General De Wet Wounded and Narrowly Escaped Capture.

Transport With Canadians on Board Sailed for England from Cape Town Yesterday.

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 7.—The British transport Hawarden Castle, having on board the Royal Canadian Regiment, sailed from here today.

PRETORIA (undated).—By rail to Charleston (Charleston, Natal?), Wednesday, Nov. 7.—General De Wet has been wounded in the leg in a fight with the troops of Gen. Knox at Rensburg drift. According to native reports, the Boer commander narrowly escaped capture.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—The militia department was advised by cable today that the following men had sailed for Halifax by the steamer Carthagenian, which is due on Saturday:

176, Alfred Aspinall, N. W. M. P.; A. J. Mellish, 2nd; Young, Q. O. R.; J. A. Eirney, N. W. M. P., P. L. D. G.; R. T. Byers, 2nd Victoria Rifles; F. Bettie, 2nd; W. J. Raymond, 2nd C. A.; T. C. MacBeath, 4th C. A.; J. N. Fawcett, 12th York Rangers; G. A. Rose, N. W. M. P.; H. Edwards, Winnipeg; W. J. Hymans, 6th F. R.; F. H. Hubber, N. W. M. P.; J. M. Lobban, Montreal; J. H. Eddy, Macleod; B. Ramsay, R. C. D.; S. J. Smith, 3rd; 222, Ryan; C. McNeill; 217, Fraser; G. Vanorman, 4th C. A.; 238, D. McDougal, N. W. M. P.; J. D. Matoney, Edmonton.

PRETORIA, Nov. 7.—Surrendered Burgheers assert that Mr. Steyn, after a council of war with Gen. Botha and Gen. Delarey, addressed the Burgheers with great passion, urging them to continue the war. He told them he was going south and hoped to return with 5,000 men, assuring them that he knew that Germany had delivered an ultimatum to Great Britain demanding the retrocession of the republic.

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—Charles D. Cory of this city, but formerly a resident of Halifax, has received a cable from the war office advising him that his son, Captain George Cory, of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers, is in the hospital at Pinetown, Zululand, dangerously ill with enteric fever.

ALVORD ARRANGED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Cornelius L. Alvord, Jr., the former not teler of the First National Bank, who is accused of embezzling $250,000 of the bank's funds, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Shields in the criminal branch of the U. S. circuit court today. He was represented by Jacob F. Miller, Esq. of the New York bar, assistant cashier of the First National Bank. Mr. Alvord said that he had known Alvord 20 years, the manager of the bank, who had explained in detail the duties of the not teler.

"You know that Alvord's accounts were made up from statements handed him by other persons in the bank," said Mr. Miller.

"Yes, sir, partly," answered Mr. Alvord. "I was supposed to take those statements of other employees as correct?"

"Yes," Mr. Miller then led Mr. Alvord to admit that since the latter first became an officer of the bank two years ago, he had never known officers of the bank examine the assets of the institution.

Morton J. Moore, settling clerk for the bank, identified a column of figures on a sheet that was prepared for and sent to the clearing house as having been made by him.

Mr. Moore testified that two figures in the sheet made up for October 15 had been changed.

Adjournment was taken to 2 p. m. tomorrow.

TRANS-ATLANTIC COMBINE.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 8.—Rumors were current today concerning a combination of trans-Atlantic companies which will involve several companies and many millions of dollars.

It was said that the Atlantic Transport Co., which operates lines of steamships between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and London, was a part of the combination. Persons interested in the company are reticent, but it was learned from an apparently reliable source that negotiations are going on in New York and that a representative of the Atlantic Transport Co. is in that city looking after its interests.

Color is given to the rumor by the strength of Atlantic Transport Co. stock on the exchange today, and the fact that the company is on the board and on the curb, but the only sale recorded in the early dealings was ten shares at 150, an advance of 15 points compared with the last preceding sale.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Issues a Statement Regarding the Presidential Election.

Surprised at the Magnitude of the Republican Majority—Is Not in the Least Discouraged.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 8.—Wm. J. Bryan tonight gave out the following statement concerning the elections:

"The result was a surprise to me and the magnitude of the republican victory was a surprise to our opponents as well as to those who voted our ticket. It is impossible to analyze the returns until they are more complete, but speaking generally, we seem to have gained in the presidential and to have lost in the smaller cities of the country. The republicans were completely victorious in all the large cities, and were away from home and the people, and we have nothing to regret. It is impossible to know at this time what the result was spent in the purchase of votes and in the organization, but while these would account for some of the republican gains, they could not account for the widespread increase in the republican vote. The present result was probably the most potent one used by the republicans. They compared the present conditions with the conditions of '92 to '96, and this argument had weight with those who did not stop to consider the reasons for the change. The argument was that the republicans had not realized that a war against a doctrine of self-government in the Philippines must be waged. The prospect of a platform and having done our duty as we saw it, we are defeated, but not discouraged. The fight must go on. I am sure that the public policy will be repudiated by the people when the tendency of these policies are fully understood. The contest between plutocracy and democracy cannot and will not be decided by the present result. One of the other is completely triumphant. Contrasting himself, Mr. Bryan said: 'I have come to the conclusion that I have perfect health and a clear conscience. I did my best to bring success to the principles for which I stood. Mr. Stevenson did all that he could; Senator Jones and the members of the democratic party cannot and will not be defeated. The republican and anti-imperialist committee did all they could. Mr. Hearst and his associates have done their best. Our campaign speeches and our local organization did not have any fault to find and no reproaches. I shall continue to take an active interest in politics as long as I live. I believe to be the duty of citizens to do so, and in addition to my interest in the future of the country, I will give a lifetime of work to repay the political friends who have done so much for me. I shall not be a senatorial candidate before the Legislature which has been elected. Senator Allen deserves the senatorship, which goes to the populists. Mr. Stearns and W. H. Thompson are avowed candidates for the senatorship. They both deserve well of the party; and I am too grateful to them for past support to stand in their way even if I desired a seat in the senate. I shall not be a senatorial candidate. Mr. Bryan said he has no other plans at present than to remain at home until he has had the demand for his resignation. He denied the report that he would remove from Nebraska and make Texas his home.

FAVOR WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Daily Mail this morning makes the following announcement: "The postal departmental commission which has been inquiring into the subject will shortly report, after some months of deliberation, in favor of the earliest possible adoption of Marconi's system of wireless telegraphy by the postal authorities."

"The commission is also arranging as to terms for the acquisition of the Marconi patents and negotiating with France and Germany regarding their attitude towards Marconi's inventions. This evidently means a complete revolution in the telegraphic system."

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

HAVANA, Nov. 8.—The committee on rules of the Cuban constitutional convention is discussing the advisability of holding secret sessions after the convention has been effected, which will probably take place at the re-opening of the convention next Monday.

Senores Capote, Tamayo and Rivera are the most prominent candidates for the presidency of the convention. La Lucha says: "The difficulty will not be in drawing up the constitution, but in reaching an agreement as to the relations which are to subsist between the United States and Cuba. We take it that the convention will insist upon three fundamental points, namely, no relations with other governments except through the United States, no power to negotiate loans, and no authority to upset peace and order."

GERMAN BUDGET.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—It has leaked out that the forthcoming imperial budget will provide for two new pioneer battalions of three companies each for each army corps. It will also provide 3,500,000 marks for building a war harbor at Dantzig.

At Kiel, a large anchorage and harbor for warships will be built, together with a harbor for torpedo boats, capable of holding sixty of the largest.

At Wilhelmshaven two immense dry docks will be built.

TERRIBLE ATROCITIES.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—The papers continue to print letters from German soldiers in China showing the terrible atrocities committed by German troops. A letter printed today describes the capture of a certain village.

Bayonets were fixed and our lieutenant was commanded to shoot down or bayonet everybody in sight. During the night many Chinese were killed, including a woman and a child.

NEW GERMAN LEASE.

Coaling Station Acquired in the Red Sea.

Deal With Turkey—First Step in a Far-Reaching Policy.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 8.—The Journal De St. Petersburg, the organ of the foreign office, discusses the United States election in a more friendly tone than any other Russian newspaper. It says: "The American election thereby testifies its gratitude for the great services rendered the national cause. Mr. McKinley's sagacity and skill in discovering a safe middle course and not going beyond what the general interests of the country required is approved by public opinion, which explains why there is no important defection among his 1896 supporters."

"The Bourse Gazette, influenced by the finance ministry, says: 'The re-election was predestined since the commercial and industrial nations do not intend to give their votes to an extreme radical like Bryan.'"

"The Rossiya says: 'The result is not without interest to Russia, which has always maintained good relations with America regardless of parties. A change in this respect set in with the Spanish war. America is imperialistic, which apparently means: 'What's mine is mine, and what's yours is mine, too.'"

"Mr. McKinley's imperialism is essential to Mr. Chamberlain's party. A close union between England and Germany is probable."

"The Novosti says: 'The concessions to the democrats before the elections were not of great value. It is the victory of a great industry.'"

"The reactionary Syjet anticipates close relations between the United States and Great Britain 'which will give the latter a preponderance in China dangerous to the interests of Europe and particularly of Russia.'"

"The German St. Petersburg Zeitung says: 'America continues to maintain the Monroe doctrine, while playing the role of a conqueror of other hemispheres. She will extend her colonies to neighboring countries.'"

FIER CUBAN TROLLEY LINES.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—Following a meeting of New York Philadelphia and Canadian capitalists in this city last night, Sir Wm. Van Horne, chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific railroad, sailed from here today for Santiago, where he will make an effort to secure options on all horse and trolley lines in Cuba, and also on all sugar plantations in the island. At last night's meeting the Cuba company was organized with a capital of $20,000.

The entire capital stock of the company, it is said, by those interested, has been subscribed.

FIRST HAIL STORM.

NYACK, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The first hail storm here in years occurred in Rockland county early this morning, accompanied by heavy clashes of thunder and sharp lightning. The hailstones were very large and many panes of glass were broken in some places. There were several small fires in the county, started by lightning.

A Great Name is a guarantee of superior worth

In baking powder, in these days of unscrupulous adulteration, a great name gives the best security. There are many brands of baking powders, but "Royal Baking Powder" is recognized at once as the brand of great name, the powder of highest favor and reputation. Everyone has absolute confidence in the food where Royal is used. Pure and healthful food is a matter of vital importance to every individual.

Royal Baking Powder assures the finest and most wholesome food.

NEW GERMAN LEASE.

Coaling Station Acquired in the Red Sea.

Deal With Turkey—First Step in a Far-Reaching Policy.

ADEN, Monday, Oct. 15.—The Sultan of Turkey has leased to Germany for thirty years the island of Uroan, in the Red Sea, forty miles north of Kamaran, for a coaling station.—Reuter.

The news that Germany has obtained from Turkey the lease of a small island in the Red Sea, known as Uroan, which is not marked on most English maps, but which is north of Kamaran, where we have a cable station, will evoke no surprise. As far back as 1896 Count von Lutwitz urged that Germany should acquire coaling stations, and the demand has been pressed of late with remarkable insistence by the immensely powerful German Navy League.

Uroan is well situated near the southern end of the Red Sea. It is only the first of a series of positions which will certainly be secured to link Wilhelmshaven to Kiaochow. The lease of the voyage to the Far East of the Deutschland and Konig Wilhelm in 1897—a voyage which would have been impossible but for the use of the British coaling stations—has not been lost upon the German naval authorities and public.

It goes without saying that the new island will be a valuable possession. Germans do not acquire territory with their eyes shut, and they are certain to have made careful surveys and to have obtained a fine harbor. The chief interest, however, for England is as to the location of the other coaling stations which Germany undoubtedly intends to buy or annex. Positions are wanted both to the east and west of the Red Sea, and where are they to be found?

In the Mediterranean it may be surprising to learn that the Kaiser had arranged with Spain for the purchase of Ceuta, the fortress, quite useless to the Spaniards, which confronts Gibraltar on the southern shore of the famous straits. There have been negotiations as to this place, and Spain would be not disinclined to do Germany a kindness, in return for the sympathy shown in 1898. Or Mellilla, or some other point in the Spanish "Presidios" on the Morocco coast, might be as satisfactory a bargain for either side. Mellilla or Ceuta would bridge very fairly the gap between Germany and the Red Sea. Later, another point might be obtained on the Turkish or Tripolitan seaboard.

Further to the east it will not be so easy to find eligible coaling stations. The islands of the Indian Ocean now have owners. Without exception they are British. But in the East Indies, where Holland is the nominal ruler, there is scope for leases. Some years ago Russia had her eyes upon Sumatra, off the coast of which are several small and highly-eligible islands. One of these may be now obtained from the Dutch by Germany. Not without purpose has Germany been pro-Boer throughout the present war.

The system and care with which Germany is laying the foundation of her sea power merit attention in England. Already in Africa she has sites for coaling stations in Togoland, the Kamerun, South-West Africa, and German East Africa. In the West In-

MOORS MUST PAY UP.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The instructions of the state department to U. S. Consul Gunner, at Tangier, under which he acted yesterday, were to collect an indemnity from the Moorish government for the murder of Marcus Essegan, a naturalized American citizen, who was killed about a year ago by a mob. Essegan became involved in an altercation with a Moor against whom he had accidentally run, when a crowd of the Moor's comrades fell upon him and beat him to death. The Moorish government disclaimed responsibility for the violence of this kind, but the U. S. government contended that the Moorish government had failed in its obligations in declining to take any steps to punish the perpetrators of the crime. Now Mr. Gunner is directed again to present the case, with an urgent request for a settlement.

It so happens that the big battle-ship Kentucky is making her way through the Mediterranean to Manila, and if she touches at a Moorish port, as she would be very likely to do, her presence may have a beneficial effect in stimulating action upon the consul's demands.

RACE RIOTS AVERTED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—After a night of excitement over a threatened conflict between negroes and whites, quiet prevailed this morning and, through the prompt action of the town authorities, aided by the members of company H, 10th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, a race riot was averted. The trouble started on Tuesday night over the election, and the fighting was kept up for a large part of the night and all of yesterday. There were numerous encounters between the negroes and whites and several persons were seriously injured. A large number of policemen were sworn in and, with squads of the Tenth Regiment, patrolled the streets until daylight. A dozen

FOY'S SERVICE IN CHINA.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Admiral Sir Edward Hobart Seymour, K. C. B., in command of the Glinas station since 1897 (who is to be succeeded by Vice-Admiral Sir Harry Holdsworth Rawson, who has been appointed a G. C. B.) (Grand Cross of the Bath), and naval captain B. T. Burke, Collaghan and Jellicoe have been appointed C. B. S. Companies (Bris of the Bath), for services in China.

UP RIVER NOTES.

John Palmer of Fredericton, who has twice during the last two years made large additions to his tannery and larrigan factory, is now having another story added to the whole factory. Lenore Sheehan, daughter of John Sheehan, Ormotto, died at her father's home on Monday, after a brief illness. The deceased young lady was 18 years old.

A very quiet wedding took place at Richibucto on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, when Miss Annie Augusta Conway was united to Charles J. B. Simmons of Gibson, N. B., the Rev. A. D. McLeod officiating.

Miss Julia Lynch, the well known daughter of Timothy Lynch, the well known lumberman, left for Boston Monday afternoon, where she will enter Carney hospital to study for a nurse.

Miss Mary Patterson, daughter of Patrick Patterson of Bear Island, died on Sunday from consumption. She was 21 years of age.—William Graham, son of Patrick Graham of Pokok, died last Friday from consumption. He was 20 years of age.

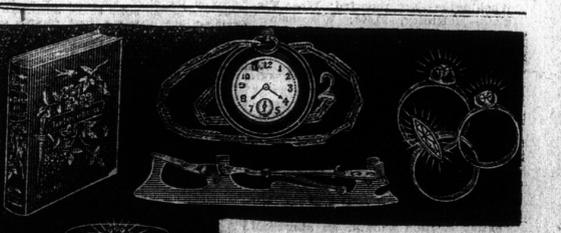

Frederick's imports for October were valued at $35,799 as against $50,674 for the corresponding month last year.

CHATHAM.

A Lee-Enfield Rifle Captured at Cronje's Lager.

A Hearty Welcome Extended to the Returning South African Heroes.

Evidence of a Hard Winter—Received a Pom-Pom Shell—A Large Church Bell Cracked.

CHATHAM, Nov. 5.—The return of the first contingent from South Africa was celebrated on Friday, Chatham was the scene of a most interesting and honored. Privates J. H. Munroe and Andrew Doyle. The delay in the arrival of the steamer at Halifax was the cause of considerable uncertainty as to what hour or day we would be called to receive our "Soldiers of the Queen." Even when it was definitely known that the train had started from Moncton it was still questionable whether the special would drop our men at the junction or carry them to New Brunswick in time to witness the street parade. Chatham's heroes received the heartiest of welcomes, and after having partaken of dinner at the Waverly hotel they were escorted by the officers and headed by the band marched to the boat and steamed to Chatham.

The scene at the wharf at Chatham was one of intense excitement. At the call of one of the officers on board three cheers were given for our boys, who appeared on the upper deck clad in the khaki uniform. The mayor and town council were in attendance with carriages, and as soon as possible the order of procession was formed and headed by the band, made a complete circuit of the principal streets.

An address of welcome was presented by the school children, who were formed up on Wellington street near the park under the guidance of Dr. Cox, principal of the schools, and the pupils sang a patriotic song.

The procession again moved forward amid the cheering of thousands of welcome amid the cheering of thousands of welcome and finally marched into the public square, where his worship Mayor Loggie read a formal address from the town council. Short speeches were made by the mayor, Hon. Mr. Tweedie, the two heroes, Major Murray, who announced that a military procession would start from the town hall at 7.30 that evening.

Duly on time the members of Capt. Mackenzie's company of the 73rd regiment, all carrying torches and in uniform, assembled at the town hall headed by the regimental band, and the boys in khaki having been assigned places in carriages in company with officers of the regiment, the procession was soon in motion. Beside the military, the mayor, town council fire department with all the apparatus illuminated and decorated, as well as hundreds of citizens in carriages and on foot, took part in the proceedings.

All along the route of march thousands upon thousands of people gathered and cheer, whilst flags, banners and illuminations were visible all over town.

A stop was made in front of the house of Mrs. Ward, whose son Robert (the first one of Chatham's boys to enlist) is still in South Africa, and a hearty volley of cheers testified to the esteem in which he is held by his comrades in arms.

The parade finally disbanded at the town hall where the two heroes had to appear on the Chatham stage. Major Murray addressed the assembled crowd in a short, patriotic speech, and Doyle and Munroe thanked their admirers in a few brief and soldier-like sentences. Altogether the reception of our two returned warriors was hearty and truly genuine in its character, but the general pleasure was somewhat marred by the absence of Private Ward and the delicate health of poor Doyle, who has suffered greatly from fever and is not yet fully recovered, he having been invalided home some time ago.

Complaints are reaching us of the frequent and ceaseless coaching of fish in the upper waters of the Miramichi.

The celebrated "Caribou case" was again adjourned at our police court on Saturday. From the evidence so far adduced it would appear that if an animal was killed it was in order to obtain a specimen for the natural history association, for which purpose special licenses are issued by the government.

Wild fowl are being brought to town in large numbers; geese, brant and wild ducks are to be seen hanging out at the doors of the butchers' shops, and parties of sportsmen weekly send large quantities by express to distant points.

Preparations for the lumber woods are now advancing and the various operators are hiring men. Wages are said to be good. Numbers have already gone to the scene of the work, but many who have been hired are delaying their departure until after the day of polling.

CHATHAM, Nov. 6.—Among the souvenirs of the war brought home by Private Munroe is a Lee-Enfield rifle captured by him at Cronje's lager. The rifle is now on exhibition at MacKenzie's drug store, and is quite an object of interest to the public, as it was taken by the Boers at the battle of Magersfontein from a soldier of the Royal Highlanders. It has on the back-plate the following letters and figures—2 R H—which indicates the corps to which it was issued by the imperial authorities, whilst upon one side of the stock is the inscription "I. DuPlessis" with a scroll and the letters I D in lead inlaid in the wood of the opposite side. DuPlessis was the second in command at Cronje's lager, and no doubt counted upon having the dead Highlander's rifle hung up over his fireplace as a trophy of war. Munroe was also able to secure two Mauser rifles, one a sporting rifle and the other a service rifle, which he gave to Lt. McDonnell, late of our R. R. Co., J. A. Fredericton. Our returned warrior was in all of the fighting which the regiment took part in and performed the arduous duty of carrier of ammunition at Paardeburg. His graphic accounts of the operations are listened to with great interest. A Newcastler, who was in all of the fighting also exhibited with the rifle. Those were brought home by Private Doyle, Sheriff Call, who was for a long period the officer commanding the Newcastle Field Battery, was the recipient of a pom-pom shell which was brought home by the man who have returned to Newcastle. Col. Call prizes the gift very highly. It is a brass cylinder, almost five inches long and an inch and a half in diameter, and being highly polished, it is quite an ornament in its way.

St. Luke's Methodist church has been completely renovated inside, and out, and is again occupied for service by the congregation. The large bell of the church is not used, as it was found to be cracked on the day of re-opening the church. This is similar to the experience of St. Andrew's church, whose bell also cracked some time ago. Rev. Mr. Matthews officiates with great acceptability in St. Luke's. He is quite a pulpiter.

Creaghan's new building, the one in which the town got into litigation over, is nearing completion, and is quite a creditable addition to Water street. It is a pity, however, that it is not constructed of brick instead of wood.

John Campbell, the veteran moose hunter, is away in the woods at the head of Black River, "calling" moose. He is on good ground and will likely be successful.

Evidence of a hard winter are accumulating, according to the observations of old people, who give as an indication the large number of wedding parties. Donald Fraser of Chatham is the last to make a home for himself, and is being married today in Bathurst. Rumor also has connected the name of one of our gallant militia captains with that of one of our fair residents, and the event is said to be booked for an early date.

Rev. Mr. Grierson of Halifax, evangelist, passed through town on his way to the lumber camps, where he will prosecute his work during the coming winter. Time has touched the reverend gentleman with a light hand, and he bears his years well.

These appointments were held by chief justice, in vacuo, superannuated.

WHEN A WOMAN WON'T. NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Augusta Hubbell of No. 115 Kingsbury street died today after an illness of several weeks, although a Christian Scientist, was in constant attendance upon her. She was the wife of P. Hubbell, a man of considerable means.

Hubbell had refused all her husband's requests that a physician visit her. Mr. Hubbell on Saturday sent for a doctor, but when he reached the house would not take his medicine. The physician refused to attend, and the death certificate was refused and the coroner will investigate the case.

BACK FROM ENGLAND.

Lord Durham Desires to Conserve Home Racing and Breeding Interests.

British Turfmen, He Says, Are the Biggest Gamblers in the World, Their Operations Making American Race Betting Appear Insignificant.

(New York Herald, 6th.) John A. Drake of Chicago, whose operations on the English turf this season have been of a phenomenal and sensational character, arrived on the Deutschland last night, and is at the Waldorf-Astoria. He appears to have improved physically while abroad and expresses himself as well pleased with his experience.

"I wish," said he, "to correct any impression that may have been created that I was not well treated by English turfmen. Some unpleasant happenings caused me to sell my horses and come home, but, as a whole, my connection with the English turf was exceedingly pleasant and satisfactorily profitable. The English sportsmen whom I met occasionally or frequently treated me royally. They are good sportsmen, and their racing is on a higher plane than that of the United States. Their officials are men of high qualification and character. The only trouble in my case was I beat them a little too often. While it was gratifying to me to win with fourteen horses, patriotic Englishmen could hardly be expected to derive enjoyment from such a cause."

LORD DURHAM PATRIOTIC.

"It was no doubt patriotism that led Lord Durham to make the stricture he did concerning Americans and to agitate the Jockey Club of new rules in the interest of English jockeys and breeders. He was evidently actuated by a desire to conserve home interests in the breeding farm and in the saddle. I do not believe he intended his reflections on Americans to have a general application. With some of his remarks about the following which American jockeys and trainers have attracted to Newmarket and elsewhere I quite agree."

"There is no denying that there are now in England a lot of American tourists and adventurers who are undesirable and offensive, if not vicious, visitors. And the worst part of it is they endeavor to pass as turfmen or friends of American turfmen or riders. They are not wanted anywhere. It is mortifying and humiliating to American trainers and riders who are honestly pursuing their vocations over there to have an alleged following that is so disreputable. A special application of Lord Durham's remarks to individuals makes his action in every way commendable."

TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN SUPERIORITY.

"But when Lord Durham asked and induced the Jockey Club to extend the five pounds apprentice allowance to handicaps, and to abrogate the nine pounds allowance heretofore conceded to foreign bred horses, he paid a tribute to American skill in the saddle, American horses and the ability with which they are handled. The action of Lord Durham's remarks to the Jockey Club is equivalent to an acknowledgment that American racing talent and American energy are entitled to exacting consideration."

"The simple statement of the case is, the Englishmen are not up to date. They are behind the times when compared with their American cousins. Yankee activity, energy and progressiveness have overcome Englishmen in yachting, athletics, billiards, boxing and sculling, and, finally, on the turf, where British superiority was much vaunted and presumably invulnerable. And what applies to sports also applies to business. Britons must arouse themselves, become progressive and adopt new methods, or we will force them to concede our financial and commercial supremacy, as we have done in sports. It will mean something to English turfmen when they recognize that intelligence can accomplish more than doping or trickery. In my opinion our trainers are decidedly superior to English trainers, and a comparison of jockeys would be superfluous. ALL ENGLISH BOYS APPRENTICES.

"Their apprentice allowance will be very liberally claimed if their youngsters be given opportunities to ride for all their boys are apprentices until they are twenty-one. Many of our boys are at their best before attaining their majority. The best rider in England is a day in 'Johnny Reiff, and he is about fifteen. And as a trainer Wishart is the prince of the English turf. They are at a loss to account for the improvement horses have shown under his handling. His success with Eliza Finch was to them astounding."

"They thought that to them no account and their bookmakers no account against him accordingly. That is why Mr. Gates and I won so largely on the horse when he won the Royal Cup at Ascot. We won more than we could possibly have won on a race in this country."

AMERICAN JOCKEYS' CHANCES.

"So far as the future of the American jockey in England is concerned, I believe his ability and behavior will be all important factors in determining his chances. The best of English turfmen are men of high qualification and character. The only trouble in my case was I beat them a little too often. While it was gratifying to me to win with fourteen horses, patriotic Englishmen could hardly be expected to derive enjoyment from such a cause."

"The English gentleman does not admire a jockey who is swagger or who we would call fresh, but will be inclined to overlook an objectionable characteristic of that kind if the swag individual is skilful and in good standing with the Jockey club. If jockeys become too swag the Jockey club will probably relieve them of licenses. American jockeys have been great outpourings of the people, but have been suspended and many have lost their licenses. I have no personal knowledge of any American jockey who is skilful and in good standing with the Jockey club. It is singular that it did not attract the attention of Lord Durham."

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY.

His Journey from Canton Toward Washington One Continuous Ovation.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 7.—President McKinley's trip from Canton toward the capitol today has been one continuous ovation to the twice-elected head of the nation. At every stop there has been great outpourings of the people, business has been suspended and many thousands of workers—men and women—to those who have joined in enthusiastic greetings. The president has appeared at each stop, shaking hands from the platform and making short speeches at the most important towns. Mrs. McKinley has received her share of the popular tribute, men and women struggling to present her with flowers. The trip has been the nature of a triumphal journey to the capitol, and the business has been suspended and many thousands of workers—men and women—to those who have joined in enthusiastic greetings. THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 10, 1900

(From Thursday's Daily Sun.) THE ELECTIONS.

The government has been allowed another chance and the country is committed to five years more of such administration as we have had since 1896. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will probably have a majority of forty-five members in the house which was elected yesterday.

The fact that this majority comes wholly from Quebec does not make it the less effective. If the people of that province choose to send a practically unanimous delegation to keep Sir Wilfrid in power they act within their rights, just as the people in the other provinces would do if they sent a unanimous delegation authorized to support another leader.

In discussing the prospects of the election the Sun conceded a large Quebec majority to the government. At the same time it was claimed that a great overturn had taken place in Ontario, and that the government would be strongly condemned in the premier province.

These things have come to pass. Ontario has spoken strongly against the government, giving an opposition majority of probably not less than twenty. This is a great change from the government majority of twelve, which the premier and Mr. Tarte expected to retain.

But Mr. Tarte and the premier, to mention them in the order of their importance and influence, were not too sanguine in their claims on Quebec. They have swept the province like a whirlwind. Perhaps seven or eight seats have been carried by the conservatives, and three of these probably owe their return to the English vote.

Of the French conservative leaders, all but Mr. Casgrain have gone down before the storm. Outside of Quebec most of the constituencies which have a considerable French population have felt the movement. Kent, Westmorland, Restigouche, Gloucester, West Eglise and Richmond are among the seats lost in the eastern provinces.

In Eastern Ontario near the Quebec boundary two or more seats have been gained by the government. It will be seen that the Sun was quite correct when it said that Sir Wilfrid's only chance of an extension of his term of office lay in the French-Canadian vote.

better than the opposition. Every minister has been elected, and among the defeated are only four or five who belong to the first rank. On the opposition side the veteran leader has fallen with his face to the foe. Mr. Foster has failed in his plucky attempt to capture St. John from the enemy.

Sir Charles Tupper has met with his first defeat in nearly fifty years campaigning. Mr. Foster is beaten for the first time in his life. Mr. Foster is yet a comparatively young man, and his defeat indicates no great injury on him. He may safely reckon on many more years of active public service.

It is hardly necessary for the Sun to express the opinion that the people of the St. John constituencies have made a mistake in electing Mr. Blair and Colonel Tucker. On the ground of personal merit, and of capacity for useful public service, their opponents were more worthy of choice.

The defeat of Mr. Powell and Mr. McNerney removes from parliament for the time two of our most brilliant men. Mr. McAteer was a less conspicuous but greatly respected representative. On the other hand we have to welcome to the larger arena of federal politics the member elect for Kings, who takes the place lately occupied by Colonel Domville.

Many explanations will be given of the success of the government at the polls, and of the defeat of leading conservatives. That of Mr. Lawrence A. Wilson of the licensed victuallers' association is already before us.

ELECTION RESULTS.

Latest Returns Give the Liberals a Majority of Forty. Not Counting Independents.

Four Elections to be Held and Several Seats in Doubt—Hackett in P. E. Island Only One Vote Behind.

(From Thursday's Daily Sun.) AT VICTORIA, B.C. Victoria rink was thronged with Liberal conservative electors last night, many going there just as soon as the polls closed. The returns did not arrive as quickly as the crowd desired, but it was all too soon apparent that the government candidates had carried the two constituencies.

The returns from all over Canada were received at the rink over a wire sent by the C. P. R. Telegraph Company. J. M. Barnes operated the ticker. Hon. Mr. Foster, Dr. Stockton and several prominent gentlemen were in attendance, and the returns as they came in were given to the hundreds who were gathered at the rink.

At 9 o'clock Dr. Stockton was introduced to the electors by Col. Armstrong, the president of the Liberal Conservative Association. Dr. Stockton was cheered and congratulated. He said it appeared the opposition candidates had been defeated in St. John. He did not feel discouraged over the result of the fight.

After Mr. Blair had entered, the crowd remained outside and called for "Blair" and "Tupper" until the minister of railways, exhausted though he must have been with the arduous effort of the culminating day of a great campaign, was compelled to appear on the balcony in front of the rink.

After the rink was closed, the Liberal Conservative Association held a meeting at the rink. The speaker was Mr. Blair, who was warmly received. He said that he was not at all discouraged over the result of the fight.

ing the election returns last night was at St. Andrew's rink, and here a crowd began to assemble shortly after the closing of the polls at five o'clock. As soon as the figures received insured the election of the Liberal candidates in this constituency, the crowd grew in numbers and enthusiasm, and when Messrs. Blair and Tucker arrived shortly after six o'clock they received a rousing reception from the intense enthusiasm. Brief speeches of congratulation and thanks were made by the winning candidates and H. A. McKeown, E. H. McAlpine and others.

When it was announced that Mr. Blair would retire to his hotel and that a barouche was at the door, the assembled multitude rushed out, discomfiting the horses and the carriage, and mounting Blair on their shoulders, carried him triumphantly to the conveyance, and dragged him to the hotel, accompanied all the way by hundreds of howling, cheering, singing and shouting throngs.

ed that since my election in 1896, when I had a majority of a little over 600, Dr. Kendall, my opponent, was elected two years ago in the same county to the local house by more than one thousand majority. I have been unable to give any personal attention to the county, with the exception of spending practically three or four days in it, owing to my duties in other parts of the dominion; and I should have adopted the course I did had I been quite sure it would have resulted in my defeat, as I was bound to consider the interests of the party at large rather than my personal interests.

SIR CHARLES UNDAUNTED. HALIFAX, Nov. 7.—Sir Charles Tupper arrived in the city at an early hour yesterday and spent today in Halifax. The Herald called upon him at 11 o'clock last night at the residence of Senator MacKeown, and found him the most joyful man in the company of half a dozen, and he was by no means cast down. He had done his best for his party and for his country, and naturally he enjoyed the happiness of the consciousness of well-doing, if not the pleasure of success. He is in splendid health, and Sir Charles leaves this morning en route for British Columbia, where he intends to assist the conservative candidates in Yale-Caribou and Burrard. He expects to be accompanied in his recent continental journey by Sir Herbert Tupper, but if that gentleman decides to remain in Pictou till declaration, two or three days hence, he will go alone and await him in Winnipeg, where Lady Tupper is stopping.

CANADIAN'S HEROIC DEATH.

Captain Chambers Killed While Trying to Save One of His Men.

Lord Roberts Speaks Highly of the Gallant Officer—Kruger's Trip to Europe.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—The following casualties occurred at Belfast on the 2nd inst.: Royal Canadian Dragoons, No. 203, Corp. A. A. McDonald, 1st Hussars, London, missing; Canadian Mounted Rifles, Lieut. W. Chalmers, late Inspector N. W. M. P., killed; Major G. E. Saunders, superintendent of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Calgary, 248, Pte. T. E. Pratt, Regina, slightly wounded.

Lord Roberts speaks most highly of Lieut. Chalmers' great gallantry, who was killed while trying to save Saunders.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Lord Roberts, in a despatch dated Johannesburg, November 5, reports to the war office as follows: "Smith-Dorrien states that Major Saunders and Capt. Chalmers of the Canadian Mounted Rifles behaved with great gallantry in the action of November 5, near Johannesburg, under heavy fire to bring in a horseless non-commissioned officer. Saunders was wounded and his horse was killed, and Chalmers went to his assistance. Saunders implored him to leave, but was refused, and the gallant Chalmers was killed while trying to save Saunders."

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Lord Roberts has cabled the war office that former President Steyn, in a speech to Delarey's burghers, October 22, said Mr. Kruger had gone to Europe in order to "get intervention," and that if he failed to the highest bidder, he would be auctioned off to the highest bidder.

RAS JIBUTIL, Nov. 6.—The Dutch cruiser Gelderland, with ex-President Kruger on board, has arrived here. She has been directed to await instructions from The Hague at Port Said with reference to Mr. Kruger's landing in Europe.

The Gelderland will stop three days. Mr. Kruger is in excellent health. Dr. Heymen declared Mr. Kruger was going to Europe purely on a holiday. Mr. Kruger was found sitting on deck with his legs wrapped in sheepskins. "Ma legs right without remission," he exclaimed, energetically filling his pipe, referring to the Boers. "That is what we ask."

TINKERING AT THE TOWER. London is fortunate in retaining its ancient palace prison in a conspicuous place by the banks of its imperial river. No Englishman can hear of a proposal to deface it without indignation, and it might be thought that whatever changes were made, Tower where, no stone of this building at least would be touched unnecessarily—that the hand of authority would be stretched out only to preserve our greatest relic. But the modern official world has decided otherwise. A few feet distant from the White Tower, rises one of the ugliest structures imaginable; this is the new guard-house, and it can only be described as utterly incongruous and a perfectly wanton outrage upon the sense of fitness.—Architectural Review.

RESISTING TEMPTATION. "There's a cabman on this stand," said a gentleman at the West End of London, "whom you can't get to touch a drop of drink. I won't believe that," said one of the company. "I'll warrant that I can make him drink a glass of grog." The cabman was called, apparently to take a fare. The glass of gin was offered to him, but he indignantly declined. Dropping a sovereign into it, the tempter said, "Drink it off, and the sovereign is yours." The cabman was unmoved. A second, a third, and even a fourth sovereign was dropped in, but the honest driver was as firm as ever. "No," he said, "if you will give me gold, I'll not drink. I am happier, healthier and wealthier since I gave up the drink."

A RAILWAY INCIDENT. "Three things declare a man," said the Jewish rabbi; "His voice, his purse and his anger." He had lived in these days he would surely have added a fourth—his "railroad manners." The following good story from the Boston Record will illustrate: "A gentleman prominent in legal circles in Boston, was recently riding in a train, and in the seat before him was a young and gaily dressed 'amsel. The car was pretty full, and presently an elderly woman entered, and finding no seat vacant but the one beside the young woman mentioned, sat down beside her. "She was a decently dressed woman, but apparently of humble station, and she carried several clumsy bundles, which were evidently a serious annoyance to her seat mate. The young woman made no effort to conceal her vexation, but in the most conspicuous manner showed the passengers round that she considered it an impertinent intrusion for the newcomer to presume to sit down beside her. "In a few moments the old woman, depositing her packages upon the seat, went across the car to speak to an acquaintance, whom she discovered on the opposite side of the aisle. The lawyer leaned forward to the offended young lady and courteously asked if she would change seats with him. "A smile of gratified vanity showed how pleased she was to have attracted the notice of so distinguished-looking a gentleman. 'Oh, thank you ever so much,' she said, effusively. 'I should like to, but it would be as bad for you as for me to sit beside such an old woman.' " 'I beg your pardon,' he responded, with undiminished deference of manner, 'it was not your comfort I was thinking of, but the old lady's.'"

HIGH TIDE. Tuesday's Truro News says:—"The highest tide for years is covering the marshes; the dyke is broken, and for a while the murky, seething waters are overflowing the land. The spray is breaking in sheets of water 20 feet over the embankments, and at McNulty's Island there is a wide waste of turbid waters everywhere."

QUEER BOY THIS. He doesn't like to study, it "weakens his eyes. But a "right sort" of book will insure a surplus. Let it be about Indians, pirates, or bears. And he's lost for a day to all mundane affairs. By sunlight or moonlight his vision is clear; Now isn't that queer?

At the thought of an errand "he's tired as a bound." Very weary of life and of "tramping around." But if there's a hand or a circus in sight He will follow it gladly from morning till night. The showman will capture him some day, I fear. For he is so queer.

If there's work in the garden his head "aches to be spaded." But he's afraid to dig. And his back is so lame that he "can't dig a bit." But he'll play baseball and he's cured very soon. And he'll dig for a woodchuck the whole afternoon. Do you think he "plays possum"? He seems quite sincere; But—ain't he queer?

JEANETTE C. BULLOCK. HOW HE BEGAN. A man was once sitting in a saloon (said the Irish World a while ago). He had an old battered hat on his head, short black pipe in his mouth, a dirty shirt and ragged clothes, and a downcast look. He had been waiting patiently for his turn. The better days once. As he looked out of the saloon door he saw two tidy, clean little children come for their father's beer. As soon as they were outside the door the little girl took a drink from the tap, while her little brother waited patiently for his turn. The poor drunkard looked at them very sadly, and then he said, with a sigh, "Ah, that's how I began, and I can't leave off now."

ROSEBERY ON NAPOLEON. A Character Study in Which the Former Prime Minister Scores the British Policy at St. Helena.

Lord Rosebery's study of Napoleon, entitled "Napoleon—The Last Phase," is just published. It is a most interesting and well-written work.

THE KANGAROO WALK. It is Not Beautiful But It is a Late Fad. There's a new walk, variously known as "the kangaroo" and "the Dutch doll," that has recently made its appearance in Chicago and other large cities, and that threatens to invade the sacred precincts of our own Charles street. Indeed, one young woman was noticed there yesterday practicing "the kangaroo," but whether she was a home product, or an importation from the States, could not be determined by the observers. At all events, she had all of the details of this method of pedestrianism well in hand. Her body and limbs were stiff, her head poked forward in a decided ungraceful and unbecoming manner, her back was bent as if she were the waist, and she was hurrying forward step by step, with each step a jerk of the head and neck, as though hung on pivots at the shoulders. Her lips were molded into a straight line, and her eyes gazed unseeingly ahead. Altogether she looked as if she were the Dutch doll in the wax-work at the Strand, and her appearance was not only unattractive, but also unhygienic. The reason of this is not beautiful, it is not graceful, it is not easily attained. The writer realizes with shame that none of these attributes are necessary to make a thing fashionable and popular, but the kangaroo walk seems so needlessly unattractive that she's now in full cry after an explanation of its sudden introduction into city life. If any royal person had suddenly been invested with wooden legs and arms, the explanation would be easy, but as nothing of the sort has happened to a personage, it is still wrapped in mystery. Meanwhile the Baltimore maid continues to walk "according to Delaarte"—head well up, chest out, abdomen held back, back quite deeply indented—a pose pronounced at once proper and hygienic by authorities. The Delaarte walk, besides, goes with any costume, so to speak, but how would the kangaroo look with trailing gowns and Gainsborough hats. It's had enough set off by a walking skirt, and headgear of the Rough Rider sort, but it would be quite impossible to get up a church aisle with accompaniment of satin draperies, tulle veil, orange blossoms and other bridal-supperies. It's not graceful enough to do here, nor in a ballroom, and what will not do for these two places had best be expunged from the list of feminine accomplishments.—Baltimore News.

THE CHINESE IMPASSE. The empress-regent has just said with a dreadfulness of speech that she had rather European troops be sent to China, though a report has been uttered, it has not appeared, that she is much impressed by the European and Indian soldiers march about North China almost as easily as mice march through cheese, but the marching army is quiet in Szechuan, and the official name of the new capital—preparing an army, decline all terms, and refuse to let foreign troops in safety, what rivers what do the "Contracting Parties," Great Britain and Germany, propose to do? Are they to remain at Peking for ever, or to seize ports, or to occupy the banks of rivers? If they do this, what becomes of the policy of "maintaining undiminished the territorial condition of the Chinese empire?"—London Spectator.

FAITHFUL TO GOD

A Timely Sermon by Rev. Dr. Talmage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—This discourse of Dr. Talmage is appropriate for all seasons, but especially in these times of great political agitation. The text is Daniel vi. 16. "Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel and cast him into the den of the lions."

Darius was king of Babylon; and the young man Daniel was so much a favorite with him that he made him prime minister, or secretary of state. But no man could gain such a high position without exciting the envy and jealousy of the people.

But not so well does Darius, the king, sleep. He has an attack of terrific insomnia. He loves Daniel and hates this stratagem by which he has been condemned. All night long the king walks the floor. He cannot sleep. At the least sound he starts, and his flesh creeps with horror. He is impatient for the dawning of the morning. At the first streak of the daylight Darius hastens forward to see the fate of Daniel.

DANIEL'S GREATEST OFFENSE. Learn first from this subject that the greatest crime that you commit in the eyes of many is the crime of success. What is Daniel's offense? He should be prime minister; he should be king of the lions; he should be the lion's den.

CHRISTIANITY FOR BUSY MEN. Now, my friends, religion never robbed a man of a dollar. Other things being equal, a mason will build a better wall, a cabinet-maker will make a better chair, a plumber will make a better pipe, a lawyer will make a better plea, a merchant will sell a better lot of goods, if you make things being equal. Of course, when religion gives a man a new heart, it does not propose to give him a new head or to intellectualize him or to change a man's condition when his ordinary state is an overflow of the philosophical theory that a total vacuum is impossible, but the more letters you have to write, the more burdens you have to carry, the more miles you have to travel, the more conversions you have to make, the more engagements you have to meet, the more disputes you have to settle, the more opportunity you have of being a Christian.

DECISION OF CHARACTER. Again, my subject impresses me with the value of decision of character in any department. Daniel knew that if he continued his adherence to the religion of the Lord he would be hurried to the lions; but, having set his compass well, he sailed right on. For the lack of that element of decision of character so eminent in Daniel many men are ruined for this world and ruined for the world to come. A great many at 40 years of age are not settled in any respect, because they have not been able to make up their minds. Perhaps they will go west; perhaps they will go east; perhaps they will go north; perhaps they will go south; perhaps they will not; perhaps they may make this investment in real estate or in railroads, perhaps they will not. They are like a steamship that should go out of New York harbor, starting for Glasgow, and the next day should change for Havre de Grace, and the next day for Charleston, and the next day for Boston, and the next day for Liverpool. These men on the sea of life are ever changing tack and making no headway. Or they are like a man who starts to build a house in the Corinthian style and changes it to Doric and then completes it in the Ionic, the curse of all styles of architecture.

Young man, start right, and keep on. Have decision of character. Character is like the goldfinch of Toucan. It is magnificent while standing firm, but loses all its beauty in flight. How much decision of character in order that these young men may be Christians! Their old associates make sarcastic flings at them. They go on excursions, and they do not invite them. They wonder if he is not getting wings. As he passes they grimace and wink and chuckle and say, "There goes a saint."

BRONCHIAL AFFECTIONS. A Wholesome Laxative... CATARRHOZON CURED. Mrs. R. E. Marshall of Hicker, Michigan, writes: "Our little daughter of 8 years was a great sufferer from bronchitis, and slight changes in the weather brought on her attacks. Our doctor was consulted and prescribed different bottles of medicine, but none of them gave her any more than temporary relief. We then tried a box of Catarrhonzon, and in a few days she was cured. After so much useless expense with doctors and fraudulent preparations, we were at our wits' end to know what to do. A neighbor who had been cured by 'Catarrhonzon' sent in her inhaler to try, and it was so pleasant to use and gave such immediate relief that a complete outfit was at once ordered. After using it but a short time the bronchial trouble disappeared, and the child can now run about in stamp rally again—something unthought of before using Catarrhonzon. We recommend Catarrhonzon as a peerless remedy for bronchitis and all its complications."

CATARRHOZON is a guaranteed cure for BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, CATARRH, Catarrhonzon, Osmosed Air Cure, is a new and safe remedy for all the diseases of the respiratory tract. It is a guaranteed cure for all the diseases of the respiratory tract. It is a guaranteed cure for all the diseases of the respiratory tract.

RELIGION IN POLITICS. Daniel stood on a most unpopular platform. He stood firm, though the demagogues of the day hissed at him and tried to overthrow him. We must carry our religion into our politics. We must carry our religion into our politics. We must carry our religion into our politics.

WEDDING BELLS. Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock, A. C. Chapman, the adopted son of Dunsmuir, of Cumberland Bay, Quebec county, was married to Miss Clara Henry, daughter of the late Melvin Henry. Rev. W. B. McIntyre, of Chipman, performed the marriage ceremony in the presence of about twenty friends and at the home of Arthur Cameron, Adelaide street, north end. The bride was becomingly attired in a grey travelling suit, with hat of corresponding shades. There were no attendants. A wedding breakfast was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Chapman left on the steamer May Queen for their new home in Cumberland Bay.

DEATHS. BELL.—In this city, Nov. 8th, Mrs. Elizabeth Bell, widow of the late James Bell of Petersburg, Queens Co. in her 72nd year, leaving one son and one daughter to mourn their loss.

THE LATE DR. JOHN BERRYMAN. The funeral of the late Dr. John Berryman took place yesterday afternoon from Trinity church, whither the body was transferred from the residence of the deceased gentleman a short time before the ceremony. The remains were met at the door by the clergy and pall-bearers and were borne up the aisle by the latter. There was a large attendance of citizens at the church. Rev. J. A. Richardson read the burial service. The choir was present and sang the hymn "Jesus Alive" and "How Bright These Glorious Spirits Shine." The Nunc Dimittis and the burial Psalm were chanted.

MEMORIAL WINDOW. A handsome east window has lately been placed in St. James' church, Westfield, for the descendants of Col. Nase, and is exciting much admiration. The work has been done by the Maritime Glass Co. of this city, who have recently started in business here, and reflects much credit upon them as a real work of art. Col. Nase, whose career well deserves a passing mention, was an officer in the same regiment as General Coffin, and settled in Westfield prior to his companion in arms. For a length of time he held the office of surrogate and judge of probates for Kings Co. Col. Nase acted as lay reader in Westfield for many years whenever the mission was without a resident clergyman. The services at this period were held at private houses, and also in a large barn belonging to General Coffin near his residence, "Arlington Manor." It was chiefly owing to Col. Nase that the regular services of the church were kept up. He died in 1835, aged 84 years, two years before his old comrade, General Coffin, who died in 1838, about the same age.
