PICTURE THEATRE SALE SET ASIDE

Alleged Misrepresentations Were Made on Receipts and Fittings Value.

OWNER RESPONSIBLE

Liability for Damages if Auto Placed in Garage Causes Accident.

The second appellate court handed down judgment yesterday at Osgoode Hall in the appeal of Harry Reeder from trial judgment setting aside a sale of the Belmont Picture Theatre to G. E. Peppiatt.

Mr. Peppiatt was plaintiff in the action and he alleged that false representations were made at the time of the purchase with reference to the value of the fittings. It was ascertained after the sale that the fittings were far short of the stated amount.

The appellate court upheld the finding of the trial judge and set aside the sale. A reference was given to the master to decide if the plaintiff is entitled to damages and if so, what amount.

Owner Responsible. In a decision of the court it is held that if an automobile owner places his car in a public garage and while it is being used by someone without the knowledge of the owner, it becomes involved in an accident, the owner is responsible and liable for damages.

The car was placed in the garage of W. J. Fisher for repairs and some time afterwards was taken from the garage by one H. Smith, who was in the employ of, and collided with the horse and rig of R. W. Downs of Fort William. Mrs. Downs was thrown out of the rig and both her arms were broken. Judge O'Leary awarded the Downs $500, and directed that Mr. Fisher should recover whatever damages he had to pay in costs from Fisher and Smith.

The appellate court holds that as

Whelan allowed the car to be kept at the garage he afforded Fisher and his employe a means of causing the damages sustained by the plaintiffs. The legislature provided that the owner of a car should not be liable for injuries caused by his automobile if it was stolen, but in this case the car was not stolen.

Actions Against G. T. R. Mr. Justice Middleton ratified settlements in two damage actions brought against the Grand Trunk Railway by the families of railway employes. The amounts paid by the railway are small but they have been approved by the official guardian under the circumstances.

J. H. Cranston, a trainman, disobeyed the company's rules in going between two cars to couple them while they were in motion. His widow and five children get $500.

In the other case, John Dellar, a section man, as killed near Jarvis, Ontario, by a train which backed down upon him while he was stepping out of the way of another. He left a widow and children aged 18 and 20 years. The family gets $600.

There is no appellate court list for today.

Every Young Man Who Next Year's Educational Convention to Be Along

Wishes It Should Get Leave of Absence. BILL IS COMMENDED

Question of Employees Enlisting Up When Borchard Was Refused. Resolution Favoring Superannuation Scheme of Hon. Dr. Pyne Endorsed.

H. Borchard, a clerk in the railway and bridge section of the works department, has enlisted for active service. His application for leave of absence came before the board of control yesterday and was referred on a tie vote. Controllers Foster and O'Neill dissenting. Mayor Church was absent, attending a meeting of the harbor board.

City Clerk Littlejohn also appeared before the board with a view of learning its attitude in regard to the application of one of his staff to enlist. Controller Foster told the clerk to tell the families of railway employes. The Controller "thumped" Borchard to encourage him.

Borchard is the fourth one in the city's employ to be refused leave of absence to go to the front and Controller Thompson promises to bring the names up in council. "Every young man who wants to go to the front should be allowed to go, and we should give him leave of absence," said the controller.

Wants Opportunity. A. J. Law of Toronto, representing a Chicago firm, is today endeavoring to show the board of control why he should be allowed to put in an incinerator plant and take a contract for the disposal of the city's garbage.

For some days the board has had two tenders before it for an incinerator plant, but as yet they have been unable to decide which one to install. When the matter was being discussed the mayor said that he would not only give a contract for the disposal of the garbage, but he would have the whole work of street cleaning done by contract.

The home for feeble-minded children came up before the board of control again yesterday. It was decided to have a deputation, made up of representatives from the different societies interested, together with a committee from the board, to call on Mr. J. Hanna some day next week, when the aid of the provincial government will be asked.

Fire Chief Thompson has reported to the controllers that he is short of men, and as a resolution of council took from him the power to make appointments. He does not wish to be held responsible for anything that might happen on this account. He urged upon the board the appointing of a new chief as soon as possible, so that the work of the department may be carried on in a proper manner.

Complaints have been received that the fire trucks are blocking traffic on the streets. The police commissioners have not yet dealt with the matter, but according to Mayor Church the trucks have the right of way.

To Help Some Others. John Buckley, Toronto soldier who was killed in action in France, has no dependents to whom his insurance can be paid. The city solicitor recommended that the money be divided between his five brothers and sisters.

The Red Cross and patriotic funds will be enriched by the proceeds of the several different associations interested in the show.

The fifty-fourth annual convention of the Ontario Educational Association came to a conclusion yesterday with morning sessions in several of the departments and brief afternoon sessions, after which the delegates left for their homes. Next year the work of the convention is to be divided into four general sections—the elementary department, including public schools, kindergarten, home science, manual arts, physical training and hygiene, reformed spelling.

The college and secondary school department, including modern languages, natural science, classical, mathematical and physical, English and history, commercial, continuation and high school principals.

Supervising and training department, including the inspectors' section and the training section. The fourth is the trustees' department.

Favors the Bill. The public school section before closing the afternoon session passed a resolution favoring the superannuation bill proposed by the Ontario Government. The discussion during the day brought out similar views from T. A. Reid of Owen Sound, who commended strongly the bill introduced by Hon. Dr. Pyne, which was in every way fair and sound from an actuarial standpoint.

He pointed out that Ontario was maintaining schools of training that were qualifying nearly two thousand teachers each year to fill up the gaps in the ranks of the ten thousand public school teachers of the province. Ontario's position was unique. The teachers are in demand in the west and more lucrative positions are open for them there, and the drain on the ranks from this cause is great. A provincial retirement fund would give each teacher a new interest in his profession in his own province, strengthening with each year's experience. Practically every European country had found it necessary to adopt a retirement scheme for its teachers.

The meeting of the household science section developed pointed criticism of the public and high school courses in prescribing cookery for a class of children too young for the work. The care of mentally defective children by the teachers was also disapproved of by the members and it was suggested that a systematic course in sewing did not form a part of the handwork of all the classes in every public school.

Efforts of the Department of Agriculture and Education to extend household science in rural districts thru special courses and women's institutes were commended.

Auxiliary Classes. Dr. Helen MacMurphy dealt with "auxiliary classes." Defective sight and hearing were the things which kept many pupils from being properly taught, hence the auxiliary class. The care of mentally defective children by the teachers was also disapproved of by the members and it was suggested that a systematic course in sewing did not form a part of the handwork of all the classes in every public school.

Dr. W. H. P. Collis, inspector of West Ward, Toronto, emphasized the importance of developing school spirit by means of athletics, school colors and pins. Punishment had to be used sometimes, but to be really effective it must be impersonal. It must be administered so that the pupil would associate in his mind the punishment with the offense.

Before the closing department, Dr. H. G. Park gave a very interesting review of governmental control of elementary education in Ontario for the past hundred years. In considering the tendencies revealed, he set down certain general truths. He believed teachers as a body were not sufficiently jealous of their privileges and liberties. When changes were made vitally affecting the interests of the profession, these changes were usually accepted in the spirit of "The

Is It WAR PICTURES You Want?

CERTAINLY it is. Every one now knows that there is no better way of keeping intimately in touch with the big struggle than thru good pictures.

The Sunday World has unlimited resources in the way of getting the very best war subjects, and it runs two sections to show them off. One is printed by the rotogravure process, the greatest step forward in art printing in fifty years.

There are always forty to fifty pictures in The Sunday World, some of them drawings. The Big Picture next Sunday illustrates an event unprecedented in the annals of Toronto Varsity, the gathering of almost fifteen hundred soldier students for worship. education department gave, the education department hath taken away, blessed be the name of the education department.

He believed that the present system of training teachers for secondary class certificates inferior to the old system, whereby the teacher had the benefit of a model school course and a session of actual teaching. He also believed that the conditions under which the practice in teaching was given in normal schools at present tended to create a distaste rather than a liking for the work.

The modern language section at the instance of W. H. Williams, Berlin, passed a resolution finding that the form of the French composition paper in last year's junior matriculation examinations was beyond the average matriculation pupil in requirements of vocabulary and knowledge of idioms, that the prose was too difficult and that it was unfair. The resolution was forwarded to Secretary Anglin of the university board, President Falconer of Toronto and Principal Gordon of Queen's University.

ROYAL ASSENT GIVEN TO WAR REVENUE ACT

OTTAWA, April 8.—The special war Revenue Act received the royal assent today and is now in force. Its provisions, by the terms of the act, come into force on Thursday, April 15, so that on and after that date a war tax postage stamp of one cent or one cent postage stamp in lieu thereof, will have to be affixed to the extra and postcards before mailing. The extra cent will, however, have to be placed on circulars.

If the stamp is not affixed to a letter or postcard the only penalty is that the letter or card goes to the dead letter office.

While special inland revenue stamps with the words "War Tax" upon them have been prepared and will be found on sale with inland revenue offices and with postmasters in many centres, postage stamps will serve the purpose, if the war stamps are not readily available.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

SMARTNESS GIVEN BY NEW VEILINGS

Much of Style of Little Spring Hat Depends on Loose Veil.

TRIMMING IS LIGHT

Simple Band of Ribbon, a Ruche or One Rose is Worn.

Much of the style and smartness of the little spring hat is supplied by the pretty bordered loose veil worn with it. In a great many instances a simple band of ribbon, a ruche, or one rose is the only trimming apart from the daintily draped flowing veil.

Black lace veils are extensively worn, exploiting beautiful designs in the mesh. Borders of velvet, moire, or taffeta are exploited on the finest of these and large single designs are shown on the plain meshes for tailored wear. Black and white effects are striking and very modish—a fine checkboard pattern in the threads being a favorite.

For the light colored straw chapeaux including all the new tones of putty, sand, cream, and the lighter shades of blue and green, there are delightful veils in the identical color, some of these are almost cobweb-like in texture—so delicately designed are the meshes.

A very smart shoulder length veil in sand with velvet border in ripple effect exploited a spray of tiny daisies in black half way up the veil—meant to be arranged so that the design would be shown on the left cheek.

Other motives of a more novel note are featured in many handsome models—the ruche kingdom being well represented in the veilings showing sprawling beetles, and many little insect designs. Bees and all kinds of flowers are embroidered on in dot effect displaying prettily combinations of color.

Food Values

A certain knowledge of the chemistry of food, and the best method of cooking different articles of diet has become a necessity to the modern mother.

There are some misguided people who think that because a child has passed the baby stage he can eat anything. Well, he probably can, but he shouldn't. It is not so much the quantity a child eats, as the quality that counts.

Overfeeding at any age makes nervous, irritable, restless children and invalid adults.

Different substances are required to build flesh, bone, blood, hair, nails, teeth and skin. Some foods contain more of the necessary elements than others. Cereals, for instance, are rich in starch, which is heat and energy food; in gluten, muscle or tissue-building food; and mineral matter which makes bone.

Fats, such as butter, cream and olive oil are heat producers, which are good for children, but should never be given in cooked form. The butter is used on bread, cream on cereals, and olive oil on green vegetables.

Starchy foods are potatoes, rice, macaroni, hominy and white bread. Their food value depends entirely on the way they are cooked. Potatoes are easily digested when baked, they are utterly useless, fried. Rice, carefully boiled in water, is excellent food. Macaroni should be well cooked and served with a white sauce. Hominy should soak overnight and cook all day. Whole wheat bread contains more mineral matter than white, and is generally better for children.

The foods mentioned above are suitable for children between the ages of five and twelve.

Tomorrow we will give some diet lists, following this talk on values.

He was given permission to bring his bride to Toronto on condition that she registers upon her arrival.

Four operators were sent from league workroom to city factories and seven others placed—four out of town. In several instances married women have been placed as outdoor domestics.

Girls placed as domestic in early part of season have returned to their trades. While the registration has not been heavy it is noted that the number of women for day-work is greater than last month.

A Few Early-Flowering Bulbs.

(CONCLUDED.)

We have yet to deal with the March Anemones, and the Scillas. Did we say the March Anemones? My new gardeners, we wish you could just see our March Anemones.

The anemones are really not bulb plants, but are so nearly allied to the bulbs that for all practical purposes they are classed with them. The treatment is practically the same, and the results attained are comparable to those gained from bulb cultivation.

Of the windflowers, a spennina, a feathery green-leaved variety with true blue—its pur favorite. A spennina comes early in March, and covers the rooker—or other sunny spots with a wonder carpet of blue.

A fulgens, the old-fashioned scarlet windflower, beloved of our grandmothers, is a never ending delight to eye and mind alike, the intense crimson blossoms, so frail in appearance, but so firm in reality, lighting up the shadowy corners of the garden as no other blossom can, because scarlet windflowers will grow in sun or in shade, and in great single or double cups swaying daintily on slender stems, are an unspeakable delight for three or four weeks of amazing bloom.

Try scilla alba for the sunny bed by the brick wall; try E. peruviana for the sunny spots at the top of the rookery; choose S. campanulata, the wood hyacinth, for the sunny spot by the water-pond; and S. nutans, the English bluebell, for the wildgarden.

Early bulb beds that have no scillas are not early bulb beds.

CLUB'S ACTIVITIES IN PATRIOTIC WORK

Reports Read at Women's Conservative Meeting Showed Great Progress Made.

MANY SACRIFICES

Mothers of Canada Have Given Much for King and Country.

Evidence of exceptional work and of enthusiastic and continuous patriotic service was given at the annual meeting of the Women's Centre and South Conservative Club, held at their rooms yesterday afternoon. The members were out in large numbers, and the reports vied one with the other in demonstrating the amount of work done and the activities undertaken along various lines.

Mrs. Van Koughnet, the president, was in the chair. In her address she referred to the many sacrifices being made by the mothers and wives of Canada in encouraging the men to go to the front. Tribute was paid by the speaker to the late Sir James Whitney as one who had led a life of supreme human endeavor, one who had left an example of a long life, devoted even in its closing hours to the province and country he had loved so well.

On Temperance Topic.

On the temperance question Mrs. Van Koughnet pointed out that 2100 instances of highway bars and shops had been closed were guaranteed, of the good work done by the Conservative government in the temperance cause.

In her report as secretary, Miss Corbett stated that owing to the kindness of the press in publishing notices of meetings, the expenditure of other years in the sending out of cards had been saved during the present season.

Nine executive meetings and weekly assemblies for knitting had been held. What the women had done at the time of the election was also epitomized in her report, reference being made to the mass meeting in Massey Hall, for which the club had distributed 600 tickets.

A bed had been placed in the Shortcliffe Hospital, and supplies for beds in the University Base Hospital had been given, as well as clothing for Belgian and French relief.

The Soldiers' Societies Fund, inaugurated by this club had met with phenomenal success, over 22,000 pairs having been made by the members or contributed. These had been sent to the regiments in many parts of Canada and in large quantities to the men at the front. Special thanks were given Mrs. McWhinney, convenor of the fund, who gave on April 2 in aid of the University Hospital, and under the auspices of the Women's Conservative Club, on this occasion the sum of $773.77 was realized, and cheque for same will at once be sent to University Hospital Committee.

The treasurer, Mrs. Close, reported that the sum of $4,189.89 had been received, and a handsome balance was still on hand. The report was declared to be correct and the ladies were complimented on their business-like methods by the auditor.

A resolution of sympathy with Hon. R. L. and Lady O'Brien, on the death of the mother of the premier, was moved by Mrs. Hearst, seconded by Mrs. R. A. Fyne.

Gave an Address.

An address was given by Arthur Van Koughnet, president of the Centre and South Conservative Club, in the course of which it was stated that the large sum of $2,054.66 had been made in two months from the sale of the "Allied for Right" button. Out of this $1000 had gone for yarn for socks for the women's work. Buttons had been sold by friends in many parts of Canada, 1,000 having been disposed of in Manitoba by Sir Hugh and Lady Macdonald.

The account of work done and distributed, which was read by the president, will be published later in detail.

INTEREST CEASES AS TRADE GROWS

Rumors in India Have Melted as Time Went on, Says Baptist Missionary.

Three remarkably frank letters from India have just been received from Canadian missionaries by Rev. J. G. Brown, general secretary of the Baptist Mission Board in Toronto. Rev. C. L. Timpany says:

"As trade is slowly reviving, interest in the war is declining. As rumor after rumor has been exploded by time, the people are getting sick of hearing rumors and think after all that the British Raj is here to stay for a while yet at any rate. The war's direct effect upon our work seems to be very slight, but the effect on the attitude of the mass of the people towards Christianity will be very great. That will change, for they will demand more privileges and equal rights in the government along with the English. Neither do I think the British Columbia question, involving the question of imperial citizenship, if I may use that phrase, is yet settled, but will have to be settled along imperialistic lines."

The Canadian Baptist missionary at Sarara, Mission, India, says that the task of finding an adequate supply of native helpers, thoroly devoted to their work, is a difficult one.

Comfort and Cure for Baby's Skin Troubles

Dr. Chase's Ointment Cured When Baby's Body Was Covered With Distressing Eczema.

If every mother could try Dr. Chase's Ointment for the chafing, skin irritation and resulting eczema, which tortures so many babies, what a blessing it would be for the little ones.

This letter will give you an idea of what a wonderful work this Ointment is doing in the way of bringing comfort to children who are so unfortunate as to contract eczema. It is so easy for this trouble to develop from chafing or irritation caused by wet clothing and so difficult to get it cured that Dr. Chase's Ointment is appreciated when once its healing qualities are known.

Mr. M. L. Duolos, postmaster, Duganville, N.B. writes: "I believe it is my duty to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema. My baby was seized with eczema and his face and arms were covered with this terrible disease. After trying all sorts of ointments the disease continued to spread until it covered the entire body. When the itching became bad he would scratch himself and was sometimes found in his cradle covered with British colonies in Buenos Aires, together with a number of Argentinians, united today in observing the anniversary of the birth of King Albert of Belgium. A telegram of homage carrying several thousand signatures and wishing the prompt freeing of Belgian territory was dispatched to the king.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 9.

Conspicuously Absent

There were three matters of importance to the province which were not mentioned in the speech from the throne yesterday. Whether by accident or intention the omission leaves three points to make their own appeal to the public.

A highly important and useful measure is the act providing for the superannuation of teachers and inspectors in the public schools. While some dissatisfaction has been expressed with the education department, unbiased judges will admit that on the whole a great deal of progress has been made in the better administration of the department's affairs.

Upon the education system of Ontario rests the future success of the province. This is the lesson to be deduced from the experience of the European nations. Germany, with all her mistakes, learned that efficiency was only to be attained with intelligence. Her schools, and especially her technical schools, built up a class of workmen whose powers were practically unrivaled.

Nothing was said in the speech of the hydro radial services which are now established in the minds of the people as belonging to a policy to be carried out as soon as the war pressure is removed from administrative operations. Ontario is equally capable with Germany, whose territory is about two-thirds the extent of ours, of supporting a population of 70,000,000.

SPRING CLEANING UP

hydro radial policy is of such momentous concern to the province. Even in the presence of the European war a little attention might have been given it in the speech from the throne. One other point is unmentioned. That is the nickel commission which was promised before the session opened.

Italy's Problems and Choice. If, as is reported from Paris, Italy has agreed to remain neutral if Austria undertakes to cede Trentino at the close of the war, then the Italians have abated much of their original demand. The Trentino is a mountainous region north of Lombardy, which is naturally and from sentiment part of Italy.

Italy's future in the Mediterranean appears to be bound up with Britain and France, the European countries to which Italy is most closely drawn by both gratitude and interest. The Italian Government has already given the allies valuable aid by declining to join Germany in its campaign of aggression against the rights and liberties of Europe.

War and War Profits

Over in the United Kingdom just as in Canada and other nations subject to war influences people are complaining about the artificial inflation of prices. It seems to be a weakness in average human nature to make hay while the sun shines irrespective of patriotic or other considerations.

Much has been heard of late about binoculars and their price. This, today, is an essential part of an officer's equipment and the tremendous addition to the commissioned ranks, has necessarily caused an unusual demand for field glasses. According to an article by Mr. Chiozza Money, a Liberal member of the British parliament, the prices of certain well-known makes of prismatic binoculars have tremendously advanced as compared with those current before the war.

S. C. Stempleman Gave Evidence Regarding Loss of Razors During Fire. SUGGESTIONS OFFERED. Various Ways of Putting Department in Better Condition Were Submitted.

"I do not blame the firemen," said S. C. Stempleman of the Auto Strip Co. when asked by I. S. Fairly, examining counsel in the fire department investigation at the city hall yesterday. He blamed the firemen for the missing razors, etc., taken from the building during the time of the fire, which occurred Dec. 29.

Mr. Fairly told his honor that a note had been left on Detective Murchison's desk giving the information. Chief Thompson was then called to tell what he knew. Q. What do you know about the things missing from this building? A. I was on duty that night. I went down and they told me that some things had been missing.

THELEPH STEEL UP THIRTY POINTS

National Advance in Schwab Stock Supposedly on Short Covering.

MARKET UNSETTLED General List Irregular While Big Movement in Specialties Was Under Way.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Manipulation in the copper shares of the Bethlehem Steel Company, long a feature of the stock market, reached its climax today in a succession of violent movements which carried the shares up to 117 from its opening price of 83 3/4.

In the early afternoon it rose to 103, where profit taking sent the price back to par, and from which figure it slowly renewed its progress up to 105 in the final half hour the stock became furiously active, rising in lots of 100 to 300 shares, and with jumps of one to three points to 117.

Standard shares which had shown irregularity for the greater part of the session, became unsettled while the movement in Bethlehem Steel was under way, and closed with general upticks. However, being mostly nominal, they were the strongest of the automobile stocks, rising nine points, and General Chemical led the fertilizer group with an advance of 6 points.

Rock Island and Missouri Pacific issues were active in connection with reorganization plans now pending, the former showing some strength with weakness in the other shares on renewed rumors of a heavy lien.

Total sales of stocks amounted to $40,000 shares. Bonds were steady in volume, with the low priced issues selling at smart advances. Total sales, par value, $2,855,000.

BANK OF ENGLAND WEEKLY STATEMENT Weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve increased $1,500,000.
