suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy aliment, it becomes a poison to the system. They are just the medicine for all who are troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia.

EMPEROR WILLIAM AND THE DREYFUS AFFAIR.
London, Nov. 22.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says: "The name of Emperor William is now persistently connected with the Dreyfus affair. It is currently reported that at the time of the trial he wrote to M. Casimir-Perier, giving his word of honor as a man that Dreyfus had not betrayed France for the German Government, adding that if necessary he would give his word 'as an emperor with all its consequences.'"

The Gaceta says it was in order to avert grave consequences arising from the Emperor William's having given his word of honor that the court-martial had been ordered to the scene of the request of the emperor, were not produced at the trial.

DREARY ENTERTAINMENT.
London, Nov. 22.—An episode of peculiar interest was the enactment by clergymen in Canterbury Hall of the first church play in recent years. It was entitled "The Conversion of St. Augustine," and was written by Rev. Henry Cross, with the dialogue in a stilted, heroic strain, to the accompaniment of sacred music.

The scenes included a "Roman market," where English ladies attracted Pope Gregory's attention, the monks, with King Ethelbert on the Isle of Thanet, and King Ethelbert's baptism at Canterbury.

The central figure of the production is St. Augustine. The costumes, scenery and chants were historically accurate. The play moves safely into the future, the play being described as a "dreary entertainment."

SOUDANESE SOLDIERS' REVOLT.
London, Nov. 22.—Particulars have reached Zanzibar of a revolt among the Soudanese troops in Major MacDonald's expedition against the lake country south of the equatorial provinces. It appears that the expedition was advancing into the interior from the Uganda country for a point as to which information is wanting. On Oct. 19 last the mutineers, assisted by 150 Mohammedan tribesmen, attacked the expedition.

The expedition was then followed by the Soudanese, Major MacDonald, Lauchie Scott, Civil Officer Wilton and other officers, and a party of 100 Soudanese numbered 30, including Capt. MacPherson and Chief Civil Officer Jackson. The mutineers were finally defeated, and the expedition was continued.

Major MacDonald has been joined by the Wasoga native army, and it is hoped that he will be able to quell the mutiny in a few weeks. A detachment of Indian troops from Mombasa will start immediately to reinforce Maj. MacDonald.

THE FRENCH AGRICULTURAL CRISIS.
Paris, Nov. 22.—During the debate in the French chamber of deputies on the subject of the agricultural crisis, Premier Meunier declared that the cause of the crisis was the progressive fall during the past twenty years in the price of all agricultural products, combined with the depreciation in the price of silver. France, the premier continued, was powerless to solve these questions, because they were of an international character. The agriculturists, he explained, were not only beset by foreign competition, but they had to fight the middle-men, who were far too numerous. It was the duty of the government, Mr. Meunier said, to bring the consumer nearer and nearer to the producer, and consequently the government would shortly submit a bill for the organization of an agricultural credit and for the establishment of agricultural insurance offices. These measures will have mutual treatment, as their basis will also establish an aid and pension fund. A motion to post the premier's speech in every commune throughout France was carried, amid great applause, by a vote of 23 to 6.

TWO MORE BIG FIRES.
Melbourne Suffers to the Extent of $5,000,000—Blaze in Paris.

London, Nov. 22.—A great fire broke out at Melbourne at 2 o'clock this morning and in a very short space of time did enormous damage. It started at the warehouse of Mr. Craig Williamson, in Elizabeth street, in the very heart of the city. A strong wind was blowing, and the fiercely-fanned flames rapidly engulfed building after building. Despite the desperate efforts of the firemen, the entire block bounded by Elizabeth, Flinders and Swanston streets, and Flinders lane, with the exception of two buildings on the Swanston street front, were destroyed within three hours. The burned section included many of the largest business houses in Melbourne. The buildings were completely gutted. As most of them contained soft goods, the flames progressed with a rapidity which defied all checking, and in the furious wind ashes and burning debris were carried into the suburbs, a distance of two miles. It is estimated that the loss will reach $5,000,000, while the trade involved has received a serious setback. Hundreds of employees of all sorts have been suddenly thrown out of work.

A dispatch from Paris says that a destructive fire started Saturday afternoon in a shop in the Rue d'Anjou, in the northeast section of the city. The flames spread rapidly, and the fire was not got under control until a large number of small houses and workshops were destroyed. The burned district covers an area of about two acres. The loss is placed at 400,000 francs. After six hours' battle with the fire the members of the fire brigade were utterly exhausted, and were relieved by a force of 250 soldiers who had been ordered to the scene of the conflagration.

THE GULDENSUPPE MURDER.
Trial of Prisoner Thorne Resumed Before a New Jury and Another Judge.

New York, Nov. 22.—Martin Thorne, the barber, jointly indicted with Mrs. Augusta Nack for the murder of William Guldensuppe, a bath attendant, was placed on trial for his life today in the criminal court of Queen's county. The trial of Thorne, who has given his sensational evidence on the third day, had to be abandoned on account of the serious illness of one of the jurors, Magnus Larson. The presiding judge, W. M. Smith, after hearing the argument of counsel on both sides of the case, adjourned the trial until the morning, and a new special panel of twelve men was prepared. But sickness again played a prominent part when the hour of the trial reached this morning.

Judge Smith, as soon as he arrived at the court house in Long Island city, sent for District Attorney Youngs, and stated that he had been ill with chills and fever, and though a great deal better this morning, was afraid that he would not be able to last through the trial, and deemed it safer for the best interests of everyone that he should not take any risk. Finally Judge Smith took his seat at 10:15, and announced that Justice Maddox would try the case. Court then adjourned until 11 o'clock.

One of the witnesses is Mrs. Ida Zeigler, of 1671 West Farms road. Mr. Howe will endeavor to show by this testimony that the instructions from King to murder Guldensuppe as early as last March.

NO SIGN OF ANDREE.
Return of Steamer From Spitzbergen Without News.

Tromsø, Tromsø Island, Norway, Nov. 22.—The steamer Victoria, which was fitted out by the governor of Tromsø under instructions from King Arthur to search for Prof. Andree, the mis, aeronaut, and his party, and which left here on Nov. 5, has returned from Spitzbergen. She brings no news as to the whereabouts of the movements of Prof. Andree, though exploring parties landed ten times at various points on Danman's Isles.

The Victoria was provisioned for eight months and carried a crew of fifteen men. Paul Björqvist, the explorer, was one of the company. It was understood that the expedition would search Danmandsøer, Advent Bay, Cape Thorsdahl, Prinz Karl Fjord and possibly Danes' Island, from which point Prof. Andree's balloon, the Eagle, ascended in July last for his undertaking to cross the north pole. According to the programme then published, the Victoria on her return trip was to search the southwest coast of Danmandsøer.

Mr. Arthur Craig, of Craighurst, has received the appointment of county treasurer of Simcoe.

The trial of Allison, for the murder of Mrs. Orr, will begin on Nov. 29. The Galt Reformer says that the defense has been greatly strengthened of late.

The output of the Manitoba creameries this year exceeds in value that of 1896 by $100,000. Nearly the whole of the output was sold for consumption west of Port Arthur.

A six-year-old son, son of Mr. Blakey, of the Dominion customs department, Ottawa, died from eating chlorides of potash lozenges, which he took for ordinary candy.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me. I certainly believed it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

"ELITE" PENSIONERS.

Names of Those Who Draw $50 Monthly From Uncle Sam's Purse Kept Secret.

If there is anything which stirs up the old soldiers it is the contention of the secret list of "elite pensioners," which is the title generally given to those fortunate persons who draw from a grateful country the sum of $50 a month or upwards.

Commissioner Evans' report, just issued, shows that there were 97,014 pensioners on the rolls June 30, 1897. The appropriation for the fiscal year was $40,000,000, but the payments exceeded this by nearly $2,000,000.

The report shows that the average annual value of each pension was only $133, which means that the immense appropriation, if evenly divided, would have given each pensioner between $11 and $12 per month.

The common soldiers have grumbled against the favorites, who, they say, generally do not need the money. It always has been charged that in the list of pensions paying $30 per month and over would be found the greatest frauds.

These lists have always been kept secret, and applications for their publication have invariably been refused. The facts were open to all, but the names were considered as confidential in the pension department.

The report shows that there are on the roll 3,650 pensioners who draw $50 per month or over. They draw on an annual pension appropriation to the extent of $3,021,648. There are 977 at $50 monthly, 9 at $60, 2 at $72, 12 at $75, 57 at $80. There are four widows of generals who each draw $2,000 a year, and two with an annual pension of $5,000.

The pension office still maintains that the names are confidential.—Chicago Tribune.

NEW CASES OF YELLOW FEVER.
New Orleans, Nov. 22.—There were eight new cases of yellow fever and three deaths yesterday. William Dempsey, Natalie Vincent and William Jackson were the victims.

THEOSOPHISTS INTERESTED IN DURRANT.
San Francisco, Nov. 22.—The Theosophists of San Francisco are taking a very active interest in the fate of Murderer Durrant. It is a tenet of their faith that capital punishment is wrong, and they are setting up a petition praying Gov. Budd to stay the execution and to commute his sentence to life imprisonment. The petition was prepared by Dr. E. J. Durrant, president of the San Francisco Theosophical Society.

The great lung healer is found in that excellent medicine sold at Biggle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages, and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain, or soreness of the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

The True Remedy.
Wm. Duggan, St. Albans street, Toronto, says: "We won't keep house without Ransom's HIVE Syrup and Tolu for consumption, coughs, colds, croup or bronchial troubles. Experienced with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Ransom's HIVE Syrup and Tolu. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. We would not be without it in the house."

It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as "just as good" as "Ransom's HIVE Syrup and Tolu." They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures, and, besides, is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. 25 cents.

Canada and the United States

The discussion as to the best method of settling the difficulties between Canada and the United States continues. It has been suggested by some that the questions in dispute can be best disposed of by a form of reciprocity. Others have held that each question should be settled by itself. We have learned by experience not to be too sanguine as to a speedy settlement of all questions at issue. But beyond all question, the recent conferences between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies and members of the United States Administration are calculated to have a good effect. The Canadian statesmen have become personally acquainted with the political leaders at Washington, and the general feeling is that no matter what may come of the negotiations entered on with regard to the seals of the Pacific Ocean, and other matters in dispute, there is a growing disposition towards international friendliness. This is of some advantage. It must be borne in mind that the duty of the United States government is to look well after the interests of its people in any settlement that may be devised.
Just as it is the duty of our Canadian statesmen to see that no legitimate interest of the people of the Dominion is sacrificed.While not inclined to go into ecstasies over the prospects, we see good evidence that the relations between the two countries are improving.The Liberals of South Brant meet for the election of officers on Dec. 4, and also to nominate a candidate to represent them in the Ontario Legislature. This is a constituency in which there is no doubt as to the action of the convention. The candidate put in the field will be the Premier of the Province, and the indications are that he will be elected by the largest majority ever polled for him. The reports from pivotal points in the Province are that the Administration candidates will be equally successful in the large majority of the constituencies.

The Campaign in Toronto.

The bye-election contest for the Dominion House of Commons begins in earnest tomorrow, which is nomination day. It will be a lively fight.Mr. Bertram, the Government candidate, will address meetings every evening this week. He not only supports very strongly the Administration programme for preferential trade with Great Britain by the only means by which it could be established, but is making a strong point by promising that if elected he will do all in his power to have the rich northern lands of Ontario developed so as to bring trade to this Province, and to Toronto.It is announced that on Friday night, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Wm. Mulock will address the electors.Mr. O. A. Howland, who has been prevailing upon to resign his seat in the Legislature, was on Saturday night formally nominated as Conservative candidate. He said his reason for entering the field against the Government was because Sir Wilfrid Laurier had not gone as far in securing preferential trade as he believed desirable. This is a strange complaint to come from a party who has been supporting a party whose leaders talked about preferential trade for eighteen years, yet never acted, whereas the government of today passed a tariff for preferential trade with the Motherland in less than nine months after they took office.Mr. Howland and his friends talked; Mr. Bertram and his friends acted. The people admire men of action. Talk is cheap.A candidate for mayor of Springfield, Mass., makes his appeal to the people of that city through the advertising columns of the Republican, occupying nearly a column of space, to explain his wishes and to announce his platform. Advertising in the newspapers generally pays. Live men know it.

Grapes as an Advertisement.

The inquiry for fine Canadian fruit, sent in cold storage, promises to be good in Scotland, as it has proved to be in the English centers of consumption. A recent issue of the Glasgow Daily Mail chronicles the sale, at good prices, of pears, apples and tomatoes imported from the Dominion. Canadian grapes, though of fine quality, and far superior to Spanish, sold at low rates.Our contemporary says that the reason for this is that the people there have not yet learned to appreciate the flavor of Canadian grapes.To us in Canada this seems an odd experience, but no doubt it can be got over. The British people will not be long in accustoming themselves to the flavor if they can get the grapes at the price asked in ordinary years of plenty. Even though the Government were to arrange to have the shipments of grapes to the great trade centers of Great Britain sold without profit for a time, if the announcement were persistently made that the product was grown in the open air, the distribution would be an excellent advertisement of the climatic conditions prevailing in Canada.

Liberalism is strong in Manitoba. At the bye-election for the Legislature in South Brandon on Saturday, Mr. F. O.
Powler, Liberal, was elected by acclamation. There is a contest in Bagsevain, where Mr. Hottel, the late member, died. Thomas Nichols, general merchant (Liberal), and James Johnston, elevator manager (Conservative), are the candidates.

Something in a Name.

The Toronto World proposes that Parliament and the press change the name of the Intercolonial Railway to the Canadian National Railway. An excellent proposition. When the Intercolonial Railway was projected, the name fitted it exceedingly well. But this is an era of progress, and the title ought certainly to be changed.
The bringing of the Government line into Montreal, and the establishment of its western headquarters in the commercial metropolis, should be marked by the change of its name. The title chosen by our contemporary could scarcely be improved on.

EVAPORATED ONIONS.

A Company in Bath has Discovered a New Process.Kingston, Nov. 22. — A company at Bath, engaged in evaporating business, has successfully discovered a process of evaporating potatoes and onions, and can reduce goods into one-tenth the space they originally filled. The evaporating process for onions is highly successful, and a carload will be made ready for the Yukon market.

A CHICAGO SENSATION.

Mrs. Lincoln Said to Have Separated From Her Husband.Chicago, Nov. 22. — It is alleged that Mrs. Robert T. Lincoln has separated from her husband, and that she has been seen in the city of Chicago. The news is a sensation in the city, and many are speculating as to the cause of the separation. Mrs. Lincoln is said to be a devoted Christian, and her husband is a prominent lawyer.
The separation is said to have taken place in the city of Chicago, and Mrs. Lincoln is said to have been seen in the city of Chicago.

WOMAN A U. S. CONSUL.

Secretary Sherman Sets a Record in a Temporary Appointment.Washington, Nov. 22. — For what is believed to be the first time in the history of this government, a woman is acting as one of its representatives abroad.Secretary Sherman has approved the request of J. Adolphus Guy, consul agent of the United States at Edmonston, New Brunswick, for two weeks' leave, and appointed Emma Hart to act as consul agent during his absence.Miss Hart will probably have little business to attend to during her term of office. It is said at the state department that if she takes in more than $20 the officials will believe the natural gallantry of New Brunswickians has caused them to abandon other agencies and secure the services of Miss Hart in transacting their business. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1896, the official fees taken in by the consul agent amounted to $482 50. No notarial fees were secured, and no salary is attached to the office.

SMOKESTACK SPARKS.

Special Excursion to the Klondike in the Spring.Mr. Wm. Forbes, a Waterloo baggageman on the G. T. R. staff, has been transferred to Carlton, and his place taken by A. Meyer, of Berlin.The Canadian Pacific Railway is now arranging a series of special excursions to the Klondike for the coming spring.A. H. Harris, district freight agent of the G. T. R. at Montreal, has been offered the position of general traffic manager for the Intercolonial Railway, with headquarters at Montreal.The Canadian Pacific Railway has issued a circular forbidding its employees to start out from divisional points unless they are perfectly fresh and fit to make the round, if necessary, and in no case to leave unless they are prepared for at least twelve hours' service.The C. P. R. are constructing at their Hochelaga shops a new stateroom car, which will be known as the "Qu'Appelle," and will take rank with the "Kaministiquia" and other luxurious traveling conveyances in the service of the road. The "Qu'Appelle" contains five separate state-rooms, each complete in itself, and connected by its own separate entrance from the corridor.Bradstreet's weekly review says: Favorable gross railway earnings in the third quarter foreshow more satisfactory net returns. Reports of 125 railway companies, comprising 70 per cent of the railroad earning capacity of the country, show better net returns than gross, pointing to the effect of long-continued economies by railroad management. Total gross earnings for nine months aggregate $265,844,055, and the net earnings, $202,253,758, a gain in gross of less than 4 per cent. The gain in the first half of 1897, over 1896 was less than one-tenth of one per cent in gross, and only 4.08 per cent in net.
So that the favorable nature in operations in the third quarter may be inferred. Gains in gross and net over last year follow gains in 1896 over 1895 of 18 per cent in gross and net respectively, and 1895 in turn shows a good increase over 1894. Evidently the railroads have shown a steady return to more profitable conditions. Only one group—the coalers—show a decrease in gross earnings from the total for nine months a year ago, but a gain of 1 per cent in net. In every other group of American roads the position is materially better than last year.A cup of muddy coffee is not wholesome. Neither is a bottle of muddy medicine. One way to know a reliable and skilfully prepared blood purifier is by its freedom from sediment. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is always bright and sparkling, because it is an extract and not a decoction.

Commercial Travelers.

The W. O. Mutual Benefit Association Elect Officers.Mr. R. W. Coates to Succeed Mr. T. P.
Blackwell as President.The general quarterly meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Mutual Benefit Society of Western Ontario was held on Saturday afternoon in the office of the secretary, Mr. Alf. Robinson, with a large attendance of members. The principal business was the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted in the unanimous choice of the following:President—R. W. Coates.
First Vice-president—F. A. Crabb.
Second Vice-president—C. W. Nichols.
Treasurer—W. L. Underwood (re-elected).Secretary—Alf. Robinson (re-elected).
Directors: London, John H. Glass, J. R. Elliott, Alf. Russell, A. E. Barbour, J. M. Logan, Joseph Pocock, J.
W. Fenwick, W. H. Mohar, Bruce Wanless, and T. H. McCurdy; Toronto, M. F. Irwin, F. W. Heath, R. H.
Greene and Frank W. Drew; Chatham, A. E. Merritt; Stratford, Jas. Dow; Woodstock, R. G. Bickerton and A. H.
Fuller; Hamilton, A. W. Robertson and J. Collins; Guelph, on Dec. 9 and 10. We notice that reports of the summary results of the year's co-operative experimenting with grain, potatoes, agriculture, apiculture and dairying will be presented and discussed at the meeting. In agriculture alone co-operative experiments were conducted on 2,335 different farms throughout Ontario in 1897. These include tests with leguminous crops and mixed grain for green fodder; grasses and clovers for hay; commercial fertilizers for corn and mangels; and with leading varieties of grain, potatoes, roots and fodder crops. From the horticultural section the results of the co-operative tests with leading varieties of strawberries, raspberries, currants and gooseberries will be given. The committee appointed to look after the dairy work will report on uniform tests made in several cheese factories and creameries during the past summer. The results of all these experiments in the different branches of agriculture should prove both interesting and profitable to those in attendance at the meeting.
The work throughout impresses us as being of a practical nature, and worthy of careful study by those interested in agriculture. Addresses are to be delivered by Mr. Geo. McKerrrow, superintendent of farmers' institutes, Madison, Wis., on "Economic Feeding"; by Dr. James Mills, president Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, on "Some of the advantages of the Ontario fruit experiment stations to the fruit growers of Ontario"; by a number of ex-students of the agricultural college, on "Important features in connection with successful farming under present conditions"; also by C. C.
James, M.A., deputy minister of agriculture, Toronto; C. C. Creelman, B.S.A., Cobourg, Ont.; L. G. Jarvis, agricultural college, Guelph, and others.Arrangements have been made with the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railway companies for excursion rates from Dec. 6 to 13 inclusive. All persons desiring to attend the meeting of the Experimental Union should write to C. A. Zavitz, secretary Agricultural College, Guelph, for a programme of the meeting, which gives full particulars regarding excursion rates on the railways and other matters in connection with the meeting.

DOUBLED UP!

UNABLE TO WORK.

Suffering Agony Day and Night.

"For nearly two years," says Frank J.
Wray, 211 Sherbourne St., Toronto, "I suffered greatly with lameness and pain in my back. It often happened that my back and kidneys pained me so badly that I wasdoubled up and could hardly walk, except in a stooping position. Very often I was unable to work, suffering agony both day and night. I had severe pain in the lower part of my stomach, and other symptoms which proved conclusively that my kidneys were in a very unhealthy condition. My appetite was lost and my strength declined rapidly."I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills in March last, and after using three boxes of them was completely restored to health. I have not had the slightest pain or stiffness in any part of my back, or any indication of my former trouble, since using these wonderful pills."With the restoration of my kidneys to a healthy condition, my appetite was restored, and my strength returned, so that I am now strong and hearty. I make this statement of my cure by Doan's Kidney Pills with the greatest pleasure, because when I commenced taking them I did not really expect so remarkable a cure as that which followed their use. I am very thankful that I hit upon this remedy, and gladly recommend it to all sufferers."One Laxative Pill every Night for Thirty Days Cures Constipation.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

Arrest of a Prominent Sarnia Citizen — Fence Belonging to J. P. Lister, M. P., Disfigured.Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 22.—N. C.
Peterson, one of the oldest and richest citizens of Sarnia, has been arrested on the charge of malicious destruction of property. A fence which J. P. Lister, M. P., had built around his home in Sarnia, had at different times been smeard with dirty black oil.A reward of $50 was offered by Mr.
Lister for the arrest of the culprit, but the smearing continued. Two detectives were employed, and one of them, who was lying beside the fence, noticed a man approaching, swinging his arms. The detective raised his head and received some black oil in his face. He immediately arrested the man, who, it is alleged, was recognized as Peterson. Peterson has always been regarded as eccentric, and it is alleged he bore Lister a grudge for his defeat in a lawsuit, in which Lister defended.YELLOW FEVER QUARANTINE

HONORE'S FATE.

CHAPTER IX.

It was the day of the Abbotmoor picnic, and Phoebe Owen, with a careworn expression of countenance, added the finishing touches to her elaborate toilet.

"I don't know how it is," she fretted, looking at herself in the glass as she put on her tall hat, with its pink roses and blue feathers, "but whatever way I do my hair, I always look the same. I learned this new way from Theodore, and it doesn't make me look any better—does it, Honore?"

Thus appealed to, Honore answered with pleasant readiness that it was not at all a good thing for girls to be altered by the way they did their hair; and then she put her head gravely on one side, to criticize the plump little figure which she had so patiently and brightly assisted to adorn.

"Well," inquired Phoebe, anxiously, "what will they think of it?"

"I can imagine the rector's eyes, when he says, 'Phoebe, my dear, what a very peculiar costume!'"

"You are always laughing, and seeming as if you weren't, Honore," said Phoebe pettishly. But for all that, now that the arduous performance was over, and she could see the startling tout ensemble in the glass, her own lips broke in a gruffed smile. "Evergreen," will see that I have made the most of the money he gave me, won't he Honore?"

"Indeed he will; but I must run off. Think of me here in my dressing-gown at five and twenty minutes past twelve, and Lawrence ordered the wazette for half-past."

"But you see," put in Phoebe, unwilling yet even for her cousin to go, "Lawrence will wait for you and not be angry, and he does make such a fuss if I am late. Is Jane ready—and how does she look?"

"Very nice," replied Honore shortly, for she never would allow any of Phoebe's spiteful remarks on Miss Haughton's personal appearance. Hard and suspicious as Jane Haughton might be to her young kinswoman, this young kinswoman, on whom nature had lavished her fairest gifts, had never a word to say against Jane's appearance.

"In her temper, I mean," explained Phoebe. "There's Lawrence—she cried, rushing past Honore and down the stairs. 'At least, here I am, and Honore won't be a minute!'"

"Without even a thought of Phoebe's selfishness, Honore ran lightly into her own room, and five minutes afterwards sprang down the last few steps into the hall, alighting unexpectedly beside Lawrence as he paced to and fro waiting for her."

"Oh, Lawrence! I did not see you. I fancied you would be fuming on the box of the wazette."

"I chose to fume here instead," said Lawrence, trying to assume a sternness which he would not feel while she stood beside him in her bright and girlish beauty. "Sit on the box beside me, Honore, and the man and the hamper shall go inside."

With only a light shake of the head for answer, Honore stepped up into the wazette, and Mr. Haughton followed her to Phoebe's great delight.

"I thought you were going to drive," remarked Jane.

"No," he said curtly. "Take the reins, Honore."

It was scarcely half an hour's drive from the Larches to Abbotmoor, yet the wazette was the last vehicle which drew up before the empty mansion, where all the guests were gathered, some dismounting, and others standing about. There was Theodore, resplendent in green and white grenadine, lingering near the dog-cart, from which Royden Keith was assisting little Mrs. Payte to alight. There was the jovial rector, winking the sleepy echoes of the place with his hearty laugh, while his comely wife went in and out among the party, dispensing sage but unheeded advice on the subject of hampers. There was Captain Trent, sauntering to and fro, and vouchsafing languid instructions to the men-servants from Devereux. There was Mrs. Trent, in heavy bronze-colored silk, making strenuous use of her eyes and fan.

There was Lady Somerton, courteously apologizing for the absence of Sir Philip, and making herself quietly and unobtrusively pleasant, as high-bred ladies sometimes do. There was Pierce, in possession of a huge lunch basket; and there was Monsieur Verrier, arranging his camera in front of the house, and weighed down by a greater amount of anxiety than pressed upon the rest of the company conjointly.

"The photograph must be taken first," asserted Miss Trent. "Who will fetch Monsieur Verrier?"

"Bah!" said the old lady, answering brusquely Royden's quiet word. "How can old Myddelton's money cause anything but evil, when we remember how it was garnered?"

"Very easily," returned Royden, gazing on the empty house which lay before them. "Can we possibly hold that heathenish idea of there being a curse on old Myddelton's money? Do you believe that his wealth—if well and humbly used—would not do the good that other money could; and—if, as I said, nobly and generously used—return in blessings on the giver?"

"No—old Myddelton's," opposed Mrs. Payte sturdily. "I remember one reading an epitaph, which ran in this way:

"That I spent, that I had;
That I gave, that I have;
That I left, that I lost."

So you see how old Myddelton managed. He spent little, so he had little; he gave none, so he has none; and he left much, so he lost mightily. How I hate the very idea of wealth when I think of it! See, they are beckoning to us. Dinner, I suppose—always the keynote of a picnic."

The cloths were spread in the shade of the avenue trees, under which a merry group had gathered when Royden and Mrs. Payte came up.

The photograph was taken, and now there was nothing more for them to do but enjoy themselves just in their own idle way, and, first of all, by lingering over the meal, for which everyone was ready. Theodore's management of her own personal affairs was, as usual, excellent, and viewed from her standpoint, thoroughly successful. She took her seat between Royden Keith and Hervey Trent, and was waited upon to her heart's content. Whether all the others fared as well, signified very little, indeed, to her.

Phoebe never did succeed in mild diplomacy, so it was no surprise to her to find herself at a quite impassable distance from her guardian, who was assiduously waiting on Honore, and chafing very visibly at Honore's reception of his services. Captain Trent, too, dovetailed in his mild attentions, but these Honore received with equaly careless composure. It was rather a difficult part to play, this of Captain Hervey's. With Miss Trent's presence and requirements so persistently asserted, and her eyes seldom letting any one of his acts escape her, his arduous inclinations were somewhat difficult of accomplishment.

Wherever Royden's part might have been, he played it with perfect ease, sometimes humorously, but at all times quietly and easily. He had stories to tell now and then, short and witty experience, which though his own, never contained repetition of the objectionable personal pronoun. So well he told them, too, that even those—and there were more than one—who wished to slight them and him, could not do so. So well he told them—his voice perfectly grave, and his smile stately and lips, though his eyes might be full of fun—that he never was interrupted by the ruin of the story, or had to shorten it ignominiously. But once he made a sudden pause, and finished abruptly.

"That wasn't the real end of the adventure," Mr. Keith, said Theodore, excitedly. "Please don't imagine that you can take us in so easily."

TELESCOPED!

Two C. P. R. Engines and Four Cars Destroyed in a Collision.

Happy, healthy childhood! Every child who woman feels a tug at her heart-strings when she thinks of her baby. Another woman's happy, healthy childhood is a woman's supreme duty and her surest happiness. Even in childhood she shows how deep is this sentiment implanted in her breast when she plays with her dolls. There are thousands of otherwise happy wives in this world who only lack the thrilling touch of a first-born's fingers to complete their happiness.

Every wife may be the mother of happy, robust children who will. Thousands of women who had lived years of cheerless, childless wedded life, or whose babies have been born to their weak and sickly, soon to die, are now happy mothers of healthy children, and bless Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the wonders it has accomplished for them. This great medicine acts directly and only on the delicate and important organs that bear the burden of maternity. It makes them strong, healthy, vigorous and elastic. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, and tones and strengthens the nerves. It banishes the discomforts of the expectant mother and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It insures a healthy child and an ample supply of nourishment. Honest dealers will not offer worthless substitutes for the sake of a little added profit.

"I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. Florence Hunter, of Corley, Logan Co., Ark. "I miscarried four times; could get no medicine to do me any good. After taking several bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I made my husband a present of a fine girl."

IMMIGRANT FARES.

Far-Reaching Agreement Between Railway and Steamship Lines.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The agreement which has been entered into between the railroads and the Atlantic Steamship Lines for the regulation of immigrant fares is the most far-reaching of all combinations of the kind that have ever been organized in the country. In the first place it takes in not only all of the trans-Atlantic steamship companies, but the coastwise lines extending as far south as the Gulf of Mexico, and north to Halifax, thereby rendering it impossible for rates to be demonized, so far as the ocean companies are concerned. The initiative was taken by the Western Passenger Association, which has been the leading factor in the struggle with the outside agents, trunk lines and steamship lines that has been going on for years.

—Owen Sound Times: "A fortnight ago reference was made to the unsatisfactory railway connections in the G. T. R. with London and Detroit. A new time-table went into effect on Monday last, and, no doubt, in the account of the action taken by the London business men, Owen Sound has much better facilities for doing business with the points named. It is now possible to run down to London, have plenty of time to do business, and return the same day. Passengers on the early train reach London now at 11:55 a.m. instead of 1:30 p.m., and Detroit at 2:10 p.m. instead of 6 p.m. Returning passengers are able to leave London as late as 5:55 p.m., and reach Owen Sound at 11:30 p.m., giving five hours in that city. The business men of London should now agitate for a better mail service."

RECENT DECISIONS.

Judge Falconbridge yesterday gave judgment at Toronto in the Ogilvy vs. Brown case, heard here on Thursday. It was an appeal by defendants Agnes Ogilvy and others from report of master at Stratford, upon the ground that the master had computed the life estate of plaintiff upon the whole purchase money instead of upon the purchase money less the costs of all parties and the executor's allowance. Plaintiff brought his action asserting his right under the will of Walter Ogilvy, deceased, to be declared the owner in fee, of the testator's real estate that will be construed by the court. Held that as the will was construed in a direction contrary to plaintiff's primary contention, there was no reason why he should not bear at least his proportionate share of the costs. Appeal allowed and report varied by directing that $50 be deducted from the value of the life estate and added to the balance to be distributed among the heirs of Grace Ogilvy in the proportion assigned by the master. The plaintiff to pay out his share the costs of defendants of this appeal. Order for distribution of fund in court in accordance with report as varied. G. G. McPherson (Stratford) for appellants; J. P. Mabey (Stratford) for plaintiff.

Lawson vs. Johnston—Judgment on appeal by plaintiff from order of Judge Edward Elliott at London, requiring plaintiff to give security for costs in an action by a married woman for slander. Appeal dismissed with costs to defendant. In re Estate of J. B. Bartram (London) for plaintiff; Dromgole (London) for defendant.

Suddenly Summoned.

Wm. H. Wright, a Popular Dry-goods Clerk, Died in a Moment.

Death Came While He Sat in a Chair Reading a Newspaper.

Wm. H. Wright, of 591 Talbot street, received a sudden summons on Saturday afternoon. About 4 o'clock he was sitting in a chair at his home reading a newspaper, when without a moment's warning he threw up his hands and was dead before his wife reached his side.

Mr. Wright had been slightly indisposed for a few days, and had quit work on Tuesday night because of not feeling very well. It was thought that he suffered from dropsy of the heart, and being treated for such, was apparently improved. On Friday evening he chatted with some friends who called to see him, and was able to move about the house. He would have returned to work Saturday morning, but was strongly advised not to do so, and remained at home, where he seemed to rest easily until so suddenly called away.

Five years ago deceased came here from Toronto to become a clerk in the dry-goods house of T. F. Kingsmill, which position he had since retained, with great satisfaction to his employer. He was aged 39 years and 11 months, and by his genial disposition had acquired a very wide circle of friends who will hear of his sudden demise with keen regret. He leaves a wife and one child about 7 years of age, and to these bereaved ones the sympathy of all will be extended. Deceased was a member of Star Lodge, Ancient Order of United Workmen, in which order he held an insurance for $2,000. The funeral took place this morning to Toronto.

The Opera House Condemned by Rev. George Jackson.

Rev. Father Cassidy Speaks on Charity at St. Peter's.

Eloquent Plea in Behalf of the Poor—Men's Meeting at the Auditorium—Mr. Pedley on Amusements.

Father Cassidy, of New York, an eloquent Jesuit priest, addressed an overflowing congregation at St. Peter's Cathedral last night. Father Cassidy's theme was charity, and he made a strong appeal for the exercise of that virtue, especially commending the work of the Children of Mary. The Children of Mary, he said, visited the poor, the hospital and the jail, striving to better the condition of those whom God had not favored with the good things of this world. For the foundation of his remarks, the reverend father chose the words of the Lord Jesus Christ, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." He emphasized not only the duty, but the blessedness and the independence giving. At the conclusion a liberal collection was taken up in aid of the funds of the Children of Mary.

The musical services, which were unusually excellent, were conducted by Mr. W. T. Mullins. The choir gave Lamberti's "Grand Magnificat." Miss Mary Mulligan taking the solo part, and also Gobe's "Tantum Ergo," both numbers being rendered with spirit and precision. A feature of the rendition of "O Salutaris!" by the male quartet—Messrs. M. O'Hagan, W. T. Mullins, J. Leach and C. Povey.

The Opera House Condemned. Rev. George Jackson, Colborne Street Methodist Church, in his sermon yesterday morning, referred to the opera house as a place unworthy of Christian patronage. The class of drama seen there as a rule was not at all edifying, and tended to fill the pressing Christian's mind with degrading thoughts.

Mr. Pedley on Amusements. Rev. J. W. Pedley, of the First Congregational Church, had for his subject last night "Amusements." A host of young people believed, he said, that religion was antagonistic to amusements. That was a mistake. Amusement was necessary to all round development and to the health of one's being, but was only the fringe of life after all, and if the standpoint and great controlling principle of life was right, the little things would fall into their proper places. He would not discriminate for his hearers between the different forms of amusement. Anything that hindered Christian growth and usefulness should be abandoned.

Men's Meeting at the Auditorium. The men's meeting at the Auditorium yesterday morning was very interesting. Mr. R. W. Dillon presided, and gave a scripture reading. At 10 P. M. Howard spoke on the character of the Y. M. C. A.; Mr. W. G. Young on the aims of the association, and Mr. F. H. Heath on "Why I should support the Y. M. C. A." Next Sunday begins a series of stereopticon talks by Rev. Robert Johnston that will be specially interesting.

Sanctification. This was Rev. W. J. Clark's subject last night before a very large audience in the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. Clark believes in gradual sanctification. He does not believe in the idea of any second or "higher" conversion. This sanctification, he said, all God's children should earnestly covet, could be efficiently promoted by allowing their full effect to the means of grace—prayer, study of the Word, the communion, the discipline of life, the Spirit's guidance.

Sermon to Young Women. Before 7 o'clock last evening the King Street Presbyterian Church was crowded, and many had to turn away. The pastor, Rev. Thomas Wilson, delivered the second of his special series of sermons to young people. It was specially intended for young women, who were present in very large numbers. Rev. Mr. Wilson's text was Zechariah ii, 4: "Run, speak to that young man." The influence of young women over young men for good or evil was the central thought of an admirable discourse. "How Great Men Have Risen" will be the subject next Sunday night.

Notes. The union thanksgiving service of the Methodist churches in London will be held this year in the Dundas Street Center Church. Rev. R. Hobbs, of Askin Street Church, will be the preacher.

Prof. G. W. Robinson, of Knox College, Toronto, preached two most edifying sermons in St. Andrew's Church yesterday. The pulpit was draped in mourning for the late Wm. Stead, as also was the church.

There will be a league sunrise prayer meeting at the Colborne Street Methodist Church on Thursday morning, and at 11 o'clock a special service.

At St. Andrew's Church a special song service will be given on Thanksgiving evening, and the congregation addressed by Rev. Robt. Johnston.

The large three-manual electric organ that is being manufactured for Dundas Center Methodist Church is rapidly nearing completion, and is being put together in the factory to be played on and tested before being shipped. The organ will be opened with a grand organ recital and concert on Thursday, Dec. 16. The action of the organ will be electric, with all the modern inventions, such as the crescendo pedal, stop switch, etc., and other electrical contrivances.

Thanksgiving services on Thursday morning next will be held at all the Anglican and Presbyterian churches at 11 o'clock.

At Adelaide Street Baptist Church the usual Wednesday night prayer meeting will be omitted this week.
