SHORTAGE OF FUNDS IS THE CHARGE

Collector of Customs for This Port Arrested Tuesday Evening.

Charged with defalcation of funds said to approximate $2,400, Chester B. Fairley, collector of customs for the port of Campbellton, was placed under arrest here Tuesday night. The arrest followed a visit to Campbellton by John Macdonald, of St. John, Inspector of Customs and excise for the New Brunswick district. SEASON BACKWARD
The lobster fishing season opened on Saturday, April 26th, but so far, it is reported, actual fishing has not yet commenced. The prevailing easterly winds have kept the ice in the Bay and thus hindered the fishermen.

The Discipline
The discipline at Camp Chaleur will also be something that will be given special consideration. The system of keeping proper order and maintaining clean and regular habits among the youthful campers will not be unnecessarily strict but every arrangement has been made to do away with all harmful habits while the boys are on their outing. One of the rules bars the use of coffee, tea or cigarettes.

To Be Permanent
The Rev. Dr. E. Thompson of the First Presbyterian Church of Charlottetown, Prince George's County, P. E. I., who is quite well known in the Bay Chaleur district. During the winter of 1923 Mr. Taylor was an inmate of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital here for nearly two months while suffering from blood poisoning. During his convalescence he thought out a plan to establish a summer resort of this kind for boys and on his return home, set about to work out his idea. His ambition this year is to introduce Camp Chaleur to parents everywhere who wish to send their boys to a good summer camp in some desirable locality where they will be assured of an enjoyable holiday.

ALEX. P. MITCHELL RETIRES TODAY

Was 42 Years in Railway Service—Presentation by Local C. N. R. Staff Yesterday

The office of Divisional Superintendent W. R. Fitzmaurice was the scene of a pleasant function yesterday afternoon when the staff of the local C. N. R. offices presented Mr. Alexander P. Mitchell, who retires today after forty-two years service in the employ of the Railway, with a handsome club bag and a very appropriate address which showed clearly the high regard in which Mr. Mitchell was held by his fellow employees. The presentation address was read by Mr. Fitzmaurice, Divisional Superintendent of the Canadian National Railways at the point, under whom the retiring gentleman had worked for nearly twelve years. The address incidentally paid a tribute to Mr. Mitchell's splendid service and expressed hearty wishes for the enjoyment of such a well earned rest. Mr. Mitchell deeply appreciated this kindness and replied in very fitting words.

Mr. Mitchell, who is well and favorably known here retires from the employ of the Canadian National Railways with a long and faithful record of service behind him. He entered the railway service in the Accounts Department in the Moncton office in 1882 under the late J. R. Fraser. Since that time Mr. Mitchell has served under different officials. Several years ago he was promoted to the Mechanical Accounts Department and worked for some time under Superintendent H. A. Whitney.

Mr. Mitchell has been a resident of Campbellton for twelve years and during that time has made a host of intimate acquaintances who will be sorry to learn of his departure. He was deeply interested in fraternal societies and while here has been a prominent member of the Oddfellows, Masons and Orange Lodges. Mr. Mitchell leaves shortly on two months leave of absence provided by the President Fund of the railway and will take an extended trip before going on the superannuation list. He will be followed by the best wishes of many friends.

BRIEF SKETCH OF TOWN'S PROGRESS

Campbellton has Seen Remarkable Growth During Last Twenty Years Despite Disaster of 1910.

In view of the fact that today, May 1st is the twentieth anniversary of the present owners' acquisition of the Graphic printing establishment, it is only fitting that at least a brief synopsis should appear in our present issue. Just how remarkable that progress has been and be readily realized by considering the town's present status in a comparative way and with a retrospective glance back across the years in contemplation of the outstanding events of a progressive significance which go to make up local history. When it is remembered that the town was, on two occasions, almost annihilated by fire, its progress stands out all the more prominently as an example of the enterprise of its citizens.

Some Early History
In the early days of its history Campbellton was called Martin's Point after Captain Martin who established a sawmill building yard (Continued on page eight)

Twenty Years of Progress

(By The Town Clerk)

During the last twenty years the Town of Campbellton has enjoyed a remarkably steady growth, and in looking back over the period one sees many evidences of progress, in spite of the serious set back occasioned by the great fire in 1910.

In 1904 Campbellton had a population of about 2500, while to-day that amount has been increased to nearly 7000.

Twenty years ago the total amount assessed upon the town for all purposes was $15,000, considerably less than the amount assessed this year for Public Property and Streets alone. This year the total amount is $118,750.

The total receipts at the town office twenty years ago was $30,459.65. Last year the amount reached the large total of $155,192.10, over five times that of 1904.

In 1904 the records show that the town was supplying electric current to 801 customers, with a total revenue therefrom of $8,218.21. Last year the number of customers had increased to over 1000, with a total revenue of $54,376.07, or nearly seven times greater than in 1904.

TWO SCHOONERS ARE BEING FITTED OUT TO FISH OFF LOWER GASPE COAST THIS SEASON

Largest Vessels Ever Built for Fishing Service in These Waters—Both Crafts to Have Auxiliary Power—One Goes into Commission To-day—Being prepared for Season's Activities at Anse au Beaulieu, Gaspé County.

The announcement that two auxiliary schooners are being fitted out to engage in halibut fishing in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and off the lower Gaspean Coast this season is an item of considerable interest in view of its significance as being indicative of a revival of the one-time extensive halibut industry along the upper Atlantic coast. These two vessels are being prepared for the seasons activities by the Wick Fisheries Ltd., an Upper Canada firm. One it is understood goes into commission to-day and the other on June 1st. Each of these schooners is of semi-knock-about type, 30 feet overall, 70 foot waterline, 18 foot beams and equipped with auxiliary power. One will have a 30 H. P. gasoline engine, the other equipped with a large crude oil engine.

These vessels will be the first large vessels ever built for Gaspe Coast fishing of this kind. Each will carry six dories and will be provided with electric equipment. They will, it is understood, be manned by a crew of Nova Scotia fishermen. Halibut, which is a fish native to the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, is a fine food fish and is becoming more and more popular as an item on the bill of fares. Years ago however halibut was not considered of much account as an edible sea product and the fishing was engaged in only along the Atlantic coast. Latterly, however, when the Eastern demand grew and the supply lessened, halibut handlers turned to the Pacific to supply the market. There for a time the fish was taken in vast quantities but intensive fishing resulted in the depletion of the coastal waters and the vessels were obliged to make longer trips and go farther afield. Nowadays halibut are brought down from Alaskan waters but there too, the fish is not so plentiful as formerly. Halibut fishing on the Atlantic has never attained the proportion of the West Coast industry, but at one time it yielded catches of considerable volume, and a numerous fleet fitted out for halibut. Good catches were made on the eastern banks around the Nova Scotia and Newfoundland coasts and in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Halibut fishers sailed from Gloucester and worked the grounds through the straits of Belle Isle.

The following figures show something of the great decline in halibut fisheries in the opening years of the twentieth century and also the increase in this industry during recent years.

1879—14,637,000 lbs.
1895—10,222,342 lbs.
1917—1,166,064 lbs.
1922—5,624,148 lbs.

HOSPITALS PLAY A VITAL PART

National Hospital Day Movement a Great One—Hospitals do Great Work

Few people recognize that the hospital as we know it is a large measure an American institution. Hospitals originally were places for the destitute, almshouses in fact, for the care of the poor, but the great modern hospital is in no small measure an American institution, developed in America, patronized by all classes of society, recognized as a proper place for the seriously sick, regardless of position or class. In America the hospital has come to play such a vital part in the work of our communities and in the lives of the individuals composing our communities that it becomes the privileged prerogative of good citizenship to study and know the health needs of the community as expressed in terms of hospitals and hospital equipment.

We have witnessed during the last twenty years a remarkable drop in the annual death rate per thousand of our population from such diseases as typhoid fever, measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, tuberculosis, and pneumonia. We have seen yellow fever successfully fought and practically eradicated, though by no means eradicated from the world, for it must still be carefully watched. We have seen smallpox, plague and typhus and many other diseases held in check, so that our hospitals today are available for those diseases and conditions that are unavoidable. The American hospital has fought valiantly for the lives of those who have come to it seeking aid. It has trained and taught those who have later gone out from its doors as nurses and doctors to continue the fight against disease. Every hospital is an institution built as a bulwark against disease. Every hospital is battling for the health of the people and is serving also as an instructor of the people. In this latter service its success is proportional to its personnel, its equipment, its contact with individuals and the ease with which it concentrates the latest triumphs of surgery and medicine, the newest tools of research and the most highly trained specialists in every disease.

Some Questions For Your Community
How many of you listening to this broadcast know what the hospital facilities of your community are? How many of you know whether these facilities are adequate or inadequate? How are your local hospitals operated and controlled? What provisions are made for the care of city or charity patients? What do you know about the wards in your hospitals? Do you know how many beds are available? Do you know whether the rooms are light and well ventilated? Do you know what sanitary facilities are provided? Do you know how cases are treated in your hospitals? Do you know how contagious diseases are handled in your town or your city? Are there funds to equip your hospital properly? Do you ever visit your hospitals?

Hospitals Are Your Institutions
These are questions which every citizen may ask with propriety. These are questions and answers to which every citizen should know. One of these days the doors of your hospital may close behind you and you may learn at first hand of the needs of your hospital and the lack of adequate facilities which it would have been far better for you to have learned when you were well and able to assist in providing such facilities as are lacking. On May 12, 1924, National Hospital Day, the doors of your hospitals will be thrown open to you and an invitation is extended to you to make yourself acquainted with the protective resources of your community. You can protect your future by taking advantage of National Hospital Day to investigate your hospital, by taking an active interest in seeing that the best equipment, the best and most modern methods of care and treatment are employed. This is the privilege which observance of National Hospital Day offers every citizen. It is not only a privilege but an opportunity for service to your community.

Found Relief by Taking Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a condition after the birth of my baby boy. I had terrible pains and backache, and was tired and weak, not fit to do my work and care for my three little children. One day I received your little book and read it, and gave up taking the medicine I had and began taking the Vegetable Compound. I feel much better now and am not ashamed to tell what it has done for me. I recommend it to any woman I think feels as I do."

Mrs. J. R. McMahon, 123 Harvey St., Chatham, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been used for years by thousands of women suffering from all kinds of ailments, such as irregularities, head, worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is because it is made up of such natural and pure ingredients, as well as by one woman talking to another. These women know, and are willing to tell others, what it did for them; therefore, it is surely worth your trial.

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lowell, Mass., for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Remedy Book, upon which is printed a letter from a woman who has been cured.

OBITUARY

Andrew Arsenault
The news of the death of the late Wm. Arsenault and his wife, the unexpected death of his brother, Andrew Arsenault, who resided in Summerside, was announced on Sunday evening.

The deceased was a very industrious man and was a general favorite with the old families of the neighbourhood. He was in his 70th year. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Lizzie Jones. The two brothers were sons of the late Pasture Arsenault, of Dalhousie, who is also favorably remembered by our old citizens. The funeral of the late Andrew Arsenault which was largely attended was held on Tuesday morning at the R. C. Church where High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. A. Hart. Interment in the R. C. cemetery.

SUCCESSFUL WHIST PARTY
On Tuesday evening, April 29th, a very successful Whist Party was held under the auspices of the R. C. Sewing Circle of Dalhousie, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elzinger, Adelaide St. Cards were played at seventeen tables and the receipts, which go to the new church fund, were over forty dollars. During the evening delicious refreshments were served.

The prize winners were: Ladies 1st prize, Miss Lena LaBelle; 2nd Mrs. Joseph Butler. Gent's 1st prize, Mr. Ed. Murphy, Campbellton, 2nd Mr. Geo. Gaudier.

The guests of the evening speak highly of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elzinger's hospitality and they are being congratulated on the nice amount realized for the new church.

MOONSHINE CAMP
FOUND NEAR BLACKVILLE
Thursday Inspectors Stewart and Quartermaster paid a visit to Blackville and vicinity. After a long tramp through the woods they located a real hooch mill. The owner, however, had been apprised of the officers' approach in time to destroy some of his output and to make a hurried escape. Several large casks and numerous jugs and bottles of the finished product, had been emptied. But several boilers, furnaces, etc., were secured as well as enough brew for a sample. The stove and other apparatus was demolished by the inspectors. The camp which had been built for the purpose was situated on a brook where plenty of good water was available. Charges will be laid later against several residents of that locality. The real operator had only recently finished a six months jail sentence for selling moonshine last summer. It is said this liquor was distributed among the woodmen and stream drivers travelling between Newcastle and Fredericton—Chatham Road.

SMALLPOX CASE
A case of smallpox and diphtheria in one house is reported from one of the settlements back of Lacquet River. The Board of Health are taking the necessary steps to prevent the spread of these diseases.

B. She leaves three sisters and several nephews and nieces to mourn. The sisters are Mrs. W. A. Desbriay of Toronto; Mrs. G. E. McLaughlin of Portland, Oregon; and Mrs. Edith Meade, of Chatham, England. She was a sister of the late Wm. S. DALHOUSIE SOCIAL CLUB
On Thursday evening one of the most enjoyable social events of the season was held in the Dalhousie Social Club rooms, when the Women of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital Aid Committee of Dalhousie, held a Whist. There was a good attendance and the ladies in charge were delighted with the financial result. The game of plain whist was interesting from beginning to end, and the score cards of local design, not one alike, were much admired. The prize winners were Mrs. Philippe Main and Mr. Allison Powell. Dainty refreshments were served.

The ladies in charge, were Mrs. S. T. Clifford, Mrs. Edgar Shirley, Mrs. Clifford McNeill, Miss Beatrice Taggart and Miss Elsie McNeill.

Since the last heavy rain storm and the appearance of bright sun, our streets are fairly dry, and bicycles, baby carriages, and other vehicles, are seen. The improvements that are being made to the Sydney Mill Co's plant are advancing quickly, and the 120 foot burner, which catches the steam of the generators on Adelaide St., is an encouraging sign for increased labour.

Mr. E. R. Gaudet, is having the "Queen Hotel" renovated, and the D. A. Stewart firm of Campbellton, have undertaken the work. Already the improvements present a fine appearance.

Mr. Wm. Arsenault, a respected citizen, who lived on the outskirts of Dalhousie, passed away on Saturday morning, after a long illness, aged 83. He was a descendant of one of the pioneer families of Dalhousie. He was the caretaker of the St. Ed River Steel Bridge. His funeral took place on Monday morning at the R. C. Church, where a Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. J. A. Hart. Interment was made in the R. C. Cemetery. There was a large attendance at the funeral. He is survived by his wife formerly Miss Silasas.

A man, who belonged to Gloucester Co., N. B., and who was acting strangely in the shiretown on Friday, causing some uneasiness to some of our citizens, was placed in the County Jail, by Policeman Brown, and the next morning he broke through the cell and went up stairs. Sheriff Blanchard, being absent, Mrs. Blanchard became alarmed and phoned the town authorities, who acted promptly and the policeman placed the prisoner in safe quarters. After communication was made with the Secretary-Treasurer of Gloucester Co., the stranger was taken to Bathurst, and lodged in jail, pending an examination by a Doctor.

Wants to Be Serious

YES! Ben Turpin is permanently cross-eyed, though his feet are not the monstrosities they appear when made up for the screen. Quebecers who discovered this when he and Mrs. Turpin stayed at the Chateau Frontenac recently were also surprised to find them a most modest, quiet, devoted couple, quite unlike the movie people one imagines.

The manner in which Mr. Turpin has risen supremely over the handicap of those famous eyes is an example of the courageous turning of an impediment to good account. "I love serious acting," said Mr. Turpin.

And still, in the face of all this, I haven't the leisure. So I do the next best thing—I make people laugh. Moreover, it's a pretty hard job being funny all the time. Often I feel more like crying. But I've got to make 'em laugh or my head will be chopped off."

Ben is an American of old stock but Mrs. Turpin is a French Canadian. Hence this was not by any means the first visit of the comedian and his wife to Quebec, but the trip on this recent occasion was somewhat in the nature of a pilgrimage from Los Angeles to the Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre.

St. Anne de Beaupre will again this year, be the Mecca of thousands of pilgrimages. The new basilica, work on which is being hurried as much as possible will not be ready for occupation for some two or three years yet, but the little wooden church which, since fire destroyed the old basilica, has housed the shrine, is serving a useful purpose and this summer will no doubt see many sticks and crutches added to the pile within its doors.

APPRECIATION

After twenty years association with citizens of Campbellton as manager of its leading weekly paper, we take this opportunity of thanking them for the great measure of co-operation given us in every way during that time. It was only by such co-operation that The Graphic has enjoyed its measure of prosperity and success. We hope that the coming year will see a greater measure of co-operation and consequent advancement of our town.

CANNOT BE TRUTHFUL

Of course every ratepayer who was in Campbellton in 1911 knows that the editor of the Tribune is uttering a deliberate falsehood when he states that the Graphic endeavored to put anything over on the Town Council when we purchased from the Electric Light department a quantity of building blocks which were on hand after the power house had been erected. Here are the facts, and these facts can be verified by Mr. M. M. Mowat, who was chairman of the Electric Light department, and Mr. H. G. V. Farrer, manager of that department. The Electric Light department, because of a mistake of the shippers, and some changes in the walls of the power house, had a large quantity of building blocks remaining on hand after the power house had been completed.

The proprietors of the Graphic had planned to erect a wooden building, but made a proposition to the Electric Light department to take the blocks off its hands at cost, including freight. The only condition being that the department use its influence with the manufacturers to have a large quantity of corner blocks, etc., shipped at once. This was done, and the quantity was shipped to the Graphic Limited, the freight paid by us and later the entire shipment was paid by draft from the manufacturer, so that the town did not figure in the proposition at all.

Later the town was paid for the blocks purchased from the Electric Light department, and nothing the Tribune said hastened the payment in any way. In fact before the wise Editor of our contemporary knew of the transaction the last block had been paid for.

The council of the day, as well as the manufacturers of the blocks were very glad to have these blocks taken off their hands as it saved the expense of loading them on cars and shipping them back to the factory or some other customer.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Matapedia Presbyterian Church
To The Editor,
The Graphic
Campbellton, N. B.

Sir: I should much appreciate the courtesy of your columns to make clear a matter which we believe there is a good deal of misunderstanding. That is, as to the reason for my leaving Matapedia. I would have considered very favourably staying on longer were it not that the Home Mission Funds of the Church are not strong enough to allow the Board in Toronto to continue the grant necessary for an ordained charge. Temporarily—till the Home Mission Funds improve again—Matapedia is receiving summer Student Supply. It is very gratifying to me, personally, that my successor is to be Wm. Theodore Cumming, of Pine Hill College, Halifax. Mr. Cumming is a promising young man, well educated, and has already done very good work as a Student Missionary.

The almost tragic shortage in the Budget Funds of the church as a whole has, in the first place, prevented my going to Korea, and now that same shortage has prevented my staying longer at Matapedia. The Church as a whole is going through a period of readjustment and things will come right again in time. Meanwhile, my sympathy and best wishes are with my very good friends of the Matapedia congregation, which includes Matapedia, Runnymede, Deseride, Western Brook, Robinsonville and Unashville. They have made splendid efforts to maintain a mission all the year round. I know of no congregation that has a better claim on support both from the Church Funds and from the community. I shall look forward to their increasing prosperity.

Yours truly,

F. YATES

Many Readers Of The Graphic Send In Anniversary Greetings

Below Appear Several Letters of Varied Commentary Received This Week—Many Others Crowded Out.

Campbellton, N. B.
April 23, 1924
Mr. H. B. Anslow,
Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Mr. Editor:

Permit me to extend to you my hearty congratulations upon your approaching 20th anniversary. I am sure it must be gratifying to you to know that your paper holds such a prominent position among the weekly publications of the Maritime Provinces. A newspaper can wield a very great influence in a community and I have always found The Graphic ready to assist in any good work especially during the war period when you so ably assisted those engaged in the various patriotic movements.

I trust that you and your good wife may thoroughly enjoy your trip to Europe and that you may long be spared to labour in the interests of our growing community.

Yours sincerely,
A. A. ANDREW

Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Sir:

I have been a constant reader of the "Events" and "Graphic" and I have found them very valuable publications. I am glad to know that you have had a well deserved success which I hope will continue. I hope Mr. Anslow and yourself will have a very pleasant trip to Europe and a safe return.

Yours truly,

Mr. H. B. Anslow,
Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Sir:

May I extend hearty congratulations to you, on this the 20th anniversary of your connection with the "Campbellton Graphic". I have been a subscriber to your paper continuously from its inception. I have always found your paper dealt fairly with any public question, and if the public will think back over the period of years in which the "Graphic" has served them as a news medium, they must admit that it has always been found to take its stand for the right where a moral question was concerned. In town affairs it has supported anything that was for the advantage of the Town of Campbellton as well as the three counties it serves.

Wishing yourself, personally, and the Campbellton Graphic continued success.

Yours truly,
H. J. CURRIE

Mr. H. B. Anslow,
Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Sir:

On this the twentieth anniversary of your venture into the journalistic field in this town permit me to offer my congratulations on the success you have attained since that time. An up-to-date and progressive newspaper is a matter of gratification to any community because it indicates an up-to-date and progressive town.

Personally I might say that since taking an active part in civic affairs I have always been impressed by your fairminded criticism, which has been of a constructive rather than a destructive nature. This to my mind is the very best kind of service a newspaper can render the community, and is not resented by public men of the right type.

Trusting that you and Mrs. Anslow will enjoy to the full your proposed trip to Europe and wishing you continued success, I am,

Yours truly,
N. C. McKAY,
Mayor.
Dalhousie, N. B.
April 29th, 1924

Mr. H. B. Anslow,
Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Sir:

Your circular letter dated 18th inst. asking for short letters from your fellow citizens giving an expression of opinion in coincidence with your anniversary of twenty years since you took charge of "Events" which was the first weekly paper published in the growing town of Campbellton, reached me this morning.

Pardon my return to my native town, Dalhousie, N. B., in 1901, I lived during nine years in the home of the late John Meagher, who represented the County of Bonaventure, under the Union of Upper and Lower Canada. Among the newspapers received by my late grand uncle, was the "Union Advocate", published by a Mr. Anslow in Newcastle, N. B., consequently the name Anslow was familiar to me, when I made my first appearance before the people of my native county in 1882.

I always took a deep interest in Campbellton's weekly papers, and I watched with pleasure the improvement and increased circulation of "The Graphic" during recent years. The appearance of your paper, its bright form, the principles of true citizenship it stands for, makes it a welcome weekly visitor in many homes. My knowledge of the country and people on both sides of the Restigouche River and Bale des Chaleurs, of course makes "The Graphic" doubly interesting to me. Its large circulation in the shiretown of Restigouche Co., demands weekly industry from your correspondents, who so far have shown good will.

I wonder at times if the people fully appreciate the value of a local newspaper to a town or community. The weekly newspaper, I firmly believe, especially fills an important place in the life of the community it serves. Dealing as it does with the every day affairs of the community, it wields an influence for improvement of which the larger outside journals are incapable. Bound up in the interests of the different localities, in which the paper has many readers, and even on the alert to advance and promote the welfare and prosperity of our home towns, villages and parishes, it is hard to realize why some people do not give the home paper the support it deserves.

I am looking forward to the day when "The Graphic" will be read in nearly every home in the Counties of Restigouche, Bonaventure and Gaspé, and with regular correspondents in each locality, the Home Weekly paper would be a welcome visitor not only to our own homes; but would be read in some too good, and you will have the best wishes of many, who will wish you "Un bon Voyage".

Yours very truly,
C. H. LABILLOIS
Campbellton, N. B.
April 24, 1924

Mr. H. B. Anslow,
Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Sir:

I wish "The Graphic" Many Happy Returns of its Birthday. It is a paper that deserves to live long and live prosperously. To me, the chief value of this weekly paper lies in its real interest in most community problems and in its staunch support of all true efforts to solve such problems. For instance, one can always count on the "Graphic" support of Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic, and on such questions it is not partial.

Were I to offer a mite of criticism I would suggest a little more care in type-setting to insure more accurate spelling. All the same, long live the "Graphic".

I wish the Editor and his good wife bon voyage, an enjoyable time sight seeing, a new appreciation of the glories of our mother country, and not least that they both may be better sailors than I have ever been.

F. E. BOOTHBYRD.
Campbellton, N. B.
April 21st, 1924

Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Sir:

For over eight years we have read your paper with interest and profit. We would place the "Graphic" in the front ranks of all well conducted weekly newspapers in our province, and we take this opportunity of thanking you for the many good things we have found in it. On all great moral issues, such as our fight against intemperance, we have had your sympathy and co-operation.

We join your many friends in wishing Mrs. Anslow and yourself a very happy trip to the Old Country and other important centres of interest in Europe which you are planning to visit.

After twenty years of journalistic service you deserve a holiday. We are sure that you will bring back to your readers many valuable suggestions and much helpful information as the result of this outing and we shall benefit by your trip abroad too, shall benefit by your trip abroad too, shall benefit by your trip abroad too.

Yours sincerely,
C. WELLINGTON CAMP
New Richmond, P. Q.
April 23rd, 1924

Mr. H. B. Anslow,
Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Mr. Anslow:

In answer to your letter concerning the "Graphic" can have only one response.

We could not do without the "Graphic". It comes into our homes bringing news of friends and neighbors, as well as the outside world. There is always space for whatever may be of interest to the Bala des Chaleurs country, whether of the early days of the pioneers or of the present. It always declares for right and the best interests of the people, whom it serves, and while fearless is also wise and moderate in its treatment. It is moreover impartial in its treatment of the country which it represents. Personally, I am glad of the opportunity to express my appreciation of the value the Graphic has been to me in my search for data of the early days of the Coast.

May the paper, which for twenty years has served Restigouche and Gaspesia so faithfully live and prosper. With best wishes for a happy and enjoyable vacation in the lands beyond the sea, and a safe return. I am, Yours very truly,
Margaret Grant MacWhirter.
Campbellton, N. B.
April 30th, 1924

Mr. H. B. Anslow,
Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Sir:

On this the occasion of the Graphic's Twentieth Anniversary under its present management I wish to extend best wishes for its continued success. To my mind the Graphic is now a most enterprising newspaper, considering the handicaps under which the average small town weekly operates. In recent years particularly the Graphic has improved a great deal in appearance and, in other ways and I am sure all your readers will watch its progress with keen interest.

Mr. H. B. Anslow,
Editor, Campbellton Graphic,
Dear Mr. Anslow:

On my arrival at Ottawa, I found your letter of the 18th instant. Please let me congratulate you upon your good work done as "Manager" of "The Campbellton Graphic" for the past twenty years. It was always a pleasure for me, sometime ago, to read very carefully "The Graphic". I found in reading it great information on many important subjects, mostly on what would interest your readers of Restigouche County, and of the Northern part of the province of New Brunswick.

You and Mrs. Anslow are certainly entitled to a good vacation. I wish you both a happy trip across the Ocean.

I have the honor to be, Dear Sir, Yours very truly

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Fire Prevention Week, which is being observed throughout Canada this week, is being marked by some novel features in New Brunswick.

Realizing that one of the most important factors in the work of the fire department is the education of the citizen, the citizens of tomorrow, steps have been taken to have Fire Prevention Week schools.

With this end in view a specially prepared programme of lessons to be carried out in the public schools was sent out to all teachers through the News letter of the New Brunswick Junior Red Cross, which issued a special Fire Prevention Number. The teachers are thus expected to prove an important factor in influencing not only the children, but through the children the adult population.

The programme was so planned as to take up one phase of the subject each day from Monday to Thursday.

On Friday, a review and summing up on the subject of the programme will be made for every pupil, except the very youngest, to write an essay on "We Should Protect Forests and Why."

In this connection the prize competition on the subject stated; the essays are limited to 500 words in English or French and are to be sent to The Junior Red Cross, 100 Prince William Street, St. John, and the awards will be announced as soon as the judging is completed.

A novel feature in connection with the observance of Fire Prevention Week in New Brunswick this week has been the broadcasting of speeches by radio by Lieutenant Governor Todd and Premier Vautour.

SPLENDID SCHOOL RESIDENCE FOR GIRL STUDENTS AT NEW CARLISLE

New Building Is Two Storey and a Half Building 60x35—Has Its Own Electric Lighting Plant and Is Equipped With Every Modern Convenience—Accommodation for Thirty-five or More Girls.

With the completion of the splendid High School Residence at New Carlisle will undoubtedly begin an unprecedented period of progress in education on the Gaspe Coast, for it will solve a problem to many underprivileged girls in the Counties of Bonaventure and Gaspe who realize the advantages of advanced education but who have been deprived of it through circumstances.

The following article gives a full description of the splendid work recently completed and what it will mean to the protestant girls of the peninsula.

New Carlisle High School

(By Margaret Grant MacWhirter)

On October 2nd, 1915, the new Protestant Academy in New Carlisle was opened in the presence of a number of illustrious persons among whom were the Hon. Senator Mitchell, Hon. Walter Mitchell, Provincial Treasurer for Province Quebec; Hon. John Hall Kelly; Mr. E. A. Boulton, president; Mr. J. C. Sutherland, Inspector General of Protestant Schools, representing the Department of Public Instruction, Quebec; Rev. J. M. Sutherland, School Inspector for Bonaventure Co.; Rev. I. N. Kerr, School Inspector for Gaspe Co., representing His Lordship the Anglican Bishop of Quebec; Rev. Messrs Love, Vibert, and Gomerie, the School Commissioners and Secretary-Treasurer of New Carlisle; the Mayor and Municipal Councillors of New Carlisle; R. H. Montgomery, Esq., of New Richmond and Messrs. Walter Mitchell, J. H. Kelly, M. J. Kelly and other ladies.

The Academy is a beautiful, up-to-date building 60 x 67 feet, comprising a basement, two stories and an Assembly Hall on the top floor. The cost was $20,000; one half the amount was given by the Provincial Government, while the ratepayers were responsible for the balance.

The Academy was an educational necessity for the Gaspe Peninsula, being the only one on the coast. Here are young people of good ability in many instances deprived of opportunities of advancement through the distance from educational centres. The interest of parents and friends of advancement has been aroused and better advantages are being sought for the present generation of the Gaspe country.

For the most part the population of Bonaventure and Gaspe counties is found along the coast and up the rivers; this settled country is a strip extending over two hundred miles. In 1918 the population was 70,488, largely Roman Catholic. 233 Roman Catholics and 66 Protestant schools was the proportion. Inspector Kings' report for 1922-23 shows that the number has increased to 68, with 80 teachers.

These schools are of three classes, Elementary, Intermediate and High School, the grades ranging from one to eleven, inclusive. Grade ten is the qualification ordinarily required for entrance to Macdonald Training School for Teachers' Elementary class, while grade eleven admits to McGill, Dalhousie or any good University.

In the two counties there are seven Intermediate Schools, which are expected to meet the needs of the neighbouring school districts, and the High School at New Carlisle will not only grade ten, but bridge the gap between that grade and matriculation for the whole country.

In March 1923, a large and representative committee went to the government, asking for funds to assist in the improvement of the educational standing of the High School, and the repair of the property. $11,000 has been granted. But here occurs a serious drawback.

In the counties of Bonaventure and Gaspe few pupils living more than two miles from the Intermediate and High Schools can go beyond grade seven, as there are no boarding houses for pupils, and only a few can obtain board with private families, and moreover parents, hesitate to send their children where they are not assured of proper supervision outside school hours. Consequently although 686 children between 14 and 18 years of age were reported in 1919-20, only 96 were enrolled in grades eight, nine, ten and eleven. The High School at New Carlisle had only a small enrollment in the higher grades and few if any from outside the immediate vicinity.

The remedy is a residence for boys and one for girls at New Carlisle. The advantages of such homes, with reasonable board and properly supervised is very apparent, and would effect a wonderful change in these two counties. Ambitious children would have an opportunity to receive an education. Interest in learning would be aroused in those who hitherto had little if any idea could be prepared for the Teachers' Training School at Macdonald, and the current Protestant schools of Quebec be filled. Further, boys could be fitted for an agricultural, technical or professional course. The school municipality of Cox could not supply this need, neither could the Provincial Government do it, so the duty naturally falls to the two Protestant churches, viz., the Presbyterian and Anglican, each to build one.

This plan had the sanction of the Department of Public Instruction at Quebec. Dr. Parnes, wrote "It is hardly necessary for me to say that the idea is one with which I am in fullest sympathy. Arrangements of the kind are needed on the coast and in other parts of the province, and the co-operation of the churches, in the matter will be a service of the highest educational and social importance."

In December, 1921, Dr. Ross, Superintendent of Home Missions, (Eastern Division) of the Presbyterian Church came to New Carlisle in the interest of Home Missions, saw the situation, and recognizing the great need of higher, protestant education for the whole coast, proposed that the Presbyterian Church should assist by building a residence for girls coming from outside districts for higher education.

In due time through the Presbyterian application was made to the Home Mission Board for funds and $20,000 was granted. Thereafter the Women's Missionary Society (E. D.) undertook to assist in furnishing and maintenance. The grant from the church together with that from the W. M. S. will aggregate $25,000.

The erection of the School Residence was begun in July 1923 and by Christmas was actually ready for nineteen girls, the matron and maids.

Now it is completed and will accommodate thirty girls, and if necessary provision can be made for forty boarders.

The building is 60 feet long by 35 feet wide, comprising two and a half stories, and a basement. In the latter is the machinery room, (the engine, electric light plant, pumps and hot water heating apparatus), the laundry, for which is provided a rain tank with a capacity of four hundred barrels collected from the steel covered roofs. Shafting from the engine room into the laundry conveys the power while two separate boilers supply hot water for the kitchen and laundry respectively. The dining room will accommodate about thirty five persons.

On the main floor entrance is through a portico, supported on four columns, beautifully finished in Douglas Fir. On the left are the restrooms; apartments: A large private parlor and office combined, with sleeping room beyond. On the opposite side of the entrance hall is the main reception and study room, fitted with a fireplace, separate study table and lamps, etc., etc. All the rooms on this floor as well as the dining room have beautifully tinted shades for the electric lights.

On the main floor are four bedrooms for resident girls, large enough to accommodate two girls in each room. On the upper floor are three dormitories, capable of accommodating probably nine girls in each. There is an infirmary, bath-rooms, lavatories, dress-making room, toilets and linen closet. Large accommodations in the way of closet room is provided for each girl.

The attic will be most suitable for athletic exercises, until required for an over plus of girls. The entire building is heated with hot water, and electric light.

The building is most beautifully and conveniently constructed throughout. The best material has been used, and every care taken to have a substantial well-built house, above reproach. And the result is a large, handsome residence with all modern appliances and conveniences: A house in which girls should feel at home, and also proud to live. The site is admirable, being close to the High School on the hill slope behind and overlooking the beautiful Baie des Chaleurs, the situation from a scenic viewpoint leaves nothing to be desired. The large campus will add zest to the hours of recreation.

The conditions of admittance are exceedingly liberal; no question regarding denominational preference will be asked of any girl, excepting those of the Catholic faith, who will be asked to attend her own church services. Girls of the higher grades will be preferred, and will be listed in order of application. The rates to be charged are extremely low, and below cost and deficits will be met out of the funds of the church.

It is understood that His Lordship the Anglican Bishop of Quebec is ready to reimburse any costs beyond the amount paid for board incurred on account of Anglican girls, who may come into residence.

It is hoped, that this fine enterprise will finally be rounded out by building a residence for boys, and that some day the Anglican Church may see its way clear to build it.

The Girls' School Residence is ready for pupil boarders September, 1924. A matron will be in charge who will give conscientious, careful supervision to the young girls committed to her care.

Great credit is due to the thoroughly competent committee, who has in charge the building of the residence; the chairman, Mr. J. S. Gordon, manager of the Gaspeian Railway; Rev. J. P. McCurdy, Minister of New Carlisle and Mr. J. R. Hughes, Manager Bank of Nova Scotia, New Carlisle, Treasurer.

CAMPBELLTON PROVES VERY SUCCESSFUL

Many are joining N. B. Tourist and Resources Association.

Mr. C. C. Avard, of Sackville, President of the New Brunswick Tourist and Resources Association, announces that the campaign to enlist greater public support of the tourist movement is meeting with generous public response.

An effort is being made to secure new association members, the amount thus realized being devoted to a fund for advertising in American publications with a view to attracting summer visitors. The novel plan of issuing "baby drafts" for the amount of one dollar, the annual membership fee, was adopted. Some four hundred drafts were sent out to Montserratians who, it was believed, would be interested in the movement. About three hundred responded. In New-castle one hundred new members were secured. Chatham was equally interested, one hundred citizens of that town joining the Association. Over one hundred people in Milltown paid the membership fee.

The campaign is being carried on elsewhere. About seven hundred St. John people are expected in St. Andrews, Campbellton, Bathurst and Sackville.

The total number of new members, it is confidently believed, will be between 1,200 and 1,500.

A plan of co-operative advertising of tourist attractions is being worked out by New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

There is reported to be increased activity in support of the tourist traffic this year in three Maritime provinces.

BUYING AT HOME

The Windsor Tribune has some very pertinent remarks on the subject of "buying out of town" and it is reproduced here on account of its general application:—

The merchants are dressing their windows with new lines to convince the purchasing public that they can supply the local trade, and it is only fair to give them an equal chance.

Every organization in town desiring money appeals to the business community for support and rarely fails to get the cash, and yet in hundreds of instances leaders in these organizations from churches down consider it good business to spend their money with mail order houses or buy from retail hawkers who slip in and out of town without a license of any kind frequently without leaving more than 50 cents for a lunch. This is not as it should be. It is pure business extortion and a distinct violation of the principles underlying the brotherhood of man.

The merchants and manufacturers themselves are not wholly blameless although they are chief sufferers on account of being the heavy tax payers who are obliged to keep up all civic institutions. Orders are given to Montreal and Toronto hawkers for all kinds of dry goods, groceries and other supplies, even to lead pencils, stationery, job printing and other numerous items that could be obtained here at same cost. And even if they cost a trifle more in the matter of small items the merchants get their profit, so it is a fifty fifty proposition.

It is not unreasonable for the merchant requiring goods supplied by another local firm to want to buy in the cheapest market, but at least he might give the home dealer an opportunity of competing with the long distance retail runners from the western provinces. We have nothing to say that they want, hence we cannot trade on equal terms. Then why send the largest percentage of our hard earned cash to what, so far as we are concerned commercially, may as well be a foreign country?

NEW LOW RECORD FOR FAILURES IN THE DOMINION

Toronto, April 26—This week's failures were a new low record. Twenty-five commercial failures were reported throughout the Dominion during the week ended yesterday, compared with 62 for the same week of last year, according to the report of R. G. Dun and Company. Eight were reported from Ontario, seven from Quebec, eight from Manitoba and one each from Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan. British Columbia, Alberta, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island had no failures to report.

DENIES INTERVIEW

St. John, N. B., April 28.—That he had no intention of trying to create the impression that St. John and Halifax were carrying too much overhead in the matter of facilities for the handling of incoming citizens to Canada was the substance of a letter received this morning by the Board of Trade from R. A. Hoey, one of the Progressive members of the Parliament who were recently in the city.

Here and There

Earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the last ten days of March amounted to $4,490,000, as compared with $4,313,000 for the corresponding period a year ago. This is an increase of $176,000 or 4.2 per cent.

Immigration to Canada during the closing February, 1924, totaled 135,128, divided as follows: British, 67,028; from the United States, 19,190; from other countries, 48,992. This compares very favorably with 66,189 for the same period a year ago.

Forty pilgrimages to the famous shrine at Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec, have already been arranged for June, July and August this year. Over 200,000 visitors are expected for the season.

Although it has already spent $4,000,000 in drilling for oil in Alberta without any definite results, the Imperial Oil, Limited, proposes to keep at its development campaign, so F. J. Wolfe, director of market-making for the concern, states. Already the company's $2,500,000 refinery at Calgary has had the effect of keeping prices down, he says.

An important industrial enterprise has been added to the list in Montreal in the plant of the National Cement Company, which is being constructed in the Borneau district on the site of one of the largest deposits of raw material for cement in Canada. The first unit of the plant will have a capacity of 900,000 barrels per annum.

A total of 969 communities in Alberta are now served by the Provincial Government telephone system. The total number of phones served in the system is 67,279, of which 32,960 are exchange phones, 20,252 are rural phones and 1,065 are private party lines and 13,885 are connecting subscribers. There are 264 exchanges in the province, with 301 toll offices and 68 private party lines.

The growing importance of Canada's trade in the Pacific is reflected in the official statistics of the Vancouver Board of Trade for the month of December, 1923, which shows a substantial increase in shipping in that port over the same month in 1922. Total shipping through the port amounted to 434,432 tons, valued at $81,481,000, an increase over December, 1922, of 122,602 in tonnage and $2,708,078, in value.

Ten 10,000 Imperial gallon tenders, for use behind the P. I. type engines used in the Westerns mounted by the Canadian Pacific Railway, are being ordered from the Canadian Locomotive Company, Ltd., Kingston, by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

During the year 1924, 96 arrivals and departures on the St. Lawrence route, with its different services, to be made throughout the summer months by its popular motor-cabin and Express class steamers, will constitute the Canadian Pacific Railway's steamships. A combined tonnage of 197,000 gross tons will be in operation on the Atlantic under the Company's flag, the largest fleet of passenger ships in the world.

Canada's unfavourable trade balance with the United States is more than offset by her favorable trade balance with the British Empire.

According to trade figures of the United States for the year 1923, Canada's exports to that country were $280,000,000, as against $280,000,000 to the United Kingdom were $280,000,000, and the exports from Britain $165,000,000, a surplus of $200,000,000 on the side of exports.

BRIEF SKETCH OF TOWN'S PROGRESS

as the point. Afterwards however, it was renamed Campbellton in honor of Lord Campbell, Governor of New Brunswick. Campbellton was first settled in 1793 by John Duncan, a native of Aberdeen, Scotland. Duncan established a trading post at Church Point the first settlement in Restigouche County. Later other colonists came from Scotland and built homes for themselves in the wilderness of Northern New Brunswick. Some of the descendants of these first settlers are citizens of the town today.

In 1861, the village of Campbellton was almost destroyed by fire, only a few buildings escaping. The inhabitants, however, bravely set to work to rebuild their homes and life went on in much the same quiet way until the construction of the railroad through this part of the country was begun. The advent of the Intercolonial Railway was an epochal event in the commercial life of the town for it opened up the country for settlers and enhanced the opportunities for numerous industrial enterprises.

Incorporated in 1889

The town was incorporated in the year 1889, having at that time a population of fifteen hundred. The first mayor of Campbellton was John McAlister, a former M. P. for Restigouche County. With the incorporation of the town followed many improvements, the first having a water system, later the establishment of an electric light plant and, in 1902, a fairly modern sewerage system.

Disaster of 1910

The fire demon visited Campbellton for the second time on July 11th, 1910. To give a detailed account of the disaster is quite unnecessary for it would merely be the chronicle of a tragedy whose memory is recalled all too vividly by most citizens. At that time, Campbellton was a growing town bidding fair to become the leading commercial centre on the whole North Shore. It had three banks, five churches, two schools, a hospital and a fine post office and customs building. Besides the four town mills then located in the district there was also a wood working factory and two foundries. On Monday July 11th, 1910 Campbellton was a thriving town of about six thousand population and on the following morning it was a mass of smoking rubble and ruins of a conflagration that wiped out the entire town with the exception of some half dozen buildings, and left its inhabitants homeless, despoiled of their property. Despite the calamity that had befallen them, however, the people of Campbellton refused to forsake the locality in which they had taken up their abode. Rude temporary structures of all sorts rose from amongst the debris of the fire ruins.

The following winter was one replete with hardship for the inhabitants but with the arrival of spring the town began to rebuild with a rapidity that was amazing to behold.

Retarded by the disaster of 1910 Campbellton's growth and improvement in some respects may not have been so progressive as it would have been had the town not experienced such a serious setback but every year since that time has been marked by a perceptible measure of progress.

In recent years that progress has been more rapid and today Campbellton ranks as the leading industrial and commercial centre on the whole North Shore.

Campbellton's population is now near the seven thousand mark and both from a numerical and commercial standpoint it is rapidly rearing the status of a city. Four banks are now located here, the Royal Bank of Canada, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the Bank of Nova Scotia, and the Provincial Bank of Canada.

Campbellton has two large hospitals the Hotel Dieu and the Soldiers Memorial Hospital, both thoroughly modern brick structures of splendid appearance, the latter, completed in April 1923, being erected as a memorial to the soldiers of Restigouche and the Baie de Chaleur district who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War. In educational matters too Campbellton has kept abreast of the times. The town now has three fine educational buildings, all up-to-date brick structures of splendid appearance, a High School, a large public school and the Roman Catholic school.

In prominent business buildings the town has also kept abreast of the times. The most recent addition to this list is the Chateau Restigouche, a large and thoroughly modern hotel of seventy-one rooms, now nearing completion. In residential buildings too Campbellton ranks high many large residences of both brick and wood construction having been erected in recent years. In 1922 the town experienced a building boom, buildings aggregating to over a quarter of a million being erected in the summer of that year.

Civic Improvements

In civic improvements Campbellton has made truly remarkable progress in the past few years. The town now has an adequate water and sewerage system which will meet the towns needs for sometime to come; some three and a half miles of permanent concrete sidewalks, a fine Municipal Hall and Fire Station and the main street of the town laid with permanent pavement.

In the lumber industry too Campbellton has seen great development. In 1890 less than twenty million feet of lumber came down the Restigouche River while this year the lumber drive will amount to about one hundred and forty million feet.

One thing which will greatly enhance the continued progress of our town is the advent of hydro electric power. When once Campbellton is enabled to secure an adequate supply of electric energy there is no doubt but when even this enviable record of the past will be eclipsed.

A few Remarks

Just twenty years ago to-day the present manager of the Graphic took over the publishing business carried on in Campbellton by Mr. L. R. Williams, and with his brother the late Chas. W. Anglow, became the publishers of "Events" and later "The Campbellton Graphic" consequently for twenty years we have been interested in the destinies of this progressive town.

We shall never forget the thrills with which we watched our boys come forward in the late world war, until Restigouche for weeks led the whole province in the number of recruits sent to headquarters.

We shall always remember and be proud of the many patriotic demands.

One of the most precious treasures of the past twenty years is the loss in the fire of 1910 of all our files, so that we cannot refer back to facts of our paper previous to that date and consequently much valuable history is lost.

In closing we would like to express our thanks to our advertisers, the business people and the citizens of Campbellton for their generous interest and support during the past twenty years. We like to feel that we have helped a little in bringing about the success that our town has so far achieved and trust that in the future the Graphic may be enabled to prove of even greater help towards progress and development in our community.

BODY OF MISSING PATIENT FOUND AT POINT LA NIM

Joseph T. Albert, Patient in Local Hospital, Disappeared Dec. 7th last—Supposed to Have Committed Suicide While Temporarily Demented.

On Sunday, April 27th, the body of a man was found on the beach at Point La Nim, and Coroner Desbrow at Dalhousie was at once notified. Dr. Desbrow examined the body and concluded that the man was Joseph T. Albert, the patient who had disappeared from the local hospital on December 7th last.

Dr. Martin on Monday held an inquest at the police court. The hearing juryman were summoned: D. A. Kean, Nathan Gillman, Wm. Smith, Adelard Martin, Andrew J. Smith, Peter Deguire, W. H. Marquis, D. A. Kean was chosen foreman.

The following witnesses were examined and evidence given:—
Alphonse Boudreau, Sworn. I received telephone message from Dr. Pinsault 2 p. m., April 27, 1924, stating that there was a body of a man found on the shore at Point La Nim, Parish of Dalhousie, County of Restigouche, N. B. Body not known when found. Went down found body on shore and brought to Campbellton house afterwards at 6 o'clock, kept in Secretary room until today ordered to bring body to Police Station where I did. I identify the body lying here as the same body found at Point La Nim. Body unknown to me. There was Jean Faurie and several other neighbors present when body was picked up, who helped me. I don't know who first found the body.

Dr. Pinsault, Sworn and Stated. Yesterday, April 27, 1924 about 1:00 P. M., Dr. Desbrow of Dalhousie telephoned me saying that a body of a man had been found in the morning at Point La Nim. Dr. Desbrow had viewed the body and asked me if I could give mark of identification of the man who disappeared from Hotel Dieu Hospital last December 7, 1923. I said I could identify the body by an incision and drainage tubes in the skin of neck of Joseph T. Albert. I told Dr. Desbrow that likely this was Joseph T. Albert and on account of all witnesses being in Campbellton it would be better to have someone sent from Campbellton to bring the body here. For reason I also gave was to bring the body here to Campbellton as the relatives of body of man would come here. Dr. Desbrow consented to this and on being asked if he would come to Campbellton to hold the inquest he said he was too busy to lose one day and tell Dr. Martin, Coroner, to hold the inquest. Dr. Desbrow said also that he found nine dollars in the pocket on the body and tell Dr. Mar-

MAKE ICE OUT OF COMPRESSED AIR

New Method of Refrigeration Said to be Complete Success.

As a result of the success of the experiment carried out the other day with carbon dioxide gas, a new process for refrigeration, under the auspices of the Federal Government in conjunction with the West Air Corporation of New York City, word has been received in Montreal from New York that the Corporation are taking steps for the erection of a plant in Montreal, which will constitute the first of a chain which it is intended to build across the whole of the Dominion. It is anticipated that this new form of ice will revolutionize the present refrigeration system not only for refrigerator cars but for the transportation of fish, fruit, yeast and other perishable commodities. The West Air Corporation will also place on the market many other improved devices which have been perfected in which the new gas is used for domestic and commercial purposes. The car load of fish which was carried from Halifax to Montreal and delayed in opening for nearly three days in Montreal, and then opened by Federal Government officials, and important and influential representatives of the Fish Industry proved to be sound and in a perfect condition as if it had just been taken out of the water.

Mr. Walter S. Josephson, the vice-president and general manager, stated then in an interview that it was the intention of the Canadian West Air Corporation to erect manufacturing plants in various parts of the Dominion for the purpose of compressing carbon dioxide gas for refrigeration.

HELPING NEW BRUNSWICK

Some idea of the vast amount of work being done by the International Health Board of the Rockefeller Foundation is given by a statement published recently by its President, Dr. George E. Vincent. New Brunswick is among the districts materially affected by the work of the Foundation, which is contributing $25,000 a year for medical inspection in the schools of the province. This aid will continue over two years. Another generous offer made by the Foundation to the province has not yet been taken advantage of. This offer would supply each county with two public health nurses, whose estimated salaries and travelling expenses would amount to $2,400 a year. As the province is divided into sixteen districts the total grant would amount to $13,600 making possible a total gift to the province, counting the $25,000 allowed for medical inspection, of more than $207,000. A minimum of six nurses will have to be placed before the offer becomes effective, and any district unable to support two nurses will be allowed to put one in the field. As yet St. John is the only place which has signified a desire to share in the benefits of the scheme, but it is hoped by health officials that other parts of New Brunswick will speedily see their way clear to do so. All this was not brought to pass without a struggle, and the great advances made along public health lines are the result of the Minister of health, Hon. W. F. Roberts. Dr. Roberts considers the fact that the Rockefeller foundation is willing to put its money into New Brunswick as the greatest compliment that could be paid to the health program as that body will only invest its funds in ground where it considers that a good return in health dividends will result. They surveyed the province for three years before deciding to give aid to Dr. Rose, the general director, himself visiting New Brunswick before a final decision was made. Dr. Roberts was at the time meeting with opposition to the medical inspection programme in the schools and in the six municipalities had turned the plan down. The work was inaugurated, however, when the Minister demonstrated to the County Councils that sixty per cent of the health budget would be cut away by the assistance. He was then able to convince the government of the importance of the work, and they agreed to become responsible for it after the two-year period had elapsed. New Brunswick was thus given an all time medical inspection of schools, being the first district in North America where this important work was accomplished. Dr. Roberts is strongly in favor with the plan to put public health nurses in each county. He says that seventy-five per cent more efficient results can be obtained in fields where the nurses are at work, for every thousand dollars expended. The nurses, he claims, are the important link in the health chain and he is now undertaking a central work to convince the public of the advantage of accepting the generous offer of the Foundation—St. John Globe.

An inquiry taken for Our Sovereign Lord the King at Campbellton, in the Parish of Addington, in the County of Restigouche, on Monday the 28th day of April A. THE LOCAL PAPER
What each and every local paper, honestly trying to serve its community does, is to give from $100 to $5,000 of free publicity each year for the benefit of the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The local editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his home town than any other man, and in fairness, him to man, ought to be supported, not because you might like his writing, but because a local paper is the best investment a community may make. It may not be brilliant or crowded with great thoughts, but financially it is of more benefit to a community than any teacher or preacher. Undoubtedly, on the moral question you will find that a majority of the local papers are on the right side of the question too.

BIG LUMBER CUT IS REPORTED FROM ALL SECTIONS

Fraser's Limited are the Largest Operators in Province—Active Season in Lumber Will be Result of Large Operations.

(Fredericton Gleaner.)
Spring drives on practically all streams throughout the province are expected to be moving before the end of the week, according to advice reaching here to-day.

Backward spring conditions on the North Shore which have delayed main driving operations, are showing signs of breaking up and lumbermen are actively engaged to-day in commencing actual driving operations. In Restigouche County a total cut of between 140 and 147 million feet will be brought out this season. In Gloucester the drives are expected to amount to between 70 and 100 million feet, dependent upon conditions which will prevail. Northumberland county will run slightly over 100 million, while in Charlotte the season's cut has been 21 million feet.

Along the St. John river driving operations have been under way for some days, and in some instances the drives have been completed along the smaller tributaries.

The total amount of timber which will constitute the drives of Gloucester county alone will reach well over 70 million feet, it was said to-day, and with good luck will run nearer to 100 million feet. Stream drivers are already at work on some of the smaller streams and driving is expected to commence in earnest during the week. The ice here was still holding this morning in the harbor while there was also a considerable quantity in the bay.

Preparations are being made for the summer's cut by the various mills in this district, and these will commence during the latter part of the week. Large crews of men have been engaged for stream driving operations by the different lumber companies, between six and eight hundred being actually at work throughout the county. The Bathurst Lumber Company has a total of some 1,500 men employed at present on their various drives throughout the province in addition to the large crews employed in the province of Quebec.

Cut of the Fraser's Limited, and Others.

The total cut of the season of the Fraser Companies, Ltd., will be in the vicinity of 150,000,000 feet, of which 18,000,000 will be for the Athol mills in Restigouche; 40,000,000 (Continued on page sixteen)

Country weeklies are pre-eminently the home papers of newspaperdom. They are not hurriedly scanned while men travel to business; then left to be taken up again. They go directly to homes where their reading is a duty as well as pleasure. Hence their peculiar value as an advertising medium. ## FRASER'S HARDWOOD PLANT AT ST. LEONARD WILL BE MORE EXTENSIVE THAN REVEALED

Will Manufacture Hard and Soft Woods from All Kinds of Logs into Finished Products.

Fredericton, April 26.—Plans of the Fraser Companies Limited for establishment of a hard wood plant at St. Leonard are said to be much more extensive and elaborate than have so far been revealed.

The intention, it is learned, is to erect a plant of sufficient capacity and equipment to finish hardwood supplies from all such various timberland holdings in New Brunswick as well as in Quebec and that facilities will also be provided for finishing soft wood as well.

Huge planing equipment will be installed, it is said, and it is understood that preparations are being made to enter extensively into the manufacture of hardwood flooring and other hardwood products such as shingles and other finished products. It is also expected that the plant will be equipped for finishing soft woods, the policy which prompts this departure from the former activities of the Fraser Companies being one to complete as far as possible the finished product of the natural resources in the country.

Contrary to the impression created by The Graphic's dispatch from St. Leonard a few days ago which first revealed the plans of Fraser Companies Limited to establish a hardwood plant there, the new plant will not be for the purpose of handling hardwood from the Randolph & Baker limits on the Upper St. John river which they recently purchased but it is proposed to ship hardwood, after it has been cut at various small mills to St. Leonard and there complete the manufacture. Of course the Randolph & Baker limits' hardwood supply will go there with the rest. How soon an actual start will be made at St. Leonard on construction of the proposed plant there has not been decided, so far as can be learned.

RIVERS OF RUM FROM THE NORTH

By A. B. MacDonald.
"Rivers of Rum from the North" by A. B. MacDonald appeared under the heading of special articles, in the September 1923 number of the Ladies Home Journal. The article was running in The Canadian White Ribbon Tides the official organ of the Canadian National Women's Christian Temperance Union.

(Given below in part.)
My first contact with the flood of liquor from Canada was in Maine.

One day I was riding on an electric car out of Portland, when a farmer got on at a crossroads and staggered into the seat beside me.

After a while he said: "I had a few drinks of good Canadian booze to-day."
"Where did you get it?" I asked him.

"A rum runner, apollo! It along the road," he answered, and then, in his drunken way, he began to tell how a neighboring farmer and found a "hide" of 600 bottles of whiskey.

At Portland that afternoon I was just in time to get the last boatload of the evening and arrives in St. John, in Canada, at noon the next day.

When I climbed down out of an upper berth the next morning our train had crossed the line at Vancouver and was speeding through a wilderness of stunted spruce and birch and tamarack trees. After breakfast I went through the train from end to end. The men and women who filled it were not Canadians. They had too much of a "red light" look, and were too heavily dressed for that. Sober-minded Canadians do not wear so many diamonds as those men and women were.

Ray A. Haynes, head of the Prohibition Enforcement Bureau of the United States, said to me a few days ago in Washington: "You may find a good bit of booze coming in from the Canadian provinces of New Brunswick."

The chief port of that province is St. John, on the Bay of Fundy. It is one of the headwaters of the Niagara of booze that flows southward over the border. The first afternoon I was there I saw three schooners loading at the docks with whisky for the United States. They were Canadian, and were being loaded with whisky from the St. John docks. ## 43 YEARS IN THE BANKING BUSINESS

W. S. Thomas of Fredericton Retires from Bank of Nova Scotia

William S. Thomas, manager of the Fredericton Branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, will retire from banking next month after forty-three years' service. Mr. Thomas has been a resident of Fredericton for twelve years, coming here as manager for the Bank of New Brunswick and remaining here after the amalgamation with the Bank of Nova Scotia took place. Mr. Thomas belonged to St. John originally and entered the service of the Bank of N. B. in its head office there. After rising through the various grades he became manager at Campbellton, where he stayed for some time, later being manager at Sussex where he remained until appointed to the Fredericton branch in 1912. Since becoming a resident of Fredericton Mr. Thomas has occupied a prominent place in the commercial life of the community and also in its social life. He has been president of the Curling Club, in which he has taken a prominent part and also has been a member of other organizations. Mr. Thomas stated today that his intentions concerning place of residence after retirement were not decided. Should they leave Fredericton for and Mrs. Thomas will be greatly missed.

Every drop of this liquor was bound for the United States, and everyone in St. John including custom officials, knew it. It was all done openly and above-board, with the one subtlety that the vessels, cleared for the port of Havana, but that was merely to comply with a formality of Canadian law which requires that all liquor exports by water must clear for some port outside the United States out of respect of our Federal laws.

Thirty-six Thousand Quarts a Trip
That same afternoon at the Market Slip, I ran into Mulcahey, the port warden of St. John.

"Aye!" he exclaimed when I told him of the three whiskey laden schooners. "Thirty-six thousand quarts of them vessels engaged in run-running out of this port. I've seen eight of them loading with whiskey all at one time, and they carry an average of three thousand quarts at a load; that's thirty-six thousand quarts apiece, or two hundred and eighty-eight thousand quarts of booze for the eight vessels, enough to keep New York tipsy for one whole day, hey?" And he laughed. There's one over there now the Marma, of eighty tons, and pointed across the slip to a schooner tied to the dock. "She has just come in from a trip and is fitted for another. There's the Marlon Mosher just ahead of her. Here's a Swedish ship that ran a cargo of Holland gin into some port along the Yankee coast and has put in here for another cargo of booze."

I asked him how much the vessel owners got for a run-running voyage.
"Well, one of these schooners goes out with, say, thirty thousand quarts if she got a dollar a quart, that would be thirty thousand dollars for the trip; but, in fact, they get about ten thousand dollars for it, and a captain can soon get rich at that if his ship is a schooner; for some of them make the round trip in eight or ten days. That's better than fishing for cod on the Grand Banks," he said.

"They all clear for the West Indies; they couldn't make that and get back in ten days," I suggested.
"Pshaw! That's only a blind. They all go to the United States, every one of them. Why should they take whiskey to the West Indies. That's where they make booze to burn. That would be like carrying coals to Newcastle."

I was watching the crew of a run-runner putting the gear in order, and I said to Mulcahey: "They're a rough-looking bunch!"
"Rough and tough," he replied. "Only tough men would go into that. They have their liberty, their property and their lives in the balance when they sail out on a run-running cruise. It's piracy, pure and simple; and it's a damned bad law that allows it to go on. Say, if you and I had farms side by side and I allowed my sheep-killing dogs to run over into your flock, I'd be a blamed poor neighbor wouldn't I? Well, I'm a Canadian all right, but I consider Canada is in mighty poor business when she allows this booze to go by the shipload and the carload over into the lands of our good neighbor, Uncle Sam, when he is trying to enforce prohibition. They say Canada is paying off the war debt with the money she makes letting smuggled booze go over the line; but I'd rather stay in debt than pay off that way."

That same afternoon I saw a tramp steamer from England unloading eight thousand cases of Scotch whiskey, ninety-six thousand quarts, bottles on a St. John dock. It was in bond, and billed to Havana. It would go into an export warehouse and then go by steamer into the United States.

There is a string of these export liquor warehouses along the Canadian border from the Atlantic to the Pacific. These warehouses are the side doors to Canada's liquor stores. In the old days, when the saloons were required to close their doors it opened its side door to the alley. Even in the Canadian provinces that have prohibition a man may open a warehouse and import any amount of

Rheumatism Gone, Claims Mr. Merlinger

Rheumatism is said to be due to acid in the blood. Whatever its cause, only those who have it know the suffering it produces. While Carol is not claimed as a specific for rheumatism, it did wonders for Mr. Merlinger. Sufferers from rheumatism may profit from his experience which follows:

"For the past two years I have been a martyr to rheumatism. It affected my muscles and joints which at times became quite swollen. I suffered excruciating pain. I tried several 'sure cure' remedies for rheumatism. Some of them gave relief for a time. Others were of no use. At times the pain was more than I could stand. Some nights I only got a few hours sleep. I was completely run down. I felt that if the rheumatism continued I would have to quit work. I was becoming worried. In reading the Hanover Post one day I noticed an advertisement for Carol. I started taking it and shortly afterwards got ease and relief from pain. It helped me wonderfully. I was able to sleep soundly, something I hadn't been able to do for months. I can recommend Carol to everyone suffering from rheumatism."—G. Merlinger, Hanover, Ont.

Of Interest to Women

New Ways to Treat Materials For Fine Curtains

Curtains are always of interest and any new wrinkle is bound to receive consideration in schemes of decoration.

Quite new and unusual are the heavy net glass curtains, that are hung the full length of the window under the shade, embroidered with wools. The work is done in conventionalized flowers in colors to match the decorations of the room, or the outer hangings.

For instance, glass curtains embroidered in yellow daffodils show through the outer curtains of ruffled net that hang under yellow sun-fast chaperines, natural porgies, mercerized cotton rep, or any of the other drapery materials. The colorful embroidery peeping through lends an added decorative value to the color scheme.

Another odd fancy is the use of the plain wooden pole that is neatly covered with a piece of the outer hanging. This bands the top of the casement with the color instead of leaving the appearance of a wide separation between the side hangings. The brass rings are slipped over the pole, or wooden rings are painted with enamel to match, which is rather smarter than the brass.

Ruffled curtains are the fad of the moment. They are especially lovely in the thinner materials. As many as ten or twelve narrow ruffles two inches wide are run across the width above the hem, the space of a tiny hem apart, and the same are repeated across the top. They are very effective in thin chintz, silk, muslin and fine net. Another new note is to have a band of colored satin ribbon run through the hem of net glass curtains where embroidery does not appear. This is varied by the use of a gold or silver ribbon. The ribbons slip out and in easily when the curtains need to be laundered.

One very effective window in a black and white room had black Georgetown glass curtains with silver ribbon run through the hems. The same material was used for the outer curtains, the silver ribbon being run through the side hems that were edged with narrow silver fringe. The outer draperies were of black taffeta embroidered with silver-thread motifs. The effect was striking and as the room was sunny the black did not appear somber. The rug was dove gray, the furniture black wicker with gray and silver upholstery with a bit of black in it, the day-bed held enough wistaria, yellow, sage green and purple cushions to light the dullness if it were present.

Draperies of the straight East-lake cut are popular in linens embroidered with white or self colors. It costs but little to do them at home and as the work is coarse, done with the heavy floss, it goes quickly and is very effective when finished. Sometimes the curtains are plain and only the broad ties are embroidered. If one is an expert in stencil work many wonderful effects may be obtained with the linens. Batik and block printing is also an effective means of decoration.

Casement cloth, a closely-woven fabric in cotton or wool, is occasionally found with a silk stripe, which makes it very pretty for draperies and modest in price. Armure is in either cotton or artificial silk. It is also mercerized, with an overshot design in polka dots or figures in self coloring. The material is wide and not expensive.

Since Taking The Fruit Treatment in "Fruit-a-lives"

Read this letter from Mrs. J. M. Pennington of New Rockland, P.Q.

"In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered during the winter. I began having choking spells and would just gasp for breath and could not speak. The doctor said he could do nothing for me.

In the spring of 1920, I started taking "Fruit-a-lives" and soon the choking spells became easier and I have not had one since May 7th, 1920. It is such a relief to be able to go to bed and have no thought of having to get up in the night for an hour or more as I did all that winter, but never have to now, all because I take a "Fruit-a-life" tablet every night. 25c. and 50c. a box—at all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Fine Inexpensive But Delicious Recipes

Home desserts where there are several children at the table should be simple and not too rich. Also, it is well to make them as inexpensive as possible but still use only the best ingredients. They may be either hot or cold, but do not repeat the same dessert often enough to cause the children to tire of them.

MAPLE CUSTARD

Beat five fresh eggs, adding and working in smooth, a heaping tablespoonful of flour. When the mixture is smooth, beat in a cupful of maple syrup of good flavor and a saltspoonful of salt. Grate in a little nutmeg and gradually add a quart and a pint of rich milk that has been slightly warmed. Pour the custard into cups or a pudding dish, set it in a pan of water in the oven and bake it until it is set. This may be served with whipped cream, preserved fruit or alone.

DAINTY SOUFFLE

Mix two ounces of fine gluten flour with a quarter pint of milk. Let a quarter of a pint of milk come to the boiling point, then stir in the flour mixture and cook it, stirring it constantly until the mass is rich and thick. Add a little sugar, a few drops of flavoring and the beaten yolks of two eggs. Turn the souffle into a shallow buttered baking-dish and bake it twenty minutes. Serve it with or without a sauce.

WALNUT CAKE

Cream together, three-quarters of a cupful of butter and two small cupfuls of sugar. Add slowly, the yolks of four eggs and a half cupful of milk. Beat this mixture, then add a cupful of sifted flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half saltspoonful of salt. Beat the dough well and add a teaspoonful of vanilla, then stir in another cupful of flour. When these ingredients are smooth, add the third cupful, which will make a rather firm dough. Beat the egg whites very stiff and fold them in slowly, add a half cupful of chopped walnuts, fill small cake-pans three-quarters full of the cake dough and bake it from fifteen to twenty minutes in a medium steady oven. Frost the cake with a soft lemon frosting or dust it with powdered sugar.

CORN-MEAL PUDDING

Heat one pint of milk and stir into it three-quarters of a cupful of yellow corn-meal. When it boils and thickens add slowly, another pint of milk, one and a half cupfuls of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt, a heaping tablespoonful of chopped suet, three beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of molasses and a dessertspoonful of vanilla. Pour the pudding into a buttered pudding-dish and bake it in a medium oven for one hour.

CAFE AU LAIT PUDDING

Boil together three cupfuls of strong coffee, a cupful of well-washed rice, a saltspoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of butter until the rice has taken up the liquid then add a cupful of sugar, a cupful of seeded raisins, a cupful of cream, a teaspoonful of vanilla, a quarter cupful of strong coffee, a stiffly beaten egg white and the beaten yolks. Pour the pudding in a buttered baking dish and bake it for about a half hour.

THE MODERN GIRL IS FATIGUED

Nervous Bankruptcy Courtied By Young Women of Today Says Lady Doctor

Fatigue is one of the most deadly foes of the young woman of 1924. Even the brains of bees and birds show the using up of cell substance at the close of the day. According to Dr. Clara Paul Mosher of Leland Stanford University, the average young woman keeps up the maximum effort with the minimum reserve. She is the author of "Woman's Physical Freedom," and widely known as an authority on women's health.

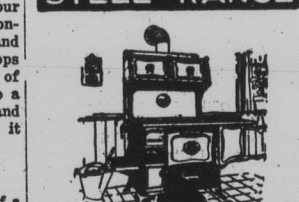

"Nervous bankruptcy" is being courtied by the young woman of today," says Dr. Mosher. "She fills her life with incessant activities. In her desire not to miss anything she burns the candle at both ends, cutting short her sleep, hurrying with her meals or often omitting them altogether. This increasing of the periods of activity means simply the taking away the time needed to repair and to rebuild the used-up substance.

"Girl's crave a short but rich life. 'I don't want to live to be old, but live to the full and then be through,' is a typical attitude. Unfortunately this disregard of the need which the body has for periods of rest, alternated with periods of worth-while activity, does not kill, but recruits a host army of semi-invalid, middle-aged women. These cases are often the despair of the physician who is confronted with the problem which began ten years before it was presented to him.

"The problem of sleep and the problem of health are closely interwoven. To miss a couple of hours' sleep at night seems trivial. Yet losing an hour's sleep at night means the loss of seven hours' sleep each week, the equivalent of about one sleepless night per week, or forty-eight sleepless nights a year.

"One begins to realize the handicap this means to the growing girl, who must rebuild and repair what has been used in her over-activity day. The young woman who really wishes to live to the full will further her desires by attention to these rather stupid everyday habits of sleeping nine hours per night, drinking eight glasses of water per day, and having enough outdoor exercise."

A secret so simple many overlook it

Yet millions of women keep youthful loveliness this way

To realize the dream that is in every woman's heart, to keep the youth that every woman wants... Turn for a while from the elaborate treatments and methods. Try this simple but correct way by which millions of women are keeping youthful radiance and charm.

Authorities advise this: Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse—repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way: You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild, but thorough, cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive.

Just be sure to get Palmolive—which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. Then for one week try this simple treatment. To your delight, results will be noticeable even in that short time.

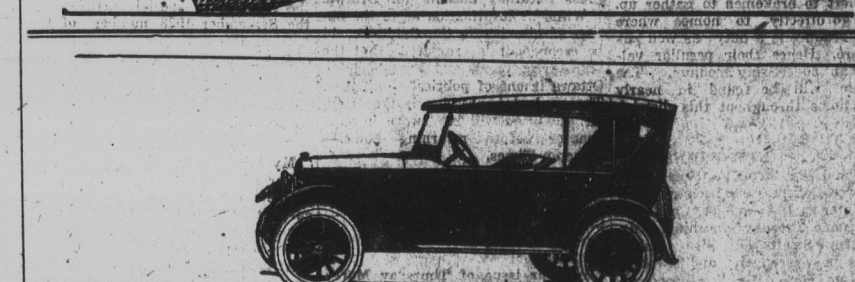

The cost is so little that you can well use Palmolive for the bath too.

The Studebaker Light-Six Touring

Your Next Car

Will be this Light-Six, if you learn the truth

When you buy a car in this class, here are some things you should know. Studebaker is the largest builder of quality cars in the world. It builds 150,000 yearly.

It builds in model factories, modernly equipped. It has spent $38,000,000 in the past five years on new-day plants and machinery.

By quantity and up-to-dateness it saves large sums per car. A car like this Light-Six, built under ordinary conditions, would cost you from $200 to $400 more.

The car is designed and built under an engineering department which costs us $800,000 yearly.

Each car in the building gets 22,000 tests and inspections.

It has more Timken bearings than any rival car within $1,500 of its price.

The crankshafts are machined on all surfaces, as was done with the Liberty Airplane Motors. This to secure perfect balance.

There are scores of extra values, including genuine leather cushions ten inches deep, unusual equipment, beautiful finish.

11.4% less to run

This extra quality shows in lower operating costs. This was proved by an audited test made on 329 cars running up to 25,000 miles. The Studebaker Light-Six costs 11.4% less to operate than the average of its rivals. This includes depreciation. The saving was nearly one cent per mile.

This car in its chassis represents the best we know. In steel and workmanship it is identical with the costliest cars we build.

Each steel component has been proved best for its purpose by tests of heat, strength, and wear. We pay 150% premium to makers to get them exactly right.

An honored name

The name Studebaker has for 72 years stood for quality and class. Now there are $90,000,000 of assets behind it, all staked on fulfilling these ancient traditions.

People are learning of these extra values. The trend toward Studebakers has become a sensation. Sales have almost trebled in three years. Last year, 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

What Studebaker offers: You will be amazed when you make a comparison.

HOW GOLF BECAME KNOWN AS ROYAL AND ANCIENT GAME

How golf came to be dignified with the sobriquet "royal and ancient game" may be revealed in a tiny volume prepared by Lady Mary Warriner, after weeks of laborious research among records in the British Museum. This book is to accompany a complete athletic equipment in miniature given by her for Queen Mary's doll's house. The sporting impediments include a golf bag, a whole set of Lilliputian "clubbing irons," drivers and balls, which even if smaller than the new 52s proposed by American devotees of the game, have been made strictly to scale. It is understood there have been no little rivalry and many disagreements among distinguished Scottish exponents of the pill swatting pastime, as to the models of clubs to be included in the Mr. Lilliput's book. The traces through the centuries the preference of Kings and Queens in sports, but golf will be found to have had the most royal disciples. The house itself, a five storyed affair fit for a Queen of Fairyland, is to be presented to Queen Mary by husbands of the most eminent British architects, artists and craftsmen, who have been at work on its construction, decoration and furnishing for more than two years. It will be on display at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley Park during the coming summer, and probably will prove one of the main attractions, doubtless finding its way eventually into the British Museum for the benefit of future generations as a model of all that is worthy with respect to day taste, for it is perfect and historically accurate to the last detail. Such care has been taken in this effort to encompass within a structure that three slight feet high all which could be desired by the most exacting, that scores of controversies have been waged over questions involving a thirty-second of an inch in the width of a picture frame. The binding of a book not as large as a finger nail, or the tints in a rug—the differentiation in each case being negligible to all but the most expert eyes.

Sir Edward Lytton, who had an important part in laying out the new Indian capital at Delhi, and designed the Cenotaph in Whitehall, planned this little palace of Lilliput. Sir David Murray, president of the Royal Institute of Painters was responsible for its decoration. Sir David found some of the finest and most beautiful paintings of harmony and scale with their surroundings, and prevailed upon his brother artists to re-execute these works. A description of the dining room gives some idea of the care taken in every particular of the house's appointments. The room itself is forty-two and one-half inches long, twenty inches wide and fifteen inches high. The dining table, completely equipped with linen, glass and plate—even diminutive salt cellars—as if guests were expected to arrive momentarily, is no more than two and one-half inches high, and the backs of the chairs are scarcely half an inch higher. Over the mantel is a portrait of the Prince of Wales in the hunting field, less than half the size of a postage stamp—the work of A. J. Munro, A. R. A. Elsewhere are portraits of King Edward III, and King James V. of Scotland, by Sir William Leighton, A. R. A. The ceiling, of rare artistic excellence, is by Gerald Moore, R. W. S. Among notable features of the miniature mansion are a marble staircase, an electric lift that runs at the press of a button from cellar to garret, a bath with running hot and cold water, a completely equipped kitchen, a library to which nearly 200 noted British authors have contributed hand written volumes—produced by a photographic process to a proper size—accompanying the miniature. The hall, with lamp, bulbs correctly arranged, and an electric clock in the center, will be found a model of scale. Visitors to the miniature palace will find a large number of "aged" labels—the dignified appearance covered with cobwebs to attract the attention of the visitors. These labels, which whose planting was done in the

THE PREMIER OF QUEBEC APPEALS FOR GREATER UNITY IN CANADA

Suggests that French and English Be Taught in All Schools and That Quebec Exchange Teachers With English Speaking Provinces.

Toronto, April 21.—An appeal for greater unity throughout Canada, and particularly between Ontario and Quebec through the use of the French language was made tonight at the sixty-third annual meeting of the Ontario Education Association by Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec, who felt that no greater compliment could be paid to the province of Quebec by the people of Ontario than through a more careful study of the French language.

"There is a great work which can be done in this respect for the advancement of the unity of Canada," the premier declared "and in this work the teachers of Ontario can play an important part."

Premier Taschereau suggested an exchange of teachers between the two provinces Quebec he declared, would open its arms wide to the Ontario teachers, and his plea was that Ontario should do the same for the French teachers. Further he proposed that the Premiers of Ontario and Quebec should hold a conference with officials interested in educational work to see if the proposed exchange of teachers could be arranged and to see what other steps can be taken along this line for the greater understanding of the various parts of the Dominion.

Urges Teach Canadianism
In opening his address, Premier Taschereau recognized that in a country like Canada where there are two outstanding languages the problems of education are apt to be difficult, but there is a way to face and solve the problems. His plea was that in educational matters, the authorities should not confine their work to the teaching of the routine subjects which are essential for the foundations of life, but the greater attention should be given to the teaching of true Canadianism.

"And by true Canadianism," he added, "I mean unity."
"I do not mean the study of any one part of Canada, of Ontario or Quebec, of the Maritimes or the West alone, but of the whole of Canada. I recognize that our problems of the future must necessarily be greater than our problems of the past because of the advance of mankind; but surely, in an age of progress, all true Canadians desire that there should be a Canadian unity. They must feel that it is necessary for the development of Canada and that there must be a clear and friendly understanding between Ontario and Quebec."

Says Quebec Speaks English Well
In making this appeal for a unity between the two central provinces, Premier Taschereau pointed out he was not advocating that they should be severed against the balance of Canada, but that these provinces, through a thorough understanding of each other, could hold the balance through times of crisis and could bring about that stability of national importance which would add to the greatness of Canada.

In this respect a study of the French language on the part of the people of Ontario could be a stepping stone. Premier Taschereau pointed out that the bulk of the people of Quebec are able to use the English language freely, in spite of the fact that 80 per cent. of the population is made up of French.

Capital Punishment Recommended
"Say, Bill," said Oklahoma Joe, "I've noticed that when one of these judges gets him an automobile, he wants to take it apart and fix it first thing. Why because?"
"Oh," replied Bill carelessly, "I suppose it's natural. He just wants to show his injury."

TO SMOKE OR NOT TO SMOKE?
THAT is the question which has been causing deep thought and raising piles of reports and correspondence among Canadian Pacific officials who have to do with the operation of observation cars on Trans-Continental trains during the last few months. At various times previous to the war, smoking in these cars was permitted, sometimes only for cigars and cigarettes and then again even for the odorous pipe itself. During the war smoking was a luxury which many were willing to forego, and the observation cars were free from tobacco, but after the war the demand for permission to smoke in these favored precincts increased to a noticeable degree, the opinion coming not only from men but from ladies, as the cigarette habit has undoubtedly grown among the latter.

FORTY FIVE HAVE THRILLING ESCAPE

Race for Life on Falling Timbers of Quebec Bridge.

Ottawa, April 25.—With an almost inarticulate "look out" from an observant workman the only warning, 45 men engaged in the erection of a massive covered wooden bridge over the Lièvre River, connection Notre Dame de la Salette, Que., with Pollimore township, Que., raced over several hundred feet of crumbling timbers to the safety of the shore just as two of the almost completed spans of the bridge, swaying in a heavy gale, toppled into the turbulent waters of the river yesterday.

Three of the men, however, were unable to get to shore before the collapse of the bridge, and two leaped far out into the water and swam to shore while the third, Eusebe St. Amour, aged 40, a carpenter, who had been working on one of the piers was caught and pinned to the pier by a falling timber, and is now in a hospital suffering from a badly injured spine as well as serious internal injuries.

The bridge was being built by the Department of Colonization of the Province of Quebec. The damage is estimated at $10,000.

GOLF
The game of golf which has spread all over this country in recent years in an amazing fashion, has furnished its full share of amusement even to the non-golfers who taken an almost serious delight in poking fun at those who "chase a little pill up hill and down dale over the lot," as the uninitiated enjoy putting it. A clever thrust at the game appeared recently in the London Morning Post, the newspaper poet writing:

"Last night as I sat in the 5:15,
Two elderly men (with a boy between)
Sat opposite reading, I felt quite sure
The latest pronouncements about the Ruhr.

The man on the left I thought looked sad,
As if he considered the news was bad;
The other man's jaw was firm and set,
(A man, thought I, who can't forget!)

Said he on the left, 'I see what you mean'
(Leaning over the youth who sat between)
'That chap has my sympathy, hang it all—but
He certainly shouldn't have tried that putt.'

A new golf book has just appeared in England from which two good stories may be taken. A beginner was hurrying his strokes. "Sandy" said the monitor, "tak' yer time; nobody's gaun to steal yer ba'."

Another was playing the course at Troon and he got into so many difficulties that he complained: "This course is too narrow. I can't keep out of the rough." And the caddy replied: "Ay, it's vera narra. May be the best thing to do would be to bring the rough into the middle and shift the fairway to bairn side so'."

Trapped, By Heck!
The tourist had stopped in a small rural village. He was preparing to resume his journey when he noticed the town constable watching him narrowly.

What's the speed limit here he asked, thinking it was wise to be prepared.

"Never y'e mind, young feller," replied the rustic cop. "Jest yew try t' get out o' this town without bein' arrested."

Beautiful But Dumb
Waitress: "Pardon me, but was your ham and beans or 'ham and eggs'?"
Would-Be Diner (who has been waiting thirty minutes): "Why ask me now?"
Waitress: "Because we're all out of ham."

Bigger money for the merchant means better buying for the consumer, because the merchant can afford to cut prices closer by reason of his increased volume of business done.

Bigger business means better business—both for merchant and consumer.

Obviously, the merchant can only get more trade by getting more satisfied customers, and the way to get more satisfied customers is to be able to sell goods at the most reasonable prices—at prices that give more value than the mail order house.

The merchant has got to have his profit—he's got to have his percentage, just as the farmer and the blacksmith have got to have their percentage. Some people act as if the merchant should 'have no profit at all—but this belief, is of course, nonsensical.

If the merchant does not get his legitimate percentage of profit he cannot stay in business. Neither can the fruitgrower or the blacksmith or the printer.

And we all want to stay in business, don't we?

If we are put out of business, our town dies. It is business that makes a town and keeps the contiguous district alive and flourishing.

Streets, houses, trees, churches and automobiles do not make a town. Trade is the important factor. Trade means that production and labor are the vital forces behind.

Production would be useless without an outlet through trade and commerce—except as a means of sustaining individual life, or bare existence.

We want more of life than a bare existence. We want the best educational and social advantages that make life worth living. We want and must have many, many things that only a hearty, interdependent community spirit and activity can give us.

To keep this berg in tact we must live and let live. We must patronize one another and see that all working concerns are kept going, adding new ones when occasion demands.

If all the business people were to combine and send their printing out of town the community would shortly lose the printers—one of its most important, progressive functionaries. If the farmers of the community boycott the merchants of the town, every live business man would be forced to get out of town—and so on until there would be no town, and no community worthy of the name.

Keep every dollar's worth of trade possible within the community and there will be work and business for each and every one, and the hundred and one accessory advantages that only live enterprise can supply.

It is not live enterprise to help kill your home institutions—it is but a plank for your own commercial and social coffin.—(Ex.)

Helping Others

Wherever there is sin and misery, poverty and despair, pain and disfigurement, wherever there are men who are down and out, women who have erred and defenseless little children to protect, there you will find The Salvation Army at work with clearheaded, systematized and understanding effort to reclaim and rehabilitate fallen men and women, and to provide protection and opportunity in life for little children.

To reach the sinner in his sin, and to achieve the miracle of his conversion to God and good works from his own evil ways, is the first and last objective of The Salvation Army.

To accomplish its ultimate objective, The Army goes to the slum in the street, to the Police Court, to the prison and to the haunts of vice and sin.

It gives courage and hope to the outcast, and helps the down-and-out. It helps those who have lost hope and don't care. It helps those who want to help themselves out of the slough of evil associations and wrong living. It helps those who have made their first slip, and it helps those who are unable to help themselves. It provides institutions suitable for the needs of those requiring such help. These institutions are managed with efficiency and economy.

In graphic figures are crystallized the results of The Army's work. The Salvation Army is a great force of money doing good work.

The collector calls.

The Army's methods are business-like, thorough, and painstaking. Its work is performed at the lowest possible cost. Most of it is contributed by those who, through the Grace of God's love in their own hearts, love and pity their unfortunate fellow-beings. There are no high salaries or extravagances.

The Army is incorporated under an Act of the Dominion Parliament. It renders an Annual Financial Statement, which is available to anyone. Its books are audited, and every cent received and expended is accounted for. Who can compute what thousands of individuals who receive such measure the value of the new hope, the new courage and happiness imparted to thousands of men, women and children by the medium of The Salvation Army?

THE NEW VILLAGE STORE

The village store has changed a pile or so it seems to me.

It's different in stock and style.

From what it used to be:

The croaker barrel's vanished now there's nothing left around I now To tempt your appetite.

There is no place for us to sit.

That used to tempt that store Our wisdom and our native wit Aren't heard there any more; The place is all as quick and open And dished and smart.

It's simply broken up the clan And crushed each leader's heart I know it's making money fast.

Over 2000 copies of the Graphic are printed and distributed each week and are sent to homes within 24 miles of Campbellton.
