Bargain Basement Idea Very Successful in Both Canada and the U. S.

A review of the mercantile situation continues to show slow but steady improvement. Retail sales, which are a very good index of the business situation in the big trade centres, are showing a healthy growth. Steady trade improvement is what is needed to bring prosperity. In the retail business the bargain basement method of merchandising has shown a very remarkable growth, both in Canada and the United States. Quality goods at low prices is the idea upon which bargain basements are operated. 8-4

ENGLISH SCHOOL BOYS CAMP WITH FACTORY LADS

Duke of York Continues His Experiment of Comradship of Classes.

London, Aug. 3.—While the king and queen are at the Cowes regatta and the Prince of Wales is enjoying a few days at polo in strict privacy in the country, the Duke of York is repeating a striking experiment which he initiated last year.

At the invitation of His Royal Highness, several hundred boys from some of the famous English public schools are encamped at Romney with a like number of lads drawn from the factory towns all over the country.

The underlying idea is that a week's comradeship under canvas between lads of widely differing social station may go a long way towards promoting or rather improving the sense of common fellowship among the rising generation.

The duke is not actually staying in the camp, but he welcomed the campers on their arrivals and promised to make them further visits.

MANITOBA'S NEW PREMIER. Seldom has a new provincial premier received more general praise as a public man of promise than is bestowed upon Mr. John Bracken, the choice of the farmers' party in Manitoba. A Winnipeg correspondent of the Montreal Gazette (Conservative) says: "Mr. Bracken has set before himself the purpose (1) to give the province a stable, clean and capable government, always in close touch with the people; (2) to eliminate waste and reduce public expenditure to the minimum consistent with efficient service; (3) to strengthen the faith of the people of the province in their representatives and institutions by administration as good as can be provided. This is the firm purpose of a sincere and modest young man who is free from prejudices, and who is determined to keep an open mind on all public questions until he is convinced of what is the right and best course to be followed."

A HINT FROM PARIS. Touching the matter of clean streets in cities, the Bangor Commercial tells the following story: "A party of Americans were strolling along a Paris boulevard the other day, eating a popular confection which comes wrapped in paper. One, having finished the delicacy, threw the bit of paper away. A moment later he was tapped on the shoulder and turned to confront a smiling gendarme. The officer pointed to the paper lying on the sidewalk and suggested by signs that it be picked up. This the shamefaced American did. The officer then politely escorted the American to a nearby receptacle for rubbish where the wrapper was deposited, whereupon the minion of the law bowed low and departed. The Paris authorities have regard even for a mere scrap of paper when it is in the wrong place."

WHEN LIGHTNING INTERFERES. The terrific lightning discharges of the summer thunderstorms cause serious interference with the reception of radio signals, and although much time and money has been expended in the reduction of static interference, it is only the most powerful transmitting stations that are able to force signals through this obstacle. The horsepower of a lightning flash has been estimated by noted scientists to be approximately 500,000,000 and as the bolts of lightning occur in the short fraction of a second it is easily understood how havoc results from the concentration of such an enormous amount of power in such a minute interval of time. The voltage of the thundercloud has been calculated to be about 50,000,000 volts which is fifty times greater than the highest voltage produced experimentally. It is reported that Professor Harris J. Ryan at Stanford University, in his study of lightning flashes, has reached the conclusion that a lightning bolt is the discharge of a second it is easily understood how havoc results from the concentration of such an enormous amount of power in such a minute interval of time.

MRS. ASQUITH WAS WITNESS

Inquiry Into Death of Countess Whose Body was Found in Bath.

London, Aug. 2.—A verdict of death from natural causes was returned by a coroner's jury of the Dowager Countess of Essex, daughter of the late Beach Grant, of New York. Mrs. Asquith, with whom Lady Essex drove home after a dinner party at the house of the Hon. Mrs. Rupert Beckett an hour or two before her death, was the principal witness.

"I thought she was looking extremely well," she testified. "In fact, I had not seen her for a time and I did not think she had ever looked better. Lady Essex and I were playing bridge with Mr. Beckett until late in the evening. We left at about ten minutes past twelve, and I drove her home in the car. We discussed plans and she was very cheerful."

In answer to the coroner, Mrs. Asquith said that the countess was free from worries, and "Mr. Asquith said to me the next morning he had never seen the countess looking so well." Mrs. Asquith said that they arranged to meet on the following day at lunch. The countess was going to Paris and Venice and then she was coming to her (Mrs. Asquith) in October.

"As I left her on her doorstep she turned round and waved her hand to me, and said she would not be late next day, and that is the last I saw of her."

The coroner—"I suppose you were playing for ordinary points?"

Mrs. Asquith—"At bridge, you mean?"

The coroner—"You never heard her say anything about suicide?"

Mrs. Asquith—"No, never. She was the last woman in the world to talk of suicide."

Lady Essex's French maid, named Mignonne, broke down as she told the coroner how on Friday morning when she went to call the countess she found her in her bath, her body dimly visible under the water. She could give no details concerning the height of the water or as to whether the electric lights were on. As she took her seat next to Mrs. Asquith on completing her evidence, she collapsed and Mrs. Asquith led her sobbing from the court room.

Dr. Lawrence, Lady Essex's doctor, described a nerve affection and heart weakness for which he had been treating her. He had prescribed for sleeplessness, but saw her on Monday, July 24, and found she was doing well and no longer needed the drugs he had ordered. The doctor was called on Friday morning and found Lady Essex on her right side in the bath. The elbows were bent and her head was toward the bottom of the bath. The bath was empty of water, but had evidently been completely filled.

CUTS WRISTS AND TRIES TO LEAP TO DEATH

Man, 65, Rescued from Ledge on Palisades After Fall of Seventy Feet — Wealthy Son in Chicago.

New York, Aug. 2.—Weak from loss of blood from self-inflicted razor wounds in the wrists and bruised by a seventy-foot fall over the Palisades near Englewood, George S. Mirofawski, sixty-five, lay on a cot in the Englewood Hospital and insisted that he wanted to die. He said that his son, a wealthy Chicago business man, had refused to help him, and that he was slowly but surely going blind.

Mirofawski was found on Sunday night on a ledge of the cliffs along the western bank of the Hudson River by Chief of Police William Markham of Englewood, who heard the man's groans. He had to use a rope to get him to the level ground. According to the police, Mirofawski had slashed his wrists and then had leaped from the cliff. The fact that he landed in soft dirt on a ledge half way down is the only thing that saved his life.

When taken to the hospital, Mirofawski insisted that his name was Burd and refused to name his relatives or give any reason for his attempted suicide.

Later, he said he had come to New York from Illinois about a year ago. In 1881, he said, he was a state senator from a Chicago district and that his father was of noble Polish birth. He said that for a while he had lived with his son, Witold Sigmund Mirofawski of 2916-1/2 Wabasha avenue, Chicago, treasurer of the Providers' Life Insurance Company, and owner of the National Sweater Mills on Irving Boulevard, Chicago. He had explained that they had quarrelled and that he had come to New York.

Without funds, he tried to get work, but he was hampered by his age and by the fact that he discovered he was losing his sight. Then he tried to sell newspapers and took up his stand daily in the vicinity of the Manhattan end of Brooklyn Bridge, but he was not successful. He said that on Sunday he determined to commit suicide. Crossing the river on Dykeman street ferry, he went to a spot about a mile and a half north of the ferry landing, he said, and slashed his wrists and jumped.

The hospital authorities telegraphed to W. S. Mirofawski in Chicago of his father's plight. The patient, it is said, is resting comfortably and will recover.

Likely-Trudeau.

The marriage of Miss Violet May Trudeau, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Trudeau, Montreal, to Charles T. Likely, of Montreal, son of the late Mr. Thomas Likely and Mrs. Likely, St. John, took place on Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents, Dorchester street, west, the Rev. Dr. Warner officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Likely left for Bay View (Me.), where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will reside on Mackay street, Montreal.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Catherine I. Gunter.

On July 21 there entered into rest one of the oldest residents of White's Cove, Queens county, in the death of Catherine I., widow of Andrew M. Gunter, in her ninety-first year. Her son, Councilor A. L. Gunter, his wife and their three children survive. She was the last of a family of nine children, one of her brothers having been the late John Paris, who for several years represented the county of Queens first in the legislature at Fredericton, and later in the house of commons at Ottawa.

Hon. L. P. Parris, who now resides with his son, Dr. Hugh Parris, at East St. John, is a nephew. She was a woman of sterling worth. She gave largely to home life, cherishing the loved ones with the true heart of a devoted wife and affectionate mother. She endeavored herself to all and was called by relatives, neighbors and acquaintances Aunt Catherine Gunter. For many years she was a member of Mill Cove Baptist church. With her religion was a reality and the Word of God precious. To the last she was blessed with clearness of faculties, and until a few months before her death with physical activity. The funeral services on July 28 were held by Rev. D. Patterson at her late residence and Baptist church at Jerneg. They were largely attended. Interment was at Jerneg beside her husband.

PRINCELY GIFT OF A MAN OF GENIUS

Magnificent War Memorial Presented to Chester by J. Massey Rhind.

(Cor. Halifax Chronicle.)
Lunenburg, N. S. July 31.—In the month of March, 1919, a public meeting was held in the Masonic Hall in Chester to consider the question of a suitable memorial to perpetuate the memory of the noble sacrifices and heroic deeds of our sons who had fallen in the Great War.

Of the two hundred and fifty bids that had suffered the horrors of war there were fifty-four who would never return. To erect to their memory a fitting memorial became now a sacred duty.
Dr. A. M. Hebb read a communication from J. Massey Rhind, whose work is famous on both sides of the Atlantic, and who is a regular summer resident in Chester, offering the town the magnificent gift of the design and cast for a suitable memorial providing that the town furnish the balance of the cost—the erection of the base and incidental expense. The committee on behalf of the town immediately accepted the offer with the deepest gratitude, and, as a result, Chester has today a work of art certainly unsurpassed in dignity and beauty by anything in Canada.

The base is a block of rough granite about four feet square and eight feet high, surmounting three steps of rough split granite, and having small rough boulders supporting the foot of the pedestal. On the western panel of the base is a beautiful tablet bearing the names of our men who gave their lives in defence of the Mother Country. This tablet is surmounted by a design in which appears the official seal of Nova Scotia with the Mayflower and Thistle entwined.
A Nova Scotia Highlander.
The base is surmounted by a heroic figure, representing a Nova Scotia Highlander standing at ease. Though intensely realistic there is nothing dramatic in his pose. He stands there, stern, watchful, full of reserved energy, ready, if need be, to offer himself a sacrifice in defence of all he holds dear. Just such a pose

A Comfortable Baby Never Cries

Most of Baby's discomforts are due to skin troubles. Baby's skin is as sensitive as a rose petal. So think what suffering is caused by the friction of damp diapers which rub the skin all raw, by prickly heat and all of the other rashes that keep Baby unhappy.
Please try Kora-Konia on Baby. It is impossible to tell in print how wonderfully this amazing powder heals and protects Baby's tender skin. Just try it. In just a little while the rashes go—raw spots heal. And the waterproof, velvety film of powder clings for hours, protecting the skin from friction. Don't let Baby suffer another hour—buy Kora-Konia at your druggist's.

might have been seen daily on those blood-stained fields of Flanders. Surely a country whose sons were ready like this to lay down their lives in its defence must win a new vision because of their sacrifice?
The whole conception of the work has a rugged and peculiarly Nova Scotian personality. In the figure Mr. Rhind has given us a strong man, a soldier, whose character partakes of the qualities of the granite rocks which bind his native land. In addition to all this there is a perfection of detail that achieves a wonderful effect. The work has evidently been a labor of love to Mr. Rhind, and the figure of the Highlander has called out the best of this brilliant Scottish sculptor had to give.

For Mr. Rhind has the blood of the Celt in his veins and a long inheritance of talent in his own family. His grandfather and his father were sculptors, and all his brothers except one, who is a successful London architect.
After making for himself a brilliant record in London and Paris, Mr. Rhind married and came to America on his wedding journey. The Americans generally insist upon doing the best, and at no time since has Mr. Rhind found time to take up his life in the Old Country again. His career on this side of the Atlantic has been a series of brilliant triumphs, and his work is the finest in America.
Three artists who were privileged to view the figure of the Highlander before it was shipped to Chester agreed that it was bigger and stronger than anything Mr. Rhind had previously done. A celebrated French sculptor, asked to describe the thought it suggested to him, said immediately, "Il no passer pas l'océan!"

Mr. Rhind's Recent Work.
Recent notable examples of Mr. Rhind's art include a magnificent bas-relief in bronze, fifteen feet square, in memory of the three hundred men of the 23rd Regiment, Brooklyn, to be placed in the 23rd Armoury there, representing a mass of men going "over the top"; the figures being life size; also a memorial to the late Ambassador Joseph H. Choate, who died more than any other man to promote good feeling between England and America—this memorial to be placed in the Inner Temple, London; and a memorial of Henry Ward Beecher for the Hall of Fame at the University of New York.
The unveiling, therefore, of the soldiers' memorial on August 4th will be a red-letter day for Chester.

KITCHENER DRUG STORES CLOSE TIGHT ON SUNDAY
All of the drug stores in Kitchener and Waterloo, Ont., remained closed on last Sunday as the result of two druggists having been fined for selling confections, etc. on the previous Sunday. The druggists say that there are spotters out in their city to spot Sunday sales, hence the action in closing up tight for the entire day.

MISUNDERSTANDING OVER IN LANCASTER

A recapitulation of the assessment books affecting school districts No. 2, 3, 13 and 14 in the parish of Lancaster has been found necessary and the assessors are wondering who will pay them for this extra work as it has resulted through no fault of their own. Their books were closed on May 10 last. Now, along comes an order, effective on July 1 last. This order was issued during the early part of the year by the department of the province in regard to school assessment for the districts of Randolph and vicinity. It was ordered to take some of the ratemakers from the larger districts, No. 2 and No. 3, and place them on the books for No. 13 and 14. This order, however, was not made known to the assessors until recently. To carry out this order properly, all the books must be revised. Who is to pay? The following is a partial list of those ratemakers affected by the order:
Transferred from District No. 2 to school district No. 13: W. Byers, total assessment, $800; Rev. Charles Collins, $800; John Gray, Roland Green and J. Goldie, about $1,000; Charles Humphrey, $1,100; Harvey Hansen, $1,100; Harold Humphrey, $200; John Lee, $1,800; Thomas Lee, $800; George McQuinn, $900; Charles McPherson, $700; Arthur Quinn, $500.
Transferred from district No. 3 to district No. 2: Mrs. W. P. Bernhill, $2,000; C. Beveridge, $2,500; Dr. L. Comeau, $1,200; F. Flewelling, $1,500; W. E. Gunter, $4,500; James O'Brien, $700; T. J. O'Rourke, $800; Charles Tippet, $1,800; R. M. Thorne, $100; Jane Wood, Robert Wood, Benjamin Wood and William Wood, about $2,500.
Transferred from district 14 to district No. 13: Mrs. L. Byers, $800; five others, about $1,500; R. Drew, $1,200; George Estey, $1,000; Roy Lougards, $800; Samuel Linton, $1,000; Fred Polley, $800.
Transferred from district No. 2 to district No. 3: George D. Corkey, $1,800; W. McCavour, $2,400; W. S. McPherson, $800; H. Pike, $1,200; Guy Phinney, $3,400.
The city valuation has been divided as follows: No. 2, $30,000; No. 3, $44,000; No. 14, $6,000; and No. 13, $2,000.

MANITOBA'S NEW PREMIER

PROF. JOHN BRACKEN.
The latest photograph of the new prime minister of Manitoba.

John Bracken, who has been selected by the United Farmers of Manitoba to be their leader and the coming premier of the province, is receiving commendation to a degree that few men new in political life have merited. The Calgary Herald, whose political inclinations are Conservative, says he was one of the best students the Ontario Agricultural College ever had. In his studies he was an all-around man, as good a judge of stock as he was expert in field husbandry. At the same time he developed into the champion athlete of the college. He was a busy man with his class-work and with the other demands upon his time when he was a professor at the University of Saskatchewan. But he found time to write two books, the best books on western Canadian agricultural methods, soils and crops that have been produced. They are now text books in the universities. Incidentally, Bracken was an ardent worker among boys while in Saskatoon, and took an effective part in community welfare work. The Herald article concludes: "He has the scientific mind. He is constructive. He has sought to make the best use of the western soil, to discover the crops to which each class of soil is best adapted. He has employed his trained scientific mind to improve the conditions of life among the farmers of this country.

"Manitoba can use a man of that type. He understands both country and city life. The authority he will possess as Premier of Manitoba will be employed for the upbuilding of the province in all parts.
"Bracken is not a politician. He has been too busy with his own work to indulge in politics. He has never been active in united farmer activities. He has been brought into politics by the force of events. The farmers in power, seeking a leader of sound character and proven capacity, chose him, probably to his own great amazement, as was the case when he was chosen president of Manitoba Agricultural College."

PAPER MEN RETURN FROM INSPECTIONS

Hugh J. Chisholm of New York, president of the Oxford Paper Company and Howard E. Beedy, vice-president and general manager of the Canadian Paper Company, accompanied by Messrs. C. A. Gordon, F. E. Tufts, L. B. Middlebrook, directors and officials of the Oxford Paper Company were the guests of Mr. Chisholm in his private car.
Previous to their arrival at Iona, the party inspected the plant and holdings of the Newkirk Pulp & Paper Company of St. John, which they own jointly.
Mr. Chisholm is a well known financier of New York and besides being a director of the Maine Central Railroad is connected with other large corporations.
During the visit to the plant at Murray, plans were made for extensive development of the property and the members of the party were quite optimistic regarding the future of the pulp industry in St. John and Cape Breton.

THIEF CHASE IN HOTEL

Man Grabs Six Silk Shirts in Astor Shop, But Is Caught.
New York, Aug. 3.—A man who said he was Charles Clayton, thirty-nine years old, with no home, was arrested in a chase through the Hotel Astor after he had stolen six silk shirts from the York Shirt Shop in the hotel building. Clayton, shabbily dressed, strode into the shirt shop while all the clerks were engaged. David Moses, the manager, turned suddenly in time to see the man pick up several shirts and dart out of the door into the hotel.
The hotel patrons scattered as Clayton wound his way through the crowded lobby, with Moses after him, to the forty-fifth street entrance, through which he ran into the street. Patrolman Thomas Nyland of the West Forty-seventh street station happened to be passing and caught Clayton.

SAYS HUSBAND LOVED GIRL

Proposed and Was Accepted, Asserts Wife—Gets Alimony.
New York, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Ada Burrows Levy, wife of Dr. George Levy of 2 East 118th street, got an order from Supreme Court Justice Lyon awarding her $50 a week alimony pending a suit to be heard in November. The alimony petition shows that the couple were married in 1917 and received a house from her father as a wedding present, in which Dr. Levy fitted up his offices.
Mrs. Levy asserted that she acted as her husband's office assistant, and that during the first year they were able to buy an automobile and to save a large sum. She alleged he used the car for joy-riding with young women, one of whom was a fifteen year old girl to whom he proposed and who accepted him.

Girls Excel Boys In School Examinations

Margaret Steeves, Granddaughter of Gilbert Pugsley Wins Governor-General's Silver Medal and Frances Gilbert, Daughter of Walter Gilbert, the St. John High School Alumnae Gold Medal—Past Winners.

Margaret Steeves, grand-daughter of Gilbert Pugsley, brother of Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley, has won the Governor-General's silver medal in the grade ten examinations and Frances Gilbert, daughter of Walter Gilbert of 145 Charlotte street, has won the St. John High School Alumnae gold medal for the examinations in grade nine.

Again the girls have snatched the honors from the boys, although Miss Gilbert had Frank Christiansen as a close second in the High School entrance examinations also this year a girl, Winifred Doherty, headed the list. Miss Steeves had Nan Coleman as a close second and Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of schools, said yesterday that he would recommend to the school board that both Miss Coleman and Frank Christiansen be given special awards in recognition of their near approach to heading the list in two examinations.

Miss Gilbert has extended record in the schools and last year was the winner of the chairman's medal for the highest marks in the school year's entrance examination. Not only in the examination was Miss Gilbert highly successful. She has a year's record for excellent work and made 94.9 as her average for the entire year. She was a pupil in Miss Mildred M. Black's class.

Frank Christiansen is the son of Carl Christiansen of 127 Broad street and was a pupil in Miss Alice Lingley's class. His standing for the school year almost equalled that of Miss Gilbert as his average was 94.82, or only .08 below Miss Gilbert's.

Eleven pupils wrote the alumnae medal examinations. Some of the pupils who made a poorer showing in the medal examinations than in the school work and their examination results did not accurately reflect their ability.

Miss Eleanor Matthews, daughter of Stephen Matthews, made 63.44 per cent in the medal examination, had made an average of 91.8 per cent in her school work.

The total marks in the examination were 900 and below are given the names of the candidates in the order in which they came, their total marks and percentage.

Total	P.C.
1. Frances Gilbert	95.2
2. Frank Christiansen	94.82
3. Frank Tilton	91.82
4. Edith Brown	90
5. Richard Moody	89
6. Frances Russell	86.22
7. Mary Ferguson	84.4
8. Edwin Gunn	82.5
9. George Turner	81.44
10. Kenneth Harvey	80.8
11. Elinor Matthews	80.44

Governor-General's Medal.

The results of the examinations for the governor-general's silver medal for grade ten examinations which Dr. Bridges announced yesterday showed Margaret Steeves leading and Nan Coleman second. Miss Steeves and Miss Coleman have been leading throughout the various grades in school and in the high school entrance and grade nine examinations.

Miss Coleman lead Miss Steeves. Miss Steeves was a pupil in Miss Elizabeth McNaughton's class and while her percentage in the medal examination was 81.12 in her year's work she made an average of 92.5.

Miss Coleman is a daughter of William A. Coleman of 208 King street east. She has had an enviable record in the schools and her mark for the year's work was excellent—high, 93 per cent. She was a pupil in Miss F. Iva Thorne's class.

The highest possible marks in the governor-general's medal examination were 900.

The marks made by the ten candidates and their percentages are given in order below:

Total	P.C.
1—Margaret Steeves	84.12
2—Nan Coleman	81.12
3—Bernice Sommerville	76.50
4—Edwin McCowan	71.20
5—Dorothy Lane	67.0
6—Frances Lingley	64.0
7—Ernest Heustis	64.0
8—Ethel Holtman	58.0
9—Frances Parlee	53.0
10—John Power	43.0

A SWIRL THAT NETTED $100,000

Confidence Gang Got Around Wealthy New Yorker for Nice Sum.

(Mail and Empire)

How a rich New Yorker was swindled out of $100,000 without knowing it, perhaps, he was swindled, is told by E. H. Smith, a writer for a newspaper syndicate. There were half a dozen swindlers involved among them being one in New York who knew that the intended victim was somewhat greedy and had plenty of money at his disposal. He did not appear on the scene at all, his business being to notify his confederates in Florida that the victim was going south, and was well worth plucking. So the stage was set before the New Yorker left his home. When he arrived at the fashionable hotel in Florida, he was met by a young man, who is called Miss Blue. He came admiring glances at her, but she remained indifferent to him. Accident, as he thought eventually threw them together for one day when she was bathing the victim. Miss Blue seemed terrified, and Mr. Arthur, as the victim has been nicknamed, went to her assistance and steered her ashore. After that, it was only natural that they should become acquainted, and they frequently motored and dined together.

One day when they were abroad they met Mrs. White, who was introduced as a friend by Miss Blue, and they went back to the hotel together. There they met Mr. White, a courteous gentleman and an entertaining talker. They dined together, making a jolly little party. Miss Blue explained that the Whites were wealthy Chicago people, and she told him that Miss Blue was a girl who moved in the best society. For a week or so their intimacy increased, and then one day when they were reclining on the beach, Mr. White pointed out a passerby and said, "Do you know who that is?"

"No."

"Why that's the famous Billy Black!" He told Arthur that Black was the largest race track better in the United States, and made millions out of the horses. He was not an owner, but it was supposed that he had a hand in it, and that when he bet his money it was on a certainty. The talk drifted over to racing generally, Mr. White reverting to the game he was crooked and that a man was a fool who bet on any race that was not a foregone conclusion.

The lure.

No more was said of Mr. Black or of racing until a few days later, when a telegram came across Mr. White and recalled a former meeting with the celebrity, but Mr. Black seemed suspicious and unapproachable. Eventually he thawed and Mr. Arthur was introduced, to be cordially greeted. When Mr. White sought to be introduced to Mr. Black, the latter's conversation turned to Mr. Black's operations, he met with no response. Mr. Black, in fact, was perfectly playing the role of the rich, indifferent man whose favor is constantly sought by those who knew he had a secret that would make them wealthy. However, the party had dinner together that night, Mrs. Black being present, and under the influence of some Bimbi liquor Mr. Black thawed and spoke a little about his fortune. It appeared that he had lost $100,000 that day, owing to the treachery of somebody in his employ. But he explained that these little slips were inevitable and amounted to nothing at all of the day's operations. The next day he showed a roll purporting to contain $40,000 which he had won.

The Clean-Up.

Nobody suggested that Mr. Arthur make a bet, though Mr. White was permitted to hand a few hundred dollars to Mr. Black for which, presently, he received back a few thousands. All the time the acquisitive instincts of Arthur were at work and he asked if he might make a bet. Mr. Black sought to dissuade him, but he persisted and finally Mr. Black, after telling him to bet a small amount, accepted a commission of 10 per cent on his profits of $100,000. He then asked Arthur to forget about betting, saying that it might be just his luck to win a bet and then lose a larger one. But in the fatigued Arthur insisted, and after a week or so he gave Black $25,000 as part of a pool to which Black would contribute $25,000 and White $10,000. Then through some criminality on the part of a Jockey, this bet was lost. Black was furious and despatched various bloodcurdling telegrams which never reached the wires. He said the loss did not bother him, he would surely get it back. What he did not know was that a friend should have suffered, a friend who probably would not bet again. Arthur reassured him on this point, went to New York, came back with another $75,000 and this too through some infernal slip was also lost. Then he came to his senses and bet no more.

NEEDS GUIDING HAND OF BRITAIN

Egypt's Greatest Hope is in Maintaining Connection—Conditions in Cairo Described.

Taken From Jail by 500 Men and Hanged to a Light Pole.

In the opinion of C. J. R. Haswell, chief engineer of the city of Cairo, Egypt, that country's only hope of progress lies in maintaining its connection with Great Britain rather than in complete independence. His Haswell, who arrived in Montreal on Saturday on the Canadian Pacific liner Minnedosa on three months' leave absence, accompanied by his wife and children, said that the most enlightened men in Egypt, the most outstanding among them the king, and I, are strongly pro-British, and realize that their countrymen are not yet fitted to govern themselves. The general sentiment of the people, however, is nationalist and anti-British, and this antipathy for Britain is shown by the numerous orders of British officials of whom fifteen have been assassinated in the past six months in Cairo alone. Mr. Haswell said, and in not one of the cases was the murderer caught.

King Foad Able Ruler.

Mr. Haswell gave high praise to King Foad, who, he stated, is doing his utmost to improve the lot of his people. He is an able intelligent ruler, a true right man for Egypt at the present time, said Mr. Haswell, but because of his British sympathies unpopular with the masses, who are swayed by the Nationalist leader Zagloul. "The king knows well that British protection and guidance will be the welfare of his country," Mr. Haswell stated. "If we cleared completely out of Egypt another European power, the people would be plunged into a state of anarchy and chaos, and Egypt would probably be far worse off. Great Britain has done an incalculable amount of good in the country, and intelligent Egyptians such as King Foad realize it."

Mr. Haswell, whose official title is "director-general of the city services," which post he has occupied for the past fifteen years, is actively engaged in planning a system of municipal growth for Cairo, and said that town-planning, or "urbanography," is one of the principal interests of King Foad, and that he will be taking part in the eleventh International Geographical Congress, to be held in Cairo in 1923, and which will be his last well advanced, Mr. Haswell stated.

"Cairo has no municipal administration proper," Mr. Haswell stated, "and is governed by the council of ministers, or what you would call the cabinet. With its population of about 700,000, it has become the metropolis of the east, with the city of Alexandria second in importance with a population that is in the neighborhood of 400,000. The city is level and in Egypt, the house tax and the land tax, and these bear lightly on the people."

Blackheads go quick by this simple method

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get you a bottle of Cuticura Soap, from your drugist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds, and wash off. You will wonder where the blackheads have gone. The persine powder and the hot water have done the work. The persine powder will be gentle and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of persine powder and the water dissolve them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get persine powder at any drug store, and you are troubled by these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.

British Policy is Announced by the Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain.

London, Aug. 3.—(Canadian Press).—Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain, replying to a question in the House of Commons last night, said the government had definitely abandoned any policy which involved interference by the state in the farming business. Their present policy, he said, was to encourage home production of food by extending the provisions of agriculture, livestock and cotton for which an additional sum of one million pounds was voted by parliament last year. It was also hoped to aid agriculture by affording measures of relief such as granted this year in connection with the income tax assessment.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1922

BELGIAN WIFE MUST RETURN HOME

Arrived in States Eight Hours
Ahead of the 1923 Quota—
Lack of Discretionary Power
by Government Officials.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Because Mrs. Elvira Carton, a young Belgian woman, wife of a Chicago man who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, and her eight-year-old boy arrived in New York three and one-half hours ahead of schedule on June 30, the government is forcing the mother and boy to make a round trip to Europe before they may gain permanent admission to this country. They will embark from Ellis Island on the Aquitania.

The complexities of the new immigration law and the apparent lack of discretionary power by government officials are held responsible for the unusual situation in which Mrs. Carton and her son find themselves. It was revealed here today, Mrs. Carton, who is twenty-five years old and the wife of Remi Carton of 3001 Washington Boulevard, Chicago, had been in this country two years with her husband when she decided six months ago to return to Belgium for their boy.

The Cartons have prospered in America, and when the young wife set out for Belgium to get her son, she was happy in the knowledge that there was $2,000 in the family bank account and that her husband's monthly wage was $300. No thought was in her mind that she would not be permitted to re-enter the country. The first inkling of a barrier came early in June, when she purchased transportation on the other side to come back to the United States. She was informed that the Belgian quota was exhausted for the fiscal year ending June 30, and was advised to postpone her trip until the next voyage of the ship, which expected to reach New York after July 1, when the new quota would begin for the fiscal year 1923.

Mrs. Carton agreed, although protesting that she had been given to understand when leaving America that she could return within six months.

The Aquitania made a quick crossing on the trip that brought Mrs. Carton and her son over, and the young woman found herself at Ellis Island just within the fiscal year of 1922 instead of 1923. Instead of being permitted to join her husband, she was taken before three immigration inspectors at the island. Two of them held that she and the boy could not be admitted, while the third maintained they should be allowed to enter as though of the new quota.

An appeal from the decision of the majority inspectors was taken to the Board of Review at Washington. The board upheld the Ellis Island verdict. All of this took several weeks. Mrs. Carton and her son were meanwhile held at Ellis Island. The reviewing board here suggested that Mrs. Carton return to Europe on the Aquitania, which, under the law, must take her and the boy back, remain on the ship, return here and make another application for admission under the new quota.

This, it was said here by those interested in the case, she has decided to do.

OLD SCOTCH MAKES POLICEMEN BLINK

Purveyor Describes Effects of Good Liquor on Inspector
Bolton's Raiding Party.

New York, Aug. 3.—The effects of real Scotch whiskey on policemen were described by a witness before David Hirschfeld, commissioner of accounts, during the latter's investigation into a police raid on the apartment of Morris H. Elvidge at 782 West End avenue on June 29.

John R. Casaux, who keeps an inn at Greenwich, Conn., testified that he had delivered two cases of good Scotch to Mr. Elvidge. His chauffeur took them up, he said, while he waited in the automobile in front of the house. The chauffeur remained so long, Casaux declared, that he followed to see what had happened.

"When I got there," Casaux said, "I found several policemen in the room. One of them poured some of the liquor into the palm of his hand, rubbed it around and smelled it. He then pronounced it to be Scotch whiskey. I told them that it was not only Scotch whiskey, but that it was real Scotch, and I asked them to sample it. So we got some glasses, and all the policemen took a good drink."

"What was the effect?" asked Commissioner Hirschfeld.

"Why," replied the witness, "the officers blinked, flushed up a bit and got a little nervous. One of them perspired considerably and mopped his brow with his handkerchief."

The commissioner asked Casaux whether he had any more real Scotch at his place in Greenwich.

"Sure I've got some," was the reply.

Bootleggers Get All the Money.

"Well," said Commissioner Hirschfeld, "you'd make a lot of money if you sold it."

"No, I wouldn't," answered Casaux; "there's no profit in it—the bootleggers get all that."

Casaux said that he had brought the Scotch to the Elvidge apartment as a present for Mr. Elvidge.

"If you are in the habit of making presents of cases of good Scotch whiskey," said the commissioner, "you might bring some down to the Municipal Building."

Casaux assured him that he had brought considerable whiskey to the Municipal Building and had never had any trouble. He would be glad, he said, to let the commissioner of accounts have some.

The charges against the police officers, which Commissioner Hirschfeld is investigating by order of Mayor Hylan, are in regard to the legality of the raid. Mr. and Mrs. Elvidge also charge brutally. One of the officers, it is alleged, stood by and refused to leave the room while Mrs. Elvidge dressed to accompany them to the station.

Police Inspector James S. Bolton, who was in command, and Deputy Inspector James E. Troy testified that they had made the raid on information received and without a warrant. They denied that they had been rough in the treatment of Mrs. Elvidge.

INKBOTTLE HIS WEAPON IN FOILING HOLD-UP MAN

Peterboro, Ont., Aug. 3.—A hold-up man was repelled by John Heron, G. T. R. gateman, at the Charlotte street crossing, with an ink bottle. When the man demanded his money, Heron, who had been writing, dashed the ink in his face and grappled with him. The man escaped. The gateman had only a small sum of money and told him so. He entered the place on the pretence of getting a pipe full of tobacco.

Picked Amateurs Away to Halifax

The amateur baseball team that will represent the city in a series there with the leading Halifax clubs this week-end left yesterday noon and expect to return Sunday night. Those making the trip in charge of Frank Elliott are: From Commercial, Kerr, Cox, Marshall, Fraser, Knodell, Stirling; from St. George's, C. Merryweather, E. Shirling and Gallagher. Charles Gorman and a few others accompanied the team.

On Saturday afternoon the junior St. George's will take a jaunt to Sussex, and on the following Tuesday night Sussex will return the compliment and the other contest ended in a draw. Both teams will present their strongest lineup tonight and the fans will undoubtedly see a real game filled with thrilling situations and sensational plays as both managers are determined to win the deciding battle. Greenhalgh, the star twirler of the visitors, will adorn the mound for the All-Stars and Hansen will twist them over for the St. Peter's.

Royals Vs. Civics

The Royals and Civics will cross bats tonight on the East End grounds for the second time this season in a full nine inning game. It will be remembered that the Royals won the game on the occasion of the last meeting of these two teams and the Civics are out to turn the tables on their conquerors tonight. Manager Harry Needham, of the Civics, announced last evening that he had strengthened his team considerably for this game and he promised that his aggregation will make the south-enders travel at top speed to secure another win on the firing line for them with him from them. The Civics will have Brook-Bajer on the receiving end while the Royals will use their star twirler, Nelson, with Austin behind the bat.

St. Roses Capture League Pennant

The St. Roses are the pennant winners in the St. Peter's House League for the 1922 season by virtue of their win last evening over the St. Peter's team, 8 to 2. The St. Roses are now out with a chip on their shoulder for any amateur team in the city and have mentioned the Royals in particular. Dalton was in good form last evening and held St. Peter's down to three hits while his teammates found Bolland and Howard for fourteen hits. The score by innings was:

St. Peter's 0 0 0 0 2 2 3 3
St. Roses 2 0 1 1 1 3 8 14

KENNEL

Kennel Club Picks Freeman Lloyd. At the monthly meeting of the New Brunswick kennel club last night, the show committee named and accepted as judge for their dog show, Freeman Lloyd, Oklawanna-on-the-Hudson (N. Y.). Mr. Lloyd, who will judge all breeds, is an old country man and known as a very reputable judge. He is editor of the sporting paper, Field and Stream, and on the writing staff of the dog paper, Dogdom.

A dog-man of long experience, known on both sides of the water, he has judged in many of the big shows in the United States, Canada and the colonies. Mr. Lloyd comes well recommended and local fanciers will meet a genial man who should give real satisfaction. Premium lists will be out this week and everything looks good for a bumper show during exhibition week.

Need Not Defend Title

Boston, Aug. 3.—The situation in which Jack Dempsey found himself forced to defend his world's heavyweight boxing championship against his sparring partner at Buffalo recently will not be repeated in Massachusetts, so Eugene Buckley, a member of the State Boxing Commission, declared. Dempsey is to box an exhibition bout here on Friday night, and it had been stated that Massachusetts laws, like those of New York state, required that a decision be rendered. Over-size boxing gloves and headgear will be worn by both Dempsey and Buckley said.

QUINCY AGAIN DEFEATS ST. JOHNS

Locals Lose to Visitors, Due Largely to Costly Errors.

The Quincy Mass., All-Stars again defeated the St. John's last night by a score of 5 to 2. The St. John's team was strengthened by the addition of Dever and Gibbons, of the St. Peter's, but were short some of their own best men. A large number of errors cost St. John's the game in spite of the good pitching of Parlee. The visitors cleanly outplayed the local team and carried the decision in their favor.

A RECORD CROWD SAW BELYEA WIN

Toronto Globe's Report of the Great Races at St. Catharines.

(Special Despatch to The Toronto Globe.)

St. Catharines, July 29.—Toronto and St. John's N. B., divided honors in the feature events of the closing day of the fourth annual Royal Henley Regatta of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen here today, Hilton Belyea of the New Brunswick metropolis retaining his title as champion single sculler, and University of Toronto again laning the senior eight-oared championship.

No former regatta of the association approached that of this year in point of general distribution of prizes, or in the matter of attendance. Grand stand accommodation was totally inadequate, long streams of spectators being turned away to find places of vantage along the banks of the course. The association, at its annual meeting at the Welland Hotel, discussed the advisability of holding a three-day regatta instead of confining the competition to two days. If the entries continue to increase as they have this year the suggestion will in all likelihood receive favorable consideration.

Next year it is expected to have clubs represented from St. John to Winnipeg. The most westerly point represented at the regatta this season was the Canadian "So", whose working boat four young premier honors in that competition.

The prizes were presented on the lawn of the Welland this evening. One of the pleasant features of the regatta, was the exhibition of high diving and expert canoeism. Reg. Bloomfield, Toronto equilibrium, performed at his best. There were screams upset in the middle of the course. Even some of the regatta officials were fooled. Dibble says "Enough."

One of the outcomes of the regatta is the retirement from active rowing of "Bob" Dibble of the Don Rowing Club of Toronto, former Canadian champion, who has represented his club in overseas and United States regatta. Dibble vows that he is "through" and will sell his shell.

Belyea's retention of his Canadian

TO INCREASE AIR DEFENCES

London, Aug. 2.—It is said the committee of imperial defence has decided for a considerable increase in the number of effective air squadrons. "It is thought," says the Daily Mail, "that fifteen or twenty squadrons may be added to air force, but the definite total awaits the decision of the cabinet. The committee is believed to be of the opinion that the greater part of the costs should be provided out of economies effected on the navy estimates."

RICKARD PLANNING FIVE TITLE BOUTS

Promoter Anxious to Arrange Several More Big Contests This Season.

New York, Aug. 3.—Tex Rickard plans to make a determined effort to arrange several more important ring contests for his arena in Jersey City and the New York Velodrome before the close of the current outdoor season.

Rickard announced that he was eager to arrange at least five title matches, and expressed confidence in his ability to conduct the proposed bouts before the snow flies. In the list of contemplated contests are bouts between Johnny Kilbane and Lynch, Jimmy Wilde and Buff Eugene Criqui and Kilbane, Benny Leonard and either Charley White or Bob Barrett, and Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard. For several of these matches negotiations were started yesterday. The promoter called White an offer to come to this country to box Buff for the world's flyweight title, now held by the little English boxer. Overtures have also been made to Kilbane, too, for a bout against Lynch. The bantamweight champion's manager yesterday notified Rickard that he was ready to accept the title struggle between Lynch and Kilbane, providing the Cleveland can be brought to terms.

In the event that the Lynch-Kilbane battle does not materialize, Rickard plans to make an effort for a Criqui-Kilbane match. The promoter said he has received Billy Gibbons' verbal agreement to box the winner of the White-Barrett battle.

The situation with regard to the proposed return bout between Dempsey and Willard is little improved, according to Rickard. The promoter said he has not yet positively signed this match. Dempsey is willing and eager. Jack Kearns, Rickard said, has ready verbal agreement. Willard, too, is said to be willing, but the tall Pottawatomie ex-champion hesitates about accepting the proffered date, which is Oct. 6. A contract has been sent to Willard with the date line blank. It is the understanding, however, that Oct. 6 will be the night for the struggle. Willard has accepted the terms provided in the contract, but is chary on the date. The former champion, according to advisers from Los Angeles, prefers Oct. 31.

Rickard said that this date will be too late. The promoter added that he is awaiting developments with regard to the proposed Dempsey-Bill Brennan bout for Labor Day at Michigan City before proceeding with plans for a Dempsey-Willard battle. The contest, however, will be held not later than Oct. 10 if the promoter's plans carry through. Rickard figures the world's series will be played here again next Fall and is eager to arrange the return title struggle as an attraction during the reign of the baseball classic. The promoter said he is unalterably opposed to a later date than Oct. 10, regardless of whether it is right in his world's series prognostications. Beyond the date mentioned Rickard said, the weather gamble would be too great a risk.

Harper and family of St. John, following an enjoyable fortnight's vacation at Mr. Harper's old home in town, left by motor car on Sunday upon their return to Sussex, where Mrs. Harper and children are spending the summer with Mrs. Harper's mother, Mrs. Jas. Byrne. On Friday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harper, the Misses Harper entertained lady and gentlemen friends at three tables of bridge at their home in Sackville street. Little Miss Doreen Harper ushered the guests. Prizes for score fell to Mrs. F. J. Robitoux and Mrs. A. H. Truman."

IN PROBATE.
In the probate court this morning before His Honor Judge McNeerney the last will of Mary J. McGinnis was proved in solemn form. This matter had been in the court for some months and was last adjourned in order to allow of service of a citation upon one of the next of kin in Prince Edward Island. A caveat had been filed by Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., for Mrs. Sophia Moore, but it was withdrawn this morning with the consent of the court. Evidence was given by J. B. Dever, proving the will, and on the application of R. A. Davidson, letters of administration cum testamento annexo were issued to Miss Ada Ryan one of the beneficiaries. The estate is valued at about $3,500.

TO ANNOUNCE PROPOSITION OF POWER COMPANY

Mayor to Present it at Special Meeting Tomorrow Morning

Also City Solicitor's Opinion on Hydro Contract—His Own Report Expected on Monday—Pipe Tenders Received—Ferry Business Declined.

Mayor McLellan has called a special meeting of the common council for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at which he will present the city solicitor's opinion on the contract for hydro with the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, and also submit the New Brunswick Power Company's proposition. In explanation the mayor said he was doing this because of the public becoming impatient.

The mayor said that he has been charged with practically drafting in the hydro matter, but any person who saw the sheaf of reports, communications and documents prepared and work he will present at the meeting should realize the mint of work involved. Officials have worked day and night in an effort to give thorough consideration and arrive at an intelligent understanding of the matters involved. He said he expected to present his own report on Monday.

The weekly meeting of the common council which was scheduled for this morning was called off owing to lack of a quorum. Commissioners Thornton and Frink were out of town, but are expected back in time for the special meeting tomorrow.

Tenders for sewer pipe and for placing an asphalt surface on South Market wharf from Ward to Water streets closed at city hall this morning. Three tenders were submitted for pipe and two for asphalt work. They will be opened at the next meeting of the common council.

The ferry report for July shows a marked decrease in revenue from the corresponding month in 1921. Passenger and team traffic shows a decrease of $917.98 in revenue. The report follows: Passengers in 1921, 163,092; revenue, $2,543.70. Passengers in 1922, 113,636; revenue, $1,761.03. Decrease in passengers, 49,456; decrease in revenue, $782.67. Team travel in 1921, 9,241; revenue, $796.61. Team travel in 1922, 7,463; revenue, $661.80. Decrease in teams, 1,778; decrease in revenue, $135.81.

CALGARY HERALD SENDS SOUVENIR

Comes to Joseph A. Murdock, Brother of the City's First Mayor—Old Days Recalled.

Joseph A. Murdock of this city has received a highly prized souvenir from Calgary. And thereby hangs a tale. Mr. Murdock's brother, G. Murdock, was Calgary's first mayor. He had a file of the Calgary Herald dating from Jan. 2, 1884, until Nov. 11, 1885. This came into the possession of his brother in St. John, who himself lived in Calgary in the early days. The present day Herald, which is a great modern newspaper, had no files of its early weekly issues, and Mr. Murdock sent the one in his possession. It enabled that journal to fix the date of its first weekly issue at Sept. 1, 1884, and the daily is July 2, 1885, and it is now printing from day to day extracts from the files of nearly forty years ago. In its issue of July 23 the Herald editorially expresses its thanks to Mr. Murdock, explaining how it came to receive so highly prized a record of early Calgary life.

But the Herald has done more. In a personal letter to Mr. Murdock, Editor J. H. Woods thanks him personally and adds: "I am also sending you a folio containing some photographs of the present day Calgary which I have had especially made up for you, and which I hope you will accept with the compliments of the company. I think you will be interested in the individual views with the panoramic view of Calgary, which is included in the portfolio."

The portfolio is one which in its heavy binding and general make-up none can appreciate more than Mr. Murdock. The photographs are large and clear and are a revelation to anyone who has not seen Calgary itself. The panoramic view, the views of buildings and of street scenes, and some pictures of the city taken from an airplane make up a remarkable series, conveying a clear knowledge of the extent and beauty of Calgary. There are views of the business, residential and stockyards sections, but one of the most interesting to the newspaper man is the picture of the Calgary Herald building, of ten stories, which is said to be one of the finest office buildings in Canada. Contrasted with it there is in the copy of the Herald sent to Mr. Murdock a picture of the little shack of 1883—a mere wooden shed, in which the first weekly was printed. There are in the foreground a coal bin and an empty apple barrel, and the Herald says: "It is believed that the gentleman leaning against the coal-bin in a negligent attitude occupied the position of editor, civic reporter, births, deaths and marriages, in addition to political events, weather, lodge events and so on. The literary gent with the black whiskers wrote up the drawings, fires, Indian risings, brawls, and sport—in short any thing savouring of blood he handled in the most gentlemanly manner. His descriptive powers, in describing a murder, giving all the details without being repetitive, will be shown in some of the items used from the old Herald file of 1884. The dillitante youth lounging in the doorway was the social editor and reporter. He did weddings, betrothals, showers, christenings and other events as dear to the hearts of the women-folk in 1884 as in 1922. The barrel on the ground is an old apple barrel, traded in when it was full of apples for a couple of years' subscription."
