SCORES DIE AS HEAT WAVE SWEEPS EAST

THERMOMETER MOUNTS TO 105 IN MARYLAND

Today Was Hottest In New York Since 1885

Factories Close

350,000 Flock to Coney Island; Ontario Also Swelters Under Sun

NEW YORK, July 22.—The east sweltered today in a heat wave that came in from the west, taking a toll of two score lives and prostrating hundreds of persons in the cities on its course.

Temperature records were broken here and elsewhere yesterday. Some of the high marks were: Hagerstown, Md., 105; Keelyville, Md., Philadelphia and Jersey City, 100; Springfield, Mass., 99; New Haven, 98.8; Albany, 98; New York, 96; Chicago, 96; Milwaukee, 95.5.

In New York was the hottest July day except one since 1885. Factories had to close at Lockport, N. Y., and it was the hottest day in the history of the New Haven Weather Bureau.

Flock to Beaches

Thousands sought relief at beaches and resorts. There were 300,000 visitors at Coney Island, while 500,000 flocked to other resorts.

A score of hot deaths were reported in Michigan, three in New York and two in New Jersey. In New Jersey, a woman died at Atlantic City, and a man at Long Beach, N. J.

Band in Ontario

TORONTO, July 21.—One death and scores of prostrations from heat are reported from southwestern Ontario yesterday where temperatures ranged from 99 to 96 degrees. Windsor and London recorded the highest levels while the mercury soaring to 90 at midday in Toronto and district commenced to decline and at 2:30 p. m. was three degrees lower.

HAMILTON, July 21.—With the thermometer registering 96, two prostrations from heat were reported yesterday. Andrew Vouts fell at the corner of King and Hughson streets, overcome by the heat, and another victim, Arthur Bugby, another heat victim, was found unconscious in Dundas park.

MONTREAL, July 21.—With a maximum temperature of 92 degrees yesterday was the hottest July day experienced in Montreal since 1821. The minimum was 72.

Timber Berth Sold

Fishing Rights on Nepigauit River Awarded to Angus McLean

FREDERICTON, July 22.—A timber berth consisting of two square miles west of Covadale River, was sold to Poland Milton of Parisville, Albert County, at the crown land office, the buyer was the applicant and the price the upset price of $20 per acre.

Angling rights on the Nepigauit River on ungranted crown lands from Eleven Mile Tree to Great Falls, were sold at the crown land office today to the applicant, Angus McLean, of Bathurst, at the upset price of $200 per year.

Imperial Preference Plan is Defended

LONDON, July 22.—Third reading of the finance bill was given in the House of Commons yesterday after the House had rejected by a vote of 228 to 114 a Liberator motion which would have thrown the bill out.

British trade in recent times has been saved by the amount of British manufacturers taken by the Dominions and colonies of the Empire. Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Horne, former Conservative chancellor of the exchequer, declared in reply to the attack on imperial preference, which is provided for by the bill, by Capt. W. Wedgwood Benn, Liberal. Britain's exports to the various parts of the Empire represented 46 per cent. of her total trade.

Radio Station Sold

NEW YORK, July 22.—Station WEAP has been sold to the Radio Corporation of America by the American Telegraph and Telephone Company, actual transfer to be made by June 1, 1927. Terms and conditions of the sale have not been made public. The American T. & T. Co. has retired completely from the radio broadcasting field.

RAYMOND POINCARÉ Former Premier and at one time president of France, who again has been asked to form a ministry, following the defeat of Premier Herriot yesterday.

Canada Prosperity Seen Improving

Upward Trend in Several Instances Reported by Bureau of Statistics

OTTAWA, Ont., July 22.—Signs of Canadian business prosperity continue to appear in the reports published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Seven indicators of basic conditions in internal trade recently published by that office show a uniformly upward trend. Expressing the latest figures issued as a percentage of the corresponding figures for a year ago, the following are the results:

Employment, 104 per cent. Retail trade, 112 per cent. Bank clearing, 115 per cent. Wholesale trade, 110 per cent. Steel, 108 per cent. Pig iron, 109 per cent. Grain shipments, 108 per cent.

The figures regarding grain shipments and pig iron may be looked upon as somewhat exceptional as they represent reactions from a low record, but the other reports normal conditions.

Hong Kong Boycott Reported Ended

Report Lacks Confirmation and London Officials Inclined to Discredit it

LONDON, July 22.—According to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Hong Kong, the prolonged boycott of British shipping at Canton, which created a stir last year and ruined many merchants of Hong Kong, has ended. An agreement is said to have been reached to this effect at a conference of British officials from Hong Kong and representatives of the Canton government.

More Liquor Shops Now Than Formerly

NEW YORK, July 22.—There are more speakeasies in New York city than there were licensed saloons in the whole state before prohibition, according to an estimate to the local prohibition administrator, C. F. Mills, federal prohibition administrator, placed the number of speakeasies at 15,000.

Fear for Oysters

LONDON, July 22.—Half a million oysters have suddenly died in Japan, causing alarm among the pearl culturists. This may turn out to be another instance of the damage done when ocean currents stray from their beaten paths. The sea inhabitants have so accustomed themselves to the seasons that when the currents cease them to go awry, disaster follows.

Persecution in Mexico Is Cause of Religious Fervor

MEXICO CITY, July 22.—An opposition to the new religious regulations which becomes effective July 31 and which provides that only Mexican priests may officiate at religious services, that all church property shall be confiscated and that religious instruction may not be given in schools, already are being manifested in two vividly contrasted reactions, first, among the wealthiest people in society circles and second among the poorest of the Indian families. The Indians, alarmed over reports that all churches may be closed, are swearing in unusually large numbers into Catholic churches and having their infants baptized and their elder children confirmed. A great increase is reported in the number of adult worshippers at all masses, and also in the number of individuals seen praying in the churches.

Meanwhile, among the most prominent persons in society circles, beautiful women are declining invitations to balls or refusing to dance if they attend. They make the plea that their mother in Detroit. Mrs. Scott, formerly was Miss Catherine Rathke, of Rochester.

Record Payment of City Taxes Not Taken As A Sign of Easiness Over Situation

CITY Chamberlain Duncan C. Lingley at noon today told a Times-Star reporter that in spite of an apparent hesitancy on the part of some taxpayers to save their discount in view of the agitation to remit in instalments, he thought the total in sight at the close of his office tonight would be as great as in 1925. However, he qualified this conjecture by saying that the increase in taxes—that is, the additional 2.5 per cent. levy on the bills this year—had perhaps not been collected in the same proportion as last year's income, but generally speaking the total of cash would at least reach the 1925 figure.

THOUGH not discussing the Retail Merchants' Association's proposal to have taxes collected by instalments at any length, or upon the merits of the proposition, Chamberlain Lingley said he was not so sure that Saint John business men would submit to the Toronto plan which, after adding 5 per cent. to overdue first instalment, added an additional 6 per cent. at the end of the year, making a total of 11 per cent. on lapping bills. It was in a rush hour with the Chamberlain, and he was not pressed for a full discussion of the matter. Mr. Lingley said yesterday a crush of taxpayers was the height of the rush.

New Record Hung Up

A new record was hung up when 4,480 persons paid their taxes, handing over to the city fathers a little over $290,000. There was a long queue most of the forenoon today in the City Hall lobby, but by 12 o'clock the last of the line had been served. After that the visitors were in small groups and singly.

JUDGING from the general response to this year's discounting and the observations of civic officials and citizens, it was gleaned that taxpayers, to whom the saving of 5 per cent. would be a worth-while transaction, have not dropped behind other years because of the radically increased rate. But nobody was willing to say this year's tax burden could be construed into an evidence of an easy mind on the tax situation generally. The highest taxpayers are a unit in urging a readjustment of the assessing system, and with the clean-up of this year's bills the fight for a new deal is really only begun.

Three Injured As Airplane Crashes

Ontario Forestry Machine Drops Into Lake Ramsey With Five Aboard

SUBURBY, Ont., July 22.—One of the Ontario Government's forestry planes, in charge of Aviator Smith, crashed into the waters of Lake Ramsey, near the air base, here yesterday afternoon. There were five persons in the plane, another aviator being with Smith, and three civilians, Alex. McLeod, of Suburby; his daughter, Myrtle, and Mrs. Clements, of Chilo, who is a summer visitor at the McLeod home.

Mr. McLeod is severely injured and may not recover. Both ladies suffered severe bruises and cuts, but their condition is not dangerous. The two aviators escaped uninjured.

Hon. Robt. Rogers To Stand in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, July 22.—Hon. Robert Rogers, former member for South Winnipeg, will again contest the seat at the coming federal election. Mr. Rogers, who was the chief speaker at a meeting of the executive of the South Winnipeg Conservative Association last night, definitely announced that he would be in the field again, thus putting a quietus on rumors which had held that he would be elevated to the Senate or offered the Lieutenant Governorship of Manitoba.

Hon. E. M. MacDonald To Contest N. S. Seat

HALIFAX, July 22.—A special dispatch to the Halifax Herald this morning stated that Hon. E. M. MacDonald, former Minister of National Defence, would again contest Antigonish county in the forthcoming general election. Hon. Mr. MacDonald contested Antigonish in the last general election, after having represented Pictou County for many years.

Preparing to Greet Hon. Ernest Lapointe

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 22.—Robert Scott, 8, and Dudley, 9, whose father, Russell Scott, is awaiting execution in Chicago, for the murder of fellow Catholic, yesterday left the Hillside Home for Children here to join their mother in Detroit. Mrs. Scott, formerly was Miss Catherine Rathke, of Rochester.

North American Union Debated in London Press

Daily Mail Ridicules United States Fusion With Canada

AMUSEMENT CAUSED BY PAPER'S COMMENT

Writer in National Review Sees Amalgamation Coming in Few Years

By HERBERT BAILEY, British United Press

LONDON, July 22.—Canadians in London are enjoying hugely today a cable by A. J. Bean, financial editor of the Boston Post and the London Daily Mail, making for that paper's reaction on the question of union between Canada and the United States, which has been raised by ex-Governor Channing H. Cox, of Massachusetts, and editorially favored by the Boston Post, 'the largest morning paper in the United States.'

As a consideration of such a union on the part of the British Empire, the Boston Post suggests that the United States might be willing to forego the British war debt altogether and perhaps to cancel or cut down the European debt.

Sees Woman Sever Finger; Dies of Shock

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., July 22.—The shock of seeing another woman sever her finger while cutting meat, is believed to have caused the death of Ella Carmichael of Queen Charlotte, B. C. Mrs. Carmichael was standing near Mrs. McLean, her employer, when the latter was preparing the midday meal. In her hurry to slice some meat, Mrs. McLean cut off one of her fingers. The Canadian girl was overcome by shock and died a few minutes later.

Miss Kaiser was walking along the road near Porter's Lake when struck by Peterson's car. She suffered a fractured skull and fractured limb with other minor injuries.

Five of the six victims have now been accounted for. There remains only Henri Gaudet, chief engineer, to be found. The foundered tug was beached. C.N.R. Engineers Looking Into Fair Vale Viaduct Hazard

IT WAS learned today that the engineering department of the Canadian National Railways is actively engaged in studying methods of minimizing the hazard of accident at the subway near Fair Vale station.

In the course of a letter to the Times-Star, Mr. W. U. Appleton, general manager, Atlantic region of the C. N. R., says: "We are having the locality thoroughly examined and our Chief Engineer is studying the matter as to the feasibility of widening the bridge or straightening the road, and he hopes to be able to report fully at an early date."

All motorists will be glad to learn of this official action, and Mr. Appleton's characteristic sympathy and aid in such matters as these.

The report of the Chief Engineer of the C. N. R. will be awaited with great interest, for it will carry with authority the best suggestions for improving this dangerous spot and making it safer for motorists.

Herriot's Fall Helps to Clear Up Situation

New Leader Hailed As Likely To End Political Manoeuvring

HURRY AVOIDED

Transfer of Balance of Morgan Loan to Bank of France Passed

PARIS, July 22.—The French franc opened nearly 100 points better yesterday's closing quotation today on the prospects of a Poincare ministry, and remained firm during the morning, notwithstanding the fact that the Bank of France's statement showed that the government had borrowed 500,000,000 francs.

The selection of M. Poincare to form a government, brought an entirely new feeling among people of all walks of life, even those who regarded his choice as not the best that could be made politically, hailed it with satisfaction as a guarantee that there would be no more political manoeuvring around the financial question.

In financial circles that was regarded as the most potent factor in the market today.

Situation Cleared

The collapse of the Herriot Ministry cleared the political atmosphere. As soon as the vote was announced a delegation of deputies with an address to President Doumergue asking for the constitution of a national Veterans' Association on a similar basis to the one passed by the Chamber of Deputies for the transfer of the remainder of the treasury, gives M. Poincare time to go about his mission of forming a ministry without undue haste and with a feeling that he has the support, if not of all the politicians, at least of the bulk of the general public, just as when public opinion forced his election as president of the Republic against the wishes of the Radicals in 1913.

M. Poincare, it is understood, intends to set an example of economy and efficiency by having as few ministers as possible.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JULY 22, 1926.

YOUR TAXES AND THE OTHER FELLOWS

An impossible situation exists in Saint John today with respect to taxation. It cannot last, because it is shot through with injustice and surcharged with irritation. It is astonishing that conditions as they are today could have lasted so long without that sort of public protest which precipitates revolutionary changes.

There is published each year from the official records a list of those individuals, firms or estates paying from fifty dollars upwards into the city treasury. A study of that list by anyone whose knowledge of the circumstances and incomes of his fellow-citizens is at all extensive produces a sense of outrage, and so soon as he has gone through the first few hundred names and has instituted comparisons his examination not only indicates but proves conclusively that a very considerable portion of the taxpayers are paying not only their own taxes but a pretty slice of the taxes of others; that evasion of taxation is a popular expedient among an amazing number of our citizens; and that many in this class are those best able to pay; that the long and growing list of defaulters is by no means made up only of those whose poverty renders it impossible for them to pay their share but that it contains the names of a very great number who could pay but who prefer not to do so, even though they are fully aware, as the civic authorities are, that the resulting deficit is shouldered off upon those who take the discount annually or who struggle along honestly, or perhaps under the pressure of necessities, to pay by instalments.

Any small committee whose members have a close working knowledge of conditions in Saint John, if they examine the list referred to, would find inequalities and obvious evasions which are really startling; and not a few of them, but scores and hundreds of them, examples of a character proving beyond question that our taxation plan, whatever its merits or demerits, (and we know it needs revision from several angles) results in practice in the rank and file of injustice.

A proper analysis of the list would establish that men of moderate income in some instances are paying more taxes each year than other citizens whose income is double or triple theirs. But sworn statements are submitted, signed somebody. So they are, they are a great many men—not to say women—who regard taxation evasion, by whatever device, in much the same light that they regard smuggling, and whatever excuse they make to themselves, the facts remain. Oaths or no oaths, the evasion is there, glaring, sticking out like a sore thumb to anyone whose knowledge of business conditions in Saint John is at all extensive.

"Of all debts men are least willing to pay the taxes," said Emerson. "What a satire this on governments." As a matter of fact, by far the greater number of Saint John taxpayers would be willing, even glad, to pay their taxes if they felt certain that they were paying only their own taxes and not a portion of the other fellows, if they felt assured, beyond that, that they were getting a proper run for their money. Most of them have no such feeling, and most of them know only too well that we have in the community a considerable company of those individuals described by Sydney Smith as "men who prefer their load of infamy, however great, to any pressure of taxation, however light."

DINNER STORIES

ABE COHEN went every night to the pool room of Kelly & O'Brien to play for ten cents a point.

One evening Mrs. Cohen was awakened by a loud and persistent knocking on her front door. She stuck her head out the window and called, "Who is it?"

"Does Mrs. Cohen live here?" asked a man on the step.

"I'm Mrs. Cohen," she replied.

"Well, I'm Mr. Kelly from the pool room up the street. Your husband has been shooting tonight and lost $1,000 shooting pool? He should drop dead."

"That's what he did, madam. Good night."

"MEN are so much more reasonable than women," declared Mr. Grouch during an argument in which he was getting the worst of it.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Grouch, "I have noticed that, especially at a ball game, where a man is always so reasonable that he thinks every time the umpire makes a decision against the home team he is a thief and robber and blind as a bat."

POEMS I LOVE

"Arab Love Song," by Francis Thompson.
The rich, pontifical beauty in a sure place in English literature. His longer poems, such as "The Hound of Heaven" and "Daisy" are exquisite examples of his robust art, wherein is mingled a sublime tenderness difficult to match.

The hunched camel of the night
Trouble the bright
And silver waters of the moon.
We gaze at the moon will soon
Through Heaven stray and sing
Star gathering.

Queer Quirks of Nature

THIS PAIR IS SELDOM SEEN TOGETHER
MR. AND MRS. PROMETHEA

By AUSTIN H. CLARK
THE commonest of all our larger moths is the promethea. This is a curious moth, for the sexes differ in regular swooping and darting flight, but the male is black with a putty-colored tinge, and the female is white with a black butterfly.

The promethea is rather late in coming from its winter sleep, appearing first in late May or early June, and flying until well into July, in the north until August. A few are sometimes seen in the late summer.

The caterpillar looks much like a small ecropea caterpillar. It feeds especially on wild cherry, tulip tree, saffron and spice-bush, but also on other trees as well. It is generally to be found on the lower branches.

The cocoon is twice as long as broad, and is open within a leaf which is wrapped about it. A thick band of silk runs up the leaf stem and is securely fastened to the twig, and sometimes the twig is in the leaves way fastened to the branch.

After the falling of the leaves these cocoons are very easily seen as they dangle from the branches. They are quite common along roadsides and in the more open woods.

Of course it was unprecedented; and of course, a new precedent was in order. That new precedent was the refusal of a dissolution until parliament's discipline is governmental discipline, and there can be no discipline in government unless it is united. To set on foot a table of the delegates of all the groups, whether under the name of the national union or under the name of concentration, and to suppose that salvation will come from such a gathering would be without doubt the most fatal of errors. For such a proceeding would be to transport into the heart of the executive all the causes and all the conflicts of weakness with which the legislature itself is reproached.

EMPIRE AND THE AIR
(London Times).
If, as no one who remembers what they did for the Mother Country and the other dominions join with Australia in giving their approval and willing co-operation to the scheme, there will be set up in each country a central air station, from which branch lines will radiate to form a local series of internal communications, all connected with each other and with the great common system joining the Empire from end to end. That is the ideal set before us and there, in which all may take a part. It is something that will make cheaper the field of imperial trade, and will make firmer the tie of imperial intercourse.

PRECEDENT UPON PRECEDENT
(Winnipeg Tribune).
Constitutional precedents will be searched in vain for a case on all-fours with that which was submitted to Lord Byng by Mr. King. When it will be asked, has a prime minister appealed to the King or his representative for dissolution, when that minister's government was on trial for its very life? When the evidence of guilt was all in? When the parliamentary jury was about to be polled? Where indeed, some of the jurymen, hitherto friendly to the government, had cried "guilty" in advance of the formal verdict? At this point Mr. King rushed to his feet and exclaimed: "I have a new jury; let me get away from parliament." (Yet parliament is Mr. King's fetter of last resort in all matters of government.) How vain now be the debater.

UNITY IN GOVERNMENT

The first condition of parliamentary discipline is governmental discipline, and there can be no discipline in government unless it is united. Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent. in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home
PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it is too late. Many hopelessly blind, could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me. A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read the print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: "Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bath the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to quiet them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time."
NOTE: Another prominent physician told me: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by all good druggists.

DAY OF FAMILY AIR FLIVVER BELIEVED NOW TO BE IN SIGHT

FLYING AUTO VISITED BY AERO EXPERTS

Tests Made of Auto-Gyro Prove Very Successful

MANY PROBLEMS

Spanish Inventor Optimistic Over Machines Now Under Construction

By KEITH JONES

LONDON, July 22.—British aeronautical experts who have witnessed the performance of the new auto-gyro or "windmill" airplane designed by Senor de la Cierva, the Spanish inventor, are looking forward to the approaching day of the flying automobile.

From the point of view of the development of a flying automobile in the near future, much depends upon experiments which will be conducted at Southampton in August with a 25-horsepower auto-gyro now in course of construction.

LONG STRIDES MADE. "If it is as successful as we expect it to be," said Cierva in an interview with the United Press, "long strides will have been taken in the direction of the development of a flying automobile, for the difficult problem of a safe and practically vertical landing from a height will have been solved. There yet remains, however, the problem of vertical ascent."

This admittedly presents a number of problems that we have not yet solved, but theoretically, at any rate, if the same power which now causes the machine to rise by dragging it through the air with the same sort of overhead vanes of the auto-gyro, the whole machine will rise vertically. This transference of the power from the propeller to the vanes constitutes the most stage of experimentation with the auto-gyro and if we succeed the day of the flying automobile will definitely have arrived."

COST $2,000. Such a machine, said Cierva—that is, one of 25 to 50 horsepower carrying one or two persons—if turned out on a mass production basis could be sold in the neighborhood of $2,000.

Meanwhile the British Air Ministry is awaiting with interest the result of tests of the two other machines which are now being built to its orders and which will also be ready in August or early September. Both of these have been designated to carry service aircraft radial engines of approximately 200 horsepower. By the specification of a standard service engine officials of the Air Ministry expect to be able to obtain valuable data as to the performance of the auto-gyro as compared with service airplanes of the standard variety equipped with the same sort of power plants.

Should Children Urge Their Parents to Stop Work While They are Still Energetic?—The Modern Daughter No Longer the Family Sacrifice—The Psychology of a Real Boy and His Mother.

DEAR MISS DIX—We are two young women who have been working for the last six years. Our mother keeps a boarding house, but we are tired of it and want her to give it up and just do housekeeping for us. But she is independent and refuses. Besides she gets a great deal of pleasure out of her work. What do you advise?
RUBY AND PEARL.

ANSWER:
I think your mother is exactly right to keep on with her own business and make her own living and maintain her own independence.

For too many parents give up work ten or fifteen years too soon and settle down on their children to be supported. Along in the fifties we all have a slump when we feel old and tired, and as if we were done with life and just wanted to give up everything and fold our hands and sit in the corner and let somebody else take care of us until we died.

But if we have the courage to resist this kind of force ourselves on a bit, we get what William James used to call "our second wind." Then we are not only good for many more years of useful labor but often do the best work of our whole lives.

To children their parents always seem much older and more feeble than they really are. They are actuated by the noblest of motives when they beg their middle-aged fathers to give up their businesses or their jobs, and urge their mothers to break up their homes and come and live with them and be supported, but it is nearly always a mistake.

The old people miss their occupation; they miss having something to do in which they are interested and which will absorb their time and energies. They miss their independence and so they become peevish, fretful, interesting old people who ruin so many homes.

That is the gist of the whole in-law trouble. It's the old people who have nothing to do but find fault and nag who run their sons and daughters and daughters-in-laws crazy.

It is a dutiful gesture for a son or daughter to say, "Mother and Father, come and live with me. Fold your hands in idleness and let me take care of you." But the wise thing, and the thing that would make the old people happiest, would be for their children to urge mother and father to stay in their own homes and keep busy.

Work is just as necessary for the old as it is for the young, and it is better for the old to work too late than not to work at all.

So don't urge mother to give up her boarding house. Encourage her to go on with it. It will make for her happiness and for yours.
DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—My sister and I never agree. I am very modern in all my ways. She is not. My sister has been away from home for a year in a big city, where she works and makes a fine salary. We have a good home and a wonderful father. Don't you think that it is my sister's duty to stay at home with her father? We do not have our father in our homes too long. My sister is a good girl and is devoted to my father, and I think it is her place to be at home. What do you think?
L. C. J. B.

ANSWER:
I don't think you are as modern as you consider yourself to be. Your point of view about a woman's place being in the home, whether she is needed there or not, and it being a daughter's duty to cheer her parents, even if they require no cheering, is the old-fashioned sentimental Victorian one that sounds like something out of a half trunk in the attic.

I can see no reason for your sister, or any other girl, remaining at home if she can better her condition and make more money in a city, or if she finds city life more entertaining and interesting to her. Of course, I am assuming that she is living a decent, honorable, respectable life, but that does not depend upon environment. It's a matter of character, and a girl who goes crooked in a city would not run straight in a village.

It is every daughter's duty to do her part in helping to take care of her parents when they are old and sick, but it is not part of her duty to sacrifice her life just to be companions to them. And unless her father and mother are monstrously selfish, they do not ask this of her.

In olden times when we held to the theory that every woman was a proclaimed sacrifice to her family we thought it proper for a boy to go forth into the world and seek his fortune, but that a girl should sit at home and hold mother's and father's hands, even though she had to sacrifice her chances of getting married or her opportunities to make a career for herself in the outside world.

Nowadays we see things more fairly and recognize that there is no more reason why daughter should be the family goat than there is why son should be. So the girl faces forth and makes the money which enables her to pay off the mortgage and keep the old people comfortable and well-fed, which she could not have done if she had stayed at home.

The net result is that the old people are better off in the long run, and she has a happy, full life instead of withering up into a sour, disappointed, balked old maid.
DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have one child, a boy of 5, very high strung and "difficult." When we are alone he is extremely affectionate and tells me how much he loves me, but when others are present he is entirely different, resents my showing any sign of authority and gives the impression that he has no affection for me. This nearly breaks my heart. Can you offer any suggestion which might help me?
ANXIOUS MOTHER.

ANSWER:
Good gracious, woman, don't you know anything in the world about boy psychology?

Every boy, who is a real boy and not a little sissy, feels and acts exactly as your son does. There isn't a real boy in the world who doesn't resent being babied and kissed and pawed before people, and if you want to make your son actually love you call him "dearie" or "sweetheart" or "little lover" as I have heard silly mothers do, and hold his hand in public.

There is no other creature so shy and sensitive as a boy. There is no other human being that has to be handled with such tact and diplomacy. He is hungry for love. He yearns for caresses. He is utterly responsive to affection, but you must choose wisely the time and place for your endearments.

It shames a boy for his mother to kiss him publicly and call him baby names and order him around before his fellows, but the kiss she gives him in the dark at bedtime, the admonition she bestows when they talk things over privately together, shapes his character and are memories that he treasures in his heart as long as he lives.

FORTUNES await those who think up any new wrinkle for "fat reduction."

With the coming of summer there appeared a half dozen stands at which a pineapple concoction was served. Herebefore most of the sidewalk drinking business had been cornered by the originator of an orange juice beverage.

But the wise backers of the pineapple punch recalled that this tropical fruit was much recommended in anti-fat diets, from they were exploiting its value as a "reducer" and now stands blossom at every corner.

While on the subject of liquor—a driving bootlegger tells me that Scotch, gin and the rest could be sold for much less than at present if the public didn't insist on having "phony" labels on the bottles.

"The making of the Gordon gin labels alone costs me $56 for every 2,000," he wailed. "And then we have to have those metal caps and the other trimmings, and say say ought to know it isn't the real thing. It just costs them that much more to have the bottle all dressed up."

Why that Better Taste?

Who doesn't like the taste of luscious, full-ripe tomatoes picked at their best—the natural flavor—undiluted, unchanged?

You can readily taste the difference between ordinary ketchup and ketchup made the Heinz way—fine, fresh tomatoes just off the vines, seasoned to perfection by skilful chefs, and then boiled down so that you get only the full essence of the tomato.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

UNIVERSAL'S option on the services of Marion Nixon, who is playing opposite Edward Everett Horton in "Taxi Taxi" has been taken up and her contract renewed.

Jack Pickford has been selected to play the role of Clyde Griffiths in Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy." Both Glenn Hunter and Charles Emmett Mack had been mentioned for the part. Many believe the tale will never reach the production stage because of difficulties in transferring it to the screen. It is impossible that it would not bring in large returns from the box office since the story is depressing and especially tragic in the last part.

ROGERS RETURNS TO MOVIES
With Rogers, cowboy film actor, and more recently picture entertainer extraordinary, is returning to the screen, and in a foreign-made picture at that, Rogers, now abroad, has signed a contract in London to play a comedy lead in support of Dorothy Gish in "Tip-Top," her next starring vehicle for British National Pictures.

VISUALS SHAKESPEARE OF FILMS
That the screen is ready for its Shakespeare is the view of Jess L. Lasky, vice president of Famous Players. "A man will come who will tower above past writers and contemporaries in the construction of original screen stories," says he. "He will bring to the screen something new, some great thought, some finely wrought form of construction and story telling. He will open our eyes to new possibilities, to new dreams of the screen as a medium of art, and when he passes he will leave a creative monument behind him which many generations will gaze upon. There is a tremendous need."

And while we wish to give all due credit to the fine pictures we have witnessed in our long and we sometimes fear unworthy career of picture seeing, we voice a heartfelt "Amen" to Mr. Lasky's last statement.

Her climb during the past year has been steady and Universal is planning to star her in the near future. Some of her most recent pictures have been "What Happened to Jones," "Sporting Life," "Spangles," "Where Was I?" "I'll Show You The Town," and others.

CANOE UPSETS; ELEVEN TORONTO CAMPERS DROWN

Four of Party Survive Tragically on Balsam Lake, Near Lindsay

LINDSAY, Ont., July 21.—Eleven young men and boys, ranging in age from 16 to 22 years, drowned in the waters of Balsam Lake, 85 miles northeast of Toronto, on Tuesday night, when the war canoe in which they had set out to replenish the supplies of their summer camp, capsized, it was revealed here late this afternoon.

Four members of the party reached land after clinging to the upturned craft for more than five hours.

A list of the drowned follows: Wigginton, Oliver Morton, Gordon Heale, Joseph Edwards, W. Clarke, W. Burton, F. Burdett, H. Bigwell and Ray Shea, all of Toronto; Ray Allen, Peterboro, and H. Mills, Galt.

SURVIVORS TELL STORY
The survivors, exhausted from their battle against a watery grave, told a story of seeing their companions lose their grip on the boat and disappear under the choppy surface of the lake.

The boat pushed off from the camp conducted by the Brotherhood of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto. It is said a stiff breeze blowing across the water made it choppy and certain camp members advised against the expedition setting out. All the members of the party were fair swimmers and experienced canoeists, however, and they paddled off for Cobocook, at the head of the lake, to obtain food supplies.

CANOE RUNS INTO SQUALL
Just as the canoe was entering the channel of Carnegie Point on the Gull River, the survivors say, it ran into a squall. A heavy wave suddenly caught and turned it over with its human cargo. All of the party succeeded in swimming to the upturned craft and grasping its edges, but it is said that instead of drifting with the wind they fought to propel the canoe.

Exhausted by their efforts, they sank one by one.

PREMIER HOOTED AFTER DEFEAT ON FINANCES

Crowds Gather Before Chamber and Outbreak Feared for Time

DISPERSES HOWEVER AS VOTE ANNOUNCED

Downfall Comes on Question of Policy; Margin Against Cabinet 53

PARIS, July 22.—Edouard Herriot's cabinet fell last evening by an adverse vote of the chamber, 290 to 237. It was formed only two days ago to succeed the tenth ministry of Aristide Briand and to rehabilitate the financial position of France.

The Herriot ministry lasted just a few hours longer than the Francois-Marsal ministry which, in 1924, was formed to present the case of the president of the Republic, Alexandre

N. R. DESBRISAY ADVANCES C. P. R. SERVICE

Former Saint John Man General Passenger Agent in Vancouver

It was announced yesterday by the Canadian Pacific Railway executive, that N. R. Desbrisay, assistant general passenger agent at Winnipeg, had been promoted to the position of general passenger agent at Vancouver. The appointment will become effective on Aug. 1.

Mr. Desbrisay entered the service of the Canadian Pacific system at the Saint John office of the company as stenographer in 1904 and had been stationed also at Halifax, Quebec and Montreal until his transfer to Winnipeg as assistant general passenger agent in 1922. Here he was district passenger agent.

While the Premier was pleading his case before the chamber, crowds gathered in front of the Palace Bourbon. They grew to serious proportions and before the vote was announced at least 5,000 persons had massed in front of the chamber along the Quai d'Orsay, in the Rue Bourgoigne and the Boulevard Sainte Germaine. They hooted Herriot and there was an occasional cry "On to Elysee."

CROWD CAUSES ANXIETY

It was a well-dressed orderly crowd which obeyed the police, when its presence caused considerable anxiety inside the chamber building. It began to disperse when news came that the government had been overthrown, but many remained and police reserves were summoned, in the fear that some of the deputies might meet with hostile treatment on leaving the chamber.

The Herriot ministry was defeated on the question of declaration of its policy. This dealt entirely with the salvation of the franc and the general financial situation. Immediately after the vote M. Herriot went to Elysee Palace and presented the resignation of his ministry to President Doumergue.

Is Promoted

N. R. DESBRISAY, Former C. P. R. Passenger Agent here, to be in charge of Vancouver Department.

Other Canadian Pacific changes announced yesterday including the following: W. H. Snell, general passenger agent, Vancouver, retired.

W. Horder, Assistant district passenger agent, Toronto, to be assistant general passenger agent, Winnipeg.

H. W. Schofield, chief clerk, B. C. Coast Steamships, Vancouver, to be district passenger agent, B. C. Coast Steamships, Vancouver.

JONES PREDICTS CONSERVATIVE MARITIME GAINS

Labor Minister Looks for Good Showing for Party in Quebec

BATHURST, N. B., July 21.—Hon. G. B. Jones, Minister of Labor in the Dominion Cabinet, paid a visit to Bathurst yesterday, arriving early in the morning. He interviewed Bathurst friends and then proceeded to Restigouche where he went over the situation there with Arthur Calligan, M.P. for Restigouche-Madawaska before dissolution, returning to Bathurst for a meeting in the evening when the county executive were in attendance and the minister spoke at some length, reviewing the events that led up to the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen being called upon to form a government and what happened after.

Hon. Mr. Jones said he looked for a solid Conservative New Brunswick, gains in the Maritimes generally, and a good showing in Quebec.

MEIGHEN'S VISIT

The speaker referred to the fact that the premier would be in Bathurst for an evening meeting on July 30 and would likely be accompanied by C. H. Cahon, of Montreal, A. J. Doucet, of Kent, and himself. J. L. Ryan, president of the Gloucester county executive, expressed pleasure at the visit of Hon. Mr. Jones. Mr. Jones on his elevation to the federal cabinet position, stating that the long experience of the new minister not only in public life but in business as well, fitted him splendidly for the high office that he was now called upon to fill. Mr. McLean felt that the importance of the North Shore in the life of the province was becoming more fully realized and while the lumber business was not by any means satisfactory, the saw mill was graduating into the pulp and paper industry, which, he considered, was an improvement as the saw mill only furnished work at most for six months in the year, while the pulp and paper plant operated the year round, thus furnishing steady employment without the men being absent for long periods from their homes. The speaker expressed pleasure at the approaching visit of the Premier of the Dominion and appealed to those present to get solidly back of the candidate when selected and to accept the choice of the convention. It was decided to hold the convention at Bathurst on the afternoon of July 30. The candidate selected would be present at the Premier's meeting in the evening. A committee was appointed to organize. It was decided to recommend a French-speaking organization.

Others who made short addresses were Arthur E. Fremette, Dr. R. G. Duncan, Mr. Ryan, Martin I. Robichaud, A. V. Landry, Jerry Muzerall, W. I. Kent and Mr. Holyoke stressed the importance of organization. Sydney Desbrisay acted as chairman and Jos. W. Dumas, Warden of the county, was secretary.

He served four years as pastor in West Saint John and became greatly beloved by the people of his congregation as well as being exceptionally well liked by the citizens in general.

He had a wide reputation as an able speaker, and during his four years of work in the West Side church showed many signs of improvement in various departments.

Mr. Westmorland has been ill since last October. He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Amy Carver, of Charlottetown, one son, Lloyd, and two sisters, the Misses Westmorland.

Perfect Jams and Jellies every time the Certo way

SKILL won't do it—even the most experienced housewife knows those discouraging times when jam and jelly just will not set.

But Certo will do it every time. When you add Certo any fruit is bound to jelly. You cannot have a failure.

Certo is the very element in fruit that makes it jelly. This jelly-making element is lacking in some fruits; in all fruits it grows less as they ripen.

But with Certo you can make your jams and jellies from these choicest ripe fruits. For Certo itself supplies the jelling element. And you make half again as many glasses from the same amount of fruit. For you only need to boil one minute when you use Certo. It saves all the rich fruit juice and the lovely color and flavor that used to be wasted in steam. Order Certo to-day from your grocer.

COUNCIL SEEKS TO CHECK BILLS OF NEW SCHOOL

Commissioners Discuss Deferring Full Equipping of Vocational Building

USE PART AS HIGH SCHOOL ONE IDEA

Conference Will be Asked for - Talk of Legislation if Agreement Not Reached

The vocational school and its effect on the tax rate were discussed by the members of the city council this morning and it was decided to invite the members of the vocational committee to meet the council and talk over the possibility of not fully equipping the building at present. It was felt that if this were done the expense of operation could be kept down and perhaps part of the building might be used to take care of the overcrowding in the high school.

SPEAKS OF LEGISLATION

The Mayor intimated that if the vocational committee were inclined to stand on their strictly legal rights, as outlined in the School Act, and proceed with the full equipping of the school, in opposition to the wishes of the council, it might be possible that some alteration might be secured in the act to give the council, which was responsible to the people for the assessment, more control over the expenditure.

Commissioner Frink was inclined to doubt the wisdom of any further conference on the matter after the stand taken by the school board last spring, when they served notice on the council that they were the supreme authority in the matter.

STARTS DISCUSSION

The discussion arose over a request from the school board that $1,476 be placed to their credit for publication by the vocational committee in July. It was moved by Commissioner Wigmore that the request be complied with on the comptroller being satisfied.

Commissioner Bullock said it was all very well to pass this motion but would like to have some information from the vocational committee as to whether it was their intention to equip and man the school fully without consulting the council, which had to assess for the money for maintenance. He felt there should be a conference between the vocational committee and the council to discuss the whole matter and see if a halt could not be called. It was true the building would have to be paid for but he did not see the necessity of fully equipping it at present and he thought the committee should be guided by the wishes of the council in this respect.

RELIEVE CONGESTION

Commissioner Wigmore said he had been opposed to the building of the school and felt that the suggestion of Commissioner Bullock was worthy of support. He had been told that the vocational committee was operating a cafeteria and furnishing the pupils with free meals. He thought that now as the building was there it might be used, in part, to relieve the congestion at the high school and this might be arranged if a conference was held.

He did not think the people yet realized just what a burden the school would be and that they would have to be assessed about $80,000 a year, $70,000, which it was estimated the school would cost when fully equipped and all departments were operating.

Commissioner Harding seconded the motion to place the amount asked for the school board to their credit. He said that so far as he could see all there was for the council to do was to watch and see that the amount for maintenance did not exceed $80,000 a year.

Commissioner Frink said he did not see what watching there was to be done. The members of the School Board had told the members of the council very plainly, at a meeting last spring, that the board was the supreme authority and they intended to "carry on" and all the council could do was to assess for the amount they required.

BUILDING TOO LARGE

The Mayor said that while he realized that there was a way in which public monies could be spent to better advantage than in education, there was such a thing as moderation in education, and when the city spent as much on education as on all the other services combined, he felt it had spent enough. The present building was too big for Saint John. If it had been built in Toronto or Montreal he had no doubt it would serve a useful purpose.

He hoped that some time those who would be trained in the school might be able to find work here, but at present they would have to go to the New England States or other parts of Canada to use the education given them here. He felt that under present conditions, the remark he had overheard "that the New England States should pay a subsidy to the school" was justified.

IDEA SUPPORTED

With the tax rate where it was at present he felt there should not be any further addition on account of the vocational school, and felt the suggestion of Commissioner Wigmore that part of the building be used as an overflow for the high school was a good one and one he had in mind for some time. He would like to have a conference with the vocational committee and see if they would not be willing to "out-garment" according to the cloth and if they proved obstinate and would not meet the wishes of the council then he thought some way might be found to amend the legislation under which they claimed to be absolute.

The motion to place the sum asked for to the credit of the board passed, and it was understood the Mayor would try to arrange for a conference with the vocational committee and a renewal lease of parts of lots 728.

SEE THE FALLS

At high tide the water of the Bay Fundy reaches a higher level than the water of the Saint John River and forces its way through the gorge of the Falls, creating a river running up river.

At low tide the water in the Bay becomes so much lower than that of the river, that the fall of water is reversed and flows down river into the Bay.

At half tide, when the level in the Bay is about even with the level of the river, the water of the Falls disappears entirely, and the water at the Falls becomes smooth as the surface of a lake.

To fully appreciate this wonder of the world it should be seen at all times.
