The Late Thomas Saunders.

It is with feelings of pain that we have chronicle the death of our esteeme fellow-townsman, whose well-known nam heads this column. The injuries he received on Monday morning last, whilst driving to his office in town, were of so violent a character that they have proved fatal, and this morning at six o'clock his naturally robust and vigorous frame succumbed. His skull was severely fractured and his head dreadfully muti lated; and the wonder was that he was not instantly killed. But, sudden as was the mandate calling him "from life to death," yet he was sensible for days afterwards, and had his last hours smoothened by all that fond affection and anxious care could devise. His physicians -Drs. Herod and Worsfold-could not from the first conceal the fact that his 1837 he served on behalf of the Prince Frederick Charles and other tering criminal justice, Mr. Saunders onerous duty of Crown prosecutor. Other public positions of trust in the county were held by him with unswerving in tegrity and acknowledged ability.

His whole life was characterized by manly straight-forwardness. He could never brook anything savouring of mean ness or hypecrisy, and denounced it in no ambiguous language. Hence he was deservedly held in high esteem.

On his first coming to this part of Canada, which was in the month of June, 1833, he, like other early pioneers, chose a settler's life in the woods; and, from the North Wellington Agricultural Society ther's une in the woods; and, from the and others, held at Mr. Clark's Hotel, Arthur, on Wednesday, October 1st, it was resolved that a ploughing match lake place for Thursday the 23rd inst, and that the president John Prain, Esq., and Messrs. ### The Reason Why.

The reason why the magnificent Retail Grocery Establishments in the Alma Block and on Lower Wyndham Street, belonging to John A. Wood, are so very popular with the intelligent public:— Because the Goods are all of the best quality.

Because the Prices are invariably the lowest.
Because the Clerks are corteous and obliging.

Because the Clerks are corteous and obliging.

Because the Stock is the largest to select from.

Because the goods are always clean.

Because the Weights and Measures are always correct.

Because, in fact, the proprietor understands his business, desires to please his customers, makes good use of his capital, and buys for cash in the best markets, and always deals liberally with those who honor his stores with their custom.—

These and many other weighty reasons have contributed very largely to make the name of John A. Wood, as connected with the Grocery trade of Gnelph, so well known, and his stores so very popular.

Groups of Counties have been designated by Order in Council as flour inspection districts under the provisions of the Act 36 Vict. cap. 49. The 7th of these districts is composed of the counties of Wellington and Waterloo. At the Examiners' meeting held in Montreal this last week, the following standard of flour were selected and approved viz.:—Suppeior extra, extra spring, extra superfine fine middlings, pollards, and strong bakers'. It was decided to purchase five barrels of each brand, and to recommend to the Government that half a barrel of each be forwarded for the use of the examiners and inspectors of each Board of Trade mentioned in the Act.

Why Boys Hate Farming.—A gentleman who understands what he is talking about, tells, in the Vermoni Farmer, why farming is not very pleasant to boys. He says among other things: "Boys generally have poorer tools to work with—we do not take pains enough to furnish them with those that are suited to their age and strength. They have to use a worn out soythe, a clumsy fork, a hoe that has been thrown by as unfit for use, and then are often cenrured because they have not done more work. And then with chores in the houre, as well as out of doors, they usually work more hours than the men, while they should not work as many. They are often sent to do disagreeable jobs alone, picking up stones, clearing the fields of brush and picking up stones, or pulling weeds among the potatoes. All this is necessary to be done, but we should work with them. Boys like company, and if we send them to do this work when we go to the willage, it will create in them a dislike for the work. We give them too few play days. Their very natures demand an occasional release from work and a day for enjoyment in their own way, even though it be harder for them than work. There must be relaxation for them oftener than we give it."

The Rival Clansmen:

A Scottish Vendetta. CHAPTER III.

CHAPTER III.

THE M'KENZIES BAFFLED—AN UNFORTUNATE
GIBL—LOCH MAREE—DANGER AGAIN
THREATENS THE LOVERS.

But above the wild cries of the clansmen as they bounded forward to attack
Hector and Flora and Gordon another sound was to be heard, which caused every cheek to blanch.

It was a rushing sound on the mountain side far above them; but every instant it grew londer, and apparently neared the spot on which the two parties stood.

It was a rushing sound on the mountain side far above them; but every instant it grew louder, and apparently neared the spot on which the two parties stood.

"Back! for heaven's sake," shouted Ian, turning and rushing backwards. "A rock has been loosened by the storm, and is rolling down towards us; if it come upon us it will crush us to dust,"

Panic-stricken, the others also turned and dashed along the narrow rugged path. Their alarm was intense, for they were not fully alive to the nature of the threatening danger. Unseen dangers are always worst to meet, and this moving avalanche of rock could not be seen as it dashed down the side of the mountain; it could only be heard resistlessly approaching them, and they knew not in what direction to escape.

Both of the dread sounds had fallen upon the ears of the party in front—the wild and savage cry warning them that their pursuers were upon them, and the hoarse roar of the swiftly-moving mass of rock—and the fearful nature of both might well have struck terror into their hearts, although all of them were more or less inured to danger.

Startled for a moment they certainly were, but not for an instant were their energies in the least degree paralysed.

"Oh! we are lost," ejaculated Flora, when she heard the first indications of the dangers by which they were beset.

"Not if we are quick," replied Gordon, firmly and decidedly. "But there is not an instant to lose. I am able—let me carry you; and you, sir, bring up the rear. A race for it; we are safe if we can run a hundred yards further before they can reach us." And on he rushed, bearing the young lady in his arms—Hector, who was much exhausted, following behind as fast as he was able.

The roaring, rushing sound grew louder still, as the huge boulder rolled and bounded down, carrying with it a shower of rock and debris—each crash and shock reverberating like thunder, and raising, innumerable echoes among the hills around.

Suddenly a wild and piercing shrick arose in the air—a shriek from some one in mortal terr boulder had at that moment reached the bottom of the glen, falling into the swollen burn.

But his mind was soon disabused of that belief, for the wild shriek was instantly succeeded by shouts of rage and menacing, as Ian and his followers again commenced the pursuit. Without uttering a word, Gordon ran steadily on, while Hector, panting, breathless, and fatigued, tept close at his heels.

Their pursuers were gaining on them at every step, and our hero was just on the point of calling on Gordon to halt, and meet them with him, when suddenly the latter said—

"Now, keep to the left, move cautiously, and we are safe."

As he spoke, Gordon turned and walked toward the burn. Hector followed, and after he had proceeded a step or two in that direction found himself crossing a narrow bridge by which the burn was spanned.

The pursuers were very close now; but Hector saw that a man single-handed could easily dispute the passage, and hope began to review within him.

Eiora Mechanics' Institute.

The annual meeting was held last week, Dr. Pentland, the President, in the char. The by-laws were amended to ad, mit persons under 18 years of age as junior members in certain circumstances.

The election of officers for the incoming year resulted as follows:—President —D. Boyle; Vice-Presidents—First, John McDonald; second, Rev. C.E. Thomson; Secretary and Librarian—R. Mitchell; Treasurer—J. Godfrey; Committee—E. H. Newman, H. Clarke, J. H. Kenning, W. R. Pentland, M. Douglas, J. Smith, W. Snyder, J. Chambers, W. Crackle, M. O. Maegregor; Auditors—W. T. Smith, T. Connon.

at $1 each if members of the Institute, or $1.50 if for the reading room only."

The library now comprises 1,409 volumes. 879 of these have been added by purchase and donation during the year. There have been over 2,000 volumes taken out of the library during the year. The lectures last winter were not appreciated, neither were they successful in organizing classes. Owing to a desire to obtain from Government as large a grant as possible, the Institute spent more for books than their resources allowed, and are behind in making up the Librarian's salary.

There are now on the roll 134 names, of these 4 have never taken out any books and 4 or 5 mcre have only taken out very few, which will make the number of regular readers 125, giving an average for the year of 19 volumes to each of those 125. The kind of books most called for is light reading, but the desire seems to be growing for works of a more substantial character.

The Treasurer's book showed the total receipts of the year to be $555.65, in addition to $10.08 on hand from the previous year; and the payments $544.01, leaving a balance on hand of $21.72. But there are liabilities amounting to $46.70, making a deficit of $24.98.

HEFFERNAN BROTHERS

Beg to announce that their stock of goods for the Fall and Winter Trade is now complete in every Department. Our importations which are unusually heavy this season, have been carefully selected by Mr. Thomas Heffernaa, who has just returned from Europe, where he has purchased extensively from the leading manufacturers of Great Britain and Ireland, France and Germany. DEESS GOODS — We direct particular attention to our display of Dress Goods, which for quantity, quality, and price surpasses anything ever before seen in Guelph. Over one thousand SHAWLS—We are prepared to show over one thousand Shawls of every variety, pattern and color. English Cloths, Scotch and Canadian Tweeds, Gente Furnishings. We show more goods in this department than any three houses in Guelph, and we sell a better Tweed at 75c. per yard than can be had at any other establishment at one dollar. In Ready-Made Clothing, Carpets, Blankets and General House Furnishings, our stock is simply immense, completely overshadowing the pretensions of other houses. MILLINERY & MANTLES—Our Show Rooms will be open during the week of the Exhibition.

Everything that is novel and fashionable can be seen. Pattern Bonnets, Hats and Jackets direct from Paris, London and New York.

Noted for Cheap Dry Goods.
