champions Yesterday—Details of Game.

As in days of old St. Catharines triumphed over their rivals, Brantford and defeated them this time in an exhibition of baseball by three runs, the score being 7-4. It was only an exhibition game and the supporters of the Red Sox should not let the result of the game seriously or trouble them in the least over the outcome.

Kane used three recruits. Pitcher Anders went in the first three innings and held the visitors to three hits and one run. He did not exert himself much. Anders was replaced by Reilly in the fourth who got into very serious trouble right off the reel and then went wrong again in the sixth and Kane had to call him to the bench and put in Claremont, who finished the game. Claremont was easily the pick of the Brantford but honors were even as far as the score to the locals. Shea was a little better assortment of batters.

The avalanche came in the sixth. Coose misjudged a high fly from Brindage and scored on McFadden's single. Johnson drew a pass as did Bradley. McCarthy singled scoring McFadden. Rankin did likewise and Johnson came in. Carey hit a high fly to Shea and Bradley beat the throw to the plate. Canella walked. Kane pulled Riley out of the box and put in Claremont. Burke laid one down and Rankin scored. Brindage ended the innings by being thrown out at first. Wagner to Ivers.

For the visitors, Pitcher Rankin was the pick of the bunch. Diny Burke who played second, acquitted himself well.

The Game. The visitors got down to business right in the first innings and scored one run. Carey Doubled, Canella sacrificed. Burke scored Carey with a single. The Red Sox came right back with a couple after two men were out. Aherns flew to McFadden. Wagner was an easy out. Shea singled. Ivers was safe when McCarthy dropped the third strike. Orcutt got a life on McFadden's error. Chapdelaine put up a fly behind third which McFadden misjudged and Shea and Ivers scored. The Red Sox scored another run in the third. Shea went out on a ground ball. Rankin to Brindage. Abbie Johnson fumbled Ivers ground-er. Orcutt singled and Ivers went to third, but was caught off the bag. Chapdelaine sent Orcutt across with a single. Brantford got their fourth and last run in the fifth after two hands were down. Ivers drew a pass and scored from first on a terrific drive for two

"Forget about these practice games. It's better to lose these exhibition games now than the real thing later on," said President Nelson last night when the deaf and dumb signal 7-4 was passed him over the G.T.R. counter. "These fellows were brought here to show what they could do, and the only way we can get results is to put them in action."

Even Tyrus Cobb refuses to hold out. What would our own Matty Lamond feel like if he were now the only one left in the hold out woods.

Score William Hartman is getting ready to go on the job. William will doubtless be impartial and his statistics will be reliable in every sense of the word.

Shea, the Red Sox shortstop shows bases by Del Orcutt. This ended Brantford's scoring.

Ahern and McCauley changed places and Riley replaced Anders in the box and immediately got into hot water. Bradley hit a grounder to McCauley who fielded it nicely but slipped when he went to throw and Jimmy was safe. McCarty drew four balls. Rankin hit one to McCauley which got away from him. Chapdelaine dropped Carey's fly and Bradley scored. Canella hit to Riley who threw runner out at the plate. Burke hit to Riley who threw to the plate and cut off the runner. Lamond then threw to Ivers beating Burke, making a double.

The whole year round old William Wax reminds us that he pays his tax. The sum he pays is pretty small, yet paying it stirs up his gall, and freezes, cold as Arctic pole, the genial current of his soul. Because he pays a measly pound to make the blooming wheels go round, he thinks those wheels should always go, as he directs, now fast, now slow. The government should always pause before it fashions any laws or votes the blowing of a cent, to see if old Bill is content. He thinks he has the right to roost whoever holds important post, to pound the tolling statesmen's backs because he pays his trifling tax. He writes long letters to the press, in which he voices his distress, and shows that rascals are in vogue, that every statesman is a rogue. The quiet man who yearly whacks up twice as much as old Bill's tax, too busy is to rant and paw, and swear there ought to be a law. The tears still stream down old Bill's jowls; the less he pays the more lie howls. It ne'er occurs to Old Bill Wax that other fellows pay their tax; he bears the crushing weight alone and fills the air with grunt and groan. All Evidence Is In, Fans of the Jury; Now Pick Champion Pitcher

By Grantland Rice.
(The following article will appear in Collier's Weekly issue of April 28.)

The Cubs-White Sox series for the championship of Chicago had just been finished, and for the second time in two years one man, almost alone and unaided in the box, had dismantled and whipped the Cub machine.

At a gathering which followed shortly afterward, Owner Comiskey of the White Sox arose and called for this toast: "Gentlemen—to Ed Walsh, the greatest pitcher that ever lived."

That same week the colors of the New York Giants had dropped before the victorious rush of the Boston Red Sox. In commenting upon his defeat Manager McGraw of New York had this to say: "My main regret is that Boston in such a way, through a flaw in his support beat Christy Mathewson, the greatest pitcher that ever threw a ball."

Two days before this series ended Clark Griffith, Washington's manager, while sitting in the press box, turned to us with this remark: "Walter Johnson on either team would have won this series inside of five games. He's the greatest pitcher that the game has ever known."

Ed Walsh of the Chicago Americans, Christy Mathewson of the New York Nationals, Walter Johnson of the Washington Americans—Mathewson, Johnson and Walsh—the three Musketeers who have started more arguments than all the tariff laws and graft upheavals ever staged.

The greatest pitcher that ever lived means quite a lot. In fact, it means more than any opinion can ever cover, for the conditions under which Radbourne, Sweeney, Clarkson and the rest of the old guard worked were widely different from those which rule the game to-day.

There is difficulty enough in sparring with this argument as it pertains to the modern regime without travelling for trouble across a trail now dim in the past where there could be no direct basis for comparison.

So, by "greatest pitcher" we refer only to the more or less modern game, beginning, we'll say, with Rusie, the vanished, to Bedient, the rising star.

And between Rusie and Bedient we see no reason why we should waste any undue amount of space upon outside choices.

Rusie himself might qualify. So might Rube Waddell. The physical greatness of these two is not to be disputed. But in the last blend of all-around greatness—the greatness of brain as well as brawn—the mental fiber as well as physical force—neither of these could be considered with those who come to the final round for an award.

There was Kid Nichols, Jack Chesbro, Sam Leever, Cy Young and later on, Miner Brown. None of these was less than great. And in the last few years there rises Napoleon Rucker of Brooklyn, Coombs, Bender, Plank, Alexander, Russell Ford, Veat Grege, Claude Hendrix—in fact a rising parade of stars who have pitched their way into the great white spotlight of the game.

In one season Joe Wood broke from the ranks into one of the pitching wonders—and upon one year's form no man can place him second.

But with the list strung out before you, counting the full period of service, the balloting at last settles upon three names, and it is with these three names that we go to the mar for the final count.

Leading up to no secret the answer is simple—Mathewson, Johnson and Walsh. They stand alone. Their names are above the crowd—three shining ideals who embrace all things, in some parts at least, which go to make up greatness.

All these are wonderful physical specimens—above six feet in height, broad-shouldered, clean-slined, fine by rugged specimens of athletic manhood.

All three have brains, courage, endurance and skill.

All three, tireless across the monotonous grind of average play, are at their best when the final test is put up to each sharply, and where the issue of battle rests with their arm, head and heart.

Is Ed Walsh of the Chicago White Sox the greatest of the three, "the Conny" refers to, where Walsh pitched 67 games—his hardest season—Mathewson was not far behind him even in physical toil. Walsh that year worked in 67 games. He won 40 and lost 15. His pitching percentage was .777. Mathewson that same season worked in 56 games. He won 37 and lost 11. His pitching percentage was .771.

There is no pitching angle at which Mathewson was not great. He was almost as much of a truck horse for work as Walsh. He had everything and with it all the greatest control ever known by man. In his prime, and he is still a great pitcher—Mathewson was unbeatable with equal support. Only take up his work against the Athletics in the world's series of 1905. After Mack's slugging team three times in six days and concluded the twenty-seven innings without even the chance for a run. Three straight shut-outs was his record. Seven years later, driven to the last limit every season—a veteran of thirteen campaigns, he goes against the rival batters as Mathewson could do, backed up by the most remarkable support ever given a man in such a series, one run is earned from his pitching where eleven are scored.

Mathewson has now worked in nine world's series games. And in that number exactly six runs have been earned from him—I mean six runs that could be charged to his work; six runs in nine games, an average of less than one to the contest.

No man that ever pitched has studied the strength or weakness of rival batters as Mathewson has done and through perfect judgment and perfect control has made the brain do more than the arm. Walsh and Johnson who are both smart pitchers, and brainy players, rely upon the arm and might of their arms.

Mathewson's arm is a slave to his brain, and when even an exceptional pitcher would long since have passed, Mathewson's brain and nerve have held him up as one of the stars of the box after many years of hardest sort of service.

After Comiskey and McGraw have compared Walsh and Mathewson there seems to be but little left to say in behalf of another entry. But Clark Griffith manager of the Washington American league club, not only has quite a lot to say, but he believes every word he has to utter upon the subject which involves the name of Walter Johnson. Griffith, one of the wisest of managers in his day, yields to no man in his admiration of Mathewson and Walsh.

He believes they have only one superior, but no man can tell him that either is the pitcher of the club, says Griffith.

Ed Walsh has speed, curves and control; he has a world of courage; he has a fine pitching head upon his shoulders; he has the physique to stand more than any other man ever saw; and, above all he has the battle which finds him more than eager to rush into any breach and do far more than his share of work. There is only one Ed Walsh—and he has no equal.

Mr. Comiskey's appeal on behalf of Walsh sounds plausible. It is certainly heart-felt.

But before awarding the laurel, it might be just as well to hear from John J. McGraw, leader of the New York Giants, who has seen twenty-four years' service upon the field as player or manager. Says McGraw:

I have a world of respect for any opinion Comiskey may have. I know Walsh must be a wonderful pitcher. I know Walter Johnson is a marvel. But neither Walsh nor Johnson is Mathewson. The title of "the game's greatest pitcher" can belong to but one man—and that man is Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants—a pitcher who was a wonder as a recruit thirteen years ago—a pitcher who as a veteran after thirteen years' service pitched the most wonderful ball I have ever seen against odds too many could beat with a team in front behind him, a pitcher who was great in victory, but even greater in defeat; a pitcher who failed to win even one of three world's series starts and yet came through at the end as the hero of the series.

I have no word to say against either Walsh or Johnson. They are above any criticism any man could make. Both are smart ball players—great, game fighters. But their chief bid to pitching greatness lies in their physical make-up—Johnson with his wonderful speed, and Walsh with his wonderful endurance. No one will dispute the fact that these two qualifications have helped most to make them great.

But Mathewson is something more, Mathewson in his prime, had all the speed that any pitcher needs. No break than his fade-away. But these were not things that assisted most in the making of Mathewson's greatness. I refer to two things now—first, to the finest and keenest pitching brain I have ever known; second, to the coolest and most calculating eye that ever stood the fire of a contest and held steady the brain which directed the movements of his arm.

A wonderful nerve directing a wonderful brain directing in turn a wonderful arm—these you have Christy Mathewson in the greatest years of his career. And with all this there was never a more willing worker—never a man who responded more eagerly when called upon to double his share of the work.

In the campaign of 1908 which "Conny" refers to, where Walsh pitched 67 games—his hardest season—Mathewson was not far behind him even in physical toil. Walsh that year worked in 67 games. He won 40 and lost 15. His pitching percentage was .777. Mathewson that same season worked in 56 games. He won 37 and lost 11. His pitching percentage was .771.

to work he started again, and for the third straight game now a run was scored against him. Three shut-outs in three straight games show well enough just what Johnson's caliber is.

Working for a club out of the race he has never had the chance Mathewson and Walsh have drawn. Take Mathewson at his greatest year and neither could be called the equal of Johnson when it comes to the ability to win or to the inability of other teams to make hits and get runs.

Johnson pitched against Walsh on out in front of the field through five weeks of 1912 by working every other day until the strain began to cut in upon his worth.

Mathewson has been a great pitcher for thirteen years; as a veteran of two years in the big league, he has the championship Pittsburgh team of 1913 all seven games pitched against them and shut out the Athletics in the world's series of 1905 all three of the Giants in 1910 without help, being responsible for every victory achieved in the series; has averaged forty games a year for thirteen years—and has rescued many more out of 450 games has won 680 per cent of his starts; beat Bender and the Athletics in the first game of the 1911 world's series, and had them shut out in the next until Baker hit a home run; held the hard hitting Boston Red Sox to earned runs in three games with his team in front behind him; one of these runs was due to a fielding mixup and not a clean hit; has had the best control of any pitcher that ever lived and has used a wider variety of pitching.

Walter Johnson shut out New York three games in four days, working the entire series with only a Sunday's rest; struck out 313 men while pitching for a second-division club in 1910; won eleven straight games with the club that finished seventh in 1911; won sixteen straight games in 1912; has beaten Walsh in two-thirds of his starts against the White Sox; has averaged fewer earned runs scored against him than any pitcher in the game for a four year average; has had a four-year average of 150 per centage points above his club's; has the best five year record ever made by a member of a team averaging less than 50 per cent. of victorious games.

NEW YORK, April 26—New York and Philadelphia played an 11-inning tie game here yesterday, neither side scoring. Both Demaree and Alexander pitched great ball, McGraw's record doing the cleaner work, and holding the visitors to three hits.

An unusual incident that deprived New York of a victory occurred in the tenth inning when the Giants apparently won the game. Merkle opened with a single and Herzog bunted for a sacrifice, but Merkle beat Alexander's throw to the pitcher's box off at second. Wilson then bunted safely and with the bases full and with one out, McCormick was sent in to bat for Demaree. He hit the first ball pitched for an apparent single which scored Merkle. Players of both teams ran toward the clubhouse and the crowd swarmed on the field.

Manager Doan, Captain Doolan and other Philadelphia players, however, rushed to Umpire Klem and called his attention to the fact that the ball was hit. Klem had his face turned to the stand and was announcing that McCormick was batting for Lemarre. He agreed with Manager Doan that he was not in position and called for the game to go on. Many of the players had started changing their clothing and it took more than a quarter of an hour to clear the field.

When play resumed McCormick hit into a double play and Snodgrass was thrown out by Doolan. Klem explained after the game that the reason McCormick's hit did not count was because he was not in position and quoted section 4 of rule 28 to sustain his action. The score: R.H.E. Philadelphia... 000000000-0-2-0 New York... 000000000-0-0-0 Alexander and Doan; Demaree, Crandall and Meyers, Wilson.

Another for the Pirates. PITTSBURGH, April 26.—Loose fielding by the Chicago team in the second inning yesterday, and a pair of bunts that were poorly handled, gave Pittsburgh three runs that stood them in good stead when Robinson weakened in the ninth. Hits in the early innings off Richie were lucky, but he contributed to the defeat himself with a pair of errors. The score: R.H.E. Chicago... 00000000-3-5-4 Pittsburgh... 13000110-6-10-2 Richie, Humphries and Archer, Robinson. Henderson starting off the game with a two-bagger to the left field fence and scoring on Bauman's slam over second. he was, was not his equal in this respect. Neither was Waddell. Neither was any other man that ever threw a ball. But don't make the mistake of thinking that Johnson has nothing but his rifle-ball speed. He has the head and the heart to go with it. He knows where to pitch, and why to pitch and how to pitch. He has a curve ball that breaks like a flash and control to meet any situation.

Last year he won sixteen straight games for us. At the end of this run he was taken sick and dropped, the next day. He was in no condition to work—hardly able in fact to stand up in the box. But I let him take the chance because he wanted to. As it was, he won thirty-two games for me, and if you will examine the official records and the details of the year you will find that fewer runs were earned from Johnson than any other pitcher in the game. The average was something under two—less than that shown by either Walsh or Mathewson—and omitting those games in which he worked as a sick man the average earned was hardly a run to each nine-inning contest.

GOOD INTENTIONS LEAD TO TROUBLE

Toronto Young Man Fires on the Owner of Plant, Mistaken for Burglar.

TORONTO, April 25.—The good intentions of Harry Heather resulted in a young man being placed under arrest last night, charged with shooting Albert E. Hudson, who is connected with his bed with a bullet in his shoulder.

Heather was coming from his work, passing the Hudson aluminum plant on Simington avenue, at that time the large windows was open. Thinking that burglars had entered the plant, he went to his house, got his revolver and returned. Before entering the house the young man noticed a passerby of his suspicious. The latter immediately awoke Daniel Lohrie, the caretaker of the building, who called upon Hudson while the passerby rejoined Heather.

Heather and his companion met Hudson and Lohrie. Each party mistook the other for the burglars. Heather fired. The police appeared on the scene, took advantage of a passing automobile, and the whole crowd was landed in the police station, but until one of the zealous officers attempted to handcuff Hudson, the proprietor of the building where the supposed burglary was attempted.

At the police station relations were friendly, and the whole crowd was released. Hudson and Lohrie, Heather admitted the shooting and appeared in the police court yesterday and was remanded.

The elimination contests are to take place on Sunday, April 28 at Dresden and there will be probably eight starters.

On Strike

Only Ten Per Cent. of Pittsburg School Children are at School.

PITTSBURG, April 23.—Hardly 10 per cent of Pittsburg's 70,000 school children are in attendance at the sessions today. While the disorderly processions of children through the streets that characterized yesterday's situation have been suppressed by the police, aided by the parents, large numbers of children congregate about school houses, but are soon scattered by a detail of police that has been stationed at each of the 13 schools of the city.

The children arrested yesterday while carrying banners demanding the removal of S. L. Hecker, superintendent of schools, were today brought before a police magistrate and after a reprimand were turned over to their parents. The police officers are to refrain from arrests unless they annoy pedestrians or damage property.

A hundred or more pupils of the high school refused to attend sessions this morning, but maintained order when ordered to move away from the vicinity of the school building. All available patrolmen are still on duty in the "school children's strike."

No announcement has yet been made whether the citizens selected by the board of education yesterday to investigate the reflections upon the character of Superintendent Heaton will accept the duty imposed upon them.

Details of Tragedy. EDMONTON, Alb. April 25.—Details of the tragedy show that on the occasion of the shooting of Leticia Bailey on Wednesday, Whitley endeavored to rescue the body from in front of the shack but he too was shot in the thigh. Tetley and Stead between them, dragged Whitley out of range of the murderous rifle fire. Then Tetley wanted to return and bring Bailey's body away. He tried twice, but the hail of shot became so furious he was forced to retire. It was suicidal to go near the outlaws' stronghold, but true to the traditions of the "riders of the plains," Tetley wanted to make another attempt. "Bailey may only be unconscious," he argued. Then a bullet struck him in the hand and his companion Stead drew him away. Bailey's body was recovered later.

There are more superstitions and beliefs about bread than about any other article of food. One of the most common of these beliefs results in the making of a cross on or over a loaf. The hot cross bun is the best known example of this.

The making of a cross on bread is really a survival of the times when people believed in all sorts of minor gods and goddesses. It was an old Roman custom to mark with a cross the bread intended as an offering to the heathen deities.

BIG PARADE IN NEW YORK

Thirty Thousand Suffragettes Will March to Band Music.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Thirty thousand suffragettes will march up Fifth Avenue eight abreast to the music of thirty-five bands, a week from to-morrow, according to the organizers of the annual woman suffrage parade. If this number turns out and it is declared that 30,000 promises to do so have been received, it will be the largest demonstration of the kind New York has ever seen.

Mrs. Richard Coke Burfelson, at head, will lead the parade on horse back, carrying an American flag. She will be followed by eight other mounted women representing the suffrage organizations of New York and following will be the executive officers of the National Women's Suffrage Association.

The "pilgrims" who hiked to Washington for the inauguration day demonstration, headed by "General" Rosalie Jones, will march in front of the carriage in which will ride the pioneer suffragist, Mrs. Antoinette Brown Blackwell, who is more than 80 years old.

The members of the women's political union, groups of foreign enfranchised women, delegations from other states, the members of the political equality association, and numerous other organizations will follow each group in a distinctive uniform.

At the conclusion of the parade, Dean Summer, head of the Chicago vice commission, will address the suffragettes at Carnegie Hall on the "dawning of the consciousness of woman's sex loyalty."

On a Bomb CARDIFF, Wales, April 25.—"Votes for women, R.I.P." were the words painted on a bomb found this morning by a patrolman on the door step of Lloyds bank in this city. The fuse attached to the bomb was burning when it was discovered, and was quickly seized and extinguished by the police.

SEALERS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF REINFORCED CONCRETE BRIDGE

A "WALTZ ROUND" Appearance of "Pearly King" in Dock Astonishes Magistrate.

Mr. Francis, the Westminster magistrate, was considerably astonished Tuesday by a picturesque figure which entered the dock to answer a charge of drunkenness.

"What on earth has he got on?" he asked for the man was wearing a red and green jersey decorated with thousands of pearl buttons, while emblazoned across his chest was a description informing all and sundry that the wearer was "The Pearly King of Kentish Town," James Pomroy.

When a constable informed the magistrate of Pomroy's identity, Mr. Francis remarked "I thought he had had escaped from somewhere, is it money he has got all over him?"

"No, I wish it was," interposed Pomroy. "Only buttons. Me and 'the missis' had 'a waltz round' yesterday. She drove the donkey, and here I am. Me and the missus and the boy wear 72,000 pearls."

A fine of 7s. 6d. was promptly paid.

THE LATEST NEWS FROM THE OLD LAND

KING GEORGE AND HIS GUNNERS

Big Artillery Review on Woolwich Common--Brilliant Pageant--Princess Mary Fires a 13.5 Gun.

King George spent a strenuous day on Wednesday. Accompanied by Queen Mary, Princess Mary, and the Duke of Connaught, his Majesty drove through South-East London to Woolwich, reviewed the Royal Artillery on the parade ground and the cadets at the Military Academy, received civic address at the town hall, and inspected the principal work at the Arsenal.

All along the route to Woolwich tens of thousands of people cheered their Sovereign and the Arsenal town, which was gay with flags and banners, gave the Royal party a tremendous welcome.

Two untoward incidents occurred during the day. A child was injured by coming into collision with the Royal car, and a soldier was thrown from his horse almost at the feet of the King during the review on Woolwich Common.

The King's Sympathy

The Royal party set out from Buckingham Palace at ten o'clock in a motor-car. General Sir John French, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, being with them. The king and the Duke each wore the undress uniform of a field-marshal. The Queen and Princess Mary were in black. The suite followed in two cars.

His Majesty's car, which was of rather a heavy type, was near the junction of the New Kent road with the old Kent road, when a little girl, named Lizzie Jenkins, aged seven, of Crosslet street, darted out from the crowd, and at that point was somewhat dense, and ran into the car.

The chauffeur was driving at a moderate speed, and by jamming on the brakes he brought the car to a standstill almost at once.

The front guard, however, struck the girl and she fell to the ground in a dazed condition. On seeing what had occurred the King rose from his seat, and expressed his sympathy. It was not until it had been ascertained that the child was not seriously hurt, that the order was given to drive on.

A police constable took the child to the surgery of Dr. Stoker, who saw the incident. It was found that she had a large lump on her forehead, but apart from that she was injured.

When the Royal car arrived at the Artillery Parade Ground at Woolwich the cheering of the people mingled with a Royal salute of twenty-one guns while a guard of honor of the Royal Garrison Artillery saluted the party.

The King received by Lieut-General Sir J. Gerson, commanding the Eastern District, outside the town.

Then followed the review of Artillery. The King, the Duke of Connaught, and General Sir J. French mounted their chargers, and accompanied by a brilliant staff, rode to the comparison. The Queen and Princess Mary followed in an open carriage.

Spirited Artillery Gallop

The troops on parade were a brigade of Royal Horse Artillery, three brigades of Royal Field Artillery, a brigade of Royal Garrison Artillery, and another of Territorials. After being inspected in line by His Majesty the batteries marched past first in batteries at a walk and next at a trot.

To the Royal Horse Artillery was given the honor of driving past the King at full gallop—a feat they achieved with neatness and dispatch and amid a storm of cheering from the concourse of spectators.

Brilliantly was given to the pageant by the presence of the six depot squadrons of Lancers. The 5th, 9th and 12th wear dark blue with scarlet facings; the 17th and 21st dark blue with white facings. The 16th Lancers are a scarlet regiment, with dark blue facings. Their picturesque Polish lance caps and the flutter of the red and white pennons of a forest of lances added greatly to the picturesque of the spectacle.

A Territorial horse, which was perhaps, a little upset by the novelty of its surroundings, gave a buck-jumping display just opposite the Royal party, and then unseated its rider—a non-commissioned officer. He was not hurt and led his steed sorrowfully away.

After the review a move was made to the Military Academy, where 300 cadets were drawn up. They were inspected and afterwards marched past the saluting point. There followed a display of gun drill by a very smart field battery, and Miss Mary Hilaire Holland, the little daughter of the brigadier-general commanding, was conducted to the Queens carriage and presented with a bouquet of mauve orchids and lilies of the valley.

The Royal party had luncheon at the Artillery mess, which has several times before had a similar honor at the hands of various Sovereigns. On the front of the menu was placed a miniature copy of an old picture which is the treasured property of the mess, and is known at every station of the Army. It is the portrait of Lieutenant-General Albert Borgard, a Dane, who entered British service in 1692 and was personally engaged in eighteen battles and twenty-four sieges, and died "covered with wounds," aged ninety-three. General Borgard was the first colonel of the Royal Horse Artillery, and was responsible for the formation and establishment of the regiment.

The Royal party were photographed with the Artillery officers before leaving the mess, and then entering open carriages, were driven to the town hall in Wellington street, outside which the Mayor, Mr. S. H. Cuff, presented an address of welcome, the civic party, including Mr. Will Crooks, M.P.

In his reply the King said:—

"Since the opening of Beaufort's Docks in the reign of Henry VIII, your town has continually held an important place amongst the naval and military establishments of this country, and I am glad to assure myself by personal inspection that the Royal Arsenal is maintained in a state of activity and efficiency.

Upon the constant and devoted labor of those who direct and those who are employed in this great national workshop depends in a high degree to the effectiveness of my Army and Navy, and I look confidently to those engaged here to unite in further developing and perfecting the defences of the realm."

The Queen accepted a bouquet of malmaisons from Mrs. Cuff, and the Town Clerk, Mr. A. B. Bryceson, and the Mayor's Chaplain, the Rev. W. Falkner-Baily were presented to their Majesties.

The Arsenal was reached shortly after 2.30. There was a pleasant little surprise here, for when the King and Queen had taken their places on the platform, just under the ancient sundial, the excellent choir of the Arsenal Choral Society, of well over 100 voices, sang the National Anthem. His Majesty was so pleased that he sent for the conductor, Mr. A. Coddling, and congratulated him on the performance.

The Royal party proceeded to make a tour of the Arsenal. The journey was performed partly on foot and partly in a saloon carriage on the tiny railway ordinarily used for the conveyance of materials.

The forging of a jacket for a 6 in. gun, under the 3,000 ton forging press, was the first operation shown, and next some of the steps which lead up to the making of a 13.5 in. gun were demonstrated. In the south boring mill Princess Mary fired by electricity a 13.5 gun.

One of the most interesting departments was the paint shop, where the processes of painting vehicles and other warlike stores are performed. It is done in a very effective manner by dipping the whole thing in a bath of paint. A cable wagon was painted in a couple of moments in this way.

Princess Mary was so fascinated by the operation that she went rather too near the machine and received a memoire of her visit to the Arsenal in the shape of several splashes of grey paint. Here the visitors were again photographed.

In the bullet factory a boy, who was squirting lead cores became in one moment the happiest and proudest person in Woolwich when the King asked him to show how he did it, and whether he liked the work.

After taking tea with Lady Donaldson, the wife of the Chief Superintendent of Ordnance Factories, their Majesties expressed the great pleasure the visit had given them, and regretted that there had been no time to go through the hospital, as they had intended. Before their Majesties left another bouquet was presented to the Queen by Miss Ursula Wingate, aged three, grand-daughter of Sir Frederick Donaldson.

MARRIAGE WAS STOPPED AND BRIDE FAINTED

"Dangerous Criminal's" Letters to Mr. Cyril Maude.

In dramatic circumstances a wedding was interrupted on Wednesday at the St. George's Hanover square, Registry Office.

Sir Charles Matthews, the Director of Public Prosecutions, attended at Westminster police court during the morning and obtained warrants for the arrest of Dr. John Daniel Brendenburg, forty-three a dental surgeon, of Berlin, and Gunther Welszok, a matrimonial agent of Fielden road, Hammersmith.

Scotland Yard officers then went to the registry office in Buckingham Palace road and arrested the two men. Dr. Brendenburg was about to be married to a young Swedish lady, who fainted when the ceremony was stopped.

The prospective bridegroom and Welszok afterwards appeared in their wedding attire before the Westminster magistrate. Brendenburg was charged with making a false declaration under the Marriage Registration Act to procure his marriage by special license with Sophia Lidwardine Bussberg, Welszok was charged with aiding abetting.

Mr. H. Lewis, for the prosecution, said Dr. Brendenburg gave an address at an hotel in Brook St. as

ACTOR'S THREATS TO AN ACTRESS

Two prominent members of the theatrical profession appeared at the Old Bailey on Wednesday to prosecute people who were accused of having demanded money with menaces.

In the first case two brothers, Reginald Treloar, twenty-nine, clerk, and George Rowland Treloar, twenty-three, waiter, were indicted for sending two letters demanding £5 with menaces for Mr. Cyril Maude and threatening to murder him.

Mr. Maude, recalled, said he regarded the threat as a serious one. He thought the writer was a madman.

Reginald Treloar, who admitted a previous conviction for sending begging letters to Mr. Maude, was found guilty, his brother not guilty.

Mr. Justice Lush said he could only deal with Reginald Treloar as the dangerous criminal that he was. Apart from the begging letters in which his conduct was very disgraceful, this offence was a most serious one. He could not pass a less sentence than one of three years penal servitude. George Treloar was discharged.

Subsequently Mr. Lush had before him John Anderson, eighteen, a French polisher, who was indicted for sending letters threatening to kill Miss Ethel Dane (Mrs. Cyril Keightley), who was recently taking the leading part in "The Glad Eye."

Mr. Grain, prosecuting, said Miss Dane, who knew nothing of Anderson, received at the Strand Theatre on Feb. 25 the following letter:—

"Miss Ethel—You have got to pay me £250 or I will tell all the people that know you. If you show this to the police I will kill you. You will be watched and should you do so I will not be responsible for the consequences. You pay up and save an inquest. Send the cash to John Anderson c/o Miss Ada Millman, Charlton street, Somers Town.—Your most faithful servant, the Royal Highness, the Honourable John Anderson."

Beware is to kill. Take care is to murder. Death by shooting. So pay up."

Next day Miss Dane received a similar letter and Anderson, who was found to be living at Kensal Town, was arrested. He had persisted in denying all knowledge of the letters.

Miss Dane, wearing a smart plum-colored dress and hat, went into the witness box. When she received the letters she said she was playing in "The Son and Heir." She was frightened and communicated with the police. She was escorted to and from the theatre.

Mr. Justice Lush stopped the case on Thursday on the ground that Anderson's handwriting in no way resembled the handwriting in the threatening letters.

Anderson was accordingly discharged, the judge remarking: "He leaves the court without any sort of reflection on him. There is no element in my opinion, which would lead anyone to think that he had done anything wrong."

English Papers Don't See Sense of Wireless State Dinners

(Canadian Press Despatch)

LONDON, April 25.—Tetotal diplomacy, as suggested at Washington in Secretary of State Bryan's wireless dinner to the foreign diplomats, is receiving considerable notice in the English press. The Daily News raises the question whether the American Secretary has "a real moral right to send round the tetotal punch and condemn his honored guests to 'ice water?'" and asks if "this new form of tyranny may not lead to some horrid consequence by upsetting the digestion and temper of some old-fashioned diplomat." It adds: "There is more in this than meets the eye, even though the punch bowl be without guile."

The Pall Mall Gazette makes a similar gibe, and concludes that the capital of the great republic is destined to become known as "wisky Washington."

MR. BOTTOMLEY'S ALLEGED LOTTERY

I am satisfied that John Bull has no pecuniary interest in the lottery, and I shall, therefore, only order defendant to pay £10 10s. costs without being convicted." So said Mr. Curtis Bennett at Gow street on Thursday at the conclusion of the hearing of a summons against Mr. Horatio Bottomley for publishing in "John Bull" a scheme for the sale of chances in a lottery called the "John Bull Derby Sweep."

Mr. Musket (for the police) said there were two summonses, having reference to March 8 and 15. Mr. Bottomley had been summoned by arrangement.

"I am no party to any arrangement," interposed Mr. Bottomley. Amid laughter Mr. Musket remarked that he could have brought the directors and printers into court, but the name of Mr. Bottomley was given as the person who would desire to be summoned. The advertisement related to a Derby sweep to be conducted in Geneva, the first prize for which was £5,000. The penalty for publishing the advertisement of a lottery was £25.

CHILDREN IN THE HOME.

When there are children in the home it requires constant attention to keep them free from the many childhood ailments which come so quickly—some of the proving fatal—others leave the little one cross, restless and weak. To keep little ones well Baby's Own Tablets must be kept in the house. These Tablets regulate the stomach and bowels, break up colds and fevers; expel worms and make teething easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

DOES YOUR SIDE ACHE?

Which the first symptoms appear, rub with Nerville—rub it in deeply. It penetrates to the muscles, and chords that are sore—takes away stiffness—removes all strain and inflammation. If the condition is chronic, put a Nerville Porous Plaster on the affected spot. This draws out any virus or aëmic irritation, restores the tissue to their wanted healthiness, permanently cures any weakness or tendency to pain. Nerville Plasters absorb all the deleterious secretions through the relaxed pores and when used along with Nerville itself, every muscular pain or ache must go.

Peevish, pale, restless, and sickly children owe their condition to worms. Mother Graves' Worm Expeller will relieve them and restore health.

STRASSBURG, April 23.

The government of the province of Alsace Lorraine was centred last night by the second chamber of the provincial diet for instructing its representatives in the federal council of the German Empire to vote for the military bills, increasing the German army which the members of the diet declared to be contrary to the views of the population of Alsace-Lorraine. The motion was adopted by a majority of 47 against 5. An official statement by the viceroys of the province declaring that the military measures were of a purely defensive character to enable the German Empire which had not the remotest aggressive intentions to ward off any attacks with the full force of the German nation, was read without producing any effect on the legislators.
