Mr. Girouard was appointed to the supreme court bench immediately after the resignation of Mr. Justice Fournier, the promptness in this case being in strange contrast with the delay in selecting new chief justices for Quebec and New Brunswick.

SCHOOLS AND RELIGION.

Joseph Martin, M. P., has written to the Globe a letter commenting on Rev. Dr. Grant's exposition of the Manitoba school question, in which he convicts Dr. Grant of several inaccuracies. With these it might not be profitable to deal at length, though manifestly they detract from whatever value is to be found in the Rev. Principal's letters.

It is very instructive to compare with this passage the reply of Archbishop Croke of Ireland to Mr. Stead, in the course of an interview relating to Australia and New Zealand. Mr. Stead asked: "What about the school question?" and the prelate's reply was: "I think that the New Zealand system is the best in the world. The state provides an education solely secular, and ministers of all denominations are authorized to impart religious instructions to their pupils one day in the week.

This answer, coming from a high dignitary of the Catholic church, will doubtless be a little startling, if not instructive, to many people who prate about "godless" schools—and these people are by no means confined to one church or one denomination.

A VARIETY OF TREATMENT.

Mr. Girouard was appointed to the supreme court bench immediately after the resignation of Mr. Justice Fournier, the promptness in this case being in strange contrast with the delay in selecting new chief justices for Quebec and New Brunswick.

THE EXPENSE SIDE.

Much has been said of the big crop of wheat garnered this season by the farmers of Manitoba and the Northwest, but the expense side of the account has not received any large amount of consideration.

All these items are for the harvest alone, and do not take into account cost of seed, tillage of the soil and all the various expenses the year around which go to produce the harvest, and which only culminate with the marketing of the crop.

All of which goes to show that the life of the Manitoba farmer is far from being entirely rosy, even when his crop is a good one.

A large percentage of the agricultural implements bought were of American manufacture, and these were taxed 20 per cent, while those bought in Eastern Canada a manufacturer's margin of nearly equal amount must be allowed for. At the same time the N. P. pays nothing in the Manitoba farmer's pocket; his wheat is away down in price and the tariff does nothing to lift it up.

THE FRENCH FARMER.

Some Canadian protectionist papers urge that Great Britain should put protective duties on agricultural products for the purpose of helping the British farmer in his distress.

When we think that all this vast expenditure, a few of the items of which we have enumerated above, is made by the handful of farmers of Manitoba, numbering, all told, less than 25,000, the thing seems amazing.

The report which misrepresented Mr. Laurier as thinking God that there were no Orangemen among the Liberals has been traced back to La Patrie, a Montreal Rouge paper.

A number of Winnipeg citizens have petitioned against the proposed change of collectors of customs in that city, whereby Col. Scott is to be superannuated and A. W. Ross, M. P., is to get an office.

Speaking of outsiders receiving provincial governorships the Winnipeg Free Press justly observes: "If the rule of exchange were adopted we would at least be on equal footing with the others. We do not claim that we have men distinguished enough in abilities and long public service to add lustre to the office in Ontario and Quebec, for instance; but if that were the rule we should have to take our chance, and in any case we could not complain. As it is now, we do complain, for neither the prize in another province nor in our own is open to us. We are made to feel that we were an inferior people, and in disgrace at that."

IN LAVA LANDS.

Notes of the Excursion to Hawaii, by Miss Cameron.

Returning to the hotel we found that a small parcel had been left for us. Opening it, we discovered a fine papaya fruit and the card of Editor Logan. His papaya tree grows to the height of twenty or thirty feet, its soft indented stem culminates in a bunch of huge leaves on long stalks and considerably below these is the fruit in various stages of growth. A ripe papaya fruit looks very much like a bright yellow cantaloupe, and tastes, well—candidly we can't praise it, we didn't become educated to the pitch of enjoying either papayas, guavas or mangoes. Nor did we cultivate a taste for poi. Poi, the national dish, is prepared from the root of the taro plant (arum esculentum). The taro is grown in lots or patches, in hills like potatoes, but in water, and requires a whole year to mature; it is a very handsome tropical plant with large leaves, like a calla lily, of bright tender green. The taro is, with the Hawaiian, an object of tender solicitude from the hour it is planted until it graces the family board. The root is ovate, like an irregular beet, and after being dug is baked in an underground oven and then with a stone hammer pounded into a moist paste. This sticky mass is thinned out with water and put away in a calabash to ferment. The taro is a prolific plant, an acre will provide sufficient food for an ordinary family, with proper care. But a grander sight than papaya trees or taro patches is ours to-day. A friend drove us to see the night-blooming cereus.

SINGLE TAX CLUB.

Reorganized at a Public Meeting Last Evening. There was a good attendance in the Temperance hall, Pandora street, last evening when the local leaders of the single tax movement met for reorganization. Alderman Macmillan presided and opened the meeting with a short speech, briefly outlining the objects of the movement. The enrolling officers were proceeded with and a goodly number handed in their names and subscriptions, forming a far stronger and more representative body than has ever previously been enrolled. The election of officers then took place, and resulted in the following: President, Ernest Hall; Vice-president, William Bertrage; Secretary, James Mallett; Treasurer, Mr. Edwards; Executive committee was also chosen, consisting of Alderman Macmillan and Messrs. Harrison, B. H. West, Strutz, and Tolman. It was arranged that the public meetings of the club should be held on every Wednesday night, in the Temperance hall, commencing on Wednesday, October 10th. This ended the preliminary business proceedings, and the new president, Mr. Ernest Hall, took the chair and addressed the meeting, maintaining that the movement was in no way political, but had for its object the social and religious welfare of mankind. Further addresses were also given by Mr. Ralph W. Trotter, Alderman Macmillan, Mr. Cameron, and Messrs. William Bertrage, B. H. West, and Edwards. Much enthusiasm prevailed throughout, and never before in the city has anything like the interest been manifested in the movement. A general feeling is gaining ground that there is a great deal more in single tax than the name seems to imply.

London, Oct. 5.—The British minister at Peking, Mr. N. R. O'Connor, has been instructed to ascertain whether the degradation of the viceroys of China was decided upon prior to the acceptance by China of the ultimatum of Great Britain, as stated by Sir Halliday Macartney, the British ambassador in Peking. A royal proclamation was gazetted yesterday further proroguing parliament to December 23rd. A dispatch to Lloyd's of the Lizard says that a large Austrian steamer, as well as a British ship, the Mount Carmel, from Sydney or London, were west of that point this evening showing signals of distress. Tugs and life boats were sent to their assistance. The Norwegian bark Haabet, in addition was ordered ashore on the Croysde Sands, and breaking up. Her crew were rescued by the use of the rocket apparatus. A telegram to Lloyd's of the Scilly Isles this evening announces that a Wilton liner was passing there towing the latter part of October. The architect had lost her propeller. A Harrison liner was sighted northwest of the Scilly Isles with her rudder lost, and a Wilton liner was standing by her. Glasgow, Oct. 5.—The Spanish government has taken steps to insure the safety of the gunboats being built for Spain on the Clyde, and which it was reported the insurgents of Cuba intended to prevent reaching Cuba.

FROM THE NORTH

Arrival of the Danube With a Big Cargo of Salmon. Steamer Danube returned last night from the north, bringing a large cargo consisting of 19,000 lbs. of salmon, 5904 cases of empty tins and 64 drums and barrels of oil from the Skidgate works. The salmon cargo was made up as follows: 3,728 cases from the Balfour Packing Co.; 4000 from the Inverness; 3,298 from the Victoria Packing Co.; 6000 from the Inverness; 568 from the Albert Bay Canning Co.; 100 from the Good Hope Canning Co.; and 532 by the North Pacific Packing Co. It was reported among the Indians at Fort Simpson, that a small schooner had been wrecked off Cape Fox. Her name was not known. Walker, and Mr. Bowker, who have been exploring Graham Island; Mr. Mitchell, who has been looking for the Lacey ledge, without success; W. A. Robertson, who has been prospecting and looking after his lands on Queen Charlotte Islands, and James King, the timber cruiser, who has located timber limits and agricultural lands on Graham Island. Explorer Pondrier, who was locating land on Queen Charlotte Islands for a private syndicate, is now at Poacher Island, doing similar work. Constable Schorschmidt came down with Steve Munson, the well known miner, who has been acting queerly of late. He made several attempts to kill his wife and it was thought advisable to send him to Victoria for treatment. The other passengers were: P. Brynildson, the storekeeper at Bell's Cove, who is down for supplies at Mossy Bay; Arthur Robinson, Butterman and Cunningham, the cannery.

DECLINED A PERRAGE.

Sir Edward Malet Considered his Wife's Feelings. The Westminster Gazette hears that Sir Edward Malet (the retiring ambassador at Berlin) has informed Lord Salisbury that he does not intend to accept the perrage which has been informally offered him. Sir Edward declines the distinction because Lady Brynildson, Malet would lose rank by his elevation, for she now takes precedence of countesses as the daughter of a duke married to a commoner. It is well known that Lady Brynildson is a very angry with the late Lord Derby for giving her husband a perrage that the first time she met the Tory minister afterwards she informed him that he had deliberately dishonored her, for now, being regarded officially as a baronet's wife, and not as a duke's daughter, she had to yield precedence to all the rag, tag and bobtail of the peerage. To prevent the happening of the same thing in the case of the other nobles, the abolition of the hat follows, which cause baldness. Use Hall's Hair Renewer.
