Had Secured Little Home and Wedding Planned For Near Future.

Piqued by a lovers' quarrel, Ada Harper, 18 years old, on the eve of marriage twice threw herself in front of a motor car in an attempt at suicide last night. Police were notified last evening by a motorist that a young girl had hurled herself in front of his auto at Albert street. He swerved the car and missed her by inches. She fell on the road and lay there motionless. and the two were to be married soon.

Opposed Marriage. When detectives questioned the girl last night she was greatly excited. She told them she didn't want to get married. She had changed her mind.

Claxton told the police that the girl had twice attempted suicide during the evening. He did not know why she had changed her mind. Arrangements had all been made for their marriage and parents of the couple had given their consent.

Miss Harner and Claxton appeared couple had given their consent.

Miss Harper and Claxton appeared in police court this morning before Magistrate Graydon. The girl was charged with attempted suicide, and Claxton was held because police had found a large sheath knife on him.

Questions Girl. Magistrate Graydon asked the girl why she had attempted to commit suicide. She replied:
"I didn't want to get married. The fellow I was with had a knife. I told him I didn't want to marry him, and he said, 'We'll see about that.'"
Magistrate Graydon interrupted the girl and upon the adjournment the girl and upon the adjournment of police court heard the remainder of the case in his private office.

Miss Harper was bailed in her mother's custody. She will undergo a medical examination shortly.

The knife which Claxton was carrying was confiscated by the police. He stated that he had used st in sharpening his pick and that he it in sharpening his pick and that he always carried it.

MISSIONARY EXHIBIT MAY BE BROUGHT TO LONDON

Ministers' Association held at the Wilton Grove manse, plans were discussed for the bringing to the city early in the autumn of an important missionary exhibit under the direction of the Rev. Harold Lyons of Central India. Rev. F. W. K. Harris was appointed convener of a committee to consider the question, the other members being Dr. W. R. Mc-Intosh and the Rev. T. A. Symington.

Other important business considered was the O. T. A. campaign and the London young people's rally.

At the close of the meeting, Mr.

Dimposon his head, now he is judged by the bumpers on his car. People who once found character in a man's face now look to his headlights for signs of the writing of "Do unto others." In brief, you don't have to look at a man's hand-writing to know his character, look at the way he handles his car.

The London Motor Club believes that a man shows his truest colors into a space where there is not sufficient room and scrapes the enamel off two other cars while doing so, it shows that he places no value on the property right of others.

At the close of the meeting, Mr.

To H. J. Childs, who with Superintendent J. W. Metherall, arranged and supervised the show, much credit is due. Each year, under Mr. Childs' guidance, the horticulture exhibit has increased its appeal and prestige, and this year it may be said to be one of the most attractive features of the exhibition.

Judging of the flowers was com-pleted yesterday. The London Horticultural Society came in for a large proportion of the awards, and its members are to be congratulated on the splendid showing they made. MARVEL OF INGENUITY

Manufacturers of this wonderful new "Chester-Bed" have succeeded in concealing the fact that it actually embodies mechanism. It minutely resembles the most luxurious chesterfield-indeed, the ease with which it is transformed from such to a full-size bed is little short of wonderful. The "Chester-Bed" now being demonstrated at the Fair is replete with all the newly added conveniences, including electric light.

EXCEEDINGLY PRACTICAL

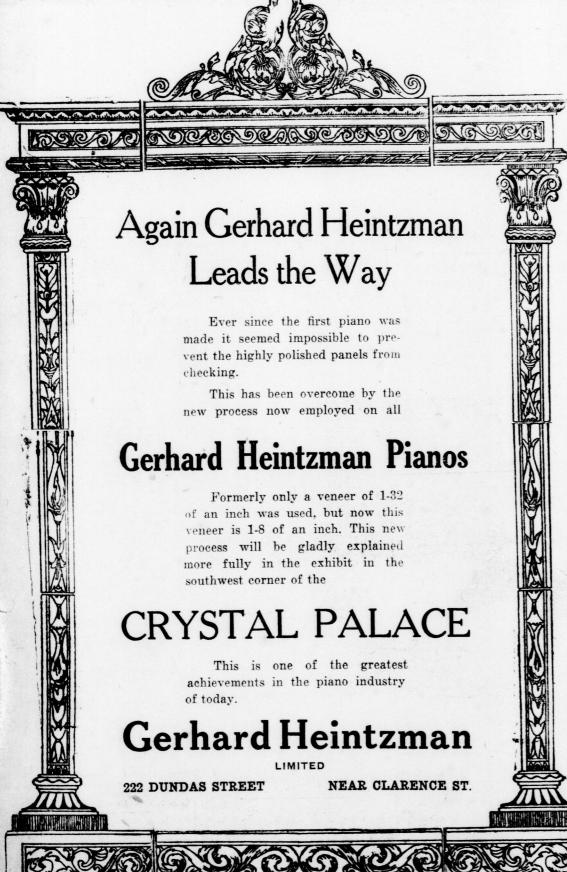

Steel ball-bearings make for easy in and out gliding, with the added feature of indestructibility. Marshall springs are not only incorporated in the loose cushions with resilient spring back, but the mattress is also "Marshall." You will also appreciate the fact that the mattress is detachable, offering the privilege of airing outside for perfect sanitation.

the Family's Social Status

Men Sink or Rise to Level

In Marriage It's Better to Have the Wife Above the Husband in Social Standing and Education, Because She Sets the Pace for Home, Husband and the Children.

It is much more important for a man to select the right sort of woman for a wife than it is for a woman to pick out the right sort of man for

That is, in America. Abroad, where there are hereditary titles, the case is naturally different. There a Duke can marry a barmaid, and thereby raise her to his own rank, but in this country ninety-nine times out of a hundred the husband takes the wife's status, not she his. If King Cophetua had married the beggar maid in the U.S.A., he would have ended by rattling a tin cup on a street corner instead of the beggar maid queening it beside him on a throne.

Of course, there are exceptions to all rules. Occasionally a woman who marries above her station, as the phrase goes, does climb up to her husband's level, but, as a rule, she drags him down to hers. On the other hand, a superior woman almost invariably lifts her husband to her own

Why husbands should go to their wives' plane, instead of wives going to their husbands' is easily understood. The woman dominates the home. She strikes its note. She settles who shall be its guests. She gathers around her the social circle most agreeable to

The first thing the average bride does when she comes back from her bridal trip is to chuck all of her husband's old friends out of the window and install her own in their places. The man makes an effort to hold on to his intimates, but when they call at the new home they find the doormat so coated with ice that they slip on it, and after a dinner composed exclusively of cold cuts and frappe politeness they stay away in pity for poor old Tom or

The situation is precisely the same whether Tom or Joe was a rounder with hosts of friends, or whether Tom or Joe is an intellectual who consorted with the intelligentsia. The new wife installs a new social order that is congenial to her, and her husband finds out that he has dropped into it, and that his friends are none of his picking.

Many a man marries a pretty but common and uncultured girl, thinking that he can transplant her into his own social sphere and that she will be accepted because she is his wife. But the experiment is rarely successful. The women of this world turn their thumbs down. She is always an outsider, and she generally ends by going back to her own and taking her husband with

But the woman of position may marry a rough diamond and flaunt him in the face of the socially elect, and have him received into the inner circle, because she is one of those who belong. She knows the signs and the countersigns, and may pass in whom she will.

Aside from all question of heredity it is much more important for children to have a good mother than it is for them to have a good father, because the mother not only establishes their social position for them, but because her influence is the prepotent one in their lives. It matters little if he be broad and tolerant, if she is narrow and prejudiced; it matters little if he be highly educated, if she is ignorant and unrefined.

The underbred, vulgar, uncultured woman will bring her children up according to her own ideas. They will be uncouth, young hoodlums, intent only on material pleasures, with no appreciation of the things that are fine and beautiful in life. Their father may break his heart in disappointment over them, but nothing that he can do will undo the handiwork of their

But if a woman is strong of will and purpose; if she loves learning; if she is ambitious, her children will win out in the race of life, no matter what sort of a handicap they have in a father

Mothers can work miracles. If a woman is determined that her children shall have a good education she will see to it that they get through college, by hook or crook, and some way she will make her house a place where culture and refinement reign, though it be the humblest cottage

If a woman is determined that her children shall get on in the world she will make of her own shoulders a ladder on which they will climb to success. She will breed into the very marrow of their bones and infuse into their very souls the grit and determination and the pep and enthusiasm that carry men and women on

The Attack on Mr. Meighen.

Mr. Meighen's leadership of the Conservative as a successful political leader enunciating policies acceptable to a majority of the people.

The idea of attacking a political leader in the hat is evident only when victory is in the air. the party steam showing on the indicator.

The Montreal paper cannot urge that Mr. Meighen has not devoted his entire energy court. any possible opportunity to make himself acceptable to the Province of Quebec, in which the Gazette is published. He has gone repeatedly to that province; he has schooled himself so he can speak to the French people in their own tongue. Time after time he has been there, always expounding Conservative doctrine.

Is it that Mr. Meighen had much to do with the nationalization of the property now known as the Canadian National Railways that causes the Gazette to ask for his removal? The Montreal paper has always been frankly and honestly opposed to the idea of national ownership, a view not shared by Mr. Meighen, who was close up to the situation when the crisis in the affairs of the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific arose. Mr. Meighen's actions in assisting in the framing of a policy that would keep these properties from going under the auctioneer's hammer, and thereby creating a railway monopoly in to the course of action that the Gazette would have adopted. It may be that it is a case of the anti-public ownership forces in the Conservative party seeking to turn the Conservative defeat in St. Antoine into an opportunity for parties in United States. putting their friends in control of the situation. then for the Conservatives That, of course, is a n themselves to settle. Mr. Meighen took his best platform men with him into Quebec. They spared nothing in the matter of teaching high tariff, nor did he allow any opportunity to pass whereby he could make it known that under present political conditions the country was headed for the economic bowwows. Does the Gazette contend that he overdid the thing to such an extent that the people of Montreal refused to believe all he had to say? Would a convention of Conservatives be able to draw up a set of rules and regulations that would allow their leaders to use just a certain amount of lamentation? It would be a very delicate line to draw, but it might be worth the

The Ottawa Journal says the trouble was that the Conservatives in St. Antoine "spent months in fighting among themselves instead of fighting the enemy." Not a very healthy condition, of course, but surely Mr. Meighen cannot picture which shows him blowing his nose. be blamed for that. He is credited with having gone into the riding and thinned out the Conservative candidates until only one was left to Prince of Wales to visit there. If he needs a face defeat. Surely it was better to have only one defeated candidate than two.

The Self-Contained Locomotive.

The first practical test of a self-contained electric locomotive, using oil as fuel, was made yesterday by the New York Central Railroad in its freight yards on Eleventh avenue, New York. This ocomotive, the first of its kind made in America, was built jointly by the General Electric Company and the Ingersoll-Rand Company. The locomotive is, in effect, a complete power house on wheels. It is independent of a third rail or any outside electric connections and was designed especially for switching service. It consumes but twelve or fifteen cents worth 'of fuel an hour, approximately one-third the cost of fuel used by the ordinary steam locomotive in similar service.

James McCue, for 32 years an employee of the New York Central, and driver of a steam locomotive since 1905, learned to operate the new locomotive after ten minutes instruction. "It is the simplest locomotive in the world to operate," he said. "Cleaner and much better in every respect. Just what we have needed for such yards as this." What pleased the engineer most was that the moment he opened the throttle he had the full power of the plant at his command. There were no slow preliminary starts like those in getting an or-

The oil-burning locomotive is practically a one-man affair. A fireman is required under the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission, but his sole duty is to ring the bell. If an automatic bell is attached to the engine the fireman's duty will be nothing. In the absence of smoke and in the fact that it is necessary to operate the engine only when the locomotive is in use the new type locomotive is much the same as an automobile. This invention bids fair to revolutionize the motive power of

About the same time the use of the electric locomotive was demonstrated by Mr. Edison, the famous inventor. It seemed to be a practical success.

Between the two it is probable that the old-fashioned locomotive, carrying coal, will soon be a thing of the past and that the future of transportation will be entirely different from what it has

The electric locomotive is the kind that has been in use for some time by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad

While the family was searching rantically for the boy, a telephon-ressage informed Mrs. Franks tha Robert had been kidnapped, that h was safe, and that the family would advised further as to how to reover him. Early the next morning Mr. Franks received a neatly type special delivery letter bearing signature "George Johnson" with the dictation marks "G. K. R.," inform-ing him that Robert was held for $10,000 ransom, that the lad was safe and to stand by for further instructions as to how to pay the ranson and recover the boy.

At dawn the next morning a workman traversing the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at 118th street, wild, uninhabited section just inside the southern corporate limits of Chicago, saw the feet of a nude body protruding from a culvert between two small lakes. The body was taken to an undertaker's establishment where it rested unidentified until late in the afternoon, when a brother of Mrs. Franks went to the morgue on chance that the body might be that

Then began one of the man hunts in the history of Chicago, because of the evident brutality of the murderers and the prominence of the Franks family. More than a score of persons, including two instructors at the Harvard school, were arrested, but released when they were able to disprove connection with he kidnapping and murder.

Columns of newspaper space were devoted to the case, but the headlines were diminishing in size as hope of apprehending the murderers dwindled when unexpectedly Robert E. Crowe state's attorney, announced on May 29 that Richard Loeb, son of on May 29 fhat Richard Loeb, son of Albert H. Loeb, 5017 Ellis avenue, vice-president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and Nathan F. DONALD CARRICK

Fred Lyon Annexes Junior Championship at Lakeview Course.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The present season has been a hard one on holders of golf titles, and the second annual junior championship of the Ontario Amateur Golf Association, played at the Lakeview Club today, saw another champion dethroned when Donald Carrick, the winner in 1923, was second to Fred Lyon of the Lambton Club, who turned in two excellent cards of 82 and 81, giving him a margin of seven strokes on Carrick. The new champion's victory was a popular one and his scores are better than they appear, as conditions were far from ideal. In the morning the wind was strong and gave lots of trouble, and while it eased off slightly in the afternoon, it brought a cold, chilling wind. As a rule the scores showed improvement in the second round as the players became more acquainted with the course, which is admitted to be the most difficult in this district.

Seventy-seven players competed in the event, and all but three turned in cards for both rounds. Twenty-four clubs were represented, of which thirteen were from outside Toronto, and of the competitors twenty-eight were from out-of-town clubs. The players ranged from twelve to twenty years of years of age, and some excellent prosymptometric for duting years were uncovered. was a popular one and his scores are ranged from twelve to twenty years of years of age, and some excellent prospects for futire years were uncovered. WALKING IT OFF. During the entire 106-mile journey from Buffalo to Toronto Philip Granville, the Hamilton walker, who did the journey in 19.59.30, made three brief stops, totalling less than five minutes. He wore the same light racing shoes throughout and his feet were little the worse of the tramp. Two of the auto drivers were in worse condition than Granville at the end. Granville lost 16 pounds during the grind. Not a single hitch was made from start to finish, and the arrangements throughout could not have been improved on. Tom Crompton, Granville's mentor, who handled the recordbreaking trip, is to be congratulated on the condition he had Granville in and on the sane way in which he handled him. Granville, too, is to be congratulated on his courage and stamina. He beat the American record for

The local club has named a price for Coogan, but no word has come back from Chatanooga, so far. Coogan, Delman and Achenbach are goodlooking pitching prospects who could be disposed of should President Heard be forced to sell off a few. Two things would make the move justifiable. One would be a financial deficit, which isn't any bare possibility as far as the local club is concerned. The other would be the necessity of getting cheaper players should a Class D league operate here next season.

THE EXACT SPORT.

Tennis still remains the most scientific of sports. The fact that for six years, Tilden and Johnson have come out into the final brackets proves that. Upsets are rare in tennis-more rare than in any other sport. There are breaks in tennis, but they are at the minimum. There is no need to go deeply into the dope book when tennis is under consideration. There are hundreds of factors that go into the doping of other sports. Age, a contributing factor to other competitions, seems to be the Oyster Bay N.Y., Sept. 9. — United States yachts won today's international six-metre race with the British by the narrow margin of 17 points to 16½, and row lead in the series with two victories to one.

The yachts forced their way through a half gale, driving rain and a heavy sea, which made sailing exceedingly difficult, but provided thrilling sport.

Two of the British boats lost masts, and another came in with a broken boom, but the Americans stood up better under the unfavorable conditions and came home victors after trailing 19 points to 17 at the end of the first round.

Tilden lost the point for his sportsmenlike action, because Richards sent one back at him too fast to handle.

"I could not take advantage of the kid when he tripped that way," said the champion; "but I notice that Vinnesmashed back at me for an earned point. It was a crucial moment too, for a lot depnded on that shot."

Tilden never received more applause.

The Leonard-Walker bout is off quite definitely. Five medical men peered intently at the thumb of Mr. Benjamin Leonard and agreed that it was swollen. The injury might have been caused while Mr. Leonard was cutting coupons or practicing with the cash register. But, at any rate, it was regarded as sore enough to warrant the indefinite postponement of the bout.

Local Market

Today was Farmers' Day at the Fair proved, the market was larger than was expected.

Five loads of hay were brought to the market, and with a good demand sold at $12 to $13.50 per ton. The prevailing price was $13 2 ton.

One load of oats was offered.

Very little green stuff was noticed, the farmers offering little, so that they could go to the Fair early.

Live hogs are now quoted at $8.75 to $9 per cwt. No shipment was made from London this week.

Grain Markets WINNIPEG

Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg, Sept, 9.—The wheat market turned downward today after a firm opening, and at the close all futures showed losses. October and November finished %c lower than Monday, while December and May lost %c and %c respectively. After opening %c to ½c respectively. December and May lost ac and ac respectively. After opening 4c to 2c higher on the strength of higher Liverpool cables and further reports of frost in the West, the market ran into some good buying, but this was easily satisfield, and when "longs" began to take profits on the advance of yesterday the buying power was not sufficient, and field, and when "longs" began to take profits on the advance of yesterday the buying power was not sufficient, and prices declined about 1½c, but reacted before the close. There did not appear to be any export buying of any account, and only a light volume of trade was worked, the closing being weak.

There was little trade passing in the future coarse grains, with oats steady and unchanged. Barley was working lower under hedging pressure, and closed about %c lower. Rye was quiet and fractionally lower. The flax market continues quiet, with a light trade passing, with unchanged prices to 1½c higher.

The cash wheat market was a very bullish and slow affair, with offerings limited and the demand only fair. Spreads on the higher grades were unchanged to fractionally better, while the lower grades were unchanged to 2c lower. The cash coarse grains were displaying an easier tendency today, with little business being worked. Flax was very dull.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Increased buying of wheat on the part of houses with seaboard connections brought about an upturn in wheat prices today after a wavering start. The bearish aspect of the government crop report acted at first as a depressing influence. It was said later that considerable wheat and rye has been bought for shipment to Europe. The opening, which ranged from ¼c decline to ¾c advance, was followed by a slight general sag, and then by moderate gains all around.

Corn developed weakness as a result handyweight yearlings about 25c under last week's close; extreme top yearlings and handyweights $11; best matured steers $10.99; bulk fed steer run $8.25 to $9.50; western grassers offerings weak to 25c lower; bulk $6.75 to $7; few loads $7.40; plain kind $6 to $6.25; few westerns upward to $5.50; bulk $4.25 to $4.50; bulk weak to 25c lower; bulk $4.25 to $4.50; bulk weakers to packers $11.50 to $12.50; about 25c lower; fairly good action on stockers and feeders at $6 to $7; 600 to 900-pound kind wanted most. An Unprecedented Offer!

Northern Ontario-the greatest gold field of all time. Like a meteor it has burst upon the financial markets of a gold hungry world. Spectacular in richness-consistent in production-boundless in territorial dimension.

American and Canadian mining engineers are astounded at its treasure deposits. To-day's volume is steadily pushing the American gold output to second place, acknowledge New York experts. Milling records go by the board each month. Millions have been recovered in its ten years of history. Billions lie waiting—the field is inexhaustible. Northern Ontario is the spotlight of investment opportunity to-day.

Looming up among the great Ontario mining enterprises is PORCUPINE KIRKLAND GOLD MINES, LIMITED, with ten groups of gold properties, 4,000 acres in Porcupine, Kirkland Lake, Lightning River and Shining Tree. Each property is sound and meritorious—each selected and ear-marked by an expert engineer and geologist. Many thousands have been spent in their development. Rich gold findings over large surfaces were recently proven by the engineers. PORCUPINE KIRKLAND is being developed to the profit making stage by the ONTARIO NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION, LIMITED, a well-known Canadian service company whose expert engineering staff is constantly employed on these extensive properties. Gangs of men are now constructing camps for immediate intensive core drilling and Organized, controlled and directed by Canadian business men this substantial mining enterprise presents an outstanding profit-making investment. Twenty-five Hundred Dollars in Hollinger 12 years ago, makes to-day a total return of $69,350-1900%. Hollinger had one property-PORCUPINE KIRKLAND proffers ten, and is conservatively capitalized at Ten Million Dollars.

A Direct Offer to YOU

A limited block of PORCUPINE KIRKLAND GOLD MINES, LIMITED, treasury stock, par value $1.00, is being offered at 50 cents per share.

This stock justifies a price of $2.50 per share as one single group may warrant the total capitalization, leaving nine in reserve.

The treasury stock proceeds are going into core drilling and development—right into the property. The price of 50 cents will not stand very long. Your opportunity is exceptional. The time to buy is now.

Do not ignore this offer. Its message is for YOU.

The gold market is steadily moving upwards. Prompt action is vital. Clip information form and mail to-day.

Turning southwest from the St. Thomas highway and travelling along the Fingal road through Middlemarch, one enters a very rich dairy and mixed farming section. Along this portion of the route some In the Dutton district, or before In the Dutton district, or before reaching Dutton, J. Patterson reported that all grain between Iona Station and Dutton shows a splendid yield. He is confident that the district will average 25 bushels of wheat and 40 bushels of octaand 40 bushels of oats.

The pastures in this section are excellent and the root crop, including a small acreage of sugar beets, is above average. Several splendid herds of Holstein cattle were seen on this part of the trip, although toward Tyrconnel and the lake shore section an abundance of rough grazing land makes the raising of beef cattle a more attractive proposition than the keeping of high-priced dairy herds.

In the Tyrconnel section the crops The pastures in this section are Turning towards Port Stanley on the road from Tyrconnel, a beautiful stretch of mixed farming country can be crossed. This land is the edge of what was at one time the shore of Lake Erie and is composed of high plateaus and bench land cut back from the lake by numerous rayines gal has been visited by some fairly sharp frost, but the farmers there state that the corn is undamaged so far.

Port Talbot, one may head again in the direction of Fingal. Here some very high-priced land is seen, and very high-priced land is seen, and the prosperous appearance of the farms and the excellence of the crops lends a well-established look to the countryside.

In this district and, in fact, in all of the area marked 4 on The Adver ser survey map, the farmers are of progressive character, and the fact their having mastered the growing of several special crops such as tobacco, yellow eye bean, and sugar beet, gives them an added source of income which is not available to farmers who are not willing to reach out and tackle a cash crop of which they have known little in the past. This fact impressed itself very emphatically in passing the farms of Bert House, of Watson's Corners, where an excellent crop of tobacco was seen. It is only of recent years that farmers in that district have dreamed of growing tobacco. The dreamed of growing tobacco. The same thing may be said of sugar beets, the areas of which were until quite recently confined to the dis-tricts near the sugar plants at Chatham and Wallaceburg, and in the Kitchener district.

The yellow eye bean, a crop which yields from 18 to 20 bushels as a general average, has gained great popularity with the farmers in the whole of this section, and those who grow the crop state that it is a money-maker. This bean is used in the preparation of stock feeds and the by-product side of the milling industry, and for the three years succeeding the war brought in the neighborhood of $2.50 per bushel and better, according to the quality of Crop Not Good. On the farm of D. M. and S. A. Littlejohn, between Tyrconnel and Port Talbot, the owners state that they are disappointed with the crop. "This seems to be one of the years when our spraying was wasted," said Mr. Littlejohn. "I daresay that, being so near the lake, the rainfall this year has kept the orchard and the foliage so damp that fungus growth and scab is almost inevitable. We certainly are disappointed."

A yield of 50 bushels of fall wheat has been reported on the farm of A. McNiven, while Duncan Campbell's threshing has yielded 50 bushels of cats of splendid quality.

Leaving Middlemarch and approaching Fingal, the real heart of the yellow eye bean section is reached. In the Fingal district several remarkable bean crops can be seen, and experienced growers in that vicinity predict that the crop will run easily to 25 bushels to the acre.

As in Middlemarch can bushels of the policy of the pound of the young birds each week. In the grazing land from Tyrconnel to Port Talbot, sheep are fairly plentiful, and the splendid condition of the pastures throughout the entire season has given the lamb crop a great filip. The appearance of sheep on the farms in the lake shore section is looked for.

Turning towards Port Stanley on the road from Tyrconnel, a beautiful being conspicuous by a scarcity of the pound are disappointed.

In the whole district visited in today's trip, the farmers speak in a guarded manner concerning their potato crop. Practically all the land in this district is of a clay nature, and light, warm potato land is very scarce. For this reason the farmers are afraid that while the crop shows a splendid healthy top, the potatoes themselves may be scabby, especially in those instances where the crop was planted on low land before the wet weather was anticipated.

This remains to be seen, however, and, as one farmer expressed it, "We day's trip, the farmers speak in a Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Sept. 9.-Information has reached the department of the attorney-general of Ontario to the effect that the matter of the deportation of Andrew Pepall, wanted here in connection with the Peter Smith bond scandals, is now finally before Washington officialdom, and only awaits the decision which the immigration officials there may make.

Andrew Pepall was Peter Smith's agent to London, when the Jarvis Company purchased succession duty free bonds there on behalf of the province. Subsequently he left Can-ada and settled in California, and the Ontario authorities have been en-deavoring to secure his deportation.

Sometimes the wrong folks marry, Let us take The case of Mrs. Job. Her great Came when she failed herself to analyze
To know what man to love, what to despise. The cave man was the type she should have wed, One who would hit her promptly on the head

If she so much as peeped if things went wrong; She then would have been happy all day long. Instead she married Job, and thus became A rather famous though unhappy dame.

London Home-Comers from Wembley Are Swiftly Followed By New Autumn Coatings Shown There!

If you were among the lucky Londoners who made the trip to Wembley, you were interested in coatings exhibited with the fine fabrics there. And if you were among those less fortunate, who attended Wembley via the daily newspapers, you'll be just as much interested in the new coatings, as they have been swiftly transplanted to our Wool Goods Department.

Zebbelines and other pile fabrics shown at Wembley were triumphs of the weaver's art. Their surfaces had the rich, velvety softness of fur; their skillfully cut patterns showed all manner of stripes, and plaids, and novel weaves. These are the materials awaiting you and your autumn coat-making on the Main Floor.

There are the rich Zebbelines, in every autumn shade from palest bisque to beaver browns, pelican gray and black. In a width of 54 inches, and with this remarkable price
