MURDERER WHO ESCAPED FROM INDIANA STATE PRISON CAUGHT ON FARM JUST EAST OF THIS CITY

Letter Gave American Detectives Clue and the Local Force Co-operating, Firms Shearer Was Found Working For William Byers—Killed Father-in-Law in 1915.

Convicted of murder, Firms Shearer, alias Edward H. L. Thomas, an escaped fugitive from the Indiana state prison, Michigan City, was today arrested by Detectives Robert Egleton, Harry Down and H. D. Claudy, assistant deputy warden of the prison, on the farm of William Byers, three miles east of this city.

Sentenced in 1915 to life in the state prison at Michigan City for murder of his father-in-law, James Stevens, at Huntington, Shearer rose from being a shoemaker in the penitentiary to be one of the head clerks in the administration building. His hard work and quiet manner earned him the confidence of all. Over three years and he became a trustee, and then one day, in the words of the deputy warden, "he just walked out of the building and became a hunted man." He effected his escape January 3 of this year, and until his arrest here William Byers, a small town doctor, was working on the case.

Letter Gave Him Away. The prisoner's arrest today was the result of correspondence he had through the mail. A letter written to a friend in the United States fell into the hands of a secret service officer, and the detective department here and the American authorities commenced setting out the dragnet for him.

On the Byers farm, Shearer, when taken into custody, seemed admitting that he was the man wanted, had absolutely nothing to say. His lone answer to the detective's written question was: "Yes, I am Shearer." According to information given at police headquarters the wanted man arrived here around January 8. He was an excellent farm hand, steady and industrious, but very quiet.

At police headquarters, Shearer looked anything but a murderer. He was about 26 years of age, he was dressed in a blue suit of the latest cut, tan shoes, Christy hat and a stylish water-proof. The prisoner is clean shaven and presented a neat appearance.

WINDSOR AND FIVE BORDER TOWNS WITHOUT STREET CAR TRAFFIC, 100 STRIKE COMPANY REFUSES TO COMPROMISE AS DEMANDS IN ULTIMATUM ISSUED BY EMPLOYEES—D. U. R. OFFERS NO SOLUTION OF TROUBLE.

Windsor, May 3.—Following the refusal of the Standard, Windsor and Amherstburg street railway to compromise, as demanded in an ultimatum, the time limit of which expired at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, over one hundred street railwaymen went on strike at 5 o'clock, tying up traffic in Ford, Walkerville, Windsor, Sandwich, Guelph and Amherstburg.

The men refused to abide by the decision of the conciliation board which recently submitted its finding, which refused recognition of the union, denied the increased wage scale asked, and cut off certain other minor privileges. 7-day the company, which is operated by the Detroit United Railway, refused to offer any solution of the difficulty.

ORLANDO SHOWS DISPOSITION TO HEAL BREACH

Italian Premier Believes Overtures Should Come From Paris.

REGRETS DEMONSTRATION

Minister of Interior Ordered To Check Anti-American Riots.

Paris, May 3.—The Italian issue is still in the balance, with Camille Barrere, French ambassador, and Thomas Nelson Page, American ambassador, both making efforts at Rome to find, by conversations with Premier Orlando a formulae which will heal the breach caused by the withdrawal of the Italian delegation to the peace conference. The Italian premier is said to show a disposition to resume relations, but thinks that overtures should come from Paris.

Premier Orlando has written a letter deprecating anti-American demonstrations, saying that the minister of the interior has taken steps to stop them. The newspapers report that there had been numerous conferences between the German capital, today with official and press dispatches. Time is being rather heavily on the side of the German part of the delegation, however, owing to the delay in the opening of the actual peace negotiations. The billiard tables in the hotels occupied by the Germans are frequently in progress in the newspapers' club rooms and in the open places.

Enemy Newspapers Complain of Cold Reception Given Delegates.

Paris, May 3.—In a German wireless dispatch picked up in Paris, the first meeting of the German delegates with representatives of the Allies is described at length. The attitude of the French officials is characterized as "cold but correct."

The message declares that the French and British press treat the arrival of the Germans as a matter of minor importance, and adds that, according to the Dutch papers, the American press has displayed a similar indifference. It is given as the probable date of the signing of the treaty.

The commissioner has issued a warning that any attempt on their part to go to the city will lead to their instant banishment to Germany. A survey of the long roster of the German delegates reveals the presence of a fourth German minister of state, in addition to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, Herr Landsberg and Herr Schuler. He is Minister of Labor Schwartz, who is found among the 52 commissioners sent by the various nations to support the principal delegates.

The weather in the city was in the routine around German headquarters occurred this afternoon when a procession of youths, cheering for Premier Clemenceau and carrying placards reading "Vive la France" marched through the Rue des Reservoirs yelling loudly as they passed the Hotel des Reservoirs. This statement was made to the correspondent by Count Michael Karolyi, who established a republic in Hungary last year. Karolyi, who is now in the city, has been in the city for a few weeks ago, if he is not mixed up in them now. Conferences continued for some time and finally an agreement was made along the lines that were in existence in the United States. That agreement is now about to expire, and the delegates have been sent back to the war board to ask for another agreement in which the 44-hour week and a 20 per cent increase are mentioned.

LONDON PAYS ITS RESPECTS TO RETURNED OFFICERS; ARE TENDERED A CIVIC BANQUET

Lt.-Cols. Sparling, Nelles and Reason and Major Niven Are Guests at Tecumseh Event—Ald. E. S. Little Presides.

Four Canadian officers who recently returned to this city after distinguished service overseas were tendered a civic banquet at the Tecumseh House last evening, at which also tributes were paid to the men who have come back from "over there," and to those who have saved their lives in the service of humanity. The four officers in whose special honor the banquet was given were Lieut.-Col. A. W. Sparling, commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, Lieut.-Col. Harry Nelles, commander of the 4th Battalion, Major Hugh Niven, of the P. C. L. I., and Lieut.-Col. C. H. Reason, who was in command of No. 3 Stationary Hospital.

E. S. Little, who acted as chairman in the absence of Mayor C. R. Somerville, expressed regret that the mayor could not have been present, for he said that no one in the city, he was sure, felt so keenly about the return of the men from overseas as his worship. Mr. Little asked to be excused for a slight nervousness, which he attributed to the fact that he had just received the fifty-first inquiry as to whether the banquet was to be held on Saturday night or daylight saving time, and to the circumstance of his having been assigned to seat number thirteen.

In addressing the four officers who were the guests of honor, the chairman referred briefly and separately to the record of each of them. Col. Sparling, he said, although he was not a Londoner, was known to the people of London through the letters written home by the men who served under him at the front, and who had spoken of him as an officer who was always in the forefront when fighting was going on, and who never asked his men to do anything which he was not prepared to do himself. He wished that Col. Sparling might stay in London, but he was going to the Northwest, where his home was, and on behalf of the citizens of London he wished him God-speed.

Mr. Little referred to Col. Nelles as a man whose ancestors must have had strong strain of fighting blood, who had made itself manifest in the present generation. Col. Nelles' command had become known as the Mad Fourth, and he had no doubt that the Germans who faced it in France thought that the name was deserved.

To Major Niven, Mr. Little said that he hoped he would remain in London now that he had returned to the city of his birth and boyhood. If he did not, however, he wished every officer in London would go with him to the west.

In welcoming Col. Reason the chairman also expressed the good wishes of the people of the city, and their gratitude for the splendid work which he and the men under his command had done to alleviate the suffering of the wounded.

Col. Sparling was formally introduced to the gathering, and his health proposed by Major A. Spencer, who returned a few days ago with B troop of the Canadian Light Horse, formerly the 7th C. M. R. of London. Major Spencer referred to the fact that Col. Sparling had been decorated by the King for gallantry in the field, and that he had been three times decorated by the King for gallantry in the field. The officers of Vimy Ridge his work was so good that he was awarded the D. S. O. At Arras, where the Canadians broke the much-vaunted Drocourt-Queant switch of the Hindenburg line, his gallantry was again recognized by the King with an award of a bar to his order, and a second bar was added for his services at London Wood, in the last big drive by the Canadians.

Few Records Are Equal. Major Spencer declared that few Canadians had had a more distinguished war career than had Col. Sparling, who at the time he had already said, was always right up with his men when there was fighting to be done, and to whose organizing ability was due in great measure the splendid name which the 1st Battalion bore.

In reply, Col. Sparling thanked those present for the honor they had done him by attending the banquet, and Major Spencer for the kind things he had said. The 1st Battalion, said Col. Sparling, consists of six fine, "fat" companies of men as he would wish to be associated with. On the day that the unit reached here, he said, he could not help feeling sad when he thought of the imminent dispersal of his men. He would probably never see more than 15 per cent of them again, and he could not yet get used to the feeling of being away from them.

Col. Nelles' health was proposed by Major Eric (Buster) Field, who spoke of him as an officer who had succeeded the most beloved commander in the Canadian corps, Lieut.-Col. Thompson, and who had not only fulfilled this difficult task, but had done so to such good purpose that it was doubtful if even Col. Thompson ever held quite the place in the hearts of his men that Col. Nelles did. Col. Nelles had been decorated with the M. C. for gallantry at Mount Sorrel, where he was the only officer above the rank of lieutenant remaining unscathed after the battle. He won the D. S. O. in 1917, and a bar to that decoration at Amiens in August, 1918.

Col. Nelles, he said, was complimented by Gen. Macdonnell, the divisional commander, on having the finest appearing battalion in the division. This tribute was paid only five months after Col. Nelles took over command of the unit, which had done its share of the fighting with great credit.

Help the Veterans. Replying to the toast, Col. Nelles expressed the greatest gratification at being thus honored. He took occasion to point out that the honors a man wins do not necessarily indicate the measure of credit due to him. Men who fell in battle and were able to return, on duty were often decorated, while others were more seriously wounded, and had to go out of the line, were not accorded this honor. He referred also to the natural restlessness of soldiers in first returning to civilian life, and he asked that allowance should be made for that condition in the case of officers who had returned from overseas. He also urged that provision should be made for everyone connected with men who had given their lives in the cause of freedom.

The health to Major Niven was proposed by Brig.-Gen. L. W. Shannon. Unfortunately, he said, he came to London after Major Niven left the city so that really no introduction from him was needed of a man who had spent his boyhood in the city and remained here until this latest of the war drove him away. No one was surprised, he said, when word came that Hugh Niven had enlisted as a private in the Princess Pats, and no one who knew him was surprised at the rapid advancement which came to him when he reached the fighting line. He, like Col. Nelles, had been decorated with the M. C. the D. S. O., and a bar to the latter order.

Calls for Holiday. Major Niven, after very briefly thanking Gen. Shannon and those present, said he did not think that the guests would care to hear about the war from him. Peace was about to be signed, and soldiers especially were anxious to forget the horrors of the last four or five years. He said he was asked to speak at a large school in Toronto a few days ago, and the principal, in introducing him, spoke so glowingly and so long that he came to the conclusion that he must be quite a distinguished person. He suggested, therefore, that the usual formality of introducing a speaker on the occasion of the visit of a distinguished person might be carried out on that occasion, and this was done. Major Niven thought that the guests also should be given a holiday from hearing him speak and he made that the conclusion of his remarks.

Col. Evans Davis, in proposing a toast to Lieut.-Col. Reason, referred to the latter as an officer who had done splendid work as commander of No. 3 Stationary Hospital. This unit, said Col. Davis, was in his opinion the best Canadian hospital in France. It had handled more casualties in proportion to personnel than any other medical unit, and its record in every respect was of the best, a fact which he ascribed largely due to Col. Reason's excellent qualities.

Deprecating the credit which had been given him for the excellence of the unit which he had the honor to command, Col. Reason declared that much of this credit was due to Col. Davis himself, with whom he had exchanged duties. Also things were made easy for him by the readiness with which the men responded when anything had to be done. He paid a special tribute to the work of the nurses, to the Red Cross, the Canadian War Contingent's Society, which supplied comforts for the personnel as the Red Cross did for the wounded; to the Y. M. C. A., and lastly to the wounded for their unselfishness. He said that dozens of times when large numbers of wounded were brought in and the men had to wait their turn, men had asked that others be attended to first.

Tribute to Staff. Referring to the occasion on which the hospital was bombed by German aircraft, Col. Reason said that every nurse and every officer and man stayed at their posts and worked unceasingly. To their splendid heroism, he said, was undoubtedly due the fact that not one of the patients who survived the actual bombing died from the effects of the fire which broke out immediately afterwards.

A silent toast to "those who are absent" was drunk, after it had been proposed by Bishop Williams. His lordship said that in rising to propose the toast he did so with difficulty, for he felt that a toast was not the most fitting way to honor the memory of those who had been killed. He suggested that there was no need to think of them as being absent. The hearts of those present were with them, and he should say that they were not with the gathering in spirit?

"Let us not forget," he said, "that we owe our entry and our freedom to the gallant men who went out to fight the enemy, and we owe those things as much to the men who have passed beyond as to those whom we have with us tonight, perhaps even more."

War Revived Faith. The war, said Bishop Williams, had revived faith in human nature. The response of the gallant men and boys of Canada had shown the falsity of the pessimistic theory that the present generation was decadent. Our men had shown that they were at last the equals of the finest men in history. Their record, also, had caused him to revise some of his own theories. He had been inclined to think of the younger people as not quite on the same level as their elders, but most of the men who had gone overseas during the war were young men, and they had proved that they could stand such a test as men had never before been called upon to endure. He doubted whether he or many other men of his age could have come through such a test. "The youth of this country," he concluded, "has proved that it can do anything, and a country with such young men can do anything in the future." Songs were rendered during the evening by Percy King and Ed. Crawford, and the program concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

Balanced Value

Value, as represented in Gray Dort Motor Cars, is a union of good qualities.

Strength that means faithful service, free from trouble, yet sacrificing nothing of the lightness so essential to economy. Beauty unquestionable, that yet allows for every essential of good engineering. Comfort, too, both in riding and driving. And then a price kept surprisingly low by factory efficiency and big production.

You need in your car all the qualities the Gray Dort has. And probably you need nothing more. Certainly you can get nothing more without paying very much more.

The touring car is $1245; the Gray Dort Special—the car with added refinements and extra equipment, is $135 extra; there are also a coupe, and a sedan. All prices f.o.b. Chatham and are subject to change without notice.

The HOT SPOT Chalmers is the One Car of the Day

THE great Canadian public, never fooled for long, is beginning to realize that Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

Sales are climbing fast. From coast to coast the movement is toward Chalmers.

Today this car is on a production basis at the factory that Chalmers executives little expected to occur even in July.

Why is this?

The answer is "Hot Spot." For this simple but really magnificent device does a trick in the use of gas that is almost beyond belief.

It "smashes up" raw gas, "pulverizes" it, makes it "fine as dust," so that you can get every last bit of power out of gas.

Then the great Ram's-horn rushes it gently but quickly through "easy air bends" to the cylinders, and what is the result?

Not only high power from a low-grade gas, but an even, soft flow of power that rests your nerves, saves your tires, and gives you a new and rare delight in driving.

Please don't miss this present day Chalmers. It's the one car of the day.

Night-Time Time-Pieces

THE movement for the electric clock in the Toronto City Hall was brought over from England 21 years ago. It cost thousands of dollars. And it showed time in the dark.

About the same time very wealthy men were carrying in their pockets another kind of a time-in-the-dark time-piece—a watch that sounded the time for them on a tiny gong when they "pressed the button." This striking watch was known as a "repeater" and cost from $150.00 up.

Now you can buy a guaranteed Ingersoll Radiolite, the modern time-in-the-dark time-piece, for as low as $3.00. Instead of the old exasperating striking mechanism to sound the time, the Ingersoll Radiolite glows the time. Genuine radium in the substance on the figures and hands does it.

It's the watch for up-to-the-minute-men, the leaders, the kind of men who get things before the crowd knows they are a necessity. The retailer has a complete line, including the $3 model pictured above. Now is the time to select. Look for INGERSOLL on the dial.

Citizens Will Roll Up Fund For Red Triangle

The campaign to be launched Monday to secure $20,000 for the Y. M. C. A. work among the soldiers until the last man has been brought back to Canada will be certain of success. London will look upon the good works of the Red Triangle and respond to the appeals made by officers and men on behalf of an institution that has spent millions of dollars to provide comforts and look after the welfare of the men at the front and in all training camps.

While the Red Triangle sign was to be found everywhere along the Canadian front, and represented heroic work on the part of hundreds of men, an equally important branch of the war service was the providing of recreation. The Canadian championship games held in France on Dominion Day, 1918, were one of the notable events in the way of athletics held by any army in the field. The Y. M. C. A. handled these sports. Vast areas for diamonds and fields were laid out, grandstands erected and equipment provided for all the participants. It was one of the finest things the Y. M. C. A. has done for the men.

The work in camps at home, the entertainments provided nightly and weekly, the facilities afforded for writing, as well as the refreshments provided, and services rendered on troop trains, represented an expenditure on a large scale. The Canadian army as now constituted would miss a great deal were the city to fall short of the objective established. Let the Y. M. C. A. finish its work and complete its record.

Clean Up Week For London

Next week is clean-up week for London. It is hoped citizens generally will remove from yards, cellars and alleys accumulations of dust, dirt and rag-tag that hold menace to health and property by providing starting points for disease and fire. We pride ourselves on the cleanliness of our habitations and places of business, but everywhere there are nooks and crannies that are likely to be overlooked. A small piece of oil-soaked rag holds possibilities of a great conflagration, and potential epidemics lurk in minute bits of garbage or decaying matter. Nothing is so insignificant that it can be ignored, as we endeavor to destroy everything that holds the taint of impurity or a danger to property. A little reflection will convince one of the enormous economic importance of a clean city. Personal and public health, happiness and prosperity are forwarded by this annual purification.

Please Come To Be Hanged

Toronto assumes the position toward McCullough, the murderer, of a schoolmaster calling to a recalcitrant youth. "Come here at once and be whipped." In the case of the young man who saved his way out of jail and made good his escape, it is a case of "Come home and be hanged." The "reprieve" just granted extends the date set for the execution for six weeks. It will be most unfeeling of McCullough if he does not bring his holiday to a conclusion before the expiration, otherwise it will be necessary for the court to stretch the period longer. And it is probable that McCullough would rather have the time stretched again than his own neck.

There has been an entire absence of the "hue and cry" set up in most cases of the kind by the police. Not one bloodhound has been put on the ex-prisoner's trail. Perhaps it was the manner of McCullough's escape that made the authorities so considerate; he did it so politely. He wrote charming letters to all concerned and apologized for having to break out of their little jail. He professed repentance of his sins and promised to be a proper person for the rest of his life. Perhaps there is some hope that his awful situation has had the effect of making him safe for society, but society cannot take chances even with so suave a jail-breaker. Society may not wish to see him caught, yet society knows that the law should be seeking the man. Society had to smile at the solemn owls who gathered after his escape and relieved the jail authorities of all blame. The solemn owls were the jail authorities themselves.

The deferred event has been set for Friday, June 13. Something sinister about that combination of calendar omens—unlucky for McCullough or for the authorities? He will no doubt write a letter to some newspaper about it, and tell the authorities what he thinks of the grim sense of humor of Judge Rose. Just for that he may not come back.

Were it not that the revolting crime of murder fills the background of the drama, the escape of McCullough would no doubt afford material for the next burlesque to be presented by those splendid Thespians, the Toronto Press Club. The time, the place and the girl, and all the thrills that accompanied the getaway are appropriate subjects for the satirist. But joke or no joke, the man is either keeping to some place of security or has put real distance between himself and the old Don jail.

Curious Exodus to Europe

The United States immigration authorities report a curious back-to-their-native-land movement of Russians, Germans, Austrians and Poles. These departures average 10,000 a month, and, with few exceptions, the individuals are well supplied with cash, seldom less than $1,000, and often much more. What is the attraction drawing these men from a land of safety and prosperity to the bankrupt and perilous sections of Central and Eastern Europe? Patriotism cannot be the motive, else many of these fellows would have gone home during the war years.

It is particularly amazing that Russians should be heading homeward at this time. Such of their hard-earned cash as slips through the Bolshevik fingers could be of no use for investment while the present political and economic confusion prevails. Few people accustomed to the safeguards around person and property would voluntarily pass into social conditions where sudden death and thievery are sanctioned by rogues. However, there is no certain rule by which to measure the Muscovite. He doesn't perform according to a schedule, and is more likely to do the sensational than the sensible thing.

This exodus should help stabilize frenzied portions of the old world, as the home comers will carry to their kinsmen the concrete evidence that thrift, hard work and orderliness achieve contentment. They will throw in with the forces combatting organized lawlessness, and will aid notably in reconstruction when anarchy is finally overcome.

Food Prices Cause Unrest

The evidence so far placed before the Mathers' Commission proves that the supreme reason of the grave industrial situation in Canada is the soaring prices of food and the high cost of living generally. Now that this has been made clear through an official channel, will the Government act quickly in seeking a remedy? Such an investigation as the royal commission is conducting would not have been necessary had there not been in power at Ottawa a backbones ministry, unable, or unwilling, to tackle the biggest problem this country has ever faced. It is nonsense to pretend, as some at the capital do, that the causes of Canadian industrial unrest are so multitudinous and so involved as to require prolonged inquiry and study. So far as this applies to working out a scheme of co-operation between employer and worker it is correct, and along these lines the commission will doubtless prove of good service, but the hub of the present dangerous social situation in this country is simply the prohibitive prices placed on those commodities essential to decent and healthy existence.

Once the prices of food, fuel and clothing are scaled down to reasonable figures there will follow a contentment that will make all other difficulties much easier of adjustment. Why has the Government persistently dodged this task? During the war years it had the excuse of concentrating on winning the war, and the public bore patiently with exasperating conditions, rather than hamper Canada's part in the operations, but this excuse has gone and still Ottawa refuses to take the definite, bold action required. How can the Government expect to escape the charge of being controlled by a powerful reactionary element of ruthless profiteers while it refuses to cut straight to the heart of an intolerable situation?

Government control of the prices of essential articles, modification of the tariff or a combination of both may supply relief, if not a full remedy, but what the masses of this country are demanding is that something vital be done, and that at once. Is it not a fact that today vast quantities of foodstuffs are permitted to pass under the control of a few men who hoard it and compel purchase at their own figures?

Social discontent in Canada, so widespread just now, will continue to grow until it may develop into thoroughly dangerous demonstrations—to put it mildly—if the Government does not do something to reduce the price of food and the other essentials.

EDITORIAL NOTES

That $32.28 is certainly the sum that put the waste in Mr. Calder's waste basket.

Permanent Unionist party to be formed, says a headline. But it is permanent now, or perhaps the adjective is stationary.

Brantford machinists quickly told the country how much rot Mr. Cockshutt was talking when he said Canadians wanted titles.

Father, coming down the stairs, Willie's marble lying there—Crash! Bang! Biff! and Willie Wiggle said: "Oh, pa, you've squashed my miggie!"

Think of what a tremendous issue that waste-paper basket would make for our old Conservative friends. Better than a lowered grade or a bill for editorials.

The Advertiser's Daily Short Story

A SOLITAIRE FOR SUSAN.
By Izola Forrester.

If Susan had not lived in semi-retirement for all the years of her girlhood, she would not have been so tragic. But it did seem as if all the tragedy of her life had been concentrated in the few days when she had been in the hands of the diamond ring in her hand after seven years of incarceration.

If you leave the train at Fairfield Junction and take the trolley eight miles along the shore you come to Kittery Bend. It lies on a small peninsula jutting out into Long Island sound, a residence section crowding Pine Point. Here on the Point Susan had lived with her mother, and since her father, old Capt. Rogers, had been laid away in the seamen's burial ground behind the old Point church.

It had not seemed then as if anybody would ever ride along and play prince of the seashore, but Susan had been so proud and exclusive ever to attend the village social affairs, and no local suitors had the temerity to climb the hill and show serious attentions before either Susan or her two elder brothers, who were now in the army, had passed and she was twenty-six when Dudley sold off his old rooming house for a quarter and suddenly found courage to propose.

Susan stood on the veranda that first day with the new light of wonderment upon her face and the diamond on her left hand. She had always felt it would be Dudley who would marry her, and yet, now that it had come true, she felt a curious sense of deliberate and sure.

"I guess you've known right along now how I felt toward you, Susan," he had said. "I've brought the ring with me, and I don't want to make any mistake about it now. I've got as much as any of you."

No, she thought there would be no fuss, there would be a quiet wedding, and she would simply drive over to the old Ames house and take possession of her mother's place there for the rest of her life. And as she thought of it, some how there came a picture of a man, a man who had been a part of her life, a man who had been a part of her life, a man who had been a part of her life.

It was raining after supper that night, raining with a light breeze blowing in off the water, and all the garden lifting its head of sweetest to the moisture. She slipped a long cloak about her and went out softly, down the old back path, toward the shore. The tall spider lilies caught at her feet, and she stepped on wild roses growing low along the path, and the pink Bouncing

And, oddly enough, she knew that she was deceiving herself. It was not the beauty of the night calling her, it was the hope of seeing the lights on Neil McCleod's schooner, down in the harbor of Kittery Bend. Neil was a newcomer. He had even trespassed on the path to the Rogers' place, not knowing that only the family ever took the short-cut. And there he had been, the little old pilot house that served as a summer house, and Susan had seen him, the Three Widows.

"After that, every time he came to the shore, and Susan had seen him, the Three Widows. After that, every time he came to the shore, and Susan had seen him, the Three Widows. After that, every time he came to the shore, and Susan had seen him, the Three Widows.

WRONG DIRECTION.
[Spiker Railway.]

The soldier whose specialty had been sewer trenches for some months past, was found leaning on his shovel. "What are you dreaming about now?" the non-com asked. "I was just thinking," responded the shovel-wielder. "That if these ditches were straight up and down instead of lengthwise, I'd have dug my way back home long before this."

NOYES ON THE BOLSHIEVSKI.
[Hallifax Chronicle.]

Among the poems in his forthcoming volume "The New Morning," which Alfred Noyes reveals his keen understanding of present tendencies in the idealism of this age, is that entitled "On Certain of the Bolshievski Ideals." With stinging judgments it addresses them and throws them a challenge which they would do well to take up:

"With half the force and thought you waste in rage,
Over your neighbor's house or heart of stone,
You might have built your own new heritage.
O fools, have you no hands, then, of your own?
Where is your pride?"

THEM WAS THE HAPPY DAYS.
[To the Editor of the Evening Sun.]

I am thinking—
Hand on the door,
Shoe scraper at the door,
Whitewash on the walls,
Oil lamps in the hall.

Gas lamps in the street,
The cop on his beat,
A pig's foot for a nickel,
A cent for a big pickle.

A bucket of beer for less than a dime,
One bean for a real good time,
Meat, milk and eggs all of the time,
Fifty cents for a bird with wine.

$2 shoes, $1 hats, $10 suits,
A quarter for half a dozen cheroots.
Of course, not living like a king or a bear,
But this time of magnates with the good old days never can compare.

THE GREAT REVIVAL.
[From the New York Tribune.]

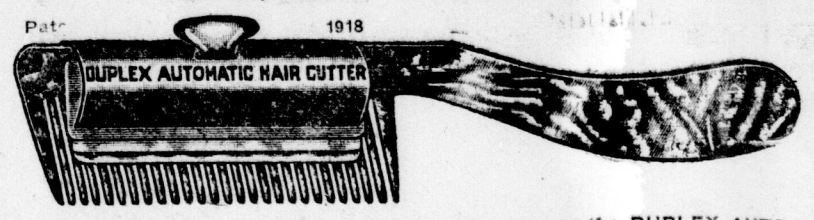

There was a widespread sweating off among baseball fans two years ago. The decline and fall had been coming, the final collapse was due to the war. The box score from Cantigny made the old five-star baseball extra as pointless as a grape-juice cocktail. Of necessity, the eclipse became complete. The dismal prospect began to predict a leagueless era, and talked darkly of old times being gone, never to return—to the Polo grounds at any rate.

Yet, yesterday, to Canada's cherry blossoms, some 30,000 Rip Van Winkles awakened from their long slumber and found themselves oddly enough at the Polo grounds. By special arrangement the weather bureau stated that all was exactly as of old, that there had been no hiatus in the league, and the Yankees, by blinking one's eyes rapidly one might fancy that nothing had changed, what? We can imagine an aged fan rubbing his eyes and muttering: "Thank heavens it was only a night's nap! There will be bigger times yet, unless all the prophets fail. Sunday ball is around the corner and imagination sets in. I must to the grandeur of the pageant in store for the faithful. The great revival has begun—at least one topped throne, and who knows but that in the light of such a restoration even the first of July may be passed with emotion if not bordering upon resignation at least escaping disaster."

THE LONDON HOTEL FAMINE.
[Manchester Guardian.]

The scarcity of hotel room in London these days is almost unbelievable. It certainly is not believed by people visiting London until they have had their own bitter experience. It happened that three times this week I have attempted to find rooms in London. I was extremely lucky to have had one hotel success. The booking was made on the first day before the arrival. In the first case I tried nearly all the big hotels, but they were booked completely for a fortnight. In the other two which I expected to have been vacant, I asked if the applicant was an old customer, and if so, to check his statement, but if he was not an old customer there was no chance for him. Ultimately I found a room vacant in a small city hotel, unknown to everyone but the travelers in a particular trade. In the case of a young naval officer and his wife, I tried a dozen hotels, mainly of the Bloomsbury tenement type. No luck there, either. My friends had to go to the suburbs. The first case was for a man staying two days, and again it was hopeless in the hotels. But I ultimately found a bed vacant in a restaurant. I am told that in some hotels men are sleeping ten in a big room, and the demand on the hotels above the requirements in war time is enormous. The peace celebrations had better make their arrangements now or stay at home.

SIXTEEN PLAYERS TRAINED AT BALL PARK YESTERDAY

Game Is Played Between Picked Teams—Keenan Gets a Two-Base Hit—Detroit Stars Play Exhibition Games Here Tuesday and Thursday.

Sixteen London players turned out to the workout held at Tecumseh Park yesterday. In the morning the men were put through a practice, but in the afternoon they got right down to work and staged a real old-time ball game for the fans who were in the bleachers.

Joe-Joe Keenan picked a team and took the field. For the first few innings the other team were in the lead, but with three men on bases the London leader made a two-base hit and won out. Joe-Joe covered second base and it was like old times to see him back on the diamond.

Big Ben Gilbert did the hurling for Keenan's nine, while Hansen, who comes from New Brunswick, was in the box for the opposing team.

Alex. Hill of Toronto made a sensational catch in the field when he ran from left to center catching a hard fly. He was cheered by the spectators.

A workout will be held this afternoon if the weather is favorable, the team will get in a couple of hours of hard practice.

Regulars—Hill, f.; Cleary, c.; Clark, f.; Donnelly, lb.; Reid, 2b.; Vennily, s.; McGinnis, 3b.; Summerhayes, c.; Hansen, p.

Yanigans—Flanders, f.; Ranks, c.; McCarthy, f.; Leshman, lb.; Keenan, 2b.; Gadsby, s.; Kelly, 3b.; Hess, c.; Gilbert, p.

SENATORS BEAT ATHLETICS BY SCORE OF 7-2

Pitcher Shaw Gets Two Home Runs in First Two Times at Bat.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—Washington beat Philadelphia, 7 to 2, in the opening game of the American League here today. A reception to Admiral Sims in connection with the Liberty Loan campaign caused the cancellation of the exercises originally intended to open the local season. Shaw was largely responsible for the Senators' triumph. In his first two times at bat he sent the ball into the left field bleachers for home runs. He held Philadelphia to a single, by Thomas, up 619 026-12 2. In the sixth they bunched four singles, and With Dugan's hit to center the Athletics scored two runs. John Seibold, who substituted and held the locals safe. The score: R.H.E. Many of the effects used by Neek Suen are original and new to this country, and it is not now presented in such a clever manner as to appear new, and a dialogue sparkling with epigrams and repartee, with a clever little story woven through it.

W. S. HART, MARY PICKFORD AND BRYANT WASHBURN ON ALL-STAR BILLS AT MAJESTIC

Harold Lloyd and Mack Sennett Comedies, Travelogues and News Weekly Films at Popular Theatre Next Week—Frankie Callan of "The Midnight Frolics" Will Provide Excellent Programs of Latest Songs.

In "The Poppy Girl's Husband," his latest Artcraft offering, which will be displayed at the Majestic Monday and Tuesday, W. S. Hart is supported by a most notable cast of players. Juanita Hansen, known as one of the most beautiful women of the screen, appears in the leading feminine role, while Capt. Walter Long, late of the United States army, has the part of Boston Blackie.

Little George Stone, who was so successful in the part of the little Belgian boy in C. B. De Mille's Artcraft picture, "Till I Come Back to You," will be seen as the son of the star, who has the role of a convict, parted from his wife and child to serve ten years in prison.

Fred Starr in the heavy part gives a fine performance, and David Kirby, who once inhabited the Barbary Coast of San Francisco, where the scenes are mostly laid, has the role of Montana Kid. Jack Boyle wrote the original magazine story from which C. Gardner Sullivan adapted the screen drama. The direction is by Mr. Hart and Lambert Hillier. Joe August was the camera man.

Power and novelty are the two big features of the picture. It differs from most Hart pictures, yet it has all the dramatic strength and emotional quality of his best work. The scenes are laid in San Quentin prison and in the infamous Barbary Coast of San Francisco, which for decades has been the resort of the denizens of the underworld.

MARY PICKFORD AT MAJESTIC ON NEXT WED., THURS. AND FRI.

Mary Pickford will be presented at the Majestic next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, in her new Artcraft picture, "Capt. Kidd, Jr." This is an adaptation of the play of the same name, by Rida Johnson Young, which scored an enormous success upon the stage in 1916. It is literally packed with all the elements that go to make up a screen element—spirited humor, adventure, peppy action, heart interest that grips and entrances—making as pretty a romance as Mary Pickford has ever figured in upon the screen. Mary MacFadden, with her grandfatherly conduct a book and circus show, in co-operation with Jim Cleason, a struggling young author, in love with Mary. Jim purchases a box of books at an auction sale, but through an error the wrong consignment is delivered to the shop. In the box Jim finds a book entitled, "The Pirate's Revenge," in which has been concealed instructions for the finding of a hidden treasure, left by the late Hy. Carleton. Willie Carleton, heir to the estate, visits the shop in search of the book, but fails to find the particular one they want. Willie forms a combination with Mary and Jim, and the book store is closed while they go on the treasure hunt. After digging frantically and undergoing strange adventures, they find a rusty box containing the admonition that "Health and Honor Tell" are the greatest riches in the world. Greatly disappointed, Mary returns home, only to find that the farm, which the treasure hunt was conducted in, which she inherited, is wanted by the railroad. She secures $20,000 for the farm, and Jim and she at last realize the happiness they have sought in their dreams. The cast appearing in support of Miss Pickford is a notable one. A parrot contributes some of the best laughs, and Victor Powell, as Sam, the "constable," assists the dainty star in making "Captain Kidd, Jr." one of the best gloom-chasers produced in months.

MACK SENNETT COMEDY, "REILLY'S WASH DAY," NEXT WED. AND THURS.

Charles Murray, the famous comedian, has the chief role in the new Paramount-Mack Sennett comedy, "Reilly's Wash Day," which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Murray, a planner and actor, is one of the few who know the comedian part so sure that he gets all out of the part that it is possible to get.

BRYANT WASHBURN AT MAJESTIC SATURDAY NEXT IN "SOMETHING TO DO."

Presented at the Majestic next Saturday will be Bryant Washburn, in his newest comedy feature, entitled, "Something to Do." Bryant Washburn, in the role of a wealthy young clubman, to whom life has become a dull, meaningless existence, has one of the best roles in this picture. It's certainly a true saying that the only real happiness comes to one when one is doing something for someone else. And so Jack Merrill, who discovered that his valet was posing as a nobleman and scheming to marry Janet Renwick, decided that here was something to do, and proceeded to do it with a vengeance and with direful results on the villainous valet. How he carried it out, and the best part of the story, but we don't want to spoil it for you, so come and find out for yourself. Ann Little is leading woman.

MAJESTIC TODAY IN "THE SHERIFF'S SON."

Not all the highly dramatic battles are fought on the battle fields. The struggle of man to control himself and make the best of himself is always an inspiring theme for an author and in "The Sheriff's Son," Charles Ray's new Paramount picture which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre again today, William McLeod Rath has created a wonderful story with an extraordinary leading character. He takes a lad who has inherited a

Interesting Bits of History Relative to the Pneumatic Bicycle Tire and the Dunlop Trophy Race

Rae Halliday of Ottawa is one of the most prominent sportsmen of the Canadian capital. Halliday decided to buy a bicycle this year as a means to health, exercise and utility. He bought the best bicycle obtainable, and is now an out-and-out bicycle enthusiast. The first thing that he discovered was that he could cut the time required for his journey home from 25 minutes to 12 minutes, and he is now able to go home for a real lunch each noon with ease. The street cars carried him through the busy section of the city, and the cars were always crowded. With the bicycle he has found a short cut along one of the capital's famous drive-ways, and he is able to enjoy the scenery as well as the fresh air on his trips back and forth four times each day. Halliday's one regret is that he did not decide to make use of a bicycle many years ago.

Canada is credited with having the largest bicycle trade organization in the whole of North America, in the Canadian Bicycle Dealers' Association, Ontario section. This organization is made up of many dealers throughout the Province of Ontario, whose aim is to do all in their power to increase the advantages of cycling for all riders. The Toronto branch of this association won the highest honors last year in a competition among all dealers of the United States and Canada for the best "boosting" of cycling activities. Incidentally the idea of holding a National Bicycle Week originated in Canada. This is the fourth year for a Bicycle Week in the Dominion, while in the United States the wheelmen are having their third annual Bicycle Week this spring.

It is true that the high point of interest in cycling was reached about the end of the nineties—when it was not uncommon for tens of thousands of people to have a track for bicycle racing and to make a bid for the Dunlop Trophy Race—and that from then on there was a minimization of the craze. Interest in bicycling gradually became confined to a certain class who enjoyed the sport, and who systematically stayed with it. It will, however, probably be interesting to many people who have not been direct followers of bicycling to know that there has been a continuous growth in the sale of bicycles, and, therefore, in bicycle tires in the past ten years, and that the trade is on a distinctly reliable basis.

Robson Black of Ottawa, an author and writer of some prominence in the Dominion is an enthusiastic cyclist. He became sickened of street car service and resorted to the use of the bicycle as a relief from the struggle and annoyances of trolley transportation. The result has been that he has become a staunch believer in the benefits of cycling.

A romantic thing in connection with the bicycle is the way the loyal band of stalwarts have stuck with the sport, no matter what decadence it saw in later years; the "is to say, men who own autos today will be seen at the annual Dunlop Road Race, and, in some cases, these men who own cars will be seen riding the bicycle from time to time. They refuse to forsake the sport or their interest in it. These men are legion. No one knows exactly on what basis they form their interest, but undoubtedly they figure, after all, that a bicycle contest is a contest of man power rather than a contest of machine power; the man wins, not the machine, and they are not prepared to concede to anybody with sporting instincts.

Olympic trials for bicycle racing enthusiasts of Canada will be a feature of sporting events in a number of cities throughout the coming summer, according to announcements made by various officials in charge of the bicycle sport. The next Olympic games are to be held in Antwerp, Belgium, and they will be held there in 1920. The Canadian team of athletes which will participate in the big meet will include a number of cyclists, and it is the expectation that Canadian riders will once more be able to hold their own in competition with the world's best. Olympic trials will be held in a number of cities, and plans have already been laid for the development and training of promising cyclists for the trip to Antwerp. These trials are to be held under the auspices of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association.

The "bicycle family" is quite the vogue. In a number of Canadian cities there are many families each member of which is a cyclist. A father or a son has started to use a wheel for business or other purposes, with the result that other members of the family have also quickly adopted the bicycle. The sale of three, four or five bicycles to one family was not infrequently reported during 1918. A man or a woman walks into a bicycle store and declares that it is the intention to buy bicycles for each member of his or her family. Questions follow, and it is found that the family has studied the subject of cycling through the use which has been given to it by some relative or friend. The conclusion reached is that the bicycle is just the thing for utility, health and pleasure.

The entire proceeds from one of the early Dunlop Trophy races were given over to building a cinder path from Indian Road to the Humber, Toronto.

The original veterinary establishment in Belfast, where J. B. Dunlop labored far into the night, seeking light on his great invention, is still carrying on business.

Thompson's bicycle shop, 355 Talbot street, has a splendid display for Bicycle Week. Mr. Thompson extends an invitation to all to visit his store to inspect his fine stock. The public are beginning to realize more than ever the advantages of the bicycle and are buying more bicycles this year than ever, stated Mr. Thompson.

Wm. Gurd & Co., 185 Dundas street, interview today, stated that more bicycles will be sold in Canada this year than ever before. For business, pleasure, or economy, nothing can compare with the bicycle, stated Mr. Gurd.

When the Dunlop Trophy Race was put on in London, Ont., in 1896, a special train was chartered to take the crowds that wanted to come from Toronto.

When J. B. Dunlop brought out his first pneumatic tire, he was laughed into universal approval.

The original bicycle used by J. B. Dunlop's son—and the original tires on it—now in the Royal Museum, Edinburgh.

A Belfast cyclist named Hume was the first rider to win a race on a Dunlop pneumatic tire. He beat the "ouch" in Dublin, May, 1889.

R. J. McCreedy, in 1890, won the first race in England in which a rider used the Dunlop pneumatic tire.

It took J. B. Dunlop, the original "air-man," exactly three months to make that first set of pneumatic tires which his boy used.

Bicycle Will Have Big Year In London; Bike Race and Race Meeting July One On Program

London Stands Out Among Leaders—20,000 Wheels in City and Vicinity—Wenige Did It.

That London is recognized as some bicycle city is evidenced by the fact that for the first time since its inauguration the Dunlop road race is to be held outside of Toronto, and London is the city in which the race is to be held. It will be staged Dominion Day in conjunction with the Dominion championship bicycle races. This is the twenty-fifth annual race that has been put on by the Dunlop Tire Company, and all preceding races have been held in Toronto. About forty prizes are annually put up by the Dunlop Company and this year will be no exception in this respect. Many valuable prizes also are being given for the Dominion championship series. Some idea of the standing of London in the bicycle world is realized when it is known that Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Waterloo and St. Catharines were among the cities that gave a strong bid for the championship.

Credit Is Wenige's.
C. A. Wenige, of the Bicycle and Motor Sales Company, is given the credit for bringing the meet to London. At the annual meeting, which was held in Toronto on April 19, he managed to win the one city that should have it this year.

As a result of the inducements which will be offered in prizes it is expected that the best riders of Canada and the United States will be in London on the first of July.

While all the details have not been arranged it is expected that the Dunlop road race will be held in the morning. It will start at Queen's Park and run to Thamesford and return. This race will be a relay one. Last year there were 175 riders entered at Toronto, and as many, and probably more, will take part in it this year.

Already Preparing.
In preparation for the championship meet, which will be held in Queen's Park, local riders are already getting in trim. The track at Queen's Park has been secured several evenings ago, and the local men are taking advantage of this.

Mr. Wenige says that the reason for holding the meeting in London is the undoubted popularity of the bicycle here. It is estimated that at least there are 20,000 bicycles in London and the immediate district. At the same time, he is anticipating a larger sale for them this year than ever before. Mr. Wenige estimates that he has had a sale of four and five thousand wheels since he started in the business in London.

Held Bicycle Week will also be held during work or school hours.

Bicycle clubs are becoming numerous in the city also. Several of these arrange weekly runs during the summer months to places within easy distance of the city. These are attended by many riders who take this means of getting recreation. The pleasure of a spin along a good road, accompanied by a score or so of kindred bicyclists in the cool of the evening, can only be imagined by one who has had this opportunity.

Bike Has Come Back.
That the bicycle has come back, and come back strong, no one can question. One has only to witness the many wheels to be seen on the streets every day to realize that this is true. One of the noticeable features is the number of women and girls who have taken to the wheel for business and pleasure. They have learned that with a wheel one is independent of crowded street cars or power shut downs.

BICYCLE RACING NOW. A POPULAR PASTIME

Race Meetings Held From Coast to Coast Revive Interest in Old Sport.

One of many indications that the bicycle is now classed in its proper place is the fact that bicycle racing is now a popular feature in many cities of Canada. The riders are also much interested in bicycle runs and tours once more, while the decorated wheel competing in another feature that is now seen in many cities.

With war worries a thing of the past, many cities are planning to have bicycle racing and touring events, and it is apparent that there will be more of the wheel sport this year than for many years. The wheeling activities are really taking their place among the big post-war revivals of the sporting world, and it is probable that already some of the best of the season's racing will be held in London.

Vancomer enjoyed the distinction of staging a first bicycle race of the season, when races were held at Brockton Point track in April as a benefit for returned soldiers. The next bicycle race was scheduled to be held at Ottawa, where a big revival is in evidence. This consists of a series of bicycle track and road races on Saturday, May 10.

Winnipeg promises to hold a real bicycle road race on May 24, while races are also scheduled for June 1 on the May holiday. Brantford has planned a series of weekly twilight races meet throughout the season, while Montreal enthusiasts also propose to stage a series of races.

There was real competition this year for the national championships of the Canadian Bicycle Association, which were suspended for the duration of the war. London has secured the national meet, and it is probable that it will be so attractive that many against the Canadian speed specialists.

The titular meet will be held on July 1. Other championships will go on at Montreal, where a big revival is in evidence. This consists of a series of bicycle track and road races on Saturday, May 10.

Woodstock and Brockville will also be the scene of bicycle races this year, according to present information. Many cities of Canada will confine their attention to bicycle races, and parades, however, because of the staging of the titular event, and a long way toward demonstrating the health and practical uses of the silent two-wheeler.

CLEVELAND BICYCLES

MADE IN CANADA

In a Class By Themselves.

RIDE A CLEVELAND

And bid good-bye to trouble. Put your trolley fares into the purchase of a Cleveland Bicycle and own your own conveyance.

When you own a Bicycle you are independent. It pays for itself in car fares saved in a year. A Bicycle takes you from your home direct to your office, store or factory—no delays, no transferring, no waiting, no cold dinner, no lost time. Ride a Cleveland and inhale fresh, pure air and sunshine.

Look for the silver and blue nameplate. This means bicycle satisfaction.

THE CLEVELAND FRAME

The Cleveland frame is made from the highest-grade steel tubing, is strong and rigid; double and treble strength is secured at the points of greatest strain by the means of fishmouth reinforcements. These reinforcements at the joints are unusually long and heavy. All these pieces are brazed securely together, making the frame practically unbreakable.

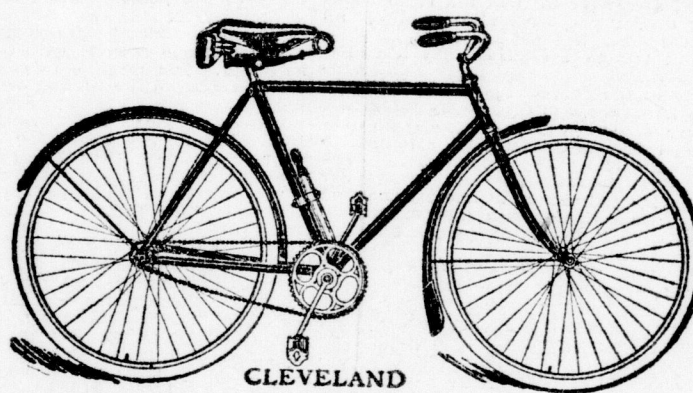

THE CLEVELAND CRANK HANGER

One of the many reasons for the smooth-riding qualities of the Cleveland Bicycle is the crank hanger. This corresponds to the power plant in a motor car and by its special construction brings the feet of the rider close together, giving the utmost power in a straight line with the greatest effect, as the chainpull is almost directly over the bearings.

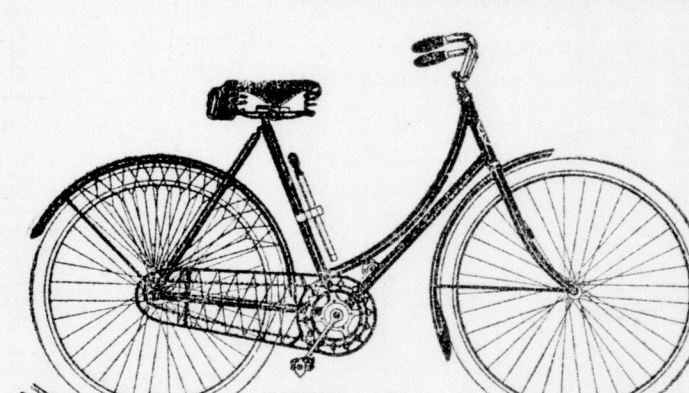

THE CLEVELAND FINISH

Examine closely the finish on a Cleveland; see how smooth and glossy the enamel is. The frame is filed carefully by hand, then scoured (sand blasted) in a blast of fine sand before being enameled. Coat after coat of pure asphaltum enamel is applied, slowly and brilliantly. The nickel-plating on the handle bars and bright parts on the Cleveland Bicycle will last because the parts are carefully sand-blasted, polished, thoroughly cleansed from grease and other impurities, first given a heavy coat of copper, then left in the electric-plating bath until they are given a much heavier coat of nickel than is customary, then buffed, giving a beautiful, brilliant finish. The nickel-plating will not rust on account of the heavy coat of copper under the nickel.

A Bicycle is always at your service every minute in the hour, every hour in the day, every day in the week and every week in the year. The Cleveland, Canada's Favorite Bicycle, made in Canada for over a quarter of a century.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GREY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn grey, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While grey, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, or morning all grey hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots—How to Remove Easy.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist, and a few applications should show that it is to rid you of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine, as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

What You Ought to Know of How to Stop Bleeding

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG.

DR. HIRSHBERG.

If you are suddenly confronted with a bloody nose, the lungs, or for that matter, violent bleeding at any fountain head of your anatomy, would you get quickly and correctly to check it, or would you try to dust and a shadow. Yes, a ruddy drop of manly blood outweighs the surgeon's fee. You can ill afford to lose any of it.

Some persons believe much in styptics, such as chloride of iron, silver caustic and similar applications to the bleeding point. These, however, often invite the formation of pus and blood poisoning bacteria. Modern physicians are loath to employ these things or ergot, which elevates blood pressure sometimes to a dangerous degree.

Raw meat, pepalin, tissues freshly cut and blood serum itself, all have a scientific reason for their use at the bleeding point.

Constriction such as tying the hand arm, leg or foot above the amputated or cut surface is good as far as it goes, but it cannot be employed when there are hemorrhages of internal structures, such as the liver, lungs, kidneys or stomach.

Epinephrine or adrenalin, is an excellent temporary means with which may fall in its appointed duty and not die.

Certain rashes, various fevers, the strange recent venereal disease called "syphilis," make the "best" and "bluest" of blood, behave oddly. Hemorrhages abound, and bleeding then becomes difficult to stop.

Solving the Problem of An Afternoon Gown That Is Durable in Color Yet Very Lovely.

"An afternoon gown that's durable in color and yet decidedly striking. Now, Mrs. Belmont," said Mrs. Frances, "you have given me a puzzle unless you want black and white, and white is bound to soil, you know."

"Oh, that's just it. I don't want black and white. I've had so many black and white dresses. I know that combination is always smart, but this time I should like something different."

"I have a wonderful afternoon gown in black and white, Mrs. Belmont. I'll show it to you. Mrs. Frances remarked, 'And then I have a suggestion for a change in the color scheme.'"

"Please put on the black chemise with the white blouse embroidered in jet," she said to me.

I went to the dressing room to put on this dress, which is one of my favorites, because it's so striking and smart. The blouse is white, gossamer crepe embroidered all over with designs of black jet beads. This model has been marked since our opening. I soon appeared in the gown.

"Oh, that is altogether lovely, madame, but there's the all-white bodice which soils so rapidly. The grace of that skirt is irresistible. After all, there is nothing so lovely as black chemise and white blouse. Please come nearer and let me 'set' every line."

"Madame smiled in approval as I approached Mrs. Belmont, for this gown is also one of her favorites.

"The skirt is full, but manages some kind of bias drapery with infinite grace. Then there's a circle of black chemise outlined with strands of jet. Yes, that is lovely. The hair is stunning," she continued. "It is faced with satin, is it not?"

"Yes, black sheer straw is faced with

HOW TO GET RID OF A BAD NEIGHBOR.

It didn't feel very good to have big, hairy nuts dropping on your nose every day, and to be pestered all the time by that scamp, Chatterbox, the red squirrel, so finally Betsy Otter said, "Dick, I can't stand living in this house another day. We must build a new house somewhere else, for Chatterbox the red squirrel, is a constant pest, and he gets my nerves."

"I'll not move out of this nice house for myself," muttered Dick. "If anybody moves, it will be Chatterbox himself." But, Dick Otter, who is big and strong, and while you are big and strong, you cannot climb a tree to catch that little rascal," replied Betsy. "You come with me," whispered Dick.

Chatterbox had to sit very still, so as not to tip the boat over.

local bleeding can be diminished. Internally it is also helpful. Pressure with disinfected fingers upon bleeding places, such as tonsils, gums and other areas within reach of the hands often does much good. I know of one child that was thus saved from bleeding to death. Three doctors and two nurses relieved each other alternately after the pressure and fatigue involved had cramped their fingers with great force inside the mouth against the child's tonsils.

Internally, blood transfusions, injections of horse serum, anti-toxin serum gelatin and chloride of lime have been effective.

Finally, you should be on guard against hemorrhages if you eat canned, stale or refrigerated victuals and low fresh ones.

Liver and gall bladder diseases, jaundice, scurvy, beri beri, influenza, typhoid, pneumonia and tuberculosis all seem to diminish the clinging power of the blood. After or during these affections guard against a chance hemorrhage.

"Bull Dog" Overalls cannot be improved upon. They have fourteen points of superiority. Note features four, five and six. No. 4—Shows a generously large armhole, thus eliminating uncomfortable binding under the arm. No. 5—Points out the over-size sleeve, which give plenty of elbow room.

No. 6—Demonstrates the extra high-fitting back with three-ply backband right across the garment. This will not split down the back seam, as will the old-style, V-shaped, vent-back overall.

All these points are very important. Go to the store you deal with and inspect a suit. It will surely satisfy you. Get

New Inventions

We take pleasure in announcing to the public that in the future the Phonola will be equipped with a new Universal Seamless Tapered tone arm which does away with all attachments. The entire arm is beautifully designed and finished, and is a marked contrast to the cheap dye cast arms seen on other makes of Phonographs.

It is the only Universal tone arm that is scientifically designed and the only one that will play all makes of records perfectly.

The Phonola will also be equipped with a new Aluminum Reproduction fitted with a special insulated rubber connection which eliminates metallic sounds from being transmitted to the Amplifier.

Equipped with these two new devices, the Phonola takes another step in advance of all competitors as furnishing the truest, clearest and sweetest tone it is possible to reproduce.

The price of the "Phonola" is from $10 to $25 less than other high-class phonographs. We make the "Phonolas" complete right here in Canada in our two factories at Kitchener and Elmira.

The model illustrated is one of our best sellers. It is a large cabinet, standing 42 1/2 inches high, 18 1/4 inches wide, 20 1/4 inches deep. Mahogany, Oak or Walnut. All metal parts heavily nickel-plated. Double spring motor.

Other "Phonola" Models from $25 to $340.

"Phonola" Records Very Popular

Every month the demand is increasing. They play with the sapphire point—no needles to change. A new list of beautiful, clear, full-toned double disc records issued each month. Bands, vocal, instrumental. Look for the "Phonola" trademark on each disc.

DEALERS—There are some localities in Canada where we require good, live representation. The "Phonola" agency is getting more valuable every day. Write for our proposition.

If you need advice as to the best points to use, artistic color combinations, proper treatment of surfaces, priming and finishing coats, stains, varnishes, drop into our store and we will give you the information you seek.

We will show you proper color arrangements; how oil and varnish stains are used; how easily graining can be done, etc.

Lowe Brothers Paints

The highest standard paints made and the most economical as they cover more surface, are finer in texture, more brilliant and permanent in color and far more durable than ordinary paints.

How to measure

To find out the quantity of Lowe Brothers "High Standard" paint required, divide the number of square feet of surface to be painted by 700 for the priming coat and 425 for the two following coats. If the surface is already painted and in good condition one gallon will cover 425 to 475 square feet with two coats. Or, bring your measurements to us and we will figure the quantity.

How to use good paint

See that the surface to be painted is clean and in proper condition. If the surface is not in good shape we will tell you how to treat it. Outside painting should never be done in damp or frosty weather, or when the wood is not perfectly dry. Never thin with coal oil or benzene as you will kill the life of the paint. Ask for color cards giving complete painting instructions.

A SUBSIDY TO CARRYTORONTO PAPERS HERE

Lemieux Asks Who Paid For Election Ads.

GIVES ADVERTISER PRAISE

Regards With Suspicion the Right-About Face of Liberal Papers in 1917.

(Special to The Advertiser.) OTTAWA, May 2.—"It was a scandal that at one given time before the election of 1917 practically the whole Liberal press of the Province of Ontario made a right about turn. There are honorable exceptions. The London Advertiser remained true, and there are others."

This declaration was made by Hon. Rodolph Lemieux in the course of a speech in the House of Commons last night, in which he advocated an amendment to the postoffice act, calling for the submission by all papers desiring the privilege of the mails of the names of editors, owners and publishers.

"When the plain people of the country," declared Mr. Lemieux, "begin to realize that the press can be bought, as it has been bought, they will also begin to believe that their public men can be bought. And it will be an evil day in Canada when that impression gains ground."

Means to Be Severe. Horatio Hocken, editor of The Orange Standard, a Montreal independent, whether the member for Maisonneuve desired to create the impression that the press of Ontario was corrupt.

"My honorable friend heard me," replied Mr. Lemieux, "I was very severe. What he says is very mild."

Mr. Lemieux declared that during the campaign Liberal candidates had been forced to pay for reports of their speeches in the papers, while, at the same time, these papers were rewarded with advertisements insulting Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the people of Quebec.

"Who paid for these advertisements?" he asked. "Who paid? We know not half the truth. He then stated that since August, 1915, the sum of $2,000,000 had been expended in newspaper advertising in the Government."

Nicholson of Algoma, arose to ask for an item of advertising money which was wrong advertising. Mr. Lemieux declared that he had a collection of it which would make the Hon. gentleman blush.

Hocken a "Preacher." "I compare the newspaper to a teacher," said Mr. Lemieux, "and when I look at my honorable friend from Toronto (Mr. Hocken) I am inclined to compare it with a preacher. Indeed, he was a preacher at the last election. Not satisfied with writing vitriolic attacks on the Liberal Government, the French and Catholics, he took the pulp to invoke divine assistance to retain in power the masters of the administration—Sir Joseph Wesley Flavelle, Sir Clifford Sifton and Mackenzie and Mann. When I read the editorials of the editor of the Orange Standard and the editor of the Montreal Pulpit, and when I heard that the member for Centre Toronto (Mr. Brant) had also taken the pulp, I could not help thinking of these words, slightly changed: 'O ye priests, how many crimes have been committed in the name of God.'"

The press and the pulp, declared Mr. Lemieux, had been strong for the party during the election, but he noticed that some of the Toronto Methodists of Toronto were refusing to take lectures on the tariffs for the election. It was the old story of chickens coming home to roost.

Speaks of "Lush Fund." Mr. Sinclair of Guyanah declared that he would not state that the press was mercenary, but that there had been some sudden conversions which had never been properly explained. There was such a thing as "sweetening" the press. In Nova Scotia at the last election there was a fund, commonly known as the "Lush Fund," it was used for the publication of political propaganda. While some of the old Liberal papers had remained true others had yielded to the temptation. It would be interesting to know where the lush fund came from.

Horatio Hocken declared that all the advertising received had been repaid by results. He was in accord with the proposal laid down by Mr. Lemieux, but he did not go further. He would withdraw from the matter at present prices papers which sold below the cost of the paper.

"And do we not pay a subsidy to Mr. Lemieux," for carrying Toronto papers to Western Ontario? "Yes," said Mr. Hocken, "and I think it justified."

To compete against the London Free Press," asked Mr. Lemieux.

"And The Advertiser," said Mr. Hocken.

Hon. N. W. Rowell launched into a defence of a defence of these papers which had turned over during the election, declaring that they had done so on principle, and that they were not bought.

MILITIA DEPARTMENT'S FAILURE TO MAKE AUDIT GIVES OFFICERS TROUBLE

St. John, N. B., May 2.—The Standard today says that a lieutenant-colonel, a major, two captains, two lieutenants and a company sergeant major have been placed under arrest and will be court-martialled on a matter arising out of the depot battalion accounts at Camp Sussex.

The Times this afternoon says: "It appears that the accounts of the regiment, which should have been audited monthly, in accordance with military regulations, by an officer from Ottawa were not so audited and the officer commanding the camp finally put up $5,000 to meet a unpaid bill. It is understood that the charges against the C. C. and some of the others are only technical."

C. P. R. PUTS ON NEW FAST TRAIN TO WEST COAST

The Transcanada Will Start Montreal-Vancouver Run June 1.

KNOCKS OFF WHOLE DAY

Great Rush of American Tourists to Rocky Resorts Is Expected.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

MONTREAL, May 2.—Travel conditions in Canada, particularly in connection with East and West business, have improved so much since the declaration of the armistice that the Canadian Pacific Railway has decided to run a new fast train, a new daily limited express train, to be called the Transcanada Limited, connecting Montreal and Toronto with Vancouver, which will reduce the transcontinental trip to less than four days and save a full business day to passengers leaving Montreal or Toronto for Winnipeg at the same time.

The train will be strictly limited, that is to say will have space for sleeping cars, baggage only. In addition to the ordinary sleeping cars, compartment cars will run out of both Montreal and Toronto.

Quick Run to Winnipeg. The passengers from Toronto will be able to leave that city for Winnipeg at 7:15 in the evening, and be in Winnipeg at 9:00 a. m. on the morning of the second day. The Montreal passengers can leave at 3:30 p. m. and the Ottawa passenger at 6:30 p. m., reaching Winnipeg at the same time.

Calgary is reached on the morning of the third day, and Vancouver on the morning of the fourth day. The train in the reverse direction are arranged with convenience to the business man, so that he can leave these cities east bound in the evening. Thus, with business to do in Winnipeg, he could leave Toronto on Monday evening, spend a full day in Winnipeg and be back in Toronto at 1:30 p. m. on Friday.

Speaks of Tourists. The new train will be particularly convenient for tourists from the east, coming to Canada and the United States, desiring to reach the popular mountain resorts of the Canadian Rockies. In Lake Louise, as in Banff and Jasper, the popularity of these can now be reached in half the time from Montreal or Toronto.

The indications are that the volume of American travel of this nature will be considerable, as there is a strong movement among American tourists to better acquainted with Canadian summer resorts. The new train will also be a great convenience for passengers to the Orient, who will be able to save a full business day in connection with the Canadian Pacific Express steamers from Vancouver.

The time schedule of the Transcanada Limited shows a running of 36 hours and fifteen minutes, eastbound from Montreal, and 36 hours and 30 minutes, westbound from Montreal to Vancouver.

The new train will not interfere with the running of the old transcontinental trains No. 1, No. 2, Montreal to Vancouver, Grand Trunk No. 3 and No. 4, Toronto and Vancouver.

Lift Corns Out! Doesn't Hurt!

Few drops stop corn soreness, then corns lift right off with fingers—No pain!—Magic!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic frezone discovered by a Cincinnati chemist.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of frezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn and instantly that old bothersome corn saps hurting, then shortly you can lift it off, root and all, with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying frezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. Ladies! Keep frezone handy on your dresser. Wonderful!

Barn and Silo Roofed with Brantford Asphalt Roofing.

Resists Fire, Sheds Water, Wears Long

Flying sparks and embers from a burning building often cause roofs near by to catch fire, especially in a dry, hot season. Under like conditions, roofs covered with are in no danger from flying embers, because any that fall on Brantford Asphalt Roofing die out harmlessly. Build a bonfire on a roof of Brantford Asphalt Roofing and the fire will not spread and the boards underneath the roofing will be protected in a surprising manner.

If a fire starts in the interior of a building, Brantford Asphalt Roofing acts as a retardant and keeps the fire from spreading. Fire chiefs and insurance companies endorse its use in the most congested cities.

Brantford Asphalt Roofing does not absorb water, but sheds the heaviest rain with ease. Acid proof and alkali proof. Reliable, durable, economical. Three weights—40 lb., 50 lb., and 60 lb. per square.

Brantford Rubber Roofing

is the same quality as Brantford Asphalt, but has a smooth, rubbery surface instead of the sand. It is particularly suitable for verandah decks and floor coverings. Three weights—40 lb., 50 lb., and 60 lb. per square.

Leatheroid Roofing

Slightly lower quality than Brantford Rubber Roofing. Used for same purposes. Has a leathery surface. Exceptionally good roofing at a low price. 35 lb., 45 lb., and 55 lb. weights.

Standard Mohawk Roofing

is made of the same materials as Brantford Asphalt Roofing, but is lighter in weight. A thoroughly reliable roofing at a low price. Tested for years and has given entire satisfaction. Sanded on one side. One weight—40 lbs. per square.

Climax Sheathing Paper

A tough kraft paper coated with high-grade asphalt. For making buildings damp-proof and wind-proof. Also for roofing temporary bunk houses, lumber camps, etc.

Samples of any of these roofings and prices will be furnished on request.

SHIELD IS PRESENTED TO DISTRICT DEPOT FOR BEST CONCERT

Fine Program Given As Final Event.

Last night the Y. M. C. A. hut, stationed at Wolsley Barracks, was the scene of great festivities when Mrs. Alice Henderson gave a windup to the competitive concerts which have been staged by the different units stationed at the heights in the last few months. The units were the C. G. R. Engineers, A. M. C. headquarters staff and the district depot. A beautiful shield, which was the prize for the best-staged concert, was won by the district depot, after the judges, Miss Minnie Raymond, Mrs. Alice Henderson and Col. Elmsey, had had an exceptionally hard time deciding between the different units, as all staged excellent concerts.

The shield was presented by A. E. Shervood, chairman of the local military committee of the Y. M. C. A., to Lieut. Drake, who represented the district depot. Mrs. Alice Henderson staged a delightful concert, the audience shaking the building with applause and stamping of feet after each selection rendered by the little performers. The hut was gaily bedecked with flags and bunting. A vote of thanks was tendered the Y. M. C. A. staff, entertainers and the judges. At the close of the event refreshments were served. The following is the program which was rendered: Selection—Henderson Kiltie Band. Double Sword Dance—Ivy Baldwin, Marion Smith, Velma and Thelma Desand. Song—Sammy Chapman. Dance—E. Montgomery, J. Vice, L. Hilbert. Song—Marion Smith. Scotch Reel—Mrs. Henderson's pupils. Song—Fred Smith. Highland Fling—Desand Twins. Bagpipe Selection—Mary Bishop, Margaret McKellar. Song—Kathleen England. Lancashire Clog—Mary Bishop, Kenneth Dunlevy. Song—Loretta Hilbert. Butterfly Dance—Ivy Baldwin. Gipsy Dance—Misses Vice, Hilbert, Smith-Montgomery. Sailor Song and Dance—Kathleen England, assisted by Misses Bishop and McKellar. Irish Fling—Desand Twins, Ivy Baldwin, Fred Smith. Dutch-Evelyn Montgomery and Loretta Hilbert. Waltz Clog—Misses England, McKellar and Bishop. Irish Reel—By the pupils.

James Gray Saw Services
Given in England.

George M. Reid, chairman of the London Red Triangle campaign committee, has received a letter from James Gray, who has lost two of his sons during the war, and who speaks very highly of the work of the Y. M. C. A. among the soldiers in London and elsewhere.

Speaking of their work in England, he says: "During my visit to England this spring I was greatly interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A. with the soldiers. My experience was mainly in London, and almost every way you look in the red triangle area, I found the Beaver Hut on several occasions and always found it full to capacity with soldiers, who were getting their meals or enjoying themselves, singing or listening to the music."

"I also visited Witley Camp, where I found four Y. M. C. A. huts. I attended a sing-song service on Sunday evening, and there were between seven and eight hundred of the boys enjoying the service. The afternoon there was a Bible class, attended by over two hundred. It looked to me as though the Y. M. C. A. were doing an excellent work, and I understood their work will not be abandoned until the work among the soldiers overseas is completed."

(Signed) "JAMES GRAY."
Boys Doing Part.
It was the part of Canadian boys during the summer months of last year to assist the work of the Red Triangle fund to the extent of $5,000. It meant that 5,000 boys came forward with their services. These fellows carried their pledges dime by dime on the soil. Many were from the east and their stories of their fishing expeditions and marketing stunts make excellent reading. Others were from the far west, and their work shows what fine spirit of service the idea of earn and give instilled.

"It linked their interests up with those of their older brothers, who were fighting for them, and gave them a broader conception of their relation to others outside their little district and province. But the fellows were also assisting those who were among their neighbors, for another $17,000 which was earned at the same time and in the same way was spent among the boys of the large cities, and was used in promoting the welfare of the foremen, the boys of the west, and introducing the Canadian standard efficiency programs among many of the unemployed boys who knew nothing what training physically, socially, mentally or devotionally had ever meant."

Helped in China.
The results spread even more widely for some $5,000 of the fund found a very useful application in the densely populated centres of China, and it is the hope of the Canadian boys to send on to the boys of India some of the privileges that they have been enjoying in sport and training. Last year boys are out to add their $1,000 this year. This means that 200 boys must earn and give $5,000. But it is hoped that at least 300 fellows will fall in line and hold high the good names of the "Earn and Give" boys of last year.

One of London's newest industries, the Universal Varnish Company, Simcoe street, is getting ready to open for business in the very near future. For some time it has been producing steadily, and is said to be turning out varieties of excellent quality.

The production superintendent is S. W. Christy, who was attached to some of Canada's largest paint and varnish firms for 25 years, among these being the Canada Paint Company and the Ottawa Paint Works. The company still is installing equipment, and an up-to-date laboratory for testing raw and finished materials is under way.

Type of building being used for Y.M.C.A. work in Industrial Plants

From the Trenches in Flanders to the Industries in Canada

Y.M.C.A. good cheer helped the soldiers win the war. Y.M.C.A. good cheer will help the soldiers of industry win the battle of life. The Red Triangle went with the soldiers in khaki right into the front line trenches in Flanders. The Red Triangle is going with the soldiers in overalls into the factories, the workshops the mines and the lumber shanties of Canada.

Help the "Y" Do for the Workers What it Did for the Soldiers

The success of the Y.M.C.A. during the war as the "Organized Pal" of the Canadian army points the way to success for similarly organized work for the soldiers of Canada's industrial army in time of peace. The Y.M.C.A. is promoting the establishment of Red Triangle huts in the big industrial plants and factory centres under the auspices of the employing companies.

It is promoting the erection of Y.M.C.A. huts in isolated industries, such as mining and lumbering.

Special activities for factory workers of the big cities are planned for the local Y.M.C.A. buildings.

Towards the promotion, inauguration, and superintending of this Industrial Extension of the Y.M.C.A. to the workers, a part of the Red Triangle Fund, for which your contribution is requested, will be devoted.

CANADIAN Y.M.C.A. Red Triangle Campaign CANADIAN Y.M.C.A.
Nation-Wide Appeal
$1,100,000 May 5th to 9th

Our plan for Y.M.C.A. extension to the industries is to enlist the sympathy of the president of the company or the heads of the firm, and the management of the plant, to explain our scheme of improved industrial relationships based upon the happiness and the welfare of the workers, and to get the employers to undertake the erection of a Y.M.C.A. building, fully equipped, situated right in the plant.

In some cases, a number of smaller firms would co-operate, and the Y.M.C.A. building would be centrally located for the convenience of a whole group of factories.

Recreation for Workers

This work has already been inaugurated in Sault Ste. Marie, London, St. Catharines, Port William, Port Arthur, Vancouver, and Toronto. Y.M.C.A. buildings are built and equipped on lines similar to those in the soldiers' camps, or like regular Y.M.C.A. buildings in the cities, according to the amount appropriated for the purpose by the companies. They should be furnished with a gymnasium, shower bath, swimming pool, canteen, reading and writing room, billiard tables, and an assembly hall for sing-songs, lectures, motion pictures, concerts, social gatherings, etc. To promote and superintend this project for our soldiers of industry part of the Red Triangle fund will be devoted.

The Y.M.C.A. went right into the front trenches in France and Flanders and elsewhere in the war zone to serve the Canadian troops. It is going now into those isolated districts where industrial workers like our miners and lumbermen are fighting the battle of life in the front trenches of civilization.

adrian troops. It is going now into those isolated districts where industrial workers like our miners and lumbermen are fighting the battle of life in the front trenches of civilization.

For Women and Girls

What the Y.M.C.A. aims to do for the men and boys of Canada's industries, the Young Women's Christian Association aims to do for women and girls. The Dominion Council of the Y.W.C.A. has prepared a budget calling for an appropriation of $175,000, and it is proposed to set aside that amount from the Red Triangle Fund for their use. The Dominion Council expenditure covers the expense of National work as distinct from the expenses of local Y.W.C.A. work. One of the chief items this year to be provided out of the Dominion Council fund is that of caring for the soldiers' wives and dependents journeying to their homes in Canada from overseas, helping them with difficulties and worries of all kinds.

With the support of the operating companies, Red Triangle huts will be established and equipped with canteen, billiard and pool tables, reading room, motion picture and concert hall, baths and, in some cases, swimming pool and gymnasium. This service tends to eliminate the restless transient, the man who is "fed up with his job," gives him something profitable to do in his leisure hours.

In some districts where lumbering operations are active, trained Y.M.C.A. men drive from camp to camp during the winter equipped with portable stereopticon lantern outfits. They give illustrated talks, and entertainments introducing the element of play among the hard-working shanty boys by such games as volley ball, boxing, etc.

A Lumberman's Endorsement

One lumber operator says, "You have put my man-catcher out of business. Where before I had three gangs hired—one on the way in, one at work in the woods, and the other on the way out, now I need only one."

At the local Y.M.C.A.'s special programmes for industrial operatives will be aided from the Red Triangle fund. They will be offered recreation, entertainment and opportunity for self-development. Classes in various subjects of special interest or value to industrial workers will be held.

In districts where a considerable non-English-speaking population prevails, a knowledge of the English language, of Canada and of the principles of Canadian citizenship and of social responsibility will be promoted by the Y.M.C.A.

Help the "Y" complete its work for soldiers, help extend "Y" service to Canadian boys, help bring the Red Triangle to the Army of Industry and to Rural Canadian Life.

MUNICH CAPTURED FROM COMMUNISTS BY GOVT. TROOPS

Commander of Red Army Captured by German Govt. Troops.

BERLIN, May 2.—The entry of government troops into Munich from all points was to begin at noon today, according to the Vossische Zeitung. Dr. Landauer and Engelhorn, commanders of the red army, have been captured, the newspaper adds.

CAPTURED WEDNESDAY.
LONDON, May 2.—Reports received here tonight seem to confirm the capture of Munich by the government forces.

A dispatch from Copenhagen dated Thursday says the Bavarian capital was taken Wednesday evening. The dispatch adds that somewhat severe fighting preceded the victory of the government troops.

PROVINCE-WIDE STRIKE OF METAL WORKERS LIKELY

Minister of Labor Says Department Cannot Interfere.

BOTH SIDES ARE FIRM

Employers Say They Cannot Lose, Men Will Go the Limit.

TORONTO, May 2.—In a telegram received tonight by R. C. Brown, president of the metal trades council, the minister of labor takes the view that the labor department cannot intervene.

"It is difficult, owing to the absence of any indication from either party to reach a settlement by arbitration or conciliation, for the department to intervene," wired Senator Robertson.

Mr. Brown declared that "there was nothing to it now but to pull out every workman possible," and said that the strike policy of provincial action, if necessary to obtain the demands, would be immediately followed. He pointed out that the council attempted on several occasions to open negotiations.

With labor making preparations for a strike of a provincial character, and employers declaring that through their representative, J. G. Merrick, "that they must win or lose," the strike of the metal trades industry went into its second day today.

Beyond the addition of 400 molders from the Massey-Harris Company to the ranks of the strikers and the acceptance of the strikers' schedule by 25 of the smaller plants, there was no change in the situation as it affects the metal trades.

400 Girls Walk Out.
Ample evidence of the labor unrest which manifested itself in Toronto on May 1 came in the shape of a strike at the Cowan Corbin and Chocolate Company today of four hundred unorganized girls. The representatives of the girls appeared with a vengeance, demands which were declared to be impossible and the strike followed.

Acting upon the decision of the trades council on Thursday night, the executive committee of the metal trades today to discuss the proper provincial action on behalf of the strikers. They meet again tomorrow.

The building trades league through its secretary, John Doggett, also met this morning and decided to call a mass meeting of the eighteen affiliated unions early next week to support the striking painters and metal trades workers.

Packers Strike Certain.
E. N. Campbell, labor lawyer, officer who is endeavoring to settle the packing house dispute has met with the refusal of the packers to recognize the union. The organizer of the union declares that the men are now determined to stand by their organization since the concessions recently granted have proved to be a reduction of wages and in many cases a half hour on a ten-hour day instead of the eight-hour day as provided.

The Dominion Sh. Building Company announced today that it would put into effect on Monday the eight-hour day and the Master Bakers' Association have met the demands of the men who threatened to strike with wage increases satisfactory to the bakers.

Some color will be added to the strike today when the pickets on the two hundred plants take up the duty. The day conference, decorations, in spite of instructions, debated the one big union proposition which is causing considerable worry in the West.

"There was never such an attempt to throttle the industry of this country," said J. G. Merrick today, for the employers.

The strikers' answer.

R. C. Brown, for the strikers, answered with the following question: "Did Mr. Merrick send to the individual employers of Toronto a letter, telling them not to negotiate individually with the metal trades council or make a settlement? And was not this sent out by him as soon as the joint schedule was received by the employers? It has been understood that Mr. Merrick was willing to meet each craft, but would not recognize the metal trades council."

Sir Frederick Nicholls declares that, "all along we have been loyal to the workers in keeping them at work at the highest price you could pay. From the employers' standpoint," said Sir Frederick, "less money would be lost by closing down their plants."

Campbell Reeves, secretary of the John Inglis Company, thinks that the men may be forced to close. "I don't know of anything else. We cannot face the demands," he said.

Electrical Workers' Aims.
The Electrical Workers' Union is asking for a 44-hour week, instead of 48 hours, and 30 cents an hour, and it is said negotiations with the employers are proceeding satisfactorily.

The Upholsterers and Trimmers' Union is asking for a 44-hour week and a wage of $20 a week. It is thought there will be no strike in this trade.

It is believed now that the threatened strike of the molders will be averted in Hamilton. The breadmakers have also reached an agreement and will receive $25 a week with a 30-hour week.

The Ottawa Trades and Labor Council tonight expressed its disapproval of the one big union idea.

The Ottawa building trades strike situation still remains unchanged. The meantime work is tied up on the Parliament Buildings, the Hunter Building, a Government office block and other works in the city.

By unanimous vote at a mass meeting in Winnipeg last night the metal trades (contract shops) workers decided to lay down their tools at 10 o'clock this morning. About 1,000 men, and affected by this decision.

At Calgary the carpenters, plumbers, steamfitters and sheet metal workers have decided that they are opposed to the one big union plan.

At Montreal four strikes affecting nearly a thousand workers, are still in progress.

WINNIPEG STREET CARS RUNNING

WINNIPEG, May 2.—Following a meeting of the street railway men this morning, it was announced that the men had decided to remain at work pending a decision of the arbitration board, to which, however, they will not be a party. There is no date set for the hands of the committee, with the understanding that the strike vote still stands.

This morning, at 10 o'clock, 1,000 metal workers quit work, following the example set by the building trades yesterday.

LIBERALS OF WEST ELGIN ARE EAGER FOR AN ELECTION

Staged Huge Rally at St. Thomas Club.

CONFIDENT OF FUTURE

People Now Realize What It Is To Be Hoodwinked, Says Woman Speaker.

ST. THOMAS, May 2.—The Liberal Association of West Elgin held the opening rally meeting here tonight, when steps were taken for the reorganization of the Liberal forces of the constituency. In the belief that an election is not far distant, the speakers all turned their thoughts to rallying the forces of the county. At the close of the meeting chairmen were elected for the different sub-divisions of the district. Further arrangements will be made at a later meeting.

J. B. Ferguson, ex-representative of West Elgin, and president of the West Elgin association, was the chief speaker of the evening. He gave an enthusiastic and eloquent address on "Reorganization and Co-ordination of the Liberal Forces of West Elgin." He declared that the time has come for a more concerted effort. The number of Liberals necessary to win an election by a huge majority can be found readily.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS OVERCOME BY SAFE METHOD

Suggestions Given Whereby Insomnia Can Be Safely and Quickly Cured.

Worry, overwork, overstudy and indigestion cause insomnia.

Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs.

First, the blood circulation must be improved.

Congestion of blood in the head must be removed.

Irritation in the brain must be relieved.

It's because Ferrozene equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into overworked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so efficient as Ferrozene?

Remember, sleep is just as important as food.

You must sleep, or break down, but if you'll use Ferrozene and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleep, you'll get well quickly.

Ferozene is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use.

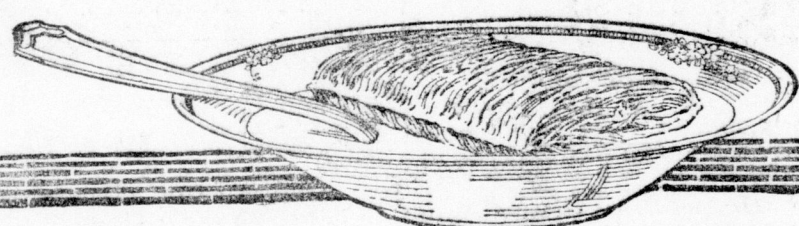

Absolutely safe is Ferrozene.

Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result.

To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or blues—use Ferrozene. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and wretched, a boon to the sleepless—sold in 50c boxes, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Catarthozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

MADE IN CANADA

Yesterday a good Maxwell —Today a Better One

THAT is the policy of the Maxwell Motor Company.

It began five years ago on a single chassis plan and today 300,000 Maxwells have been built on this program.

Not 300,000 Maxwells identically alike—for that would be admitting that the car has never improved in five years' time.

More than 1000 refinements have been made in the Maxwell.

But the original chassis plan was not changed. It has simply grown better as the days went by.

The logic of building one thing and thus building it well is too clear, too sound, too emphatic in results to argue against.

Like any fine piece of machinery the Maxwell seems to improve with age.

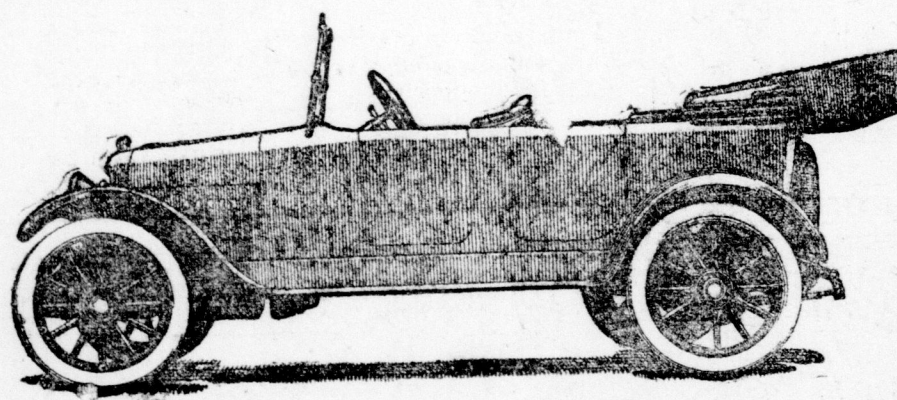

It runs on and on without end. We have never heard of a Maxwell salvaged.

There is no car with a better road ability record. And it saves many a thrifty dollar by shying at the repair shop.

This Maxwell you see today is not a new Maxwell; though many persons have thought so. It has been so much improved in appearance that our contemporaries in the trade repeatedly refer to it as the new Maxwell.

However, good looks have not in any way handicapped its running. And the latter is the main thing, after all, in a motor car.

WISHING BRINGS NO RESULTS

You may be very fond of music, and wish as hard as you like that you could play the piano, but if you do nothing else you will never play. ACTION ACCOMPLISHES THINGS. If you really wish to learn to play you can do so in a surprisingly short time, but you must make the first move yourself.

MILITARY BALL OF I. O. D. E. SOCIAL EVENT OF SEASON

London Fittingly Celebrates Troops' Home-Coming.

To celebrate the homecoming of London soldiers and the restoration of peace, the Seventh Regiment and Lieut. Col. Campbell, together with Lieut. D. E., gave a military ball in the Princess Winter Garden on Friday evening, which was undoubtedly one of the most successful social affairs of the season. Khaki uniforms mingled nicely with some of the smartest gowns and frocks of Madame Fashion's creation.

Red, white and blue streamers covered the entire ceiling of the building, and flags of the Allies were kept waving by electric fans placed at each corner of the dance hall. Little nooks were fixed with palms for sitting-out rooms, and flowers helped to make the large hall a veritable fairy garden. Delightful dance music was provided by the Winter Garden Orchestra. A varied dance program was given, each dance being announced by a bugle call.

Among those noticed were Major and Mrs. Gordon Ingram, Mrs. Ingram in black net and georgette; Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Brown, Capt. and Mrs. Hamilton Bingle, the latter in black net, with dress of silver and red roses; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carling, Gen. Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Purdon, Mrs. Purdon in a French gown of brocade, with over-dress of net; Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Fred Greenwood, in black and pale green velvet, with chiffon and silver lace; Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Colles, Miss M. Skinner in mauve charmeuse; Major and Mrs. Reid, the latter in black looking lovely in an Oriental gown of blue brocade and corsage; Mrs. Milton Jackson in black velvet and wearing silver cloth; Mrs. Albert Brown, black net and corsage of red roses; Miss Velma Wyllie, pink net; Mrs. Wyllie, corsage, cream roses; Mrs. C. W. Greer in old rose velvet and chiffon; Miss Dandy Cox in silver pink crepe; Miss E. Temple in pale blue georgette with pink roses; Mrs. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Smith, Mrs. Fred White in black net and georgette; Miss Lorraine White, Miss K. White, Miss Grace Greer in silver cloth with red roses; Miss G. Croden in pale blue charmeuse and corsage of tea roses; the latter in apple green velvet; Miss Edith Greer in sapphire blue net and

Parnell's Bread

With all the nourishment, taste and flavor of the bread you used to know and the bread you missed when mother quit making it, is just as easy to obtain as other breads.

Good bread was never so much appreciated as now. That is why we make ours as good as bread can possibly be made. The wholesome properties of this bread gain nutriment from the fine wheat flour, and zest from our modern formula of baking.

Its crispy crust and filmy body is relished by all the family. All the better grocers sell it because it sells better, oftener and continuously in homes where it has once been introduced.

Ask for it with your order, or if you would prefer we will send one of our courteous salesmen to your door. A phone call or a card will bring one.

is a great pick-me-up with milk

This perfect loaf has a crust that tastes like all the nuts in the Christmas cake, with a flavor of mother's own cooking.

Try it when you're tired. Take a fresh slice and seethe it in milk—put a sprinkle of sugar on it—and—say! Well, a blind man would want to eat it right up. He'd know how good it was by its steaming fragrance.

Doctors often order hot milk at night for people who can't sleep. If you are one of those who don't like the flat, insipid taste of plain, hot milk, try it with NEAL'S ALOAFA BREAD.

For children, there is no better dish than hot bread and milk at any meal, and no better bread to make it with than NEAL'S.

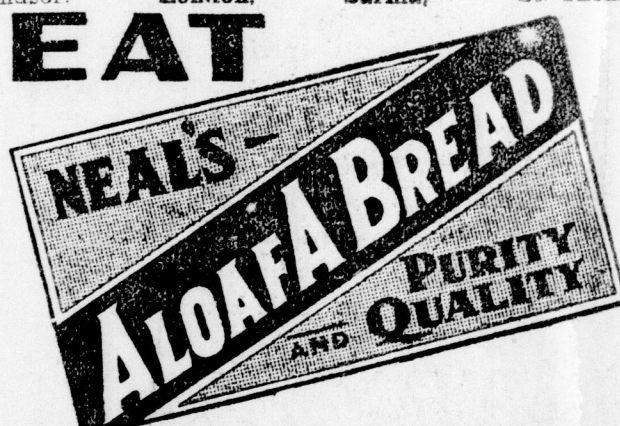

Have this better bread on your table three times a day. The grocer will send you a loaf to try it when you say so—or have one of our wagons call daily.
