TWELFTH YEAR—No. 85

HOW'S THIS FOR A CANADIAN FAMILY?

IT IS NOT A FATHER'S FAMILY, BUT A GRAND-FATHER'S FAMILY. TEN GRANDSONS AND ONE GRAND-DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. ALGIE, OF ALTON, ONTARIO. THEY WERE GATHERED IN TORONTO THIS WEEK TO ATTEND THE ANNUAL DINNER GIVEN BY THEIR GRAND-PARENTS. THEIR PHOTO WAS TAKEN ON THE STEPS OF THE LEGISLATIVE BUILDINGS, TORONTO, IN THE COURSE OF A TALLY-HO RIDE ROUND THE CITY.

TREGILLUS MARKET PLAN MEETS WITH APPROVAL

Representatives of the Consumers' League, the Local Council of Women, the United Farmers of Alberta, and a Fruit Concern, Investigate and Approve of the Proposition

COUNCIL WILL BE ASKED TO BUILD NECESSARY CAR SPUR

REPRESENTATIVES of the Consumers' League, the Local Council of Women, the Vernon Fruit company, and the United Farmers of Alberta, who have investigated the present market plan, are heartily in favor of Ald. Tregillus' plan to utilize this building, provided the necessary facilities for the transportation of goods from the railway can be provided over the street car line.

The Consumers' league, which was organized by the women of Calgary for the purpose of establishing the market on a successful basis, has gone carefully into the plans of Ald. Tregillus, the details of which meet with their entire approval.

Mr. E. P. Newhall, chairman of the House Economics Committee of the House of Commons, writes that such a plan should be a thoroughly practical man who knows Alberta and is quite familiar with conditions and individuals in this locality.

The appointment of a market manager has not yet been considered by the aldermen, although the name of Mr. H. G. Wells, who has taken a very keen interest in the problem, has been mentioned casually by several aldermen. Mr. Wells has not been approached, but it is generally conceded that if he would consent to undertake the responsibility he is the best man available in the province to organize the market, on a successful basis and to institute a successful system of co-operation between consumers and producers under the peculiar conditions which pertain here.

FRUIT COMPANY ENDORSES THE PLAN

The Vernon Fruit Co., who anticipate better conditions through this medium of distribution, also endorses Ald. Tregillus' plan to use the present market building.

Mr. S. J. Tees, manager of the company, has written the following letter to Ald. Tregillus:

"We read of your market plan in The Morning Albertan and we heartily recommend it. We are a commission company and would just as soon handle Alberta produce as B.C. We have recently sold our Broken Cans, which are now in reality an Alberta company with an Alberta character. We have sufficient business to insure the success of your scheme and will be pleased to give it our heartiest support."

COUNCIL ASKED FOR SMALL EXPENDITURE.

If the council will authorize the expenditure of about $1000 to build the necessary street railway spur into the market building it is likely that the new street railway freight cars will be used to transfer produce arriving on the C.P.R. to the market at a fairly low rate.

DUTY OF THE BRITISH LIBERALS IS TO INSIST UPON EXPLANATION OF NAVAL MYSTERY, SAYS STAR

London, June 6.—Tonight's London Star says:

"The duty of the Liberal members is to insist upon a clear, explicit and definite explanation of the whole mystery of the painful position which the Canadian Liberals are placed in as a result of the margin of naval strength necessary for our safety. And now, when the empire is in danger and the Canadian people are taken into our confidence and treated fairly and candidly."

"If the empire be in danger let it be told what the danger is and where it is to be expected."

"Let the Canadian people be taken into our confidence and treated fairly and candidly."

FAIR WEEK CROOKS TO GET LIMIT IF ARRESTED

Chief Cuddy Plans Special Reception for Shady Gentlemen Who Attempt to Thrive on Visitors During the Exhibition.

EXTRA PINKERTON MEN TO BE HIRED FOR WEEK

Magistrate Sanders to Co-Operate, With Department in Giving Offenders Heavy Sentences; Chief Sends Out Warning to Entire Clan.

EVERY crook, gambler, pickpocket or confidence man caught in Calgary during fair week will be given the limit of the law, and the police will make a determined effort the first day of the fair to round up the entire tribe.

This was the news given out last night by Chief of Police Alfred Cuddy, who announced also that he was making special preparations for the reception to be accorded the shady gentry. A special reception committee has been named, to consist of the entire plain clothes department of the city, a number of special Pinkerton detectives, and Chief Cuddy has appointed himself as chairman of the committee. Magistrate Sanders will be the estimator.

"The sentences dealt out today by Magistrate Sanders to four crooks who formed the vanguard of the influx can be taken as a criterion," said Chief Cuddy last night. "We are going to run the entire tribe into the station house and no mercy will be shown any of them. I am taking every measure possible to have this known, so that crooks may take proper warning and shun the city during Fair Week especially."

Gum Shoe Men Engaged.

In addition to his present uniformed force, Chief Cuddy will hire a detail of Pinkerton detectives who are familiar with the faces of the great mass of crooks who usually follow the fair circuit. These men know every crook of note in the country, and have been trained, especially for the work Chief Cuddy has in mind.

A special effort will be made to clear the entire enclosure and adjacent streets of crooks on the first day. (Continued on Page Fourteen).

BORDEN WOULD PAY FOR CONSTRUCTION OF SHIPS

Premier Announces Policy of the Government On Naval Question and Severely Criticises Opposition and the Senate; Strenuous Debate Up to the Time of Prorogation

TIMES TOO HARD TO PERMIT THE HOLDING OF AN ELECTION

OTTAWA, June 6.—The second session of Canada's twelfth parliament, in many ways the most remarkable since Confederation, came to a dramatic conclusion today. Prorogation day is usually quiet; the chief interest attaching to the military display which marks the closing ceremonies. Today the developments and discussions within the walls of parliament were so interesting that the fuss and feathers were practically forgotten by those closely associated with the proceedings, although the populace turned out in considerable numbers to see Deputy-Governor Fitzpatrick arrive with the usual escort. They were scattered shortly after by a sharp downpour of rain.

The most interesting development occurred at the morning sitting when there was a sharp final debate on the naval question and a pronouncement by Premier Borden as to the future action of the government in view of the fact that the naval bill has been killed by the senate. Mr. Borden announced that assuming that the cable dispatch stating that Mr. Churchill proposes to build three additional ships is correct, parliament would again be asked to vote the $35,000,000 and the ships would be purchased for the use of his majesty. Mr. Borden was severe in his comments on the action of the senate.

The question of financial state of Canada, stating that it had not been so bad for 30 years. The reason lay in the excess of imports over exports.

Mr. Pugsley: "By larger markets."

Canadian Fighting Men

The ex-minister of public works again took up the navy question and was in the midst of an eulogy of Canadians as fighting men in comparison with others when the Black Rod from the senate arrived on the scene. Mr. Hazen created a roar of laughter by preventing the Black Rod from proceeding for a moment as he endeavored to reply to the ex-minister of public works.

The members left for the senate at a quarter past four and the session of the most historic parliament of Canada was concluded.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier called the attention of the prime minister to the fact that the government has placed in the mouth of the governor-general a statement at the beginning of the session to the effect that there were circumstances which made it imperative that there should be help given to the naval forces of the empire. To that end a measure had been promised and introduced by the government did not succeed in convincing parliament that there was such emergency as was shown in the speech from the throne. They had convinced this house but not the other branch of the legislature where the bill did not pass. "We are entitled to know," said Sir Wilfrid, "what action the government proposes to take under the circumstances."

Mr. Borden said the question deserved serious consideration and a plain answer.

"It appears," he said, "we have failed to obtain the consent of parliament to the measure which was brought down by the government. We obtained the consent of this house of commons which represents the people; we did not obtain the consent of certain gentlemen in another chamber who were merely the echo of the expressed intention of the Right Hon. gentleman, because it was announced by members from the other side of the house before the bill left this house that it would be defeated in the senate and notwithstanding the protestations of the Right Hon. gentleman, every one, including his own followers, admits that. He has referred to the senate as the upholder of democratic institutions."

DR. MAHOOD TO START CAMPAIGN AGAINST SALE OF UNCLEAN MILK

Health Officer Says Many Dairy Herds Supplying City With Milk Are Affected With Tuberculosis and Everywhere There is Lacking of Sanitation.

DR. MAHOOD, medical health officer, is asking the support of the citizens of Calgary in the passage of a milk bylaw which shall be the first step toward the compulsory cleaning up of dairies and of delivery utensils.

"There is not a farmer sending milk into the city of Calgary who has his herd in such sanitary condition that he would be allowed to send milk to one of our eastern cities," says Dr. Mahood.

A recent inspection showed that cans and utensils are frequently not cleaned as they should be, that many dairy herds are infected with tuberculosis, that milk is not properly fed in transit on trains and that stables and premises are foul and disease breeding, while the dairymen or farmers are, as a class, not educated to the necessity of cleanliness in the preparation of food.

"Until the producer of milk is a trained dairyman, there will be difficulty in securing a pure milk supply, and Dr. Mahood makes the first suggestion that the government establish model dairy farms for the education of the dairymen."

DAIRYMAN, ILL OF SMALLPOX, SENT IN HURRY TO ISOLATION HOSPITAL

THE Jensen dairy is under quarantine for smallpox.

After making a portion of the delivery yesterday morning, the brother of Mr. Jensen, proprietor of the dairy, visited Dr. Wilson and after a hasty examination, the doctor diagnosed the case as one of smallpox in a very advanced stage. Dr. Mahood, medical health officer, ordered an immediate quarantine of the dairy, and Jensen was rushed to the isolation hospital, where he is now seriously ill.

This is the ninth case of smallpox discovered within four weeks, and unless precautions are taken by all individuals who have been exposed, a serious epidemic may follow.

Jensen's dairy supplies milk to the Ruskin family, where a little girl, ill of the disease in an advanced stage, was recently discovered and taken to the hospital.

OUTLOOK FOR NEW INDUSTRIES IN MEDICINE HAT HAS NEVER LOOKED BRIGHTER THAN NOW

Burgesses Endorse Contracts Entered Into For Several Big Undertakings

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., June 7.—The outlook for industries in Medicine Hat was never more bright than it is today—not only for extensive construction work on those that have definitely signed up to locate here, and on which the burgesses of this city have acted favorably, but also for several of large important undertakings in regard to which it is expected to be made in the comparatively near future, industries that will give employment to hundreds of men when completed and in full operation.

When the voters of this city on May 15 emphatically endorsed at the polls the contracts entered into by the council on behalf of this municipality with four factories for the direct expenditure of around $4,000,000 on buildings, plant, and equipment, these directly interested in establishing those industries, upon notification of the result, immediately began to get busy to begin operations.

The contractors for the giant works of the Canada Cement Co., which will manufacture over 4,000 barrels daily of that much required building material, at once placed orders for several carloads of lumber for the boarding camp at the plant site, which will take care of some 300 men at the outset, and where eventually from 500 to 700 men will be given employment in the construction of the extensive buildings of the company. The railway siding at South Medicine Hat was also ordered, but railroads move slowly, unless Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Dan Mann, or Jim Hill, or someone equally high up, gives the order direct. So, it was only yesterday that this fine quality of a sidetrack was laid, and the several cars of lumber were spotted.

Engineering Company Gets Busy.—Today the H. H. Engineering Co., contractors for the cement works, are beginning to hire men, the office, engineering and construction heads of the company having been here for some time awaiting orders to proceed with physical work. From this on it is expected that men will be added to the force daily, especially after living quarters for the men are in readiness for use. The H. H. Engineering Co. has been ordered, surveys are being undertaken, and actual construction work will soon be in evidence, with a large number of men employed. Unless all signs fall, the company will have more than the amount specified in the by-law is likely to be built and in operation months before the time limit set in the contract.

Another exceedingly important feature is that there is likelihood of the street railway company arranging to handle all or more of the switching of freight cars to the west industrial site and perhaps to other industrial sites, thus doing away with the unpleasant consequences of having this done in the heart of the rapidly growing city with steam engines. If this arrangement is worked out it will be a good thing for all interested.

Work on Two Plants.—Two of the new industries that have recently been located here have already made a lease on the erection of their buildings, and will soon be ready to do business. The day following the conference of the owners of the industrial iron works with the city council as to concessions, work has started on the first of the several buildings, which, all told, with equipment, will cost some $40,000, and this amount will be taken out and sold.

When the spur is laid to the south industrial site the Medicine Hat Radiator Co. expects to begin active work on the erection of their $100,000 factory.

building is now completed, and part of the machinery is installed, with other shipments now en route. When a member of the city council asked the men at the head of the new Gas City Planning Mills Co., while in conference regarding concessions, how soon they would be prepared to begin construction, they replied: "At once." The next day 14 carpenters were on the ground, and today one of the buildings is nearly completed, while two cars of the latest machinery for such a business are waiting here to be unloaded and installed. Both concerns will erect several additional buildings in the near future.

Another exceedingly important feature is that there is likelihood of the street railway company arranging to handle all or more of the switching of freight cars to the west industrial site and perhaps to other industrial sites, thus doing away with the unpleasant consequences of having this done in the heart of the rapidly growing city with steam engines. ### EXPROPRIATION CASE WILL LIKELY GO TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Appeal Against Arbitration in Connection With Gravel Pits Heard in Supreme Court

Argument was completed yesterday afternoon in the appeal of the Saskatchewan Land and Homestead company against the arbitration award made in the case of the gravel pit at Blackfalds which was taken over by expropriation by the Calgary and Edmonton railway. Their lordships took the case on and deliberated and it is expected that whatever be the result the case will go to the privy council which was intimated yesterday by O. M. Biggar, K.C., who is representing the railway.

Considerable discussion arose in the afternoon as to the nature of expert evidence and Mr. Biggar protested against the fact that he had only been allowed five witnesses and he claimed that two of those were expert witnesses as they merely stated matters of fact and not opinions. He claimed the right to have more witnesses heard if the case were re-argued but their lordships were of the opinion that in addition they had to express opinions as expert witnesses.

Mr. Biggar also made much of the fact that the applicant had purchased a tract of land adjoining that in question and had only paid $50 an acre, though it too had gravel value and now he was claiming the sum of several thousands an acre for the same other land that was not bought as gravel land but as agricultural land.

ANGLICAN PRIESTS IN PRINCE RUPERTSLAND GET RAISE IN SALARY

Winnipeg, June 6.—The morning session of the Anglican synod of Rupert's Land at Trinity hall considered some important matters, particularly the question of the salaries of the clergy and the report on the work of St. John's college.

The motion standing in the name of Rev. W. B. Heesey, B.A., read as follows: "Resolved, that, dating from January 1, 1914, the minimum stipend of a married priest in active service in the diocese of Rupert's Land be the sum of $1,000 and a house, and that the executive be requested to meet within 10 days from date for the purpose of taking such steps as may be necessary to carry this resolution into effect."

After much discussion this resolution was passed and it will be taken this afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee and the committee does not come to a decision until 10 o'clock for 10 days.

POLITICIANS WILL END FIGHT BY SWORDS

Vienna, June 6.—Numerous duels are promised as a result of yesterday's scene in the Hungarian parliament, following the resignation of Dr. Lukacs and his cabinet. Today Emperor Franz Joseph accepted the resignations en bloc. Dr. Lukacs is now winding up the business of the ministry. Among those to fight out their parliamentary quarrels on the duelling field are Count Szeregi, Count Seroly, Count Khunon Hedervary and Captain Geroi of the parliamentary guard.

GREAT IRRIGATION TRACT DISPLAYED IN MINIATURE

Working Model of Bassano Dam, Strathmore Demonstration Farm and 3,500,000 Acres Irrigated Plot Shown the Layman.

St. Paul, Minn., June 6.—Taking his wife and ten-year-old daughter in his arms and treading water for nearly an hour, while they were swept along by the Mississippi river current, Thomas Buchanan saved both their lives and sank suddenly from beneath the Buchanan in midstream. When Buchanan was about to give up from exhaustion, R. B. Jenkins saw him and swam to their rescue. He first took the girl ashore and then returned for the others.

MAKER EXPLAINS ITS WORKINGS IN DETAIL

Ditches, Trees, Canals, Farm Buildings and Machinery All Exhibited With Accurate Regard to Exact Measurements; Model 28 Ft. Long.

The first model of its kind ever exhibited in Canada, and perhaps the first ever shown on the North American continent, is now being shown in the engineering rooms of the C.P.R. building of Natural Resources. It is a work of intricate patience, and represents seven months' labor of the most exacting kind.

The model, which shows every detail of the C.P.R. irrigated tract, as well as the working of the demonstration farm at Strathmore, and a model of the Bassano dam, the work of James Edwards, a widely known European engineer, who is at present in Calgary to get the model in working order and explain its details.

The model, while essentially constructed to show the work of the irrigation, will be exhibited in other parts of Canada before being shipped to the United States, and is composed of six sections, four central sections showing the tract, and one section showing the dam and the Bassano dam.

Model Construction for the Layman. "This model was constructed with the idea of conveying an impression of the great tract of land which is being irrigated," said Mr. Edwards at the King George hotel last night. "Heretofore who wished to see the model had to be content with the maps made by engineers. These maps will accurately convey the contour lines, but the layman is all at sea."

The model, however, is simply a bird's-eye view of the tract in miniature. It is all drawn exactly to scale, the main tract being an inch to one inch to the mile, while the farm and dam sections are worked out on a scale of 32 feet to the inch. The contours and grades of the land are all worked out in proportion, and even the full 5,000 miles of canals, sub-canals and ditches are shown with true regard to their locations and lengths and widths.

Made From Canadian Paper Pulp. "This model is made out of paper pulp, a Canadian product which, after being pressed into shape, is treated chemically so that it becomes as hard as the natural wood, and has the advantage of being impervious to the influence of heat, water or cold. It will not crack under any conditions and can withstand all the ordinary usages to which it will be subjected. In the exacting work of this model, we can cut them into the model with an ordinary knife."

Chief among the items of interest to the model are the replica of farm machines, the miniature railroad train running through the demonstration farm at Strathmore, the rest of the farm at Strathmore, the ditch and reservoir at Bassano, and the dams being built at Blackfalds.

Building models instead of maps has become a recognized business among engineers now, according to Mr. Edwards, who, among his other feats in this line, constructed the model of the famous Assuan dam in Egypt, a dam which is regarded as one of the greatest engineering feats of modern times.

Made Insured for $4,000. "The work is extremely interesting," said Mr. Edwards, "inasmuch as it appeals to every man as an actual medium of expressing complicated engineering problems. Only the trained engineer appreciates a map or plan; the uneducated farmer appreciates a model. Of course, it requires all sorts of patience, inasmuch as the model, to be of value as a practical demonstration, must be absolutely accurate to every detail. Even the telephone wires, the railroad tracks, the little brooks and lakes must be reproduced. The models of the farm machinery were cast from actual models by the companies supplying those machines, the International Harvester company of Canada, and the J. I. Case company of Racine, Wisconsin. The houses are made true to scale from the originals on the farms, and even the scale of Mr. Edwards' poles is exact."

Mr. Edwards, on behalf of the railroad company, has insured the model for $4,000, but declares he would not part with it for many times that sum.

COUNTRY SCHOOL IS FAMOUS FOR SOCIAL CENTRE WORK

Findlay, June 6.—Hancock county has one locality where the social center idea has been worked out in its fullness. The centre of activity is the Findlay school in Cass township, presided over by Miss Rhea Myers of Arcadia. She is one of the leading spirits in the movement.

Early in the school year an organization was effected with a full list of officers, and, as a main feature of the entertainment the old-fashioned spelling bee, with an additional impromptu program, was featured. Both old and young participated in the spelling bees. Songs, popular long ago, were revived. Little folks were interested in the work, and as a result cases of truancy were few and far between.

Spelling Bees a Feature.—But the spelling bees were of chief interest. The bees grew so famous that people from many miles around attended.

Once every two weeks the pupils met at the school house and at other times at the home of someone, where various games were indulged in and refreshments served. Box socials also were held to raise money with which to give special entertainments. Socials were held for the purpose of adding new books to the school library. They were productive of neighborly interest and made the community a big happy family.

The Teacher's Tribute.—Miss Myers, the teacher who has successfully wrought this social center work, has this to say: "We have mingled with our brethren with brotherly love. We have learned to know all the good qualities of our neighbors, and to realize their sterling worth, also to judge them more charitably in the little faults, which otherwise we might have observed differently. We are better mentally and morally and our minds are broadened, our manners improved and we have made wonderful strides in the direction of the divine love of one another, and of a kind providence whom we recognize to be very good."

TWO GIRLS ON LONG HIKE

Chicago, June 6.—Walking from Detroit to San Francisco, "for the fun of it," two pretty girls, Margaret Richter and Marion Smith, arrived in Chicago today.

"There are about $2,000 in bets on our trip, made in Detroit," said Miss Richter.

"One man bet $500 that we will be married before we reached San Francisco, but his money is as good as won. We are going back to Detroit and get a real man," Miss Richter is 18, Miss Smith 20. They left Detroit on May 13 and expect to reach their destination in from three to five months.

THE QUESTION OF DEBT

During the recent provincial elections much was said about the debt of the province. The opposition merely stated the total amount of the debt and attempted to make it more appalling by figuring out the amount of interest by the year, by the month, by the day or by the hour. When asked to show extravagance, the opposition declined to answer.

The result of the elections showed that the people had but little effect. It might have had some effect a number of years ago or even now, among some unprogressive people. The business of the world is carried on upon borrowed capital at the present time. Business men in this and other cities have three times the amount of debt which they had half a dozen years ago, but their wealth is greater and their business much larger.

The premier of the Australian state of Victoria at a banquet at London, boasted of the indebtedness of his state. It has an area of less than one-third of the province of Alberta and a population less than three times as great. But it has a debt twenty-two times as large as that of Alberta. But Victoria's investments are most revenue producing. Railways absorb $220,000,000, water supply works $45,000,000, estates for closer settlement $18,800,000, coal mines $715,000.

It is not so much the volume of the debt that should be considered as the quality of the investments which the province makes that is of importance.

THE TWO POLICIES

The London Daily News, in giving a very lucid and well informed statement of the position of the naval dispute in Canada, says "Mr. Borden did not bring in his navy bill to deal with an emergency, for none such exists, but rather to compel the development of the empire towards imperial federation. The Liberals, led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, stand for the traditional idea of an empire of autonomous sister states." It would be impossible to go to the root of the matter in fewer words.

"It was inevitable," says The London Daily News, "that a large body of Canadian opinion—in this matter agreeing with the sentiment universal in Australia and South Africa—should react with all its force proposals obnoxious to national autonomy and destined to revolutionize the relations between Canada and Great Britain." In a very interesting book, "The Britannic Peninsula" by Richard Jebb, which has just been published, the same question is discussed very intelligently. Imperialism, as interpreted by the colonial office, Mr. Jebb points out, has always rested on the professional doctrine of unified control. British statesmen have always envisaged imperialism as implying British ascendancy in the councils of the empire. Sir John Macdonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier held by the doctrine of "Britannic equality."

The question is very much larger than that of the organization of a navy or the contribution to a British navy with representation upon the board of defence. The question for the elector is—whether the colossal, closely knit federation straddling the world, but governed from a given center, or a union rather of love than of bonds, each country guiding its own course as far as it may without weakening the common cause.

The question that must govern is, which of the above policies will tend most to the continuance of British unity and fraternity, and to the development of that equality of citizenship which is obviously essential to any stable condition. To this end Canada must carry her fair share of the burdens and in some way take her full share of the responsibilities. Is her ideal that she should be ruled from London and have her full share in the ruling, or that she should be ruled from Ottawa and hold herself at all times ready to share in the common cause? That is to say, which ideal will best hold the country to its present allegiance.

The self-reliant Canadian, who gives any thought to the history of the country will not hesitate long before giving an answer in favor of the broader and wider autonomy of Canada. Unnecessary centralization is responsible for more colonial blunders than anything else. It lost the thirteen colonies for Britain. It caused a rebellion in Canada in 1837. Britain has succeeded in colonization where other nations have failed because it has regarded the colonies as self-governing nations allied by ties of friendship to the mother country. Any other system is certain to end in failure.

THE IRRIGATION BELT

The Dominion parliament has set aside $40,000 for an investigation of the irrigation belt. Some of the farmers in the district have expressed dissatisfaction with conditions there and have asked for a re-survey of the district and it is in response to their application that the government has taken action. The government has acted wisely. The dissatisfaction seems to be fairly well organized and it is not to the advantage of the country, or any interested therein, that it should continue. The C.P.R. says that the dissatisfaction is confined to a small number of disaffected people who are acting because of unworthy motives and personal reasons. This investigation should show if such a statement is correct. The farmers maintain that their grievances are well founded. The investigation should establish that.

Heretofore the public has not known just what to believe. The dispute is more or less technical and few people are able to form an intelligent opinion upon the merits of it.

The investigation must be a thorough one, and doubtless will be a thorough one. It should be a full and careful enquiry into all the grievances of the farmers. It should not be confined to the engineering problems but should be an enquiry into the entire irrigation question. It should consider the question of climate, soil and water and everything should be complete and thorough.

declared that he could do all the killing necessary, and he displayed great industry in the art, often lopping off twenty heads in an evening when business was particularly good after a rebellion, and acquiring a back stoop with the executioner's sword which was greatly admired.

Peter learned a great deal about war during his travels, and soon made it so unhealthy for the Swedes and Turks that he was left in peace. He moved his capital to a swamp on the Neva river in order to be near the sea, and founded St. Petersburg—the most successful job of the kind ever done by one man. He established schools and factories, fired the head of the church and ran it himself, revived Russia from boundary and before he died had it humming on the high gear.

The Poet Philosopher

As we grow old and serene and cold, we're prone to brood and pine over olden ways and vanished days and things of auld lang syne. "The world, I wist," so we insist, "becomes each day more puny, there is no truth in modern youth, and all men deal in bunk. No gifted poetes sing golden notes that every heart can feel; no speakers make the welkin quake like those who used to spout. No Greeley now, with bulging prodigious sermons, and his morning reads and then sits down to think. No Susan B. do moralize us among the suffrage ranks; her tongue is stilled, her place is filled by futile female cranks. No Edwin Booth, who expounds the truth concealed in Shakespeare's plays; on the stage there rant and rage a lot of tin horn jays. The world's a quince, that was long since, a peach and yearn for days of auld lang syne." In fifty years the laughing dears who hear us mourn, I trow, will sing the praise of bygone days just as we're doing now. "The year '13," they'll say I woen, "was awfully good year!" and no more are there! Where'er we gaze we see cheap days where once the most were fine; and so sigh for days gone by, the days of auld lang syne!"

Editorial Notes

It is not long ago that we were told that the situation in Alberta, though with considerable difficulty, was being brought under control. We are beginning to learn what the financial stringency really means, for it is coming right home to us.

The Calgary Herald has learned editorially that the government has handed over $10,000,000 to the philanthropic Mackenzie and Mann, getting practically nothing in return for the same. It declares that Canadians are tired of subsidies to railways, but are very pleased to hand over this amount to such needy persons as Mackenzie and Mann.

The man who believes those who tell him that just as he does are wanted to go to the country, even if he is an editor or a member of parliament.

The weather man is a true westerner this year, and is sending moisture in season and good sunshine in season. Unless the signs of generations go wrong, this will be the very best year that Alberta has ever known. There has been nothing like it.

PETER THE GREAT
Peter the Great's real name was Peter Alexievitch. He was the most prominent member of the great Vitch family of Russia, and during his career entirely overshadowed the equally extensive Ovs, Ovs and Ovs families of his time.

Peter was born to a life job in the royal family, and at a very early age governed Russia with his brother Ivan. In 1689 Ivan retired with Peter, and at the age of 16 took over the entire stock, fixtures and good will of the empire and ran it himself for the rest of his life.

At this time Russia was in a very low state of civilization, being about 1,000 years behind the rest of Europe, and knowing nothing of navigation, baseball or strong-arm dancing. Accordingly Peter, with the idea of catching onto some of the new wrinkles in government, strolled around Europe incognito, learning ship building in Holland, commercial principles in London and light opera in Vienna. Returning to Russia he introduced sweeping changes, making the proud but unwashed Russians shorten their coats, observe more moderation in the wearing of beards, and exercise much more restraint in killing each other. In fact, Peter

Crop Damage in Kansas
Chicago, June 6.—Sensational crop damage reports from Kansas counties, heretofore believed safe from harm, gave wheat an upward whirl today. The close was firm at an advance of 5-8 to 7-8 and 1 cent net advance. Six hundred thousand acres of wheat in Salina, McPherson, Rice and Ellsworth counties, Kansas, which have been credited with an average condition of 85 per cent, were declared by experts to have receded to a condition of 50 per cent. The last named figures were said also to make wide allowance for possible benefit from future rains. Because of hot winds, a huge share of the grain in the section named was said to be actually dead, and the situation general far worse than had been expected.

Congestion in the July option here added to the fears of shorts. There were signs that July contracts were largely held by strong interests and might be forced to a stiff premium over September. On the other hand, St. Louis reported July relatively weak owing to the necessity of new wheat and because of threatened insurance difficulties. Profit taking led to a decided set-back at one stage but the upward tendency was again in full swing at the end.

Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equalled 1,125,000 bushels. Primary receipts of wheat were 581,000 bushels, a year ago 222,000.

JAPAN REPLIES IN VERY QUIET MOOD

Washington, June 6.—Japan's rejoinder to the United States' reply to her protest against the California alien land law, delivered personally by Ambassador Chinda to Secretary Bryan late yesterday, sets out why the Tokio government continues to regard the Webb law as discriminatory against Japanese; in derogation of the equality of treatment prescribed by international law, and a violation of the treaty of 1911. Nothing in the nature of an ultimatum is contained in the note. The general tone is to invite further discussion on the controverted points, and it contains nothing tending to make up a final issue. Secretary Bryan and the ambassador agreed that no details should be made public.

Hamilton Tigers May Play Their Namesakes In Calgary

Famous Rugby Team of Eastern Canada Arranging Tour—
Calgary Tigers Will Consider at Once—September 27 Will Be the Date.

PROVIDED the financial end of the deal can be satisfactorily arranged the Hamilton Tigers, one of the most famous rugby organizations in the Dominion, will play their namesakes, the Calgary Tigers, in Calgary on Saturday, September 27. Sep Dumoulin, a former star of the Hamilton Tigers and at present vice-president of the Western Canada Rugby union, is arranging a tour of the Tigers throughout the west before the eastern season starts. The tour will include games with Winnipeg, Regina, Moose Jaw and Calgary.

The secretary of the Alberta Rugby Football union yesterday received a communication from Mr. Dumoulin asking if it would be possible to get a date in Calgary. The members of the local executive, who could be communicated with last night, were all heartily in favor of the scheme and a meeting of the Tiger club will be called immediately to finally settle the matter. If the local rugby men do not decide to do it, the Tigers will in all probability play in Edmonton but the locals will have the first call.

Although the visit of the Hamilton Tigers will be rather early in the season, the locals should have time to be in pretty fair shape for the match. It will mean earlier and harder practices but this was included in the plans of the local club anyway, and the Tigers should be in very fair shape by the end of September.

Regina and Moose Jaw have already agreed to the terms offered, and the Tigers will play in the former city on Tuesday of the same week they play in Calgary, and in Moose Jaw on Thursday. This will be the first real opportunity the west has had for demonstration of the decision of the Canadian rugby union, and it is hoped that the local rugbyists will take advantage of the opportunity offered.

Moose Jaw Defeats Calgary; Score is Eleven to Four

Moose Jaw, June 6.—Steele pitched good ball today, and the Millers defeated Calgary by a score of 11-4.

Features of the game were the batting of Steele and Baird. Both these players reared out home runs and Baird got four hits in five times up, while Steele got three in four times up. Wainwright was on the mound for Calgary and was touched up for 16 hits. Twenty-five hundred saw the game. The score:

Hillhurst Park May Be Controlled By the City Soon

EXPECT in a week's time to have the Hillhurst Athletic grounds taken over by the city, and we will have the sole handling of the grounds for athletic purposes," said Alderman Orlin in an interview with the secretary of the Calgary City and District Football League yesterday. He was very enthusiastic over the ground question, which will be handled by the football people of the city and other organizations to have every privilege that was possible, and he stated that if the footballers were not satisfied with Victoria park, it is up to them to apply for a schedule time in Hillhurst.

The bylaw covering the matter will not be submitted for three months yet, but every man in favor of clean, healthy sport will vote for the taking over of Hillhurst grounds, which will be done at a cost of about $50,000. The scheme of the Alderman is to get the Hillhurst grounds to pay the wages of the caretaker, and taxes on all the sport organizations that will occupy the ground.

Alderman Orlin does not want to see the footballers go out of Victoria park, and so long as they are doing well there, let them stay. He is willing to meet them in any way, and has promised to have the management of the whole ground question so far as dates are concerned to Mr. Dawson of the Y.M.C.A.

Visiting Cricketers Still Doing Big Scoring Stunt

Prince Albert, June 6.—The Australians, in their opening game here today, overwhelmed the Prince Albert eleven by a score of four hundred and seventy-two for seven wickets against cricket weather, the pitch being fine and the sunshine brilliant. The visitors batted first and at the adjournment for luncheon had completed a total of 191 for three wickets, 80 of the runs coming to C. G. McCarty's bat. In the afternoon C. W. Bardale ran up a score of 85 and in a brilliant innings lasting less than three quarters of an hour P. J. Arnot reached the century when at 101. At four o'clock the innings was declared closed for seven wickets. The innings of the Prince Albert eleven was over in an hour and a half, the batsmen being unable to meet the deadly bowling of the Cornstalks. The best stand was made when Captain Kenneth Weaver and R. W. Kirby were together. The former scored 21, including two boundaries when he was bowled by A. Malley.

ESKIMOS BADLY IN NEED OF SOME DISCIPLINE

Dropped Another Game Yesterday and Didn't Sit to Mind It a Bit

Medicine Hat, June 6.—Dickinson issued 13 passes today, and Medicine Hat slaughtered the Grey Birds 13 to 4. It was wild, weird baseball, with the visitors playing a listless, wretched care-whether-or-not game. But for a hat error they would have scored but one run. Boriskoff dropping a long run resulted. In the sixth it seemed the Hatters would never be retired, Dickinson keeping the bases full all the time, eleven men facing him in that inning. In the fourth and eighth he walked four men and forced in a run each time. Umpire Arnold made Manager Whisman donate his 45 fine for yesterday before he would allow him to play. The score:

TYNESIDERS GET DRAW WITH THE CALLIES

The big crowd that turned out at Victoria park last night to see the tussle between the Callies and Tynesiders was a little disappointed to see the Callies walk on the field with nine men but the display put up left them leading at half time by two goals to nothing. The second half produced two goals for the Tynesiders, which drew the game. One of them was a penalty, which was granted by Referee Spick on a very doubtful charge by Maclean, and the other was the result of an accidental foul by Bennett, allowing Richardson through to score with a very good shot.

Game Late in Starting.
The game was late in starting, and then the Callies turned out with only nine men. Grindley and Campbell failed to put in an appearance, the former being unavoidably detained and the latter it is rumored, has returned to the Hillhurst fold. Be that as it may, Sandy Strang, who had only returned from Clearholm today, took the field at a moment's notice, although not with very good grace, but once there the old-time fighting spirit took possession of him, and it was after his appearance that Nesbit scored two fine goals.

Every man in the Callie team played to form, and was met by a great defence, which was almost impregnable. Tynesiders did not sit down at all, but more than justified their admission to the senior league. Small was playing a great bustling game and doing the work of two men, and this was required, because Colfer was hurt and had to retire after thirty-five minutes play.

Murray had some fine saves, and Gilhooley was there every time, but had no chance with the penalty and the second goal.

Callies Played Well.
The Callies all over were the better team, but the tenacity of Tynesiders got them a point. Hales kicked out several times, but was for clearance at any cost. Carrington played well at half, although inclined to be talkative, and forward. Small and Richardson were very safe. Callies are always safe with Gilhooley, and after Maclean and Bennett made up the defence it was splendid. Maclean was perhaps the best player on the field. He went through some terrible work, and is certainly in the pale of condition, especially was the best half, and forwards all did well, although Wilson was slow, owing to his recent accident. Skinner worked both at half and forward, and is the man the Callies want. Williams went on the field lame, but nevertheless played fine.

Nesbit Showed Twice.
Nesbit scored the two goals, and otherwise played as he always should play. Stewart started at back, and right from there until the time was called played a polished game in every direction he took up. The Callies were unlucky to lose, but all the same the Tynesiders leave the grill that will carry them through many battles, and they certainly did not lie down after they were two goals to the bad. There was a great crowd, and the bleachers accommodated them all nicely. The referee has been adversely criticised for the granting of the penalty, and it may be that he should not have granted it, but at the same time he handled the game in good style, and after all there is no referee who will not come in for a galling from the crowd.

Falkenberg's Fade-Away Ball is Best of All, Says Baker

Athletics' Home Run Slugger Praises Nap Pitcher's Delivery

BETTER THAN MATTY'S

Cleveland, June 6.—Fred Falkenberg has a better fadeaway ball than Christy Mathewson. Left-handed batters can hit Mathewson, but find it almost impossible to get even a single off Falkenberg.

Such is the declaration made by Frank Baker, home run hitter extraordinary and hero of the world's series of 1911. Baker made ball history when he hit Mathewson for four bases in one of the games between the Athletics and Giants for the world's championship. He batted against Mathewson in three games of that memorable series. He has made the work of opposing pitchers a study. For that reason his comparison of the two most famous exponent of the fadeaway are of great value.

"McInnis and I were talking about Mathewson following his 2 to 3 victory over us," Baker continued. "Stuffy said he believed a right-hander could hit Falkenberg easier than a left-hander and I believe he is right. To tell the truth, I would like to see how many hits a team composed entirely of left-handed batters could make off Fred. I'll bet he would come pretty close to pitching a no-hit game."

Ira Thomas, member of Connie Mack's famous strategy board, is another admirer of Falkenberg.

"I have not batted against Fred this year," I would say Fred has the best fadeaway delivery ever pitched. Mathewson's fadeaway comes up to the batter rather slow. He works it as a change of pace. Falkenberg throws his fast ball and fadeaway with the same motion. The batter does not know which it is until he swings and misses. The fadeaway comes up much faster than Matty's fadeaway, and for that reason is harder to hit. Fred is also the owner of more speed than Matty has now. I would rate Fred as one of the five best pitchers in the country. Baker's intimation that left-handed batters in particular, find Falkenberg a puzzle is correct. Falkenberg has pitched and won ten games, in one of those games he was not right, the contest at Chicago when the mercury registered about 38 and Fred could not get warmed up until he had pitched to at least one batter in each inning. As a result, the lead-off man in each round, generally a left-handed batter, was greeting Fred with a hit.

Excluding this one game, Fred has held the left-handed batters to eleven hits in 96 times at bat, an average of .114. Counting the Chicago game he has held the postside sluggers to 18 hits in 103 times at bat, an average of .156. For a right-handed pitcher this is a phenomenal record.

SASKATOON WINS COUPLE MORE GAMES

Shut Out Red Sox In First and Won 7 to 2 in Second; Big Crowds See Slaughter

Regina, June 6.—Saskatoon defeated Regina handsily in both games of the double-header today. Two men, Amquist, a first baseman and Johnson, a third baseman were in the game for the Red Sox.

Amquist made a fair impression, but no bells appeared to be attached to Johnson. In spite of repeated losses, the fans are turning out loyally, over 3,000 seeing the two games today.

Eye or Mind Great Things In Golf—Which?

An argument has been launched over the golfing principle as to whether one should keep one's eye or one's mind on the ball in making the stroke.

On the other hand there are still two or three duffers left who would be well content to merely keep their club-head on the ball and let the rest of it drift.

This isn't as simple as it seems. An elderly golfer of some years' experience walked into his clubhouse a few days ago with his soul shining through his eyes.

"What was your score?" queried a club mate.

"One hundred and twenty-two and only 11 whiffs," he answered.

"My former record was 120 and 16 whiffs."

Anyone who ever heard a clubhead pound the air about three inches above the ball needs no introduction to the meaning of a "whiff."

Be Sure to Come to the Right Place

CALGARY, WONDER CITY OF THE WORLD, FROM THE VIEW-POINT OF A LONDON WRITER

Frederick Niven in London, Eng., Daily News.)

You would rightly catch the incident (should you not happen to have the geography of the country in your mind) as a place today of about 100,000 inhabitants, though twelve years ago they did not number 1,000. The city is of various nationalities. It came from "back East," from the States, with a considerable population also from China and Japan. The city is a city of electric light, restaurants, cafes, of solid public buildings, of high blocks of houses, of streets at least as wide as the streets of London, in which, by the way, the streets are punched by electric light, and the bungalow type, with the verandahs meshed by mosquito netting and shaded by deep eaves.

Consider how this cosmopolitan city lies in the rolling prairie country, the two hundred mile broad ribbon which stretches north and south down into Edmonton way to far away into Montana, with the foot of the Rocky Mountains rising up to the westward, and the flat plains of Saskatchewan bounding it eastward. It is an amazing place, with all its cosmopolitanism—various in caste as well as in nationality—from the Scotch leader, in volie and silk taffeta, to the Indian, in the occasional "hold-up man," who comes sometimes from the large cities of the States on hearing of the growing population. "Police Put Out Night," says the same sheet.

Wagons, come and go in its streets. The dapper man of business, on arm, rubs elbows with the person whose calling is to be seen in the sun-tan and high-heeled boots—last of the cat-grip. There is no doubt that Calgary is "some city."

Less than ten miles southwest of the booming city the South Indian begins, a tract of foot-hill country twenty miles long by eight miles deep, and there you may still see the topped tents, the herds of the decorated cradles. You can telephone over to the reservation, and if you want to hire a motor car at the post office, you can see the car, and your life, before the car is over there within the hour.

Recently an old chief of this tribe of the Western Plains for obtuary notices a column of more to appear in the dailies of the Western towns. Enthusiasm to the effect that Bull Head was the man that he stood seven feet in the air, that he had seen the chief of the nation, and that he was the chief of the nation in the Northwest. That was all they thought worth while sending over the cables.

SMOOTHING THE PATHWAY OF NEXT YEAR'S COUNCIL

The finance committee of the city council is endeavoring to smooth the path of next year's council by having the 1911 estimates made ready by October 1st of this year in order to get on the London market with the city's securities before the end of the year.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon a resolution was passed requesting the commissioners to take steps toward this end, and as soon as possible, and to notify all heads of departments of this arrangement.

The estimates for this year will not be completed until next week.

IT IS THE RUSSIAN WHO BUILDS THE RAILROADS

Winnipeg, June 6.—Among the European immigrants arriving this morning is another large party of 225 Russian laborers for railway construction work in Western Canada. In addition to the Russian party, several smaller parties will arrive at the C. P. R. station this evening from other European countries who crossed the Atlantic on the steamship Numidia. These are a party of 46 Roumanians, 79 Galicians, 40 Swedes, and five Frenchmen.

A party of homeseekers from Ontario arrived at the C. N. R. who came via Duluth and numbered 41, and are proceeding to various points west of the C. N. R.

Father Ethiers' party of French Canadian settlers also arrived at the Union depot this morning. This party consists of the advance guard of the large colony of French Canadians from the state of Maine, who are to settle in the Edmonton district of Alberta. Thirty-five men in all arrived, and their wives and families expect to follow later in the summer when the men secure locations.

CANADA HAS NO NEED OF ADVICE FROM DOWNING STREET

Sir Robert Perks Gives Impressions of Recent Tour of the Dominion

London, June 7.—"The Canadian people want to be left to deal with their own international affairs in their own way, with the minimum of advice from Downing street," said Sir Robert Perks in an interview regarding his recent Canadian tour.

"What the attitude of Canada would be toward the Japanese if they appeared in Vancouver is quite a different matter."

"How did you find the economic outlook in Canada?" he was asked.

"Well, it is not all that can be desired," answered Sir Robert. "Notwithstanding all the vast sums Canada had been able to secure from foreign investors, especially in Great Britain, there is a growing stringency in the money market. The Canadian banks, in fact, cannot lend the money that the industries of the country require."

Danger of Combines

Sir Robert denied that the tariff had unduly increased the high cost of living, but stated that it had undoubtedly had the effect of raising wages. He added that the tariff had little to do with the question of living. "What the spending classes had most to fear was rather the danger of trade combinations which would raise prices to abnormal rates."

In conclusion Sir Robert regretted the fact that the Methodist Church in Canada now takes second rank numerically in the Dominion. He accounted for this by the amazing failure of Canadian Methodism to make use of the lay preacher.

WANT CONTINUATION OF BINNING SYSTEM

Winnipeg, June 6.—The question of special binning in country elevators and shortages and overages in terminal elevators was discussed at considerable length before the Canada grain commission sitting at the grain exchange, Winnipeg, yesterday. Some diversity of opinion was shown, but the general opinion was that the binning system should be continued and that the ticket weights issued by the elevator companies should be accepted by the producers, and at the close W. D. Staples, who presided in the absence of Dr. R. Magill, said the commission was very anxious to continue the system and would introduce rules and regulations in the best interests of all concerned.

At the outset the chairman stated that the board had received a great many complaints about special binning and the customers had quietly been watching it. It was now time to make rules and regulations regarding the matter for the ensuing year, but before doing so the commission wanted to get the views of those affected.

J. A. Maharg, president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, spoke before the commission on the binning question, as did F. W. Green, of the same body, and other well known men.

CALGARY EMPLOYERS FAVOR TECHNICAL EDUCATION

Resolution From Local Board of Trade to Be Sent to Convention

The Calgary board of trade will send a resolution favoring more technical education to the convention of the associated boards of trade of the west to be held at Winnipeg within the next fortnight. This resolution which was framed at a meeting of the council yesterday afternoon is in support of such expenditure as are recommended in the report of the commission which was made public this week. With the school board of city already taking steps along the same lines it looks as though there will be some big movement taken in the way of more facilities for the training of children in the useful arts and the vocations which they will follow in life in the city of Calgary.

The board of trade has been making considerable investigation of the immigration laws and a special committee was selected yesterday afternoon to go into the matter more fully than has been done yet and to make a report to the next session of the council. R. B. Bennett sent a letter from Ottawa saying that the matter of the naturalization laws which had been discussed by the local board of trade had not yet been taken up at Ottawa though the session was opening. This was owing to the time which had been devoted to the naval bill.

A communication was read bringing the information that a group of 25 American capitalists from Fall River and other points would visit Calgary early in July. These men are looking for fresh investments and some of them may do something in Calgary.

HOW ONE MAN PLANNED TO MURDER HIS WIFE

Berlin, June 6.—The arrival at Munich from America, in a penniless condition, of Frau Gierlinger, once the wealthy wife of the merchant Herr Otto Gierlinger, has resulted in a charge of attempted murder against the husband. Herr Gierlinger divorced his first wife after sending her father a skull by post and almost killing the old man with fright. Then he married a wealthy spinster of a comfortable disposition, who gave her husband a power of attorney over all her property. The only child of this marriage died shortly after birth, and the mother now suspects the father of poisoning it.

Recently Herr Gierlinger told his friends that a voyage to America would be good for her health, and that he booked passages for both of them. He, however, managed to quit the boat on some excuse just before she departed. The wife was left on board with thirty shillings and two bottles given her by her husband as a cure for seasickness. It is asserted that these bottles contained poison.

The wife arrived at Hoboken safely, but was refused permission to land on the ground of being penniless, and she was deported. On arriving in Munich she found that her husband had sold all her property and squandered the proceeds. He has now been arrested on the charge of attempted murder.

MANY WOMEN'S CLUBS ARE BEING FORMED IN LONDON

London, June 6.—Every month—almost every week—sees the inauguration of a new woman's club, either in London or in one of the large provincial towns.

Many of these clubs require paid secretaries, and here is an occupation which should prove attractive to the woman worker. It is difficult to describe accurately all the qualifications necessary for such a post, and there is no regular training given in any school. Certain things, however, are absolutely necessary if the position is to be filled with satisfaction. First of all comes tact—that much debated quality—unfailing good temper, and pleasant manner. In the smaller clubs where there is no housekeeper the secretary has control of the servants; she orders in the stores and arranges the menus; so a practical knowledge of housekeeping is an advantage. Simple bookkeeping also would be one of the things required of a fully qualified club secretary. If there is an honorary secretary she usually keeps the minutes and prepares them for each meeting of the committee. Sometimes, however, the secretary is expected to undertake this duty.

No Cliques.

It is wise for the secretary to make a rule never to discuss club business with any member. The lady secretary usually has a room where she can be seen by members, and where most of her business is transacted. One of the temptations to be more friendly with one member than with another. An inquirer wishing to consult the secretary about a special dinner or about the sending of letters "not pleased to discover" a single party, consisting of "Mary," "Muriel," and "Alice," with the secretary, who make her feel as though she was an intruder.

Women members of clubs, we are told, are much more particular than men. They "worry" over small things; they irritate the servants—intending tact is needed when dealing with them. "Miss Jones, there is no writing paper in the writing room." "Miss Jones, will you please—please—see that my cloak is not moved from the end peg in the dressing room." "The maid never will remember that I like One Large Egg." will you kindly see that I have 17"—are only a few typical complaints and requests addressed to a club secretary. They are listened to, and the matters rectified with a pleasant smile and manner which must leave an impression upon the minds of the grumblers that, after all, their grievances were not so very great.

What the Secretary Can Do.

Clubs, of course, vary in their management as much as do private houses. In some of the smaller cozy ones the secretary is housekeeper and manager as well. If a prospective new member comes to see the rooms she shows her round; she orders the dinners, and sees that they are properly cooked and served, when members are entertaining. It is surprising what a difference a pleasant and interested manner in the secretary makes. The secretary initiates the new member as though she were personally interested in the success of the club, as no doubt she is. In a proprietary club the secretary is, of course, employed by the proprietor. She is appointed by him or her, and is responsible to this one person only. In this case, the same advice as to making special friends or favorites holds good. It never sounds well to hear a member say: "I know I can do so and so, I can make it all right with Miss Jones, though it is against the rules."

In most of the ladies' clubs there is now a smoking-room for members. It certainly is wise for the secretary to refrain from smoking when on duty, always remembering that there are still many women who do not care to see one of their own sex smoke.

It is wise for the secretary to make a rule never to discuss club business with any member. The lady secretary usually has a room where she can be seen by members, and where most of her business is transacted. One of the temptations to be more friendly with one member than with another. An inquirer wishing to consult the secretary about a special dinner or about the sending of letters "not pleased to discover" a single party, consisting of "Mary," "Muriel," and "Alice," with the secretary, who make her feel as though she was an intruder.

Women members of clubs, we are told, are much more particular than men. They "worry" over small things; they irritate the servants—intending tact is needed when dealing with them. "Miss Jones, there is no writing paper in the writing room." "Miss Jones, will you please—please—see that my cloak is not moved from the end peg in the dressing room." "The maid never will remember that I like One Large Egg." will you kindly see that I have 17"—are only a few typical complaints and requests addressed to a club secretary. They are listened to, and the matters rectified with a pleasant smile and manner which must leave an impression upon the minds of the grumblers that, after all, their grievances were not so very great.

What the Secretary Can Do.

Clubs, of course, vary in their management as much as do private houses. In some of the smaller cozy ones the secretary is housekeeper and manager as well. If a prospective new member comes to see the rooms she shows her round; she orders the dinners, and sees that they are properly cooked and served, when members are entertaining. It is surprising what a difference a pleasant and interested manner in the secretary makes. The secretary initiates the new member as though she were personally interested in the success of the club, as no doubt she is. In a proprietary club the secretary is, of course, employed by the proprietor. She is appointed by him or her, and is responsible to this one person only. In this case, the same advice as to making special friends or favorites holds good. It never sounds well to hear a member say: "I know I can do so and so, I can make it all right with Miss Jones, though it is against the rules."

In most of the ladies' clubs there is now a smoking-room for members. It certainly is wise for the secretary to refrain from smoking when on duty, always remembering that there are still many women who do not care to see one of their own sex smoke.

SOUTH IS IN CONTROL OF THE UNITED STATES

Washington, June 6.—It was only two years ago that Mr. Taft, as president, was going through the day after day to hasten the day when they would again take an active part in the conduct of the government at Washington.

Three of the ten men in President Wilson's cabinet are credited direct to southern states, two of them to the south, and one of these hail from a border state.

Among other important appointments that have thus far gone to the south are Robert W. Wooley, of Virginia, to be auditor of the interior department; James I. Beley, of Missouri, to be auditor of the department; Ernest Lester, of Virginia, to be deputy commissioner in the bureau of fisheries; Alex. R. Magruder, of Maryland, to be secretary of the legion at Copenhagen.

Mr. Herbert Musket, solicitor, who presented for the Commissioner of ports suggested that she should be remanded in order that she might be kept under medical supervision.

Search was afterwards made in the vicinity of the chapel, but no trace of the stolen boxes had been found.

Trenton, N. J., June 6.—E. H. Tolman, head of the great Tolman syndicate, operating a chain of 56 salary loan offices throughout the United States, was held for the grand jury here yesterday on a charge of conducting a disorderly house.

THE HEART DEPARTMENT

By Laura Jean Libbey.

THE WRONG INFLUENCE. (Copyright 1913, By Laura J. Libbey.) Shun the ill, and know, my dear, Kindness and constancy will prove The only pillars fit to bear So vast a weight as that of love.

When parents send their sons out into the world, the silent prayer uppermost in their hearts is that they may be kept from wrongful influences. They know full well that it is the influences brought to bear upon them that will make or mar their early life. They realize how unutterably lonely the boy who is away from home and mother. It is not his intention to go wrong, but it is the influence about him which shapes his course. When there is a crowd of young men together and one who is apparently the moving spirit of the party suggests going to this place of amusement or the other one it is not as easy as some people may imagine for the son who is away from home influences to raise a dissenting voice. That would provoke ridicule and start up a host of enemies, perhaps costing him the position which he has secured with great difficulty. He does not aspire to be the jolliest fellow among the crowd, but he is pushed, as it were, into contributing his share of the amusements offered. He may be brought in contact with the class of young women whom he has not known before. It is the influence of his comrades which causes him to drift along in their society. Such companions do love to despoil a shining mark. He is drawn into the whirlpool as the leaf is drawn into the strong current, unable to resist it. The only power which can rescue a young man from wrong influence that has gained a hold upon him is meeting some noble young woman who arouses all his better manhood and profound respect. For her sake he will break with men friends who bound themselves closely to him. He will forsake the wine cup and resist all of the sneers and jeers of those of evil influence who would coax him from her side. It is the greatest blessing in the world to a man who is away from home and among strangers if love for a noble woman comes to him. The loved one in the home far away dreads such a catastrophe. They do not realize that it is a blessing in disguise. It is the young man without home ties or kin folk ties to hold him in check who is most apt to lose his head upon that which is best, truest and costliest him the position which he has secured with great difficulty. He does not aspire to be the jolliest fellow among the crowd, but he is pushed, as it were, into contributing his share of the amusements offered. He may be brought in contact with the class of young women whom he has not known them was the turning point of his life for the better. "Dear Miss Libbey: I am always sweet and appealing to a man's heart, I bring back to him the memory of his own home and mother, causing the resolve to spring into his heart that he must have a home of his own to make him thoroughly happy again. That thought brings with it the desire for wife in it. The girl whom he loves fits into the picture. Evil comrades realize that from the first moment that love calls a young man he is lost to them. Their influence over him is at an end. It is the young man who is invulnerable to true love who is in danger, and for whose safety in after years his folk may well feel alarm.

The society of nice girls will uplift any man and keep him from wrong influences. Even though the years go by and he does not wed, yet still clings to the companionship of the right kind of girls, there is hope for him. He is passing many fair ones by ere he finds the right one, who is to crown him with all of life's choicest blessings.

Didn't Ask Her to Supper. "Dear Miss Libbey: Should a girl feel slighted because a young man took her to a theatre and did not offer to buy her candy during and after the performance? He did not even offer to take her to luncheon. EFFIE." "No, Effie, she has no reason to feel slighted under such circumstances. It is usually expensive enough for a fellow to take a girl to the theatre without her expecting costly luncheon afterwards. The average fellow simply cannot afford these extras, and girls would show a good deal better sense in not expecting them.

"I Seen" and "I Taken." "Dear Miss Libbey: Please tell me if there is anything I can do when a young man says 'I seen' and 'I taken' when he should say 'I saw' and 'I took.' He is lovely every other way and I hate to hear him make those little grammatical errors. It embarrasses me. I am sorry to feel so ashamed, but I can't help it."

It is most distressing, isn't it, Betty, to have to listen to grammatical errors like that, especially from one of whom you are very fond. Of course it is a rather ticklish job trying to improve your friend's grammar, but if you are tactful you can get around it all right. Make an allusion occasionally to similar grammatical errors that you hear made. This may call his attention to his own slip, and a correction, if this is not effective and your friendship warrants it, tell him of his errors. He may be thankful for your correction. Be very careful how you do it.

Quarrelled With Mother-in-Law. "Dear Miss Libbey: I recently had a quarrel with my mother-in-law, and it happened in my own house. It started over a small matter and I understood which she objected to. My husband didn't take either of our parts, but let the matter return later. Would it be advisable for me to let my husband go to see his mother or not? I have had several quarrels with my mother-in-law, and she seems to have my husband's money. She wants me to hand over the pay to run my house. She seems to be getting on my nerves. I do, so I can't see her argument in her light. PLEASE EXPLAIN."

Better keep away from your mother-in-law unless you can get along peacefully with her. I wonder if you are not a bit to blame. She is older and wiser than you. Why not try to have a plain, sensible, courteous talk with her and see if you cannot adjust matters?

In Love With Chum. "Dear Miss Libbey: I am 19 and in love with a college chum of the same age. Some time ago we made a special appointment, and on arriving there I found out he had gone off with some other girl. Before this happened he used to call or write to me at least once a week, and now he does not. I have some valuable presents which I received from him. Do you think it proper to return them since he goes with some other girl? He has some valuable books which he borrowed of mine. What do you think of doing in order to procure them? PLEASE EXPLAIN."

Yes, you should return the presents. You made a serious mistake in accepting them in the first place. If you were not engaged to him, perhaps this had something to do with his turning against you. You know at heart men really think more of the girl who does not accept valuable gifts.

Should She Wait for Him? "Dear Miss Libbey: While living out of town I made acquaintance with a young man about my age and like him very much, and we have corresponded for over two years now. He never came to see me so far, but I think he cannot afford to do so for he is started in business. Do you think it worth while waiting for him? I have other callers, but none appeal to me as the one out of town. Would you advise me to go to see him this summer on my vacation? Please advise me, for I am anxiously waiting to see what you have to say. I am a girl of 20. PLEASE EXPLAIN."

I would not advise you to go to see the young man on your vacation. It strikes me he is not deeply interested in you. If you attempt to run after him he probably would have nothing more to do with you. "Dear Miss Libbey: I am 18 years of age and desperately in love with a young man, who is, I think, in love with me, but he goes out with other girls and leaves me at home. He takes a special interest in me and writes me everywhere. I know that he likes me nice to me when he is with me. I want you to give me some advice on the ways and means of making a man fond of me. Tell me also how to amuse him. Trusting that you will be able to give me your usual good advice in the columns of The Morning Albertan. I am, Yours sincerely, J. P." My dear, the fact that a man is nice when he meets you means that he is a gentleman, or if he seems to make much of you, and still takes other girls out it means that he is somewhat of a flirt. You can do nothing to make him fond of you, except cultivate the sweetest, most winsome, lovable parts of your nature, which men find and bad admire in spite of themselves. As to amusing him, if he is not fond of you, try to be interesting, sympathetic, and sincere, for the average man prefers to have a good listener, a good talker, and if you show you understand him, you are laying the foundation to the best kind of love. The merely attractive girl who catches a man's fancy by her pretty face and good nature is not always a happy wife, for love goes deeper than that and feeds on understanding, trust, reverence, and fellowship. Remember

Miss Orford and one of her elephants at the Orpheum next week.

PRESENT MARKET IS FAVORABLE FOR THE CONSUMERS' LEAGUE. Few Alterations Would Make Building Now Opened By City as Useful as Any Other For Purpose of Marketing Produce and Other Articles.

TRACKAGE FOR THE RAILWAYS TO BE LAID. Many Facilities Will Be Provided; All Street Cars Run By Market On Market Day; Rest Rooms Planned and Superintendent Appointed.

The present public market of the city of Calgary is likely to be brought into active use in a very short time. Its conveniences have just been realized, and with a few improvements the building with the ample space round about will be taken full advantage of for the market which the Consumers' League of Calgary is to favor.

Such is the result in general of the tour of inspection which was made of the building by the economic committee of the Local Council of Women and Alderman Treagus, representing the city council, Thursday afternoon. The general impression left with those who made the tour was that the present market afforded a very fine site, and with trackage to the building for the drays and wagons of the farmers and market gardeners the place would be just as good as could be found in the city. Any place which would be as well suited for the work would cost such a tremendous amount of money that it would be out of the question.

Attentions to Be Made. Though the present market has not been so well arranged as might be, alterations will be simple, and the building itself will with very little cost make an excellent market, wholesale as well as retail. The proposals at present are that trucks be run in on the north side of the market, which will have large doors inset, the question of drays and unloading thus being simplified. On the south side the booths are too large, and it is suggested that they be reduced in size and the rentals reduced from $25 to $20 or $15 per month. The centre of the market, too, where presently the horse stand, will be cleaned and have extra booths arranged in it. On the vacant ground north of the market trackage can be laid for both the C.P.R. and the G.T.P., while under the covered-in part fish, live fowl, and game will be handled. The toilet accommodation also will be moved from upstairs to the basement, and a rest room will be provided, where various charitable organizations may serve refreshments to those who come from a distance.

The pole was a Norfolk suit and Derby hat when last seen. All local hotels and police officials are on the lookout for him.

The Real Estate Agent Tells Why. "I DON'T see why this house is worth $3,000 more rent than the house across the road which is about equal in size. "But, madam, this house is heated with a McClary's Sunshine furnace. The house across the street has just an ordinary furnace. "In this house you are sure to be warm, cozy and comfortable. Houses heated with Sunshine Furnaces are known among real estate men as warm houses. "I've a McClary's Sunshine in my own home, madam. And it's a great comfort. We don't fear zero weather any more. "I guess that's true, Mr. Douglas. Some of my friends have that furnace and they are always praising it up to the skies. "Well, you see, madam, the Sunshine furnace is made and guaranteed by the biggest stove and furnace makers in the Empire. You naturally expect such a furnace to be of the very highest class. "Just come down stairs with me, madam and I'll show you the four radiating surfaces, the semi-steel fire-pot, the dust-flue, the automatic gas damper, and the other big labor-saving and fuel-economizing features of McClary's Sunshine Furnace."
