DISCUSSING VISIT BY KING TO THE STATES

British Opinion on the Call Made By the Duke of Connaught

PLEASURE OVER RECEPTION

Saturday Review Doubts if it Would be Easy or Desirable for King to Leave Britain Often But Likes Idea of American Visit

(Canadian Press)

London, Jan. 27.—The Saturday Review, based today, admirably summarizes the well considered British opinion of the Duke of Connaught's visit to the United States as follows:—

"The American press has received the Duke and Duchess of Connaught with characteristic emotion, and from the accounts in the English newspapers one might think that America was populated chiefly by photographers. The fact, however, aside from the inquisitiveness and social recriminations of which the visitors are said to have been the innocent cause, is that the United States of America has received them with deep pleasure, and enthusiasm. For this every Englishman is grateful.

"We cannot help entertaining the possibility that the king and queen might be able to visit America. We can guess the greater enthusiasm and affection, with which they would be welcomed. "We doubt if it would be easy or desirable for the king to leave the United Kingdom often, yet an American visit would be an incident of great value. We know that if such a visit were seriously considered and the king felt obliged to decide against it, the reason would certainly not be any want of good will toward the American people."

MONTE CARLO

Montreal, Jan. 27.—Almost completely unnoticed, Their Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Princess Patricia, and the royal entourage reached Montreal at eight thirty this morning, and left again at the great majority of the hurrying throngs which filled the station. The duke and duchess were seriously considered and the king felt obliged to decide against it, the reason would certainly not be any want of good will toward the American people."

SUFFRAGETTES GET AFTER HARCOURT

London, Jan. 27.—Louis Harcourt's life has been made miserable if the suffragettes can do anything to make it so. In reply to a deposition, Mr. Harcourt, who is secretary of state for the colonies, reiterated his opposition to women's suffrage and the head of the deputation declared that the women of Great Britain would do all in their power to make his life uncomfortable.

EX-FINANCE MINISTER IN OLD COUNTRY

Strong Desire to See Hon. Mr. Fielding in Imperial Parliament—The Matter Canvassed in London Letter

(Canadian Press)

Special correspondence to the Times from London, Jan. 27.—Mr. W. S. Fielding's return says: "Hon. W. S. Fielding, former minister of finance, has arrived in London and is staying with his daughter, Mrs. Macfee at her residence in Sloane Gardens. The Canadian rumor is still current that he intends to abandon Canadian politics and seek a seat in the imperial parliament. More than one invitation to take such a step has been extended to him in the past and now that his political fortune in Canada has vanished it is considered probable that he may accede to the pressure brought to bear on him by the British Canadian side but it is whispered by Liberal ministers who seek the alliance of a distinguished Canadian statesman to aid them in the coming fight.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE TWO GENERALS

The Bomb Fast Becoming Popular Weapon in Chinese Troubles

(Canadian Press)

Peking, Jan. 27.—General Liang Pi, a high Manchurian official, and former commander of the imperial guards, was injured, perhaps fatally, today by a bomb thrown by an unidentified Chinese in military uniform. The man hurled the bomb from the side of the road as Liang Pi was alighting from his carriage at the entrance to his home. Both the general's legs were broken and torn by fragments of the missile.

LIANG PI HAS BOTH LEGS BROKEN AND MURDERER IS HIMSELF KILLED—CHAN HUAI CHI ESCAPES BUT CARRIAGE IS WRECKED—DYNAMITE CAMPAIGN LIKELY

Three two bombs which wrecked the carriage. The assassin fled, but was eventually surrounded by soldiers and police. He kept his pursuers at bay for some time, with his revolver, but he was finally overpowered. Chan Huai Chi, who is well known here, has been largely responsible for preventing the population of Tien Tsin from being over-run by the revolutionaries, of whom he is one of the most bitter opponents. Peking, Jan. 27.—The agents of the revolutionary party in this city, recently intimated that a dynamite campaign was not improbable in the near future. Yesterday's and today's outrages may be the beginning of a series of similar crimes. It is evidently the intention of the dynamiters to pick out the most prominent officials and military officers who are known to be opposed to the republican movement. The republican agents, who do not attempt to keep the nature of their mission in Peking secret, declare that fighting will not be resumed immediately, although isolated conflicts may occur. They communicate openly with the staff of Premier Yuan Shi Kai, many of the members of which have expressed revolutionary sympathies.

PLAN A BIGGER DEMONSTRATION FOR CHURCHILL

Liberals' Project to Compensate for Loss of Ulster Hall for Meeting

(Canadian Press)

Belfast, Ireland, Jan. 27.—The liberal party, according to report current here, hopes to compensate Winston Spencer Churchill, the first lord of the admiralty, for his disappointment at his plans in regard to speaking in favor of home rule in Ulster Hall, being unable to do this they will organize a demonstration in connection with his visit to Belfast on more striking lines than would have been the case if the home rule meeting had been allowed to proceed without satisfaction. The military authorities in Dublin have arranged to send troops here both from the capital and other points should this demonstration be considered necessary for the maintenance of order.

WINNIPEG HAS ANTI HOME RULE

Former M. P. Tells of Orders Received by Newspapers on One Recent Occasion for Conservative Press to Demand it—Winnipeg Has Anti Meeting

(Canadian Press)

London, Jan. 27.—The liberal party, according to report current here, hopes to compensate Winston Spencer Churchill, the first lord of the admiralty, for his disappointment at his plans in regard to speaking in favor of home rule in Ulster Hall, being unable to do this they will organize a demonstration in connection with his visit to Belfast on more striking lines than would have been the case if the home rule meeting had been allowed to proceed without satisfaction. The military authorities in Dublin have arranged to send troops here both from the capital and other points should this demonstration be considered necessary for the maintenance of order.

WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 27.—At an enthusiastic meeting of Ulster men last evening a sweeping denunciation against the anti-home rule policy of the liberal party was made. A resolution unanimously adopted declared that the stability and unity of the United Kingdom is endangered by the home rule bill and its provisions; and that "the duplicitous attempt of Winston Churchill to speak in the Ulster Hall where his failure, a generation ago, brought about the partition of Ireland, is being carried out, can only be productive of strife and bloodshed."

QUEEN OF PEARLS TO CROSS THE ATLANTIC—VALUABLE PRIZE WINNER DEAD

New York, Jan. 27.—Another great St. Bernard is to be brought to this country to signalize the revival of the breed at the coming Westminster Kennel Club show and the return of Col. J. J. Russell, Jr., as an exhibitor in the "mook" breed. This is the rough coated St. Bernard champion Queen of Pearls, regarded easily as the best rough or smooth of either in Great Britain, and so valuable to the breed that with the news of the sale was received with surprise throughout the British fancy. Queen of Pearls will be brought over on the Cameronian, the first trip of that steamer for the Canada line. The trio Col. Russell bought three months ago, Young Stormer, rough, and the smooth, Splendid and Princess Nan, will also be on the Cameronian.

QUEBEC APPOINTMENT

Quebec, Jan. 27.—J. Smead has been appointed assistant provincial secretary to succeed J. Dumont, who died yesterday by his own hand, when he went to get him to get on the bench. Suffocation is said to have been the cause.

PLANNING BIG TIME

The members of the Knights of Pythias are to have a celebration of some magnitude on Tuesday evening next in their building in Germain street. A social is to be held by the members of the three city lodges. Each member has the privilege of inviting a friend, and it is figured that there will be about 1,000 present.

MISSING THE TRAIN

The incoming train from the east, due in this city about six o'clock, was late in arriving this morning, not reaching here until seven o'clock. The Boston train leaving here a little before seven allows connections for points west, but this morning the train from Halifax being so late, it was decided to send the Boston train without the passengers from the east. When the train arrived there were several who had intended leaving on the Boston, and on learning that they would be compelled to remain over until this evening, they were in none too pleasant a frame of mind.

KING STREET QUARTERS

A business meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick Tourist Association will be held on Monday afternoon. Officers for the coming year will be elected and possibly the additional five members will be added to the executive. The committee appointed for the "press" will report on their efforts to secure new offices. It is understood that their report will be in favor of the Sears building in King street.

COLD, WASN'T IT?

This morning broke clear and cold. Those who had to be out early felt it quite severely. The glasses ranged from two to eighteen below, and on Sandy Point one registered twenty-four below, but this is not believed to have been accurate.

BURIED TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Meade was held today at half past two p. m. from 48 Kennedy street. Interment was in the Church of England burial ground.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 27.—On the broad ground that Hindus will not assimilate and become part of our community, Vancouver citizens and opponents of further immigration from the Orient. A memorial will be sent to Ottawa on this subject.

London, Jan. 27.—The Times says it understands that J. P. Morgan's decision to remove his art collection from the Victoria and Albert museum was due to the fact that if it were here at the time of his death his executors would have to pay death duties of some $700,000, supposing the collection is worth $5,000,000.

Paris, Jan. 27.—Frederick Passy, the publisher, member of the political and social science section of the Institute, one of the founders of the International Peace Bureau, and also of the inter-parliamentary union, died at his home in Paris, the victim of a heart ailment, at the age of 80. He was the winner of the first Nobel prize. He is ninety years old.

PICKED UP STEAMER

Halifax, Jan. 27.—(Special)—The German steamer Therese, from Hamburg for New York, put in yesterday morning short of coal and sailed in the evening for the destination. Captain Schierhorst also says that three days out from Hamburg, on January 11, he and the steamer Therese were bound from Nordheim to Savannah, Georgia. She had lost all her propeller blades and was at the mercy of the sea, which was blowing very high.

The Therese towed the other into Port Phillip, and left there on Jan. 19 for New York.

McGILL AND RADIUM

Montreal, Jan. 27.—The growing use of radium for medicinal purposes has created a demand in the scientific world for a recognized standard of radium throughout the world, which was found in two thousand feet of film by the Viagraph Co. Reserve Wednesday in three days to see this scientific feat.

TEN DEATHS

The hour of mourning for the ten deaths occurred last week from the following causes:—Heart disease, two; pneumonia, one; influenza, one; typhoid fever, one; cholera, one; cancer, one; and other causes, one.

The funeral of Mrs. M. K. L. was held at the St. John's church, on Wednesday, at 10 o'clock, and was conducted by Rev. J. R. Boyce and Rev. J. A. Ross. Interment was in Greenhill cemetery.

Closing Stock Letter

New York, Jan. 27.—The stock market opened with a weak, but not a very low, London's weakness. During the first hour, Steel, Union Pacific and Reading advanced, and the market was buoyant. The bank statement is good. The part is the increase of loans over deposits of four million. The market weak at about bottom prices; sales 410,000; bonds $23,000.

SHEARSON HANMILL & CO.

Wall Street Notes.

New York, Jan. 27.—London comes 14 to 34 lower on American. Banks paid thirteen million dollars in cash; the loans are likely to show an increase with a large increase in deposits.

Auto cars decrease 45,000 in two weeks ending Jan. 17.

Lawyer Undermyer before the house committee on rules yesterday urged investigation of many trusts; said nothing about the $700,000 he got from Utah Copper.

Germany needs more money. Business is disappointing, start that was made in December has halted. The commercial trade, however, has been extremely heavy. It is estimated that American loans in Germany have been increased to the amount of $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 at 1 1/2 per cent since Jan. 1.

London market working stronger.

Dun's says: "The situation in business is a mixture of the old and the new, a natural reaction from December activity. 'Breadstuffs' says: 'On the whole, trading is of small lot buying and conservation is very conspicuous.'"

The continued strength in New York City brings many reasons to mind; some think the C. & N. W. will be included in the combination that has been threatened out a great many times before in years gone by. New York Central to-day has the best management in its history; it is terminal in New York; it will not be so many millions sunk as in the Pennsylvania, without any income from it. The shares are dull. I am told 'Bull' is well bought on the recessions.

Let still continue a trading affair.

THE STAR REPENTS

The Montreal Star, which during the election campaign last fall was more excited than any other Conservative journal in support of Mr. Borden, appears to be gradually regaining its senses. It has discovered that Mr. Borden is not troubling himself now about the safety of the Empire.

Then there is the tariff commission, which the Star declares is "hobbled," and will be "little more than an interrogation point."

"It does not seem as if we would need three $7,000 men to merely collect the statistical and practical information set down in the resolution of Hon. Mr. White."

Twenty-five thousand a year and expenses appears to be a good deal to pay for the gathering of these facts which the government is about to revise the tariff.

The lumbermen are having a favorable season for their operations, which, however, are on a reduced scale this winter.

The Saturday Review favors a visit by King George to the United States. This will be pleasing to the flag-flappers.

Vancouver has added a daylight bank robbery to the list of hold-ups and other crimes recorded. Stay east, young man.

Another week has passed without any announcement by Mr. Hazen about the works at Courtney Bay. It is about time somebody said something.

The Liberals appear to have found the weak point of the Hon. F. D. Monk. When a minister gets into the habit of flying into a passion his usefulness is pretty nearly ended.

The exports by the winter steamships from St. John show an increase in value of nearly two and a half millions compared with that for the like period last winter.

Hon. Mr. Ames says that the question of reciprocity with the United States has been settled for all time. How does he know? It was not reciprocity that defeated the Liberals. Mr. Ames knows that quite well.

Hon. Mr. Foster appears to have some pleasure in prospect. He may visit the West Indies, and also Australia. How much the trade of Canada may profit from his activities need not perhaps be taken into consideration.

Mr. H. B. Ames is an Emmentaler, but he says he does not favor tariff reduction in favor of the mother country unless Canada gets similar favorable treatment. It was the Liberal party which gave the British preference.

As was anticipated, Italy has yielded to France and released the Turks who were taken by force from a French steamer. One war at a time is quite as much as Italy can stand, even when that is a war with Turkey.

There is a man in Ottawa boasting a national holiday from St. John to Prince Rupert. If he would come down and persuade Mr. Fleming to give us good highways from St. John to Sussex, Fredericton and St. Stephen, he would be doing a real service.

It is a dull day when the tory press does not boast of some enquiry to be made by the Borden government into the conduct of affairs by its predecessor. By such action partisans are rewarded with unrelated positions, and attention is diverted from what the Borden government itself is doing or failing to do.

THE JOB SEEKER (Norman South in Ottawa Journal, Conservative)

Under the shadow of the Hill, The wild job-seeker sits, He tries to get the thing he wants, And never, never quits, And sometimes every now and then Near Room Sixteen he fits.

His eyes are sharp, alert and keen, To get a job he'll plan, From some poor hard-worked Minister As soon as'er he can; And all because he claims to be A Governmental man.

He comes from North, he comes from South, He comes from East and West; His one idea is to get a job, This is his one request, And those who have the job to give Get very little rest.

He works like half a dozen men, His point he'll try to gain, In tracking Members to their lair, He works with night and morn; What though his presence they would flee, Their efforts are in vain.

Chasing—scouting—struggling After a job he goes, Each morning sees the game commence, Each evening sees it close, The day he gets the thing he wants He'll earn a night's repose.

TO USE OIL According to Shipping Illustrated, oil fuel is to be used in the Empire of Russia and the Empire of Asia now building for the C. P. R.

MR. BORDEN CRITICISED Touching the government's attitude relative to the Ne Temere decree, the Toronto-World, which stands by Mr. Lancaster, says:—

"First, it is clear that no settlement of the question is yet in sight, and that the only sufficient settlement must be a federal law, defining marriage and divorce."

THE LANG LANG SYNE

The delightful little Scottish song, which follows was written quite a number of years ago by Rev. Dr. George J. Lawrie, of Moncton, N. B., and is sung to the well-known air of "Dy'e Ken John Peel."

Dae ye mind o' lang lang syne, When the summer days were fine, And the sun shone brighter far Than he's ever done in years.

Dae ye mind the sunny braes, When we gathered hips and saes, And fell among the bonnie-bushes, Tearin' at our caes.

What famous fun was there, When we played about frae the schule, Because it was the fair, And we ran frae Patsie's Mill.

What are these bright hearts the noo, That were then so true and true? Oh, some hae led life's troubled noo, Some still are struggling thro'.

Noo, life's sweet spring is past, And our Autumn's come at last— Our summer day has past away, Life's winter's come at last.

HIS HORSE "How were you so afflicted in college, son?" "It was gaid at relay events, dad."

ONE LOST PATIENT Prospective Patient—"Say, Doc, what's the best cure for incontinence?" Dr. Mendon (absently)—"Go to sleep and forget it."

ANOTHER CANDIDATE One hot summer day a Kentucky bean stopped at a florist's to order a box of flowers for his lady love. At the same time he also purchased a design for the general of a friend's card for his girl's box he wrote: "Hoping these may help you bear the heat. The other card here is the one worth sympathy."

Very soon the girl telephoned: "Thank you so much for the flowers, but why did you write 'sympathy' on the card?" "There was no word from the other card," Ladies' Home Journal.

CHEERING GRANNY "Tommy," said his mother, "Grandmother is very sick. Can't you go in and cheer her up?" "Yes, um," said Tommy, as he went into the sick-room. But in a few moments he came out disconsolate. "Couldn't mother," he said, "who seemed to get worse."

"What did you say, dear?" asked Mother. "Why, I asked her if she would like soldiers at her funeral," Ladies' Home Journal.

ASKING TOO MUCH An old negro preacher did the honors and the candidate for baptism was a coal black negro woman. The preacher led his victim far out in the stream where she could be thoroughly immersed, and at the auspicious moment he cried in a loud voice: "Be stiddy, stiddy, be stiddy, an' you'll come up vittin' dan, an' so."

"Oh, parson," she exclaimed, "dat's askin' too much; a stream eol'd 'it dot"—"T-Bits."

A GOOD SPECIMEN "I'd like to look at one of your best sellers," said the lady in the bookstore clerk. "I've sold more books during the holidays than any other clerk in the store!"—Yonkers Statesman.

ST. PETER'S RETREAT FOR MEN CLOSED BY FATHER BORGSMANN

Strong Exhortation to Live Life of Grace and Die in the Friendship of God

"Who go to heaven, and who go to hell?" asked Rev. Henry Borgmann, C. S. R., in St. Peter's church, North End, last evening at the close of the men's retreat. His answer to the question was: "Only those who pass from this earth with mortal sin on their souls shall see the eternal glory of God. The lights to follow the darkness of evil is from hell. If we do God's will on earth we shall certainly be blessed with a place in His Kingdom hereafter. That is what the Catholic church has always taught, from the earliest ages of her history, and will always teach, while the world's end is on."

The speaker told of the need of always keeping in the state of grace, so that we could say at all times, not that "I hope I will go to Heaven," or "I think I shall be called to heaven," but to assert with assurance, "I know I am going to heaven," or "I know I am not going to hell."

Only by remaining firm from mortal sin could one hope to be commended to refrain before God, and by mortal sins he meant grievous sins against the commandments. Some of the sins he mentioned as being common, dwelling at some length on immorality in its various forms. He scored bad plays, immoral reading, and the modest pictures as things to be shunned as poison should be avoided. As Catholics he said he distinguished between venial and mortal sin. Frequent confession and communion, he urged as the cure for evil habits, and he strongly urged the men of St. Peter's to be seen often at the sacrament.

"If a man has committed a grievous sin," said the speaker, "he needs to examine his conscience in order to be referring to one who has passed away. This was the important matter, not how well he had lived, but how well he had died. Father Borgmann, in conclusion, asked the men who had faithfully attended the services of the retreat to attend communion either on or before Sunday, so that if Christ should send the call of death to their midst they would be prepared to go, and their friends could rest assured that they had been commended before the judgment seat of God in grace, the grace which meant everlasting peace and happiness in the world to come."

At this season—"What is this price of peace they talk so much about?" "Just now it is a set of furs."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

NERVES AT HIGH TENSION

Necessary in This Age of Keen Competition and Great Accomplishment

When the Body Fails to Support the Brain seek the Help of DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Nervous people are the salt of the earth. The great men and great women are usually those of nervous temperament. But, it takes an enormous quantity of blood to supply energy to the great brain or a highly tensioned nervous system. Digestion fails because nerve force is lacking to control the flow of digestive fluids. A little extra excitement is followed by the agony of a sleepless night. You are easily irritated and lose patience, you lack the reserve force which is necessary for success and to ward off disease. Unfortunately nervous diseases do not right themselves, and since your digestive system fails to supply sufficient nourishment you must seek external assistance such as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great food cure is a narcotic to deaden the nerves, it is not a stimulant to whip up the nerves to renewed effort. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food feeds the feeble, wastes nerves back to health and vigor. It floods the nervous system with new rich blood, the only substance from which nerve force can be made. COLONEL SAM'S VICTORY

he Tables Turned By Him o Conservatives in Matter of Ross Rifle

(Ottawa Free Press)

The official announcement that the Bon government has, upon the advice of the minister of militia, adopted the Ross rifle as the national arm of the Canadian militia, is a distinct triumph for the gallant colonel.

Who, among those who recall the thunders of oratorical attack made against Ross rifle for years by the whole Conservative party is and out of the common (with the exception of Colonel Sam), would have dared to predict that the whole party would, within six months of attaining to office, adopt the arm which they then condemned.

There was a division in the commonsense on May 22, 1908, upon a vote of censure upon Sir Frederick Borden and the Laurier government for having adopted the Ross rifle. Among those who voted against the Ross rifle at that occasion were—R. L. Borden, G. B. Porter, G. H. Peirce, members of the present cabinet, and Hon. McLean, of Queen's, Porter, Schaffner, Sprague, and Wright, of Muskoka. It was a small vote, but the pairs counted as votes and among the Conservatives who paired against the Ross rifle were: Messrs. Monk, J. D. Reid, Roche, Forget and Kemp, who are now members of the cabinet; and such party stalwarts as Messrs. Turnbull, Ames, Northrup, Egan, Lennox, Macdonell, Lancaster, Boyce, Clements, Henderson, Haggart, Payton, Broderick, Barker, Bennett, Blain, Branson, Bristol, Clave, Lewis, W. F. Maclean, Stanfield and Staples.

This was the memorable occasion upon which Colonel Sam, replying to the taunts and sneers of G. W. Fowler, asserted that he would be minister of militia and predicted that when that time came, he would continue the use of the Ross rifle. He is not only a good prophet, but an excellent hand at making a party swallow itself.

CANADA IS MUCH IN BIG BANKER'S MIND

Baring of London Enthusiastic After a Tour Made Across Dominion

Great Britain's Dependence on Canada for Food Supplies—Mr. Borden and the Matter of Titles—Sir Charles Tupper—Important and Interesting Matters in London Letter

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, Jan. 27.—Major Baring, a member of the big financial family of Baring, is the latest M.P. to give an enthusiastic description of Canada to his constituents. It is illustrated by photographs taken by himself during a recent tour of the Dominion.

"The man who is determined to succeed," Major Baring told his constituents, "would find as good an opening in Canada as anywhere on the face of the earth."

His journey began at Liverpool, and the area traversed was from Quebec to Vancouver. The vast resources of Canada, her great wheat areas, wide-stretching orchards, fields devoted to agriculture and her magnificent forests were each touched upon.

"The Empire's Food Factory" How much Great Britain depends for food supplies on Canada is made clear in the following extract from the "Grocer's Journal," commenting on the high prices ruling here for food stuffs.

"The summer we have experienced—so delightful to the tourist, the killer and the well-to-do, so disastrous to the producer and the food consumer—has had its counterpart in Canada, as well as on the continent. It has been difficult for the English farmer to meet the demand for milk for drinking purposes, and the output of butter and cheese has consequently been lessened. Thus, prices have continuously risen.

"Had there been an increased production in Canada, prices of English would have been checked and the Canadian producer would not have made the vast profit he has done. But Canada has had an enlarged demand at home to meet, and has not increased her output.

"The present time, too, is a time when what is often the case—large stocks of the 'warehouse'—the 'piles'—is such a diminution in the stock in hand in Canada that sellers are off their feet, and are lying contentedly waiting for offers which they might regret their placid attitude presently if supplies of any magnitude presented themselves from another quarter. But where is the other quarter? America's consumptive capacity, and anything coming from there would be only in small lots and tempted by extreme quotations."

The Matter of Titles The appointment of Mr. Borden as a privy councillor serves another purpose, that, though that honor accrues to him, it places it in a higher position than any knight or baron might expect, and it is a title which is not to be despised.

The exceptional precedence given to the Honorable privy councillor of England, as compared with that given to the Honorable privy councillor of the overseas dominions, however, seems a little out of harmony with the times in which we live. It is perhaps desirable that there should be some distinction between a dominion privy councillor and a privy councillor of the province; though here again the distinction appears to be a little unjust, by allowing a distinction to a provincial cabinet minister unless he is in office.

The whole subject of titles and honors needs revision now that Canada, Australia and South Africa occupy so vastly different a position in regard to the home government and the empire than they did the crown colonies. The present regulations occasion not only heart burnings but confusion at public functions where some order of precedence must be maintained.

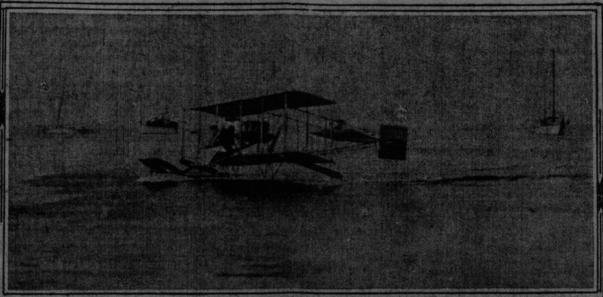

Sir Charles Tupper Through his condition continues to be a great anxiety, Sir Charles Tupper little better, and his partial recovery eased the hope that his strength will be maintained. Sir Thomas Barlow is in evidence. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, M.P., has arrived at "The Mount," early health, from Canada last week.

The Bishop of London has arrived at Khartoum to consecrate the cathedral in that city. The consecration will be an event of considerable interest, and the fulfilment of hopes long deferred. It is, of course, primarily a memorial to General Gordon, on the spot where he died. When Lord Cromer was at Khartoum in 1900 it was decided to appeal for funds to build a church, but the South African war was then in full progress, and the response was far from satisfactory, and even on February 7, 1900, when the foundation stone of the cathedral was laid by Princess Henry of Battenberg, the fund was very small. By means of great efforts, in which the governor-general, Sir Reginald Wingate, and Lady Wingate took an active part, money to go on with the building was obtained.

Two years later, when the Bishop of London was appointed architect, and the "British architect," in 1900, said: "Mr. Schulz has seen in a masterly way with the study of Byzantine architecture. For want of better definition we might perhaps call it design 'Soudness,' but we may feel that its simple dignity and solidarity of effect will not be out of harmony with surroundings."

The site of the building is close to the dome of the palace, within a stone's throw of the spot where General Gordon was killed. The building is in the shape of a cross, the arms forming the transept, and the north transept will be used as a memorial chapel in which will be placed panels in memory of those British officers who have laid down their lives

WATER FLYING IS A POPULAR SPORT AT SOUTHERN RESORTS.

Water flying as a sport is spreading at various watering places along both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the country. Visitors to Palm Beach, Miami and San Diego are making daily flights in hydro-aeroplanes under the guidance of skilful aviators. The machine, half boat, half aeroplane, with seats for two, is launched from shore into the water, the passenger seated behind the pilot. The aerial propeller revolves and as its wind catches the wings the craft glides through the water like a motor boat, and quite as fast. Then there is a little twist of the elevator and the hydro-aeroplane, already riding high in the water, rises a little higher on the waves and imperceptibly mounts above them, finding support upon its wings.

FABLES IN SLANG Series of 1912 -- BY GEO. ADE

THE NEW FABLE OF THE SAME OLD THING, WITH IMPROVED TRIMMINGS

From Her Chateau in the Burgoo Province the Lady Cahier Can See The American Tourists Going by in Their Hired Motor Cars.

(Copyright 1912, by George Ade) Once there was a Hunky employed to crack the Whip around a smoky Works that did not offer an attractive Vista from the Car Windows, although it blossomed with a fragrant crop of Dividends every time the Directors got together in the Back Room.

Most of the American Workmen employed in this Hive of Industry came from remote parts of Europe. Each wore his Head entirely in front of his Ears and had taken an Oath to support the Constitution. It was the duty of the Hunky to keep these Imported Rabbits on the Jump and impress the Output.

He made himself so strong with the big Center Pole that they declared him to be a Melon when he ailed and when it came time to Scramble the Eggs and pull off the grand Whisk-Up, he was standing at the head of the Line with a Basket on his Arm.

So it came about that one who started in a Thatched Cottage and grew up on cold Spuds and never saw a Manicure Set until he was 38 years of age, went home one day to find Gold Fish swimming about in every Room and Servants blocking the dreamerway.

This rugged and forcible Character, to whom the Musk-Bakers referred as a Baron, had a Daughter who started out as Katie when she carried the Hot Coffee over to Dad every Noon.

When she got her first Chip Diamond and Father switched from the Dubious to the Clear, she was known in High School Circles as Katherine. And when Pop got in on the main Divvy and began to take an interest in Paintings, the name went down on the Register at the Waldorf as Kathryn, in those pecked Sierra Nevada Letters about four inches high. Katie used to go to St. Joseph's Hall once in a while with Martin, the Lad who worked in the Grocery.

Katherine regarded with much Favor a Pallid Drug Clerk who acted as a Clearing House for all Local Scandal. But say, when Kathryn came back from a letter of Credit big enough to set Ireland free and went traipsing off to the Atlantic, she got through extinguishing the beam working the Snuffer on all the wadded-back in the Mill Town, and when she got through extinguishing the little Group that remained looked like the

New York Lady who had seen Better Days although she still retained her Long-gait.

Now it will be admitted that William J. Burns is some Sleuth, but when it comes to apprehending and running to Earth a prattling American Ingenuo with a few Millions stuffed in her Petticoat, the Boy with the mildewed Title who sits on the Boulevard all day and dabbles with the green and pink Bottled Goods has got it all over Burns like a Striped Aviator.

All the starting members of the Upp-Against-It Association were waiting at the Dock to cop the prospective Meal Ticket. Not one of them had ever Shaved or Washed, and each wore his Handkerchief inside his Collar and had Yellow Gloves stitched down the Back and was fully entitled to sit in an Electric Chair and have 80,000 Volts distributed through the Steel Ribs of his Corset.

As soon as Kathryn began to meet the Rogues and Consumers she discovered that they had Lovely Eyes and certainly knew how to treat a Lady. Kathryn had been brought up on Philadelphia Literature, and even during her most ambitious Social Nights she had entertained the Type of Man who remains on the opposite side of the Room having trouble with his White Goods.

She never had been against those Willing Performers from Gascony who wore Red Ribbons and Medals and who rushed over to kiss the Hand and then look deep into her Eyes and throw like a Motor Boat.

This class of Work simply shot her Pulse up to 130 and made her think that she was Cleopatra, floating in the Royal Barge and surrounded by grinning Glacés.

When a certain Markee crawled into her Lap and pulled into her Ear and threatened to cut up on the Rug and die if she refused him, she simply keeled over with Excitement.

After she recovered she found herself actually engaged to the Representative of one of the Old Families in the Burgoo District of the Burgoo Province, and as many a Chap as ever borrowed Money from a Top-Dancer.

The Captain of Industry and his Son-in-Law and knew that when the Money was gone, the Markee could always get a job hanging his Hat in the Check-Room of a first-class Table D'Hôte Restaurant.

From the window of her chateau in the Burgoo Province the Lady Cahier can see the American Tourists going by in their hired Motor Cars, Her Cheek flushes with Delight when she happens to remember that in another Three Months or so Friend Husband will come home long enough to show her where to sign her Name.

What is more, she has the Privilege of walking out at any time and picking Flowers with the Understanding that she is not to let it be known that she is related to any of her Relatives on either side of the Atlantic.

DUBLIN LETTER ON HOME RULE MATTERS

The Churchill-Redmond Meeting Arranged for Next Month in Belfast

A View of the Opposition to the Irish Parliament—The Attitude of the Orangemen—Churchill's Views on the Need of Home Rule in Emerald Isle

(By Timothy J. O'Connor.)

Dublin, Jan. 27.—It is certainly a very interesting announcement that Winston Churchill and John Redmond are to appear on the same platform at a meeting in Belfast, a few days hence, the assembling of parliament. The hall in which the demonstration is to take place is the largest in the House of Commons, the other in which occurred the memorable saying that "Ulster will fight and Ulster will be right."

A great deal has happened since that time. Two measures of home rule were introduced, one to be shipwrecked almost immediately by the veto in which occurred the memorable saying that "Ulster will fight and Ulster will be right."

This is a dispute by Sir Edward Carson and his friends. They point with satisfaction to the material condition of Ireland as greatly improved during these last years, and this is treated as proof-positive that home rule is not really wanted. As a fact, it proves nothing of the sort. Everybody is glad that the Irish people are more prosperous, but the amelioration of their lot has not in any way quenched their ardent desire to be allowed to manage their own local affairs. As it is, they have in an imperial parliament to ask for reforms which are at first rejected and then conceded.

The present opposition to home rule is largely a matter of stage thunder. The real difficulty lies in Ulster, or rather that portion which centres round Belfast. It is possible that a good deal of mischief may be done by Sir Edward Carson's organization and encouragement of Unionist and Orange resistance, but after all, the country people are going to submit to tactics which attempt to foist upon them a constitution which they have not been adequately consulted in the making.

Manfully the government are determined not to allow the election to vote on the question. Still worse is the declared intention of the government to stifle discussion in the House of Commons during the coming session, on the plea that they must deal with home rule. Welsh disestablishment and manhood suffrage. These momentous subjects will be discussed under a suspended constitution, in which there is probably no method of compelling appeal to the country. I say 'probably' because it may be that the House of Lords will have the courage and I hope they will—of meeting unconstitutional methods by drastic action. No one desires such a course, but it would be an honorable one, and the Lords need not shrink from taking it. The years have still the power of blocking legislation, and if the people are behind them they may be prevailed upon to do so.

At Ballymena, County Antrim, an interesting development has occurred. In that town there is a body called the Reform Association, which has hitherto been looked upon as an adjunct of the Ulster Liberal Association, but a serious split has occurred in the ranks. At a meeting of the Reform Association it was proposed that the organization be affiliated with the Liberal Association. The resolution was strongly opposed by several of the leading members, who, although protesting their sympathy with some points in the Liberal programme, declared their opposition to home rule. The motion was, however, carried, whereupon the president, A. J. Parker, who has been for a long time associated with the body, declined reelection as chairman. His action was supported by a number of others of the same mind.

Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the meeting, however, was the speech delivered by the new chairman, J. Dineen. Although it had been decided to affiliate with the Ulster Liberal Association, the chief plank in the programme is home rule. Mr. Dineen said that, although he was in favor of the principle of self-government for Ireland, he believed that it would not be to the best interests of the country that North-East Ulster should be associated with the rest of Ireland in this measure. To his mind the only possible solution was a parliament for Catholic Ireland, and one for the four or five counties of North-East Ulster.

It was taken as a whim, it was found that it was greater in wealth, population and trade than the Dominion of New Zealand, or than all white South Africa, was only slightly less than New South Wales or Victoria, and a greater than any of the nineteen states of the United States, and much greater than either Queensland or South Australia. He believed that it would be better for the peace and prosperity of Catholic Ireland if such a distressing factor as Protestant Ulster were removed from its deliberations. The near approach of the introduction of the home rule bill has increased the curiosity to know what attitude would be adopted by the Independent Orange Order. This curiosity ought to be satisfied by the resolution passed by one of the strongest contingents of the Independent Orange Order, the Port Glennon district lodge, who members declare their unwavering opposition to home rule, which they maintain would confer further powers on the Catholic church, thereby endangering the cause of Protestantism. The meeting at which the resolution was passed was attended by delegates from individual lodges, so that the declaration of policy ought to end any uncertainty as to the attitude of the Independent Orangemen on the great question of the day for Irishmen.

Churchill's Views. The Clarendon message states that the blankets which Lord Oramore and Brown distributed among his poorer tenants as Christmas presents were later collected and taken to Ballinadee, where they were counted, packed into a bale, and addressed to Castle MacGarrett, the residence of his lordship. The bulky package was despatched by rail to the consignee, and here on one side of the world, from the Ballinadee Branch of the United Irish League. While the parcel was being made up and conveyed to the station, cheers were repeatedly given for the league.

Churchill's Views. London, Jan. 27.—The need for Irish home rule is stated by Mr. Winston Churchill in an introduction to a new edition of "Home Rule in a Nutshell," by Jeremiah MacVeagh, M.P. The House of Commons writes Mr. Churchill, "is overwhelmed with united business. Home Rule will relieve it. The British parliamentary system, but not sufficiently representative of the local and provincial life of the nation. Home Rule will be achieved by opening other roads to political distinction, notably English. New and virginal pulses will begin to beat, and the new nerve of the higher organism will spring into life. There is no solution of a political question which does not give more satisfaction than the grant of home rule through all the self-governing dominions of the British Empire. We must now, Lord Salisbury is his last great speech reminded us, expect that the vast developments which the mind forges are in place within the compass of our own short lives. But still it must always be a guiding star of the Statesman, not only to federate that empire, but to draw nearer in bonds of friendship and affection to the people of the United States."

The recommendation of the English and the Irish people is all that is needed to still the last voices of antiquated hostility. The road to the unity of the English speaking races, with all that carries with it, is, no doubt, a long one, and we cannot see the end of it. But it is an open road, and an Irish parliament, loyal to the crown and free to make the best of the Empire, is assuredly the first milestone upon it."

ARMY OFFICER SPEAKS. Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss, U. S. A., of Fort Totten, will speak before the annual meeting of the Military Service Institution of the United States at New York to-night on "Mobilization and Manoeuvre."

New English Beauties Peel Their Faces. (From Society World.) "While abroad recently I could not help observing that the average Englishwoman's complexion is far more beautiful than that of the average woman of our country," says Mrs. Scott, secretary of the National Health-Culture Society. "Making inquiries several intimate friends in London confided to me that they regularly used on their faces what is commercially known as mercurized wax. I do not know whether the habit is general there, but I do know that this wax has wonderful rejuvenating properties, for I've tried it myself. "If you will get an ounce of this mercurized wax at your drug store and apply it before the annual meeting of the Military Service Institution of the United States, your glowing cheeks their first resemblance to the remarkable transparent beauty of the Englishwoman's complexion. This wax gradually peels off the lifeless scarf skin in tiny, almost imperceptible flakes, revealing the fresh new skin underneath, pinky white, with the bloom of youth and health."

How a Chemist Ended Corns

Some years ago a chemist discovered a way to loosen corns. He embodied the discovery in a drop of wax. And we invented this Blue-jay plaster to apply that wax.

Since then this little plaster has ended fifty million corns.

You apply it in a jiffy, and the pain of the corn ends at once.

Then the B & B wax gently loosens the corn. In two days the whole corn comes out.

Not a moment's discomfort. You forget you have a corn, until it has gone for good. Nothing else acts like this. Think how easier it is to pare a corn, just to ease it for awhile.

Think what folly it is to risk the infection which comes from a slip of the blade.

This little plaster, while you work or sleep, takes out the corn completely. Try it today and see.

A in the picture is the soft B & B wax. It loosens the corn.
B protects the corn, stopping the pain at once.
C wraps around the toe. It is unswayed to be comfortable.
D is rubber adhesive to fasten the plaster on.

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for the weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for widowhood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good." It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cure. Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 10 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers, in handsome cloth-binding, 50 stamps. ### KUBELIK IS FAITHFUL IN DAILY PRACTICE

Violin Virtuoso Works Even When Traveling in Railway Train

(Times' Special Correspondence)
New York, Jan. 26.—Few great artists are as faithful in their daily practice as Jan Kubelik, the Bohemian virtuoso of the violin, who will be heard in this city soon. He is now making his farewell tour of the United States and Canada, and he has already traveled thousands of miles since last fall.

As may be imagined, the distinguished violinist is often compelled to practice under trying conditions due to continuous travel necessary in fulfilling his numerous concert engagements. So faithful is Kubelik to his practice that even when his train is rushing along at a high rate of speed he devotes the necessary time to his daily work.

"I find that unless I do a certain amount of daily work in my sleeping car, I am not satisfied," said Kubelik. "But even so I take keen delight in going over my scales and other technical studies, and in making more perfect the compositions I am to play in public."

"Will you please send me a book on drink, also circulars relating to your valued remedy for the drink habit. I wish to hand these to a friend who is going to ruin through drink. You will remember that I have taken your remedy and I find it all you claim it to be. I never think of taking or using strong drink in any way, as all desire for it has left me. I cannot speak too highly of your wonderful remedy. You may use my name in any way you wish in public."

H. LILYWHITE, Bridge, Ontario.

Samaria Prescription is tasteless and odorless, and dissolves instantly in tea or coffee, or can be mixed with food. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge. It removes the craving for drink, builds up the system and restores the nerves. Drink becomes distasteful and even nauseous.

Drink is a disease, not a crime. One drink of whiskey always invites another. The inflamed nerves and stomach create a craving that must either be satisfied by more whiskey or removed by scientific treatment like Samaria Prescription. Samaria Prescription has been in regular and successful use by Physicians and Hospitals for over ten years.

If you know of any family needing Samaria Prescription tell them about it. If you have a husband, father or friend that is drifting into drink, help him save himself. Write today.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription booklet giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for one without any obligation. #### Family of Ten in Montreal Driven to the Wall in Effort to Get Along

(Montreal Witness)

Lying on the bare floor in a room without furniture or bed, and no heat or light except what was given by the feeble rays of a candle, the police of No. 12 station who were summoned at nine o'clock last night to 285 St. Urbain street, discovered Aleck Barbalatt, 20 years of age, in a state of collapse, due to hysteria.

The youth at this time was unconscious, and Mrs. Orenstein, a neighbor on the floor below, was trying to give him relief.

M. Orenstein, living at 907 St. Urbain street, in speaking of the matter, said that the circumstances of the case were peculiarly sad. He and his family had not been intimate with the people above them beyond passing the time of day with them if they met on the steps. The Barbalatts came to Montreal from New York last fall, and from the first appeared in some what straightened circumstances. From what Mrs. Orenstein learned from the woman upstairs, she and her husband came from Russia four years ago with a comfortable sum of money, which she said had gradually disappeared in New York. The father, Joseph Barbalatt, had neither profession nor trade, and with what was left of his capital came with his family to Montreal, and since his stay in the city was not able to get employment. The family numbers ten children, the eldest of whom is the boy who was conveyed to the hospital and he was doing his best to support the family.

Mr. Orenstein said that about a month ago Joseph Barbalatt left home, his destination was not known to him. A short time later his married daughter came up to Montreal from New York, and she and her child remained with her mother. About two weeks ago Mrs. Barbalatt left for New York, her married daughter being in the house to look after the children. Yesterday morning Mrs. Orenstein, the neighbor was surprised to see men taking the furniture from the house, and throughout the day said that there were many collectors calling. She went inside to investigate and discovered that the gas had been cut off, that there had been no fire in the house, and that the furniture being bought on the installment plan, no one of the children in the house told her, had been taken away—not so much as a chair remained.

Last evening the married sister left the house. After her departure the youth was taken ill, the children came down and told the Orensteins about it, and the boy Benjamin was sent over to No. 12 police station to have the ambulance called. There were six boys left, the young girl of four years of age being taken to New York when the mother went away.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The Franco-Italian incident arising from the seizure of the French steamer Manoubi and Carthage by Italian war vessels was settled today satisfactorily to both nations. This agreement was made tonight at the close of a meeting of the cabinet, which, after examining the terms of the agreement, approved the terms of the notes agreed upon by Camille Barriere, the French ambassador at Rome, and the Marquis Di San Giuliano, Italian minister of foreign affairs, which will be published in Rome by the Italian government.

Halifax, Jan. 26 (Special).—The hockey match in Halifax tonight brought something of a surprise when the Crescents defeated the Socias by a score of 10 to 4. The Crescents had the "McDonalds" who arrived by the express only an hour before the match began. The Socias played a light game, the players who were fairly good account of themselves. The Socias defeat was partially because of a weakened team, several of their best players being disabled or off.

The hockey team picked from the different patrols of the Boy Scouts in the city was defeated by the Redheugh school second team last night in Queen's Rink by the score of 8 to 2. The Redheugh boys employed their opponents, J. McGowan for the losers and Hunter and Carter for the winners, put up a good game. The teams lined up as follows:

TO APPEAL MOVING PICTURE DECISION. Independent Makers of Films Say They Will Carry Fight to Supreme Court. The fight between the licensed moving picture manufacturers and the independent makers for supremacy in the motion picture field, begun three years ago, has reached an acute stage. A number of the independent manufacturers met and outlined a plan of action with a view to contesting the recent decision of Justice Waddell P. Stafford of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, awarding judgment to the Motion Picture Patent Company against the Chicago Film Exchange, which on its face is called a complete victory for the so-called moving picture trust. It was decided to appeal to the United States Supreme Court, the independents resolving to make their last stand against their competitors.

THE HOCKEY TROUBLE IS ALIVE YET

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—Ottawa will defy the N. H. A. tonight and not only play Fred Taylor, who was suspended yesterday for playing against the Wanderers on Wednesday night, but go on the ice with seven players. "The six-man game is farcical," declared L. N. Bates of the Ottawa club today and Mr. Lichtenstein had better bring up seven players. We will use Taylor on the defence and Walsh, Darragh, Roman, and Kerr on the line. The seven man will be back inside of a week, and we will probably take the first step in that direction by using seven men tonight. The N. H. A. and Mr. Lichtenstein do not seem to have comprehended the fact that the Ottawa club has all along held the key to the professional situation. Other officers of the Ottawa also declared this morning that they would, in all probability, force the N. H. A. constitution, by refusing to go on the ice without seven players.

ALL NIGHT IN ELEVATOR

A Bookkeeper's Rather Trying Experience

A bookkeeper in an uptown dry goods store had a trying and rather unpleasant experience night before last, being compelled to remain in the building all through the night, with only an elevator as his sleeping place, and being released from his uncomfortable position only on the arrival of the porter early yesterday morning.

The bookkeeper had taken the elevator a few minutes after closing time at six o'clock, after clearing the books from his desk, intending to go downstairs by this means, instead of by the stairway. In future he thinks he will take the stairs, for he realized in the weary hours that the elevator boy is not the only one in this world to have his "ups and downs."

The "lift" became unmanageable when between floors, so that it could neither be moved up nor down, but its occupant could see the bottom of the floor above and the top of the floor below, both of which appeared rather tempting, but he was unable to gain either because of his means of conveyance being stationary. After several attempts he gave up, and remained penned up in the elevator, wearily counting the hours until there appeared in the top of the elevator shaft the first thin grey streaks of the dawn of yesterday, at which time he was greatly relieved. But his relief was more hearty when he heard the footsteps of the janitor and he was soon extricated from his unappreciated "bondage."
