

It will be of course necessary, in order to the legal establishment of the new system, to have the sanction of the Crown; and I cannot allow myself to suppose that there will be any difficulty on the part of Her Majesty's Government in doing what is necessary to give legal effect to these arrangements, by which the Church may make full and effectual provision, as far as relates to her government and discipline, for the spiritual wants of her distant dioceses, without any additional burden upon the State.

With regard to the amount of money, which will be required for effecting the purpose which we have in view, although I am not prepared to say that I do not think it will be as large as some persons have supposed, we must be content to endeavor our new scheme of dioceses with a very moderate provision sufficient to secure a comfortable maintenance for the bishops upon a reasonable scale of respectability and comfort with some allowance for their travelling expenses.

It has also nothing of the probability which exists, that if the Church of England were to be reformed, it would be a source of strength to the world, where her distant children desire still to repose under the shade of her branches, other kind Episcopal Churches may desire to imitate her example, and to have the same advantages which she possesses, and which she has so justly earned.

With the deepest respect,
Your Grace's most attached and faithful servant,
C. J. LONDON.
London, 24th April, 1840.

This Society has made a grant of £10,000 towards the fund.

COMMUNICATIONS.

FOR THE CHRONICLE.

John Gape's Communication on the Appropriation of the Session of 1840.

Dear Editor.—So many weeks have elapsed since I had the pleasure of seeing you in your dear No. 8, that I have been quite afraid, that you would consider me as once more dead, buried, or worn out by my delirious fits. I beg to assure you, however, that I am still alive, and determined to go on to the end of the chapter. The reason of my absence is, that I have been out of the country, and I had a great desire for an interview with the Governor General, and tried very hard to find a suitable opportunity for it while he was here, but during his stay he was so closely watched, that the special purpose, as I believe, of preventing my getting near him, that all my endeavors proved unavailing.

THE CHRONICLE.

THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, AUGUST 21, 1840.

ROYAL MAIL STEAMER ACADIA.—This new and beautiful vessel arrived at Halifax on Saturday last, in 10 days and 16 hours from Liverpool, and at Boston in 26 hours from Halifax, performing the whole voyage (including the stoppage of seven hours at the latter place) in twelve days and a half, being the quickest passage ever made from Liverpool to the United States. The Acadia left Liverpool on the morning of the 4th instant, and brought on board the 31. The Acadia's Mail reached Boston on Monday, but the mail for New-Bruns- wick did not arrive at St. John until Wednesday last.

The chief topic of political information is the apparent disagreement between the English and French governments on the affairs of the East—England, Russia, Austria and Prussia having agreed to a settlement of the Eastern affairs without the cooperation of France, who has given great offence to the latter nation, who, in consequence, has assumed a threatening attitude and looks somewhat warlike; but we cannot discover any serious grounds for believing that actual hostilities will take place.

At a Meeting of the Haverford Sured Music Society, held on Wednesday evening the 19th inst., the following persons were chosen Officers for the ensuing year:—Wm. Smith, President; Robert Westmoreland, Secretary; Daniel Smith, Treasurer; and Robert B. Denison, Director.

BOUNDARY LINE.

The following is the concluding summary of the Commissioners' Report, presented to the British Government, by which it appears that the claims of the United States to the territory in question are fully borne out, and in strict accordance with the second article of the treaty of 1783.

It is concluded that the importance of the subject required would have admitted of the very short period allowed for our personal examinations of the disputed Territory, we have, however, by us, as long as the season permitted us to continue our investigations; nor were they disappointed in the result, which has been a source of great satisfaction to the British Government.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, AUGUST 21, 1840.

ROYAL MAIL STEAMER ACADIA.—This new and beautiful vessel arrived at Halifax on Saturday last, in 10 days and 16 hours from Liverpool, and at Boston in 26 hours from Halifax, performing the whole voyage (including the stoppage of seven hours at the latter place) in twelve days and a half, being the quickest passage ever made from Liverpool to the United States.

The chief topic of political information is the apparent disagreement between the English and French governments on the affairs of the East—England, Russia, Austria and Prussia having agreed to a settlement of the Eastern affairs without the cooperation of France, who has given great offence to the latter nation, who, in consequence, has assumed a threatening attitude and looks somewhat warlike; but we cannot discover any serious grounds for believing that actual hostilities will take place.

At a Meeting of the Haverford Sured Music Society, held on Wednesday evening the 19th inst., the following persons were chosen Officers for the ensuing year:—Wm. Smith, President; Robert Westmoreland, Secretary; Daniel Smith, Treasurer; and Robert B. Denison, Director.

BOUNDARY LINE.

The following is the concluding summary of the Commissioners' Report, presented to the British Government, by which it appears that the claims of the United States to the territory in question are fully borne out, and in strict accordance with the second article of the treaty of 1783.

It is concluded that the importance of the subject required would have admitted of the very short period allowed for our personal examinations of the disputed Territory, we have, however, by us, as long as the season permitted us to continue our investigations; nor were they disappointed in the result, which has been a source of great satisfaction to the British Government.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, AUGUST 21, 1840.

ROYAL MAIL STEAMER ACADIA.—This new and beautiful vessel arrived at Halifax on Saturday last, in 10 days and 16 hours from Liverpool, and at Boston in 26 hours from Halifax, performing the whole voyage (including the stoppage of seven hours at the latter place) in twelve days and a half, being the quickest passage ever made from Liverpool to the United States.

The chief topic of political information is the apparent disagreement between the English and French governments on the affairs of the East—England, Russia, Austria and Prussia having agreed to a settlement of the Eastern affairs without the cooperation of France, who has given great offence to the latter nation, who, in consequence, has assumed a threatening attitude and looks somewhat warlike; but we cannot discover any serious grounds for believing that actual hostilities will take place.

At a Meeting of the Haverford Sured Music Society, held on Wednesday evening the 19th inst., the following persons were chosen Officers for the ensuing year:—Wm. Smith, President; Robert Westmoreland, Secretary; Daniel Smith, Treasurer; and Robert B. Denison, Director.

BOUNDARY LINE.

The following is the concluding summary of the Commissioners' Report, presented to the British Government, by which it appears that the claims of the United States to the territory in question are fully borne out, and in strict accordance with the second article of the treaty of 1783.

It is concluded that the importance of the subject required would have admitted of the very short period allowed for our personal examinations of the disputed Territory, we have, however, by us, as long as the season permitted us to continue our investigations; nor were they disappointed in the result, which has been a source of great satisfaction to the British Government.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, AUGUST 21, 1840.

ROYAL MAIL STEAMER ACADIA.—This new and beautiful vessel arrived at Halifax on Saturday last, in 10 days and 16 hours from Liverpool, and at Boston in 26 hours from Halifax, performing the whole voyage (including the stoppage of seven hours at the latter place) in twelve days and a half, being the quickest passage ever made from Liverpool to the United States.

The chief topic of political information is the apparent disagreement between the English and French governments on the affairs of the East—England, Russia, Austria and Prussia having agreed to a settlement of the Eastern affairs without the cooperation of France, who has given great offence to the latter nation, who, in consequence, has assumed a threatening attitude and looks somewhat warlike; but we cannot discover any serious grounds for believing that actual hostilities will take place.

At a Meeting of the Haverford Sured Music Society, held on Wednesday evening the 19th inst., the following persons were chosen Officers for the ensuing year:—Wm. Smith, President; Robert Westmoreland, Secretary; Daniel Smith, Treasurer; and Robert B. Denison, Director.

BOUNDARY LINE.

The following is the concluding summary of the Commissioners' Report, presented to the British Government, by which it appears that the claims of the United States to the territory in question are fully borne out, and in strict accordance with the second article of the treaty of 1783.

It is concluded that the importance of the subject required would have admitted of the very short period allowed for our personal examinations of the disputed Territory, we have, however, by us, as long as the season permitted us to continue our investigations; nor were they disappointed in the result, which has been a source of great satisfaction to the British Government.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, AUGUST 21, 1840.

ROYAL MAIL STEAMER ACADIA.—This new and beautiful vessel arrived at Halifax on Saturday last, in 10 days and 16 hours from Liverpool, and at Boston in 26 hours from Halifax, performing the whole voyage (including the stoppage of seven hours at the latter place) in twelve days and a half, being the quickest passage ever made from Liverpool to the United States.

The chief topic of political information is the apparent disagreement between the English and French governments on the affairs of the East—England, Russia, Austria and Prussia having agreed to a settlement of the Eastern affairs without the cooperation of France, who has given great offence to the latter nation, who, in consequence, has assumed a threatening attitude and looks somewhat warlike; but we cannot discover any serious grounds for believing that actual hostilities will take place.

At a Meeting of the Haverford Sured Music Society, held on Wednesday evening the 19th inst., the following persons were chosen Officers for the ensuing year:—Wm. Smith, President; Robert Westmoreland, Secretary; Daniel Smith, Treasurer; and Robert B. Denison, Director.

BOUNDARY LINE.

The following is the concluding summary of the Commissioners' Report, presented to the British Government, by which it appears that the claims of the United States to the territory in question are fully borne out, and in strict accordance with the second article of the treaty of 1783.

It is concluded that the importance of the subject required would have admitted of the very short period allowed for our personal examinations of the disputed Territory, we have, however, by us, as long as the season permitted us to continue our investigations; nor were they disappointed in the result, which has been a source of great satisfaction to the British Government.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

It is also stated that the somewhat complicated history of this controversy might in some able hands, have been treated with greater ability, yet it is not to be denied that the Report is the result of a very able and judicious examination of all the materials of the case. It is to be regretted that the Report is not more complete than the importance of the subject required, and that it is not more fully supported by the evidence which has been collected.

