LAID AT REST.

Paneral of the Late Alex. P. Lowry-The funeral of the late Alex. P. Lowey, city editor of the Mail, took place yesterday afternoon from his residence in Gerrard street west. There was a very large turnout of deceased's friends. A handsome rosewood casket containing the remains, fairly surrounded with magnificent firal offerings, was viewed by a long line of mourners. Rev. W. H. Laird of the Elm street methodist church said services at the house and at the grave in the Necropolis. Dr. Follard, master workman of Excelsior lodge A.O. U.W., read the burial service of that order.

The cortege was headed by Excelsior lodge, of which deceased was foreman, and York lodge. Following the workmen came the hearse and pallbearers. The latter were P. D. Ross, G. M. Harrington (Mail), E. L. Sheppard (News), J. C. Maclean (World), Dr. R. H. Robinson and J. M. Ewing of the united workmen, and Frank Diamond and James Reid of Toronto typographical union No. 91. The members of the city press walked behind the hearse, followed by the typographical union. The police and fire departments and the theatrical profession were all fully represented. A long line of carriages followed the bodies on foot.

The floral offerings were many and handsome. Among the contributors were the Toronto Press lacrosse club (of which deceased was captain), the city press, the staff of the Mail, the staff of the News, T. J. McIlroy, jr., Ald. Piper, the Misse O'Neil and others. Rest to his ashes.

It is true their origin is different, but living, and esteeming themselves happy to live, so exceedingly pretty a token of unmerited, the pression of the press, which should exist between the two sisters are united by a common affection, and form tut the one family.

True it is the two sisters are differently blessed. They have neither the same character, but that diversity of the same character, but that diversity of the pression of clear themselves. On Saturday night the inspector and a posse of police visited the place and found seven or eight young men in different stages of a debauch. The inmates of the place had filled a beer barrel with water and put it of tap, thinking probably that the officers would seize it and walk off. Inspector Ward, however, sampled the harmless beverage and the ruse did not work. A search was then made upstairs and about 15 gallons of whisky were unearthed. A portion of the liguor was day yesterday a thirsty crowd gathered round the premises and were very much discomforted by the visit of the police. It is expected that it will take a good deal of swearing to clear the Ward-Campbell gang this trip as the inspector has now got a good case against them.

A report was circulated around the streets resterday afternoon that the Southern Belle had met with an accident on her way to Hamilton Saturday afternoon. A GOVERNMENT TELEGRAPH. On the telegraph question the Montreal Shareholder is sound. It says that Canada owes it to herself, as a matter of national self-respect, to wipe out the disgrace of tem dependent upon a foreign corporation and a foreign brotherhood of operators. contemporary says :-

"Experience has shown it to be hopeles to look for any redress at the hands of new companies and the competition they might for a time set up. We all know now but too well what would be the infallible end of that. A spasmodic energy—all simulated—for a few weeks, ending by the new actor on the scene selling out its charter at a big profit to the old monopoly, thus grown more exacting and more unendurable than ever. Let the dominion government, then, backed as it now is by the full force of public opinion, seize so splendid an opportunity to give body to the hint thrown out last season by Sir Cheres Tupper as one of the possibilities, and let us have at once a national telegraphic system. There is no opposition to dread, for the press of all shades of opinion is singularly united on this question. The majority in parliament would be simply overwhelming. The treasury will never be in a fitter condition to meet a strain which need not dition to meet a strain which need not necessarily be very severe and will under no circumstances be lasting. What does the premier say about it? OVERGROWN BANK CREDI'S. From what source, chiefly, have come those losses by which in time past some Canadian banks have been wiped out altoseriously reduced? Does experience show the aggregate of losses to have been made mostly on a great many small accounts, or on a few very large ones? We feel quite sure that any banker or business man who a few large and dangerous accounts. This was notoriously the case with the old Bank of Upper Canada, the Consolidated Bank, the Gore Bank, and the Consolidated Bank at a more recent date. The Upper Canada literally gave the biggest part of its capital away to less than a dozen men, through political influence rather than on business considerations. Once upon a time the Detroit and Milwaukee railway got a cool halfmillion from the Commercial Bank at one fu'l swoop. It is thought that the bank not held at all. That was a "staggerer;" the Commercial never fairly recovered from the blow. A few unreasonably large accounts "floored" the Consolidated bank in City bank. Five times out of six it has that have brought danger and disaster to Canadian barks

The Bank of St. Stephen, New Brunswick, also holds a considerable amount of Shaw & Brothers' paper. It is believed, however, that both these Canadian banks will escape with only moderate osses after all, as cash offers for this paper are pending. The banks will probably be ucky enough to get out of the trouble with their original capital untouched, but still losses that are unpleasantly large will have to be written off, It may be asked, how is it that bank managers, with directors consenting, are so dargerous proportions? The tendency does not appear to be quite as strong that way now as it was a number of years ago, but it has not wholly departed for all that. Business men who can recall the events of twelve or twenty years back must be aware of cases too many to be easily enumerated, wherein moderate and perfectly safe credits were refused, while the capital of this or the other bank was lent by scores or hundreds of thousands to a few "big" customers, frequently for mere reckless "Toronto, August 9, 1882. customers, frequently for mere reckless speculation. Probably there is less of this done than there used to be, and more disposition shown to accommodate individuals and firms doing a legitimate business on a moderate scale. But when we see one Canadian bank carrying a risk of half a million or thereabouts for a single foreign firm, we may suspect that the system of banks allowing a few large, top-heavy and dangerous accounts to grow up is still far too prevalent. The risks taken would probably be much safer were they more widely distribut-THE WORLD, much safer were they more widely distributed, though there might be more work of detail in looking after them.

We learn that a shipment has been received in Toronto from cinnati, and parties here have been written to from the former place to know if part of it can be worked off in this market. It is plain enough by this that the Western States have more potatoes the Western States have more potatoes than they require. Quite a glut in the supply has occurred in the Chicago market, where carloads have been sold at 30c to 40c per bushel, and some lots have been placed as low as 25o per bushel. With an abundant crop in Canada and the United States, the outlook favors low prices. Sales of old potatoes have been made in this States, the outlook favors low prices. Sales of oid potatoes have been made in this market during the past week of several hundred bags at 25c to 30s per bag, one lot, which was soft and badly sprouted, b inging only 20c. For these lots 70s to 75s per bag was refused some time ago.

As regards provisions, the same paper had the following in its commercial column a few days ago:

It is very rarely that we have had to record such a wholesale slaughter in prices as has recently taken place in hog products, and which continues with a persistency that seems to puzzle and upset the calculations of our shrewdest operators. In less than three months the price of pork in Chicago rail, by calling also a Canadian national telegraph system into early existence.

In this market the decline has not been as severe, for the reason that prices here did not follow he full advance in the west, but it has been quiet enough for those who brought on the product for sale. From the first break in the market, which preceded the McGeoch fiasco, to the present time, there has been a series of unfortunate ventures in the shape of purchases which were repeatedly made in the hope of recovering former losses, but which were only aggravated by the disastrous "breeks" which invariably followed After each decline, it was con-

The Delightful Climate Which Entranced the Princess Louise.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Globe Democrat writes : Crossing over the Straits of Juan de Fuca to the pretty city of Victoria, we stood on British soil and enjoyed the far famed climate of Vancouver's island. Convict nacadamized highways, and convicts are constantly at work now seeping them in perfect condition. A favorite drive is that eading from Victoria to the naval station on Esquimault bay, which is known com-monly as 'Squimo. The 'Squimo road follows part way beside a narrow and curying arm of the sea, through which the tide rushes like the swift current of a river, and half of the way it unrolls its length between hedges of fern and undergrowth and walls of solid forest trees. Pictursque rocks, tangles of wild rose and sweet-brier, and forest nooks dappled with subshine here and there, make one continual picture along the road, and the occasional red jack.

At 'Squimo the flagship Swift-Sure, under commend of Admiral Lyon, ley at anchor, with its port holes open, and a general war-like and business air pertained to the huge man-of-war and the lesser ships and corvettes at the station. On the Swift-Sure alone there are 600 men, and looking at the great vessel, even the most patriotic American must blush for our own little navy and join in the chorus of "Brittania All Victoria breathes the atmosphere of atoring the political completes no insistance to people, and it requires no insistance to make them believe that you consider Viotoria the most charming spot in the country. English traits and English customs are maintained as well here as in the home island, and a charming friendliness exists between this colony and the United States. 'Dominion day' falls on July 2, and the celebration of it hardly exceeds the spirit with which the glorious Fourth of their American cousins across the line is observed, and the first week of July is the gala season at Victoria. With only twenty three miles of salt water separating them from American shores there is one material difference that no one fails to observe, In Victoria everyone takes life easily, and things move in a slaw and accustomed groove, as if sanctioned by the customs of centuries on this same spot. The stores of these every afternoon at 6 o'clock, although at this season daylight lasts for three and four hours later, and business men go home to their comfortable roast beef and yudding as if the fever and activity of American trade and competition were far away and unheard of. Every separate article that you wish to buy is kept in a different kind of a store than in America, and between the chemist, the stationer, the haberdasheries and the green groceries many of the perplexities of London shopping assail you in Victoria. The climax comes, however, when the young man at the postoffice window turns on you a look of surprise and bids you go to the bookstore to buy postage stamps, forsooth!

"By a thorough knowledge] of the natura' aws which govern the operations of digestion and autrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Eppe has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nour-ished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.
