

15 1904

STOP
AND CONSIDER FOR A MOMENT

Did visible writing in a type-writer ever appeal to you as being a great advantage? Manufacturers of blind machines machines have been striving for years to obtain this feature. The only REAL VISIBLE WRITER is the

---

UNDERWOOD

"IT'S A PERFECT MACHINE."

United Typewriter Co., Limited

REAL OFFICE, . . . TORONTO.

Over 100
SECOND HAND Typewriters
ALL MAKES

TO CLEAR
before introducing the
L. C. SMITH

Perfecting, writing-in-sight
TYPEWRITER
Terms to suit.

NEWSOME & GILBERT
68-72 Victoria St.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES
Built anywhere in Canada.
Easy payments.
Send for booklet.

ESTATES LIMITED"
76 Queen St. West, Toronto. ed

---

HELP WANTED.

BRIGHT, ENERGETIC WOMAN TO

travel and appoint saleswomen to handle an article of women's wear; elegant goods, pleasant work and good money from commencement. Address Manager, 375 Clarence-street, London, Ont.

From fifty-five to one hundred and fifty dollars monthly. You can learn it in from three to six months. Our telegraph book tells how. We mail it free. Dominion School of Telegraphy, 36 King-street
East, Toronto. 171

PROPERTIES FOR SALE.
A GOOD FARM WOULD SELL.

Toronto Township; 186 acres; joining Streetsville, junction C.P.R. Railway; 20 miles west of Toronto; good buildings, garden and orchard; the best water spring, sandy loam, rolling land. For particulars write James Dowling, Streetsville, P.O.

BUSINESS CHANCES.
DON'T RISK YOUR MONEY IN SPECULATION investment, when you can get eight per cent. and have your money insured by first-class companies.

ment without risk—$10,000 to $10,000; money secured by real estate and first mortgage on Toronto real estate.

PERSONAL.

has quiet home for ladies before and ing confinement; excellent references;
physician in attendance; strictly pri-
; terms moderate; correspondence so-ed.

ANTED--AT and Gordon r attachments.	ONCE--A SECOND. press, with or without Box 48, World.
---	---

CHARD G. KIRBY, 539 YONGE ST., contractor for carpenter, joiner work general jobbing Phone North 904.

F. PETRY, TELEPHONE NORTH
351—Carpenter and Builder

Buildings, etc.

---

ART.

---

V. L. FORSTER — PORTRAIT
Painting. Rooms: 24 King-street
Toronto.

STORAGE.
SPACE FOR FURNITURE AND PI- nos; double and single furniture vans moving; the oldest and most reliable Lester Storage and Carriage 220 So.

LEGAL CARDS.
J. McDONALD, BARRISTER, 18
Toronto-street; money to loan.

NK W. MACLEAN, BARRISTER, Solicitor, notary public, 34 Victoria-money to loan at 4½ per cent. ed

ES BAIRD, BARRISTER, SOLICItor, Patent Attorney, etc., 9 Quebec
 Chambers, King-street east, corner

WELL, REID & WOOD, BARRIS-ers, Lawlor Building, 6 King West.
Rowell, K. C., Thom. Reid, S. Casey
jz.

HOTELS.

QUOIS HOTEL, TORONTO, CAN.
Centrally situated, corner King and Streets; steam-heated; electric-lighted;
Rooms with bath and en suite.
$2 and $2.50 per day: G.A. Graham.

BUSINESS CARDS.

PRINTING — OFFICE STATIONERY, enders, copperplate cards, wedding ns, monograms, embossing, type-letters, fancy fold cards, etc.

VETERINARY.
CAMPBELL, VETERINARY SURgeon, 97 Bay-street. Specialist in all

ONTARIO VETERINARY COL-
Limited Temperance-street, Toron-mary open day and night. Ses-in in October. Telephone Main

MONEY TO LOAN.
ANCES ON HOUSEHOLD GOODS,
os, organs, horses and wagons.
get our instalment plan of lending.
n be paid in small monthly

Y LOANED. SALARIED PEOPLE. All business confidentially to Security Co., 10 Lawlor Building West.

UTELY THE CHEAPEST PLACE
own to borrow money on furni-no; security is not removed from ession, easy payments. Mutual o., first floor, 144 Yonge street.

ON PERSONAL SECURITY, 5
nt. P. B. Wood, 312 Temple largest business in 48 principal man, 60 Victoria.

Unusual Proceedings at Saturday's Meeting of the O.H.A.
Committee.

_____

Canajo 115, Negrausa 9, Lady Fonso 103.
Rodolfo 104, Florestan 106, Inaugurator
125, Wage 113, Military 113.
Third race, 1 1/4 miles, hurdle handicap—
Kelt Apparent 123, Double O. 130, Poor-lands 174, May S. 125, Galba 135.
Fourth race, 1 mile, handicap—Taxman is sent direct to the disease

parts by the Improved Blower.
Heals the ulcers, clears the sin-passages, stops droppings in the
throat and permanently cures Catarrah and Hay Fever. Blow-free. All dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Toronto and Buffalo

quet Club defeated the Boston Racquet Club by 6 to 1.

---

St. Lawrence Hall
Perfect Service

Most liberal conducted Hotel in Montreal.

net
ally

102, Piri Royal 100, Hands Across	Merredith, 2b.....	5	1	2	6	1	0	1	0
4th race, 1.16 mile, selling-Judge	Elmley, 1b.....	5	1	2	8	0	1	0
100, Evans 97, Burning Glass 102, Baronet	Cosby, 7b.....	5	1	2	8	0	1	0
7, Birdwood 102, Traveller 203, Vol. 7,	Richey, 2b.....	5	1	2	0	0	0	0
107, Lingo 104, The Guardsman 100,	Hardley, c.....	5	1	2	0	0	0	0
100, Lee King 112, Zee West	Young, 9b.....	5	1	1	2	2	1	1
4th race, 1.16 mile, selling-Judge	Totals.....	48	17	21	27	13	4	4
101, 102, Bluenight 97, Frank M. 97, W. A.	Engineers.....	A	B	R	H	O	A	E
97, Strader 108, Nibblee 96, 100, Min-	Perfit, 1b.....	4	1	2	0	0	0	3
100, Gordon Gardner 100, Fearful 102	Weldon, 2b.....	4	1	2	0	0	0	3
101, Heat 102, Whaleback 102, Dr. Hart	Jennyn, 4s.....	6	0	0	2	2	3	1
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Biggs, 1s.....	5	2	2	8	2	1	1
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Reynolds, 1f.....	5	2	2	2	0	0	0
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Big, 1f.....	5	1	1	0	0	0	0
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Reese, 2b.....	3	1	1	0	0	0	0
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Charbelco, 1b.....	2	3	3	8	1	1	1
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Reidwin, c.....	3	2	2	1	1	1	1
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Totals.....	48	18	22	25	15	5	5
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	*One out when winning run scored.
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Engineers.....	3	2	2	0	4	0	1
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Two base hits—Daring, Clough, Biggs	3	4	0	1	1	3	3
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	2 Bases, Lang, Garbelco 2, Baldwin,
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Franklin, Batts, Batts, Batts, Home run
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Baldwin, Struck out by Batts 1, Left,
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	on bases—Officers 5, Engineers 5, Time 0,
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	game—One hour, Lingers—Capt. Barker
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	and McConnell.
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	CLOSE OF NEW YORK DOG SHOW
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	New York, Feb. 14.—The dog show ended
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	last evening at Madison square garden. It
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	was the most successful exhibition of its
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	kind ever held here. There was another
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	exhibition of hundreds of spectators for
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	the $100 prize given by the Westminster
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	Kennel Club, for the best pack of five
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	beagles. The judging was done by William
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	1, Rockefeller. His work gave good sat-
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	isfaction, although he was a hard class to
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	judge. The lucky pack turned out to be
100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100,	the Widgeome Kennels' entry, presided to 115, Negrusen 9, Lady Fonso 103, fo 104, Florestan 108, Inaugurator Vager 113, Military 113.

and race, 1 1/4 miles, hurdle handicap—
Apprent 125, Double O, 129, Peer-175, May S, 126, Galba 135. birth race, 1 mile, handicap—Taxman is sent direct to the diseased

parts by the Improved Blower.
Heals the lungs, cures the air passages, stops droppings in the
throat and permanently cures
Croup and Hay Fever. Blower
See All dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase
Medicine Co., Toronto and Buffalo.

quet Club defeated the Boston Racquet Club by 6 to 1.

St. Lawrence Hall Most liberally conducted
Hotel in Perfect Service Montreal.

...necessary nutriment, as it is in the case of the "starvation cure" or the employment of some of the first-class

_____

The Toronto World

NO. 33 YONGE STREET, TORONTO.
Daily World, in advance, $5 per year.
Sunday World, in advance, $2 per year.
Telephone 233, 232, 231, 230.
Exchange connecting all departments.
Hamilton Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
London Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
New York Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
San Francisco Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Chicago Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
St. Paul Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Portland Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Seattle Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Vancouver Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Calgary Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Edmonton Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Winnipeg Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Saskatoon Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Regina Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Ottawa Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Montreal Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Quebec Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
Halifax Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
St. John's Office: J. H. Smith, Agent.
All Railway News Stands and Drunks.

THE WORLD OUTSIDE.
The World can be had at the following News Stands:
St. Lawrence Hall, Montreal.
Peacock & Jones, Montreal.
Kilgus & Co., Montreal.
Wolverine News Stand, Buffalo.
Agency and Messenger Co., Ottawa.
D. H. H. Co., 217 Dearborn St., Chicago.
John McDonald, 1000 W. 12th St., Winnipeg.
McKay & Son, 1000 W. 12th St., Winnipeg.
Hayward & Pottery, St. Paul.
All Railway News Stands and Drunks.

ADVERTISING RATES.
15 cents per line with discount on advance orders of 20 or more insertions, or for orders of 1000 or more lines, to be used within a year.
Positions may be contracted for subject to earlier contracts with other advertisers. Advertisements are never guaranteed to any advertisement of less than 1000 words. An advertiser contracting for $1000 worth of space, to be used within one year, may have, when practicable, a selected position without extra cost.
Single page positions will be charged at 20 per cent. advance on regular rates. All advertisements must be approved as to character, wording and display. Advertisers are free to examine the subscription lists at any time.
Want advertisements, one cent a word each insertion.

THE LAST CHANCE OF RECIPROCITY.
Campbell Shaw of Buffalo, secretary of the Lower Lakes Reciprocity League, writes to the Wall Street Journal that there is a growing desire in the Northern States for more trade with Canada. The League is now making the determination of Canada to build higher the barriers to our trade. Mr. Shaw was told that the reason Sir Wilfrid Laurier rejected Senator Fairbanks' overtures for reciprocity negotiations was that he could not obtain assurances that a fair treaty would be ratified by the Senate.

Business men in the Northern States believe that it would be to the advantage of Canada to increase the tariff on American manufactures. Canada has established a profitable market in Great Britain, while the home market for Canadian manufactures is being rapidly increased by the coming in of large numbers of settlers. Raising the tariff would cause American manufacturers to establish branch establishments in Canada. This is Mr. Shaw's statement of the views that prevail in the Northern States.

The writer advocates the American Congress to withdraw the tariff on Canadian products. This, he thinks, would put a stop to trade reprisals, and inaugurate a policy of trade beneficial to both countries. There is the probability, however, of a high tariff policy fastening upon Canada for a lengthy period and causing a serious loss to American manufacturers. This could be avoided by giving assurance at once to Canada that friendlier trade relations will be introduced within the next twelve months.

There is very little chance of such an assurance being given. In the meantime, it is to be noted that an increase in the Canadian tariff is what intelligent Americans expect, and what they fear. A few years ago, when many persons believed that Canada was dependent on the American market, such moderate counsels as Mr. Campbell Shaw's might have been given. But now the trade into American channels to the great benefit of our neighbors.

A LONG STRUGGLE.
Russia got its first hold on Manchuria in 1900. The Russian minister, says a writer in The Times, managed to persuade China that he had been deceived by mental in bringing about the withdrawal of the English and French forces from Peking. For this alleged service he obtained from China the cession of the province of Manchuria, now called Eastern Manchuria, with 600 miles of coast and the harbor of Vladivostok.

In 1901 the construction of the Siberian Railway was decided on, and it was argued that the ice-bound harbor of Vladivostok would not do for a terminus. After the war between Russia and Japan, Port Arthur was ceded to the victor, but Russia, with the support of France and Germany, forced its recognition to China. Russia then carried on a steady policy of encroachment on Manchuria, made a request of China for permission to winter a Russian fleet at Port Arthur, and finally obtained a lease of that harbor and Tientsin, or Dairen. Thus Russia had not only deprived Japan of the fruits of conquest, but had actually appropriated them for herself.

Japan is now endeavoring to recover what she lost by the interference of Russia, France and Germany after the war with China in 1905. In the meantime she has been encouraging the reform party in China, and has also been "slowly regaining" by cautious statecraft and strenuous effort in the field of material enterprise, her influence in Korea. Thus the two powers have been watching and counterplotting one another for several years, and the conflict of policy is likely to go on long after the present war is over. A boundary will be fixed between their spheres of influence, but neither party will regard it as permanent, and each will seek to obtain vantage ground for a future conflict. A factor in the situation will be the support of China, and in hidden for this Japan has the advantage of proximity and racial affinity.

MARCUS HANNA'S INFLUENCE.
The total illness of Senator Hanna means much to the political and industrial element of the United States. As the senior representative of the State of Ohio in the Upper House of Congress "Mark" Hanna has made little impression, but as the director of the Republican party and the guiding hand of that force in the politics of the republic, which stands for a tariff so high that great monopolies can have no fear of competition from the outside world, the dying statesman has occupied a conspicuous position.

His genius for organization was turned from the commercial world to the political arena, when Major Mc-Kinley aspired to the Presidential nomination. As the firm friend of the Ohio leader, Hanna championed his cause with no much vigor and adroitness that the Republican party selected the late Mr. McKinley to oppose the Bryan cohorts in 1896. The success of one was the triumph of both. Because of Hanna's influence with the captains of industry and their confidence in his ability to protect their vested rights from the assaults of the Democratic party, he was made chairman of the Republican National Committee. In that position he was the distributor of the most colossal cash fund ever contributed by the trusts and monopolies of any nation.

It was he who reduced the practice of a science, to such a degree in fact that one of the Kansas Congressmen elected by that influence observed in an unguarded moment that he knew he was honestly elected since he paid for every vote he got. As the head of the National Central Committee of his party he was a power. He was the kingmaker, but was unable to secure for himself anything that depended upon popular suffrage. He was threatening to use this powerful organization against the nomination of Roosevelt, and he was the only possible opponent the President had to fear. While his death will prove an irreparable loss to the Republican party it renders certain a united Roosevelt movement. With Mark Hanna gone the Democrats have less reason to fear a revival of the methods that beat them in the two last campaigns.

A BID TO CRIME.
A man was arrested last week on the charge of attempting to market the verdict of a coroner's jury. The arrest, supported as it is with damaging evidence of guilt, not only causes public uneasiness as to the perfection of the jury system, but indicates the growth of corrupting influences in this province. For several years corruption has been rampant in Ontario. It has been manifested in election campaigns, in the purchase of public franchises, in the procuring of contracts and in the prostitution of public office.

The feeling has gone abroad that the process of the day is corrupt and that practice has become widespread in this respect. The district attorney is sending and convicting offenders has been demonstrated over and over again. Powerful interests, political and corporate, in whose behalf corrupt practices are carried on, have usually been strong enough to protect their tools.

Unlike the United States, we have no system free from political color, to act in operation against corruptionists. The grand jury system, which is the protection of the people on the other side of the line, is the one and only agency that could be used with effect in Ontario to-day. In the absence of a system of this kind corruption has been carried on almost without check, and it is little wonder that a member of a coroner's jury should be tempted into voting. He knows that a man may sell his vote and that politicians may buy votes without further danger than the unsuiting of a man in whose hands the corrupt work is done. He knows that others are corrupt and are protected in their corruption, and perhaps he does not see why he should not corrupt himself.

Corruption is not traveling from low offices up to high offices. It is working its way down from high offices into lesser departments of the public administration. This movement will continue until the authors of corrupt practices in high offices are dealt with more severely. Unfortunately the tendency of present politics is not in that direction. Campaign funds are held to be a more potent factor in elections than political principle. The lobbyists are growing in power and in number. Overseeing these signs, is it any wonder that a member of a coroner's jury should feel himself at liberty to sell his public trust for so much in dollars and cents?

BALFOUR LOSES AGAIN.
Premier Balfour's ill luck at the last election still pursues him. The last slap in the face is perhaps the worst he has got, and must have been more unexpected than any. Hertfordshire is a conservative stronghold and the Hon. Vicar Gibbs, who represented the St. Alban's division, was returned unopposed at both the 1895 and 1900 elections. In consequence of the firm with which he is connected, having acted as agent for the British Admiralty in the purchase of the Chilean warships, he had to resign his seat, and in the contest which ensued was defeated by J. Bamford Slack, the Liberal candidate, by 132 votes—the figures being 4757 to 4625. As the number of electors on the roll is 11,338, less than 50 per cent. polled, so that evidently there was been considerable apathy on their part.

Mr. Gibbs was a strong supporter of Mr. Chamberlain, while Mr. Slack, in addition to being an equally strong free trader, is a leading Methodist layman and an out-and-out opponent of the government's education policy. This latter question is in many parts of England playing a much greater part in the political controversy than free trade. So strained, indeed, has the situation become thru the spread of the passive resistance movement, that it is now generally conceded an amendment of these acts is not only necessary and expedient, but cannot be delayed for any length of time. The Premier was badly advised when he tackled the education question, and in doing so to deliver himself over hand and foot to forward the proscriptions of the Church of England. In the words of the martyred land which will not easily be put out even by himself.

AN EVIL TENDENCY.
D. C. Fraser, M.P. for Guelph, has been appointed to the Supreme Court bench of Nova Scotia. He has always been a bitter partisan, but in this respect he is less objectionable than B. M. Britton at the time of the latter's appointment to the bench.

Of late years Mr. Fraser has been more interested in politics than in law. He has given up a great deal of his time to campaign work and few districts between the Atlantic and the Pacific have not heard his thunderous tones. If there is one office that the life of D. C. Fraser during recent years has not qualified him for it is the bench. Mr. Fraser would probably discharge his judicial functions as a judge, but he cannot possibly take the bench that he legal ability which he kept steadily to the practice of law. Mr. Fraser is no better and no worse than several other parliamentary supporters of the Laurier government who have been transferred to the judiciary. His appointment, however, goes to show that a highly objectionable tendency is growing in a fairly fixed rule. The judiciary is becoming a stable for worn-out party men. Lawyers will soon realize that the only way to the bench is thru politics. This is a most undesirable state of affairs. It is admitted on all sides that the judiciary should be kept free from politics. How can this be done if vacancies in the judiciary are drawn from the vortex of active politics?

NO WONDER IT PAYS.
There is no longer any doubt that the piece of track of a tramped up on the part of the Kingston Street Railway to give it an excuse for suspending the service. It looks very much as if the company desired to hold the city for cheap power and took this way of demonstrating how completely the municipality is in its hands. Another popular theory is that the winter service does not pay the company, and that rather than go to the expense of keeping the right of way clear of snow it shut down the service.

Either of these considerations may have influence in the company taking such a tyrannical course. At all events, it had the same object in view. It was determined to keep down operating expenses either by bulldozing the city into granting cheap power, or running the service at a loss. The Kingston Street Railway company, in the hands of the municipality, would also pay, but what a howl would be heard from the enemies of public ownership if Kingston followed the same policy of making the street railway pay as the method pursued by the Street Railway Company.

If the Street Railway Company can suspend its service because it costs too much to clear away the snow or because electric power is too dear it could just as reasonably cease operating its service because labor is dear. The whole city suffers in order that the company may be able to pay big dividends to its shareholders. These are some of the joys of private ownership. A municipality that took similar means to make a public utility pay would have its share of the evils of public ownership.

The one comfort the Russian bears these days is that it has no tail to be twisted. The campaign in East London could not be much hotter if every oil well in the constituency was afire.

The Telegram stopped the press on Saturday to locate Russia's Baltic fleet at Kronstadt, Constantinople.

The citizens of Kingston are having all the sorrow with none of the excitement of a street railway strike.

"We, Nicholas II, Emperor and Autocrat of all the Russias," may be reduced to the first person singular before the Japs are thru with him.

If Russia's Baltic fleet is on its way to the Far East, it will just about stop at its destination in time to attend its own funeral.

Let no one suggest that the walls of the City Hall have ears. The persons and their pluggers will be a second reprieve pending investigation into the rumor.

So conflicting are the estimates of Ontario's financial condition that the people don't know whether to believe Hon. G. W. Ross and be joyful or believe Col. Matheson and be sad.

Canadians are strictly enjoined to remain neutral in this war. No prizes must be brought into Hamilton and no war of either belligerent may use Burlington Bay as a place of resort for warlike purposes or equipment.

PROPERTY QUALIFICATIONS.
Editor World: In a recent issue you had an article on "A New System Wanted," and refer to the Scotch cities. Yet, strange to say, you entirely overlooked one very important item, viz., that in Scotland the property qualification was abolished at least 30 years ago, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number of working men, able, willing and eager to criticize any little trickery of the part of property owners, merchants and men with little axes to grind. The results are clean and efficient government. In the light of the above is not your reasoning to suggest a property qualification for electors a little more than a century old, and that in all of their counties they have a large and growing number

