PREFERENTIAL TRADE.

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—A letter received from London, Eng., from Sir Howard Vincent, founder and hon. secretary of the United Empire Trade League, declares emphatically that the division in the British Commons on June 30 upon preferential trade was a farce, and did not represent the tide of popular feeling in favor of adequate reciprocity towards Canadian products. He adds:—"Let there be no misapprehension. The great cause is as fresh as ever, although it may have received a momentary check." The letter also pays a tribute to Mr. A. McNeill, Conservative ex-M. P. for North Bruce, for the work he has done in Canada on behalf of preferential trade.

HOWARD'S DEATH

A Returned Soldier Says he Killed in a Fair Fight.

Toronto, Aug. 1.—Civil Surgeon E. C. MacDonald, who enlisted in "C" Battery, Royal Canadian Field Artillery, in December, 1899, and took part in the operations of that corps in South Africa, has returned to the city. With his brother, Dr. W. J. MacDonald, now house surgeon at the general hospital, he performed efficient medical services in the campaign. The doctor said it was the general opinion of the corps that "Gatling Gun" Howard fell in a fair fight, and was not, as has been reported, the victim of a treacherous assassination. Sergt.-Major MacGregor, of Toronto, killed at Restefabriken, was shot while working the Cole gun. The other Toronto boys of the scouts, the doctor says, are well and are expected home shortly.

HELD UP

Daring Robbers Tackle a Railroad Express Near Chicago—Got a Booty.

Chicago, July 31.—The Baltimore & Ohio passenger train from the east which was due to arrive in the Grand Central Depot, Chicago, at 9 o'clock to-night, was held up by five masked men at Grand Calumet Heights, Ind., thirty-one miles out from Chicago. One of the mail cars which contained no money, was dynamited and wrecked. The attempt at robbery was made after the two mail cars had been detached from the train and run a quarter of a mile ahead. The failure of the robbers to make a rich haul was due to the fact that the express car which contained the train's treasure, was in an unusual place. It was the third car in the train. After wrecking the mail car and obtaining no booty, the robbers disappeared in the darkness without attempting to rectify their mistake. The only loot they carried away with them as a result of their adventure was the gold watch of the engineer. A posse is after them. It is estimated that $50,000 was stored in the express car and it is believed the robbers knew of the large amount of money and valuables on board.

A TREATY OF PEACE.

Madrid, July 31.—The Ministry of Foreign Affairs is engaged upon an extradition convention and general treaty of peace and friendship with the United States.

BOERS SURPRISED AND BEATEN BY FIFTY STRONG CANADIANS

Enemy Suffers Severely—Colored People of Cape Colony Express Confidence in Milner—Kruger Talks.

Cape Town, July 31.—A despatch from Vereeniging, on the boundary between the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony, says: Captain McDougall, commanding a post at Houtskop, eight miles to the north-west of this place, took fifty Canadians, with a seven-pounder mountain gun, to dislodge seven Boers who were known to make a farmhouse at Zuurfontein, three miles to the south of Vereeniging, their rendezvous. Sixty Boers were in the house, and they are said to have suffered severely, as they exposed themselves to a heavy fire. It is estimated that they lost twelve men killed.

CONFIDENCE IN MILNER.

At a large meeting of colored people at Cape Town yesterday resolutions were adopted expressing confidence in Lord Milner, Governor of the Transvaal and Orange River Colony. The resolutions also appeal to Lord Milner as the staunch friend of the colored people for succor and redress against the attempts that are being made in certain quarters to instill laws inimical to their welfare.

TALKING WITH KRUGER.

The Hague, July 31.—The interview yesterday between Robert H. Van Schaack, treasurer of the Holland Society, of Chicago, and Mr. Kruger, was most cordial. Mr. Van Schaack, his wife and Mr. Kruger conversed together for an hour. When Mr. Van Schaack announced that he was the bearer of the society's invitation to Mr. Kruger to be their guest, assuring Mr. Kruger of the high esteem in which he was held in the United States as "a grand old patriot, whose noble devotion to the cause of liberty recalled the devotion of the Prince of Orange." Mr. Kruger was visibly affected. He said he well knew he had many warm friends in America, whom he would like to thank. Mr. Kruger presented Mr. Van Schaack with his photograph and autograph. The old Boer statesman seemed to be feeble and depressed with grief.

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT MAKES GRANT TO "BOBS"

The Motion Passes Commons With a Big Majority—Earl Roberts Eulogised by Government Leader—Liberals Endorse Proposal but Nationalists Oppose.

London, July 31.—The measure giving to Lord Roberts a grant of £100,000 was passed by the House of Commons by a vote of 281 to 73.

In proposing the resolution granting Field Marshal Earl Roberts £100,000 for his services in South Africa (in accordance with the recommendation of King Edward, announced in the House of Lords by the Premier, Lord Salisbury, Monday last) A. J. Balfour, the government leader, in the course of an eulogy of the Field Marshal, whom he compared with such men as Collingwood, Nelson and Wellington, said that there was no doubt that but but Lord Roberts' "daring and strategy, and the rapidity with which his plans were carried out, Kimberley and Mafeking would have fallen, 11,000 British would have been starved into submission at Ladysmith, and there would have been a general rising of disloyalists in South Africa. Great Britain might have recovered therefrom, but at what a cost? The country was saved from this by the genius of the man he now invited the House to reward by a unanimous vote, irrespective of political differences.

The statement called forth protests from the Irish members. The Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, concurred the motion.

John Dillon, Irish Nationalist, strongly opposed the vote. He protested against mentioning Lord Roberts in association with such a man as Marlborough. He declared Lord Roberts had shown the greatest inhumanity in South Africa, and said he had employed barbarous methods and had proved himself a dismal failure. Mr. Labouchere, Radical, protested against granting gratuities to military men, while nothing was given to civilians who were doing something for the benefit of their country.

Mr. Kier Hardie, Socialist and Independent Labor, took a similar view. He declared that in the opinion of experts at home and abroad, Lord Roberts' failure primarily was responsible for the continuance of the war. Mr. Swift MacNeill, Irish Nationalist, said he considered Lord Roberts' operations were conducted with a maximum of cruelty and a minimum of humanity, and that his farewell speech at Cape Town was horrible hypocrisy and blasphemy.

After further debate for and against the measure, Mr. Balfour moved the closure, which was carried by 257 to 108 votes. The resolution was afterwards adopted by a vote of 281 to 73.

BRIERLEY DEAD

One of the Oldest Ontario Printers has Gone to his Reward.

London, Aug. 1.—The death of Mr. James B. Brierley, at his residence in West London, Tuesday night, removed from this earthly scene one of London's old-time printers, who was known and highly esteemed by all who worked at the "art preservative" in the 50's, 60's and 70's in the city of his adoption. He had been in his usual health until quite recently, but the ravages of time he was over 86 years of age) told upon his naturally strong constitution, and he died from natural causes, as above stated. Mr. Brierley came to London from Dublin in or about 1857, and worked in the Free Press office for many years. Subsequently he obtained employment as proof-reader on book work at Cambridge, near Boston, and remained there for several years. Later on he returned to London, and spent the remaining years of his life in a quiet manner in West London. Many old-time types will hear of "James" death with feelings of sincere regret. He leaves a widow, two daughters and one son (James), of the Montreal Herald, all of whom will have the sympathy of a large circle in their affliction.

THE GREAT LOTTERY.

El Reno, O. T., July 31.—The third day's drawing for land on the Kiowa Comanche reservations began at six a. m., and was carried on rapidly. Two thousand names will be drawn from each wheel to-day and enough to-morrow to make a total of 5,500 from each wheel, thus completing the list of fortunates among the 165,000 home-seekers. Among the winners to-day were Thos. S. Lake, of West Point, Ind., and D. W. Putnam, of Port Huron, Mich.

CRISPI DYING

The Italian Statesman Suffers a Relapse and is Weaker.

Naples, July 31.—The bulletin issued to-night regarding Signor Francesco Crispi announces that he has suffered a relapse and his weaker. His terrible struggle for breath can be heard even in the roadway of the street where his residence stands. The members of his family and his two secretaries surround the death-bed. It is reported that the family have refused priestly offices. The latest words pronounced by Signor Crispi were on hearing the telegrams from King Victor Emmanuel and Dowager Queen Margherita: "Oh, good King; good Queen."

POWDER TO BURN

Nebraska Man Exploding Barrels of it to Bring Rain.

Lincoln, Nebraska, July 31.—Four miles northeast of this city to-night 24 mortars, posted on a 20-acre tract, are being fired at minute intervals, in the hope that the result will be a downfall of rain. W. F. Wright, former deputy state food commissioner, is the promoter and manager of the enterprise. Mr. Wright is the originator of the "special vibration" theory of rainmaking and for several years has unsuccessfully espoused a legislative appropriation to put his theories into practice. Mr. Wright says he will continue the bombardment until rain comes or until he shall have exhausted his supply of several thousand pounds of gunpowder.

STRUCK BY A SQUALL.

Oakville, Ont., July 31.—H. H. Pike and son, who are summering here, and Lawrence Green, of Oakville, had a very close call from drowning to-day. They were out sailing on the lake off Oakville, when a sudden squall struck the boat, blowing out the mast and tearing out a portion of the bottom. She immediately filled, and the three clung to the boat for over an hour. Fortunately Capt. Mitchell, of the schooner Viking, was coming up the lake and observed the accident. They came alongside and picked them up.

THE GLORY ASHORE.

Hong Kong, July 31.—It is reported that the new British battleship Glory, flagship of the British China squadron, is ashore somewhere between here and Shanghai. The warship Eclipse, Daphne and Pique have left this port suddenly. No explanation is given of their departure.

REVOLT IN VENEZUELA

Dr. Gardias at the Head of 5,000 Insurrectonists—Situation Grave.

10,000 Troops Ordered to the Scene of the Uprising—President Castro's Arbitrary Methods Condemned.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, July 31.—Doctor Rangel Gardias, at the head of 5,000 men, has revolted against President Castro, of Venezuela. The insurgents are near San Antonio de Tachira, on the Colombian frontier. The Venezuelan government has sent 10,000 troops to the scene of the uprising. The situation is grave. Other outbreaks are expected. The whole country is ready to rise against the arbitrary methods of President Castro. Constitutional guarantees have been suspended, and complications with Colombia are feared.

Washington, July 31.—The Venezuelan charge this afternoon received a message from Gonzalez Esteves, the Venezuelan Consul-General at New York, stating that the revolutionary movement, headed by Dr. Rangel Gardias, has completely collapsed. Up to the hour when the departments closed to-day, the state department had not called on the navy department for a ship to go into Venezuelan waters. In view of the serious condition of affairs there and the unsettled condition in the neighboring republic of Colombia, it is not improbable that an American warship will be sent to the scene of the trouble for the protection of American interests. If a ship is called for some difficulty might be experienced in finding a suitable vessel for the mission. About the only ship available at this time is the small gunboat Machias, fitting at the Boston navy yard. That vessel, however, would not be ready to sail for about two weeks. There is not a single American war ship in Southern waters. In case of extreme urgency, one of the battleships now in commission, of course, could be sent.

THE NEWS AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, July 31.—The state department to-day received the following telegram from the American legation at Caracas:—"Martial law has been declared in Venezuela by the President of the country in consequence of an invasion of a revolutionary force from Colombia. It is reported that an army of 10,000 men will meet the invaders."

THE EVENING BAND CONCERT.

The hundreds of citizens who, with their wives and children, enjoyed the open air concert given by the 24th Kent Regimental Band on Tecumseh Park last evening, will endorse this brief expression of appreciation.

The band concert furnishes an ideal method of relishing the summer evening. It is a method which Chathamites have always shown popular. It should be heartily encouraged.

The Regimental Band, under the capable direction of Mr. Harry C. Philp, has reached a remarkable state of proficiency. It is a credit to the Regiment. It is a credit to the city. The music it freely furnished the delighted audience last evening was exceedingly fine and keenly enjoyed.

The musicians deserve the thanks of the community. May they continue the good work.

LIMITS TO GROWTH OF TOWNS.

Frederick Hamilton, the Globe's ex-war correspondent in South Africa, who is rusticating at Cayuga, in a two-column article published in last Saturday's Globe, writes of the changed relations of farmers to townsmen and of the limits to the size of small towns.

In the old days the city visitor looked down with good-natured pity on the farmer's log cabin. Now, in the older districts of Ontario, the average brick house of the farmer is superior to that of the average citizen, and furnished with piano and other luxuries, while the farmer has a handsome carriage and fine horses, which are denied the usual townsmen. In some respects, according to this writer, the work on a farm is harder than of old, in winter. The drudgery of the farmer's wife will seek relief.

Turning to the matter of the growth of small towns, in which he would doubtless include small cities and by which he seems to mean county towns, he thinks that now-a-days, unless where they contain large factories doing an outside trade, the small town which formerly commanded a circle 40 miles in circumference, need only hope for a territory 150 square miles in extent, and cites instances in which small village centres are growing at the expense of small towns.

To apply his theory, Chatham would have its territory of 150 square miles or a circle, 6 and 9 tenths of a mile in radius. This is in a measure true, though Chatham's natural territory would swell out into the north. Still a farmer, living half way between Chatham and Blenheim, would be as likely to go to one as the other, all conditions being equal and a mile north or south of this middle point, he would naturally go to the nearest town, all other conditions being equal. Factors however, often come in to offset the geographical advantage of a centre.

The road to Blenheim might be better or on the other hand Court or County Council business might draw him to the County town. The Globe writer seems to anticipate a great extension of the system of delivering groceries and other goods at farmers' doors. He hints reference to the future of electric railways which will build up the small towns at the expense of smaller towns and villages. It is a case of the big fish eating the little ones.

A BOYCOTTED NEWSPAPER.

The London Daily Mail got news that officialdom sought to suppress, and now Mr. Brodick has ordered that it is not to receive official news, says the Toronto Star. Probably the newspaper will reply that it does not want censored news. The question arises: Can a Government boycott a newspaper? Clearly, if a paper acts illegally it can be prosecuted; if it does not, can it be boycotted? If so, for what misdemeanor can it be boycotted, its business injured, and its readers deprived of information that belongs to the nation?

If a Government can boycott a newspaper for ascertaining knowledge of events that have actually happened, may it also be blacklisted for unfairly commenting upon men and matters, and if so may it not be boycotted some day by order of a Minister to whom it is opposed, merely because he is unfriendly to it?

Mr. Brodick is not likely to win much credit in this affair. He has given the enterprising Mr. Harmsworth a grievance worth more to him than official despatches, and has challenged his newspaper to get the news for itself. It will do so, and it will be also absolved from the restraints of conscience and expediency that have influenced it more or less heretofore.

Clever Paris Swindlers Fleeced Many Young Noblemen.

Rascals Wore Fictitious Titles and Lured Victims to Their Yacht to be Loo ed at Cards.

Paris, July 31.—The police have unearthed a gang of turf swindlers and card sharks whose operations were characterized by extraordinary audacity. They were led by a Belgian named Herdboudt.

The swindlers owned a yacht called the Westermine, on board of which their dupes were invited and were subsequently plucked. The gang has fled to Switzerland.

One of the gang was a brother of a prominent Abyssinian explorer, and called himself "Comte de L." but was not in reality a count. The only title he possesses is that of "dedjas," admitting that the Negus really gave him that. Another of the gang, born in Russia, Baron de C. calls himself an aide-de-camp of Ménélik. The third, styled the Prince de M., says he was made a Prince by the Negus.

French nobility was represented by Baron de L., whose real name is Julien, and who is the son of peasants in the south of France. There was also a Pole, M. K., who has been expelled from all the gambling halls of Paris. The banker of the gang was a Belgian, director of a shady financial company.

The favorite method of the swindlers was to use marked cards. They would entice their dupes at fashionable restaurants. When their victims were without money they were made to sign bills.

Prince de M. often gave parties in one or other of his apartments in the Rue Vignon or the Avenue d'Iena. The gang had also founded in the Madeleine quarter a pretended insurance company, in the office of which gambling went on.

Among the young men of good family who have been heard by M. Bourrouillon, the investigating magistrate in charge of the case, are Prince Karageorgievich, who lost $16,000; Prince Baryatinsky, who lost $12,000; M. Roussanoff, who was relieved of $13,000; M. Chahin d'Anvers, who lost $3,400, and Van Ackerbrauck, who lost $34,000.

In the summer season the gang made a tour of the fashionable watering places and the heads of the fashion shared their profits. Some of the swindlers who escaped are even now supposed to be cruising at present off the coast of Holland.

Prince Karageorgievich, who is mentioned as having been fished, is a member of the great Serbian family which are rivals of the Obrenovich dynasty of the throne of the Balkan Kingdom.

Prince Baryatinsky belongs to one of the best known houses of Russia.

Life Insurance.
It is an interesting fact that, whatever the reason may be, life insurance is much more popular in the United States than in any other country. In proportion to their numbers the American people carry twice as much life insurance as the Britishers, five times as much as the Germans and eight times as much as the French.
This is partly explained by the large number of American policies issued to serve other purposes than mere provision for the families of the insured. The scope of what may be called business insurance is constantly enlarging. A novel and interesting recent development of it is the insurance of the lives of Protestant ministers for large sums which are made payable at their deaths to their churches.

Where They Agreed.
At the silver wedding of the Prince and Princess of Wales an English town wished to present an address, but there was a great discussion as to its wording. For some time they could not agree at all. "Conscious as we are of our own unworthiness" was universally condemned, but when some one proposed "Conscious as we are of each other's unworthiness" it was agreed to by a man.

The emblem of the New York City History club is the industrious little beaver, typical of the sturdy ancestors, surrounded by a circle. This beaver was part of the ancient seal of New Amsterdam.

"Julia has given up her proposed trip abroad."
"Why so?"
"Well, her passport described her as having a large mouth and she wouldn't go."

Piecing.

That's a word which may not be in the dictionary in this sense of its use, but which is in very common use in some sections of the country. "She's always piecing" they say of the woman who runs to the cupboard at irregular hours and eats a piece of pie, cake, or some other dainty. This irregular eating is one of the chief causes of dyspepsia and "weak" stomach.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are completely cured by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the supply of rich, pure blood, and gives the body vitality and vigor.

A year ago I was feeling very badly, writes Mrs. Lizzie Abrams, of 123 Johnson Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. "I had a very poor appetite and when I sat down at the table I could not eat, but would have to go away without even tasting the food. Chancing to hear from a friend who used your 'Golden Medical Discovery' for a disease similar to mine, I thought I would give the medicine a trial, and I can hardly express the benefit received from it. The first dose seemed to do me good. My appetite returned and I was able to eat heartily. I have improved so much since taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I do not look like the same person. Am today well and strong—the result taking six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WHITEBREAD.

A severe electrical storm passed over this section on Thursday night last, accompanied by an almost incessant roar of deafening thunder and the most furious flashes of lightning. A dark, anxious looking cloud was seen to gather in the west in the early part of the evening, driven by a very high wind. It travelled in an easterly direction upon reaching this section, and while passing over the rain fell in torrents. The water which fell will fill a long felt want and will do a great deal of good to the parched potato lands and to all late crops, especially to the potato crop, which was looked upon as a failure.

The harvest is well advanced, the wheat and barley being about all gathered in.

The steam thrasher is sounding its warning note. The wheat is away below the average both in quantity and quality, with but few exceptions. One of the few whose yield is a satisfactory one is that of Joseph Wesley, who has threshed an average of 30 bushels to the acre. The complaint with most farmers is an over abundance of straw with the wheat. The weather at the time the grain was filling, coupled with the ravage of the fly, combined to destroy what to all appearances a few weeks ago was the most promising wheat crop that has been grown in this section for many years.

Barley is fairly good, with prices ruling high.

The oat crop will not be as heavy as expected, owing to the excessive heat. Corn now promises one of the finest yields in years.

The early potatoes are a failure; the late ones may revive now that we have had some refreshing rains and a little even temperature. The potato bug pest is the worst that has been known here for years.

The apple crop is almost a total failure.

J. F. Peers has secured the position of grain and produce buyer for Waddell & Stringer, of Chatham. He is now loading cars with barley and corn at the Glancy siding.

Gilbert Turner left here for Bleheim on Monday last. He will view the sights of Manitoba and the Northwest before returning home.

Mrs. J. L. Griffith was suddenly called to Marine City to attend the funeral of her little grandson, Neil, the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. McDonald, who died very suddenly on Sunday. The sorrowing parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. McDonald were the guests of Mrs. H. Brown, of Marine City, Mich., on Sunday.

Farm labor is very scarce this season. The highest wages are being offered, but it is almost impossible for the farmers to secure help to take care of the harvest.

The sugar beet is being very extensively grown here this year. The crop in general looks well and promises an abundant yield.

The hay crop was a splendid one this season.

A. McMillan has returned home to Detroit, after spending the past few weeks with his brother Henry.

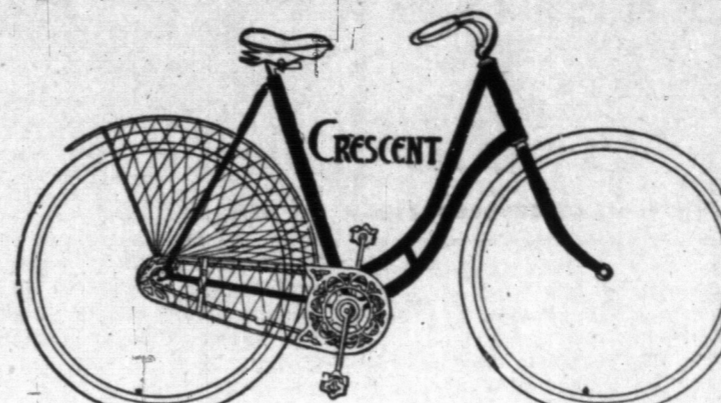

Samuel Harper is seriously indisposed with an attack of typhus malaria.

A number of our boys are going to the Northwest for the harvest.

Rumor says that John Carroll is about selling his farm, which lies within the city limits.

Dover Residents Mixed in Lively Melee —Case now Before County Court.

A very interesting case came up before Magistrate Houston at the County Court this morning. The two accused men were Noah and Alexander Peltier, both farmers living in the French settlement in Dover. They are both French and can speak hardly a word of English.

They were charged by Eli Jubenville, also of Dover, with assault with intent to do actual bodily harm.
It appears that the three men in question were at a threshing in Dover on July 30th. Alexander Peltier was feeding the separator and Jubenville was feeding the sheaves onto the table of the machine. Jubenville seemed to be in a gay sort of a mood and seemed to delight in annoying Peltier by throwing the sheaves on his head, or any place but the right place. Peltier became considerably wrathful but did not say anything at the time.

Later in the day Alexander Peltier slipped down the straw-stack with a fork in his hand. Jubenville happened to be at the side of the stack where Peltier fell and the fork jabbed him in the side of the face.
Jubenville, thinking that Peltier was "getting even" for the abuse he had received in the morning, immediately began to fight. Noah Peltier, seeing his brother in trouble, also mixed in the melee and for a time the three men gave the spectators a free exhibition in prize-fighting.

The two Peltiers came up this morning and were remanded until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.
F. W. Smith appears for both of the defendants and W. Douglas, K. C., for the prosecution.

BOTH TICKLED

A Holiday Visit that is Mutually Delightful to Wife Away and Husband at Home.

Fred. Quinn has got a true story—and whenever Fred. has a story, true or—chem, it is one worth hearing.
Then, again, he tells it well.

The better half of a prominent east end merchant, whose real identity Mr.
Quinn's characteristic kind-heartedness prevents him from disclosing, left the other day to enjoy a month's vacation.

This morning the citizen was considerably startled to receive a telegram from her. He opened it and found an apprehension to find the enclosed message:

"Am feeling like a new woman.
Would like to stay a month longer."

The husband glared at his wife's despatch for a moment. Then his face suddenly lit up.

"He, there, boy," he called after the retreating messenger. "Hold on, there. There's an answer to this."

He hurriedly grabbed the telegraph
he blank and with a malicious grin, pencilled the following reply:—

"So am I. Pray stay."

There is one thing that Fred always adds—casually, of course,—to the conclusion of his anecdotes. He mentions the fact that Mrs. Quinn is not holidaying.

Mr. Justice Ferguson has ordered the immediate release of B. Cartley, convicted at Stratford during the visit of of Ringling's circus, and alleged to be a pickpocket. He was sentenced to three years in Kingston penitentiary for attempted pocket picking on the evidence of a single witness employed by the circus to watch suspicious persons. This witness said that he saw another man, who was not in custody, and whom he described as the defendant's chum, fanning or tapping the pockets of elderly women in the crowd, while the defendant was engaged in doing his best to screen the other from observation. The evidence did not show that any money or chattels had actually been taken by either, or that either had actually attempted to take any specified article. NEW CLUB

Citizen Suggests the Establishment of Another Local Bowling Organization.

"Let me make a suggestion I should like submitted through The Planet," said a citizen to this journal this morning. "Why not establish another bowling club in Chatham?"

"A great deal of interest has been manifested in the game this year and many young members are taking a keen delight in the game. This interest has been further developed by the recent victory of the rink that went to London."

"Now, I think two clubs would add more interest to the game, and it would make inter-club matches possible and create a friendly rivalry. Toronto, I am told, has some six or seven clubs. Chatham could easily support two."

"Then—though of course this is a delicate matter to touch upon—I am told that certain 'little difficulties' have arisen which could be thus done away with. There are several good bowlers who now hardly ever play, and probably could be brought into a new club. Chatham cannot afford to lose the skill and experience of these men."

"I think the idea of a new club is worth considering, anyway."

DRANK PARIS GREEN.

London, Ont., August 1.—Lydia Mason, the three-year-old daughter of J. C. Mason, of J. Duchess avenue, South London, narrowly escaped death by poisoning Tuesday afternoon.

While playing around the house about 5 o'clock, she got possession of a bottle containing a quantity of Paris green, which she took to the tap, and presumably for amusement, filled with water. She drank some of the mixture, and later was found to be suffering intensely.

The child was able to explain what had happened. Dr. Ferguson was called, and in spite of all that could be done, the girl's life was in danger up to midnight. Yesterday, she was much better, and all danger was past.

S. THOMAS Business COLLEGE

The growth of this institution during the last two years has been wonderful. The attendance has been doubled on account of the thorough course of training which we give. One of our young men is now drawing a salary of $1,800 a year; another $800; others from $400 to $600. Within the last month two of our students have gone direct from the College to positions paying $500 a year. WE QUALIFY OUR STUDENTS TO FILL THE BEST POSITION.

Young people are foolish to spend the best part of their lives learning Latin, French and the dead languages, when a few months spent in our Commercial or Shorthand Department will fit them to earn salaries like the above.

Eighty-seven per cent. of all our students who have written on the examinations of the Business Educators' Association of Canada this year have been successful.

TELLTALE PICTURES.

PAINTINGS THAT HAVE DONE THE WORK OF DETECTIVES.

Instances Where the Canvas of an Artist Has Led to the Confession of a Criminal—A Portrait and a Stolen Diamond Pendant.

An artist who had suddenly become almost famous by his production of a painting exhibited at the Royal Academy was one day called upon by a man whose visit was productive of the most extraordinary and undreamt of consequences.

The picture represented a lonely stretch of beach, upon which the sea was beating in long, creamy rollers. In the foreground, bending over a dead body, was a man with a wild expression on his face and with a naked knife in his hand. A ship's boat, evidently just beached, was also in the picture, and by the side of the murdered man was a bag of gold. The picture portrayed the advent of two outlaws upon a friendly shore. The one had murdered the other so that the treasure might be his.

The painter's visitor was a gray haired, wild eyed man.
"In heaven's name, sir," he gasped out, "how did you learn the dreadful story that you painted? I see you know all. I murdered my mate Bill to get the money that was his. I threw his body into the sea. I don't know what impulse led me to the Academy. The first thing I saw was your picture representing the scene that took place 30 years ago."

Needless to say, the picture had been the outcome of imagination. Yet murder will out, and the guilty conscience of the man who had killed his comrade for lust of gold had convinced him that the painting was no coincidence, but was indeed the actual portrayal of a dastardly and unwitnessed crime.

There is probably no picture better known in England than "The Doctor," by Mr. Luke Fildes, yet there are probably very few people aware of the fact that that selfsame masterpiece was the means of bringing to light the perpetration of a crime that would otherwise never have been known.

A certain doctor in a large town committed suicide, and among his papers was a letter which ran as follows: "I have today seen Luke Fildes' 'Doctor.' The picture represents a medical man watching by the bedside of a child. It has so haunted me that I am going to take away my own worthless life and make a confession at the same time. When Arthur's"—his brother's—"boy died, I came into money that my dead brother had settled on him. He died as all the world thought of acute pneumonia. Yet his life might have been saved had I acted, as Fildes' 'Doctor' is so evidently doing, with the use of all the skill that lay in my power. I hastened the boy's end and so got the money. I can bear it no more."

A well known artist was commissioned to paint the portrait of a lady in exalted circles, who boasted the possession of a most unique jewel in the form of a pendant. The lady was very anxious that this heirloom should be included in her portrait. The artist, of course, complied with her request. Shortly after the painting had been completed a daring burglary was perpetrated, with the result that the lady lost her heirloom, and no trace of the thief or thieves was forthcoming. Years passed by, and the lady gave up all hope of ever seeing the precious heirloom again.

Now, it so happened that the artist who had painted the portrait of the lady mentioned had occasion to travel in India.

In the course of his wanderings he came to Bombay and, as every visitor to that place does, strolled through the native bazaar.

Suddenly his attention was riveted by a piece of jewelry in a jeweler's shop that seemed familiar to him. It was a diamond and ruby pendant. Where had he seen it before? He ransacked his brain, but could not remember.

He returned to his hotel and happened to take from his portfolio a sketch of the portrait he had made years ago of the lady with the pendant. In a moment the enigma was solved. The piece of jewelry he had seen was the peculiar pendant that his fair sitter had been so anxious he should include in his portrait.

He hurried off to the chief of police, and told that worthy what he suspected, namely, that the bazaar he had visited contained the long lost jewel of the English lady. Inquiries were at once set on foot with extraordinary results. The jeweler in the bazaar confessed to having given years ago a quite insignificant sum for the jewel, which he had bought from a stableman in the employ of a neighboring rajah. The stableman was sought for, and turned out to be none other than a famous English crackman, who had apparently turned honest, but who nevertheless, confessed to having been the thief of the jewel that had been so miraculously discovered.

LAY DOWN AFTER MEALS

Prescient of Mrs. Susan Coome of Stratford.

For the last fifteen years Mrs. Susan Coome, of this place has been laboring under the heavy load of dyspepsia. Her case has been long considered as hopeless by her friends, but strange to say the lady has at last found not only relief but a complete cure.

To say that those who know her are surprised, but faintly expresses the general astonishment at the robust health Mrs. Coome now enjoys compared to what she has been for years. For over fifteen years Mrs. Coome has had to lie down after meals. She could not eat any pastry, or if she did, she suffered for it. After every meal she was miserable with sour stomach and heartburn for hours. It seemed as though no food would digest.

Mrs. Coome tried remedy after remedy in vain. In fifteen years she tried every treatment for Dyspepsia with in her means. Failure was the sole result in every case, and nobody but despair of her ever again being well. But she is well. Her letter explains why.

"For fifteen years I have been afflicted with dyspepsia," she writes "I would suffer from sour stomach after the lightest meal and would have to lie down. I felt sick. If I ate the slightest bit of pastry I had to suffer for it. Nothing I ate would digest. I tried all sorts of remedies but nothing gave me relief until I heard of your Dodo's Dyspepsia Tablets. I used two boxes. Two boxes was all I took and I am entirely cured. I can eat anything now without the slightest fear and feel as bright as a little child."

A VERY CURIOUS BIRD.

The One Young Mark Twain Sprang Upon the Scientists.

Mark Twain's father was an ornithologist. He had several friends, who were also enthusiasts on the subject of birds. Whenever any one of them discovered a rare avis it was the custom to have a consultation. Mark had been a witness of several of these bird inquiries and had noted the delight the old men took in discussing a new found specimen. One day it occurred to him to provide the Hannibal ornithologists with a real circus in the form of a bird. He killed a crow and also a barnyard rooster. Plucking out the tail feathers of both the crow and the rooster, he substituted the rooster's tail feathers for those of the crow, producing a unique effect. When he had the specimen nicely prepared, he went to his father and, handing it to him, said:

"Here, father, is a very curious bird I shot. I thought you would be interested in it."
The old gentleman gazed upon the specimen with astonishment. That evening the ornithologists of Hannibal were assembled in Mr. Clemens' parlor. The rare specimen was put before them. The discussion was long and learned. The opinions expressed were various. One thought the bird was an offshoot of the bird of paradise family; others had equally ridiculous notions as to its ancestry. But there was one who refused to be swayed by the peculiarity of the bird's tail from the judgment that it was of the crow family.

"Why, just look here," he said, lifting the bird by its tail feathers. He gave it a shake. The feathers came out. There was a quick closing of a door. Mr. Clemens started to leave the room.

"Gentlemen," he said, "please excuse me a few moments. I will see Samuel first and explain later."

EATING FISH.
It is not good form to ask for a second helping of fish.

A little modern fish knife, with an ingenious fork arrangement on one side, is now made.

A bit of lemon is served with broiled and baked fish, and it is in correct form to use the fingers in expressing the juice.

Potatoes are considered a proper accessory to the fish course.

Sliced cucumbers, with plain French dressing, are also served.

Blacksmith's Backache

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Cure This Serious Trouble.

There is hardly a blacksmith in Canada who does not know what backache means—the stabbing pain, the sore, lame, stiff back that makes work misery.

Mr. Thos. Leonard, the well-known blacksmith of Port Hope, was troubled, as thousands are, and gladly tells of his cure in the following words: "My life work as a blacksmith has been a hard one, and my back and kidneys bothered me for a long time. I have tried many medicines without relief, until I got a box of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from Dr. Deyell, the druggist. Since then I have had comfort, and am able to work with ease. I am sure those who use your medicine for backache, kidney, bladder, or liver troubles, will never regret it. They are so easy to take, and work so well."

Powers of Example.

At the close of a large temperance meeting, a man well known in the neighborhood as a notorious drunkard, was asked to sign the pledge and make a fresh start in life. He was a great, powerful man, and as he doggedly objected he looked quite formidable.

"I will sign the pledge if you will," said a gentle voice at his side.

He turned quickly round and saw a frail looking little woman with earnest, tearful eyes.

"I'll sign if you will," she repeated. "I know it's hard for you, but it may be easier if we both sign together, and then we can help each other to keep the pledge. Come, let us get our cards," and stepping up to the table she signed the pledge, and then held out the pen to him.

Impressed by the intense earnestness of her manner, and drawn by force of her example, the man came forward and a minute later went down the hall with his pledge card in his hand.

Sultan Objects to Bicycles.

The Sultan of Turkey objects to bicycle races, not because he is afraid of anyone getting hurt, but because he fears he may get hurt himself. Crowds are not welcome in the neighborhood of sacred persons. When a number of people are gathered together it becomes a riot, and they make it easier for the caliph's subjects to conspire together and, perhaps, to arrange attempts against their sovereign's life.

This feeling on the part of the Turkish authorities has acquired fresh energy since the assassination of King Humbert. Further races in Constantinople have, therefore, been forbidden by the police.

Literary People and Holidays.

Literary people are evidently not in need of holidays. So long as they have pens, ink, and paper, and access to a library, they can write their books anywhere, and many choose to write them in the quiet seclusion of a country house. Rider Haggard enjoys the seclusion of a Norfolk farm. George Meredith leads a reclusive life among the Surrey hills. G. A. Henty writes all his boys' books on board his 80-ton yacht, and Dr. Gordon Stables has for his study a gypsy caravan, in which he wanders at will for a half of every year.

His Reason.
"No," said Willie Washington, "I never expect to marry."
"Why not?"
"Well, I shouldn't care to marry a woman who was not clever. And if I proposed to one and she regarded me as sufficiently intelligent and forbearing to make a suitable husband—why, then I shouldn't regard her as clever."

VICTORY BY AN EYELASH

Chatham's Junior Cricketers win Their First Match by One Run.

Kingsville Gave Them a Hard Struggle—Splendid Bowling by Aitken Saved Defeat.

The second eleven of the cricket club, assisted by a few of the first eleven, journeyed to Kingsville yesterday to play the team of that town and won by the small margin of one run.

The wicket was a fairly good one and the playing of both teams on the field was excellent, but the batting of neither was up to the standard. In the first inning the highest scores were made by Dr. Russell, of Chatham, who played for that team, and Jas. Black, each of them making six runs. The highest scores on the Chatham side in their first innings were Hutchinson 9 and W. B. Wells 8.

The bowling of Aitken for Chatham was a feature, he having eight wickets to his credit in the first innings. The fielding of Dr. Nicholls was phenomenal, as was also that of Graham Smith, who played in his first cricket match yesterday. Dr. Richardson for Chatham in the second innings went in first and carried his bat through the innings, making 27 runs, the score of the day. The record of the play was as follows:

AFRICAN TRADE

Thomas Moffatt Writes Regarding its Expansion—Progress in Spite of the War.

Thomas Moffatt, of Cape Town, South Africa, son of the late Col. Moffatt, and an old Chathamite, writing to his brother-in-law, Wm. Ellis of London, gives some interesting news. Among other things he says: "We have had with us for the last two weeks Mr. Jas. Cunningham, the special commissioner from Canada, who has been in Natal for some time. We have interviewed a great many of the leading men here with a view of getting their ideas and information on various subjects, and I am therefore in a position to state that Mr. Cunningham's report will favor making arrangements for a direct line of steamers from Canada, as also establishing one or more large commission houses in Montreal for the purpose of purchasing the goods and acting as bankers for South African imports. This seems to me the only course open if the exports from Canada are to be largely increased."

"We are now preparing to give their Royal Highnesses a welcome here on August 17, and for this purpose the plague is dying out."

"The war, so-called, still moves on apace, the horrors now having entered into the Transvaal territory for the purpose of loot and getting horses, which they are badly in need of at the present time, and these territories are the only portions of South Africa where they can get mounts."

"Business is dull in spots at the present time, but there is no let up to the improvements in Cape Town. The council is about to borrow £1,500,000 for improvements, and private building operations are being carried on on a big scale. The money that is being spent in buildings here is something fabulous, and yet the war goes on."

"SUFFER THE LITTLE ONES"

Citizen Tells The Planet of Sad Case Commanding Attention.

Children Neglected and Abused—The Aid Society Appealed to

"There is a case at the west end of Wellington street," said a prominent citizen to The Planet this morning, "that I think it is quite proper for the Children's Aid Society to take in charge."

"There is a certain family on that street, the parents of whom neglect and abuse their children in a manner which cannot be regarded as anything but shameful. All during the day the children are left alone and are allowed to run the streets and do what they please. As a result they are in all kinds of mischief."

"I was passing the house the other evening when I saw the mother unmercifully whipping her little boy, a youngster, about 8 or 10 years old. The little child was looking up into her face and crying pitifully. 'Please mother, don't,' he said, 'I am so tired and I am so hungry.' She said that she was conquering a headstrong boy."

"These are common occurrences and I think that those who have authority in the matter should act immediately."

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
