to embitter the relations of England and Germany and to weaken the Dreibund. Vesseolitzky is regarded here as a mere agent of the Russlan Government. The Hamburger Correspondenz, in an article, evidently inspired, shows him up and explains how he was expelled from Germany. In connection with this the Vossische Zeitung and other Liberal papers point out that the extreme anti-British papers in Germany are merely following in his tracks. The Vossische Zeitung, which deprecates the way certain German journals have of treating England as the arch-enemy of civilization and a negligible quantity in future international questions, says: "When Germany and Great Britain have been rendered sufficiently hostile by this sort of thing the scenes will be suddenly shifted. Russia will compromise all her difficulties with Great Britain and offer her hand for an anti-German alliance and the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine."

A lady writes: "I wish you would recommend lady cyclists that they fasten their hats on better than is usually the case. Generally two pins at the back of the hat is thought sufficient, and so in riding women hold themselves in an awkward cramped position, keeping the head down so that the wind may not blow the hat up. This is bad for them, and is certainly ungainly." Lady cyclists who cally use two pins please take notice.

Petroleum was used to make sick people well, but the disagreeableness of the crude oil prevented its general acceptance by the medical profession. Recognizing this fact, Mr. A. E. Angier, a practical chemist, went to work to purify the oil and render it fit for internal use. After many costly and disheartening experiments he finally solved the problem of rendering it practically free from taste and odor without destroying its medicinal value. This specially purified oil forms the base of now so well and favorably known to physicians everywhere. With larger knowledge and scientific research comes the positive assurance that nothing is better for throat and lung troubles. We obtain our crude Petroleum from particular wells and purify it by a special process of our own by which all its objectionable and irritating properties are removed while its full medicinal value is retained. If you want to know what Petroleum will do read these testimonials:

Angier Chemical Company: Dear Sirs,—It affords me great pleasure to write this letter to thank you for the great benefit I have received from your Petroleum Emulsion and

And a treatment of your Emulsion and Tablets for flatulency and nervousness has proven it to be a marvelous remedy. Before taking your Emulsion I was unable to enjoy and relish anything I ate, and often, though weak and exhausted, I was unable to eat a morsel of food. The sight of food itself often disgusted me. After taking your Emulsion for the past two weeks I am able to eat and enjoy three hearty meals a day, and the nervousness three hearty meals a day, and the nervousness has entirely left me. I am now using your Tablets as a supplement to the Emulsion, and I consider them without an equal for throat irritations and coughs. Yours very

Angier Chemical Co., Toronto, Ontario:

Dear Sirs,—My little girl has been troubled for some time with tonsilitis, accompanied with a very severe cough, being especially painful at night. We gave her several bottles of cod liver oil without giving her any relief at all.

We then tried your Petroleum Emulsion and Tablets and were agreeably surprised at the quick results, the first bottle curing her almost entirely. Wishing you all success, I am yours sincerely,

R. H. HOWARD,

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is more than a simple preparation of Petroleum. Physiology teaches that to emulsify an oil is to digest it. Ours is so minutely divided it can be absorbed at once, and the emulsionizing agents we use have in themselves valuable soothing and healing qualities. In addition, each fluid ounce contains twelve grains of the hypophosphites of lime and soda, which add greatly to its tonic and nutritive value.

Frank Yeigh on the Empire and the War.

The Normal School theatre held a good-sized audience last evening, when Frank Yeigh gave his illustrated lecture on "Britain's Girdle of the Globe" before the Normal School students and their friends. The beautiful stereopticon views first depicted many historic scenes in the Motherland. followed by the chief features of Egypt and the Soudan, India, Australia and Canadian contingents, which aroused the Canadian contingents, which aroused the patriotism of the audience to a high pitch.

Mr. Yeigh's running comments on the pictures evinced wide reading and thoro preparation, and the subject, as a whole, formed a thoro preparation, and the subject, as a whole, formed a striking and original panorama of the Empire that was greatly enjoyed by his hearers. Sir Arthur Hewitt 's one of the best known tiger hunters of the British army in India. Nung Gung Gee, one of the fiercest native chiefs that ever harassed the English soldiery, captured Sir Arthur once and put him as bait in a tiger trap. The Englishman headed a scouting expedition into Birmania, the country between Prome and Rangoon. Being overtaken by night at a considerable distance from camp, the little party lighted fires and lay down to sleep. This is the story as told by Sir Arthur Hewitt himself in a London club room recently:

"Suddenly," he says, "some time in the middle of the night, I felt myself lifted & A bodily from the ground. I had been bound and gagged and in a short time was a prisoner in the stronghold of Gung himself.

"The next morning they brought me before Gung. The moment he saw me he leered hideously.

"'At last,' he said, 'here is one of those English who are invading our country and would reduce us to slavery.' "Gung's followers now bl'ndfolded me. I was thus forced some five miles thru the jungle, and beaten with sticks all the way. gent, sir," reported the adjutant, "and Finally they came to a halt. BIT FOR THE MAN-LATER

I lifted an arm in puny defence of my nead before her onward rush. She lifted me us a cat might lift a mouse. Up the torzent's dry bed she swept, and dashed me, face downward to the ground. Planting one paw upon my prostrate form, she shock me until my skeleton rattled. Her object was to break my spine. The claws of this raging tigress dug into the exposed ficsh. Another paw tore my hip. I was bathed in the blood that flowed from her jaws. I lay as helpless as a babe.

"I felgned death. The effort was easy in my abject helplessness and it saved my life."
"My man hed sets."

RESCUE EFFECTED BY A GIRL.

"My men had not been inactive. One seized a huge stone and let it fly. The missile struck the tigress full in the face. The others yelled and danced about us. The great beast forgot me for an instant in the fury of this new provocation. Desperation gave me a moment's strength. I picked up my gun and loaded it. One of my men snatched the weapon, I leard two shots, and then I swooned. Upon my return to consciousness the tiger lay lifeless beside me.

"What a release form of the best of the strength is shown to consciousness the tiger lay lifeless beside me."

of frees. At one of the turns in the dry bed of a torrent I halted.

"Not many yards ahead were a tiger, his mate, and their two cubs. The father sprawled at full length on the ground, asleep.

The cubs frisked about like giant kittens. The mother watched them idly. When the cubs collided with her in their sport she dealt one or the other a playful blow that would have wrecked a bungalow.

"Within a few days I had organized a hunt. I insisted that the tigress be left to me. My companions were to tak; care of the rest of the family. We found them, and with little difficulty in the depths of the jungle. The tigress, when I caught sight of her, had arched herself in the beaufiful attitude which precedes a spring. My eye made the straightest of lines few.

Harness & Brossman's Imp at the Top in Brooklyn, Suburban and Brighton.

THEN JEAN BERAUD AND ETHELBERT

Martimas to Carry 117 in Suburban Zoroaster 105 and Advance Guard 96 in Brooklyn.

New York, Feb. 2 .- W. S. Vosburgh, official handicapper to the Jockey Club, completed the allotment of weights for three of the most important events to be decided on the metropolitan racing circuit this season.

First, in order of date, if precedent is to be followed, comes the Brooklyn Handicap, which is scheduled as the red-letter event for the opening day at Gravesend. The other events are the popular Suburban, to be decided, as usual, at the Sheepshead Bay summer meeting, and the Brighton Handicap one of the standard features at

There is a marked affinity between the three events, the distance being 11/4 miles in each case, the approximate value of the stakes also about equal, while the tables of weights are practically duplicates in the cases of horses that are engaged along the

The most notable entry in all three events is that of the Western mare, Imp, who won both the Suburban and the Brighton last year. She was not quite on edge for the Brooklyn, but toward the end of the Season her form was so remarkable that it is hardly surprising to find that the handicapper places her at the head of the list. The rival 4-year-olds, Jean Beraud and Ethelbert, are rated next to the black mare in all three events, and as regards the individual merits of the two high-class colts the handicapper makes no choice.

Banastar, who won the Brooklyn last year, is rated as fourth best on the scale this time in both the Brooklyn and Suburban. He is not engaged in the Brighton event. Batten, Algol, Kinley Mack, Voter. Previous, Bangle, Box and other seasoned campaigners figure well up the list, while there is a rare bunch of 3-year-olds among the featherweight class. The weights are as follows:

A Gunn for South Africa. Durham Chronicle: Just as we go to press we learn that Master Cecil Gunn, son of Dr. Gunn, a young lad of about 16, has gone to South Africa to engage in the war. This is another lad who wants to see the world. About a year ago he left home, and has since been to China, and we understand back as far as Portland when he decided to take in the war.

SHERWOOD'S SLEUTHS

Anthony Decker, Expert Engraver, His Wife and Their Son Paul in the Law's Clutches at Last.

Detectives Have Chased Them for a Long Time-Man Named Kuntz Also Taken In—The Charge Against Them is Counterfelting-Arrested in Different Places.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—The great counterfeit mystery that has been occupying the attention of the Dominion police for months past has at last been solved, and the four principals are safely lodged behind the prison bars. The names of those implicated and where they were arrested are a $5 Molsons Bank bill, was found among her possessions.

Anthony Decker, Baltimore; Paul Decker, Woodstock; Mrs. Paul Decker, Hamilton; Hall Kuntz, London.

The case is one of the most important in the annals of the Dominion Police Department, and Commissioner Sherwood and his men are to be congratulated on their sucess. The history of the case goes back to a year ago. Last winter there appeared counterfeits of Dominion $1 bills, and in Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal

Counterfeits Were Good The counterfeits were excellent reproductions of the originals, and the police were much agitated about them. The case was immediately taken up by Commissioner Sherwood, and in a short time the responsibility for their appearance was traced to a man named Decker, in the employ of the Burland Bank Note Company, Montreal. Decker was an expert engraver, and, althous suspicion rested on him, no arrest could be made at the time. He was by some means warned that he was being watched and in a few hours the gang had mysteriously disappeared.

He said he was a civil engineer in the employ of the Dominion Government, and had been ordered to make maps of this county. He did not pay his board, so the proprietor of the hotel selzed his clothes. A half-inished $5 Molsons Bank bill was found among his possessions. The police were notified and arrested the young man, who gave his name as Paul Rose, but whose real name is Paul Decker. In a house Decker and several other men were seen going to and from was found a full counterfeiters' outfit. The police wired at once to London and a second member of the gang, a German named Kuntz, was arrested. Both men are now in jail here. They both pleaded not guilty when arraigned in the Police Court.

Set the Legal Machine Going, The commissioner immediately set his machine going, and Constable Parkinson of the force started on a hunt for the gang. continual chase from one place to another, and this, with the difficulty of obtaining of the Baltimore forger causes great inevidence at the right moment, prevented the men from being landed.

Later Anthony Decker came back to Mr. G. B. Burland, president of the British American Bank Note Company, ex-Montreal with the rest of the gung, but by some means friends warned them that they pressed himself as delighted this morning were being watched, by having an item in- when he was informed of Decker's capserted in a Montreal paper. Again the ture.

They moved from Montreal to Toronto, London, Woodstock and Hamilton and to Baltimore. The chase, however, was kept up, and the four principals safely lodged in jail, all in different cities.

Hall Kuntz, who was arrested in London, was working with the others. With him were found paper for making notes and a quantity of coloring. Kuntz is an expert transferer.

Mrs. Decker was arrested in Hamilton, and a $2 counterfeit plate was found with her.

This completes the gang, and the department will at once commence proceedings. Inspector Hogan left for Woodstock last night to superintend the case. A remand will be asked for until Monday.

There restoratives were applied, but Reeves was beyond human aid and expired in a few minutes. The patrol wagon was then summoned and the remains removed to the Morgue where they remained some little time before being identified by his son-in-law, Frank Foster, of 81 East King-street.

The decensed was 45 years of age and an engraver by trade. He had only been a resident of this city for four weeks, having come here from New York. He had been subject to fits of apoplexy. Coroner Greig Issued a warrant for an inquest but withdrew it on learning the circumstances.

To Controller Spence he said they brought the piers under the architect's notice immediately upon the discovery of their nature, and then to the Mayor when nothing could be done with Mr. Siddall.

Mr. Johnston again asked the board not to condemn a man in a free country without a hearing.

Controller Spence: The case stands in this way, as far as I see it: We made a contract with Mr. Siddall that he would superintend the construction of this building, he guaranteeing that the plans and specifications were complete. In his judgment we placed implicit confidence. Upon Mr. Siddall's advice, we undertook the erection of this structure, and we find now that the work is not going on in a way that we think satisfactory to the Council. The agreement contains this safeguard:

"And it is further agreed that, in the event of the said undertaking not being carried out in a manner satisfactory to the Council of the said corporation, they may forthwith dismiss the architect." Now, if I understand the claim put forward for Mr. Siddall, it is this, that there are other people as had as he. If he made a mistake he may drag in the entire architect's profession. But we represent the people of Tosonio, As to the talk about a lawsuit, I

Failures Were Fewer in Number in January Than for the Same Month Last Year,

BUT LIABILITIES WERE HEAVIER.

What Bradstreet's Says.

New York, Feb. 2.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say:

Weather influences have played no small part in the general trade situation this week and yet some of the unquestionable improvement in tone can hardly be charged to the more seasonable weather experienced. Whatever the causes, however, and these have been diverse, the fact remains that a number of staples, no less than speculative securities, have hardened in value during the week. One industry, that of anthracite coal, has been perceptibly braced. The influence of colder weather, too, is perceptible in the wheat market. Among products not affected by current weather conditions, however, might be mentioned the South's great staple—Cotton—which, owing largely to better foreign buying and the reported abandonment of extremely large English crops estimated, has reached the highest point for a number of years past. The Southern price for cotton is well above 7½ cents, and at some markets 8 cents has been reached.

There is little comfort to the hopers for lower prices in the reports from the iron trade this week. Inquiry by Bradstreet's at the leading iron markets of the country fall to indicate any widespread weakening, and the concessions are claimed to have been really in the nature of readjustments. The steel situation is not over clear and some business is reported possible at concessions of $1 to $2 a ton where the product has not been contracted ahead. Considering the immense rise in steel prices from a year ago, however, the reactions shown have been rather small.

For the third week of January 64 rail-roads report gross earnings of $8,566,000.

steel prices from a year ago, however, the reactions shown have been rather small.

For the third week of January 64 railroads report gross earnings of $8,566,000, a gain of 14.9 per cent. over the same week a year ago. For the month of December 48 ronds report a gain in gross earnings of 9 per cent., but a gain in net of 11.2 per cent.

In distributive trade the January business appears to have been in a high degree satisfactory. Woolen goods are holding the advances recently asked and raw wool is firm. The cotton goods situation remains apparently a strong one. The current demand for shoes remains quiet. Leather is dull but hides are no weaker. The strength of sugar and coffee among groceries is no less pronounced than of late.

Iron and steel are more active at Chicago and concessions are hard to find and are chiefly on near-by account. Structural material has improved in demand and plates are firm at the recent shading. In the Northwest trade has been helped by cold weather. A large spring business is looked for in the South. The demand for dry goods at New York is lighter than looked for earlier, but this is claimed to be due to early orders anticipating much of the demand usually noted at this date. Wheat, including four, shipments for the week aggregate 2,724,934 bushels, against 3,528,197 bushels last week and 6,555,418 bushels in the corresponding week of 1899. Corn exports for the week aggregate 2,508,962 bushels, against 3,528,334 bushels last week and 3,607,731 bushels in this week a year ago.

Fallures are few and liabilities are small, tho this period of the year usually witnesses a large number of business embarnassments.

Business failures for the week number only 171, as compared with 252 last week

Dun's review says: Canadian returns show a somewhat general improvement at eastern points, but less satisfactory return from western. At St. John, the volume of business was moderate and the retail dry goods trade is affected by the usual midwinter sales. The fish trade is quieter, owing to the recent fall in prices. Business at Halifax is moving satisfactorily, and orders come in freely, with trade conditions better than at this time last year. The absence of snow, however, is detrimental to umberiaen. Conditions at Quebec are good, with collections well up to the mark. Montreal reports wenther and road conditions more seasonable in the interior, having a better effect on business. Dry goods are reported good, and there is improvement in groceries and hardware. Collections are fair to good, and money is easier at 5 per cent. on time and 5½ per cent. on call. At Toronto there is a moderate trade in all lines, with a promising outlook and satisfactory payments. Prospects at Winnipeg continue favorable and collections are fair. Victoria reports wholesale tons fairly satisfactory. At Vancouver there was considerable decrease in the volume of business in January compared with 1890, especially in wholesale dry goods and clothing. Collections are slow. from western. For a number of years a Vapo-Cresolene apparatus has been under my observation. I have found it of such great value in cases of whooping-cough, croup and other spasmodic coughs, that I have instructed every family under my direction to secure one. Children suffering from such diseases can oftentimes be relieved by the use of the above apparatus, and thus save being wakened and disturbed by the administration of internal medicines. A family once possessed of one will never be without it.

PROOF POSITIVE.

The Truth About Backache Proved By Dodd's Kidney

Mrs. Katy Lougheed Gives Evidence -No Doubt in the Minds of the People of Staples-Backache is Really Kidney Ache.

Staples, Feb. 2.—There is no doubt in the minds of the people of this district that the contention that backache is a symptom of kidney disease is literally and absolutely correct. If not, how is it that Dodd's Kidney Pills, a kidney medicine, cure backache? For there is no dispute about it that Dodd's Kidney Pills do cure backache. New cases in this neighborhood are coming to light every day. Mrs. Katy Lougheed is one of the most recent, but there are scores more.

He was a clever fellow, that Governor Aaron V. Brown of Tennessee, of whom they are telling some good stories. Here is one of them, which shows that, while nother man would have ruined his cause by ripping out a naughty word-and, indeed, one would sympathize with him, for if there is one thing more conducive to forbidden language than tripping over a stool or a chair I want to know that thing-Governor Aaron preserved alike his morals and his politeness, winning by way of reward the hand of the lady of his heart, When the Governor, then a much admired ldower, was paying his addresses—as yet inavowed-to an attractive young widow, he called at her house one day and was gree which the prevailing fashion of those days declared to be elegant, and before the surrounding objects in the gloom the young widow entered the room. With enthusiastic devotion he advanced to meet her hastily not noticing a low stool directly in his pathway; unhappily, he stumbled over it and the adroit Governor, seizing her hand, exbrought me where inclination has long led me." side, which is caught up by a chour of the girls more primly skating about, with linked hands, in chains from three to half a dozen. After dark it is the same—the pond is gaily lit with electric lamps, and even up till 10 o'clock the whirr of the skates on the ice and the merry din of unwearled skaters make a joyous thing of the bitter winter night. This is as it should be. The city should provide such health giving playgrounds for an such of the youth of the eity as have no place in which to exercise. What is good for the city.

Anything more repulsive than the custom prevailing among the Chinese women of growing long finger nails it would be difficult to imagine. A writer says that they are more like claws than nails, and that they could be used with equal case as paper cutters or stilettoes! Gloves, he says, cannot possibly be worn upon these finger spikes, so metal sheaths have been invented.

WOMAN'S PLUCK WINS

It is said that 'n London the milliners are trying to revive the fashion of these and the milliners are trying to revive the fashion of these and the milliners are trying to revive the fashion of these and the metry din of the skates and hair of our great-grandmothers; but I fancy the attempt will be a failure, for the modern woman has realized that the hat that conceals her well-burnished locks is an impossibly be worn upon these finger solves the cutters or stilectoes! MILLINERY

Our opening day for Spring Millinery and Millinery Goods, as stated in Wednesday's World, is fixed for Monday, the fifth of March. The Week will be a golden one for buyers—for several days all will be welcome. Our attitude toward the coming season is that of readiness, but at the request of the great majority of Ontario buyers the opening has been postponed somewhat beyond the usual. A later Easter was one of the good reasons urged. No one, however, shall suffer embarrassment, nor shall one gain advantage over another. This house and its stocks are big enough to take just that position. We've been in business a long time and appreciate that Canada is wide, and that the exigencies of climate, trade and distance and the late opening make it necessary that some should have earlier opportunities. On Thursday, the fifteenth of February, we will be ready for them wth stocks, ranges and lines full beyond the possibility of depletion.

The parents left home yesterday afternoon, leaving the children in the house to take care of themselves. It is supposed that they set the house on fire while at play. The house stood in an isolated place and no one apparently knew of the fire until the Winans returned home last night and found the house burned down. The children were missing. Up to noon to-day none of the bodies had been found.

Rev. J. A. Macdonald, editor of The West.

minster, addressed a meeting in the Y. M.
C. A. Thursday night on "Morni Standards," thus concluding the series of talks on twentieth century problems, Mr. Macdonald pointed out the utter failacy of the idea that communities could be legislated into a higher moral plane. The enactment of the Ten Commandments would not make people any better morally. There was only ene way, and that was the old and very elow process of education. He spoke at some length in showing how three great factors should be brought to play in a more effective way on the moral standards of the people, These factors were the schools, the press and the pulpid derect with the school state of the Bible should have a place on the arts course of Toronto University, as was the case at Yale.

The accounts for last year for this fraternal society are being made up at the head office, Temple Building, with member that the factors were the schools, the press and the pulpid and more than the remaining the state of the state o

DR. J. G. ADAMS' CRUSADE For the Preservation of Children's RICE LEWIS & SON. Teeth May Result in an

Notes that the death of two men and the serious injury of two others, occurred early this morning on the West Shore Railroad two miles east of Savannah. Engines 1486 and 575 came together with terrific force, and six freight cars were hurled down an embankment. Brakesman William H. Dunn of Syracuse and Fireman William H. Dunn of Syracuse and Fireman William Caldwell of Buffalo were killed, Martin Monehain of Fairport and Robert Fowler were seriously injured.

Their Sleep Was Fatal.

Fireman Caldwell was pinloned to the side of his boiled and roasted to death. Brakeman Dunn was badly crushed and lived an hour before he died.

Engineer Fowler has acknowledged, according to a statement of a member of the westbound crew, that he, Caldwell and Dunn were asleep in the cab of engine No. 575, which caused them to neglect obeying orders given at Port Byron in regard to passing the eastbound train at the point of the accident.

Grand Tour of Mexico.
On Feb. 14, 1900, the Wabash Railrpad Company will run a personally conducted and select party of fifty people for a 30-day teur through old Mexico. This will be by far the grandest and most comprehensive tour ever run by any railroad in America.
This will be a chance of your life to visit this ancient land of the Montezumas. Every point of interest will be visited. The train will be the finest ever seen in this country, consisting of dining car, sleepers, observation and baggage cars, built especially for this trip. The route will be over ten different roads, covering seven thousand miles of travel. Full particulars of this wonderful trip from J. A. Richardson, District Passenger Agent, northeast corner King and Yonge-streets, Toronto. ed

Junction is Liable, Judge McDougall yesterday handed o his finding in the friendly suit brought i the County of York against the town Toronto Junction to settle the liability the latter to pay part of the expenses connection with the land titles office Osgoode Hall. His Honor found that town was liable, but left the parties decide between themselves the proportion which each shall pay.
