Ottawa Now Talking Election

Every Indication That Appeal to the Country Will Soon Be Made.

News of the Federal Capital Told by Special Correspondent.

Ottawa, July 31, 1903.—Everybody is talking election in the capital and wisest men are making a bet on it. There is every indication at present that the appeal will be made in the near future to approve or reject the Liberal policy, and as some of the greatest questions in the history of Canada are to be determined it behooves all good citizens to take an active interest in the coming campaign.

Mr. Laurier's term of office has been marked by broad bridges and a weakness in the management of the government. He has been discredited in Canada in many instances. He now proposes to place on the agenda the people a burden of $75,000,000 in order that a railroad may be constructed from the Atlantic to the Pacific to Great Britain, Canada, and the United States.

The deal, if it results as the Liberals hope it will, is expected to be a great success. It is expected that the government machine in possession of the campaign fund will be used to buy a verdict in favor of the Liberal party.

How is this to be done? There are only two great parties in Canada which are capable of wielding any great political influence. If the government is determined to secure power at any price the Conservative party is the only party to be attacked by success. There is no doubt that at the present moment the Liberal party stands in a position of weakness throughout Canada.
