REGISTRATION SLOW; OFFICIALS FEAR LAST MINUTE RUSH

NO GREAT RUSH IN REGISTRATION OF VOTERS HERE

Reports From All Points Where Names Go on Lists Tell of Present Apathy
LAST MINUTE RUSH!
Half the Names on in Murney Ward—City Has About 6,500 Voters

Registration of the electors for the coming federal elections is proceeding none too rapidly in some sections of the city and already several of the registrars are beginning to fear a last minute rush to have names added to the lists. This is the third day and now one half of the time allowed is past.

Murney Ward, which should enroll eighteen hundred or two thousand, is still around the one thousand mark. This is none too favorable as many of these names have been put on from the last municipal voters' list, that of the year 1920.

Should all those who still require to go on the list start to come in, a long time would be required to get them added.

In Bleecker and Coleman Wards the registration is also tardy and the registrars are anxious that the electors visit the registration booth at the earliest time possible.

At Shire Hall the enrollment for Ketcheson and Baldwin wards is not what it should be and it is hoped that the people in this part of the city will register at once to avoid congestion during the latter part of the week.

At the City Hall which is a very convenient place, Mr. J. A. Kerr has placed about twelve hundred names on the list for Forster and Samson Wards. He estimates that there are still one hundred and fifty voters or more who should visit the registration office.

The registration for the city should reveal an electorate of perhaps six thousand five hundred people provided the lists can be brought to as near perfection as possible with the help of the voters. This will naturally be the biggest electorate in the city's history, the arrival of women on the political scene being the reason.

ALLIED CHIEFS SEE REVIEW OF LEGION
Brilliant Ceremony Takes Place at Kansas City Under Eyes of Warriors

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 2.—Under a brilliant autumn sky and through crowds so dense that they repeatedly surged through the police lines, the American Legion passed in review before distinguished military and naval leaders of France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium, and ranking officers of the United States army, navy and marine corps.

The distinguished visitors, Marshal Foch of France, Admiral Beatty of Great Britain, General Diaz of Italy, Lieut.-General Jacques of Belgium and the United States representatives of national defense, General Pershing, Admiral Hugh Rodman, U.S.N., and Major-General John A. Lejeune, commanding the Marine Corps, marched with their "buddies" of the Legion from Convention Hall, where the parade was formed, to the reviewing stand at Eighteenth St. and Grand Avenue, a distance of ten blocks.

Then they turned into the reviewing stand, where they stood while the Legion thousands passed by.

COST OF IRISH WAR

LONDON, Nov. 2.—If the Irish Conference fails the cost of crushing the rebellion in Ireland will be £250,000,000 and an army of 200,000 men. This, according to the Daily Express, is the military and naval authorities' estimate of the alternative to success in the parleys.

20000 Coal Miners Quit Indiana Mines

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 2.—Work in Indiana coal fields was practically at a standstill today as a result of walkouts of twenty thousand men employed at three hundred mines in the state.

STRIP-SEEDING TRIED TO FIGHT SOIL DRIFT

Big Farmer Near Calgary Experiments With Rye and Wheat on 11,000 Acres
CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 1.—Strip seeding as an experiment to combat soil drifting has been commenced by the Noble foundation at Nobleford, C. S. Noble announces. This experiment is a process by which crop is sown in strips at intervals across the land and was one discussed by soil drifting experts at the irrigation convention in Lethbridge last year. Mr. Noble is the first to introduce the experiment in Southern Alberta.

He has large areas in rye this fall and has planted the crop in strips twenty rods wide and twenty rods apart across the western portions of his sections in rye. It was planted in the rye spaces this method gives an alternate of rye and crop, since rye matures early in the summer and wheat is harvested in the fall, thus giving an effective protection against drifting. The Nobleford farms will have about 11,000 acres in rye this fall.

WOULD NOT DISCLOSE SOURCE OF HIS LIQUOR

Bulgar of Bridgeburg Goes to Reformatory Rather Than Pay Fine
BRIDGEBURG, Nov. 2.—In preference to paying his fine, and refusing to divulge the source where he secured his liquor, Nick Ancoff, a Bridgeburg Bulgarian, has accepted a six months' sentence in the Ontario Reformatory.

Ancoff was caught by Provincial Officer James Howie of Bridgeburg attempting to deliver a sack of liquor to Bulgarians residing in a boarding house in the Grand Trunk yards here. He was fined $500 by Magistrate House for violation of the Ontario Temperance Act, but could not be induced to divulge the source of his liquor.

TELLS OF TRIP TO 'KAINUCKY' AND THE SOUTH

"If Moonshine is Source of Wealth People Show Little Evidence of It"
MR. J. O. HERITY SPEAKS
Lions Club Have as Guest Industrial Commissioner for City of Belleville

Impressions of his trip through some of the central states were given to the Lions Club today by Industrial Commissioner J. O. Herity. He told of seeing the mountaineers of the Bluegrass State, who had won a name for themselves as the makers of moonshine whiskey. "If, making moonshine whiskey is the road to wealth, they show very little evidence of it, for a more poverty-stricken lot is nowhere to be found," the speaker said.

A great deal of the oak used in Canada comes from the groves which cover the hills of Kentucky. Everywhere the old South is still evident. Mr. Herity told of attending service in a colored church at Louisville where the congregational singing was the best that he had ever heard.

In Indianapolis, the capital of Indiana, he visited the tomb of the Hoosier poet, James Whitcomb Riley, which surmounts the top of the only hill in the State.

After his tour of many of the large cities he had come back better satisfied with Belleville, while it was not perfect, yet he had hopes that the day would come when the name of Belleville would make one think of it as a place where, in the words of Agassiz, men, women and children may lead happy and noble lives.

Mr. Bob Gorman was good fellowship chairman today.

THURLOW APPEAL DRAGS

Witness on Stand for Two Long Sessions of Court
The appeal of the township of Thurlow against the assessment of the County of Hastings as equalized last June is still in progress at the court house before Judge Deroche.

Deputy Reeve J. G. Sills, of Thurlow has been on the stand since Tuesday afternoon. His evidence dealt with the sales of property in the various townships, the purpose being to show that the report of the special committee on equalization, on which the bylaw of the county was based, did not represent the actual value on the average. This report covered sales of land for a certain period. Up to this afternoon the townships of Sidney, Thurlow, Rawdon and Huntingdon had been considered. There yet remain a number of municipalities to deal with from the standpoint of the township of Thurlow.

AUSTRALIAN RUGBY TEAM PLANS CANADIAN TOUR

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 2.—The Australian Rugby team now playing in the Northern Union series in England, will play a series of matches in Canada on its way home next spring. He expects to stage a game each in Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, and possibly Philadelphia. The visitors will be opposed to local teams where the excess of professional Rugby players makes this possible.

TWO MONTHS FOR BIGAMY MAN MAY BE DEPORTED

Percy James Range who last week was arrested by the local police at the request of the immigration authorities was sentenced last night to two months in the county jail for bigamy, the charge having been laid by Chief Kidd. Range admitted the offence. It is thought likely that he will be deported to the Old Country by the immigration authorities at the expiry of the sentence.

Range told the police after his arrest that he had two wives living in England and that he had arrived here a year ago and had sent back to the Old Country for a young lady to come out to this country and that he married her at Montreal on her arrival.

Death Ends Career of Dr. H. A. Yeomans

Medical Health Officer, Coroner, and Well-Beloved Family Physician Passes to Reward After Lengthy Illness—Noted Career in Public Service and Held High Place in His Profession—Tributes to His Sterling Worth.

Horace Augustus Yeomans, M.D., Medical Officer of Health of Belleville since the year 1907, passed away at his home, 224 Pinnacle street, at least thirty had evening. He had been ill a very long time, but he had no hope of recovery. He had been in bed for about ten months.

Dr. Yeomans was a member of the Board of Directors of the City of Belleville, and was for some years president of the board. He was also a member of the board of directors of the Corby Public Library for a number of years and was the municipal representative on that board. He acted as the consultant of the Old Boys' Association.

Professionally Dr. Yeomans was a member of the Bursk's Lodge, No. 439 A.P. & A.M., and was a past master of Craig Lodge, Deseronto. He was also a companion of Quinte Friends' Chapter, No. 251, of Belleville.

He was born in Belleville 54 years ago, the son of the late Horace Yeomans, and came of one of the earliest and best known families of Belleville. He had his early education in the schools of this city, and later graduated from Victoria College, Cobourg, and the Toronto School of Medicine, then taking his course in post-graduate work in the hospital of Toronto.

He was a member of the trustees board of Bridge Street Methodist Church. In politics he was a staunch Liberal.

Mourning his loss are Mrs. Yeomans; two sons, "Ted" and Asa, and three daughters, Misses Nina, Mary and Clara, all of this city. There also survive one brother, Mr. L. C. Yeomans of Belleville, and three sisters, Mrs. C. B. Dyde of Colorado, Miss Mary and Miss Clara Yeomans, of Bridge street west.

A little over five years ago his eldest son, Horace E. ("Pat"), was killed in action in France and the blow was keenly felt by the parents of the young man, whose career seemed so bright.

Dr. Yeomans was a man of firm convictions, and possessed natural gifts far above the ordinary, so that his passing is felt as a personal loss by the public. His affection for his home and family was one of the basic elements of his character. A strong social instinct made him a leader in thought and action, and mapped out for him a career of diverse interest. In every way he upheld the highest ideals of his profession for service.

To the family the deepest sympathy of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who knew Dr. Yeomans professionally and as a citizen and personal friend will be extended in their bereavement.

CARL AND ZITA GO TO RUMANIA; EXILE PERMANENT

British River Monitor of Danube Flotilla Bears Royal Adventurers
LAST OF HAPSBURGS
Not Having Abdicated is Still Legal King but Horthy Will See to That

BUDAPEST, Nov. 2.—Charles and Zita are on their way to Galatz, Rumania, on the British monitor "Glow Worm", and their exile from Hungary will likely be permanent.

With them departs also what is probably the last hope that any Hapsburger may have entertained of mounting the Hungarian throne. In making his comic opera, yet tragic dash for the throne, Carl, in destroying all his own chances for again setting the thousand-year-old Holy St. Stephen Crown on his head, has also had some revenge—he has dethroned all the others Hapsburger aspirants.

In archducal circles the adventure of Carl is spoken of in great bitterness and characterized as "madcap folly." The chief blame is put upon former Empress Zita. Even after the fiasco, there was still hope in those circles that prompt abdication by Carl might save the chances for some other member of the Hapsburg dynasty to ascend the throne. Some, however, were extremely skeptical, one of the archdukes remarking:

"Zita will never let Carl formally abdicate and renounce his claim to the throne."

And so it has turned out, and Carl, passing down the Danube on a British warship, is still the legal king of Hungary.

The Horthy Government, it is said, has decided to proclaim the dethronement, not only of Carl, but of all the Hapsburgs, and will attempt to do this through constitutional change, dropping the "pragmatic sanction."

In this manner, Hungary, under the pressure of circumstances, emerges from a feudal monarchy into a more democratic but still kingless monarchy.

The Hungarian Cabinet has decided to comply with the Allied ultimatum to depose the Hapsburg dynasty, and has convened the Assembly for Thursday to pass the necessary motion.

SOUTHERN IRISH GOVET COUNTIES HELD BY ULSTER

Sinn Fein Using Independence Claim to Bargain for Tyrone and Fermanagh IS CATHOLIC MAJORITY Ulster May Make Surrender Voluntarily, But Will Resist Coercion

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Premier Lloyd George spent the week-end at Chequers, accompanied by Sir William Sutherland, who is one of the Premier's shrewdest advisers on currents of opinion, both in Parliament and outside.

Today's debate in the House is not the difficulty. The result of that is practically a foregone conclusion. The Unionist extremists will present their motion, several speakers will support it, and the Premier will occupy about an hour in answering them.

It will be after the Commons debate that the Premier's difficulties will come to a head. The Sinn Fein is holding on to its claim for complete independence as something to bargain with in a deal with Ulster, from which it wants to get, with the backing of the British Government, the two counties of Tyrone and Fermanagh, in which there is a Catholic majority.

Mr. Lloyd George will find it no easy task to carry the Unionist section of his Coalition Government with him in the direction of further concessions to the Sinn Fein. Some of the ground of today's debate from that of Southern Ireland's allegiance to the Crown to that of coercion of Ulster. A well-informed correspondent in touch with Government opinion, says that the Government is not averse to a discussion of the position of the two counties, but it will not depart from the principle that there must be no coercion of Ulster.

It is on the cards that Ulster may herself surrender to the two counties, either as "bequests" toward the South or from the consideration that their retention may be a source of constant trouble to her, since they will be the foothold for Sinn Fein intrigues and incursions, but the act must be of her own volition, and unless the Sinn Fein abates its intransigence, and so gives promise of common allegiance and common policy, Ulster will stand by what she has got and will have the sympathy and approval of Great Britain in so doing.

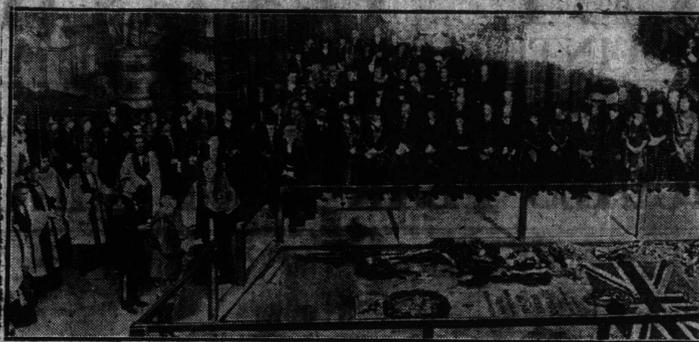

No meeting of the Irish Conference is expected to be held before Tuesday. It is reported that memoranda have been exchanged between the British and Irish delegates defining their position and that on these some questions arose. It is believed that the Sinn Fein leaders are in further communication with the Daily Express.

The prevailing belief here seems to be in various quarters that even should there be a breakdown in the present conference the truce in Ireland should continue. The Observer urges that there be a definite continuance of the truce for three months, during which time, it declared, Mr. Lloyd George might go to Washington, and discussions at home might bring about the settlement of the Irish situation. The newspaper adds that the Sinn Fein would not likely object to this expedient, "as the truce so far has strengthened its position, and its only opponents would be the rebellious Unionist Members of the Prime Minister expects to defeat overwhelmingly in Monday's decision in the House of Commons."

DIAMOND THEFT FOILED BY CLERK

Crashing of Heavy Metal Dash Through Window to Street Upsets Bandits Plans WAS AN ACCIDENT

Thieves Made Dash from Toronto Store After Firing a Warning Shot to Pal

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—A daring attempt to secure possession of more than $25,000 worth of gems hidden in the safe of H. Skup, manufacturing jeweler, 131-133 Yonge street, was made at 2.45 o'clock Saturday afternoon by three armed bandits. At the time hundreds of people were passing and re-passing the building, and three policemen were less than 100 yards away. In spite of these obstacles to a successful escape, the robbers, when frightened from their purpose, managed to make a clear get-away.

Unsuspected circumstances caused the upset of the daring plan of the bandits. In fact the very element of surprise upon which they counted for the successful execution of their plan proved its undoing. In surprising one of the two occupants of the establishment, Mr. Bert Sheppard with their curt command to put up his hands, they caused him to stumble against a bench on which was lying a heavy piece of metal. Sheppard fell and his weight acting as a lever caused the metal to hurl through the air and to crash through one of the windows facing Yonge street. Though no one below was injured it had the effect of raising the alarm and the robbers after firing a hasty shot at Sheppard rushed from the building. The shot, it is thought, was intended as a signal to the third man who was guarding the stairway.

ROTARY BEHIND BOYS IN SCHOOLS

Favors Athletics Under a Competent Instructor and Asks for it SURVEY OF BOYS O.K'd

Mr. D. V. Sinclair Tells of Y.M.C.A. Approval of Assistance by Club

The Rotary Club is going ahead with the boys' work programme involving a survey of all boys in the city. This was foreshadowed tonight when Rotarian Ackerman informed the meeting at the Hotel Quatre that the committee was favorable to the plan. It would mean, he said, that the city would be blockaded and each member given a certain amount of territory, all boys in it being under his eye in the survey.

Extended work for the boy was suggested to the meeting today in a speech by Mr. George K. Graham, who urged that the Board of Education consider athletics in the schools more closely; and that a physical director be appointed. Mr. Graham said the girls were taught domestic science and needle work as a sort of recreation and he couldn't see why the boys shouldn't be taught athletics.

Rev. Dr. Baker, principal of Albert College, warmly seconded the idea and the Rotary Club voted that the suggestion be sent on to the Board of Education.

Mr. D. V. Sinclair, president of the club, a member of the Board of Education and a Director of the Y.M.C.A., said that interested as he was in boys' work he felt that the Rotary was doing a splendid thing for the under-privileged boy. He felt that the club could carry out any reasonable object if set out to do and he wished it all success in this line of work.

Net Profit of $504,174.87 is Checked up During Month of September MR. HANNA PLEASED

Looks Forward to Better Showing for the Future—Asks Co-operation

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—According to an announcement made from the headquarters of the Canadian National Railways, the gross earnings of the system during September were more than sufficient to cover expenses to the extent of a half million dollars. This net for September is accordingly more than ten times that for the Nationals for the month of August. Gross earnings for the month were $11,500,126.24 and the working expenses were $10,995,951.37, leaving a net balance of $504,174.87. In view of the announcement, Mr. D. B. Hanna has extended his congratulations to the working staff of the amalgamated lines, and he adds:

"These figures embrace the operations of the Intercolonial, the National Transcontinental, the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the Canadian Northern Railway, in all some 17,500 miles of railways. This statement merely confirms what I stated previously to the effect that the Canadian Railways situation should not be regarded from too gloomy a viewpoint.

"We have a fine staff of loyal, capable, hard-working officers, whom, with the co-operation of the employees, this pleasing result is naturally due, and I feel that the announcement will do much to encourage them to make greater efforts towards securing still better results."

DEER HUNTING STARTS

Hunters are getting ready to depart in a day or two for the north country to take part in the annual chase for deer. Partridge hunters are getting ready for the opening of the partridge season.

Millions of Dollars in Damage to Homes—Railways gone, Wires Down

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 31.—Western British Columbia today is counting its losses of the week end of disastrous flood, the worst perhaps in the history of the province. Britannia Beach is destroyed, 36 of its citizens are drowned and Port Coquitlam has suffered railway and property damage yet to be ascertained.

The district is in a serious state of flood and the famous resorts of Capilano and Seymour are in flood with telephone and telegraph wires down. The roadbed of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was washed out. Several million dollars will have to be spent to repair the damage to the town, comprising one hundred homes and one of the most valuable copper refineries in the world. People fought in the rain and wind Friday night to rescue families and recover the dead following the destruction of the settlement. Incumbent rains which melted snows from higher levels had deposited a veritable lake of water on the shoulders of the mountain. Houses built on sand deposits, which formed most of the foundation which were an easy prey for the flood. Many people were never seen again and scores escaped through bedroom windows and skylights while their homes bobbed along in the current.

China Helpless Through Warfare

Rev. Mr. Carcaillen, for the past sixteen years, a missionary in China, was the speaker today at the Rotary Club. He had several very interesting things to say regarding the trend of world events with reference to the Pacific and Canada's share in it all.

He found China from her helplessness, even more than her tremendous undeveloped wealth, a great factor. When she woke up the course of the world's history would be changed. The last great civilization, the speaker said, would be in the Pacific Basin.

China now undergoing a series of periodical revelations, was, however, turning as never before to the Christian faith as the one stable quality—as something that could be relied upon, he said. He told of personal experiences there and asserted that the foreign schools were now the main source of education for the Chinese, while many of the intellectual men of the country were turning to Christianity, which had hitherto been received cheaply by the lower class.

WHAT CAUSES SO MUCH SICKNESS

Constipation Responsible for 90% of Disease "FRUIT-A-TIVES" Corrects It

It is generally recognized among the medical profession that Constipation or Insufficient Action of The Bowels, produces more disease than any other one cause. Constipation is responsible for at least 90% of the disease in the world today—because Constipation is responsible for the Indigestion and Dyspepsia—the nervousness, Insomnia and Rheumatism—the Eczema and other skin troubles—the Headaches and Backaches.

As you know, it is the duty of the bowels to carry off the waste matter in the system. If the bowel muscles are weak or the liver inactive, then this waste matter remains in the body and poisons the blood. As a result, every organ in the body is poisoned by this waste.

"Fruit-a-tives" has been wonderfully successful in relieving Stomach Troubles, Nervous Troubles, Liver Troubles, Kidney Troubles, Skin Troubles and Blood Troubles, because "Fruit-a-tives" positively and emphatically relieves Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always relieve Constipation, even though the trouble has been chronic for ten, fifteen and twenty years. Thousands of grateful users proclaim "Fruit-a-tives" the greatest remedy for Constipation that the world has ever known.

MARKET PLACE AND FRESH MEAT

Council Hears Question that is Brought up by Market Lessee, Mr. A. S. Large

INSPECTOR RULES Difference of Opinion as to Dust and Wind and Effect on Food

Market Lessee A. S. Large complained to the city council last evening that Sanitary Inspector Willis was prohibiting the cutting up of fresh meat. The ban was making serious inroads into his revenue, said Mr. Large.

"Why does he allow butter, drawn chickens, not only now, but all summer," he asked.

Ald. French suggested that the sanitary inspector be approached by a member of the council in reference to the matter.

Ald. Woodley declared that it had been said there was wind blowing and dust flying, but that there was absolutely nothing wrong with the meat. Mr. Willis had told him the health authorities agreed that there should be no fresh meat cut up in warm weather on the market.

It was said that the question was one for the Board of Health.

AM. Bennett had been told by two women that the meat in question was all right and that there were no flies and no wind. It does not seem right, Mr. Bennett said, that meat cannot be cut up in these days when people have not too much money.

"If we have no jurisdiction over Mr. Willis can we not make a recommendation that the cutting up of meat be permitted."

Mr. B. A. Sanford urged that meat be allowed to be cut up as there was need in these days of cheap meat.

Mayor Hanna stated that he would have a meeting of the Board of Health members held on Tuesday afternoon to take up the question.

Mr. Smith asked what he would do with the meat which he had left. A member of the council suggested that he cover it and offer it for sale on the market and ventured the view that he would not be interrupted.

Belleville City Council is not willing to see the Provincial Government take the police court fines and fees and will be represented Wednesday morning at Queen's Park by Mayor Hanna, Ald. Bennett and Ald. Fisher, when the urban municipalities will oppose the proposal.

"It means a mill to our tax rate," said Ald. Woodley.

Council unanimously decided to send a strong delegation to endeavor to save the fines for the municipalities.

There is a proposal before the Legislature to have all fees and fines turned into the provincial treasury.

At this season they are taken on hook and line, the fishing grounds being located several miles from Cape Vincent in Lake Ontario. The trip is taken in motor boats, licensed guides being employed.

"I regret that I cannot report so favorably on the small balance due 1920, as in 1919, which I returned in November 1920, on account of unemployment to some extent, but more particularly for other reasons that I doubt are not known to you as I have collected but a small amount on 1920 taxes during the last two months."

"Permit me to add that since my appointment three years and four months ago, I have returned four rolls, nearly completed the fifth and $290,000 on the sixth, at a cost to the city per annum for 1920 and 1921, and including poll tax, for less than was paid in the year preceding my appointment with much less distressing. Then the taxes were $219,000 and now $384,000."

Owners of dogs in Belleville will still buy their dog tags at the office of the city treasurer. Last evening Ald. Bennett pressed for a vote on his motion of motion which if carried would have had the effect of transferring the registration and collection of the tag into the hands of the chief of police, but the council said nay, it would mean the scattering of the collection of civic revenue all over the market square instead of the council's plan of centralization. Ald. Bennett claimed that the proposal he had made would mean greater revenue by reason of the police having control of the canine situation, and that it would have the effect of putting the ownerless dog or cur out of business.

ILLNESS KEEPS WILSON IN BED

Former U. S. President Said by Physician to be Very Sick Man

UNABLE TO SEE FOCH May be too Ill to Attend Opening of Disarmament Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Woodrow Wilson is a very sick man. The former President, according to a statement by Admiral Cary Grayson, his physician, is unable to leave his bed. He is suffering from a series of violent headaches, accompanied by stomach trouble of an aggravated nature.

While the former President's condition is not held to be especially dangerous, the symptoms are such, Admiral Grayson said, to make his stay in bed imperative.

Dr. Grayson's statement was as follows: "Mr. Wilson has been confined to his bed yesterday and today. He is slightly improved today, and it is hoped will be up again within a day or so."

Asked as to the nature of the former president's illness, Admiral Grayson replied: "You may call it a digestive disorder."

The former President's illness, it was emphatically stated by Dr. Grayson, constitutes the real and only reason for his unwillingness to receive Marshal Foch, when the latter broke into a round of official visits yesterday to drive to the Wilson home for a renewal of the acquaintance began in Paris. Other reasons assigned for the failure to receive Marshal Foch were characterized as pure inventions, Dr. Grayson being the authority for the statement that Mr. Wilson expressed a sincere desire to meet the general and genuine regret that the interview could not be granted.

The condition of the former President is said to be such as to make it extremely improbable that he will see either Premier Lloyd George or Premier Briand when the latter arrives in Washington next week.

The instruction will likely take place in the evening so as to not interfere with occupations. All those wishing to attend this course (all units and High School Cadets) should send in their names to the Adjutant, A.L.I., at once. CARRY ON THEIR WORK "Only Thing that Matters is That Airships Go on," Says First Donor

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The council of the Royal Aeronautical Society has decided to establish a memorial fund to those who lost their lives in the ZR-2 and previous airships. With the income derived from the capital sum raised, it is proposed to encourage investigations into problems connected with airships or allied subjects; the results of such work to be embodied in papers to be read before the Royal Aeronautical Society. It is believed that this offers the best means of carrying on the work of those who have perished in the cause of airships.

The first donation received by the society consists of three crumpled and water-stained notes totalling £6, 10 shillings, taken from a pocket-book found on Flight-Lieutenant J. E. M. Pritchard who lost his life in the ZR-2 disaster.

They are sent by an anonymous donor as a contribution to the fund with the comment that "the money could not be put to better use" as "the only thing that matters is that airships should go on."

NOMINATION TO JAS. N. WALSH IF HE ACCEPTS

Meeting Yesterday at Tweed of Liberals of East Hastings Was Well Attended

WEEK TO CONSIDER IT Mr. D'Arcy Scott Makes Speech Which Was Feature of Good Meeting

The nomination of the Liberals of the riding of East Hastings was offered to Mr. James V. Walsh, reeve of the township of Tyendinaga, at the convention of the Liberals held at the village of Tweed on Monday afternoon.

The convention was largely attended, the various part of the riding being well represented. The chair was taken by Mr. Joseph R. Stanton, of Deseronto. The question of placing a candidate in the field, in which there are already two contestants was canvassed at full length by the delegates and it was finally concluded to appoint a nominating committee to name a candidate. The committee after due deliberation selected Mr. Walsh, who asked time to consider.

It is expected that he will reach a decision inside of a week.

The speech of the day was delivered by Mr. D'Arcy Scott, for ten years a member of the Board of Railway Commissioners for the Dominion of Canada and now Secretary of the Canadian Dairy Association. He spoke along general Liberal lines and then made special reference to the agricultural class, his office having brought him into closest touch with the farmer section of the country. This address was of particular interest, delivered as it was to the electors of a riding which is mainly rural. Mr. Scott is himself a farmer on a very large scale.

A resolution was unanimously carried in support of the Liberal leader, the Hon. Mackenzie King and his policy. This was moved by Mr. A. Bernard Collins, of Belleville and second by Mr. F. J. Black of Tweed. Mr. C. Wood of Lennox, spoke a few words to the convention.

Mr. Walsh gave a short address in which he crystallized some of his views on the political situation in the country in general and in the County of Hastings in particular. He is one of the leading younger Liberals of the County of Hastings. For some years he has represented Tyendinaga in the County Council.

Farmed Phoned the Police When Kingstonsians Tried to Get Help.

KINGSTON.—Farmers in the county are still very cautious in their dealings with strangers, particularly at night, and several Kingstonsians found that they have little chance to get into a farmer's house after dark. Near Bark Road several Kingstonsians, in a motor car had the misfortune to become a little too well acquainted with a nearby ditch, and the result was the car toppled into the ditch, and refused to go any farther. The occupants went to the nearest farmhouse, but the farmer, thinking them burglars, phoned the police station. The police patrol made double time in getting to the scene, but found that only an accident had occurred. The car was towed into the city, and the farmer returned to his rest, just as much determined that all would be treated the same way.

SEVERED AN ARTERY

Roy Watts While Splicing a Belt Let Knife Slip.

CARLETON PLACE.—Roy Watts, of the Bates & Innes Mills, Carleton Place, met with rather a serious mishap in the mill. It appears the card room does not run on Saturday mornings and the spare is usually utilized to overhaul the machines and put things in order. Mr. Watt was so engaged and using a sharp knife to splice a belt he somehow let the blade slip and the point penetrated his leg severing an artery. A hemorrhage ensued and before the wound could be closed the loss of blood was very heavy, so weakening the patient that he could not be removed for some hours. His condition now is very much improved, and it will be only a matter of time to make up for the loss of strength.

BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

A Serious Loss to a Farmer Near Napanee.

NAPANEE.—Fire destroyed the barn of Myro Schryver, about four miles from Napanee. The barn, with the summer's crop, was totally destroyed. Mrs. Schryver, who was milking when the fire was discovered, had just time to get the cows and horses out. It is not known how the fire originated, as Mr. Schryver was most particular about matches around the barn, never using them, allowing any one else to use them. There was some insurance carried, but the season's crop and about one thousand bushels of 1920 crop was stored in the barn.

CANADA'S SHARE FROM CANTEENS

Army Council Has Adopted Report of Committee on Profits

GETS OVER $2,000,000

Dominion's Proportion Reduced by Losses From Loans

LONDON, Nov. 2.—After five months' delay the army council has at last adopted the report of the Parliamentary Committee on the expeditionary force canteen profits and Canada will now be in a position to receive her share of the total. Sir George Perley, who has been pressing for action in the matter, was notified today of the army council's decision, and the Canadian government will be asked whether it is agreeable to the course recommended in the committee's report. This report disclosed a situation not altogether satisfactory to Canada. Loans had been made from the profits realized by the expeditionary force canteen board to finance it on a peace footing and its operations had resulted in considerable losses. The committee recommended that the losses should be deducted from the original profits, as they were necessary in the completion of the war work of the organization. This, of course, will mean a reduction in the amount which Canada receives. It is doubtful, however, whether the Dominion can do otherwise than accept the report as making the best of a bad business. The share of Canada should be over two million dollars.

METEOR OVER WINGHAM BOOMING NOISE FOLLOWS

Wingham, Nov. 2.—Old Mother Nature herself took part in the Hal- lowe'en celebrations at Wingham by sending one of her celestial visitors in the form of a large meteor, which crossed the sky, travelling in a southeasterly direction, about midnight. It was large enough to light the landscape brilliantly, and about two minutes after it passed from sight a loud booming noise was heard.

DETAIN JONES DURING THE KING'S PLEASURE

Callous Description of Crime by a Welsh Boy Murderer Who Condemned Own Case

ABERTULLERY, Wales, Nov. 2.—A 15-year-old boy whose confessed "desire to kill" led him to murder two little girls, today was sentenced to "detention during His Majesty's pleasure."

The victims of the boy, Harold Jones, were Florence Reid, 10, and Freda Burnell, 11.

When the Burnell girl disappeared last February, young Jones was among the most ardent searchers. He was charged with her murder, however, after the body was found. He conducted his own defence, and made such a remarkable plea that he was acquitted.

In July, the Reid girl also disappeared. Jones professed to know nothing about her. A few days later her body was found in the attic of her home, her throat cut.

When his second trial opened today Jones pleaded guilty, but the Magistrate ordered the case to proceed. The boy, on the witness stand, then described in detail how he had killed the girl.

"I cut her throat in the kitchen and then held her head over the sink," he said astmily. "My own reason was a desire to kill."

The boy stated that he carried the body to the attic without aid. He then confessed to the murder of the Burnell girl.

Rev. Menze Ainsworth Preaches on Book of Revelation—Prof. Staples Sings

Wellington—Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Tait had a motor trip to Belleville last Wednesday. Arthur Macdonald, who has taken up studies at the O.B.C., came to Belleville with Mr. and Mrs. Tait.

Mr. Elwood Garratt, who was recorded a minister in the Society of Friends at the 1921 yearly meeting, is paying a visit to the Friends Meetings in Westlake Quarterly meeting. He began at Wellington on Wednesday, Oct. 26, and was here till Saturday, when he went to Wooler for the week end. Mr. Garratt was principal of a high school at Toronto, and Rockwood. He stayed with his brother, Wallace Garratt, on his visit last week, and had a successful meeting on Wednesday night. He also paid a visit to Bloomfield on Friday.

The Friends Women's Missionary Auxiliary held their annual meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wild on Thursday evening. About 35 people gathered and spent a pleasant time together. After the business part was over, a programme was given, followed by refreshments. The thanksgiving offering amounted to $20.00.

The Women's Institute held a successful Domestic Sale on Saturday afternoon and raised $67.75 for the County Hospital Fund. The sale was held in the old drug store, kindly lent by Mr. L. K. Shroed. A special feature that created great interest among the women was the Service Flag that is being made in memory of those who were helped by the institute while they were on war service. The flag, which is incomplete, was hung over the door where the sale was on Saturday. The names of those killed in the war in letters of gold, green maple leaves will represent the other names, and the flag will be an interesting piece of work when all the names are added.

There was a full house at the Methodist church on Sunday evening and those who were in attendance had a great treat in listening to Rev. Menze Ainsworth, of Gas City, Indiana, preach on the Book of Revelation. After reading his lesson, the preacher closed the book, and without notes, held his congregation spellbound by his account of the Book of Revelations. He pointed out that, although the Book was written in the first instance for those contemporary with the writer, it contained a message for all who are passing through the trials of today, and his message is the fact of God, being with us today, a very present help in time of need. Prof. Staples of Belleville was also present, and rendered a solo, "Hearer My God, These" in such a manner that also impressed the people.

Wellington has lost another highly respected citizen in the death of Alexander Stewart, who passed away at his home in the early hours of Sunday morning in his 77th year. His sister, Mrs. Henry Morgan, of Independence, Missouri, has been taking care of him in recent weeks, and was with him to the end, as well as his brother, Joseph, who lives near-by. The Stewart family came to Canada about 1860, mother and seven children, the father having died the year before. Mrs. Stewart sold their farm in the north of Ireland to their cousin, Andrew Holmes, who also came to Canada later, and located in Hillier. Mrs. Stewart and her family settled for a time near Deseronto, then later came into Prince Edward County, and Alexander stayed the rest of his life in Prince Edward. Not being married, his mother and a sister was with him until the mother's demise six or seven years ago. Mr. Stewart was a hard worker, and his employment was in the iron and well contracting, but owing to failing health, he had to give up work about three years ago. He was a member of Moira Masonic Lodge, Belleville, and Prince Edward Chapter, Picton, and the interment is arranged for Tuesday by the Star in the East Lodge, No. 164, at Hillier cemetery. Two brothers and two sisters survive. Mrs. Margaret Stewart Brown, who is with her daughter, Mrs. Raymond, Buffalo; Mrs. Morgan, of Independence, and Joseph Stewart, of Wellington, and Robert Stewart of Newbury, Luce County, Michigan.

J. S. Shurrie and Tom Boyle had a couple of days with their guns in North Hazy party. The party hunters left here early on Monday morning for sport at the camp at Mink Lake, back of Maynooth. Gilbert Goodmurphy, Wallace Goodmurphy, Sebastian D. Crooks, and Harris, W. J. Morris were in the party, and it is understood others from the district are to join them.

It is to be found in every drug store in Canada from coast to coast and all country merchants keep it for sale. So, being easily procurable and extremely moderate in price, no one should be without a bottle of it.

W. C. A. Expresses Deep Regret At Passing of Dr. H. A. Yeomans

That the W.C.A. desire to express their sympathy with Mrs. Yeomans and family in the death of Dr. Horace Yeomans, who for many years was a faithful member of the medical staff of the hospital and who always showed a warm interest in the work of the Association, was a resolution passed by the members of the W.C.A. which met in the Council chamber yesterday afternoon for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. W. C. Michel, the President, in the chair.

Mrs. (Dr.) Tennant was elected to the office of Corresponding Secretary for the W.C.A. Miss M. Smith, the social service worker, gave a very interesting report of her work during the past month. Since the new law that children must assume care of parents was passed, several have done so. A number of people have been persuaded to join the night classes at the High School. There were a few applications for need during the month. The Dorcas Society have met twice during the past month. Mrs. C. M. Reid is the lady on duty for the hospital this month, and Mrs. J. MOIRA CHAPTER ENTERTAINS ENJOYABLE EVENING RESULT

Moira Chapter, No. 7, Royal Arch Masons last night welcomed Rt. Ex. Companion Dr. C. F. Walt, of Stirling, Grand Superintendent of Prince Edward district, No. 11, at the Masonic Temple, Front Street, on the occasion of his official visit.

The turnout of the members of the chapter was large and the program of work and at the banquet was very interesting.

Grand Superintendent Walt was the guest of honor at the feast, after the chapter work had been completed. First Principal Ex. Comp. W. A. Harden occupied the chair and called the gathering to their feet for several toasts. The pledge of the King was drunk and Rt. Ex. Comp. Dr. Farley proposed the health of the Grand Chapter, to which the Grand Superintendent replied. The visitors, who included the heads of Keystone Chapter, Stirling, and Mount Sinai, of Napanee, were also toasted.

The event was memorable for the character of the musical programme. The Greene Music Company Orchestra of eight pieces rendered selections in a very creditable manner for a new organization. This body is composed of young musicians, who are in the work for the love of the art. They were roundly applauded by the companions for the excellence of the numbers and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to them, to which Comp. James A. Goodsell, manager of the company, responded gracefully. Two of the members of the orchestra gave a violin and Hawaiian guitar duet, "Aloha Oe." Master Everett Stephens playing the violin and Mr. Ernest Barragar the guitar. The duet was so perfect that as an encore given in response to the insistent demand they played the gay "Irish Washerwoman."

BIG NEW OIL PLANT TO START

Mona Petroleum Products Limited to Locate on Bunker Hill

TO MAKE A NEW GAS OIL Test in Trenton Proves Value of New Gasoline—Other Lines

TRENTON, Nov. 1.—The Mona Petroleum Products Ltd., of Toronto, which has been incorporated with a capital stock of $500,000, with Dr. J. W. Trotter as president, will soon start the erection of its plant in Trenton, according to an article in the Quinte Sun. Sixty acres belonging to the Chemical Products, Ltd., on "Bunker" Hill have been secured and this week the site is being surveyed. Fortunately there are sidings of both C.P.R. and C.N.R. already on the property so no time will be lost in securing railroad sidings. If nothing unforeseen prevents, in less than two weeks the Company will be able to commence construction work, and Dr. Trotter expects that in a couple of months the plant will be ready to produce Mona gasoline which will be principal product of plant at the outset. Mona gasoline, Dr. Trotter says, can be produced at a cost of 15c a gallon and since it gives much more mileage when used in automobiles it should have a quick sale and be in great demand.

The first unit of the plant to be erected will cost nearly $100,000. Two $15,000 barrel tanks will be installed at the outset and others will be added as requirements demand.

Dr. Trotter who is a chemist of wide experience, expects to produce other lines, besides gasoline, when the plant is in operation. Paint oils and driers, paints, soaps and other made from petroleum will be among the products of the new plant.

The experiments carried on by Dr. Trotter have extended over a period of thirty years. He was at one time with the Standard Oil Co. of New York State, but afterwards went south. Several years ago he moved to Toronto and has now decided to make his home in Trenton, where the parent company will be located.

When Dr. Trotter was asked how many men would the work employ he said they would start with from 100 to 150 and in a year there would likely be 500 men employed.

Dr. Trotter is most favorably impressed with Trenton and thinks its splendid situation should bring it to the front as a centre of industry. Together with Mrs. Trotter and her mother he has been staying at the Gilbert House this week.

On Thursday afternoon an interesting test of Mona gasoline was made on the track at Firemen's Park Mr. Wesley Saylor's Willys-Knight car was used for the test and Mr. T. Graydon was the expert who filled the supply tank and ran the car. First, a quart of ordinary gasoline, was put in and the car started, running nineteen times around the track before stopping. Next a quart of Mona gasoline was used and the car ran nearly 22 times around the track. When this was figured out it was found that on a gallon of Mona gasoline the car ran a distance equal to three and a half miles more than it ran on ordinary gasoline.

Those who were with Dr. Trotter when the test was made were: Mr. Saylor, W. H. Ireland, M.P.P., Councilors Roanigk and O'Rourke and T. Jarrett.

Dr. Trotter explained that by tightening down the carburetor a little (as Mona gasoline is lighter and runs more freely than ordinary gasoline) the same supply would have lasted longer, probably making nearly another mile, inasmuch as previous tests had shown all the way from 33 to 100 per cent greater travel than by the use of ordinary gasoline.

No Licenses Here For Deer Hunters Who Resent Delay

Deer hunters are up in the air over the fact that there are no licenses available here yet, although the season opens Saturday, November 5th.

Ald. S. J. Fisher has just been asked if he will handle the licenses and he has consented.

"I expect them tomorrow," he said when asked by The Ontario as to when they would be available. Mr. Fisher stated that the situation was regrettable and that no one locally was to blame, the fault being with the provincial department.

Hunters generally go out three days ahead to get camp ready. Present indications are that licenses may not be available before Thursday.

OAK HALL

W.C.T.U. NOTES

W.C.T.U. members held a splendid meeting, when plans were developed for the winter work. Mrs. Geo. Cole reported, in spirit as well as in letter, the 44th Provincial Convention held recently in London, attended by over four hundred delegates representing two hundred and twenty-seven Unions and eleven thousand members. Much of the four days was given to executive work, but the open sessions were favored with such speakers as Mrs. Blanche Reed Johnson, Mrs. Gordon Wright, Dr. H. Clay Trumbull and others.

One of the most efficient departments is known as the Travellers' Aid, by which women and girls travelling alone are cared for, plotted or directed by a W.C.T.U. official, who wears a badge and meets trains in the large centres. In the past year, forty-one thousand girls were thus assisted, and the fact that in the Dominion ten girls per day are left night of, makes such a work a necessity. To girls of the province remaining in Toronto, Willard Hall is a safe and pleasant hostel, but of late taxed beyond its capacity, so that an extension is being added, at a cost of $150,000.00, to provide one hundred and forty additional rooms.

Receipts from the Belleville Humbugs Sale were $268.00 (expenses $26.00), only a part of which remains in Belleville, the balance going to aid the various benevolences of the Provincial Executive.

Mr. Ross regards the Trenton yard as better than the Smith's Falls-Havelock route, besides he will be returning to a part of the province whence he came to Smith's Falls five years ago.

SIX WITNESSES DIE DURING TRIAL

Long Drawn Out Struggle in Courts for $3,000,000 Engineer Gold Mine

B. C. WILL APPEAL Recent Decision in Favor of Heirs of Capt. Alexander Stirs Province to Action

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 1.—The recent decision of the Supreme Court in favor of the heirs of Captain J. Alexander and the notice of appeal, which it is believed will take the case ultimately before the Privy Council, marked another stage in the long-drawn-out legal battle waged for control of the famous Engineer gold mine claims.

The defendants in the case were James Allen Fraser, administrator of Captain Alexander's estate and of the estate of Allen I. Smith, sole beneficiary of Alexander, and also Vera M. Smith, wife of Allen Smith; Louisa Smith, his mother, and Charles C. Smith, his brother.

The plaintiffs were the Engineering Mining Company, consisting of 150 shareholders and attorney-general for British Columbia.

The decision in favor of Alexander's heirs was given on the ground that certain requirements of the Mineral Act were not complied with before commencing the action.

The plaintiffs alleged that the late Captain Alexander and his associates "jumped" the claims; and that although the defendants might have an apparently good Crown grant, this claim was nevertheless based upon a trespass in the first place; and that so long as the root of the title was bad, the whole structure fell to the ground.

On the other hand, the defendants rested their case largely on the regularity of the proceedings, and the opportunity afforded the plaintiffs to object in the early stages and their acquiescence during a long period of years.

Six of the leading witnesses in the case met death during the course of the legal struggle.

Among the dead were Captain Alexander and his wife, who died on the Princess Sophia, wrecked on Vanderbilt Reef. Alexander's heir, Allen I. Smith, committed suicide in Philadelphia in 1919.

Edwin Brown, secretary for the shareholders, disappeared mysteriously from Elma, Wash., many months ago.

Joseph Hlop, prominent stockholder, was killed in an accident in Chicago. A. F. Mead, president of the company, slipped on the stairs of a Portland, Ore., building and was killed.

D. C. Brown, all shareholder, died of cancer in San Francisco.

Students Celebrate Hallowe'en in Style

Albert College students disported themselves as true collegians with an eye to the joys of life and its follies at the Hallowe'en celebration last evening at the college.

The chapel, dining room, reception-room and library were hung with black cat emblems and all usual symbols of witchery, while the student body paraded in masks.

The costumes were, if anything, more striking and more beautiful than ever.

In the library fortunes were told by Miss Young and Miss Tuttle with a keen sense of the particular weakness of the person seeking to unveil the mysteries of the future.

A feature of the program was the promenading of the masqueraders for the early part of the evening and the jazz music of the Albert College band.

Two of one wild instrument, two fiddles and knives, fives and combes College songs were sung and clever hits on the freshes and the freshettes were given and prominently by the sophs and the seniors.

U.S. WON'T SEEK ANY TERRITORY

Ambassador Harvey Tells How L. George Received Note on Conference

PROMPT OFFER TO AID Anglo-American Cordiality at Dinner Giving Send-off to Delegates

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Britain, America and Japan, represented by A. J. Balfour, Ambassador Harvey and Baron Hayashi, Japanese Ambassador to the Court of St. James, met last evening at a dinner given by "the Pilgrims" in honor of the British delegation to the Washington Conference at the Hotel Victoria.

The presence of the Marquis of Curzon, Earl of Cavan, who is a member of the Washington delegation; Sir George Pailey, High Commissioner for Canada, and many other diplomatic and military officials gave a special significance to the send-off to the departing delegation.

Lloyd George was unable to be present owing to the Commons debate, but telegraphed his regrets, saying partly: "I am hoping keenly to attend the great conference at Washington. For summoning it the world owes President Harding a debt of sincere gratitude. We will do our utmost to assure its success."

Doesn't Fear War Ambassador Harvey made the leading speech of the evening, emphasizing the limitation of the army of the United States, and curtailing the naval program, and adding: "America doesn't fear war. She simply hates it. Not only will America never seek additional territory by conquest, but she would not accept it as a gift."

He told a dramatic story of the receipt by Lloyd George of the Washington invitation last July. "It was Sunday afternoon, when I found the premier sitting under the spreading trees at his country place engaged in animated discussion with Dominion Premier. Up to a few hours before I hadn't known the nature of the message I was bringing him. Slowly and carefully I read the message from the Secretary of State, announcing the intention of President Harding to summon a conference of nations, and asking if he moved in that direction would it meet the approbation of the British. In a flash the Premier was on his feet—he almost shouted, 'We accept we accept gladly, accept gratefully. I don't need to read the telegram. It's all right; we'll do everything in our power to make the conference a great success.'"

Hydro Dance Is Voted Big Success By Merry Couples

Under the smile of good-natured goblins, the light of whose eyes was fed by Hydro energy, three hundred young people danced Hallowe'en away at the Bennett Academy last night as the guests of the K.Y.A., the social and athletic club of the local staff of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission. Most of the guests were from Belleville but there were a number from the Hydro staff in this district.

The affair was the most successful social event so far this season. It was a true Hallowe'en festival of dancing.

The hall wore its prettiest dress last night. Everywhere was the sign of the electric energy of the members of the club. Special lamps had been put in for the occasion and these were decorated with the purple and gold colors of the club. Among the features of the decorations were a large wrinking moon, and the ceiling of the dancing hall was hung with festoons of the club in great profusion and the effect with the yellow and gold and purple gleam from the masked lights was very appealing. Other decorative effects included the shading of lights in the masks of goblins.

Mr. Harold Anderson had charge of the committee on the decorations. It was a triple Hallowe'en festival in every sense.

Another of the attractions was the orchestral program. It was the first time that the Harold Rich Novelty Sextette of Mosher's Arcade, Toronto, had played in Belleville. The music was novel and was marked by brilliancy, the effects being just those required for the dance. Mr. Harold Rich presided at the piano and Mr. Harry Cohn featured violin dancing specialties. Mr. M. King handled the saxophone without which no modern dance can be held, and Mr. Raymond Mitchell operated the traps. Mr. Rich during the intermission gave some song features.

At the witching hour the company enjoyed an abundance of refreshments and then resumed the dance until the small hours began to grow quite large.

LYDD GEORGE GIVEN MANDATE

Gains Sweeping Victory in British House After Momentous Speech

VOTE 10 TO ONE FOR HIM Unionists Who Would Halt Irish Conferences are Now Entirely Beaten

LONDON, Nov. 1.—"This House of Commons must either trust its negotiators or replace them. I want to know whether the House of Commons wants us to try to make peace with Ireland."

"If it does not want us to do it, there will at any rate be one glad man who will go to his sovereign and hand in his resignation. That is my position."

Standing before the House, which was crowded to suffocation, with beads of perspiration upon his forehead, emphasizing each syllable with a dramatic thump upon the Commons table, which shook the historic mace, Lloyd George took up the challenge of the die-hard. They had attempted to spike the negotiations.

The Premier scored in one hour and ten minutes of tense and dramatic speaking, a telling indication of the government's attitude. It was one of the most spectacular victories in the history of the British Parliament on the Empire's sorest question. The vote was 433 to 43—more than 10 to 1 in favor of the Government.

Herbert Asquith followed the Premier, announcing that he would support the government in every possible way in spirit and substance. He declared that the best policy of the government had been a failure so far as Ireland was concerned, but that the Government now has its eyes open to the realities of the situation.

Supporters of the motion to censure the government, declared Mr. Asquith, appeared, to have learned nothing from past motions of a similar character, which had been unavailing in substance and impotent in point of time. The government now is doing right by pursuing a wise and statesmanlike course which it ought to have pursued earlier.

He ridiculed the idea that the Irish conference could be held if the proposals and concessions were published in advance. Such a course, he said, could only lead to disaster.

"Negotiations must be conducted with a genuine desire to reach a settlement, which will make the Empire secure," said the former Premier.

RAISE TARIFF STILL HIGHER

Agricultural Block of U. S. Senators Decide on Increased Rates

WHEAT IS EXPECTED How Permanent Would Compare With Emergency Charges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The agricultural group of Senators held a finance conference preliminary to the resumption of tariff hearings before the finance committee. They decided definitely on the agricultural rates for the permanent tariff bill, which are about the same as the emergency tariff rates.

The rates to be demanded by the bloc, together with the rates now in the bill, include: Butter, 10 cents a pound instead of 8 cents; fresh beef 2 1/2 cents a pound instead of 2 1/4 cents; hides, green, 2 cents a pound; dried, 8 cents a pound instead of 6 cents; flax seed, 40 cents a bushel instead of 30 cents; wheat, 30 cents instead of 25. The rate demanded for wheat is five cents below the emergency rate.

It was decided to force the resolution to continue the emergency bill to quick passage.

ADMITS CAUSING WRECK OF G. T. TRAIN IN MICHIGAN

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 1.—Henry W. Gates, aged 59, of Huntington, Ind., held here in connection with the wreck of a Grand Trunk passenger train near Lapeer last Friday night, confessed today, according to railroad detectives, that he loosened a rail and caused the accident. The officers ascribed the act to a mental lapse, due to a sunstroke suffered some time ago. Three persons were injured in the wreck.

The....
Prairie
Mother
By Arthur Stringer

When I was sure that Dinkie was off for good, I tipped out and shut the nursery door. Even big houses, I began to realize as I stood there in the hall, could have their drawbacks. In the two-by-four shack where we'd lived and worked and been happy before Casa Grande was built there was no chance for one's husband to shut himself up in his private boudoir and barricade himself away from his better-half. So I decided, all of a sudden, to be a lion in his den.

There was such a thing as too much formality in a family circle. Yet I felt a bit audacious as I quietly pushed open that study door. I even weakened in my decision about pouncing on Dinkie-Dunk from behind, like a leopardess on a helpless stag. Something in his pose, in fact, brought me up short.

Dinkie-Dunk was sitting with his head on his hand, staring at the wall-paper. And it wasn't especially interesting wall-paper. He was sitting there in a trance, with a peculiar line of dejection about his forward-fallen shoulders. I couldn't see his face, but I felt sure it was not a happy face. I even came to a stop, without speaking a word, and shrank rather guiltily back through the doorway. It was a relief, in fact, to find that I was able to close the door without making a sound.

When Dinkie-Dunk came downstairs, half an hour later, he seemed his same old self. He talked and laughed and inquired if Nip and Tuck—those are the names he sometimes takes from his team and plus one—Poppy and Pea-Wee—had given me a hard day and explained that Francois—our man on the Harris Ranch—had sent down a robe of plaided rabbitkin for them.

I did my best all the time, to keep my inquisitorial eye from fastening itself on Dinkie's face, for I knew that he was playing up to me, that he was acting a part which wasn't coming any too easy, and he stuck to his role. When I put down my sewing, because my eyes were tired, he even inquired if I hadn't done about enough for one day.

"I've done time half what I ought to do," I told him. "The trouble is, Dinkie-Dunk, I'm getting old. I'm losing my bounce!"

"That made him laugh a little, though he was rather slow to get into it. "Oh, no, Gee-gee," he announced, momentarily like his old self, "what-ever you lose, you'll never lose that underlying girlishness of yours. It's that. It was not so long ago, he said, as the mere fact that he could say it, which sent a wave of happiness through my maternal old body. So I made for him with my Australian crawl-like stroke, and kissed him on both sides of his stubbly old face, and crumpled him up, and went to bed with a touch of silver about the edges of the thunder-cloud still hanging away off somewhere on the sky-line.

WEDNESDAY THE TWENTY-FIFTH

There was indeed something wrong. I knew that the moment I heard Dinkie-Dunk come into the house, I knew it by the way he let the storm-door swing shut, by the way he crossed the hall as far as the living-room door and then turned back, by the way he slowly mounted the stairs and passed leaden-footed on to his study. And I knew that this time there'd be no "Are you there, Little Mother?" or "Where beest thou, Beca Chicka?"

I'd Poppy and Pea-Wee safe and sound asleep in the swing-bed that dour old Whistans Sandy had manufactured out of a packing-case, with Francois's rabbitkin to keep their toes warm. I'd finished my ironing and bathed little Dinkie and buttoned him up in his sleepers and made him hold his little hands together while I said his "Now they me" and tucked him up in his crib with his broken mouth-organ and his beloved red-topped shoes under the pillow, so that he could find them there first thing in the morning and bestow on them his customary maternal kiss of adoration. And I was standing at the nursery window, pretty tired in body but foolishly happy, and serene in spirit, staring out across the leagues of open prairie at the last of the sunset.

It was one of those wonderful sunsets of the westward that throw wine-stains back across this bald old earth and make you remember that although the green hasn't yet awakened into life there's release on the way. It was a sunset with an infinite depth to its opal and gold and rose and a whisp of purple in its softly prolonged afterglow. It made me glad and sad all at once, for while there was a hint of vast re-awakenings in the riotous wine-glow that merged off into pale green to the north, there was also a touch of loneliness in the flat and far-flung sky-line. It seemed to recede so bewilderingly and so oppressively into a silence and into an emptiness which the hoarse plume of smoke from one lonely shack-chimney both crowned and accentuated with a wordless touch of poignancy.

That passion of shack-smoke, dotting the northern horizon, seemed to become something valorous and fine. It seemed to me to typify the spirit of man pioneering along the fringes of desolation, adventuring into the unknown, conquering the untamed realms of his world. And it was a good old world, I suddenly felt, a patient and beautiful old world with its Browningsque old bones set out in the last of the sun—until I heard my Dinkie-Dunk go lumbering up to his study and quietly yet deliberately shut himself in, as I gave one last look at Poppy and Pea-Wee to make sure they were safely covered. Then I stood stock-still in the center of the nursery, wondering whether, at such a time, I ought to go to my husband or keep away from him.

I decided, after a minute or two of thought, to bide a wee. So I slipped quietly downstairs and stowed Dinkie's overturned kiddie-car away in the cloak-room and warned Iroquois Annie—the moon-buck-looking Redskin ev'ed tugged out in the cap and apron of domestic servitude—not to burn my trousseau of frozen prairie-chicken and not to scorch the scones so beloved by my Scotch-Canadian lord and master. Then I inspected the supper table and lighted the lamp with the Ruskin-green shade and suppliant ed Dinkie-Dunk's napkin that had a coffee-stain along its edge, with a fresh one from the linen-drawer. Then, after airing the house to rid it of the fumes from Iroquois Annie's insipid griddle and carrying Dinkie's muddled overshoe back to the kitchen, I went to the bottom of the stairs to call my husband down to supper.

But still again that wordless feeling of something amiss prompted me to hesitate. So instead of calling blithely out to him, as I had intended, I went silently up the stairs. Then I slipped along the hall and just as silently opened his study door. My husband was sitting at his desk, confronted by a litter of papers and letters, which I knew to be the mail he had just brought home and flung there. But he wasn't looking at any thing on his desk. He was merely sitting there staring vacantly out of the window at the paling light. His elbows were on the arms of his Bank of England swivel-chair for which I'd made the green baize seat-pad, and as I stared in at him, half in shadow, I had an odd impression of history repeating itself. This puzzled me, for a moment, until I remembered having caught sight of him in much the same attitude, only a few days before. But this time he looked so tired and drawn and spineless that fish-hook of sudden pity tugged at my throat. For Dinkie-Dunk sat there, without moving, with the hope and the joy of life drawn utterly out of his bony big body. The heavy emptiness of his face, as rugged as a relief-map in the side-light, even made me forget the smell of the scones Iroquois Annie was vindictively scorching down in the kitchen. He didn't know, of course, that I was watching him, for the jumped-as I signalled my presence by slamming the door after stepping in through it. That jump, I knew, wasn't altogether due to edgy nerves. It was also an effort at dissimulation, for his sudden struggle to get his seat from the swivel-chair, there he still carried a touch of the heroic. But I'd caught a glimpse of his soul when it wasn't on parade. And I knew what I knew. He tried to work his poor old harrid face into a smile as I crossed over to his side. But, like Topsey's kindred, it died a-borning.

"What's happened?" I asked, dropping on my knees close beside him, and instead of answering me, he went about in the swivel-chair so that he more directly faced the window. The movement also served to pull away the hand which I had almost succeeded in capturing. Nothing, I've found, can warm a real man more than pity. "What's happened?" I repeated. For I knew, now, that something was really and truly and tragically wrong, as plainly as though Dinkie-Dunk had up and told me the word of mouth. You can't live with a man for nearly four years without growing into a sort of clairvoyant knowledge of those subterranean little currents that beat and surge and ebb and flow and change and character. He pushed the papers on the desk away from him without looking at me.

"Oh, it's nothing," he said, but he said it as listlessly as I like a gentleman man. "If it's bad news, I want to know it, right slam-bank out," I told him. And for the first time he turned and looked at me, in a meditative and impersonal sort of way that brought the fish-hook tugging at my throat again. He looked at me as though some inner part of him were still debating as to whether or not he was about to be confronted by a woman in tears. Then a touch of cool desperation crept up into his eyes.

"Our whole applicator's gone over," he said, and quietly announced, with those coldly narrowed eyes still intent on my face, as though very little and yet a very great deal depended on us how I was going to accept that slightly ominous remark. And he must have noticed the quick frown of perplexity which probably came to my face, for that right hand of his resting on the table opened and then closed again, as though it were questing a sponge very dry. "They've got me," he said. "They've got me—the last dollar!"

I stood up in the uncertain light, for it takes time to digest strong words, the same as it takes time to digest strong meat. I remembered, during the last half-year, Dinkie-Dunk had been on the wing, flying over to the west, and Edmonton, flying east to Winnipeg, surveying off to the Coast, poring over township maps and blue-prints and official-looking letters from land associations and bank and loan companies, and he'd called in to sign papers, with broad-shoulder on my arms, and asked to witness signatures, with Dinkie on my hip, and commanded by my absent heart-mate to send on certain documents by the next mail. I had also gathered up scattered sheets of paper covered with close-penciled rows of figures, and had felt that Dinkie-Dunk for a year had been giving me more time to his specialness than to his home and his ranch.

I had seen the lines deepen a little on that lean and bony face of his and the pepper-and-salt above his ears turning into almost pure salt. And I'd noticed, this one day, the old boy's nose in his laughter and the did careless intimacies in his talk. And being a woman of almost ordinary intelligence—prejudiced as I was with those three precious babies of mine—I had arrived at the not un-naturally concluding that my spouse was surrendering more and more to that passion of his for wealth and power.

Wealth and power, of course, are big words in the language of the west. But I had more than an inkling that my husband had been taking a gambler's chance to reach the end in view. And now, in that twilight shadow-budded cubby-hole at the room, it came over me, all of a heap, that having taken the gambler's chance, we had met a fate not uncommon to gamblers, and had lost.

"So we're bust!" I remarked, without any stress, showing emotion, feeling, I suppose, that without worldly goods, we might consistently be without elegance. And in the back of my brain I was silently revising our old Kansas couplet into

In land-booms we trusted
And in land-booms we busted.

But it wasn't a joke. You can't have the bottom knocked out of your world, naturally, and find an invisible mere blithely smiling on your best strings. And I hated to see Dinkie-Dunk sitting there with that dead look in his eyes. I hated to see him with his spirit broken, with that hollow and haggard misery about the brows, which made me think of a hound-dog mourning for a dead master.

But I knew better than to show any pity for Dinkie-Dunk, as such a thing, it would have been showing pity for a stage-picture. I knew, my reaching out and pressing his tired head against a breast sobbing with comprehension and shaking with compassion. But pity, with real force, in real life, is really staff to deal in. I was equally afraid to feel sorry for myself, even though my body chilled with the sudden suspicion that I had made the wrong choice. For Casa Grande and all it held, my life taken away from me, that my warm might be turned out of their beams and comfortable beds, overnight, that the consoling sense of security which those years of labor had bulidied up about us might vanish in a twinkling. And I needed my nannette for the Twine's nighties, and a refter for little Dinkie-Dunk, and an aluminum double-bottle that didn't leak for me, and my rabbitkin. I was, I felt, a man of things I needed, rats and rats of them. But here we were bust, so far as I could tell, on the rocks, swamped, stranded and wrecked.

I held myself in, even if it did take an effort, I crossed casually over to the door, and opened it to sniff at the smell of supper. "Whatever happens, Dinkie-Dunk," I very calmly announced, "we've got to eat. And that she stood up and to another scene I'll go down there and scalp her."

have meant a knockout, if the government had only kept its promise and taken over my Vancouver Island water-front.

That was I remembered, was to have been some sort of a shipyard. Then I remembered something else.

"When the Twine's were born, I reminded Dinkie 'you put the ranch here, Casa Grande, in my name. Dope that mean we lose our home?'" I was able to speak quietly, but I could hear the thud of my own heart-beats.

"That's for you to decide," he none too happily acknowledged. Then he added, with sudden decisiveness: "No, they can't touch anything of yours. Not a thing!"

"But won't that hold good with the Harris Ranch, as well?" I further inquired. "That was actually bought in my name. It was deeded to me from the first, and always has been in my name."

"Of course it's yours," he said with a hesitation that was slightly puzzling to me. "Then how about the cattle and things?"

"This cattle we've kept on to to escape the wild land tax? Aren't those all legally mine?"

"I sounded suspicious, I suppose, under the circumstances. It must have seemed like looting on a battlefield. But I wasn't thinking entirely about myself, even though poor old Dinkie-Dunk evidently assented so from the look of sudden questioning that came into his stricken eyes.

"Yes, they're yours," he almost listlessly responded. "Then as I've already said, let's look this thing fairly and squarely in the face. We've taken a gambler's chance on a big thing, and we've lost. We've lost our pile, as they phrase it out here, but if what you say is true, we haven't lost our home, and what's still more important, we haven't lost our pride."

My husband looked down at his plate. "That's gone, too," he slowly admitted. "It doesn't sound like my Dinkie-Dunk, a thing like that." I promptly admonished. But I'd spoken before I caught sight of the tears welling up at eyes as he once more looked up at me.

"If those politicians had only kept their word, we'd have had our shipyard deal to save us," he said, more to himself than to me. "But that, I was more on excuse than a reason."

"And if the rabbit-dog hadn't stopped to scratch, he might have caught the hare," he said, more to himself than to me. "I'm glad you can take it lightly enough to joke over," he remarked, as he got up from the table. "There's another scene I'll go down there and scalp her."

"I mean that I've lost Alle's money along with my own," he very slowly said to me. "But you don't seem to understand what it means," he protested. His impatience, I could see, was simply that of a man overtaxed. And I could afford to make allowance for it.

"I understand that it's almost an hour past supper-time, my Lord, and that if you don't give me a chance to stoke up I'll bite the edges of the lamp-phade!"

I was rewarded by just the ghost of a smile, a smile that was much too weak and sickly to live long. "All right," announced Dinkie-Dunk, "I'll be down in a minute or two."

once, and once was enough. It's not up to your ears in a fight, in a tremendous big fight, for success and money, and you were doing it more for that sort of thing, and—"

"Listen to me," I broke in, doing my best to speak calmly and quietly. "Those three years were really the happiest years of all my life. I love to remember them, for they mean so much more than all the others. There were a lot of trials and tribulations of life that we had to do without. But those three years brought us closer together, Dinkie-Dunk, than we have ever been since we moved into this big house and got on bowing terms with luxury. I don't know whether you've given it much thought or not, husband, but during the last year or two there's been a change taking place in us. You've been worried and busy and forever on the wing, and there have been days when I've felt you were almost a stranger to me, as though I'd got to be a sort of accidental in your life. CORNER TURNED SAYS M'KENNA

Former Chancellor of British Exchequer is Optimistic After Journey

BRITAIN PAYS DEBTS Would be Selfishly Wise to Remit Obligations Due Her, He Tells New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Roginald McKenna, former Chancellor of the British Exchequer, who has been making a three weeks' study of the commercial and economic situation in the United States, declared, in a formal statement here, that "the financial horizon seems clear and though it will probably be some considerable time before normal conditions are restored, I am inclined to say that the corner is turned."

"I would like to add, however," he said, "that this is no time for speculation. Recovery is bound to be slow, working through a period of moderate fluctuation, though I hope and expect the tendency will be an improving one."

"I find," he continued, "that very considerable interest is taken in the questions of international debts between Governments. This is a subject upon which I could only venture to speak from the British point of view. We are large creditors and, in the relation to the United States, we are also debtors. As a debtor I have nothing to say except that England pays her debts. On the other hand, speaking as a creditor, my opinion is that England would be selfishly wise having regard only to her industrial and economic position, to remit the obligations due her."

The situation in the United States, he said, was similar to that in Britain, both countries being gravely affected by the serious disorganization of the European market. While the United States was not as dependent upon foreign trade as Britain, he added, United States business cannot afford to neglect it because the curtailment of foreign demand is necessarily reflected in general industrial depression.

"Under the influence of false standards created by the war," he declared, "the cost of production is still too high here, as well as, but this cause of depression seems to be slowly disappearing in both countries."

BARS OF "SLIM'S" CELL ARE FOUND HALF DOWN

Remaining Member of Marvell Gang in London Nearly Made Escape—Writes for Press

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 2.—A sensation has been created at Middlesex County Jail by discovery of the fact that bars in the window of the cell occupied by "Slim" Williams, only remaining member of the Marvell gang had been sawed nearly through the slots, evidently cut from the inside, had been plugged with black soap, after the manner employed by the Murrells in their successful jail breakaway. It is reported that jail attendants were tipped off that something of the kind had been attempted and a thorough examination resulted in the discovery. Williams and others confined in the cell with him were at once transferred to another ward in the jail.

Williams succeeded in having a letter, addressed to a local newspaper, sent out of the jail. He complains that since the escape of the Murrells "the turkeys have treated me very rotten." He says that he would rather be back in France, and asks that arrangements be made to remove him to Kingston Penitentiary, pending trial as he believes he would receive better treatment there.

Sheriff D. M. Cameron and Governor James Carter vacated their positions last night and their duties have been taken over by Deputy Sheriff Waterworth and Chief Turnkey McLeod. No appointments have been announced from Toronto as yet.

Two families of very ancient lineage are united in the marriage of Lady Emma Thyne, daughter of the Marquis of Bath, to the Marquis of Warwickshire, of which the Marquis of Northampton is the head, on the beginning of the fifteenth century. Sir William Compton held positions at the Court of Henry VIII. His name is the name of the principal residence in the district in which they lived. The pedigree starts in the time of King John. Lord Alexander Thyne, brother to the present Marquis, was killed in the war. He was considered the handsomest man in the House of Commons.

A letter was read a few days ago from a woman who is teaching in an isolated district in Southern Manitoba, miles and miles from the nearest railway. The settlement is made up entirely of foreigners, and this English woman is devoting herself to the effort to give the little foreign children such teaching as she can. She grew into good citizens of their adopted country. She lives alone in the "teahouse" attached to the school house—a revolver happens to be part of the "teahouse" equipment—and her duties extend to the homes of her little charges, where she is regarded as a source of help in time of need. The time of need occasionally comes late at night or in the early hours of a cold winter morning when some woman or child is taken suddenly ill and "teaches" is called upon to take the place of doctor or nurse who is many miles away at the nearest. In every way she tries to interest the people and keep them contented and less susceptible to the unrest stirred up among many foreign settlements. The work this woman is doing among these "new Canadians" is a genuinely patriotic one. It takes a heroic person to endure the conditions of loneliness and isolation.

POLAND SCENE I EW FIGHTING

Troops of Gen. Petlura Interned in Poland Make Dash for Liberty

REACH RUMAN. BORDER Poland Will be Held Responsible by Soviet Govt. for Latest Disorder

WARSAW, Nov. 2.—Severe fighting occurred Sunday on the outskirts of Kanetz and Podolsk, after a desperate dash through Ukrainian territory to the Rumanian border of the troops of former Gen. Petlura now interned in Poland. The Red troops were rushed to the scene when the Kiev government learned of the invasion.

Plenitias was still in progress early yesterday when the Reds were reported to be in control. While the battle was in progress the Petlura troops captured Husiatyn and Gordk. Bands are reported to be pouring across the Galician border into the Ukrainian towns and villages, where rifles and ammunition have been distributed to the natives. Among the earliest bands escaping from internment was a detachment numbering several hundreds which penetrated as far as Lanckoron and was repulsed the next day in a stiff fight.

Definite information of the approach of further Petlura forces is in possession of the Soviet General Staff. In all the villages occupied by them the population is being hastily mobilized.

On the eve of the battle near Kamienitz the Red authorities discovered a plot to cause an uprising throughout the Ukraine. A Soviet let food train was derailed and plundered.

The Polish government is expected flatly to repudiate responsibility. The Soviets will hold Poland to account now, it is very certain.

The outer columns are past the two-thirds mark. The monitor for ventilation purposes surmounting the roof trusses, has made its appearance, commencing at the second truss. A large quantity of lumber, including window frames, has been hauled to the scene of operations.

MANY STUDYING MEDICINE

Mig Increase in Female Students in Britain

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The number of British women who have chosen medicine as a career has increased greatly. Many entered for the five years' course of hard study which began at the London medical schools Oct. 1.

New women students this year at Charing Cross Hospital Medical School slightly outnumbered men, and the totals of the two sexes are now practically equal.

The rush of women to the London Hospital has been so great that there will be no more vacancies until 1923; about one-fifth of the students there are women. At St. Mary's School two-fifths of the students are women.

A doctor connected with the British Medical Association says: "The number of women who have entered the medical profession in this country is something like 43,000. In the United States there are 100,000. In this country at the present time there are many more women students than there are in the United States. Far too many women are entering the profession, but very few go into medical practice afterward."

"LADY" BARBER GAVE MEN RIVALS A THRILL

Customers and Mere Lookers-on Flock to Uptown Shop—Joke at Last is Known

Some of the barbers of Belleville were surprised, to say the least, really they thought that one of their number, even one of the Tonsorol Union, had stolen a step on them and had gone so far as to import a new attraction into the hair-cutting competition in this city.

It was the "lady" barber of Belleville, who the sight that met the eyes of the public who watched the barbers gazing at the interior of a certain uptown shop indicated that the hustling barber of Seville might be inside.

What attracted the barbers and the young men of the city? It was the sight of an attractive young lady in the latest style suggesting a swell barberian on Broadway. There she worked at the faces of the men in the chair while all the while the gaze kept up from the outside. The news flashed like thought from one youth to another that so-and-so had hired a lady artist as assistant.

But the joke had to leak out after a time. The situation dawned on the curious that "she was only a well-made-up" barber who had been earning his living here for some time. There was regret among the gilded youth but a sigh of relief acknowledged the business rivals of the enterprising daylight serenading barber of Belleville.

RETURNED MEN FIRED FROM TORONTO OFFICE

Postal Men Angry at Treatment by Ottawa as Fall Rush is Coming on

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Returned soldiers to the number of 170, who have been employed on the sorting staff of the Toronto post office, were given their discharge yesterday.

A strong appeal made to Ottawa failed to change the order. Eighty per cent of the men are disability cases, and more than one hundred have been in the service for two years.

The appeal made to Ottawa pointed out that the fall rush is now on, that the Christmas rush will soon be starting, and that it is impossible for the present staff to keep up with the work. It was pointed out that many men had to be brought back on Sundays to handle the mail, which piled up over the week-end, particularly papers and parcels.

GERMAN WIFE COSTS 10 MARKS

Marriage Bureaus in Berlin Doing Rushing Business in Registration Line

WOMEN HAVE THE MONEY Generally They Draw Men who Have Become Too Weary to Work

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The numerous matrimonial bureaus of Berlin, where a spouse may be had for the payment of 10 marks registration fee, are doing a rushing business. The advertising columns of the newspapers are being utilized, "prospects" are being bombarded with letters and circulars extolling the advantages and virtues of the several bureaus are being scattered broadcast.

The marriage literature makes its principal appeal to the "home-loving instinct" of men, who are in much greater demand in the marriage market than women.

The press agents, however, are not always discriminating or discreet in the selection of "eligible males." One bureau sent a letter to a married man with a large family urging him to "marry happily; don't select your acquaintances at random from the streets; send us your photograph and 10 marks and we'll find you a good wife."

The man became very indignant and wrote a scornful letter about it to his favorite newspaper.

Most of the marriages arranged through the matrimonial bureaus are of women more or less advanced in years, and of doubtful physical attraction, but with substantial bank accounts, and young men out of work or weary of working, said the agent of the bureau. The financial arrangements are agreed upon before the marriage.

One young man who accepted a much older woman as wife after she had assured him she had money to support them, brought suit for divorce alleging he had been deceived and that the woman really had very little money. The woman admitted she had misrepresented her income but declared she felt justified because of the lonely life she had been living, with no opportunity to become acquainted with marriageable men.

While the young, attractive girls who make application for husbands are comparatively few, according to the agents, scores of young men apply for wives, virtually always with the stipulation that they must be wealthy or well-to-do. Formerly the chief women applicants were servants girls. Shop girls seldom patronize the marriage bureaus.

Scores of marriages are made through the medium of the matrimonial bureaus every month, and their popularity has steadily increased since the war, which left the German women in a large and conscious majority.

RETURNED MEN FIRED FROM TORONTO OFFICE

Postal Men Angry at Treatment by Ottawa as Fall Rush is Coming on

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Returned soldiers to the number of 170, who have been employed on the sorting staff of the Toronto post office, were given their discharge yesterday.

A strong appeal made to Ottawa failed to change the order. Eighty per cent of the men are disability cases, and more than one hundred have been in the service for two years.

The appeal made to Ottawa pointed out that the fall rush is now on, that the Christmas rush will soon be starting, and that it is impossible for the present staff to keep up with the work. It was pointed out that many men had to be brought back on Sundays to handle the mail, which piled up over the week-end, particularly papers and parcels.

Quite a number of these men had passed the preliminary civil service examinations.

BRITAIN READY TO MEET ISSUE

Writing to John W. H. Other Great Naval Forces in Arms Reduction TO KEEP SEA SECURE Lord Lee Confident Good Will Follow Washington Conference

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Confidence that much good would come out of the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments, was expressed by delegates from Italy, Great Britain and China on their arrival here today on the Olympic.

Lord Lee, of Fareham, First Lord of the British Admiralty, in a formal statement, said: "So far as I am concerned, and here I speak not only as the responsible head of the British Admiralty, but as one of the official delegates, I come in a spirit of quiet confidence that the results of this conference will be such as to amply justify President Harding's far-seeing initiative, and personally I am not prepared even to contemplate the possibility of failure. To do so would be to assume that the world was afflicted with an incurable insanity and could not be restrained from suicide."

Lord Lee added that the British delegates had arrived resolved that "short of compromising the safety of the Empire or the sea security upon which its very existence depends, a betrayal of our ancient heritage of which they could never be gully—they will go to almost any length to meet the other great naval powers in a mutual and propitious effort to relieve our respective people from the intolerable burden of competitive armaments."

SUFFERING FROM POISON

The Redversville Band to Furnish Music at Sunday Evening Service

The approaching election has not brought about any particular stir as yet in this centre. The three main factions taking part in the issues of the day have each a share of the popular favour, however.

In the meantime things are going on apace—fruit gathering, fall-ploughing, late threshing, general repairing of buildings and closing in before the fall freeze-comes.

The Standard Bank here which seemed to bring new life to the little town has been thoroughly renovated and repainted. The Garrison home with new up-to-date bunghole has added a very pretty village barn and now a new poultry house is being put up.

Among the latest of these new cement foundations have been placed under the residence of Mrs. Howe and J. Gifford, and now Mr. H. Dinning is having his entire house renewed with splendid new siding.

Very suitable verandahs have been completed at the front of the Townsmond residence, and the saw-mill very creditably repaired and made ready for a good season's run.

Mr. F. Maynes has been suffering from an attack of blood-poisoning in his hand and Mr. Hinds is assisting at the mill for some time.

The Concert held in the Orange Hall, Friday evening by the League was a real success. The program was good and remarkable for its variety.

Evangelist N. Duetta of Trenton, assisted the pastor in services on this circuit Sunday last and preached in the Methodist Church here in the evening.

The Athletic Club at Bethel held a very successful meeting on Thursday evening over fifty being present.

Mr. W. Vandervoort of Moira added much to a good local program by his talent as a violinist and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Recent visitors to Hastings from Belleville are Mr. Rimmels, Mr. Moore and Mrs. Foster who visited her sister, Mrs. E. C. Prentice.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reid, of Grand Rapids, Mich. are visiting Mrs. Reid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Anderson, Hillside St., before leaving for their new home in Africa.

TRENTON GIRL WASN'T ENGAGED TO TAXI VICTIM

Mrs. Beatrice Schlemman Wrote Warning Letter to Murdered Man, Night Before SHE ASSISTS POLICE

Frankly Explains Case and Clears Herself and Man She Is to Marry

The mother of Mrs. Beatrice Schlemman, twenty-six years old and a widow, mentioned as the sweetheart of Harry Strom, the murdered Toronto taxi-driver, who by writing a letter to Strom telling him to forget her as she was engaged to another, has become involved in the mystery, is a resident of Trenton, Ont.

Mrs. Schlemman wrote a letter to Strom on Friday night, the night before he received his fatal injuries, telling him about the man she was engaged to and that "he was jealous and you know jealous people are liable to commit murder."

The letter was handed to the police and as the word "murder" was used it was taken as a valuable clue by the police.

A thorough investigation of the matter, however, by Detective Sergeants Wm. Ward and James Carter, and the frank, voluntary manner of Mrs. Schlemman have cleared her and also the man she mentioned in the letter, who lives in Hamilton.

But Mrs. Schlemman was able to give the police an important clue—the only clue they have secured to date. It was that a man hired Strom from his stand Saturday evening at 5.40 to go to 56p St.

"I called me up at 5.40 Saturday night," Mrs. Schlemman stated. "He said he wanted to see me after seven for about fifteen minutes. He said he was in a hurry as he had a party to go to."

"I met Harry on September 3, through another girl who lives near me. She brought Strom to the house. He called for me and then I saw him in a taxi as he was going to a show on St. Clair avenue.

"I told him I was engaged, but the next day he called me up and asked me when he could see me. I was out with him three times. The time we were together was on the 29th and 30th of September and on the 1st of October.

A NEW YORK ROMANCE

New in Rome and Rhapodizes in Art Which to Him is the Life

ROME, Oct. 29.—Frank H. Schwartz, the young artist of New York and Chicago, who won a fellowship in painting awarded by the American Academy in Rome just as he was about to be "kicked out" from his rooms in New York, has arrived here to begin his three years of post-graduate study.

His painting which took the prize in Rome was entitled "Heroinism." After making a hurried trip over to the city he has visited the Vatican and the Shrine Chapel, he said, he felt lost in the multitude of artists things he saw.

"The great thing which struck me was the pretension of art representing all the ages that had anything to do with the development of art. One can see at a glance what each great age contributed. It is all here. The spirit of art is here permeating the air. People, even the poorest, struck me especially when I saw a ragged beggar play a classic on an accordion which I had only once heard before and then when it was played by Kreisler."

Turks Fought With Great Stubbornness and Died in Their Trench Positions

GREEKS WERE EXHAUSTED

Turks had to be Outnumbered Before Giving in Though Poorly Equipped

SMYRNA, ANATOLIA, Oct. 6.—(By Mail)—Now that the head quarters staff of the Greek army has returned here after the conclusion of a summer campaign against the Turks in Anatolia, it is possible to make known some of the phases of the fighting not before available.

The efficiency and stubborn resistance of the comparatively ill-equipped forces of Mustafa Kemal Pasha was a growing surprise to the Greeks as they penetrated toward Angora, Kemal's capital. They contested every yard of the Greek advance, clinging to their trenches with fierce tenacity until the sheer weight of numbers of their aggressors overwhelmed them.

The Turks were exhausted before they stood their ground until death claimed them. The Greek soldiers themselves say they never faced a braver more determined foe.

That Kemal's forces were able to fight so effectively is considered remarkable since the Greeks believe the Turks were lacking in many essentials of equipment while the Greeks were well organized and well equipped.

Kemal's airplane service consisted of two machines. His adversaries had more than a dozen. The one branch of equipment in which the Turks undoubtedly excelled was in their railroad service. They had 25 locomotives and more than 500 freight and passenger cars. Added to this, they had, of course, the continued use of the railroad for the transport of troops, the movement of large guns and the provisioning of the army.

The greatest vital element of strength was their powerful natural defensive positions against the Greeks, consisting of range after range of fortified hills and carefully prepared trenches.

Lastly, their intimate knowledge of the terrain over which they fought was a factor of great value. It enabled them to dig in and make fierce attacks in the night while their opponents were groping helplessly in the dark over ground and amid surroundings that were entirely unfamiliar to them.

How well the Kemalists fought is shown by the fact that in the first ten days of the big Greek drive toward Angora, 9,000 Greeks were killed or wounded, while the number of Turks who fell in action or were wounded was only slightly more than half that total.

A great part of the Turkish efficiency is ascribed by the Greeks to the fact that for every dozen men in the Turkish army there is one officer and refusal to fight is punished by death. It is also said that the Kemalist artillery is manned largely by officers.

The Greeks assert that the Turks determined stand was due largely to the fact that Kemal has put machine guns behind them, robbing them of whatever chance they had to escape; but this assertion has not been possible to confirm.

MUNICH, Oct. 31.—Former King Ferdinand of Bulgaria now resides in Coburg and while he has slightly aged and silver threads now greatly outnumber the dark ones in his close-cropped, sharp-pointed beard, has retained all his former elegance of dress.

Accompanied by his two daughters, he recently visited Munich, attended the opera and one day, while strolling in a garden, caught sight of General Ludendorff approaching in the distance. Ludendorff was quarter-master general of the German army in the world war.

"I hid behind a tree," he is reported to have told one of his friends that same evening, "that I might not come face to face with that horrible man whom I loathe."

SHOT TAGGED DUCK

Marmora Sportsman Shot Duck Tagged at Scoug Lake.

Marmora — A week or two ago, while hunting in the Long Swamp, a couple of Marmora sportsmen shot a duck with a metal tag on its leg.

The tag was numbered 4888 and asked person shooting the duck to communicate with the Bureau of Biological Survey at Washington, D.C. A reply to the communication was received, stating that tag No. 4888 was placed on a duck at Scoug Lake by Mr. Oster on Sept. 23th of this year.

The purpose in tagging the ducks is to determine as nearly as possible the course followed by them in their migrations.

There is a merry row on at Napanees, and it is all over the ownership of the cub bear that wandered into the town a few days ago and created quite a sensation before being captured, says a Kingston paper. A report from Napanees states that the man on whose property the cub was captured threatens to sue a couple of residents who made the capture, for the ownership of the bear, which at the present time is being cared for at the home of B. Covings. The bear after taking in all the sights around the town visited the residential part of the town, making himself at home on different door steps where he found no welcome on the part for him and finally in an endeavor to escape the town folk who gave chase, he took to a tree. In order to get Mr. Bear a limb of the tree was sawed off and then the cub dropped into an overcoat that one of the bear hunters used as a net. GIVE PROCEDURE FOR NEW VOTER

How Stranger, Woman or Some "Just Grown up" May Mark Ballot

IF YOU CANNOT WRITE! Deputy Returning Officer is Empowered to do Quite a Lot of Things

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—(By Canadian Press)—In a general election when there are a number of new voters, who have not before exercised their franchise, there is usually more or less doubt in their minds as to the procedure to be followed on their arrival at a polling place, in order that their ballots may not be wasted. For that reason, and in view of the fact that this year's general election will see, as voters, a great number of women voters who have never previously marked a ballot paper, it is perhaps fitting to describe what is necessary on the part of the voter who presents himself or herself at a polling station to vote for the candidate of his or her choice.

It is important to remember that in urban polling districts the only persons who may vote are those whose names are included in the list of voters on polling day. The procedure by which names may be placed on the lists, or other names struck off, has already been explained. In rural districts names may be added to the list on polling day where the requirements of the Act are complied with, that is the would-be voter must be sworn and must also be vouched for by someone whose name is on the list.

The wrong Christian name or the misspelling of a voter's surname, or the wrong designation, or the wrong number of the voter's list or property, are not sufficient to justify the returning officer in refusing to vote a ballot, as long as the voter can swear that he or she is the person designated on the list. If a voter has been personated, that is, someone else has voted by claiming to be the voter in question, that voter may still obtain a ballot on taking the oath that he is the person properly entitled to vote. If a voter spoils his ballot he is entitled to receive a new one, the spoiled ballot being destroyed and the deputy returning officer making a note of it.

If a voter cannot understand English he is entitled to have an interpreter sworn to explain the oaths etc. to him. If a voter, however, once refuses to take the oath, he cannot again be admitted to vote. In this case the deputy returning officer is required to enter in the poll book the notation, "refused to be sworn."

Once a voter receives a ballot from the deputy returning officer he has a right to use it, whether he has been sworn or not, and cannot be sworn once he has got a ballot.

Once the ballot has been received, it is important to remember that the following methods of marking ballots are good.

- (1) With a proper cross with a black lead pencil any part within the white space containing the name of the candidate.
(2) An irregular or awkward mark in the nature of a cross, so long as it does not lose the form of a cross, and the lines cross at any point.
(3) With an ill-formed cross, or with small lines at the end of a cross, or with a line across the centre of one of the lines of the cross, or with a curved line like the blades of an anchor.
(4) An irregular mark in the figure of a cross, so long as it does not lose the form of a cross.
(5) A cross with a line before it.
(6) A cross rightly placed with two additional crosses, one across the candidate name and the other to the left.
(7) A double cross or two crosses.
(8) Ballot paper inadvertently torn.
(9) Inadvertent mark in addition to the cross.
However while all these markings are good, and will not result in the ballot being rejected, it is much safer and simpler, to mark the ballot paper with an unmistakable cross, opposite the name of the candidate for whom the voter wishes to vote.

Ballots are bad which are marked as follows, it is pointed out by an authority on the Election Act:
(1) A single stroke instead of a cross.
(2) Two single strokes not crossing.
(3) A ballot with the candidate's name written thereon in addition to the cross.
(4) Ballots marked with a number of lines.
(5) Ballots with a cross for each candidate.
The procedure for the voter to follow on reaching the polling station is simple. At the door of the station his or her name will be checked on the list by one of the agents posted there. Then, on entering the voter must give his or her address to the deputy returning officer, or poll clerk, who will run through the list and see that the voter is entitled to a ballot. That formally completed with, and everything being in order, the voter will be handed a ballot paper and given instructions as to how it is to be marked, by the returning officer. Then he or she will be shown to a room or compartment where the ballot can be marked with secrecy. Then, having marked the ballot as he or she desires, the voter will return to the outer room, handed the ballot properly folded to the deputy returning officer, who will tear

WEDDINGS

DOMENICO-CLEMAN

An unusually pretty wedding was held at St. Francis Xavier Church, Renfrew, at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, when Rev. Father Frost presided in wedlock Leonard Domenico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Domenico of Belleville and Mary C. Cleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cleman, formerly of Ashdod but now residents of Renfrew. The bridesmaids were Misses Kathleen Verkus and Annie Cleman, both nieces of the bride, while the groom was assisted by Messrs. Leonard Fardella of Toronto and Leo Cleman, brother of the bride. The flower girls were Evelyn and Gertrude Cobus, also nieces of the bride.

The bride, who was led to the altar and given away by her father, was prettily attired in silk gorette over charmeuse satin, trimmed with bugle beads. She wore silver shoes to match and tulle veil trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a handsome bouquet of Killarney and American Beauty roses. The bridesmaids were dressed in pink satin with black picture hats. The little flower girls, too, wore handsomely arrayed in pink satin and each carried a basket of carnations.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace; he presented the bridesmaids with bar pins set with pearls and each of the flower girls with a signet ring.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents on Horton Street, about 50 guests partaking of the dainty repast. In the evening a reception was held in Burns Hall from 8 to 12, over 100 guests, extending best wishes to the young couple. The gifts to the bride were numerous and costly.

Mr. and Mrs. Domenico left on the C.P.R. train Wednesday morning for Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. After their honeymoon they will pay a short visit to Renfrew before taking up their residence in Belleville where the husband has a wholesale fruit business.

SPENCER-SNARR

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Snarr of Harold when their youngest daughter, Clara Beatrice, was married to Earnest Clifford Spencer, with the Rev. Mr. Batstone officiating. The young couple were attended by Miss Helen Devereux, friend of the bride, and Mr. Reginald Sine, friend of the groom.

The bride looked very charming in a dress of white georgette and carrying cream roses and wearing a bridal veil adorned with orange blossoms. The bridesmaid also looked very sweet in a pink satin dress and carrying pink carnations.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid a brooch set with onyx and pearls, to the groomsmen, gold cuff links and to the ring bearer a signet ring. The young couple left on a motor trip to Detroit, Buffalo and other western points.

The bride received many very beautiful gifts and from her father a Heintzman piano.

English Business Man Says He Saw Crucified Saviour for 4-Minute Period

CHURCH LIT BY HALO

LONDON, Oct. 29.—That he had an objective vision of Christ on the Cross is the sensational claim of a hard-headed business man, a member of the congregation of the Parish Church of Brantree, fifty miles out of London. Furthermore, his claim is supported by Rev. W. J. L. Sheppard, who has been preaching there. "I'm quite satisfied the man saw the vision he described," he said.

Rev. Mr. Sheppard even announced the vision from the pulpit to the startled congregation, saying: "During the evening service last Sunday, a well-known Brantree business man in the congregation saw a vision of the Crucified Saviour in the chancel of the church. He said he first saw the vision while kneeling in prayer. A bright light from a halo on the head of the Crucified Christ filled the whole chancel and blotted out every other object. This is not a case of an emotional woman seeing a vision, but of a hard-headed man. The vision must be taken as a divine revelation. The man told Rev. Mr. Sheppard that when he first saw the vision he bowed his head to collect his thoughts and made quite sure of himself. Then he looked up again, and the vision of Christ Crucified still filled the chancel. He looked at it about four minutes the second time. Then the light from the halo gradually faded and the vision disappeared."

Rev. D. B. Barclay, vicar of Brantree, also believes in the reality of the vision. "I'm quite satisfied the man actually saw an object vision of the Crucified Christ," he said. "He told me the figure was quite distinct on the Cross. The vision of Christ did not speak or beckon to him, but looked at him with pleading eyes. The man became quite ill and broke into a violent perspiration. The townspeople have been crowding the church in the hopes of seeing the vision."

"ARGOS" OFF TO OTTAWA; EXPECT WIN TODAY

Toronto, Oct. 29.—With all their regulars in line the Argonaut team left here last night for Ottawa, where today they believe they will settle the interprovincial race by winning their fifth straight game. The Argonauts had a run around the track at the U. of T. campus last evening. Coacher did not get into uniform. It was stated that he is ready to do his part today. He received a real gruelling in the game at Hamilton and is hoping that the same attention will not be shown to him in Ottawa. Judging by past performances at the Capital, Bataone is the man the Senators will have to stop. He always plays high-class football in the Eastern city.

Moderate Prices Generally Ruled on the Market Here Today

Moderate prices generally ruled at the market today. Potatoes eased off to two dollars per bag, and before noon they sold as low as one dollar and a half. Butter was held at fifty cents regularly. Hogs were steady at $1.25 to $1.50 per pair. They were plentiful and quite a number remained unsold at the noon hour. Eggs were selling at sixty cents per dozen. Cider was offered at 35 cents per gallon. Hogs were worth $8.00 per cwt. There is talk of further decline in the price. Thirteen dollars is the figure for dressed hogs. Beef hind quarters were quoted at ten cents and fore at seven. Lambs brought fifteen cents by the carcass. Apples sold at one dollar per bushel and upward. Vegetables sold at regular prices. There was a scarcity of celery today. Hides and grains show no change in price.

DENIES NORTH IS EXPLOITED

Premier Drury Refers to Secession Bogey in Speech at Cochrane

DAUGHTER IN HOME

Turas First Sod in Extension of T. and N. G. Railway Northward

COCHRANE, Ont., Oct. 29.—Some plain speaking on what he termed the "secession bogey" and on the relations between old and new Ontario generally, was indulged in here on Friday by Hon. E. C. Drury, Premier of Ontario, speaking at the public meeting which followed the turning of the first sod in the extension of the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, north to Bilcan Portage, the first lap in the drive for "New Ontario," declared the Premier. "Is a treasure daughter in her mother's house. She can go out, I suppose, if she wants to, but if she goes, she goes, not as a grown woman, but as a more or less helpless girl."

The North should realize, said Hon. Mr. Drury, that it is not being exploited. He read from a statement of revenues and expenditures supplied by the different Government departments for the fiscal year 1920, the total of which reached $4,842,000 for the former, and showed the expenditures to be $5,624,000. He said he hoped the statement would help to clear away the myth, the misstatements and the falsehood that old Ontario simply looks on new Ontario as a milch cow. She looks on it as a promising child of the family, but the North did not help matters to be agitated by the delusion that it merely was being squeezed.

The Premier said he would oppose secession to the last ounce of his power, because there was a great country to develop. He said he sometimes wondered if the secession movement could not be traced to those who wanted to get Northern Ontario where they could exploit it, and he thought it was a strange thing that the centre had shifted to where a certain investigation was going on. The Government, the Premier said, will help Northern Ontario in every instance where the interests of Northern Ontario do not cross those of the whole Province, which are paramount.

And when one tries to hire a cook, he finds it is easy enough if a large enough salary and sufficient food-stuffs are offered. The cook in the leading cafe in Moscow is said to be getting 50,000 rubles a day and three square meals.

CHURCH PARADE ON NOVEMBER 6 PLANNED IN CITY

Argyll Light Infantry to Start Fall Training and Will Draw Pay

SIGNAL CLASS WANTED Inspection of Regiment Here Second Week in December

Drill season for the Argyll Light Infantry commences on Monday, 31st October, 1921, and will end with the usual inspection parade in the second week of December, 1921, according to instructions issued by Lt.-Col. Vandewater, D.S.O., O.C. the Regiment, and Capt. D. Thos. McManus, Adjutant of the A.L.I., gave the Ontario today a detailed statement regarding this.

CHURCH PARADE PLANNED.

Owing to the paucity of funds the training has been cut down for this year and for the same reason the regimental manoeuvres cannot now take place.

The first public parade will be held on Sunday, the 6th November, 1921, when there will be a garrison church parade and service will commence at St. Thomas' Church at 10 a.m. The units taking part in the church will be, it is expected:

The Argyll Light Infantry, 34th Battery C.F.A., G.W.V.A., Belleville School Cadets, and the Belleville Troop of Boy Scouts.

The parade will be ready to march off at 9.30 a.m. and will be formed up in front of the Armouries and, in case of inclement weather, inside the Armouries.

The former commanding officers of the Argyll Light Infantry will march in front of that unit, the regimental brass band will be in attendance, and it is hoped that the services of the pipe band will also be obtained. The service will be purely military and will not be of long duration. It is the intention to make this service an annual event where all service men can unite together in prayer in loving memory of their comrades who died fighting for freedom.

INFANTRY PARADES "PAID" ONES

It should be remembered that all parades from now until the inspection (for the Argyll) are paid, and it is hoped that a good attendance will be on hand each Monday and Friday.

After the inspection it is the intention to carry out a series of games and also a good deal of indoor shooting.

All members attending the parades will do so in uniform. The regiment will be paid immediately after the inspection.

A signalling class will commence at the Armouries on the 3rd November, 1921. All wishing to take the class should send in their names to the Adjutant, A.L.I., not later than Monday, 31st October. There will be room for some Cadets who will be squadded separately.

London Believes Daring Bank Robber, Now Caught, Escaped last Spring

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—Chief of Police Lapage states that he has received word from Hamilton that Patrick O'Hara, arrested here in connection with an attempt to rob the Bank of Commerce, is wanted in that city in regard to the Bank of Hamilton hold-up last August. O'Hara is said to be an accomplice of Ryan in the hold-up there.

WAS WITH MURRELLS

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 29.—Police here believe that Norman Ryan, alias Norman Bell, the bandit who was arrested in Montreal after a vicious gun battle with detectives, is the much wanted "fourth man" who was implicated in the murder of Russell Campbell during a raid on a bank at Melbourne last spring.

When the Murrell brothers, with "Slim" Williams, were captured by the villagers, and later handed over to London detectives, all three men were armed with German Luger revolvers. The fourth robber got away, but not until several persons got close enough to him to see that he also had one of the big German weapons. Ryan, or Bell, is said to have been in possession of such a weapon when taken in Montreal.

The names given by him are close enough to that of the missing Melbourne bandit to leave room for suspicion that he is the same man. Hamilton police are being depended upon to identify him as such proves to be the case, as the Melbourne robber is well-known to them.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 29.—Dr. Alexander Primrose, of Toronto, was elected to the Board of Regents of the American College of Surgeons, to serve until 1924. Dr. Harvey Cushing, of Boston, is the new president of the organization, which will meet next year in Boston.

Would Raise Age Limit to 18 For Those Who May Buy Liquor

LONDON, Oct. 29.—A movement is under way in England to prohibit the sale of all intoxicants to any person under the age of 18 years instead of 16 as at present. A petition to that effect, signed by thousands of teachers, has been presented to the Home Secretary, and temperance reformers are pressing parliament for a bill dealing with this question.

Attention is called to the fact that the "mother country" is behind the dominions in such restrictions. In Australia, the age limit for the sale of intoxicants has been fixed at 18, and in New Zealand, Tasmania, Ontario and Nova Scotia at 21. In France, Poland and Czechoslovakia the age is 18, in Sweden 17.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Marshal Foch faces a busy program today, including luncheon at the White House.

Greeting to Marshall. NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—New York surrendered to Marshal Foch without striking a blow. Not since Armistice Day has there been a demonstration on Broadway to compare in spontaneity or numbers with the reception accorded to the conqueror of the German armies.

From the Battery, where he was greeted by Governor Miller of New York State, to the City Hall, where he was welcomed by Mayor Hylan, the great little man, in horizon blue, moved in a triumphal procession of many thousands. By his side rode General Pershing, who, as leader of the United States forces in France, acted under Foch's supreme command. To General Pershing fell the honor of first welcoming the French Marshal to the shores of the United States.

Receiving the freedom of the city from the Mayor, Marshal Foch continued his "triumphal entry," motorizing along Fifth avenue to the Pennsylvania Station. All along the route and at the station, multitudes had assembled to cheer the visitor. Cheers were still resounding when the special train taking the Marshal to Washington on the first leg of his journey to Kansas City for the American Legion convention pulled out of the terminal.

BRUCE Whitmore, a young man, arrested some weeks ago upon the charge of carrying a loaded weapon, came before the Police Magistrate today and was further remanded until November 15th.

He was advised to get busy and get information about himself if he wished the court to deal leniently with his case. He said he had come from Dallas, Texas, where he had had a permit to carry a gun. He declared he bought it in Dallas but Chief Kidd queried him on this saying that there were indications that it belonged to the Missouri State Police. Whitmore stuck to his story that Dallas was the place where he had bought it.

Evidence was adduced to show that the car was moving very slowly, at no faster rate than five miles an hour, when the lad was struck. The unfortunate boy was one of others who ran away from John Hubert Turley, who was if in the game, and ran against the motor, as he was looking back over his shoulder. The injuries were abdominal. #### MEETING AT MADOC Convention Lasting Most of Day Ends With Vote to Decide Choice

Mr. James A. Gaskey, of Madoc, prominent Holstein breeder and an extensive farmer, will bear the National Progressive banner in East Hastings.

On Friday afternoon shortly before five o'clock, the United Farmer convention meeting at Madoc Masonic Hall, unanimously selected Mr. Gaskey as their candidate in the coming elections. Only two names went before the delegates for their approval, the other aspirant being Mr. J. Harry Foster, of Chapman. Mr. Gaskey carried the first ballot by a good majority and the selection, on Mr. Foster's motion, was thereupon made unanimous.

Every part of the riding was represented at the meeting, which was presided over by Mr. Alex. Moore, of Plainfield. The convention opened at ten o'clock in the morning and did not break up until late at night. Seven were nominated to contest the constituency.

All addressed the convention and withdrew with the exception of the two who went to the ballot. Mrs. McCaffery's speech showed the interest that the women are taking in the struggle. There was quite a large representation of the gentler sex in the meeting.

Mr. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario, addressed the convention at some length. Other speakers were Rev. L. M. Sharpe, of Plainfield; Mr. A. D. McIntosh, of Hastings; and Mr. G. A. Brethun, who is contesting East Peterborough in the interest of the Agrarians.

Mr. H. K. Denyes, M.P.F., for East Hastings, spoke in defence of the conduct of the Drury regime in Ontario. An Association was formed for the riding for political purposes under a provincial charter and a full constitution was adopted for the purpose of carrying on the work. The officers are:

W. M. S. Concert At St. Andrew's Pleases Audience

The ladies of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Church are to be congratulated on the excellent rendition of a lengthy programme by some of Belleville's leading artists, before a large and appreciative audience in the S. S. Rooms of the Church, which were beautifully decorated for the occasion with flags, ferns and chrysanthemums.

Every number on the programme was given with a finish that showed real artistic merit, and was a fitting climax to "Musical Week" here.

After the singing of the National Anthem, refreshments were served to those who had taken part in the programme, at which time some of the artists contributed further entertainment in both vocal and instrumental numbers.

Those taking part were: Piano duet, Misses Fenn and Lobb; vocal solos, Mr. E. A. Mouch; vocal duet, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rathman; two readings, Miss Phyllis Stewart; solo, Mr. McIntyre; vocal duets, Miss Lobb and Mr. Mouch; reading, Miss O. Turney; song, Miss S. Johnson; solo, Mrs. W. S. Rathman; solos by Mr. Stallworthy; song, Mr. H. C. McKay; song, Mr. Rathman; violin and piano duet, Miss C. Turney and Miss Malr.

A NEW ENGLAND SUPPER

The Sunday School parlor of Bridge St. Church was a gay and festive spot last evening, the occasion being the annual New England Supper put on by the Mission Circle of that church. The tables were very prettily decorated with the autumn Halloween decorations and the good things to eat on the tables were better. The supper consisted of baked beans, pumpkin pie, steamed apples and many other excellent things.

There was a large crowd present, most of the tables having to be set the second time and a large sum of money was realized at the door.

During the supper the Bridge St. Symphony Orchestra furnished excellent music. This orchestra is speedily gaining the reputation of being the best orchestra in the city. After the supper had been dispensed with a splendid programme was given consisting of piano duets, solos, and other numbers, Dr. Cleaver being chairman.

Among those taking part were: Prof. Staples, Miss Helen Sulman, Mrs. McKinnon, Miss McCormick, and Miss M. Young.

The white carnation is the official flower of the war mothers. Mrs. Bellak has stated that she will also present to Mrs. McCudden a testimonial greeting from the national organization.

REAPED TWO CROPS

Durham County Man Reaps Two Crops of Peas of Same Field

Oshawa—To grow two crops of peas from the same field, thrash them and sell them in five months, is the feat of Mr. Fred W. Smith, of Enniskillen, Darlington Township, Durham County, a farmer who is well known to many in Oshawa. Mr. Smith brought the news yesterday to the store of Hogg & Lytle, King Street west, where he disposed of them. It is the first time in the experience of Mr. J. L. Whittam, the manager for over 25 years, that such an event has occurred, while it is considered unique among experienced agricultural men. Mr. Smith sowed his first crop in the spring at the usual time, and realized 25 bushels to the acre. The peas shelled out, and after the ground was plowed up the second crop appeared. It looked so promising that Mr. Smith watched it with interest until he was able to harvest it, realizing this time 12 bushels to the acre. The second crop was of splendid quality.

'Virginia Page Says'

What Shall I Do?

HOOKS!

Quest.—Dear Miss Page: We are country Hicks and we want your advice on several questions. If girls turn down boys' invitations to a dance, is it right for them to ask other girls, and would they be called second fiddles? Is it 8.30 p.m. too late to ask a girl to go to a dance? If you are broke is it proper to borrow money to take your girl out? The orchestra plays music dated in '32. How can we take them into jazz artists? Should an old man of 45 use powder and rouge? Thanking you in advance for your kind advice.—Four Ambitious Hicks.

Ans.—The second violin is as important in the orchestra of life as in other orchestras. If you can tactfully keep it from being known that she is the second girl, by all means do so. Ordinarily 8.30 would be too late, but it depends on the circumstances. Kindness and good sense will ordinarily settle these matters as they arise. As a rule it is hardly the thing to take your girl out on borrowed money, but all rules have excellent exceptions. If yours is one, and you can find a friend to accommodate you, go ahead, but return the money soon.

Oh, please send your orchestra with music of '33 this way! You're welcome to all jazz artists in exchange for the "old man of 45" (I wish that sounded as old to me as it does to you) wants to be a sham, it's up to him. It has been customary to leave make-up to the women, however.

THE PROVING OF FRIENDS. "Just a Sister" kindly sent this bit of verse for the consolation of many of our readers who are "cut by a one-time friend because some one has gossiped."

"I never lost a friend in all my life, in joy or grief, in smiling peace or strife. Though some in troubled days have stood aloof, And shown themselves unequal to the proof, They were not truly friends, but shadows mere. Whose friendship were a glittering veneer That could not stand the acid test of trouble."

STEADY—BUT NOT TOO STEADY. We have a lot of our steady readers about enough perhaps. How will it do to close it with one more letter—a thoughtful statement by "True Blue?"

Dear Miss Page: I am a constant reader of your column and think it very interesting. I have noticed lately there has been considerable discussion in regard to "steadies" and I would like to give my ideas on the subject. I agree with you absolutely when the people involved are 17 or 18 years of age. However, above that age my belief is different.

In this day and age I divide the girls into two classes; there are extremes in both classes, but I speak of the average. First, the girl whom I call the "butter-fly" type who "steeps out" with Tom, Harry, John, etc. She allows these so-called "kiss collectors" to caress and kiss her. This girl meets all sorts of fellows, some real men and some "not so nice." She has some good times and some very much the opposite.

When she goes out she takes a time she will have. Some of her friends like good entertainment, others "ragged edged" plays, and she naturally goes to all of them to cater to her friends. The girl who does with "steadies" knows the fellow, his habits, hobbies, and ways of doing things, and if she likes his method she goes with him. Her chances of having a good time are better than the other type because he is interested in her and caters to her. This all leads to real pals and real friendship.

Some people say, "Variety is the spice of life." True enough, but the average girl between the ages of 16 and 18 has had some experience with the different types of young men and she should know what is the best kind to associate with.—True Blue.

GREEK PRINCESS' HONEYMOON IN ENGLAND.

Princess Xenia, of Greece and her husband, Mr. William Leeds, the American millionaire, photographed on a channel steamer on their way to England. They were married in Paris and are spending the first part of their honeymoon on a houseboat touring the English canals.

THOSE "GODSPEED" CARDS

It was a brilliant idea—that of Lady Astor, her new associate, Mrs. Margaret Wintingham, Mrs. Philip Snowden, Mrs. Fawcett and Miss Maudie Roydon—to have every woman and every girl over fourteen send a postcard with the word, "Godspeed" written thereon, to the Premier or the chief British delegate to the Washington conference on disarmament.

Suppose, conservatively, that one million cards were sent. Twelve thousand cards would go to a mail bag—80 pounds of cards in short. A little mathematical calculation will show that the Premier or his representative would receive something like 6,700 pounds of postcards. It would take 80 men working all day to handle a million cards.

Perhaps Mr. Lloyd George is thinking not only of the grave difficulties of the Irish situation, but also of the proposed detente of feminine correspondence planned to await him as he boards ship. Perhaps here we have the real reason for his hesitancy in leaving home.

We shudder to think of the consternation of the post-office officials surveying the mountains of post-card mail. Extra hands would surely have to be employed, and perhaps this is what Lady Astor and her friends has in mind when they thought out this brilliant scheme of theirs. But, after all, it would be but a drop in the bucket as far as the unemployment situation is concerned. Lady Astor and her friends must think up a better plan than this, if unemployment alleviation is what is "at the back of their minds," to use an English expression.

In any event, the experienced postal employees would have to bear the brunt of the day's congestion, and it is to be feared that their thoughts, as they paused to mop the perspiration from their heated, aching brows, would be anything but non-combatant.

And just how would the million or so post cards be disposed of once BEFORE RETURNING.

The one time of the day when a beauty treatment is most beneficial is the one time least likely to be devoted to it. That is, the time immediately before going to bed. These busy days we are apt to be so tired at night that we tumble into bed in the shortest possible time, and think comfortably that tomorrow morning is all right for any neglected little duties.

So we who are careless spend eight hours or so with powder on the skin, sometimes with the touch of rouge that the day's exhaustion has made necessary, and with the dust that inevitably gets into the skin untouched. For eight hours at night the skin is clogged, when it should be absolutely clean.

Give yourself a few moments treatment every night, no matter how tired you are. Rub the skin with cleansing cream, wash this off with hot water, if your skin is normally good, rinse with cold water or use an astringent. If you have wrinkles or a dry skin, massage in a flesh building cream after the hot rinse, and let the cream stay in, wiping off only what remains on the surface of the skin. Rub cream into the neck and elbows. If these need treatment.

Massage your scalp with your fingers. If your hair is in poor condition a tonic may be used. But it can be used any time of the day. It is only the complexion that benefits most by the attention at bedtime.

Little Bennys Note Book

Yesterday I didn't have anything special to do and I was looking around the store room thinking maybe I might find something I didn't know I had, and I found a letter I found, lay me, listen to this. They used to put on letters to make them go, and after supper me and pop and ma was in the setting room and I said, Hey pop, listen to this letter I found, lay me, listen to this. And I started to read it, reading Dearest of the dear, I miss you so much it seems as if the day must have 1000 hours instead of only 24 like it is supposed to.

Ha ha ha, pop pop laughing, derst of the dear, the poor fish, I guess she's deer all rite meaning expensive, nobody ever dwt me writing a letter like that, I was a sensible young man, not a poor fish.

I think its a very sweet letter Willyum, dont be so sarcastic, we're all young once, sed ma, and pop sed, Not that young, the poor fish. Which I started to read some more, reading, Life without you is like an egg without salt or a flower without smell. It is like wandering in the Sahara desert with no water to the left of me or the poor fish, he never thant mite be water in front of him, ha ha ha, sed pop.

Now Willyum arent you mean, were did you find the letter, Benny? sed ma, and I sed, Up in the store room, and ma sed, Wat, well I declare, its a letter you rote to me while we were engaged, Willyum, I remember it now, hee hee you bin calling yourself a poor fish, hee hee Willyum wat kind of a fish are you, a cod or a sardsen or wat?

Its a forgery, the boys crazy, let me sed it, sed pop. Wich I handed him the letter and he saw the name on it and everything and stuck it in his pocket saying, I didnt know I drank so much in my youth.

Wat are you Willyum, a herring or a shad? sed ma. And pop got behind the paper without saying anything and ma told him all the different names of fishes she could think of, taking her about half a hour and they reached the boat? Mayhap, in order that the chief British representative to the disarmament conference might have an absolutely accurate knowledge of the opinion of the women, most important of the flappers of the United Kingdom regarding the disarmament situation, worried secretaries would work the adding machines overtime—if they happen to carry such contrivances amongst the multitudinous paraphernalia necessary to such an expedition as that which sails at the beginning of next month. Do let us hope that all these examples of feminine penmanship will not be consigned to the silences of the deep. But perish the thought!

Perchance these cards may be eventually carefully filed in the archives that future generations of British women in the days when the Great War has come to be a tale that is told by reminiscent grandfathers who fought in France and Flanders and on the eastern front, may know for themselves of the magnificent effort of their countrywomen in the reign of King George V. and in the year 1921, that there might be peace forever in the land.

A special place might be set apart in the great ship which is to bear the delegates to the New World for the safe carrying of the million or so cards. One can imagine the impressive procession from the thronged wharves—van after van closely guarded, piled high with sacks—or perhaps safety-boxes with this time-of-cards—nothing but cards.

And can we not picture the Premier, or the chief British representative, wearied after a long day of conference, far from home, retreating himself by the open fire—or the steam radiator—slippers on his feet, a pipe in his mouth—if he favors a pipe—retreating his jaded mind with these wishes of Godspeed from the women of the homeland—a box of cards within easy reach? Touching pictures, isn't it?

FASHION NOTES SAY:

Fur cuffs are often eliminated on the fall coats being shown in London.

Silver flowers and fruit are one of the favorite millinery tricks of the autumn.

Velvet and duvetyn are leading materials in shades of red, rust, copper, taupe, fuchsias and tan.

Girdles are getting pretty well on toward the knees in Paris and, they say, they will go lower before they come higher.

Some of the new coats are cut on circular lines, with the garment hanging loosely from the shoulder.

Black predominates in evening gowns from Paris, but uniformity is avoided by embroidering these black gowns with great flowers or simple blocks in colored silks or silver thread, and uneven length single panels and borders of fur lend variety to these gowns.

A big colored flower posed on the hip of the evening frock of black is smart, and the flower is sometimes surrounded by a little shower of black tulle—placed in a sort of frill of the tulle, almost like the old-fashioned frill of paper that was put around bouquets.

JAMES HATTON PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

He Used Them Years Ago for Heart Trouble and Pain in the Back, and the Results Have Made Him a Firm Friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Cecile de Whitton, Que., Oct. 31. (Special).—A friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills of long standing is Mr. James Hatton, one of the grand old men of this place. Mr. Hatton, eighty-two years of age, but his memory is still clear and he tells how some years ago he used Dodd's Kidney Pills for his heart trouble and violent pain in the back, and how satisfied he was with the result.

"We had the grip very bad last winter," Mr. Hatton adds, "and Dodd's Kidney Pills brought us through all right."

To avoid disease the kidneys must be kept in good working order. The kidneys are the scavengers of the body. Their work is to strain all the impurities out of the blood. If the kidneys are wrong the impurities, the seeds of disease, remain in the blood and serious trouble is bound to follow. At the first sign of trouble try Dodd's Kidney Pills.
