GREAT MAJORITY FOR VANDERBECK

Labor-Party Wins Out in Bye-Election Yesterday

In the Northumberland County bye-election held yesterday to fill the vacancy in the Provincial Legislature, caused by the death of John W. Vanderbeck, the Labor-Farmer Candidate, son of the former member Mr. Abram Vanderbeck trimmed to a standstill William Johnston, supporter of the Opposition and D. A. Allain, Liberal supporter of the Foster Government. Vanderbeck's majority was 1128 over his nearest opponent Mr. Allain, the totals being Vanderbeck 3334, Allain 2705 and Johnson 1515.

The day passed quietly with no untoward happenings and everything was conducted in an amicable manner. Friends of the different candidate worked faithfully throughout polling hours, but the vote as a whole was a small one. Vanderbeck led in all parishes with large majorities with the exception of a few places, which had previously been conceded to his opponents. In Newcastle the vote was fairly well equalized among the three candidates, but in Chatham the Labor candidate had a decisive 4 to 1 victory. As was expected Rogersville went solidly for Allain as did Alnwick parish, but Vanderbeck had such large majorities from the industrial centres that the outlying parish votes had no effect in reducing to any extent his large majority. The Labor Farmer party are jubilant over their victory and considering the strong opposition which they were up against made a remarkable demonstration of their strength in this county. Mr. Johnston received his largest vote in Newcastle although he stood at Chatham on election day from which town both he and Allain polled small votes. In Millerton, Vanderbeck got 259 of the votes polled, while in Loggieville he received 179 out of the 251 total vote.

In the evening Messrs. Wood, Manderson and Walkace thanked the electorate for the magnificent vote accorded the Labor Farmer Candidate, Mr. Vanderbeck and the gathering gave three cheers for the elected candidate. The following are the returns of the different parishes:

TRACADIE RAILWAY A CERTAINTY

The matter of the survey of the Newcastle-Tracadie Railway has been energetically attended to by Mr. E. A. McCurdy, of Newcastle, who took the matter up with the Minister of Railways and also Hon. J. M. B. Baxter, Minister of Customs and excise, with the result that the survey will be immediately undertaken by the Railway authorities. This will be very welcome news to the county at large and especially to the districts between Newcastle and Tracadie. The above proves that we were correct in saying in our issue of Sept. 27th, that Mr. E. A. McCurdy was a man who attended to matters when he was given a piece of work to do. What the County of Northumberland wants is a man of capacity and the county has a man of this type in Mr. McCurdy, who has always taken a deep interest in the counties' welfare and will continue to do so.

CATHOLIC LADIES' LEAGUE FORMED

A meeting of the Catholic ladies of Newcastle was held in the A. O. H. Hall on Tuesday evening for the purpose of forming a sub-division of the Catholic Women's League of Canada. Rev. P. Bideau acted as Chairman and introduced Mr. Robert Knell, of Edmonton, Alberta Dominion organizer, who in a very pleasing and impressive manner spoke of the aims and work of the League. The Newcastle sub-division of the Catholic Women's League of Canada was consequently formed and the following officers were appointed:

President—Mrs. F. J. Desmond.
 1st Vice-Pres.—Miss M. A. Quigley
 2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. A. L. Barry
 3rd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. A. S' Demers.
 Secretary—Miss Margaret Callahan
 Treasurer—Miss Lottie McWilliam

REFERENDUM CAMPAIGN

Rev. W. D. Wilson returned to Newcastle on Monday after having been through the North Shore counties with the president of the N. B. Temperance Alliance, Donald Fraser. They had a very successful trip and visited Burnt Church, Tabusintac and Newcastle on Sunday. Continuing their trip they visited Bartibogue, Neguc, Portage River, Tracadie, Carquet, Inkerman, Pokemouge, Stone Haven, and Bathurst. At Bathurst on Tuesday an organization meeting was held in the afternoon and a big public meeting was held in the evening. At the evening meeting a large crowd heard vigorous addresses on the prohibition of the importation of the liquor which were delivered by Donald Fraser, Mr. Wilson, Rev. Mr. Cooper, and Angus McLean. G. V. Ryan, barrister, who was the chairman of the public meeting has been appointed the chairman of the public meeting has been appointed the chairman of the referendum committee for the county of Gloucester. Everywhere Mr. Fraser and Mr. Wilson were given a most cordial reception and they were greatly pleased with the support of prohibition that was promised.

GOOD HEALTH AND GOOD SPIRITS

Depend Upon the Condition of the Blood—Keep it Rich, Red and Pure.

When a doctor tells you that you are anaemia, he simply means in plain English, that your blood is weak and watery. But this condition is one that may easily pass into a hopeless decline if prompt steps are not taken to enrich the blood. Poor blood, weak, watery blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, poor digestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous, irritability and many other troubles. To poor blood is due the pimples and blotches, the muddy complexion that disfigures so many faces. To have good health, a good complexion and a cheerful manner, the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. This is easily done through the use of a blood enriching tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The whole mission of this medicine is to help enrich the blood which reaches every nerve and every organ in the body, bringing with it health, strength and new activity. That is why people who occasionally use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong.

Mrs. E. E. Cook, Simcoe, Ont., gives strong testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the blood is in an anaemic condition, she says: "I have been a sufferer for some years from a run down condition of the system. I suffered from pains in the back, twitching of the nerves and muscles, my appetite was poor, I had indigestion and would get drowsy after eating. My hands and feet were almost always cold, and though I was constantly doctoring, the medicine I took did not help me. I had practically given up hope of good health, until a friend from Hamilton came to visit me, and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It took some persuasion, but finally I consented to try them. I have reason to be grateful that I did, for after using seven boxes I felt like a new person. I have gained in weight, have a better color and my work is now a pleasure. For this condition my thanks are due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I cannot praise them too highly."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SHOULD BE PLANTED IN THE FALL

There is such a rush in the spring to get seed sowing and planting done in good time that anything that can be accomplished in the fall to lessen the work in the spring should be done and particularly where fall planting is preferable.

At the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, it has not been found satisfactory, taking one year with another, to plant trees of any kind in the fall. Exposure to the long, cold winter beginning shortly after transplanting is not favourable to the trees. Any which will be below the snowline, however, have a much better chance, although in soils where there is danger of heaving, late fall planting is unsafe.

When low-growing shrubs and herbaceous plants are planted in the fall, which is a good time, the sooner it is done the better after the soil becomes moist enough to ensure their not dying from lack of moisture as, when set out early, the plants have a chance to take root again before winter and in the case of herbaceous perennials to make some growth.

Raspberries, gooseberries, and currants may be planted successfully in September, and the advantage over spring planting is that if any die they may be replaced in the spring, whereas if planted in the spring it is too late to replace them if they die and a season's growth is lost. If strawberries are planted in the fall they should be planted in September or before to ensure their rooting well and lessening danger from heaving.

As soon as bulbs can be purchased in the stores they should, if desired, be procured and planted at once as the longer time they have in the ground before winter the better the bloom is likely to be in the spring. The bulbs referred to include tulips, narcissus, hyacinths, crocus, squills, and other hardy kinds.

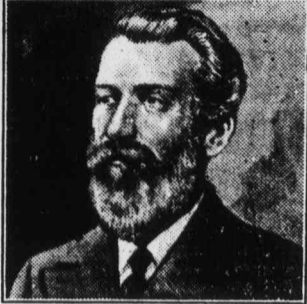

The fall is a good time to plant both rhubarb and asparagus. They may be planted with success any time between now and winter.

Usually there are good results from planting seeds of herbaceous perennials, trees, and shrubs in the fall. The action of the frost, especially on tree and shrub seeds, makes germination easier. When seeds of perennials are planted in the fall it is best to wait until just before winter sets in to make sure that the seed will not germinate before winter as if seed germinates a short time before winter the seedlings are liable to be killed. Seeds of trees and shrubs, however, and especially of fruits, should be planted as soon as ripe so as to prevent their becoming dry. Usually fall planted seeds germinate very early in the spring.

STOMACH ULCER AND GALL STONES

After Suffering 25 Years, Completely Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. EDWARDS MAPLEHURST FARM, HILLHURST, P. Q. "I am in my 78th year. About 25 years ago, I began to have trouble with my Stomach. One doctor said I had Cancer; another said, Ulcer of the Stomach; another, Gall Stones; others, Ulcers of the Liver and Inflammation of the Gall Bladder.

Three years ago, I consulted one of the best specialists in Montreal. He said I must go to the hospital, have an Ulcer cut out of my stomach and gall stones removed. I was then 74 years old. I said "NO." Then, I began to take "Fruit-a-tives." I found they helped me a lot, and I still take them occasionally, and I am so much better that my old friends often ask me what I have done to myself to look so well. I am gaining in weight and enjoying life every much."

His Tasks Pursue Lloyd George Into Highland Glens

Premier Lloyd George, returning his thanks to a deputation of the Dingwall Town Council, who presented him with the freedom of the burg, said he doubted whether any of those great men recorded in the Dingwall roll, such as Fox, Lord Grey, Gladstone, had "as hard and insistently strenuous tasks as placed in my feeble hand."

It had been labor without ceasing he said. He had tried to find rest in Wales, in England, on the continent, and now he had fled to the Highlands, but his task, he declared, had pursued him even into these remote glens. However, he said, he must go through with it, and if God gave him the strength he would.

"It will take a great deal of getting through, but sometimes when things seem worse they are really much better," he declared. "I know from the touch of things and from the sight of things, comparing them today with a year ago and the year before, that they are gradually getting better.

"If we pull together it will greatly help the world, for, if Britain goes down, I do not know what help there is for Europe. Britain is the mightiest, safest and truest of all lands. I do not see anything that can take its place at the present moment."

He expressed the hope that he would have the time and strength to see that the British Empire got through its troubles and perils, and if it did, he said, the world would be saved.

HARKIN'S ACADEMY

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the first news budget from Harkin's Academy. Arrangements have been made to have a weekly report of happenings at the Academy published in the local newspapers. Editorial and reporter staffs, out of the students of Grades X and XI, have been formed and each month different students will act in the various departments. The Editor for October is William Ronan and he has a strong staff of subordinates. Principal Barnett has enthused the scholars in this work and they are adapting themselves in a most creditable manner.

The idea will create interest in school matters not only with the scholars but with their parents as well and will give the general public each week an account of the doings at our Public School.

HARKIN'S ACADEMY NEWS BUDGET

William Ronan Editor Harkin's Academy Gazette, Newcastle.

Early in the term the High School pupils decided to arrange for a weekly paper, both of our local Editors having promised to help us. The staff was appointed to act for one month and the 29th was the date set for our first edition.

This being our first edition is not as well composed as would be by an experienced staff, but we will improve in time.

The following items may be found interesting to the public. The boys of the High School met in Mr. Barnett's room to resume the organization of the Harkin's Academy Athletic Association. Mr. Robert Melrose has consented to instruct the boys in foot ball.

The school although very well equipped we see could be made better by the addition of an instructor in Manual Training and Domestic Science.

A new furnace has been lately installed in the school which is very acceptable by some half frozen pupils.

Many out of town pupils are now enrolled in the higher grades.

Murray Arthur Roy Cliff of Upper Derby has returned to resume his studies in Grade X.

Arthur Jubien, son of the manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, is attending Grade X.

Yorston Benn is a new pupil of Grade XI.

George Champion was absent from school last week attending a hunting expedition.

Mr. Geometry Class attention! Now watch the board. Now go through it.

Wanted—A nap by several pupils in Grade X and XI during roll-call.

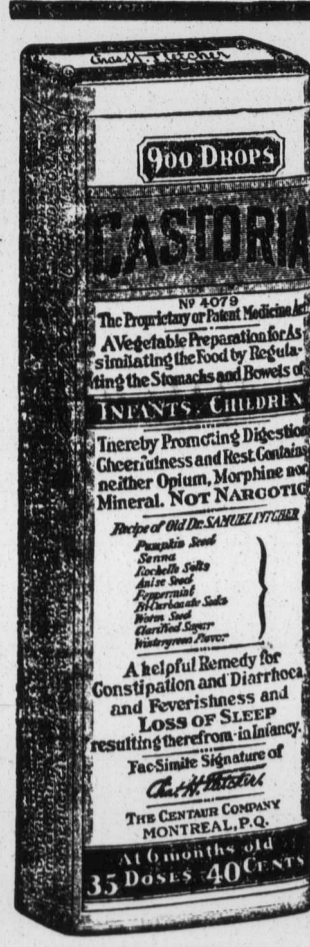

Lost—A number of perfectly good marks somewhere in the high school Finder will be rewarded.

Wanted—To know the difference between square miles and miles square.

The pupils of Grade X and XI are looking forward to a debate which will be held in Mr. Barnett's room Friday afternoon between teams chosen from those grades. The subject of the debate will be resolved. It is better to be born poor than rich.

DECAY OF BODIES CAN BE ARRESTED

Paris, Sept. 23.—The discovery of a process by which a dead body can be preserved for twenty years is announced by two Paris physicians Professor Felleyseiczky and Dr. Edmond Bartha. What it does, according to their statements, is to solidify the body so that actual flesh and blood assume the appearance and hardness of marble.

Before a small party of newspaper men the first public experiment was conducted last evening by Dr. Bartha, with every appearance of success. The body of an elderly woman who had died in a hospital was used. It was laid on an operating table as if for dissection and as death had taken place ten days ago, putrefaction had already begun. Dr. Bartha, before beginning his treatment, called attention to the marks of decay and said that one of the remarkable features of his process was that, though decay had begun, it could be arrested and the body preserved as well as if death had just taken place. What his method was the doctor, of course, refused to disclose. All he did was to inject with a syringe into the femoral artery the conserving liquid which Professor Felleyseiczky and he say they have discovered.

For a time there was no change in the appearance of the body, but at the end of about an hour the flesh began to take on an aspect as of life, the muscles filled out and the tissues and tendons became like those of a living person. In two hours the change was complete. The skin, too, had changed its appearance and, although almost the same in tint as when the body had been alive.

Today the body has the same appearance and the next step in the process will be completed in a few days. The skin will then be coated with a preserving pomade and when this has been done the conserving liquid which has been injected into the body will, the doctor says, harden so that the body itself will become perfectly rigid and as hard as if frozen, but will retain the appearance it now has of tranquility and sleep.

No embalming process yet invented, either modern or ancient, the doctors assert, can so well preserve the natural expression and appearance of life, which they say will persist for at least twenty years.

BOY SCOUTS IN FRANCE

I have been over to France to see your Brother Scouts there, in the "devastated regions," that is, the parts where their homes had been wrecked by the War.

The Americans have been awfully generous in giving funds for the past two years to run Scouts' camps for these poor French boys. These I visited, but it was not till I saw a bathing parade of these lads that I saw how much they needed the camping.

They were so thin and poorly developed through the bad feeding and bad housing they had had during the War, and many of them wore a dazed, tired look that showed how much they had suffered. I was very glad to see that the good feeding, the open air life, and the jolly games that they were getting as Scouts, is setting them up again and making them once more healthy and cheery.

The S. O. S. fund which you Scouts have raised among you has done a tremendous lot of good; you did a real "Good Turn" to your Brother Scouts abroad when you collected that money.

I visited two large camps for these boys at different parts of the devastated districts; and also one for Boy Scouts and Wolfe Cubs from Paris. This one was a very different affair, because here the boys looked big and fat and cheery.

You should have heard the Wolf Cubs sing Mr. Arthur Poyser's song "The Road to Marefield!"

Generally it is the town boys who look thin and pale and the country lads who look bronzed and burly; but here it was just the opposite. The Paris boys had not undergone the terrible hardships that their brothers of the War-swept districts had done, and were altogether livelier and happier, and looked exactly like any of you Scouts.

I indeed saw two Troops of British Scouts visiting France and upon my word I could not tell whether they were French or British until I heard them speak and looked more closely into their badges.

I was glad to find such a lot of British Scouts have been over the sea to visit Brother Scouts in different parts of Europe this year. I believe that there are many over there this month.

Well, it is a jolly good thing in two ways—it gives you fellows a new experience in seeing a foreign country and how the people there live, and it teaches foreign Scouts how to do trekking and hiking as we do it—and best of all, it makes you all friends together and that when you all grow up to be the men of your respective countries you will be good pals and will not want to go to war and fly at each others' throats as used to be the way in the past.

YOUNG GIRLS NEED CARE

Mothers! Watch Your Daughters' Health

Health Is Happiness

From the time a girl reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established she needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give. The condition that the girl is then passing through is so critical, and may have such far-reaching effects upon her future happiness and health that it is almost criminal for a mother or guardian to withhold counsel or advice.

Many a woman has suffered years of prolonged pain and misery through having been the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance on the part of those who should have guided her through the dangers and difficulties that beset this period.

Mothers should teach their girls what danger comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, and from overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headache, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her. She needs thoughtful care for a few years.

In all such cases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be given as it is especially adapted for such conditions. It contains nothing that can injure and can be taken in perfect safety.

Read how Mrs. Eicher helped her daughter. She says: "At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble every month. She had pains across her back and in her sides. Every month her back would pain her so she could not do her work and would have to lie down. My married daughter recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I read the books which were left at my door. She took it faithfully and is now regular and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this letter in your little books and in the newspapers."—Mrs. KATIE EICHER, 404 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Williams will profit by her own experience. She says: "When I was thirteen years old I had sick spells each month and as I was very backward I would bear the pain and my mother knew nothing about it. I read in the daily paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took my own spending money and bought a bottle. It helped me so much that I took it regularly after that until I had taken two bottles and I did not have any more pain or backache and have been a healthy, strong woman. I am now 39 years old and have a little girl of my own, and when she gets old enough I shall give her none other than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. C. E. WILLIAMS, 2437 W. Toronto St., Philadelphia, Pa.

For almost fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been relieving women, young and old, of ailments peculiar to their sex. Ask your neighbor about it, for in every neighborhood there are women who know of its merits. Thousands of letters similar to the above are in the files of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., and for years such letters have been published. Surely it is worth your while to make a fair trial of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

The Price of Success

Big business is not an accident—it is a result. It is the fruit of purpose, energy, persistency and ADVERTISING.

You know the story of Rip Van Winkle—the man who went to sleep for 20 years and who, when he awoke, expected to find the world the same as it was when he entered slumberland.

There are men today very much like Rip Van Winkle—their point of view and their practices are those of a generation past. They do not believe in advertising.

To succeed in these modern days one must be in accord with the spirit of today. For a merchant this means that he must advertise if he would prosper.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC
Where are you served best and most pleasingly? The answer is almost sure to be—"Where we are invited and made welcome. At those shops which prize our custom enough to seek it and who ask for it every week through the medium of advertisements in THE UNION ADVOCATE"

THINK THIS OVER

When all is said and done the real interests of the Farmer-Labor party lie along the policy which the Meighen Government advocates. This policy protects the laboring man by insuring his labor from the competition of foreign goods, the unlimited importation of which, decreases the demand of home made goods. Labor wants increased production, because increased production means more work, fewer plants idle, and regular wages. Mr. MacKenzie King's tariff will not help the laboring man because it is not heavy enough to keep out cheap foreign competitors. What use would it be, to reduce the tariff and perhaps make a few things cheaper, for a laboring man who hasn't any wages to buy them with? The first thing considered by Labor is wages, and to secure wages, work must be provided. A policy which tries to keep manufacturer's plants going to their fullest extent, and by so doing, provides regular work for those who want it, is the best policy for Labor to support. Such is the policy of the Meighen Government.

The farmers of the Maritime Provinces are in the same position as Labor. Their market for the produce of their farms is right here in our own provinces. They must sell to the residents of the near-by cities and towns. If work is scarce, plants closed down, and people haven't the money to purchase from them, what is going to be the outcome? The farmers of the Maritime Provinces have no outside market and if they lose their home market, there will soon be an end to profitable farming in our country. It is therefore just as important to the Farmer as it is to Labor, to have the plants of the country working at full time and keeping the money in circulation. Under such conditions, any reduction in the tariff policy, as proposed by Mr. MacKenzie King, which will make it impossible for industries to be operated successfully, will be as keenly felt by the Farmer as it will by Labor. The position of the Maritime Province farmer is entirely different than that of the Western farmer. Farmers in the west are not in any way the same as our farmers, and it is a great mistake to think that they are. In the west they are simply grain-growers, and specialize in a particular line. They don't sell anything locally but ship it all away wholesale to foreign markets. The market does not bother them in the least, as that part of their business is provided for them and a minimum price is even guaranteed them. Their only trouble is the weather. It makes no difference to them whether business throughout the Dominion of Canada is good or bad, whether laboring men are working or idle, or whether they have any money to buy clothes or food. They know their grain will all be sold to other countries, so what do they care about what becomes of the working man.

Our farmers are in no wise so situated, as they have to sell at home, and it means, life or death to them if their customers, who are the laboring men, have the means to buy from them or not.

If the Farmer-Labor interests would consider these different phases of the matter, they doubtless will realize that it is in their interests to support the Meighen Government whose tariff policy protects both factions to the utmost degree, and is based on the principle of live and let live.

SCHOOL HOME WORK

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Sir,—May I be allowed to reply to the letter of "Miss A. R." appearing in a recent issue of your paper? I was heartily pleased to see this matter broached, for it is one that needs adjustment. The amount of home work that is expected of children in the public schools in this city is nothing short of barbarous. In the first place, a child that is in school from 9 a. m. till 12 and from 1.15 p. m. till 3.30 p. m. has spent the greater part of its waking hours at a desk, and to impose two or three hours' extra work on top of this is unfair to the child, and if the school curriculum cannot be mastered during school hours then it is clearly time for that curriculum to be revised.

There are too many subjects taught, and the average child that has passed the seventh year has acquired but little of anything of value in the work-a-day world. As for hardships the parents have to endure under the present system, well, any parent that has several children of school age will speak feelingly on the subject. Personally, I dread the school opening, not because I have not sufficient education or intelligence to assist, but because the cares of a large family leave me, at the end of a day, in need of rest or recreation. I want to be able to read or play with my family, not to struggle with weird questions on subjects that strike me as being futile.

Of what use is it to a child to be able to call a mosquito by its first name and yet not know that Ottawa is the capital of Canada? Then again, those of us who received their education in Great Britain are at a disadvantage when trying to help, as the text books used here are mostly American and are very often inaccurate in their statements.

If the authorities could say that the children here receive a better education than in countries where such long home tasks are not in vogue it might carry some weight but such is not the case. For instance, under the pressure of present economic conditions there are many children forced to leave school at the end of the sixth year; but not till they reach the seventh year are the pupils in Montreal schools taught any history whatever, with the result that many of them know little of their native land. What kind of national consciousness can these young Canadians have under the circumstances; what do they know of the great names, French and English, that illumine the pages of Canada's story?

Man does not live by bread alone, and if, instead of wasting their time over the little bits of near-painting and other things equally valueless they were taught to realize what a Canadian means they would grow up better informed men and women and make better citizens, and incidentally, if they were relieved of some of the "excess baggage" their parents might be saved many grey hairs.

Many thanks to you, "Miss A. R." I sincerely hope your letter will be productive of results, and many mothers in Montreal will rise up and call you blessed.

Well Satisfied With Baby's Own Tablets

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. Experience teaches her that the Tablets are the very best medicine she can give her baby. They are a gentle laxative; mild but thorough in action and never fail to banish constipation, colic, colds or any other of the minor ailments of childhood. Concerning them Mrs. J. Bte. Charest, St. Leon, Que., writes:—"My baby cried continually and nothing seemed to help her till I began using Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets soon set her right and now I would not be without them. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

BRIDAL FLOWERS HERE AGAIN

That Orange Blossoms Are in the Market is a Sure Harbinger of World Peace.

One interesting sign of the coming of peace has been the reappearance of real orange blossoms at weddings. During the war they were difficult to obtain, owing to the fact that they come as a rule from France. Nearly all the orange flowers which are used at smart marriages in London and Paris are grown in the sheltered valleys of the Alps Maritimes behind the Riviera.

Here there are orchards of orange trees scattered over the sunny slopes, and the local peasantry devote most of their time to growing the beautiful flowers. No attempt is made to get the fruit, seeing that the orange trees are solely cultivated for the sake of the glistening blooms.

A large part of the floral crop finds its way to the perfume factories of Grasse, but the choicest sprays are picked for the London and Paris markets. Orange flowers keep fresh for a considerable time, and they stand the journey to England very well, arriving in perfect condition.—London News.

COULDN'T BE HAPPY.

"Your wife says she is entirely happy," said the spiritualistic medium.

"I don't see how that can be," replied the man.

"She is in heaven," replied the medium. "There she would naturally be happy."

"I don't think so," replied the man stubbornly. "I don't see how she could ever be entirely happy without me being around to find fault with."

Before Starting Work.

"Well, come down to the shop tomorrow morning and I will put you to work."

"To-morrow? I couldn't possibly come 'till the day after."

"Why?"

"Why, tomorrow I must take part in the great demonstration of protest of the unemployed."—Life.

"For instance?"

"BUY AT HOME"

The British Fleet.

Decidedly, self-advertisement does not come easily to the British nation. Though not to be commended as a good practice in itself, a total lack of the capacity is apt to lead to serious underestimation by the world in general, and her allies in particular, of the part which, aside from the actual battle fronts, Great Britain has played in the war. For instance, how many people, either at home or abroad, realize that, during three and a half years of war, the Admiralty has carried 17,000,000 passengers, by military transport, backward and forward to the various theatres of war? The number of animals conveyed has exceeded 2,000,000, and the tonnage of stores 37,000,000. These figures include a large amount of assistance given to Allies. Italy, to quote only one instance, has received a million tons of stores carried by the British Admiralty, and three and a half million tons of coal have reached her in requisitioned steamers. These are just a few facts, which, after a deal of prodding of the Government departments concerned, have been made public, but with a characteristic lack of trumpet-blowing.

Kangaroo Scored Knockout.

"Ned Kelly, the old buck kangaroo, has been having a fight with the boss stag of the axis deer herd," said Sergeant McGee of the San Francisco park police. "and it is the first time I ever heard of two herbivorous animals so widely different in species finding common ground for a quarrel. As a matter of fact, it was the axis deer that started the trouble. He was trying to show off before the does and started butting at poor old Ned Kelly who was peacefully lolling about with no thought for trouble. The first butt of the deer set Ned thinking, the second set him mad, the third—well, Ned Kelly just turned about and gave the axis deer one wallop under the stomach with its tail. You could hear the smack five blocks away, and it simply knocked the deer flat. It dropped as if it had been shot, while Ned Kelly just hopped away as happy as a bird."

Veteran of Civil War Still Hale and Hearty

GEORGE D. SHAW, Springfield, Mass.

"To say that I feel twenty-five years younger, twenty-five years healthier and twenty-five years stronger express what Tanlac has done for me better than any other way I can put it," said George D. Shaw, veteran of the Civil War, who now lives at 321 Walnut street, Springfield, Mass.

"I am now seventy-eight years old and I don't hesitate to say I have never known a medicine to equal Tanlac. For fifteen years I was subject to attacks of indigestion that were so bad at times I would have to lay up for a week or two. For a long time I lived on crackers and milk alone as nothing else agreed with me.

"When I started on Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and seventeen pounds and my days were thought to be numbered. I've been so wonderfully built up, I now weigh one hundred and forty-three pounds and my stomach is as sound as a dollar. In fact, I believe I could eat the old army rations again without it hurting me in the least.

"I never miss a chance of saying a good word for Tanlac and I would like to urge the boys of the 'Sixties' who are not feeling right to give it a trial, for I am sure it would put them in line again just as it has me. For a man of my age to have no physical ailment, to be well and strong and enjoy life as he did twenty-five years ago, is certainly something to be thankful for and there is nothing too good I can say for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

TRUE BILL FOUND AGAINST JOHN PARIS

A true bill for murder was found against John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley by the grand jury in the circuit court Wednesday, at which Mr. Justice Barry presided.

In charging the jury in the McAuley case, Judge Barry said that the charge against John Paris was that he did kill and murder Sadie McAuley on August 2. The evidence given at the preliminary hearing showed that the dead child was nine years of age and was slightly deformed through hip disease. She and her chum, Hattie Levine, aged 11, went to Douglas Ave. picking berries. The little Levine girl told of meeting a man who offered to show them where to get larger berries. The little McAuley girl went with him and this was the last time she had been seen alive. A week later her body was found buried near the place where she was last seen. It was evident, the judge said that she did not die a natural death—there was no doubt of murder.

He said that a number of men had been held, but the Levine girl could not identify them. Then Paris was arrested and Hattie Levine in her testimony said that the man was about the same size; Paris looks like him but his mustache makes him look different.

"Walter Humphrey," Judge Barry said, "tells a story which is very incriminating, in fact almost conclusive." On August 2, he said that he rowed Paris across the river and on August 3 he saw Paris again and Paris asked him to row him across the river again. While in the boat, Humphrey testified, Paris told him what had happened in the park the previous day and asked him to go to the park and help him cover up that kid. If this is true, the judge remarked, it is conclusive.

Humphrey said that some days later he saw Paris trying to keep out of the way of the police. There was lots of evidence, his honor said, corroborative of the evidence given by Humphrey with the exception of that covering the evidence in the boat. Dr. Abramson, in his evidence, said that death was due to strangulation.

RUSH OF POTATOES IS CONTINUING IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Never at any time of the year says the Hartland, N. B. Observer, has there been such a rush of potatoes to market as during the past fortnight. The conditions of finances with most farmers is such that they have to sacrifice to meet the present exigencies; while another reason of the heavy marketing is that the crop is so large there is no longer storage capacity. Few shippers are storing stock for the reason that few of them are in a position to make financial arrangements for that purpose. The price of potatoes has declined to $1.75 or less, and it is only a question of a few days, if the tubers continue to arrive, when there will be no market at all.

The report of 325,000,000 bushels given by the government estimate last week is now considered too low, and it is stated by those who should know, that 375,000,000 bushels would be more nearly correct. Last year there was a crop of 420,000,000 bushels, so that even with the higher estimate the outlook is a little better than last year. In every area producing winter stock the crop is turning out abundant. It is certain that the present heavy shipments from all sections will materially reduce the supply so that before the season ends there will be something of a scarcity.

T. W. CALDWELL AGAIN NOMINATED

Andover, N. B., Sept. 27—At a convention of the United Farmers of Carleton-Victoria, held here yesterday, Thomas W. Caldwell, the sitting member, was nominated. Hon. B. Frank Smith, of East Florenceville declined to allow his name to go before the convention after he had been proposed, declaring that while there were many things commendable in the United Farmers' platform he could not subscribe to all the policies of Mr. Crerar, and did not think anybody could and properly protect the interests of the eastern farmers.

Mr. Caldwell criticized the present administration upon general grounds and Mr. Smith replied, defending the government.

It is believed here there will be a three cornered fight in Carleton-Victoria.

Save New Brunswick from This Fate

The Montreal Standard says that "Montreal is the Canadian Metropolis of the Booze Business. That it is seething with crime. That crime in Montreal is open; wide open.

Every iniquitous practise conceivable is being carried on by the dwellers of crook-dom, cocaine peddlers, hold-up men, thieves, confidence men. All these and more ply their trade with no apparent fear of apprehension.

Crime in Montreal is no secret. The traffic in vice and drugs is an open letter to those who would read and so confident has the Montreal criminal become that now even a cursory attempt at concealment is considered unnecessary.

Drugs are as easy to buy in Montreal as a loaf of bread and a score or more of boot-leggers are ready to slake the thirst of the rum-hounds".

Contrast this with what the St. John Standard says about conditions in St. John during Exhibition week:

"The traffic police about the gates announced that over two hundred cars had been parked under their supervision during the evening. The police and liquor inspectors within the grounds reported the large crowd a most orderly and law-abiding one. The inspectors state that they have not even seen a sign of liquor within the gates of the big show this year. The prevailing sobriety establishes somewhat of a record and a most commendable one at that."

The Prohibition Act in New Brunswick in operation helps make the difference on October 10.

A Vote will be taken to decide as to whether the importation of Liquors may be forbidden.

We submit below a copy of the ballot to be used.

Mark your ballot opposite "YES" and so help to make New Brunswick a better place to live in and save us from the fate of Montreal.

NOT TO THE C. P. R.

(The Maritime Merchant Sept. 1, 1921)

Sir Joseph Flavelle is of the opinion or at least it is so reported, that the present system of railways operated by the Canadian Government can in course of time be made to pay. His plan of reorganization was outlined in a press despatch from Ottawa last week. Any opinion expressed by Sir Joseph on a business question may be accepted as worthy of confidence as he is a very able man. But it is not to support his recommendation, made to Mr. Meighen, the Premier, that we now defer to the railway question. Our reference to it is for the purpose of expressing the hope that the control of the railway lines now operated by the Government, may not pass into the hands of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The Canadian Pacific Railway is a magnificent organization, every Canadian is proud of it, but nevertheless we do not wish it to become the "Czar" of Canadian transportation, for we believe such a thing would be bad for Canada, and ultimately for the C. P. R.

We read the other day of a Quebec politician who advocated selling the whole Canadian National Railway system stock, lock and barrel, to Mr. Beatty, for the sum of $1.00. This offer we may say, is not so conspicuous for the sum of intelligence which it indicates, as it is as an illustration of the foolish things that men will say in order to attract public attention. And yet we should not be surprised to hear that there are other people who are adverse to Government operation of any public utility and who blame the whole railway difficulty at the present time on the fact that the administration of the service is not in private hands.

Now we confess that for ourselves we are not strong on "Government ownership", but nevertheless we must be fair as to why the railway earnings on the Government lines are less than the operating expenses. We should say that if one portion of it is due to the difference between "private" management and "government" management five other parts and more are due to things which no management either private or government could have remedied. Government operation on general principles may be an economic mistake, but who can say that it has been so proven by the test of the past seven years. The fact is that bad as the loss has been the injury to the country in all probability would have been ever so much greater if certain company owned systems had not been taken over and carried on by the Government. The satisfactory showing which this country made in transportation during the war might without such a change never have happened. We should not forget too that the job given to Mr. Hanna turned out to be one of the hardest if not the very hardest jobs ever given to any railwayman since the world began. He may have made some mistakes, but let us not forget the magnitude of his undertaking.

WOODROW WILSON BREAKS FORTH IN LIMELIGHT

Washington, Sept. 27—From some source, apparently no one knows just where, word has been circulated among Democratic Senators that Woodrow Wilson opposed the ratification of the peace treaties with the Central Powers. Wilson, of course will say nothing, and every Democratic leader of importance professes to know nothing of the rumored Wilson move. Wilson is credited with quiet having let it be known to Senators close to him in the struggle over the Versailles Treaty, that he believes the substitute pact should be blocked. Whether or not the reports are true they have aroused the deepest interest among both Republicans and Democrats. The discussion, apparently, has had the effect of strengthening the growing Democratic opposition to the treaties, although there is nothing which approximates an attempt by Wilson to exert leadership, nor is there any attempt by his former followers to exert leadership in his name so far as can be discerned. Democratic leaders to a man have denied that they had seen the former President or had received word from him about the treaties. They professed complete ignorance as to the origin of the reported desire of Wilson to interpose himself in a new treaty dispute. Senator "Pat" Harrison, who is on the inner councils of the minority suggested that the reported intervention of Wilson probably was Republican propaganda designed to solidify the sentiment in their own ranks. But all agreed it was perfectly logical supposition that Wilson would oppose the treaties.

The present Canadian National Railway system is a burden which the present generation inherited as a result of the enterprise, call it that or something else of the different Federal and Provincial Governments of this country for several previous decades. No doubt these Governments thought that they were acting wisely in following the policy of great railway expansions, at any rate there is no use in blaming them now or in trying to convince ourselves that our situation is due in any large part to "Government operation" in recent years. The burden is ours today and the only thing for us is to bend our backs to the load. But heavy as this burden is we do not believe it would be in the best interests of Canada and all Canadians to transfer the Canadian National Railway system to the Canadian Pacific Railway. It might seem an easy way out of present difficulties but two decades ahead or less, would show that a mistake had been made. This country is very much too large and its transportation interests too important to have its entire railway service placed in the control of one organization, even though it be so magnificent a body as the Canadian Pacific Railways. Sir Joseph Flavelle's suggestion of a private company to succeed the present Government

AUTOS DAMAGED
An accident which might have had serious results, occurred on Wednesday night on the Chatham-Newcastle road, when the autos of Mr. E. Nevins and Mr. Duncan Williston met in collision. The cars were badly damaged and that none of the occupants were injured is little short of miraculous.

There is considerable activity in shipping laths from the Miramichi at present. Last week a resident of Bathurst was before the magistrate there, for refusing to comply with the Health Act, and was fined $20.00 with costs. Dr. F. J. Desmond, D. H. M. The children enjoyed the novelty and acquitted themselves creditably. Arrangements for Chautauqua's return next year have been made.

POLITICAL SPEECHES FROM BAND STAND

On Saturday evening a political meeting in the interest of Mr. Abram Vanderbeck, the Labor Farmer Candidate was held in the public square and speeches delivered from the Band stand. A large gathering of citizens assembled to hear the speakers who were John Martin, M. L. A. Sterling Wood, Daniel Cripps and Joseph Manderson. Mr. Manderson acted as chairman and announced the different speakers, Mr. John Martin, M. L. A. President of the Miramichi I. L. A. was the first speaker and briefly outlined the work he had attended to since his election last fall and said he had endeavored to represent the county at large and felt that he had been successful in doing so. He made a strong appeal on behalf of Vanderbeck who was the choice of the Labor-Farmer party and stated that the bringing out of D. A. Allain was a frame-up to hoodwink the electors of the county. However he did not think the electorate could be so easily fooled and asked for strong support for Vanderbeck at the polls on Monday.

Mr. Sterling Wood was the next speaker and said he was pleased to address a Newcastle audience. Last fall the county of Northumberland had sent to Fredericton the ticket endorsed by the Farmer-Labor Party, but he now wished to say that a mistake had been made by taking Chas. J. Morrissy on that ticket. Mr. Chas. J. Morrissy had been asked to speak tonight and his father Hon. John Morrissy was also asked. The Hon. Mr. Morrissy had been requested to attend the meeting but he pleaded that pressure of business prevented him from doing so. Last year on election night when the Labor-Farmer ticket was elected the Hon. Mr. Morrissy addressed the electorates but in this bye-election he refused to do so. Why the change? He was not speaking from a religious standpoint but solely from a political one, and he did not wish to be misunderstood in regard to this matter. He felt that William Johnston had been induced to run by a few disgruntled ones and more particularly by one party who had been refused a licensed liquor ven. ship. In conclusion he asked the electors of Northumberland to vote for Vanderbeck and to give him as large a majority as they had accorded his father in the general election last year.

Mr. Dan Cripps of Chatham, known as Good Roads Cripps said that he was an employee of the Foster Government tonight but he might not be tomorrow after he got through with what he had to say. He was in charge of Government work in Alawick Parish and the people there had received more since the present Northumberland members were elected than ever they had previously. Allain was said to be brought out to represent the Acadian people but he did not believe it. He thought Allain was representing the lumber merchants. Both Chas. J. Morrissy and Hon. John Morrissy had been requested to speak at this meeting but neither of them were here. Why was this? There was a reason and he thought the electors knew why. He appealed strongly for both Labor and Farmer to stick together on Monday and elect Vanderbeck, because they could not afford to get a set-back in this election. He said that Dr. McGrath advised him before the last election that he would be dismissed but he was glad to say that he still was in the government employ irrespective of what the Doctor had said. Dr. McGrath who was in the audience took issue with the speaker saying that he might get off with remarks like that in Chatham but he could not do so here. The speaker felt that the Labor and Farmer parties had as much intelligence as other classes, that this was an opportunity for the while they might not always have as much education. Those who are generally known as the big fellows were, in his estimation the small ones when brought to task. In closing he solicited a shoulder to shoulder attitude on the part of Labor and Farmer for Vanderbeck on election day, and stated that he did not want the support of the lumbermen or of the profession of men in any case as he wished to have nothing to do with them at all. Mr. Joseph Manderson, president of the Newcastle Branch of the I. L. A. concurred in the remarks of Labor and Farmer and said that this was an opportunity for the Labor-Farmer party to again exert itself and show that they intended to have fair and equal representation. Labor had as good brains as any other class and it was the backbone of the country. They had shown their metal in the Great War and they did not intend to lay down their lives in France for nothing and those that came back were going to see to it that they were given that to which they were entitled. His closing remarks were for a strong vote for Vanderbeck and said he had three things which he wished the electors to remember on election day, viz:—Cheer for Allain—Whoop for Johnston—and Vote for Vanderbeck.
