WESTMORLAND CO. ELECTS DR. E. A. SMITH

Opposition Candidate Has Majority of 67 Over Hon. P. G. Mahoney Result a Surprise to Grits Themselves — Defeat Attributable to Sectarian Canvasses and Dissatisfaction Among Railway Men.

By Vote Yesterday Westmorland Loses Portfolio — Sweeping Majority for Mahoney in Sackville—Smith Wins by 15 in His Home Town.

Special to The Standard.
Moncton, N. B., May 30.—Westmorland, by a majority of sixty-seven votes, today elected Dr. E. A. Smith to the seat in the provincial legislature, made vacant by the resignation of P. G. Mahoney to accept the portfolio of commissioner of public works.

The result was considerable of a surprise to both parties. It was no more of a surprise to the government party than it was to the opposition because of the big turn-over in Moncton parish, where there is a big railway vote. In the general election of 1912 in the parish of Moncton, P. G. Mahoney had a majority of 214 over Copp, the highest man on the opposition ticket, but today the opposition had a majority of 191 and this result was obtained largely in the booths where the C. G. R. employees vote.

This change alone was sufficient to defeat the government candidate. There was also a notable change in the Parish of Shediac where there is also a large railway vote. In 1912 the government party had a majority of 180 and today the opposition emerged with a majority of 15. With the exception of quite a few in Mahoney's home parish of Beaufort there was very little change in the other parts of the constituency. The analysis of the vote proves quite clearly that the defeat of Hon. P. G. Mahoney is attributable to dissatisfaction among I. C. R. employees and to sectarian canvasses and not to matters pertaining to provincial issues.

Had Moncton and Shediac Parishes alone done as well for Mahoney today as they did in 1912 he would have returned by a considerably larger majority than he had in the general election.

WHAT WESTMORLAND LOST

HON. P. G. MAHONEY, Minister of Public Works.

BIG STRIKE THREATENED IN BOSTON

Over 24,000 Mechanics and Laborers Out of Work if Demands of Building Laborers Not Granted by Tonight.

Boston, May 30.—More than 24,000 building mechanics and laborers will be thrown out of work by a strike of at least 8,000 building laborers on June 1 in this city, unless the laborers' demands for an increase in wages from 35 cents to 42½ cents an hour and time and a half overtime pay are granted before that time.

Last night at a meeting in Barbers Hall, Dover and Washington streets, the Building Laborers' District Council of Greater Boston voted in favor of a general strike of building laborers June 1 if the demands are not granted. A joint meeting of members of Building Laborers' Unions 209, 223, 295 and 291, Sunday, voted for the strike.

Indorsement and promise of moral and financial support have already been given by the Allied Building Trades Council representing more than 16,000 building mechanics.

According to union leaders every peaceful means has been exercised, but without avail. International Pres. Dominic D'Alessandro of the Hod Carriers' and Building Laborers' Union will arrive in Boston either tomorrow night or Thursday morning to take active charge of the conduct of the strike.

Marble Workers' Helpers' Union Local 60, which is affiliated with the Building Laborers' District Council, have presented demands for an increase in wages from 30 to 35 cents an hour. If those demands are not granted on June 1 more than 30 workmen will be affected by a strike of the members of Local 60.

ITALIANS PARRY FIERCE THRUSTS OF AUSTRIANS

Enemy's Fierce Drives Fail to Break Splendid Defence of Italian Army in New Offensive Which Has Been Launched.

Comparative Quiet on the British and French Fronts in the West—Enemy Attempts to Take Offensive Against Russians Break Down.

Rome, via Paris, May 30.—The Austrians have resumed the offensive in the Posina zone and along the Upper Adige, in the southern Tyrol. They attacked the Italian positions south of the Posina, after violent artillery preparation, but according to tonight's official statement from the war office, were unable to dislodge the defenders.

The situation is generally unchanged along the whole front, with the exception of the Posina zone and the Upper Adige, where there has been a renewal of the enemy offensive.

"In the Lagarina Valley and in the Paganella sector there has been an intense artillery duel and great activity. Enemy convoys were disturbed by our fire.

"South of Posina the enemy following a violent artillery preparation, attacked in the direction of Sella Di Campiglia and Mount Praiera. After a desperate struggle our troops retained these positions."

Berlin, May 30, by wireless to Sayville.—The fighting in the Southern Tyrol has evolved into a mobile campaign, says a correspondent at the front with the Austro-Hungarian forces.

"The successes won during the first few days by Austro-Hungarian offensive are of uncomparably more significance than all those obtained by the Italians during the entire previous year."

The Italians at no time succeeded in turning the warfare to another form than frontal attacks in which successes are without effect upon neighboring sectors. The Austro-Hungarian attack, however, resulted in the formation of a curving front, an advance along which provided an increasing number of sectors which could be menaced by outflanking movements and taken under a cross-fire.

For this reason the Austrians were enabled to make the relatively large gains they have scored.

"In the course of a few days the Austro-Hungarians regained a large part of the terrain which they had given up voluntarily at the beginning of the war, and in addition crossed the enemy's frontier at several points. The success was especially notable on the Poljarska plateau, which had been a part of the defensive system about Trent, but now has become a base for attack. From the Poljarska plateau the Crown Prince's troops began an irrefragable advance towards the south, after the left wing in the Supana Valley had insured its safety by the storming of Armentara ridge, and after the right wing had likewise secured itself in the Adige Valley by the storming of Laguna Tora."

Berlin, May 30, via London (5.04 p. m.)—The text of the official statement is as follows:

"Western front: Artillery duels are continuing along the front between La Bassee Canal and Arras. Lens again was bombarded. In the neighborhood of Souchez (Artois district) and southeast of Tabour (Champs) weak enemy advances failed.

"There has been increased fighting activity between Hill 304 and the Meuse (Verdun front) south of the Corbeur and Cumerles woods we captured French positions along the entire extent between the southern ridge of Dead Man's Hill and Cumerles village. Thirty-five officers, including several staff officers, and 1,213 unarmoured men were captured. Two counter-attacks against Cumerles village were repelled.

"East of the Meuse we improved upon our newly captured line in the Thiaumont wood. The advance was in the eastern portion of the wood. Here at times the fire on both sides reached the greatest violence.

"Last night our aviators attacked, with good results, an enemy destroyer squadron off Ostend.

"A British biplane crashed to earth

PRES. WILSON ISSUES WARNING TO "HYPHENS"

America First, and Must Not Oppose Purposes of the Nation.

HE DEFINES THE SPIRIT OF AMERICA.

Makes an Appeal to Youth of Nation to Perform Voluntary Military Service.

Washington, May 30.—President Wilson delivered a memorandum address here today in which he defined the spirit of America, warned citizens of foreign birth not to set themselves against the purposes of the nation; called upon young men to perform voluntary military service, and defended his recent suggestion for an alliance of nations to preserve peace. He spoke at Arlington National Cemetery before an audience made up largely of civil war veterans, who applauded him vigorously.

While he declared he had no harshness in his heart for Americans of foreign birth and expected them to still love the sources of their origin the president said:

"America must come first in every purpose we entertain, and every man must count upon being cast out of our confidence, cast out even of our tolerance, who does not submit to that great ruling principle."

Speaking of America, made up of all the peoples of the world, as the champion of the rights of mankind, he said:

Ready To Fight Against Aggression.

"We are not only ready to cooperate, but we are ready to fight against any aggression, whether from within or without. But we must guarantee ourselves against any sort of aggression which would be unworthy of America. We are ready to fight for our rights when those rights are coincident with the rights of man and humanity."

The president reiterated his suggestion before the league to enforce peace last week that the United States was ready to become a partner in any alliance of the nations "which would guarantee public right against selfish aggression." Of published criticisms reminding him that George Washington warned the nation against "entangling alliances," he said:

"I shall never myself consent to an entangling alliance, but would gladly assent to a disentangling alliance, an alliance which would disentangle the peoples of the world from those combinations in which they seek their own separate and private interests, and unite the people of the world to preserve the peace of the world upon a basis of common right and justice."

Universal training and preparedness were possible, Mr. Wilson declared, only if the men of suitable strength and age will volunteer. He said the "acid test" was about to be applied to business men to see whether they would allow their employees to volunteer. He said the army reorganization bill now before him bristled with that interrogation point, which he warned all the business men of the country was staring them in the face.

The president said he was for "universal voluntary training," but that "America does not wish anything but the compulsion of the spirit of America." He added that the people of the nation were watching each other, and that a great many men, even when they did not want to, were going to stand up and say "Here."

Russians Check Attacks.

Petrograd, May 30, via London.—The official communication from headquarters issued today reads:

"After artillery preparation the enemy tried, on Monday night, to take the offensive in the region northeast of Augustinof, but was driven back to his own trenches by our fire."

"Enemy airmen threw bombs on Vileyka station and the town of Voystom, north of the station.

"Galician: In the region of the village of Gladki the enemy opened a violent fire with light and heavy guns, bomb throwers and mine throwers on our trenches, at the same time attempting an infantry offensive. Having driven back our advance post the enemy exploded two of our mine galleries, which were not completely charged. Reinforcements have hurried to the spot and dislodged the Austrians by a counter-attack. They recaptured the post and restored the previous situation.

"Northeast of Zelena, north of Boutchache, an enemy attempt to approach our trenches was frustrated by a fusillade and hand grenades."

Airmen Busy on the British Front.

London, May 31, 12.21 a. m.—The British official communication issued at midnight says:

"The enemy's aircraft was more active than usual yesterday (Monday). They shot down one of our machines in an air combat, but it fell in our lines. A hostile machine was brought down out of control within the German lines.

"During the night we successfully exploded a mine southeast of Cuiinchy. Two German mines near Souchez and northeast of Neuville-St.

CANADA AS PRINCESS ROYAL OF THE IMPERIAL FAMILY MUST TAKE LEAD

London, May 30.—(Montreal Gazette cable).—Speaking at a dinner given to the Ladies' Lyceum Club last night to overseas visitors, Sir Richard McBride, touching upon imperial problems, urged that now was the time to establish a close union. He went so far as to hint that if the overseas dominions were not treated as they had a right to expect at the hands of the mother country the solidarity of the Empire would be endangered.

Sir Charles Lucas, another speaker, regretted this attitude on the part of the agent-general for British Columbia, and suggested that the old country awaited overtures from the dominions, and Canada as the princess royal of the imperial family, was looked to, to give the lead.

TWO BRITISH STEAMERS SUNK

Fate of Crew of One Unknown—Twenty Members of Other Ship's Crew were Picked Up.

London, May 30, 11.55 p. m.—Lloyd's announces the sinking of two British steamers, the South Garth and the Delegarth. Twenty-two members of the crew of the South Garth were picked up. The fate of the crew of the Delegarth is not stated. The scenes of the disasters are not mentioned.

The South Garth was a vessel of 2,414 tons. She was built in 1891. Her home port was North Shields. Her recent movements are not given in available shipping records.

The Delegarth was a vessel of 2,265 tons and was owned in Newcastle. Last reports of the steamer showed her in the Tyne, April 14.

TORPEDOED BY THE ITALIANS

Rome, May 30, (via Paris, 4.05 p. m.)—A large transport steamer was torpedoed and sunk by an Italian warship in the Austrian harbor of Trieste, on the night of May 25, it was officially announced this afternoon.

Italy, and Canada as the princess royal of the imperial family, was looked to, to give the lead.

KYTE MADE "STATEMENTS" BUT NO "CHARGES," CARVELL SAYS

CARLETON COUNTY GRIT'S CHANGED ATTITUDE GIVES FUSE COMMISSION A SURPRISE — BEGINNING TO REALIZE THAT THE "JIG IS UP"?

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, May 30.—What the result of the Fuse investigation will be is of course merely conjecture, but an indication of it may be gathered from the significant statement made by Mr. F. B. Carvell this afternoon when he declared emphatically that Mr. W. H. Kyte did not make "charges" in parliament when the investigation was demanded. He simply made "statements," Mr. Carvell's attitude came as a complete surprise, and has certainly created the impression that the opposition realize to the full that the "jig is up," and they are now running to cover. The situation is serious. Mr. Kyte's attitude in parliament is in accordance with Canadian and British customs and conditions.

How Mr. Carvell's extraordinary statement came about is what Mr. Carvell was one of those who took objection to General Hughes giving evidence upon the point that the examination of this morning was designed to show that Allison had secured commission on Canadian business. Mr. Hellmuth considered it was decidedly pertinent that General Hughes should give evidence on this matter.

"It seems to me that there is a lot of misapprehension about the statements made by Mr. Kyte," said Mr. Carvell. "Mr. Kyte made certain statements based on information given to the House and on evidence before the Davidson Commission as to General Hughes' relations with Col. Allison. He never said that General Hughes sent Allison down to find contracts."

Sir William Meredith—"Was not evidence brought out by Mr. Lloyd Harris of the Russell Company that to show that pressure had been brought to bear to have the contracts let across the line?"

Mr. Carvell—"Mr. Kyte never said that."

Sir William—"But the scope of the inquiry is wider than that."

Mr. Carvell—"I'll grant that it is. But there has been a great deal of misapprehension about the so-called 'Kyte charges.' He made no charges. He made statements."

Mr. Hellmuth—"I have certainly misinterpreted the purpose for which this investigation was ordered if it was not to find out about the actions taken by General Hughes and if it was not intended to reflect on either or both, or to clear either or both, if this was not its purpose then I am entirely at a loss to understand why the inquiry was brought on."

It should be added that Mr. Kyte has kept clear of the inquiry for weeks, and his absence has been commented upon significantly.

THE NO. 7 SIEGE BATTERY GOES TO NEW CAMP

Splendid Send-off Given to Soldier Boys Last Evening—Local Soldiers Lined Streets.

On several occasions since August, 1914, the people of St. John have gathered in thousands to bid Godspeed to the boys who have been leaving for the field of action, but the thousands who gathered last night to say farewell to Major Allen and men of No. 7 O. S. Siege Battery were entranced for their new training field eclipsed all former crowds.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather thousands thronged the streets to catch a last glimpse of the boys who are willing if necessary to make the supreme sacrifice.

At Reid's Point, where the battery landed, fathers, mothers and relatives eager to grasp the hand of their loved ones. The boys could be heard singing on their way over from Partridge Island and many a cheek was damp on the wharf as they listened to the melodious voices of the best and brightest of Canadian manhood. The men of the composite battalion cheered their brothers in the uniform of the king and their cheers could be distinctly heard across the water.

At 7:30 sharp the tug Silesia arrived at Reid's Point but the battery had come ashore by climbing up the side of the tug Neptune and across the S. S. Yarmouth onto the wharf. Every tugboat and steamer in the harbor blew their whistles. Such a scene of jubilation and cheering as the boys went to the wharf to bid their friends and relatives a last farewell. The boys were loaded with good-byes by their wives, mothers and sweethearts.

With the S. S. Governor Cobb pouring forth the shrill sound of its powerful steam whistle and the brass band playing a march, the men of No. 7 Siege Battery with military bearing and many strident bands their triumph march.

The route of parade was along Prince William, up Queen, along Charlotte and down King, along Dock and Mill to the station. Thousands lined the sidewalks to catch a passing glance at the boys in khaki. The main business places were bedecked with flags and bunting. The cheeriest of the boys in khaki continued all along the route traversed by the soldiers.

The scene at the depot was most impressive. The 15th Battalion lined up along one side of Dock street and the 14th Battalion lined up on the other side. Through the lane of khaki marched the Siege Battery, headed by the bugle band of the 15th Battalion.

The boys passed by the thousands at the station many a good luck and farewell was wished upon them, not without a feeling of regret.

Such a crowd, men, women and children seldom up Queen, along Charlotte and down King, along Dock and Mill to the station. Thousands lined the sidewalks to catch a passing glance at the boys in khaki. The main business places were bedecked with flags and bunting. The cheeriest of the boys in khaki continued all along the route traversed by the soldiers.

India's Viceroy Lauds Loyalty of Natives

Hardinge, in Farewell Address at Delhi, Notes Pleasant Relations with Persia and Afghanistan, and Punishment Visited on Mahads—Time Not Yet Ripe for Self-Government, He Asserts, but He Feels Sure of Concessions After War.

Lord Hardinge's farewell speech as Viceroy of India, delivered before the Imperial Legislative Council at Delhi, proved to be a frank discussion of Indian problems, mingled with high praise for the loyalty of the princes and peoples of the Empire. Parts of his address dealing with matters of more than local interest, are reproduced from the Calcutta Englishman:

"Turning to foreign affairs nearer home, it is pleasant to be able to state that in Persia there has been a very distinct improvement in the situation. We are on the most friendly terms with the Persian Government, who have at last realized the danger to which their country was exposed by the machinations of German and Austrian bands, and are doing their utmost to suppress them. I need hardly state in their efforts to restore order the Persian Government will continue to have our hearty co-operation and assistance in any way that they may desire. Our friend and ally, the Amir of Afghanistan, continues to maintain very friendly relations with the Government of India, and has recently renewed his assurances to observe an attitude of strict neutrality, and we have implicit confidence in his royal word."

"On the frontier perfect tranquility has for some time prevailed, except for raids by gangs of Mahads in the Dera Ismail Khan district. The cup of their misdeeds is already overflowing, and the day of retribution is at hand. As soon as our preoccupation elsewhere is relieved, and when it ceases for the Government to take drastic steps to put an end to the campaign of murder and plunder that has disgraced the Mahad tribes during the past few years."

"Except in Bengal, where, I am sorry to say, there has been a reversion to the old conditions, and which I wish to see put to an end, the policy of the Government has been successful. As soon as our preoccupation elsewhere is relieved, and when it ceases for the Government to take drastic steps to put an end to the campaign of murder and plunder that has disgraced the Mahad tribes during the past few years."

"The fact that at the conclusion of this great war question of far-reaching importance to India will arise, provoking discussion and requiring sympathetic consideration, is not a matter of which I have any doubt. It is a question which has my most earnest consideration, and the Home Government are in possession of my views as to how they should be solved in a generous measure. But it is not the time to discuss the place for dwelling upon them. I was glad when I read Sir Sateyendra Sinha's speech at the National Congress last December in which he strongly deprecates the suggestion of a concession in return for Indian loyalty. Loyalty has no price. It is priceless. It is not an object of exchange and barter. Whatever changes may be made in the future, it is the duty of the Government to be justified by the indomitable bravery of our soldiers, by the patriotic attitude of the people of India during the period of difficulty and stress, and by their political progress and moral development during the past few years. I will only say this—that the question of the improvement of the status, position, and prospects of the Indian officers and men of the Indian army is one that should have precedence over all others. For it is they who have borne the danger, heat, and burden of the day and have nobly maintained the honor and fame of the British and Colonial armies in Flanders and other theatres of war. I would urge, further, that special provision should be made by Government for those who have suffered permanent injuries as well as for the education of the orphans of Indian soldiers who have perished during the war, and that the future prospects of such children should always be a matter of concern to the Government and people of India."

"As regards the position of India within the Empire the announcement which I made in this Council last September to the effect that India's demand to be represented in future Imperial Conferences would be sympathetically considered by His Majesty's Government is, I think, likely to become historic, for it marks the beginning of a new era and the growth of more liberal ideas in regard to India not previously entertained. At the same time the reception by the Colonial Press of the resolution relating to the representation of India at the next Imperial Conference, proposed in this Council last September by the Hon. Mr. Mohamed Shah and unanimously accepted, was most encouraging, and was a good indication of the change in the angle of vision of our fellow-subjects in the Dominions towards India and the place that India should hold in the councils of the Empire. I feel confident that the statesmen of the self-governing Dominions, recognizing the splendid services rendered by India to the Empire during the war, will generously seek a modification of the constitution of the Imperial Conference so as to admit the properly accredited representatives of India to sit side by side with them at the Imperial Council table on terms of equality. I rejoice in this matter to leave India with the high opportunity before her to take a place—a high and proud place—in the Empire."

"During the past few months I have seen mention made in speeches and meetings in the country and in the press of self-government, colonial self-government, and home rule for India. I have often wondered whether those speakers and writers fully realized the conditions prevailing in the Dominions such as Canada or Australia which render self-government possible. I wish that some of these could visit the Dominions and see for themselves. A study of the history of the Dominions would show that the development of their self-governing institutions had been achieved not by any sudden stroke of statesmanship, but by a process of steady and patient evolution which has gradually united and raised all classes of the community to the level of their enhanced responsibilities. I do not for a moment wish to discountenance self-government for India as a national ideal. It is a perfectly legitimate aspiration and has the warm sympathy of all moderate men, but in the present position of India

"The fact that at the conclusion of this great war question of far-reaching importance to India will arise, provoking discussion and requiring sympathetic consideration, is not a matter of which I have any doubt. I have often wondered whether those speakers and writers fully realized the conditions prevailing in the Dominions such as Canada or Australia which render self-government possible. I wish that some of these could visit the Dominions and see for themselves. A study of the history of the Dominions would show that the development of their self-governing institutions had been achieved not by any sudden stroke of statesmanship, but by a process of steady and patient evolution which has gradually united and raised all classes of the community to the level of their enhanced responsibilities. I do not for a moment wish to discountenance self-government for India as a national ideal. It is a perfectly legitimate aspiration and has the warm sympathy of all moderate men, but in the present position of India

"The fact that at the conclusion of this great war question of far-reaching importance to India will arise, provoking discussion and requiring sympathetic consideration, is not a matter of which I have any doubt. It is a question which has my most earnest consideration, and the Home Government are in possession of my views as to how they should be solved in a generous measure. But it is not the time to discuss the place for dwelling upon them. I was glad when I read Sir Sateyendra Sinha's speech at the National Congress last December in which he strongly deprecates the suggestion of a concession in return for Indian loyalty. Loyalty has no price. It is priceless. It is not an object of exchange and barter. Whatever changes may be made in the future, it is the duty of the Government to be justified by the indomitable bravery of our soldiers, by the patriotic attitude of the people of India during the period of difficulty and stress, and by their political progress and moral development during the past few years. I will only say this—that the question of the improvement of the status, position, and prospects of the Indian officers and men of the Indian army is one that should have precedence over all others. For it is they who have borne the danger, heat, and burden of the day and have nobly maintained the honor and fame of the British and Colonial armies in Flanders and other theatres of war. I would urge, further, that special provision should be made by Government for those who have suffered permanent injuries as well as for the education of the orphans of Indian soldiers who have perished during the war, and that the future prospects of such children should always be a matter of concern to the Government and people of India."

"As regards the position of India within the Empire the announcement which I made in this Council last September to the effect that India's demand to be represented in future Imperial Conferences would be sympathetically considered by His Majesty's Government is, I think, likely to become historic, for it marks the beginning of a new era and the growth of more liberal ideas in regard to India not previously entertained. At the same time the reception by the Colonial Press of the resolution relating to the representation of India at the next Imperial Conference, proposed in this Council last September by the Hon. Mr. Mohamed Shah and unanimously accepted, was most encouraging, and was a good indication of the change in the angle of vision of our fellow-subjects in the Dominions towards India and the place that India should hold in the councils of the Empire. I feel confident that the statesmen of the self-governing Dominions, recognizing the splendid services rendered by India to the Empire during the war, will generously seek a modification of the constitution of the Imperial Conference so as to admit the properly accredited representatives of India to sit side by side with them at the Imperial Council table on terms of equality. I rejoice in this matter to leave India with the high opportunity before her to take a place—a high and proud place—in the Empire."

"During the past few months I have seen mention made in speeches and meetings in the country and in the press of self-government, colonial self-government, and home rule for India. I have often wondered whether those speakers and writers fully realized the conditions prevailing in the Dominions such as Canada or Australia which render self-government possible. I wish that some of these could visit the Dominions and see for themselves. A study of the history of the Dominions would show that the development of their self-governing institutions had been achieved not by any sudden stroke of statesmanship, but by a process of steady and patient evolution which has gradually united and raised all classes of the community to the level of their enhanced responsibilities. ## "SCREECHING DEVILS", THEY CALL CANADIANS

Survivor of the Princess Patricia Tells of Their Fighting.

HOW FAMOUS REGT. CHARGED AT YPRES.

Says that Kitchener's Predictions About the War Lasting Three Years Will be Entirely Justified.

Boston, May 29.—The "screeching devils" is what the British Tommies call the Canadian soldiers—when they make a charge at the front—but what the Germans call them is unfit for publication.

So says Machine Gun Corporal J. A. Marion of the famous Princess Patricia Regiment, who called at the Globe office yesterday and gave a few vigorous impressions of the great war. He is one of the 125 left alive out of the original 1100, and every one of the 125 has been "hit," as he terms it. He himself bears a big scar on the left side of his head where he was struck by shrapnel.

Marion was born in Montana, but went into the Canadian Northwest with his father when he was a child. He is more than six feet tall, athletic in build and about 30 years old.

"Just why is it they call you the 'screeching devils'?" Marion laughed. The question evidently revived a flood of memories.

"The British Tommies don't know what to make of the Canadians. When we're off duty we fraternize with our officers, and have a good time. Tommy never goes near an officer on duty. They don't fraternize. But that isn't the whole of it. When the Canadians are on duty they work, and they work quick. And when they charge, they yell like devils and run so fast that the 'Tommies' can't keep up with 'em. And the way they swear is a caution—it's no place for a preacher's son, believe me."

Met Third Drive For Calais.

"In what part of 'Somewhere in France' were you located?" "We got to England in August, 1914, and they kept us nearly three months in camp to harden us up a bit. We went to France in December and we were rushed to the front at Ypres, and there was something done every day and night in that section and around St. Julien and Hill 60. I was corporal of a rapid-fire gun crew of eight men—a Vickers-Maxim, that had five 500 lb shells. They called it a 'five hundred pounder.' We were called in to service; that's why we were called in so quickly."

"There was some pretty tough fighting all through the winter months up to about the 15th of April—then hell broke loose for the next twenty days and nights. The Germans made their third drive for Calais and it was some time before we were able to get out of the trenches without getting our heads cut off."

"Do you consider the German a good fighter?" "Yes, the Germans are good fighters. They're disciplined men. They're good fighters enough but they've found out somebody else can fight. There are different kinds of Germans. Some of them say you're a d— good fighting man, but I couldn't tell a Prussian, for they're dirty fighters. They've done some awful dirty work in Flanders. They crucified three of our boys at St. Julien. We saw them. We also saw children whose hands they cut off and they have a habit of ham-stringing."

"Think Verdun Will Not Be Taken." "Now the Saxons are different; they are fair fighters, and good fighters. They're not dirty. We used to fraternize with them when they were in the trenches opposite us at Ypres, and some of them said they hated the Prussians. By the way, the men they crucified at St. Julien were machine gun men. The men in the trenches haven't forgotten that."

"Do you think the Germans will break through at Verdun?" "No. They haven't a chance to break through. If they couldn't break through the lines when the Allies were short of ammunition what chance have they now when the Allies have all the ammunition they want?"

"When do you think the Allies will make a drive?" "Not before next spring." "You mean a year from now?" "Yes, I had a letter from the colonel of our regiment not long ago and he said they were in the same trenches we were in a year ago. I was with the regiment fourteen months."

"But why a year?" "O, this is a bigger war than people realize. You know Kitchener said it would take about three years to finish the war. He is appearing in the 'How many of the first 35,000 Can-

RAISING OF HOGS PROFITABLE BUSINESS

As is well known, hogs have reached an unprecedentedly high level—$11.65 per cwt. being paid for fed and watered, on the Toronto market. The fact that, even with live hogs at this figure, shipments of bacon are regularly going forward to England, will serve to illustrate very clearly the demand for that product on the British market. Without doubt, Canada stands in a better position today to develop a permanent bacon trade with Great Britain than has ever been the case before. To do this, however, there must be volume of supply. There is very good reason to believe that, although prices cannot be expected to remain at the present high level, the demand for bacon, in the face of the supply that can be obtained, will be such as to hold the market in a very firm condition, both during and after a considerable period following the war.

Great Britain's imports of bacon in 1915 amounted to £25,411,460. From Canada she obtained only £3,324,511. The fact that Canadian bacon has been selling at an advance of from 10 to 12s. per cwt. above American and at not more than 12s. under the nominal quotation for Danish, illustrates very clearly to what extent Canada could increase her export trade, had she a sufficient quantity of hogs to make this possible. The English merchant and the British consumer will buy Canadian bacon today, quality being equal, in preference to that from any other country in the world, with the possible exception of Ireland. Not only so, but an enormous market exists also for hams, frozen pork and pork cuts of various descriptions. This market is as remunerative as the bacon trade, although it is not so constant. The West is producing a great quantity of rough grain this year. As compared with wheat, it will probably be relatively low in price. It should, therefore, be a sound business proposition to breed as many pigs this spring as would provide each farm next fall with such a number of feeding hogs as can be conveniently handled and suitably finished. They should, however, be so selected and prepared as to make the best quality of bacon type. Unless this be done, we cannot compete with Ireland and Denmark and will lose status on the British market. The development of our bacon trade is a purely commercial proposition and we must early recognize that we cannot sell to the British merchant unless we give him what he wants. This granted, thrifty management and good feeding should yield a return which will more than compensate for all the labor involved.

MEN WHO WELCOME WAR.

Soldiers sometimes welcome war as a means of release from a life which temerose, despair or some other feeling has made intolerable to them. A remarkable instance was that of a young officer. Some time before the present war broke out he was one day explaining the mechanism of a loaded gun to his sister. In doing so he accidentally exploded the charge, by which the poor girl was mortally wounded.

Her father's sole ambition was to die, and when war broke out he joyfully responded to the call to arms. Before he had long been at the front his wish was gratified.

There was the case of the son of a country solicitor. While employed in his father's office he absconded with a large sum of money. The disgrace preyed so much upon his father's mind that he fell ill and died.

When the son returned home, he was a prodigal invariably do—he found the home sold up, and his mother and sisters dependent on charity.

For the first time he realized the enormity of his wrong-doing, and joined the army, with the determination to take the first possible chance of service in the field. He went with his regiment to France, and there distinguished himself by a number of daring exploits before he was himself killed.

Married only a couple of years, his wife developed a scepticism as to his valor, which was peculiarly mortifying to him.

Telling her that she would some day have reason to be sorry for it, he went out to Gallipoli, resolved to undertake any task that presented the maximum of danger. If his widow still entertained any doubts as to his gallantry, it certainly is not shared by the deceased officer's comrades-in-arms.

When, however, he lost most of his fortune, she demanded to be released from her engagement. This caused him to give up all hope, and when he crossed over to the seat of war he had made up his mind never to come back.

Terrible Hardships by Army of Gen. Townsend Before Surrendering

Whole Garrison Would Have Perished if it had Held Out Few Days Longer—Every Cannon, Rifle and Cartridge Destroyed Before Surrender.

New York, May 30.—The Evening World today publishes the following: Bombay, India, May 30.—Stories of the terrible suffering of the British and Indian soldiers, and the inhabitants of Kut-el-Amara, before General Townsend gave up his gallant defense of the place, have been brought here by wounded and diseased prisoners, who were exchanged for Turkish prisoners. They were frightfully emaciated. The whole garrison would have perished if Townsend had held out a few days longer. When the capitulation was signed, only six miles were left to feed the army, and 20,000 of the civil population. When Townsend tried to send the Turkish civilians into the Turkish lines, the Turks hanged forty of them, and a warning to the remainder to stay and consume the British food. Before the surrender, every cannon, projectile, rifle and cartridge was destroyed. A diary of the siege shows only suffering for food. Before the surrender a dead officer's kit was sold. Eighty dollars was paid for a box of cigars and $20 for fifty American cigarettes. In February the rations daily consisted of a pound of barley meal, bread and a pound and a quarter of mule or horse flesh. In April it was four ounces of bread and a pound of flesh.

BERLIN CLAIMS GERMAN SHIP SUNK WITHOUT WARNING

Berlin, May 30, via wireless to Sayville.—Six men were lost in the attack by a submarine on the German steamer Kolga, sunk in the Baltic on May 17, according to a despatch to the Lubeck, where the survivors of the steamer have arrived. The despatch declares that the Kolga was shelled after she stopped, and that the submarine launched a torpedo which sank the steamer as the crew was about to lower the lifeboats. "The submarine appeared suddenly at a distance of 400 metres from the Kolga," says the despatch, "the submarine firing a shot which went wide, upon which the steamer immediately stopped. Notwithstanding this, one minute later a second shot was fired which destroyed the bridge. The crew, only half clad, rushed for the lifeboats while the captain ran to the cabin in an effort to rescue the ship's papers. "The submarine fired two more shots, both of which struck the steamer. One sailor was wounded. Immediately afterwards came a torpedo, although it could be clearly observed from the submarine that the crew was about to launch the lifeboats. "The torpedo caused the steamer to sink immediately, the captain, both the helmsman, the cook and two sailors perishing. "The enemy submarine opened fire without warning, and continued firing, in spite of the immediate stopping of the steamer. Furthermore the torpedo was fired as the crew was about to enter the boats, so that six out of nineteen sailors lost their lives. "It is only a short time since a party of four aliens who were supposed to be reporting regularly to parole officers, left the place suddenly and next thing heard of them was when a group photograph showing three of the party was received from the United States.

Would Wake Up With Smothering Spells.

There is nothing that brings with it such a fear of impending death as to wake up in the night with that awful sense of smothering. The terrible smothering, choking up and sinking feeling is caused by the heart and nerves being in a deranged condition, and calls for prompt relief. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only remedy that can give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in all cases of such severity. They strengthen and invigorate the heart, tone up the nervous system, and the trouble which is the cause of so much fear and anxiety becomes a thing of the past. Mrs. Wm. McEwain, Temperance Vale, N.B., writes: "I am not much of a believer in medicines, but I must say Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are all right. Some years ago I was troubled with smothering spells. In the night I would be sound asleep, but would wake up with my breath all gone, and think I would never get it back again. I was telling a friend of my trouble, and he advised me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. He also gave me a box which I tried, and I had only taken a few of them when I could sleep all night without any trouble. I did not finish the box until some years later, when I felt my trouble coming on again. I took the rest and they have cured me entirely. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box, 2 boxes for $1.25, at all druggists or mailed direct by The T. M. Mills Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OLD ARMY ON BRITISH FRONT COMPLETELY ENGULFED BY THE NEW REINFORCEMENTS

One Must Ride 100 Miles to Compass the British Front—Junior Officers Too Young to Vote Now Holding Positions of Great Responsibility.

British Headquarters, France, May 30.—A correspondent who has been absent for six months from the British front is amazed upon his return at the increase in numbers, men, guns and equipment. The numerous battalions of the new army which have arrived have engulfed the old regular army. Not one officer in ten that are met have had any military service before the war. It now requires a ride of a hundred miles to compass the British front. Khaki is thick in the villages of the Somme country as well as in those of Northern Belgium. The British hold the famous "Labyrinth" as well as Ypres and Loos. In the course of the taking over of a long section of the French line which freed French troops for service hundreds of miles of wire had to be laid, transport organized, headquarters moved, new corps and divisions created and commanders appointed. In the last few months new men have come into positions of responsibility. Men who entered the army as second lieutenants have become captains without yet being old enough to vote. Majors have become colonels and generals.

British Victory in The Soudan Greater Than at First Was Believed

Pick of Sultan of Darfur's Troops Were in the Fight and Were Completely Defeated—Disarming of the Tribesmen Going on Satisfactorily.

London, May 30.—Further reports of the fighting last week, in the Sudan, in which Col. Kellie's force defeated some 3,000 troops of Ali Dinar, Sultan of Darfur, show the British victory to have been greater than at first announced, according to an official statement today, which says: "The completeness of the victory over the Sultan of Darfur on May 23, is confirmed by a further telegram from the Sudan. All the Sultan's best troops and commanders were present. Most of the latter were accounted for or surrendered. The disarmament of the tribesmen is proceeding satisfactorily. Several thousand rifles and a large quantity of ammunition already have been handed in. "On the morning following the battle, our aeroplanes threw bombs on a large body of men fleeing from El Fasher, with Ali Dinar. The latter was last seen at the head of a following of only 300 men. He was faced by a journey of one and a half days, across a waterless desert, before he could reach Gebelmarra."

No Actual Shortage, but High Prices From Deficiency Due to Requirements of Armies in the Field. At Least Two Loaves a Week He Writes—Released from Internment Camp and Living in Berlin.

London, May 30.—There is now believed to be a possibility that the people of the British Isles will be placed on meat rations. Captain Ernest Freyman, parliamentary under-secretary for the Board of Trade, in the House of Commons today, said that although there was no actual shortage, the existing high prices arose from a deficiency due to the requirements of the forces in the field. The government, he added, was reviewing the situation carefully. Quebec, May 30.—Friends of Dr. Beland, member of the Canadian House of Commons, received a postal card, dated in Berlin, saying the doctor is now out of the internment camp, and living in Berlin. In a hidden corner of the card Dr. Beland asks that his friends in Canada send him regularly, each week, at least, two loaves of bread.

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio. Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely. It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTION.

The defeat of Hon. P. G. Mahoney in Westmorland yesterday was admittedly a surprise to both Government and opposition workers. Of course, oppositionists will refer to it as indicating the "handwriting on the wall," but the true significance of the result is found in the fact that so many of the voters of Westmorland were willing to listen to outside canvasses and lose sight of the real questions at issue. It is not necessary to make excuses, an analysis of the vote will speak for itself and the message it will carry to other counties in the province is that the oppositionists succeeded with an appeal to the prejudices of race and sect. Among the French-speaking voters the Laurier position on bilingualism was worked to the limit. Electors were asked to support the Liberal candidate and thus show their approval of Sir Wilfrid's attitude toward Quebec. With other canvass Mr. Mahoney had to meet a class similarly directed against his race and religion.

Another matter upon which particular stress was laid was Dr. Smith's openly announced uncertainty as to prohibition. While the Government had already passed prohibitory legislation the opposition candidate declared himself as favoring a policy of submitting that question to the people. Evidently the majority of the voters who exercised their franchise yesterday thought as he did.

These things and the general slanderous and unworthy attempt to visit upon the Clarke Government the responsibility for the sins of their predecessors had more effect than was expected. The contest was brief but exceedingly bitter. The opposition turned every gun they could command to the fight. F. B. Carvell and A. B. Copp, both Federal members, were brought in and took a prominent part in the campaign. Later, when the intelligent electors of Westmorland have taken time to consider the opportunity afforded to them of securing representation in the Government of New Brunswick by the return of Hon. P. G. Mahoney, which opportunity they threw over for the nebulous assurances of the Cartervellites, they will realize the magnitude of their mistake. There are other counties in the province which will welcome the opportunity Westmorland, yesterday, rejected. The result is, of course, disappointing to Government workers but the people of the constituency in which the election was held are the real losers.

The return of Dr. Smith will be an advantage to the opposition party which hitherto has been handicapped by the absence of an English-speaking representative in the Legislature. Whether, in his public career, he will be his own man or rest content with a position as a mere pawn in the hands of Messrs. Carter and Veniot remains to be seen.

THE LESSON OF WESTMORLAND.

If yesterday's result in the County of Westmorland serves to bring home to supporters of the New Brunswick Government the necessity of working harmoniously in the interests of the party and province, of organizing and preparing as assiduously and after the same fashion as the oppositionists have done, then the defeat of Hon. P. G. Mahoney may prove a blessing in disguise. The campaign which closed yesterday has taught something to the supporters of the Government and to the Conservative party in this province. They know now the sort of canvasses they will have to contend against when next they appeal to the people of any riding. They also know, or should know, the depths of misrepresentation and mud throwing to which the desperate oppositionists are willing to descend. More than once during the Westmorland campaign has its bitterness been deplored. However, if the tactics which have been used to defeat Hon. Mr. Mahoney are to be regarded as samples of the opposition mode of warfare to be followed in the future then the Government party should not be found unprepared. The real questions of importance to the people of this province cut very little figure in yesterday's voting. Matters of federal patronage, appeals to man plan of economizing food by putting the whole British population on regular rations. This would necessitate the control of the whole food supply by the government. It is very improbable that so drastic a measure as that will be necessary for a good while yet, but the fact that it has been seriously proposed ought to compel the British people to realize the imperative need of practicing economy.

The Nova Scotia general election is booked for the month of June. That will probably afford the next political excitement. And, judging from reports from the sister province, the Murray-Daniels Grit administration is on the run.

Watch the Daily Ananias this morning. It is a long time since that newspaper has had a chance to crow.

THE 115TH CONCERT WAS GRAND SUCCESS

Large Audience Attended Particularly Enjoyable Entertainment in Imperial Theatre Last Evening.

To say that the very large audience in attendance at the farewell concert given by the 115th Battalion brass band in the Imperial Theatre last night were well pleased with the programme, would be placing it very mildly, for there was not one of the twelve or fifteen hundred people present who was not delighted, and critics who have a right to judge, highly complimented Bandmaster M. E. Perkins and his band of musicians for the masterly manner in which they rendered some of the most difficult selections.

When it is taken into consideration that the 115th band has been organized but a few months, the manner in which they performed last night is indeed worthy of the greatest praise. The programme which did not commence until some time after nine o'clock opened with the rendering of "On Canada" by the band. This was followed by the march "Loyal Canadians," composed by W. W. Swornbourne, the leader of the Imperial Orchestra. The composer conducted the band in this selection, which was received with loud applause.

After a few other selections by the band, the overture "Semiramis" was rendered in a masterly manner. Miss Kathleen March was next on the programme, who in a sweet voice sang "En Septembre," much to the delight of the audience. The violin solo "Husarian Fantasia," was given by J. Harvey Gayne who clearly showed that he was an artist of the highest order on that instrument.

Miss Blenda Thompson made a decided impression upon, with orchestra assisting, sang "Where'er the British Flag Unfurls." A. J. Mason came in for much applause when in excellent voice he rendered the solo entitled "What Shall I Say."

A Clarinet solo, with band accompaniment, by the soloist Thomas Abbott, also proved one of the gems of the programme.

The grand selection entitled "A Soldier's Life" was the last number on the programme given by the band, and was undoubtedly the best. It was a most difficult number, and could only be rendered by expert musicians, and the band of the 115th, by the manner in which it performed proved they can easily rank with some of the best musical organizations in Canada.

Messrs. M. C. Ewins and Dudley S. Robillard were the pianists during the concert. It was eleven o'clock when one of the best musical programmes ever given in the city, was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

The proceeds of the concert are in aid of the Battalion funds, and a large amount was realized.

AN INCIDENT OF THE PARADE LAST NIGHT

There was considerable comment in military circles last evening during the parade through the streets of the No. 7 Siege Battery because of the fact that although the 140th Battalion brass band started from Reed's Point with the battery the band did not commence to play the soldiers to the depot.

About a thousand people were at the point when the men from Partridge Island formed up in column. It was then noticed that the 140th band was present to play the boys through the street. It was also noticeable that the bugle band belonging to the battery was placed in front of the brass band, and this was remarked upon by a soldier at the time as something out of the ordinary. The proper place for the brass band is at the head of the procession. From what happened later it shows that this was taken notice of by an officer of the 140th and the following is what happened. The bands kept in the same position they occupied on leaving the point and paraded along Prince William, to Queen, thence to Charlotte street. As they were walking along the latter street an officer of the 140th taking notice where his battalion band had been placed stepped out into the street and

These must be bona fide new subscriptions, for if it should be found that members of the club entering this competition endeavor to have transfers of subscriptions made from one member of a family to another, or for the same person to a different address, these entries will be cancelled.

Herewith are given the names and relative standing of the ten members of the club who are now in the lead. This list will be changed from day to day by some small amounts credited to other workers, for many of the girls are playing the game according to their own ideas and are holding back what they have so far.

There will be no further prizes offered during the life of this club. Members holding renewal payments may defer holding renewal payments until the next week or so.

HIGH PRAISE FOR ST. PAUL'S SCOUTS

"Not a Finer Troop in the City," Said A. C. Skelton After Meeting Last Night—The Mission Church Boys.

"I consider that there is not a finer troop of Boy Scouts than the St. Paul's Church Troop," said A. C. Skelton, president of the local Boy Scout council, when addressing the boys last night in the schoolroom of St. Paul's church. The occasion was the presentation of some eighteen tenderfoot and second class badges, gained by the scouts during the season.

After the whole troop had given a splendid display of scoutwork in general, Mr. Skelton gave a short and encouraging address, in the course of which he said that he considered that there was not a finer troop of Boy Scouts in the city than the St. Paul's troop, and he congratulated the officers on their fine showing, as both the scoutmasters and their troop deserved great praise. The boys were smart, well disciplined and diligent in their studies. He then awarded the badges and also presented to the best all-round patrol the special prize which he offered at the beginning of the season, which was a hand camera for Patrol Leader Seelye, and scout knives for each of the nine boys in the patrol.

After the boys had shown their appreciation by prolonged cheers and B. C. Waring had given them some instruction, refreshments, prepared by members of the troop, were handed around and much enjoyed. The singing of the National Anthem concluded what was considered as the most enjoyable time they had had for some time. It may be mentioned that this meeting concluded the work of the scouts until next fall.

The Mission Church Troop of Boy Scouts also had a splendid time last evening when they held their final meeting for the season. Lady members of the church kindly prepared refreshments which were very much enjoyed by some thirty Boy Scouts after they had given a fine display of the work in which they had been engaged during the season.

SCARCITY OF VESSELS EFFECTS LUMBERING

Miramichi Lumber Co. Shipping by Rail—Yards Piled up Awaiting Arrival of Barges.

Chatham, May 29.—The Miramichi Lumber Company has commenced the shipment of roused lumber by rail, owing to the high rates of ocean freights and the scarcity of vessels. Four cars a day are being shipped, averaging from 17 to 25 cords to a car. But this is only about half the daily capacity of the mill. The yards are very much piled up, and unless the barges which the company expect arrive soon more cars will have to be shipped to keep the mill clear.

Railway men were in town the other day taking surveys for another siding near the wood conveyors. The shipping by rail will mean more employment and, of course, greater cost in freight and handling than previously. Some of our river men look upon the towing of barges as a very impracticable method, as rough weather may detain a tow an indefinite time, and may result in the whole output being shipped by rail. As a consequence of lack of normal shipping facilities only one of the two Chatham mills is running by day where formerly one ran day and night or both by day.

Lieut. Edmund J. White, of C. Company, Bathurst, and Miss Elizabeth Palmer, of Dorchester, were married at the Episcopal residence here Saturday by Capt. (Rev.) E. L. Murdoch. They were attended by Lieut. Ralph McTernan and Miss Dorothy Murdoch.

The marriage of Mr. Chas. Cassidy and Miss Margaret Johnston, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Johnston, was solemnized at the cathedral this morning by the Rev. M. A. O'Keefe. The bride was attended by Miss McDonald, of Pictou, and M. J. Kelley of Campbellton supported the groom. The happy couple left for a brief honeymoon trip to Boston. A large number of their friends were at the station to see them off.

ACCURACY PRIZE FOR J. S. PETTIT

New York Angler Shows Improvement and Defeats Notable Competitors in Central Park Tournament.

New York, May 30.—Showing remarkable improvement in his manipulation of the rod and reel, James S. Pettit won the accuracy prize in the Central Park tournament of the Anglers' Club of New York in Central Park yesterday. The skill and sureness of his cast surprised competitors and spectators alike. But his margin of victory was scant, only a fraction of one per cent, separating the winner and J. S. Schwinn, of Newark, the second man.

O. T. Mackey, a seventy-five-year-old veteran, demonstrated that one old boy can beat quite a few youngsters by taking second prize in the light tackle distance fly event. Among those whom the veteran defeated was Dr. Felton, winner of many tournament prizes.

The summaries:—
Accuracy Fly.—Targets at fifty, fifty-five and sixty feet from platform; five casts at each with wet fly; open handicap. Won by J. S. Pettit (10-15 per cent), with 99.75 per cent, not to exceed five ounces; eighty-five foot class. Won by G. R. Jenkins, with 88.5 average.

Light Tackle Distance Fly.—Not to exceed five ounces; open handicap. Won by Perry D. Frazer (scratch), with a total score of 94 feet.

BOXING NOTES.

Milwaukee will hold a classy bout Friday night, when Charlie White and Ritchie Mitchell will clash. The latter is touted as a wonderful boxer and is credited with a win over Freddie Welsh. It will be another good test for Mitchell.

At Turner's Falls Friday night, Harry Carlson of Brockton will meet Young Chakas and it should be a great bout. Ad Wolzast and Jimmy Murphy meet in Denver on Friday night.

Ted Lewis is likely to meet Johnny Griffiths here the latter part of next month. Johnny Dundee and Benny Leonard will probably meet in New York June 7.

Ed Moha, the Milwaukee boxer, accuses Ted Lewis of using his thumbs to win his battle, Moha declares Lewis is kept pushing his thumbs in his eyes till he had him blinded.

Terry Martin, the Olneyville bantam, says he has been victimized by managers. Martin declares he has only realized $1,000 on his 12 bouts.

Young Saylor is now satisfied that he has no chance against Charlie White and will not box him again.

THE UBIQUITOUS ENVER.

Enver Pasha, so far from being assassinated, is now said to have paid a visit to the Prophet's Tomb at Medina. This, from its being the city of refuge after the Hegira, or flight from Mecca, is accounted the second holiest city of the Mohammedan world. In the midst of the mosque is reputed to be the Prophet's body, undecayed, at full length, on the right side, with the right palm supporting the right cheek and with the face looking towards Mecca. The first two caliphs, Abubekr and Omar, bear him company in a sanctuary of black marble hung with costly curtains embroidered with gold letters descriptive of the contests.—London Chronicle.

PLAYER LIMIT IS RAISED.

Chicago, May 30.—American Association club owners, in a special meeting here today, repealed the rule of February 21, 1915, imposing a player limit of sixteen men, and will be governed henceforth only by the rule of the national agreement which puts the limit for class AA clubs at twenty men. Re-awakened interest in the game was given as the reason for the change.

GOLFERS UNDER LIE.

If the United States Golf Association strictly enforces its amateur-professional rules, it means the disqualification of at least 4,000 linksters who formerly figured as amateurs.

There are that many golfers laboring in sporting goods shops or engaged in the golfing business. And this puts them in the same class of Francis Ouimet, who has been shoved out of the amateur ranks.

Charles R. Durborow, the big Philadelphia amateur long-distance swimmer, has already started his summer campaign. A week ago Sunday he swam from Riverton, N. J., to Beverly, N. J., a distance of 16 miles, in 6h, 30m; last Sunday he covered 20 miles, from Riverton to Chestnut street, Philadelphia, in 6h, 59 m, and next Sunday he plans to take a 29-mile jaunt in the Delaware River from Piverton to Bristol, Penn. These swims are preparatory to Durborow's second attempt to negotiate the mouth of Chesapeake Bay from Cape Charles to Cape Henry on June 23.

Cheerful as the June Sun

So many homes lack proper heating that it is often thought houses must either be cold in winter or hot and stuffy. Yet the heating of a home can be like the natural warmth of June—the air as warm, as healthfully humid, as fresh and pure.

The Sunshine Furnace radiates the healthful heat of the sun. Pure air is sent evenly over the house, warm, fresh—and clean. The dust and fine ashes, so often seen whenever most furnaces are shaken down, never get out of the Sunshine Furnace.

Dry air not necessary

The Sunshine Furnace supplies air as balmy as summer. This comes from a large water pan so located that it can be refilled easily.

Firing up and closing the dampers of the Sunshine Furnace does not send coal gas into the house. The volume of gas freed from the new coal is drawn off up the chimney. The Sunshine not only keeps the whole house warm and cosy, but continually circulates clear, pure air.

Montreal, May 30.—Accustomed to a rather dull market, Wall Street is holding steady and did not anticipate much today. The way of developments, particularly of the American holiday party because of the tendency of the market during the past few days to fluctuate on the rather rapid pace the market has been trotting.

The breadth and strength of the market in consequence of the nature of a surprise rally in the session after a start as much as the level of yesterday's closing prices, the list began to show signs of weariness and prices sagged slightly by the noon hour and had passed away and the trading summed a stronger tone for the part and prices fully recovered they had lost.

The Steel group continued the trend of interest but attention drawn to the specialty strong market for Canada Steamship shares, the feared reaching a new high at 53, while the common rose to 27 1/2, 26 yesterday and compared with high some weeks ago at 23 1/2.

A new record for Wayagamac 46 1/2, a tendency on the part of the market to get a place in the market and a further rally in Car, which placed it back on the price level of the publication of the annual report were features of the best market rally speaking for some days past.

Steel of Canada took a more prominent place in the trading in the noon disputing the leadership from Iron. Steel worked up from 63 1/2, as against a record of 64 1/2, a couple of weeks ago, iron opened at and developed a slightly easier tone at 58 1/2, later settling at 59.

A more active market for C.P.R. developed selling being in sufficient volume to depress the price from 178 1/2 compared with 179 1/2 to 179 3/4 the forenoon. Later it rallied to 179 1/2 and the preferred touched a new high at 85, with the common at 37 to elsewhere changes were of small amount.

MARKET STRONG IN AFTERNOON

Better Tone Developed And Prices Recovered Losses Of Forenoon.

STEEL GROUP AGAIN CENTRE OF INTEREST

More Active Market for Canadian Pacific—Further Rally in Car One of the Few Features.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, May 30.—Accustomed to look for a rather dull market here all day Wall Street is holidaying, the local did not anticipate much today in the way of developments, partly in view of the American holiday and partly because of the tendency shown during the past few days to slacken up on the rather rapid pace the market has been trotting.

The breadth and strength of some quarters of the market in consequence came in the nature of a surprise. Midway in the session after a start pretty much at the level of yesterday's closing prices, the list began to show signs of weakness and prices sagged slightly but by the noon hour all had passed away and the trading assumed a stronger tone for the most part and prices fully recovered what they had lost.

The steel group continued the centre of interest but attention was drawn to the specially strong market for Canadian Steamship shares, the preferred reaching a new high at 84 1/2, while the common rose to 27 1/4 from 25 yesterday and compared with high some weeks ago at 23 1/2.

A new record for Wayagmack at 46 1/2, a tendency on the part of forgings to get a place in the market sun, and a further rally in Car, which placed it back on the price level prior to the publication of the annual report were features of the best market generally speaking for some days past.

Steel of Canada took a more prominent place in the trading in the afternoon, disputing the leadership with Iron. Steel worked up from 63 1/2 to 64, as against a record of 64 1/2 a couple of weeks ago. Iron opened at 59 1/2 and developed a slightly easier feeling at 58 7/8, later selling at 59.

A more active market for C.P.R. developed selling being in sufficient volume to depress the price from 178 1/2 to 175 compared with 179 1/2 to 179 3/4 in the forenoon. Later it rallied to 179. Steamships issues continued strong and the preferred touched a new high at 85, with the common at 27 to 27 1/4. Elsewhere changes were of small extent.

WINNIPEG WHEAT CLOSE. (McDOUGALL & COWANS.) May ..... 112 1/2. July ..... 115 1/2.

BASEBALL FROM TRENCHES. Jack Graney, of the Cleveland Indians, has received a letter from Carlton (Dad) Stewart, former manager of the St. Thomas Canadian League team, in which Stewart, now a soldier in the trenches in France, sends a picture of Graney and Cobb, which he says he found posted up in a trench along the first line of defence.

Stewart says the Canadians could stand the hardships of war if they only could get news of the major league ball games. As for himself, he was in fine fettle when he wrote, and in his letter to Graney that if his arm held out he would account for a good many dead Germans as a bomb thrower. "If they all had my control," writes Stewart, "we soon could end this cruel war."

THROWS HAMMER 168 FEET. Brunswick, Me., May 30.—Capt. Guy Leachetter of the Bowdoin College track team, in practice this afternoon, threw the hammer 168 feet 6 1/2 inches. This throw, which beats the New England and intercollegiate records, was the last throw for him to make in practice, for Bowdoin. Capt. Leachetter, Savage, hurdler, and Sampson, pole vaulter, will represent Bowdoin at the intercollegiate meet Friday and Saturday.

REVIEW OF THE HARDWARE AND METAL MARKET

Shortage of Material and Labor an Impediment—Market Steadier Last Week.

The volume of trade continues good and the warmer weather has stimulated it. It will also dry up the country roads, thus helping the retail trade in the rural districts. The demand for springs and summer lines is brisk and goods are moving out in good volume. A shortage in some lines of hardware is reported from all parts of the country and indications point to conditions becoming considerably worse. Although at present a comparatively few items are affected, there is no doubt that as time passes there will develop a shortage in practically all lines of hardware.

There is no relief in sight as the situation as regards raw materials is getting worse rather than better. Manufacturers are unable to get raw materials in sufficient quantities which restricts production and delays deliveries of goods to the jobbers. Shortage of labor is also materially affecting the situation and causing manufacturers considerable inconvenience. The market is steadier and lower price changes have to be noted this week. There is, however, no evidence of weakness in the market and it is possible that the present high level of prices will be maintained, even if the upward movement stops. It is quite likely that there will be further advances in some lines, particularly those composed of iron and steel, as the steel market is very active and demand is as insistent as ever.

The most important advance this week is in various, including copper wire, galvanized, and steel. A further advance in Remington-Union-T.M.C. 22 rim fire cartridges has been announced, while other lines affected include fibrous and bristle brushes, black spruce cloth, wash boards, stove boards, heavy tea and strap hinges, boiler plate. Business conditions are reported as being favorable in Winnipeg, but a shortage of some hardware lines is causing considerable anxiety. Fewer advances are reported and include brass clippers, express wagon, bays, bamboo poles. A cartage strike in Winnipeg is delaying deliveries. In the iron metal markets, copper continues firm and in good demand, other metals developed further weakness and have declined, otherwise prices are firm and unchanged. Collections continue to show an improvement.

KERRIGAN VALUES FACE AT TENTH OF MILLION. Insures Handsome Features For Small Fortune.

A one hundred thousand dollar insurance policy on the face of J. Warren Kerrigan is the latest development of the insurance department, and has caused a sensation even in the view of the huge sums paid on ocean freights during this war period.

It came about because the authorities happened to be giving a try-out to a new kind of light, which was lauded by their inventor as more brilliant, and at the same time cheaper to operate than either the Cooper-Hewitts or the Klieg lights. Photographic effects, however, were no better with the new lights than they are with the old, and the verdict went against the innovation. The inventor of their trial was almost forgotten when, about three months afterwards, the electrician who had most to do with the new system, complained of an eruption on his skin, which caused him great discomfort. No one could imagine the cause of the eruption, which was bad enough to keep the man in hospital, and refused to yield to treatment, promising to leave permanent marks on the skin, similar to the effect of smallpox.

At last some one remembered the new lights. An inquiry was made, resulting in the discovery that their action on the skin was not unlike that of the X-rays. Kerrigan, who had been exposed to their baleful influence at the same time, immediately became seriously concerned. Such a disfigurement would spell disaster for him. The idea of the insurance of his countenance was the result of this, and he is at present the only actor in the world who carries an insurance of $100,000 on his face.

NEWS LETTER FROM MONTREAL EXCHANGE

Montreal, May 30.—The expectations today were that with the N. Y. market closed on account of a holiday, our local market would be rather dull. The opening was quiet but the market developed strength towards the close. Nova Scotia Steel seemed to be in good demand. Steel of Canada was active and very strong. Dominion Iron did not hold all its gain but considering the advance it has acted very well, as most of the buying has come from New York. There is still good buying of all the steel stocks.

Patriotic Carnival.

A grand patriotic carnival is to be given in St. John under the auspices of the Brunswick Chapter, Daughters of the Empire. The date is June 10th and the place is Seaside Park. A meeting of the Chapter was held last evening to complete arrangements for this event. And it will be an event, for all sorts of attractions are to be offered. A Manderin is coming from New York who, dressed in gorgeous robes, will be in charge of a Japanese tea-house where cups of tea will be served in true Oriental style. The Manderin will be assisted by Japanese maidens who, in their picturesque costumes, will no doubt be very attractive. Japanese goods will also be sold at this booth. There will be a gift with all its contents, contest will be sold and there will be much to entertain and amuse. The proceeds are for patriotic funds. A prominent feature of the programme will be the presentation of the band instruments to the 140th Battalion. These are the instruments purchased through the fund raised by Brunswick Chapter, I.O.D.E., and The St. John Standard.

Dr. Mary Crawford's Address.

Dr. Mary Crawford of New York is expected in St. John on Thursday when she will give an address on her experiences in French hospitals in war time. Dr. Crawford will also go to Moncton, St. Stephen and Fredericton before leaving the province.

First Aid.

The class of instruction in First Aid, under the care of Dr. Dunlop, began last evening at the Red Cross rooms, Chipman Hill.

Flowers to Aid Funds.

Two young ladies recently gathered two young bunches of violets which they took to the Military Hospital, where they were much appreciated. It would be a good plan for some society to take up the idea and have a violet day. These popular flowers were never so plentiful and if a depot were arranged for many in the county table, Miss Ethel Flaherty, Miss Winifred McNeil, Miss Florence Allen and Miss Anna Coughlan. Ladies in charge of the tea tables, Mrs. Haney, Mrs. Joe. Nichols, Mrs. J. McCarthy, Mrs. John Stack, Mrs. Martin McGuire, Mrs. DeLan, Mrs. Ramsey and Mrs. Killom. Games in charge of Messrs. F. Driscoll, H. Driscoll, D. Connelley, P. Fitzpatrick. Taking tickets, Messrs. J. Nichol, J. Slattery, M. Donovan. The proceeds are in aid of the Infants' Home.

The regular meeting of the Soldiers' Wives' League will be held on Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock instead of on Thursday, owing to the reception to be given at the Manor House for Dr. Mary Crawford on Thursday afternoon at four o'clock.

The work at the Military Hospital is also in full swing. A committee of ladies every day to cook after the desert provided by society to wait is to keep the addition of dainties to the regular menu from adding a lot of work to that of the already busy nurses. The helpers do anything which needs to be done and have another women's war activity has been undertaken. City teachers offered their services for Saturdays and Sundays. Many of the workers are those who have taken the St. John Ambulance First Aid Courses.

Letters Received by Uncle Dick From His Boys and Girls

TODAY'S LITTLE JOKE.

Mother (whose husband was sick with a trained nurse)—
"What-are you doing children?"
"Don't you know it isn't nice, Tommy, to kiss your sister that way?"
"Tommy—I know, mamma, but she's playing nurse."

Uncle Dick's Picture An Inspiration?

Grey's Mills, N. B.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
You couldn't guess how surprised and delighted I was to get a prize and such a lovely one too. I think I can get four or five people to join the Children's Corner. It will be very nice to see your picture when you have it in school, and have a hard question to do, perhaps it would put the answer in your head and how to do it. I think this week's contest is a lovely one, and I know how to do it. The writing is what stinks me in contests because I can't write good. I am left handed. My teacher says that's why I cannot write good.

Joining the Corner.

Beaufort, N. B.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
I am not a member of the Children's Corner, but would be one if I knew how to do in order to become a member. My papa takes The Standard. With best wishes.

Another Sussex New Member.

Sussex, Kings Co. N. B.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
I have done the puzzle in The Standard this week. I have written one letter to you before. I was setting four new members so I joined. Will close for this time.

Knows Many Connettes.

Upper Gasquetown.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
I am enclosing the puzzle which I solved. I have only written once before this, but will try to do better for this. I know many of the writers to the Children's Corner. I was fourteen on the 2nd of January. I like school very much, and am in the tenth grade.

Trying Hard to Grade.

65 Elliott Row.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
I am trying to try and answer this Jumble Word Contest. I go to school and am in grade six. I am trying hard to grade, as I missed about a month of school, so I had better work hard hadn't I?

From St. Mary's Kiddle.

St. Mary's, N. B.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
I am answering the contest in this week's paper. My mother has got The Standard for about three years now. I am in the fifth grade.

Wants to Join.

Edgett's Landing.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
I would like to join the Children's Corner. I am trying the Jumble Word Contest and hope that I win a prize. With best wishes.

WINSOME VIOLA DANA, MAKES METRO DEBUT

"The Flower of No Man's Land" Her Initial Offering.

Viola Dana, one of the most gifted and charming of the younger stars of the screen, will make her debut on the Metro program in "The Flower of No Man's Land," a five part production. This story was especially selected for Miss Dana to introduce her to Metro audiences. It is a strong story that gives her

WHAT MARGUERITE BEES AND HEARS AT THE MOVIES.

That the actors in the plays are the only people who do not have to look up telephone numbers. They just take down the receiver and immediately get the person they want.

That at the Opera House when Laddie the manager's dog barked just at the moment a dog dogged the screen a little girl's voice piped out: "Is that a real dog Mummie?"

And at the Imperial at the picture "Thou Shalt Not Cover" as the savage chief in all his war paint was seen, a childish voice was heard to say: "Is he a bad man mother?" He certainly didn't look harmless exactly.

That the Unique that we don't see why Mamie Rose had to die in "Regeneration." She was so sweet and Owen had tried so hard to be good. We wish writers would give up this "artistic" ending and let us go home happy.

At the Lyric, that everybody was happy in April and it was delightful.

That the Buenos Aires Mounted Police carry swords instead of bills, and wear such long spurs that they have to come down stairs sideways, according to the Paramount Travel picture.

VIOLA DANA.

splendid opportunities to make the best of her rare dramatic talents. Unusual care has been exercised in surrounding her with a capable cast, and no expense will be spared to make her debut with Metro a notable one.

Miss Dana is a supreme artist in every sense of the word. Her versatility and charm are delightfully refreshing and her powers of dramatic expression have a quality that is all Miss Dana's own. Early in her career she created a sensation in her wonderful delineation of the stellar role in "The Poor Little Rich Girl," one of the most successful plays ever seen on Broadway. Since coming to motion pictures Miss Dana has found the most complete expression of her art. For in the silent drama she is called upon to essay a new character every few weeks, while on the speaking stage she was held to one part for from one to two years.

Two of Wilkie Collins' novels will be read as long as the public maintains its interest in the English novel. One is "The Moonstone," a story of mystery; the other is "Armadale," a story of the conflict of a rightful and an adopted heir. The former story was filmed some time ago, but it remained for the Gaumont Company to put it on the screen. This it has done in a conscientious manner, telling the story in three reels crowded with such breathless incidents as only Wilkie Collins could create. It will be seen on the screen May 25 with Miss Iva Shepard and Alexander Garden in the star roles.

William Russell, star and director of the American-Mutual Masterpiece, de Luxe Edition, is but twenty-five

College Girl Makes Record as Bookie in Pittsburgh.

Emile L. Ross, a woman bookie in the Pittsburgh office of the V.L.S.E. is pronounced one of the most efficient bookies in the business by E. O. Child, Pittsburgh manager for the company, says Motion Picture News. This commendation has been sent recently in a letter to the home office.

Miss Ross, a college graduate, came to the V.L.S.E. a year ago in a stenographic capacity. Her advancement has been rapid.

A "Moving" Star

Marguerite Clayton, pretty Essanay leading woman, finds that the home life motion picture actors are said to enjoy is not always what it is supposed to be. This is because of President George K. Spoor's insistence on getting realistic settings.

Miss Clayton first came to the Essanay studios in Chicago from the Niles, California, studio. She was immediately sent to Starved Rock, Illinois, to take part in a picture there, then she was sent to "The Pines" in Wisconsin for another picture.

Later she went with a company to Virginia, Minnesota, on the border line of Canada, where she took the feminine lead in "Beyond the Law," taken from Henry Oyen's novel, "The Snow Burner Pays."

Hardly had she returned from the north when she was sent with a troupe to the southland where she appears in the feminine lead in "According to the Code," which is being filmed on Signal Mountain and neighboring peaks of the Tennessee range, in Tennessee.

Drinking Ice Cream Soda is one of the fads of Edna Purviance, playing opposite Charles Chaplin in the new Chaplin-Mutual comedies. As soon as work at the studio has been halted for the day, Miss Purviance walks back to town in order to work up a thirst, which she quenches with any where from three to five sodas, the number being, however, depending on how thirsty she happens to be.

Edward J. Schuller, technical director at the Metro studios, is working eighteen hours a day getting things in readiness for the production of "Romeo and Juliet," in which Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne will be starred.

Vernon Shiveley, the son of the Los Angeles Chief of Police, is employed as assistant to Director T. N. Heffron, of the Selig Polyscope Company.

When in Cornell University, Harry D. Southard was a star athlete and orator. The combination is not often found, but he made good in both activities of brawn and brain. Now, he's working in Balboa feature films. Prior to joining the Horchheimer forces, Southard had extensive stage and studio experience elsewhere.

"THE TURMOIL"

The Famous Novel by Booth Tarkington — A METRO PRODUCTION DE LUXE —

Miss Valli, who is recognized as a remarkable stage and screen star, is seen in the lovable role of "Mary Vertress." George LeGuere, the foremost juvenile actor in this country, has the delightful but difficult role of "Bibbs Sheridan." The story of "The Turmoil" is one of unusual interest and deals with typical American life in which a newly-rich manufacturer attempts to reduce love to a business basis. "Bibbs," the youngest of his sons, a dreamer and poetical genius, manifests a dislike for business which irritates his money-grasping father. But in the end, "Bibbs" proves the strongest of the three sons, and lifts the weight of responsibility from his father's shoulders in his latter years.

COUNCIL SELECTS CONCRETE FOR THE MAIN STREET PAVING

Northern Side of the Street from Douglas Avenue to Adelaide Street Will be Paved With This Material—Tenders Opened for Coal Supply—Grant of $300 to Siege Battery Fund.

At the council meeting yesterday it was decided to pave the northern side of Main street from Douglas avenue to Adelaide street with concrete. A grant of $300 was made to the regimental funds of No. 7 Siege Battery to be deposited to the credit of Major Allen. The mayor announced that he would issue a proclamation asking the citizens to observe Saturday, June 3, the King's birthday, as a holiday.

Commissioner McLeellan said that the traffic law provided for that phase of the question and that if they did and re-considering they might take up the question of segregating garages as they did in other cities and confining them to certain districts. The commissioners were all present with the mayor in the chair. The commissioner of public safety reported that the proposed garage on Cliff street was within the prescribed distance of a place of Divine worship and recommended that Mr. Curvall be notified that he would have to secure the consent of the church authorities before he could build. He also recommended that the application of J. Clark & Sons for permission to install a gasoline stand pipe at the curb in front of their place of business on Germain street be referred to the commissioner of public works for a report.

The commissioner of harbors, ferries and public lands recommended that a renewal lease of Lot No. 363, Guys Ward, for seven years, from 1st November last, at a rental of $9.00 per annum be issued to Mrs. Ellen McCordock, this being an increase of 20 per cent.

The tender of J. A. Gregory for 50,000 feet of merchantable spruce deals at $20.10 per thousand, being the lowest, be accepted. These recommendations were adopted. Commissioner Russell reported that he had considered the claim of J. T. Knight & Co. for refund of money collected from steamers lying in the stream but could not recommend the granting of their request.

Main Street Paving. The common clerk read a report from the committee of the whole recommending that the northern side of Main street from Douglas avenue to Adelaide street be paved with concrete at a cost of $2,000. Moved by Commissioner Russell and seconded by Commissioner McLeellan that the recommendation be adopted. Carried.

Commissioner Fisher explained that he was perfectly willing to lay the concrete pavement although he was not satisfied that it was the best, and did not feel like recommending it. The mayor suggested that the council make a grant of $300 to the regimental funds of No. 7 Siege Battery, which was done. He read the draft of a proclamation asking the citizens to observe Saturday, June 3, as a public holiday, it being the King's birthday.

Buying the Coal Supplies. The council resolved itself into the committee of the whole to open tenders for coal for the different departments. The tenders were as follows:

A JUNK DEALER WHO BOUGHT STOLEN PIPE. Louis Dritz of Long Wharf Purchased Lead Pipe Stolen by Small Boy.

Louis Dritz, a Hebrew junk dealer, who was doing business on the Long Wharf without a license, was a frightened man in the police court yesterday afternoon, when he came very near being found guilty of perjury, with a prospect of spending a term in prison.

On Sunday night last the store of Benjamin Lavigne, on Acadia street was broken into and seventeen bottles of beer stolen. A boy was arrested on suspicion of making the break and taken to police headquarters. On top of this robbery, it was reported yesterday morning to the detective department that a large quantity of brass pipe, also lead pipe had been stolen from the plumbing store of George Blake on Germain street. The boy who was arrested on suspicion of stealing the beer was an employee of Mr. Blake's, and suspicion rested on him for stealing the pipe. He was questioned closely by the detectives and admitted that he was guilty of robbing the plumbing store. He managed to throw the brass and lead pipe out of a rear window during working hours, and about 6.30 in the evening, when there was no person about gathered up the stolen pipe, carried it to the junk shop kept by Louis Dritz on the Long Wharf and sold the stolen goods to Dritz. The pipe was valued at well over twenty dollars, but all that he received from the junk man was something in the vicinity of two dollars.

Dritz was immediately notified to appear in court, and after listening to the evidence given by the boy, deplored that he had any pipe from the witness. The court then informed Dritz that if he did purchase the pipe he was liable to a fine of forty dollars, but if he still insisted in averring that he did not make the purchase, and it was proven that he was swearing a lie, he would be dealt with on the charge of perjury, and if found guilty of this latter charge would be liable to a term in Dorchester. Dritz did not take time to change his mind and pleaded guilty to purchasing the pipe. He was then fined forty dollars which he paid. He was also instructed to procure a license immediately or he would be before the court again.
