Mysterious Confectionery

The Chinese are very skilful in making confectionery, and possess the reputation of having some secrets the knowledge of which our own confectioners would find very desirable. They are able to empty an orange of its pulp entirely, then fill it up with fruit jelly without one being able to find the smallest cut in the rind or even a tiny hole. Indeed, they even empty an egg in this manner and fill it with a sort of almond nougat, without one being able to find the slightest break or incision in the shell.

Hun Soldiers Steal And Consume Food For Starving Belgians.

New York, Sept. 14 - A London News agency despatch to the Sun says; German soldiers are seizing stores accumulated in Belgium by the American relief Commission and paid for by Americans who thought they were feeding the starving Belgians, according to the Copenhagen correspondent of the Times, who quotes the Ribe Slifstideude as saying: - Not only do German troops, going from Belgium to the trenches on the Western front, have their rations eked out by these supplies but soldiers going home on furlough arrive with their knapsack filled with these purloined victuals.

FARMER WINS

In the suit brought by R. H. Reid Linacy, against the agents at Kentville for the Cross Fertilizer Co., for the non-delivery of a car of slag, judgment has been given by Judge Patterson in favor of Mr. Reid. The agents being assessed $25.00 damages and costs. Mr. Reid contracted with these King County agents to deliver to him a car of slag at the price for which the article in sold in King's Co. The agents found they could not make delivery here at that price and Mr. Reid was asked to pay seventy-five cents per ton more for living in Pictou Co. This he refused to do, holding the agents to their acceptance of his order. - Eastern Chronicle, New Glasgow.

British Lost 250,000 In Past Three Months

London, Sept. 10 - From June 1, this year, to date the British army and navy have lost more than 250,000 men. For June the casualties numbered approximately 30,000. During August 36,150 officers and men were reported killed or missing, and 96,833 more wounded. Although these lists are official, it is impossible to draw deductions from them, as they include all fronts and cover no special period of fighting. However, they serve to show what the war is costing Britain in man power. It is believed that the German and Austrian losses for the same period are much greater.

Subscribers who are paid up for 1916 need give no heed to our call to subscribers in arrears. Those paying in advance are helping us to keep our paper up to the present standard in size and quality. DUKE AS INDIAN CHIEF

(1) The investiture. (2) The Duke in full Indian regalia. (3) The Duke speaking to Princess Patricia.

During the five years of his Governor-Generalship, nothing has given His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, more pleasure than the ceremony which made him Chief of the Stony Indians. This ceremony took place at Banff, where the Duke and Duchess, together with Princess Patricia, spent a delightful holiday this summer. The Stony Indians, who were once a distinctly warlike tribe, and some of whose exploits form the background to Ralph Connor's "Sun Dance Patrol," are now good citizens and hold an Annual Sports Day at the great tourist resort in July. The picturesque arb of a Stony Indian Chief admirably suits the fine figure and strong profile of the Duke. Princess Patricia found particular pleasure this summer in riding her mounted police pony "Dandy" along the mountain trails which radiate from Banff through the passes and over the precipitous sides of the surrounding mountains. The Duke himself spent much of his time in fishing for mountain, cut-throat and devil trout, but the largest fish of the season was caught by Miss Yorke, lady in waiting to the Duchess of Connaught, who landed a monster of no less than nine pounds. The sulphur water swimming pool attached to the C.F.R. hotel was a source of great delight to the Royal party, and many amusing snapshots, not for publication, are being taken back to England. The many visits of the Connaughts to Banff have resulted in this becoming the chief social centre of the West during the summer months. The Americans who have the money to travel have deserted their own National Parks so that they could be nearer to a real Duke.

Guard Baby's Health In The Summer

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly, to cure them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rush Canadian Troops to England

Ottawa, Sept. 18th. — According to the rate at which battalions are being sent overseas, there will not be more than about sixty thousand Canadian troops left in Canada at the beginning of winter, although this number will, of course be considerably augmented as recruiting goes on. Last winter over one hundred thousand troops were quartered in November and December in the various centres throughout the Dominion.

By the beginning of November there will be considerably more than this number in training in England, where climatic conditions are considered better for effective battalion and brigade training during the winter months.

In addition to this reason for sending troops overseas this fall, there is the further reason that they will then be immediately available in the spring for movement to the front, for what it is hoped will be the final big offensive. It is probable that a number of the towns throughout the Dominion which benefited from having military units quartered there during last winter will this year be without troops, as the billeting and small unit system has been abandoned and most of the troops will be concentrated in a few large centres.

HELP IT BY BUYING AT HOME

The Home Town Sinks When You Send our Dollars Away

Farmers can speak of the early days, of the raw land that was broken, the passing of the years, and finally the gradual growth of the nearby town or village. Then, one day, a farmer received a catalogue from some mail order concern—a veritable store between covers. He sent his order away and his money, and also incited others—neighbors—to club with him for a similar purpose. He forgot—or did not think of the early days of struggle, of how thrifty the little village had been; how the merchants were willing to help an honest fellow over a bad year. This went on, and gradually things got worse. You see the dollars were always going away—never staying at home. The village merchants had to reduce their stocks because their businesses were going down since so little money was in local circulation.

Folks said: "Why, Jones, has nothing in his store we need, yet he says that we ruin the community by sending money away. If he has not the stock how can we help sending away." Left-handed logic, that! Jones could not stock the goods because he could not afford to. Finally, Jones, and one by one the other local merchants, moved away to some other centre where things looked better. When some commodity was wanted in a hurry, it was very hard to get it locally. What else could you expect.

The Home Town Sinks. Then, slowly but surely, like a ship going down to the bottom, the little town or village went down, down, bearing with it the school, church, local library and social hall.

A REAL WINNER

A Sign That Pulled Business For a Hardware Merchant

A few months ago a leading hardware dealer in a Canadian town found his sales were falling off badly. He did not become cast down but set his mind to work to find out the trouble and how he could overcome it. He hit upon the following display card as a first aid to this end:

We Are Going to Make "BUSINESS AS USUAL" Selling Goods MADE IN CANADA "WE'LL HOLD WHAT WE HAVE—AND MORE—" By Selling MADE-IN-CANADA GOODS"

In telling a customer about it afterwards he said: "I've taken some pretty long chances and made some pretty shrewd guesses in shaping up programmes for this store, and it's been mighty seldom I've lost out, but I think this one is going to be the surest winner I've ever tried. I'm banking on it strongly, and I think we can square our obligations with our neighbors and the citizens of this country by sticking to it. What's more, if every storekeeper in this country will do the same we'll all wipe off a lot of long-drawn-out accounts that have refused to be closed up because we failed to help the fellow that really supports us in our business."

THE FACTS OF THE CASE

Red Deer M.P. Cannot Forget His Favorite Theory in War Time

Dr. Michael Clark, M.P. for Red Deer, recently stated in the House of Commons that the war had proclaimed the National Policy to have been a palpable failure as a revenue producer and a builder up of industry. It is regrettable that Dr. Clark, who combines the gift of picturesque speech with an attractive personality, should not be more careful as to the facts when speaking in the House of Commons. His claim that the National Policy has failed to produce revenue is easily refuted by the returns of the Customs Department which show that, since 1878, when the National Policy was introduced, the customs revenue of the country has increased from $12,935,540 to $107,180,578 for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1914. That is, the customs revenue now provides about two-thirds of the total revenue raised by the Dominion Government.

His second statement that the National Policy has failed to develop the industries of Canada is also misleading and untrue. From 1890 to 1910, a period in which both Conservative and Liberal Governments adhered to the National Policy, statistics show the following enormous increases in the production of manufactured goods: Food products, 223 per cent.; textiles, 148 per cent.; iron and steel 298 per cent.; wood products, 153 per cent.; paper and printing, 225 per cent.; liquors and beverages, 259 per cent.; clay, glass and stone products, 152 per cent.; metal products, 452 per cent.; tobacco products, 350 per cent.; vehicles, 334 per cent.; hand trades, 1,411 per cent.

Our trade rivals, the manufacturers of the United States, have not the contemptible opinion of our National Policy which is entertained by Dr. Clark. In a special bulletin on foreign trade, published by the National Association of Manufacturers of the United States on March 1st, appears the following statement:

"Were it not for its customs tariff the Dominion of Canada, so far as cultivation of trade therewith is concerned, would scarcely be looked upon by Americans as a foreign country. But, as the Dominion is a distinct and separate country from the Republic, the Government of the Dominion naturally aims not only to develop its own resources, to its fullest extent, but also, through the influence of a protective customs tariff, to concentrate as much as possible the manufacture within its own borders of the goods which its people require. This devotion to a system of tariff protection on the part of Canada has resulted in the establishment of numerous industries by Canadians and has also induced a large number of American manufacturers to erect branches of their own factories in Canada in order to secure to a larger degree a share of the markets of the Dominion which have grown so rapidly within the past decade."

Every dollar spent for the goods your fellow men make is as important just now as every Canadian bullet sent into the ranks of the enemy.

KENTVILLE, SEPT 22, 1916

THE MARCH ON CANADA

With the close of the war an army of between three hundred thousand and five hundred thousand Canadian soldiers will return and seek their places in the industrial organization of their country. Over four hundred Canadian factories will cease the manufacture of munitions and the services of the organizations of workers who have become expert in these lines will no longer be required for that purpose.

In Europe twenty million men will lay down their arms and return to the avocations of peace. Millions of them will, for a time at least, be unemployed. A large number unquestionably will look to the Dominion as the country of their opportunity. The march on Canada will be magnificent—if we are ready for it. But the men who come will be empty handed. It is up to us.

At the Rink, Wolfville, on Saturday afternoon, September 23 a great time may be expected. Afternoon Tea, Succotash Supper, Ice Cream and refreshments will be served and many things provided to attract and entertain. There will be a special train from Aldershot and the Band of the 85th Battalion will furnish music. Proceeds for Duchess of Connaught, War Prisoners Fund.

An aeroplane flight over Eastern Canada is projected by the Curtiss people who have secured the requisite authority. The plane will leave Buffalo this week, sail to Toronto, thence to Camp Borden and from there to Ottawa and Valcartier.

New York World: In his interview with Karl von Wiegand Count von Hertling, head of the Bavarian Ministry, explaining Germany's position says: "We are not fighting for the same avowed objects as England and France; we are fighting for our own, for home and our Fatherland." Two years ago, when Germany suddenly plunged Europe into war, its avowed objects were "a place in the sun," and the right to impose its will upon other nations by force of arms.

GERMANS GET HARDEST BLOW ON WESTERN FRONT

Canadians Won Great Glory

With the British Armies in Field, Monday, Sept. 18—I have been today among the men who have broken the Fiers line and given the Germans the hardest blows they ever suffered on this front. They were all splendid. They were to the supreme test of courage by the most damnable shell fire, and fierce concentrated barrages by which the German gunners at long ranges endeavored to support their infantry. What touched me most was the way in which the newest and youngest British troops went through with their business. Some of them were Derby recruits who had not yet seen what shell fire means in the Somme battle. The older men among them who knew, were sorry for them. They wonder how they would "stand it," and said, with a view of encouragement, "cheer up, you will soon be dead."

They did not hang back, these new fellows. The rawest recruit among them strained forward with the rest, floundered over shell holes like the others, and leaped into the German trenches like men of the old fighting spirit. The London men did gloriously, and had one of the hardest points of the heaviest sorts of fire. These young civil servants and men of London suburbs who used to go to their city offices by early morning trains, fought strongly and endured it with stoicism. They had a laugh left in them after the battle, when they forgot the frightfulness of it all, and remembered the fantastic adventures of the tanks.

The Canadians gained glory on Friday and Saturday. Their attack was finely organized and when all the difficulties are known, it will be put down to their credit as really a great military achievement. Among them is a body of French Canadians, dark eyed fellows, whom I used to meet about the villages of France, speaking volubly with the peasants their own tongue. These fellows, raced forward to the German stronghold which they had asked leave to take. They were swept by machine gun fire, and checked by the stubborn defence on the part of the Germans, but with the help of two tanks, called creme de minthe, and cordon rouge, which sat on the German machine gun emplacement and knocked out their machine gun crews, the French Canadians carried the stronghold and captured hundreds of prisoners.

LIEUT. HILTZ WOUNDED

Mrs. E. R. Hiltz of Kingsport has received the following telegram from Ottawa, dated Sept. 19th:

Sincerely regret to inform you Lieut. Harry W. Hiltz, infantry, officially reported admitted to No. 7 Stationary Hospital, Bologne, Sept. 17th. Gunshot wound, leg and thigh. Will send further particulars when received.

This information following closely upon the word that Harry had been promoted on the field for faithful and efficient work shows that Lieut. Hiltz has been in the thick of the fighting. It is hoped that an early report will be received that his wound is not very painful or dangerous.

Two Wolfville Boys Named in List of Killed

In the list of killed in yesterday's daily papers were the names of Paul W. Davidson and Harold Clive Fielding of Wolfville.

There may be some mistake and we trust it is not correct about Paul Davidson.

Mr. B. O. Davidson of the Acadia received a telegram stating that his son Paul was laid up in the hospital on September 11th as the result of a gunshot wound. He could not have recovered and taken part in another engagement and met his death on the field of battle. The two were announced as killed in action. He possibly might have died in the hospital but the news is so conflicting that we have reason to hope that he is only wounded. Mr. Clive Fielding is a grandson of Dr. Payzant and news of his death will be heard with deep regret. We will announce particulars as soon as obtained.

Jean MacQuarrie, daughter of Rev. D. H. MacQuarrie, won the Sir F. W. Borden Scholarship, at the recent Provincial examinations.

Austrians Preparing to Evacuate Trieste

Bad Weather Stops Forward Work on the Somme German offensive checked by Russians

Athens, Sept. 19th.—It is stated, in most reliable diplomatic sources here, that the Austrians are preparing for the evacuation of Trieste.

Paris, Sept. 19th.—Owing to the bad weather, says the official communication issued by the War Office tonight, nothing important has occurred, except violent artillery activity on the Somme and Verdun fronts, and about Dixmude, in Belgium.

Paris, Sept. 19.—The Germans took the offensive in Champagne last night making five successive attacks on the Russian troops there. Today's official report says that each time they were checked by the Russian machine gun and artillery fire. The German attack in Champagne was made in the sector between Souain and Somme. On the Somme front operations were hindered by bad weather.

Desperate Fighting --With Serbians Victorious

Positions Carried Which Bulgarians Ordered to Defend to Last Man Pro-War Campaign in Greece

London, Sept. 19th.—Serbian troops in Macedonia, after a night of desperate fighting developed a success yesterday on the Kaimak Calani range, to the north of Lake Ostrovo, says a Reuters despatch, from Saloniki today. At ten o'clock at night they occupied, the highest summit of the range, 2,500 metres in height, which the Bulgarians had been ordered to defend to the last man.

Bulgarian counter attacks were completely repulsed, the despatch adds, and the Serbian offensive is continuing successfully.

Peace Now a Peace of War and a Menace to Future Generations

French Premier Makes Ringing Speech

Gleams of Pesticide and Glory For France

Paris, Sept. 9.—In the Chamber of Deputies Premier Briand in answer to the call to stop the war said to Mr. Brizon: Your country, Monsieur Brizon, has a splendid past, which should make you love her. This country was seized by the throat after her assailant had passed over the bleeding body of Belgium. To this country, which has the honor to be the champion of right, and which has poured out its blood in floods, you say: "Stop the war; negotiate peace."

At this point members of the Chamber rose, cheering M. Briand and howling down M. Brizon.

Resuming the Premier said: "You little know France, Monsieur Brizon, if you think she can sell her blood. What peace would you make for this country at this moment? If peace were made now it would be a peace of war, and a menace to future generations.

"The treacherous blow Germany tried to strike failed, but would be tried afresh. For forty-five years your country worked with a wound in her side, forehead the aureole of prestige and glory. If you wish the ideas of justice to triumph, pray ardently for victory. Otherwise there would be a peace humiliating and dishonorable, and such as no Frenchmen could desire."

The Chamber, which was aroused to the utmost enthusiasm by the Premier's eloquence voted that the speech should be printed and displayed on all public buildings throughout France.

PRESERVING EGGS

Recommendations for preserving by the water glass method.

Selecting Eggs—The eggs should be collected daily from clean nests only, and from healthy flocks. It is preferable to use infertile eggs and thereby eliminate the possibilities for embryonic development and subsequent spoiling. In no case should old, sun-baked, or cracked or thin shelled eggs be used. Cracks are usually detected by gently tapping the eggs or candling them.

Container—Generally, glazed earthenware jars, galvanized tubs or buckets and wooden tubs or kegs are used. In case of wooden receptacles it is desirable to let them stand several days full of water, then empty and scald before using.

A gallon stone jar will hold 40 average eggs. One pint of water glass syrup mixed with 10 pints of water will cover 120

Water—Mix the water glass eggs in a three gallon stone jar, with water that has been boiled. The mixture should be kept covered at all times in order to prevent evaporation. When cold it is ready for use.

Water Glass—Water glass can be purchased either in liquid or dry form. Most drug stores, however, carry in stock only the liquid form.

Strength of Solution—Different proportions of water glass to water have been successfully used, but the higher strengths as for example: one pint of water glass to 9 or 10 pints of water have given better results.

Uses—Eggs preserved in water glass can be used in place of fresh ones for frying, scrambling, cooking, and, if not kept too long, can be used for meringues, icings, angel cake, etc. A pin hole opening made on the blunt end of the shell makes it possible to boil the eggs without any danger of their boiling.

Commercial Packing—A large number of persons have packed eggs in water glass successfully for commercial purposes. They should be labeled as water glass eggs being offered for sale.—Agr. Exp. Station, Washington.

DIRE THREAT REACHES OTTAWA GOVERNMENT

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—The following dire and dreadful threat reached the hands of the Government from an anonymous hand today: "I intend to blow up the Parliament Building if I am able. I can do it all right, and there ain't enough Canadians to catch me. It was me that done the job before, but I didn't go about it right. I am a German and I'll get even with Canada sure. I can go in amongst the smartest men in the Dominion. I will blow up Ottawa and all that's in it. Just keep your eyes and ears open and your mouth shut and look out. I am not a Laurier or a Borden not a Chinese or a Methodist. A little over forty-nine years of age, 280 lbs., 6 feet. It will be in September."

The letter is unsigned and posted at Ottawa, addressed weryly to "The Parliament Building, Ottawa." Ottawa." It came to the Museum.

Premier Asquith's Son Killed in Action

The Popular Laurentians

(1) Lac Marois, Shawbridge. (2) Mixed Bathing
(3) Quiet Fishing Pool Near Val Morin.

LOVERS of beautiful mountain and valley scenery towering rocks, thick forests, pleasant glades, flower-clad vales and plains, rushing and placid rivers, roaring waterfalls and babbling streams could not do better than to select the Laurentian Mountains reached by the Canadian Pacific, as their holiday resort. So prettily situated are all the spots where the holiday-makers make their headquarters that it is embarrassing to choose the one that might be best suited to the taste of the individual. But all are enchanting, from Shawbridge—the first of them—to Mount Laurier—the last. Within easy reach of any of the resorts there is excellent trout and bass fishing to be had. The rivers and lakes are clear and sand-bottomed generally, and are well suited to the requirements of the swimmer and bather. Row boating, motor boating, and canoeing are favorite pastimes, and on a fine calm evening it is exhilarating to sit by the waters and listen to the laughter and merry chat of the parties who are on the waters.

Golfing can be had at Ste Agathe, Ste Margaret and Val Morin. Tennis courts are attached to some of the better class hotels. Those who love mountain climbing can have a variety of spheres for this form of activity to select from and the expense of a holiday in the Laurentians is comparatively small.

LAKE MARIE FARM SHOWS FINE CLYDES

At the recent Toronto show there were no horses brought out in better bloom than those owned by General Sir Henry Pellatt. The aged stallion, On Guard, is a well known horse and faced the judge, in the very pink of condition, in fact, old exhibitor hardly knew him, and he was placed first in the class for non-importers. The Yeld mare—first in her class—is a representative of her great sire, "Baron of Buchlyvie," the highest priced heavy horse in the world. Lady Byland, the three year old mare is a hard one to beat, in the best company, and good judges were unanimous in the opinion that a better Canadian-bred mare had seldom, if ever been seen on the fair grounds; she was first in her class, champion Canadian-bred mare, and reserve to the champion mare of the show. The two-year-old mare by Sir Spencer, was second in her class, but it was a case of tweedle dum and tweedle dee, either might have been first. The yearling filly Sweet Marie, by Sir Henry's own horse, "On Guard," was bred on his farm and is a typical Clydesdale, with her beautiful legs and feet, and looks like making a good sized mare. This stock is under the management of Mr. R. S. Starr, lately of Nova Scotia, who has judged Clydesdales at Guelph and Ottawa, and he is to be congratulated on his stable management which has brought his charges out in such splendid condition. Sir Henry Pellatt in breeding such animals as come from his stables, is setting an example that many other gentlemen may well follow with pride to themselves and profit to the country.—Mail and Empire.

BEST SUCCESS YET OBTAINED BY BRITISH Germans Admit Defeat

With the British Armies in the Field, Saturday September 16—Another day of great remembrance has been given to England's history by her troops, September 15, that will not quickly pass out of the memory of the people for on that day the British soldiers broke through the German third line of defence and went out into the open country and gave staggering blows to the enemy war machine which for two years, all but two months, seemed unthinkably strong.

It was a day of good success. Yesterday the British had the taste of victory, and it was to take a stronger drug to their heart, so that they laughed, even while blood was streaming down their faces, and they said, "My God, it's wonderful." When they came limping off the battlefield with wounds on fire some of them remarked, "We made 'em run like rabbits." The day of victory came after two and a half months of continued and most bloody fighting. This new British army has not had an easy walk through after its time of preparation and training in the dirty ditches of the old trench warfare. Every yard of ground they had made since the dawn of July 1 was made by sheer, stubborn resolution to go forward regardless of all cost in life or sufferings. The first smash through of that network of defences had been made by masses of men hurling themselves upon positions which the Germans had the right to believe impregnable, and the price was high.

The task set by the British soldiers yesterday was as formidable as on the first day of the great offensive. Coming after two and one-half months of the continuous fighting, it was startling in its boldness, and showed that the generals had supreme confidence in the men in their own powers of organization, and in the luck of battle that comes to those who work for it. The Germans believed the offensive had petered out. There was much evidence for that. They did not believe it possible that an army of the size and strength of the British could carry on an attack at the same fierce pace. They cherished the hope that the British divisions were broken and spent that the British stores of ammunition were giving out, and that the men were over-tired. They still had faith in their own gunpowder, a defensive strength of a thousand guns against the British front, and it was reasonable faith. They had been digging furiously on dark nights to strengthen the third line of defence the famous Fiers line which was, they thought, to be the boundary of the advancing British tide.

Yesterday I saw the prisoners coming off the battlefields in droves, and today hundreds of them in barbed wire cages behind the lines. They were dazed men, filled with gloom, tortured by a great bewilderment. "It is your victory," said one of their officers, speaking to me in French. "It is our defeat. I cannot understand." "Germany is kaput," said one of their non-commissioned officers. He meant that Germany, is down, "in the soup," as the British soldiers would say. It was an exaggeration for Germany still has a lot of fight left in her, but it was the belief of her captured soldiers yesterday.

GREAT GAINS FOR THE BRITISH

Won Danube Trench

London, Sept. 17—Additional gains along a front of more than a mile and a half were secured by the British last night in pressing their offensive north of the Somme, the War Office announced this afternoon. The "Danube Trench," about one mile long, as taken, and additional territory on a thousand yards from near Courcellette was captured.

When he closes one contract, he asks the insurer about any friends that might be interested, and often gets a note or a verbal message of recommendation to some of those friends. Merchants could use similar methods to advantage, modified to suit their business. First give your customers perfect satisfaction; then get them to recommend you to their friends. If you sell a washer, wringer, stove, piano, a brand of paint, or baking powder, get your customer to write his experience and publish it in your advertisement." The ad is framed with decorative borders and includes the text "Copyrighted 1914" and "SINGLE SYNDICATE".

At Mouquet Farm the British army finally took the fortification for which the opposing armies have been contending for weeks, quantities of war material and numerous additional prisoners were captured. The text of the statement follows: "South of the Ancre, our troops achieved further success. Last evening in the vicinity of Courcellette we extended our gains on a front of about 1,000 yards. In the neighborhood of Thiepval we obtained a considerable success yesterday evening by capturing the hostile fortifications known as "Danube Trench" on a front of about a mile. Here the enemy abandoned considerable quantities of rifles and equipment. We also captured the strongly defended work at Mouquet Farm possession of which had been hotly contested for some weeks past. "The number of prisoners is increasing. "A number of successful minor enterprises were also carried out by us last night on other parts of the British front."

BRITISH "WILLIES" CALLED WONDERS

London, Sept. 16.—The reference in the official statement issued by the War Office yesterday to a new type of armored car, is the first official mention of development which has been much whispered about recently in army circles. Those who have seen the new vehicles refer to them as "tanks," while the soldiers who have handled them have given them the nickname of "Willies."

The object which the designers sought to obtain was to render a heavily armored motor car capable of being operated in the shell-torn and roadless wilderness of trenches, where it is evident a vehicle mounted on ordinary wheels could not be used.

Although no details of the car's construction have been published, the Times says: "Our inventors have not hesitated boldly to tread unbeaten paths. We may imagine the feelings of German infantry in shell battered trenches when in the uncertain light of dawn they saw advancing upon them an array of unearthly monsters cased in steel, spitting fire and crawling laboriously, but ceaselessly over trenches, barbed wire and shell craters."

GERMANY THE HORRIBLE EXAMPLE OF FAILURE

No nation can long be called efficient which fails to advance the general life of humanity. As the war drags on, with its ever increasing wake of ruin and irreparable loss, Germany is fast losing her 'place in the sun,' and stands as the 'horrible example' of utter failure along the avenues of real world service. That she is powerful none can deny; but that her strength is of the eternal type is daily becoming more doubtful. In a sense she has been efficient, but for fundamentally wrong purposes; and, unless the unexpected happens, she is bound to undermine her own foundations and find herself less respected and both morally and physically weaker than before the conquest of Alsace-Lorraine.—The Outlook, N. Y.
