Among other things Dr. Dale said: "It is not time and t us hope the time is yet distant to speak length upon Mr. Spurgeon's great qual- ies and conspicuous services. We simply desire to tell him how earnestly we entreat God to arrest the progress of his disease and restore him to health." Dr. Dale then moved that the secretary be instructed to draw up, on behalf of the council, a resolution to the above effect and take it to Mr. Spurgeon's family. The resolution was unanimously carried.

Dr. Brown, chairman of the Congregational Union, presided at the evening reception given to the American and colonial delegates. He spoke of the origin of the council, traced a conversation between Dr. Hannay of the English Union and Dr. Dexter of America, and regretted that both had died before their ideas were realized.

BERLIN, July 14.—A tragic affair happened at Weimar last week, which shows it will not do to trifle in this country with the troops. A military convict escaped from prison there last week and made for the woods. He met a detachment of soldiers returning from ball practice and the officer, recognizing the fugitive, ordered him to stop. No heed was paid to the order, whereupon the officer ordered the soldiers to fire. One volley was sufficient. The convict fell dead at the first fire.

The door of a second-class compartment in the express train running at full speed between Berlin and Siegnitz yesterday suddenly flew open. In attempting to close it a young lady leaning over lost her balance and fell. Her mother, making a frantic endeavor to save her by seizing her skirts, was dragged out, and both fell to the ground, striking with great violence. The daughter was instantly killed and the mother's life is despaired of.

During a thunder storm at Chemnitz lightning struck an unfinished building in which five masons and three women were eating their dinner on the stairs. One man was struck and killed outright, blood bursting from his ears and nostrils; another was so badly hurt that he died before reaching the hospital; the three others were paralyzed. The three women escaped with slight bruises.

GOOD-BYE!

The Emperor William Bids Farewell to the Queen.

LONDON, July 14.—The Emperor of Germany reached Leith at 7:05 a.m. He was received by the mayor and a number of other officials and by the German consul. He was loudly cheered by the large crowd which had assembled to greet him. Later on the Emperor embarked upon the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, and that vessel steamed up the Firth of Forth to enable the Emperor to enjoy a good view of the Forth bridge.

LONDON, July 14.—Upon returning from the Forth Bridge, the Hohenzollern, having Emperor William on board, passed Leith on her way to Norway. A warship in Leith harbor fired a royal salute as the Imperial yacht passed out to sea.

BUILDINGS BURNED.

A Big Blaze at Montreal—Damages Likely $100,000.

MONTREAL, July 14.—Montreal firemen struggled throughout the night with what at one time threatened to prove a most serious conflagration. The fire started in the lumber yard of Charles Brouillette, manufacturer of windows, doors, sashes, etc., 1,196 St. Catharine street. The contents were quickly consumed. The adjacent yard of J. Bosseau and the large lumber yard of Joseph Robert & Son, corner Papineau and St. Catharine streets, soon ablaze. The houses situated at the corner of Shaw and St. Catharine streets were consumed. A Murky Atmosphere

The Air At Ottawa Full of Scandals.

A New Crop Likely to be Sprung Upon the Public.

Opposition Members Approached on Mr. Burgess' Behalf.

Significant Utterances of the French Conservative Organ—Trouble in the Printing Bureau Hinted at.

OTTAWA, July 14.—The air is full of nothing but scandal. All the talk is as to what the next revelation will be. It is stated that the Printing Bureau is to be looked into at once, information having been received by the Opposition that in the purchase of the plant commissions were received by somebody. This inquiry, however, may be blocked owing to the circumstance that Mr. Senecal, the controller of the bureau, is ill.

It was reported yesterday that Sir Hector Langevin had resigned, but the report turned out to be untrue, for the Minister was on hand in the House and performed his functions as leader.

It is stated that certain of the Senators urged upon the Premier the desirability of making a clean sweep and getting rid at once of Sir Hector and any other Ministers who are under the weather, together with all civil servants who have in the slightest degree compromised themselves. The idea evidently is that the Government should apply itself vigorously to the clearing up of the Augean stables. But Sir Hector is understood to have given it out that if any attempt be made to move him he will pull down the entire fabric in his fall. The intimation made in the French papers here that other departments require investigation as badly as does that of the Public Works is regarded as the echo of Sir Hector's ultimatum.

The new crop of scandals and the prolonged investigation they will necessitate have set members thinking over the prospects of prorogation. It is now believed that Parliament will not get through its business until September.

Mr. Foster laid on the table yesterday a bulky return with respect to West India steamers; the subsidy, which originally aggregated $49,200 a year, is now $60,000. A great deal of freight has been carried south, but the company says very little comes back.

The desperation of the Government betrays itself in their efforts to discover an escape from the extremity in which they find themselves, or to obtain a mitigation of the corruption deluge which is destroying them. They are anxious to bury the offense of Mr. Burgess and the Interior scandals by obtaining from the Opposition a sanction of the Deputy Minister's retention in office. Mr. Dewdney and Mr. Burgess have approached members of the Opposition with a proposal that they introduce a resolution that Mr. Burgess be not dismissed. The overtures were not entertained, but before they had been made Mr. Dewdney told a press representative that the Opposition would introduce such a resolution. The fruitless overtures are interesting as showing the straits in which the Government find themselves, and showing how destitute of resource they are in their demoralization.

La Minerve, the French Conservative organ, says: "The present political situation, without being alarming, is nevertheless delicate. The attitude of the newspapers, the declarations of the politicians, the least movements of public opinion, are watched with the greatest anxiety. There is even a tendency to exaggerate the most ordinary words and acts. We are authorized by our chiefs at Ottawa to state that the organs of the Conservative party in Montreal are not the personal organs of such or such a Minister, and that it would be totally wrong to attribute such a position to them. The Cabinet has no predilection in the support which it asks and expects from all Conservatives. Coteries, which are always hurtful to governments, become mortally dangerous in the time of trial, when confidence and political faith should unite all the friends in the same feeling of defense and preservation." The above remarks are no doubt evoked by the recent bitter disputes between the local Conservative organs.

Mr. Foster announces that the amount of the Dominion sinking fund on the 30th of June, 1891, was $25,959,225, the amount consisting of consols and Dominion stock, $19,613,760; debentures, $6,259,506, all held for guaranteed loans. The last amount is held payable to bearer. The Dominion debentures, forming part of the sinking fund, are in the custody of the Bank of England, held to the order of the trustees. The amount of the interest on the sinking fund is $982,461. The interest is paid to the trustees and invested in further securities for the sinking fund.

The Little Girl's Trouble.

Mr. Henry Macombe, Leyland street, Blackburn, London, Eng., states that his little girl fell and struck her knee against a curbstone. The knee began to swell, became very painful and terminated in what doctors call "white swelling." She was treated by the best medical men, but grew worse. Finally St. Jacobs Oil was used. The contents of one bottle completely reduced the swelling, killed the pain and cured her.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The Hudson Bay Railway Subsidy Discussed,

And the Railway is Designated a Wild Cat Scheme.

OTTAWA, July 14.—Sir Hector Langevin moved that the time for the reception of reports of private bills be extended till July 28.

Mr. Somerville moved for a return of all accounts of payments for extra work in the Department of the Interior since 1884. Mr. Dewdney promised that the information would be furnished as soon as possible.

THE AMENDE HONORABLE.

When the orders of the day were called Mr. Scriver asked to be allowed to acknowledge an error into which he had fallen during the prohibition debate some weeks ago. His attention, he said, had been called to the fact that the extracts which he had read as coming from a speech delivered in the House some years ago by Mr. Foster had been from a speech delivered by Mr. Fisher, the late member for Erome. He was sorry the error had occurred and made this acknowledgment that he might do what he could to repair it. (Applause.)

Mr. Foster said the facts were as stated by the member for Huntingdon. He would not have known that the quotations were not taken from his speech if the honorable member had not called his attention to it. (Applause.)

THE HUDSON BAY RAILWAY SUBSIDY.

The bill granting to the Winnipeg and Hudson Bay Railway Company $80,000 a year for twenty years was read a second time and the House went into committee on it.

Mr. Laurier asked the Minister of the Interior, who has charge of the bill, if he could give any information with regard to the precise location or length of the railway which the bill was to subsidize.

Mr. Dewdney had no information, but sent for the map on which the two alternative routes are shown.

Sir Richard Cartwright asked if the honorable Minister could give the amounts of stock of the company held by the parties whose names had been supplied to the House.

Mr. Dewdney said he could not get the exact information asked for. He had obtained the names of the shareholders and had been supplied with the figures that there were 10,500 shares issued on which had been received $285,793.

Sir Richard said that without the amounts of stocks held by the several parties the list was of little value. There were good names on it and bad and indifferent ones, and their value rested upon the quantities of stock they held. It had been alleged that certain members of Parliament were interested in the road, and as there were shares held in trust it was of importance that the House know the holders of the stock.

Mr. Dewdney said he had heard the rumor that paid-up stock had been distributed to members of the House to further the bill. He had a letter written to him by the president of the company which declared that no stock had been distributed directly or indirectly to any member of the House. He said that only two members held stock, and one of them purchased it in 1882 and the other in 1885.

Mr. M. C. Cameron said he had heard the rumor with regard to the alleged distribution of paid-up stock, but the president of the company had come to him and said he was ready to make an affidavit that such a thing had not been done. The honorable member, proceeding, showed that as the unusual power of issuing paid-up stock for the furtherance of its undertaking was possessed by the company, it was important that the information asked for by the member for South Oxford be supplied. He said he was entirely opposed to the scheme. It seemed to him from an examination of the reports, that the scheme was not such as the Parliament of Canada should subsidize. He did not think Parliament should mislead the investors of England by declaring, as it would if the subsidy were granted, that the scheme was a reasonably feasible one.

Mr. Casey made a speech supporting the bill. He said he was one of the two shareholders of the company in the House, the other being the member for Glengarry. But he had not, he said, obtained his shares for nothing. He argued that the $80,000 a year asked for was a loan secured by the lands already granted to the company by the Dominion Government.

Mr. McMullen made severe references to the fact that the member for West Elgin had spoken in favor of the bill. It was, he said, a question whether the honorable member in his speech had been speaking for West Elgin or George E. Casey. Members, he proceeded to say, ought to be careful not to let personal interest drag them away from the public interest. He said he felt humilated that there should be on this side one man who would take such a course. He had hoped that the days for such exhibitions in this House were past. He opposed the bill because he believed it had been shown to be a wild-cat scheme, because he thought it was diverting from the older Provinces the trade of the Northwest for which they had been paying such immense sums of money, and further because he believed the country having paid $100,000,000 to the Northwest had expended in its development as much as it could afford.

Mr. Casey said he could not sit quietly and hear applied to him the motives imputed by the member of North Wellington. He might take refuge under the law of Parliament which permits members of the House, who may be shareholders of a joint stock company, to speak and vote on matters concerning such company. But he would not do so. He took the ground that those whose financial interests may have impelled them to look into the project were best qualified to speak upon it. He thought the question between him and his constituency might safely be left to them.

Hon. David Mills made a very effective and forcible speech, taking up the line that it was madness to go on constructing railways in the Northwest when the lands already opened up were not occupied. Most people acquainted with the facts knew that the people of the Northwest had been pretty troublesome to deal with. The Provinces of Ontario and Quebec and the Eastern Provinces had to carry out their public works by their own exertions. The people of the Northwest must exercise patience and depend on their own energy. The circumstances of the country, the state of the public revenue, the policy that it might be expedient to adopt in the future, all made it necessary that they should discourage the placing of further burdens than were absolutely necessary upon the public treasury.

Sir Richard Cartwright brought the Government sharply to task for having thrust this motion between the House and the discussion of his amendment to the budget resolutions, an amendment which stood in the position of a motion of censure. Had he been here earlier he would have remonstrated against this at the time the motion was proposed. The invariable practice of the British House of Commons and the practice of this House, unless something extraordinary arose, had always been to continue the debate on a motion of want of confidence until it was disposed of. He really thought that the Minister of Finance should terminate this matter and allow the House to proceed with the regular business of the budget debate.

Mr. Foster endeavored to justify the course that had been pursued by declaring that the voting of this money was a matter of urgency. Five or six days ago the Minister of the Interior had said so. No objection had been taken to the course proposed until the present moment, and he really did not think the matter should drop at the present stage. He agreed with the member for South Oxford that no important legislation should be taken up while a vote of want of confidence was before the House. He thought the House came to an agreement the other day that this Hudson Bay Railway should be taken up and disposed of.

Mr. Laurier—The objection raised by my honorable friend from South Oxford is that it is utterly opposed to all rule of precedent to intervene another debate while a motion of want of confidence was pending before the House. My honorable friend is aware of this. I did not take the point before because I thought honorable gentlemen opposite, who profess to have such an admiration for British institutions, would have been certain to follow British precedents. (Laughter.)

Mr. Laurier thought that the very fact of the Minister not being able to give a full explanation to the House was a sufficient reason—a good reason—why the bill should not be rushed through hurriedly. In the Northwest this line was known as the Winnipeg and Hudson Bay Railway. In the House of Commons it was known simply as a colonization road which was to be carried to some point on the Saskatchewan River. The Minister was not even able to tell at which point it ought to be located. The honorable gentleman had not placed the matter in such a position before the House as to entitle him to ask for a cent of money.

Mr. Dewdney was obliged to admit that there had been no survey; that the contract for the construction of it had been given to contractors before even the route was decided upon; that it was yet doubtful which of two routes would be adopted—one between Lakes Manitoba and Winnipeg and the other running west of Cedar Lake; that the road was a colonization road only and was built without any regard to the Hudson Bay route.

Sir Richard Cartwright pointed out that the Liberal party were not opposed to this simply because it was a Manitoba matter, but this was a question that involved grave and serious considerations. Every well-considered scheme for the improvement and development of the Northwest would have the sincere co-operation of the Liberal party, but as guardians of the public purse it was necessary that they should see their way clearly and not vote away millions of public money which might be simply for the purpose of promoting this or that railway enterprise.

After recess the discussion was continued and the bill further opposed by Messrs. Armstrong, McMillan, Laurier, Mills, Listie, McMullen, Campbell (Kent), Watson and Mullock, and at 10:30 the bill was allowed to go through committee on the understanding that on its third reading the attack will be renewed.

THE BUDGET DEBATE RENEWED.

Mr. Wood (Westmoreland) spoke about two hours in support of the budget. He expatiated on what the N. P. had done for New Brunswick, and then went on to talk of the sugar duties which had been taken off. He repeated the absurd argument that the Government had reduced the taxation by $3,000,000. He denied that the protection given to refiners under the new system was greater than under the old tariff.

Mr. Borden moved the adjournment of the debate. The House rose at 12:30.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Earnings of the Street Railway — A "Grand" Way of Doing Business —A Deserted Babe.

TORONTO, July 14.—The street railway earnings for the week ending Saturday last were $16,133 27, an average of $2,088 87 per day.

An infant was found last night in a basket which was left on Davenport road. So far no trace of the little waif's parents has been found.

There was a large attendance of representatives of various firms tendering, with accountants, solicitors and other officials at yesterday's meeting of the Street Railway Committee. The committee had before it the claim of Dr. McConnell for $2,058 for services rendered as a veterinary surgeon on behalf of the city, $1 50 each for valuing the horses. Dr. McConnell appeared and caused a sensation which, if proved true, means a grave scandal. He stated that the valuation of the horses was conducted in a fast and loose fashion, that there was a ring and he was outside of it. They had reported him to be drunk with the intent of getting rid of him. The city's interest was not protected at all. One of the city officials engaged in the arbitration had told him to "give good prices, for Frank Smith was a decent old fellow." Dr. McConnell went on to say that he was prepared to swear that attempts were made to have good horses, worth perhaps $140, valued twice in place of old plugs worth $15 or $16. "Who was the city official who asked you to give good prices because Frank Smith was a decent fellow?" asked Ald. Hallam.

"It was Mr. W. D. Grand, city valuator," said the doctor, while the members of the committee remarked, sotto voce, "We have a street railway scandal now."

"And more," continued the doctor, "Grand and Bond and Brown had all sold horses to the company, and when these horses came out they would say, 'That's mine; give it a good value.'"

In view of the statements of the doctor after hearing his counsel, Mr. St. John, the committee, on motion of Ald. J. E. Verral, decided to refer the matter to Ald. Jolliffe's sub-committee on accounts for investigation. The committee decided to recommend to the council the Kiely-Everett tender for the operation of the [illegible]

BACK FROM DEATH VALLEY.

Trying Experience of Three Prospectors.

Their Narrow Escape from the Fate of Numerous Predecessors—Saved by the Instinct of an Ass.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 14.—Robert Montgomery and two other prospectors have just returned to their new camp in the Pahrump Mountains, Southwestern Nevada, after the longest prospecting trips ever taken in the Death Valley. They traveled 600 miles in four weeks, and narrowly escaped death by thirst near the ill-omened Furnace Creek, where in early days 80 lost immigrants perished miserably. In going from Cottonwood to Furnace Creek they were surprised by a hot wind. Six packmules which had been selected for their strength and endurance soon gave out, and the packs had to be cut off. The men and the animals struck out for the foot hills to get water to cool their raging thirst. Their little water was mixed with vinegar and oatmeal, but the meal soured and made the mixture so hot that it blistered their mouths and added to their agony. The instinct of a jackass saved the the men, for the brute scented water and set off on a run for a canon, where they all drank their fill.

Montgomery's party found an abundance of water on the west side of Death Valley and several other springs and streams that probably never had been seen before by white men. In Collingwood Canon Montgomery found several hundred Shoshone Indians prosperous and contented, who were surprised and delighted to see a white man come there from the burning desert. They report mountain quail and sheep to be plentiful on the west side.

They also found near Furnace Creek the bones of the Townsend party, which started from Salt Lake for Los Angeles, but only a half-dozen of them ever got out of Death Valley alive. The bones had been almost reduced to powder by the intense heat of forty years, but the tires and other irons of the 120 wagons still remain, though the Indians have burned all the woodwork.

ABOUT HAIR

Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Sir,—I have, as you know, for some time advertised in Canada and the States a prescription for the hair called "Dr. Dorenwend's Hair Magic." I have received some thousands of flattering testimonials from those who have used it as to its merits as a restorative of gray or faded hair; also as a promoter of the growth and a certain cure for dandruff.

A great many of my correspondents ask the questions: "Why is my hair turning gray so early?" "Why is my hair falling out?" As it is impossible for me to answer every one, I take the liberty of encroaching on your valuable space to make a general reply. A great many persons do not seem to be aware that excessive washing and rubbing is injurious to the growth of the hair; such is the case, however. Constant washing and rubbing the scalp and hair causes over irritation and removes the oily substance which gives strength to the hair; undue heat caused by the wearing of heavy headgear is also injurious. Anything that will tend to dry up the sap or life of the hair will cause dandruff, falling out of the hair, gray or faded hair and finally baldness. Of course there are other causes as diseases, hereditary tendencies, etc., but the first mentioned are the main and most common.

Dr. Dorenwend, an eminent German physician, has given to the world after years of toil and experiment his now famous "Hair Magic." The object of this preparation is to assist nature in the production of this oily substance absolutely necessary to the growth of the hair. It is now sold by all reliable druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or will be sent on receipt of price to any address. See that each wrapper bears the seal and signature of the manufacturer.

Pursuant to adjournment, the board of arbitrators on the case, Metcalf vs. Caradoc, met in Strathroy a few days ago. The objection raised by the counsel for Caradoc as to the constitution af the board of arbitrators was not sustained by the Court of Appeal, and the arbitrators received the notice of appeal which was filed by the township of Caradoc as directed by the arbitrators on the 16th of June. Counsel for Metcalf then raised the question as to the jurisdiction of the board of arbitrators owing to the appointment of a referee instead of the board of arbitrators by a late act of the Ontario Government. What might have proven a fatal mishap occurred to the 6-year-old daughter of Thos. Cockwill, at Elma, a few days ago. The little girl was taking a lunch to her father in an adjoining field, and in crossing a burning fallow got lost in the dense smoke, and quickly the flames envolved her, and when found she was standing in a heap of coals, crying piteously. Her feet and ankles were horribly burned. The child suffered great agony, and it will be weeks, if not months, before she will regain the use of her feet. Her life was miraculously saved.

WATERLOO.

Berlin and Waterloo are rival corporations. Both are progressive and prosperous. In musical affairs they excel, and both places have good bands. Stirred by the taunts of Peter X., of Berlin, the Waterloo people have planked down $100 as a forfeit on a wager of any sum from $300 to $1,000 that the Waterloo band can play better music than the Berlin band. Now for a breezy contest.

"German Syrup"

Asthma. Gentle, Refreshing Sleep.

"I have been a great sufferer from Asthma and severe Colds every Winter, and last Fall my friends as well as myself thought because of my feeble condition, and great distress from constant coughing, and inability to raise any of the accumulated matter from my lungs, that my time was close at hand. When nearly worn out for want of sleep and rest, a friend recommended me to try thy valuable medicine, Boschee's German Syrup. I am confident it saved my life. Almost the first dose gave me great relief and a gentle refreshing sleep, such as I had not had for weeks. My cough began immediately to loosen and pass away, and I found myself rapidly gaining in health and weight. I am pleased to inform thee—unsolicited—that I am in excellent health and do certainly attribute it to thy Boschee's German Syrup. C. B. STICKNEY, Picton, Ontario."

A RECORD OF RASCALITY.

(1) The McGreevy scandal and Langevin's $10,000.

(2) The putting in and acceptance of mythical "Bancroft" tenders.

(3) The scandal in Mr. Dewdney's Department of the Interior, under which officials have been in the habit of drawing money for "extra services" in the names of other persons.

(4) The confessed corruption of Perley, chief engineer of the Public Works Department, in taking a bribe of $2,000 worth of jewelry, and dear knows how much besides, from contractors he was appointed to watch on behalf of the public.

The foregoing we regret appears to be only the exhibition of creeping things and of uncleanness caused by the turning over of one or two bits of wood. There is too much reason to believe that almost every Department at Ottawa reeks with rottenness and corruption.

A contemporary, alluding to the wholesale demoralization at Ottawa, says:

"According to accounts many of the civil service officials are up to their eyes in debt. The leading ones undertake to 'entertain,' which implies the possession of a comfortable house and a considerable outlay for this, that and the other thing. The example set by Lord Dufferin between 1872 and 1878, when he splurged all over the country at the public expense and introduced the fancy dress ball and other dizzinesses into Ottawa society, is responsible indirectly for a good deal of the high flying with the accompanying impecuniosity. It is obvious, however, that extravagant living is not the sole cause of the rottenness in the departments. Every intelligent officer must have suspected Uncle Thomas and his swagsmen and Sir Hector and his boodlers of being a thieves' confederacy; and the sight of persons in high places going wrong, and apparently profiting by it, is apt to corrode the virtue of those beneath them. Other scandals (of a moral character) involving Ministers have been noised from the house-top, though their nature has been such as to keep them from being ventilated in Parliament or the newspapers. A contemporary says gambling is carried on to a great extent and that officials who cannot afford it frequently lose large sums of money. What is certain is that the genius loci at Ottawa for some years back has not been a very clean spirit. Ministers with reptile funds, contractors with claims for extras, members dividing up railway subsidies, Tory agents working for Government bounses on commission, manufacturers buying and paying for protective duties—it must have been difficult in such an atmosphere for many a poorly-paid official to adhere to the belief that honesty was the best policy, especially if he happened to be in the clutches of the cent-per-cent man from carrying too much sail in the social swim."

What seems to be needed, and what evidently is not far off, is a complete change of Government at Ottawa.

A DEFENSE OF BACCARAT.

W. T. Stead, publisher of the Review of Reviews, devotes an article in the new number of that monthly to a defense of the Prince of Wales and his unrestrainable longing for baccarat. Sir Francis Knollys, the Prince's private secretary, read the article before publication, and approved of it, as presenting the view of the situation which the Prince himself takes, and would like to have taken by others. The gist of the argument is that the Prince is not allowed to do any serious public work by the limitations placed upon him by the people themselves as the future king of England. Since he is debarred from benefiting others, why should he not be permitted to amuse himself? His case is indeed a pitiable one. Still there are gentlemen of leisure, and even of title, whose time is so fully occupied with serious pursuits, intellectual recreations and private philanthropies that the idea of gambling has never entered their heads. Children and princes require to be amused, of course, but their amusements should be innocent.

INDIGENT FOREIGNERS IN STRATFORD.

The continued importation of cheap foreign labor is a cause for constant annoyance to the hundreds of idle men, women and children in Canada. It is not only a question of how much is lost to the people in payment for assisted passages by the Government, but a question of far greater moment, viz., that of repressing crime among the viciously inclined, preventing disease among those who are huddled together in close quarters during hot weather, and providing work for the new comers, often to the exclusion of many who have been born in Canada and who are, therefore, entitled to greater consideration from those in authority.

A grievance has lately found expression in Stratford that illustrates some phases of this question. Ald. Hogarth is said to have arranged for the services of a number of foreigners to pull flax. No less than eighteen are huddled together in one house and are said to be in destitute circumstances while awaiting the time when they may earn the pittance promised in the flax fields. In a letter to the Times, a workingman voices the sentiment of the ratepayers when he complains that the health officer has been sent to visit these people to report to the council what may be done to relieve their necessities at the expense of the city and to quiet the fears of those residing in the vicinity of where the unfortunates are billeted.

Loyalty to Canada should mean loyalty to Canadians, and the sooner assisted passages are abolished the better it will be for the country.

WHAT THE "ADVERTISER" THINKS ABOUT IT.

DROWNINGS! drownings! One is reported from Peterboro, where a young man of 21, unable to swim, went out in the treacherous canoe. For a person unable to swim to go out in a canoe is next door to suicide.

‡‡‡

THERE must be something in the persistent reports respecting Secretary Blaine's health. We hope he will soon recover all his old vigor. Mr. Blaine is an exceedingly able man, and capable of rendering high services to his country.

‡‡‡

IT IS highly creditable to the Kingston News, an out-and-out Conservative paper, that it openly condemns the present expensive Franchise Act, and recommends Parliament to get back to the simple, workable and less expensive Provincial lists.

A PROFESSIONAL diver who has been in the habit of diving from an elevation of 70 or 80 feet has received fatal injuries at Grand Rapids by striking the water flat on his back. Query: Should such demoralizing and dangerous exhibitions be allowed by the community?

WHEN a crowd of excursionists visits the city, thousands of dollars from elsewhere are circulated among the business men, and every resident receives a benefit either directly or indirectly. When a crowd of excursionists leaves the city thousands of dollars are spent elsewhere, and every resident is impoverished either directly or indirectly. This is an assertion that can be verified. Yet how few citizens consider its importance and act accordingly.

ILLUSTRATED TORONTO: By G. Mercer Adam. (Montreal: J. McConnifl.) The multitude of strangers now in Toronto attending the Teacher's Convention in progress there will find this beautifully illustrated little work an attractive souvenir of their visit. The historical, topographical and descriptive account of Toronto accompanying the engravings gives a bird's-eye view of the facts, and attaches real value and importance to what would otherwise be only a pretty picture book.

A NEW DISEASE DIAGNOSED.

[Ottawa Free Press.]

A new disease technically known as Fosteria, has appeared among our Tory politicians. The principal symptoms are weakness in the back, incessant chattering, and inability to refuse offers of reward for abandonment of principle.

HE COULDN'T EARN THE MONEY.

[Kingston News.]

A knot of politicians were standing on the market corner this morning. They were approached by a solicitor for subscriptions to Sir John A. Macdonald's memorial fund. One said in response to the invitation to subscribe, "Yes, I will give you $10 on easy conditions." "Name them," said the solicitor, producing his list. "Tell me who is Bancroft, and where can he be found?" The solicitor left.

THE CLIMAX OF AN AMERICAN CUSTOM.

[New York Press.]

One of the customs of this country which is always criticised and condemned by educated foreigners who visit us is that of "treating." In Europe the man who wants a drink of liquor buys it for himself and drinks it himself, even though he be in the presence of one or a dozen friends. In this country the man who wants a drink invites everybody who is within his vision who is known to him to "have something" with him. Then it becomes incumbent on some one of the "treated" crowd to order again, and the process is repeated until, in a short time, the entire party reaches that stage of fullness from liquor in which men never should get.

The climax of the "treating" habit has been aptly illustrated by an episode at Wilkesbarre, Pa., where an old gentleman who stepped up to a bar and ordered a drink was challenged by an acquaintance sitting in the room for unsociability in not extending him an invitation. In the quarrel that ensued the old gentleman was killed. The death penalty enforced for failure to "treat" shows what an absurdity the custom is, and yet it is likely to continue, because of the lack of moral courage to stop it by saying "no" when invited to "take a drink."

Appeals Heard at the Court of Revision —The Work Not Yet Finished.

Monday evening's meeting of the Court of Revision was announced as the final one for the hearing of appeals, but 56 were still undisposed of when an adjournment was made and will have to be taken up hereafter. Aldermen Gartshore (chairman), Ivey, Judd, Wilkey, J. Fitzgerald, Commissioner Grant and Assessors Fairgrieve and Toll were present. The following appeals were heard:

AGAINST REAL, PERSONAL AND INCOME.

George H. Hawthorne—Against $600 income.

H. George—Against income; out of business.

Mrs. S. Nixon—Against $700 on 23 Askin street; worth $900.

Colonel Taylor—Against $10,000 real; wanted it assessed same as neighboring property.

Equitable Life Insurance Company—Against $3,000 income; company lost money here and impossible to estimate income.

P. B. Owens, for Equitable Life Insurance Company—Against income; death losses exceeded premiums.

Mrs. Burgess—Against $900 on house and lot.

Charles Brennan—To be assessed as separate school supporter, and against personal assessment.

Travelers' Life Insurance Company, represented by Mr. James Magee—Against income tax on agent, Mr. McBroom.

T. McCormick—Against $27,000 assessment on his residence, should be $10,000 less.

W. C. Noble—Against $3,500 on income which only totalled $2,936.

Atlas and National Fire Insurance Company, J. Frith Jeffers—Against $500 income; losses exceeded receipts.

London and Lancashire Company, J. F. Jeffers—Against $2,500 assessment; income less that expenses.

Citizens' Assurance Company, J. F. Jeffers—Against $3,000 income.

C. J. Mills—Against $600 income; no salary from city except on real and personal property.

C. J. Mills—Against $1,400 and $1,300 on property corner Waterloo and Dundas streets; had paid $2,200 for same.

Mrs. Davidson—Against $200 on Bathurst street.

John S. Pearce, churchwarden, St. Paul's—Against lots on King street, $275 and $300 each; on North street, $275 each; on corner York and Rectory, $325 each; on east Rectory, $300 each. Mr. Alf. Robinson appeared, and said assessment was claimed to be too high, although admitting lots were held for higher than assessment.

A. Keenleyside—Against realty assessment of $2,000 on Rectory street; also against $500 personal.

John Elliott & Sons—Against $15,000 on Ridout street property and $30,000 on Bathurst street; Ridout street assessment should be $8,000, and Bathurst street $10,000. The firm had been granted a fixed assessment of $45,000, but since the failure a number had taken hold of the business, the volume of which did not warrant the assessment. S. H. Craig, John McClary and Joseph Jeffery presented the claims. A petition against $5,000 personal assessment on the stock was entered on the ground that it had not been paid for.

Hugh Kyle—Against $300 income.

Hendrie & Co., per N. P. Graydon—Against $1,200 assessment.

Estate of the late James Smith—Against $1,500 assessment on Dufferin avenue; highest offer was $1,200.

Angus McCormick—Against $750 assessment on 284 Simcoe street.

S. S. Armitage—Against $2,000 assessment on South London property.

Michael Murray—Against $400 on lot corner Park and Vann streets.

George Braund—Against $1,500 real on Maitland street.

British America Insurance Company—Not liable to assessment, as its head office was in Toronto and taxed there on all income.

Mrs. Murray Anderson—Assessed on five lots and only owned four; the latter overassessed $300.

James Magee, for Ontario Car Company—Against $15,000 assessment on east side Rectory street, fifteen acres and buildings, and $5,000 personal; also against 1,130 feet on Simcoe street, assessed $10,000 real and $4,000 personal.

James Magee for Western of Canada Oil Company—Against assessment of $4,905 on 30 lots of 80 acres; value placed at $350 per acre.

Standard Life Insurance Company, represented by James Magee—Against $3,000 income; head office for Canada in Montreal.

AGAINST DOG TAXES.

Henry Beam, J. W. Hyman, Jas. Kilkelly, Henry Jones and Alex. Tytler.

AGAINST STATUTE LABOR.

R. H. Carrothers, Henry Law, C. Finchamp and W. G. Owen.

This concluded the evening's work, and a further adjournment was made to Thursday evening, July 23. The appeals yet to be heard are generally of a light nature and it is expected that time enough will be found then to render judgment on some of the cases already in.

The Coming School of Medicine.

The Histogenetic System.

THIS SYSTEM IS COMPLETE, having different medicines for all the different diseases. The theory is entirely different from that of the old schools. The medicines are perfectly pure, containing nothing of a poisonous nature whatever, and are quite tasteless. For three years these medicines have been given away free and thoroughly tested in the most hopeless cases before being placed on the market. The result has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. Hundreds of cases supposed to be incurable have been cured, and abundance of proof can be produced to convince the most skeptical that Histogenetic Medicines have cured and are curing to-day DISEASES at a later stage than any other system of medicine in the world. In ACUTE cases the medicines act like magic. Chronic troubles require a longer time, generally from one to three months, according to the nature of the complaint. In FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, WOMB TROUBLES, etc., the medicines have been especially successful. Private EXAMINATIONS in these troubles are almost, if not quite, absolutely unnecessary. Call or send for one of our free books explaining the system. They should be in every house in the land.

RHEUMATISM and SCIATICA

LONDON, April 26, 1891.

I am happy to acknowledge, and now testify, to the efficacy of your medicines in curing Rheumatism. I have suffered with this painful disease in my shoulders, knees and hips for twenty-five years, also with sciatica for some time. I decided to try Histogenetic Medicines as a last resort, as nothing ever seemed to give me any permanent relief. The first week's medicine gave me relief, and in two weeks the sciatica disappeared and has not returned. I took the medicines for six weeks, and am cured of the rheumatism. I feel better in every way. I am sixty years of age, and feel quite smart and active. I can cheerfully recommend these medicines to the public, and will be glad to tell any sufferer about my case. It is now nearly two months since I ceased taking the medicines, and the effect is permanent.

CRICKET.

THE INTERNATIONAL BEGUN.

TORONTO, July 14.—A most delightful day favored both cricketers and spectators alike on the opening day of the international match. The Americans won the toss, and elected to bat first. The brothers Patterson were their two representatives. Things began badly for the Southerners, for they lost three wickets for no runs. By some plucky batting the younger Patterson knocked up 32, which was the largest individual score made on either side yesterday. The whole side was out for 82 runs, Dickey doing the best bowling. After luncheon the Canadians went in to bat, and began badly, losing their captain (Saunders) for nothing. Their whole venture closed for 77. Terry, of London, and Lyon made the best scores. On the Americans going in for the second time the first two men knocked up 40 before being separated. Gillespie brought about the separation, Goldingham catching the younger Patterson very finely at mid-off from his bowling. At the call of time the Americans had lost six men for 71 runs or 76 runs in with four wickets in hand. The match will be concluded to-day. A very large audience, including the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario and his daughter, were present during the afternoon. Score:

Frauds Will Be Perpetrated for Gain.

Unscrupulous manufacturers of medicine are offering to supply the retail druggists with an article put up in RED wrapper, almost identical in general appearance, and closely assimulated in every detail to Carter's Little Liver Pills.

In this way they hope to profit by the merit of Carter's Little Liver Pills, and palm off an imitation on the unsuspecting sufferer and purchaser.

It is the source of wonder to honest people that there are men ready and willing to perpetrate such ra ds.

Let them beware. A day of reckoning wil surely come. There are "upright judges" in the land who will punish such people.

When you go for a bottle of Carter's Little Liver Pills ask for "CARTER'S," insist upon having "CARTER'S," and see that you get "C-A-R-T-E-R-'-S."

The proprietors of Carter's Little Liver Pills have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to make their value known. True merit always wins with the people. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS have won.

THE TEACHERS.

Some Seven Thousand of them Gather at Toronto—Doings of the Council.

TORONTO, July 14.—This is the first day of the National Teachers' Convention for 1891, and the indications are that the proceedings will open with gratifying success. More teachers and others interested in educational work arrived in the city yesterday than had arrived on all of the previous days combined, and last evening it was estimated by the secretary that fully 7,000 were here. The hotels are all crowded, and the late arrivals will be forced to take quarters in private houses, where accommodation has been arranged by the committees.

At yesterday morning's session of the National Council of Education, George B. Brown, of Chicago, editor of the Illinois School Journal, read the report of the Committee on Pedagogics, the subject being the education of the will. They had no children. He was addicted to strong drink, and two weeks ago his wife paid his fine and secured his release from the House of Correction, where he had been sent for drunkenness. A Love Song in M Flat.

"My modest, matchless Madeline!
Mark my melodious midnight moans;
Much may my melting music mean—
My modulated monotones."

This young man stayed out too late, serenading his lady love. He caught a cold, which developed into catarrh, but he cured it with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, sovereign specific for chronic cases, "Cold in the Head," Catarrhal Headache. It corrects the tainted breath, stops the offensive discharges, heals the irritated throat and nose, leaving the head clear, and smell and taste unimpaired. It costs but 50 cents, and the proprietors offer in good faith $500 for a case they cannot cure.

Briggs—You know that old suit of mine? I sold it for $10 to-day. Griggs—How nice. Briggs—Not at all. I had to take the money and make the first payment on my tailor's bill.

SPEECHES AND SPORT.

The Orange Celebration in Queen's Park.

A Big Crowd There—What the Speakers Had to Say—A Programme of Sports—The Prize Winners.

Upon the arrival of the Orange procession at Queen's Park in the afternoon, the brethren in line were freed from the restraint of marching order for the time being to do as they pleased. Speeches and athletic sports were carried on at the same time and each had its share of admirers.

THE SPEECHES.

The largest crowd surged around the band stand from which the orators of the day held forth. Mayor Taylor presided over the assembly and welcomed the Orangemen to the city with pleasure. The great enthusiasm of the brethren, he maintained, was shown in the immense gathering before him when home duties were pressing. They were ready to defend the liberties which their forefathers won, and did not want to live anywhere but under British rule. Neither did they desire the French language in Manitoba and the Northwest. The people should make their own laws there.

Rev. Principal Austin, of Alma College, St. Thomas, was well received, and spoke with his wonted eloquence. The banners he saw were significant reminders of a grand victory pregnant in its results for civil and religious liberty. Orangeism embodied and conserved principles requisite to the development of all countries. It had become necessary of late to form an Equal Rights Society, but the Orange order was always an equal rights society. (Applause.) It urged separation of church and state and was loyal to the old flag which floated over the country. Should the Canadians allow the liquor traffic or the Jesuits to rule over them? They would follow their political leaders just so long as they were true to the order's principles, but no further. Orangemen had faith in the public school system, but not in the separate schools. They wanted true men from the shores of Europe to help build up this fair young country, but not Jesuits. (Applause.)

Rev. Wm. McDonagh spoke of the wonderful influence of the Orange order which, he said, was dreaded more than any other by the Jesuits. Rome had cursed their forefathers 300 years ago as a free people, and although she had repeated the curse, every year Orangemen had grown more and more enlightened and prosperous under it. He did not think the curse was sweeping out Great Britain's power and nationality, as this year's census showed the population to be 29,000,000. (Cheers.) In proportion as Orangemen were true to their principles Canada would increase in power and freedom. Protestants in Ontario would object to a Catholic Premier; the Catholic Premier at Quebec was at the foot of the papacy in all he did. Organized Roman Catholicism was a different thing from the Roman Catholic religion. He believed in freedom of conscience to every man.

Wor. Bro. Rev. T. H. Brown, of Thamesford, was applauded. An Orangeman, he said, might as well be expected to forget his mother as the 12th of July. Orangemen were not quarrelsome, but wanted to live in peace, beat their drums when they wished and let everyone mind his own business. They were trodden on a few years since, and did not desire to be put under foot again. Because it took the Bible for its foundation Orangeism would succeed. The speaker announced himself as a John A. man; that gentleman, he said, had shown his colors and fought manfully for his country.

Ald. W. W. Fitzgerald said there were marvelous changes in the liberties of the people since the days of King William. Their Catholic brethren should join them in celebrating the day because all people enjoyed the liberties won for them at the Battle of the Boyne. He complimented the ladies of the order on the good work they were doing.

E. T. Essery thought that if need be Orangemen could use their bayonets as effectively now as in 1690, and would stand true to their colors. It was a disgrace that the Dominion Parliament should not adjourn on the 1st of July, and yet stand over for a couple of days because of a papal holiday. If their leaders were not prepared to defend the honor of Canada then it was time they stepped down and that men be sent to Parliament who would tell the French minority that they have got to do what Orangemen would have to do if they went to Rome. The speaker asserted that in this city a priest had been filling the custom house, so that a Protestant could hardly show his nose in it, and that no appointment had been made to the registry office in this county because Archbishop Walsh had not picked out the man he wanted.

Bro. W. H. Harlton, of Toronto, made a few remarks. Although some thought there was no fear of annexation, said he, there was danger when there were public men who countenanced in secret what they would not openly admit.

A vote of thanks to Mayor Taylor was moved by Bro. H. Millie, of Duke Schonberg Lodge, No. 1,757, Dublin, Ireland, who announced his pleasure at seeing such a gathering in Canada.

Cheers for the chairman, the Queen, the country and the order were given, and the crowd broke up.

THE ATHLETIC PROGRAMME.

On the race track a first-class programme of athletic sports was put through by energetic officials. Interested crowds looked on. Following were the events and the prize-winners:

100-yard race, Orangemen only—1 Bro. Alteman, 2 Bro. J. B. Armitage, 3 Bro. Oliver.

Girls' race, 10 to 14 years—1 Rebecca Sharp, 2 Agnes Hosia.

Boys' race, 10 to 14 years, 75 yards—1 McGarvey, 2 M. Jamieson.

Boys' race, 14 to 16 years—1 J. Gibbons, 1 G. Young.

Race, backwards—1 C. Young, 2 M. Tierney.

Baby show—1 Mrs. McIlvenna, 2 Mrs. S. H. Wood, 3 Mrs. W. Brodison, 4 Mrs. Duguid. In this there were 25 entries.

In the fife and drum band contest, competition was very keen between the St. Thomas L. O. L., 521, band and the London True Blues, No. 11. The judges, however, awarded first money ($10) to the former with 156 points, London getting $5 with 140 points. There were five entries. Bros. Sanders and Weld, and Bandmaster Hiscott, of the Seventh, were judges.

During the afternoon a varied programme of dancing was enjoyed by many a happy young couple.

The music of a great many bands, the pretty appearance of the park, the immense crowd, dotted with the bright colors of the brethren, and the other attractions made the place and scene a most animating one. The whole affair was a success over which the local fraternity naturally feel elated. The committees in charge were: Speakers and guests, W. W. Fitzgerald (chairman), H. Ramsay, G. Hopwood, G. B. Nash; reception, Mayor Taylor, J. H. Woods, W. Webb, D. Donaldson, R. D. Hillier, Thomas Hodgins, J. A. Murray, John McDonald, Thos. Parkinson, M. Baldwin, S. Watson, J. Shoulders; games and grounds, W. Brodison (chairman), G. B. Nash (secretary), F. H. Wright, H. Bates, T. W. Atson, R. A. Smith, A. Tuffield, J. Murray, T. Johnson, G. Looney, H. Irwine, S. Clair, H. Walker and Jas. Mustill.

Hence it is advisable to provide large, swift cruisers."

Live Stock Markets.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, July 14.—Cattle—Sales were slow in consequence of the heavy rain. There was a good demand for stockers and medium weight hogs. About 40 cars of cattle were entered, but the quality was poor. There was a fair demand for good cattle.

Forty-five weighing an average of 850 lbs, 3½c; 26 do., 850 lbs, 3½c; 17 do., 1,150 lbs, 4½c; 20 do., 1,000 lbs, 4c; 20 do., 838 lbs, 3½c; 21 do., 1,123 lbs, at $48 each; 50 do., 1,200 lbs, at 5c, and full extra good sold at 5½c, which was the top figure paid. Back springers are in excellent demand and found a ready sale for export. Prices are from $35 to $55, although higher than this was paid in several exceptional cases.

Sheep and Lambs—In sheep the receipts were about 400, and the market was a little dull and off. Export sheep are in little demand, in fact all not wanted, and the top figure is 4½c. Butchers' sheep are going readily, and all were sold at prices ranging from $3 50 to $4, and $4 50 the top figure. Lambs are about the same, and all offerings were taken. One lot of 41, averaging about 80 lbs, sold for $4 25; 40 do, 75 lbs, $4; 40 do, 85 lbs, $4 50, and a bunch of extras at $4 75.

Calves selling freely; market but slightly changed. A lot of 16, averaging about 110 lbs, sold at $5 50. The receipts were about 60 for the day.

Hogs very quiet, with stores not wanted at any price. The demand for light weights and medium fats was, however, exceptionally good, and all offered were taken. One lot of 20, weighing 3,750 lbs, sold at 5¾c; a lot of 22, weighing 5,060 lbs, sold for 5c; and a car load of fancy sold at 5½c.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., July 14.—Cattle—Fresh receipts 2 car loads, and some tail ends of yesterday offering. Market quiet; most of the stock fit for butchering sold at yesterday's prices, and a few bulls sold at $2 25 to $2 75 as to quality.

Sheep and Lambs—Three cars of stock held over from yesterday, and one car of fresh receipts constituted the offerings; very little demand; not enough to quote.

Hogs—Four carloads on sale; fair demand; and all sold at stronger prices. Good mediums brought $5 50 to $5 55, with a few choice selected at $5 80; good Yorkers, $5 55 to $5 60; light Yorkers, $5 35 to $5 45; pigs, firm as quoted.

TRADE IN SCOTLAND.

EDINBURGH, July 4.—John Swan & Son's weekly report says: The supplies of home-fed fat cattle on offer this week have not been quite so large. With rather worse markets in the South, English buyers were not so fully represented, and their requirements were more easily supplied, and the warm weather having the effect of curtailing the home demand, prices were slightly lower all round, an average fall of from 10s to 15s a head from last week's prices having to be accepted, with a somewhat difficult finish. Trade for fat cows was barely so good, while bulls continued to sell very cheaply. There were about 1,500 Canadian cattle showed in Glasgow. These met a rather slower trade, at for the best about 2s per cwt. under top Scotch beef. A considerable number were bought for keeping purposes. The supplies of States cattle at Yorkhill continue short, and are reported to have made about 8s per stone.

There have been rather smaller supplies of fat sheep and lambs on offer this week, the general quality of which was under an average. For the best class of shop sheep trade was quite as good, and last week's prices easily maintained, but secondary sheep were no dearer. Ewes again met a quiet trade at low prices. Fat calves met a steady trade at rather more money. Pigs made rather lower prices.

There were rather fewer store sheep on offer. Anything of a good class met a fair inquiry, but secondary all slow to sell. In consequence of the long drought the demand for store cattle has been somewhat slow, but the recent genial weather will make a change in favor of the sales of this class of stock. Milch cows have met a fair trade.

Best beef, 8s 9d; secondary, 8s per stone; best mutton, 8d to 8½d; secondary, 7½d to 7¾d; ewes, 6d to 7d; lambs, 8½d to 9½d per lb.

Save the Shade Trees.

Besides the more deadly insect enemies of the maple already referred to in the ADVERTISER'S correspondence column, not a few trees are found to contain the cobweb-like nests of embryo catterpillars, the occupants of which will in a few days be ready to sally out and eat up the foliage that affords them shelter. An early but judicious application of the torch will prevent the prospective ravages of these many-footed marauders. In the case of these as well as other insect pests promptness is a necessity.

Safe, Sure and Painless.

What a world of meaning this statement embodies. Just what you are looking for, is it not? Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor—the great sure-pop corn cure—acts in this way. It makes no sore spots; safe, acts speedily and with certainty; sure and mildly, without inflaming the parts; painlessly. Do not be imposed upon by imitations or substitutes.

ONTARIO'S CROPS.

The Welcome Rain Improves the Outlook.

Fair Prospects in Most Parts of the Country.

BRANT.

Brantford.—Late rains have improved the condition of the crops in this section very much. Wheat promises good average yield, barley short in straw but promises good, hay good average crop, oats first-class. Potatoes, turnips, etc., making splendid show. Whole berry crop first-class.

BRUCE.

Walkerton.—The crops in this vicinity have suffered considerably for want of rain, but have lately improved in this respect. Hay will not be more than half a crop. Oats will be short but not to the same extent. Other crops will average, and fall wheat will go over average.

ELGIN.

St. Thomas.—The weather is very favorable for the harvest, and farmers are cutting wheat in this vicinity. Wheat is above the average. A good many fields will yield 40 bushels to the acre, and an extra fine sample. Peas will be above an average crop, corn about half a crop, oats about 30 per cent., hay about 75 per cent. Potatoes and all roots except mangels are doing well. Apples will be a light crop.

ESSEX.

Essex Center.—Crops in this vicinity are above the average on the whole. Hay is a fair crop on old sod and good on new sod. Corn was never better, and fall wheat is exceptionally good. Oats and all other spring crops will be up to the average. Apples were damaged by frost, but small fruits were good, grapes especially.

HALTON.

Milton.—Hay crop light; fall wheat good; spring wheat fair; barley poor and little sown; oats and peas very good.

HURON.

Clinton.—The crops in this section have improved wonderfully since the June rains. Hay, which is being cut, is a fairly good crop, and will easily average a ton and a half to the acre. Fall wheat never looked better. Peas and oats, good crop. Spring wheat will not amount to much. Mangels and turnips are doing well. Apples will be about one-third the usual crop, but small fruits will do well.

Exeter.—Fall wheat good. Spring wheat, oats and peas, prospects good for a fair average crop since late rains. Barley light; hay rather light; potatoes good; turnips, carrots and mangels fair; apples light; plums and peas good; cherries in abundance; small fruits very plentiful.

BROCKVILLE.

Brockville.—Hay not more than half a crop; fall wheat and rye looking quite well; spring wheat, flue crop; oats, more than average crop; barley, looking well; potatoes, looking splendid; corn, largely grown and looking well. The late rains have started everything and spring grain and roots are sure to be good.

DUFFERIN.

Orangeville.—Frequent rains since the middle of June have materially improved crop prospects of all kinds in this locality, so that to-day many of our farmers state they have not had such a promising showing for many years.

LAMBTON.

Sarnia.—The crops in this district are in good condition. They have much improved of late, and, generally speaking, are in splendid shape.

LANARK.

Almonte. — The recent showers have greatly improved the prospects of crops in this vicinity. To all appearances now grain will be a full average. Hay, about 40 per cent.

LINCOLN.

St. Catharines. — Winter wheat extra good; hay crop light; spring wheat and barley poor; oats rather poor; corn good; cherries good. The peach and grape crop promise abundance, and apples and plums a fair average.

MIDDLESEX.

London.—The recent general rains have been of inestimable benefit to the crops in this district. Hay is averaging much better than was expected and the wheat is excellent. Oats are filling out splendidly and a good yield is expected. The root crop is all that could be desired, the timely rains having a marked effect. Fruit generally will also be good.

NORTHUMBERLAND EAST.

Colborne.—Fall wheat about half a crop; spring wheat looking the best it has for years; barley good; peas good; oats extra good; rye poor; hay very poor; corn and potatoes good; berries poor; apples, average crop.

NORTHUMBERLAND WEST.

Cobourg.—All the crops in this district are looking splendid.

NORFOLK.

Simcoe.—Hay is a good yield, and has been well secured. Wheat excellent, oats and barley light, peas average, corn and potatoes looking well, roots not very promising.

ONTARIO.

Whitby.—Throughout Ontario county, more especially the southern portion, grain crops never promised better. Hay, though scarcely an average, is being cured fairly well in spite of rain. Apples are almost a failure—mostly blown off in the late storm. Small fruits are coming on satisfactorily. Root crops are doing remarkably well since seasonable showers set in.

OXFORD.

Woodstock.—Fall and spring wheat considerably above average; barley also above average; oats looking remarkably well; peas, good crop; hay, light crop; root crop, good.

PRINCE EDWARD.

Picton.—The late rains have had a very beneficial effect on crops in this vicinity. From present prospects all crops except hay will not be more than half crop.

SIMCOE.

Midland.—The crops throughout the townships of Tay and Tiny are looking well with the exception of the hay crop, which will be below the average. Root crops about the average. Fruit, apples and plums will be a good crop.

Barrie.—The copious rains of the past three weeks have altered the whole complexion of all the crops since last report. Fall wheat above the average. Spring wheat becoming quite luxurious. Oats promising. Peas above the average. There will be no hay famine in this section. Apples give promise of a fair crop.

VICTORIA.

Lindsay.—The recent rains have had a most beneficial effect on the growing crops. Hay will be slightly below the average, but wheat, barley, oats and peas will be a full average, whilst all root crops give promise of an abundant yield.

WATERLOO.

Waterloo.—Hay crop light; fall wheat looks well; expect a large yield of spring wheat; peas exceptionally good; root crops looking well.

WELLAND.

Welland.—Fall wheat good; hay not a large crop, but extra good quality; oats poor; barley, spring wheat and flax poor; apples poor; grapes good; peaches fair; average crop of plums.

YORK.

Newmarket.—Timothy hay light; clover fair; fall wheat excellent; spring wheat, oats, barley and peas very promising; roots first-class average; small fruits good; plums and cherries fair; apples below the average.

"DISTILLED EGOTISM."

Poor girl! You are dreadfully blue, aren't you? The sky is brass and the earth iron; all the joys of the world are turning to ashes on your lips, and domestic happiness, "that only bliss of paradise that has survived the fall," is a hollow cheat. At this moment, while the rustle of gowns, the clash of spoons, the soft voices and light laughter from below afflict your ears, you are grimly thinking that "amiability is the vice of fools," and are wondering why all the world is not sensible and gloomy and cross like yourself. You are not cross, you say. Oh, I beg your pardon—did I say cross? I meant "nervous," of course. * * * There is no fun in feeling blue, I own. It gives one such a melancholy expression that a picture of the Prophet Jeremiah would look mirthful by comparison. The only cure for it—that is the only sure cure for it—came to me only the other day. You give the sufferer two or three spoonsful of laudanum to put him to sleep, and then apply a mustard plaster the size of a saddle to the small of his back to wake him up again. I have never tried it, but it sounds as though it might be efficacious. * * * No, don't fling your parasol at me; you would be almost sure to miss. You think I have a pretty queer way of cheering up a despondent individual? My dear niece, what would you have? Shall I remind you that "employment is the mother of cheerfulness," or that "melancholy is discheerfulness," or that "melancholy is distilled egotism?" Do you know the very meanest thing that one can say to a dyspeptic? It is, "forget yourself." Just as though that was not what the poor wretch was wild to do. No, don't go yet. I must go down and see my other guests, and then we'll have a private cup of tea together. I'll promise to let you do all the talking. Won't that be an inducement? AUNT BARBARA.—[In Five O'clock Tea, Wives and Daughters for July.

He Fell Among Thieves

Morton obeyed as quickly as his shaking legs allowed, and Harry, in the effort to follow, felt his left leg collapse beneath him, and rolled over. The tumult of slaughter was still going on, but Hamil dismounted, and caught him by the arm.

"You are hurt?" he said. "You are hit?"

"No," he answered, "my horse fell with me. My leg is numb, that is all."

Hamil helped him into the hut, and set a brace of malcontent ruffians at the door. These gentry, robbed of the pleasures of murder, sat growling, but did not dare disobey.

Morton, finding himself in safety, began to gather courage, and at first vapoured tremendously about his own coolness under trying circumstances. Bye and bye he grew collected enough to see that silence was his best stronghold, and so took refuge in it. When he had altogether recovered his wits he began to think about his preserver, whom he thanked fluently.

"Let us have a look at things," said Harry. "I'm afraid something's broken. Help me off with my boots."

Morton helped him, delicately and carefully, but the operation caused excruciating pain. So far as they could discover nothing was broken, but the limb was already puffed and swollen, and at the best that could be hoped for there was no movement possible for some weeks to come.

The infernal noise outside had died away, and except for an occasional word of command or a shout from one comrade to another, the clatter of hoofs and the jingling of arms, quiet was restored, when Hamil dismounted at the door of the hut, and entered. He knelt down and examined the injured limb with a skillful and practiced touch.

"I am afrid you're on your back for a month, my young friend," he said when he had completed his examination. "You have a severe sprain, and I should say the coating of the muscle is broken."

He left the hut, and returned in a minute or two with a garment of white linen, he tore it into strips soaked them in cold water, and bandaged the injured limb.

"We shall be at Orkhanie this afternoon," he said. "Shall I send a litter for you?"

The patient groaned at the fancy.

"Leave me for a day or two," he said, "I shouldn't care about being moved just yet. I don't think I could stand it."

"If I leave you for a day or two," said Hamil, "I may leave you for good until the campaign is over. We are going northward."

Even this prospect did not pursuade Harry to allow himself to be moved. After the scene of that morning in the midst of which he still lay, his desire for a career of glory in company with the Tchirkasse had undergone serious modification. He was as willing to fight as ever, but he had British notions of warfare, and the did not include the wholesale murder of women and children.

"You had better leave me here," he said. "I would rather not be moved."

"You will have a crowd of Bulgarian dogs here when we have gone away," said Hamil, "and it may go badly with you."

"I am friendly with the people," said Morton. "They know me. I speak their language. There will be no danger."

"You, sir?" replied the Circassian, "appear courageous in danger's absence.

Morton accepted this sneer in silence. After what he had seen that morning a Circassian officer with his men behind him was the last man in the word on whom to retaliate for a mere insult.

The men were marshaling outside, and were getting ready to renew their march. Hamil went outside for a moment, and hastily returning with arms, and with the news that both Wynne's horse and Morton's were safely tethered at the door, shook hands, kissed his young friend on both cheeks, and went his way.

"If there should be a doctor at Orkhanie," he said, turning at the door, "I will send him to you. When you recover, follow us. I will leave word of our route at every halting place along the line. Good-by, and God be with you."

All on a sudden there was a mighty clatter outside, and the regiment moved away. The two men listened in silence. The noise traveled further and further, growing fainter and more faint, until at last it died.

Harry's first sentiments towards his newly recovered acquaintance were not favorable. Being himself endowed with courage it came natural to him to despise cowardice, and he felt that for the sake of his own internal sense of dignity he would face the inevitable when it should come his way in a more manly fashion than Morton had adopted.

But if Morton were a poor warrior he turned out to be a most kindly and indefatigable nurse, and it is not easy to go on despising a man who is doing you momentary kindnesses. He seemed to know by instinct when the bruised limb wanted easing by a change of posture, and the movement was always so delicately effected that it caused no pain. It appeared that Morton had hired the hut he lived in, and had been there long enough to surround himself with a fair imitation of home comfort. He had all manner of tinned and potted provisions and conserves, and a store of bottles containing different sorts of beverages, from the fiery mastica to the harmless vishnap, the syrup of sour wild cherry. This last made an excellent invalid drink, and it was so kindly proffered that Harry could not do less than feel thankful for it. Then Mr. Morton had such winning, caressing and feminine ways that it seemed unfair to expect courage from him. Before the day was over the two were on intimate terms, and Harry had begun to feel quite kindly towards the graceful weakling whose life he had saved. On his side the weakling was not deficient in acknowledgment, and his assiduity and tenderness as a nurse would have been notable under any conditions.

When all had been silent for three or four hours Morton found courage to steal outside, and searched the deserted houses for milk and eggs. He returned laden, and brought dreadful news of the scene the village street displayed. There were 100 bodies there, he declared, all horribly mutilated. His staring eyes and blanched face gave emphasis to his narrative, but he felt the danger over, and busying himself over a little cooking apparatus, heated by a spirit lamp he seemed rapidly to recover his nervous tone. He made a capital omelette, and Harry ate his share of it with a fair appetite. His limb pained him constantly, and wore him with fatigue, so that an hour after his meal he fell uneasily asleep.

Morton, for an hour, sat watching by him, rolling and smoking cigarettes, and sipping a cup of Turkish coffee with a sybarite air. He looked a full score of times at his companion to assure himself of the soundness of his slumber, and at length crossing the room on tip-toe, opened a canvass hold-all which lay in one corner of the room, and drew from it an English newspaper which he unfolded with a rustling caution. He hunted here and there among its columns for a special paragraph, and read with frequent glances towards the sleeper. The paragraph was headed: "A Ruined Career," and ran thus:

"The whole country will have learned with regret of the disgrace which has been brought upon one of the most ancient and honorable of the great families of England by the folly and extravagance of its youngest member. Mr. Harry Wynne, the great grandson of the venerable Earl of Bridgebourne, is still supposed to be abroad in hiding. His family are unaware of his whereabouts, and the warrant for his apprehension at the instance of Mr. Butterfield the well-known jeweler of Conduit street, remains unserved. The last heard of the culprit was at Monte Carlo, where he committed a wanton and outrageous assault upon Mr. Herbert Whale, a gentleman well-known in sporting circles, whose only concern in the matter was, that he was expected to give evidence with regard to some of the youthful criminal's misdoings. It is now regarded as improbable in the least degree that Mr. Wynne will present himself to answer the charges that are made against him. It would be obviously unjust to assume his guilt as a certainty, but it is evident also that only the darkest construction can be put upon his continued evasion of justice."

Morton having read this thrice over, put the journal back into its old place and sat musing.

"He would be very useful," so his thoughts ran. "The rest are such hulking blackguards. Such clumsy imitations of gentlemen. This fellow is well-bred to the finger-tips. He has courage, too, and one superb advantage. He looks as straight as a die. You would almost have to believe him if he died to you, even though you knew it. That's a valuable characteristic. He mightn't want to join at first. It's pretty certain he wouldn't. He has come out here to get knocked on the head, and put an end to his disgraces that way; but a month with that leg may do something towards taming him. I must try him gradually. I want a trustworthy helpmate pretty badly. I think he'll do; and, besides that, I like the lad."

THE TRAVELING DAIRY.

Successful Meetings at Tottenham and at Nottawa.

NOTTAWA, July 11.—Farmers and storekeepers who deal in butter are taking a great interest in the movements of the traveling dairy. At every village where a meeting is held those attending always express themselves as well pleased with what they see and hear. Many inquiries are made as to where the different utensils can be procured, as the women are especially anxious to have better apparatus to make their butter with. The Babcock milk tester is also of great practical benefit to the farmers generally. By seeing the different samples of milk tested at these meetings they can readily understand the difference in the quality of milk given by different cows and thus see the folly of keeping poor cows. The milk from some cows gives 5½ per cent. fat, showing that over 5½ pounds of butter can be made from 100 pounds of the milk, while that from others gives but 3 per cent. fat, or about 3 pounds butter from 100 pounds milk.

The meetings held at Tottenham and at Nottawa were largely attended by prominent farmers and others. Tottenham is a town of about 800 inhabitants in the county of Simcoe. The farmers about here have up to this been growing large quantities of wheat and barley and also giving a good deal of attention to the breeding of heavy-draught horses, but they are now giving more attention to dairying. Some of those present at this meeting were: W. H. Hammell, M.P.P., and wife; Mr. and Mrs. John Sample, R. W. Lowrie, James Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Callahan, Mr. J. Cassil, Thos. M. Greenaway and wife, Frank Porter and wife, Wm. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Atchison, Mr. McDermet, Geo. Taggart, Frank McCarthy, Mrs. Hinds, Mrs. John Greenaway, Mrs. Williams, T. J. Wolfe, J. W. Milligan, Mr. Casserly.

Mr. Hammell, on being appointed chairman, opened the meeting with a short address, after which Prof. Dean went fully into the care of milk and cream for butter making.

Q.—Why do you require to let the gas escape from the churn when churning? A.—Because hydrogen and carbonic acid gas are generated and must be liberated.

Q.—Why is it that butter takes so long to come sometimes? A.—The cream may have been kept too long, the temperature may be too high or too low, or the cream from some cows' milk takes longer to churn than that from others.

Q.—What does a Babcock milk tester cost suitable for the average farmer to use? A.—You can get one for $10, with which you can do eight tests at a time at a cost of about ½ cent a test.

Q.—Would you advise using saltpetre to prevent the butter from spoiling? A.—No, unless absolutely necessary.

Q.—Would you advise the use of butter color? A.—Yes, if the market demands it.

The milk tests at this meeting showed:
1—5.2 per cent. 4—3.6 per cent. (No. 2 watered).
2—5.6 per cent. 5—0.3 per cent. (buttermilk).
3—4.4 per cent. 6—4.3 per cent. fat.

The butter made at this meeting was at once sold by Mrs. Greenaway (who supplied the cream) to an hotelkeeper at a high price, who would have taken a large quantity of it.

Nottawa is a small village about three miles south of Collingwood. There is a good deal of wheat grown about this section but not nearly so much as formerly; hay will average about one ton per acre this year; other crops all look well. The meeting here was largely attended by ladies. Some of those present were: Chas. Lawrence, president of the Institute; W. A. Furlong, secretary of the institute; Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence, W. A. Clark, Mr. Ramsay, Mr. John Davis, Mrs. E. Cornell, Mrs. Alex. McKie, Mrs. Meacham, Mrs. Moles, Mrs. W. A. Furlong, the Misses Furlong, Miss Jane Kelly, Mrs. Flora Macmurchy, the Misses Smith, Miss A. Holden, Gordon King, James Gow, Tom Gow, Edward Harris, A. Billinger, G. Campbell, W. H. Tompkins, R. M. McDonald and Robert Ramsay.

Mr. Lawrence took a prominent part at this meeting bringing out some valuable points in his opening address. Mr. W. J. Palmer then spoke on the feeding and care of the dairy cow, advising the farmer to feed ensilage in winter and grow green crops for summer feed, thus lessening the cost of production. At the same time weed out all the poor cows and breed only from the best.

Q.—Why do you add salt to the cream before commencing to churn? A.—To make the butter come quicker.

Q.—What are the best qualities of corn to grow for ensilage? A.—It depends upon the situation. Red cob ensilage, mammoth southern, sweet, Pearn's prolific, are good varieties.

Q.—Do you advocate steaming food for cattle? A.—No; as experiments have proven that it does not pay to do so.

Q.—Is it wise to allow cows to have free access to salt? A.—Yes; if they have salt before them all the time they will not take too much. Cows not salted will give 15 per cent. less milk, and their milk will not keep so long.

Q.—Should milk be set in deep cans immediately after milking? A.—Set cans at once in cold water, or if the milk is allowed to cool, warm up to 90 or 95 degrees before setting.

Twelve samples of milk were brought for testing, but as some of them were partially churned on the road an accurate test could not be made, while others were abnormally high in their percentage of fat, showing that an accurate sample was not taken.

Merely a Practical Joke.

Mr. J. E. Harding, Q.C., Stratford, has received the following letter from Col. Smith, D.A.G., city, with reference to a paragraph recently published in the London Free Press:

THE BARRACKS,
London, Ont., July 8, 1891.

Dear Sir.—Yours of yesterday received. The Free Press paragraph to which you refer contained no less than four mistatements. Your son left the school voluntarily and upon his own application to be permitted to do so. The stuff said to have been thrown at Mr. Cunningham was not carbolic acid but Diamond Dyes, and was evidently intended to show Mr. Cunningham in a ridiculous light rather than do him bodily injury. Very truly yours,

H. SMITH.

PERFUMES.

Crystalized History—That's what someone says words are. But a good Perfume is the essence of sweet words. Petals by the thousand are used to make a single drop of Otto of Roses, but that will stir up more memories in a second than could be read in the ADVERTISER in a week. Josephine loved musk. History says so, and we remember it as well as we do that her husband became Emperor of France. One cannot smell the odor without being reminded of it. But all do not limit their choice to one odor. We hear of a lady who puts her letter paper between sachets of different essences, and it is the perfume that she employs that speaks for her. When she uses Tuberose or Chypre she says: "I am true." If the letter smells of White Rose it is "Adieu;" but if it is the tenacious and persistent musk, it is "Eternal love." If the adorer is too stupid to understand, so much the worse for him. The Perfume should be always of the best quality; everything else depends upon your Perfumes. Good or bad perfume, good or bad anything else. If you can't see that, there must be something wrong in your eyes—better have them examined for spectacles. We say you can always get the best at Bark-well's, and we think we know. zxv

Boom in Grand Trunk Shares—Reports of Union With the C. P. Discredited.

The following special cable published in Monday evening's Montreal Star was largely commented on. It reads: "LONDON, July 13.—Mr. Duncan McIntyre's election to the Grand Trunk Board has sent the price of the company's shares up with a bound. All manner of wild rumors have been afloat concerning the meaning of the election. I learn from the best informed circles that the election is a direct outcome of the recent shareholders' discussion respecting the prospects of the company. 'We have,' they say, 'all that we want in the way of connections. We have a good plant, good lines, and immense receipts, but quite inadequate profits.' It is felt that this last deficiency is to be affected materially by serious changes in the London Board. The management in Canada, it is claimed here, has naturally fallen into a groove and needs bringing more into line with modern methods, hence when Sir Robert Gillespie resigned some of the largest shareholders, whose only desire is to secure a more profitable investment, urged upon the board and Mr. McIntyre that his election would just supply the new spirit needed in the Canadian control. Mr. McIntyre accepted after some discussion. I am assured that the election has no further significance than this. All talk of an impending union between the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific may be dismissed as idle. If the Grand Trunk directors are able in the interests of their company to secure better harmony they may do so, but the suggestion that Mr. McIntyre joins the board to represent the Canadian Pacific interests is quite unfounded."

A new conductor's ticket will shortly be introduced on the M. C. R. The ticket will be in duplicate and provided with rows of figures representing dollars, dimes and cents, and the conductor is required to punch out on the ticket given to the passengers, as well as on the duplicate retained in his ticket pocket, the amount of money paid him, as well as to write upon the duplicate the stations from and to which the passenger was traveling.

It was lucky for this country that we didn't begin shutting out Italian immigrants before Christopher Columbus came over.—[Detroit Free Press.

WORST FORM OF ECZEMA.

Baffled Best Medical Skill for Eight Months Cured in Two Months by Cuticura Remedies.

This is to certify that a child of mine had Eczema in its worst form, and which baffled the best medical skill that could be employed here. The little sufferer was wrapped in agony for at least eight months. Six months of that time its suffering was simply untold, then I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. In two months the awful disease had ceased its vengeance, and my darling boy had rest, and to all appearance the disease had yielded, but I continued the medicine for several months after no trace could be seen of it on any part of his body. The doctors here watched the disease with much interest, and could only say "Well done!" The case was known far and wide, and everybody was much surprised. But thanks to CUTICURA REMEDIES, could there be anything on earth that would cause a father to rejoice it surely would be when the little innocent one could have such a remedy at hand. (See portrait herewith.) J. A. NICOLES, Bunker Hill, Ind.

A child was brought to me with chronic eczema that had defied splendid treatment from many good doctors. As a regular M. D., should have continued similar treatment, but thought it useless. So put it on CUTICURA. The child is well.
