LAYS DOWN TERMS OF TRUCE BETWEEN SOVIET AND POLES

British Government's Note to Russia Also Agrees to Resume Trade Relations.

TEXT OF THE NOTE

London, July 14.—The note of the British government to soviet Russia agreeing to continue negotiations for a resumption of trade relations and proposing an armistice between soviet Russia and Poland and also between the soviet forces and General Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik commander in the Crimea, was read in the house of commons today by Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman.

The note takes cognizance of the acceptance by the Russian soviet government of the principles laid down in the British memorandum of July 1, and of the basis of agreement for a resumption of trade relations and the cessation of hostilities, and agrees to a resumption of negotiations for definite trade relations as soon as the Russian delegates return to England.

The soviet government repeatedly has declared its anxiety to make peace with all its neighbors. The British government is no less anxious to restore peace throughout Europe and therefore proposes the following arrangement with this object in view:

An immediate armistice be signed between Poland and soviet Russia under which hostilities shall be suspended. The terms of this armistice provide, on the one hand, that the Polish army shall immediately withdraw to the lines provisionally laid down last year by the peace conference as to the eastern boundary to which Poland is entitled to establish a Polish administration.

On the other hand the armistice should provide that the army of soviet Russia should stand at a distance of 50 kilometers east of this line. In eastern Galicia each army will stand on the line they occupy at the date of the signature of the armistice.

As soon as possible thereafter a conference, sitting under the auspices of the League of Nations, (Continued on Page 2, Column 3.)

TAKING FIRST STEP TO CONSERVE COAL

Railway Board Almost Certain to Stop Coal Exports.

Ottawa, July 14.—It is understood that the first step in conservation of the fuel supply in view of an almost certain shortage next winter, the railway board will in the near future issue an order prohibiting the export of Canadian coal, excepting to the United States and Newfoundland.

It is also understood that the order will prohibit the bunkering of coast-going vessels at Montreal with American coal. This practice, it is said, has resulted in the serious depletion of stocks of American coal brought to Canada.

At a conference of the members of the railway board the coal situation was given preliminary consideration and it is anticipated that measures other than those outlined above will be taken to conserve the fuel supply. Seen after the conference, Sir James Carvell said he had nothing official to announce at present.

IONISTS IN FIGHT WITH SINN FEINERS

Belfast, July 14.—Two thousand Sinn Feiners and Unionists today had a fight in Lurgan over the capture of a man who is alleged to have participated in a recent raid on a mansion near Lurgan.

The trouble had its origin in a demand by the Sinn Feiners for the release of the man, which the Unionists opposed.

GRAVE CRISIS IN IRELAND OVER RAILWAY SITUATION

Dublin, July 14.—The railway situation in Ireland was never so grave from the government's viewpoint as today, when the workers refused to move freight trains carrying munitions of war.

The policy of dismissing recalcitrant employees which the Sinn Feiners say is directed by the government, is rapidly depleting the ranks of the railway workers and resulting in additional traffic stoppages.

Fourteen men were dismissed at the Kilgobbin bridge terminus in Dublin during the past 24 hours.

FIGHT FOR ADVANCE IN RAILWAY RATES TO BEGIN AUG. 10

Commissioner Sets Date for Hearing Application of Canadian Roads.

Ottawa, July 14.—The board of railway commissioners has today acted upon the application of the railway association of Canada, filed on the 10th instant, asking for a general increase in freight tariffs 40 per cent. over those charged at the present time. The board has decided to hear the application at Ottawa on Tuesday, the 10th of August, next, at which time and place all interested parties both for and against the application will be expected to be present and ready to proceed.

In view of the fact that the application is a request for a straight percentage increase based on the increased costs of all wages and material, which are of general application, the board has decided that the case can best be heard at one sitting rather than at different places throughout the country.

The railways in their application say that the advance of 25 per cent. in freight rates, effective on August 12, 1918, provide by no means enough to offset the increase in wages under the McCaico award.

The government is evading responsibility by handing over commissions the responsibility for making investigations and arriving at decisions which the government should make. This is a violation of the whole principle of responsible government, for which the Liberal party absolutely stands.

Several members emphasized the fact that they were elected, not to ask others how the business of the country should be conducted, but to perform the duties as legislators for which they had been elected by the people.

The statement of the premier and Mr. Raney's speech at Mount Forest were simply repetitions of what was contained in the report of Mr. F. C. Clarkson, which was in the hands of the government immediately after it was transmitted on March 19, 1920. The house was then in session and remained in continuous session until Friday, May 24. There was ample time for the government to have come to a conclusion with reference to the matters in issue after receiving Mr. Clarkson's statement and before the house rose. It was the duty of the government to take the members of the house into their confidence. The government should not have waited until over a month after parliament had prorogued to declare its inability to deal with this question without further advice.

At the same time the members heartily approved of the principle that there must be the fullest publicity with reference to the accounts and estimates of the Hydro-Electric Commission, both as to power and as to radicals. The Liberal leader had contended for this in the house and he forced the government to bring down something more than the meagre twelve lines of bulk estimates representing an expenditure of many millions.

The people of the province will not be satisfied unless they have a full accounting and the full estimates year by year.

The morning press gives an interview with Attorney-General Raney in which his opening remark is that "the mind of the government is more or less made up," referring, of course, to the personnel of the commission. Probably his remark is equally applicable to the whole Hydro-Electric policy of the government. One scarcely knows whether to place the emphasis upon the words "more or less" or upon the words "made up." What the people of the province are looking for is not vacillation but decision.

The members unanimously recommended the appointment of Mr. L. Homfray Irving as the Liberal representative upon the public service superannuation board.

Altho the meeting was called for an entirely different purpose, the following resolution in Mr. Dewart's absence at the conclusion of the caucus was unanimously passed:

Moved by Mr. Bragg, member for West Durham, seconded by Mr. Hall, member for Parry Sound: "That the Liberal members of the Ontario legislature, meeting in caucus for the consideration of the Hydro radial question and other matters, have pleasure in availing themselves of this opportunity, the first offered since the publication of newspaper statements by one or two conferees, to reaffirm our confidence in the provincial Liberal leader, Mr. H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., M.L.A., and our complete satisfaction with his course during the late session, which was characterized by untiring application and energy, grasp of proposed legislation and public policy, and fidelity to the best interests of all the people, affording freely and candidly on all occasions, with the concurrence of his conferees, the benefit of his thoughtful and constructive counsel with respect to all business advanced for the consideration of the legislature by the government.

"We desire to appreciate the assertions of a gentleman elected on the Liberal platform and as a follower of Mr. Dewart of an intention on his part to offer opposition to the leader of the party in the house."

Justice Sutherland will be chairman of the commission. He is a judge of the high court of Ontario, and was Speaker of the house of commons from 1905 to 1909. His home is in Toronto.

Thomas A. Russell, who is president of the Russell Motor Car Company, represents the manufacturers on the board. He is a Liberal in politics. His home is in Toronto and he is a graduate of Toronto University.

Fred Bancroft, also a Toronto man, is one of the leading figures in the Canadian labor field, and represents labor interests on the board. Fred Bancroft has probably been on many boards of conciliation and arbitration, where he was chosen by the workers, than any other man in the Dominion. In this field he is exceptionally well known throughout the Dominion and in many parts of the United States. He is a strong believer in public ownership, in the Hydro-Electric power scheme and is a strong supporter of Hydro radials for Ontario. Mr. Bancroft was born in Lancashire, England.

Farmer Is Chosen.

W. A. Amor is vice-president of the United Farmers of Ontario, representing their interests. He ran against E. W. Burnaby at the last annual session of the U.F.O. for the presidency. For two years he has been on the executive of the U.F.O. and a director and a member of the Canadian Council of Agriculture. His farm is near Palmerston, Ontario. He was a defeated candidate in North Perth, in the last provincial elections. Mr. Amor before he entered into the ranks of farming exclusively was a Presbyterian minister, but for years has followed farming. Occasionally he occupies a pulpit, and conducts the services in the church to which he belongs. He is credited with being a good campaigner and has much influence in the ranks of the U.F.O.

The Technical Representative.

Mr. A. F. MacCallum is a commissioner of works for the municipality of Ottawa and chief of the Ottawa civic engineering department. He has had, it is stated by those who know him, considerable experience in railway and electric line construction. He was formerly assistant engineer for York county, then city engineer at Hamilton, 1909-16, and since that time commissioner of works at Ottawa. He holds the degrees of B.A., Sc. and C.E. Mr. MacCallum is a very keen engineer, and on arbitrations where he has figured he was very cool and thoro in his work.

Canada was third for Kolapore Cup.

Team From South Africa Won Coveted Trophy, With Britain Second.

Bisley Camp, England, July 14.—The South African team today won the historic Kolapore cup. The mother country was second and Canada third. The South African team established a lead at the first range—two hundred yards—and the Canadian team did the second range in the same number of shots—the South Africans increased their lead at the third range—six hundred yards—and finally won by fifteen points from the mother country team. The Canadian team did not shoot so well as the mother country at the last range. The South African team consisted entirely of veteran shots, all of whom have been frequent visitors to Bisley. Its victory was, however, thoro well deserved. This is the first time South Africa has won the Kolapore cup.

The Kolapore challenge cup was donated as a perpetual trophy in 1871 by the late Rajah of Kolapore. The competition for it calls for teams of eight, firing ten shots each man, at ranges of 300, 500 and 800 yards. It is open to present members of his majesty's forces only.

Montreal, July 14.—Joseph Daoust, of Daoust, Lalonde and Company, at this morning's session of the National Shoe Retailers' Association, stated that it ought to be possible to sell shoes a little cheaper than they were quoted just before the present crisis set in. After fully reviewing the various causes for the high price of shoes, he suggested a ten per cent. reduction, which he thought might be arranged without injury to the trade, but firmly said that this would be the limit.

HAMILTON

Hamilton, July 14.—William Cook, the aged man who disappeared from the residence of his son, O. W. Cook Beach road, on Monday, was found today in the town of Port Credit. He had purposed walking to Toronto. He is the father of O. W. Cook, general superintendent of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company of Hamilton.

Despite pouring rain in the morning the grocers' picnic, the banter excursion of the year, attracted thousands to Wabasso Park today. Officials in charge estimated that with ideal weather conditions all attendance records would have been broken.

The midsummer meeting of McMaster University Alumni Branch Association of Hamilton was held at the home of the vice-president, Mrs. A. B. Lancaster, Alder shot. The resignation of Rev. W. B. Tipton, who was leaving soon for London, was regretfully accepted. Dr. R. E. Guratt was chosen as his successor.

Hydro Commission of Five is Named.

Justice Sutherland is Chairman and Two Toronto Men Will Act.

The long looked for announcement of the personnel of the royal commission which has been appointed to investigate and report on the Hydro-Electric situation in the province was made yesterday. "I had not intended to make the announcement until tomorrow," said Premier Drury last night. The names of the commissioners follow:

Justice Sutherland will be chairman of the commission. He is a judge of the high court of Ontario, and was Speaker of the house of commons from 1905 to 1909. His home is in Toronto.

COMBATS AGITATION FOR BIG COMMISSION

London, Ont., July 14.—(By Canadian Press).—That the agitation for the appointment of a provincial Hydro commission of five members in place of three, as suggested by Hartley Dewart, K.C., Liberal leader, is a political attempt to disrupt the commission entirely, is the opinion expressed by Commissioner Philip Pocock today.

He also intimated that behind the move is a veiled attack on Sir Adam Beck, who is given the credit by Mr. Pocock for bringing Hydro in Ontario to the present successful stage.

"What is the use of appointing five men when three are sufficient to carry on the work?" asks Mr. Pocock. "These good men are good as five for this work and the results already obtained show what calibre the commission has been."

Representatives of eastern Galicia also would be invited to London to state their case.

"For the purpose of this conference Great Britain will place no restrictions on the representatives which Russia may nominate, provided they undertake while in Great Britain not to interfere in politics of the internal affairs of the British Empire or in propaganda."

The note said the armistice with General Wrangel should be on the basis that Wrangel retire immediately to the Crimea and that during the armistice this must be a neutral zone. Wrangel would be invited to London to discuss the future of his troops and of the refugees under his protection, but would not be a member of the conference.

Therefore the British government has bound itself to give no assistance to Poland for any purpose hostile to Russia, and to take no action itself hostile to Russia. COMBATS AGITATION FOR BIG COMMISSION

London, Ont., July 14.—(By Canadian Press).—That the agitation for the appointment of a provincial Hydro commission of five members in place of three, as suggested by Hartley Dewart, K.C., Liberal leader, is a political attempt to disrupt the commission entirely, is the opinion expressed by Commissioner Philip Pocock today.

He also intimated that behind the move is a veiled attack on Sir Adam Beck, who is given the credit by Mr. Pocock for bringing Hydro in Ontario to the present successful stage.

CONSIDER SITE FOR ISOLATION HOSPITAL

Controllers Pay Visit to Plateau on Danforth Avenue.

Members of the board of control motored to the plateau on the south side of Danforth avenue, shutting on Winchester drives yesterday afternoon, to decide on the advisability of the site being chosen for the proposed new Isolation Hospital. A recommendation will be sent on Monday's council meeting.

Dr. Hastings, who waited on the board of control meeting yesterday afternoon, urged the importance of the city deciding on a site for a new isolation hospital and nurse's residence. He declared that the need of an isolation hospital was more urgent than that of a reception hospital, and suggested two alternative sites—either the Toronto jail or the Danforth-Winchester site.

The M. O. H. further declared that there was great need for expansion of general hospital accommodation, but that this proposition should not be entertained until exact figures were forthcoming as to the number of patients being retained in the city hospitals, who would be much better off in a convalescent home. He suggested that the present Isolation Hospital building was suitable for convalescents.

In a few years the United States will be compelled to use all the coal mined in Pennsylvania for its own use. They have been very generous in their treatment of Canada in the matter of shipping coal to this country. But their only source of supply is in Pennsylvania, and the only way to get more coal is to go down deeper for it. And the deeper they go the harder it is to get the coal and the more expensive it becomes. From present indications it will not be many years before self-preservation will require the United States to keep all the coal mined in Pennsylvania within their own borders for exclusively American needs."

Coal Supply from West.

According to Mr. Harrington little was heard of the anthracite deposits in the province of Alberta until a few years ago. But now that the developments in the coal situation in the United States are likely to throw Canada on her own resources Canadians are forced to turn their eyes westwards and look to the opening up of these hard coal supplies in the prairie province. Already coal is being mined there and Mr. Harrington expects that some of it will be used in northern and western Ontario this coming winter. Coal will be one of the big items in future interprovincial trade.

"What influence do you think that increasing domestic and industrial demands upon the coal resources will have on the development of water-power?" Mr. Harrington was asked.

"Water power," he replied, "will be increasingly used in the generation of electricity for lighting and for industrial purposes, but I do not believe that electricity will come into general use as a means of heating our homes."

But the fuel controller sees no reason for being unduly concerned about the remote future, for he believes that it is within the designs of Providence to reveal another force greater than even steam or electricity when the necessity for such a force will have arisen.

Confusing to Public.

THE T. EATON CO LIMITED

"SOLD OUT" SIGN AT EX. OFFICES

Five For Dollar Tickets Have All Been Disposed Of.

Five for one dollar tickets entirely "sold out" is the sign appearing in the Exhibition office, indicating that the 50,000 strips annually issued were all disposed of on the first day of the sale. In fact, the last of the strips were passed thru the wicket shortly after noon. Last year the sale was closed before this hour, but this year Treasurer F. E. Brentnall took the precaution of questioning each applicant not known to him, for the purpose of keeping the tickets out of the hands of the "scalpers," and this consumed considerable time. After the sale it was announced that the tickets were in a large number of hands and were widely distributed than ever before.

This year the tickets are five instead of six for one dollar, and this fact, too, helped considerably in reducing the number of speculators. Many of whom in past years have profited, keeping the tickets until the visitors crowd the city at Exhibition time, and then selling them at an advance in price.

Big Demand for Space.

It was also announced by General Manager John G. Kent that there has been an unprecedented demand for space in every section of the grounds and buildings. All the concession space on the midway and the more congested sections of the grounds was disposed of weeks ago, and practically nothing remains to be sold in the more isolated parts of the grounds, more ground having been allotted today than was the case up to a week before the big fair opened a year ago.

In the buildings the situation was never better. It was thought that the imposition of a space fee to exhibitors might result in the retirement of a considerable number of exhibitors, but the reverse has been the case. Old space holders have cheerfully met the new charges, while a record number of new applications have been received for space in the manufacturers, industrial, and other buildings. A rather notable feature in this connection is the large number of applications and requests for information received from British firms who contemplate coming to the Exhibition this or next year. Judging from the rush from this source British firms are preparing to make a determined bid for Canadian trade in many lines within the near future.

The only section so far not allotted is the outdoor agricultural section, and a staff of clerks is now engaged on this. So far as the buildings are concerned, and the concessions and privileges, the Exhibition is ready to open tomorrow.

Carrick Would Sue Hydro But Fiat Not Yet Granted

The Ontario government has not yet given its decision in the application of Mr. J. J. Carrick, ex-M.P., for a fiat against the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario. Mr. Carrick was at the parliament buildings yesterday in connection with the matter.

He said that he was anxious to get the fiat so that he could bring action to compel the Hydro Commission to fulfil the conditions of the bargain that he says his lawyer, A. McComber, made with the commission for the purchase of the Campbellford Pulp Mill and the Branton limits in Central Ontario. He says that he paid $225,000 on account of the $500,000 purchase price, but the Hydro Commission, he alleges, has not lived up to the conditions of the contract.

ATTEMPTED TO STEAL

For the attempted theft of a suit from the room of a rooming-house, Andrew Cummings was sentenced to 30 days in jail yesterday's police court. He claimed he had called for a man who owed him $10, and had no intention of annexing the suit.

NOT HIS "SCRIP"

For attempting to use a prescription for liquor which he was not entitled to use, E. A. Blakeley was, in yesterday's police court, fined $50 and costs.

SUIT OVER EXCHANGE.

FINED FOR THEFT.

A fine of twenty-five dollars was imposed by Judge Morson in the sessions yesterday on Mrs. Georgina Varadon for the theft of a hat from the T. Eaton store. It was her first offence, hence the imposition of a fine only.

TRYING TO RUSH UNION STATION

Mayor Says There Will Be No Undue Delay in Opening.

There will be no delay in opening the new Union Station, according to Mayor Church, who issued the following statement yesterday:

"The harbor board are endeavoring to get a proper agreement with the railway for the temporary operation of the depot on the level on the understanding that the viaduct order is not abrogated."

"Not a day is being lost, and within the course of two weeks the sub-committee, consisting of the Hon. L. L. Clarke and Mr. Horne Smith, representing the harbor commission; myself, representing the city, and Sir James Wood, representing the board of trade, will have a full report ready on the subject, for the action of the city."

"The harbor board has spent several million dollars on new docks in the centre of the city waterfront, and we do not propose to allow the railways to get out of the water order as suggested in some quarters. The interests of the city are being protected, and not a day has been lost in the whole work."

HYDRO'S ENEMIES AGAINST INQUIRY

(Continued From Page 1). When that was thru they would turn loose on the department of mines. They were evolving a better system of forest administration and a good roads scheme that was going to be a vital factor in the urban and industrial life of the province.

"During the past few weeks we have faced another and very great crisis," Mr. Drury went on. "This has arisen out of the fact that the government said we want to know a little more than we do about the Hydro-radial venture in Ontario. I believe in the public development for the public of the waterfalls of the province. We have a wonderful asset in them, and have done perhaps too little in the past. Situated as we are, we are depending too much upon our neighbors for coal supply and that means the industrial life of the province. The waterpowers should be developed not by private interests but by the province as a financial asset to turn the wheels of industry and to provide light and heat for the people. We believe in backing the Hydro Commission in every reasonable thing. We believe in developing Niagara power, and the Dominion government defines the St. Lawrence rights we will stand for provincial development of those powers until Ontario shall be known as the electrified province with power developed by the government for the use of the people."

Radials Needed Here
"There is no doubt that where a radial railway is needed and where it will pay it will be provided under the Hydro Commission," continued Mr. Drury. "They had in the past in this country suffered in some cases from too optimistic railway developments. He referred to the National Transcontinental and the C.N.R., now taken over by the government. He believed the government system of railways was estimated to lose between thirty and fifty million dollars a year for the next two years, which would be a huge tax imposed on the country for a system of transportation unwisely conceived."

"We have in Ontario a Hydro-Electric radial scheme," said the premier. "Some people say it is not the business of the province to interfere with it, as it was entirely a municipal undertaking. Others say the Hydro Commission is only responsible to the municipalities. The provincial Hydro-Electric power movement in Ontario began in April, 1909. In response to representations made in 1903 by various municipalities, an act was passed authorizing the construction of municipal power works and transmission lines. Authority was given the municipalities to raise money for the purpose. The first Hydro-Electric act proved unworkable, largely because of difficulties inherent in any plan depending purely on municipal initiative and also because the financing of the scheme was found to be difficult. In other words, it was realized that the province should back the bonds of the municipalities or take them and issue provincial bonds to raise the money. Why? Because the provincial bonds commanded the respect of the money market. That principle was established and continues up to the present time.

Big Sum Guaranteed.
"We have a total of nearly $50,000,000 of Hydro-Electric bonds," the premier continued, "and the present proposals for radials cause us to say we want to know something more. Some of it will not be an admission of debt to the province. If the radials prove a success it is not a debt to the province, but an investment. We have raised a howl because we want information and a commission to inquire into the feasibility of the plans and the probable profitability of them. The commission should not deal with that and I say so without anything derogatory to its members. Sir Adam Beck has been a great force in putting the scheme before the people because his temper was that of a promoter who was optimistic and that was greatly to his credit. But that is not the best source from which we can get an unbiased, unimpassioned opinion as to the probable success of the enterprise. Unfortunately the province has found more than one case where the estimates were greatly under the actual cost. In one instance too rosas pictures have been drawn as to the probable income from an enterprise."

Guelpth Railway Surprised.
Premier Drury traced the history of the Guelpth railway purchase proposals, and said the government were given six days to consider a weighty question which had been before the Hydro Commission six months. The commission asked for an order-in-council to issue "as the time was short" to transfer the railway. "One thing I will not do," Mr. Drury emphasized, "and never have been, and that is a rubber stamp. I take myself too seriously for that, and I believe under the people put me in a position of trust they expect me to use my judgment."

Mr. Drury reviewed the voting on the bylaws. He said it was found out that on October 15, 1919, an order-in-council was passed by the late government approving of the terms of the proposed agreement to be entered into with the municipalities in connection with radial railways, but not a word was said about the Guelpth Street Railway. The latter was also not connected with the municipalities. In five fingers on the hand, it was also found that in the agreement with the 17 municipalities nothing was said about the Guelpth Street Railway, but there was a proposal for the purchase of it by the commission. An engineer reported that the Guelpth

Railway was a losing proposition, entailing actually a loss of some $15,000 per annum as long as it was run by itself."

Mr. Drury said the reply he received relating to the Guelpth line was that it was to be run in connection with other radials. That might be true, but such a proposition was never submitted to the municipalities concerned. There was the question, he (the premier) took legal advice on the matter. He was advised that the local Guelpth system could not be considered part of the Hamilton-Guelpth radial system, and that the municipalities could not be responsible for acquisition of the Guelpth line, and that the city of Guelpth would not be responsible for the purchase of the street railway."

"Were we wise in holding up the Guelpth proposition?" Mr. Drury asked. "We found no one particularly responsible for acquisition of the line, and was not on the face of it a wise proposition. He said there were now three lines from Toronto. He was not there to say whether the proposals were financially sound or not. He was responsible for guaranteeing the bond and would have to bear the burden in case of failure. He and his ministers had not time to investigate for themselves, thus they wanted a commission appointed."

Mr. Drury alluded to various incidents involved, and said the attitude of the government towards the radials had required some courage. They made up their minds they would give the question, they knew shells were coming and were surprised they did not burst with greater violence. "We do not think," he said, "that the municipalities are in control of the Hydro Commission, but we believe the laws of the province give the government responsibility for appointment and maintenance of the commission. We are responsible for the policy."

The premier then read the following statement made by Sir Adam Beck before the conservation commission at Ottawa in January, 1920:
Quotes Beck at Ottawa.
"The government is not a trustee for the interests of any particular group of municipalities or any particular part of the people to the exclusion of the rest. Its obligations are the same to all the people and are to be administered in a department prosecuting this work, however just as it will not be deterred by slander neither will it be hurried by impatient even about the Guelpth street railway. It will proceed cautiously and prudently step by step, testing and proving its way that its progress may be real and enduring."
"By that policy I stand," said Mr.

Drury in closing. "By that we stand as trustees of all the people, as guardians of the interests of all the people, as guardians of the group that is interested in the development of Niagara Falls, and in guarding those interests we shall take what steps we deem necessary to assure ourselves that any scheme entered into bears on the face of it the indications of reasonable success. We will not be deterred by any pressure of private ownership interests. The people have placed us in a position of trust which we shall execute in the interests of the province." (Loud applause.)

F. M. Chapman, who presided, said the farmers had been at the tail end of the political whip had now gone by. They looked to Premier Drury and his party to save the province, and if the farmers stood together they would redeem Canada.

The Community Spirit.
Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, spoke of the U.F.O. reviving the community spirit in Ontario, and said agriculture now occupied the foremost place not only here but in every country in the world. The pursuit of it could, in fact, be traced back to the Garden of Eden (laughter and applause). Agriculture would always be the main basic industry in the Dominion. He had never said that "smoking chimneys did not mean prosperity." What he did say in his Niagara Falls speech was "that they did not spell complete national prosperity." Touching on the timber investigation, he said sufficient had come out already to justify the commission. As to Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Mr. Doherty remarked: "Any man who administers a department must necessarily assume responsibility for what takes place. Mr. Doherty concluded by explaining the bill before the Hydro Commission, and the farmers in connection with milk, butter, etc."

Mrs. Webster, Oakville, spoke mainly to women and urged them to do less dusting and more reading. The franchise had brought them added responsibilities, which must be faced.

Federal Election Coming.
R. H. Halbert, M.P., said there was another federal election coming, although he could not quite say when. He went on to deny the statement that "he had been in hiding during the war," and said the people should have enough backbone to stand by their leaders and not allow anyone to "discredit them. He feared a cry at the next election would be a race and creed."

and remarked that it did not matter whether a man was a Scotch, English, Irish or French-Canadian so long as he was a Canadian. They needed Canadian brotherhood and that was why he liked the U.F.O. Mr. Halbert reviewed the advancement of the U.F.O. organization since he became president, and speaking of the government at Ottawa, said: "They know a licking is in store for them and are hoping something will turn up to prevent it." He repudiated that farmers were profiteers and declared that the people could burst up the compliances if they used their vote properly.

"The next Dominion election is going to be fought on the tariff," Mr. Halbert said. He advised the people to study the tariff and remarked that at present the manufacturers got back 99 per cent of what they paid. He had been accused for sending to the States for twine. His answer was that twine was handled by mergers and there was no help for it. The farmers were anxious to pay their full share of the war debt, but they did not share to be taxed for the other fellow's share. "There is a new emigrant on the gangway coming to Canada, and that is compulsory military training." He said that compulsory military training is established here Germany will have a great victory. German militarism must never be allowed to raise its head in Canada." (Applause.)

J. W. Widdifield, M.L.A., challenged anyone to make any statement showing that there had been anything in the shape of class legislation at the last session. It had been said that the superannuation bill was class legislation. One clause might be regarded as such, but he did not vote for the measure, as it was purely Mr. Drury's own bill. Some even might have been got rid of by being given a bonus instead of superannuation. However, it was not a very serious grievance. Touching on the temperance question, Mr. Widdifield believed that 90 per cent of the electors of Ontario thought on the last occasion that they were voting to go away with the U.F.O. He hoped, however, that they would have patience to go out and vote once more, when it was likely that nothing further would be required. He complimented the women on the interest they took in the elections, and said that at the last election in October there were fewer polled ballots than on any previous occasion. (Applause.)

MUNICIPALITIES, WITH HYDRO POWER, MAKE GREAT SHOWING

Despite Increased Cost of Labor and Material They Accumulate Big Reserves and Surpluses and Pay All the Expenses Incident to Cost of Electric Power.

A detailed and comparative survey of the financial position of all municipalities in the Hydro-Electric cooperative union is being made by the accounting staff of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario. The first result of this inquiry appeared two weeks ago when the remarkable record of the twelve pioneer municipalities, after eight years of operation, was made public.

Yesterday the thirty-one municipalities which, on an average, have been taking Hydro-Electric power for about seven years, and the figures are even more impressive. Twenty-five of these communities, like the twelve pioneers, are connected to the Niagara system. The other six are on the Severn system, being served from the generating station at Big Chute.

The combined assets of the 31 are given as $1,850,552.50, against which there stands a net debt of $697,676.55; that is to say, the total obligation is only 37 per cent of the combined resources. The debt of one municipality in the group is only 11.2 per cent of its assets. The least favorable result—51.7 per cent—is still remarkably good, considering the fact that less than one-third of the lifetime of the debentures have elapsed.

In Face of High Costs
It must be remembered that the municipalities in question have accumulated their reserves and surpluses despite the increasing cost of labor and materials, and the successive reductions in rates authorized by the commission. They have paid every expense incident to the cost of power to the commission and also have set aside yearly requirements to go out of sinking fund and plant renewal.

The surplus total of $1,152,876.36 is still more striking when the measure of the rate reductions for domestic use has been lowered by 27 per cent during the period reviewed; for commercial use by 41 per cent. Calculation shows that the money value of these rate reductions to the consumers was approximately $275,000.

The commission has a record of the rates that were charged in 20 of these 31 municipalities before Hydro power was made available. The average net cost of energy per kilowatt hour was 8.98 cents. The Hydro rate today, averaged for the same 20 communities, is 4.5 cents.

Mrs. J. M. CRAIG, of Los Angeles, Calif., who says no one can feel more grateful for what Tanlac has done than she does. Declares she has gained twelve pounds and her health is now better than in years.

"Of all the people who have taken Tanlac, I don't believe there is a single one who feels any more grateful to it than I do."

Every medicine I tried failed to reach my case until finally my husband urged me to try Tanlac, and I am indeed thankful that he did for it proved to be just what I needed.

"I was so weak I couldn't even sweep the floor, and during the day I would have to lie down four or five times. I tried to walk, but found out half a block was all I could stand before I gave out. Nervous spells came on me often."

"The first two bottles didn't seem to help me. I guess that was because I was so extremely bad off, but on the third bottle I could tell it was improving and that gave me more hopes than ever of getting well."

"My improvement from then on was rapid and by the time I had taken five bottles of Tanlac I was better and stronger than I had been in years. I was sleeping soundly at night and had gained twelve pounds in weight."

TIMBER PROBE SHOWS RESULTS

J. Hourigan Company Sends Cheque for Back Dues to Treasury.

The James Hourigan Lumber Company, has paid into the government treasury between $13,000 and $14,000, as a result of the evidence given at the Riddell-Latchford timber probe commission at Port Arthur, it was learned yesterday.

The evidence that was submitted at Port Arthur showed that this company owed the government this money in back dues. It is also understood that another company is shortly to make a settlement for a much larger amount on account of dues which have never been paid the government for timber cut off crown lands.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 15.

Looking For a Foch.

The Globe joins The Star in slandering the Meighen government in true party style. Yet in the same breath we are told that it is the same old government. It contains six Liberals and two or three other ministers concerning whose politics little is known. The Conservatives have a bare majority in the cabinet, altho they outnumber the Liberal Unionists in the house two to one.

Still, it is, in the opinion of The Globe and Star alike, "a Tory government." The Conservatives, they say, will sit at the table eating strawberries and spring chicken, while the Liberals will have to eat a lean-to or shed and get a hand-out of scraps and bones. Mr. Calder, they admit, is at the first table in the chair just vacated by Hon. Mr. Rowell, but they call upon him loudly to come away from the bad Tories and join Mr. Rowell in opposition.

It may clear the air to have the party lines thus tightly drawn. But have our journalistic neighbors any ardent desire to see Hon. Mackenzie King the next premier of Canada? They mention him seldom and only with faint praise. Their hero, we think, is not Mr. King, but Mr. Rowell. The Star has the Globe beat a block when it comes to swinging the censor before the former president of the privy council. The Globe is rather a silent worshipper and is perhaps more interested in cutting the throat of Mr. Dewar than in performing the same kindly office for Mr. Meighen. It would not be averse to Mr. Rowell resuming his place as leader of the provincial opposition and thus getting into close touch with Mr. Drury and the U. F. O.

Both papers are after the Meighen government, but they do not hitch their wagons to the star of Mackenzie King. They are stowed enough to see that the parties in opposition must work as allies if they are to overthrow the government. They are looking for a Foch. Will they find him in Mr. Rowell?

Six Months of Delay.

The board of police commissioners have decided that for the next six months we are to have an acting chief of police, an acting deputy chief and an acting assistant deputy chief. At the end of this time these temporary appointments will be made permanent and a reorganization of the police department undertaken. In the meantime, however, Colonel Graetz is the responsible head of the department, altho he is taking a six months' vacation abroad before retiring from office.

Obviously, Acting Chief Dickson and his assistants can only carry on in a routine way during this six months' interregnum. If the new chief has any changes of policy to suggest they must remain in abeyance until January 1. Not until then will he be in law as well as in fact the head of the department. What he does now he can only do as the representative of the chief constable, and he can inaugurate no changes which do not meet with the approval of his superior officer.

Colonel Graetz is probably entitled to his six months' vacation as he is entitled to his retirement. But the board of police commissioners would be well advised to relieve him of all responsibility and to invest the acting chief with full and supreme authority. Otherwise the department merely marks time for six months.

The Canadian Wheat Board Will Continue to Function.

It seems pretty certain that the government will exercise the power conferred upon it by parliament and empower the Canadian Wheat Board to handle the 1920 crop. The National Council of Agriculture has reaffirmed its demand for such action by the government. This National Council of Agriculture is the executive of the farmers' organizations, including the United Farmers of Alberta, the United Farmers of Ontario, and the grain growers' associations of Manitoba and Saskatchewan. It has no official position in this country, but it speaks for the farmers with authority. It will no doubt be represented on the Canadian Wheat Board.

It is quite likely that the government knew in advance what the position of the National Council of Agriculture would be. The western members went home after the session pretty well satisfied that the government would again handle the wheat crop and thus ensure a certain market and ready money to the farmer.

Our surplus wheat must be marketed in Europe. The British government and the governments of France and Italy are buying wheat now for their countries, and the selling end in Canada must therefore be thru our government. The farmer will get a substantial hand payment in cash as soon as he delivers his wheat to the local elevator, and he will get a participation certificate, which will ensure him a share in the profits made on the sale of the wheat by the wheat board.

In the old days the farmer had to rush his wheat to the head of the lakes before the close of navigation or he was at the mercy of his creditors and the bulls and bears on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Wheat fluctuated violently in price on the grain exchange, but slumped whenever the farmer appeared with some real wheat to sell. The grain embargo at the head of the lakes was an annual hardship and manipulation of the grain at the elevator a public scandal. Under government control and the Canadian Wheat Board the farmer has a certain market and is going to get some money just as soon as he can get his grain to the station. He will get more for his wheat, but the Canadian Wheat Board is empowered to regulate the price of flour so that no great hardship will be inflicted upon the consumer.

The car shortage in the United States is causing a panic among the wheat growers of that country, who have to face an open market. They are in much the same position as our western farmers used to be when they had to rush their wheat to the head of the lakes before the close of navigation or suffer terrible loss. They are talking about $4 wheat at Kansas City. But the Kansas farmer may have to take a pretty low figure later on if the government does nothing to fix the price or handle the crop. The door is open wide to speculators' speculation on the grain exchange, but as we have said that is little benefit to the farmer who cannot get his wheat out and must have ready money. The Canadian crop will move without haste or panic and the Canadian farmer will be sure of his money.

A Job For the Government, Not the Railway Commission.

Discussing the proposed increase in freight rates a local contemporary is pleased to observe:

In dealing with the application of the railways the Railway Commission cannot afford to ignore the fact that the Canadian Pacific and the National Railways are wide as the poles apart in their financial condition and needs.

But that is precisely what the Railway Commission, an administrative board, must do. It may consider the claim that the cost of producing transportation has doubled since 1914, but it is not called upon to wry its head about capitalization. Freight rates must be uniform, and based upon what the service is reasonably worth. In getting at this it may be proper to consider the physical valuation of the roads, but that valuation cannot be fixed by their capitalization. The Montreal Gazette would like to see the government railways charge a rate sufficient to pay their operating expenses and interest upon their cost, and we are told:

The basis of the capital account should not be less than the cost of the properties to the country.

What the roads cost is not the question, but what they are worth. If the people of Canada paid too much for the roads they built, or the roads they acquired, the people of Canada must pocket the loss. The government is building a colonization road from Moncton to Winnipeg in a thinly settled part of the country at a cost of three hundred million dollars, when a road sufficient for the purpose could have been built for one-fourth that sum, figs itself in the position of a man who has built a magnificent dwelling house in a quarter of the city unsuitable for residential purposes. He must rent the house for what he can get no matter how much it may have cost him. In purchasing the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk lines the government was not unlike the man who bids in a piece of property to save his mortgage. The property is merely worth its market price, and not necessarily the amount of his investment.

The rates to be charged upon the government railways must largely be a matter of governmental policy, and they must be based upon the value of the service rendered and not upon capitalization. The man who goes from here to Hamilton, whether he goes by train, bus, or boat, figures on what the service of the carrier is worth to him and cares not at all what the bus costs, what mortgage there may be on the boat, or what misfortunes may have overtaken the railway company. If a man builds a house which is afterwards struck by lightning so that he cannot lease it for more than the rental value on that account, it is idle for him to argue that the house cost twenty thousand dollars if its market value is only half that sum.

It may be that the higher rates required by the government railways system (and President Hanna says that more than a thirty per cent increase will be necessary if the demand for higher wages is to be granted), will yield inordinate profits to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. But that presents a problem for the government to deal with, not the Railway Commission.

LET BECK RESIGN 'SAYS FARMERS' SUN

Says Hydro Chief's Criticism of Government Not Honorable.

Another wallop is taken at Sir Adam Beck by The Farmers' Sun, the accredited organ of the U.F.O. This time it suggests that Sir Adam resign. The editorial in part follows: "The chairman of the Hydro Commission is becoming a very severe critic of the government, a position that may be found to be intolerable. When a cabinet minister falls to agree with his associates he is expected to resign. A deputy minister or the head of a commission may disagree with the government but employs him, but cannot make the fight a political one while in the pay of the government. If Sir Adam Beck cannot submit to discipline, or resent criticism, let him resign. Then he can attack his late employer all he likes. His present course is not an honorable one."

Major Wallace Is Chosen Varsity Associate Librarian

Major W. Stewart Wallace, formerly lecturer in history at McMaster University, has been appointed associate librarian at the University of Toronto. He was president of the Khaki College at Whitley Camp, England. Major Wallace went overseas in the spring of 1915 with the 129th Battalion, but owing to an accident to his knee was prevented from going to the front. Two of his recent books were "The United Empire Loyalists" and "The Family Compact" in the Chronicles of Canada Series.

Dr. C. Day Clark Dies Following an Operation

Dr. C. Day Clark, F.R.C.P.S., for over twenty years a physician with the Independent Order of Foresters, died yesterday morning at his late residence, 121 Bernard Avenue, following an operation. The late Dr. Clark was born in Odessa, Ontario, 57 years ago. He received his education at Queen's University, Kingston, and later went to England, where he studied for three years, receiving the degree of Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons. Prior to becoming connected with the Independent Order of Foresters, Dr. Clark had conducted a private practice. Besides being a member of that order he was also a Mason. His parents both predeceased him. He is survived by Whitmore, and by one son, Norman.

WELL-KNOWN BARRISTER AND POET PASSES AWAY

The death occurred yesterday morning of George Whitfield Grote, K.C., in his seventy-seventh year.

Mr. Grote, who was a well-known barrister and Canadian poet, was the son of the late Phoebe Cary-Tooth Grote and Rodolph Fuller Grote, and was born in the township of Whitley. He was educated at Upper Canada College and taught in the local public and high schools. He then studied law at Osgoode Hall and was called to the bar in the early 70's. He took an active part in Argonaut rowing circles and won many medals as an oarsman and lacrosse player some years ago. He was also a veteran of the Fenian Raid of '68.

In recent years Mr. Grote wrote considerable verse of which his "Ode to the Passing of Queen Victoria" and his "Coronation of King Edward VII" have been favorably commented upon by many critics. He is survived by his sister, Mrs. Agnes Grote Copeland, Dr. Gordon C. Copeland, George Rudolph Copeland and Miss Rachelle Copeland, Mrs. Maria Tooth-Copeland and a daughter and sister of his elder brother, the late Dr. Whitcomb Grote, of London, England, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. John W. Grote, of St. Catharines.

NO PATIENTS TREATED AT CANCER CLINIC

Cancer patients who gathered at St. Michael's Hospital yesterday in the hope of receiving treatment from Dr. T. J. Glover were turned away disappointed, as there could be no clinic. Dr. Glover was to have been replaced yesterday by Dr. John Amyot, assistant Dominion medical health officer, who has been delayed en route.

Dr. Glover's supply of serum gave out several days ago and he is not practicing now, but is reported to be spending his time in further research work.

WORLD'S DAILY BRAIN TEST

BY SAM LOYD. 20 Minutes to Answer This. No. 246.

With a party of tourists, who were "doing the Alps" in the summer of 1898, and two had undertaken the long tramp over the snows from Altdorf to Tell used to shoot apples. I was enjoying a rest, after a long day's journey. A little peasant girl, gathering about us, came our way, and thinking to amuse the child, I showed her how to prognosticate her matrimonial future, by plucking off the petals of a flower to determine whose bride she would be—"rich man, poor man, beggar man or thief." She said the game was well known to Swiss lassies, with the slight difference that a player was always at liberty to pluck a single, or two contiguous petals, so that the game would continue by singles or doubles, until the victorious one took the last petal and left the "stump," called the "old maid," with his, or her, opponent.

To our astonishment, the pretty madchen, who could not have been more than ten years of age, vanquished our fire party by winning every game, no matter who played first.

I did not study out the trick until we were back in Luzerne, but I was so banted by the party that I made a business of investigating it, but never had the satisfaction of beating the little mathematician at her own game. The game is shown in the sketch in the form of a daisy of 13 petals, and is played by two persons, who, in turn, cover the petals by placing small markers, until all are covered. The one who covers the last petal wins, and the other is separated. Can you study out a winning system? Which should win, the first or second player? ANSWER TO NO. 245. The boy must have been 5 years of age.

JUDITH OF BLUE LAKE RANCH

By JACKSON GREGORY.

"No. The rest is pure guesswork on my part. Guesswork based on what I know. Not enough to hang Chris Quinnton, Bud Lee. But enough to make me sure. He's working at Trevors' game right now. If we can prove that it is Trevors' game, it will go to show how worthless his alibi was."

"Well?" called Quinnton, the third time. "What about it? We ain't goin' to wait all night."

"Tell him," whispered Judith, her hand on Lee's arm, "to come and get it if he wants it! One of us can hold the cabin against the two of them while the other slips out in the dark and rides back to the ranch-house for help. If we're in luck, Bud Lee, we'll corner the bunch of them before daylight!"

Lee stood a moment looking down into her face, his mind filled with uncertainty. "With all his soul," he wished that Judith had not come with him tonight, that he had only himself to think of now. Quinnton, not to be further put off, called again, the snarl of his voice rising into ugly threat. Still Lee, thinking of Judith, hesitated.

"It's the only way," she insisted. "If we gave them the money they'd want Bill Crowley next. If they got Crowley away with them into the mountains I am not sure that they could not hide until they got him safe in Trevors' hands. Then we'd have the whole fight still to make, sooner or later. It's our one bet, Lee!"

And Bud Lee, seeing no better way ahead of them, blew out the candle, forced Judith to stand close to the rock chimney of the fireplace, took his station near her, and answered Quinnton, saying shortly: "Come ahead when you're ready. We're waiting."

Quinnton's curse, the crack of his rifle, the flying splinters from the cabin door, came together like one implacable menace.

"And now, Bud Lee," cried Judith quickly. "I don't mind telling you, not seeing the end of the string we are playing, that you are a man to my liking."

"My hat's off," said Lee, with grave simplicity. "And in any old kind of a fight a man wouldn't want a better partner than I can reach now, putting out my hand. He'd want—just a thoroughbred! And now, little partner, let's give them—f—t—"

Judith, even as Quinnton's second shot tore into the door, laughed softly. "Finish it as you began it, Bud Lee! Every George Washington swore at Monmouth, you know!"

So Bud Lee amended his words and spoke his thought: "Then, partner, let's give 'em hell!" Crouching in the dark, reserving their own fire while they waited for something more definite than the bark of a rifle to shoot at, their hands met.

CHAPTER XIII THE CAPTURE OF SHORTY.

It came about, quite as matters often do, that at the three-mile-distant ranch headquarters it was one who knew comparatively little of the ways of this part of the world who was first to suspect that all was not well with Judith Sanford. To Pollock Hampton her failure to appear at dinner was significant.

Together with the other newcomers to the ranch from the city he had been deeply moved by yesterday's out-lavry. Drawing upon a vivid imagination, he peopled the woods with desperate characters. When after dinner an hour passed without bringing Judith, he began to show signs of nervous anxiety. Without making his fears known to his friends, he went to the office and telephoned to Doc Tripp. All that Tripp could tell him was that he didn't know where Judith was and didn't care; she could take care of herself. Tho the was at all moments puzzled by the new alibi, at the moment the hogs and his irritable concern in this matter allowed him some interest in other people's affairs. Hampton learned from Mrs. Simpson that in the afternoon Judith after a hurried lunch had taken her rifle and ridden away. Where? Mrs. Simpson did not know. But she grasped the opportunity to confide in Hampton's certain suspicion which she had been connecting with the robbery and killing of Bud Lee's horse under the same suspicion which was growing rapidly into positive certainty. She liked to mention the matter to Judith since Fujioki was his servant. She had noted Fujioki and that other black Spanish, Jose? They had a community of interest which must connect far beyond racial kinship; they were even at this very second, out in the courtyard together talking in subdued voices. Mrs. Simpson had not been supposed to eavesdrop, but she knew that in the best of worlds was not supposed to eavesdrop, but at a time like this. . . . Well, she knew that in the best of worlds they were speaking guardedly about the hold-up! Almost in whispering with every sign of guilt—

"Hurried lunch?" said Hampton. "Took her rifle, did she?"

"His eyes had grown very anxious and he stared down into Mrs. Simpson's concerned face."

"Send Jose to me," was what he said next.

"Aren't you afraid, Mr. Hampton?" he exclaimed, picturing to himself this pleasant young gentleman, who dealt with the robbery and killing of Bud Lee's horse under the same suspicion which was growing rapidly into positive certainty. She liked to mention the matter to Judith since Fujioki was his servant. She had noted Fujioki and that other black Spanish, Jose? They had a community of interest which must connect far beyond racial kinship; they were even at this very second, out in the courtyard together talking in subdued voices. COUNTY AND SUBURBS BEACHES WESTON RATEPAYERS WANT TO JOIN WESTON

A special meeting of the Weston council was held in the town hall Tuesday night. A resolution was passed on the suggestion of the Weston volunteer fire brigade, that the transportation expenses of the Weston Band be paid as they are accompanying the firemen to the annual convention at Welland in August. It was pointed out that both the band and the brigade were volunteer organizations, and that the brigade were paying their own expenses.

ST. JOHN'S ROAD AND EDMUND STREET OWNERS ASK FOR ANNEXATION. A deputation from St. John's road and Edmund street, represented by S. D. Durham and others, appealed to the council for annexation with Weston. "We cannot pay any higher compensation than that," said Mr. Durham. "We are sincere and earnest in asking that we would like to come into Weston. We pay double water rates to Weston and a triple rate to York township, and get nothing from them. We are our own lighting from Weston. And we are a residential street, being all brick houses. We will assume your debentures and you assume ours."

NEW TORONTO FIX ASSESSMENT FOR SALE LANDS. Big Rubber Company Makes Appeal to New Toronto Revision Court. The chief feature of the proceedings of the New Toronto Court of Revision, held there last night, was the appeal of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., presided by J. C. Collins, general manager. The appeal was in relation to the assessment of buildings or working property of the plant, Mr. Collins said the company had no objection to the assessment of the buildings, but the assessment was against the year-to-year increase on the land which the company was paying for the future building extensions. Supporting the appeal, he went on to state that a large sum had been expended in grading and beautifying these idle lands, a measure which he contended was to the advantage of the municipality and the city.

EAST TORONTO BIG PUBLIC LIBRARY FOR EAST TORONTO Funds Have Been Appropriated and Work Should Begin Soon. Work of construction in connection with the new East Toronto branch public library, it is stated, will commence at an early date. Compelled to find new quarters owing to the fact that the old building is being used as a branch library in their building on Main street, the library board secured a convenient site on Gerrard street, east side, just south of the intersection with the new street. The site is a handsome brick and stone building erected. A sum of $37,000 was appropriated for the site and building by the city council some time ago, but owing to the advanced cost of labor and material it is thought the amount will not be sufficient for the class of building intended by the architect. Owing to the present business boom in the district and the increasing influx of residents, the need of a library building in this district is keenly felt.

WEST TORONTO CAKE BAKERS' OUTING.
