Seriously Injured

On Monday Mrs Bethuel Loverin met with a serious accident. In company with her brother, she had been spending a few days at Charleston Lake, preparing her summer home, "Rockmount Cottage," for occupancy. Towards evening on Monday she started to drive Mr T. D. Spence's horse to Athens, attached to a light waggon. On leaving the yard it is supposed that some insect must have stung the horse for it commenced to act very ugly and cramped the wagon so that to avoid being thrown out Mrs Loverin jumped. In falling her left leg was broken in two places below the knee. Help was promptly on hand and she was conveyed to Foster's hotel where Mrs Spence, an experienced nurse, rendered all necessary first aid. Dr. Harte was summoned by phone and made a quick trip to the lake. The fractures were reduced and the patient made as comfortable as possible. On Tuesday, under the personal superintendence of Dr. Harte, Mrs Loverin was taken by launch to her cottage, where she is now resting easily.

COUNTY ROADS

On Saturday last a Reporter representative visited the scene of operations on the stretch of county road extending north from the boundary line of Athens. At Wight's Corners the improved line forks and runs a quarter of a mile of the Plum Hollow road and a quarter of a mile on the Lake road, making a mile and a half altogether. The preparatory work was well under way and the delivery of the macadam had commenced. This preparatory work includes careful grading and draining as far as the flat, rocky nature of the road will permit. Hollows in the road-bed are being filled with flat rock and on other stretches the grader has been used to give a good crown to the road. It is intended that this crown shall slope to the sides at the rate of 1 inch per foot. The road-bed itself will consist of macadam deposited to a thickness of from 6 to 12 inches. Drainage, so essential to the permanence of a road, is a serious problem along this line. A powerful pick-plow, broken in two and lying beside the road, offered mute testimony as to the difficulties to be encountered. On the occasion of our visit, Mr Fred Hayes, manager of construction, was giving personal attention to the drainage and was having flat rock quarried from the sides to be later used for filling on the road-bed. The crushing outfit of Mr Yates Avery, with Mr Winford Cowan in charge of the motor, is located in a field beside the Plum Hollow road. There an immense quantity of stone has been piled and a gang of half-a-dozen men are putting it through the Sawyer-Massey crusher. From the crusher the stone passes by carriers to an elevated revolving screen, which grades it into four sizes. These different sizes drop into chutes ready for delivery to the spreading wagons. The whole outfit was working smoothly and the completion of the road is now in measurable distance.

HOMESEKERS' EXCURSIONS

The Grand Trunk Railway has issued a circular authorizing all Agents in Canada to sell Homeseekers' Excursion tickets to points in Western Canada. This is interesting information for those desiring to take advantage of these excursions on certain dates from April to September 1910. The Grand Trunk Route is the most interesting, taking a passenger through the populated centres of Canada, through Chicago, and thence via Duluth, or through Chicago and the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Ask Grand Trunk Agents for further particulars.

Recipes

CHESSE PUDDING. Butter's a baking dish and lay thin slices of bread on the bottom and sides.

CREAMED CODFISH AND EGGS. Soak one cupful of flaked codfish in two cupfuls of hot water; drain, and add one cupful of hot milk; set over the fire and cook until the milk is creamy and reduced to one-fourth its quantity.

FIG ICE CREAM. Make a custard from the yolks of five eggs, one cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, the yolks of five eggs and three cupfuls of milk.

DATE PIE. Cook one-third of a pound of sugar dates with two cupfuls of milk for 20 minutes in the top of a double boiler.

CORNMEAL GRIDDLE AND CAKES. Beat two eggs light, and stir into them a teaspoonful of salt and a baking soda—the latter dissolved in a tablespoonful of boiling water—two tablespoonfuls of molasses, and one tablespoonful of melted butter or lard.

FRUIT IN BLANC-MANGE BORDER. Put two ounces of gelatine into three pints of water and let it boil for half an hour; then strain it into one and a half pints of cream and sweeten it.

STUFFED EGGS. Boil six eggs for twenty minutes. After taking off the shells, cut a little piece from one end of each egg, so that it will stand upright. Then cut each egg across the middle, with a little metal letter, and paste and a dash of pepper. Stuff the eggs with this and put the two halves of each together again.

THE FLOWER OF THE MONTH. We have native hawthorns. But we prefer the English sort. We love the offerings of old hedge-foes.

THE PACE. (Puck.) The rhinoceros surveyed the world complacently. "After all, I set the pace, in a manner of speaking," he thought. "Whereat the other beasts burst out laughing."

SMOKE WAR 600 YEARS AGO. We are accustomed to think of the smoke nuisance as a modern phenomenon, but Prof. V. B. Lewis shows that it raised so much indignation in England 600 years ago that a decree was made forbidding the use of bituminous coal for fuel.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. THE GREAT KIDNEY DISEASE. BRIGHT'S DISEASE. GRAVEL. RHEUMATISM. NEURALGIA. MIGRAINE. SCIATICA. GOUT. CALCULI. SANDS. STONES. URIC ACID. URIC ACID. URIC ACID.

They Restore Your Health

Redden Your Cheeks, Improve Poor Appetite, Bring Back Lost Strength and Spirits.

None are so healthy, so buoyant and full of life as those who regulate with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Even in one night they work wonders. Fur and coating they take from the tongue, headaches they relegate to the past, biliousness and stomach disorders they prevent and absolutely cure.

AEROPLANE PROPELLERS. On the face of it it would not seem that the making of an aeroplane propeller would call for much expert workmanship, but a great deal of attention is given to the manufacture of this part.

NEW TREATMENT FOR THROAT AND LUNGS. Almost exploded is the old theory of treating Bronchitis, catarrh and nasal troubles by stomach medicines. The cause of these diseases is carried by air to their final lodgment in the throat, nose or bronchial tubes.

GUARD FOR CHILDREN'S EYESIGHT. "Force the children to take back seats at the moving picture show," is the advice of an English authority, who says that no child should be allowed to sit nearer than thirty feet away from the curtain.

THE MODERN WAY OF HOME DYEING. It is to use ONE DYE that will color all the goods you wish to dye. Wool, Cotton, Silk or Mixed Goods Perfectly. You will find this in DYOLA.

TEACHING MORALITY BY MACHINERY. If the plans of a group of public-spirited educators are carried out, there is soon to be a nation-wide organization for teaching morality by machinery.

THE ONLY MEDICINE FOR THE BABY. The only medicine a mother should give her little ones is one she can give fear absolutely safe that not the slightest harm will result—a medicine that is guaranteed strictly free from injurious drugs.

THE CORONATION OF GEORGE V. Statesmen and soldiers from every part of the vast British Empire will meet in London at this time and symbolize in their presence the dazzling diversity of King George's foreign possessions.

RID TOWN OF NIGHT PROWLERS. Jasper Pike and Harry Stevenson, of Camden, made $200 recently by practically ridding Camden of night howling cats, but they landed in jail through their ingenuity and each had to pay a $5 fine.

FEW ESCAPE CORNS. They come to the young, the old, the weak and the strong. In all cases, cure is effected in twenty-four hours by Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor. This remedy isainless, it's sure, it's all-ways cures. Don't experiment. Use the old and reliable Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor. Price 25c.

A CLOSE SHAVE. David Warfield, the actor, was describing his European trip. The best thing I saw was the Milan Cathedral," he said. "The worst was the English barber. The English barber has a dull razor. He lathers your nostrils and your lips. He brushes your hair with a revolving brush that runs by machinery."

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LIMITED. I was very sick with Quinsy, and thought I would strangle. I used MINARD'S LINIMENT and it cured me at once. I am never without it now. Yours gratefully. MRS. C. D. PRINCE. Newburg, Ont., Oct. 21st.

Mexican Women Pray at Shrines for Peace

To pray to the Virgin of Guadalupe that trouble may cease and the revolution come to a speedy end is a large number of the leading society women of this capital went to the famous chapel on the hill just at sunrise yesterday morning.

NEW GOULD STORY. George Gould was making one of his last trips as president of the Missouri Pacific. His private car was laid out on a siding for some reason or other, and he got out to stretch his legs.

LOBSTER MAGNATES OF MAINE. One reason for the high price of lobsters is that the fishermen did not care to expose themselves to the hardships of keeping out their traps during the winter season. Eleven per cent. of the lobstermen have been fishing during the winter season, and even this set but 40 per cent. of their traps.

DIAS AS A TYRANT. What is it that the Mexican revolutionists ask for, and what do they propose to do following their inevitable triumph, which is already so close at hand?

VEGETARIAN CHEESE EATERS. We know of an ardent vegetarian who keeps a supply of cheese in a desk in his business office, from which he helps himself liberally and frequently during the day; thus nature replenishes the supply of protein supposed to be denied her.

SWITZERLAND'S WATER-POWER. It is estimated that Switzerland now utilizes a greater proportion of its available water-power than any other country in the world.

TRY MURINE EYE REMEDY. For Red, Weak, Watery, Watery Eyes and GRANULATED EYELIDS. Murine Doesn't Smart—Soothes Eye Pains. Murine Softens Hard Eye Remedy. Liquid, 25c. 5c. 10c. Murine Eye Tablets, 25c. $1.00. EYE BOOKS AND ADVICE FREE BY MAIL. Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago.

THE VERSATILE VELASQUEZ. "There's many a true word spoken by accident," F. H. Smith, the artist, says. "I dropped in at a picture sale. The auctioneer displayed a dandy and said: 'Now, ladies and gentlemen, what am I offered for this superb Velasquez, probably the best Velasquez that ever came from the master's hand?'"

Keep Minard's Liniment in the house. Nearly all burglars get in through the door, which the householder is so careful to bolt and chain, but through the window. In London in one year 367 burglars got through windows, fifteen through fireplaces and eleven by "breaking out." False keys were used twenty-five times. The favorite hours are 2 to 6 in the morning. The householder falls into his soundest sleep about an hour after dozing off and is least likely to hear a burglar, say, between 1 and 3 o'clock. But the policeman on duty must be growing tired by cockcrow, and that seems why the burglar selects the later hours.

ILLINOIS PUNSTERS AT WORK. When Axel Conrad Lemon left the Circuit of Winnebago County he believed he had heard the last of punsters on his name and gibes which had caused him anguish since the slang application became popular. His hope, says the Bloomington correspondent of the St. Louis Republic, was based on a fact that Judge Frost, of Lemon's request, had just changed his name to Lemon.

WEeping DECIDUOUS TREES. Each lawn should have one. They are loveliest beside a babbling brook. The weeping willow (native of Palestine) is a light, graceful tree. A native willow is said to be a trifle more hardy. Large leaves are a feature of the symmetrical weeping elm. Among the rapid-growing weepers is the European weeping ash. The weeping beech attains a height of 20 or 30 feet, and is, in a hurry. A white bark and delicately cut leaves distinguish the cut-leaved weeping birch.

ELECTROCUTED EGGS. It is possible that the peculiar taste of a cold-storage egg which is something not easy to mistake, may be removed if experiments now being made by an inventive agency are successful. Says the Inventive Agency: It is claimed that when fresh eggs are placed in cold storage the eggs are alive, that they are slowly frozen to death, and that in spite of the preservation qualities of the low temperature do not taste good when cooked. It is now believed that by electrocuting the egg the natural fresh taste may be retained and removed by the egg being placed in cold storage. The eggs are "killed" by placing a metal can on each end of a tray, and electric current is passed of 200 volts.

A 'CROSS COUNTER TALK

Customer: "How do you know the colors in Sherwin-Williams Paint, Prepared, are durable?"
Dealer: "The colors in S.W.P. are durable and lasting because of the high qualities of raw materials used, the care taken in manufacture and the skill employed in mixing and grinding. The S.W. Co. has its own dry color plant and produces dry colors second to none for brilliancy and strength; operates its own linseed oil mill and manufactures all pure linseed oil for S.W. Products; has its own lead and zinc mines, and employs a large staff of chemists to maintain the standard of all raw materials and finished products. "With materials of such quality, combined with the thorough assimilating they receive in mixing and grinding, is insured the most permanent and durable colors it is possible to manufacture. S.W.P. wears as long as any paint can wear and retains its brilliancy and freshness for the greatest possible time."

MOTION PICTURES.

French Inventor Perfecting Device to Send Them by Wire.

Something rather more tangible than television has been devised by a French inventor, Edouard Belin, who is making an apparatus by which a series of photographs can be telegraphed one after the other instantaneously, and reformed so as to give a cinematograph reproduction of an event at any distance away. Thus, if a series of pictures were taken of some event at a city such as Newcastle, they could be rapidly prepared for the telegraph, and a facsimile reproduction of the event seen immediately on a screen in London. M. Belin uses a paper photograph of quite an original type as the sending "record." An ordinary half-tone newspaper illustration, if examined closely, is seen to consist of innumerable dots of various sizes which combine to form the picture with its light and shade; M. Belin's records consist of innumerable perforations in a sheet of paper, each hole of a certain size and corresponding to the dots of a half-tone photograph. This is laid on a metal base and drawn along under a set of metal brushes; the wider the hole the more contact there is between the brush and the metal underneath. By this means the amount of electric current sent to the distant viewing screen is varied.

The currents of various strengths are made to illuminate more or less strongly small portions of the viewing screen, each of which corresponds to a perforation in the picture transmitter. By passing a series of cinematograph photographs under the brushes at the transmitting station, a reproduction would be seen with all the original life and motion in it. The practicability of the idea has already been tested between a suburb of Paris and a station in Paris itself, but M. Belin has not yet constructed a receiver capable of more than demonstrating that the idea is not a vain one.

He claims that television with selenium, as used in the methods already described, is not practicable owing to the slowness with which the selenium "cell" responds to changes of light, while his own apparatus is purely mechanical and depending only on mechanical precision, should solve the problem of transmitting "living" images over the wires.

Sewing Suggestions.

Where duplicates must be made in any part of a paper pattern, instead of doing the work twice use carbon paper and mark with a hard pencil. Thus your work is perfectly exact and you run no risk of ruining the garment.

Instead of using the "wooden egg" darning tray utilize your old shoe tress. The entire form of the foot is then taken on by the stocking, and you can see exactly where your darn ought to go.

Another darning idea is to paint half of your darning ball white so as to use it under black footed stockings. Oil paint mixed with a little turpentine will do the work.

As good as a patent ringer is a steel crocheting hook, which catches under threads, pull out bastings, etc., in double quick time.

Mend your rug by whipping over the worn edges with yarn to match the rug and then single crochet over the hole or worn place very tightly with a crochet hook.

The Soft Answer. "The sailor after a long voyage," said a naval officer, "went ashore in the tropics, and, it being a hot day, he drank in certain tropical bars too much beer. As the sailor lunched under his heavy load along a palm bordered avenue his captain hailed him indignantly. "Look here," the captain said, "suppose you were my commander and you were in such a case as you're in now. What would you do to me?" "Why, sir," said the sailor, "I wouldn't condescend to take no notice of you at all, sir."

False Information. The city farmer was calling on his neighbor and making a few observations on methods in poultry raising. "Mr. Jones," he asked, "how do you manage to have such broilers by the middle of July? My chickens won't be large enough to use for a month yet." "Well, I dunno," replied Farmer Jones. "The only rule I follow is to set my hens in the spring."

"In the spring!" exclaimed the new resident. "Why, all my poultry books say emphatically that hens should be set in a dry place."

Falling Leaves. It is not every one, even in these days of close nature study, who knows that leaves fall because they are actually cut off from the stem by a layer of cork that forms across the base of their stalks. This process is explained very strikingly by Prof. Boulenger in Knowledge, and, what is more, he points out that no nourishment is left in the dead leaf, but only the waste products of vitality, of which the tree is well rid.

The Bergamot Tree. There is but one spot in the world where the bergamot tree can be cultivated with profit, a fact of some importance, since its essence is indispensable in the manufacture of numerous perfumes and medicinal preparations. The spot referred to is Reggio, in Calabria, that extremity of the Italian peninsula which is familiarly known as "the toe of the boot."

A Literary Age. "This is a literary age." "Think so, grandpa?" "Yep. When I was a young feller there wasn't but one volume in the whole country. And now my grandson sleeps in a folding bed that looks like a bookcase."

The Earl Marshal. The Duke of Norfolk, as the hereditary holder of the office of Earl Marshal, has the sole jurisdiction in all questions of honor and arms in Great Britain.

PLANT ASSASSINS.

Flowers That Attract, Imprison and Kill Their Insect Victims.

Many plant murders are accomplished with a refinement of detail that makes it easy to believe that the crimes are premeditated. The saracenia furnish an example of the so-called plant reasoning. These vivacious natives of the swamp lands of North America, notably Florida, have traveled from America to the botanical gardens of Europe. Their flowers, which are purplish or of a fine yellow color, attract and invite the confidence of insects. Their leaves are rolled like a cornucopia and provided at the broad end with a lid. Into these upright sepulchers winged and creeping victims fall, never to return to light and air. Attracted by the color and the odor of the flowers, the victims draw near and, poised upon their stems, scent their honey. Little by little they approach the cup, hover for an instant on its edge, then begin the descent. Possibly they do not see the spearlike points set like the stakes of the fisher's weir in the lining of the cup. This victim goes down between the stakes and fast on honey. When full they turn to climb to the outer world. Again and again they ascend a hair's breadth, only to fall back, until, exhausted by their futile efforts, they drop into the poisoned water where float the sodden bodies of the flies trapped before them. A naturalist who observed the death struggles of insects trapped by this rapacious and treacherous plant saw a young half in, half out of the water, making desperate efforts to free itself from the trap. The lower part of its body, the part under water, was paralyzed, glued to immobility by the secretion contained in the water. "There was something horrible," said the naturalist, "in the artifice used by the plant in its capture of the animal. The plant lures the animal to its doom by giving it a feast. The honey is a trap, and to all appearance the holder of the trap is a cold-blooded, calculating assassin."

Fixed Their Hair First.

It seems to have been proved beyond the peradventure of a doubt that personal vanity is the ruling passion of women. Six pretty telephone girls in one big city are said to have stopped to arrange their puffs before a hand mirror before they made their escape from a burning building. But—ah! It's not only the dear girls who think about their looks. Listen to this story that a prominent portrait painter told recently as she paused with a little smile before one of her pictures, that of a round faced, jovial, care free old gentleman, evidently on the easy and comfortable side of sixty.

"Mr. X. was horrified when he first saw this portrait," said she. "Oh, yes, he agreed that that picture was entirely satisfactory. What he objected to was the hair. Now, those careless white locks crowning his good natured, ruddy face make one of the best points in the picture, but he said: 'Why, if I'd known my hair would look like that I'd never have sat for a portrait. Can you—er—darken that hair and make it—er—grow down on my forehead more?'"

Burlap and Leather.

Very attractive book covers, table mats, etc., are made of cut leather over burlap. It is difficult to describe the real beauty of these. Of course the design is cut out in the leather, which is suede by preference, and the burlap is then stitched to it. Sometimes small metal beads, like tiny nails, give the effect of old hammered work. Instead of leather, velvet may be used for the lighter articles. Some lovely color combinations are obtained, such as green and biscuit color, royal purple, blue and terra cotta, gray and bronze. It is very easy work and extremely stunning.

Fate of Pins.

By a series of experiments conducted on his estate a French investigator has discovered that pins go the way of all flesh and are resolved into dust. Hairpins which the experimenter watched for 154 days disappeared at the end of that time, having been resolved into a ferrous oxide, a brownish rust, which was blown away by the wind. Bright pins took nearly eighteen months to disappear, polished steel needles nearly two years and a half; brass pins had but little endurance; steel pens at the end of fifteen months had nearly gone, while their wooden holders were still intact.

The Portuguese Rebanadas.

A dish as much eaten by the Portuguese as mince pie by Americans is the rebanadas. It is of Moorish origin and is easily and quickly prepared, as befitted the habits of a nomadic race. Thick slices of bread are soaked in new milk, fried in olive oil and then spread with honey and eaten hot. The result is something delicious, and those who have once tasted the rebanadas will want to taste it again.

How He Escaped.

"But," says the returned explorer, "although I seemed to be hopelessly lost and there was not the slightest sign of a trail, I was not the least alarmed, for at that moment some nomadic Kurds rode into my camp." "Why were you not alarmed?" asks a listener. "I knew the Kurds would show me the way."

Almost Persuaded.

"Oh, my dear, what a pretty, cozy little home you have!" exclaimed a caller to an east end lady the other day. "I said thank you'd be perfectly happy in such a beautiful place as this." "I am," laughed the hostess. "It really is a sweet place. Sometimes I actually feel like giving up my club work and living in it for awhile."

Swearing In Members.

In a new House of Commons the Speaker is the first to take the oath and subscribe the roll, and is followed by the other members, who are presented by the clerk.

I. O. O. F. AT CHURCH

On Sunday afternoon members of Farmersville Lodge No. 237 I.O.O.F. and visiting brethren attended divine service in Christ church, where they were addressed by the rector, Rev. R. B. Patterson, M. A.

Preceding the service, the rector read a letter from the House of Bishops dealing with the ne temere decree of the Roman Catholic Church and defining the attitude of the Anglican Church towards mixed marriages, the marriage of divorced persons, and declaring strongly in favor of one marriage law for the whole Dominion—a law that would place its legality, when properly performed, above the dicta of any ecclesiastical body.

The selected lessons for the day were particularly appropriate to the occasion and the sermon on unity was such as appealed strongly to the members of the order and impressed all present with its importance in every walk of life. The choral service included a well rendered solo by Miss May Berney.

On returning to the lodge room, votes of thanks were passed to the pastor and choir, to the visiting brethren, and to the marshal of the day, Mr. E. Barlow of Delta.

KILBORN—DUNHAM

Two of Frankville's very popular young people, Roy E. Kilborn and Lena Dunham, were married in Toronto on May 10th, by Rev. Mr. Sykes.

On their return Friday evening, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Dunham, when over one hundred guests spent an enjoyable evening. The guests were conducted by Mrs. (Dr.) Dixon to the drawing room, where they were received by the bride and groom. Mrs. Kilborn, the bride, looked charming attired in Coronation blue veil with trimmings of net and satin, and carried a large spray of white roses. The lawn was illuminated with Chinese lanterns and made a very gala appearance, while the Toledo brass band added to the enjoyment of the evening by playing a number of choice selections. Dainty refreshments were served, and the array of costly presents testified to the popularity of the young couple, who have the best wishes of a host of friends.

OBITUARY

Mrs Francis Sheldon

Last week's Reporter contained a brief announcement of the death of Mrs Francis Sheldon, after only about a week's illness with pneumonia. The announcement of her death came as a shock to her many friends as few realized that her condition was serious.

Deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs Robert Taber of Athens and was aged 46 years. She was born at Soperston where most of her life was spent. A zealous member of the Methodist church, she was active in all departments of the church's work. Following her marriage, about seven years ago, she removed to Oak Leaf and later to Athens. During the special services in the Methodist church last fall she was particularly clear in her testimonies and this bright hope for the future continued with her to the last.

Besides her husband and little daughter, aged five years, she is survived by her father and the following brothers and sisters: Walter of Glen Elbe, Wilfrid of Newdale, Man, Mrs Anglin of Battershe, Mrs Jackson of Chicago, Mrs Powriss of Glen Buell and Miss Carr of Athens.

The funeral service was conducted at the family residence on Thursday last by the Rev. F. A. Read in the presence of many friends of the deceased from Soperston, Delta and Oak Leaf as well as home friends and neighbors.

The remains were borne to their last resting place by six cousins of the deceased, namely: Fred Johnston of Lansdowne, Benjamin Henderson of Morton, Fred Taber of Morton, Charles Taber of Carleton Place, Edward Parcell and George Parcell of Athens.

To the friends so sorely bereaved the Reporter extends sincere condolences.

A Plague of Worms

Is Athens again to suffer from the ravages of tent caterpillars? It looks that way just now. The tents are beginning to gleam through the foliage of the trees and the crawlers argue generally in evidence. The measures taken for their destruction during the last visitation were not adopted until their presence became so obnoxious that individuals and municipalities were simply forced to take action. A general effort now would do much to stay the progress and avert such a plague as came to this section a few years ago. Then the trees of the woods, as well as the fruit trees and shrubbery of gardens, were devastated, and every means possible was resorted to to destroy them. It was learned that at certain times in the day the caterpillars either return to their tents or assemble in compact form on the limbs or boles of trees, and the application of kerosene emulsion was found to be very effective in killing them. Steps should at once be taken to fight the pests and concerted action on the part of villagers would undoubtedly be productive of good results.

THE FARMER'S BANK

William Laidlaw, K. C., who is handling the Farmers' Bank case for the Halton county farmers, states that a strong fight will be put up against the double liability claim.

The farmers and other investors in Farmers' Bank stock residing in the county of Halton have determined to resist the levy of Curator Clarkson even to the door of the Privy Council in England. This decision was arrived at by the leading shareholders of the bank, who met at Milton. A general meeting of all concerned in the double liability list has been called for the 29th.

The purpose of the Halton victims is to contest the legality of the demands made by the creditors of the bank, on the bold assertion that the Farmers' Bank never legally existed, and that the curator has no legal right to call upon any loser for a solitary dollar.

The sum of six thousand dollars will be raised as a defence fund.

Rural Mail Boxes

The rural mail boxes and equipment used in the installation of the new rural mail delivery system are now all made in Toronto, and are being turned out at several hundreds per day. These were formerly imported from the United States. The boxes are exactly the same pattern as those previously imported.

The letter box is fastened to the end of a crane of steel, which revolves on the top of the post. Thus the postman can reach for the box with a hook and draw it to him without descending from his cart. When he puts letters in the box for the farmer patron he turns the box at right angles to this post. The farmer when he puts letters in the box for collection turns the box in a similar position for the information of the mail carrier. On other hand, if there is nothing in the box either for the postman or for the farmer the box is turned parallel with the crane and the road-line.

It is estimated that about 100,000 of the rural population of the country are now being served with rural mail delivery.

CHARLESTON

Mr and Mrs Davis and children Kingston returned home on Sunday after a few pleasant days here, guests of Mr and Mrs R. Foster.

Peroy Finley, very ill, is convalescent.

The infant son of Mr and Mrs S. Kelsey died on Thursday. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon to Athens cemetery. The services were held at the house.

S. Whaley has completed the wall for Mr. Finley's barn and is engaged in building one for S. Godkin.

Mr and Mrs C. E. Frye and son, Soperston, were guests with the latter's parents on Sunday.

The rural mail delivery commences on Thursday, June, 1st.

WEDDING KNIVES.

They Were Once a Necessary Part of a Bride's Costume.

Of the many dainty and curious relics belonging to old wedding customs none is more interesting and beautiful in themselves than the once indispensable bride knives, specimens of which still linger here and there among the cabinets of old country houses in England.

Or you may discover a slender, quaint old pair of these ancient posy knives in their delicate, faded cases, hiding behind the glass in some sleepy provincial museum.

You scarcely realize as you examine them that without her wedding knives attached to her girdle the medieval and seventeenth-century bride would hardly have considered herself befittingly dressed. So completely a part of the marriage costume were they and so important an item of the ritual of the ceremony that they once came to be considered almost as necessary to the orthodox marriage as the veil and ring themselves. The old plays teem with allusions to them.

And who can forget the figure of Juliet, wearing her wedding knives as she stands in tragic anguish in the friar's cell, and again when she is about to take the sleeping potion? Shakespeare in the old quarto of 1597 made special reference to his heroine wearing them.

Of the hundred and one, delicate trifles of the ancient wedding toilet few were invested with more tender fancies of mystic symbolism than these knives. There was first the idea of the severing of the knot of love and then the more practical suggestion of emblem of good housewifery and domestic policy.

They were not worn in England alone, but all over Europe, wedding knives formed part of the bride's regular accoutrements. The highest invention was often brought to bear upon their metal, brocade and shagreen cases and sheaths. In the old Flemish pictures they may be seen hanging from the bride's girdle beside the bodkin, scissors and other personal articles of the new wife.

Very beautiful indeed are some of the quaint old blades and handles, and all were of superior quality and artistic workmanship. As of olden times the bride rose so they became more elaborately chased, and sometimes they were jeweled to a standard of immense value. It is very curious to learn that many of the finest English specimens created and swank in those remote days from Sheffield.

The precise origin of the custom of wearing wedding knives is lost in obscurity, but their decline from favor seems to have set in after the reign of William and Mary. In the time of Anne and the early Georges the custom was already obsolete and archaic. There is something almost mysterious in the way in which these beautiful little mementoes have completely vanished from modern usage, disappearing almost concurrently with the ill-fated Stuarts.—London Queen.

A Spanish Dictionary. The science of dictionary making has made some progress in the past hundred years, if we are to judge by an entry in 'The Spanish Journal of the Herald' which writes under date February, 1803: 'A biographical dictionary of 'Los Hijos de Madrid' is no had specimen of the roundabout way in which Spaniards do things. The names are arranged in alphabetical order, but according to the Christian names of the worthies; therefore one might look for an hour and not find it at last unless one had an extract from the serial record of all the saints under whose protection the parents chose to place him.'

Chairs in the Dark Ages. The chairs of the dark ages, modeled partly on those of the Romans, were in keeping with the comfortable dwellings in which the people of the north of Europe men passed their lives. The Saxon Kings of England are represented as seated on thrones in the form of a box, the ends slightly raised, the bottom advanced to form a sort of footstool. There is always a cushion to add a degree of comfort and sometimes a back in the form of a crosspiece or remotely resembling the backs of modern chairs.

The Crocodile. Pliny said the crocodile's skin 'will abide any injury and not be pierced.' That may have been true in his day, but it is not true now. The bullet of a heavy modern rifle will pierce the skin anywhere unless it strikes in a slanting direction. The crocodile is not as a rule hard to kill, provided one can get a good shot at it, but that is just the trouble. It has not the marvelous vitality of the shark, which will sometimes struggle furiously for an hour, although covered with apparently mortal wounds.

Why Boys Are Brave. To his teacher's request that he give the class ideas on the subject of 'bravery' little Johnny delivered himself of the following: 'Some boys is brave because they always plays with little boys, and some boys is brave because their legs is too short to run away, but most boys is brave because somebody's lookin'.'

A Spanish Custom. It is customary throughout Spain for the waiter of cafes to fill glasses of wine or liquor so that it overflows upon the sabbler. This custom, in which it is desired to show an appearance of liberality, is called 'the foot bath.'

A Heroic Pup. Caesar, a five-months-old terrier, has been presented with a collar at Winchester Guildhall and enrolled in the Brotherhood of Hero Dogs for having saved his mistress's life by rousing her during a fire.

Developing New Zealand's Electricity. New Zealand plans to spend about $10,000,000 in the next four years to develop electric power from her lakes and rivers.

THE DEAD SEA.

Beautiful, Gay and Smiling, But the Home of Mystery and Death.

Even apart from the exaggerations of legends, which make its exhalations so poisonous that birds flying over it fall down dead through suffocation, the Dead Sea is a sufficiently awe-inspiring body of water. From a neighboring height you look down at the lowest spot on the earth's surface—the hollow of the sea, blue as the sky in the morning sunshime, flecked with cloud-like wavelets, beautiful, gay and smiling, but bitter, treacherous, and the home only of mystery and death.

Studied at closer quarters the sea is of a peculiar oily greenish hue, and its strange qualities become vividly apparent. There is no life in it with the exception of some few microscopic specimens, and salt water fish when put into it; while fresh water species brought down by the River Jordan and other streams running into it soon floundered upon the surface. Bathers who venture into it find it impossible to sink below the surface, and suffer from irritation of the skin after emerging, owing to the extreme saltness. Analysis has shown that the water contains more than 25 per cent. of saline matter. About the centre of the northern section the depth is very great, as much as 1,328 feet having been fathomed. The surface is 1,277 feet below that of the Mediterranean. And, what seems most mysterious of all, the Dead Sea has no visible outlet; indeed, can scarcely have an outlet owing to its lying so low; and yet it receives daily about 6,500,000 gallons of water, and apparently once received a good deal more from the Jordan and other rivers which empty into it.

The secret of this constant addition to its waters and yet failure to increase in extent or depth is to be sought in the tremendous daily evaporation caused by the fierce sun beating down upon it and in the absorbent nature of the soil. The southern end, near the salt hills, is the lowest and least inviting to the eye, and it is for this reason that people have looked here for the site of the five Cities of the Plain.

The name of the lake has varied considerably during historical times. In the Old Testament, for instance, we hear of the 'East Sea,' 'Salt Sea,' or 'Sea of Akabah.' In the classical period it was known as the 'Lake of Asphalt,' later as the 'Dead Sea,' which title was adopted by the early Fathers of the Church. Nowadays the Arabs call it Bahr Lut, 'Sea of Lot.'

The Beginning of Satin.

The discovery of the principle of the manufacture of satin was a pure accident. The discovery was made by a silk weaver named Octavio Mas. During a dull period of business one day he was pacing before his loom, not knowing how to give a new impulse to his trade. As he passed the machine each time he pulled short threads from the warp and following an old habit, put them into his mouth and rolled them about, soon after spitting them upon the floor. Later he discovered a little ball of silk upon the floor of his shop and was astonished at the brilliancy of the threads. He repeated the experiment and eventually employed various mucilaginous preparations and succeeded in making satin.

Dangerous Smoking.

Natives of Central America are inveterate users of pimento tobacco which they make from dried pimento berries or allspice. It invariably gives the smoker a sore throat and often causes cancer of the tongue. The native of South Africa are afflicted in a peculiar manner by the smoke from the dried leaves of the camphor plant. The smoker trembles with fright at nothing, weeps bitterly and uses all sorts of words which do not in the least express his meaning. The wild daga, another South African plant, poisons slowly those who use it.

The Cannibal.

'And what,' asked the cannibal chieftain in his kindest tones 'what was your business before you were captured by my men?' 'I was a newspaper man,' answered the captive.

'An editor?' 'No, merely a sub-editor.' 'Cheer up, young man! Shortly after my chef has finished his perusal of the cookbook you will be editor in chief.'

Laughing heartily at his bonnet, the cannibal chief wanted to know if the captive had a funny bone.

The Sea a Deceiver.

Like the land, the sea has its flowers, but the most brilliant of the marine flowers bloom not upon plants, but upon animals. The living corals and tropical seas present a display of floral beauty that in richness and vividness of color and variety, and grace of form rivals the splendor of a garden of flowers. The resemblance to some persons find it difficult to believe that the brilliant display contains no element of plant life, but is wholly animal in its organization.

The Planet Mars.

The planet Mars resembles the earth more closely than any other unit of the solar system that we know anything about. Mars is smaller than the earth, and its specific gravity is less. Its atmosphere is rarer than that on the highest mountains. It has probably no oceans and very little free water, except in spring, when the snow melts.

Manipulating the Mace.

The Sergeant-at-Arms carries the mace when the Speaker enters or leaves the House of Commons, places it on the table when the Speaker takes the chair, and under it when the House goes into committee.

Prince's Income.

In the Civil List no provision is made for the Prince of Wales, his income of $435,000 from the Duchy of Cornwall being considered sufficient.

LESSON IX.—MAY 28, 1911.

Micah's Picture of Universal Peace.—International Peace Lesson.—Micah 4: 1-8.

Commentary.—I. The Messianic King.—Micah (vs. 1, 2). I. But—This word denotes a sharp transition from the prophecy of the destruction of Jerusalem, at the close of the preceding chapter, to the comforting prediction here recorded. In the last days—"In the latter days," R. V. "In the days to come." The mountain of the house of the Lord—"According to the last verse of the preceding chapter, the place was to become as a forest, but later a place of power and beauty. "Under Messiah, its elevation is to be not that of situation, but of moral dignity."—J. F. & B. Top of the mountain—This is not intended to include Mount Moriah only, but Jerusalem as a whole. Exalted—The condition of the Jewish nation in Micah's time was deplorable. The people were given over to idolatry and rebellion against God, but the prophet in his vision saw the blessedness and the glory of the kingdom of Christ. People shall flow unto it.—In Isaiah 2, 2 the language is, "All nations shall flow unto it," signifying that the kingdom of Christ was to be for all the world. The verb translated "shall flow" is "only used figuratively of the movements of masses of men to great centres." When Jesus gave his final commission to His disciples he expressed the idea that Christianity is world-wide in its scope, saying, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature." (Mark 16, 15). Blessings and mercy permeate the Christian system. The Gospel is adapted to all races, all ages, all climes, in short, to all conditions of mankind, and hence all peoples are attracted to it.

2. Many nations—Only one nation was directly included in the covenant made with Israel, but in the new kingdom, which the prophet saw in his vision, all nations may have a place. The mountain of the Lord—house of the God of Jacob. The picture of Jerusalem as the religious metropolis of the world is shown to us by the prophets (Isa. 11, 10; Jer. 3, 17; Zech. 2, 11; Eze. 40, 23). The Christian reason, enlightened by the course of providence, sees that the picture is ideal.—Cam. Bible. He will teach—Jehovah will declare His will to the nations. This is being done by (1) the word of God, distributed by numerous agencies; (2) the preaching of the Gospel in many lands; (3) the lives and testimony of Christians, and (4) the direct agency of the Holy Spirit. We will walk in His paths.—The prophet saw the nations not simply learning the truths pertaining to the kingdom of heaven, but also walking in accordance with them. In the present age, when the truth is so accessible, men are responsible both for knowing the will of God and doing it. Law shall go forth of Zion—Jerusalem was to be the centre from which the great truths of the atonement should proceed to all nations.—Cheyne. rebuke strong nations—off—the meaning of course, is that disputes which would otherwise have been settled by the sword are referred to the just and impartial arbitration of Jehovah, whose award is accepted as final. The Revised Version has, instead of "rebuke," "decide concerning" swords into ploughshares; spears into pruning hooks.—A figure strongly setting forth the change from a condition of war to peace. The figure is reversed in Joel 3, 10, nation shall not lift up a sword against nation—There can be no war where the truths of the Messiah's kingdom are recognized and fully obeyed. The cause of war is always some wrong, actually done, or threatened, or suspected, and when wrong is done away with there can be no war. Christ came as the "Prince of Peace," and his kingdom is a peaceable kingdom. His followers partake of his spirit and are agents of peace. The church of Jesus Christ is made up of those who love peace. The International peace movement has assumed vast proportions during the last dozen years. While during that time a Parliament of the world has met at The Hague, with twenty-six nations attending the first and forty-four attending the second meeting, to plan how all differences between nations can be settled without resorting to arms. A world's tribunal has been established to sit in judgment over the controversies between nations, and while it is not yet perfect or all that it is desired to be, progress has been made to such a degree that it can be reasonably hoped that all differences will be adjusted without war. "Public opinion in favor of peace has become so powerful that thirty-five nations voted for obligatory arbitration, and they represented in round numbers 1,300,000 inhabitants, as against nine nations with a little over 200,000,000 people who either refrained from voting or voted against it."—Barthold. Aside from the cruelty of war and all the evils connected with it, the loss of life, the loss of health, the loss of character, the tears, the heartache, the desolation, the cost is enormous. In the United States alone, the annual cost of the army, the navy, fortifications, and the sum paid to soldiers of wars that are past amount in round numbers to $400,000,000, which is more than 70 per cent. of all moneys collected by the government from all sources except postal receipts. The world will be making progress rapidly when it can be said that the nations learn war no more.

4. Every man under his vine, etc.—The vine and the fig tree were the typical fruit-bearing plants in Palestine. The ideal of peace and plenty was for each family to enjoy the possession of sufficient land to produce a comfortable support. In a spiritual sense God's people have peace, contentment, abundance and the favor of the Lord. Most of the poverty and all the strife and unrest of the world come through sin. None shall make them afraid.—An ideal condition in temporal things. God's people dwell in quietness and assurance, for "perfect love casteth out fear" (1 John 4: 18). The love of hosts hath spoken it—There fore it must come to pass, however unlikely now it may seem.—J. F. and K.

III. The restoration of the Jews (vs. 5-8). 5. Every one in the name of his god.—This verse appears to be the sentiment of the Jews during the captivity. The Gentiles were following their various idolatrous tendencies, and because the people of Judah had persistently gone after other gods they were undergoing a punishment of seventy years' duration. We will walk in the name of our God.—The "name" of God is that side of his nature which can be revealed in many ways, and to walk in his name means to live in mystic union with God as he is.—The idolaters walked in the name of what they revealed himself, and under his protection.—Cam. Bible. For ever and ever their gods during a brief earthly life, but the Jews, permanently cured of idolatry, resolved to walk always with God. 6. In that city—Of the return from captivity. Assemble her that halteth—This and the following expressions are a promise of the return from captivity of the Jews who were weakened by idolatry, driven into exile and variously afflicted. This verse is capable of a deeply spiritual application. 7. A remnant of the returned people should yet be restored. Strong nation—There is interwoven with the promise of Judah's restoration a prophecy of the glory of the coming Messianic kingdom. 8. Tower of the flock—Jerusalem. As the shepherds had their watch-towers for protection, so Jerusalem is represented as watching over the flock of Israel. First dominion—"Former dominion."—R. V. The dominion formerly exercised should return.

Questions.—In the time of what kings did Micah prophesy? What prophets were contemporary with him? Into what parts may his prophecy be divided? Name several predictions which he made? What is meant by "the top of the mountains"? In what period was Jerusalem to be especially prominent? Where would the nations seek knowledge of the ways of the Lord? What expressions are there in the lesson that show peace between nations? What thought is prominent in the fourth verse? What expression shows that the Jews were cured of idolatry? Explain the sixth verse. What can we do toward establishing peace?

PRACTICAL SURVEY.

Topic—Universal peace. I. The sure word of prophecy. II. The ultimate triumph of Christianity. 1. The sure word of prophecy. The gift of prophecy would have been to its possessor a source of extreme sadness if it had been restricted to the dark passages of human history only. The prophet lifted his eyes away to the latter days to gain refreshment in his immediate toil. Without this anticipation of a golden age he must have lost his buoyancy and the spirit of endeavor would have gone out of his work. The great event of this prophecy is the focus of all prophecy. Its mere existence as a sentence of condemnation upon war. The conscience of mankind acknowledges that while war continues there is something not altogether right in the world. Micah lifts us up to the higher international atmosphere toward which we should aspire. He shows us nations persuaded and constrained into mutual peace by a common reverence for the righteous and merciful God. A Biblical ideal of true concord among the nations has been beckoning on mankind through the ages though men have been slow to pay it the homage, and yet this prophecy of peace shall come to pass through the activity of men, for all nations shall yet acknowledge the God of Israel. The tower of peace stands side by side with the tower of righteousness. No enemy is to be destroyed, but transfigured. There shall be the conversion of merely destructive force into positive and constructive ministries. Righteousness will be both the basis and substance of the international code. In the mountain of the Lord's house the people will discover their unity and kinship. Ever since the fall man has hated and oppressed his fellow men. The sooner the business of constructing implements of war becomes unnecessary the better for mankind. "Thirty-five times the present population of the earth have fallen in battle." No argument is necessary to prove that physical force can never settle the right and wrong of any question. The principal causes of war are of a moral nature. The many fulfilled prophecies assure us of the fulfillment of our rest. We therefore both look and labor for the time when every feature of this prophecy shall be realized. Our visions determine our tasks while our dominant thought regulates our activities. We must enter upon our work with visions of the later days, and let our activities bring the golden age as near to our generation as possible.

II. The ultimate triumph of Christianity. The prophets frequently described what they saw with spiritual eyes after the form of something which could be seen by the natural eye. The stability are represented by mountains. A mountain is a fixed, a stable thing, a place of safety and retreat, a source of streams and rivulets, the spot standing on which we can see the greatest distance. Under this significant image the prophet exhibits to us the grandeur and elevation of the Christian Church. The last days of the Gospel are predicted as the brightest, when philosophy, idolatry, superstition and errors of all kinds shall no longer obstruct the view or obscure the glory of the Church of Christ. The trusty way to overcome and conquer difficulties is to go up into the loftier region where they cease to be difficulties. Darkened minds will be enlightened and the forces of evil will give way quicker when Christians "live above the world and sin, with hearts made pure and garments white, and Christ enthroned within." The Gospel appeals to the mind and heart with an illumination and efficacy unknown to any other system or in any other department of inquiry. It exerts a remarkable influence on the character and destiny of man. The best religion should be attended with the greatest devotion and the most holy lives. The tendency of the religion of Jesus Christ is to bind the whole world in brotherhood. Jesus appeared in the world as the Prince of Peace. Universal brotherhood between nations, man and man, nation and nation, is a promise of the Gospel. Christianity stands pledged for the destruction of sin, the great primal cause of ignorance, error, violence, war and bloodshed. T. R. A.

Working in The Garden

HANGING BASKETS. Of course you cannot construct your hanging baskets. You can fill and arrange them, however. Soil similar and not used for window boxes should be used. Arrange plants high in centre, trailers around edge and fill in with pot used for window boxes should be considered. In baskets as in boxes plants should be fairly well crowded to get the best effect. Water daily and thoroughly soak.

RUSTIC STANDS. Here you have an opportunity to display your artistic taste as well as your originality. Almost anything in the shape of material may be employed in the construction of a rustic stand. If you have an old stump still in the ground it can be transformed into a pretty and effective rustic adornment at almost no expense at all. In an old tub, part of a barrel, or a wooden box.

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N.B.—"I have always had pains in the loins and a weakness there, and often after my meals in my food would distress me and cause soreness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better, and I can walk with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can purchase this in the papers." WILLIAM BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N.B., Canada.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery. Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

providing it is of sufficient strength to stand the weight of earth, will do the trick. Placed on top of the stump, covered with bark or such like, or even painted, it will, when properly filled, become a ring of beauty. By planting climbers in a circle about the root of the stump and training up to meet the trailers hanging from the box at the top the whole may be completely covered in a very short time. Or you may sink a section of a bark-tree trunk in the ground and produce a similar result. Piling stones around the base is another way of doing it. A hollow trunk or large root of a tree placed in the lawn filled with scarlet salvia and trailers will add brilliance to the lawn. Then there are a dozen other ways of forming rustic stands for grotesque shrubs. The most effective are the cone-shaped bunches of trees for a base, with bark covered box for top. Or you may, at small expense, purchase rustic stands already filled. The wire ones, while very pretty, have the disadvantage of allowing the earth they contain to dry out too quickly. The most effective are those by lining them with moss from the bush or sphagnum moss. They are not advisable, however. Put the tall plants to the centre, trailers to outside for rustic stands.

PLANTS FOR FILLING.

While, as a rule, plants that do well in a sunny position will succeed to some extent in a partly shaded spot plants suited particularly for shade will not do well if exposed to the burning sun. Any florist will help you in your selection. Have plenty of plants in all cases, and do not leave any bare spots in the local board to-day; all sold at 11-18c to 11-31c. Peterboro'—At the first meeting of the local cheese board held here to-day, the total number of boxes boarded were 1,255. The board was cleared at 10-5-8c. Madoc.—At the Cheese Market to-day, 583 boxes of cheese were boarded, when 458 sold at 10-11-16c, balance refused.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market this morning, the offerings of live stock were 500 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 1,520 hogs, and 2,100 calves. There was no change in the condition of the market for cattle since Monday, prices being firmly maintained at the advance noted on that day. The gathering of buyers was large, and, as they all wanted some beef to carry them over the balance of the week, the demand was good, and an active trade was done. Choice steers sold at 6 1/2 to 6 3/4, good at 5 1/2 to 6, and common at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 per pound. Cows brought from 3 1/2 to 5 1/2, and bulls from 3 1/2 to 5 1/2 per pound. Owing to increased supplies of hogs, a weaker feeling developed in the market, and prices scored another decline of 10 to 25c per cwt. At this reduction the demand from packers was good, and a fairly active trade was done, with sales of selected lots at $6.65 to $6.75 per cwt. weighed off the cars. Supplies of calves continue to come forward very freely, and in consequence the tone of the market is weaker and prices are lower, the range being from $2 to $6 each, as to size and quality. The trade in sheep and lambs was more active, and prices ruled steady at $4 to $5 for the former and $3 to $8 for the latter. At the Montreal stock yards, West-end Market, the supply of live stock consisted of 250 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 550 hogs, and 1,200 calves. There was a good demand for hogs at the above decline noted, and sales of selected lots were made at $6.65 per cwt. weighed off the cars. The trade in calves was active, at prices ranging from $2 to $6 each. The prices realized for the cattle was much the same as those quoted above.

FROM TUBERS.

If grown from tubers these should be planted in small pots. Later they may be removed to larger ones, and finally into the open ground. While but little water should be given to the roots till active growth begins, water in abundance will be necessary as the plant develops. While the Caladium will reach a higher state of perfection when planted in a mixture of fibrous loam leaf mould and well-rotted sheep or cow manure in equal parts, to which a sprinkling of bone-meal has been added, it has been successfully grown without aid of any of these. Rich ground, well prepared, in a warm spot where there will not be too much sunshine, if kept fairly damp, will produce a growth that won't disappoint.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW.

Montreal reports to Bradstreet's say there has been little change in the business situation there during the past week. The volume of wholesale and retail trade is generally of fair proportions, although in some lines there is still complaint to the effect that business is below what had been expected for this season. Fairly good sorting orders, however, continue to go out and the arrival of warmer weather should see a good expansion in general business. Toronto reports to Bradstreet's say there continues an excellent movement of general lines of merchandise. While business in dry goods is hardly what might have been expected, there is still a very satisfactory trade doing and the outlook for the future is bright. Values are steady to firm. In hardware the movement is large and reports a good normal trade. The Western demand for goods continues heavy and indications point to an excellent season in this respect. Winnipeg advises say all lines of business continue active there. Wholesalers report they are meeting with excellent demands for general merchandise and that the outlook for future trade is bright. The feature of the moment is the scarcity in the supply of ready money. Vancouver and Victoria reports say business continues active throughout the province. Quebec reports to Bradstreet's say: Improvement continues among the several branches of trade, which is no doubt due to favorable climatic conditions. Hamilton trade reports say retail business is generally of fair volume and further increase in the amount of trade moving is looked forward to. Wholesalers have had a fair sorting trade. Local factories continue busy and are reported to have plenty of orders on hand. The building trades continue very active. Country business is quiet, but deliveries of produce are fairly large. Collections are unchanged. London reports say the movement of general goods is of fair proportion, although the backward season has more or less effect. Ottawa reports say there has been little change in the trade situation there during the past week.

It had the same effect as an egg in coffee—it settled the matter. It is rumored that the debate is to be resumed, but if wise counsels prevail the boys will cut out that kind of diversion.

FOOD - FOR THOUGHT

Who pays the enormous expense of those show-rooms in our towns and cities? Is it not the people who buy pianos there?

Why buy from them when you can get just as good, and in many cases better, from me, delivered free from the factory to your door? This is one of the reasons I can sell you a piano for less money than you pay at any show-room.

All kinds of instruments taken in exchange. We defy competition for the money in all grades. Get my prices before purchasing, for they are certainly very low for strictly high grade pianos.

Also agent for Raymond, New Williams, and New Home Sewing Machines.

P. S.—Pianos sold on instalment plan when wished.
