Madam-It's Got to be Blended or You Can't Use it for Pastry as Well as for Bread

128

is sold for what it is—a scientifically blended flour—the original blended flour—pure, honest, reliable.

Don't bother with two kinds of flour—don't put up with heavy pastry, or flavorless bread.

Order "Beaver" Flour—at your grocer's.

Dealers—write us for prices on Feed, Coarse Grains and Cereals.
THE T. H. TAYLOR CO., LIMITED, - CHATHAM, Ont.

All this talk about western wheat flours being "pastry" flours, is just plain talk. Anyone, who knows anything about wheat, knows that western wheat flour cannot, will not and does not, make as good pastry as "BEAVER" FLOUR.

Any flour, which is said to be western wheat flour, and makes extra good pies and cake, will be found to be blended like "Beaver" Flour—whether it is sold as such or not.

A blended flour like "BEAVER" FLOUR is the only one that is equally good for bread and pastry. You will understand WHY.

Manitoba wheat has what the bakers call strength. It makes a big loaf of bread; but the bread is spongy or full of holes and lacks flavor.

Ontario wheat, blended with spring wheat, makes the ideal bread and pastry flour. By combining the two in just the right proportions, we have "Beaver" Flour—a flour that makes the real home-made bread and delicious light pastry.

In cities such as Toronto, where bakers have tried a blended flour, it was found that although a smaller appearing loaf was the result, the people refused the Manitoba flour bread in favor of it—and there is now no other flour used.

K. G. ASH & CO., St. John's, Sole Agents in Nfld., will be pleased to quote prices.

Grand Alliance; OR, Love That Knew No Bounds.

CHAPTER IV.

Thus the two men talked—the feebleness of one making the other seem almost youthful—till they must needs revive old stories of the wondrous musical evenings; and Sydney saw her father's face light up, his fingers, white, wasted, nerveless, stirring to the touch of invisible strings as Jacob Cheene described that great finale wherein the first violin had led such a glorious prelude as left them all exultant, breathless, fit for never another chord that night!

That was the safest theme they found. Pleased as a child, the host kept harping on it, and the next day of Jacob's visit Sydney brought her father's violin ("It must have been left behind, for some one sent it on to papa months after we got here," she explained. "Wasn't it strange?" and Mr. Cheene said it was, very, and the much-loved instrument was tenderly laid upon its master's knees just as it were, for recognition, and leave to be touched by another, and then the loose strings were attuned, and the clerk played most reverently a theme well known—so beautiful, it might have been some saintly funeral song.

But the delight was too vivid. It set one hearer trembling past restraint. So the notes, strange at the Dale, were silenced. Only in cautiously chosen converse of old times the rest of the day was passed, and with the morrow Jacob Cheene bade his master farewell.

Sydney, most constant and attentive, little handmaid to her father's friend, went with him to the station at Hadyngham, having secured the pony-carriage by a stroke of genius (brushing Leonora's hair overnight for an hour, and getting her to ask their mother for its loan), and together they talked as he waited for his train.

"It ever chance brings you my way, Miss Sydney, though it doesn't seem likely to now, you'll be sure and come and see me?"

She promised "Yes; that she would."

"And you'll write to me and tell me about your father?"

Again "Yes," most willingly.

"For," stopping as they paced the platform to take one more long look at John Alwyn's child, with something of a haze about his own sight—"for there never was a kinder, truer, better friend than he was to me."

"Yes, he is good, isn't he, Mr. Cheene?" Sydney breaks in, her lips trembling at this praise—very sweet, though, alas! almost unheard nowadays by her jealous ears; "he is so gentle; you don't half know how gentle and uncomplaining he is! and he was always—when he was well—good to every one, wasn't he, Mr. Cheene?"

"Ah! that he always meant to be, I'll stake my life," returns her companion; more he can not say, for the train comes shrieking up, he keeps shaking the child's hand till the guard hustles him into his carriage, and in another minute he is out of sight and out of questioning.

But that flying visit was a wondrous pleasure to Sydney's father. He talked of it morning, noon and night for days after, always with delight. Always but once; an evening when some fortnight had gone by, and Leonora and her mother absent in the next village at some festivity; the two at home sat together silently watching the sunset, a great piled-up splendor of golden clouds above a most peaceful sea of tender-tinted blue.

The old man had been happier, if more strengthless, than for weeks that day. But now he suddenly grew restless. Pointing with shaking hand toward the brilliant west.

"How shall I—reach it?" he asked, looking straight forward with a great anxious yearning; "won't they—stop me?"

"Who stop you, father?" cried Sydney, springing to her feet, to draw his white head upon her shoulder.

"Why, they!" he answered, gazing forward, though the clear space was only peopled by phantoms of his disturbed brain—"they will! Oh, how I wronged them! But, Sydney," bringing his shaking hands together with a piteous burst of grief, "I never meant to! Jacob will tell you—why didn't he tell me when he came?—I never meant to!"

She held him to her most fondly, poor child, frightened herself, but hushing, soothing, quieting him; saying he had wakened up; he had been dreaming, and—there, there—he would be better now—kissing the troubled face into peace again. "But I wronged them," he kept half whispering, the dream haunting him still.

"Then I'll make it all right, papa," said Sydney, "never fear! You are only tired. I have talked to you too much to-day, that's what's amiss."

"You'll make it right?" he echoed looking up at the child with most touching wonder and trust.

"Yes, that I will, father."

"Dearest and best! You'll make it right. My little girl—my only one! Now God be praised! Help her to make it—right."

He murmured that again and again, with intense satisfaction, as he let his head slip from her shoulder to the chair, and, still with his face turned westward, fell into restful slumber.

Sydney sat at his feet, holding his hand, that shivered twice or thrice, till it grew dusk and toward the time for Mrs. Hills to return for the night. The woman for once was late.

When she stole softly in at nine, she found the young watcher sleeping beside her charge, and, with an exclamation at her own tardiness, essayed to wake them both. One quickly roused out of the land of dreams. The other was beyond that land—gone calmly to a region that mortality kens nothing of.

CHAPTER V.

With but few beats of his wide season-wing, Time carried Sydney far past that summer-tide of loss and sadness into a girlhood lighter if lonelier, freer if less gladdened with willing duties, than could have been her fate if her father had lived.

Left now with his memory only, that she cherished long and truly. Tender recollections softened his patient, fading life into something sacred, and the flawless love between them set an ineffaceable mark on her succeeding days.

Years that transformed her from child to woman in no way altered the position between her mother and herself. The fact of her being fatherless kindled no fresh spark of love maternal. She had her place in the household; studies strictly prescribed. For so many hours a day she inhabited the school room; the books Leonora had thumbed and discarded before her, and from these she was bidden to extract the wherewithal for her education. An impression was vaguely circulated that Mrs. Alwyn and her elder daughter superintended these studies, and for some few minutes each morning these ladies would indeed look in upon the child stumbling along this discursive road to learning; but as the elder came always burdened with letters or domestic accounts, and the younger occupied the half hour she was supposed to be listening to lectures francais in pencilling enchanting fashions down the margins of the pupils' theses, why, Sydney could hardly be said to profit much by their company.

Circumstances truly offered her during those years ample opportunity for growing up splendidly illiterate; but such fate was averted by the appetite she had inherited with her name. The meals her scant library provided she attacked with unappeasable vigor. Her dullest lessons she invested with a species of romance—threw into her unstrained labors all the enthusiasm which had no other vent, and determined not to let a power within her rust; but as her father would have desired to see her, so, and none other, to be.

At which point, however, Mrs. Alwyn's programme came into collision with her daughter's, and, widening the gap between them, earned for the girl that unenviable adjective which to her mother's mind marked her strongest characteristic.

It was the summer when Sydney was sixteen that this noticeable difference of opinion arose.

She was a little dark-eyed lassie then, with long, broadly rippling hair it was a slander to call black, so many shades of light lurked among the abundant locks; clear-cut features, scarcely pretty as yet, and a mouth too grave and firm for her years, but ready on occasion to curve into smiles that lighted the face like sunshine.

"Mamma," she asked one morning, looking beseechingly across a pile of well-worn volumes at Mrs. Alwyn checking her baker's bill, "what am I to do now I have finished these? Will you get me fresh books to learn from, please?"

Personal Publicity.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Woman needs personal publicity of the right kind.

What is personal publicity? Well, personal publicity is advertising the inside of oneself by the outside.

For instance, careful grooming is personal publicity. Anyone who wants to advertise himself in the right way must be well groomed, with all that that means in the way of carefully kept nails, accurately adjusted clothing, well polished shoes, trousers in press, tidily arranged hair, and above all, perfect personal cleanliness.

As Emerson says, if you look as though you had slept in your clothes, most people will think you have, whether rightly or wrongly.

A pleasant, well modulated voice is personal publicity of the very best sort. It often inspires confidence and liking even more quickly than an attractive face. I sometimes turn in a crowd to see who is the fortunate possessor of a pleasant voice. Speak to a person over the telephone in a well modulated voice and you have impressed him in your favor even before he sees you.

Carefully selected clothes are excellent personal publicity. Nor do clothes need to be expensive to be good advertising. They should be tasteful, suitable to the occasion and as harmonious as possible with one's own peculiar style. An advertiser usually selects some particular trademark or picture which he identifies with his product. In the same way I think it is good personal publicity to have some distinctive feature about one's clothes that stands for one's individuality. For instance one girl I know never appears without a little touch of red somewhere about her. This tiny flash of color is somehow typical of her vivacious and rather defiant personality, and I like both it and her.

Morals are more important than manners, but manners are more conspicuous than morals. We get acquainted with a man's manners long before we do with his morals, and are apt to judge accordingly. The man who knows the usages of polite society, and who has besides, a pleasant presence, a cordial handshake and the ability to talk about little things easily and without embarrassment, advertises himself favourably every time he meets anyone. I said "the man" because I didn't want to struggle with the double pronoun, but that applies equally of course to both men and women.

Needless to say, if an article is to be a lasting success it must have merit behind the advertising.

By the same token there must be something inside you for people to like after your campaign of personal publicity has persuaded them to get acquainted with it.

But that, as the French put it, goes without saying.

Ruth Cameron

Murder in Mid-Air.

It Has Been Attempted More Than Once.

It seems well-nigh incredible that any individual, other than a criminal lunatic, should try to murder an aviator while he is flying by secretly tampering with his aeroplane before it has left the ground.

Yet this dastardly thing has been done, as the following instance will show:

Lieut. J. C. Porte, R.N., was flying a military two-seater aeroplane at Hendon, with a distinguished naval officer as passenger, when the motor suddenly stopped working. Only a practical aviator can appreciate the full significance of such a happening. It is the same almost as if a man's heart ceased to beat, for the motor is the most vital part of the aeroplane.

At the time Lieut. Porte was high up over some trees outside the aerodrome, and it was only his expertness and presence of mind that prevented what otherwise would almost certainly have proved a double fatality. As it was, his machine grazed the aerodrome fence before landing barely a couple of yards inside the enclosure.

Lee Temple Mysteries.

The engine was at once examined, when it was found that all the working parts inside were completely smashed. Further investigation revealed the presence in the crank case of a small steel nut, which was no part of the machinery. It had been placed there purposely, and by an expert, for in order to introduce the nut inside the crank case the cylinder must first have been dismantled, an operation which would have taken at least a quarter of an hour to complete.

Nor does this outrage stand alone. On Saturday, December 21st, 1912, the same machine, flown by Lieut. Porte, and another military two-seater British Deperdussin monoplane, flown by M. Deroive, the chief pilot of the Hendon aerodrome, were both found to have been tampered with, the carburettor on each machine having been filled with water.

The medical evidence given at the inquest on Mr. G. Lee Temple, the aviator who was killed while flying at Hendon the other day, proved pretty conclusively that that promising young aviator met his death through physical causes. He fell when unfit from illness, and paid the penalty, collapsing in mid-air and becoming unconscious.

It is at least equally certain, however, that on two separate occasions attempts had previously been made upon his life of a kind similar to those mentioned above. In November last Mr. Temple was flying at Hendon, when there was a bang. He came down immediately, took his machine to pieces, and found a small copper rivet amongst the interior mechanism, which had also been "salted" with emery powder, a most dangerous substance. A few days later exactly the same thing happened. Moreover, that it was known to more than one person that these outrages were to be perpetrated is shown by the fact that the aviator had received previous to the occurrences, two anonymous letters, warning him of what was intended. It is significant, too, that these letters were written on paper bearing the address of a well-known club.

Dastardly Outrages.

These outrages bears every indication of being due to professional jealousy, although, needless to say, no aviator of repute, nor any respectable mechanic, would lend himself to such dastardly practices.

Still, one cannot help remembering that in the early days of motor racing, when many great rival firms were competing furiously against each other, similar disquieting things used to happen. Tyres were mysteriously punctured, nuts and even bolts were found in engines, and so on.

Likewise, so far back as 1908, an attempt was made to discredit Wilbur Wright in the eyes of the French Government by preventing him from flying at Champagne before a committee of experts who had been specially summoned there. At the last moment it was found that his petrol tank had been emptied of its contents by some evil-disposed person, and refilled with a mixture of alcohol and lubricating oil.

Explorer Stefansson Says Lack of it is Great Hindrance.

Ottawa, March 18.—Dr. Thompson, M.P., for the Yukon, has received a letter from explorer Stefansson, sent from Mackenzie, Alberta, on the 29th of January. He strongly emphasizes the need of wireless telegraphy in the far north, and concludes: "If only we had the wireless now at Herschel Island, the Karluk would also have wireless, and we would know her whereabouts. To know that I would give anything."

Edward Dwyer's Death.

Alcoholic Poisoning the Alleged Cause.

Edward Dwyer, aged 29, died at Bell Island, on Thursday night, under peculiarly sad circumstances. He entered the store of Mr. Edward Bennett about 9 o'clock, having evidently partaken of some liquor previously, and fell asleep on a pile of bags at the rear of the premises. Not much attention was paid him, as it was thought he was only having a nap, until close up time arrived and an effort was made to arouse Dwyer, but to no avail. Father McGrath and Dr. Giovannetti were summoned, but the unfortunate man had succumbed before they arrived. Suffocation, due to alcoholic poisoning, is the alleged cause of his death, and a post mortem was held on Saturday. Dwyer has a large number of relatives who are grief stricken over the affair.

Are You One Of The Unfortunates.

WITH BACKACHE, HEADACHE AND THAT TIRED FEELING.

If So Listen to the Story of George

F. Stander, and Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Handsworth, Sask., March 26. — (Special)—If you are one of those unfortunates who suffer from sore back, headache and that tired, listless feeling that makes work a hardship and life not worth living, the story of Geo. F. Stander, a well-known young man of this place, will interest you.

"For nearly ten years," Mr. Stander says, "I suffered from sore back and headache. I had a bad taste in my mouth in the morning, and I was always tired. I finally decided that my kidneys were the cause of my troubles, and decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I got half-a-dozen boxes, and before I had finished taking them I was completely cured."

"I advise anyone suffering as I did to use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Healthy Kidneys strain all impurities, all the seeds of disease, out of the blood. Weak Kidneys leave these impurities in the blood, and the result is nervousness, tired feeling and pains and aches that often develop into Diabetes and Bright's Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills make weak Kidneys strong and healthy.

A Relic of "Nell of Old Drury."

A tiny brass-fronted safe which may, when opened, prove to contain treasure trove or something concerning Nell Gwynne, was discovered within a hundred yards of Trafalgar Square recently. It will be some days yet, possibly, before it is possible to get at the safe, so that it can be opened without damage. It is now located in a small cupboard-like compartment of a wall on the ground floor of the premises which are undergoing changes at Craig's court. Craig's court is a quiet, out of the way place situated near to the court of King Charles II, and was the site of one of the residences of Nell Gwynne, the Orange Girl who became the favorite of the Merry Monarch.

FRIDAY, March 27, 1914.

The Military Crisis.

We pointed out a few days ago that the army crisis was of greater moment and involved much graver issues than the Home Rule question which gave it birth. At first the centre of trouble shifted from Ulster to the Curragh and revolved around the attitude of Brigadier General Gough, who is in command of the Third Cavalry Division and the officers whom he commands. The centre of trouble again shifted and this time to the War Council itself and its chief members, the Secretary of War, Colonel Seely, the Chief of the Staff, Field Marshal French, and Lieutenant General Ewart, Adjutant General. The resignation of the Secretary of War, who is the civilian head of the Council and head of the Department of War, has been in the hands of the Prime Minister and not accepted. Now it is stated but not confirmed at the time of writing, but generally accepted as true, that the two most important military members of the Council have resigned. The gravity of this crisis may be gathered from a glance at the constitution of the Council.

Secretary of State for War, Col. the Rt. Hon. J. G. B. Seely, D.S.O., M.P.
Chief of the Imperial General Staff (First Military Member), Field Marshal Sir J. O. P. French, G.C.B., G.C.V.O., K.C.M.G.
Adjutant General to the Forces (Second Military Member), Sir J. S. Ewart, K.C.B., A.D.C.

Quarter-Master-General to the Forces (Third Military member), Major General Sir J. S. Cowans, K.C.B., M.V.O.

Master-General of the Ordnance (Fourth Military Member), Colonel (Local and temporary Major Gen.) S. B. von Danof, C.B.

Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State (Civil Member), H. J. Tennant, M.P.
Financial Secretary (Finance Member), H. T. Baker, M.P.

Secretary, Col. Sir G. W. D. Ward, K.C.B., K.C.V.O., (Permanent Under-Secretary of State)

In the absence of any authoritative statement as to the actual facts, much is left to surmise. The suggestion has been advanced that the resignation of the two chief military members was due to their refusal to accept the mandate of the Prime Minister that the Army must obey the Government's orders unconditionally. We are inclined to doubt this as most unlikely. It seems to us more probable that the resignations were due to the fact that the Army Council had given a pledge to the Curragh officers, drafted by the Secretary of War and approved of by Lord Morley, and that Prime Minister Asquith and the Cabinet went back on them, after they had given the pledge, in full faith that in concurring with the action of their civil superior and Lord Morley, they were acting in full accord with the Government. Under all the circumstances we do not see how Colonel Seely can be retained as head of the Department, in fairness either to the Cabinet, the War Council, Parliament, or country.

Cabinet Crisis.

This afternoon, the intelligence of the resignations of Sir John French and Sir John Ewart is confirmed. It is also announced that Premier Asquith has again postponed till Tuesday, the statement which he promised yesterday and which was to be given to-day. The belief among Unionists is that Premier Asquith will tender his resignation. The crisis must be graver than is generally suspected, if this belief is well founded, in view of Asquith's pledge to put the Home Rule Bill through Parliament this session, and before a General Election is held. A dissolution would destroy the effect of all the steps that have been taken so far under the Parliament Act towards making the Home Rule Bill law. This aspect of the matter throws a doubt on the belief or it indicates increased gravity in the situation.

"Mavourneen."

Bell Island Dramatic Troupe Presents Bright Irish Play.

At Bell Island, on St. Patrick's Night, St. Joseph's Hall, was filled to its utmost capacity to witness the local amateur players in the high-class three act Irish drama, entitled Mavourneen. It was easily the best show this creditable company of amateurs has yet attempted, while the stage settings—notably the reception scene in Act I. were far above the usual standard. The handsome gowns of the ladies, the evening dress of the gentlemen, the shrubbery, palms and furniture, formed an attractive picture.

THE CAST.

The cast of characters was as follows:—
Larry Dwyer Mr. Leo Murphy
Lady May Miss Nellie Jackman
Lady Caroline Miss G. Lawton
Mrs. Dwyer Miss May O'Brien
Helen Miss Annie Murphy

French's Resignation

Has Neither Been Accepted or Withdrawn.

Adjutant General Also Resigns -- Rumors of Other Resignations -- Asquith Postpones Statement -- Seeley Will Probably be Transferred.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.

That the Government is still facing a situation of extreme difficulty is proved by the fact that the Premier was not in a position last night to make his promised statement, which was consequently postponed until to-day. The air is full of rumors. Among the most credited being: the report that Seely is to quit the War Office by an exchange of Port-folios with Lewis Harcourt, Secretary of the Colonies. The only new facts in the situation to-day were to be found in the resignation of Field Marshal Sir John French, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, Sir John Spencer Ewart, Adjutant General of the Army and Ewart, and that the arrangement of this matter was the reason for the postponement of the Premier's statement. Another Cabinet Council will be held to-day before Parliament assembles. It is possible there will be other and perhaps unexpected changes in the situation. Much interest is being shown in the daily conference between Lord George and Jas. Ramsay MacDonald, Independent Labor Members, which is being interpreted in some quarters as meaning a new coalition between the Labor party and the extreme Radicals.

ority that both French and Ewart had at least consented to withdraw their resignation. In Ireland no change has occurred, Belfast remains quite and although it is asserted that officers at Curragh Camp are determined to resign because of the repudiation of Seely's guarantee by the Government, no actual resignation so far as it is known has occurred. At midnight French authorized the statement that his resignation had neither been accepted nor withdrawn. Nothing is likely to be known officially until the Premier makes his statement in the Commons to-day, when it will probably be found that the removal of Seely from the War Office is the price to be paid for the withdrawal of the resignations of French and Ewart, and that the arrangement of this matter was the reason for the postponement of the Premier's statement. Another Cabinet Council will be held to-day before Parliament assembles. It is possible there will be other and perhaps unexpected changes in the situation. Much interest is being shown in the daily conference between Lord George and Jas. Ramsay MacDonald, Independent Labor Members, which is being interpreted in some quarters as meaning a new coalition between the Labor party and the extreme Radicals.

HONOLULU, March 26.
Between thirty and forty lives are believed to have been lost by the blowing up of the inter-island steamer Maui, last night, off Pearl Harbor. From Fort Kamehameha the soldiers observed that the steamer was apparently on fire. A few minutes later she was seen to blow up and immediately sink. More than thirty men, including the crew, and a number of laborers, mostly Hawaiians, were aboard. Rumors are current that the Maui struck a mine, but the general opinion is that the boiler exploded.

CHILE.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old, Slivash."

Chile is a splinter on the west coast of South America. It is called a country, but it looks on the map more like a railroad right of way. It is, in fact, just about the size of the right of way which the Union Pacific Railway got when it was built, being 2,600 long and from 46 to 225 miles wide.

Chile is the narrowest country in the world. It is also one of the thickest, being four miles high in spots. It is so long, that the railroads have never been able to get down to the southern end and it would take a representative three months to get up to congress by land. However, as there are no people to speak of in the southern end of Chile, this is no great matter.

Chile has 300,000 square miles of territory, 75,000 square miles of which, it obtained by whipping Peru and Bolivia in the war of 1879. There are only a little over three million Chileans, but they make up in ginger what they lack in numbers and twenty-eight years ago, they offered to fight the United States with or without gloves. The Chileans are the bastions of South America and are not meddled with by their neighbours to any extent.

Chile was first settled in 1540 and Santiago, its capital, is older than any town in the United States. It was named Chile because of the great difference which the Spanish colonists found in keeping warm after sunset. Chile is one of the few countries which shiver with the cold and other things, too. Its last shiver was just after San Francisco turned over on its side in 1906 and it shook down Valparaiso and damaged many other towns.

Chile was first settled because of its gold and as is usually the case, did not become prosperous until the gold was about exhausted. It now produces large amounts of copper and sends millions of tons of fertilizer to other lands. It also raises wheat, but owing to its lack of interest in American implements, its men do not make a great splash in the agricultural world.

Chile is a Republic of the non-revolving sort. Only a few of its citizens vote, but all are allowed to pay taxes, except the Araucans, who have persisted in being Indians after their own fashion for 400 years in spite of the utmost efforts of the white men to conquer them. Chile's greatest patriot was O'Higgins, and its greatest contribution to civilization has been the Irish potato. There are no snakes in Chile and no Irishmen, either.

Last Tribute to Editor of the Figaro.

Nine Thousand Persons Followed the Body to the Place of Interment.

Paris, March 20.—Two former Ministers of France, Joseph Caillaux and Ernest Monis and the chief public prosecutor of the Republic, Victor Fabre, were questioned to-day by a Parliamentary Committee concerning their acts and their motives in hindering the trial of the banker, Henri Rochette, who, it is said, duped investors out of $2,000,000 and ultimately escaped punishment.

The death of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, at the hands of Mme. Caillaux, caused this secret page in the judicial history of the country to be reopened. Many of its phases, still obscure, are likely to be unfolded by this inquiry with its background of intense public feeling, deep personal and political rivalries, are interwoven with the attempts to raise the screen hiding the strange transactions.

While M. Caillaux, restless as with an air of suppressed passion, replied to the questions put to him by the members of the committee, the bells for M. Calmette's funeral were tolling. Most of the notable literary and dramatic personages in Paris either were in the little church of St. Francois de Sales for the funeral service, or followed the hearse to the cemetery.

Former President Loubet and former Premier Briand and Barthou were among the nine thousand persons who went to the place of interment. The entire route through which the cortege passed was thronged, the spectators standing, bareheaded in the intermittent rain.

Cabinet Crisis.

Unionists Expect Asquith's Resignation.

Mr. C. A. C. Bruce of Mr. Curdy & Co., had a message this morning stating that Premier Asquith's statement had been postponed till Tuesday.

Special to the Evening Telegram.

LONDON, This Afternoon.

Excitement among members of Parliament increased to-day, when the Press Association sent out his statement: "Postponement of Premier Asquith's statement has caused grave impression. Unionist leaders believe Government's resignation is imminent." The Press Association was the first agency to secure the news that French and Ewart had resigned.

New Version Benton's Death.

Caranza Commission Puts the Blame On Major Fierro.

El Paso, Tex., March 18.—The Caranza Commission, consisting of General Ramon Frausto, Dr. Miguel Silva, and Miguel Larra, have completed taking testimony on the manner in which William S. Benton met his death.

Evidence taken, it is reported here, indicates that Benton was killed by Major Rodolfo Fierro, a close friend of Gen. Villa.

Benton, after hot words with Villa, was taken and placed in a cell. That night, Fierro took Benton aboard a south bound train on the pretext that he was taking him to Chihuahua. At Samaluca he took Benton's body from the train. The two men had been alone in the car, and when the body was taken off there was a bullet hole in the back of the head.

The commission will recommend that Fierro be placed on trial for murder.

Bold Robber Makes Rich Haul in Paris.

Secures $200,000 Cash From Postal Wagon.

Paris, March 1.—A daring theft of upwards of $200,000 in cash was carried out yesterday in the Rue Chancellerie, in the banking district of Paris. The money was taken from a Post Office motor-driven delivery wagon in which it was being carried to various consignees for the payment of monthly salaries and accounts.

The wagon was in charge of two men, one of them a chauffeur whose duty it was to watch the door at the back of the enclosed wagon while his companion delivered the packages.

The second man went into a broker's office, leaving the wagon door locked as usual. When he returned and took his seat inside he noticed that the most valuable package of all, a small bag, containing more than $200,000, was gone. The driver declared he had seen no one.

The police, after investigation, came to the conclusion that the thief had been dressed in Post Office uniform and had possessed a key with which he had opened the door at the instant the chauffeur's attention had been diverted.

The bag contained 143 separate small packages, each addressed to a important Parisian bank.

A Plucky Woman.

Ottawa, March 2.—A remarkable story of the pluck and endurance of a woman of Wakefield, a small village in the Gatineau district, revealing how, single-handed, she saved the lives of her small children, when her home was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday last, has reached here.

In addition to saving her six children, Mrs. Constantineau, who is the wife of a prominent farmer, had to battle with her sister, who was mortally deranged and refused to leave the burning building except by force, and only after a lengthy struggle did she succeed in carrying her to safety.

After locking her in a stable, some distance away, Mrs. Constantineau, undaunted by the flames and smoke, succeeded in carrying some of her household effects out, consisting of a heavy sewing machine, an iron bed and some trunks full of clothes.

The One to Own if You Can Own But One.

That is what a critical user of a "Globe-Wernicke" cabinet says of his equipment. Another says "It leaves nothing to be desired." Another says "So complete, yet so concise." Another "Perfection as a filing arrangement." Another "It is really indispensable." Another "A surprising advance in handling records." Another "A welcome improvement in office conditions"—and so on. The extensive sale of "Globe" filing cabinets in St. John's is by no means as remarkable as the abundant evidence that it is an asset alone that these devices have earned such generous appreciation. For certain, when you become a user you will be well contented with your adaptable and reliable outfit. Mr. Percie Johnson has your catalogue ready for the asking as well as other necessary details.

Old "Champion Eaters."

The champion stuffer of America, who had just thrown out a challenge to "out-eat" any two men, might have barred two of our own giants of the past, Nicholas Wood, of the Kentish Stomach, and Taylor, the Water Foot, were champions over all courses. To Wood a raw sheep, 20 dozens of pigeons, or four score and four rabbits were fair meals, but 60 pounds of cherries he dubbed but "wash-meat." Again, he once sat down, ate a whole hog, and followed it with a dessert of three pecks of diamonds. Black pudding he tucked away by the yard. But here Poet Taylor claimed a hearing. He challenged Wood to eat at a sitting as much as would stretch across the Thames anywhere between London Bridge and Richmond.—London Daily Chronicle.

Electric Waiter.

An electrical invention which, it is claimed, will do away with waiters in restaurants and hotels, is being exhibited.

restaurant is to be fitted with a frame bearing the menu and a series of electrical "press" buttons connected by wires to the kitchen.

The customer sits down before the already laid table, with a neat pile of plates and glistening silver on one peremptory with. Each table to the side, chooses the dish which he prefers, and presses the corresponding buttons in turn.

In the kitchen of the restaurant the number of the table and the number of the course required are signalled on the screen to the chefs and their assistants, and in a few seconds a steaming hot dish appears in a lift at the side of the diner's table. The customer helps himself, presses a button, and the dish disappears as it came, leaving at the side of the plate a little aluminium ticket indicating the sum to be paid.—Daily Mail.

Tower Built for a Push-cart.

In the open tower of a building at one of the busiest street corners in Los Angeles, in a position where all who pass can see, is an old push-building once peddled hot tamales. The owner of the cart, and of the building is what is known as a self-made man, and when he became rich conducted a business within it he had the tower designed for the express purpose of housing the cart. Some time ago fire threatened the building, and the first thing the owner ordered to be removed was the cart.

Star Tourney's.

On Monday night next the Star Club will hold its last card tournament for the season. These tourneys have been the means of promoting much entertainment during the winter months, while the fortunate winners have also profited considerably in the splendid prizes awarded. The committee is now busy making arrangements for the annual Billiard Dinner, to be held after Easter.

Divorced Life
By Helen Hessong Fueselle

In Quest of Work

With the morning newspapers spread out before her, Marian began searching the want-ads. She put check marks after a dozen advertisements for office help, and then she ran across these lines:

"Wanted—Attractive, sensible young woman of good education to act as companion to elderly lady of means. Apply in person, 2741 Groveland Avenue, Suite 12."

Marian tore the advertisement out of the paper eagerly. She felt thoroughly capable of qualifying for the position. If she secured it, her problem, at least temporarily, would be solved. She was familiar with the neighbourhood of the address given. It was in the heart of the fashionable section of aristocratic Groveland Avenue. In half an hour she was ready for the street, and 20 minutes later she stood in the entrance of one of the city's most expensive apartment houses. She rang. A woman's voice came through the speaking tube, and asked her to come up. The door buzzer squawked, and she started up the softly carpeted stairs, a short flight leading to the first floor. A butler admitted her to suite 12, and led her into a large, richly furnished living room. A fifty-year-old woman of over sixty sat alone near the casement. There was a kindness and an elegance about her.

"Won't you sit down," she said to Marian. "So you've come to answer my advertisement? You're my third caller in regard to that matter. I hope the third time will live up to its tradition of good luck in this case," she smiled pleasantly. "I want to start for the South early next week, and must have a companion for the trip."

Travel, Marian's heart bounded. If she could secure this position she would be in luck, she reflected. Already she had warmed to her elderly companion. For ten minutes, as they chatted about unimportant matters, Marian was aware that the other was carefully taking her measure. She asked a few questions about her parents, her school training. Marian felt that she was giving a good impression.

"I'm surprised that you have never married," said the other abruptly. Marian hesitated for a moment. Should she lie? Her tilt with Mrs. Lily several days ago had opened her eyes. But, despite her feeling of caution, she found it impossible to tell falsehood at this time.

"I've been married," she said, quietly.

"Indeed? Are you a widow?"

"No, I'm divorced."

At this, the other's manner underwent a sudden change. Her cordiality vanished. "I'm sorry to hear that," she said. "I liked you very much, and hoped that you would be the one for this position. But if you're a divorced woman, of course, I should

"I suppose you regard divorce as a crime," she said ironically.

"Not want you in my employment," Marian said. "But you don't understand," began Marian. "My marriage was impossible. There was no other way. My husband—"

"Never mind the details," interrupted the other. "It is quite enough that you say you are a divorced woman. To me it is perfectly shocking that divorce is becoming so prevalent. This is supposed to be a civilized country."

Marian rose, her lips quivering with resentment at the other's narrowness of view. "I suppose you regard divorce as a crime," she said ironically. "I regard it as an entirely unnecessary evil. What a pity," replied the old lady, looking sadly at the younger woman. "You look like a good girl."

"I am good," exclaimed Marian impatiently. "And I'm not a miserable hypocrite, either, like the women who keep on living with men they despise! I'm sorry I've disturbed you. And I do hope you'll recover from your shock. Good-bye."

(To be continued to-morrow.)

The Town Row.

We had an ancient, vicious fray, at Punt-town-on-the-Heights, and people raised O'ed Ned by day, and filled with strife the nights. I helped to paint the village red, and fought our faction's foes; one day I had a busted head, the next a ruined nose; and oft my eyes were in a sling, and life was so intense I couldn't smile or dance or sing for twenty-seven cents. One day I cat me down to rest, a poultice on my face, and then there came a stranger guest, a man of wondrous grace. "I've watched you scrapping far and near, to put your foes to rout, and now," he said, "I'd like to hear what all the row's about." I heaved and stammered for a spell about our local war; to save my neck I couldn't tell what we'd been scrapping for. "I've asked and asked the stranger said, as he prepared to go, 'why this poor burg is painted red, and no one seems to know.' Then I obtained a flag of truce, and sought my warmest foe—full often I had cooked his goose, and he had laid me low. "I welcome peace," said he, "by heck, so let the 'White Dove whiz!' And then he wept upon my neck, and I shed tears on his. We thus might squelch most village rows, and shake our load of care; but we keep wrangling till the crows come home, their tails in air.

Did Child Wake Up Cross Or Feverish

Look Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs" to clean the bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and feverish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of acid, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!

The Flying Circus.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

A Thrilling Picture in Three Reels. See the programme at the Crescent Picture Palace advertised elsewhere in our columns for to-day and to-morrow five splendid pictures with musical selections by Miss Arkland. Special matinee to-morrow. On Monday and Tuesday the sensational and spectacular picture, "The Flying Circus," in three reels of 3,000 feet will be shown. It is the most thrilling ever seen and takes almost an hour to show it. It is a feature of features without exception and the most remarkable ever released by the Northern Film Co., and will be the principal attraction next week; no extra charge—the same admission fee as usual.

Back Was Lame For Two Years

Stomach Troubles and Weakness of Kidneys Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

There is an enormous amount of suffering from liver and kidney derangements and stomach troubles that could easily be avoided by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. If you could only realize the scores of everyday ills that arise from a sluggish condition of the kidneys, liver and bowels you would not be long in giving this medicine a trial.

Mrs. Edward Stewart, New Richmond, Ont., writes: "I want to tell you how thankful I am for using your Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for stomach troubles and backache caused by weak kidneys. I was unable to wash any clothes for over two years on account of my back being lame. I read the Almanac and began using these pills. Two boxes made a complete cure. I can do my own washing and other work now, and want to say to lady friends that they do not know how much I appreciate Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Ed. Carson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto."

What's Indigestion Who Cares? Listen!

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heart-burn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery. Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

Need of Hospital on West Coast.

Editor The Evening Telegram. Sir—A matter which might engage the attention of the Government is the important necessity of a hospital on the West Coast, and located by preference at Bonne Bay, where it would be of access to the people of the district in winter as well as summer.

When navigation closes, in December, a population covering the territory from Bay of Islands to the Straits of Belle Isle is left without access to a hospital until the month of May.

Accidents occur and diseases arise which can only be treated satisfactorily in a hospital, and at present such cases must either die or be taken by dogs to the railway and from there to St. John's, unless they happen to be of a nature that can survive a period of suffering until navigation opens and they can go by vessel to St. John's. Hardly a house in all this district is suitable for the performance of even a minor operation, and acute cases requiring the daily attendance of the doctor and constant attendance of the nurse must manage with one, or perhaps two visits from the former, and the well meant jundering of kindly neighbours instead of the latter.

At a small cost a suitable building could be obtained at Bonne Bay, and fitted to receive 8 or 10 patients, where operations might be performed and a nurse provided to attend such acute cases as pneumonia, etc. In winter Bonne Bay is the centre of a population who need a hospital, or whom no other provision has been made, and who generally speaking, could get to Bonne Bay comparatively easily.

Did not Messrs. Reid, of St. John's, some time ago make an offer of assistance of the Government for the purpose of establishing hospitals in the outports?

If any of this assistance is now available, it is most pressingly needed on the West Coast, and that before another winter has claimed its toll from an ice-bound people who might be spared this loss if suitable premises were secured for the treatment of those cases.

Very truly yours,
S. B. FRASER, M.D., C.M.
Bonne Bay, March 20th, 1914.

Star of the Sea Lecture.

Rev. Fr. Sears lectured to the members of the Star of the Sea and their lady friends last night. The subject was "Ireland," and after being introduced by Mr. J. J. Lacey, the reverend lecturer entertained his audience for over an hour telling of the successes and reverses of the Irish people. The lecture was an eloquent and masterly one and held the closest attention of the large audience present. At the close a vote of thanks proposed by Mr. Trelogan and seconded by Mr. Condon, was unanimously accorded the lecturer. During the evening President E. M. Jackson spoke of the Society's work, after which Mr. Lacey announced that Rev. Dr. Greene will lecture in aid of St. Vincent de Paul Society at an early date, and expressed the hope that all present would strive to make the affair a success.

The inhabitants of Iceland, those people who live the year round within the glare of the Northern Lights, were treated to an unusual sight, recently, when the first motor car was imported to the country. The vehicle was a special Overland, a landaulet body mounted on the regular Model 73 chassis. The body, which was built in London, was a special order from the new Overland agency recently established at Reykjavik, Iceland, and was the first self-propelled vehicle ever to be landed in the "frozen country."

In spite of the fact that there are no actual roads in Iceland, the Overland is giving excellent service, being driven in every direction along the bridge paths, which are all the highways the country boasts. Before the advent of the Overland, all travelling in Iceland was done on foot or horse back, for the entire country back of the shore line is an exceedingly rough volcanic rock formation.—11

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, March 26. King George summoned Premier Asquith to Buckingham Palace this afternoon, and the conference lasted so long that the Premier was unable to reach the House of Commons when the Parliament session began when the members gathered, persistent reports were circulated in the lobbies that Field Marshal Sir John French, Chief of the General Staff of the Army, and Lieut. General Sir J. S. Ewart, Adjutant-General, had resigned rather than accept the mandate of Asquith that the Army must obey the Government's orders unconditionally. The War Office refused to deny or confirm the reports, but they were generally accepted as true, and formed the basis of interpellations directed at the Government by Unionist members.

After the members of the Cabinet at the session had awaited the arrival of the Premier for some time, Winston Churchill made the announcement that the Premier would make a statement later, regarding the reported resignations.

In response to sharp questions as to what the policy of the army really is, Colonel Seely replied: "The accepted policy is that troops shall not be employed to aid the civil power in districts with which they are territorially connected."

This statement was pronounced vague by the Unionists, who then turned their guns on Churchill. The latter replied sharply: "Naval officers and men are obliged to obey without question the orders of the lawfully constituted authorities." Churchill's truculent statement was cheered by the Liberals, who waved their hats and handkerchiefs, whilst the Unionists sat silent.

Replying to a question asked in the early part of the session, Lloyd George replied that the Premier would make an announcement as to reported resignations at the adjournment of the Commons to-night. This was taken generally to be a confirmation of the report that both Generals had tendered their resignations. One of the evening newspapers says definitely that Field Marshal French has resigned. A news agency adds that Adjutant General Ewart has handed in his papers.

Valentine Williams, telegraphing from Dublin to the London Daily Mail vouches for the accuracy of this story. In his audiences with the King, War Secretary Seely informed His Majesty that the unwillingness of the Army to obey orders, if those orders involved coercion in Ulster, was due to the influence of Lord Roberts. The King thereupon sent for Lord Roberts and told him what Seely said. Roberts warmly denied the accusation, and, according to one version, requested His Majesty to take the Field Marshal's baton, conferred on him by Queen Victoria. Then he went on to the War Office and told Seely what he thought of him. The affair came to the knowledge of the officers of the general staff, who, thereupon, marked their disgust by threatening to resign in a body, unless General Gough and his comrades were unconditionally reinstated.

Seizure of Cigarettes.

No Excise Duty Paid on Them.

Customs Detective Morrissey has made several seizures of cigarettes in shops in the city. These cigarettes are of home manufacture and were being retailed at a cheaper rate than the other kind for the reason that there was no excise duty paid on them, as provided for under the new tariff. The Customs Officer has several other parties under surveillance who are, it is alleged, making cigarettes by hand for the purpose of sale and will make further seizures in the course of a day or two, after which the matter will come before court on Monday. According to the Customs law for selling a manufactured article such as the one referred to, without paying an excise duty the defendants are liable to a fine of $500 or an alternative of six months in imprisonment.

Dr. Tait's Lecture.

SOCIALISM: ITS SIGNIFICANCE AND TENDENCY.

Under the auspices of the Wesley Bible Class and in the presence of a large audience Dr. Tait gave an interesting paper on Socialism last night. It was evident that the subject had a sympathetic exponent of its essential tenets and the lecture brought home more convincingly than ever the fact that we are all Socialists, more or less, as a prominent statesman said a short while ago. All political parties by whatever name you call them, Conservative or Liberal or Labour, have come under the influence of the spirit from which Socialism springs, and every Act passed for the amelioration of conditions under which people live is a tribute to the agitation for "more equal rights" by those who have sown, but unfortunately seldom have been able to reap.

Socialism began in the Garden of Eden and all through the ages has made its way, now advancing, then receding, now almost lost, then cropping up with renewed strength, but ever, like a tacking ship, getting nearer the port of its Hope, and the ultimate triumph of its altruistic purpose. It is not Communism, nor Anarchism, nor Syndicalism. It is not anti-religious because some of its members are atheists, no more than any Church to be condemned because some of its members are not all that they should be.

Socialism briefly means the public ownership and control of the economic circumstances of life. It means an extension of government control of public utilities. As the Government here run the Post Office and the telegraph system, so will they own the railways, street cars, as well as factories of all kinds manufacturing the necessities of life and the profit that now goes to a comparatively few named persons will be used to cheaper the article to the consumer and also give the workman a wage more in proportion to the value of his work as represented by the selling price of the article.

Germany with its nearly five million Socialist voters was spoken of and figures were quoted to show what a large amount of money was handed back to the people as profit made on sundry Government owned utilities. And in Germany the State is charged to see that no man is idle or in want of work. If a man is sick, a doctor is sent him; if he hasn't work, he is given it; if he won't work, he is made to work.

The progress of the movement in England was touched on and reference made to the Church Socialist Society started some years ago, the Fabian Society of brilliant young writers, and the present leaders such as Ramsay MacDonald, Kier Hardie and Philip Snowden.

The lecture was clothed in splendid language, and the copious phrases from Shakespeare bespoke the learned doctor's near acquaintance with the Bard of Avon.

The case for Socialism received a presentation that did it justice, and it was shown that it bears a most important part in the evolution of the race from the chaos of the "muddle" that Stephen Blackpool felt, to the time when material opportunities will help mankind to live a larger life of happiness and content and when the misery and ignorance in which so many in the world exist to-day will be changed to gladness and knowledge.

The vote of thanks was spoken to suitably by Mr. B. Taylor and Mr. J. T. Meaney, and supported by the chairman, Rev. P. R. Matthews, who also spoke interestingly on the subject of the iniquitous land exploitation which is at the bottom of many evils.

The proceedings closed with the National Anthem.

Dear Sirs— I am sending you 60 cents in stamps. Please send me one 30 cent bottle of Prescription "A", the 10 cents balance will pay for postage. You sent me a trial bottle a short while ago and it almost cured my wife and I think another 30 cent bottle will make a cure. I have tried doctors and all kinds of medicines but I don't believe that there is any medicine that can cure a bad stomach like Stafford's Prescription "A". I am more than thankful that you advertised this medicine. Please forward as quick as possible. P. S.

Meeting of Citizens' Committee.

A meeting of the Citizens' Committee was held in the Board of Trade Rooms last night. Hon. J. Harris presided and those present were: Messrs. F. W. Bradshaw, Geo. F. Power, Geo. Shea, Hon. J. Harvey, Inspector O'Brien, Jas. P. Blackwood, F. W. Angel, F. Wadden, Dr. Macpherson, J. Devine, J. Barter, Dr. Brehm, E. M. Jackman and S. G. Collier. City Engineer Ryan was also present and was interviewed on the question of water supply; present conditions and the proposed improvements were lengthily discussed. Mr. Ryan presented some valuable information on the matter and will report further at the meeting to take place on next Thursday night.

The last debate for the season was held at the M. C. L. I. Rooms last night and was largely attended. The question for debate was: "Whether has the State or the Church Contributed the More to the Happiness of the People of Newfoundland?" The supporters of the State were Messrs. J. W. Nichols, W. Drover and E. Taylor, whilst the Church was supported by Messrs. J. C. Puddister, W. Clarke and E. Edgecombe. The discussion was an interesting one, and at the close the vote resulted in a large majority for the Church.

The annual meeting will take place on Thursday next. The Institute has had a very successful year, the debates being very interesting and the attendance regular.

W.C.T.U.

The W. C. T. U. held its fortnightly meeting at the Seamen's Institute yesterday evening, 1st V. P., Mrs. Miller, in the chair. Mrs. Jos. Pippy conducted a devotional half hour at the opening. It was announced that Mr. W. H. Jones would give a lecture on "Picturesque Devonshire."

Reports showed that the monthly service conducted at the Penitentiary was productive of much good and that four of the inmates had signed the pledge.

THE GREATER QUESTION.

At this season of the year for Farmers with up-to-date ideas is, what are the best means to use to get the best returns from the land.

Fertilizers must be used liberally if large returns are looked for. There are several good chemical fertilizers which may be recommended, but Sulphate of Ammonia has been proved to give the best returns, and is the most valuable and economical source of Nitrogen for agricultural purposes.

For vegetables, grass, and all leafy crops, about one and a half cwt. per acre is the best quantity to use, and this should be applied when the plant is making its growth, as well as before sowing the seed.

If a liquid manure is preferred, a 1/2 oz. of Sulphate to one gallon of water should be used, and applied once a week for a month. This quantity should not be exceeded.

It is a good plan to reduce the Sulphate to a fine powder, and mix with four or more times its own bulk, for the purpose of diluting the manure, which is very powerful.

For potatoes the following mixture is strongly recommended:—
 40 lbs. Superphosphate.
 25 lbs. Fine bone meal.
 10 lbs. Carbonate of Magnesia.
 15 lbs. Sulphate of Potash.
 21 lbs. SULPHATE OF AMMONIA.

1 cwt. Apply at the rate of 10 to 11 lbs. to 43 square yards.

The use of Carbonate of Magnesia in conjunction with Sulphate of Ammonia, is of great importance in potato culture.

For turnips use the following:—
 65 lbs. Superphosphate.
 13 lbs. Fine bone meal.
 13 lbs. Sulphate of Potash.
 20 lbs. Sulphate of Ammonia.

1 cwt. Apply at the rate of 10 to 11 lbs. to square yards.

Sulphate of Ammonia of excellent quality is now made by the St. John's Gas Light Company, and may be obtained on very reasonable terms.

Full particulars may be obtained at the Gas Works, or at the Board of Trade Building. Ask for special booklet on the use of Sulphate, it will be found of great value in securing the heaviest crops.

Marine Notes.

The S. S. Rappahannock was supposed to sail from London for this port yesterday.

The bark, Dunure, 22 days from Pernambuco, has reached Barbados and will load molasses for this port. The schoer, Novelty, molasses laden, left Barbados yesterday for this port. The schr. Helen Stewart left Macao yesterday for Barbados.

The schr. Gay Gordon sails from Belleoram to-day for Oporto with a cargo of fish.
 The Midred and Gaspe are now at Barbados loading molasses.

How a cut led to 4 years of suffering

Mr. J. E. Arsenaull, a Justice of the Peace and station master at Wellington, on the P.E.I. Ry., says: "Four years ago I fell on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead it developed into a bad ulcer, and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged."

How Zam-Buk cured.

"This was my condition when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better. I can see that at last I had got hold of something which would cure me, and in the end it did."

"It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema."

Purely herbal in composition, Zam-Buk is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, ring worm, inflamed patches, cuts, burns and bruises. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for 50c.

Address all applications for samples and retail orders to T. McMURDO & CO., St. John's, Nfld.

Wedding Bells.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Trinity Methodist Church yesterday, March the 18th, at 3.30 p.m., the Rev. Dr. Hincks officiating, while the organ was presided over by Miss Twohey. The contracting parties were Miss Janie Hill, daughter of Rev. Jabez Hill, of this city, and Mr. William Ashbourne, of Newfoundland. The bride was attired in a travelling suit of Copenhagen blue, with hat to match. After the ceremony a dainty epast was partaken of at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Screevious.

The happy couple left for New York from whence they will proceed to North Carolina, and other points in the States, continuing their honeymoon until the latter part of June, when they will return to their future residence in Newfoundland. The bride was the recipient of many handsome gifts, chief of which was the gift from the groom, consisting of a lovely set of mink furs and a beautiful Persian lamb coat.—Toronto Daily Star, March 20th.

4 Baby's Face.

How nice baby's skin is now; not a red mark or abrasion anywhere to be seen.

"Yes, I was noticing. His face used to be so spotty that I often wondered if it were possible to do anything for him. How did you manage to cure the trouble?"

"Simply enough after all. A few applications of that wonderful new infant Zylex, and the steady use since of Zylex Soap was all that was needed, that made the little chap light."

Zylex (50c.) and Zylex Soap (25c.) can be had from your druggist. mar16.

Billiard Tourneys.

At the B. I. S. Rooms last night Mr. P. Tobin (Spot) defeated Mr. W. J. Higgins (Plain) by 24 points. Spot side is 74 in the lead so far.

A match at the T. A. Rooms between W. Kelly (Spot) and E. Garl (Plain) resulted in a win for the former by 62. Spot side are over 100 a head, with only six more games to be played.

In the Star tournament M. Whelan (Spot) won over J. Jackman (Plain) by 31. Plains are now 64 ahead of their opponents.

Coal Carters Will Ask For Increase.

It is rumored, and some of the coal dealers in the city have heard it said that the coal carters will increase their prices shortly for the delivery of coal from ships and stores. The present rate paid is 60 cents per ton.

Passing of Christian Brother.

A cablegram from Rev. Bro. Conway, of Ireland, was received yesterday by Rev. W. C. Ryan, Superior of the Mount St. Francis Order of Christian Brothers here, informing the latter that his brother, who was also a Christian Brother, had passed away the previous day, death being almost sudden. Sincere sympathy is extended to Rev. Bro. Ryan in his bereavement by his numerous friends in the city.

Allan Line Service Opens.

The Allan Line service will be resumed on Wednesday next, April 1st, when the first steamer will leave Glasgow for Liverpool and sailing from the latter port for St. John's on April 4th. It is not definitely decided what steamer will make the first trip but it is likely it will be the Mongolian.

A CRYSTAL LIGHT.
 Doesn't that suggest a clear, bright light? That is why the name CRYSTALITE was chosen.
 TEXACO CRYSTALITE is a crystal light, giving forth mellow, penetrating rays. It gives no smoke nor smell, and is good to the last drop.
 TEXACO CRYSTALITE will not fluctuate, it gives a steady glow.
 The next time you buy illuminating oil don't merely ask for "a gallon of kerosene". Ask for TEXACO CRYSTALITE and find out why this illuminating oil is known as "the light of the home".
 TEXACO CRYSTALITE costs no more than ordinary kinds and most good stores have it.
 Remember the name. It will be worth your while to discriminate.
